The Lost Princess' Second Chance Chapter 2

Hugo's POV

I groan in my mind. It is so frustrating about having to wait for a mate before I can take over this pack.

I finally got home from traveling around to different packs in search for my so called mate. I had to stop by a few places to have a good time with some of the omegas that I usually screwed before I got back to the pack house.

I wasn't able to really fuck any of the she wolves from other packs because they were all saving themselves for their mates, and forcing myself on them would have just caused trouble for my pack. I wanted to puke every time I heard a she wolf turn me down because they believe in mates.

'Who the hell wants only one she wolf to warm their bed every night for the rest of their lives?' I thought to myself as I got up and headed to the bathroom to do my business and showered.

'I want that. Our mate will not be happy with you screwing all these females instead of trying to find her.' my wolf, Riff, growled out.

I was in no mood for his mouth today so I just blocked him out as I entered the bathroom. I walked back into my room after about thirty minutes to find the pack's number one we, Lilith, sitting on my bed with only her underwear on display.

The bright red color of her pale skin looked very good. Her dark hair was pulled into a ponytail and her hazel eyes were filled with hunger and lust. She was one of the few women that actually trained so she had some muscles and nice toned legs and arms.

'Most of those muscles I bet were developed on her back or knees.' Riff snapped.

Lilith was the one we he absolutely hated me fucking*g, but she was the best. Plus her being a good fighter was an added bonus in my books too. Riff was also pissed off at me because I decided that if I didn't find my mate at the ball tonight, then I was going to ask Lilith to be my chosen mate and the next luna of this pack. That way I can finally take over for my father.

'I will never accept her.' He growled.

'Does it look like I care? You will accept any mate I choose for us. I am the one in control here.' I snapped at him. Even though our wolves are what make us physically faster and stronger than other creatures, the human side is the more dominant side.

'Besides we need a mate to take over the pack.' I told him. Another bonus is if I had her as the luna, then I could still keep other women to the side, so long as Lilith is the one bearing my pups and continuing my blood line.

"I missed you, alpha." Lilith purred as she stood and walked up to me.

"Is that so?" I asked in a teasing manner, raising an eyebrow.

"Yes. No other male in this pack is as good as you are, alpha." She said seductively as she reached for my towel.

"Then prove it." I ordered her in a low growl. I saw her shiver slightly before she ripped off my towel and dropped to her knees. Taking me into her hot little mouth. I growled in approval.

I placed a hand on her head as she moved up and down my c0ck. Just as I was starting to relax and enjoy myself in Lilith's pleasure, then I got a mind link from someone.

'Hugo, meet me in my office now.' Dad ordered through the link.

'Yeah, okay.' was all I responded before I growled in irritation. Lilith pulled my c0ck from her mouth with a wet loud pop.

"Is something wrong, alpha?" She asked, still stroking my d!ck.

"Our fun will have to be short right now. Dad needs me in his office." I gr0aned.

Lilith nodded in response and let go of my c0ck. I wasn't going to see my dad with a hard d!ck, so I grabbed the back of her head before she could pull away and shoved my c0ck back into her mouth.

I used a bit more force than I normally do, so she gagged on my c0ck for a quick minute. I had to make it quick, so I just started thrusting my h!ps at a rapid pace. fvcking*g her mouth and throat good and hard. I saw tears in her eyes, but the smell of her ar0usal told me that this little sult liked it rough, so I started fvcking*g her mouth even harder. I felt myself coming close to my release.

“You are going to take everything I give you. Every. Last. Drop.” I said through gritted teeth. I m0aned in response. The vibrations triggering my climax. I shove her face to my pelvis and hold her there until I completely empty myself down her throat.

Once I am finished spurting my seed down her throat, I pull out of her mouth and she falls backwards on her tiny a.ss. The smell of her ar0usal was thick in the room. I lean down and grab her. Carrying her to the bed where I tie her hands and feet to the bed using some of my formal silk neckties.

As I tie one around her eyes to blind fold her, I whisper in her ear. “Now while I go see what my father needs, you will wait here. I am far from done with you. Understood?”

She wiggles a bit and nods her head. I smack her right b.reast and she wiggles. “Yes sir.” She corrected herself.

“Good girl.” I said before getting off the bed and to my closet. I quickly get dressed and head to my father’s office, leaving a pent up Lilith in my room alone.

I walked into my father’s office and slouched down into one of the chairs. “What is up dad?” I asked, kicking up my bare feet and placing them on the small coffee table in front of me.

Dad sits behind his large black desk that has all sorts of different stacks of papers all over it. He looks up to speak, but glares at me. “This is still my office young pup. Get your dirty feet off the table.” He barked.

I gave a small smirk and chuckled under my breath, but did as my father requested and took my feet off his coffee table. “Happy?” I asked in a sarcastic tone. Dad growls but says nothing.

“Dad, why did you call me here? I was busy.” I stated.

“Getting your d!ck we.t is not what I would call ‘being busy’.” Dad snorted.

I rolled my eyes. “Yeah, but who wants to be c0ck blocked by their father for something stupid?” I retorted.

“True. Alright, down to business.” My dad said while shaking his head. “It is about Raya.” He said, leaning forward with his elbows on the desk and his hands in front of his mouth.

“Wait you mean to tell me that you asked me here just to talk about that dirty slave?” I ask, slightly angry to have to deal with her.

She was the one female that both fascinated and irritated me. Her unusual colored eyes were the most beautiful I have ever seen and I could be lost in them, but her cold and submissive behavior always made me want to punish her... and not for pleasure.

“Yes. She comes of age tomorrow and I need her to be watched when she goes to the ball.” Dad said.

“So? Why do I need to care about her going to the ball? It is not like any man in their right mind would accept that thing as their mate if she did attend.” I said in irritation.

“Well for starters, the Silver Lotus Flower pack is in attendance for tomorrow tonight’s ball, along with all three of Alpha William’s children.” Dad said, with a stern look. I sat up straighter.

Silver Lotus was always a pain in our necks. Especially Alpha William’s eldest daughter, Esmeralda. She would always poke her nose where it didn’t belong. Not only was she one of the she wolves that turned me down for se.x, but she even tried to lecture me about having respect for my mate when she caught me with a few she wolves in the gaming room.

“And the alpha’s kids are not the only thing to worry about.” I muttered. Dad only nodded.

It was common knowledge that one of Silver Lotus’ warriors was mated to a white witch, and witches could look into the memories of anyone just by talking to them. That is how they can tell who is lying and who is not.

"If Raya was mated to anyone from that pack, we would be unable to stop her from going back to their pack."

"And then Alpha William could report us to the royal family about that little bh being our slave for the last ten years." I finished for him. He nodded.

"This is why I said to just k!!l her back then, Dad. She is such a ha.ssle to keep hidden." I growled out.

My dad slams his fists onto the desk and growled at me, making me bare my neck in submission. "I am still the alpha, young pup. You will show me respect." He snarled. "Besides... We need her for our plans. If she does come into power from her father's side then we can use her to take over by k!!ling the royal family off and taking over the kingdom." He said, in a slightly calmer tone. I scoffed.

"How do you know it will work this time around. You tried before to overthrow the royal family before, and failed. The only reason why you still live is because you threw your own twin brother, Uncle Simon, under the bus after drugging him with that potion from the dark witch." I said.

Dad had told me how he wanted to control the whole werewolf kingdom, but there are only two ways you can do that.

One... you are either born into or mated to one of the princes or princesses. Or two... you completely k!!l off the entire royal family.

Both have the chances of slim to none. Firstly because the royal family is made of pure bl00ded lycans. There are tons of rumors that follow around them. It is said that the royal family are the direct descendants of the very first werewolf and the moon goddess, and some people believe that they reject their mates and mate with their own siblings or cousins just to keep the bl00dline pure. No one really knows which is true or false, but you definitely don't want to piss one off.

Lycans shift at the age of 21 and their beasts are giant creatures that have fur and muscles of a wolf, but they would stand tall like a human. With claws on their hands and feet and sharp fangs in their snouts. Almost like a large muscular and n.aked human body with a wolf's head on it's shoulders. Lycans still have ears and tails like a wolf and their senses are about ten times stronger than a regular werewolf. Lycans are faster and stronger than any werewolf, even an alpha.

The Royal family is even said to have different powers.

“Watch your tongue boy. Remember no one is not to know about that.” Dad said.

I rolled my eyes. “I already know that. Even though I helped you drug Uncle Simon, you used your alpha command to make sure I never say a word to anyone but you and only when we are all alone.” I reminded him.

“So back to the mutt... You want me to make sure she keeps away from the Silver Lotus members as much as possible, right?” I asked him. I want to finish up here and get back to what I had waiting for me in my room.

“Yes, and if she actually has a mate that accepts her... make sure she either stays in the pack under our control or get rid of her mate all together. The pain of losing a mate should aid in us controlling her later.” Dad said with an evil glint in his eyes.

“Okay. No problem.” I said getting to my feet. I walk out of the office and head back to my room to finish relaxing before I have to play babysitter to that worthless pack slave, Raya Robinson.
