

Lord of War Vol 4-181

Chapter 181: .The end of Lumber's blood feud

The capital of the Duchy of Lembel is an extension of the village located at the foot of the historic Lembel Castle.

After hundreds of years of continuous operation, this small village has gradually become exceptionally prosperous as it has been repaired and expanded again and again. And the mountain road leading to Lembel Castle, also in this expansion, has changed from a road that was originally located in the suburbs to a road that can only go up the mountain from Lembel City.

For many years, the city of Lembel has become a symbol of honor for the entire Duchy of Lembel.

There are no beggars or poor people here. Basically, anyone who is willing to work can have enough food and clothing. Of course, the standard of living and expenses in this city are also not low, and it can even be said to be more expensive than ordinary cities.

But today, the whole city seems very quiet.

Except for some patrolling soldiers wearing heavy armor, there are no residents or travelers walking on the streets in the entire capital, and almost everyone hides in their hotels and homes. Only those windows happened to face the houses on a clearly guarded street. Someone quietly opened a gap behind the windows, and then secretly observed the scenery outside.

Not long, when the sun gradually rose to noon, the newly built teleporters in the capital city finally emitted a bright light.

A young woman wearing a goose down and fur robe is walking out of the teleportation formation.

At this time, the guards who had been waiting for a long time with him immediately greeted him, kneeled respectfully on one knee, and saluted him: "Congratulations to Miss Cecilia."

These guards are soldiers of the Cecilia Guards.

The earliest Cecilia Guards soldiers were basically Lembels. They were the people who followed Clover to leave the Duchy of Lembel and then went to the trading capital to collect news about Cecilia. It's just that, after a series of changes took refuge in Cecilia, these people gradually became an extremely terrifying elite division, but the price was that the soldiers from the former Duchy of Lembel were declining. .

Until today.

Although the Cecilia's Guards can reach 50,000 in size, they are actually Lembels, but there are only about a hundred people left.

At this moment, the people who came to greet Cecilia were these Lembels-even if they are now regarded as middle and high-level leaders in the Cecilia Guards, they were able to return to their homeland, but they still cried with joy. .

Therefore, welcoming the real and only Grand Duke of the Principality of Lembel is also the most glorious place in their hearts.

"What about people?" Cecilia asked, her voice very soft, but very soft.

"Waiting for you at Lembel Castle." A guard replied.

"Rembel...Castle..." Cecilia murmured, her gaze involuntarily looked at the castle that could vaguely see the outline even if she was standing near the center of the teleportation array. "There is already ...I haven't come back in seventeen years."

This old castle carries the memories of Cecilia's entire childhood.

From the time when she was able to remember when she was three years old, and until she was sent to the Maggie Empire's Magic Academy at the age of eight, she lived in the castle. She was familiar with everything in the whole castle: brick and tile, One flower and one grass, the layout of each house, and the plants planted in the courtyard. Even though she has never been here since she was twelve years old, all the memories that were buried in her mind just when she saw this castle towering on the top of a mountain hundreds of meters above sea level, all came out. Out.

Seventeen years.

Since hearing the news of her parents' death at the age of twelve and being forced to abscond, Cecilia has not set foot on her homeland for seventeen years.

until today.

Tears rolled out of Cecilia's eyes.

"Miss Cecilia, please get in the car." One of the guards cleverly led out the carriage that had been waiting by the side, and then invited Cecilia to get in the car.

Cecilia nodded slightly, then boarded the carriage, and then, under the  of a whole group of more than fifty Cecilia Guards officers, began to drive towards Lembel Castle. It was not until the carriage gradually disappeared at the end of the street that the people hiding in the houses and hotels finally opened the door and walked out, and their eyes turned to the end of the street.

Many people's looks are very complicated.

From the moment the city of Lembel opened its doors and surrendered, these residents knew that their Principality of Lembel had once again been defeated.

The last time they were defeated was hundreds of years ago. That time they became a vassal state of the Maggie Empire. From then on, they have always looked shorter in front of the people of the Maggie Empire. And this time, although the reason for the war was the battle of revenge, the former Grand Duchess of Lembel, who had been persecuted in the past, came back for revenge, but she brought power that did not belong to the Duchy of Lembel-in the eyes of the people of Lembel. , The Void Empire is a group of invaders.

Who would have a good face for the aggressor?

Countless people are beginning to worry about their future fate.

Cecilia is a magician, so she is more sensitive to emotions than anyone.

As early as when she arrived here, she had already felt the weird atmosphere of the whole city.

But she didn't say anything, and in fact, she didn't know what she should say. But Cecilia, her heart has not changed. She still decides to implement the goal she had planned from the beginning: all the Rembels who are willing to leave with her can be in the ethics that have been divided in the void empire. Bell province and cities have obtained a piece of freehold land, and even in the next few years, they will have certain preferential treatment no matter what they are engaged in.

The carriage, and soon came to Lembel Castle.

Hella, Alfred, Clover and Diana greeted Cecilia.

The few people did not chat, but after a few simple questions about the situation, Cecilia and Heila and others walked to the large reception room in the castle.

Any castle will have a large banquet hall and conference guest room. Similarly, there are also small side rooms that are more suitable for chatting in the banquet hall, as well as smaller reception rooms and private reception rooms that are more private.

Diana chose to meet the peace messenger of the Duchy of Lembel in the conference room, which is obviously quite interesting.

Pushing the door of the meeting room, Cecilia saw Apollo sitting on a chair in the meeting room at a glance.

This old man over half a hundred years old did not appear to be languished due to the war. On the contrary, his spirit and spirit seemed very vigorous, obviously not like the kind of dying person waiting to die. At this time, after seeing Cecilia entering the reception room, Apollo Beta greeted him with a few words of compliment at the same time.

Although the two parties have known each other for a long time-after all, Cecilia has lived in Lembel Castle for so long. Celia was naturally impressed. In the same way, the other party obviously had enough knowledge about Cecilia's death, but the two sides still officially started to cut into the subject under Diana's introduction.

"I don't know Lord Apollo, why did you come to me for a peace talk?" Cecilia said indifferently, "Even if you open the city gate and let us into the city, we will only thank you a little at most. But if you want to If you threaten, you should know what will end up."

"I'm not here to fight at all." Apollo chuckled, "I'm here to make a proposal."

"If you want to repair our relationship, then I suggest you avoid talking." Cecilia glanced at Apollo, then said, "The people on my list must die. Who will come? It's useless to intercede."

"I'm not here to intercede." Apollo shook his head, "I'm here to petition for all the people of the Principality of Lembel, and I hope that there will be no more wars between us....Because this behavior has already led to Countless families have broken up and they have lost their sons, husbands, and parents, so I hope this behavior can be stopped."

"I don't want to cause any harm to the civilians of Lember, otherwise I would not handle it so gently." Cecilia took a serious look at Apollo Beta, "I know what you mean by Apollo. , It's just that I also have responsibilities that I have to perform.... I can't fail to avenge my parents' hatred. And those nobles who participated in the rebellion back then are also indemnified."

"I know." Apollo nodded, "So, I brought a gift, hoping to prove my sincerity.... As long as you believe me, Miss Cecilia, I promise you can add it to your list. Those people will be sent to you one by one?"

"Oh?" Cecilia raised her eyebrows, "I'm really curious about what kind of gift can show your sincerity."

Apollo did not speak, but got up and picked up a gift box at his feet, then placed it in front of Cecilia, motioning Cecilia to open it by herself.

Cecilia glanced at Apollo, then gently opened the gift box.

When she saw the contents of the gift box, Cecilia's pupils suddenly shrank.

Even not only Cecilia, but the four people including Alfred, Hella, Diana, and Clover, all showed surprise on their faces.

Because the so-called sincerity contained in this gift box is not something else, but Magellan Rembel's head with the color of perplexity still on his face.

"Grand Duke Magellan knows that his sins are serious, so he is willing to use his head in exchange for the opportunity to calm your monstrous flames, in order to pray that you will not anger the people of the Duchy of Rembel." Seeing Cecilia's expression, he sat down. Apollo on one side finally spoke again, "He said that this incident was his own fault. I hope you can forgive his children for the sake of the blood of the same race."

"The man under the wheel." Cecilia stared at the head. She thought she would feel unusually happy and excited after killing Magellan Rembel, but she didn't see it until she saw this head on her. When she was in front of her, she realized that the feelings she thought were all respect and love, and all that was left at the moment was emptiness.

Apollo knew what Cecilia said.

The male below the wheel refers to the descendants of Magellan Rembel. All males can survive only under the wheel, and those above the wheel must be executed. This is a very normal way to deal with blood feuds, because the men below the wheel can remember things that are not deep at the moment, so they don't know what will happen to their family, of course, the premise is that no one wants them to mention it.

After all, it is definitely not an interesting thing to fight endlessly with blood feuders.

After a little hesitation, Apollo nodded: "I understand....The female family..."

"As long as you promise not to be hostile to me, I will ignore it." Cecilia gently re-covered the gift box, and then said in a tired voice, "I believe this, General Apollo, you will be able to do it. Right?...I don't need to do it myself, right?"

"No need at all." Apollo Beta nodded, and then saluted Cecilia again, "Thank you for your kindness, Queen Phoenix. I promise that everyone on the list will be there for you in ten days at the latest. In front of you."

Chapter 182: .Follow-up processing

After watching Apollo leave, Cecilia's gaze fell on Alfred, and then she said, "What about Hina...you agree to it?"

Hearing Cecilia's words, Alfred's face couldn't help but darken.

After a long time, Alfred smiled bitterly: "What else can I do if I disagree? My daughter grows up and has her own ideas. I thought it was pretty good at first, but... Well, although I still can't accept it in my heart. , But this is Hina's choice after all."

"Void owes you father and daughter too much." Cecilia looked at Alfred and said sincerely.

"There is nothing to owe a debt." Alfred shook his head slightly. "I didn't believe that Sean could do this, but in order to have a stable home, so I did it. Later, with Sean. With the miracles created again and again, my heart has also changed a lot....By now, my idea is to hope that this home will not be destroyed, so I can understand Hina's thoughts....Although, I really couldn't accept it, but I finally chose to support her."

Cecilia nodded, and no one else said anything.

The matter is now, even if Alfred wants to object, it is gone.

Xina has missed the best time for surgery, the blood of the Crypt Spider Queen has been completely integrated into Xina's soul, and she can no longer style. Moreover, her body also began to show a slight spider demonization, the speed of which was even faster than the half a year that Reyce initially estimated. I am afraid that at most four to five months, Hina will be completely spider demonized.

"This side is busy, you first go back and reunite with Hina through the teleportation formation, and the command of the Thunder Lion is temporarily transferred to Hela." Cecilia looked at Alfred, and then offered comfort.

"Alright." After a little hesitation, Alfred finally nodded. After all, the daughter's business is still more important.

After all, Alfred did not delay, he would explain to the adjutant after he said something, and then got up and left, as always vigorously and vigorously, not willing to delay even a second.

Looking at Alfred's behavior, the few people in the room gave a bitter smile.

As early as when he set foot on the land of the Duchy of Lumber, Alfred had already received a letter from Hina, knowing that she planned to give up the opportunity of magic surgery and retain her blood abilities. Although Alfred tried to dissuade, Hina also had her own persistence, so although Alfred was a little depressed, he still chose to support Hina's decision.

However, the inner worry about Hina is still inevitable.

"Miss Hina, is there really no other way?" Dianna asked.

Cecilia shook her head and said helplessly: "Reyce has already studied her bloodline abilities, and even worked with Heerson's people, and then found a very weak dragon bloodline in her bloodline. It is this bloodline that completely changed the bloodline of the Crypt Cold Spider Queen, forming a brand new bloodline...No one knows the specific conditions and effects of this bloodline, and it is constantly changing almost every moment.... ...I thought it would last for almost a month, but in fact, it was detected less than three days later that there were only 20 days left."

"The bloodline is evolving?" Hela's brows frowned immediately.

"According to Reyce and the others, it can't be regarded as evolution, but...sublimation." Cecilia said in a deep voice, "but anyway, this new bloodline does bring too much to Hina. Uncertainty. In fact, when Alfred sent back the third letter, Hina's operation period had already passed, and there was no chance of stripping."

Hearing this, the people in the room were silent for a while.

Only Cecilia knew about the bloodline. It is precisely because of this that she understands even more that this uncontrollable and unpredictable bloodline can be said to be a double-edged sword, because no one knows where this bloodline will change, and there is nothing at all. precedent. In the end, all of this can only be explored and understood by Xina herself. For Xina, it has to be said that it is a very big challenge and pressure.

"It's okay to let Alfred go back and accompany Hina. In a few months, Hina may not be able to leave the underground environment." Cecilia sighed, then clapped her hands slightly, attracting everyone Attention, "Well, we also have some things to deal with. We strive to deal with them as soon as possible, and then return this piece of land to the Maggie Empire.... Neil is almost ready, even if All the Lembels have immigrated in the past, which is more than enough."

"But I'm afraid they are not willing." Diana thought for a while, and then said, "We only promised them a piece of land, and there are some other benefits, but these policies may not attract the rich. They are here. Already have a symbol of status and status..."

"Don't worry about the wealthy people. Although they can indeed bring an economic stimulus to the void empire if they leave, it is nothing more." Cecilia shook her head, and then said softly, "the current void empire really lacks It's not money, but talents and various industries.... These rich people have already enjoyed the habit. After they go there, they may be more honest at first, but they will definitely ask for new privileges soon. I don't have any. If you intend to give them any privileges, all immigrants must start again. This is an elimination."

"So what about those nobles?" Hela frowned.

"A noble from a defeated country?" Cecilia sneered, but Hela and Clover discovered that Cecilia now looks more and more like Sean in dealing with these things. Now, maybe even Cecilia herself didn't realize that she was gradually imitation of Sean's subconsciousness in dealing with things, and gradually became infected with Sean's style. The nobles without territories don't care about them. The nobles with territories directly cut three levels, and only award nobles, and won't have territories, but we can give them a certain amount of gold coin compensation based on their territories."

"Then what if it is some talented noble lords?" Although Diana is in charge of diplomatic work, but occasionally she will assist Neil with some government affairs, so when there is no administrative officer, these things are naturally left to Diana. Anna is in charge, "If they were to follow this approach, I'm afraid they would not be willing to leave."

"Cut two levels, and then grant fiefdom." Cecilia thought for a while, and then said, "In this regard, you can discuss with Neil to see if there is any place in the Wild Land that can be marked out for them. Be a fief."

The current Void Empire doesn't have much, but it has the most land.

However, Cecilia did not intend to seal all the land. Except partly to prepare for the future talents of the void empire, the other part of the reason is that the wild land can be regarded as rich land. a lot of. If too much fertile land is sealed off to the people of the Duchy of Lembel, it will be totally unfavorable for the subsequent enfeoffment, but if it is not entrusted to these talented noble lords, it is indeed difficult to attract these people to leave.

"So what if those who don't leave?"

"Then they will be citizens of the Maggie Empire in the future, and it has nothing to do with us." Cecilia replied directly.

Everyone immediately understood.

After discussing these things, everyone started to get busy again and went to prepare for these policies.

And Cecilia started to wander around the entire Lembel Castle, after all, it is really full of too many memories.

She was walking around in this old castle, and it was not until late at night that Cecilia returned to her previous room to rest.

The next day, when Diana and Hela sold the land of the Duchy of Rembel to the Maggie Empire, and called on the people of the Duchy of Rembel to go to the Void Empire, the entire Duchy of Rembel instantly boiled. Immediately afterwards, various demonstrations and protests appeared, and even some neutral aristocrats who were originally neutral and did not participate in Cecilia's revenge battle immediately raised their troops to protest.

All of this, naturally, had been expected by Cecilia a long time ago.

So, of course, she had already prepared the means to deal with it.

All the nobles who tried to rebel, Cecilia directly sent troops to suppress it without mercy, and those who dared to resist were killed without mercy, and all their properties were naturally confiscated as war prizes. After successive executions of several noble lords who led the troubles, the remaining lords became honest, but the nobles who were really willing to surrender to the void empire were not many, and only a few, only one of them. He is a talent recognized by Diana and Hella, who can obtain a baronial collar in the Void Empire.

But for those nobles who are unwilling to surrender, Cecilia didn't bother to bother.

When her father was murdered, these nobles still maintained a neutral attitude. Although they did not participate in the conspiracy, their indifferent attitude still dissatisfied Cecilia, so she naturally has no obligation to go. Remind these people. Because she believed that the Maggie Empire wanted to swallow the entire Duchy of Rembel, but she did not intend to let these original lords of Rembel still occupy their own territories.

As for the civilians who protested, Cecilia adopted a gentle policy.

For these people, try to persuade them as well as possible.

It's just the fact that as Hella and Diana said before, there are indeed very few people who are willing to leave the Duchy of Lumber and re-development. However, those vagrants, beggars, poor people, and downtrodden people are very happy to leave the Principality of Lembel and go to the province of Lembel in the Void Empire to start from scratch. After all, they are all people who have nothing, and it doesn't matter if they fail.

In a blink of an eye, ten days passed.

Apollo also brought the nobles on Cecilia's list, just like the previous agreement.

These nobles looked embarrassed and were escorted by a guard to the Lumber Castle. The moment they saw Cecilia, they immediately knelt to the ground, crying and praying for Cecilia's forgiveness. Of course, there were also people who yelled at Apollo, and even people who blamed each other and shirk their responsibilities. The ugly side is now all played in the front hall of Lembel Castle.

Looking at these nobles in front of her, Cecilia suddenly wanted to laugh.

In those days, her parents, just for such a group of people, did not hesitate to contend with the Saint-Joles Empire? The courtiers her parents want to protect?

Cecilia suddenly felt a little distracted, so she waved her hand quickly, and Clover immediately asked the soldiers of the Cecilia's Guards to drag out all the nearly thirty nobles.

"My mission is completed." Apollo looked at Cecilia, whose face looked dispirited, and then said, "But I want to ask, how does the Queen of Phoenix plan to deal with their offspring?"

Cecilia glanced at Apollo, then suddenly smiled: "Does General Apollo seem to care about similar things?"

"After all, it can be regarded as a gallop on the battlefield. Although I know this is a unavoidable matter, I also want to do my best." Apollo said frankly, since Cecilia has been in the Principality of Lumber in the past ten days. In terms of processing methods, he knew that Cecilia wanted to break the entire Rembel and stand up. Unfortunately, too few people could understand this meaning, and many people even felt that they would continue to stay and wait for the Maggie Empire to receive it. After leaving the Duchy of Lembel, they can still retain their territories, titles and privileges.

For these wishful thinking people, even Apollo didn't bother to save them.

"They are not the same as my uncle. I plan to let go of their children, but the price is that they all have to follow me back to the void empire." Cecilia said, "I will treat them equally, and various preferential policies will apply. It will continue to be implemented. Of course, if you let me know that they still want to trouble me in the Void Empire, then I will never show mercy next time."

"Thank the Queen of Phoenix for her kindness." Apollo said heartily, "Since my task has been completed, please allow me to leave."

"General Apollo, I want to ask you a word." Seeing Apollo turned and left, Cecilia suddenly asked, "Are you interested in serving in the Void Empire? With your strength, no matter which country you put in They can definitely become guests, and our Void Empire is no exception.... If you want, the Lembel province of the Void Empire will become your fief, and you will also be the Duke of our Void Empire."

Apollo, who had already turned and left, stopped when he heard this. He slowly turned around, looked at Cecilia, and then smiled: "What if I refuse?"

"Of course I won't embarrass you. After all, General Apollo is the hero of the entire Duchy of Lembel, saving the people here from unnecessary disasters." Cecilia said with a serious expression, "And I, used to be Lun. Bell, so I will treat you as a hero."

"Was it?" Apollo keenly caught Cecilia's words.

This also shows that Cecilia has now completely denied her identity as a Lembel. But when I think about it carefully, I understand that the current Cecilia is the Queen of Phoenix of the Void Empire, and the establishment of this empire is also due to her, so she naturally has to declare that she is a citizen of the Void Empire, otherwise if so, it's easy to have a bad impression on other heroes who worked together to create a prosperous void empire.

"I am now a citizen of the Void Empire." Cecilia's words confirmed Apollo's guess. "So, General Apollo, are you interested in managing the province of Lembel? ... When I was a child, I often listened to me. When my father mentioned things about you, he kept telling me that you like it better than fighting, and it is more suitable for managing a vast territory. Many of the policies my father implemented back then were in fact pointed out by you."

Hearing what Cecilia said, Apollo couldn't help but fall into the memory.

That was almost twenty years ago.

His father and Cecilia are not just the relationship between the grand prince and the courtiers, the two of them are actually classmates who went to school together in the royal academy of the Maggie Empire. It is precisely because of this that Apollo considers the safety of the Duchy of Lembel more important than anything else.

"I'll think it over."

Hearing Apollo's words, Cecilia's mouth raised slightly, but she did not push forward again, because she remembered what Sean said to her: Sometimes, there are things that require boiling frogs in warm water. Take your time, too. If you are anxious, you will fail.

Chapter 183: .get well

The underground world, the forest of deep knowledge, the royal court of elves.

Three o'clock in the day.

Sean stood in the tree hole, feeling the nourishment of the rich life energy to his body, and at the same time did not forget to move his body.

In the past month, all the injuries that Sean had been entangled with finally recovered.

Now he only feels energetic all over.

Not only is his strength fully restored to the level of a legendary powerhouse, but his personal strength has also been slightly improved-not to mention the qualitative change effect of the golden body, Sean was originally a legendary powerhouse of the twelfth level, but now it is officially Become a strongman of the thirteenth rank, although there is still some distance from the fourteenth rank, but if Sean is willing to use all the legendary strong souls he has accumulated over time, he will probably become a legendary strongman of the fourteenth rank. It's not a problem.

In the past month, in addition to recovering from injuries, Sean only occasionally read the battle report from Kane from the front line.

Judging from the news of the battle report, it is obvious that Rorty Kabas and the others are not going well in the battle against the blood elves. It took more than half a month to bump into the blood elves before finally arriving at the blood elves castle. After the war between the two sides fought for more than half a month, they still couldn't take the inner city of the blood elf castle, and only occupied an outer wall.

For this achievement, after the army garrisoned by the blood elves withdrew, in order to avoid the situation of front and back pincers, they had to temporarily abandon the outer wall.

In this way, Rorty Kabas's war for more than half a month was fought in vain.

He shook his head helplessly. After Sean burned all the battle reports he had read, he finally got up and left the tree hole. Before he left, he said to the tree hole: "I'm leaving, you can get back to the original state." , No longer need to continue to maintain this state."

He knew that with the wisdom of this tree of life, he could fully understand what he said, so Sean was naturally too lazy to explain too much.

Soon, he came to the ground from the tree layer.

After the Demon-born assassin came to trouble Shaun, and was subdued by Shaun, which pulled out a series of rapes, the legendary powerhouse in charge of the elven king's court finally ceased to sit in the tree cave. Instead, he would start patrolling here in the royal court to establish his majestic image.

I have to say that this trick is really useful.

Not only caught several insiders, but also improved the work enthusiasm of all left-behind elves to a certain extent.

Of course, these spies will naturally not end well.

Dark elves, no matter what they say, are the six major races that are mixed in the pyramid jungle world of the underworld, the weak and powerful, so when it comes to dealing with enemies, they have never been merciless. Especially this kind of  who was bought by other races is the most hated by the dark elves, so the punishment method is naturally extremely severe.

But of this, Sean will of course not ask about it. After all, this is already Rorty Kabas's family affair.

It's just that, in this month, even though this legendary powerhouse is sitting in town, there are still demons who touched Shaun's room and tried to assassinate Shaun. But as Sean's injury recovers better and faster, and his strength recovers faster and faster, it is impossible for these demonic killers to get any advantage at all. Therefore, the difficulty of assassination is naturally superimposed on layers, and the strength of the demon-born assassins dispatched is naturally getting higher and higher.

However, as a demon descendant killer in the upper sanctuary just sneaked into the royal court, he was discovered by the legendary powerhouse in the town. After directly killing the spot, those demon descendants who kept lurking over to assassinate Shaun finally stopped this. The series of brainless death-death behaviors.

But even so, there are nearly 20 demons who died in the hands of Sean.

"I'm leaving." After falling from the tree hole to the ground, Xiao En soon found the legendary powerhouse who was sitting in the Elf King's Court.

"What do you mean?" The elven legendary powerhouse did not react for a while.

"I'm going to help Rorty Kabas, there is a problem with him." Sean glanced at the legendary powerhouse, and then said helplessly, "The blood elves have come to a support army, I guess It should be the garrison troops who were originally responsible for defending against the blood clan.... With the strength that Rorty Kabas possesses at this time, although he can still win in the end, it is absolutely impossible to attack the blood elf castle in a short time. ."

"That..." The legendary strong man opened his mouth, but found that he didn't even know how to speak.

"You can stay here and guard it." Of course, Sean knew what the other party meant, so he answered simply, "You are now the highest commander here, so naturally you are still in charge here.... Remember, don't let any enemies touch here, otherwise the Elf King's Court will definitely have trouble in the future. Let those patrolling guys pay more attention to this."

Hearing Sean's words, the legendary powerhouse was stunned for a moment, and then said: "The demons are very good at assassination and hiding. Although our dark elves have good eyesight, we actually face When these demon descendants were still a little powerless. So..."

Xiao En naturally heard what the other party wanted to express, so he interrupted the other party's words directly: "That's not what I said. The demons are terrible, but they still dare to try their luck here in the Forest of Deep Knowledge. . That means their plan has changed.... Otherwise, according to the timeline, I should be ambushed by their people in Tara City, instead of entering this well-versed forest to trouble me. ."

"From this point of view, the combat effectiveness of this demonite is not strong. You dark elves don't need to be afraid of them." Sean said in a deep voice, "Furthermore, all the elite guards of Rorty Kabas are responsible for staying behind. , Their combat ability is not weak at all. I think you should let them go out to try their luck, you know, the demons are a group of people who are better at fighting alone."

This legendary powerhouse did not understand the meaning of Xiao En's words at all, what time line was estimated, what dala city, he looked at a loss.

But this does not prevent him from letting him know that the demons who tried to assassinate Sean have not given up their actions, but have hibernated temporarily, hoping to find a better time to attack. Moreover, this is also very suitable for the guards who stayed behind in the Elf King's Court to practice their hands. Is there anything better than this in the world?

is obviously gone.

So he quickly understood what to do next.

And Sean, just after smiling, turned around and left.

He knows that there are still traitors in the Elf King's Court, but he has already left here, so naturally it is no longer his business.

As for the so-called Tara City, it is actually an underground city not far from the Forest of Deep Knowledge. It can be regarded as a neutral zone in which countless people conduct trade exchanges. Shaun had previously released some so-called wind noises in the Fairy King Court, and thus locked several of them with the same identities, so after that, Shaun began to spread some rumors about his injuries interestingly and undoubtedly.

I never thought that this kind of thing that can be said to be a straight hook, there is actually a fish bite, so it finally attracted a strong man in the middle sanctuary, and successfully abolished more than half of the manpower of this demonic tribe. . Next, even if these people want to trouble themselves, they can only sneak in sneakily. This is also a task that Sean left to Rorty Kabas, the guard team: although the risk is slightly higher, it is a kind of A way to quickly increase the strength of these dark elf guards.

After , Sean set off overnight and quickly rushed to the front line of the war.

He knew that in terms of Rorty Kabas' combat power, it was enough to take down the city.

But the problem now is that Rorty Kabas is a new king, although he has many subordinates, and these people have not been integrated by him.

Based on Sean's understanding of Rorty Kabas, this guy obviously wants to bring everyone together and form a real storm directly through this. It's just a pity that because of the problem of blocked offense, after Roti Kabas lost the outer city wall three days ago, when he led the withdrawal of the blood elf castle, it was equal to the profit gained in the past half month and was completely empty. , So the little cohesion that finally gathered together is almost dispersed.

Sean knew that Rorty Kabas must be as anxious as an ant on a hot pot now.

Hurrying for several days, Sean soon smelled a peculiar smell in the air. This time, without the Black King's reminder, Sean can already clearly feel the hostility brought about by this flower, which also proves that Sean has a lot of keen senses after his strength is rising.

"It's the demon descendant..." In my mind, the black king gasped.

As for the black king who has been confronting the demon elder almost every day for an old period of time, the peculiar smell on the demon elder has already made him want to vomit when he asks, so as long as he seduce a little bit more, the black king can immediately determine the opponent. s position.

"In the south." replied in a low voice.

And Ron, at this time, actually "seed" his appearance.

This is a man who does not look like a demon. With this epee in his hand, the whole person looks extraordinarily strong. In terms of strength, he has been infinitely close to the legend, but he still can't reach the mystery of the legendary realm without turning to the legend one day. In this regard, he has to be more judgmental about Sean who has stepped into the realm of legend, so he dare to conclude that the strength of this demonic race group may have declined a lot.

Shaun thought for a moment, and then did not intend to change his path, but continued to move south.

As Sean walked into the ambush point of this demon, Sean became more relaxed and at ease, as if all the guards had been removed.

The demon descendant saw Sean's state, hesitated in his heart, and subconsciously told him madly, asking him to give up the phone meeting at this moment. I don't know why. After observing Sean for a long time, this demon descendant finally held his breath. When Sean was less than ten meters away from him, the demon descendant let out a roar and rushed out of hiding. Point, directly swung the heavy sword in his hand and slashed towards Xiao En.

But Sean is not afraid.

The black king on his right hand suddenly appeared like a poisonous snake piercing through the air. It stabled out quickly, and in an instant, it directly pierced the right wrist of this demon.

Along with the splash of blood, Sean closed the knife and turned sideways, letting the opponent's epee drop directly to the ground, while he himself was close to the demon's side, and a right fist slammed into the opponent's forehead. , Stun the opponent simply and neatly. Immediately, Sean didn't hesitate at all. The Black King in his hand immediately abolished all the opponent's limbs with a few points: not only could he use his hands, but he could not even walk with his feet.

After finishing all this, Xiao En suddenly said, "Come out."

Soon, a figure walked out of a shadow. This person was the demon who had assassinated Shaun for the first time before but was defeated and conquered by Shaun.

"See my lord." The former king of the demonic tribe put his posture very low and bowed to Xiao En on one knee.

He can find that Sean is much stronger than when he saw it a few days ago-in fact, his intuition did not make a mistake in judgment. Of course, this is also because Sean did not deliberately conceal his breath. Otherwise, he would only be like the hostile demonite whose hamstrings and hamstrings were broken by Sean, unable to sense anything and make a wrong judgment.

"How is the investigation?" Xiao En asked in a deep voice.

"It has been investigated. It is the two demonic tribes who also failed to bet in this holy war." This demonic said respectfully, "One of them has been ordered to be slaughtered by Dorn because of poor work. ... But I also took the opportunity to rescue some young children and women. They have now joined my tribe. As for the other tribe of the person defeated by you at this moment, they are also on the verge of collapse. "

"Can you subdue it?" Sean said softly.

"There are still several strong people in the tribe..."

"I only care about the result." Sean interrupted the other party in a deep voice, "I don't need the process, you just need to tell me whether you can or can't."

"Yes!" After thinking for a while, the demonite gritted his teeth, and then said in a deep voice, "As long as I personally go over and analyze the risks clearly, I believe they will be able to make the right choice."

"Then he will leave it to you." Xiao En lightly picked the half-dead person on the ground, and the whole person flew down to the half-kneeling demonite. "Then, Rorty Kabas, Is there any new information?"

"Yes." The demonite nodded again. "Just the day before yesterday, the well-versed Lord Rorty Kabas had already breached the outer wall gate of the blood elf castle and regained the outer wall section. Since yesterday, Launched rounds of fierce attacks against the inner city wall. I guess, at your current speed, Lord, when you reach the blood elf castle, Rotti Kabas should be able to penetrate the vestibule."

Chapter 184: Help out

The value of this group of demons is huge, I am afraid no one except Sean knows.

Although they have the side effect of almost losing all combat abilities in the daytime and in places with strong light, they are enough to scare the gods and demons in the dark. Many people think that they are the best at assassination methods, but in fact, the most terrifying thing about Demons is their ability to hide their breath.

Many times, even if there are demons lurking around, the person involved does not know at all.

And the most special thing is that before the demon descendant stepped into the sanctuary to master the power of the law, even if there is a place where a legendary powerhouse sits, as long as no special detection device is used, as long as the demon descendant below the golden realm does not explode, as long as there is no aura, They can even cross the sea under the eyes of the legendary powerhouse.

On the other hand, the power that the demons of the golden realm can exert is also really limited. It may be okay for ordinary people. Dealing with those who are extremely experienced in combat or are highly vigilant in the sanctuary, it is completely looking for death.

And Sean, it is the place where these demons are needed to help, and it is not just for assassination, what he needs more is to use demons to build a languid intelligence network organization. It's just this kind of thing, if there is no stronger person to sit in the town, it is still relatively easy to happen after all, after all, no matter how strong the Void Empire is, there is no way to guarantee the protection of all the spies sent out of the Void Realm.

So being able to gather a group of powerful demons is naturally a very important thing.

Watching that demon descendant turned and hugged the demon descendant whose limbs were abolished by Sean and left, Xiao En also quickly turned and left. What he needs to do now is to help Rorty Kabas solve the trouble of the blood elves-originally this problem, even if Sean does not solve it, it is actually possible, but after thinking about it, he decided to let Rorty Kabas Taking advantage of this blood elf's weakest time, wiped out this race in one fell swoop.

In this way, the benefits that dark elves can obtain will increase a lot.

After all, from the six holy blood races to the five holy blood races, the benefits that are vacated here are definitely not small.

It's just that it's in the jihadist chaos. Otherwise, Sean would bet that the blood race and werewolf would definitely not miss this big opportunity to attack. Although the spider demon and the demon descendant are far apart, they will never let go of the great opportunity to bite the cake.

It's a pity that these four races have been dragged into the quagmire of war, but the dark elves, who should have been the blood elves' most steadfast ally, suddenly made a move, which means that the most important part of this big cake will completely fall into the dark elves' pockets. . If it wasn't for Sean who had previously explained that he left some scraps for people from other races, Roti Kabas would simply want to swallow all the blood elves' heritage.

If you change the situation, Sean will not stop it.

But after this battle, although the blood elves will withdraw from the stage of history, the dark elves will also lose a lot, and it will take a long time for them to recover. Throwing some bait to distract the other four races will undoubtedly provide the dark elves with a better breathing time, which will win the dark elves a larger living space and a better development space for the future. .

Along the way, Sean is constantly analyzing the changes in the current situation in the underground world.

The demon elder did not collect much intelligence for Sean. After all, their current situation is a bit dangerous, so they can only collect some intelligence near the Forest of Knowledge. Among them, it is more targeted. Naturally, Sean ordered to focus on Luo. The battlefield of Tekabas and the blood elves, and then the main battlefield of the blood and werewolves. As for the other two groups of demons who came to assassinate Sean, it was only by coincidence that these demons discovered them, and then notified Sean.

But although this information is not too much, it is also not too small.

And Sean is very good at finding clues from these intelligence, so as to capture the changes of some major events.

Judging from the information about blood races and werewolves collected by these demons, Sean is keenly aware of some problems.

The first is on the home court of the blood race and the werewolf. Originally, the blood race had a great advantage. However, without knowing the reason, the blood race suddenly stopped expanding the scale of the battle, and only maintained a situation that was evenly matched with the werewolves-on this point, Still with the support of the Nerubian mercenary army, if there were no Nerubian mercenaries, I am afraid that the current situation would be overwhelmed by the werewolves.

The cause of this situation was actually proposed by the blood elders, and Ben and the elders did not raise objections to the Luxemba and Giovanni clans, who had different opinions, but instead chose to support them. With the support of the two leading families of the Demon Party, Resenba and Giovanni, the blood clan of the Demon Party faction will naturally not refuse. Under such a general trend, even the Mi Party has to agree with the Presbyterian Church. opinion.

When he saw this, Xiao En basically knew what the blood family was thinking.

They are probably planning to place the main force on the border between the blood clan and the blood elves, waiting for the blood elves and the dark elves to lose their lives, and then make an assault. , As for the blood elves, they are even more dead in the eyes of the blood clan. And their purpose in doing this is nothing more than to monopolize all the blood elves' heritage and resources.

However, even though the food is very ugly, Sean also has to say that the blood race does a beautiful job: the hired arachnid army sticks to the front line and continues to fight the werewolves. This is equivalent to dragging the two holy blood races; However, the unlucky ghosts of the demon descendant, because of their special ability conditions, can only be sent out continuously to perform assassination missions.

In this way, it is equivalent to that among the six holy blood races, except for the blood races, there are basically a lot of troubles, and there is no way to swallow the blood elves' heritage. When the Nerub, Demons, and Werewolves all knew about the blood elves' side, I was afraid that all the blood elves' materials would have been emptied by the blood elves.

"It's a good calculation." Xiao En sneered, and only disdain showed on his face, "I really treat everyone else as an idiot.... But it happened that I was still worried before I didn't find a chance to attack your blood family, and now it is unexpectedly. Don't blame me for giving me such a good opportunity."

Next, in addition to the necessary rest, Shaun was on his way almost every day.

And on the seventh day, the former demon descendant finally appeared in front of Xiao En again, and said respectfully: "My lord, I have done everything you confessed. The other party has agreed to join me. Race, it's just..."

"It's just that the other party also wants command, right." Xiao En gently fiddled with the fire in front of him. At this time, he was already on the edge of the well-versed forest. He could leave the forest tomorrow morning, if he speeded up. , I can rush to the blood elf castle in about a week, and complete the rendezvous with Rorty Kabas and Kane.

"Yes." The demon who first took refuge in Sean nodded, "After all, it is a fact that my ethnic group is not strong enough.... It's just that they have some scruples about you, so their attitude is not very tough, but negotiated. Tone."

"You figure it out by yourself." Xiao En said lightly, "You are the patriarch, and these things are handled by you.... You have to remember that if it's just strength, I don't lack at all, what I want is smart enough People, do you know what I mean?"

The expression of this demon descendant was taken aback for a moment, then his eyes became firm, and he nodded heavily: "I see."

"Very well. Next, I have a few more things for you to be responsible for." Sean said as he threw a letter in his hand at the opponent's feet, "There is a tribe of werewolves called Matar. You take this The letter was sent to this tribe, and a person named Dongdu said that I asked you to send it, and he would understand what to do next."

Without curiosity or hesitation, the demon nodded, and then received the letter.

Just as Sean would trust this demon, after Sean uttered the subtext that was obviously implied, the demon's attitude towards Sean naturally increased countless points of loyalty. Perhaps it is a bit exaggerated to say that the liver and brain are smeared, but at least in the absence of much conflict of interest and temptation, it is probably impossible to make this demon betray Sean-of course, under the control of the contract, he also It is impossible to betray the contract.

"Also, one week after Dongdu received this letter, you will start spreading a message on the territory of the spider demon." Xiao En thought for a moment, and then continued, "Remember to talk to Dongdu. Tell him that he only has one week. After a week, if they don't make a decision here, then don't blame it for not being able to grab a sip of the soup."

"I understand." The demon nodded, "Then my lord, what kind of news do you want to spread?"

Xiao En smiled, and then said: "The blood clan is secretly planning to annex blood elves and dark elves, so the Nerubians are allowed to stay here to fight the werewolf tribe, mainly because they don't want others to share a piece of the pie."

The pupils of the demon descended suddenly, apparently realizing something.

Sean could feel a breath suddenly burst out behind him, obviously it was something this clever demon was thinking of. For a smart person like this one that breaks a little, Sean can't wait to have as many as possible under his command, but it's a pity that such a smart person is always very hard to find. This time if it wasn't because the opponent had a soul-eater dagger in his hand, At that time, when Sean faced an assassination, he would kill the opponent swiftly, not so much nonsense.

"This time we have so many ethnic groups who are forced to desperate by the blood..." The voice of the demon descended abnormally resentful, "Is it all because of the blood..."

"Maybe not at the beginning, it's just a simple bet failure." Sean shook his head, "But when the blood elves lost their strength and the dark elves went to trouble with the blood elves, the blood clan began to make targeted plans. ... These guys who have lived for countless years are naturally very scary to play conspiracies. For guys like you who can only use their hands and not use their brains, don't make you too easy to play around."

Although he knew that what Shaun was talking about was the truth, but being slapped in such a straight face, the face of this demon was still very ugly.

"If it weren't that I didn't belong to your underground world, I wouldn't be able to see these doors and ways." After a moment of silence, Sean still said softly, "In our surface world, the human heart is the most complicated, almost every time. It is constantly calculating every moment. Sometimes, if a conspiracy is used well, it can easily eliminate the enemies that have caused you headaches for countless years."

Sean was talking about the kind of calculations between the surface world and human nobles.

I don't know how long human brain circuits are. In terms of intrigue and tricks, they are no less inferior than blood races that have lived for hundreds of thousands of years, and even more terrifying than blood races in some cases.

However, this demon descendant obviously understood Shaun's meaning incorrectly, so looking at Shaun was full of awe.

When he saw the eyes of this demon, Xiao En knew that the other party wanted to make a difference, but he did not intend to remind him, anyway, as long as the other party executes the things he explained, Xiao En will ignore other things. If it weren't for the dark elves to be Sean's ally in the underground world, Sean would probably not care about how horribly these three holy blood races would fight.

It's just that since the Dark Elf is his natural ally, he certainly can't allow the blood to grab Rotti Kabas' cake.

Since he can cause the jihadist civil strife in the entire underground world to be set off hundreds of years in advance, then of course he also has a way to completely destroy the wishful thinking of the blood race. As long as the werewolf and the spider demon receive news at the same time, and the two parties unite, the blood race will fall into a more passive dilemma at that time. And the hatred between the werewolf and the blood clan is so strong that it can't be removed. If the blood clan suffers a big loss, the werewolf will definitely not go to the blood elves.

What's more, Sean also left a message for Dongdu, so that their werewolf tribe would gain something.

So he believes that in terms of Edongdu's ambition, he will definitely focus on the blood clan first, not the blood elves.

As for the spider monsters, there may be some people who come to the blood elves to try to grab food, but if there are not enough people, they will not be able to pose any threat to Rorty Kabas' troops. After all, Rorty Kabas brought out the entire dark elves. In terms of military strength, even if he had a lot of casualties with the blood elves, it was not a problem to deal with these spider monsters.

After explaining everything, this demonic descendant took the order to leave again.

And Sean, after a night of rest, also set off again. On the seventh day, he finally rushed to Rorty Kabas and Kane's side.

Chapter 185: .Prepare

For the arrival of Sean, both Kane and Rorty Kabas were surprised.

"Why are you here?" Rorty Kabas asked when he saw Sean.

"I heard that something went wrong on your side, so I rushed over." Xiao En smiled, "How is the battle going? Has the inner city attacked?"

"The city gate just broke." Rorty Kabas replied, and did not ask Sean why he knew the specific situation of the battle. Anyway, in Rorty Kabas's opinion, Sean is almost omniscient and omnipotent. , So knowing the current situation of the battle is not a thing to be surprised.

Blood Elf Castle, is the collective name for the blood elven base camp.

In fact, this place called the ancient castle is a huge and luxurious city.

The whole city is divided into two urban areas inside and outside.

The inner city is the living area of the blood elves' senior officers, generals, and royal bloodline nobles. Here is the most elite army of the blood elves in charge of garrison-of course, this army has long been defeated by the dark elves. But even without this most elite blood elven army, the defense layout of the inner city is still the most important area of the entire blood elven castle, because the defense force is extremely strong.

The outer city is the area where blood elves have relatively low status and ordinary people live. Of course, it is also a place where the Dark Elf Revenge Party who has taken refuge in the blood elves can stay, so the strength is uneven, and the scale of the fish and the dragon is also quite large. Rorty Kabas used the power of the entire dark elves to break through the outer city and occupy a place. This is not a difficult task.

But it is not easy to invade the inner city and completely wipe out the entire blood elves.

After all, the blood elves have been adhering to the elite route for so many years, so even if the number is small, the overall combat literacy is definitely not low. It may be an exaggeration to say that one hit ten, but one hit three or five is not impossible.

Coupled with the geographical advantage, it is reasonable for Rorty Kabas's army to be unable to attack for a long time.

It's just that everyone knows that it is not the soldiers on both sides that really determine the outcome of this war. The real reason why the war has not ended is the top high-end combat power that has not yet appeared on both sides: the super strong.

According to the currently known information, there are probably three super powers on the blood elves side, while Rotti Kabas has only two on his own. These two are still survivors absorbed from the camp of the Evernight Party and the Vengeance Party, otherwise Rorty Kabas will not have any real top powers at all.

"Your Excellency Imoku is back?" Roti Kabas glanced around and asked after seeing that there were no outsiders.

"Not yet, but it should have been in the past two days." Sean shook his head, "I suspect that there may be some problems on the surface, so Imoku helped solve it. After the solution, I should be back. ...I have told him before that he will not go to the surface for too long, and he will be back within two months at the longest, no matter how troublesome the problems on the surface are."

Rotti Kabas nodded and said nothing.

Xiao En has been lying in the Forest of Deep Knowledge for a month and a half, if you count the journey from the Fairy King's Court, it is almost two months. Based on Rorty Kabas's knowledge of Imoku, this super-powerful man who abides by the spirit of chivalry will definitely keep his promise.

"Then what shall we do now?" Roty Kabas asked.

"Temporarily slow down the offensive intensity." Xiao En said, "but we must seal off the entire inner city, and send people to search the entire outer city, and take away all the materials that can be used. Then check each one. Area, just destroy an area."

"Strong wall and clearing field tactics?" Roty Kabas has fought on the surface with Sean, so I know the tactical idea Sean said, "But, isn't this used to deal with invaders? Is it suitable for use here...?"

"I have studied the situation of blood elves. This group is very particular about everything in terms of food and clothing, and it is extremely luxurious." Xiao En said, "Therefore, the amount of food in the inner city will definitely not be too much. But. Considering the character of the blood elves, they must have a secret passage connected to the outer city. I think they will definitely collect food through the secret passage when the food in the inner city runs out."

Rotti Kabas nodded: "I was negligent.... But if we find the secret way, then we..."

"No hurry." Sean shook his head, "We have to wait for the outcome of the other side of the battle before we act. Before that, we don't have to rush to attack, as long as we surround the inner city and make sure that they can't collect food and break through. , We can consume them slowly...Of course, if we discover the secret path, we can also stay behind, maybe it will be very useful to us later."

Rotti Kabas listened to Sean's words, and keenly noticed a question: "Wait for the outcome of the battle on the other side? Someone wants to be against us?"

"Blood." Xiao En casually said a few guesses about himself.

Perhaps most people will certainly dismiss such unsuspecting speculation that Sean has no evidence. But Rorty Kabas will not, because he is very clear about Sean's abilities and clearly shows the conspiracy of the nobles in the world. The reason why he didn't see this clearly was just because of the lack of intelligence. If he also had special personnel who wanted him to provide information about the situation around him, he would have seen this a long time ago.

"These guys are trying to take advantage of the fire!" Rorty Kabas cursed angrily.

"It's not because this opportunity is too rare in a thousand years." Xiao En said lightly, "but it is really to be blamed. I can only blame the blood elves for their actions too large, and they actually withdrew all the blood elves that were stationed. , Doesn't leave any troops at all.... If the blood race guys didn't find this problem, then it's a ghost."

In the underground world, although blood elves and dark elves are the same six holy blood races, in fact, these two races belong to the companion relationship.

The blood elves and the dark elves have always advanced and retreated together in the interests of the six holy blood races: in large-scale battles, the dark elves are responsible for sending troops, while in local high-end battles, the blood elves are responsible for sending troops. To be responsible. The cooperation between the two sides has been based on hundreds of thousands of years. Even if there are still gaps and gaps between each other, the cooperation on the battlefield is still very tacit.

The other four major races are very clear that they are definitely not enough to deal with the elves.

And the hostile nature of the blood and werewolves makes it impossible for the werewolves and the blood to find the troubles of the elves at all: whether it is the blood or the werewolves who join the spider monsters and the demons to find the troubles of the blood elves and the dark elves, blood elves and dark elves. The elves can pull on another dead opponent to contend. In a three-on-three situation, no one can suppress anyone. It is precisely because of this that the six holy blood races in the underground world have maintained peace for so many years.

Right now, the dark elves and the blood elves have finally completely fallen out. Both sides have begun to attack and slaughter each other. How could the blood family miss such a good opportunity.

It's just that they didn't expect that Sean had already seen through all of this and was already preparing to take advantage of this opportunity.

"Then what shall we do now?" Rorty Kabas asked, "Can we just wait like this?"

"If it's not surprising, the werewolf side will soon exert strength, and the spider demon will definitely join hands with the werewolf by then." Xiao En smiled, "and it's not just the werewolf and the spider demon. The blood race dare to even be with the demon descendant. Calculate, hey...It's been just a few days. It's okay that so many races have been offended. If they are discovered, they can still run? As long as they can't resist the first three rounds of attacking them, the blood race will not end up better than the current blood. How good are the elves."

"But I feel hanging." Rorty Kabas sighed helplessly, "The blood family has accumulated so many years of heritage, if you want to completely defeat them..."

"Completely defeated? This is obviously impossible." Xiao En shook his head. "The blood race has a very special way of transformation. At best, they are badly injured. They are not much better than the current blood elves.... But even if it is. In this way, the price to be paid by the spider monsters, werewolves, and demons is definitely not small, and we... will also be unable to continue the war with the blood elves because of the complete elimination of the blood elves, so they must be able to get a chance to breathe."

Hearing Sean's words, Rorty Kabas also sighed helplessly.

"Don't feel lost and sad, this is also a very good opportunity for you dark elves." Seeing Rorty Kabas's face, Sean knew what he was thinking, so he smiled and said, "You Think that after you fight with the blood elves, you still have the energy to continue fighting with others? Honestly stay in the Forest of Knowledge and develop. After this big melee, the holy war is almost over. There is no one. The energy will continue to hit again."

Obviously, it is impossible for the spider monsters to honestly fight with the blood race. In order to grab the benefits, they must fight the blood race and dark elves. This is undoubtedly a difficult challenge for them who have always adhered to the way of employment, so when the time comes The loss will only be serious and not light; in the same way, the demons who have been overshadowed by the blood clan will not be able to gain too great an advantage at that time, and the death of a large number of clan members is an inevitable result.

As for the werewolf and the blood race, these two years of old enemies will definitely fight to the death, but there is no need to worry about anything.

Under such circumstances, the remaining five holy blood races will basically be crushed, and they will definitely not continue to fight, but will choose to calm down with a tacit understanding. Only in this situation, the dark elves led by Rorty Kabas can get a respite of development.

This is why Sean must muddy the water thoroughly.

And Rorty Kabas quickly understood what Shaun meant: "So... you mean, it's time to close the net?"

"It hasn't been so fast, but the blood family gave me such a gift, I must make good use of it." Sean smiled, "Moreover, Serena is just going back to convene the old ministry, Kane and I. If you rush past, you will be able to take the opportunity to develop.... First help Serena take down the Luxemba clan, and then have enough ability to deal with Giovanni."

"I understand." Rorty Kabas nodded, "When the time comes, I will arrange for a group of people to follow you. Now... I'll go and order the front line first, so that they don't besiege too eagerly."

Shaun nodded.

Rorti Kabas quickly left the line and began to issue the latest combat orders.

And Sean looked at Kane, and then said: "How has your training been during the recent period?"

"Not bad, thank you Lord Sean for your guidance and training." Kane said respectfully, "Master Roti Kabas also said that I have made rapid progress recently. As long as I win the Blood Elf Castle and obtain the Blood Elf With the blood of ancestors, my strength will be greatly improved."

"Indeed." Shaun took a look at Kane and found that Kane's strength has indeed become stronger, at least stronger than the one he saw more than a month ago. "It looks like you have experienced this in the past month. There should be a lot of actual combat... But get ready and leave with me in a while."

"Leave?" Kane didn't understand Sean's intention.

"In a short time, they won't be able to fight. At least they will have to wait until Imoku comes back, and the blood clan is in chaos before the official war will begin here." Sean explained that for Kane, Sean in many places I'm quite satisfied. The only dissatisfaction is that Kane's sense of strategy and politics is too bad. "So before that, we still have plenty of time.... First I will take you to meet Serena. Then practice your hands and train a team that belongs to you by the way. That will be your best aid when you take over the Giovanni clan."

"I see..... Then when shall we leave?"

"Tomorrow, take a break today." Xiao En thought for a while, and then said, after all, he has been on the road for many days, and his body is almost reaching the limit. He really needs a good rest. "Now the blood is here. The chaos is about to come, we must find Serena as soon as possible and negotiate with her. Do you remember the meeting point she told you?"

"Remember." Kane nodded, "At the Bloodsand Castle. It is the territory of the Brad clan. Miss Serena said that the clan was the secret stronghold she cultivated."

"Blood Sand Castle?" Xiao En frowned slightly. He was not familiar with the underground world. If it was the place names that he had heard of or some famous places, he would still know one or two, "You know how to get here. ?"

"Because I was worried that I might not know the road, Miss Serena gave me a map." As Kane said, she took the map out of her body.

Sean just glanced at it and remembered the route, so he nodded and said, "That's it, you go and talk to Rorty Kabas, I will rest first. Tomorrow morning...no, tomorrow noon, Let's set off."

"Yes!"

Chapter 186: .Blood Sand Castle

Blood Sand Castle is the base camp of the Brad clan.

It is located at the westernmost end of the River of Ancestors. The territory of the entire clan is not even as large as the territory of a baron in the surface world, and it has almost no resources and properties at all. Anyone will come to fight this clan's idea.

Even the kinsmen who pass here, don't want to set foot in this barren land at all.

It's just that, no one would have thought that this clan was once a famous horror existence in the blood clan.

Brad Resenba was once the leader of the thirteen warriors under Resenba Cain, but with the millennium * battle, after the death of Bled, this clan has fallen from generation to generation. By now, apart from those old antiques who have been sleeping in the depths of the blood pool, not many blood clan will remember the name Brad Resenba, and many people just regard this clan as an incompetent clan.

But it is precisely because this clan is low-key and non-existent enough that it can become a secret stronghold of Serena Resenba.

The Scarlet Queen Serena, who can become a leader of an era, her strength should not be underestimated.

Even though the news of her betrayal of the Luxemba clan and the great loss of strength has spread throughout the blood clan, there are still many old tribes loyal to Serena. After all, as far as the blood race is concerned, as long as the blood core is not damaged, no matter how weak the strength is, the only thing that can be restored, the only thing that is needed is time. Therefore, in the concept of blood race, the positioning of genius is more valued than any race.

With the return of Serena, countless younger generations of blood races who obeyed, worshipped, or pursued Serena have begun to secretly gather around the bloodsand castle.

A small bloodsand castle, and now there are as many as eleven high-ranking bloods who have secretly arrived.

Among these eleven people, the lowest rank also has earl strength, a total of seven; there are three with marquis strength; and one with duke's strength.

The powerful duke is the current owner of the Bloodsand Castle, Robert Brad.

The blood races that can gather here are all the genius blood races that are expected to be high in the blood races. The biggest feature of these people is their arrogance. Even those with the strength of earls will not necessarily convince those with the strength of marquis. After all, they are coming to them. That said, as long as enough time is given, or there is high-quality blood absorption, becoming a Marquis is not a problem at all. Therefore, no matter whether it is a powerful earl or a powerful marquis, before arriving at the bloodsand castle, no one can value the clan chief of this barren dead land.

It wasn't until Robert Brad's appearance that he gave these arrogant people a resounding slap.

At this time, located in the side hall on the first floor of the Bloodsand Castle, eleven young geniuses of the blood race, and Serena gathered here.

Looking at the eleven people who were still loyal to her, Serena's nerves that had been tightly collapsed during this period of time were finally able to relax slightly.

Her calling order has been issued through a special channel for almost two months. Except for the first two earl-powered people who rushed over, no one arrived in the next month, which could not help but let Serena Also feel a little discouraged. But soon, this situation finally changed half a month ago, and the successive appearances of the capable earl and the capable marquis finally relaxed Serena's hanging heart.

After _____, after Serena's inquiry, I learned that it was not that these people did not want to come over, but that there was indeed no chance.

The battle between the blood race and the werewolf has always been in a fierce battle. Both sides are almost constantly taking their lives to fill every inch of land. Under this circumstance, a large number of geniuses of the blood race and werewolf have fallen, and even many small and medium-sized clans and tribes have been completely annihilated. Therefore, these young geniuses of the blood race who have the qualifications to lead the expedition are naturally very It is difficult to evacuate from the front line.

It wasn't until almost a month ago that the blood family suddenly gathered their defenses, and then began to retreat to the west of the blood family territory, they began to find the opportunity to gradually leave the large army.

This period of time before and after is also almost a month's time. Of course, they had not dared to communicate with each other before, and finally after leaving the army, these talents began to communicate with each other and reported to Serena, so that Serena could finally grasp the movement of the blood army.

But after knowing this trend, Serena dismissed it.

Dorn Giovanni actually proposed to take advantage of the dark elves and blood elves desperately hurting each other, and take the two races in one fell swoop.

If you don't know about Sean's existence, Serena might think that Don Giovanni's plan is very good. But now knowing that Shaun, the Void Archduke, is in the dark elves' camp, she doesn't think Don's plan will be successful. I am afraid that it will not be long before all his plans will be used by Shaun in turn and be played tricks. Got to go round and round.

After all, Sean has been playing Don Giovanni all the time. If he wants to push Kane to the throne of the Giovanni clan, he must solve the tyrant Don Giovanni. When she thought of this, Serena's mouth couldn't help but raised. She was already looking forward to how Sean would deal with Dorne.

"Ah." Seemingly seeing Serena's distraction, Robert Brad coughed lightly, pulling Serena's attention back, "Miss Serena, I arrived at the moment following your orders. People have basically entered the castle. However, there are four other people who have not found a suitable opportunity to leave, but they have also sent letters from their subordinates. Once you have instructions, they will follow them as soon as possible."

"The four who have not arrived yet, who are they?" Serena asked.

There were thirty summoning orders issued by her, but only eleven people were present, and four others were not there, which means that only fifteen people participated in the summoning. As for the other fifteen people, according to the news from other people, thirteen people have already died in the battle, and the remaining two probably don't intend to follow the call.

Selena believes that the news of her return is probably no longer a secret soon.

"The Duke of Angeles, the Marquis of Sabine, the Marquis of Rottenen, and the Earl of Mies." Robert replied, "It is the Marquis of Ball and the Marquis of Sejean who have not listened to the response.... Your Royal Highness Serena, do you think we are right now? What should I do?"

"How to do it?" Serena was stunned for a moment, and then realized what Robert was asking, "We don't have to do anything, just watch the show."

"Watching a play?" Someone on the long table puzzled, "What play?"

"Dorn's plan will not succeed, so we don't need to pay attention." Serena's face was filled with a confident smile, she said lightly, "Dorn's opponent is not us, so we just need to watch The play will do....As for the plans prepared before, we can start to act after Don's failure. With your participation, I believe our success rate will be much higher. Once I get it The throne of the Resenba clan, I will never forget your contributions."

There was a touch of joy in everyone's eyes, and being able to get Serena's promise was more important than anything else.

But soon, some people still raised questions.

"His Royal Highness Selena, why are you so sure that Don's plan will not succeed?"

"If you know who caused the blood elves' current situation of severe damage, you will know why Don's plan will not succeed." Serena chuckled, and then replied, "Maybe Don The strength is very strong, but I think it's too tender if I want to fight this person."

Hearing Serena's words, many people have already thought of something.

At first, when Serena left Resenba Castle, there was news that she had gone to the forest of deep knowledge.

At that time, the Luxemba clan immediately sent a group of people to the Forest of Deep Knowledge after receiving the clues, but the Forest of Deep Knowledge at that time had been completely sealed off. For the special situation of strong power, the blood race has a unique set of perceptions, so after seeing things cannot be violated and the blood race and werewolves were also thoroughly beaten up at the time, they immediately withdrew from the forest of deep knowledge and did not rush into it.

This matter soon spread to the entire blood family.

Of course, there will always be desperadoes who are not afraid of death, who will venture in—those assassins who have collected Donne's money to assassinate Shaun, that's it. It's just a pity that these people have never succeeded, instead they have become a powerful nourishment for Sean.

However, the whole blood race group is still very curious about the situation in the Forest of Deep Knowledge.

At this time, Serena returned in secret, and she had spent so long in the Forest of Deep Knowledge. She obviously knew what had happened in that forest.

"His Royal Highness Serena, can you tell me, who is the one who can ruin Donne's plan for so long?"

Someone asked questions, and even Robert, who had been keeping a silent and cold look, showed a curious look.

"His opponent is Sean." Serena hesitated, but still replied, "The blood elves were caught in his trap, so they fell completely in the forest of profound knowledge, and even the entire forest of knowledge. All the forces in the Revolutionary Party have become the stepping stones of the Reform Party.... With such a person as a counselor for the dark elves, it is impossible for Don's plan to succeed. The two of them are not rivals on the same level at all. "

"I'm a bit embarrassed to hear you praise me so." A hearty voice suddenly sounded in the side hall, instantly arousing the realm of all the blood races present, and dozens of powerful auras burst out suddenly.

But these tyrannical auras were completely suppressed in an instant.

Only Robert's breath can barely suppress the opponent.

A blood family who is about to step into the ranks of dukes!

A thought flashed in everyone's mind, but soon they were puzzled: they had never felt the breath of the other party before, and obviously this was the first time they met. But how can people who meet for the first time know the place of Bloodsand Castle?

"Stop it all, your own person." Serena's breath was also a little eager to move, but after seeing the person, it instantly calmed down.

Of course, her heart is actually a little shocked, because Kane's strength has improved faster than she expected. This kind of strength promotion speed is simply unheard of before, even faster than her so-called genius. A little faster. You know, when they were separated two months ago, Kane's strength was just a stable Marquis, but now he has an attitude that is not inferior to the Duke. This obviously belongs to the ranks of the strong Duke.

The people who broke into the side hall of this bloodsand castle were naturally Sean and Kane.

The two came all the way eagerly, and the time it took was not long, but the physical consumption was relatively large. This can be seen from Kane's slightly exhausted look, but Sean looked radiant.

"I didn't expect you to come too." Serena got up to meet Sean, the look on her face didn't seem to be fake, "I thought it was Kane."

"Anyway, it's okay, just come and help." Sean replied with a smile. His real eyes showed that Serena's halo was green, which showed that Serena did not have any hostility to herself, on the contrary. Her followers are much more interesting, they are basically yellow or light red, which means that these guys are slightly hostile to themselves, probably because they are too close to Serena.

"You are here to help Kane." Serena glanced at Kane, and then said with a smile, "But I thought you would stay with Rotti Kabas to help, after all, he now... also Very troublesome."

"Do you know the situation?" Sean is not surprised that Serena will not be able to tell. After all, Serena is the most despicable and shameless person Sean has seen so far-of course, Sean will never admit it. He and Serena are both of the same kind, "But it's useless, that fellow Don, will soon taste the taste of lifting a rock and smashing himself in the foot.... If you are not surprised, you have these two days. You should receive the message."

"You have already shot?" Serena reacted instantly.

And the other blood races around, when they heard Shaun's confident words, they all realized who this person was in front of them.

For this, Sean did not hide it, after all, he came here this time to join forces with Serena. Therefore, before ignoring Serena's overall plan, he must first tell Serena about the situation he has disrupted, so that she can more easily adjust her plans and plans and gain more benefits for herself. .

Because only if Serena can regain a foothold in the blood clan, then Sean will have enough capital to fight the Giovanni clan.

"I really didn't expect you to get such a big handwriting as soon as you shot it!" Serena's eyes were bright and she was so excited that she couldn't help herself. You can go to Resenba Castle..."

Chapter 187: . Attack on Resenba

The war between the blood race and the werewolf has a long history.

Basically, all the jihadists and civil strifes in the underground world that have spread to the whole world, the fuse must be provoked by these two races. Moreover, the time of war usually breaks out every hundreds of years or so, and the duration is probably between ten and fifty years, and occasionally a large-scale battle that lasts for a hundred years is fought-but the latter kind The situation is usually that both sides have rested for thousands of years, and there are extremely outstanding geniuses in both groups.

According to the rules, it would take another two to thirty years for the jihad to show signs, and it will take at least fifty years when the war really breaks out. However, because of some very clever means of intervention by Sean, the time of this small-scale conflict and friction was advanced by a full thirty years, and even without any breathing and thinking time for both sides, it directly dragged the entire underground world into the quagmire of war. .

This war, which lasted for less than two years, has been completely heated, but among the six major ethnic groups, apart from the blood elves and dark elves, the damage of the other four ethnic groups is not as great as imagined. Twenty years is not a problem.

All ethnic groups have already played enough experience.

So like this time, the dark elf reform party's shocking reversal suddenly completely controlled the entire forest of deep knowledge and destroyed the blood elves. This kind of thing is simply unheard of. Anyone who knows the news will certainly not let go of such a good opportunity for profit.

This is also the reason why the blood race will give up the battle with the werewolves and wait for the opportunity to prepare to annex the blood elves and dark elves.

The war between the blood race and the werewolf has always been in a form of evenly matched power. If one side is suppressed, it is difficult to fight back without seeking third-party assistance. It is precisely for this reason that when the blood race was completely suppressed at the beginning of the war, they would use the Nerubian mercenaries to counterattack, completely repulse the werewolves, and counterattack to invade the territory of the werewolf tribe.

From the point of view of profit, the Nerubian mercenaries and blood races can be said to be in the honeymoon period at this moment.

The combination of the two major races, coupled with the blood race also hired a large number of demons to take action, although the werewolf tribe also began to hire Nerubs and Demons to fight back, but the effect is obviously not as good as the establishment of the Nerubs and Demons from the beginning. The kinship of friendly and cooperative relations is so strong.

If there is no accident, this war will end in the defeat of the werewolf tribe in about thirty years.

But the blood race, at this time, made a fatal mistake because of their arrogance.

The Nerubian mercenary has turned his back.

The Eastern Front of the Blood Race and the Werewolf relies on some blood races and a large number of Nerubian mercenaries to be able to make a tie with the Werewolf tribe. But now, with the sudden defiance of the Nerubian army, the entire Eastern Defense Line has completely turned into a riddled piece of furnishings overnight. At this time, the werewolf tribe also suddenly launched a fierce attack, cooperating with the Nerubian tribe's internal and external cooperation, and the entire line of defense was completely torn apart.

Of course, the secretly active demons are also indispensable here.

and completely tore up the entire line of blood that was arranged in the east to confront the werewolf tribe, the werewolf tribe and the arachnid army joined hands and began to drive straight toward the blood clan territory. All the clans encountered along the way were basically not the enemies of the two big clans. After several clan territories were destroyed one after another, they eventually either gave up their territories and fled, or staggered the route of the local army.

When Dorn Giovanni received the news, the Nerubian army and the werewolf tribe had already begun to approach the location of this blood coalition.

The battle between the two sides is about to start.

And Serena, taking advantage of this time, with the group of subordinates loyal to her, secretly sneaked back to the Fortress of Resenba. There are Kane and Sean who went along, which made Serena a lot of courage. After all, Sean is now also a legendary powerhouse of the thirteenth order, and Serena has also been more than a year in the past. In the constant wars, he broke his limit and became a legendary powerhouse too-of course, in the underground world, such legendary powerhouses like them are called princes.

Two princes, plus a duke, four marquis, and seven earls, this lineup is not too small.

This base camp, once the head of the thirteen blood clan, now looks a little lonely in front of everyone.

A large number of blood warriors have been dispatched to the front line to fight, so naturally there will not be too many manpower left in this old castle. Just as a symbol of the clan's base camp, no matter how few people are left, it is still the most elite existence in the clan.

Fortunately, Serena and others are also not alone.

"Is it appropriate to play the big one as soon as I come back?" Xiao En smiled, but there was not much nervousness on his face.

"There is nothing inappropriate," Serena said lightly. "Although it is a pity that Lord Imoku is absent, if you don't enter the blood pool for the time being, the ancestors will not be disturbed, so we still have a great chance of winning. ."

"As long as there is no super strong, then there is no problem." Xiao En said lightly.

Others may not know, but Sean is very clear about his own strength.

Now he is a rank 13 powerhouse, and he is not an ordinary rank 13 powerhouse. Facing the 14th rank, he also has the same power. Even if he can't win, he can protect himself. What's more, Sean also stores a number of powerful souls. Once all of them are used, he can immediately become a member of the fourteenth-level powerhouse. Even facing the powerhouse at the fifteenth-level legendary pinnacle, it is also a battle. force.

Therefore, as long as there is no super power at the sixteenth level, it is really not a problem for Sean.

Although other people didn't know the specific strength and situation of Sean at first, they have already learned a lot about Sean from Serena along the way. This made everyone feel a deep fear in their hearts, because they never thought that humans would be better at conspiracy and trickery than their blood, and once they were used, they would be so deadly.

Of course, more people are shocked by Sean's strength.

The prince of the thirteenth rank, is one rank higher than Serena's own strength.

Selina walked towards Resenba Castle. She did not hide her figure, so she was quickly discovered by a secret post, and then passed back to Resenba Castle.

In a short time, dozens of powerful Lesenba blood races stepped out of the castle and stopped in front of Serena.

These people were obviously given special instructions, so even if they were facing Serena, these people did not have the slightest fear, let alone communicate with Serena. They stood in a line at the door, in addition to demonstrating to Serena and others, in fact they also had the idea of capturing Serena and others alive.

But how could Serena behave as they wanted, and immediately shouted: "If you don't want to die, get out of me, otherwise, don't blame me for not being affectionate."

A dozen guards are still motionless, but their ready-to-go appearance fully demonstrates their intention to fight Serena.

"It seems that your words don't seem to work well." Sean glanced at the other guard. Only two of the thirteen were probably at the Duke level. The others were basically earls and did not have the marquis power. Fight, so this battle really fought, it should be relatively easy.

"Don't worry, I will make him better soon." Serena sneered, ignoring Sean's taunts, "But... logically speaking, there must be two to three guards in the castle. The famous prince sits in town, why hasn't he encountered one this time."

"I don't know why I didn't meet it, but there are still one." Xiao En smiled, then raised his eyes, and saw a hair and beard at the window dug out by the huge mountain wall. The white old man was standing there watching, but after feeling Xiao En's gaze, his eyes shot up like electricity, "Hey, isn't this just one.... The momentum is quite strong."

"Brad Resenba." Serena's face changed, "No wonder there is no other prince. If only Brad is enough, it is indeed enough."

"Very strong?" Sean raised his eyebrows.

"The prince powerhouse second only to the Patriarch, in the words of the surface world, it should be about to break through to the fifteenth step." Serena sighed softly, "I didn't expect that the one who stayed behind would actually be Burled, I thought it would be someone else.... It seems that after the Patriarch knew the news of my return, he must have expected that I would attack Lesenba Castle while he was away."

"Then he will leave it to me, other people, can you handle it?" Sean looked back at Serena, and then said.

"Yes!" Serena glanced at Sean seriously, and then said, "Come back alive."

"Oh, as long as you don't wake up your ancestors, it's okay." Sean chuckled lightly, then drew out the Black King and hooked up to Burled above.

Unexpectedly, Burled just twitched the corners of his mouth, showing a disdainful sneer, apparently thinking that Sean was not qualified to fight him. His gaze passed directly over Sean, and fell on Serena's body. His eyes were pity at first, and then they became murderous again, which was obviously a real murderous intent.

Sun saw that the other party had completely ignored him, he snorted, and then walked towards the dozen or so guards in front of him.

It was just a deep breath, and the next moment Sean's speed suddenly accelerated. When the dozen guards had just realized the crisis, Sean had already approached the opponent, and the Black King in his hand suddenly burst into a cloud of incomparable sword light, as if to All light sources in the entire world are absorbed generally.

This time, Sean didn't have any hands left, and directly shot his own ultimate swordsmanship.

Many people didn't even have time to react clearly. They saw a black light burst out, and then the black light suddenly collected. The process before and after seemed to be less than a second, but the ten in front of everyone. Several guards have all fallen to the ground. Everyone has only one fatal injury, and that is a laceration in the heart, and the blood core in it is completely shattered into nothingness.

After receiving the sword, Shaun raised his head again and glanced at the guard prince of Lesemba Castle.

Only this time, it was Sean's turn to twitch the corner of his mouth, revealing a disdainful look: "Elite? Huh."

Those suitors and followers who came with Serena, everyone's face showed incredible shock. Although along the way, they have repeatedly and repeatedly made the greatest strength assessment of Sean's strength, but it was not until now that they saw Sean's shot that they realized that their previous estimates were obviously. They are all wrong, and it is very likely that what Sean has shown at this time is still not the strongest strength.

"Now you know why I say Donne is not his opponent, right?" Serena chuckled. "He is still rumored to be able to fight the legendary powerhouse before he is legendary. And that legendary powerhouse is still dead. His hands... Oh, the legendary powerhouse I'm talking about is the term of the surface world, which is what we call the prince powerhouse.... Don is a tyrant with strong strength and terrifying personality. That's right, but that is Because he hasn't encountered an enemy more difficult than him."

"Go in." Shaun did not go to see Serena, but made a circumcission at Burlade. This gesture was very insulting even in the underground world. And when Sean made this movement, the movement of his right hand did not stop. He swiped a few swords lightly, and directly dissected several corpses on the ground. This move made Burred even more angry. angry.

"Since you want to find your own way, then I will fulfill you!"

This old man with white hair and beard suddenly jumped out from the window, and then the cloak behind him flicked, turning into a pair of huge demon wings, gently supporting him to fall from the sky. When he landed, the pair of demon wings did not. Did not change back to a cloak, but turned into a black spear.

Bride said nothing, and sprinted towards Sean directly.

His speed is extremely fast, he almost used the speed of the blood race to the extreme, but he arrived in front of Sean in the blink of an eye, and the tip of the spear in his hand gave out a stench, as if it was contaminated. Toxins in the blood.

Faced with this shot, Xiao En did not dare to take it lightly. Judging from the opponent's speed and power burst, he was absolutely worthy of the name of the 14th-order powerhouse.

Shaun could only apply the power of the law to the black king, and then swung his sword to block Burlade's shot-at the moment the guns and swords fought, the black blood emerging from the spear seemed to have received something. General towing, suspended in mid-air. This time, it was Sean who used the law of time and space to produce a "stagnant" effect, which could temporarily stop all changes in the laws of physics, but the duration would not be long.

Burred didn't seem to have anticipated Sean's weird ability, so he was a little absent-minded for a while, and Sean accurately captured this moment, and did not hesitate to transform the power of the law into acceleration and swing. The sword pierced towards Burlade's chest and abdomen.

Unexpectedly, this sword failed to make a contribution!

Burlade's reaction speed is also extremely fast. Seeing that he can't dodge and block, his right hand swept lightly, and the spear in his hand turned into a shield, protecting him in front of him, and then blocked Sean's attack. .

With the help of the impact of this blow, Burred's feet exerted a slight force at the same time, and the whole person immediately ejected towards the rear, quickly pulling away from Sean far enough. And Sean, because of the counter-shock force of this sword, had to stagger back a few steps to stabilize his figure.

Until then, due to the impact of the power of the law, the black blood drop suspended in the air finally recovered from the "stagnated" state, and fell directly to the ground, instantly corroding the ground into a small pit.

Very poisonous!

Sean's pupils shrank suddenly: If a drop of this thing on his body would definitely have the effect of being amputated.

However, when Sean looked at Burred, he also found that the shield he was protecting his chest was deformed again, this time it turned into a slasher, but the blade was not white and silver. It was a weird dark red.

This time, Sean's face was truly surprised: "Shen Luo Wanxiang!?! It's actually in your hands!"

"Neither did I expect that you actually mastered the power of time." Burlade's face also showed a solemn color.

Chapter 188: .Shen Luo Vientiane

Surrounding everything.

This is a weapon once given to believers by the God of Lies. In terms of quality, this is an artifact, a genuine artifact.

However, when the gods erupted in the twilight, Sanluo Wanxiang returned to the hands of the * of lies and became his combat weapon. In this battle, Sanluo Wanxiang also gained a great power upgrade, and even once let the power of the * of lies approach the higher gods. Unfortunately, this also made the * of lies become Jibril's focus, so it didn't take long for this * to fall, and Sun Luo Wanxiang was lost from then on.

As a divine tool, Sun Luo Wanxiang can naturally block the sharpness of the Black King.

But the greatest value of this artifact is not this, but just like its name: everything can evolve.

Basically, as long as it is any kind of thing that exists in this world, everything in the world can evolve, but it can only be a dead thing, not a living thing. Moreover, the material of the evolved item is still the exclusive material of the artifact, but in terms of utility, it will also fully conform to the effect of this evolved object: just like the previous time when Burlade turned the Sunro Vientiane into a bat wing, it can flap ; And when turned into a long spear, it also has the same penetrating stabbing effect with a long spear.

In the game that year, Sunluo Vientiane has been occupying the first place in the "List of Equipment Players Most Want to Obtain".

But it's a pity that no player was able to get this officially announced artifact until Sean came to this world.

So Xiao En had no idea that this artifact would actually be in the hands of the blood race.

However, just as Sean's focus is on the hands of the whole world, Burlade's attention is also on the laws that Sean has mastered.

The law of time.

This is one of the most supreme laws, and the one with the same name is the law of space, and it is said that if you master the law of time and the law of space at the same time, you can merge these two laws into the law of time and space. The law of time and space is the core and key element of constructing a plane. Anyone who wants to break away from the world plane and construct a plane world composed entirely of his own will must master this law.

It is precisely because of this that anyone who can master the laws of time and space will be called a creator after the chaotic era.

It's just that, as of now, there is only one person who can truly break away from the world will of the Marvel Continent and create a new world of planes, and that is Jibril, the son of the former plane.

Others, either are still on the way to understand another supreme law, or are on the journey of trying to merge the two laws, or they have simply fallen. It can be said that the closest thing to Jibril's achievement is Sean. This son of the plane has successfully integrated the two highest laws, but he really wants to create a new plane world. It takes a very long time.

Brad's research on the supreme law is not deep, so it is impossible to see the difference between "stasis" and "stillness".

If you change someone who has studied or understood the law of time, you will definitely be able to see the difference between the two.

It just so happened that the biggest enemy of this artifact of Sun Luo Vientiane is the law of time.

The biggest function of Sun Luo Wanxiang is that it can change rapidly. It is obviously a dagger but it can become a long sword in an instant, giving the opponent an unexpected result, but no matter how it changes, it needs an evolution process. It just so happens that the ability of the law of time can offset this instantaneous change: as long as the law of time is shrouded in scope, the ability of the world to change instantaneously will be completely deprived.

This is tantamount to saying that Burleigh could not maximize the ability of the world.

"You and I both vote for the mouse, why don't we talk about it?" Sean glanced at Burlade. He found that if he wants to defeat his opponent, he must consume all the souls of the strong on hand to be possible, but it is only possible. It's just possible, not absolute, after all, the gap between him and Burred is not small.

Those who are really accustomed to fighting can easily break through their limits in a well-matched combat environment.

Even if Sean consumes all the souls of the strong and raises his rank to the fourteenth rank, if Burlade breaks through the limit in battle and steps into the fifteenth rank, he can still be suppressed. And the use of the power of the law is suppressed by the difference in the strength of the two sides. If Burlade's strength is one level higher than him, then the coverage of the law of time and space will be much smaller.

Just like the direct shot from Burlade: According to the past battle rhythm, Burlade's spear will turn into a longer dragon spear at the moment of being blocked by the enemy, directly penetrating the enemy's Head. However, because Sean had always covered the power of the law of time and space around him, the changes that Burlade wanted to perform were unsuccessful.

"Talk? What to talk about?" Burred snorted coldly, "I have nothing to talk about with you."

"I think there are still some.... Even if your Luxemba clan changes to a patriarch, it is still your Luxemba clan." Sean stared at Burred, his body was so red that it was almost black. This shows that the hostility of the other party is so strong that it cannot be described, "Isn't Serena your best clan genius? The previous strength was almost completely abolished, and it is understandable to be abandoned by you, but now the strength has been completely restored. Then why stop her from becoming the patriarch?"

Brad did not speak, his eyes were not even shaken.

He was just a moment of stepping, and the powerful explosive power erupted directly, and the whole person attacked Xiao En like a giant beast, and the chopper in his hand filled with a disgusting smell. Before the people arrived, the light of the sword had burst out first, and a dark red shadow of the real sword smashed into Xiao En, and there was a stance to split Xiao En into two.

The explosion of this kind of sword energy is the ability of the forest all phenomena-it is not just a fantasy, but a real sword, as long as it has enough ability and weapon use skills and experience, it can naturally burst out Kill the enemy with sword energy.

Brad is just unable to use the versatility of Sunluo Wanxiang within the range covered by the laws of time and space, but this does not mean that Sunluo Wanxiang's unique artifact attributes have been deprived of it. As long as he is in a realm that is not covered by the law of time and space, Burlade can still change the appearance of the whole world as he pleases.

So, at the moment the sword burst out, this chopping knife became a hammer.

The iron chain seems to be very short, but in fact, as long as Burlade wishes, this iron chain has no length limit at all; and the iron ball with one end of the hammer as the weapon part has a full diameter of 30 centimeters.

Brewide rotated the hammer, and then threw the ball forward with his right hand, and the heavy ball flew towards Sean.

At this time, Sean had just sent out an equally not weak sword light, which broke through Burlade's sword aura strongly-the collision of two forces directly created a vacuum explosion in the air, and the strong wind was mixed. With the remaining strength of the two vindictive powers, they tore open countless dense cracks in the surrounding ground.

And Xiao En, just as soon as he broke through this burst of sword energy, he saw the heavy ball of the hammer hit him. At this time, he hadn't fully breathed in his heart, but a strong sense of death threat was approaching, and Sean could only forcefully lift his breath and slashed the hammer straight with his sword—another force to counter the impact. Shaun only felt that the powerful force came back from the heavy ball, and his right hand was almost completely paralyzed.

But fortunately, at least he blocked the bombardment of this heavy ball: If he was really hit by this heavy ball, even with Sean's current physique, I'm afraid he would have suffered a lot of internal injuries.

So after blocking the successive attacks, Sean did not hesitate to withdraw immediately, and quickly moved away from Boletra.

Until then, after being weakened by Sean with the power of law, the heavy ball, which was intercepted by the Black King, fell to the ground from the suspended mid-air.

In an instant, a huge pit was smashed.

However, after the heavy ball landed, it turned into a white light and disappeared, and even the long iron chain that was pulling it disappeared completely, as if everything had never appeared—if it weren't for thirty full on the ground. If the Ken hole of centimeter diameter still exists.

Brad's hand was already holding a spear again.

It seems that Burlade's favorite weapon is the spear.

Xiao En, standing dozens of meters away, let out a sigh of breath, then slightly pressed the shoulder of his right hand with his left hand a few times, while the right hand was also twisting, trying his best to shake off the numbness. However, the look at Burlade also appeared to be extraordinarily solemn, not at all like facing those legendary powerhouses before. Although he was cautious, he didn't care too much.

Sean can see that Burlade's actual combat experience, awareness, and technology are definitely the top batch, even if it's a person with rich combat experience who has mastered and trained himself because he can be resurrected indefinitely in the game. , And only can only draw a tie with each other. Such talents are definitely not the kind of empty and powerful waste, but real combat powerhouses, just like the Oscar, Andrew, Beth and others that Sean had seen on the surface before.

More importantly, a real combat powerhouse like this still holds an artifact, which is even more headache.

After all, in Shaun's previous battles, either he relied on the benefits of weapons to solve his opponents, or he relied on his rich combat experience to solve his opponents.

Now encountering a strong man who is not superior in weapons and is not weaker in actual combat ability, Sean's advantages are almost evened out. Perhaps the only thing that can maintain a threat and suppression to the enemy is the time and space laws that Sean has mastered.

But Sean is so solemn, Burlade's heart is also not at all relaxed, and his shock is even far greater than Sean.

For the blood race, their life span is even longer than that of the elves, so they are also veritable longevity species. In addition, as long as the blood core is not crushed or the head is directly chopped off, they can recover with enough blood or blood gas no matter how severe the injury is. Therefore, any member of the blood family, as long as it is not too frustrated In the case of waste, the combat effectiveness is usually not too low.

It is not an exaggeration to say that they are a copy of the player.

So Burrad has thousands of years to grow up-even a mediocre person with such a long time to grow up is enough to become a genius. Therefore, Burlad Lesemba has always been the strongest of the entire Lesemba clan, and the pride of the entire Lesemba clan. After all, in these countless years, he has blocked countless times by Tillersemba. The genocide crisis has almost become a spiritual symbol of the Luxemba clan.

Although the patriarch of the Luxemba clan is stronger than Borad in terms of strength, in fact, in terms of influence and prestige, Borad is actually greater than the current clan head of the Luxemba clan. If it hadn't been for Burlade's refusal to become the patriarch of the Luxemba clan back then, it would not have been the current patriarch's turn.

But now, this spiritual symbol is in the hands of someone whose strength is one level lower than himself, and he can't ask for any benefits at all. This shock is not a joke.

"Now I admit that you are indeed qualified to talk to me on an equal footing." Burled stared at Sean. Although his hostility is still fierce in Sean's eyes, at least he is willing to talk instead of disagreeing. Start working straight away, "You are the first person who is not as strong as I but can hold on to me for so long since I have lived for so long.... If everyone on the surface has the qualifications like you, I It is not difficult to understand why both expeditions failed."

Able to communicate, usually means that there is the possibility of negotiation.

Shaun, what I like most is negotiation.

Because this usually means that his magical stick Fudge Dafa can work.

"I didn't plan to be an enemy of your Luxemba clan, otherwise I don't have to help Serena at all." Sean said in a deep voice. The pressure on him was indeed not small, which made him dare not. There is a slight slackness, who knows if this is Burlade's conspiracy, "Although the grand prince of your blood clan can leave the clan to create a new clan, but in the same way, after the death or abdication of the old patriarch, all leave the original clan. The grand prince or prince of the clan's clan is eligible to return to participate in the election for the post of patriarch.... It's just a little bit earlier now. What does it matter?"

Brad did not refute Sean's words, but the two words he said in a calm tone gave Sean a sense of powerlessness: "Rules."

The word makes Sean so depressed that he wants to vomit blood.

Because Sean, whether on the surface or in the underground world, or when he was on a floating island, he never paid attention to the rules, after all, he himself was the destroyer of the rules. In the same way, the blood race never talks about the rules with others, after all, they used to be the rule-makers of the entire underground world, so the so-called "rules" for the blood race are only used to contain the same strength as themselves. People only.

But now, a blood clan who is strong enough to ignore any rules, actually talked about the rules with Sean in a serious manner. How could Sean not vomit blood?

"The rules are dead, and people live." Sean thought for a while, and said, "Although I don't know why you don't want to be the patriarch, it's none of my business, as long as Serena can become a new one. The patriarch of the Luxemba clan, I believe she will definitely make the entire Lesenba clan stronger."

"I believe it too." Burred nodded, "but the rules are the rules.... The patriarch is not dead yet, he explained that I must defend the Fortress of Resenba, then I must defend here, any intruder must die."

Sean raised his brow slightly and immediately realized a problem.

"So, if Serena becomes the patriarch of the Luxemba clan now, will the old patriarch's order be invalid?" Sean began to understand a little bit about the origin of Burred's power, but this spirit Will is too rare.

Brad obviously didn't expect Sean to say this, but after thinking about it seriously, he nodded: "It's true that you can say that.... But the premise is that you can drag me here."

"I may not be sure of defeating you or killing you, but I will hold you back..."

Xiao En laughed, he took a deep breath, and then consumed all the souls of the strong!

Chapter 189: Clash

Brad looked at Sean incredulously.

Break through the battle. Although this probability is small, it is not impossible. Especially in the underground world, in the various conflicts and death battles that are so frequent that it can be called intensive, the probability of a breakthrough in a battle is definitely much greater than that of the surface world. According to some unauthoritative boring people, the underground world is average. There are at least 30 conflicts of various scales every day, and two or three of them can break through battles.

However, most of these people who break through the battle are only in the silver and gold realms, which is the stage of the so-called knight to the viscount.

Earls and Marquis are almost impossible to appear at this stage, let alone Sean's current strength, in the underground world, he is a veritable prince!

The prince can make a breakthrough in a battle, it is definitely a realm that has accumulated deep enough at the critical point, and it is even possible to break through a battle in a situation that suppresses his own strength breakthrough, in order to break out a stronger combat effectiveness.

Like Burlade, although Sean is worried that the opponent will break through the battle, in fact, the probability that Burlade wants to break through the battle will never exceed 13%. This is still considered because he has already entered the fourteenth. The critical point state of the first order.

As for Sean, his aura may be very strong in the eyes of others, but in the eyes of top veteran powerhouses like Burleigh, it is far from it: Burleigh can tell at a glance, and Shawn has just entered the tenth place. It didn't take long for the third-order realm. If you want to break through to the fourteenth, even if you speculate according to the top genius standards of the underground world, it will take more than several decades of hard work before it is possible.

But now!

It was just a moment of effort, and Sean's aura was at the moment Burlade was shocked, breaking through the limit and successfully stepping into the fourteenth step!

Ten years of hard work?

This is just a joke!

Just a blink of an eye, maybe a little longer than a blink of an eye, but it will never exceed three seconds. Choosing to consume all the reserved souls of the strong, Sean has already stepped into the fourteenth-level legendary strong. The ranks, standing at the same height as Burred—the same realm of the legendary powerhouse, there is no so-called high and low depth, it is nothing more than staying in this realm for a long time, and having a deeper understanding of their own abilities. Feeling, the combat experience is more abundant.

Ke Sean, as a player, every time he upgrades, he can directly feel the sublimation of the strength of the entire realm. For him, there is no need to re-experience the change of power. In addition, what's more important is that Sean's combat experience and awareness are extremely rich, so the improvement of strength—for example, a breakthrough in battle may be just an outbreak for others, but for Sean it is a real The sublimation.

Without giving Burlade any time to regain his senses and thinking, Sean charged with the sword and rushed directly towards Burleigh.

The successive improvement in strength naturally has some for the growth of Sean's various attributes, especially the agility, which allows Sean's speed to reach a sense of vision that is like tearing apart space and teleporting through. .

In Burred's eyes, Sean was almost an action, and he had already killed him. He was horrified in his eyes. He hurriedly waved his gun to block him, subconsciously wanting to transform the spear into a shield. But the action of swinging the spear was made, but the spear did not turn into a shield, so the sword that Sean pierced directly avoided the body of the spear and pierced directly into Burlade's left shoulder. A blood arrow shot out directly.

Draw the sword and back.

Sean took a few light jumps, then moved the distance away from Burladra, avoiding Burlad's subsequent sweep of the horizontal spear.

The routine attack action is almost impossible to cause any threat to Sean—just like being attacked, he will naturally think of defense and parry, and then think of a way to counterattack. Therefore, when Sean attacked, he was already prepared to evade: he knew Burlade's counterattacks, so he didn't love fighting. His biggest goal was to contain Burlade and delay him. As for Serena needs to be responsible for the affairs in Lesenba Castle.

As for failure?

Shaun didn't think about it so much. He believed that Serena would definitely have a back-up. After all, he had done this all the time. Judging from Serena's level of insidiousness, Sean absolutely believed in Serena. Linna can succeed.

So, all he needs to do is to hold Burlad, nothing more.

Burlade missed Sean with a single shot, his face looked a bit ugly, because he found that the speed he relied on the most did not have any advantage compared with Sean, and it could even be said that he was still at a slight disadvantage. Of course he didn't know that Sean had two cheating devices that greatly improved agility, light weight technique and adrenal stimulation, so he could only attribute it to Sean as a legendary powerhouse who was extremely focused on speed.

With a slight force, the wound on Burlade's left shoulder stopped bleeding.

"After the strength has been increased, the law's influence area has also expanded..." Burlade murmured softly. Just now he tried to convert the spear into a shield, but the result was invalid. This was obviously affected by the power of Shaun's law.

But in the previous fight, Burlade found that Shaun's law domain can only cover a small area around him. If the distance is a little far away, it will not be effective at all, so his singularity is also You can do whatever you want. But now it was different. It was obvious that Xiao En had not yet approached his side, and when the distance between them was still a few dozen meters, he could no longer make Sen Luo Wanxiang change.

This also means that Sean's law domain can cover more than ten meters of space around him.

Burlade looked at Sean in silence, then glanced at the gate of Lesenba Castle, then turned his gaze back to Sean, and said, "I must admit now that you are really a very extraordinary person.

Anticipated and very strong opponent.... I am Prince Burlad Lesemba, the leader of the thirteen generals of the Lesenba clan today. As you can see, the weapon I use is this Sanluo Wanxiang, so other People usually call me the Prince of Sanluo Vientiane."

Being able to make a blood family speak his name and position is a way of paying homage to his opponent, and it also proves that the prince has officially recognized Shaun's strength and believes that Shaun is a person worthy of his efforts. An opponent who has gone and taken seriously, an evenly matched opponent.

"Sean Connery, the Grand Duke of the Void Principality, comes from the surface world." Shaun smiled and waved the Black King in his hand. "This is my weapon, the Black King.... In this underground world, you His Royal Highness Serena called me the son of the devil, the despicable. In the surface world, people generally call me the miracle lord, rule-breaker....Of course, I have many other titles, but I told you You shouldn't understand it either, I won't talk about it."

In the underground world, the recognized title is a symbol of strength.

Because only the strong will be given different names to show awe.

And usually, this kind of name is generally closer to the unique ability of this strong person.

For example... Scarlet Queen Serena, Tyrant Donne, Sunro Vientiane Bollard, Master Rorty Kabas, etc., all have titles that clearly fit their character, ability, and status. And in the subterranean world, the more titles, the higher the status of the person who bears the title, then it proves that the strength of this person is worthy of in-depth investigation and attention.

Regarding the title of the surface world, Burlade didn't know much about it, but he noticed the word "general" very keenly. This also means that Sean's title in the surface world is not limited to these two, he just picked two out of them, or two more representative ones.

All kinds of thoughts, like ripples in Burlade's heart.

But what really makes Burlade pay attention to is the last sentence of Sean.

"...Your Highness Serena calls me the son of the devil, the despicable..."

Selena has been the name of the Scarlet Queen for a long time, and there has never been any failure record, as long as her enemies will not end well in the end. It is precisely because of this that the Resenba clan will let her be responsible for the security of the path of the abyss, secretly establish strongholds in the surface world and develop dependents and puppets.

However, she did not expect that Serena not only messed up this job that was the least likely to go wrong in Resenba's view, but also suffered serious injuries.

As a result, those conspiracies and incidents against her will naturally follow.

Under pressure, the current Patriarch of the Luxemba clan had to abandon the genius of Serena. But in any case, Serena's influence still has an almost unshakable position in the whole blood demons, especially among the younger generation. After all, Selena's name of the Scarlet Queen was actually made by herself, and the enemies who died in her hands might be able to build a new blood pool.

And now, the two titles of Sean in the Underworld are actually crowned by Scarlet Queen Serena, which is enough for Burlade to show enough attention.

Brad took a deep breath, and the spear in his hand soon began to make a new transformation.

His gaze has been staring at Sean, as long as Sean gets a little bit of trouble, he will temporarily distance himself. Because Sean's power of law can halt his dynamic changes, but if the change is over, he won't be afraid of Sean's law, so this time he wants to transmogize something larger, so Burred is naturally It takes a while to prepare.

It's just that, watching the white glow of the Sun Luo Wanxiang in Burled's hand, and then began to cling to himself, Sean did not do anything, but this made Burled's heart a little relieved.

Soon, the white light attached to Burlade stopped.

When it is revealed again, it is already a leather armor that fits Burred's body shape, but the gauntlets on both hands have become fist blades.

This is a leather armor that integrates offense and defense.

Moreover, it is also the most suitable way of fighting for the blood race: the close-fitting leather armor will not only not affect the various speeds of the blood race, but can also slightly improve the blood race's defensive ability-but this is a magical weapon. The defensive ability has been confirmed in the several confrontations with Sean just now, and the improvement of this defensive ability is not low.

In addition, the fist blade attached to this phantom leather armor can strengthen the offensive ability of the blood family, and it is also the most suitable weapon for the blood family to play its own speed advantage.

However, seeing Burlade make such a move, the corners of Sean's mouth raised slightly.

The battle between the two sides broke out once again!

But this time, it was not Sean who took the initiative to attack, but Burred.

He exploded all his power completely, and his speed was increased to the highest limit: when a black shadow flashed, Burred had already attacked Sean, and his right hand was directly hitting Sean's heart. . At the same time, his left hand didn't stop, a sharp left uppercut was only slightly slower than his right punch by half a beat, and it took Sean's face.

This is an attack technique that is easily overlooked.

Because in many cases, people only pay attention to the position of the first attack, so as to respond to the first attack, and then ignore the possible second pursuit. Of course, one of the main reasons for this phenomenon is also because it is difficult for a person to make different attacks with two hands at the same time when launching an attack. After all, no matter what kind of existence it is, there will be a balance point. .

The balance point for both hands to attack at the same time is completely different from the balance point for one-handed attack.

In addition, Burred's attack speed is extremely fast, and the second pursuit is only half a beat slower than the first. This reaction time happens to be stuck in a person's blind spot time: even if this person is aware of the second pursuit, But because the attention is attracted by the location of the first attack, it is difficult to react when the coping action has been made-of course, if you have been trained for a long time and professionally, then this is a natural exception.

Brad is sure that Sean has not undergone such long-term training.

So the fact?

Shaun did not have long-term training to deal with this blind spot attack.

But his speed is not slower at all than Burleigh, and it can even be said to be slightly faster. And the most important thing is that the power of law that Sean controls is not the time that Boulder thinks, but the law of time and space that combines time and space.

Mistakes in intelligence, resulting in misjudgments, naturally come at a price.

Faced with the attack of these two punches, Burlade may seem normal as before, but for Sean, it seems a bit slow: Sean directly senses the flow velocity between Burleigh and this material world. Separated, the two different space-time velocities produced changes at this instant, that Burlade thought he was very fast, but in fact the speed of the reaction to the material world was very slow.

Of course, the price that Sean needs to pay is not low. After all, he is not a super strong yet. The application of this law of dividing the flow of time and space is still a huge burden for him now.

But there was such a moment, it was enough for Sean.

His figure retreated two steps slightly, avoiding Burlade's second kill attack, and the Black King in his hand also picked up a little bit. The range of parry was expanded to a position capable of covering two punches of Burred.

Then!

The division of time and space velocity suddenly disappeared. While Burlade's double fist attack returned to normal, the Black King in Sean's hand also suddenly exploded a sword light.

Use attacks to deal with attacks!

The tyrannical side hidden deep in Sean's heart also broke out completely at this moment.

The huge collision of the two forces exploded directly in front of Sean.

The powerful explosion impact will completely fly out, even if Sean has tried his best to control his balance and minimize the damage to himself during the explosion. But he still couldn't land safely. Instead, he fell heavily to the ground and turned a few laps before he could barely stand up, but the first half of his body had been blown to pieces, if it weren't provided by the golden body. The body is strong enough that Sean will be seriously injured if he is not dead at the moment.

But even so, Sean still looked a little gray.

However, as soon as Xiao En stood firmly, the Black King was raised by Xiao En again, and a sharper and thicker sword aura directly broke through the air and blasted towards the center of the explosion.

At exactly this time, Burlade was tearing open the dense explosion smoke that obscured his vision, and was rushing towards Sean.

In this way, it actually looked more like Burlade took the initiative to find Sean's sword attack.

It's just that Sean looked at the scene in front of him, but his heart was not relaxed at all, but his expression became more solemn!

Chapter 190: Lord of Resenba

A violent explosion sounded straight into the sky.

The earth was completely shattered by the sound of the explosion, revealing a deep pit with a depth of eight or nine meters and a coverage area of ten meters in diameter.

Streams of black mist, constantly escaping from the deep cracks. But if you look closely, you can see that the black mist that escapes is actually not a real mist, but a very thin sword aura, but it is supposed to be a sword aura that is as hard as iron, but it has changed. It is very soft and swaying with the wind, so it looks more like mist.

The one who is in the pit is no one else, but Burrad in dark red leather armor.

The leather armor simulated by Sun Luo Wanxiang gives Burrad an amazing defensive ability—the defensive bonus provided by the artifact is not a joke, not to mention that this artifact is an artifact that was strengthened by the * of lies in the past with high powers. The defensive ability possessed by the artifact itself is completely beyond the imagination of ordinary people.

This is also the reason why Brady is clearly a speed-type warrior, but he is even more fierce than a "tank" dressed in gods.

If ordinary people fell into this deep pit, they would have been directly minced into minced meat by the dense sword energy. But Burrad was not afraid at all. In addition to protecting his eyes, even if the sword energy had shaved his face with blood, he still rushed forward without fear, and he rushed out of this deep pit in an instant. , And then once again killed towards Sean.

Shaun looked at Burlade, who was like Xiaoqiang, and couldn't help but feel some toothache.

However, Burlade has already made a strong kill, and Sean has no way to worry about anything else, so he can only fight with Burleigh again.

The fight between the two of them has lasted for more than 30 minutes, which is an unimaginable confrontation for outsiders.

Because the more powerful a person is, it will not take too long to decide the victory or defeat in the battle. After all, when reaching the fourteenth and fifteenth level, as long as a slight mistake will cause an extreme chain reaction— After all, the strong who can reach this level are not fools, it is impossible to distinguish between traps and mistakes, so as long as you catch an opportunity, you must attack to the death. If you want to regain the upper hand, you can only expect the opponent to make mistakes.

Therefore, the battle between the strong will usually begin to show signs of tilting in about ten minutes. Generally, in about thirty minutes, one party will inevitably have a major and irreparable disadvantage. At this time, if the completely disadvantaged party does not want to fall, it will begin to think of retreat-with such a high level of legendary strength, if you really want to run, unless it is a super strong who is completely above the legend. Otherwise, even if it is the pinnacle of the legend, unless you have special means or well-prepared, don't want to forcefully leave another legendary powerhouse.

but now.

The fierce battle between Sean and Burlade has lasted for more than 30 minutes. The battle between the two sides has gradually turned into a variety of lure traps, but the two sides have never made any mistakes. !

This is extremely rare!

With such a high concentration of attention, if you want to maintain the fierce battle for so long without making any mistakes, or even directly switch to tactical combat, it will consume more brainpower. It is just walking a tightrope, and you are a little careless. Will be crushed to pieces.

It's just that, unfortunately, both sides have this idea.

As a result of the fierce battle, both Sean and Burlade have discovered that it is completely impossible to rely on this method to solve the opponent. After all, the opponent is not a reckless person with no brute force, but a real combat genius. He has an extremely keen sense of smell in combat. Any tricks and other small methods cannot be used by the opponent at all. Instead, they will be used and used by the opponent. Means of combat.

In this way, the battle between the two eventually returned to a state where they could only rely on strength to fight hard, and it was up to who could not consume it first.

But Sean didn't want to fight with Burred in such a desperate fight, because Burleigh had the cheat device of Sun Luo Wanxiang, and playing desperately with him was an extremely unfavorable behavior for himself. And most importantly, Sean was able to sustain such a long, high-intensity, high-consumption battle, not because of him alone, but also with the help of the analysis ability of the Black King, which means that Sean is not fighting alone. .

In a sense of level, both Sean and Burlade are fighting to death with cheating devices.

It's just that Burred is even more rascal: Relying on the black king's inability to pierce through the magical defense of San Luo Wanxiang, he fearlessly exchanged injuries with Sean. However, Sean didn't dare to be hit by Burlade at all, it was just a bruise, and the extent of being scrapped, so he was basically at a disadvantage in the state of death fight.

But it is only slightly at a disadvantage.

It is completely impossible for Burlade to defeat Sean in this way.

There was another roar.

Shaun and Burred separated again, and the distance between each other was once again tens of meters away.

At the center of their confrontation, the ground was collapsed once-like this, a pit that was tens of meters long, can be said to be everywhere outside Resenba Castle. Standing at a high place, I scanned it roughly, at least no less than thirty, and there were some shallow pits with a slightly smaller diameter and depth around them, probably left behind by the influence of the two people's side-grabbing attacks.

At this level, Lesenba Castle still has no damage. It has to be said that this castle is worthy of being known as the "first castle of the blood family".

Take a breath slightly, Sean stared at Burred, sweat has begun to flow out of his forehead, his hair has been wet, his clothes have been completely attached to his body, and his whole body is wet and sticky, and he looks very uncomfortable. This is the first time that Sean has hit this level after breaking through the realm of legend-exhaustion began to protest in Sean's brain, which made Sean feel a momentary trance: How long has he not shown up? This exhaustion?

However, Burred's situation is obviously not much better.

Although there is a leather armor concealed by the illusion of the sun, the clothes under the leather armor have also been soaked in sweat—this kind of completely covered leather armor is Burred's fantasy creation, its essence and whole body The armor is no different. It is only because of the material relationship of the simulation that it presents a leather armor that does not affect the mobility at all, but the air permeability also obviously complies with the degree of the full-body armor.

And this kind of heat emission can actually easily affect the activeness of thinking.

Brad, the thinking ability of the brain has indeed begun to slow down.

But it's no wonder that the two have been fighting for more than forty minutes after all. And in terms of age, Burlade is no longer in the category of young people. Even in the history of the blood race, Burleigh is a veritable old man-if he does not break into the realm of legend, he is far from legend. The peak is only one step away, and coupled with the long life span unique to the blood clan, Burleigh is already a pile of bones.

But even so, Burred's current image is also a gray-haired old man, only that his spirit is exceptionally good. Moreover, if Burlade can't break through to the ranks of superpowers within two hundred years, he will inevitably die.

Because Burlade's remaining lives are running out.

But as the saying goes, the longer you live, the more experience you will have.

Brad is still very keenly aware of Sean's slight loss of consciousness at this time.

So, he almost didn't hesitate at all. With a sudden mention of spirit, the whole person once again rushed towards Xiao En as if he had been on a stimulant.

This is the first flaw that Sean has exposed since the two sides fought for more than forty minutes-with Burlade's experience and experience, it can be seen naturally that this time Sean is not a disguise, but he has been highly concentrated. At last, the spirit of slackens has appeared, which is why the slightly different * at this moment will be produced.

Brad does not want to waste this opportunity!

"Dad!"

The Black King is not like Sean, who feels tired, especially in this life-threatening state of battle, his attention has not been slackened, which is why Sean has been able to fight against Burred. The reason for the falling wind. Because he only needs to spend about 70% of his energy, and the Black King will make up for the rest.

At this time, hearing the black king's shout, Xiao En's spirit was shocked and he immediately recovered.

Although he was a little annoyed at the moment of absence in his heart, his mentality did not change at all, because Burred had already killed him, and his right hand was pierced directly towards Sean's shoulder.

Even though Sean possesses the abilities of the law of time and space, at this moment, he has no time to fully unfold it, and even evades it a bit reluctantly. But if you don't fight hard and let go, this is really not Sean's style, so Sean still expands his space-time law domain, delaying or biasing Burred's attack position as much as possible, which can be affected by the space-time law. Nature is not just time, it also includes space.

However, with the strength of Burlade and Sean completely equal, even Sean can't completely move Burlade's attack, at most it can only make a little deviation.

In such a completely unavoidable situation, even if Sean had completely run the law of time and space to the limit, he still couldn't avoid it, and his left shoulder was still wiped by Burred's fist.

Suddenly, a burst of blood splashed out.

This is the first change in injury since the two sides fought. The sword that Sean used to stabbed Burlade before is naturally not counted. After all, the two sides had not formally fought each other at that time, nor had they launched such a fierce confrontation. fighting.

With just one blow, Sean felt a deep tingling sensation.

At this moment, Sean immediately understood that there must be some toxin attached to Burlade's blade.

This should not be the ability of Senluo Wanxiang, because Senluo Wanxiang can be said that any dead thing can be changed and transformed, but it cannot be accompanied by such a toxin. To be able to produce such a toxin, Burlade must have quenched the poison on this weapon.

Ordinary artifacts, I am afraid that there will not be a few people to quench the poison, after all, the power is really placed there.

Furthermore, not all venom can do the poisoning on the artifact.

After all, artifacts are weapons with souls. Their nobility and pride are just like legendary and super-powerfuls. They do not allow blasphemy at all, so how can they be contaminated with venom. Therefore, in the game, almost all artifacts and equipment cannot be poisoned, even magical poisons cannot be used. Only a few artifacts can be poisoned, and the poison must be a myth-level item.

However, considering that Senluo Wanxiang is an artifact of the * of lies, it is hard to say whether it can quench poison.

Sean now only feels the abnormal pain in his left shoulder, and there is also a corrosive smell-it can damage the golden body, this toxin is extraordinary, at least it has to be a mythical poison. possible. Even, Sean suspected that the ability of Sen Luo Wanxiang was definitely not as simple as the introduction on the game's official website. This artifact is likely to amplify the effect of toxins, otherwise it would be impossible to destroy Sean's golden body.

Shaun staggered back, his face changed slightly, and he wanted to quickly open his body.

But how could Burred, who had such a rare opportunity, let him go. Naturally, he followed closely like a bone gangrene. At the same time, his attacking movements became extremely fierce and fierce, and he didn't intend to give Sean anything at all. Preparations to stay alive.

Gritting his teeth, Shaun was completely unable to perform other actions except for parry.

In this short period of two or three seconds, Sean's left hand has been completely abolished.

Moreover, this situation is still spreading at the same time, and Sean only feels that it is not just his left hand now, and even begins to corrode to other areas of the body, which makes Sean have to start to consume vindictive energy to suppress this. Kind of corrosion. As a result, the situation that was already in a disadvantageous situation, it showed a result that was almost one-sided, and Sean's parry began to show even greater flaws and flaws.

The winners and losers have begun to transfer completely!

When Sean managed to parry once again, Burlade raised his hand, and the action on his hand suddenly increased by several points, finally breaking through Sean's defensive circle.

After that, Burlade's right hand stabs Sean's throat straight forward, preparing to sack Sean in one fell swoop!

"Stop it!"

Just when the tip of Burlade's right hand fist had already touched Sean's throat, a clear shout suddenly sounded.

Brad's body couldn't help but tremble slightly, as if he had been in a fixation technique, he couldn't move.

His face became very ugly, and when he turned his head slowly, he saw Serena rushing out from the gate of the old castle.

Although Serena at this moment has not changed in any way from before, the aura that exudes from her is completely different from what Sean and Burlade had seen before, and it faintly has an imperial aura.

Without even thinking about it, Sean and Burlade already knew that Serena successfully invaded the ancestor's house and has officially become the new king of the Luxemba clan!
