Chapter 16

“We have signed the divorce agreement. It has nothing to do with you.”

What she means is that even if she is your child, we can't be together anymore.

But when he heard this, another meaning came to his mind.

“We have signed the divorce agreement. The child is not yours. What can you do to me?”

“Good job.” In a rage, Brandon laughed and said: “Cain must be the man you have loved for twelve years!”

It was not a question, but a statement.

She wanted to say, “you are not qualified to call me a cheater.”

Savanna swallowed back her words.

Since they had decided to separate, there was no need to explain so much.

The silence of Savanna made Brandon extremely disappointed, and the anger in his chest began to burn wildly.

Brandon closed his eyes and said dejectedly and painfully, “I don't wanna see you anymore. Get out.”

“Okay.”

With a calm look on her face, Savanna nodded. She tidied up her wrinkled clothes, pulled out the needle, and left the ward without looking back.

What Savanna didn't know was that after she left, Brandon's eyes slowly opened and stared in the direction she left. His eyes were red, and he maintained the same sitting position for a long time.

The announcement of the divorce of Brandon and Savanna from the Cassel's official went viral on all the social platforms.

The news of the divorce of the heir of Cassel Group had been on the trend for a long time.

The Thompson Group also suffered more from the debt collection of the vicious people. However, Savanna blamed what the Thompson Group had suffered on the revenge that Brandon misunderstood her for betraying him.

Cain Wilson came to visit David Thompson in the hospital. It was only a few days, but Cain had lost a lot of weight and looked haggard,

When Savanna asked him what was bothering him, he hesitated for a long time and finally said that his newly registered company was not in good condition. He had contacted the Dawson investment

When Savanna asked him what was bothering him, he hesitated for a long time and finally said that his newly registered company was not in good condition. He had contacted the Dawson investment bank and they had reached an agreement. But when they were about to sign the contract, Bob Dawson suddenly changed his mind, which caught him off guard.

It was only after several days of hard work can Cain find a new investor.

In this business world, Savanna had witnessed Bob Dawson fawning on Brandon. It could tell that they had a good relationship, which made her more confident that it was Brandon who had done something bad to Cain's company.

Cain answered the call from his assistant and left. He was so busy recently that he didn't have time to take care of Savanna.

The news that the Thompson Group was on the verge of bankruptcy spread quickly, and the paparazzi exaggerated it. Looking at the news that the Thompson Group was about to go bankrupt went viral on the social platform, Brandon frowned and asked Leo, "Who spread the news of my divorce?"

Leo answered, "Mr. Cassel, it's not a small thing to joke about that you and Mrs. Cassel are divorced. No one has the guts to do that!"

"Is it Tracy?" Brandon frowned slightly.

"I don't know..." Leo didn't dare to guess.

"Find out who did this. If it was really Tracy who did it, I won't spare her."

While Savanna and Justin were busy holding a press conference to deal with the press, Joyce called her and told her that Mr. Thompson had been taken away by IRS.

Then, another group of people from IRS blocked the entrance of the Thompson Group.

After David Thompson was hospitalized, Savanna asked Justin to check the accounts of the Thompson Group himself.

David Thompson has tried his best to cover it up by cooking the books because of the Thompson Group's massive deficit. But even Justin could not cover it up now.

IRS found out that the Thompson Group had a tax evasion of 180 million dollars.

Savanna was refused to visit her father in the jail.

Standing in front of the blinds of the Thompson Group's building, she looked out of the window and had mixed feelings.

Get Bonus Justin came in and reported to her, "Miss Thompson, Eden Newton called again to ask for more money. He said that the Thompson Group would be sealed up in ten hours if the money is still not paid."

Savanna pursed her lips and didn't say anything. Her mind was a mess.

Justin was worried about her, so he reminded her that she could reach out to Brandon.

After hesitating for a while, she finally called Brandon.

It was Leo who answered the call.

She asked Leo to tell Brandon that she would meet him at the court at nine o'clock tomorrow.

The next day at 9 a.m., she took a taxi to the court.

She sat on a bench on the court, quietly looking out of the window at the snowflakes falling. Ten years ago, the night she met Brandon, it was also snowing.

On the day when she passed the SAT with a great grade, her father gave her a luxury car as a reward.

The person she bumped into by accident was Brandon.

Since then, the two of them crossed each other paths.

On the day when Brandon went abroad, Savanna went to the airport to see him off secretly and cried for a long time.

After that, she began to pay attention to every move of Brandon.

Eight years of having a secret crush on him, two years of marriage. Savanna thought her passion would eventually melt him during these ten years.

However, the reality is always cruel.

Her bitter love in the past ten years was always not good enough for the first love in his heart.

“Mrs. Cassel.”

The sound that suddenly smashed into her ears brought her back to reality.

Looking up, she saw Leo’s face, which was very close to hers.

Sure enough, Brandon didn’t come.

It was obvious that Brandon wouldn’t show up, but she was very disappointed.

She really wanted to tell Leo that if he is responsible for dealing with Brandon’s divorce, he should take care of Brandon’s wedding as well. As Brandon never shows up on the big days.

When she held it back down.
