

The Lethal Love Hunter

Chapter 16

Chapter 16 Barry Newell

Livia said in a cold voice, "If the rules of Purpeak Club are broken, I'm afraid some people will be in bigger trouble." Manuel's mouth twitched as he sized up the cold and arrogant Livia.

For a while, there was a dilemma.

Robin looked at the father and son with interest and let out a light laugh.

"Jacob, there's no need to pretend like this. Kneel down before me, and I won't take the 16 million dollars." "Asshole! Do you want to die?" Manuel furiously pointed at Robin, the four bodyguards behind him ready to strike. Robin looked up at Manuel. "You want to make a move? You better not. Your men are not powerful enough.

"What's more, if word gets out that you beat someone to default on your debt, it won't be good for you!

"The best way is to let your son pay it quickly or kneel before me, and then this matter will be over."

"How dare you!" Manuel's face darkened as the four bodyguards beside him rushed toward Robin.

Karina stepped forward and said in a cold voice, "Mr. Walsh, your son is ignorant. Do you not know the rules either?" Manuel frowned slightly and raised his eyes to Karina. "Ms. Huber, what do you mean by this?"

"This bet was started by your son.

"I bet the Huber Group's Eastern Business District project worth 8 billion dollars on it, while they only bet 48 million dollars. "Now that my friend Robin won the bet, you want to renege?"

"Do you think I would waste time on a good-for-nothing like Jacob?"

Manuel was slightly shocked.

It was only now that he realized that the one who bet against Jacob was actually the Huber family's eldest daughter. Karina cast a glance at Manuel and the several brawny bodyguards around him.

"Mr. Walsh, if you are going to solve the problem in this way, the Huber Group will deal with you!"

Manuel narrowed his eyes at Robin and then at Karina.

He was thinking about Karina's words.

If it were in the past, he would definitely not dare to make an enemy of the Huber Group.

Now, it was not the same as before.

The Walsh family lacked cash now and might collapse at any time.

However, they got in with the Reynell family, the owner of World Real Estate.

Today, if the Walsh family reached a deal with Cecilia, the Huber family, the top old family in Hallcester, would be nothing to them.

Manuel laughed dryly and changed the topic. "Ms. Huber, this is just a children's game. Do you take it seriously too?"

Karina picked up the betting contract and said in a cold voice, "Mr. Walsh, do you mean that the contract signed at Purpeak Club is a children's game?"

Manuel's eyelids twitched wildly.

Without waiting for him to speak, Livia said in a deep voice, "Security Department, close Riding and Shooting Recreation Center immediately and deal with Ms. Huber's bet with Jacob."

In an instant, the gate to the underground training ground of Purpeak Club opened. Dozens of Purpeak Club's security guards who used to be mercenaries surrounded the Riding and Shooting Recreation Center. Manuel was certainly aware of their strength.

Cecilia was able to fight against Conway, the Underground Demon King in Hallcester, all these years, partly because of the Purpeak Security Department.

Manuel knew that anyone who broke the rules of Purpeak Club would be crippled or even killed.

It seemed that if Jacob didn't take out 16 million dollars today, he wouldn't be able to leave.

However, the Walsh family was in such a situation. Where could they get 16 million dollars in cash? Today was such a critical day, yet Jacob brought him so much trouble.

Manuel stepped on Jacob with one foot. "Brat, you caused the trouble, so you should solve it by yourself!" After saying that, Manuel shook his sleeves and left Riding and Shooting Recreation Center.

Jacob panicked at once.

Suddenly, a burst of laughter came from outside the crowd.

"It's so lively here today. Mr. Walsh lost money? How much? Just say it. I'll pay it for you!"

Jacob looked over excitedly when he heard that someone was willing to pay the money for him.

When he saw that ugly face, his heart thumped.

The person who came was Barry Newell, the right-hand man of Conway, the Underground Demon King. Barry was known as Death Lord.

Conway had an underground bank and some secret entertainment clubs in Hallcester.

Barry was in charge of all these illegal businesses.

These were also the industries in which Conway got his start.

Many business figures in Hallcester were killed by Barry just because they borrowed money from Conway's underground bank. It would be terrifying if one took money from them.

He had to pay it back with interest within the stipulated period.

Otherwise, apart from the mortgaged assets, all the property under his name would be taken away. Miranda hastily pulled Jacob and whispered, "Mr. Walsh, you can't..."

Jacob thought otherwise.

After today, the Walsh family would take a share of the investment in Eastern Business District. 16 million dollars would be nothing to them.

"Mr. Newell, I need 16 million dollars, and I'll pay you back with interest in a week."

Barry laughed out loud, "No problem! Considering the Walsh family's status in Hallcester, even if you want ten times that amount, I can get it to you now."

Jacob glanced arrogantly at Robin and smiled, "Mr. Newell, thanks a lot then." Barry signaled his men to bring a loan contract.

"Mr. Walsh, sign it, and 16 million dollars will be transferred to you soon." Jacob took the contract and gave it a cursory glance. He was then shocked. The contract asked him to pay back 48 million dollars in a week.

"Mr. Newell, is the interest too much? I... I can't..."

Barry's face went cold. "Jacob, are you toying with me?"

"I'm saving your ass, and you're still bargaining?"

"Give him another contract!"

Barry let his men take away this contract and put another one on the table.

Jacob saw on the contract, the interest within a week changed from 48 million dollars to 80 million dollars, his whole body trembling.

However, he knew in this situation, he had to sign it.

The Walsh family could not afford to offend people like Conway and Barry. Conway and Barry were unscrupulous.

Barry could kill Jacob in minutes.

At that moment, Jacob's forehead was in a cold sweat.

Looking at the loan contract, Jacob held the pen, trembling. He did not dare to sign it.

The expression on Barry's face was instantly hideous.

"Mr. Walsh, do you think I have a lot of time to accompany you in this place?"

"Do you want this 16 million dollars or not?"

Jacob shook with fear for a moment, and he instantly signed his name and left his fingerprint on the contract. At that moment, he hated himself.

If he had not wanted to humiliate Robin in front of Miranda and Karina, he wouldn't be in this situation now. However, after signing the loan contract, Jacob wasn't too scared.

When he thought that his family would get a project worth nearly 1.6 billion dollars, he felt that 80 million dollars was nothing. After signing the contract and paying the 16 million dollars, Jacob pointed at Robin and said, "Just wait. I won't let you go!" Robin shrugged his shoulders. "I'm afraid you won't have the chance."

Barry raised his eyes to Karina and walked up to her.

He sized her up and laughed vulgarly, "Ms. Huber, it's rare to meet you..."

"Let's go to the café on the second floor for a cup of coffee and a good chat..."

Karina ignored Barry and turned to Robin. "Come on. Let's go to the front and have a look."

Barry's face instantly went cold. "Ms. Huber, are you really not accepting my invitation?"

Karina said without expression, "Who do you think you are? Why should I accept your invitation? Go away!" After saying that, she turned around and walked away.

Seeing this, a crowd of onlookers looked at her with astonishment from behind.

In Hallcester, the only ones who dared to talk to Barry in such a way were Cecilia and Karina.

It was said that even Harold would not fight Barry head-on.

They thought, "How dare Karina talk to Barry like this?"

"But it's reasonable.

"She's such a noble and elegant lady.

"How could she possibly agree to have coffee with Barry, the leader of the rascals?"

Barry looked at Karina's back and said in a cold voice, "Stop right there! What the hell are you so proud of? Once you take off your clothes, you are no different from the girls at our nightclubs!"

Barry laughed evilly with a group of henchmen. Karina stopped abruptly, slowly turned around, and slapped Barry's face. "Fuck you!" Barry's face darkened. "Bitch, do you think I don't dare to hit you?"

He raised his thick dark hand toward Karina's fair and delicate face.

Chapter 17

Chapter 17 No Need to Know Who You Are.

Barry's big hand was about to hit Karina.

There was a scream from the crowd of customers at Purpeak Club.

Many of them turned around.

They couldn't bear to watch any longer.

A loud slap suddenly rang out in the silent Riding and Shooting Recreation Center.

Barry flew backward through the air.

He was sent flying four meters away.

Then he landed heavily on the ground.

The marble floor of the audience area of the Riding and Shooting Recreation Center shattered.

Karina was still intact and did not suffer the slightest damage.

She saw the scene in front of her.

Although she was pretending to be calm, her eyes couldn't hide her shock.

Karsyn's eyes were even wider, her mouth agape in a panic.

The person who slapped Barry in the face was none other than Robin.

"You asked for it."

Robin took the towel handed by the waiter and wiped his hands, his eyes flashing with disdain and mockery. Barry was slapped away by Robin.

Barry lost two teeth, and he had blurred vision and a buzzing head.

He almost died and couldn't speak for a long time.

At this moment, the silence in the Riding and Shooting Recreation Center was suffocating.

After a short period of silence, a group of customers whispered.

"My goodness! This dude is so awesome. He actually dared to beat Barry, the right-handed man of Underground Demon King?" "It's an illusion, right? Barry hasn't been treated like this by anyone in Hallcester before!"

"This kid is too arrogant. I'm afraid he'll suffer today."

Not far away, Miranda watched this and was shocked.

Immediately afterward, a touch of mockery appeared on her face.

She snorted, “Robin, you think with the Huber family’s protection, you can go against Mr. Lambert’s men?” “He’s courting death!” Jacob even had a gloating look on his face.

Crystal could not believe what had just happened.

However, she was appreciative of Robin who dared to fight Barry to protect Karina.

Robin's behavior might be reckless.

However, his courage was commendable.

Different feelings for Robin grew in Crystal's mind.

“You... Do you fucking know who I am? How dare you make a move against me! Today I'll kill you!” Barry was helped up by his two minions. He wiped the blood stains off his mouth and spoke fiercely. Robin raised his eyes to Barry. “Do I need to know who you are before beating you? You bragger!” “Good! You’re courageous! I'll kill you!” Barry furiously pointed at Robin and roared.

At this moment, Karina’s eyes flickered as she quickly thought about how to solve the problem at hand. Today, the four families met at Purpeak Club to discuss the issue of not crossing the boundaries in some projects. Conway’s project had conflicts with the other families.

Apart of the area involved was under the Huber Group.

When the contract was signed, the four parties had already agreed to build shopping malls, children’s amusement parks, resorts, and high-end villas.

The surrounding area was originally developed by World Real Estate owned by the Reynell family.

It was previously agreed that the eastern part would be a villa area, the southern part would be for apartment buildings, schools, hospitals, and superstores, and the northern and western parts would be for business buildings and a big market for investment.

However, Conway made a private deal with the Reynell family to buy an investment contract for the southern part.

In this area, Conway planned to build nightclubs, bars, and some gambling houses, which were not compatible with the surrounding residential buildings, schools, and children's amusement parks.

Karina sent numerous negotiators, yet Conway ignored them.

It was only today that he was prepared to negotiate at the four families' investment meeting. Originally, it was difficult to reach a consensus in this situation.

Now, Karina was in conflict with Barry, Conway's subordinate.

It seemed that today's consultation was meaningless.

Moreover, if this matter was not handled well, the Huber family would fall out with Conway. Since this was the case, Karina no longer had any hope for today's negotiation.

Stepping forward, she stood in front of Robin. "Barry, this matter has nothing to do with him. Just come at me and my family if you are angry! We will wait!"

Robin smiled coolly and shook his head.

He didn't take Barry seriously at all.

Barry was just a bluffer relying on his boss.

When he encountered someone tough, he would immediately kneel down and beg for forgiveness. Compared to Robin, Barry was nothing.

"Who is this guy? Ms. Huber is so protective of him."

"Despite the Huber family's huge wealth, when it comes to illegal means, they are inferior to Mr. Lambert, the Underground Demon King!"

"He hit Barry. Even though he had the Huber family's protection today, it's still hard for him to survive. Mr. Lambert is truly ruthless."

Robin took a look at Karina in front of him, smelling the nice fragrance of her body in a good mood. He had saved Karina and her family's lives.

However, under these circumstances, it was very kind of her to protect him in the name of her family. In addition, he had a bet with Jacob and the others before.

He casually said that he would bet the Huber family's 8-billion-dollar project on it.

Karina agreed without hesitation.

The Huber family kept their promise.

Robin lived a dangerous life from a young age. He loved to make friends with kind people.

Since he was idle, he decided to get involved in this matter.

Barry was still cursing when Robin had already arrived in front of him.

Without waiting for anyone to react, Robin grabbed Barry by the neck and lifted him until his feet were off the ground. Swinging his other hand, Robin slapped Barry fiercely.

From afar, Miranda clutched onto Jacob's arm, her heart beating violently.

She thought, "Could it be that this bastard is so desperate just to show off in front of me?"

"What a silly guy!"

"Robin, no matter what you do, I won't like a reckless person like you with a low EQ!"

Beside Miranda, Crystal, on the other hand, gripped her lapels to alleviate her shock.

After Robin slapped Barry a few times, he felt bored and threw him on the ground.

Barry's henchmen did not dare to act rashly.

After being curled up on the ground for a while, Barry came back to his senses.

Looking at his teeth on the ground, he roared, "You... You're done for!"

Robin took the towel from the waiter and shrugged his shoulders. "You won't see that happen!" "Now, just call for help. I'll wait here."

As Livia, who had been watching coldly, saw Robin's arrogance, a hint of playfulness flashed in her eyes. She thought, "This guy is not only good at fighting but also good at causing trouble."

"He asked Barry to call for help?"

"Robin is telling everyone that he doesn't even take Conway seriously, isn't he?"

"This is a provocation to Conway."

Karina turned her beautiful eyes to Robin with even more admiration.

That night, Robin saved her from the guns of four desperate robbers.

The shocking scene of him killing them with a knife was still fresh in her mind.

"OK, just wait! You'll regret it!"

Barry endured the pain, picked up the phone, and dialed a number.

Jacob and the others in the distance really wanted to cheer and jump for joy at that moment. "This bastard is doomed today. He doesn't even know this. What an idiot!"

Miranda shook her head uncontrollably, her eyes full of sarcasm and contempt. "Maybe it's because | tore up the marriage contract and hurt his self-esteem as a poor man."

"He is just trying to prove himself to me. He's so rash and foolish!" Krish pursed his lips. "Robin knows that Barry is the Underground Demon King's man, yet he's still so haughty. He's finished."

"Mr. Lambert and his people got their start with these means. In Hallcester, other than Ms. Decker from Purpeak International Group, no one dares to offend him."

"I'm afraid that even the Huber family is involved. What a troublemaker!"

At that moment, Barry got through to Conway and told him the whole story with exaggerated details. "Mr. Lambert, I got beat up! This kid even said that if you dared to come, he would even beat you up!" "Really?" Conway's disdainful voice came from the other end of the phone.

"Who is he? He doesn't know the rules in Hallcester at all.

"Alright! Tell him I'll be at Purpeak Club in a few minutes.

"By the way, tell Ms. Decker that I'll take care of something in her place today.

"It's been a long time since I've seen blood. I'd like to see how powerful he is. How dare he provoke me in Hallcester!"

Chapter 18

Chapter 18 Mr. Lambert

Barry hung up the phone and looked up at Robin. Then Barry burst into a vicious sneer. At this moment, Robin was doomed in Barry's eyes. Conway was pissed by what Robin had done. Conway, the Underground Demon King of Hallcester, intended to deal with Barry in person. Everyone in the Demon's Lair knew that Conway had never personally dealt with such dirty things in many years. The consequences of his arrival could be imagined. Barry laughed sullenly, "Mr. Lambert said he was on the way. "You are doomed, boy! "Do you still have anything else to say before you die? You won't have a chance to say anything when Mr. Lambert arrives." Karina was slightly frightened by Barry's words. Karina knew that what Robin had done indeed crossed the line. People from the grey zone, like Conway, were usually heartless and cruel. Their way of dealing with things was always brutal. The Huber family was indeed influential. But in general, the Huber family would try not to confront those people from the grey zone. The Huber family had always been the most powerful family in Hallcester. But the Huber family would avoid confronting someone like Conway. Because even if the Huber family was gonna be okay for a while, it would still be badly hurt. This time, Robin beat up Barry, Conway's most capable subordinate, in front of so many people. It was a humiliation to the entire Demon's Lair. Conway had no choice but to deal with Robin in person. Now Karina could only turn to Harold for help. Karina would like to try her best to deal with the issue by negotiation. After pondering for a while, Karina said in a deep voice, "Karsyn, call Grandpa." Robin felt touched to hear that. Robin was very happy that although things had come to this point, Karina was still willing to stand up for him. It could be seen that the Huber family was not the kind of people who would bully the weak and fear the strong or serve the hour. Perhaps this was the real reason why the Huber family had been able to occupy the position of the No. 1 family in Hallcester for so many years. Robin stopped Karina. "Ms. Huber, it's nothing serious. Don't bother Mr. Huber. I can handle it alone." Karina intended to say something. But seeing the calmness in Robin's eyes, Karina chose to keep silent. Karsyn said with concern, "Mr. Bruce, things are not as simple as you think. Ms. Huber..." Karina stopped Karsyn and said, "Karsyn, do as Mr. Bruce wants. I believe in him." Hearing what Karina said, Karsyn didn't say anything else. However, seeing Robin's upright back, Karsyn felt Robin especially lonely in front of Barry and others. Karsyn felt uneasy. Some of the audience in the club became worried about Robin. Before, Robin's valiant posture and wonderful performance on the riding and shooting field had obviously won the favor of some people. Those guys said in a low voice, "Sir, you had better go quickly! Leave Hallcester as soon as possible!" "Mr. Lambert is not someone you can mess with." "You better get as far away as you can, or you're really gonna die." Those guys were all advising Robin to leave. Hearing those guys' persuasion, Barry sneered, "Now he wants to go? You think he can? "Even if he runs out of Hallcester, the Huber family who stands up for him can't get away with it!" Karina stared coldly at Barry. From Barry's words, it was clear that the people of Demon's Lair had long not taken the Huber family seriously. Karina wasn't sure of the final outcome of the incident. But Karina believed that Robin must have had a reason for daring to do so. Karina still remembered what happened the other snowy night. Karina saw Robin kill the four armed men in one go by stabbing them in the throat. Robin saved Karina from a dead end. Now thinking of that scene, Karina still felt shocked. Karina thought, "Compared with the four armed bandits, Conway is nothing! I'm just gonna fight side by side with Robin today." During this time, in the project about the Eastern Business District, Karina was almost overwhelmed by Conway. Karina was actually in a rage about that. Under such circumstances, Livia also subconsciously looked at Robin. Livia wanted to know how Robin would get away with it after offending Conway, such a demon. They were now in Purpeak Club, an improper place to deal with Robin. But Conway had asked Barry to tell the owner of Purpeak Club in advance that he would deal with something private about Demon's Lair there. Cecilia, of course, would not help Robin. The only one who could help Robin right now was the Huber Group. If, in fact, these two forces collided, something shocking would happen. Then, the power pattern of Hallcester would also undergo great changes. At the same time, watching from a distance, Miranda saw that the situation was getting worse, and a touch of sarcasm appeared on her face. Miranda thought, "Robin is doomed today! That guy is just a boor! He will never understand that there are many people in this world that he simply cannot provoke! Characters like Conway are born to be devils. How dare Robin cross Conway's line? Isn't he courting death?" Someone at Miranda's side was watching the further development of the situation in surprise with a complex expression. That was Crystal, Miranda's bestie. At this point in the incident, Crystal seemed to have a sense of expectation for Robin. Crystal was looking at Robin, who still looked indifferent, with her beautiful eyes shining, and she suddenly felt a rapid heartbeat. Crystal was wondering what kind of amazing scene she would see after Conway's arrival. Just then, there was a commotion outside the Riding and Shooting Recreation Center. Everyone looked up and saw there was a mass of people outside. More than a hundred strong men dressed in black, armed with short knives, came in from outside. At the head was a tall, burly middle-aged man in a black trench coat. This man was Conway from Demon's Lair in Hallcester. Conway walked into the Riding and Shooting Recreation Center from the outside, and the whole venue was suddenly silent. Miranda looked at this man, who made the whole of Hallcester scared, and then she sneered. Miranda thought, "The Underground Demon King of Hallcester is finally here!" Miranda looked at Robin compassionately and sneered in her heart. "Robin, it is all your own fault! How dare you, a nobody, mess with a guy like Conway? You are nothing but a boor, Robin! How dare you beat Barry up, the favorite subordinate of Conway? You are just too arrogant and ignorant!" Crystal firmly grasped Miranda's hand and sighed, "Even if Robin wants to go now, it is too late..." Conway and his men lined up in front of the Riding and Shooting Recreation Center in Purpeak Club. Barry's men immediately stepped aside, making way for Conway, and bowed in unison, saying, "Mr. Lambert!" All eyes were now on Conway. Such a powerful aura made the Riding and Shooting Recreation Center seem to freeze. Everyone felt oppressed and panicked. "Mr. Lambert, this is the guy who beat me up." Barry lit a cigar for Conway and pointed fiercely at Robin. Before Conway could say anything, Karina stepped forward. "Mr. Lambert, I have something to say. "My friend clashed with your man, Mr. Newell, but there is a reason..." Conway spit out a wisp of smoke and said in a cold voice, "Ms. Huber, you'd better not interfere in this matter. "As for the reason why that guy hit my man, I don't even care. "I don't care what his reason is. Whoever hit my man will pay the price here today!" Karina frowned slightly. "Mr. Lambert, is that the way you handle things?" Conway looked sideways at Karina. "Yes! "Anyone who hits the man from my Demon's Lair deserves to die!" Seeing how domineering Conway was, Barry looked at Karina and Robin complacently. Barry thought, "That's Mr. Lambert's usual style. If his man gets beat up, for whatever reason, the guy who does that is screwed.” “Mr. Lambert is so overbearing. He doesn’t even show any respect to Ms. Huber.” “That’s why he is called the Underground Demon King of Hallcester.” What Conway would do with the incident was exactly what the spectators had expected. Otherwise, Conway would not be the demon that people would stay at a respectful distance from. Karina frowned heavily while Robin smiled calmly and looked at Conway with interest. “In that case, cut the crap and bring it up!” Robin shed his casual coat to reveal a tight T- shirt. The muscles under the T-shirt were perfect. Conway paused for a moment and looked at Robin up and down with fierce eyes. Just at this glance, Conway’s whole body shuddered, and he almost fell to the ground.

Chapter 19

Chapter 19 Beat Barry Up

Karina noticed the unpredictable look in Conway’s eyes and couldn’t understand what he was thinking. Could it be that Conway was weighing the importance of the Huber family in this incident? Karina couldn’t see Conway through. However, she wanted to make the last effort. “Mr. Lambert, I hope you handle this matter with caution!” At that moment, Conway was staring at Robin in astonishment, apparently not hearing Karina’s voice. Robin, on the other hand, looked at Conway with a smile, waiting for his next move. Behind Conway were more than one hundred killers holding short knives. They were ready to rush up and kill Robin at any moment. A massacre was imminent! However, Conway had yet to make any move. His eyes were fixed on the Dragon Dagger hanging at Robin’s waist, which was less than 20 centimeters long! On the scabbard of the strangely colored Dragon Dagger, a golden light flashed for a moment. It was only a brief moment. But Conway saw clearly that the golden light was indeed the legendary Golden Dragon! Conway felt dizzy. A week ago, several assassins from Death Mongers suddenly visited Demon’s Lair. This surprised Conway greatly. It was rumored that once one was targeted by the unpredictable Death Mongers, he would soon die. Demon’s Lair had a dominant position in the underworld of Hallcester. But Conway understood that in front of Death Mongers who could dominate global underground organizations, he was nothing at all. The four killers warned Conway that the most esteemed guest of Dark Queen, Lord Dragon, had arrived in Hallcester. If necessary, they would call on Demon’s Lair. Conway saw the Dragon Dagger hanging at Robin’s waist and the fleeting Golden Dragon. It was confirmed that Robin in front of Conway was the esteemed

Lord Dragon. Dark Queen, who was murderous, had to show great respect for Lord Dragon, not to mention the insignificant Conway. Given the current situation, as long as Conway dared to take one more step forward, he would be done for. Fortunately, he didn't make a move! Conway almost put himself in trouble! He felt scared just thinking about it, and his whole body was soaked in an instant. Terror of imminent death overwhelmed him. How could Demon's Lair dare to confront the Dark Queen who dominated global underground organizations? Challenging a demon with the ability to destroy a country risked one's neck. Conway absolutely couldn't afford to provoke Lord Dragon. "Damn it!" Conway cursed. He threw away his coat, and his eyes burst with a terrifying murderous aura. More than one hundred killers behind him immediately raised their knives, ready to rush forward at any moment. "Mr. Lambert is furious. It seems that even the Huber family will not be able to withstand the wrath of this underground demon," someone commented. "It's been a long time since I saw Mr. Lambert get angry in public. Robin is doomed, and even the Huber family may suffer great loss!" "Mr. Lambert is too terrifying when he loses his temper. Step back and keep a safe distance, lest the residual power of this demon harm us." Miranda, who had been waiting for Conway to take action in the distance, sneered disdainfully. "This brute has brought it upon himself by provoking Mr. Lambert. He's just asking for trouble!" "He is just a beginner, but he thinks he's the best in the world. How brainless!" "Hey, Robin, even if you want to show off your abilities in front of me, you don't have to lose your mind." "You try to confront Demon's Lair all by yourself. This is ridiculous!" "Do you really think the Huber family can protect you? Humph..." Jacob, with malicious pleasure, held Miranda's arm and said, "Robin asked for it. He's so ignorant! He just came to Hallchester and thinks he's so great. But he offended Mr. Lambert. He'll be killed today." Miranda smirked. Then she stopped talking and watched. Barry prepared to celebrate. He looked smugly at Robin and Karina. "Ms. Huber, if he kneels down and begs for mercy, Mr. Lambert may leave his body intact for the sake of your family." "You are a nobody, but you dare to make a move against Demon's Lair. You are doomed!" "Mr. Lambert is here. Show me how tough you are!" "Ouch!" There came a scream. Conway pressed the cigar in his hand hard onto Barry's eye. Then, he kicked Barry's leg. "Snap!" The sound of a bone breaking echoed! Barry curled up in pain on the ground while wailing miserably. "Mr. Lambert, why ... did you..." Conway's anger hadn't subsided. He viciously kicked Barry's face. "Damn it. I took you out to make something of yourself. Is this how you repay me? Without Demon's Lair, you are nothing. I trust you, but you act arrogantly under the name of Demon's Lair! "Ms. Huber is so dignified. How dare you be so disrespectful? "Just because I'm protecting you, you think you can do whatever you want. Damn it. Today

"I'll cripple you!" Barry was dizzy from the beating by Conway and begged for mercy on the ground. "Mr. Lambert, did you mistake me for someone else?" "No, I just want to beat you!" While scolding, Conway stole a glance at Robin. Conway hoped this would disarm Robin. "Barry, do you think I came here to support you? "How dare you be rude to Ms. Huber? Go to hell!" Only then did Barry realize that Conway wanted to kill him. "Mr. Lambert, I was wrong. I promise I will never act arrogantly under the name of Demon's Lair again. Please, give me another chance, Mr. Lambert..." "Ms. Huber, please forgive me! "I shouldn't have been so rude to you. Please forgive me. From now on, I will never offend you again..." Barry crawled up to Karina and repeatedly bowed for forgiveness. This surprised Karina greatly. In Hallcester, Conway had never cared about the Huber family. This was an unexpected turn of events. It not only confused Karina but also puzzled the onlookers from Purpeak Club. Did Conway get drunk? It was obvious that he came to support Barry. Why did he suddenly make a move and beat his most trusted subordinate? What did this mean? How would the crowd know that Conway was scared out of his wits after seeing Robin's Dragon Dagger? However, Conway had to maintain his composure and pretend not to know Robin's identity. People in Death Mongers warned Conway that Lord Dragon's identity was top secret. After a brief panic, Conway quickly came up with a plan. If he didn't appease Robin, he believed that Demon's Lair would disappear from Hallcester tonight. Barry even dared to hit Dark Queen's distinguished guest, which would get Conway into trouble. At this moment, Conway couldn't wait to chop Barry into pieces. Karina was confused by Conway's behavior. Even if Conway was acting for the sake of Harold, he didn't have to be so ruthless to Barry. Miranda, who was watching from a distance, seemed to have figured out what was going on after a moment of shock. Barry begged for mercy in front of Karina, which indicated that Conway spared Robin because of Harold. If it weren't for the Huber family, Robin would have been killed by Conway. What a useless man who only brought trouble. However, Crystal didn't think so. She noticed something! When Karina was trying to explain, Conway completely ignored her. After Conway laid eyes on Robin, he suddenly showed extreme fear. Clearly, Conway was scared of Robin! Crystal examined Robin not far away. Her beautiful eyes showed a meaningful smile. Robin was an interesting man. It seemed that he was hiding something. Even someone as fierce as Conway trembled in fear in front of Robin. It could be imagined how powerful Robin's background was! Crystal glanced at Miranda, who still had a disgusted expression on her face. Crystal thought, "Miranda, maybe you are a total fool. "You just kick someone important away. "If there's a chance, don't blame me for being ungrateful." Crystal made a bold decision.

She wanted to get closer to Robin. Perhaps, he would give her a pleasant surprise.

Chapter 20

Chapter 20 None of Your Business

“Get lost!” Conway kicked Barry away. Then Conway pointed to the confused subordinates behind him. “Tie him up and take him back for punishment!” Two disciples of Demon’s Lair took Barry away from Purpeak Club. A faint smile appeared on Conway’s cold face. “Ms. Huber, are you satisfied with it?” Karina was shocked. The situation was beyond her expectations. Since Conway made a concession, she didn’t want to strain their relationship further. Karina nodded slightly and said coldly, “Mr. Lambert, he’s your subordinate, and it’s up to you.” “Thank you, Ms. Huber, for your forgiveness.” Conway bowed slightly, feeling relieved. If Robin was unhappy and Conway had to kill Barry, Conway would do it on the spot today. “Ms. Huber, I have many subordinates, so the good and bad are intermingled. “I have been lax in disciplining them. I didn’t expect to offend you. Ms. Huber, I hope you and your friend will forgive me.” Karina nodded coldly. “Mr. Lambert, let’s leave it at that. Don’t bring it up again.” Conway secretly breathed a sigh of relief. “Ms. Huber, we came to Purpeak Club today to discuss investment projects in the Eastern Business District. “Before coming here, I noticed that there have been conflicts between the plots run by Demon’s Lair in Eastern Business District and the projects invested by Ms. Huber. “I wasn’t aware of this. My subordinates are lack of understanding of the rules. I apologize for that. “So, I promise you that we will accept all of the projects proposed by the Huber Group and continue the agreed project type. “For the projects that have already started, we will immediately stop them and rectify them until you are satisfied!” Karina was slightly startled. In the past six months, the Huber Group and Demon’s Lair had negotiated the type of investment projects on multiple occasions, but no agreement had been reached. What happened to Conway? He even requested an immediate suspension of work to rectify the projects. “Ms. Huber, today my people offended you and your friend. To express my sincere apologies, I’ll give you the southern part of the Eastern Business District I just take charge of without any cost.” Karina was even more shocked upon hearing it. That project was worth 160 million dollars. It was said that Conway had to pay a great price to take it away from World Real Estate. But Conway gave it to the Huber Group for free as compensation for Barry’s matter. This seemed a bit too expensive. Karina didn’t think the Huber

Group mattered so much in front of Conway. Could it be that Conway had other motives towards the Huber Group? “Mr. Lambert, the investment projects in the Eastern Business District will be rectified according to the original plan. I accept that. “You said you would offer the project in the southern part to the Huber Group for free. This is too extravagant. Just forget it!” Conway explained hurriedly, “Ms. Huber, I am not joking! Don’t worry. I promise that it will be free, and I mean it. There are no conditions! “In the afternoon’s negotiation meeting, I will have them prepare two copies of the contract and directly hand them to you in written form. I hope you can accept them!” Karina was still hesitating. Conway didn’t wait for her answer and continued, “Ms. Huber, it’s settled. Thank you for accepting my sincerity. “I have some urgent matters to attend to, so I need to take my leave first. Let’s talk again this afternoon.” After saying that, Conway hurriedly left with his subordinates. They walked towards other areas in Purpeak Club. He seemed to be in a hurry. He was afraid that if he delayed any longer, someone would kill him. What Karina didn’t know was that Conway was avoiding Robin. Conway dealt with Barry and didn’t provoke Robin any further. So, he wanted to leave quickly. If he made any wrong move and offended Robin, that would be troublesome. Karina’s beautiful eyes flickered. Watching Conway’s distressed receding figure, she felt puzzled. What had happened to Conway, the Underground Demon King from Hallcester? He came with such a fierce momentum. It seemed that he was determined to kill Robin and suppress the Huber Group. What surprised Karina even more was that Conway beat up his own subordinates. Moreover, Conway proposed to immediately stop work and rectify the improper project in the Eastern Business District! Besides, he even gave the project in the southern part for free as compensation! Had Conway ever been so polite and trustful in his actions in Hallcester? “Let’s go. Stop thinking about it. Just take what he gives you! What’s the big deal?” Robin took the coat handed to him by Karsyn and glanced at Karina who was still in shock. “I had a tough morning and helped you win 48 million dollars. Ms. Huber, aren’t you going to treat me for a drink?” Karina smiled lightly, “Alright. I’ll treat you to Purpeak Club. “However, I don’t want those 48 million dollars. You earned it. Give me your bank account number, and I’ll have Karsyn transfer it to you.” Robin thought for a moment and didn’t hesitate. He directly gave his account number to Karsyn. While passing by Jacob and Miranda, Robin shrugged his shoulders and said, “Mr. Walsh, if you want to gamble next time, just come to me. I find making money like this interesting.” After that, Robin walked towards the Purpeak Bar with Karina. Jacob gritted his teeth in anger. “Wait, I will let you know what happens when one offends me!” Miranda coldly snorted and looked at Robin’s back disdainfully. “Hmph! How disgusting! “You are just a man who lives off others. Don’t be cocky. If it weren't for Ms. Huber today, you would have died!" Crystal smiled, "Miranda, have you ever thought that Mr. Lambert did this because he's afraid of Robin? "If that's the case, will you regret breaking off the engagement with him?" "Ha... Crystal, you are thinking too highly of Robin," Miranda mocked. "He is just a loser relying on the prestige of the Huber family. How could Mr. Lambert be afraid of him? "Even so, I will never regret breaking off the engagement! Robin is just a brute!" Just as they were talking, Livia walked over. Miranda hurriedly greeted, "Ms. Colon, hello. I am..." Livia coldly glanced at Miranda and ignored her before rushing towards Robin. "Mr. Bruce, please wait. Ms. Decker wants to see you!" Robin was at a loss. "I don't know Ms. Decker, so I won't go!" Livia was startled, and a touch of anger flashed in her eyes. During so many years with Cecilia, Livia had never seen any man dare to refuse Cecilia's invitation. Of course, no man had ever deserved such an honor, except for Robin. Miranda was also extremely shocked. Then, she secretly sneered. Miranda thought, "Robin, it's true that you're just a brute! "How dignified Cecilia is! "Her maid personally came to invite you, but you have such an attitude. Humph! You're beyond help!" "Robin, what do you mean? Ms. Colon asked you to see Ms. Decker. You should feel flattered and know your place! "Apologize to Ms. Colon right away!" Robin pouted and looked strangely at Miranda. "What does it have to do with you? "Besides, whether Ms. Decker invites me or not, it is none of my business. "Don't worry about things that don't concern you!" Miranda snapped, "Robin, you're unreasonable! How could you say such disrespectful words? kneel down and apologize to Ms. Colon right away!" Karina's face showed a hint of displeasure. Just as she was about to speak, Livia slapped Miranda across the face. "I am talking to Mr. Bruce, but you keep stirring up trouble. Do you want to die?" Miranda covered her cheek in shock. "Ms. Colon, I mean Robin doesn't know his place..." "Mr. Bruce is Ms. Decker's guest, but you humiliated him." Livia looked coldly at Miranda, her words revealing murderous intent. Cecilia was a man of importance. Humiliating her guest was the same as slapping Cecilia in the face. Damn it! Did Miranda want to die? Miranda hurriedly apologized, "I'm sorry, Ms. Colon. I didn't mean that..." "Get lost!" Without waiting for her to finish, Livia coldly reprimanded. Miranda had no choice but to hastily leave. As she passed by Robin, she glared at him. But Crystal cast Robin a flirtatious look. Robin's heart skipped a beat. What did Crystal want? Livia took a step forward and respectfully said, "Mr. Bruce, Ms. Decker sincerely invites you. Please accept it."
