

Lord of War Vol 4-71

Chapter 71: . The confidence of the Peace Council

Because of the result of the confrontation between Sean and Azik, Azik finally decided to give in.

Of course, this kind of concession does not mean Azik's retreat, but since Sean wants to show his strength, Azik naturally doesn't mind showing it. In other words, this may have been one of Azik's coping methods: if Sean accepts Azik's previous arrangement, then he will be in a state of negotiating disadvantage; if Sean does not accept it, then Azik Ke certainly doesn't mind mixing up the water.

After all, no matter from which aspect, this manor is still the home ground of Azik and others.

The head maid who had invited Sean and the others before quickly brought in five more chairs to ensure that each of the Kingdom of Ryan and the Duchy of Void had five seats.

After Arlan hesitated for a while, he let Kos, Florence and another middle-aged man whom Shaun didn't know were seated together. Immediately after entering the meeting room, Vannie and other guards also followed. Obviously because of the decision of Sean and Azik, everyone began to care about their own safety.

Shaun didn't let anyone go out, but only himself, William, Elsie, and Ulamog could be seated. Kozilek, Rena, and Alexis were not seated, because these three were not really responsible for the negotiation.

At this point, the guard force in the room can basically be judged clearly.

Originally, in everyone's cognition, the Lion Kingdom should be the weakest, but I didn't expect it to be the weakest of the Fascist Kingdom in terms of the strength of the guard.

On the Ryan Kingdom side, in addition to Fannie who is a real legendary powerhouse, the guards around the old Duke Hatch and Duke Kose both have a middle-ranked sanctuary powerhouse. Although they don't seem to have many appearances, Xiao Well, from their perception of life characteristics, they knew that these two people were actually quite old, and it was no longer possible to have the aptitude and ability to impact the legend.

And Florence did not bring too many people this time, only two people, the twin sisters: Pepe Rossi and Nana Rossi. These two people are now strong in the lower sanctuary-because of the special rules of the sanctuary realm, it is difficult for Sean to judge the other's understanding of the law, but he can be sure that these two people are now The body is still very young and full of vitality, as long as the qualifications are enough, it is still very promising to hit the realm of legend.

Two high-level sanctuary, two low-level sanctuary, and a legendary powerhouse, this is the strength of the personal guard members of the Kingdom of Lane.

In comparison, the guard captain of the envoy of the Fascist Kingdom actually only has the middle sanctuary sanctuary, and the rest are just a mixture of the golden realm and the silver realm. This is like a joke. If conflicts really break out, these people will definitely be the first to die here.

Thinking of this, Sean couldn't help but look at Azik.

Just in time, he also saw Azik's gaze looking at Sean.

There was a confrontation between the eyes of the two in the air, and both understood each other's meaning: Obviously, Azik gave the fascist envoy a strong confidence, it seems that as long as there are people from the Peace Council, they are absolutely impossible to encounter Any danger. Therefore, the so-called guards are just putting on airs, and selecting people with such weak strength can better demonstrate the tolerance of their host.

Soon, people walked into the room one after another.

This person is also Sean's old acquaintance, and he is still the kind who knows he can't be more familiar.

Since Christina was just a white-robed executive officer, Sean has been dealing with each other. It can be said that over the years, he has truly witnessed Christina's crazy growth at an unimaginable speed. people.

Today, Christina is still in a golden robe, and the style does not seem to be any different from the one that represented the golden robe executive officer when I saw it in the forest of sighs.

However, if you look closely, you can see that this golden robe is embroidered with brighter and brighter textures on the collar, cuffs, hem, etc., and the Tianbian that represents the symbol of the Peace Council on the back seems to be made of gold. Painted by dye.

This obviously represents the peace messenger who has a higher status than the executive officer of the golden robe.

Kristina did not go to see Sean, and seemed to be deliberately avoiding Sean's gaze. For this, Sean was very clear: Although Kristina was seriously brainwashed by the Peace Council, she also strengthened her own beliefs and beliefs. Will, so Christina felt guilty for Sean when the Peace Council pulled Sean's legs. However, in terms of guilt and the righteousness of the Peace Council, this poor man who was seriously brainwashed obviously chose the latter.

Sean sighed slightly in his heart: Now, he really doesn't know how to deal with the relationship between himself and Christina.

If we were friends with each other before, then in the battle of fate, after Sean rescued Diane by Christina's hand, the relationship between the two could no longer be as close as before—has already occurred. There was a gap. And then in the forest of sighs, after seeing the contradiction between Christina and Atana, there is no more trust between Sean and Christina. However, what really caused this kind of trust to be completely broken was still after the Peace Council and Deaththorn had jointly pulled Sean's hind legs.

Kristina did not say hello to Sean, and Sean pretended not to see Kristina.

However, the second peace messenger who entered the room immediately behind Christina suddenly tightened the muscles of many people in the conference room!

Especially Kozilek, Alexis and Ulamog.

This is a middle-aged man with gray hair. He is not a natural hair color, but a symbol of aging that can be clearly judged by the naked eye. But the problem is that this person's strength is fully qualified to prevent this kind of aging, and it can even be said that he can maintain his body in a state of peak quality, but he has not done so, which is very worthy of deep investigation.

However, unlike other people's feelings about the weird vitality field of this middle-aged man, Kozilek and Alexis' eyes fell on the middle-aged man's right hand. He holds a long sword with a black scabbard in his right hand. The temperament of his whole person is completely integrated with the long sword, and it looks dry and introverted. However, the three of Alexis know very well that once the middle-aged man If the man draws out the long sword, his aura will be completely different.

Following this middle-aged man is a * woman with enchanting figure.

She is also the peace messenger of the Peace Council, but her robes are obviously modified to be extra close to the body: perfectly showing her figure completely, especially the two sides of the robes, which can be moved with her steps. Clearly see the slender ****.

This woman does not seem to have any weapons on her body, and her face also maintains a sweet smile, and every smile is full of extremely strong temptation. At this moment, many people in the conference room showed silly smiles, including even Arlan, Florence and others. Only Sean was able to stay awake, but his face also appeared extra vigilant.

"Cough." Azik gave a light cough.

"Oh, sorry, sorry." The female peace envoy put out her tongue a little embarrassedly, which caused her temperament to change suddenly, from the original mature charm to cute and cute in an instant, "Just now I was with Nebula. The adults have practiced in pairs, and I haven't calmed down for a while. I'm sorry everyone."

As the woman with outstanding appearance and changeable temperament spoke, everyone in the conference room finally awoke.

But many people showed a rather embarrassing look.

"Boom!"

There was a slight tremor on the ground, followed by the second and third sounds. A subtle rhythm sounded one after another, but it was the heartbeat of everyone in the meeting room.

Imposing momentum!

Shaun's face became a bit ugly.

A burly man bent slightly and walked into the conference room. With every step he took, the ground would vibrate slightly. And this tremor was transmitted through the ground and directly acted on everyone's blood in the conference room, instantly causing everyone's blood to boil, an extremely depressive and dull atmosphere, and immediately made everyone feel their complexion. Redness, there is a feeling of wanting to vomit blood.

This is the imposing influence!

If we say that the realm of the sanctuary is the concept of generating the domain, the power of the law can be borrowed to a certain extent within the domain; and the legendary powerhouse is to transform the law into his own abilities, so as to obtain some special abilities, active or passive. , Then the concept of super power is imposing!

Through the aura that comes out, with the help of the power of the law, it affects everything in the surrounding environment.

This is the super strong.

But generally after becoming a super strong, as long as a steady retreat for a period of time, you can control this ability. The reason why the burly giant man in front of him was unable to fully control his new abilities was because he had just broken into the realm of a superpower, at least not more than a year ago.

Shaun's gaze could not help but looked at Azik, but he saw that Azik's face had become very calm. Obviously, this is the real means of disarming the Peace Council. They want to use this method to tell everyone at the meeting that the foundation of the Peace Council is not as simple as outsiders imagine. They may have experienced three major blows. A lot was lost in the previous civil strife, but they are by no means a minority of qualified personnel.

As a result, Xiao En couldn't help but also looked at the peace messenger who was outstanding in appearance and stature.

Undoubtedly, this woman is also a super strong who has just broken through the realm, but it may be more than a year in time. Therefore, only in the battle will the aura of the battle become uncontrollable due to the aura of the battle. That's why when she walked into the conference room just now, everyone around her was bewildered.

At this moment, the fourth messenger of peace, the burly man who is totally unlike a human, has walked to a corner of the conference room, and then sat down.

Sitting like this, he completely occupies a corner of the entire conference room. The whole person is like a meat mountain. At this moment, not only Sean, but everyone present also knows why the room in this conference room is specially opened. Obviously it was to allow this giant man who was close to three meters tall to enter.

Just sitting on the ground, his deterrent power seems to be strong!

Xiao En's gaze couldn't help but look at the middle-aged man with a black long sword.

seemed to be aware of Sean's gaze, the middle-aged man glanced at Sean, and then took his gaze back. But just this glance made Sean feel a palpitation, and his cold sweat broke out in an instant.

Super strong!

Different from the seductive woman and the burly giant, this middle-aged man who seems to be declining before his old age is by no means a super power who has just been promoted, but a person who has been in this realm for some years. Although he couldn't judge the specific rank, Xiao En was sure that he was definitely not rank sixteen, at least he was a super powerhouse of rank seventeen!

Among the four peace messengers, apart from Kristina, who is a legendary powerhouse, the other three are real super powerhouses—even if two of them have just entered the ranks of super powerhouses, they are also truly super powerhouses. By! As long as it crosses this boundary, even if it is just promoted, it is definitely not the opponent of the legendary powerhouse, even if it is Rina, it will not be the opponent of the two.

Is this the confidence of the Peace Council?

Shaun's expression seemed particularly solemn, no wonder the Fascist Kingdom dared to be so confident!

It's no secret that the Void Principality has two superpowers.

Kozilek, the forest of sighs has already appeared, the Deaththorn and the Peace Council must be very clear.

Alexis, because the death thorn and the Peace Council pulled Sean's hind legs, she went directly to the murder, so the name "killing Wu Ji" is already very famous in the entire southern continent. Even with the spread of this incident, the Marvel Continent now gradually knows that there is a terrifying superpower in the Void Dukedom-the killing of Wu Ji Alexis.

Since the Peace Council dared to convene a Tianping meeting under this situation, and also assumed such a strong posture, then it must be prepared. Obviously these three super powers are used to suppress Alexis and Kozilek, as for Christina, I am afraid it is also to deal with Rena. In addition, the Peace Council also brought twenty golden robe executives this time, and there must be several legendary powerhouses among them, in order to prevent Sean from gaining the high-end combat power of the entire void duchy.

Wanting to understand this, Sean couldn't help but glance at Ulamog.

This is the super power that Sean summoned after the Deaththorn and Peace Council learned about his details, and he has never made any moves. At this moment, his aura is completely restrained, and he has become indistinguishable from ordinary people. In addition, with William, who is also an ordinary person, sits at the same seat, and Rena, Kozilek, and Alexis are not in the seat, so to a certain extent, it also gives others a certain illusion: this is not a combat talent.

Seeing Shaun looking at him, Ulamog certainly knew the meaning of this look-he was originally a strong magician, and his wisdom was certainly not bad. In addition, William also learned a lot about science on the way, so Ulamog knew the situation at this time: his hiding of his identity and strength is definitely the best guarantee at the moment. So facing Sean's gaze, Ulamog smiled calmly and gave Sean a relieved sign.

His movements were very calm and simple, and there was nothing to cover up, so although Ulama and Sean looked at each other, although they could not hide the people present, no one doubted anything. In their view, perhaps this old man is the negotiator who replaced Diana. Now the four giants of the Void Principality are extremely well-known in the South Continent, but Diana is still too young compared to Neil, William, and Hella. So it's not surprising that someone else will replace it.

Azik glanced at the people present, obviously he was very satisfied with the atmosphere he created, especially after seeing the solemn expression of Sean, he was even more proud. Therefore, the middle-aged man who also holds the name of the chief arbitrator in the Peace Council, after clearing his throat, finally said: "Since everyone is here, then the meeting will begin."

Chapter 72: . Self-defeating

Azik gestured to the side, and a young man in a dark black arbitrator robe stood up.

After saluting everyone, he did not introduce himself or anything, but rather simply put a palm-sized disc on the table. As he fiddled with it, a light blue light burst out on the disc. After the initial blur, this light would soon show a map in miniature.

The people present only glanced at it and knew that this map epitome was the land map of the entire Fascist kingdom.

However, as the young man adjusted again, there were a few more areas on this map microcosm, which were the border area of the Kingdom of Line that bordered the Kingdom of Fascism and the border area of the Principality of Ekiri.

Then soon, an area on the map was slightly raised, and it felt like this area was slightly enlarged, and the surrounding edge lines also glowed red.

This area is the territory of the Fascist Kingdom completely occupied by the Kingdom of Line and the Duchy of Void at this moment.

Shaun glanced at the map and the young man who was playing with the equipment, and then at Azik, who also looked at Shaun.

"Thanks for your hard work."

After taking a look at Sean, Azik quickly retracted his gaze, and then he stood up and said to the young man beside him. The young man replied and sat down. At this time, Azik glanced around at the people around him, and then said: "This red area is the territory of the Kingdom of Fascism that is now occupied by the Alliance of the Kingdom of Line and the Void Duchy."

As Azik's words fell, a blush appeared in the territory in the southeastern region of the Kingdom of Fascism, bordering the Principality of Ekiri, including the Ellison region taken by Sean.

"And this..." When Azik said here, he looked at Sean specifically, and the corners of his mouth raised slightly. That kind of smug smile made Sean want to punch him in the face. The Principality of Ekiri, which is severely persecuted by the Void Principality!"

Sean yawned very cooperatively: "What about then?"

"Then?" Azik was stunned. He didn't expect Sean to show such a reaction, but his long standing status still lets him know what to say at the moment. "Does Duke Sean want that? Is the entire Southern Continent into war?"

"I just told you that I had severely persecuted the Principality of Ekiri." Sean shrugged, "Where have I been persecuted? ... Besides, if I really persecuted the Principality of Ekiri, then today Why didn't the people of the Principality of Kiri participate in the Libra Conference? Shouldn't they be the one who should accuse them?"

"On this matter, the Principality of Ekili has entrusted our Peace Parliament Arbitration Panel with full authority to be responsible." Azik said in a deep voice, "So regarding this matter, I hope that Duke Shawn can give you a reasonable explanation."

"Explain?" Sean looked at Azik, then smiled, "What's the explanation?"

"Why persecute the Principality of Ekiri? Why start this war? Why..."

"How can there be so many whys." Before this Azik had finished speaking, Sean had already ruthlessly interrupted the other's momentum building.

Sean, who is familiar with negotiation, of course knows why this Azik talks so much nonsense for the purpose of creating a kind of momentum, so as to completely control the rhythm of the entire negotiation, so as to form a suppression of Sean's side. To be reasonable, Sean should naturally not interrupt the other party's speech at this time, but should wait for the other party to finish speaking before answering.

But, are you reasonable to Sean?

"There is always someone responsible for what they have done before." Sean said in a deep voice, "Some things will always be remembered as long as they have been done."

Sean's words are obviously a pun.

Azik's eyes narrowed slightly, and his voice became much lower, "I don't know what the matter is, Grand Duke Sean?"

"About an assassination conspiracy that year." Sean and Azik looked at each other for a long time, then turned to look at one of the members of the Fascist Kingdom's envoy, "Your Excellency Turin, do you remember that?"

Everyone's eyes immediately gathered on Turin Wiles.

As the current patriarch of the Wiles family, Turin Wiles inherited the title of Duke of Platinum, which is a duke title of orthodox blood.

In the circle of nobility in the Fascist Kingdom, the Wiles family is not the founding patriarch, but it is definitely a well-known old noble. This family has given birth to five dukes. It is not the kind of hereditary title that inherited the ancestor's name. Instead, it branched out from the family and then relied on its own efforts to eventually climb to the title of duke. Although to this day, these four offshoot families only have the title of "Duke Yanliu" in the end, and the other three branches can only rely on these two families, but anyway, the title of Duke of Platinum remains in the entire fascist kingdom. It is a representative of a pivotal position.

And Turin, inheriting this title and fame, naturally represents his status and prestige in the Kingdom of Fascism.

Nominally, the head of the fascist kingdom envoy was someone else, but in reality, Turin Wiles was the real host of the envoy.

"I don't know what Duke Sean are you talking about." Turin, who had been closing his eyes and thinking, finally opened his eyes and looked at Sean, and then said, "What assassination plot? I don't quite understand... and Now what we're discussing seems to be why Grand Duke Sean you want to persecute the Principality of Ekiri, or even seize the territory of the Principality of Ekiri? What does it matter what conspiracy, assassination, etc. have to do?"

A man with a clever tongue.

This is Sean's first impression of Turin.

Just a few simple words, once again control the initiative of the negotiation-if it is a normal negotiation.

"You may think it's okay, but I think it's a big deal." Sean smiled, his face also showing a bit of hideousness, "What are you doing when my sergeant is on the front line resisting the tide of undead death? Pull my hind legs! It is causing civil turmoil behind me! If I hadn't arrived in time, the wild fortress would have been captured by the undead army at that time. What will happen then, you silly guys would not know?"

Speaking of this, Sean looked at Azik again, and said coldly: "Or, do you think you are sure to form a larger army of undead after annexing the Wildlands?"

"It's ridiculous, after you swallowed the entire wilderness, those tribal leaders were dissatisfied with you and decided to rebel. Can this kind of thing be blamed on other people?" Turin sneered, not loud, but still filled with a contemptuous tone, "The rumored Lord Void, turned out to be such a * that shifts the responsibility to other people?... Hey, Mr. William, I admire you very much. The lord you follow seems to be nothing. Good luck, it's better to switch to me. My Wiles family and the fascist kingdom really need talents like you."

"Oh, take refuge in someone who wanted to kill me?" William squinted Turin, his eyes and tone of contempt, "I'm not that cheap yet."

"Mr. William, I don't know what you are talking about." Turin had a stunned expression, "A talent like you, it's too late to welcome me, how could I want to kill you?"

This time, not only William, but also Sean sneered.

"Enough, now I'm discussing the matter of the Void Principality invading and occupying the territory of the Ekiri Principality." Azik said in a deep voice, "What is the feast between you? It is a matter between you. I represent peace. The parliament presided over this meeting of Libra to resolve the turmoil caused by the Void Principality and the Kingdom of Lane in the southern continent."

"So, how does the Peace Council plan to solve it?" Sean did not continue to haunt Turin. To be honest, he was really curious about what the Peace Council planned to do this time.

"It's very simple, the war stops." Azik said coldly, his tone of voice has become unusually strong.

"Is it just that the war stopped?" A smile appeared on Sean's face.

Azik glanced at Sean, and his instinct told him that the look that Sean showed at this moment was obviously malicious. But because of his duty, it is impossible for him not to answer at this time, so he can only nod and say: "Yes, the first is to stop the war. The armies of your two countries must withdraw from the land of the Fascist Kingdom within a week."

"So what about the currently occupied territory?" Sean didn't mean to speak, so it was Arlan who spoke at the moment.

"Return all." Azik glanced at Arlan before continuing, "This is not your territory, you are the invaders. Of course, the Fascist Kingdom, as the current defeated party, will also pay a certain amount of materials and resources. As a price to redeem this territory."

As Azik's words fell, the middle-aged man, who nominally represented the head of the fascist kingdom's envoy, took the words with a smile, and then handed in a form to Arlan and Sean. The material resources of the so-called "redemption of territory" are listed.

After reading this form, Arlan looked a little ugly.

And Sean even let out a mocking sneer.

According to the statistics in this table, they will pay a pension of ten gold coins for each of the war dead. In addition, they will pay 100,000 gold coins or equivalent materials as the redemption funds for the territory. Moreover, the statistics of the number of deaths are determined by the Kingdom of Fascism. That is to say, as shown on the form handed to Sean, Sean only killed about 20,000 people in the battle, including the ransom of 100,000 gold coins. The Kingdom of Fascism will compensate Sean for less than 300,000 gold coins.

This is no longer a phrase "to send a beggar" to describe it.

is totally bullying.

"This..." Arlan's brows frowned, and when people like Old Hatch, Cos, Florence and others saw this form, the expressions on their faces looked very wonderful.

"Are there anything dissatisfied with Your Highness Arlan?" The head of the envoy of the Fascist Kingdom still had a smile on his face and seemed full of sincerity.

"It's okay to ask me to retreat, but this compensation..." Arlan thought for a while, and said, "It seems a bit low."

"We can discuss it again." The middle-aged man said with a smile, "Our fascist kingdom and the Lane kingdom have always been friendly, so this time we suddenly sent troops to attack, of course, there must be some misunderstanding... In order to eliminate our misunderstandings and prove that our fascist kingdom is really sincere, we can triple the compensation."

Hearing what this person said, Sean knew that the form that the other party handed to Arlan must be different from the one he had. Otherwise, the other party had no reason to just say that it was tripled, instead of telling more accurate compensation materials. .

"So, what's the answer from the Kingdom of Lane?" Azik spoke in a timely manner, exerting pressure on Arlan.

Feeling the eyes of almost everyone in the conference room, especially the heavy pressure of the peace envoys, Arlan's face was slightly pale, and fine sweat appeared on his forehead. How could Arlan, who is just an ordinary person, be able to withstand this pressure, and his heart also has deep scruples about the Peace Council. At this moment, the Fascist Kingdom is backed by the Peace Council, and they have indeed appeared extremely strong.

So after weighing it up, Arlan finally gritted his teeth and nodded: "The Kingdom of Lane accepts this proposal, and we will immediately withdraw our troops and leave your country's territory."

"Your Royal Highness Arlan, please rest assured that we will sort out the relevant compensation resources soon, and you can bring them with you when you return home this time." The middle-aged man displayed a very happy smile, "Then, I don't know. Duke Void, do you have anything to say about this compensation? If you are not satisfied, I can also increase it three times... Well, or give a whole number, one million Pan-Continent gold coins, what do you think?"

"Heh." Xiao En laughed: It really is very different from Arlan's compensation form.

"Is it, the Void Principality is not willing to retreat?" Azik asked with a solemn face, matching his identity as a long black arbitrator, indeed a bit majestic.

"Retreat? All right." Sean nodded.

"So..." The corners of Azik's mouth raised slightly. Although it was not obvious, there was a bit of pride in his eyes.

It's a pity that before he could finish his words, Xiao En had already smashed the so-called compensation form directly on the face of the middle-aged man from the Fascist Kingdom's envoy.

Shaun is really venting his anger this time.

It's just that he still deliberately left a bit of a point, so these hardened papers with Sean's grudge did not directly explode the opponent's head, but they also smashed the opponent's face into bruises.

The super strong man holding a long sword immediately looked at Xiao En, and his heavy aura pressed him over without mercy.

But before this momentum was suppressed on Xiao En, it was like being blocked by something, and it exploded directly, exploding the improvised conference table to pieces. But the moment the wooden table was exploded, these wooden blocks had been directly turned into wood dust in the air before they were scattered all over, flying away completely.

At this time, the super strong man holding a long sword looked up at Alexis who was leaning against the wall: "Kill Wu Ji!"

The burly giant man who had been sitting in the corner of the temporary meeting room and the enchanting beauty also looked at Alexis at the same time.

Heavy and terribly low air pressure began to permeate the conference room.

Everyone felt a very strong and terrible pressure, which made their breathing harder, as if the oxygen in the air became scarce.

"Didn't I tell you? I agree to retreat." Sean laughed and broke the moment of silence. "But it's not in accordance with your so-called compensation method.... It is very simple to ask me to retreat. The murderers who assassinated William and caused the death of my follower Anno must all be handed over."

"What does this conspiracy have to do with our fascist kingdom?" The middle-aged man who was bruised and  could not help but roar.

"Because it is the Wiles family in your kingdom who is taking the lead." Sean said in a deep voice, "but as far as I know, the people who are really involved in the action are not only the Wiles family, but also several other families.... ..Well, and the leader of the wild tribe who managed to escape after creating the rebellion, you must also hand it over."

"You are slandering the Kingdom of Fascism!" the middle-aged man shouted furiously, "You are scorning the authority of the Libra Conference!"

"Okay, if the Peace Council has this attitude, it would still be authoritative." Sean curled his lips in disdain. Since it has completely erupted, then of course he has no need to continue to forbear, "compensate me for a million yuan. Mainland gold coins? I'll give you two million. How about you give me all the territories occupied by the Kingdom of Lane and me? The cost of mobilizing my nation's troops is more than that. Will you send the beggar?"

"That was an invasion that you provoked without authorization!"

"Invasion?" Sean sneered, "How about I just invaded? I made it very clear that I can retreat and hand over all the murderers, including Turin Wiles, otherwise everything will be ignored."

"Funny." Turin Wiles finally said, "You keep saying that I am plotting, so what evidence do you have?"

"I know that you are such a stupid. You like to deny it." Xiao En suddenly showed a happy smile, "but don't worry, I'm already ready....Magic boy."

As Sean clapped his hands, the door of the meeting room was finally opened again.

One of the original members of the 13th Coffin of the Deaththorn who was dispatched by Sean to the Kingdom of Fascism to collect relevant evidence, Ghost Sword Demon Boy walked in slowly from the door.

"One of the thirteen coffins of the original Deaththorn, Ghost Sword. Demon Boy, don't you need me to introduce it anymore?" Sean looked at Turin and said coldly, "Now it is my person, the execution of the Void Realm. One of the officials. I was arranged to come to the Kingdom of Fascism to collect your stupid evidence, so I have collected a lot of your actions against me. Otherwise, why do you think I was so against you? ?"

Turin's face changed slightly, and the aura of the whole person instantly became completely different.

At this moment, even Azik, the chief arbitrator of the Peace Council, looked a little ugly.

"Pop, papa."

Sean clapped three times in succession, and it was still very forceful. Everyone's eyes could not help being attracted by Sean's actions again: "Sorry, I just like this kind of face-slapping behavior. You peace council is not Ask me why I started the war? Now I have made it very clear that it is revenge. If you want me to retreat, you can do it according to my requirements, otherwise the war can only continue."

Azik glanced at Turin, the look on his face was not very good, but he still took a deep breath and calmed down before turning his head to look at Arlan: "What about the attitude of the Kingdom of Ryan?"

At this time, Arlan also knew that the scene of the war was not something he could intervene, and the loss during this dispatch was not particularly great for the Kingdom of Line—at least the kingdom's army suffered little loss, but the real losses were on the border. Private soldiers of several lords.

"The Kingdom of Lane has said before, we will retreat soon." Arlan smiled and said, "This is the battle of Vengeance of the Void Lord, and it has nothing to do with me."

Shaun glanced at Arlan and didn't say anything, but he also knew that the friendship between the Void Principality and the Kingdom of Lane was over. Because this time the Libra Conference was attended by Arlan on behalf of the Kingdom of Ryan, it also represented that the next king of the Kingdom of Ryan was the three princes in front of him. The choice Arlan made at this moment is naturally the future attitude of the Kingdom of Ryan to the Duchy of Void.

"I understand." Azik nodded, and then looked at Sean, "Grand Duke Sean, do you insist on causing a war on the South Continent for personal emotional reasons? You know, now There is also the threat of death tide, if..."

"You also know that there is still the threat of death tide?" Xiao En's face looked very contemptuous, which is a real disdain, "Since you know that my Void Principality is blocking the path of death tide south, then you Think I can tolerate someone pulling my hind legs?... I have already made it very clear that this is my condition, and there is no second choice."

"Does the Void Principality insist on not retreating?" Azik looked directly at Sean.

"Heh, the Peace Council? A fair and fair Libra Conference?" Sean raised the corner of his mouth. It was a complexion of contempt and ridicule. Will stop."

"Do you want to start war on the four fronts?" Azik asked in a deep voice, "Even the seven empires dare not be so arrogant, let alone you should know the result of refusing to accept the arrangement of the Libra Council."

"Four lines? Which four lines?" Sean asked back, "Oh, do you mean that your peace council intends to join the fascist kingdom?"

Azik did not answer, but looked at Sean quietly.

In fact, even if Azik did not answer, Sean knew the threat in the Peace Council's words.

Lake's death wave, the battle of the fascist kingdom, and the subsequent revenge of the death thorn. Even with the intervention of the Peace Council, it is actually only a third line. The real fourth line is the multinational coalition forces from the wild land near the entrance of the three regions on the western continent—and this is the important weight that the Peace Council intends to use to exert pressure and influence on Sean from the beginning. Code: As long as Shaun is willing to accept the arrangement of the Libra Parliament, no matter if the Peace Parliament does not take action, the multinational coalition forces here will definitely not be able to continue to trouble the Void Principality.

But once the war between William and the Fascist Kingdom is stalemate, coupled with the indulgence of the Peace Council, then the multinational coalition forces here will definitely not give up this opportunity to take advantage of the fire. Even with Hela's overall command, the development of wars on both sides is also a huge test for the material consumption and supplies of the Void Principality. Once the Void Principality cannot support these two national wars, then let alone the Void Empire, can it? It is hard to say to keep the existing scale.

Especially at this moment, the Kingdom of Lane represented by Arlan has officially broken with the Void Duchy.

"Also, please consider Duke Sean carefully." Azik said with a calm expression.

This look is almost as if he has eaten Sean to death—in fact, any person who is sane enough to face this kind of conspiracy-like threat can only choose to compromise.

But unfortunately, Sean does not seem to be a sane person.

"You guys, really..." Sean suddenly laughed, "I'm really looking for a dead end."

"What?" Azik still didn't react.

"As long as you stay here in the Peace Council, how else can you support the Fascist Kingdom?" Sean laughed, "I know.... Your Peace Council, you just experienced a civil strife. , Even if you really want to intervene in the war here, there is no way to send so many top powerhouses to support in a short time, otherwise, there will be no two newcomers who have just entered the realm of super powers to follow. "

Azik's pupils suddenly shrank: "Are you... crazy?"

"Do it!" Shaun ignored the other party, but shouted in a deep voice!

But this anger did not speak directly, but an order issued in the soul contract.

The next moment, a storm suddenly rolled up in this conference room.

A touch of dazzling radiance instantly bursts brightly.

The entire conference room was shattered by a powerful force at this moment, and it was far more than just the conference room, but also included a large building around the conference room. It's just that the identities of the people in the conference room are too sensitive and noble at the moment, so even if there is a sudden burst of power, there is still a certain degree of protection for everyone in the conference room, but those people around the conference room are not so lucky. .

These people were directly torn to pieces by the powerful force.

Three superpowers from the Peace Council, protecting the five arbitrators, appeared in the garden outside the conference room.

Kristina protected the envoys of the Fascist Kingdom from the horror whirlpool in the meeting room, but Kristina was not too strong, so she could only protect two people, one of whom happened to be both. Ling Wiles, and the other three unlucky ghosts are not so lucky.

On the side of Ryan Kingdom, Vannie protected Arlan and Kos who was sitting next to Arlan.

Elsie stood in front of Hatch Boulder. Even though Elsie had a lot of resentment towards his father, he was also his biological father anyway, so at this critical juncture, he still chose shelter. Even with this, Florence, who was sitting next to the old Duke of Hatch, was also sheltered-his two sanctuary guards had no time to react, so when the power of the explosion came out, they could only protect themselves.

On the contrary, it was on Sean's side. Because there were three super powers, there was no damage at all. After all, this was Sean's first move.

After all the smoke and dust in the entire conference room diffused, Alexis had slowly walked out with a spear, her eyes firmly locked on the gray-haired middle-aged swordsman from beginning to end. Among the people present, only this swordsman can bring a strange feeling to Alexis-it belongs to the strong intuition. As for the other two who are both super strong, they are not worthy of Ali at all. Xis paid too much attention.

However, with the explosion of this force, the twenty golden robe executives from the Peace Council have all gathered at this moment.

As Xiao En expected, these golden robe executives were also strictly selected. Except for a few who only had the strength of the middle sanctuary, most of them were the strength of the upper sanctuary. Even, five of them are legendary powerhouses, including Atana, who had a relationship with Sean in the Forest of Sighs. Together with Christina, the Peace Council actually dispatched three super powerhouses this time. , Six legendary powerhouses, eleven high-ranking sanctuary and four middle-ranking sanctuary.

This huge force, even if it is the Peace Council, is definitely a great strength behind it, and it may even have reached one-third or more of the current Peace Council.

As Sean said, if he can wipe out or leave all this force here, it will definitely be a serious blow to the Peace Council. At least, Sean is convinced that once the Peace Council is hit hard here, it will become more cautious about whether to continue to support the fascist kingdom-even if they still decide to support, they need to re-mobilize strength, and this will take time.

Time is what Shaun lacks right now.

"What a big feast." Elsie smiled.

"Does the Twilight Church also intend to intervene?" Seeing Elsie and the three artifacts that Elsie had just released to resist the powerful explosive force, how could the Peace Council fail to recognize the identity of the person in front of him, "This is a royal power war. It doesn't seem to have anything to do with your theocracy, right?"

"Hey, Sean, you want me to teach in your country when you turn around." Elsie turned her head and looked at Sean.

"Of course." Sean said with a smile, "I will prepare several churches for you."

"Look, it's not a royal dispute anymore. This is related to the faith cohesion of my Twilight Church." Elsie smiled.

Chapter 73: 3rd place

Alexis gave a chuckle and walked out of the room that could be called ruins with a spear.

Next to him was Kozilek, and the iconic giant sword in his hand was particularly clear.

Azik's face was extremely gloomy. On the battlefield where such super-powerfuls intervened, ordinary people like them could not survive at all. It only needed a little energy fluctuation to dissipate, and it was enough to shred them. Not to mention ordinary people like them, except for the stronger legendary powerhouses, even the general legendary powerhouses cannot intervene in the battlefield of the super powerhouse.

"Killing Wu Ji Alexis." The middle-aged man holding a long sword walked out slowly. His eyes were very sharp. With his super power realm and this kind of eyes, it was enough to obliterate the saint. Anyone below the domain, even the strong in the sanctuary, will be greatly pressured or even imprisoned.

If Alexis hadn't taken the shot before, Sean would have been completely suppressed by his coercion.

But unfortunately, this kind of containment is meaningless to Alexis.

"I'm....."

"I'm not interested in who you are." Alexis said indifferently. Now that she has completely entered a fighting state, her arrogance, self-confidence, and arrogance will naturally burst out completely, "Anyway, you will also But it's just a corpse of mine."

Speaking of this, a smile appeared on Alexis' face: "You said, do I still care about the name of a corpse?"

The pupils of the middle-aged man suddenly shrank, and a powerful aura burst out instantly, turning into a sharp sword and stabbing towards Alexis.

Condensing the powerful aura to form an attack method, this is a conventional means of combat for the super power-of course, this attack method is completely invisible to the naked eye of normal people, only truly becoming a legendary power Only by perceiving such a great sword can they discover such a great sword.

However, before this mighty sword approached Alexis, it was completely blocked: the strong air flow exploded directly, and between the two of them, a seven or eight meters in diameter and a few dozen meters in depth were exploded. Of the giant pit. But the damage was far more than that. Two cracks spread crazily towards the left and right, seeming to completely divide the entire land into two halves, splitting the positions of the opposing sides clearly.

The eyes of the middle-aged man showed a bit of dignity.

The massacre of Alexis in the Wildlands, the Peace Council had long known about it, and they wanted to stop it at that time. It was just because of some reasons that it did not take action in time. After all, this can be regarded as an internal problem of the Void Principality. Although the Peace Council thinks that it is above all the countries in the entire Miracle Continent, they have never easily intervened in the countries. Internal affairs issues.

It's just that they didn't expect that Alexis would be so decisive, and he did not hesitate to slaughter all the betrayers. When the Peace Council realized the problem and then tried to stop it, it was too late. Even if they secretly tried to make more people survive, they failed in the end and could only save one person from hunting down.

In the eyes of the Peace Council, this civil turmoil in the Void Principality occurred under their acquiescence, and the original intention was to delay the changes in the Void Principality's upgrade to the empire. But no one expected that the Void Principality's counterattack was so decisive and cruel, that's why the Peace Council felt that they were obliged to ensure the safety of those insurgents. This is also the biggest difference between the Peace Council and Deaththorn-Deaththorn Just thinking about revenge for the anger that was used by Sean, he wouldn't pay attention to what effect the final result of this matter would have.

This is the real reason why the outside world believes that the Peace Council is a group of hypocrites.

While clamoring for world peace, it will not cause war, destruction, or destruction. On the one hand, they continue to cause more large-scale chaos and wars, trying to firmly control all the situation in their own hands, and become the master of the entire Miracle Continent.

Really, hypocritical.

At least not as frank as Deadthorn—we are the dark organization, and we just want to cause chaos and destruction.

But even so, even if Alexis directly staged a massacre on the southern continent, the Peace Council still did not put Alexis in its eyes. The reason was that it was sent out to protect the wilds in secret. The people in the tribe are just white or silver executors, not even golden robes, let alone peace envoys. So even though they knew that Alexis was a super strong, they didn't think about how strong she was. After all, if they weren't confronted intuitively, the same super strong would naturally not care.

But now, after a real momentum contest, the middle-aged man knows how strong Alexis is.

is better than him.

is nothing but momentum.

The eyes of this middle-aged man also showed excitement in the solemnity.

The excitement of each opponent!

Seeing the expression of the middle-aged man, there was a touch of sarcasm in Alexis's eyes.

The middle-aged man in front of him is only a rank eighteenth. He may be slightly stronger than Kozilek and Ulamog, but he is also very fortunate. If he is really fighting for life and death, he will not even be Kozilek and Ulamog. Opponent. As for the comparison with Alexis herself, it is even more joking. After all, she is at the level of the eighteenth critical point. If it is not for Sean's insufficient strength, Alexis is definitely far more than this level.

Thinking that you can challenge yourself?

The smile on Alexis's face grew stronger, and the enthusiasm and excitement in his eyes couldn't be concealed at all—why this middle-aged man wouldn't be Kozilek and Ulamog in the real fight between life and death. The opponent, that is because the gap between skills and experience is too big. Just as Alexis seems to have only the 18th-order critical point, but her real strength is naturally more than that, naturally more than that.

Without saying anything, Alexis slowly lifted into the air, she glanced contemptuously at the middle-aged man, and then turned into a red glow to burst out of the sky.

The middle-aged man also understood the meaning in Alexis's eyes, and the next moment it turned into a ray of light to catch up.

Everyone on the scene knows that if the two super powers really fight here, let alone this manor, I am afraid this little baronial territory will be completely destroyed in an instant. The battlefield that is truly suitable for super powers is always only in sparsely populated places, even in the void and outside the domain. Even if it is high in the sky, the ripples are likely to cause impact and damage to the ground.

"It's a pity." The coquettish woman sighed, "Master Nebula is planning to do her best this time. That Alexis is dead."

"Zhankong Sword Saint. Nebula?" Xiao En raised his eyebrows, but his face did not show any look of astonishment or surprise, but it made the faces of the Peace Council people unhappy.

Nebula is obviously just a code name, or another name, just like Demon Sword. Guitong. However, he won the title of Sword Master of Slashing the Sky thousands of years ago. In other words, the super strong man who played against Alexis is a genuine old antique. Maybe he was not the strongest of his time, but he can definitely be regarded as one of the strongest in the Peace Council, especially after many real strong have left this plane to explore the endless void.

Eighteenth and nineteenth-order powerhouses are truly the pinnacle figures who can dominate everything.

"It seems that Alexis should be able to play very happily." Sean's smile also showed a bit of hideousness, but it was not terrible, on the contrary, it was a unique charm full of confidence and arrogance. , "Then, you have two super powers left to contain Kozilek, right?"

The two super powers who have just broken through the sixteenth rank have not yet fully controlled the sublimation and change of their own abilities. Therefore, if they face Kozilek alone, who has infinitely approached the strength of the eighteenth rank, the result of the battle between the two sides is basically There is no suspense, just stick to the length of time. But if the two work together, then Kozilek is likely to fall into a hard fight, after all, the super power level is no better than ordinary people.

Azik did not deny it, but just snorted, obviously tacitly acquiescing to Sean's statement.

Of course, in the initial thoughts of the Peace Council, I never thought that Sean would be so crazy, so crazy that he would directly do it during the Tianping Conference. Their meeting this time specially arranged for a few super-powerfuls to come over, just to put pressure on Sean, let him know that the foundation of the Peace Council is not so simple, just the strength of the guard is enough to contain Sean's current so-called hole cards. , Everything is just to allow the meeting to progress in the direction they want.

But I didn't expect that Sean would be so crazy, he would declare war!

Declare war on the Peace Council!

"I really can't bear your kind of finger-pointing." Sean got up from the chair, then moved his neck, and his whole body suddenly crackled like fried beans, "If you just agreed to my terms. , Maybe we can still get along with each other hypocritically. But ah... since we have completely turned our faces, then there is no way, so... today either you stay or I stay."

Speaking of this, the corners of Sean's mouth were slightly tilted, and a very straight smile appeared, as if the words he said before were nothing but greetings between friends.

But everyone present is very clear about the meaning of the three words "stay" in Sean's words.

As Sean finished speaking, Kozilek stepped out at the right time. He didn't care what the other two people were thinking. He just lifted into the air on his own. It seemed that he didn't worry that these two superpowers would not follow. It's the same as it came up.

The two superpowers of the Peace Council looked at each other, and then the coquettish woman let out a laugh like a silver bell, looked at the burly giant next to him and said: "I'll drag it first, um... ..I'll give you half an hour, right?"

"Are you underestimating me?" The burly giant snorted coldly, his muscles tightened instantly, and the whole person's momentum burst out, "One minute...no, five seconds."

"Ten seconds?" The woman laughed exaggeratedly, "It's not a good thing for a man to be too fast."

After that, ignoring the reaction of the man next to her, the woman directly rose into the air and chased Kozilek away. She knew very well that a super power like Kozilek just launched without waiting for them just now because of their pride. If they dare to ignore Kozilek and go directly to Sean's troubles, then Kozilek will not be with them again. What are the rules?

But now...

This coquettish woman with an outstanding figure had a brilliant smile on her face: "It's really arrogant, a person under Grand Duke Sean."

Whether it's against Eric's of the Sword Saint Nebula, or Kozilek, who despises herself and others at the moment, they all have that superior superiority. This is precisely the fact that this woman is extremely displeased. Disgusted. She couldn't help thinking about how horrified Kozilek's face would be when he saw that only himself appeared, and the other person directly took action to deal with Sean and the others.

Thinking of this, the woman shuddered with excitement.

She may not be able to make a tie with Kozilek, but it is absolutely okay to delay Kozilek for a while, and this time is enough for her comrades to solve all the enemies. After all, the strength of a super power cannot be guessed by common sense.

"Didn't you say that you want to keep everyone? Haha, haha, hahahaha!" The woman's expression showed a bit of madness.

Watching the glamorous woman lift off into the sky and leave, the eyes of this burly giant fell straight on Xiao En's body.

His expression was very calm, he didn't have the arrogance of Sword Master Xingyun, nor the madness of a glamorous woman, but it was this calm and indifference that made him even more terrifying. He just stood here, and the mountain-like aura was constantly surging out. This may be because he had just stepped into the ranks of super powers, so he could not control his aura well, but it was also the same. Proved that his strength is terrible.

"It seems, Grand Duke Sean, you are the one who will stay." The burly giant said in a deep voice.

"Huh, is it?" Xiao En's face was still as stable as before, without any surprise or fear, "You just said five seconds, now it's gone."

The burly giant raised his eyebrows, and a faint anger was stirred in his heart: "Since you want to die so much, I will fulfill you!"

But even in the face of such a strong momentum, the look on Sean's face has not changed at all, and it seems extremely calm. Christina, who is familiar with Sean's character, suddenly raised her brows, because she had realized the problem: Sean never did things that were uncertain. At this moment, even if he was so suppressed by the super strong, his face remained unchanged. This can only prove one thing.

Shaun is truly confident!

He still has his hole cards to turn over!

When Christina suddenly realized this, she would start to remind her companions.

But before she could speak, the burly giant took a deep breath, and the next moment he rushed towards Xiao En like a cannonball.

That kind of power is to really want to completely tear up Shaun and everyone standing beside Shaun!

Boom!

A cold momentum suddenly exploded!

The sudden eruption of this momentum finally completely shredded the crumbling building in the manor. Although the eruption of aura did not harm the people in the building, when the aura erupted, everyone present finally felt a burst of extreme heart palpitations and panic. It was a horrible illusion of being stared at by natural enemies. .

Except for Xiao En and others, almost everyone could not help but shudder.

The only exception.

The burly man who rushed towards Sean!

He was standing less than five meters away from Sean, the expression on his face was deeply shocked.

A transparent wall of energy blocked his attack.

Not only this burly giant was shocked. At the moment when the panic and palpitations faded away, all the arbitrators and enforcers from the Peace Council, as well as the two members of the Fascist Kingdom's mission, also showed their faces. He was incredibly shocked.

Sean's command, there is actually a third super strong!

Chapter 74: .Stage and Script

Duke Shaun's command, there is actually a third super strong!

This news instantly made everyone present feel unbelievable--or in other words, unbelievable.

The Peace Council does have more than double-digit superpowers, but that is the foundation accumulated over tens of thousands of years, and the most important thing is that in that extremely chaotic era, the birth of superpowers is much easier than it is now. However, after so long, more than half of the foundation accumulated by the Peace Council over the years have been exploring outside the territory, and these people have not contacted the Peace Council for a long time, and it is not even clear whether they are alive or dead.

Up to now, the number of super powers who can still get in touch is no more than double digits, especially since this connection is not instantaneous. If you are unlucky, a conversation will take several years. Because of this, the outside world may not know much about the organization of the Peace Council, but it is impossible for people in the Peace Council to be unclear: The Peace Council today is no longer the powerful organization that could compete with the seven empires on its own.

Even in the past millennium, the Peace Council has changed its development strategy and began to focus on the protection and cultivation of the new generation, but the results are still very small. Like this burly giant and coquettish woman who came with Azik at this moment, although the two are super strong, they are actually members of the new generation of real people. They have just broken through the shackles in the past few years, and they are still not thorough. Of the ability to control what they have today.

Of course, if they are given another hundred years, they will definitely be able to become senior superpowers like those of the Seven Empires.

But unfortunately, they encountered the test of life and death here.

The shock on Azik's face is not a disguise, but a real panic from the heart: how is it possible? How can there be a third super strong under Sean's subordinates? The Peace Council has collected information on Sean for several years. They have investigated very clearly what kind of talents Sean has under his command, what kind of enemies and even some of his usual habits, etc., and they will make arrangements for this. Three super powers came to put pressure on Sean.

But, how can there be a third super strong! ?

When did the super strong, become the cabbage of the lousy street, and become the  everywhere?

"You guys, protect the arbitrator and the members of the Fascist Kingdom's envoy to leave." The burly giant stared at Ulamog with a gloomy look, and then reached out and clicked on the four golden robe executives, "Get out now! This is not what you can do. Intervene in the battle!"

The four middle-ranked sanctuary golden-robed executives were named. They were indeed the weakest in the Peace Council. In addition, they were still the messengers of peace, so the four didn't say anything, they just turned around and escorted them. The five arbitrators and two surviving members of the Fascist Kingdom's envoy left.

During the whole process, Xiao En looked at the other party's arrangements calmly, and did not order anything.

His behavior naturally caused all the executive officers of the Peace Council to breathe a sigh of relief.

But there was only one person, and his face became more solemn.

Christina.

"Karu, you go with your guards!" Christina admits that she can't see Sean, but she thinks some of Sean's behavior logic is relatively clear. Just now, Sean has said that she wants to keep them all. , But at this moment, it did not prevent Azik and others from leaving, which is obviously to leave behind.

Hearing what Kristina said, the gold-robed executive named Karoo had some doubts on his face: "Master Kristina..."

"Go!" Kristina snorted coldly, and the majesty of the high-ranking envoy as the messenger of peace was immediately revealed.

The burly giant glanced at Christina from the corner of his eye. Seeing her solemn face, he didn't say anything. In fact, he didn't dare to be distracted at all at the moment, because he had been firmly locked in by Ulamo. As long as he was slightly distracted, he might end up very badly. This is not his illusion, but the intuitive judgment brought about by being a super strong.

And the gold-robed executive named Karoo, obviously a direct subordinate of Christina, saw his immediate boss angry, and immediately turned around with the other four gold-robed executives without saying a word. Leave.

Suddenly, the number of guards left by the Peace Council in this manor was nearly half.

However, Sean was a little surprised. It was the gold-robed executive named Karoo, who was actually one of the six legendary powerhouses present.

This time, the guard team responsible for protecting the arbitrator has four peace envoys as a team, each commanding five golden robe executives. In addition to Kristina's strength only outside of Legend, the deputy captain-level gold-robed executives who assist the peace messenger are also legendary powerhouses, and there is also a legendary powerhouse who does not know which peace messenger belongs to. Command the team.

But now, when Kristina's team has left, there are only eleven gold-robed executives present. Among them, the four legendary powerhouses, including Kristina, who is the messenger of peace, are in the manor at this moment. There are also five legendary powerhouses, and the rest are all high-ranking sanctuary powerhouses.

"Although it is not the same as my original plan, it doesn't matter." Sean shrugged, then turned to look at Christina, "To be honest, I really don't want to fight you if I can. But it's a pity, it seems that our position with each other is doomed to our relationship."

"You can surrender." Christina said in a deep voice.

Xiao En smiled, did not answer, but turned his head to look at the burly giant: "You don't mind going to the sky to fight."

"Hehe, what do you think?" The burly giant sneered.

His purpose is to completely solve Xiao En and others, anyway, it has already turned his face and there is nothing to say. I didn't make a move before because I was worried that it would harm my own people. But at this moment, the arbitrator and others have already left, so he naturally won't have any scruples. Anyway, the people present are the strong men of the Peace Council. Their strength may not be able to intervene in the battle, but as long as they are prepared for the aftermath of the first wave of combat power, there is still great hope that they can survive.

So after weighing the pros and cons, this burly giant will naturally not choose to fight in the sky or outside the void like others. What he wants is to completely solve Shaun, who is considered an absolute scourge in the Peace Council!

"I don't think you have much choice." Ulamog smiled at Shaun's gesture.

This old man has a very elegant and ancient aristocratic charm. His every move is full of elegance, exquisiteness, and standard. Even if he just stands up from a chair and smiles, it is very pleasing to the eye. If it weren't for Ulama's aura of super power at the moment, everyone would only think that this old man was a big man who came out of the ancient family.

As Ulamur's words fell, the burly giant's face showed a bit of surprise, because he discovered that the space around him was actually restricted, which made him completely unable to move. Then the next moment, without waiting for him to break free from this kind of spatial restraint, he saw that the space he was standing in was directly distorted, and then his whole person disappeared completely, followed by Ulamor who was also facing everyone. A graceful salute, and then followed the distortion and disappeared.

"Twisted!?" Kristina's face showed a hint of surprise, "The remnants of the twisted eye!?"

The power of twisting is a special ability unique to the force organization of the twisted eye, and the most representative product is the twisting cloak.

But what few people know is that the Distorted Eye was completely wiped out by the Peace Council hundreds of years ago. Maybe some people managed to escape at that time, but the strength is probably not worth mentioning. Ulamog showed this kind of "distortion" power under the special instruction of Sean. In fact, if someone at the level of a great sage was present, he would definitely recognize that this force was not "distortion" at all. , But "chaos".

Sean let out a chuckle noncommittal: "Elsie, you deal with a legendary powerhouse, are you okay?"

"You are really underestimating me." Elsie curled her lips in disdain, "It's not a problem to hold both of them."

Elsie, who has three artifacts plus body, may not be able to win against two legendary powerhouses, but if it is only delayed for a period of time, it is not a problem at all in terms of Elsie's strength.

"Well, I admit that it was me who said the wrong thing." Xiao En smiled, "But you only need to deal with a legendary powerhouse. We don't need extreme combat, because we only need to last for about fifteen minutes. None of them can run.... Therefore, our task is to limit them all."

Kristina's pupils suddenly shrank upon hearing Sean's words.

At this moment, the battlefield is no longer up to their peace parliament.

Originally, they had never thought that Sean would declare war directly, but even if Sean's reaction to declare war directly was beyond their expectations, they did not care, because Sean had only two super powers under his command. They only need to delay one of them, let the other kill and go back to support, and they can successfully contain Kozilek, and they also have strong confidence in Nebula, thinking that it was not a matter of killing Alexis. what is the problem.

But now!

When Ulamog showed the aura of his super power, the Peace Council knew that their abacus had been completely shattered. Even if the burly giant wanted to go to war directly in the manor desperately, but his actions seemed to have been expected by Xiao En and others-Ulamog directly teleported away with the giant at the same time.

In this way, it means that the three superpowers of the Peace Council already have their own battlefields.

Judging from the current situation, there are still five legendary powerhouses and seven upper sanctuary powerhouses for the Peace Council, which is undoubtedly the most powerful in the manor's civil war. However, the strength of the Void Principality cannot be inferred by common sense at all: Not to mention the strength of the Void Grand Duke, Shaun, Rina, the Valkyrie of Thunder, is now under the blessing of Michael Gard. , There are no three legendary powerhouses that can't stop her at all; and Elsie also said that he has the strength to deal with two legendary powerhouses.

As a result, the combat power of the five legendary powerhouses on his side was completely intercepted.

The remaining seven high-ranking sanctuary powerhouses, the Devil Boy, one of the members of the 13th Coffin of the Deaththorn, can obviously hold one or two. But as everyone knows, Ghost Sword Demon Boy and Undead Girl Wendy are inseparable. The abilities of the two complement each other. It is not a problem to trap five or six powerful people of the same rank in the absolutely dark land of death. .

"Kill William!" Christina is not stupid, especially since he has had a long relationship with Sean, so he understood everything at this moment.

All this is an illusion created by Sean deliberately!

Since Sean received the invitation letter from the Tianping meeting, he has never thought about the so-called peace talks, all of which are just Sean's conspiracy and tricks!

Following Christina's order to fall, all the golden robe executive officers immediately shot, and killed William and Sean. Because according to the investigation, the Peace Council is very clear that Sean's commanding ability is actually not outstanding. The entire Void Duchy's army is in the hands of William, so if it is not possible, just kill William, although it is impossible to let Void Duchy's army. The military capability has since been sluggish, but it is enough to make this invasion war against the fascist kingdom come to an end.

And even the Peace Council is so clear about things, how could Sean and others not understand.

At the moment when the executive officer of the Peace Council moved, Rena, Elsie and others also moved and rushed towards each other.

Rina did not hesitate to directly let the angel costume. Michael enter the awakening state. With a sudden wave of the spear in her hand, a forcing heat wave spurted out immediately, and the high-ranking sanctuary powerhouses immediately followed one another. Dodged, didn't dare to hard-wire it at all. Several legendary powerhouses cursed the stupidity of the Saint-Joles Empire, but their hands were not slow. They greeted Rina one after another, trying to suppress Rina's charge by relying on a large number of strong forces to give others People create an opportunity.

It's just a pity, Elsie is not stupid.

With three artifacts, he is a Xiaoqiang who can't be killed. Naturally, he is not afraid of the fighting power of the legendary strong. Therefore, when Elsie intervened in the battle between Rena and the four legendary powerhouses, the four golden robe executives with legendary strength also had to deal with it seriously and cautiously.

On the contrary, the seven high-ranking sanctuary powerhouses directly bypassed this battlefield and killed William.

It's just a pity that all of this is just like the arrangement of a stage script. A dark curtain of light instantly radiates centered on William, completely covering the entire ruins, and all the seven high-ranking sanctuary powerhouses who have no suspense are involved. in. At the same time, strands of underworld qi also escaped from this dark area, setting off the entire dark area even more eerie and terrifying.

Hei Ming.

This is the unique field coordination ability of Ghost Sword. Devil Boy and Undead Girl Wendy.

"Please don't worry, Lord William, it's not a problem if you just trap them." The devil boy stood beside William at this moment, but his brows soon frowned, "Those people in the Lane Kingdom... escaped."

"It doesn't matter." William still sat in the chair without any action. "Since Arlan agreed to retreat, the Kingdom of Lane and the Void Duchy have nothing to do. Rather, at this moment, the Kingdom of Lane has not dealt with us. Very good."

He knew very well that from the very beginning, Sean wanted to turn his face with the Peace Council directly, so he arranged this script with Hela. And he is just a decoy placed on the bright side in this script-no matter Sean, Hela or William, they believe that the Peace Council will never miss his decoy and will inevitably kill himself at all costs. In fact, they did bet right.

Countless death auras suddenly condensed from mid-air, gradually drawing the outline of a body, and soon Wendy appeared from it: "The corpse puppet has been summoned, but if we don't do it, I'm afraid it won't be able to support these people. It's not an ordinary golden robe."

The devil boy glanced at William.

"Go ahead, don't worry about me." William smiled, "Sean believes in you, I believe in Sean, so I believe in you.... But it's only fifteen minutes, and you must be fine if you delay it. of."

"I see." The magic boy said in a deep voice, then looked at each other with Wendy, nodded each other, and walked outside.

It was just two or three steps of work, and the two of them had been completely integrated into the darkness. After a while, the sound of swords and swords began to sound in the darkness. And William patted his thigh with a smile, humming an old war song tune, his face gradually showed a reddish color representing excitement: "Hella's strategy, my tactics, Diana's Diplomacy, Sean's courage...I really look forward to what kind of expression the Peace Council will show after knowing the whole script."

Fighting, without any temptation, directly entered a fierce and intense confrontation.

Because everyone knows that the two newly promoted super powers of the Peace Council are simply unable to stop Kozilek and Ulamog. It is already a strong performance to be able to sustain a 30-minute flight without death.

But what about after thirty minutes?

When the two super powers of Grand Duke Sean come out?

The result is self-evident.

On the other side, it is not Rena or Elsie who is responsible for blocking Christina, but Sean.

"Sean!" Kristina's face was gloomy and terribly gloomy as he watched Sean stop in front of him, "Are you serious?"

"Look, I even set up the stage, and all of this is acting in accordance with my script. Do you say I'm serious?" Xiao En let out a chuckle, "To be honest, I don't want to kill. You, so if you are willing to stop, then I will be very happy."

"But now, I want to kill you."

"Then I'm so sorry, you can't do it." Sean took a deep breath, and his eyes became serious, "I may not be able to beat you, but it is more than enough to delay you for fifteen minutes....On this stage Everyone has a role identity, and my identity at the moment is to prevent you from intervening in the battlefield behind."

"Fifteen minutes, you guys are really confident." Christina let out a sneer, and rushed to Sean's side with her right hand directly blasted towards Sean's head.

"It's not self-confidence, but facts." Sean tilted his head slightly, and the fist wind blew across Sean's cheeks, tearing a few strands of hair, but Sean's black king also cut to Kristina's right hand." Your peace council has never really understood me."

"Huh." Christina ignored it, just let out a cold hum. She didn't even retract her right hand, but directly turned her right fist into a knife, cutting to Sean's head.

Under Sean's counterattack with this sword, she could see very clearly that she was likely to be injured by this sword, but she would never break her hand because of it. On the contrary, if Sean did not try to dodge, then his The head will definitely be cut off by one's own palm. And if Shaun changes to dodge, Christina is also ready for the follow-up attack, then she will immediately grasp the rhythm of the entire battle and completely suppress Shaun!

Chapter 75: .I am the Black King [Subscribe]

The battle between the strong, unless the difference in strength has been so large that it is completely crushed, otherwise it is generally controlled by competition rhythm and skill.

At the beginning, Christina really wanted to rely on the absolute strength gap between the legendary powerhouse and the sanctuary powerhouse to suppress Sean. But when the two sides shot, Kristina knew that it would be difficult for him to completely suppress Sean-if the battle continues, she can indeed defeat Sean, but this is likely to take a long time.

But now, what they lack the most in peace parliament is time.

For the first time, the Peace Council finally tried the sense of crisis that time is pressing.

So, this time Christina didn't show any mercy—perhaps after the previous parting, the positions of the two sides could no longer have any merciful thoughts.

The palm knife resembling a sharp blade cut across to Sean's head, and Kristina's left fist was also clenched, like a heavy hammer ready to strike.

Sword and hammer!

No matter what happens to Shaun next, Kristina's attack will be raging like thunder. Because this way of fighting using her entire body as a weapon is Kristina's unique fighting skill: when stepping into the realm of legend, Kristina's choice of legendary ability is to maximize herself. After combining all the unique abilities that she can control with Alchemy and Arcane into her martial arts, her body, and then came into contact with guns, hammers, axes, swords, halberds, and many other unique combat weapons. Skill.

In a certain sense, Christina and Rena both follow the same growth path, infinitely close to and close to Alexis's fighting style-both are based on maximizing their physical fitness. .

It's just that compared to Rena's luck, Christina's talent is indeed better, and both of them are not lacking in perseverance, so the achievement is naturally higher than the others. Originally, if we continue to develop in this situation, after breaking through the realm of super power, Christina will completely surpass Rina. But now, under the guidance of Alexis, the foundation has been well stabilized by Rina, and the future growth of the two can no longer be clearly distinguished.

The black sword light clings to the edge of the black king's sword, forming only a very thin layer of vindictive attachment, which looks inconspicuous at all.

But just when Jianfeng was about to cut Sean's right hand, a sudden heart palpitation instantly struck Christina's mind.

At this moment, Kristina felt as though she was thrown into the deep ice, and her whole body was cold. The sharp tingling sensation from her right wrist formed a piercing alarm in her mind. She almost didn't even think about it. Kristina retracted her right hand in an instant, and the whole person quickly flew back and pulled away from Sean. A distance of more than ten meters.

At this moment, Christina's face was slightly pale, and it was obvious that at that moment, her mental consumption was a bit heavy.

"Do you think I would not know your fighting style?" Sean looked at Christina with a guarded look, and said in a calm tone, "What you are best at is martial arts, including your alchemy and arcane skills. Inside, they are all in order to match your martial arts to show the strongest fighting style. Generally speaking, this fighting style will bring a lot of injuries to yourself, even if these injuries can be cured, but it will be more or less Leave some dark wounds."

As if to prove the accuracy of Sean's words, Kristina's paleness has gradually disappeared, and her rosy look has begun to regain. The consumption at that instant just now was not just mental consumption, she forcibly interrupted her ultimate move, and actually left some hidden dangers to her body, but now these hidden dangers have been completely repaired.

"But you are different." Sean continued, "The law of your perception is life and light, but before you step into the realm of legend, you should also know your physical problems, so you will definitely belong to the law ability. And this. , Has become your most powerful trump card right now... If I remember correctly, after the Law of Life stepped into the realm of legend, the most common manifestation ability is resilience. This ability is the best match with your fighting style. ."

Maybe others don't know where Christina's strongest is, but Sean, who has fought side by side with Christina so many times, never knows.

This woman really uses her body as a weapon.

So the strong resilience gives her more protection. As long as the general injury is not a disability such as severed hand or foot, Christina will not avoid it at all. And through this type of injury-changing absolute death fight, maybe Christina will look embarrassed after a battle, but she is also an absolute winner, especially her combat experience and skill growth is extremely amazing because of this. , This is also the real reason why her strength can be rapidly improved.

If the crisis hadn't really been sensed just now, the final result must be that Christina was temporarily abolished with one hand, and Sean was killed directly.

For Sean knowing the secret of her own power, Christina did not look surprised, her eyes were very calm, but her eyes fell on the black king in Sean's hand: "Your sword ... Although it is similar to the one in your hand before, you can still see some changes if you look carefully... Now this one in your hand... is a divine tool."

is not an interrogative sentence, but an affirmative sentence.

However, Sean's face did change instantly.

Kristina's mouth raised slightly, as if she was pleased to see the change in Shaun's face: "It seems I guessed it."

"Ding."

A sound that seemed to be broken glass, sounded in the ruins of the manor.

Whether it is Sean or Christina, or Elsie, Rena, and other executive officers of the Peace Council, they can clearly hear the sound of this glass shattering. This voice seemed to sound directly from the depths of everyone's hearts, and it was impossible to avoid the invasion of this voice, as if it was the awakening of a great will.

Everyone is extremely alert.

Only Sean, his face became even more ugly.

"Hey, Dad!" A cheer suddenly sounded on the battlefield, "Look, there are still people who know how to appreciate your son! I was recognized for hiding so deeply, it's not that I didn't obey the agreement."

The original tragic atmosphere of the battlefield suddenly stagnated for a moment.

Everyone looked at the weapon in Sean's hand with an incredulous expression.

A talking weapon?

A conscious weapon?

A weapon that can communicate?

"Shut up." Xiao En's face suddenly couldn't hold back. It was obviously a tragic and serious fighting atmosphere, but when the Black King spoke like this, the atmosphere suddenly became very subtle, "Now it's fighting. Well, you die or die, be serious....No, you should just shut up."

"Dad, we didn't say that at the beginning." The Black King's tone was a little bit lamented. "At the beginning, it clearly said that if someone can recognize me, then the forbidden seal will be lifted, and you can no longer restrict me. Speak...Look, it's the other person now...Hey, beauty, what do you call it?"

"Kristina..." Kristina replied subconsciously.

"...Look, it was the Miss Christina who recognized my identity and opened the mouth to lift the Ling Ling seal." The Black King was still yelling, ignoring Sean's increasingly ugly face, "So ah , Dad, you should abide by the agreement now, and you must be trustworthy! Look, even as a weapon, I know trustworthiness. Do you want to be a credibility person, Dad?"

Shaun held the black king's right hand even harder, and the blue veins on the back of his hand had already appeared.

"By the way, Miss Christina, hello, I am the Black King." The Black King seemed to have shifted the target and spoke to Christina, "As you can see, I am a sword. It is a unique blood artifact. In terms of blood relationship, the person holding me now is my dad, and I am his son..."

"I don't have a son like you." Sean couldn't help but roar.

The faces of people around looked a little weird.

Rina is okay, at least she can hold it back, after all, Sean is her lord.

But Elsie made a burst of laughter directly, and this laughter made Sean's face more ugly, especially after Elsie quickly added another sentence: "Haha, Sean...haha, you...sheng The way the child... is really peculiar, hahaha! No wonder there have been no women around you for so long, haha!"

"Yes, dad, who is your mother?" The Black King remembered this question that had not been answered for a long time, so he hurriedly asked again.

"Shut up!" Sean exclaimed, "It's still on the battlefield now, can you be more serious?"

"Hahaha, I can't do it anymore, my stomach hurts, hahaha..." Elsie laughed very impersonally, but because the magical armor on his body was a heavy armor, he couldn't bend at all. He was able to hold a spear and laughed very impersonally.

But the next moment, Elsie suddenly moved.

The whole person turned into a black fierce shadow, and attacked and killed the golden robe executive closest to him.

Thunderous!

The executive officer of the golden robe didn't expect that Elsie would actually change like this, and his reaction was slightly slower for an instant. Even if he is a legendary powerhouse, the instinct of the body has completely become a habit. Even if the reaction is a little slower, he will automatically make defensive actions—but Elsie is not an ordinary person. He does have the blessing of three artifacts. The power to fight the legendary powerhouse, not to mention he is still directly attacking.

The twilight gun in his hand exudes a dimly yellow landscape.

Twilight, the view of dusk.

Peace and harmony.

It's just that under this kind of peace and harmony, it also hides the meaning of death.

The gun of twilight penetrated the right shoulder bone of the legendary powerhouse without any suspense—this is because the opponent has made defensive dodge actions as much as possible, otherwise, this gun may be as simple as passing through the right shoulder bone.

The artifact is not only sharp, but also has many special abilities.

The right shoulder bone of this legendary strong man was pierced by the twilight spear. All the flesh and blood melted quickly at a speed visible to the naked eye. Soon the skin at this position became dry, even the bones. Become crispy.

Several other legendary powerhouses next to also reacted one after another at this time, and everyone slew towards Elsie. The legendary strong man whose right shoulder was pierced was equally tough. He reached out and grabbed the Twilight Spear, not letting Elsie draw his gun and leave: "I want to go as soon as I stabbed me, how can it be so cheap!"

"Oh, it's really that cheap." Elsie let out a sneer, and the mark of the goddess belonging to the goddess of Twilight suddenly appeared on the center of her eyebrows. The strength of the whole person suddenly doubled, and she saw Elsie's left hand. The heavy shield on the upper slap directly on the legendary strong body, and the right hand drew the spear. The legendary strong was immediately knocked out, and his right shoulder was directly torn and attacked. .

There is no splash of blood, and the scene is even more * and tragic!

At this time, the three legendary powerhouses finally gathered around. However, before they could pinch Elsie, Rena had already inserted directly between the two sides. The spear in her hand pointed at one of them without hesitation, and the attack with the other side caused a head-to-head eruption, and a strong impact erupted. Below, Rina and Elsie stabilized their hind legs, but they also pushed the other three away at the same time, and did not let themselves fall into the siege.

But at this moment, the legendary powerhouse who was knocked out suddenly let out a miserable cry.

I saw the mutant emperor Long Heishi, who did not know where he was hiding, suddenly rushed out, and then bit on the legendary powerhouse with one bite. He bit him and then broke it completely without allowing him to break free.

At this time, everyone thought that Rina's mutated earth-traveling mount was also a genuine legendary-level earth-traveling dragon, and with this * awakening level, I am afraid that it would become a real dragon. NS. At that time, Rena will inevitably become the second dragon knight in the entire Miracle Continent-now, the only dragon knight in the Miracle Continent is in the Kingdom of Stagastan.

The sudden change in the battle situation happened within a few seconds, and the pace was much faster than everyone expected.

Of course, what the Peace Council did not expect was that they would lose a legendary golden robe executive so quickly!

Kristina wanted to rush to rescue her when she saw Elsie suddenly launch an attack, but when she just started moving, Sean had already intercepted her again. And this time, Sean did not have any thoughts of keeping his hands. All the attacks were directed towards Christina's vitals. If it had been in the past, Christina would certainly not be afraid of such attacks, because her Resilience is very strong, often using this key as a weakness to trick the opponent into taking the initiative to attack and kill the opponent.

But now, Christina doesn't dare to let Sean stab herself at all: let alone the critical point, even in general parts.

Because the artifact that Sean holds, which claims to be the Black King, is a weapon that can really kill herself—Christina is not afraid of death, but she doesn't want to die so meaningless, if she can change her life with Sean. If so, then Christina must not have the slightest hesitation. But she knew very well that Sean just wanted to delay herself, so she didn't have a chance to change lives with Sean at all.

In this case, she is even more unlikely to attack rashly.

Of course, the threat to Christina is not only on the physical level, but also mentally oppressive.

"Miss Christina...Hey, can I call you little Chris?"

"Huh? Why don't you speak? Does it mean that it doesn't work? So...what about Miss Tina?"

"In fact, I just think it seems troublesome to call you Christina every time. You know, I am also a person who is afraid of trouble. Maybe I inherited my father's character. ... By the way, my dad is also a very troublesome person, do you know?"

"Oh, I said you are not my dad's opponent at all, why do you want to fight? Why don't you surrender? I must let my dad not kill you....Speaking of which, you all know each other, as if you were in a relationship before. Not bad, is it a friend? Is it a friend? Tsk, if you are a friend, you should talk about it calmly. If there is something that can't be solved, why fight like this?"

"You know, I don't even have friends, ah, I suddenly want a friend, I said..."

Compared with the physical threat, the black king's mental pollution is a more terrifying threat. The chattering sound is just like the noise of a big devil bird, making people feel irritable. Even if Kristina was unobserved for a while, she was slightly different, and Sean seized the opportunity to draw a scar on her arm, which put Kristina into a more passive position. It can be said that the rhythm of the battle has been Completely controlled by Sean.

But even so, the anger in Sean's heart is getting more and more—the spiritual pollution of the black king is not only for the enemy, but also for his own people. This is a big killer that does not distinguish between the enemy and the enemy. . Because even Sean's attacking movements started to deform slightly, but even so, Kristina couldn't grasp this counterattack opportunity at all.

Know that this is an incredible thing for the determined sanctuary powerhouse and legendary powerhouse.

But the Black King can only do the ability to disrupt the mind and spirit, regardless of your strength level, as if his voice can directly affect from the depths of his heart.

"Shut up!" Finally, the unbearable Sean and Christina roared at the same time.

Chapter 76: Each other's position

Kristina panted heavily, staring fiercely at Sean...the sword in her hand.

And Sean also has a headache on his face.

He had long expected what would happen if the black king appeared, so when he came to participate in the Tianping meeting this time, he directly used the soul binding force to restrict the spirit contract: only when it was directly broken. Only after the essential identity can the black king be able to lift the restriction on the spirit of speech.

In Sean's expectation, there are few who can recognize the black king, because all the power of the black king's divine power seems to be used in his autonomy, so that it is completely invisible from the surface. Piece of artifact.

Like Rina's angel outfit, even in an unawakened state, this armor has always radiated a special fluid flame light. Just wearing Rina's body already gives her a strong oppressive power. , And even strengthened her soul to a certain extent—the angel outfit is a special equipment that directly blends and binds with the soul. It is not so much a divine tool, as it is a soul armed.

In addition, there are the three artifacts and equipment on Elsie's body-although there is no extremely bright light radiating, but within the range of the sanctuary powerhouse's perception, Elsie is almost like a lighthouse under the dark night. Bright and clear, not to mention the legendary powerhouses who have mastered the power of the law, they can feel more.

Only the Black King, on the surface, there is nothing special at all, just like a long sword in pitch black.

The most , which is a sharper long sword.

Even Sean had no idea why Christina was able to see through the essence of the Black King at a glance.

"Dad, Miss Christina is watching me." I don't know how the Black King perceives the world, but Sean is sure that this guy can indeed see everything around him, and what's more terrifying is that this guy is still Have his own set of aesthetics, "Dad, did Miss Christina have a crush on me?"

Shaun glanced at Christina, and then noticed that her face had become even more ugly.

"Sure enough, there is a kind of son if there is a father." Christina let out a cold snort, and even the look in Sean's eyes became disgusted.

At this moment, Xiao En really felt a little bit eager to cry without tears. Why did he want to give the Black King back? Besides, this guy is not his son, why did everyone define the black king directly? Is his son a sword? What kind of tasteful talents can be born this way!

"Sean..." Kristina took a deep breath, and her eyes gradually calmed down, but Sean knew that this look was not just calm, but a kind of coldness that was almost sensible, just like here. For a moment, Christina finally gave up all hesitation, and made some decision, "Even before... the Peace Council did something sorry to you, but I still think there may be room between us. Until this point. For a moment, I finally knew that this kind of persistence was meaningless."

"It really doesn't make any sense." Sean sighed, then nodded, "Many things, in fact, we can only make some different decisions because of our different positions. But this does not prevent me from admiring you very much. I also admire your perseverance and...that talent. But how should I put it, if I can, I don't want to be your enemy, it's a pity..."

"It's really a pity." Christina also nodded.

"In the end, the two of us can only live one?" Sean took a deep breath, and his mind gradually calmed down, as if he was infected by Christina.

Kristina was silent and did not speak, but her eyes were very calm, even with a look called firmness.

Sean's right hand was slightly relaxed, which was to adjust his mental state and muscle stiffness, and then tightened the Black King again. His eyes became cold at this moment, and amazing power was pouring from the two hearts in Sean's body, which made his aura become extraordinarily awe-inspiring, like a volcano about to erupt.

At this moment, Xiao En, in terms of momentum, is not much different from the legendary powerhouse.

However, Sean knew that he was still a long way from the true legendary realm-as long as he could not combine the two laws of time and space in one day, then he would never be able to break through to the legendary realm. However, if he does not break through to the legendary realm, he will no longer be able to draw on the source of external power, and even his own power must be restrained, because if the output of the two hearts is too large, it will accelerate the third heart. Growth.

In this way, Sean is digging his own grave-he hasn't forgotten that Noro told him that once he has a third heart at this stage, he will definitely burst his body and die. This kind of fate is not what Shaun wants, so he has been trying his best to restrain his own power consumption.

It's just that at this time, it is obviously impossible to restrain power consumption.

Kristina is not an ordinary legendary powerhouse. Before she had a complete desperate battle, Sean could still do it if she wanted to delay her for fifteen minutes. But if Christina really fights desperately, then Sean must be careful, and in this case, if he still wants to retain his strength, what's the difference with death?

"You really have a lot of secrets hidden." Kristina didn't know Sean's inner thoughts at this time, but she could feel that Sean's power surging at the moment was hardly under any legendary powerhouse. "But it's a pity. ...As long as you don't acquire the legendary ability for a day, then you will never be considered a legend, and any legendary powerhouse can still form absolute oppressive power against you."

Without waiting for Sean to speak back, this time Christina has already taken the lead.

Seeing a silver light flashing, Sean didn't even have time to react. He completely relied on his instinct to shake the Black King out of his hand—amidst the fuss-like screams of the Black King.

However, what was passed back from the sense of touch was that Sean seemed to have hit something heavy, and the powerful reaction force even almost caused the Black King to get out of his hand. However, through the collision contact, Sean knew very well that this attack did not come back without success, and he still gave his opponent an unforgettable blow.

At least Sean had already smelled the sudden smell of blood in the air.

But soon, Sean was also bombed out.

He felt as if he had been hit by a violent rhino, and there was a sharp pain throughout his chest, as if his breastbone had been cracked. Then, after smashing several stone walls, he finally fell heavily to the ground—at this time, the strong impact and impact on his back also began to give back a tingling sensation.

This feeling is as if the whole body is about to fall apart completely.

"Dad!" The Black King uttered an extremely sharp roar when Sean's consciousness drifted slightly due to the successive heavy blows.

Forcibly enduring the severe pain of the body and the confusion of consciousness, Xiao En hurriedly rolled to the side.

Almost as soon as he rolled away, there was another loud roar on the ground. Even if you don't look at Xiao En, you know that the place where he was lying just now has fallen by at least three meters. Because of the impact airflow that was rolled up by the huge earthquake, he once again completely blew him away and fell to a farther position.

Only this time, Xiao En's consciousness slightly discerned the direction, and he inserted the Black King directly into the ground, which stabilized his figure.

However, as soon as he stabilized his figure, Sean did not hesitate to swing his sword to crosscut. At the same time, his figure receded slightly, and the inertia caused by the crosscutting sword was successfully offset—to explain in game terms, that is Cancel the rigid motion, cancel the attack and shake. Immediately afterwards, the sword's strength changed again, from horizontal cutting to splitting, and the back and forth movement from left to right formed a double-strike cutting attack.

Two muffled sounds.

The smell of blood in the air is stronger.

Shaun was not bounced off the attack this time, and successfully interrupted Christina's subsequent series of attacks.

Taking advantage of this pause, Sean didn't even see Christina's figure clearly, and quickly backed away, pulling away from her several tens of meters. He has discovered that at an absolute distance of ten meters or so, he is not as fast as Christina in his reaction, consciousness or even action. Although this is related to his failure to activate adrenal stimulation and light body surgery at the time, he is not as fast as Christina. Christina also showed her terrifying fighting power beyond ordinary legendary powerhouses.

"Thirteenth order?" Xiao En panted heavily. This time it was real physical and mental exhaustion. He felt that his whole body was about to fall apart, but the power supply from the two hearts maintained this well. The collapse of death, of course, also promoted the accelerated growth of the third heart. Sean has not figured out whether he feels vomiting because his body strength has been irrigated too much, or because he was beaten by Christina. I can't find North so I feel dizzy and vomiting.

But in this rush and short confrontation, Sean knew that Christina was definitely more than the twelfth tier.

"Twelfth Tier." Christina denied Sean's guess, but she also did not hide her privately. The special ability under control can greatly increase a person's ability in all directions."

Hearing this, Sean knew it, this must be the research result obtained by that fellow Paquiuli after studying Noro's bloodline.

The strength of the silver moon elves is extremely famous in the history of the miracle continent, but because the silver moon elves have been annihilated for too long, no one knows the reason why these superior elves are powerful. It wasn't until Paqiuli discovered this bloodline ability through Noro's bloodline and made it into a technique that this mystery was finally solved.

"Your body, can't support such a burden." After Xiao En knew that it was not a legendary ability, he didn't know why, but he suddenly felt regretful in his heart.

At this time, Christina has two cracks on her face. It is not the kind of scratched wound, but more like a cracked ceramic, which looks strangely frightened. This is a very typical warning performance: Kristina's body is obviously unable to support this terrible consumption, and her body is gradually collapsing. If she continues to use this ability, then the final outcome may not be better than Sean's body exploded and died much better.

In addition, Christina is not without other injuries.

Her left wrist, there is a scar that can be seen deep in the bone, and the wound is sharp, which is obviously caused by the subconscious sword that Sean first counterattacked. If there wasn't a defensive technique on her body that blocked more than 90% of the destructive power at the time, Christina would now cut off a palm.

In addition, on her chest, there were also two scars, one cut through her collarbone, and the other created a canyon on her mountain peak.

"I really can't hold it."

"You can only hold on for another thirty seconds at most. If you continue to maintain this high-intensity fighting style." Sean said in a deep voice, but even he himself didn't understand that there was a desire to fight with Christine at this moment. Na thought of truce, "Stop it, you have no chance of winning."

"Thirty seconds, if the opportunity is grasped well, it will be enough to kill you." Kristina's attitude is still firm, "Even if my body doesn't break down, shouldn't you know my fate? Even if you first However, in accordance with the agreement of the soul contract, at this stage I can't do anything to kill you, otherwise I will be cursed by the contract, and my strength will completely fade."

Sean wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth: "You know what I mean."

"Yeah, so I have to say thank you." Kristina smiled rare, as smart as she certainly knew what Sean meant by turning his face first and intercepting himself, but from the beginning, both sides were subconsciously. To avoid this, no one is willing to take the lead in breaking this secret, "It's just that our position is destined to be so. I don't want to abandon my belief, even if... the place that supports this belief has gradually been eroded by darkness. It is no longer pure. However, there is still a memory of my life, so I can only choose to stand on the opposite side of you."

Shaun looked at Christina in silence.

For a long time, the two of them did not speak, just staring at each other quietly, but the momentum and strength between the two were constantly condensing.

They all understand that the next time they attack, the two will be completely separated.

Because neither Christina nor Sean are obviously suitable for continuing this kind of high-intensity combat.

The power from the soul contract has been eroding Christina from the moment Kristina moved to kill her. If it weren't for her law ability is life, she has a strong curse resistance ability, I'm afraid it would have already fallen. . But even so, Christina's power is constantly losing and fading. Once she can no longer stop the cursed power, she will die in the next instant.

Unless, she stops the killing intent to Sean-but the damage caused by the erosion of the curse is permanent, so this part has already produced the consumption caused by the killing intent, and it will not be stopped because of her Recovered by killing intent.

And Sean understands that fighting is always the fastest way to improve strength. In the brief confrontation just now, the power emerging from the two hearts gave him an increase in strength equivalent to the accumulated strength of several years of exercise. The third heart in his body is now the size of a walnut, and it is wispy. The blood vessels had been secreted from the inside, and began to come into contact with other blood vessels and organs in Sean's body.

You know, it was when Sean knew he had a third heart, which was only the size of a fingernail.

It seemed that he felt the crisis of the situation, and even the black king became quiet.

is like a normal weapon.

There was a breeze blowing.

Slightly far away from the manor building, a stone brick suddenly fell and broke on the ground.

The sound is so slight that it is impossible to hear it from a few meters away.

But for Sean and Christina, this sound seemed to be the sound of a battle horn. At this moment, the two immediately rushed towards their opponents.

Without the slightest mercy, it really seems to be the last trapped beast fighting.

Both Sean and Christina showed their truly powerful side as strong men: a sonic boom sounded from where they were standing, the earth and space were torn apart, and the strong air current was like a typhoon. Generally raging madly around everything, completely destroying everything around.

There is no afterimage, but this is not to say that the speed of the two is not fast enough, but that the space seems to be shattered.

The next moment, two powerful air currents directly collided together.

Like two bombarding shells, they encountered an encounter in the air, and then made a louder explosion sound, and of course a more terrifying strong air current raged out. This time, there were countless cracks on the ground. With the location where the two people collided as the center of the circle, the raging impact force quickly spread to the building group, and the buildings that were directly damaged by the foundation soon one after another. Collapsed.

The servants of countless manors have no ability to protect themselves in this kind of natural disaster-like disaster, panic and screams continue to resound.

"This is what you call peace!"

In the center of the storm, there was a slightly changed roar, and it was only vaguely distinguishable that it should be a male voice.

Then the next moment, stronger and more violent auras and air currents began to raging out, raising the destructive power of the surroundings to another level.

But soon, a weird soft sound suddenly sounded deep in everyone's hearts.

"Puff!"

That is the slight sound of the flesh being cut apart!

is almost subconscious, everyone's eyes can't help but all look towards the most core position of the battlefield.

Then they saw that Christina's heart had been penetrated by the Black King.

The blood stained the clothes on his chest, passed through the black king who had penetrated his body, and then passed through his back, and then dropped drop after drop to the ground.

Shaun, staring at Christina with cold eyes.

And Christina, her expression is also cold, her right hand pierced Xiao En's body like a sharp sword. It's just different from the fatal injury where the heart is penetrated. Kristina's right hand only penetrates Sean's left shoulder blade. Although this can also be regarded as a serious injury, it is more than the injury that Sean brings to her. It seems a little trivial.

"Oh." The Black King suddenly let out a sigh, and the ancient and desolate aura soon permeated everyone on the battlefield.

"Reason." Sean finally said in a deep voice.

"I just want to see a better world." Christina's cold expression finally melted, and a smile appeared on her face, but this smile looked a little sad, "I am willing to do this too. Believe and work hard, always...always...I always believe that as long as you work hard, you can change the world."

Looking at Christina's smile, Sean did not have the joy of victory at all, let alone the excitement of killing a powerful enemy.

"You built this stage and fabricated the corresponding script, then what is the end of me in the original script?" Christina continued to ask with a smile.

"Stand on the same position with me." After a moment of silence, Sean finally said, "I know the world you want to see, and I am sure I can let you see it, so even if the position is different at first, We don't have any conflicts. At least...I was so sure before..."

"Now that I have made a completely different reaction from your script, are you... surprised?"

"If I can, I would rather not have such a surprise."

"I'm very happy to surprise you." Kristina smiled, a large piece of skin fell off her face, but underneath the skin was not flesh and blood, but a piece of dust like powder. "If It's not that our positions are hostile to each other..."

"You can completely break through and leave, after you activate the secret recipe..."

"So in your script, how will my comrades in arms end up?"

Sean looked at Kristina. He knew Kristina knew the answer, but from her eyes, Sean knew that she was waiting for her answer, so he replied: "Don't keep one. "

"So, only I survived. It doesn't make any sense." Christina was still smiling, and there was a kind of relief in her eyes. "You planned such a perfect script and stage, I am afraid that the arbitrators can't run, right? "

"They will find out later that being killed by me here is actually a kind of enjoyment."

"My name is Kristina. Kristina F. Fisher, from the Peace Council." The smile on Kristina's face became brighter, "May the world be better."

"Ah, I know." Shaun knew what Christina meant. "I am Sean. Sean Connery, the void... King of the empire, I will offer my blessings to this wonderful world."

Chapter 77: .Partners

Kristina stood in front of Sean, smiling, but the look in her eyes gradually began to disappear.

Sean gave a light sigh, and then pulled out the black king.

No blood splattered out. What was brought out from the Black King's Sword was just star-like gray gravel. All the blood in Christina's body had been completely evaporated, leaving only something similar to "ash", "Wreckage" and other waste.

The price to be paid to break through the limit of the bloodline is extremely heavy, far from what ordinary people can afford—of course, ordinary people can't afford this price, because this kind of secret technique needs to be burned, which comes from the deep blood. force". This is a kind of existence similar to consumables. Once it burns and consumes too much, not to mention the inevitable bloodline power disappears, and it may even die on the spot.

What's more, Christina must resist the power punishment for violating the soul contract.

So, from the moment she really decided to do it, she was already a dead person.

Countless cracks appeared on Christina's body, like cracks in exquisite ceramics, shattering and falling bit by bit. When the cracks were densely covering Kristina's body, she was like a stone that has been weathered for thousands of years, suddenly and completely broken into a pile of gray gravel, and then another purple-red flame burned on the gravel.

Christina is dead.

If ordinary devout believers die, then their souls may be taken to the kingdom of God, become heroic spirits and continue to live in the kingdom of God. With luck, these heroic spirits can also retain memories, and can even be summoned to the material world.

But Christina is different, not to mention that she has no faith. After death, the soul will only become the nourishment for the * of death. It is only the price that needs to be paid to break through the bloodline limit, which includes the soul.

So not only the body but also the soul disappeared completely.

In this world, there is no longer Christina—her name may become a legend, but more often it will become a name in certain novels, biographies, and stories.

Sean stared at the pile that was gradually solidified and shrunk into a black gem-like crystal under the burning of the soul fire, and was silent.

He has thought about many situations, and prepared many preparations and coping methods to prevent these unexpected situations, and even gave up some of the benefits. But the only thing he didn't expect was that Christina would stick to her ideals and beliefs to such an extent, which was completely outside of Sean's script.

"Dad?" The Black King's voice rang softly.

"I'm fine." Sean's voice was a little low.

He and Christina have very similar personalities and dreams: the same determination, the same want to embrace a better tomorrow. But they have completely different ideas from each other. It is precisely because of this diametrically opposite idea that the two people who are likely to become friends eventually can only go against each other and become enemies on opposite sides of each other.

Shaun admires Christina.

However, it is impossible for him to stop for Christina, or even give up his own ideas. This is completely impossible.

Because of the sudden and tragic confrontation between the two, the silence on the battlefield was caused. At this moment, it finally gradually recovered.

Rena and Elsie joined forces to stop the four legendary powerhouses who intended to sneak attack on Sean. One of them was directly severely injured by Rena and severed a right hand, basically no different from the waste. If one counts the legendary powerhouse and Christina who died before, it can be said that the Peace Council has suffered heavy losses even so far.

The remaining legendary powerhouses glanced at each other, and they all understood one thing from each other's eyes: continuing to stay here to fight, there is no hope of winning. Even the strongest Christina is killed, even if Sean is exhausted at this moment, but as long as Rena and Elsie are there, they will never be able to break through the blockade, and if it continues to delay So, once the battlefield of super powers in the sky is over, all of them really have no hope of escape.

"I just want to leave now, don't you think it's too late?" Xiao En stood on the high ground and coldly looked at the few Jinpao executives who seemed a bit dilemma at the moment, "I can give you a multiple choice question."

"Do you want us to surrender?" a Jinpao executive said.

"Sign the soul contract and be loyal to me." Xiao En did not deny, but frankly looked directly at the three legendary powerhouses present. As for the one who had broken one hand, it is no different from the useless man, so he is no longer in Xiao. Within consideration, "You should be thankful, if it wasn't for Christina's death, I did not consider keeping you."

"Even if we are willing to surrender, do you dare to keep us?" Another Jinpao executive laughed, seeming to mock Sean's ignorance and arrogance, "Let the Peace Council know today's results, you will never have any Good ending."

"Peace Council?" Xiao En looked at the golden robe executive who spoke coldly, "If it can survive tonight, then it will be eligible to discuss retaliation. If it can't even survive tonight, there will be no peace parliament."

The expressions of several Jinpao executives suddenly changed. In addition to horror, they were more unbelievable.

"Tell me your choice, be loyal to me, or choose to die for the sake of the peaceful council that is about to be completely destroyed."

Shaun inserted the Black King on the ground and stood with his sword. His face was solemn and calm, but the fire of will burning in his eyes made these legendary powerhouses not dare to look directly at him. The kind of continuous advancement for their own ideas, they have only seen it in one person, but it is a pity that this person has died in the hands of Sean today.

"Time of allegiance." The third Jinpao executive spoke.

"Until I die."

"This is impossible." Two legendary powerhouses objected immediately.

On the Continent of Miracles, as long as they step into the realm of legend, no matter how they step into, their status is extremely lofty, even if they go to a hostile country, they will be honored as "His Royal Highness." Therefore, the major countries are very courteous to the legendary strong, and even if they want to serve them, they will offer very loose treatment and conditions, without any restrictions.

Not to mention, the legendary powerhouses in the Peace Council. They have never been restrained in any way. All of them are fighting together for the same idea. Sean dared to speak for these people at this moment because of the civil unrest in the Peace Council. If it were the pure, domineering and powerful Peace Council tens of thousands of years ago, Sean would never have said this.

Of course, if it were the peace council back then, these golden robe executives would not have thought of running away.

"I'm not bargaining with you, but explaining a choice." Sean ignored the two, "Either accept or die. Other than that, you have no third choice."

As if to strengthen the authenticity of Sean's words, a figure fell directly from the sky, smashing a huge pit between Sean and several golden robe executives. When the huge smoke and dust filled the sky, and the dust storm that covered the sky and the sun covered everyone's sight, another sharp strong wind swept down, really like a holy sword that tears the sky and the earth, directly in the sky. Shot down, completely agitated this plume of smoke and dust.

The eyes of everyone present involuntarily fell into the giant pit.

Different from the calmness of Rena, Elsie, and Sean, the side from the Peace Council is full of surprise.

Because at this moment, it is not someone else who is lying in the giant pit, but the sword saint Nebula, who was regarded as the strongest symbol by the Peace Council before!

But at this time, Nebula looked extremely embarrassed. His sacred robe of the messenger of peace not only became like a tattered cloth, even the leather armor worn inside was full of various nicks and incompleteness. . But the most noticeable thing is the scars on his body. The densely packed are almost innumerable. In just such a short time, golden blood has flowed out of these scars, and then gathered into a small at the bottom of the pit. A small pool of blood.

A black sword-blade gun passed through Nebula's chest cavity and nailed him to the pit. Looking at the part where the sword-blade gun penetrated, it is clear that one of the hearts of Nebula must have been shattered. And Alexis, stepping on the bottom of the blade gun, looked down at the nebula condescendingly.

Although her clothing was full of traces of fierce fighting, she did not see the slightest embarrassment. Compared with Nebula, she could clearly judge the gap between the two sides—not a bit big.

"Cough..." Nebula let out a cough, but it spit out a lot of blood foam, among which there were golden particles visible to the naked eye—this is the golden blood of the super strong, and it is obvious that Nebula's injuries are extremely serious.

"One of your hearts was hit hard, and one of them was shattered by me. Even the golden source blood created by the power of blood began to melt. Do you want to continue fighting?" Alexis stood on the blade gun. The face said indifferently, "It really disappoints me.... You should have been able to support it longer, but you were distracted by things that weren't important. You didn't put me in your eyes."

Nebula glanced around and seemed to want to say something, but he could only cough non-stop before the words were spoken, and every time he coughed, a large number of golden particles flowed out of the blood he coughed up, and accompanied by More and more golden source blood was lost from its body, and the Nebula quickly weakened at the speed of perception.

"Son of Twilight, aren't you afraid of the return of Lord Darkey?" After a long time, Nebula was finally able to speak, but the first person he blamed was not Sean who provoked the war, but Elsie.

Elsie's brows frowned slightly, obviously because of the trouble with the name "Dakyi".

The * slayer Dakyi became famous in the Age of Ashes and disappeared in the time of the pioneering exploration of the plane. Although the gods who died in his hands are not as exaggerated as Alexis, there are at least three or four of them. There is also a * of high power.

If we list a ranking of the strongest active in those eras in the order of dusk, ashes, chaos, etc., then Dakyi will definitely be the top three in the TOP even if it is not the No. 1 of the Ashes. exist.

Of course, the most important thing is that he is one of the elders who organized the Peace Council.

"Son of Twilight, you still have a choice now, otherwise once Master Dakyi returns..." Seeing that Elsie was a little shaken, Nebula resisted the intense pain in his body and continued to "persuade" , "Even if it is the Goddess of Twilight, I am afraid it will not end well. Don't forget, Lord Dakyi is a * slayer!"

The gloomy eyes of the golden robe executives of the legendary realm gradually showed bright expressions.

Perhaps after experiencing a civil strife caused by differences, the current peace council is indeed in a weak state, but the true foundation of their peace council is far more simple than it is now. They still have many real powerhouses traveling outside the void. Once they return, let alone a void duchy, even the seven empires will definitely not dare to contend.

The original low morale suddenly became high at this moment.

They just lost a battle, but they haven't lost this battle yet!

"Dakyi?" Alexis felt the change in the atmosphere and suddenly said, "The one with black hair, one blue eye and one red eye? Holding a three-meter-long handle Golden Blade? The man who always shouts "Oh oh oh yo"?"

"Yes! That's Master Dakyi, it's us..."

"Oh, he is dead, you don't have to expect him to come back and save you." Before Nebula could finish speaking, Alexis interrupted his speech.

"This is impossible, you are talking nonsense!" Nebula roared angrily, "Master Dakyi will never die, he is powerful..."

"This is his thing, right?" Alexis didn't know where he took out a golden chopping blade about one meter long, but the blade of this chopping blade was more than half broken, thinking of it What Alexis said just now, the true length and origin of this blade is obvious, "I think he is a good knife. I want to borrow some materials to repair my weapon. Who knows that he is so stingy and refuses. I I had to take it myself. At that time I was young and confiscated my hand for a while, so I killed him."

"....."

The audience is silent.

Nebula even spewed a mouthful of blood, and then passed out completely.

"Dad, I think this woman is terrible." The Black King whispered softly, but he completely ignored his voice, no matter how softly it was, it couldn't be so light, let alone the people present. One is not good ears?

Alexis's eyes swept towards the Black King naturally, and his face suddenly showed an interesting look: "This is your blood artifact?... Well, it looks very good. Woolen cloth."

"Thank you for the compliment, you also look great." The Black King immediately hit the snake and went on the stick.

"Haha, interesting, I like this weapon." Alexis Lang laughed a few times.

At this time, Sean really wanted to say that you like it and give it to you, but he knows that the Black King is just a slightly sharper weapon in the hands of other people besides himself, and has no other special value. And he himself is the same: only relying on the black king can he be able to exert stronger strength. Now if he uses ordinary weapons, he can't fight at all-no weapon can withstand the power of Shaun.

As Nebula was hit hard by Alexis, the other two super-powerful battles in the high altitude seemed to have come to an end.

Kozilek landed from the sky with the exaggerated huge sword, and the sword was stained with golden blood. Obviously, the coquettish woman was definitely not better off: Kozilek became his prey opponent with Kozilek's gluttony. It is absolutely impossible to survive, I am afraid that even the soul has been swallowed up at this moment.

And Ulamog is much more elegant than Kozilek.

He did not land directly from the air, but opened a portal and stepped out of it. He didn't say anything, but just nodded slightly at Sean, which means that his opponents are also unlikely to survive, because Sean has already explained before, and directly wiped out all these people, and would never give anything to the Peace Council. Opportunity to stand up.

"What should I do with this guy?" Alexis pointed to the person at his feet.

"Kill." Sean didn't mean to show mercy. "Unless the super strong are willing to surrender, there is no external force that can restrict their actions."

Hearing Xiao En's words, the pupils of the legendary powerhouses suddenly shrank, and their expressions changed slightly.

Sean's words have revealed a lot of meaning: he has no choice but to kill the super strong. But for these legendary powerhouses, there are ways to limit their ability to act, which means that Sean's soul contract is very powerful; of course, it also shows that once a soul contract is signed with Sean, then Only the super strong have the strength to go back.

In response to Sean's order, Alexis shrugged noncommittal.

But before Alexis started, Kozilek ran up anxiously, and then pointed at himself: "I!"

"Yes, he belongs to you." Sean knew what Kozilek meant, but he didn't have enough to eat, so he wanted Nebula. Of course, Sean would not refuse this, and Alexis was the same. It doesn't matter.

Therefore, in the presence of the legendary powerhouses, Kozilek truly showed his unknown horror: Nebula's vitality was consumed by Kozilek in an instant, becoming a worthless ordinary human corpse. .

The next thing is much simpler.

The three semi-legendary powerhouses-including the legendary powerhouse who broke a hand, have no choice but to accept the harsh conditions offered by Sean, become his subordinates, and work for him until Sean died.

"Thank Christina, if it weren't for her, you wouldn't be alive. So, thank you, you will replace her eyes and witness the beauty I bring to this world with your own eyes."

With the end of the high-level battlefield, the remaining low-level battlefield is naturally effortless. The fate of those few sanctuary powerhouses is obviously not as good as these legendary powerhouses. After all, although the two people of Motong and Wendy are very strong together, their opponents are also not easy, so this battle There is simply no way to keep hands.

When Alexis and others intervened in the battlefield situation, only one of those sanctuary powerhouses was still alive, and Wendy and the Devil Boy also suffered a lot of injuries, I am afraid they need to rest for a while. Of course, for these two people, the experience brought to them by this battle is also extremely valuable, as long as they can completely absorb it, the breakthrough legend is also just around the corner.

Although there are some deviations in the script, at least the whole is still proceeding according to Sean's meaning.

Shaun picked up the black crystal from the ground where Christina died: This is the final proof that Christina had lived in this world. But apart from Sean, except for the people who are still alive on the battlefield at this moment, I am afraid that no one knows the value and origin of this black crystal. So after Sean hesitated for a moment, he made a decision: "This black crystal , It's called Christina's Heart."

"You are really a nostalgic person." William laughed at Sean. "If one day I die, do you want to get me a portrait of William Yale or the eye of William Yale? ."

"I will build you an Imperial Military Academy, called William Yale Military Academy." Sean looked back at William, and then said, "This will be the most iconic building in the Nether Empire."

"Neil will definitely be arguing for you to build him a statue of Neil." William touched his chin, and then suddenly laughed, "Hela...I really can't think of how she will react."

"She already has the Garcia family." Sean said softly.

"Yes." William nodded, "One of the most powerful families in the void empire in the future.... Let alone this. Although the script has some unexpected deviations, it did not affect our plan as a whole. It is Ryan. What do you plan to do with the kingdom?"

"Don't worry about it." Sean shook his head. "Arlan's previous actions have hurt many people's hearts. Florence must have been dissatisfied. And I was taken care of by the wise king, regardless of him. Who is his successor, as long as it's not against us, don't care."

"Okay." William nodded and said nothing, "Then we can proceed with a full-scale attack. Are you sure you will retreat after the Wiles family is resolved? Those tribal leaders will be dissatisfied, right?"

"After all, this is the condition that Diana negotiated with there. Besides, it is useless to say that we have occupied the territory of the Fascist Kingdom. The distance is too far. If there are other unexpected situations, we will not be able to support the first time, so it is better. Give up." Sean shook his head. "Our goal is very simple. It is revenge and plundering the background. Everything else is not in our plan. As for the tribe leaders, they will soon understand that they have already No longer has any command."

Just when the battlefield on the manor side ended, the battlefield on the other side also happened to come to an end at this moment.

The five arbitrators and the executive officers who were responsible for protecting them fell to the ground at random, most of them died in anger, and the few who were still alive were not far from death. On the contrary, it was the two members of the Fascist Kingdom's envoys who had disappeared at this moment, apparently taking advantage of the chaos of the battle to escape.

A small group of soldiers are cleaning on the battlefield. Regardless of whether the enemy is dead or not, they will make up a few knives to ensure that these people can't die again. And around this squad of soldiers, there are also a few tyrannical people healing their wounds. The frontal battle with these executive officers just now is not without a price for these people.

After seeing that all the bodies on the battlefield had been repaired, a middle-aged man with blond hair and blue eyes turned around and ran quickly towards another high slope. There were a few people standing on this hillside, among them, except for a young man whose breath was slightly tyrannical, the other man and woman were just ordinary people.

"Report to your lord that all members of the Peace Council have been killed in battle. According to your request, the two members of the Fascist Kingdom's diplomatic mission have been specially spared."

This extremely powerful, blond middle-aged man who is almost not under the nebula, is now half-kneeling and saluting the weak-breathed middle-aged man standing on the hillside. Not to mention that he is a super strong, even a legendary strong will never bow down to anyone, but at this moment this super strong not only kneels down, but the other two next to him are equally silly. Looks like.

"Understood, you can withdraw." The middle-aged man said softly.

"Yes." The blond, blue-eyed middle-aged man saluted again respectfully, then got up and walked back.

"According to Grand Duke Sean's plan, I have completed the part of my agreement. There is no accident on your side?" The middle-aged man turned his head and said to the young woman.

Under the shining of moonlight, the face of this middle-aged man was completely exposed.

is impressively the highest military commander of the Chenas Empire, the * of war in the Marvel Continent, Jason Wayne!

The woman standing next to Jason is one of the four giants of the Void Principality today, Diana Simon, who is in charge of diplomacy.

"The battlefield where Master Shaun is personally responsible, there is absolutely no possibility of any accidents, please rest assured." Diana's face remained as usual, not because he was standing by a super power and the most famous military  on the whole Marvel Continent. Nervous, "According to the script, the power of the Peace Council in the fascist kingdom has now been completely wiped out. Then it's up to you, Master Killing."

Killing the monument, the first of the six death monuments, the super strong at the 17th-order critical point.

He let out a disdainful snort: "As long as the information provided by Grand Duke Shaun is correct, the Peace Council will be fatally hit tonight. If everything goes well, there will be no Peace Council after tonight. Even if there is no way to bring peace The parliament is completely wiped out. At least we can guarantee that the peaceful parliament will not have the power to rise in the next millennium."

"It's the best." Dianna said with a smile, "Master Shaun said that we all have common enemies, so joining forces is the best way to deal with it. This is something that benefits each other."

"The destruction of the dead nest, this account is not over yet." Sai Bei coldly.

"Of course, Lord Sean has said that after this matter is resolved, you can be stubborn to seek justice anyway." Diana deliberately bit the accent on the word "justice", "but, in the bones. Before the end of the invasion, Grand Duke Sean does not want to see your deadly people make trouble, otherwise it will probably be the devil's nest or the ghost's nest next time."

"Are you threatening me?" Killing the monument screamed coldly, and the black armor on his body instantly turned blood red, and the blood that was so rich that it made people nauseous suddenly radiated completely.

"I'm just reminding Master Killing." Although Diana's face turned pale, her attitude was still not humble and she kept smiling, "Now is our honeymoon of cooperation, please don't destroy this tacit understanding."

"Huh." After a cold snort, Killing Tablet stopped speaking, "There is nothing wrong with me here, I will leave first."

"Please go slowly, kill Master Biography." Diana still kept smiling.

"Miss Diana, if you are not used to staying in the Void Duchy someday, the gate of our Zenus Empire will be opened for you at any time." Jason looked at Diana, and said with a smile.

"Thank you Lord Military God for your love. If that day comes, I will definitely contact you." Diana replied with a smile, "But now the matter here has been completely resolved, and Lord Sean is still waiting for me to go back. Report the situation, so please allow me to retire first."

"Of course, please." Jason nodded.

And Diana did not stay here, but turned around and walked towards the bottom of the hillside. In the shadows there, a carriage was waiting here all the time. The driver who drives the car is not someone else, it is Rupiah, and the ones in the carriage are that although there is no one else, but through the shadow surging around and the tyrannical atmosphere hidden in the shadow, it is obvious that the carriage is not as simple as it seems on the surface. .

When only Jason Wayne, the miracle war god, was left on the high ground, the blond middle-aged man walked up again.

"My lord, why don't we keep that woman?"

"Even if she is detained, what can she do?" Jason shook his head, "It's just a bad deal with Sean.... After tonight, maybe you can no longer call him the Void Lord, but should be changed to the Void Emperor. NS."

"The other empires will not agree."

"How many other empires?" Jason let out a sneer, "The Maggie Empire and the Saint Joles Empire are about to start war. The Millennium Covenant Empire is being harassed by the army from the plane of bones. At the same time, it is necessary to prevent Emilie, who is staring at him. The sub-empire, four of the five ancient empires are overwhelmed. Now the Void Principality has sent us the gift of the Kingdom of Fascism. We will be busy harvesting and stabilizing. There is no time to trouble him. "

"Then there are the Poludo Empire and the Sitan Empire."

"Porudo will soon withdraw from the ranks of the seven empires. The kingdoms next to him have been watching the seven empires for a long time. As for Xitan, they are busy fighting the sea clan, if this war If you win, it's okay. If you lose, I'm afraid you will have to withdraw from the ranks of the seven empires." In a few simple words, Jason thoroughly analyzed the current situation at the top of the mainland, "Then, you think we still need to go. Offend such a new empire?"

"My lord, do you mean that the Void Principality has been upgraded to an empire..."

"Unstoppable." Jason added, "Neil, William, Hella, Diana... the four giants of the Void Empire, none of them are fuel-efficient lamps. Then they annexed the entire wilderness, even though before The method of killing Wu Ji was indeed cruel, but it was precisely because of her cruelty that it accelerated the internal digestion and stability of the Void Principality. Otherwise, they would have to delay for several years before they would be qualified. Upgrade to an empire... If it really drags on to that time, the other big empires will also have slowed down."

"Okay, whether the void empire is established or not, the relationship with us is not very big. With the friendship of today's cooperation, it will be a better way of communication in the future." Jason Wayne smiled, "Next , Let us carry out the work that we did not complete back then, this time there will be no one blocking the expansion of the empire's territory."

Chapter 78: . Names that shocked the world

The miracle calendar April 1, 1882, on this seemingly ordinary day, something happened that shocked the entire miracle continent.

Peace Council, collapsed.

When the news came out, no one or organization could believe it except for a few people who knew the inside story. In the eyes of almost everyone, this news is a prank, a joke, and it is still a very funny joke.

The Peace Council has been in development for tens of thousands of years. Since the end of the Ash Age, it has been striving to make the entire Miracle Continent become peaceful and stable. Maybe many people don't know it, but in some people's minds it is very clear that without the contribution of the Peace Council, the most chaotic era after the Ashes may continue for thousands of years.

It can be said that although the Peace Council is an organization formed by a group of lunatics, it also has an indelible contribution-he brought the end of the chaotic era thousands of years earlier. However, it is precisely because of this great contribution that the Peace Council has developed that crazy and domineering organizational style, believing that they are the real savior.

At this point, no one can say clearly whether to thank or resent the Peace Council.

But the only thing that can be determined is that the more powerful countries will never like the peace parliament, while the smaller countries like the peace parliament very much.

The reason is simple.

A peaceful parliament striving for a stable structure is basically a barrier to the development and advancement of relatively powerful kingdoms and empires; but for small countries, the peaceful parliament can ensure their continued survival and stability. The cornerstone of development.

However, no one believes that the peace parliament will be destroyed in this way, whether it is for those big countries or for those small countries.

Especially, the news came from Deaththorn.

Deaththorn will wipe out the Peace Council?

Hahaha, this is probably the funniest joke since the creation of Miracle Land.

Most people will go to the tavern to buy alcohol and get drunk after their daily work.

But today, many people who have nothing to do with their affairs have gathered in the tavern since noon and started drinking and having fun, sharing the funniest joke they heard today since Genesis.

A middle-aged man with a beard and beard is talking in the tavern. He tells the story of when he was an adventurer with great voice, and occasionally shows exaggerated body movements. But not everyone is happy to see his exaggerated body movements, because with his movements, the big wine glass in his hand will always spill some drinks out, splashing randomly on other people.

"Hey, old Kugill, you are bragging again." Someone laughed and said that it was bad intentions or good intentions.

"What bragging, what I said is the truth!" The face of the bearded man flushed, and he didn't know if he was drunk or angry, "How can you slander me!"

"What slander?" Someone laughed again, his voice clearly not the one who had just made fun of him, "I only drank with the heroic leader a few days ago. Hearing what he said with my own ears, you are not like you said. If you leave the group injured, you can only fool others here. Old man who doesn't know what's going on with you."

The face of the bearded man turned redder. This time he should be sure that it was flushed, because the blue veins on his forehead appeared, and his face looked particularly grim: "I got an arrow in my knee. Why can't it be considered an injury? I was injured at the time. I can't walk, so how can I not be considered injured and retired? I'm a ranger and I can't walk with an arrow in my knee. What else can I do!"

Immediately afterwards, there was another burst of words that were difficult for others to understand.

What "won witnessed the amazing swordsmanship of a young man named Sean", what "won a good wine at the Wine and Sword Tavern", what "also had a good chat with Eli Kate of Eternal Night", what "have given "A man named Rupi took the road" and so on, caused everyone present to burst into laughter. No one would take the words of Old Kugil to heart, just as he was bragging again, and the whole tavern was soon filled with a cheerful atmosphere, even more festive than usual at night.

"I, I still know a big news!" The bearded man yelled, "The Peace Council has been wiped out by death thorns!"

"Hahaha!"

The laughter in the tavern seemed even louder. This time, regardless of whether it was the people who had participated in making fun of the old Kugil just now, they all laughed. The vast majority of people looked at Old Kugil with sympathy. Many people shook their heads when they saw Old Kugil for the first time. Obviously, they had a more intuitive impression of him: Not reliable.

"Old Kugil, do you treat us as fools?" Someone laughed, "What is the death thorn, we don't know, but such a powerful organization of the Peace Council will be wiped out? Hahaha, Lao Ku Jill, your cowhide is too big, right."

"Hahaha, old Kugil thinks we are all fools." Someone laughed again, "Is today a fool's holiday?"

"Happy April Fools' Day!" Someone shouted again, but at least one third of the ale was spilled.

"Happy April Fools' Day!" Soon, a large group of people began to respond.

The people in the tavern began to indulge in joy and laugh. Many people's brains have begun to be paralyzed by alcohol, and they can no longer even think normally. They just yelled "Happy April Fools' Day" and the like, then drank wine, ate meat, and occasionally said a few words, either they were so confused that no one else could understand them, or they just started out. The story that has completely blown the cowhide.

Soon, the April Fool's Day spread from the tavern and began to spread throughout the city.

Many people started to make jokes that were not very bad in nature. Even the aristocratic women liked this little game from the civilian class that they had always looked down on. Moreover, the greatest victory is based on how many people can be deceived and what kind of panic it causes.

However, compared to those who drink and have fun and the nobles who have not enough contact with them, those who are truly qualified to know the insider will not have such a relaxed mentality.

In front of many people, there is a more detailed intelligence document.

Maybe the level of detail of this intelligence document varies, but at least it can better prove: this is not an April Fool's joke, but the Peace Council was officially annihilated two days ago. The united efforts to completely eradicate the entire Peace Council were led by the Void Principality, uniting the trilateral forces of the Deaththorn and the Zenas Empire, and the Void Principality's war against the Fascist Kingdom was the fuse for this incident.

In this conspired war, the base camp of the Peace Council was directly captured by Deaththorn, and the seven peace saints of the Libra House died and two were seriously injured. Only one person escaped, but the one who escaped was also in a state of dying and seriously injured. Obviously It won't take long. As for the eight peace ambassadors who are still active on the Continent of Miracles, they have all been encircled and killed at the same time. Among them, the biggest loss is the Tianping Guards sent to the Kingdom of Fascism.

Four peace messengers and twenty golden robe executives all fell.

On this intelligence document, only a few lines of news about the collapse of the Peace Council are written, but the content revealed in it is definitely enough to be regarded as shocking to the world.

No matter who it is, he cannot ignore the heavy weight of this intelligence document.

The Peace Council, which occupies an extremely important position on the Marvel Continent and has been rampant for tens of thousands of years, has just been destroyed?

The legendary genius, Christina F. Fisher, who was placed high hopes by the entire Peace Council, and even rumored that it is likely to succeed one of the seven seats of the Libra, just died in the Void Lord, Sean Connor. Li's hands?

Countless people feel unbelievable.

Even more people hope that this is really a joke, an April Fool's joke.

But the big people who are qualified to look through these intelligence documents know that-at least their reason clearly tells them that this is really not a joke.

At least, countless people have remembered a name today.

Sean Connery, the future king of the void empire.

Yes, at this moment, whether it is the organizations on the active continent, or the kingdoms and principalities on the continent, it is clear that it is a matter of time before the Void Principality is upgraded to an empire, and no one on the southern continent can anymore. Stop their pace. Because the two empires that are truly qualified and able to prevent the Void Principality from being upgraded to an empire are both caught in a different war quagmire.

The millennium covenant empire is now confronting the undead army from the plane of bones. Although it has the support of many church knights, the battle is not as smooth as expected, because there are too many people who fish in troubled waters and do not obey orders, even if it is strong. For example, the millennium covenant commander of one of the great empires could not order these church knights, otherwise it would be impossible to be dragged into the quagmire of war.

Especially as the war lasted longer and the number of deaths increased significantly, this instead strengthened the army of the undead.

As for another empire: the Chenas Empire has officially declared war on the Kingdom of Fascism. After that, it sent troops without waiting for the official order to end. During the period when the Peace Council is still in existence, any country must declare war at least one month in advance. Give the enemy country sufficient time to prepare, at least to allow the people to avoid dying in the war.

But now, after the Peace Council was completely destroyed by Deaththorn, the Chenas Empire sent troops directly after the declaration of war, and there was no time for the Fascist Kingdom to prepare. Of course, it will not give the other party any opportunity to find diplomatic means. Therefore, in just one day, the armies of the Chenas Empire successively conquered the three fortresses on the border of the Fascist kingdom and took the territory close to a standard duchy.

The enmity between the Chenas Empire and the Fascist Kingdom has been around for a long time, but no one knows what exactly caused it. The only thing we can know is that at the peak of hatred, the Zenas Empire directly launched an invasion war against the Kingdom of Fascism. Forced in.

So, after the collapse of the Peace Council, the Chenas Empire finally has no worries — the most important thing is that all the forces sent by the Peace Council to the Fascist Kingdom have all fallen. This also means that the Fascist Kingdom has no high-end power comparable to the Zenus Empire, and may be able to fight the Zenus Empire in terms of military strength, but once the superpower intervenes in the battlefield, there will be no suspense.

This is the real war.

So at this moment, neither the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire nor the Chenas Empire will bother with the Void Duchy, let alone prevent him from becoming an empire. Of course, it goes without saying that in the intelligence documents of many people, there is also an important piece of information led by the Void Principality, cooperating with Deaththorn and the Zenas Empire to destroy the Peace Council, so only from the perspective of human relations, the Zenas Empire owes it. A great favor from the Void Principality.

Perhaps, in the near future, we will change the name of the Void Principality as the Void Empire.

The only thing that still makes people wonder at the moment is in what way the Void Principality wants to become an empire, whether to replace one of the old seven empires, or to become the eighth empire.

If it is the former, then according to the general code of nobility law, at least half of the empires—that is, four empires—can be recognized before they can become the eighth empire. On the contrary, the seat of the seven empires is still reserved, but the Void Principality must compete with the Porudo Empire or the Sitan Empire for this place.

In the eyes of many people, the Void Principality will inevitably take the latter route, and will definitely pick the Poludo Empire, because the empire is currently the most declining, and the possibility of replacing it is the greatest. But in this way, the Void Principality will establish a lot of enemies—the big kingdoms that are aimed at the position of the vacillating Poludo Empire, but there are not many at all, at least it is currently eligible to compete for the seat of this empire. There are more than ten super-class kingdoms.

But anyway, the name Sean Connery is destined to truly resound through the entire wonderland at this moment.

Because even if countless people are unwilling to admit it, the Peace Council, which has been active on the Marvel Continent since the end of the Ash Age, has indeed led the development of the entire Marvel Continent, and can be regarded as a product of an era. And with the collapse of the Peace Council, this also represents the end of the old era and the advent of a new era—those kings of great empires and great kingdoms will thank Sean because he brings them more hope; And those kings of small kingdoms and small principalities hate Sean, because what he brings to them is not hope, but deep despair.

Sean Connery, he ended an old era and opened a new era.

This is a name destined to be recorded in the annals of history.

is also a name destined to shock the world.

Chapter 79: .

The kingdom of Fascism, the whole territory collapsed.

The Chanas Empire invaded from the Eastern Front, and in just five days, it completely occupied nearly one-fifth of the territory of the entire Fascist Kingdom. This time, the Chenas Empire mobilized a total of six first-line main armies and ten second-line legions, and at the same time went straight to the capital of the fascist kingdom in three ways. Unlike the fierce war in the imagination, the resistance of the fascist kingdom along the way is almost equal. Said to be zero.

In particular, as the main force of the Central Army, the three main first-line legions commanded by the * of war, Jason, basically all the enemies encountered along the way either flee or simply surrender. It can be said that they are advancing among the three-way army of the Zenas Empire. The fastest. However, although the Chenas Empire came with a long-lasting revenge idea this time, it did not actually raise a butcher knife against the civilian class. On the contrary, it attacked the aristocratic class more harshly.

However, this is also reasonable. After all, the nobility of the Zenas Empire already belongs to the status of the ruling class, and it is not as easy as other countries to grant the status of nobility. It can be said that any aristocrat in the Chenas Empire is a real status symbol, and the purpose of this expedition to the fascist kingdom is naturally to obtain sufficient profit resources. Therefore, facing the old aristocratic class of the fascist kingdom, it is inevitable. It is something that cannot be compromised.

Finding excuses to attack, dismiss, and exile are common.

This is Jason's relatively gentle handling method. The reason why the other two armies advance more slowly than Jason is because they have a deeper hatred of the noble class of the fascist kingdom. Therefore, since knowing that surrender will also result in death, no one is willing to die easily, there will inevitably be resistance.

The war after this is a completely one-sided situation.

And with the intensification of the war, more and more countries on the Marvel Continent are betting on the fascist kingdom of the Southern Continent. Many people are paying attention to the final result of this war-even if many people already have guesses. However, after not really seeing the results, many people still do not want to believe that the Peace Council has been destroyed.

They longed for the result this time to be the same as the previous one: the Zenus Empire stopped at Thorus Fortress, and then the Peace Council once again made a strong appearance.

In one month, the Chenas Empire had already approached the capital of the Fascist Kingdom.

The defenders on the wall of the royal capital can even see the dark spots that have gradually appeared on the distant horizon-that is the main force of the Chinese army of the Chenas Empire.

But, all this is not the worst.

The real horror is that desperate panic is spreading crazily in the Kingdom of Fascism.

Although the Kingdom of Fascism is trying its best to prevent the spread of this panic, it has little effect-these stupid guys, even if they know that enemy agents have sneaked into the capital, they still haven't been able to come up with more perfect and detailed countermeasures. Stop the spread of these rumors.

Of course, the most important thing is that the Peace Council, which has been relied on by the fascist kingdom as its trump card, was actually destroyed by the death thorn. This blow to the fascist kingdom is simply unimaginable-after losing the support of the super powers of the peace council, relying only on the fascist kingdom The only super strong, it is impossible to stop the Chenas Empire.

Not to mention, the army from the Void Duchy is not easy to provoke: the appearance of two super powers also makes the army of the fascist kingdom unable to resist the invasion of the Void Duchy. Especially after the fascist kingdom played the nominal flag of conquest of the Wiles family, the resistance it encountered became even smaller, and even many southern aristocrats expressed their willingness to vote for the Void Duchy.

However, the Void Principality did not agree with this.

Sean and William knew that the surrender of these nobles was not sincere, they were just for self-protection.

To put it plainly, I just want to get a shelter, as long as they can be sheltered, they won't mind who the other party is. Of course, this kind of asylum is to preserve their current status, identity, and the corresponding power and resources they have.

This is simply impossible for a void duchy whose purpose is exactly the same as that of the Chenas Empire in some respects.

.....

"The army is advancing very fast, and the resistance encountered along the way is also very small."

In the main tent of the barracks, William pointed to the map laid on the long table in the middle, and then said in a deep voice, "But soon we will encounter the first scale of resistance."

Following the point where William's finger was pointing, Sean looked at the walled city mark drawn on the map: "Torus Fortress?"

"Well, Torus Fortress." William nodded, frowning slightly, "This is the last line of defense deployed by the Fascist Kingdom in the south. It is the headquarters of the entire southeast group army of the Fascist Kingdom. There are three ancient magic crystals here. Cannons, the Fascist Kingdom had quarreled with the Zenas Empire because the three magic crystal cannons were snatched from the ruins. This time, in the alliance negotiations between Diana and the Zenas Empire, it was included in our seizure. After the three magic crystal cannons, they were transferred to the Zenas Empire."

The ancient magic crystal cannon is a weapon against the gods developed by the All-People Alliance after the outbreak of the Twilight War of the Gods. But this kind of magic crystal cannon consumes a lot of energy. Even in the era of the twilight of the gods, it must rely on the magic veins of the earth to be able to launch, and the interval between each launch is extremely long.

The so-called magic veins are actually magic crystal veins.

This kind of magic crystal cannon must be directly assumed to be on the magic crystal vein, and the entire magic crystal vein is solidified before it can be used for the firing of the magic crystal cannon.

Torus Fortress is an empire-level fortress built on a mountain. The magic crystal veins that were originally discovered to be mined for thousands of years are directly used as the launch energy of the fortress magic crystal cannon. This is also the real trump card for the Fascist Kingdom to withstand the invasion of the Chenas Empire and support the intervention of the Peace Council: the powerful magic crystal cannon has the ability to threaten the lives of superpowers.

Facing the magic crystal cannon in Thorus Fortress, Sean would naturally not be unprepared.

At the beginning of the war, the Helson Institute had already delivered five magical cannons to Sean, of course, they also had the purpose of testing the power of the artillery.

The magic cannon that Shaun previously developed jointly with the Helson Institute is actually an improved product of the magic crystal cannon.

The magic gun uses the power source of the magic gun, which has the special advantages of shorter firing interval and faster heat dissipation. However, because the power has not been tested, it is impossible to judge the power for the time being, but it is less powerful than the magic crystal cannon. This is for sure, and the range can not be like the magic crystal cannon, which can shoot several kilometers or even ten. Kilometers away-the range of the magic cannon is probably farther than that of the goblin artillery, which is about one kilometer.

"There is no way to compare the range." Sean also frowned. "We can only fire one kilometer away at most, but the Magic Crystal Cannon has a more precise aiming system, so I'm afraid we will encounter long-range bombardment once we enter the range. ."

"Yes." William nodded, "I also asked Miss Alexis to help with the investigation before. She has confirmed that this magic crystal cannon is indeed threatening to her... Maybe not yet. It will be fatal, but the result is not something she is willing to bear."

"In other words, if you get hit by a head-on, you must be seriously injured?" Sean looked a little unhappy. "The Zenus Empire actually wants us to deliver three? How did Diana negotiate with the Zenus Empire? Such a strong attitude. Diplomacy is not in our interest."

"I agree." William said.

"Why?"

"Political tacit agreement." William replied, but Sean knew that William's words meant "unspoken rules". "The Zenus Empire just said that we should hand over three doors, but if it is damaged in the war, this This kind of force majeure method is undesirable.... But for the sake of long-term interests in the future, Neil suggested that we deliver at least one, one that we can give to the Helson Institute for further research, and the other to be our own."

"You are responsible." Sean nodded, and decided not to bother about it. "Then the question now is how to get our army close to the fortress."

"Yes." William's face was also not very fast. "Although I don't want to admit it, in fact, this time it really makes me feel tricky. Miss Alexis has tested it, and she feels it within ten kilometers. Danger, this proves that the longest range of the magic crystal cannons can reach ten kilometers. Although William has not witnessed it with his own eyes, I guess that one shot can destroy a legion in an instant."

"Digging a hole?"

"The information brought by the magic boy shows that it is impossible for this fortress to rely on digging a crypt to attack." William shook his head, "not to mention that the fortress building ground is reinforced by earth magic, just the ten kilometers. I want to dig out and stabilize the length of the game. I don't even think about it for a few months.... Judging from the current situation of the battle report..." While saying this, William also picked up the next battle report: " Probably, the Zenas Empire will wipe out the entire Fascist Kingdom, and then these three magic crystal cannons will probably not fall into our hands."

"It seems that the Zenus Empire is not very stupid." Sean sneered.

William knew what Shaun meant.

The Zenus Empire just wanted to rely on the things of the Thorus Fortress to let the Void Principality know what the real empire is like: They were still struggling with how to take this fortress, the Zenus Empire had already Ended the war against the fascist kingdom. According to the covenant agreement signed between Diana and the Zenus Empire, once the war is over, all the fascist kingdoms must be returned to the Zenus Empire, then this Thorus fortress and the magic crystal cannon in the fortress will naturally be The Void Principality is nowhere to be found.

Not to mention, if this happens, the Wiles family will either have been destroyed by the Chenas Empire, or they will have escaped, and it will be impossible for them to want revenge.

"Bypass this fortress?" Sean really doesn't feel much about the magic crystal cannon. Anyway, now the magic cannon has been developed, even if the Zenus Empire gets the magic crystal cannon, he wants to develop related products that can be used. Come out, it is impossible for not more than ten years. In terms of magic technology, Sean's Void Principality has completely surpassed the technical power of this world for more than thirty years.

"At least two months, and the logistics line will be lengthened." William again rejected this idea, "At that time, we will fall into passive instead."

Sean frowned, staring at the Torus Fortress mark on the map.

"Tell me about your plan." In the end, Sean sighed heavily, "How heavy is the price we need to pay?"

He knew that William must already have a detailed battle plan, but the cost of this plan might be extremely heavy, which made William so hesitant.

"I intend to let Ruby lead the Dark Blade and a part of the elite assault team to unite Hina's Crypt Spider to attack." William raised his head and looked at Sean, and then said, "The price is... once the assault fails. Or if the attack is frustrated, then this assault force will all be killed. In other words, Hina is likely to die in this war."

Xina, the daughter of Alfred, is now one of the important figures in the military department of the Void Duchy.

"What did Hina say?" Shaun knew that William must have asked Hina.

"I haven't asked yet." But this time, William showed a helpless wry smile, "I know if I ask her, she will not hesitate. But..."

"Report to Sir Sean! There is an emergency military letter!" Suddenly, a soldier shouted outside the military account.

"Come in." Sean said in a deep voice.

Soon, a soldier walked into the tent quickly, and then handed out a cowhide envelope almost soaked in blood to Sean.

Seeing that there was still a strong blood on it, Xiao En's face changed slightly, because he had recognized the badge imprint on the envelope.

This imprint is not the private imprint of any of his followers, or even any imprint recorded in the Void Principality.

The owner of this family crest imprint is the family crest imprint belonging to Asuna.

But the badge above has a silver frame, not a gold frame, which means that the person who sent the letter is not Asuna, but her followers.

Without the slightest hesitation, Sean opened the envelope directly, and then pulled out the letter paper.

Just a glance, Xiao En's face changed, it looked unusually gloomy and ugly, and the murderous aura all over his body directly turned into a substantial skyrocket, tearing open the tent of the main tent. William and the soldier who sent the letter did not notice for a while, and they were directly overthrown by Sean's strong murderous intent, and then completely alarmed the entire camp. Almost everyone thought they had encountered an enemy attack!

Chapter 80: . The fourth battlefield

"It's okay, let's get back." Xiao En condensed his momentum, and then said to the people who came around, "I'm the one who lost my mind."

Some strong men from the wild tribes looked at each other, all with puzzled faces, but now that Sean said so, they turned and left. Relatively speaking, they were relatively simple and willing to obey orders. The type, after all, Sean and William did bring them a very strong self-confidence.

However, the eyes of the former Peace Council legendary powerhouses who were forced to take orders from Sean at the moment looked at Sean slightly inquiring. It was just because of the embarrassment in the relationship at this moment, so the three of them couldn't say anything, they just exchanged a glance at each other and left.

The only people who did not obey the order to leave were Alexis, Kozilek, Ulamor, Elsie, and Rena.

"What happened?" William asked in a deep voice.

He knew that Sean seldom showed such a murderous look that no one would enter. When he saw it before, it was because of Anno's death. It is said that Cecilia and others were terrified at that time. Thinking of this, William couldn't help but remember that the seal of this letter seemed to be Asuna's family crest. Could it be that Asuna was the one who was involved?

"How much force can we mobilize now?" Sean looked at William, and then asked in a deep voice, "I mean, without affecting the situation of the Fascist Kingdom."

"Well, the domestic reserve force is about 50,000, but they are all recruits who have not been on the battlefield." William said without hesitation, "The troops on the Rios Forest can also be mobilized, about 30,000. , I believe that the Principality of Erkili will never cut our back at this time. In addition, the Scarlet Knights and the First Cavalry of the Wild Fortress can also be mobilized, the Second Infantry of Nok and Aldolf's The mobile infantry regiment can also be mobilized."

"If both the troops of Nok and Aldolf are called, how much strength is there?"

"The Second Infantry Regiment has just been recruited during the war. It was originally in the strategic plan to replace Stalin's First Infantry Regiment, so the current total force is close to 50,000, but more than half are recruits who have just started training." William said. Explained, "Although Aldorf's mobile infantry regiment has a total strength of only 20,000. At that time, considering that it might be necessary to reinforce the wild fortress at the necessary moment, it did not expand the enlistment. Although the strength of the army is a little bit less, the mobility is not. It is currently the fastest in our country."

Sean frowned: "In other words, including Dwight's Scarlet Knights and the First Cavalry, the total strength is less than 50,000?"

William immediately understood, and Sean directly eliminated all recruits from the Second Infantry Regiment: "Yes... and they are scattered all over the country. If you want to gather, the closest place is in the Gorge Fortress. , The total itinerary will take about...20 days or so before the assembly can be completed."

Speaking of this, William finally couldn't help it: "What the * is going on? If you don't say it, we can't figure out the best way."

"Asuna was arrested." Shaun said in a deep voice, "No one thought that Grain was the one who had hidden the deepest.... He used public opinion to force Adams to lead his troops to crusade against the undead army, but now instead. Trapped in the territory of the Millennium Covenant Empire, surrounded by the undead army, neither the Lion Kingdom nor the Millennium Covenant Empire can rescue him at the moment. If it were not for the particularity of his army, it would have become a part of the undead army. Member."

"What about Arlan?" William asked.

Although he didn't like this guy, he even fell out with him in the Libra Council a month ago, but I have to say that in the current Kingdom of Lane, he is the true heir to the orthodox throne. With this guy's character, it is impossible for Grain to do anything wrong, and he will inevitably stop it.

"Dead." Sean sighed, "On their way back to the Royal Capital of Ryan, they encountered an assassination..."

"Isn't there Vannie?" Rina suddenly interjected, "I remember her strength...very strong."

"The whereabouts are unknown." Sean seemed to be tired of explaining, so he passed the letter in his hand to others.

The letter is not thick, but it is not too thin. There are almost seven pages in which it describes all the things that happened in Ryan during this month. Although some places are not exhaustive, what happened in general is clearly described.

The prince Adams is trapped in the territory of the Millennium Covenant, surrounded by the undead army, unable to escape, and even self-protection becomes extremely difficult. If there is no rescue, death is only a matter of time.

The third prince, Arlan, encountered an attack when he returned to the Royal Capital of Ryan after the Tianping Council was over. Because of the situation that Arlan showed during the negotiation, Florence, Hatch, Kos and others were quite dissatisfied, so they did not accompany them to protect. This gave the assassins an opportunity: all the accompanying guards died in battle, Arlan The whereabouts of Vannie, the personal guard elven Swordsman, is unknown.

What happened after was very clichéd for Sean, and it was also very bloody.

Even for William and others, it is a very conventional conspiracy. Only when the enemy is prepared, these routines still work.

The place where Arlan was assassinated was a baron within the Fortress of Tonys. This baron was a supporter of the fourth princess Vulhis. Therefore, after a series of investigations and evidence collection, it was discovered that Arlan's assassination was related to Folhis, and the royal guard directly ordered the arrest with the support of the House.

Originally, no matter what it is, anyone can smell the conspiracy. As long as Vulhis doesn't resist or do excessive actions, there is always a way to rescue him. This is also a viewpoint supported by Asuna and the Marquis of Floris. After all, with the death of Arlan, Fulcis can be said to be the surer of the next heir to the throne, as long as she doesn't do anything. In fact, this throne is completely at your fingertips.

But on the contrary, there is an insider in Fulhis's team.

So, a chaotic battle broke out.

The process of the battle is now unclear, but the result is particularly tragic: Her Royal Highness Princess Vrches was assassinated and unconscious, life and death are temporarily unknown; the Marquis of Flores was also seriously injured, but was rescued by Elizabeth, and the two broke through. After the Grand Duke of Garrod, Asuna and Vivian were responsible for the break, they gave others a chance to escape, but the two failed to break through. Asuna was seriously injured and caught, and Vivian died on the spot.

The person who sent this request for help is Elizabeth.

She used the secret channel of the Marquis of Floris to pass the letter all the way, but she was attacked by the Black Hawk subordinates. Until this time, everyone knew that the Black Hawk who besieged Shaun did not die. Although his power was absorbed by the Marquis of Floris because of his embarrassed escape, it was actually one of him and Grain. The conspiracy was revealed at this moment and it achieved unexpected results.

Until now, when this letter was delivered to Sean, neither Elizabeth nor the Marquis of Flores had escaped from Tonis Fortress, and they are still in the control of the Sené noble faction. But the real biggest trouble is that there is also a problem in the Garrod Principality. The old party of the original Darbian Kingdom suddenly resurrected, causing a civil unrest in the Garrod Principality, and Simi, who is in charge of the town, is now completely dragged down. Died in the Duchy of Garrod, unable to send troops to rescue Elizabeth, let alone enter the Fortress of Tonys.

"It doesn't seem that the problem is too big." William said, "Just let..."

Speaking of this, William was stunned, and he understood in an instant.

"Understood?" Sean glanced at William, "Now we are also dragged down by the war. It takes at least two superpowers to sit here in order to win the Fortress of Thorus and prevent other problems and crises. ... Hela is also in trouble. Although Noro is in charge of the coordinates and can provide high-end combat support at any time, if the battle conditions are stalemate, a super power can not completely reverse the entire battle."

"And the problem is more than this." Ulamog understood, "The opponent has a hostage.... I guess that Vivienne's death in battle should be an accident. Grain knew about our relationship with Asuna. So the intention was to capture it alive. This is why Asuna is seriously injured and arrested, but the Kingdom of Lane still spends a lot of effort to ask the priest of the Temple of Life to take action."

"Then we will send troops rashly..." Rina frowned.

"It's not the same." William shook his head. "The hostages are to prevent us from sending superpowers to take action. Otherwise, the strength of the Kingdom of Ryan will not be able to compete. I guess they must negotiate with us when they capture Asuna alive. But at this point, we can't say nothing. If we don't even react at all, then they will know that Asuna is meaningless to us, and I'm afraid it will end..."

"So this letter is a temptation." Xiao En said in a deep voice, his face was ugly to the extreme, "I have dealt with Black Hawk, that is not a simple person, he can bear for so long before the attack, he must have taken Fo Luo Reese's channels are all familiar and controlled, so the result is already obvious. They deliberately let the letter be sent to us."

"I'm even suspecting... Black Hawk was not forbearing by himself, but was found and incorporated by Floris." Sean sneered, "Otherwise, Floris would not be able to incorporate all the forces of Black Hawk so quickly. Now that this kind of thing has happened, it's just self-inflicted.... To tell the truth, I am not interested in the tattered throne fight in the Kingdom of Ryan at all, but I can't save Asuna."

"We know." William nodded, "After all, we received so much care from her back then. Without her, there would be no Void Principality today."

"As long as Hela can stabilize the battle, we have at least one super strong to mobilize." Sean thought for a while, and then said, "You contact Hela and let her stabilize the battle at all costs, if necessary. You can even give up some unrelated areas, and we can get them back anyway."

"I know." William nodded, "But even so, our current strength is not enough to open up the fourth battlefield."

"Our own troops are not enough, but it doesn't mean that we can't help it."

"I know what you mean." William's military sense of smell is of course not comparable to that of Sean. At this moment, when he hears Sean's words, he is keenly aware of Sean's thoughts, "I will let Dianna go and talk to him. They talked about it. The breakthrough words..."

"I can talk to my father." Elsie also understood, "In addition, the Knights of the Darkmoon Spear can also be recruited and returned. There is currently no movement on the wild fortress. So instead of letting that troop be there. Rust, it's better to use it for the key point."

"I won't say thank you." Sean laughed.

"It's okay, you won't mind if I take something from you anyway." Elsie smiled back, "Then I will set off first, and then we will see you on the battlefield."

"Do you know which battlefield it is?" Sean asked.

"Aren't you nonsense?" Elsie waved his hand without looking back, "But I still have to say, you are indeed a man who has been rumored to be a mad dog by the outside world. At the same time, you are opening up four battlefields for national wars. I am afraid of a miracle. No one on the mainland dared to be so crazy except you."

"That's because I have enough confidence." Sean smiled, and then turned his head to look at William. "The breakthrough is Florence. I believe he will not mind. And as a price, I can take Wiles. The rest of the family will be handled by him."

"I know." William nodded, "Since the matter is so urgent, then I will let Aldolf lead the troops on the expedition. His current legion is near the Void City. After that, the second step of Nock will be mobilized. The corps rushed to the battlefield... If all goes well, our first battle should start at Tonys Fortress. As for the Scarlet Knights and the First Cavalry, they can follow the Darkmoon Spear, and the command will be temporarily transferred to each other. "

"These things are up to you." Shaun said, "I will set off right away. I am going to visit someone. I must figure out his attitude before I can decide what comes next.... Alexis I'll leave it to you with Kozilek. Talk to Alfred about the plan you mentioned earlier. If he doesn't have any objections, he will execute it directly. Things at Fort Torus cannot be delayed. The situation on both battlefields can be maintained. If we stabilize, our combat power will be stronger."

"I see." William smiled, "But, first think about how to deal with Neil.... At the same time, open up four national battlefields, this cost, hehehe..."

Hearing William's words, Sean's face turned dark.
