Chapter 251 Underground Queen of Farmere

Robin didn't ask much either, he got up and followed the stewardess to the cabin crew work area.

Inside the workspace, a young inflight security officer was standing.

"State your name, age, and occupation!"

Robin smirked playfully, "Interrogate me?"

"Less talk! Answer me!" the security officer barked.

"Did you know what kind of consequences it would cause to fight on a plane, especially assaulting foreigners?" The question from the flight safety officer made the flight attendant pause. "This is not just Mr. Bruce's problem..." "I know!" the inflight security officer interrupted the flight attendant, saying coldly.

Robin noticed that the security officer was deliberately making things difficult.

He flicked his eyelids, "You were there for that scene just now, you should have seen the signs of what was happening."

"Four Odrarian men were plotting against the girl sitting next to me."

"As an air safety officer, you should have had certain responsibilities."

"I didn't make a move, were you planning to stand by and do nothing?"

"You figured it out, it wasn't me who caused the trouble, but them!"

Chapter 251 Underground Queen of Farmere

"If you didn't want to be suspended and investigated, you'd better behave!"

Having said that, Robin turned around and left, completely ignoring the security officer.

The security officer looked at Robin's retreating figure, his eyes flashing with a cold, icy light. Despite being quite annoyed.

However, he still couldn't confirm Robin's true identity.

If | inadvertently offended some big shot, that would be troublesome.

The flight attendant glanced at the security officer and complained, "How could you handle things like this?" "Mr. Bruce was also one to stand up for justice. In other words, he did you a favor.

"Not only did you not appreciate him, but you also reprimanded him, which was a bit unkind."

The security officer said displeasedly, "Robyn, you might be too emotional. People like this will just play to the crowd, it's very dangerous!"

"It was very easy to bring about a catastrophic disaster to the airplane."

"As an inflight security officer, it was my responsibility to remind him to stay calm."

The flight attendant lady slightly frowned.

She could sense the security officer's malice towards Robin.

"When the four Odrarians were causing trouble, you, as a security officer, should have stepped in earlier. "But, you hid behind and did nothing for a long time, don't you think. you were neglecting your duty?"

"Just for this alone, | had the right to complain about you, to accuse you of dereliction of duty for not taking action in the face of danger!"

"Mr. Bruce, he clearly did what he was supposed to do, yet you are blaming him. This is simply too unfair!" The security officer said irritably, "Robyn, his attitude just now clearly had elements of terror."

"Just based on that, | could identify him as a threat on the plane and immediately apprehended him!"

This flight attendant named Robyn Strickland sighed.

He knew, this security officer had been pursuing her.

Because he admired Robin, he was filled with hostility.

Robyn let out a long sigh.

“Mr. Bruce, you did that for the dignity of the Londralish people, please don’t act on impulse.”

“Otherwise, I would have honestly reported your behavior throughout this entire incident to the captain.” The security officer glared at the flight attendant, “Alright, this matter ends here.”

Robyn ignored him and turned to leave the flight attendant’s studio.

Chapter 251 Dederground Quan

Robin had just returned to his scat.

Robyn immediately brought a cup of tea and a fruit plate to him.

“Mr. Bruce, please don’t be upset about what just happened, it was also part of that security officer’s duty.” Robin lifted his head, a faint body fragrance wafting towards him.

The sight before me was completely filled with Robyn's shyly revealed infinite spring scenery.

Robin took the tea, nodded politely, and said, “It’s nothing. I didn’t take it to heart.”

Robyn gave a charming smile, moving her body a bit closer to Robin.

Quietly pulled out a business card and slipped it into Robin's hand.

“Mr. Bruce, this is my contact information. If you ever find yourself bored at Farmere, feel free to reach out to me. At this point, Robyn seemed to realize that she had been somewhat reckless.

“What I mean is, I’m very familiar with Farmere, I can be your guide and translator...”

Robin took the business card and nodded politely.

Robyn’s eyes were as beautiful as spring water, and she smiled. charmingly.

She twisted her slender waist and turned away.

Robin casually stuffed the business card into the seat crevice.

This tiny action was noticed by the girl next door.

Chapter 251 Underground Queen of Fame

She and Robin exchanged a smile.

In the refreshing smile, more warmth was added.

The girl noticed the ambiguous message the flight attendant passed to Robin.

Faced with such a beautiful flight attendant, most men would be overjoyed.

Robin didn't even glance at the information on the business card, he directly stuffed it into the crevice of the seat cushion. This made the girl feel very fond of Robin.

Throughout the entire flight, Robin had his eyes closed, resting.

It was not until the plane landed at Farmere International Airport that Robin opened his eyes.

Upon leaving the airport terminal, Robin received a message from Travis's wife, Sarah Rogelio.

The Travis family had already headed to Wonder Island ahead of time.

She was in charge of receiving Robin, who flew directly from Farmere to Wonder Island.

Sarah was the eldest daughter of the Rogelio family, the largest gang in Odrar.

She was the Underground Queen of Farmere.

The status of the Rogelio family in Odrar was such that even the President had to give way to them. Robin had seen Sarah once at Farmere three years ago.

Chapter 251 Underground Queen of Farmere

This Queen Farmere, with a background in the underworld family, was efficient and decisive in her actions. Made a deep impression on Robin.

Her granddaughter, Kimberly, resembled her in many ways.

Just walked out of the airport.

The girl from the neighboring seat caught up with Robin, "Mr. Bruce, I didn't tell you on the plane, my father is the mayor of Farmere."

"I just spoke with him on the phone. After learning that you helped me, he insisted on inviting you to my house as a guest." Robin chuckled. "I'm sorry, I have things to do and can't stay at Farmere. We'll meet again when there's a chance."

The girl looked at Robin regretfully, handing over a note: "My name is... my name is Henrietta Nunez, this is my contact information."

"Contact me if you ever get a chance to go to Farmere in the future, okay?"

Robin put the note into his pocket, waved with a smile, "See you if we're meant to."

At that moment, the four Odrarian men on the plane also followed.

"Kid, I let you off temporarily on the plane to Londraland, now that we're in Farmere, do you still hope to leave alive?" Robin shook his head, ignoring them.

He pointed to the men waiting to pick him up ahead and walked straight towards them.

Chapter 251 Underground Queen of Farmere

The burly man leading didn't know what Robin meant.

Sarah's eight bodyguards immediately stepped in front of them, escorting them straight into a business vehicle.

The Rogelio family was like a devilish presence in Farmere.

The only fate awaiting those who dared to provoke their family was death.

After the business car left, it cleared a spacious passage, with dozens of black—clad bodyguards standing on both sides. Ahead, on the expansive lawn, two medium-sized helicopters were parked.

Parked a helicopter in this place to pick up people.

Aside from the Rogelio family, no one else had such privilege.

After receiving the call from the bodyguard, Sarah quickly got off the plane and headed towards Robin.

“Hello, Mr. Bruce!”

Sarah, appearing to be in her sixties, respectfully greeted and then accompanied Robin onto the helicopter.

This scene was coincidentally witnessed by Robyn.

She suddenly froze at the entrance of the airport terminal, the suitcase in her hand dropping to the ground. The security officer who came afterwards walked up to Robyn.

With disdain, he said, “Robyn, I was right, wasn’t I? You saw that guy who’s a gold—digger, isn’t it a bit surprising?” The security officer’s tone was filled with sarcasm, which sounded particularly grating to Robyn.

From the moment Robin boarded the plane.

Robin’s handsome appearance and charming performance greatly attracted Robyn.

Just from the perspective of temperament and appearance.

Having met countless people, Robyn concluded that Robin was either rich or noble.

If I had the chance to meet such a man, it would have been a very fortunate thing

Robyn glared at the security officer, annoyed, “How can you be so sure that he’s that kind of shady pretty boy?” “You saw it on the plane too, he was so brave in front of the four Odrarian men!”

The security officer snorted, "Robyn, why are you so stubborn!"

"Look at the woman with him, she must be at least over sixty."

"Take another look at what a spectacle that woman was!"

"To my knowledge, the two helicopters belonged to the Rogelio family."

"That woman was the Underground Queen of Farmere!"

"Couldn't you see it for yourself? Why bother deceiving yourself! You might as well give up that idea."

"You saw it just now, that girl next to us was constantly chasing him, and he didn't dare to say a word."

Chapter 251 Underground Queen of Farmere

"Why? Is this the act of a normal man?"

Watching Robin and Sarah board the plane, Robyn's heart felt cold and desolate. The lights in the airport terminal square were dazzlingly bright.

Of course. Robyn could tell how old Sarah was.

Although she was very elegant and beautiful.

However, the traces of the vicissitudes of time were clearly visible on her face.

Could it be that Robin was really a gigolo for those rich women?

“Didn't you even look at what kind of transportation they used to pick him up?”

“A private helicopter! Could an average person afford it?”

The staff member spoke with complete sarcasm, then turned and walked straight away from Robyn. Chapter 251 Underground Queen of Farmere

His eyes were filled with nothing but disgust and jealousy.

The helicopter, stirring up a whirlwind with its powerful rotors, slowly ascended into the sky.

Robyn let out a long sigh.

The tall and handsome Robin disgusted and repulsed her.

No wonder Robin showed no interest in her on the plane.

Turns out he was a gigolo who hung around rich women.

“What a love at first sight!” Robyn picked up the suitcase and strode. forward.

Chapter 252

Chapter 252 Destroy Hondry Sect

Two helicopters, roaring with beast—like powerful engines, flew towards Wonder Island.

Sarah smiled and said, “Lord Dragon, the incident at Hondry Sect has caused you much trouble.”

“Irving and Dark Oath collaborated to confine Mr. Deshawn and Marcella.”

“Another assassination order for Lord Dragon was issued in the dark world, this bastard has gone mad!*. Robin gave a cold laugh, “No one can save a man who wants to die!”

Sarah nodded in agreement. “You're right, sir.”

“Lord Dragon had dealt with thirteen assassins including Black Wolf King and Cobra, yet the Hondry Sect and the dark world assassin organization were still unaware.”

“Once this news was released, the entire dark world would be shaken. by it.”

“Even if the adults didn't personally go to kill Irving this time, those international assassin organizations would still go to Hondry Sect to tear him to pieces.”

This time, several top international assassin organizations, instigated by Hondry Sect and Dark Oath, infiltrated Londraland to assassinate Lord Dragon but failed, suffering heavy losses.

He would inevitably vent this resentment on the Hondry Sect.

Every top assassin they trained and disciplined cost them hundreds of millions of dollars. Moreover, it required an uninterrupted investment of 10 years, 20 years.

Only then could they achieve super assassins like Black Wolf King, Cobra, and Grim Surgeon. Now they were all dead, and it would be hard to recover in 30 years.

Robin nodded. “They brought it upon themselves!”

“You may spread the word on my behalf, | will personally visit each and every assassin organization involved in plotting against me!”

“Yes! Lord Dragon!” Sarah respectfully said, “I will arrange it immediately. By tomorrow morning, this news will have spread throughout the entire dark world.”

Two hours later, the helicopter landed on the Bund of Wonder Island.

Travis, Israel, as well as Rudy and Kimberly, among others, had already cleared the obstacles in advance and were waiting at this secluded riverside.

Travis quickly approached Robin with the Barrett family in tow.

“Lord Dragon, you've had a tough journey, please take a moment to rest...”

“No need.” Robin waved his hand, turning to point in the direction of Hondry Hall.

“I had to quickly return after visiting the Hondry Sect, to attend the 1415D

Finley family's celebration the day after tomorrow.”

Travis hung his head, a twitch at the corner of his mouth.

The Hondry Sect was one of the top sects in the world!

If the sect acted in unison, its financial and military power was enough to shake a medium-sized country.

In the eyes of this Lord Dragon, stepping on the entire Hondry Sect seemed as simple as taking a leak.

Kimberly couldn't help but laugh out loud, “Hahaha...”

Travis and Sarah were terrified, “Kimberly, adults are present, your must not be rude!”

Kimberly stepped forward, “Master, I want to go with you!”

Robin had originally intended to ignore this little girl.

Kimberly, however, suddenly knelt before him.

“Lord Dragon, you are my master, you went to kill Irving of the Hondry Sect, of course, as your disciple, I had to accompany you.” Travis nervously glanced at Robin and quickly scolded, “Kimberly, stop messing around.”

“No!” Kimberly insisted, “Master, I must go with you.”

“Irving incited the assassin to murder the master, I was at odds with him, and I had to kill him with my own hands!” Seeing Kimberly in such a state of high emotion, Robin frowned.

Once this little girl, became determined, no one could stop her.

That day on Hanrock Peak, she could disregard life and death to use her own body to block a blow for her grandfather. Just this alone was admirable.

He looked at the determined glint in Kimberly's eyes and nodded, “Alright, but don't run around. Stay close to me, understood?” “Yes. Master!” Kimberly, shaking her head excitedly, followed by Robin's side.

Robin looked up at Travis and the others, “Wait here, you can come back in an hour.”

In the midst of speaking, Kimberly had already driven an off-road vehicle up to Robin.

“Master. get in the car!” Kimberly joyfully shouted as she opened the car door.

Robin jumped into the off-road vehicle and drove away.

Watching the off-road vehicle speeding away, Travis and Sarah straightened up, a satisfied smile spreading across their faces. Only Kimberly was able to become a disciple of Lord Dragon!

Travis and Sarah knew that they could establish this level of relationship with the dignitary.

The day of the Barrett family's rise was not far off.

Fifteen minutes later, Kimberly and Robin arrived in front of a palace in the southern part of Wonder Island.

It was already midnight, yet the palace was still brightly lit.

Mm

This palace was the headquarters of the Hondry Sect, Hondry Hall!

Irving and several division heads from Hondry Seet were still waiting for information on the thirteen assassins from Londraland. Thirteen assassins had entered Londraland and had been completely out of contact for two full days.

As if evaporated from the face of the earth.

The head of the West Meotrora division, Richard, who was on the left. of Hondry Hall, anxiously said, "Mr. Andrews, the Black Wolf King and his men have been infiltrating Londraland for so long, why haven't we heard anything yet?"

"This situation is quite strange, could it be that Black Wolf King and his group have already been slain by Lord Dragon?"

The head of South Esnax division, Walter, said coldly, "No matter how powerful Lord Dragon is, it's impossible for him to kill thirteen top international assassins in two days!"

"Black Wolf King and his crew made their move, I'm afraid Lord Dragon is in great danger! Hahaha..."

A short man stood on the table, full of swagger, saying, "Black Wolf King and his men have entered Londraland territory. They will only truly encounter trouble if Londraland's military intervenes."

"Otherwise, no one could stop them."

"Presumably, Lord Dragon has already paid a heavy price for his arrogance."

“Perhaps Mr. Castro will soon bring good news from Londraland!”

Irving burst into laughter, “With the alliance of Hondry Sect and Dark Lord, Lord Dragon is doomed!”

“Ladies and gentlemen, please be patient. I believe we will hear from them soon.”

“That Lord Dragon might have already become a wandering ghost, hahaha...”

“Mr. Andrews, were you this confident?”

“Heaven had a road but you didn’t take it, hell had no door but you insisted on coming!” “Three years ago, I said that if the Hondry Sect ever betrayed us, I would personally destroy it!”

Everyone immediately shut their mouths, staring in astonishment at the handsome man and beautiful woman who were leisurely walking in from the door.

The inspector of Hondry Sect, Edward, was at that moment bending over, following closely behind Robin, trembling nervously. The smile on Irving’s face froze, he was stunned for quite a while before he forcibly calmed himself down.

“You, you are Robin? Lord Dragon?”

The vast Hondry Hall was so quiet it was suffocating.

The head of the West Meotrora division slammed his hand on the table, pointing at Robin and said, “You are not Lord Dragon!”

“Black Wolf King and thirteen of the top assassins entered Londraland to assassinate Lord Dragon, and you’re still standing here? I don’t believe it...”

Robin sneered, “You’ve lost your chance forever!”

In an instant, a flash of white light streaked by.

The Dragon Dagger was catapulted, tracing a dazzling golden light, and pierced into Richard's throat. The next moment, everyone was stunned by the scene before them.

This seemingly blunt short dagger suddenly shone with a brilliant golden light, and a golden dragon appeared to be suspended in mid-air.

The Golden Dragon was frantically sucking the fresh blood from Richard's body. Drained all the blood from his body at a speed visible to the naked eye in an instant. The burly and tall Richard had quickly turned into a mummy.

The whole person floated above the ground, just like a thin piece of paper.

A gust of night wind swept through the silent Hondry Hall, instantly turning the mummies into a pile of dust. "This, this, what is this?"

Everyone inside Hondry Hall was stunned.

The next moment, before they could even regain their senses.

A flash of white light streaked past everyone's face like lightning.

They all clutched their necks tightly, looking horrified at Robin in the center of the hall. "This, this is Lord Dragon! The devil!"

Chapter 252 Destroy Hondry Sect

At that moment, they really regretted, how could they have believed the lies of that bastard Irving!

Lord Dragon was not someone they dared to touch.

In front of such a devil-like Annihilator, they were nothing!

However, regretting now is completely meaningless.

Edward looked at the fallen bosses of the Hondry Sect before him, and with a thud, he knelt in front of Robin. Robin glanced up at Kimberly.

Kimberly slapped Edward on the head with her hand.

Edward's brain burst, and he died vomiting blood.

The chilling night wind wildly swept into the vast Hondry Hall, stirring up a stench of blood and decay. Wandering with a chilling and grim horror, there was not a trace of worldly hustle and bustle.

Irving, seated in the center of Hondry Hall.

At this moment, I realized that I had greatly misunderstood this Lord Dragon.

Years ago, Lord Dragon slaughtered the entire Hondry Sect.

Out of desperation, Mr. Deshawn, along with his disciples, knelt down and made a solemn vow to forever serve Lord Dragon. Back then, he, far away in Goldholt, did not understand.

As the world's largest sect, the Hondry Sect had been established for a hundred years. When had it ever suffered such humiliation?

70 94%

Seeing such a scene tonight, he truly understood.

Why did Lord Dragon make the entire dark world tremble!

But at this point, there was no choice but to fight to the death!

Irving sneered, "Lord Dragon, you've repeatedly insulted my Hondry Sect, aren't you afraid of being condemned by the world..." Robin laughed, "When a man courts death, he always has many noble reasons."

"Since you wanted to treat me as your opponent, I had to at least act like one."

Kimberly paused.

She hadn't expected that Robin would actually ask her to kill Irving. Was the master testing me?

"Looking down on everything, leading the sword with spirit, only such a sword could cut down all the evil charms in the world!" Robin gripped Kimberly's wrist.

Suddenly, a surge of vital energy flowed into his fingers, guiding the dagger to shoot out.

Before Irving could react, the sword had already slashed his throat.

The dagger returned to Kimberly's hand once again.

Irving, clutching his bleeding throat, looked at Robin in despair.

Robin had ignored him from start to finish, focusing solely on instructing Kimberly in the highest level of Kendo.

"Kimberly, remember, killing is not done with brute force and hatred, but with heart, a heart devoid of self and possessions." "Alright, Irving isn't dead yet, you come and help him complete his final action."

Kimberly nodded, channeling all her vital energy into the sword.

A sword severed Irving's neck.

All disciples of the Hondry Sect knelt on the ground.

Pls for help echoed inside and outside of Hondry Hall.

Robin patted the still dazed Kimberly, "Let's go, leave this to an om grandfat entg handle: Still have to rst back to attend the Finley family's celebration!"

Chapter 253 The Sour Soup Diner

Leaving Hondry Hall, Robin and Kimberly drove to the north beach entrance of Wonder Island.

Travis and others had been waiting here.

He checked the time, it was less than 40 minutes before and after Robin and Kimberly headed to Hondry Hall. The round trip time was 20 minutes.

In other words, Robin wiped out the core members of the Hondry Sect in less than 20 minutes.

This seemed too exaggerated.

This time, Irving had gathered the most elite forces around Hondry Hall.

Before the Barrett family could ask, Kimberly jumped out of the car, excitedly exclaiming, "Grandpa, Grandma, I killed Irving with my own hands!"

"What?" Travis looked at Robin in astonishment.

Irving was the strongest master in the Hondry Sect.

How could

Dave killed him?

“That’s right, it was Kimberly's single stroke that took care of Irving,” Robin didn’t elaborate further. “Alright, you guys handle the situation here by yourselves.”

Chapter 253 The Sour Soup Dinet

“Tell Matthew, if this happens again, he might as well find a place to bury himself!”

Travis immediately bowed to the Barrett family and said, “Yes, Lord Dragon!”

“After | finished dealing with matters on Wonder Island, | took Matthew and Marcella to Londraland to express our gratitude.” Sarah walked up to Robin, “Lord Dragon, | will accompany you back to Farmere first.”

Kimberly threw herself into Robin's arms, hugging him tightly,

“Master, my grandfather and | will come to find you in Hallcester in two days!”

Travis and Sarah watched Kimberly and Robin with satisfied smiles on their faces.

They knew that Robin had truly accepted Kimberly as his disciple.

Once this news was released, it would be a great honor for the Barrett family.

From then on, those rivals who coveted the Barrett family, if they dared to be enemies with the Barrett family. Everyone should first weigh up whether they have the energy to confront Lord Dragon!

Tonight, ever since we got on Wonder Island, all | heard was Kimberly’s excited chatter.

It was not until Robin got on the helicopter that he finally calmed down.

He closed his eyes and leaned back in the chair.

Chapter 253 The Sour Soup Diner

A piece of the past floated up in his mind.

Seven years ago, Enzo passed through Farmere in Odrar.

Due to an unexpected incident, Enzo suddenly lost contact.

1 was gone for two years!

That year, Robin was thirteen and had not yet learned how to survive on his own.

Looking at this unfamiliar city, he didn't know how to continue living.

That bastard Enzo didn't leave him a single penny.

Just like that, penniless Robin drifted around Farmere for two days without eating or drinking.

Finally collapsed in front of a sour soup diner in Londratown of Farmere.

The owner of this pickles shop. Marissa Rodriquez, had saved him.

Waited for him to wake up.

Marissa learned about Robin's situation.

Seeing that Robin was also a Londralish person, he temporarily took him in.

At that time, Marissa was thirty-eight years old.

She had a daughter named Chelsea Rodriquez, who was about the same age as Robin.

Marissa came to Odrar with her grandfather in her early years.

Her husband was a soldier.

In the second year of their marriage, the husband was killed in a battle.

Marissa, alone with her daughter, managed to survive in the harsh conditions of Londratown in Farmere. Later, a sour soup diner was finally opened.

The two years when Enzo was missing.

Robin was lodging at this sour soup diner.

Marissa's business wasn't doing very well either, and she was often extorted by street thugs.

The days also passed by tightly.

Fortunately, both Marissa and her daughter treated Robin as a family member and depended on each other for survival. Later, Robin gradually became familiar with the area around Londratown.

Felt that he couldn't always eat for free at Marissa's house.

So, he found a job as a waiter at a place called Dreamland Bar on this street to supplement his family income. During his time at Dreamland Bar, Robin also experienced a period of youthful love.

Despite being pure and brief.

However, that emotion had been deeply hidden in Robin's heart all these years.

Just like a holy flower.

In his dull adolescence, it was frozen into the most beautiful picture.

Chapter 253 The Sour Soup Diner

An hour and fifty minutes later, the helicopter landed on the helipad of the Rogelio's manor in Farmere. Sarah respectfully said, "Lord Dragon, this is my estate, please rest here tonight."

Robin shook his head. "I won't be here, just have someone take me to Londratown."

Sarah respectfully said, "Yes, Lord Dragon, what do you need me to do?"

"It wasn't necessary for the time being. I was there to visit an old friend and didn't want to disturb their lives because of it." "Yes, my Lord! The Rogelio family was at your disposal at any time."

Sarah knew that Robin didn't like anyone prying into his affairs.

Since Robin had said so, she dared not make decisions on her own.

She immediately arranged for a rather inconspicuous standard Mercedes to take Robin to Londratown. It was already past six in the morning at that moment.

Londratown had not yet become busy.

It seemed that there hadn't been much change in Farmere's Londratown over these seven years. Robin walked along this ancient street.

Looking at the familiar scenery in front of me.

The events of seven years ago were as vivid as if they happened just yesterday.

Robin stopped and stared at the old sour soup diner.

The sign above the store still read Marissa's Sour Soup Diner.

Everything in front of the Sour Soup Diner was just as it had been seven years ago.

Just that many characters on the doorplate had fallen off.

Robin had stood in front of the shop for a long time.

The street gradually became lively.

This old sour soup diner had opened.

A woman in her forties appeared at the door.

She looked up at Robin and froze instantly.

“You, you were, you were Robin!”

“Little rascal, where have you been all these years? Chelsea and I have been looking for you for so many years!” This woman was Marissa, the proprietress of Sour Soup Diner.

Clearly, she was particularly excited when she saw Robin appear suddenly, with tears spinning in her eyes. She looked Robin up and down, with a joy and excitement as if she was looking at her own son.

“He had grown much taller, and was even more handsome than before.”

Marissa was so excited that she didn’t know what to do.

“Marissa, I want some sour soup,” Robin said, wiping away Marissa’s tears with a smile.

Marissa said tremblingly, “Okay, okay, Robin, just wait a moment, I’ll do it for you right away.”

Ten minutes later, a steaming bowl of sour soup was brought to Robin.

Robin took a sip and laughed, “Madam, the sour soup still has the same taste as before!”

Marissa stared intently at Robin's face for a good while, and tears once again streamed down her face. “Robin, where have you been these past few years? Have you been bullied outside? How are you living now?” Robin laughed, “I’m the only one who bullies others. So far, no one has been able to bully me.”

Marissa patted Robin's head cheerfully and said, "You're still as stubborn as ever."

Chapter 254 Chelsea

Robin discerned some clues from Marissa's expression.

Chelsea was not in a very good condition.

He hadn't even had the chance to ask for more details.

A girl in a white pajama came down from upstairs.

"Mom, we had a guest so early?"

Robin looked up.

The girl who came down from upstairs had red curly hair and was holding a cigarette in her hand. He understood why Marissa mentioned that Chelsea would sigh.

This girl was Chelsea.

His current condition was indeed not very good.

In Robin's memory, Chelsea was gentle, well-behaved, and quiet.

However, the appearance in front of me was clearly that of a young tomboy.

Chelsea sat next to Mariss.

Just as he was about to fiddle with the lighter to light a cigarette, Robin directly snatched it away. "Who are you, why did you take my lighter..." Chelsea suddenly stopped.

14:17D

She rubbed her sleepy eyes hard and looked at Robin.

"Robin?" She stood up in shock, pointing at Robin and shouting. "You, you, you are Robin!" Marissa sighed, "You still recognize Robin, look at what you've become now!"

Chelsea's sleepiness disappeared in an instant.

She tucked the cigarette behind her ear and sat next to Robin.

Stared at Robin's handsome face with hands propped on checks for quite a while.

"Robin, where have you been these past seven years?"

"Now he's so tall and handsome, even better looking than those movie stars!"

"You bastard, you just up and left back then, causing me and mom to search for you for so many years..." Chelsea chattered away, asking a lot of questions, the corners of her eyes shimmering with tears.

Robin ruffled her messy red hair, "How did I dye my hair like this? It looks terrible."

“And this!” Robin removed the cigarette from Chelsea’s ear.

“You knew that Marissa and I hated the smell of cigarettes!”

“I had my hair redone today!”

“Also, you were not allowed to smoke anymore!”

“A girl from a good family smoking, what does that look like? Besides, it's bad for the skin and teeth!”

The smile on Chelsea’s face froze.

During those two years, Chelsea was often bullied on this street.

It was Robin who fought to the death, taking on more than a dozen thugs all by himself.

Every time, it ended up with a bloody head.

Gradually, no one dared to bully Chelsea anymore.

Chelsea followed Robin around like a little tail every day.

Whatever Robin said, she would obediently follow.

Seeing Robin speak like this, Marissa also echoed, “Chelsea, did you hear that? Robin is also quite repulsed by your style...” “Alright, alright, stop talking and quickly make me a bowl of soup. I have to go out again in a bit.”

Marissa furrowed her brows, glancing at Robin, wanting to speak but hesitating

Seeing Chelsea’s impatient look, she could only shake her head and turn to walk towards the kitchen behind her. Robin looked at Chelsea, “How did you talk to Marissa!”

“What were you doing? Do you know how ugly you made yourself look?!”

“Enough about me, Robin. What about you? What have you been doing all these years? Are you planning to leave again this time?”

Robin said, "Answer me, what have you been doing?"

"I could tell, Marissa was very unhappy."

"How did you tell me those years?"

"You said that when you grew up, you would definitely make a lot of money to give Marissa a good life." "Look at yourself now!"

Chelsea's radiant smile slowly faded, casting a terrified glance at Robin:
"Robin. I don't want to, but..." "Chelsea!"

At that time, a few young men dressed in strange costumes arrived at the front gate

Robin was sizing them up, these people were probably all hooligans from Londratown.

Chelsea suddenly panicked, "Mr. Burns, today... I have guests at my house today. I won't be coming over..." A bald man named Santos Burns walked into the store, coldly sizing up Robin.

"Chelsea, who was this?"

Chelsea quickly stepped in front of bald Santos, "Mr. Burns, he is my brother Robin, from whom I've been separated for seven years."

Only then did Santos give Robin a smile.

"So you're Robin, huh, Chelsea, let's go..."

Marissa came up from behind: "Chelsea, you can't go anywhere today!"

Santos's face turned cold: "Chelsea, are you going or not?"

Chelsea was taken aback: "Robin, don't, don't go."

Robin laughed. "It's okay, we haven't been back here for many years, and we also want to go out and see." Santos glanced at Robin, exchanged a look with a few accomplices: "Alright. let's go together then."

Chelsea quickly stopped him, "Robin, don't go over there. Stay here and chat with Marissa in the shop. I'll be back soon."

“Robin, we couldn't afford to mess with them.”

“Santos was telling everyone that the Rogelio family was his backup, no one on this street dared to mess with them.” “They were very bad.”

Robin glanced at the terrified Chelsea.

“Why did that Santos want to find you? Why did you want to mix with them?”

Chelsea said bitterly, “Robin, many of the shops on this street are under their control. But... a high protection fee is required.” “Many stores were forced to leave the street because they couldn't afford to pay their protection money.”

“Our family's sour soup diner didn't have much income to begin with...”

Robin understood, and with a pang of heartache, rubbed Chelsea's head, “So, you just hung out with them?” Chelsea nodded.

“Yes. Santos said that as long as I became his girlfriend, he could cover for Marissa's sour soup diner,” she said. Robin sighed, “You are really confused.”

However, he understood in his heart.

In such an environment, what else could Marissa and Chelsea do but submit to Santos?

Chelsea shook her head, "I'm not sure either."

Robin understood.

Santos had these people selling drugs to gamblers at the Chelsea casino.

If Chelsea really got blackmailed and deeply involved, there would be no way back.

"Silly girl, do you know what these people are up to? They're trying to drag you down and ruin you!" Chelsea shivered in fright.

At that moment. Santos came over from behind and handed a cigarette. to Robin: "Robin, have a smoke." A few people stepped forward, surrounding Robin in the middle.

Robin said indifferently, "I don't smoke."

Robin said with a smirk. "What man doesn't smoke? Have one."

Robin said expressionlessly, "I told you, I don't smoke."

"What's the matter? Looking down on me, are you going to smoke or not?" Santos said coldly. Robin stopped in his tracks: "I don't smoke."

A few people from Santos immediately gave Robin a cold look, "You really don't smoke?"

Chelsea nervously held Robin's hand, "Mr. Burns, Robin really doesn't smoke..."

Santos looked at Robin's face, which held a smile that wasn't quite a smile, and suddenly burst into laughter.

"Alright, you're Chelsea's brother, I won't insist. Let's go to the casino and play a couple of games." Chelsea hastily grabbed Robin, saying, "Robin, don't..."

Santos said coldly, "Chelsea, what do you want to do?"

Robin laughed and said, "It's okay, Chelsea, I also want to go to the casino to play. I've never played before." "Let's go. Santos."

Fear and worry flickered in Chelsea's eyes.

In front of Santos and others, he didn't dare to say too much.

She knew what kind of ruthless characters the enforcers at Santos's casino were.

Santos had Robin go into the gambling house to play, which was to harm him.

Thinking of this, Chelsea steeled herself and said, “Mr. Burns, Robin just got back from leaving, he doesn’t gamble...”

Santos interrupted her, saying coldly, “Chelsea, what do you mean? There’s nothing wrong with me playing a couple of games with Robin. What are you implying?”

Robin pulled Chelsea close to him, “It’s okay, Chelsea, let’s go.”

At this point, Robin turned to Santos and asked, “Is there a prize for playing this?” Santos's eyes lit up: “Of course, as big as you want.

“I was talking about US dollars,” Robin flicked his eyelids.

Santos exclaimed excitedly. “Yes! How big do you want to play?”

Santos glanced at Robin.

Guessing that he must have made a lot of money this time he came back, “100,000 US dollars, can you afford it?” “No problem,” Robin shrugged, “Let’s go!”

Santos saw that Robin had no objections to the bet of 100,000 dollars.

It seemed quite relaxed.

He believed that Robin had brought back quite a lot of money this time

“Robin, did you bring the money?”

Robin glanced at the time, “Oh, I sent a message, someone can deliver it.”

Chelsea didn’t know where Robin got the nerve to ask for $100,000 right off the bat.

For a moment, it was somewhat unclear.

Robin immediately sent a message and location to Sarah.

She had her subordinate deliver 300,000 in cash.

Santos brought Robin to the gambling house.

Chelsea followed behind, whispering, "Robin, how could you be so confused, they will harm you." Robin said with a smile, "It's okay, no matter what happens next, just stay by my side,"

Chelsea shook her head desperately, whispering, "Robin, these are all ruthless devils..." Robin signaled her to stop talking and led her into the casino with Santos.

Santos's gambling den was on the basement level.

It was transformed from a small underground parking lot.

After entering the casino with Robin and Chelsea, Santos whispered a few words to a man.

The man took out a key and opened a large door around the north corner. This room was approximately 100 square meters, with a gambling table placed in the middle. The room was haphazardly filled with seven or eight Odrarian men.

Along-haired man around thirty years old pointed at Robin and asked, "Santos, who is he?"

Chelsea nervously surveyed the situation in the room, her legs trembling with fear.

Robin sensed Chelsea’s fear and looked again at the trash in front of him.

If I hadn’t gone through Farmere, Marissa’s sour soup diner, and Chelsea, my life would have been ruined.

Santos asked, “What can you play?”

“I don’t know how to play anything.”

Santos and a few people in the room all laughed, “This is faster, more interesting!” He pointed at a blond man on the sofa, “Blondie, come play with Robin!”

After handing the box to Robin, he left the place without saying a word.

Robin opened the box.

The brand new 300,000 US dollars inside suddenly appeared in front of everyone. In the eyes of Santos and others, a greedy glint was shining.

Chelsea was also greatly shocked.

She knew, Robin was in trouble today.

much cash?

Being able to get out of here alive would be considered extremely lucky!

She wanted to remind Robin to hurry up and find a way to escape from here. Santos had signaled to two of his underlings to lock the room's door from the inside. Chelsea was shaking nervously all over.

She really regretted letting Robin come with her.

Robin pointed at the blond across from him, "Where's your money?"

Huang Mao was taken aback for a moment.

Santos exchanged a color with Nick Collier, instantly prompting someone to also offer up three hundred thousand dollars.

Then, looking up at Santos, “This is my first time playing in a casino, if I win, can I really take this money away?” Santos and Nick exchanged a glance and began to laugh.

In such a manner, Robin clearly didn’t understand anything.

“Robin. Mr. Collier's casino is one of integrity,” Santos said with a laugh

“If you could win, you would take all these three hundred thousand dollars in front of Blondie!”

Robin pointed at Santos with his finger, saying, “This is what you said, you are Chelsea’s friend, I trust you.”

Santos slapped his chest and guaranteed, “Mr. Collier has been in this business for many years, always conducting it in a proper and orderly manner. “You could also ask the neighbors on this street, we have never cheated a guest out of their money here.” Nick nodded expressionlessly, “I call the shots here! Of course, running a gambling house requires integrity!” “Gambling means accepting losses willingly. Start, start, no more dilly-

“Don't worry, if you could win, all this money would be yours!”

“However, let me make this clear beforehand, if you lose and dare to cheat, I will chop off your hands.” Robin laughed.

“Good! Santos and Nick, since you both promised to accept the outcome of the bet and maintain integrity regardless of winning or losing. I am relieved.”

“Sorry, I’ve never been to a casino before.”

“Some things had to be clarified in advance. Just in case I won, I would know what to do.”

“Santos, could you explain to me, was it that after shaking this dice, whoever had the higher number won?” Seeing Robin like this, it seemed that Santos really had never been to a casino before.

He exchanged a glance with Nick, laughing as he said, "Yes, Robin! After you and Blondie roll the dice, whoever rolls the highest takes all six hundred thousand."

"Alright, I understand. Let's get started," Robin said, waving his hand.

Chelsea wanted to signal Robin with her eyes.

How could one possibly believe what Santos and his people said.

They were a bunch of scoundrels.

No matter whether we won or lost today, it was impossible to take away a single penny.

Santos signaled his subordinates to bring two dice cups and two dice.

He personally demonstrated the dice cup and dice in front of Robin and Blondie.

"Robin, Blondie, you both saw clearly, there was nothing wrong with this dice, and this cup was also normal. You each choose a set."

Robin gestured to Blondie, "You choose. I don't care. Isn't it just about comparing who's bigger or smaller?" "I was lucky, winning no matter which dice cup I chose."

Huangmao carefully selected a dice cup.

Robin held the rest in his hand.

Huangmao picked up the dice cup and shook it vigorously

Within the silent gambling den, there was only the intense clashing sound of dice and dice cups.

After a bout of crazed shaking of the dice cup. Huang Mao slammed it onto the table with a bang. Santos saw that Robin hadn't made a move. "Robin, it's your turn."

“Oh, | forgot, | need to move around too, alright, let's move!” Robin laughed.

He casually pushed the dice cup on the table, “Alright! Open it.”

Chelsea didn't know what to say about Robin's behavior.

A bet of three hundred thousand dollars, and Robin just recklessly pushed it aside like that?

Chapter 256 Impossible.

Wasn't this just a joke!

Santos, Nick, and a bunch of underlings from the gambling house were also left confused by Robin's maneuvers. This guy really didn't even know how to roll the dice, did he?

Three hundred thousand dollars in gambling money, just played like that?

Was he a damn fool?

Santos glanced at Robin's indifferent expression and started laughing, “Robin, is this okay?”

Robin nodded. “Alright, you guys start. Don't dawdle, once you start, | can take the money and leave.” At that moment, Nick, who had always been cold and taciturn, also chuckled a couple of times. A group of underlings from the gambling house burst into laughter.

Chelsea helplessly shook her head.

Looking at the colorful three hundred thousand dollars in front of her, she felt heartbroken!

“Since everything was fine, did | leave?”

Santos had just stepped forward to remove the dice cup.

Robin said, “Wait a minute!”

With a half-smile, Robin glanced at Nick and Santos, “I was worried

you would back out.”

“Just now, you said that if I won, the six hundred thousand dollars on the table would all be mine, didn't you?” Santos laughed, “Of course! But the premise is that you have to win this round, then the money will be yours!” “After I opened the dice cup, whoever had the highest number on the top of their dice was the winner.” Santos firmly believed that what they had done with the dice cup, combined with Blondie's skills. Robin had no chance of winning at all.

Unless Robin also rolled the highest number, it would be the same as Blondie.

Following the rules of dice rolling, the second round continued until a winner was determined.

In conclusion, it was impossible for Robin to always roll the highest number.

However, Huang Mao could.

Santos sneered, “If he plays dirty, chop off his hands and feet.”

Robin nodded with a smile, “Good, with your words, I feel relieved.”

Santos removed the dice cups of the two people.

The scene before his eyes took him by surprise.

The dice in front of Robin showed six points!

And the dice roll of the blond surprisingly was a one!

“What, what happened?!”

Huang Mao stood up in shock, staring at the dice in front of him and howled, “Impossible! Absolutely impossible!” With his skills and the setup he had previously made in the dice cup, it couldn’t possibly be a one! The smiles on everyone’s faces in the gambling house suddenly froze

Chelsea opened her mouth in surprise, “Robin won?”

Robin stood up, “Santos, I told you my luck is incredibly good!”

“It was my first time playing with this thing, and I actually won. Sorry, I’m taking the money!”

“Chelsea, carrying this money, your brother took you out for a good meal!”

Chelsea sat still, terrified, watching Nick, Santos, and a bunch of thugs from the gambling den.

"Ask Mr. Collier if he agreed to you taking away this six hundred thousand dollars."

Robin pulled out a tissue and wiped his hands, "What do you mean, trying to back out?"

Nick snorted coldly, "Drop 300,000 dollars and get lost! Otherwise..."

"Otherwise, what would happen?" The smile on Robin's face gradually froze.

Nick threw the cigarette in his hand on the ground, "Otherwise, die here today!"

Chelsea held Robin's hand. "Robin, let's not take the money, let's go quickly..."

Robin pulled Chelsea to his side, laughing, "I won this money, of course I'm taking it."

Santos burst into laughter, "Cut him down!"

"Sure! Robin, this money is yours, you can certainly take it away..."

"Chelsea, take the money and run!"

Chelsea's mind was a blank, mechanically carrying two password boxes and following behind Robin. "Open the door!" Robin pointed at Santos and said

Santos and a group of thugs were momentarily dazed.

Nick, at such a close distance, actually didn't hit Robin and Chelsea?

Everyone looked at Nick.

At that moment, Nick was lying on the ground, one of his hands had been cleanly chopped off.

“Santos, you said it yourself, ‘you have to accept the loss if you gamble.’ If you cheat, you’ll lose your hands and feet.” Robin walked towards Santos step by step.

It was only then that Chelsea discovered, Nick’s gun—holding wrist had been cleanly severed and was lying on the ground. Beside the severed hand was a pool of fresh blood, still steaming with heat!

Speaking of this, Santos puffed out his chest and said coldly, “Yes, do you know what kind of existence the Rogelio family is in Farmere? It...”

Robin didn’t wait for him to finish speaking, she directly grabbed his hair and slammed it on the gambling table. “Bam!”

Santos’s face had smashed the sturdy gambling table into pieces, and he had fainted on the ground, covered in blood. “The Rogelio family?” Robin gave a cold smile, step by step walking towards Nick.

“If the Rogelio family was truly your backing, even Queen Farmere would have to kneel when she saw me!” “The Rogelio family was nothing!”

The man didn't say a word, he just picked up the code case and drove away.

Chelsea had been walking behind Robin for quite a distance before she snapped back to reality.

She looked back in the direction of the gambling house.

After making sure no one was following, he whispered, "Robin, we're in big trouble!"

"These money would have cost us our lives."

Robin ruffled Chelsea's hair, laughing and saying, "Silly girl, it's those bastards who caused the big trouble." "Let's go, let's go back and let Marissa make a delicious meal, we'll celebrate together."

"You would definitely be satisfied after you saw him."

"I told you, my Robin came back."

"If you had seen my Robin, you would have definitely fallen for him. My Robin was so handsome!"

"If he wasn't my brother, I would have been reluctant to introduce him to you!"

She knew what kind of people Santos, Nick and their gang were.

Robin went with them only for Chelsea.

Given Robin's temper, he would definitely have had a dispute with Santos at the gambling house. After much thought, Marissa was about to go to the casino herself.

Robin and Chelsea appeared in front of the Sour Soup Diner.

Marissa saw three hundred thousand dollars in the box and was so scared that she fell on her butt. “Robin, how, how did you win so much money?”

“I had a bet with Santos and his crew.” Robin helped Marissa up.

“Gambling? How could you, a child, go gambling?”

Marissa was trembling all over. “Santos and his people won't let this go.”

“I couldn't take this money, you should hurry and return it to them.”

Robin closed the code box and handed it to Marissa.

Marissa still didn't dare to accept the three hundred thousand dollars.

“Robin, what on earth have you been doing all these years?”

Robin sat in front of Marissa.

“Over the years, I joined a mercenary group in Bronia and made a lot of money...”

At that moment, a pleasant voice came from outside the door, "Is Chelsea at home?" Chelsea immediately stood up and said, "Robyn, you're here so soon? Come in quickly." Robyn walked into the store and ran into Robin. Both of them were taken aback.

Robyn exclaimed in surprise, "You, how are you here?"

Robin chuckled to himself, Robyn actually knew Chelsea.

Chapter 258 What Happened to Robin?

Robin nodded politely, without giving much of a response.

He continued to tell Marissa about his experiences with Bronia, hoping to put Marissa's mind at ease. A weak and kind woman, with Chelsea, lived at the very bottom of society.

Every moment was endured under the oppression of corrupt officials and cowardly bullies. Who dared to get into trouble with villains like Santos and Nick.

Usually, I just paid them some protection money for peace of mind, and barely managed to get by. Had I ever dared to think about resisting?

Back then, Robin had won three hundred thousand dollars from these villains' casinos and brought it back to her. How dare Marissa ask.

She knew well that people like Santos and Nick would not let things go easily.

Having taken their money, there would be no peace forever,

It would bring even more disasters.

Of course, Robin was aware of this as well.

Before going to the casino, it was decided to help Marissa solve these problems and then leave.

Robyn was still in a daze because she had met Robin again.

For a moment, the atmosphere in this tiny sour soup diner was quite strange.

Chelsea paused for a moment, noticing that Robyn and Robin seemed to know each other. “Robyn, did you know Robin?”

“Hmm? Hmm!” Robyn stood awkwardly at the door, not knowing whether to go in or back out. “Robin, what’s going on?” Chelsea asked, nudging Robin.

“Oh, we had a brief encounter on the plane.” Robin nodded without expression.

Robyn was feeling quite complicated at the moment.

Robyn took a great liking to Robin the moment she first saw him.

It made all her fantasies about Robin suddenly disappear.

She never imagined that a man as charming as Robin, with such great skills and an excellent image and temperament, existed. It turned out to be a gigolo kept by an old rich woman.

Moreover, it was Sarah, the eldest daughter of the Rogelio family, who supported him.

That was a person like a female devil.

Robyn looked at Robin complexly, her gaze filled with not only contempt but also a hint of fear. What was even more unexpected was that Robin was actually so familiar with Chelsea's family. Watching Robin comforting Marissa at that time.

For a moment, she couldn't figure out what kind of man Robin really was.

Chelsea saw Robyn standing in a daze at the door and approached her, saying, "Robyn, what happened to you guys?" Robyn and Chelsea met two years ago.

Over time, she became familiar with the mother—daughter duo, Marissa and Chelsea.

She was about the same age as Chelsen and they got along very well.

The two quickly became close friends who could talk about anything.

Today, Robin, who had been away for seven years, returned, which made Chelsea very happy. Robyn called, and she immediately had the idea of setting her up with Robin.

In her view, handsome Robin and beautiful Robyn were a perfect match.

However, the two did not seem to get along very well.

It seemed like there was still a bit of a grudge.

She didn't know what was going on here.

Robyn broke the awkwardness in the store, ruffling Chelsea's red hair "Your hair needs a change, it's too ugly, I'll accompany you to get a new hairstyle."

Chelsea muttered, "Yes, you all think my hair is ugly." "Alright, accompany me across the street to get a haircut. By the time we return, Marissa should have prepared a lavish lunch."

After leaving the Sour Soup Diner, Chelsea pulled Robyn aside, "It seems like there's some tension between you and Robin? Is there some kind of misunderstanding?"

Robyn slightly furrowed her brow, wanting to speak but stopping herself.

"Robyn, I forgot to tell you, Robin is the Robin I used to mention to you."

"I originally wanted to play matchmaker for you guys, but you're acting so strangely. What on earth happened?" Robyn gave an unnatural laugh.

"There was no real rift between him and me, it's just, I just didn't quite like his way of living."

Having said that, Robyn let out a sigh.

Even though she really liked handsome and charming men like Robin.

However, after learning that Robin was a gigolo kept by a wealthy woman, she gave up.

In the end, I decided to express my thoughts.

Perhaps this was a good thing for Robin, for Chelsea and her daughter Marissa.

Robyn told Chelsea all about how Robin dealt with four ruflians from Odrar on the plane.

Upon hearing this, Chelsea was greatly delighted.

Wasn't this the Robin she had admired and respected?

Upon hearing about Robin's heroic deeds, Chelsea couldn't help but recount their previous experiences at the casino. “Robyn, let me tell you, just an hour ago, Robin beat up the two worst thugs on this street.”

In her perception, the privilege of riding in a private helicopter was reserved for those of extremely high status. Robyn nodded, “Also, someone told me, it might be the Rogelio family's helicopter.”

“What?” Chelsea's feelings could no longer be described as shocked.

“Robin got on the Rogelio family's helicopter? How could that be possible!”

“Robyn, you were telling a story!”

Robyn didn't explain further, continuing, “I vaguely saw that the woman sitting with him in the helicopter was Sarah, the eldest daughter of the Rogelio family.”

The stubbornness in Chelsea’s heart suddenly collapsed.

No wonder Robin was so confident when he mentioned the Rogelio family at the casino.

So he... he was actually kept by Sarah, the old woman of the Rogelio family.

Chelsea thought of going to the casino to give money to Robin.

Who had such ability to deliver three hundred thousand dollars within a few minutes?

Except for Sarah, no one could do it.

Thinking about a few things together, what Robyn said was right..

The more Chelsea thought about it, the sadder she became, tears swirling in her eyes.

Perhaps it was because the initial expectations for Robin were too high.

Despite the passage of time.

That refreshing floral dress gradually faded into the distance, slowly becoming blurred.

However, the vague emotions from that youthful period were still exuding the lingering fragrance of that year. It's been seven years, Dianna!

Where were you then?

Were you okay?

If it wasn't for this visit to Farmere, to Marissa's Sour Soup Diner.

Robin thought that after experiencing so much killing, his heart had already become cold.

Never thought of those boring times during adolescence.

Yet it still allowed him to feel the warmth of that year and that month in his chest.

The golden sunset slanted across the old streets of Londratown, casting a dim, melancholic glow. Robin looked from afar at the broken neon sign above the entrance of Dreamland Bar, illuminating a few words. Still flickering with traces from seven years ago.

A familiar scent suddenly hit me.

It had been a long time since Robin had felt such a stirring in his heart.

Suddenly, a burst of arrogant laughter shattered the last peace in the afterglow of the setting sun. Robin, annoyed, looked towards the bar's entrance following the sound.

A group of ruffians were gathered in front of the bar, shoving a taciturn middle-aged man around. "Roderick, didn't you say you were one of the toughest mercenaries for Bronia back in the day?" "It was said that you alone could take down an entire team."

"How could you be working as a waiter in this rundown bar now? Hahaha..."

"Just three years, and you've already turned into a piece of trash like a beggar, hahaha..."

Robin slightly furrowed his brow, as the afterglow of the sunset gradually dimmed.

It was during that mission that he met an Odrarian man named Roderick. A soldier king with nearly eight years of mercenary experience!

What happened to Roderick?

With his skills, how could he have been humiliated by this bunch of trash?

Chapter 262

Chapter 262 Humiliation Robin clearly remembered that rescue mission.

A total of seven people, who carried out the mission, came from different countries and different international mercenary brokerage firms.

After three days of effort, only Roderick and Robin remained in the seven-person team.

However, the other side still had thirty well-trained special mercenaries.

The ability of each individual to fight alone was enough to deal with a well-armed reinforced platoon. This was a task that was almost impossible to complete.

Roderick told him that it was his last time carrying out a mission.

He had planned before, to go home after finishing this one time.

He came here to fight, just so his mother and sister could have a better life.

So, this time, it was imperative to complete the mission alive.

Fortunately, he and Roderick managed to defeat the opposing security forces and survived.

In that battle, Roderick single-handedly killed more than twenty mercenaries!

His ability to kill greatly shocked him.

Chapter 262 Humiliation

Since then, Roderick had left Bronia and returned to Odrar.

Robin never saw him again.

Even, for a long period of time, almost forgot about this comrade—in- arms who had been through life and death. Didn't expect to see him here.

At that moment, the tattooed man in front of Dreamland Bar and a few thugs were arrogantly humiliating Roderick. Just, the once formidable Soldier King Roderick.

Like a soulless wooden or clay sculpture, he numbly hung his head, not saying a word.

The bar work clothes, wrinkled on his body, were stained with the footprints of several men.

Even so, Roderick continued to respectfully repeat his professional jargon.

“Gentlemen, please come inside. We kindly ask you not to cause a disturbance in front of the bar, so as not to affect other customers. Thank you for your cooperation.”

The tattooed man burst into laughter, “Roderick, are you begging me?”
“Alright! As long as you kneel down and crawl under my crotch, | won't bother you today.”

“Ladies and gentlemen, come take a look! The special program at Dreamland Bar tonight is even more appealing than a stripper's butt! Hahaha...

The tattooed man was wildly shouting at the passing guests around him.

“Ladies and gentlemen, come take a look, this is the one, returned from abroad three years ago.”

“He boasted about being a mercenary from some Bronia battlefield. and the very next day, he helped the police catch me on this street!”

“Accuse me of drug trafficking!”

“For this reason, was commended by the Farmere Police Department.”

“Was awarded as Farmere’s Good Citizen!”

“Was also hired by the police station as an extracurricular drug enforcement officer.”

“By all accounts, we were the heroes of Farmere! What’s happening now? Hahaha...”

“How did it come to this, becoming a watchdog in this rundown bar?”

“Did you think you were so great for helping the police catch me?”

“After being locked up for a few days, | came out still as glorious as ever!”

“And what about you?”

“Your mother was paralyzed in bed and had no money for treatment! Hahaha...”

“Your sister, as beautiful as a flower... Never mind, never mind, hahaha...”

The tattooed man slapped Roderick’s drooping head, laughing uproariously with a few thugs.

Roderick was still bent over, a hint of coldness spreading in his wooden eyes.

The aged, humble face was twitching incessantly.

The trembling fist clenched several times, yet gently released again.

“Get down on your knees and crawl through here!” The bald man bellowed arrogantly, spreading his legs apart. “Otherwise, | would make it impossible for you to get anything done here!”

“Without this bit of salary, your poor mother might have starved to death before she could die of illness, hahaha...” Roderick clenched his fist, but eventually let it go.

Outside the crowd, Robin clearly saw, under the confused light, Roderick's cold eyes gradually dimmed.

"Did you drill or not after all?"

"I certainly didn't have the patience to play with you here!"

The tattooed man raised his hand and brutally smashed it down on Roderick's drooping head.

"Jerome, you guys are too much!" Several waiters from Dreamland Bar stepped forward to protest..

"Back then, Roderick only happened upon that incident by chance, which led him to assist the police in arresting you guys." "If you guys hadn't forced those bar girls to take drugs, Roderick wouldn't have gotten involved in this mess!"

"Among those girls, there was Roderick's sister! You are a bunch of animals!"

"Bang bang bang!"

Several waiters hadn't finished speaking.

This tattooed man named Jerome Massey kicked a waiter, "You pauper! You're nothing compared to me!"

A group of thugs immediately rushed up behind Jerome, pulling out their batons and brutally beating several waiters. A few young waiters, they couldn't beat these fierce thugs.

Moreover, there were many attackers, and they even had short sticks in their hands.

Before long, several waiters were knocked down to the ground.

"Screw them! Talking to me about plates, asking for death!" Jerome pointed at several waiters who had been knocked to the ground, shaking the flesh on his face, shouting.

Roderick hesitated for a moment, then stepped forward to stand in front of a group of thugs. Raised an arm to block the short stick in the thug's hand.

Jerome and the others were taken aback, a hint of apprehension flashing in their eyes, and they stopped their actions immediately.

"Jerome, our grudges should not be taken out on them, they are still children."

"Roderick, a year has passed, and the rage in my heart still hasn't subsided!" Jerome sneered, slapping Roderick's face. 57,93%

Roderick lifted his crimson eyes.

That aged face was contorting in distress.

The tightly clenched fists were shaking violently.

For a full half minute, the anger that flared in Roderick's eyes finally extinguished.

The harshness of reality, the distortion of human nature!

It smoothed out the burning passion and fierce coldness in his heart.

“Ah! Kill him! What are you still standing there for... Hurry up and kill him!”

The few thugs who were with Jerome were stunned for quite a while before they came to their senses. They immediately returned to the car, took out their daggers, and surrounded Robin together.

Robin stood in front of Roderick, patted his shoulder without saying a word, and pulled out a wet wipe. Roderick shuddered abruptly, immediately grabbing his wrist, “Robin! Don't...”

He knew, this was the action Robin was most accustomed to before going on a killing spree.

During that mission years ago, Roderick had noticed that Robin would always wipe his hands with a wet cloth before each killing. At that moment, Robin was clearly harboring a murderous intent.

“Robin, I didn't want to solve the problem this way...”

“I had my mother in Farmere, I just wanted to live a quiet, ordinary life here...”

Robin hesitated for a moment with the wet wipe in his hand, then threw it behind him.

Then, with a back swing of his leg, he swept away a group of attackers who had rushed up behind him. The front of Dreamland Bar was in a mess.

Jerome and a group of his followers watched as Robin approached them step by step, retreating backwards. A group of revelers in front of Dreamland Bar screamed when they saw Robin's suave moves.

Especially the young female customers, their eyes were shining even more.

One by one, they asked each other, "Who is this handsome guy with such great skills?"

How had I not seen him come here to play before?

Robin walked up to Jerome, pointed behind him, and said, "Go, crawl to Roderick and beg for mercy, I'll let you go." Jerome gritted his teeth and said, "Who are you? Do you know what's behind me..."

Robin ignored him, stepping on Jerome's broken leg injury and slowly grinding it.

"You... let me go... I... I'll leave, just let me go..."

Jerome started crying out in pain, "I'll kneel before him and beg for mercy, please let me go..."

Robin moved his foot.

Jerome was struggling, suddenly he took out his phone, "I won't let you go..."

Before he could finish speaking, Robin grabbed Jerome's hair and smashed his head against the ground! With a muffled “Bang!”

Jerome was screaming terribly.

Where could this possibly end.

If it hadn't been for Roderick begging Robin to spare them, these beasts would have been dead long ago. Robin was too lazy to waste words on such a lousy person.

In his eyes, every extra minute this beast lived was a waste of resources.

He didn't care about Jerome's life or death at all. He still held Jerome's hair, repeatedly slamming it against the hard ground. Jerome, his face covered in blood, finally couldn't hold on any longer.

“Big Brother, I dare not defy your demands anymore, I will immediately go and beg for Roderick's forgiveness.” Robin finally let go of his hair, pulled out a tissue, wiped it, and threw it on his face.

“Immediately, right now, I don't have time to mess around with you!”

Jerome nodded his head like pounding garlic, “Yes, big brother, right away, right away...”

A few of his subordinates carried him to Roderick, kneeling and

Roderick sighed, “You guys go ahead.”

“Get out!” Robin waved his hand.

Only after receiving Robin's message, Jerome was hurriedly carried away by a few of his subordinates.

A few waiters from Dreamland Bar gratefully approached Robin, "Thank you, big brother!"

Robin gave a nonchalant smile, patted Roderick's shoulder, "Go ahead. Roderick, we haven't seen each other for a long time, you should have something to tell me."

Roderick was torn, "Robin, I was at work..." "No worries." Robin gave a nonchalant smile, pointing at a few waiters, "They will help you."

Roderick gave a bitter smile and nodded, "Let's go, Robin. I really didn't expect to see you in Farmere."

Robin looked at him, "That year, when you retired, you must have brought back quite a lot of money. What on earth happened to you to end up like this?"

Roderick furrowed his brow, his eyes filled with exhaustion..

He knew, if there was nothing to worry about.

With Roderick's skills, he would have killed all the drug dealers in Farmere's Londratown.

Nor would I be humiliated by trash like Jerome.

Upon entering the bar, Robin glanced at all the bar staff, who were no longer the familiar faces from seven years ago. Roderick ordered some drinks and led Robin to a quieter booth on the east side of the bar hall.

“Robin, were you still working as a mercenary*?”

Robin took the wine glass from Roderick. “No more work, there’s nothing urgent for now. Let’s talk about you instead.” Roderick sighed, “That year, after returning from Bronia, | had intended to lead a normal life with my mother and sister.”

Roderick watched this scene, his hand holding the wine glass paused mid-air.

Robin could see the inner turmoil of this former soldier king of Bronia.

After a brief hesitation, Roderick eventually stood up.

Robin rose with him, patting his shoulder, "I'll handle this matter."

"Robin, you...?" Roderick shook his head.

"Robin, you just arrived at Londratown in Farmere, better keep a low profile."

"This area seemed calm, but in fact, the water was very deep."

"I didn't want you to get involved, to drag you down with me."

"Robin, you should leave here. I'll handle my own affairs, I have already..."

Robin removed Roderick's hand, "I have to handle this matter."

Roderick still wanted to stop it.

A glint of coldness flashed in Robin's eyes, "One of the girls is my sister, Chelsea," Roderick paused, his eyes filled with confusion.

"Seven years ago, I lived in Farmere," Robin picked up the wet wipe on the table and wiped his hands, shrugging his shoulders. [e]

"Moreover, I had also worked at this Dreamland Bar."

"But..." Roderick struggled, "Robin, let me do it."

"These people weren't just ordinary thugs, they had the backing of the Jackal Gang from Londratown." "Did you see that short and fat man?"

"His name was Julio, an underling of Rufus Haynes, the leader of the Jackal Gang. If you messed with him, you'd be dealing with the trash of the Jackal Gang..."

“There’s nothing to worry about Julio Rios, just the Jackal Gang.” Robin said, walking towards Chelsea and her group.

Roderick furrowed his brows, advising. “Behind the Jackal Gang is the Barker family, the largest financial group in Londratown, which means the Jackal Gang is working for the Barker family.”

“The Barker family?” Robin seemed somewhat familiar with this term. In those years, it was rumored that Dianna might have been the young lady of the Barker family.

At that moment, Chelsea was still being bothered by Julio and his group, leaving him no time to think further. He quickly walked over.

“I didn’t care about any Jackal Gang or the Barker family, Chelsea was my sister. If she was harassed by a beast like Julio, I had to step in.”

“If Jackal Gang were to be ungrateful, we could simply annihilate them. It’s just a small Jackal Gang meeting after all.” Roderick watched Robin’s retreating figure, a glimmer of relief flashing in his eyes,

Julio slapped Robyn across the face, pointing at her and Chelsea, cursing, “Damn it, how dare you ruin my mood, get out!” Several of Jackal Gang’s henchmen immediately dragged them towards the second floor.

Robyn struggled with anger and said, “In broad daylight, how dare you behave so outrageously? Where is the hotel security? Where are you all hiding?”

“I told you, I was a flight attendant for Hashville Airlines in Londraland...”

Julio paused slightly, then burst into hearty laughter.

In this situation, he didn’t know how to continue reminiscing with Robin.

“Robin, let him go. I don’t want you getting involved in this kind of thing as soon as you’re back,”

By this time, Julio had regained his senses and was desperately trying to get up from the ground. However, breaking free from under Robin's feet was not an easy task.

"Who do you think you are, let go of me!"

"I was a member of Jackal Gang led by Rufus!"

"You hit me, you wouldn't have thought of leaving Dreamland Bar alive today!"

Robin ignored him, applying a slight pressure with his foot.

Ahorrific scream echoed through the silent bar

Several of Julio's ribs were broken.

Robin continued to Drew, "Before I came, I originally thought that Dreamland Bar was long gone." "Didn't expect to still be in Londratown, and moreover, to see you again."

Julio went mad in agony

This attitude of Robin's, it's as if he didn't even take him and Jacket Gang into consideration at all! Having followed Rufus for so many years, when have I ever suffered such humiliation?!

How preposterous!

After a brief moment of shock, the henchmen of Jackal Gang quickly surrounded Robin, short knives in hand. Drew urged in terror, "Robin, you need to leave immediately, I'll handle this here..."

Robin shrugged, indifferent, "No big deal, just a few greenhorns A good beating will calm them down." At that moment, the henchmen of Jackal Gang had already rushed up to the front.

While catching up with Drew, Robin simultaneously knocked down all the thugs who rushed towards him, one by one. In a short while, the bar was littered with Jackal Gang's beaten henchmen.

Julio was still howling in pain at Robin's feet.

Seeing Robin's skills, the previously arrogant demeanor weakened a lot.

Jerome and the others, who had always been hiding behind, had previously experienced Robin's methods. —

Back then, upon seeing Robin even fighting Julio, one of Rufus's men, he immediately added fuel to the fire and shouted, "Brother Dong, quickly call Mr. Haynes!"

Robin let go of Julio, step by step walked towards Jerome: "It seems you have a bad memory!" "Don't...don't come any closer!" Jerome retreated in fear towards the back of the crowd.

"I told you, if Mr. Haynes knew you hit his man, you would have died here today!"

Drew pulled Robin aside, whispering, "Robin, let's call it quits. Your sister and the others are fine, let's drop this matter." "Forget it?" Julio clutched his chest in pain, gritting his teeth.

"You beat me up like this, I will make sure all of you die here!"

"Your Dreamland Bar was damn well waiting to be shut down!"

Jerome let out a terrible scream, his face covered in blood as he fell to the ground

The bar hall suddenly fell silent.

Julio had finished his phone call.

Everyone understood what kind of scene it would be here after Rufus arrived

Jackal Gang was a cancerous tumor of Londratown in Parmere

Relying on the backing of the Parker family, he had raised thousands of thugs over the years.

He secretly colluded with the police, dealing drugs, engaging in prostitution, kidnapping, extorting protection money, committing murder and arson. He was utterly lawless.

Whoever provoked them, it was considered over

Everyone looked at Robin with sympathy

Chelsea, also scared, pulled Robin, saying, "Robin, let's hurry up and leave, you can't afford to mess with that Rufus."

Robin gave a gentle smile, "It's okay, Chelsea. You and Marissa will never be at peace until the problem is completely resolved."

Seeing Robin's indifferent attitude, Robyn said coldly, "Do you think you can do whatever you want here just because that old woman is backing you up?"

"Did you know, what you're doing could bring disaster to Chelsea and Dreamland Bar!" "Solve the problem completely? You sure talk big!"

"Was that woman your confidence?"

"Robyn!" Chelsea interjected, "How could you say such a thing about Robin!"

Robin twitched his eyelids.

Looking at Robyn's indignant expression.

Didn't understand why this woman was so outraged about that matter with Sarah. Robin ignored her and continued to talk with Drew about the things from those years. Robyn was extremely annoyed when she saw Robin ignoring her.

"Robin, what did you mean?"

"Did you think that by doing this, I would think highly of you?"

"Chelsea, let's go!"

Chelsea shook her head, "Robyn, I'd rather stay here with Robin..."

"Leave? The person who dared to hit my Jackal Gang thinks they can just walk away? What are they thinking!" Aman in his thirties, surrounded by a group of burly henchmen, Rufus surprisingly did not give Robin a hard time.

But punished his own subordinate Julio?

“Julio, you damn dog, are you blind? You dared to mess with Mr. Bruce’s sister, how many lives do you think you have?” Rufus clapped his hands, kicked the still wailing Julio, and scolded him.

“Go apologize to Mr. Bruce and your sister immediately!”

“If you can’t satisfy Mr. Bruce, I’ll slaughter you immediately!”

Julio was confused for quite a while.

Despite being puzzled by Rufus's strange behavior.

However, at that time, there was no time to worry about so much.

Bearing the intense pain, he fell to his knees without uttering a word.

He kept bowing his head towards Robin, Chelsea, and Robyn.

"I was wrong, I was a beast! Please spare me..."

Chelsea and Robyn stared at the incredible scene before them, terrified and at a loss for what to do.

Had these villainous Jackal Gang, Rufus and Julio, ever been so humiliated and demeaned by anyone before? Robin beat them up.

Did Rufus actually make Julio kowtow and beg for mercy?

Robyn looked up at the indifferent Robin.

In the astonished gaze, a hint of contempt was raised once again.

In Farmere, it was possible to make the Jackal Gang bow down to these villains.

Aside from the Rogelio family, no one could have done it!

"Mr. Bruce, is this acceptable?" Rufus discarded the blood-stained dagger.

Robin gave a nonchalant smile, "Let's put an end to this matter!"

Rufus burst into laughter after hearing Robin's words.

"Good, Mr. Bruce was really cool!"

"Today, I will cover all your expenses at Dreamland Bar. I have some matters to attend to, so I'll leave first..." "Wait a minute! Our matter isn't over yet!" The smile on Robin's face suddenly disappeared.

Rufus slowly turned around, forcing a smile, "Mr. Bruce, what do you mean?"

Robyn immediately snapped, "Robin, are you ever going to stop?"

"They had already left, why did you have to unnecessarily stop them? Were you just looking for excitement?" Robin didn't answer Robyn's question, pulled out a chair, and sat down.

"Rufus, was it your Jackal Gang who forced Roderick's sister Charisse to take drugs, leading to her death?" As soon as these words were spoken, the smile on Rufus's face froze instantly.

"Mr. Bruce, are you implying that you insist on being my enemy today?" Rufus said grimly, a sinister twitch at the corner of his mouth.

Seeing this, Robyn angrily said, "Robin, do you always have to make a big scene to show off your personal heroism?" Chapter 266 Beg for Forgiveness

"I told you, I don't care!"

"Get lost!" Robin's face turned cold, "What I do is none of your business, why are you nagging me?"

"You!" Robyn stomped her foot in annoyance, "Don't think having a woman backing you up..."

Robin glanced at her in annoyance, then got up and walked towards Rufus.

"Rufus, I was asking you a question, answer me!"

The corner of Rufus's mouth twitched, "Robin, do you really think I, Jackal Gang, would be afraid of you?"

Robin bypassed Robyn, repeating coldly, "I'll ask you again, was it you guys who did the thing with Charisse?!"

"Robin. I've given you enough respect, don't push your luck!" As Rufus's words fell, dozens of henchmen from the Jackal Gang immediately surrounded Robin with their daggers.

Roderick finally understood why Robin had been so ruthless from the start in dealing with Julio's matter.

That was to provoke the Jackal Gang's president, Rufus, to interrogate Charisse Gomez about the truth of drug use and death! "Robin, I'll handle Charisse's matter myself, you better leave here..."

Robin patted Roderick's shoulder, coldly looking at Rufus: "Stop bullshitting, answer my question!"

Rufus hesitated for quite a while.

He then glanced at the dozens of subordinates from the Jackal Gang beside him, a cold light suddenly flashing in his eyes.

"Hehe, I told you! It's Charisse's own fault for not knowing what's good for her and choosing to call the police!" He then pointed at Roderick and sneered.

"And this mercenary, who prided himself on dominating the Bronial battlefield, actually messed up our Jackal Gang's business with those ignorant police!"

"I was in the business of selling unique items, it's none of your damn business!"

"Cut off my Jackal Gang's source of income, if I don't mess with you, Roderick and Charisse, who else?!"

"Since you've cut off my source of income, we'll have to handle this. according to the rules of the underworld!" At that moment, a murderous glint flashed in Roderick's eyes.

He had confirmed that his sister Charisse was indeed killed by Rufus.

"Rufus, you scum!"

"Hahaha..." Rufus burst into wild laughter.

"Roderick, even if you are extraordinarily skilled, you are still just one person!"

“My Jackal Gang had thousands of disciples, and even the police. secretly supported him. How could you mess with me?” “If I wanted to destroy you, I could have done it in a minute! Hahaha...”

Rufus had said up to this point, pointed at Robin, and arrogantly declared, “Even if you and him can fight well together, you're still mere mortals!”

“I just couldn't believe that I could beat this!”

Chapter 267 You Are a Devil!

The reason Rufus dared to provoke Robin and Roderick so brazenly was because...

It was because of his support, four of Jackal Gang's disciples, armed with assault rifles, had already arrived to guard the house. Moreover, his backers, the police and the Barker family's people, were already on their way.

Even if Roderick and Robin were extremely capable..

He also didn't dare to cause in Farmer's Londratown.

If Robin and Roderick had dared to make a bigger commotion, it would have inevitably alarmed the upper echelons of Odrar. Once the Odrarian military intervened.

The behavior of Roderick and Robin was more than just typical grudges in the martial arts world.

It was because of these that Rufus dared to be so arrogant.

Provoking him deliberately with the matter of Charisse's death, infuriating him.

Just took advantage of the power of the Odrarian police to eliminate Roderick, to nip the problem in the bud. Seeing that Roderick was already enraged, Rufus continued to use.

"Come and kill me! Once you've killed me, your half-dead mother should join you in hell, hahaha..." Rufus said this, laughing so hard that he was bending over backwards.

Roderick was shaking all over, his cold eyes filled with bloodshot veins.

If he were on the battlefield, he could have ruthlessly beaten this beast to a pulp with a single punch, avenging his sister! Even if all of Jackal Gang's disciples were present, he was not afraid.

However, after settling the scores with pleasure, his own elderly mother also reached the end of her life. Just as Roderick was hesitating.

A residual image flashed before my eyes.

Robin shot out like a missile, phantom-like, colliding with Rufus on the other side.

"Bang!"

Rufus, in the midst of hysterical laughter, was knocked heavily to the ground.

Before he could react, Robin had kicked him off the ground and pinned him against a pillar in the bar hall. "It was you who sought death, so be it!"

Robin did not immediately respond to him.

Instead, he landed punch after punch on Rufus's body.

"Bang! Bang! Bang!"

With the dull thud of fists hitting the body, it came over and over again.

Inside Rufus, the sound of bones shattering and breaking echoed again and again.

Robin wanted to break all the bones in this beast's body.

Finally died in agony from unbearable pain!

Rufus was beaten by Robin without the ability to fight back, yet none of his followers dared to step forward to stop it.

The four gunmen by his side were also intimidated by Robin's terrifying aura.

For a moment, I actually forgot my own responsibilities.

Before they could regain their senses.

The assault rifle in his hand was magically disassembled into a pile of scattered parts by Robin..

Robin left an assault rifle, the muzzle pressed against Rufus's head.

Rufus, however, was laughing wildly with a face smeared with blood.

"The police and my family will be here soon, if you dare, just kill me!"

"Hehe, kill me, none of you will survive!"

“With a ‘click’!”

The sound of a rifle’s firing pin hitting an empty chamber elicited a gasp from within the bar.

Rufus immediately peed all over the floor.

He hadn't expected that Robin would really dare to shoot him!

Robin shrugged, jokingly saying. “Oh, forgot to load the bullets!”

Next, he quickly replaced it with a full magazine.

Once again, the gun barrel was pressed against Rufus’s head.

This time. Rufus was no longer as arrogant as before.

“Robin. if you killed me, you and your sister’s family would all die!”

“Really?” Robin reopened the safety, “Since we're all going to die, you might as well go first!”.

“Ah! You can’t shoot!” Rufus screamed wildly.

Meanwhile, Roderick grabbed his wrist, “Robin, don’t start a fight here!”

Robin understood Roderick’s meaning.

It was to tell him not to take action in this situation.

Otherwise, it would have provoked the intervention of the Farmere military.

Chapter 268 His Cruelty After the gunshot, Dreamland Bar fell into a deathly silence. Robin's ruthless methods left everyone in shock!

No one had expected that Robin would dare to strike without. considering any consequences, facing the devil-like figure of Londratown.

Not only did it blow up Rufus’s limbs.

He even ruthlessly smashed Rufus’s eggs.

Let this utterly wicked demon be completely crippled!

Even if Rufus could have been lucky enough to survive.

In this way, it was more painful than being alive.

For such scum and beasts, Robin wanted them to wish they were dead.

If a bullet had ended his life, it would have been too easy for such trash.

Not far away, Robyn watched this scene, trembling with fear all over her body. She never imagined that Robin's methods could be so ruthless.

Such reckless fighting had completely offended the people of Jackal Gang.

She took a step forward, glaring at Robin in anger, "I didn't expect you to be so cruel!"

"You hit them, offended Jackal Gang, and that woman had to clean up your mess." "But, have you thought about it?"

"What kind of consequences would Dreamland Bar and Chelsea face?"

"They would face retaliation from the Jackal Gang because of your recklessness!"

Chelsea immediately pulled her, "Robyn, how could you say that? The people Jackal Gang knows are all beasts, Robin did nothing wrong..."

"Hehe, Chelsea, have you thought about the consequences? What about you and Marissa?" Robyn said angrily. "He had the protection of the woman who kept him, but who would be there for you and Marissa?" "Would the people who brutally beat Rufus, and the forces behind them, simply let things go?" Robin slightly furrowed his brow, slowly turning his gaze towards Robyn's angry face.

"Cruel?" Robin gave a cold laugh, "Isn't Charisse's death considered. cruel?"

"You!" Robyn sneered, shaking her head. "Who do you think you are?"

Robin turned around expressionlessly, no longer paying attention.

After a fierce struggle, Roderick sighed helplessly.

This disaster was originally just his own business, but Robin eventually got involved.

Chapter 268 His Cruelty

This was unexpected, yet expected.

Robin had experienced life and death on the battlefield with him that year.

Only then did he seriously injure Rufus, he could take on Jackal Gang alone, to avenge Charisse. Everything Robin did was for his Roderick!

This was a matter of life and death!

He decided not to endure in silence any longer.

"However, | had a bit of a connection with Sheriff Rodney Beck of Farmere."

"| would explain the situation here to him..."

The siren wailed its arrival.

Atall, hefty police officer, leading a dozen or so armed policemen, stormed into the bar.

Everyone in the bar quickly backed off.

Over a dozen police officers pointed their guns at Robin, "Drop the gun, hands on your head!" Robin threw down the assault rifle.

However, he did not follow the police's reprimand, instead he took out a wet wipe and wiped his hands. Seeing this scene, Roderick had also made up his mind.

As soon as Robin took action, he would not hesitate to go on a killing spree.

The sheriff who led the team was Rodney from Londratown Police Station.

Rodney immediately ran to Rufus, "Mr. Haynes, are, are you okay?"

At that moment, Rufus, who had regained consciousness, was screaming madly, "Sheriff Lu, arrest him, | want to cut him into a thousand pieces!"

Rodney looked up at Robin, "Mr. Haynes, rest assured, | will definitely

He then pointed to the accompanying doctor, "Quickly help Mr. Haynes stop the bleeding!"

Rodney stood up and walked over to Robin, "You thug, how dare you shoot and kill someone in broad daylight!" "Today, no matter how powerful your background is, even if the President comes, | will bring you to justice!"

He immediately pointed to the dozen or so armed police officers behind him: "This guy has a tendency for violent terrorism, take him back to the police station immediately! If he resists, shoot him on the spot!"

Robin glanced at Rodney, a hint of coldness flashing in his eyes.

These bastards were dressed in police uniforms, but they were no different from Rufus.

Even worse than Rufus and his group.

Since we've bumped into each other, let's just finish this off!

He neatly folded the wet wipe and placed it on the booth.

Roderick tugged at him, stepping forward and saying, "Superintendent Beck, this has nothing to do with him, I was the one who shot Rufus."

"I found out that it was that bastard Rufus who killed my sister, and in my anger, I hit him."

"If you want to arrest someone, arrest me!"

Chapter 269 Ms. Barker

A dusk seven years ago.

On the ancient Blueberry Street in Londratown, the golden sunset was spread out.

Robin clearly remembered, the sunset that day was warm and beautiful.

This was his first day working at Dreamland Bar.

A girl of about thirteen or fourteen years old entered his line of sight.

The girl stood hesitating in front of the bar, not going in for a long time.

Under the gentle sunset, the girl stood tall and graceful, like a fairy who seemed to have walked out of a wonderland. A floral patterned long dress, a touch of fresh and pure short hair, a delicate and fair complexion.

The scenery of the gentle breeze, the setting sun, and the ancient street was frozen into a stunningly beautiful picture. Such a pure aura, without a trace of worldly hustle and bustle, transcendent and refined, too sacred to be disturbed. However, this serene and clear aesthetic scene was quickly ruined by a few annoying pieces of trash. Several thugs were pushing the girl, trying to drag her into a private room on the second floor of the bar. 1400 D the thugs

From that day on, she stayed at the Dreamland Bar with Robin.

Back then, Drew was still a junior manager at the bar.

Kind-hearted Drew thought Dianna was an orphan.

Or perhaps a young lady with amnesia.

Ran away from home, lost the way back.

So, he asked the boss to prepare a guest room for Dianna.

Just like that, Dianna stayed at the Dreamland Bar for three months.

During those times, Dianna was with Robin every day, inseparable.

For the first few days, Dianna simply followed Robin closely, running back and forth in silence.

When Robin was busy, she helped him with his work.

When Robin stopped to rest, she sat across from him, quietly watching him with her hands propping up her cheeks. Later on, Dianna began to talk more and a smile appeared on her face.

Later on, Dianna followed behind Robin, fluttering around the Dreamland Bar like a beautiful, happy butterfly. [e)

Became a beautiful sight within Dreamland Bar.

It added a touch of freshness and joy to the originally dull work. environment.

It's just that the good times were always too short.

Robin's young and naive heart, which had just begun to blossom with the joy of youth, vanished into thin air. That evening, it was drizzling.

Robin was busy backstage.

Drew told Robin that Dianna was leaving.

Robin didn't know what had happened.

Thought it was those thugs bothering Dianna again.

He didn't say a word, just grabbed a fruit knife and was about to rush out.

Drew held him back, saying with some reluctance, "Maybe her family has come to pick her up..."

"Her family?" Robin didn't understand what Drew meant. "Isn't Dianna an orphan?"

Drew shook his head, "Robin, you and she may not be from the same world."

Robin understood Drew's intention and followed him to the front of the bar.

By this time, Dianna had already left the bar and gotten into a Mercedes.

Chapter 269 Ms Barker

Robin wanted to rush up and say a few words to Dianna, but was stopped by two men.

On that drizzly dusk of the day, Dianna didn't say a word.

Just like he had never been here before, he left cleanly, without leaving a trace.

Once gone, it was seven years of time.

Later, Robin followed the reappeared Enzo, leaving Farmere, and embarked on a path of licking blood off the knife's edge. Since then, Dianna was never seen again.

Over the years, although I would occasionally remember Dreamland. Bar, that refreshingly unique girl. However, those past times, would no longer touch his heart.

As time passed.

Some people I've met and some things I've experienced are destined to gradually fade away.

Even if the past time was so wonderful, it could only be forever sealed in the memory of that year and that month. Robin had thought that after embarking on this path, he would never cross paths with Dianna again in his lifetime. Unexpectedly, we met again seven years later.

Moreover, it was such an inappropriate occasion.

Everyone in the bar turned towards the door, drawn by the woman's enchanting voice.

Astunning, unparalleled image hit me in the face.

Dianna walked in, surrounded by a group of bodyguards, as if no one else was there.

Superintendent Beck had originally been disturbed in his law enforcement by this woman's voice and was about to scold her. However, the furious words had not yet spewed out, when they were forcefully swallowed back down. Rodney shuddered all over, feeling relieved that he hadn't sworn out loud.

Otherwise, angering this Ms. Barker was not a good thing.

"Hello, Ms. Barker..." Rodney respectfully greeted as he approached.

Dianna passed by him, feigning ignorance, and headed straight for the bar.

Drew recognized the newcomer, a spark of surprise flashing in his eyes. With Dianna's appearance, Robin was able to extricate himself from this crisis.

After all, Robin had saved Dianna back then.

Moreover, in such a blooming age, both of them had developed a vague and immature emotion.

Even though they later had no chance to continue that time which was like a flower.

Robyn asked in a low voice, "Who is this woman? She seems to have a powerful background?"

Chapter 270 You Disappoint Me

Did Ms. Barker know Robin?

Looking at the scene before him, Rodney was quite shocked.

Judging by the tone, it seemed like the two people had known each other for a long time. If that was the case, the matter today would have been complicated.

Rodney was quickly weighing the pros and cons of various. relationships in his mind. Looking again at Rufus on the wheelchair, wrapped up like a dumpling.

He understood, this Jackal Gang who was the gang leader was completely ruined.

Even if he survived, he could no longer be the boss of the Jackal Gang.

The Barker family would not have expected a disabled person to work for him.

In this way, the matter of Robin shooting and seriously injuring Rufus had to depend on the attitude of the Barker family. Dianna's indifferent and distant greeting sobered Robin up a lot.

Just a polite, indifferent smile. "Life is, after all, an accident."

Dianna awkwardly withdrew her hand, raising her eyes to scrutinize Robin in front of her. Looking at his flippant demeanor, a flash of annoyance and contempt quickly passed through her eyes.

"I just returned from studying abroad in Potrya to Farmere." Dianna looked at Robin again. "What have you been doing all these years?"

Robin shrugged, "Well, I didn't do anything significant, just hung around Bronia for a few years."

The disdain in Dianna's eyes deepened. "How have you become like this after not seeing you for years!" "Really? Is it that annoying?" Robin asked with a playful smile, glancing at Drew beside him.

Dianna shook her head and hummed lightly, looking up at Drew.

Drew lowered his head. the original joy in his eyes instantly cooled down.

unfamiliar.

At that moment, she was very heartbroken.

Because she clearly saw a flash of loss and sorrow in Robin's eyes.

"Ms. Barker, did you know him?"

Rufus, wrapped in bandages all over his body, was wheeled in front of Dianna by a few of his subordinates. Dianna said indifferently. "An acquaintance from seven years ago."

Drew's brow furrowed abruptly.

He looked up at the aloof Dianna, a bitter smile in his heart.

She actually said Robin was an acquaintance of hers from seven years ago?

Such words made him feel heartbroken.

Drew instinctively looked at Robin.

He remembered those years, Robin and Dianna were indeed the golden boy and jade girl of their Dreamland Bar. Brought a lot of joy to the colleagues and customers of Dreamland Bar.

Many people silently wished that they could accompany each other for a lifetime.

Even for various reasons, we couldn't become lifelong partners.

It wouldn't have been so indifferent as to be just an acquaintance!

Robin also laughed at himself.

Chapter 270 You Disappoint M

Those ruthless years indeed could change many things.

Make the sincere more sincere, make the hypocritical more hypocritical.

"Ms. Barker, this is the man who hurt me today and openly provoked the Jackal Gang." Rufus warned, surprised that Dianna knew Robin.

"I was already aware of this matter." Dianna nodded, subconsciously glancing at a few of Rufus's wounds. Rufus continued, "Ms. Barker, he didn't just hurt my limbs, he also shattered my testicles! I'm useless now! I'm going to kill him!" Dianna frowned in annoyance, "I understand, don't worry, the Barker family will give you justice. You can go rest now."

After speaking. Dianna turned to Robin, shaking her head and said, "Robin, I remember you used to be a very positive and kind person."

"Seven years apart, how could you have become so ruthless!"

"Not only did you shoot Mr. Haynes, you shattered his manhood, and seriously injured Julio and Jerome!"

"Robin, this meeting, you've disappointed me greatly."

"Did you know who Rufus and his people were?"

"He was the president of the Jackal Gang, even the mayor of Farmere had to give them some respect."

"You seriously injured their president, Rufus, like this. What am I supposed to say about you!"

"If I hadn't arrived in time, you would have been taken away by the police long ago!"

Chapter 270 You Disappoint Me

"Robin, you should go. But, I must hand over that Roderick to Jackal Gang!"

Upon hearing this, Roderick stepped forward and said, "Robin, you should go. Once you leave Farmere, don't come back." Robin laughed. "Farmere has so many good friends, and he hasn't even had a drink. How can he just leave like this? Don't you think so, Drew?"

Drew sighed helplessly. "Robin, Roderick is right, you should go. Ms. Barker has already said..."

Robin gave a cold laugh. "Ms. Barker said so? Haha, what does she think is, telling me to leave and I just leave? I'm not used to that!" The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Dianna hadn't expected Robin to say such words, a cold glint flashed in her eyes.

The two bodyguards behind her stepped forward.

"You bastard, how could you talk to Ms. Barker like that?"

"Insult me? Who do you think you are! I'll slap you to death!" Robin said, half-smiling, as he slapped across. Two fierce bodyguards were instantly thrown out.

"Robin, how...how can you be so uncultured!" Dianna looked at Robin, angrily said.

"Talk about manners with the person who insulted me?" Robin gave a cold laugh.

"Seven years ago, when a group of thugs were humiliating you, why didn't you let me talk to them about manners?" Chapter 270 You Disappoint Me

“You!” Dianna’s lips trembled with anger, but she eventually calmed down.

“Alright, Robin, you may go. Consider it as me repaying the favor from seven years ago.”

Robin sneered. “Seven years ago, I don’t remember. But still, thank you for your kindness.”

“I wouldn’t leave until I had resolved Charisse’s issue today,”

“Robin, how could you be so unreasonable!” Dianna was somewhat agitated.

“Charisse’s case was closed a long time ago, do you really think you have the ability to stand up for such a thing?” “If you didn’t cherish the opportunity I gave you, you would regret it!

At this point, Dianna saw that Robin remained unmoved.

She let out a long sigh.

“Robin. I didn’t know what your relationship was with Roderick.”

“I could discuss with them, to let Roderick go with you.”

“However, you had to kneel down and apologize to Mr. Haynes. I would handle the rest.”

Chapter 271 Do You Enjoy Kneeling So Much?

The expressions on Roderick and Drew's faces instantly turned cold.

Drew originally still had some expectations for Dianna.

In that instant, it was completely gone!

The beautiful fairy tale of the golden boys and girls in the bar of yesteryears, has now become a scar of time. He never imagined that Dianna would say such a thing to Robin.

Seeing Robin's attitude, Dianna shook her head in frustration, "Robin, you're not the thirteen or fourteen-year-old boy you once were. You should handle problems rationally like a real man."

"This was not a society where one could get by with fists, it depended on a person's overall strength." "Did you know what comprehensive strength of a person is?"

"If you couldn't figure these out, the direction of your efforts would be seriously off track, and the way you think about solving problems would be wrong."

"If your thinking was wrong, then your life direction was also wrong."

Speaking to this point. Dianna glanced at the expressionless Robin and let out a long sigh.

"Alright, for the sake of our acquaintance back then, I'll say a few more words."

"The so-called comprehensive strength of a person is not about how much personal power you have, but about your background, money, status, and the circle of connections you have." "These social resources were your true strength, did you understand?"

Robyn blurted out excitedly. "Yes, yes, yes, Ms. Barker is absolutely right!"

Only then did Dianna notice Robyn by her side, a hint of annoyance flashing in her eyes. "Did I ask for your opinion?" Robyn immediately said, "I'm sorry,

Ms. Barker, | was wrong! | said it because of your words, | was momentarily excited..." A hint of triumph rose in Dianna's eyes as she turned back to Robin again.

"Robin, | know you're from the lower class, and it's hard for you to understand the lifestyle and logic of the upper class. | understand this, and | sympathize with you."

"Think about it, what would you have done if | hadn't arrived in time?"

"Could you, with your strength alone, confront Jackal Gang, the police of Farmere, or even higher powers?" "It was absolutely impossible!"

"You would lose your life prematurely due to your stubbornness, which is something | didn't want to see." "After all, you and | once knew each other."

"Robin, a real man knows when to yield. What's the big deal if | asked you to kneel and apologize to Rufus, Wolf and their brothers?"

"Don't believe those nonsense about men having gold under their knees."

"Being alive was the most important thing."

"No matter what social class you belonged to, only being alive truly mattered."

"After this matter. | could introduce you to some high-end connections."

"If you cherished them well and won their hearts, the trajectory of your life would have changed."

"Even if you're not very insightful, as long as you serve them well, you could at least reach the middle class. Then, you wouldn't have to mingle with them at the bottom of society anymore."

"Robin, it was out of the affection | had seven years ago that | spoke to you with such patience."

“Stop being stubborn, go kneel down and apologize to Rufus and Jackal Gang, then this matter will be over.” “Your friend Roderick, he wouldn't be bothered by the people who know Jackal Gang anymore.”

After speaking, Dianna arrogantly glanced at the few people in the bar.

The vast Dreamland Bar was completely silent.

Robyn nodded in admiration, turning to Robin: “Ms. Barker spoke so well! Why don't you hurry up and kneel down to apologize to Mr. Haynes!”

Robin flicked his eyelids, “Do you enjoy kneeling so much?”

Chelsea tugged at Robyn, exclaiming angrily, “How could you say such a thing?”

“Did you forget how Jackal Gang and those beasts used to bully us?!”

“Robin would absolutely never believe that trashy woman's words, let alone kneel before them!” Ahint of displeasure rose in Dianna's eyes, “Who are you?”

Chelsea looked up at Dianna and said, “I am his sister! | despise you! No matter how much money or status you have, you are not worthy of Robin!”

Robin chuckled softly, affectionately ruffling Chelsea's hair.

“Outrageous!” Dianna's two bodyguards stepped forward, ready to lay hands on Chelsea.

Robin pulled Chelsea to his side, giving a cold smirk, “Think clearly before you act!”

“Chelsea was my sister, anyone who dared to hurt a hair on her head, | would kill him!”

“Robin!” Tears swirled in Chelsea's eyes as she clung tightly to Robin's chest.

Seven years ago, Robin would say this sentence to those bullies who dared to pick on her.

Dianna's eyes lit up.

Seven years ago, during that golden dusk, Robin had once said the same words to her!

"Get out, all of you!" Dianna barked at the bodyguards.

"But, what was the outcome?"

"Why did you have to make things so bad? Couldn't it have been over if you just lowered your head?" Robin looked up at Dianna's contemptuous expression and gave a cold laugh.

"The Jackal Gang forced Roderick's sister, Charisse, to take drugs. under the coercion of a bunch of bastards, and Rufus raped Charisse."

"These beasts, they took turns violating Charisse."

"This was not enough, in the end, he brutally killed her!"

"You're a woman too, didn't you have any compassion for what Charisse went through?"

"You asked me to kneel and apologize to these beasts who have lost their humanity, in exchange for the condition of me and Roderick leaving here!"

"Is this the logic of the upper class people you've been so proudly talking about?"

Dianna listened to Robin's words without expression, indifferently saying, "Robin, what you should be considering now is how to leave here alive with your friend Roderick."

"Instead of obsessing over those little things that had already passed."

"I didn't know what you've been through all these years."

"How could you have turned into such a stubborn character."

"I just wanted to tell you an eternal truth!"

"To become a hero who protects others, one must have sufficient strength."

"Without status, without background, without identity, money and connections, you couldn't do anything!" Otherwise, you would not only fail to help others, but also drag yourself into an abyss.

Chapter 272 Rufus Is Killed

Upon hearing Dianna’s words, Roderick violently shuddered.

In that pair of wooden eyes, a fierce murderous intent filled instantly.

“Robin, you should go. This matter has nothing to do with you. If possible, please take care of my mother for me.” Dianna became alert in an instant, subconsciously taking a step back.

A group of bodyguards and Jackal Gang, along with a bunch of fighters, also quickly prepared for combat.

For a moment, Dreamland Bar was filled with a strong aura of desolation.

Rodney immediately ordered all the police to point their guns at Roderick.

In a panic. Drew pulled Roderick, whispering. “Don’t be impulsive, Roderick...”

Robin pulled out a wet wipe and cleaned his hands, then made a face at Roderick, “You take care of your own mother, | don’t have the time!”

Roderick looked at the wet cloth in Robin’s hand, understanding his intention, “Robin, you...” Robin gave a nonchalant smile, “I understood what Ms. Barker said!”

“So this was the meaning of their high society’s logic of life: survival of the fittest, the law of the jungle.” “Being powerful allowed one to do as they pleased, while being kind

“Roderick, | really liked the use of this logic in today’s situation,”

Dianna’s originally tense expression relaxed.

Aradiant smile bloomed on that exquisite face.

“Robin, you finally came to your senses.”

Then, he signaled Rodney and the rest of the police to put down their guns.

Turning to Rufus, he said, “Mr. Haynes, for your injury, the Barker family will spare no effort to invite the world’s top medical experts to treat you.”

“Even your place could have all the functions fully repaired.”

“Robin knelt down to apologize to you, let's put an end to this matter today.”

Rufus nodded reluctantly, “Since Ms. Barker has asked, | suppose I'll agree, albeit reluctantly.”

Then, provocatively pointing at Robin, “I would never have accepted such treatment!”

“It was out of respect for Ms. Barker that | spared you.”

“Come on, kneel down and give me three kowtows,” he ordered.

Jackal Gang and his gang of thugs started laughing smugly.

Jerome and Julio immediately straightened up, pointing at Robin, “Come on, make sure to knock louder, hahaha...” Robin also started laughing and walked towards Rufus.

Dianna watched Robin approach step by step, her eyes gleaming with the excitement of a conqueror.

“Robin!” Roderick blocked his way.

Robin patted his shoulder and pushed Roderick away.

“Robin, you can’t do this!” Chelsea rushed to Robin’s side, pleading.

Robyn, on the other hand, was pulling Chelsea, “Don’t stop him, let him apologize quickly so we can go back.” Robin ruffled Chelsea’s hair, laughing, “Silly girl, who said I was going to apologize!”

“Since they all say that being weak is a crime, then, these scums deserve to die!”

As the words fell, Robin stomped a foot on the hard floor of the bar.

“Bam!”

With a muffled sound, all the scattered parts of the assault rifle on the ground leaped into Robin’s hands and were assembled in the blink of an eye. The cold muzzle of the gun was pressed against Rufus’s head.

“Puff!” Followed by a muffled bang.

A hole the size of a baby’s fist exploded in Rufus’s head!

At that moment, the wild smile on Rufus’s face had not yet faded.

He opened his mouth wide, his eyes filled with confusion, shock, and despair.

He never imagined that Robin would dare to kill him in front of the police and the Barker family.

He struggled with the desire for revenge.

But, there was no strength left.

The world in her eyes was becoming increasingly blurry, increasingly distant...

It was like falling into a bottomless abyss in the dark night, completely losing control, no longer having any perception. The smile on Dianna's face froze into a look of extreme shock.

She could never have imagined that, in less than one ten—thousandth of a second, Robin had actually shot and killed Rufus! Roderick shook his head helplessly, looking at Robin's retreating figure. "Ah! Robin, I've ended up dragging you down!" Just as Dianna and everyone else were taken aback.

Robin raised the assault rifle, aiming at Julio and Jerome.

Two gunshots rang out, blowing their skulls apart.

"Hands on your heads, kneel down!" Robin pointed the gun at the terrified henchmen of Jackal Gang.

In an instant, everyone in the bar hall knelt down.

Robin slowly pointed the gun at Dianna, flashing her a brilliant smile.

Dianna looked at Robin in shock, "You...you..."

Two gunshots rang out.

The two bodyguards by Dianna's side had their legs pierced by bullets.

Rodney and a group of police officers were stunned for a while before they reacted, immediately pointing their guns at Robin. Robin threw the rifle to Roderick.

Roderick took the rifle and pointed it directly at Rodney's head, "Drop all your weapons and kneel down with your hands on your head!”

The entire bar was filled with a strange, terrifying, and bloody atmosphere.

Rodney stared at the unbelievable scene before him, trembling all over with fear. He fell to his knees with a thud, crying out, “Don't kill me! | beg you...”

It took Dianna a while to recover from the shock: “Robin, you're too brutal!”

“Ferocious?” Robin laughed, shaking his head.

“Wasn't it you who told me, this is a world where the strong prey on the weak. where those with power can do as they please?” “| killed all of Rufus's beasts, because they were too weak! Was | wrong?”

“If there's anyone to blame, it's only their lack of strength. Once they're dead, they're dead. There's nothing to regret.” “Just as | crushed an ant, what's right or wrong about it?”

Ahint of astonishment flickered in Dianna's beautiful eyes!

Then, under the flickering dim light, she took another look at the graceful man in front of her.

A formidable power that would not tolerate humiliation radiated from his handsomeness.

What exactly had he experienced in these seven years?

Aman hurried in, leaned close to Dianna's ear and whispered, “Miss, there are no records found for this person.” Dianna hummed softly.

There were no records, which meant that Robin had achieved nothing in the past seven years!

Athug, who relied on a bit of fighting and killing to make a living. could never amount to anything in the end!

Chapter 273 Henrietta

Drew and others watched as all the special police from the city hall were deployed.

They knew that things had completely blown out of proportion today.

The man who was shouting at Robin and others was named Forrest.

Had been trained in the foreign royal special police force.

After returning to the country, he repeatedly distinguished himself in battle.

At that time, he was the captain of the SWAT team of the Farmere government.

The Special Police Force of the City Hall was directly under the Security Department of the Farmere government. The SWAT team consisted of 99 special forces members, all of whom were elite police officers from all over the country. Responsible for executing security tasks during major criminal incidents and special periods.

During the execution of special tasks, the SWAT team leader had the authority to order SWAT team members to shoot at dangerous individuals based on the situation at the scene.

At that moment, Forrest's words were not exaggerated at all.

If Robin and the others dared to resist arrest, they would not hesitate to shoot and kill, and no one could stop them. 1000%

Chelsea experienced such a terrifying scene for the first time.

She tugged at Robin's sleeve, trembling, "Robin, let's run away quickly."

Drew heard Chelsea's words and murmured in agreement, "You guys run from the back."

Robin laughed and said, "Why run?"

Roderick saw that Robin had no intention of leaving, and the gun in his hand was always pointed at Rodney's head. Forrest had met Roderick and knew he was a retired mercenary who had returned from overseas.

That was an operation to arrest the mastermind behind a major bombing case, and they happened to encounter Roderick, who had just returned from Bronia.

Roderick had casually assisted them in that one arrest operation.

"Roderick, put the gun down, | assure your safety!" Forrest said coldly.

Rodney immediately straightened up and snatched the assault rifle from Roderick's hands. Immediately, a foot kicked Roderick's body, "You thugs, I'm going to kill you right now!"

Forrest scolded, "Rodney, how dare you! Are you trying to stir up trouble? If an uncontrollable situation occurs, can you bear the responsibility?"

"As a police officer, can you kill indiscriminately like a thug? Stand down!"

Rodney immediately took back the assault rifle, glared fiercely at Roderick, and stepped aside.

Dianna walked up to Forrest, pointing at Robin, "Captain Romero, you've worked hard."

Forrest nodded politely. "It's our duty to maintain social order, there's no question of it being hard or not."

Dianna laughed. "Yes, Captain Romero, after this incident, | will donate ten million dollars to the city's SWAT team as a fund for expanding your equipment and police force."

Forrest nodded. "Thank you, Ms. Barker, this matter is not my responsibility, you should speak with the mayor."

Dianna nodded with a smile, "Alright. Once this matter is handled, | will arrange for finance to send it over to you."

Robin gave a cold laugh and shook his head.

Dianna felt the contempt in Robin's eyes. "Robin, no matter what you think, at this point, you'd better look out for yourself!" "I'll say it again, in this world, it's always power that speaks!"

"I hoped you could bear it, because the serious consequences brought by your own willfulness and ignorance."

Forrest saw Robin and the others still standing in place and immediately scolded them all to squat down.

Robyn quickly crouched down, clutching her head, and urged Chelsea, "Chelsea, crouch down quickly."

"Robin, it's all your fault, you troublemaker! Now we're all done for!"

Chapter 211

Seeing the situation, Drew hurriedly stepped forward and said,

"Captain Romero, I'm the lobby manager of this bar, things are not as they seem, please hear us out."

"Get down immediately, now is not the time for your explanations!" Forrest sternly reprimanded.

Drew could only crouch down, holding his head.

Chelsea looked around, only Roderick and Robin were standing there.

She grabbed Robin's arm, "Robin, I'm with you!"

Robin looked at Chelsea, who seemed to be in a difficult situation at the moment, and laughed as he ruffled her messy red hair. "Good! But, you promised me that you must fix this messy hair for me tomorrow!"

Chelsea nodded, her eyes full of terrified tears, "Yes, I will definitely get my hair fixed!"

Robyn shook her head, whispering, "Robin, I really don't understand how people like you think. Do you have to be on the brink of death before you'll back down?"

Robin said indifferently, "In all my life, I've never known what it means to bow down."

A cold glint suddenly flashed in Forrest's eyes, "I'm warning you one more time, if you refuse to kneel down, I'll shoot!" Chelsea shuddered in fright, looking up at Robin's stern face.

Despite her trembling legs, she still stood by his side; holding his arm.

Forrest pulled out his sidearm, switched off the safety, and pointed it at Robin: "This is my last warning!"

Dianna looked at Robin's indifferent expression, scoffed, and turned away.

She knew, in the next moment, this SWAT team leader, Forrest, would really pull the trigger. Didn't want to witness Robin being beaten to death.

"Robin!")A

"Robin!" A woman's pleasant voice drifted in from outside the bar.

Forrest subconsciously glanced at the girl who ran in from the door like a gust of wind.

"Henrietta! How did you get here?"

Henrietta had ignored him.

Rushed up to Robin in a flash, grabbing his neck in a tight embrace.

"I just heard about your message at Dreamland Bar, Robin. Why didn't you let me know when you arrived at Farmere?" "We had agreed, if you came to Farmere, I would treat you to a meal."

"If it weren't for the city hall's SWAT team guards mentioning this mission, I wouldn't have known you were here." Everyone in the bar was stunned by the actions of this beautiful girl.

Rodney shouted loudly, "The city's special police are on duty! Who are you to barge in like this? Get out immediately!"

Chapter 274 | Must Take Robin Away

Forrest unlocked the safety on his pistol and slowly approached Robin.

He worried that Robin, in his desperation, would take Henrietta hostage.

Henrietta noticed Forrest's actions, turned around and scolded angrily, "Forrest, what are you trying to do?" "Robin was my lifesaver. if you want to shoot him, you'll have to kill me first!"

Forrest stopped in his tracks, "Henrietta, I'm on official duty, can you stop messing around?"

"Did you know, you were in great danger! Get back to my side immediately."

"He just killed three people, he's an extremely dangerous individual!"

Henrietta snorted, "What kind of damn official business! | already knew what had happened here before | came." At this point, she pointed to several corpses inside the bar.

"These scumbags were all from Farmere. You should have arrested them a long time ago, but instead, you let these bastards run wild."

"Robin killed him, it was to rid us Farmers of tyranny!"

"But you pointed your guns at Robin. | don't know if you were serving justice or serving these beasts!" Of course, Forrest also knew well that what Henrietta said was the truth.

Rufus thought these people were a bunch of animals.

According to Odrarian law, these people should have been brought to justice long ago. However, this was beyond the capabilities of a mere SWAT team leader like him.

He could only execute commands.

Despite the fact that he himself also detested Rufus and his people.

But was powerless.

Faced with such words from Henrietta, Forrest was momentarily at a loss for a response.

Dianna saw Forrest struggling with Henrietta's questioning and said, displeasedly. "Ms. Nunez, as the mayor's daughter, you should uphold the mayor's dignity!"

"Instead of leading the disruption of law enforcement!"

"What you did would cause a lot of trouble for your father!"

Henrietta flicked her eyelids, "What are you, and what gives you the right to lecture me?"

"From childhood to adulthood, my dad had never spoken to me like this before, 'Get lost!'"

Dianna blushed deeply.

Forrest had always been very fond of Henrietta, and was quite displeased with Dianna's tone.

He turned to Dianna, saying coldly, "Ms. Barker, please do not speak to Henrietta like that. She is not wrong in what she said!"

Dianna paused slightly, saying coldly, "Captain Romero, you are currently carrying out the mayor's orders to arrest criminals. How can you allow irrelevant people to interfere with your law enforcement?"

"Every year, our family would allocate a substantial amount of money to support the construction of SWAT teams and law enforcement agencies, all in the hope that you could uphold the dignity of the law!"

“Was this how you conducted official business? You were squandering taxpayers’ money!”

“If so, we could have lodged a complaint with the Independent Commission Against Corruption of the city government!” Forrest furrowed his brow, “I didn’t say | wasn’t going to investigate the incident at Dreamland Bar.” “But at that time, | hadn’t fully investigated the entire course of the event yet.

“Therefore, who the criminal was could not be determined!”

“At the time, in an unexpected turn of events, the mayor’s daughter was still with the suspect.”

“| had to ensure Ms. Nunez’s personal safety.”

“What if | had acted rashly and hurt Henrietta?”

“Could you bear the responsibility if you happened to hurt Henrietta?”

Dianna glared at Forrest in annoyance.

Looking up at Robin, who was tightly held by Henrietta, he felt very uncomfortable inside.

She just couldn’t understand how Robin could know the mayor’s daughter.

And, the lifesaver of Ms. Nunez?!

“Robin, is this the strength you spoke of?” Dianna sneered contemptuously.

Robin laughed and said, “You could say that, isn’t it the network resources you mentioned before?” He removed Henrietta’s arm, “Go over to their side, this matter has nothing to do with you.” Henrietta held onto Robin again, “No, Robin, | want to be with you!”

Forrest sighed quietly, saying, “Henrietta, come over here quickly!”

"Even though he saved you, the fact is, he shot and killed someone. I have to take him back and carry out the law enforcement procedures."

"Don't worry, the city government would give everyone here a fair conclusion."

Henrietta gave a cold laugh, "I certainly don't believe in the nonsense you people spout!" "Could this situation have occurred today if everything was as fair as you said?" "Everyone that Jackal Gang knew were scum!"

"All the citizens of Farmere knew that they had been dealing drugs, forcing decent women into drug addiction and prostitution, forcibly collecting protection money from businesses, bullying the weak, and acting tyrannically for many years."

"I asked you, did you guys in uniforms enforce justice?"

Of course, Forrest knew what Henrietta had said.

However, as a SWAT team leader, he did not have the authority to question these matters.

His face flushed, he stammered, "Ms. Nunez, this... this is not within my job description, I am only responsible for carrying out orders."

Henrietta sneered, "Execute orders?"

"Hmph! Forrest, I really look down on you. Ask yourself, what kind of orders are you carrying out?"

Dianna frowned, saying coldly, "Ms. Nunez, don't forget, your father was in power during the Farmere government." Henrietta gave Dianna a sidelong glance, "I don't need your reminder!"

Then, turning around and taking Robin's hand, "Robin, let's go, come with me."

"Wait a moment!" Dianna blocked Henrietta's path.

Henrietta glared at Dianna in displeasure, "What gives you the right to stop me? Get out of my way!"

Forrest stepped forward and said, "Henrietta, can you please stop making a fuss? Whether he is a brother or not, I have to take him back." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

"But you ignored it."

"Robin eliminated the evil for the people, killed these beasts, yet you arrested them under the guise of law!" "Forrest, did you feel you deserved this uniform?"

"Hmph! I looked down on you!"

Forrest's face turned red, "Henrietta, don't say that, I... I must follow orders!"

At that moment, a middle-aged man quickly walked in, accompanied by two bodyguards and a secretary. "Mr. Nunez." Forrest immediately bowed respectfully.

The person who came was none other than the Mayor of Farmere, Dennis.

Dennis glanced around at the grim scene in the bar, slightly furrowing his brow.

Dianna also humbly smiled and said, "Hello Mayor, I am Dianna from the Barker family."

Dennis nodded, "Hello, Ms. Barker."

Chapter 275 It’s Me Who Killed Them

Denis looked up at Robin, nodding slightly, “Mr. Bruce, hello!”

“A few days ago, | heard Henrietta mention you. Thank you for helping my daughter on the plane.”

Robin gave a nonchalant smile, “Mr. Nunez, you're too kind. It was just a small effort.”

Dennis patted his daughter’s arm, his eyes full of indulgence.

“Mr. Bruce, Henrietta’s mother passed away early, and | was often busy with work, rarely accompanying her.”

“Over the years, | always felt that | had apologized to her too much.”

“Henrietta was straightforward, and it was rare for intellectual and honest friends to make her happy.”

“Over the years, she had been very lonely. She hardly interacted with others and seldom mentioned anything about her friends.” “But, after returning to the country this time, they kept mentioning your in my ear.”

“It was clear how much she trusted and relied on you.”

“Henrietta had told me more than once, if you ever came to Farmere, | must treat you with the utmost hospitality.”

“| received a call from Henrietta and hurried over...”

At this point, Dennis realized that discussing such matters in the current environment was somewhat inappropriate. Chapter 275 It’s Me Who Killed Them

He glanced around at the bloody scene in the bar, his eyebrows slightly furrowed.

“Mr. Nunez!” Forrest stepped forward, saluting, “Three members of the Jackal Gang were shot dead in the bar today...” Robin calmly said, “Mr. Nunez, I killed them all.”

Forrest paused slightly, looking at Robin with a complex expression.

Henrietta hurriedly stepped forward to explain, “They all deserved to die! Dad, these are bad people! Robin did this to rid the people of harm.”

A hint of surprise flashed unnoticed in Dennis's eyes.

He hadn't expected that Robin would openly admit to killing Rufus and others without any cover-up.

Dennis subconsciously nodded, not directly addressing the issue with Robin.

Yu Guang glanced at Dianna not far away and pointed at SWAT team leader Forrest.

“Just now on the road, I had seen the information about these troublemakers.”

“The few Jackal Gang sub-leaders who were killed had been registered with the Department of Justice a few years ago.”

“The Department of Justice had proposed the arrest of these individuals, and I was instructing the relevant departments to conduct a thorough investigation!”

“Recently, I had revisited the investigation files they submitted.”

Chapter 275 Is Me Who Killed Then

“Over the years, they had been involved in drug trafficking, smuggling, organizing prostitution, and forcibly disrupting the market.” “The city government was recently working with the Department of Justice to prepare for the disposition of these individuals.” “Unexpectedly, these people still managed to cause a big mess.”

Dennis said so.

It was also meant to signal to Dianna that City Hall were already aware of all the various crimes committed by Jackal Gang, advising them to not interfere in this matter.

In this way, everyone was well in their own way.

“Captain Romero, first bring back the bodies of these three criminal suspects, and all the members of the Jackal Gang in the bar, to the police station.”

“Wait for the City Hall’s Department of Justice to further investigate this incident at Dreamland Bar before drawing conclusions!”

Forrest immediately ordered the SWAT team to remove the bodies of Rufus, Julio, and Jerome from the bar, and prepared to take away all the disciples of the Jackal Gang.

Dianna stepped forward to intervene, “Mr. Nunez, how could this matter be handled like this...”

Dennis said indifferently, “Ms. Barker, this is a matter of the city government. As the mayor, I have my own discretion in handling this.”

Dianna pointed at Robin and the others, “They shot and killed people, can we just let it go?” Dennis frowned and said, “I handle city affairs, do I need you to teach me?”

Dianna glanced at Henrietta and Robin, sneering, “Mr. Nunez, did you handle this matter this way just because he is your daughter's friend?”

“Did you do this for personal gain under the guise of public duty?”

Dennis’s face grew even darker: “Who are you to tell me what to do? Get out of my way!”

“Mr. Nunez, what has made you so angry?” A middle-aged man walked in from outside the bar. “Dad!” Dianna quickly ran to the middle-aged man.

“Mr. Nunez actually ignored the shooting and killing of Robin from the Jackal Gang, and intended to take away all the people from the Jackal Ganghood...”

The man who walked into the bar was none other than Fernando, the head of the wealthy Barker Group, also known as the Farmere conglomerate.

Fernando patted Dianna's shoulder and said with a smile, "Dianna, you have to trust Mr. Nunez, he will definitely handle this matter fairly."

Turning to glance at the bodies of Rufus and the others, he exclaimed in shock, "Dennis, there's been a murder here? You need to deal with this quickly, who's the murderer?"

"I originally went to the city hall to invite you to my house as a guest, but your secretary said you were here, so I came over." "My two sons came back."

"My eldest son had been promoted to deputy commander in the central army."

"The second son is also doing well now, it is said that he will soon be able to join the cabinet."

"They happened to return today, and I wanted to invite Mr. Nunez over. But I didn't expect you to be handling this matter." "Dennis, deal with the matter quickly,"

"After dealing with it, we went back together. My two sons were still waiting for you at home."

Dennis detected the hidden meaning in Fernando's words.

It was clearly using the status and identity of the two sons to exert pressure.

Dennis had not yet weighed the proper way to handle this matter.

Fernando continued, "Isn't this our SWAT team's captain, Forrest? Hurry up and arrest the culprit." "After dealing with this matter, come to my house with us to chat."

Forrest looked up at the conflicted Mr. Nunez, his hand resting on the pistol at his waist.

As soon as Dennis gave the order, he would immediately proceed to arrest Robin and the others.

"Robin killed them, it was for the good of the people!"

"The fact that you could say such a thing proves that you're not a good person either!" Henrietta hadn't finished speaking.

Behind Fernando, a middle-aged man with a fierce expression slapped her delicate face. Dennis was instantly furious, "Bastard! Who the hell are you?"

Forrest also subconsciously drew his gun.

Fernando feigned surprise, asking, "Who is this little girl?"

Dianna stepped forward, "Dad, this is Mr. Nunez's daughter, Henrietta."

"Yes, Mr. Barker!" said the middle-aged man named Hans Flores, bowing.

He then straightened up and turned to Dennis, giving a perfunctory bow, his eyes full of contempt.

"Uh, Mr. Nunez, | didn't know she was your daughter, hahaha..."

"Don't be angry, it was just a misunderstanding, just a misunderstanding, hahaha..."

"Just now, | was worried that she would be kidnapped by the murderer and held hostage, so | thought about bringing her back." Unexpectedly, | accidentally bumped into her.

"Uh, I'm sorry, Ms. Nunez, Mr. Nunez, I'll definitely be careful next time. Hehehe..."

Fernando also echoed with a smile, "Ms. Nunez, I'm really sorry!"

"Mr. Nunez, my steward, he likes to stand up for what's right. He was just trying to protect your daughter, that's why he acted like that."

"Despite the misunderstanding, it was for Ms. Nunez's own good."

"This person, sometimes he was so arrogant, thinking he could handle big things. In reality, he was far from capable!" "Mr. Nunez, Ms. Nunez, | assure you, | will punish him severely when | get back!"

"Oh, | forgot to introduce, Mr. Nunez." Fernando said with a smile.

Chapter 276 Robin, You're My ide

"My butler Hans, his cousin was the assistant butler of the Rogelio family, Levi Briggs."

"Because of Hans's chivalrous character, Ms. Sarah had even praised him."

The originally angry expression in Dennis's eyes instantly turned into one of horror.

He hadn't expected that the butler by Fernando's side was actually a relative of the Rogelio family. The reason why Fernando had Hans come out.

Just wanted to let him know.

If he had dealt with Jackal Gang, he would have been against the Barker family.

The Barker family, whether in the military and politics, or on the streets.

Regardless of any aspect of strength, it could have crushed him into pieces in minutes!

Hans hit Henrietta as a stern warning to Dennis.

The problem at hand was already very clear.

Without dealing with Robin, he absolutely couldn't have gotten through today's hurdle.

The Fernando family, over the years, had exploited Jackal Gang's drug trafficking and arms smuggling, bullied the market, committed all sorts of evil deeds, and amassed a huge fortune.

With these capital bribes he can't hide his cane to the inner echelons of the military and political circles respectively.

Despite his desire to eradicate the cancerous Jackal Gang since he took over the position of the mayor of Farmere. However, he hesitated to take action.

It was out of concern that it would anger more high-ranking officials' interests.

Not only did he fail to accomplish anything, but he also ended up ruining himself beyond repair. Originally, I planned to use this incident today to quietly eliminate the Jackal Gang.

However, Fernando reacted so quickly.

The problem at hand, on how to deal with it, truly gave him a headache.

Just as Dennis was still hesitating.

Robin looked at the tears of grievance in Henrietta's eyes, took out a wet wipe and gently wiped them away, "Henrietta, does it hurt?"

"It hurts, Robin," Henrietta cried even harder.

"Then I'll hit you back!" Robin said, raising his hand and slapping Hans' arrogant, chubby face as soon as he finished speaking. With a crisp "pop!"

Hans's robust body flew backwards like a cannonball.

Heavily hit on the several bodyguards brought by Fernando.

Several robust bodyguards, who hadn't yet grasped what was happening, were all knocked to the ground.

Chapter 276. Robin You're My H

This scene shocked everyone in the bar.

Robin knew that Hans was the cousin of the deputy butler of Underground Queen of Farmere Sarah. He actually dared to make a move?

That ruthless Underground Queen of Farmere, who killed without batting an eye, had an extremely protective habit. Every member of the Rogelio family, even those who had the slightest connection with her.

If you were treated unfairly, seek her help.

She would always have her subordinates handle things for her.

Robin's behavior was clearly a provocation to the dignity of the entire Rogelio family.

It was even a blatant slap in the face to that so-called Underground Queen of Farmers, Sarah.

At that moment, a sense of satisfaction sparkled in Dennis's eyes.

It was more of a slight worry.

He furrowed his brow, contemplating how to deal with such a difficult problem at hand.

Clearly, the incident today was completely blown out of proportion by Robin's slap.

SWAT team leader Forrest, looked at Robin in astonishment.

Ahint of admiration was added to the cold gaze.

Despite not being familiar with Robin

However, what Robin did today was actually what he had always. wanted to do.

Jackal Gang couldn't stand those bastards who, under the protection of the Barker family, acted recklessly and were full of evil deeds.

Simply due to the limitations of his own status, he could not possibly achieve these. Today, Robin capriciously killed Rufus and others.

He slapped Hans, Fernando's butler, in the face again in front of Fernando.

This had thoroughly angered the Barker family.

Forrest was deeply worried for Robin.

Not only was Robin facing the Barker Group at the moment.

It even touched upon the Rogelio family.

That Underground Queen of Farmere, Sarah, even the President had to give her some respect.

Robin, however, had hit her assistant butler's cousin.

The situation had reached a point where it was beyond redemption.

Forrest looked at Robin again, a hint of regret flashing in his eyes.

He believed that the Barker family would never let it go easily.

Hans wouldn't have let Robin off easily either.

It was highly likely that even the influence of the Rogelio family would.

get involved.

In that case, no one could save Robin.

Even Henrietta had asked her father Dennis to intervene.

The capabilities of Mr. Nunez were far from sufficient.

Not far away, Roderick was expressionless.

He had already prepared to go all in and start a killing spree with Robin.

Robin got into such a big mess because of his sister's matter.

As long as the Barker family dared to touch Robin, Roderick would unhesitatingly pick up the blade of revenge. What Rogelio family, what the Barker family, once the fight started, it was to the death! After a brief moment of shock, Dianna scoffed, "Robin, I really can't believe you!"

Chapter 277

Chapter 277 | Can't Do As You Said

Henrietta's cheer, in the deathly silent bar, was extremely grating.

Everyone held their breath, watching the scene before them in utter shock.

Robin slapped Hans away again.

This was completely a brutal blow to the reputation of the Rogelio family.

At that moment, Dennis didn't know what to say.

The current situation was no longer under his control.

But in Forrest's eyes, there was an added touch of surprise.

At that moment, his feelings towards Robin's actions had gone beyond mere admiration.

But as Henrietta said, it was a form of worship.

Aman could disregard the pleasure of power and personal grudges.

Under the powerful coercion, one could still capriciously express their inner likes and dislikes. What a wonderfully carefree life this was.

Faced with Robin's reckless brutality, Dianna laughed in extreme anger.

"Hehe, Robin, how can I even begin to praise you! Are you really determined to be this reckless?" Chapter 277 Cant Go As You Said

Robin gave a cold laugh, "Courting death? I don't feel that way at all!"

"I actually felt that the one who was constantly courting disaster was him. it was you and your the Barker family!" "A bunch of insignificant ants, daring to be arrogant! Truly laughable!"

Fernando had already snapped out of his shock at this moment.

In his experience, there had never been a person who dared to challenge his dignity in such a way. Since taking over the Barker family's property.

Whether in Farmere, in Odrar, or even in the Southeast Estya region.

How many people dared to be so arrogant in front of the Barker family!

However, this Robin, not only ignored him in front of so many people.

What's worse, even though they knew Hans was a relative of the Rogelio family, they still dared to hit him twice. This was not just a blatant slap in the face, it was a complete provocation to the Barker family. They completely disregarded the Rogelio family!

"Boy, you are too arrogant!" Fernando sternly rebuked.

"Mr. Nunez, this lunatic is utterly lawless, I ordered your SWAT team to take him down!"

Dennis suddenly jolted.

After calming his emotions slightly, he said, "Mr. Barker, I have no authority to order our police to kill innocents indiscriminately. This matter is not yet settled, how can I take lives recklessly?"

Quapte 2771 Can't Do As You Said

Fernando was slightly taken aback.

He hadn't expected that Dennis wouldn't give him any face at all.

"Dennis, are you saying that you'd rather indulge this murderer's reckless behavior than side with us?"

Dennis struggled for a while, sighed, and said, "Mr. Barker, as the mayor of Farmere, I have my own discretion in carrying out official duties, which has nothing to do with the Barker family"

"I didn't mean to provoke you, to be blunt, I simply didn't have the ability to challenge the authority of the Barker family."

"But, I was a civil servant."

"The orders I carried out were not those of your family, but those of the Odrarian government."

"The laws of Odrar strictly prohibited public officials from abusing their power to harm the innocent while performing their duties." "I'm truly sorry, I couldn't do as you said."

Fernando trembled with rage, "You! Dennis, you will pay for what you did today!"

Dennis sighed, "I'm sorry, Mr. Barker, this is all I can do."

"Good! Good! Good! You will regret this!" Fernando pointed at Dennis angrily, jabbing his finger towards him.

Then he turned to Forrest, "Captain Romero, as a law enforcement officer, shouldn't you have ordered your officers to kill this thug in such a situation?"

"Shoot him quickly, he is an extremely dangerous individual!" Chapter 2771 Can't Do As You Said

Forrest ignored him, coldly saying, "Mr. Barker, I'm sorry, but you have no authority to command me. I only follow the orders of the mayor."

Fernando hadn't expected that Forrest would respond in such a way.

This made him feel extremely embarrassed.

"Forrest, if you kill this thug now," Fernando said coldly.

"I assured you that after this event, you could join the Presidential Guard and even serve as the team leader."

Forrest laughed. "I'm sorry, Mr. Barker, I haven't dared to aspire to such a high position yet."

"I considered myself honored to have served as the SWAT team leader for the Farmere government."

"I would never misuse the gun in my hands to slaughter the innocent."

Fernando laughed wildly, "Good, good, good!"

"Since Mr. Nunez was unwilling to kill this thug."

"So, if this matter involves the Barker family, I will have to resolve it according to the rules of the underworld. Please, step aside!" Dennis furrowed his brow, he didn't know what to do now to avoid a senseless slaughter..

Although no words were spoken, it was tacitly agreed that Fernando would resolve it in this way.

Forrest had wanted to stop, but saw that Dennis, with his eyes lowered, gave him no hint.

Chapter 277 | Can't Do As You Said

In his view, if the Barker family were to utilize the power of the underworld, Robin would be even more unable to defend himself. However, up until now, not a trace of panic had been seen on Robin's face.

For a moment, he couldn't figure out what kind of background and history Robin actually had.

Fernando looked at Hans.

Hans nodded, pointing shakily at Robin, "Kid, I hope you can withstand the wrath of the Barker family and the Rogelio family." Robin chuckled lightly. "Alright, I hope you can bring out something decent to deal with me, so I can think highly of you."

"Hans, send a message to have all of our home guards report in! If possible..."

Hans understood his meaning: "I got it, Mr. Barker, I will contact my cousin.

Directly picked up the phone and dialed the Rogelio family's assistant butler, Levi. "Who was it?"

It was only then that Henrietta realized the seriousness of the situation.

you "No, I won't go, I must stay with you!"

Upon hearing this, Dennis wanted to say something, but the words just wouldn't come out.

At that moment, his eyes were filled with nothing but despair.

He knew that the events of today were beyond control and could no longer be redeemed.

Leveraging the connections of the Rogelio family and the Barker family in the Odrarian government. Even his position as the mayor of Farmere was hard to maintain.

At this point in the situation, everyone believed that Robin was as good as dead!

Dianna even laughed so hard that she was bending over backwards.

However, Dianna remained relentless.

“Robin, you’ve provoked the Rogelio family. Don’t you realize what you’re going to face?”

"If you could let go of the obsession in your heart and sincerely apologize to Hans and my father on your knees."

"I would consider the fact that you saved me seven years ago, and ask my father and Hans to go easy on your punishment." "At least. it could save your life."

Robin shook his head, casting a contemptuous glance at the Barker family father and daughter.

"Hehe, you persuaded me over and over again."

"I'm afraid it wasn't to save me, but for that damn face of the Barker family!"

"I had already forgotten about the thing that happened seven years ago."

"If I had known then that it would turn out like this today, I should have let you become the plaything of those thugs." "You might have known how unforgivable your family and Jackal Gang could be!"

"How filthy you were beneath your splendid appearance!"

Chapter 278 That's My Line

"Kid, you're too presumptuous!" Fernando yelled furiously, pointing at Robin.

"I never dealt you a fatal blow, all because of your slight connection with Dianna!"

"Dianna repeatedly advised you for your own good. Yet, you didn't appreciate her kindness!"

"Today, I would let you know what it means to be untouchable!"

"Damn!" Robin flicked his eyelid, exchanging a glance with Roderick.

"Old man, that line should have been mine, how could you steal my thunder? You have no manners at all!"

"If you dare to talk nonsense again, I'll spank your big butt!"

Roderick covered his face, “Oh...no! It’s over!”

Drew’s legs gave out, nearly causing him to fall to the ground, “Is it really hopeless for Robin...”

“No,” Roderick shook his head, “It’s the Barker family that's finished!”

“Huh?” Drew didn’t understand what Roderick meant, “Finished?”

Fernando's cheeks turned purple with rage as he pointed at Robin and roared, “You... you...”

Robin waved his hand, “Old man, watch your words, or I’ll beat your old ass!”

Fernando subconsciously covered his butt.

“Hahaha...” Henrietta couldn’t help but laugh, immediately stopping herself.

Chapter 228 That’s My Line

Forrest coughed violently a few times, to mask his urge to laugh.

Dianna’s beautiful eyes flared in anger, “Robin, you’re out of line! You will regret this!”

“Really?” Robin smirked playfully, “I'd really like to see what a person looks like when they're filled with extreme regret. “Uh...” He glanced at the time on his wristwatch, then looked up at the Barkers, “It should be soon.

“Kid, you’re going to die ugly!” Fernando pointed at Robin and roared in rage.

“My bodyguards and the people from the Rogelio family will be here soon, you better start thinking about how you want to die!” Chelsea looked at Fernando’s ferocious face, nervously saying, “Robin, it seems things have gotten out of hand, let’s run!” Robin said with a laugh. “Run? Why would I run?”

Robyn, standing nearby, snorted coldly, “If you don’t run, all you can do is wait here to die.”

Robin pursed his lips, "That's your imagination."

Robyn scornfully said, "Being stubborn in this situation is pointless. no matter how good you are at fighting, you can't fight the whole world."

"The summer insect cannot speak of ice!" Robin was too lazy to explain to her.

"Rumble rumble..." The roar of a motorcycle grew closer and closer, until it abruptly stopped in front of Dreamland Bar. Chapter 278 That's My Line

Immediately after, a rush of hurried footsteps came from outside the door, growing louder as they approached.

A burly, tall, dark-faced middle-aged man, flanked by dozens of fierce bodyguards, stormed into Dreamland Bar with great momentum.

The man with the dark face walked up to Hans, shouting loudly, "Hans, you useless thing!"

"Tell me, which blind fool dared to challenge the dignity y of the Rogelio family? Didn't this bastard know that you are my cousin?"

Hans pointed at Robin, gritting his teeth and said, "Cousin, it's that kid!"

"He not only shot and killed the leaders of the Jackal Gang, Rufus, Julio, and Jerome, but he also hit me."

"He even spoke wildly, claiming that even if the Barker family and the Rogelio family were tied together, he would not be afraid!" The person who came was Levi, the deputy butler of the Rogelio family.

Everyone held their breath, looking at this terrifying figure.

Levi was the deputy butler of the Rogelio family and also the captain of their family's security team.

In the early years, he was involved in the world of assassins in Southeast Estya.

Before joining the Rogelio family, Levi was once the top master in the assassin world of Southeast Estya.

Dianna snorted. "Robin, you'll soon find out what kind of consequences your arrogance will bring you!"

Robin laughed without a word.

He watched with great interest as Levi and a group of guards from the Rogelio family approached him step by step. Levi passed by Fernando, nodding his head. "Mr. Barker, hello."

Fernando also nodded excitedly, his eyes teasingly looking at Robin.

"Is it Sarah?"

"Was this old woman tired of living?"

As soon as the words fell, a palm struck Levi's big face, which was both black and fat.

Levi flew out like a heavy bomb!

The robust and hefty body heavily slammed into the bodies of a dozen bodyguards from the Rogelio family. "Holy shit! This guy is freaking awesome!" A wave of exclamation suddenly erupted in the bar. "The under— butler of the Rogelio family, he dared to hit him?"

"This clearly showed a disregard for the Rogelio family!"

"Did he seem to mention that old woman, Sarah?"

"Didn't this kid know who Sarah was?"

"If that terrifying Underground Queen of Farmere knew he called her an old woman, she would definitely chop him up!"

Forrest, who had been standing and watching from a distance, had his eyes light up.

Ashamed, | truly was not as good as him!

Dared to take action even when faced with a truly tough character like.

Levi.

It seemed that it was really hard to say who won or lost in today's play!

Dennis also discerned some tricks.

He looked at Robin under the bar lights again.

Under such circumstances, there was not a trace of panic or fear on that calm and composed face. "Hisss!" Dennis gasped in surprise.

As the saying goes, "Even if Mount Tai collapses before one's eyes, one's expression does not change; even if a deer arises to the left, one's gaze does not flicker."

Such a mentality was certainly not something that an ordinary person could possess.

It was impossible that Robin was so ignorant that he didn't even know about the Rogelio family.

Knowing this, he still dared to strike Levi with a palm without any hesitation.

That was where Levi's face was hit.

This was slapping the Rogelio family in the face!

The event had developed to this point, it was enough to guess how powerful this person's background was! The heart of Dennis, which was once filled with despair, was once again ignited with hope.

He looked at his daughter Henrietta with a piercing gaze.

He truly felt grateful that Henrietta had an extraordinary relationship with Robin.

If Robin really was a mysterious, hidden tycoon.

He wouldn't have ruined his future because of this.

Perhaps it could have been a great opportunity!

At that moment, Levi, who had been sent flying by a palm strike, was helped to his feet by two bodyguards. He had never even dreamed that he would be slapped by a young kid.

And it was in front of so many people!

This was a disgrace he had never experienced in his decades-long career as a killer!

Those who had once dared to provoke him had long since become ghosts under his blade.

However, this penniless young man dared to speak wildly and even slapped him squarely!

"Kid, you... go to hell!"

Levi desperately adjusted his condition, pulled out a pistol, and was about to shoot Robin.

However, in the next second, this pistol magically turned into a pile of messy parts scattered on the ground. Robin stood in front of Levi like a phantom, with a smirk that wasn't quite a smile, "Pointing a gun at me, do you want to die?" Before Levi could react, his hair had already been grabbed by Robin, who harshly slammed him against the hard wall of the bar. "With a 'bang'!"

Within the silent bar, a heart-stopping thud echoed.

Levi's face was covered in blood.

The few bodyguards who came with him immediately assumed a posture ready to fight with Robin.

Levi was panting heavily, "Kid, you..

"Bam!"

Levi's face hit the wall again.

Once, twice, thrice...

Levi dared not speak anymore, his eyes filled with terror.

He had clearly felt that he had met his match today!

Hans could hardly believe his own eyes.

Not only did Robin beat him up, but he even dared to thrash Levi, the deputy butler of the Rogelio family. This kid was a lunatic!

Chapter 275 Dhal Sarah's Number

After several strikes, Robin threw Levi down.

Pointing at the thugs who were rushing over, he scolded, "Call that bastard Sarah!"

A few bodyguards were startled.

Had this kid in front of me gone mad?

They dared to directly call them the Underground Queen of Farmere.

Within their understanding, they had never heard of anyone daring to be so reckless.

It was merely Robin's aura

A bodyguard had already realized the seriousness of the situation at hand.

Immediately took out the phone and dialed the number of the head butler, Nicolas Hansen: "Butler, there's been an incident, Captain Levi has been hit..."

Before the sentence was finished. Robin snatched the phone, "This is Robin, tell Sarah to get over here right now!"

"If the Rogelio family still wanted to live, they had to get to Dreamland Bar within five minutes! Otherwise, they could just disappear!"

Having said that, he threw his phone on the ground.

The vast bar was so quiet that it was suffocating.

Almost every person's nervous heartbeat could be heard.

Everyone looked at Robin as if he were an alien.

The words | just heard were an illusion, right?

He dared to speak to the steward of the Rogelio family in such a tone?

Had Sarah roll over here within five minutes.

Otherwise, the Rogelio family would be wiped out?!

Even President Potrya probably wouldn't have dared to say such a thing lightly!

Such a big tone, are you crazy, or are you crazy?!

After a brief silence, Fernando burst into laughter, "Such a fearless greenhorn! Hahaha..." Robin slowly turned around: "Old beast, what are you laughing at? I'll smack your old butt!" With a crisp "pop!"

Robin slapped Fernando's plump buttock.

"Damn!" Forrest couldn't help but laugh out loud.

Robin's series of critical hits were too awesome.

Moreover, they really did spank old Fernando's butt.

What an eye-opener!

Everyone on the scene could no longer use the word “shocked” to describe what they saw and heard today.

This had already overturned all surreal imagination!

Robin actually dared to take on the Barker family and the Rogelio family all by himself!

Two guards immediately restrained him.

Today, Robin not only ruined his Jackal Gang’s meeting, but also made him lose face in public.

"Robin, you couldn't..."

Before Dianna could finish speaking, Robin pulled the trigger with a smile.

"Click!"

Dianna screamed and closed her eyes.

Fernando was scared out of his wits, he urinated all over the floor.

Robin laughed, "Oh, I forgot to tell you, there were no bullets."

"Clatter..." The bullets in his hand scattered in front of Fernando.

Fernando was soaked to the skin.

Just a moment ago, he truly thought he was going to be killed by the arrogant young man in front of him. Having slightly regained consciousness, wanted to stand up.

However, he just couldn't stand up.

Fernando roared in fury, "Kill him for me!"

Over a dozen of the Barker family's house guards charged at Robin together.

"Get out of my way!" came a harsh command.

Nicolas, the steward of the Rogelio family, quickly pushed through the crowd and ran in from outside.

Chapter 280

Chapter 280 Astonishment

Following closely behind Nicolas was a dignified and elegant woman, accompanied by thirty black—clad bodyguards. Nicolas quickly ran to the front of Robin.

The thoughtful person in the bar checked the time.

Nicolas and others arrived at Dreamland Bar, it only took them three minutes and forty-nine seconds.

It was clear how nervous the Rogelio family was about Robin's words!

Everyone looked again at Robin under the shadow of the lamp.

There was no longer that look of staring at a fool.

Some were just shocked, curious, and filled with all sorts of bizarre speculations.

Everyone understood that anyone who could command the obedience of the Rogelio family would definitely be able to stand against the Barker family!

No wonder Robin held the reins from the very beginning of this event, controlling everything.

Sarah quickly ran up to Robin, bowed and said, "Sir, I'm sorry, I let Nicolas clear the field first. Afterwards, the Rogelio family will definitely give you an explanation!"

Robin waved his hand, Sarah said coldly, "Nicolas, clear the area!" "Yes, Master!" Nicolas pointed to the dozens of men in black Chapter 280 Astonishment. following closely behind him, "Action"

"The Rogelio family was handling matters, unrelated individuals were asked to leave immediately." Dozens of house guards from the Rogelio family quickly drove the idle people out of the bar.

The guards in black formed a human wall, enclosing all those related to the incident in the middle.

Robin patted Henrietta, "Go to your father's side."

Seeing the situation, Henrietta didn't dare to say much more and reluctantly left to go to Dennis's side. Dennis pulled his daughter to his side, and the heart that had been hanging finally settled down. Henrietta asked nervously in a low voice, "Dad, will Robin be in danger?"

Dennis said with a smile. "He's fine now, Henrietta."

Forrest was completely stunned at this moment.

He never would have thought!

Underground Queen of Farmere, the Rogelio family, the unparalleled aristocracy in Odrar.

Even had to bow down to Robin.

What kind of character was this, after all?

And, so young too!

What kind of resources did the Barker family have to dare to provoke such a big shot?

"Sir, it's all due to my lack of strict discipline! I will certainly show you a satisfactory result!"

After clearing the field, Sarah immediately turned to Robin and bowed at a ninety-degree angle, saying. This scene, blew everyone's mind!

The high and mighty Underground Queen of Farmere unprecedentedly bowed and apologized to a young man!

Robyn in the distance, seeing this scene through the gaps in the crowd, immediately opened her mouth in shock, "Is this, is this real?"

I had thought that Robin had such great confidence.

It was because he had calculated that this woman would come over to personally handle this matter for him! However, the situation before her was not as she had guessed.

Sarah, her supervisor Nicolas, and all the members of the Rogelio family.

Everyone in front of Robin was bowing at 90 degrees to apologize.

That humble posture.

No matter how you looked at it, she didn't seem to have the demeanor of an older woman who would be keeping Robin. But Robin was like a servant.

Did I wrongly accuse him?

Robyn was extremely confused for a moment, unable to make sense of the relationship at all.

Because, the reality in front of me was too bizarre, too contrary to normal logic!

Dianna also spaced out for quite a while.

The situation before her had already exceeded her range of understanding.

She didn't think much either, and quickly walked towards Sarah.

However, he was stopped two meters away by two black—clad bodyguards from the Rogelio family.

Dianna had to stop, bowing from a distance to Sarah, "Lady Sarah, hello, I am Dianna from the Barker family..." "Who's making that racket? Did I give you permission to speak? Get lost!" Sarah said coldly.

Two men in black immediately pushed Dianna away: "Step back immediately!"

Dianna was scared and trembling all over.

Her face was flushed red, and she wanted to continue speaking.

However, when she saw the look in her father Fernando's eyes, she immediately shut her mouth.

She had intended to pull up Fernando, who was still kneeling on the ground, but she just couldn't lift him up. She glared angrily at the Barker family's bodyguards, "Hurry up and carry the master!"

Upon hearing this, a surge of towering rage instantly flashed in Sarah's eyes

This rage was enough to burn the entire har to the ground, "Levi, get over here!" Levi didn't know what was going on with the situation in front of him.

"Master, | my cousin Llans was beaten by him, and moreover, he arrogantly said that he doesn't care about the Rogelio family...

"The gentleman was right! The Rogelio family was nothing in front of him!"

"You insignificant ant, dare to utter such rebellious words in front of the gentleman!" "Levi, you have to die!"

Sarah had just finished speaking.

Nicolas didn't even give Levi time to explain, he pulled out a gun and shot Levi right between the eyebrows. Until his death, Levi never understood why Sarah killed a young man without asking for any reason. Everyone in the bar was shocked by this scene.

Hans was even more frightened, his legs went weak, and he fell to his knees in front of Sarah with a thud. Sarah looked at him with a gloomy face. "Are you Hans?"

Hans knelt on the ground, trembling as he said, "Madam, I am Hans."

Sarah snorted, "You're causing trouble under the name of the Rogelio family, how should I punish you?"

In an instant, four men brandished their daggers and fiercely hacked at Hans.

Hans had already been chopped into mincemeat, and Fernando, who was close at hand, was trembling all over in fright. Watching this scene, it was as terrifying as if my own limbs were being hacked to pieces.

Sarah turned to Robin, respectfully asking, “Sir, how should the Barker family be dealt with?”

As the words fell, a sound of military combat boots striking the ground in unison came from outside the door.

Twenty heavily armed professional soldiers, guns in hand, marched into the bar.

Fernando sneered at Robin, “Kid, even if you brought the Rogelio family here today, | wouldn’t fear you! You’re as good as dead!”

The military officer with the rank of colonel was none other than Fernando's eldest son, Darryl Barker. Served in the Farmere Garrison Command, holding the position of deputy commander—in-chief. Dianna was feeling wronged at that moment, with no one to share her grievances.

Seeing her eldest brother Darryl arrive at the scene, she immediately ran to his side and burst into tears, "Brother, why did you only come now?"

"Hurry up and figure out a way to help Dad up!"

Darryl looked at his sister, who was crying her eyes out, then at Fernando, who was kneeling and couldn't get up, "What on earth happened?"

Dianna pointed at Robin, a beam of hatred flashing in her eyes.

"Bro, it was that guy named Robin who did this to Dad."

"No one knew what kind of witchcraft he had cast on Dad, but Dad could no longer stand up.

Upon hearing Dianna's statement, Darryl's face darkened, "You two, help my father up immediately!"

Two strong guards held Fernando, but despite their best efforts, they could not lift him off the ground.

Fernando's knees seemed as if they were glued to the floor.

A flicker of horror flashed in Darryl's eyes.

What kind of sorcery was this?

He looked up at Robin, who was not far away.

After a moment of contemplation, he patted his sister's shoulder, "Dianna, calm down."

Then, under the protection of two guards, he walked towards Robin.

The two black—clad guards of the Rogelio family blocked Darryl's path.

Darryl's face darkened.

The guard drew his pistol, pointing it at the two black—clad bodyguards of the Rogelio family, "Move!"

Two men in black, hands on their holstered guns, coldly said, "The Rogelio family is handling this, step back immediately!" The black—clad guards of the Rogelio family were all top-tier soldier kings, trained exclusively by professional special forces. Darryl brought only regular troops from the field army.

A black-clad guard from the Rogelio family could single-handedly take on a regular army guard unit of twenty people. Darryl knew very little about the secrets of the Rogelio family.

In his eyes, these black—clad guards were nothing more than a motley crew of untrained ruffians.

A hint of anger flashed in Darryl's eyes as he faced the obstruction of the black-clad guards.

13.74%

However, when he looked up and saw Sarah standing behind the black—clad guard.

Darryl still managed to keep his cool.

He took a deep breath and said, "Lady Sarah, please order your guards to step aside.

"I received a message that a man named Robin was attempting to cause a terror event in Farmere, I had to take him away." Sarah said coldly. "There are no violent people here, Mr. Bruce is a distinguished guest of the Rogelio family."

"Colonel Barker, I also remind you, if you dare to waste national machinery resources for your personal gain, I will make you take off this uniform!"

"However, if you intended to disrespect the gentleman, the Rogelio family would never allow it."

Darryl snorted coldly, “Lady Sarah, this is my military business! If you continue to instruct your servants to interfere with my military operations, I won’t rule out using military action to control this bar!”

“Madam, please do not interfere with my military operations. It is the wisest choice for you and for the Rogelio family.” “If you had interfered...”

Sarah snorted, “So you mean, you're determined to be enemies with the Rogelio family?”

“It's okay, you could certainly try!”

Seeing Sarah so stubborn, Darryl suppressed the anger in his heart.

“Lady Sarah, I had no intention of being an enemy to the Rogelio family.”

“However, if you insist on obstructing this military operation, I will have no choice but to let my guards enforce the wartime regulations.”

Sarah laughed, “Good! I hope you can withstand the wrath of the Rogelio family!” “If anyone dared to lay a finger on Mr., the Rogelio family would spare no effort to resolve the matter!” “Nicolas! Order the entire black—clad guard of the Rogelio family to assemble here immediately!”

Meanwhile, it was reported to the President's office that Darryl, out of personal grudges for the Barker family, attempted to lead an armed guard to shoot civilians, creating a terror event.

“The Rogelio family’s black-clad guards were forced to take necessary self-defense actions!” Darryl suddenly shivered. Of course, he knew how powerful the Rogelio family was in Odrar.

Without the power of the Rogelio family, Odrar could not have possibly broken free from colonial rule and ultimately gained independence back then.

It could also be said that this family possessed a hidden power in Odrar that was superior to the president. The influence of the Rogelio family was widespread in politics, the military, and various social circles.

If Sarah had been determined to obstruct his actions, Darryl and his

Darryl softened his tone, saying. "Madam, I have great respect for you, and for the way the Rogelio family handles things. However, please understand, this is my military duty, I must..."

"What a load of military crap! It's nothing more than you bending the law for your own selfish interests!" Sarah sneered. "If you didn't get lost, I could have your commanding officer thoroughly check your record right now." "How did you obtain your rank of Colonel and the position of Deputy Commander-in-Chief?"

"If you still don't know your limits, you could try messing with the Rogelio family, if you think you, an insignificant ant, could provoke them!"

"Master!" A black-clad guard ran in from outside. "All the guards have been assembled, awaiting your orders!" Sarah looked up at Darryl and said coldly. "Get out within half a minute!"

"Madam!" Darryl wanted to persist.

Sarah no longer spoke to him, "Black Guard, heed the command..."

Darryl's heart skipped a beat.

At that moment, a man quickly walked in from outside.

This person had a beaming smile, laughing as he said, "Lady Sarah, what a coincidence to find you here." The visitor was none other than Mario Barker, Fernando's second son, Mario heard Mr. Nunez’s conversation with the president, a hint of panic flashing in his eyes.

If the matter of enforcing the law in the name of the president was exposed, it wouldn’t be as simple as losing a hat. The Independent Commission Against Corruption would definitely turn his case upside down.

In that case, the Barker family’s misconduct of buying the deputy minister position through bribing relevant personnel would be dealt with seriously.

Those political adversaries, at this time, would also swarm up and trample him to death together. He exchanged a glance with Darryl beside him, then immediately turned to Sarah.

“Lady Sarah, the Department of Justice had some urgent matters that required my attention, I had to excuse myself. I will certainly pay a visit to your residence another day.”

Darryl also understood, aware of the seriousness within.

However, he feigned calmness, and said gloomily, “Lady Sarah, for the sake of you and the Rogelio family, I will temporarily let that thug Robin off the hook today!”

“Bro!” Dianna stood in front of Darryl and Mario, “How can it just end like this?”

At this point. Dianna pointed at Robin, her eyes filled with resentment and anger.

“Bro, since the President has already issued an order to deal with this violent incident, we must arrest him!” Darryl furrowed his brow, glancing up at Robin who was walking towards him.

“Dianna, | had to go on an urgent mission, that thug Robin... let the SWAT team handle him,”

“Just, there was no one who dared to speak about me so unabashedly yet!”

Before Darryl had a chance to speak, Robin slapped him across the face.

Chapter 283 I've Forgotten About It A black-clad guard from the Rogelio family shot Darryl in the wrist, disarming him. Meanwhile, dozens of short guns from the black—clad guards were all pointed at Darryl and the garrison guards.

Sarah said coldly, “Darryl, if you dare to act recklessly, the Rogelio family will surely turn you and the Barker family into a hornet’s nest today!”

Stunned, Fernando roared in fury, “Darryl, kneel down immediately. and beg for Lady Sarah’s forgiveness!” Darryl, clutching his bleeding wrist, trembled all over, but never once did he kneel down.

Sarah stepped forward, one step at a time, and said, “Who gave you the audacity to point a gun at the esteemed guest of the Rogelio family, Nicolas? Take action!”

Nicolas punched Darryl in the face.

Darryl rolled on the ground, convulsing in pain.

Dianna was shocked by the scene before her. She rushed to Sarah, yelling, “What's going on? Have you all gone mad?” “Robin...he was nothing more than a low-level punk!”

“Lady Sarah, were you tricked?”

“Seven years ago, he was just a little waiter in this bar, a homeless poor man at the bottom of society.”

“Shut up!” Sarah slapped Dianna across the face.

“The ignorant thing!”

“If it weren't for the gentleman's disdain to argue with you, you lot from the Barker family, a bunch of insignificant people, would have long become corpses!”

“Thud, thud, thud...” A man in his thirties wearing glasses quickly ran in from outside. Behind him were thirty accompanying presidential guards. The Presidential Guard stood in two rows, instantly pointing their guns at Darryl and 20 stationed soldiers.

“Lay down your weapons and return to face the judgement of the Odrarian military court! Otherwise, you will be executed on the spot!”

Darryl and twenty guards, how dare they disobey the orders of the presidential guard. Dropped the weapon, was led out of the bar. The man wearing glasses quickly walked up to Robin and Sarah, respectfully saying, “Mr. Bruce, hello!”

“I was the Secretary General Xavius Hunter of the Odrarian President's office. The President was waiting in the car outside. I kindly requested Mr. Bruce and Lady Sarah to proceed to the car for a discussion.”

Sarah snorted coldly, pointing at Mario, “Mr. Hunter, I want to ask you, did the Deputy Minister of the Department of Justice, Mario, say that your secretariat issued an order to arrest Mr. Bruce? Did this happen?”

Xavius's slightly plump body shuddered violently, “Lady Sarah, such a thing is absolutely impossible! I stake my life on it.” “Good!” Sarah turned to Mario, “Mario, you should have an explanation for your actions, right?”

Mario trembled, “Lady Sarah, Mr. Hunter, I received a report that there was a shooting incident at Dreamland Bar, so... so I, I came here with the marshals from the Department of Justice.”

Xavius asked with a grim face, “Mario, tell me, who ordered you to come to Dreamland Bar to arrest people?”

Mario looked around and said to him, “Mr. Hunter, |... | really didn’t. know that Mr. Bruce was a distinguished guest of the President.”

“Answer me?!” Xavius said coldly, “Mario, whose orders did you actually receive?”

Mario was sweating, “I’m sorry, Mr. Hunter, I...”

Xavius gave a cold laugh, “You dare to abuse the president’s name for personal gain?!”

“Mario, you should have taken this matter to the Independent. Commission Against Corruption for explanation, take him away!” Mario and two judicial officers were immediately dragged out of the Dreamland Bar by the presidential guard.

Xavius bowed again, “Mr. Bruce, I’m sorry, the President just found out about this matter as well. We will definitely give you a satisfactory answer. Please, please follow me.”

Robin nodded and headed towards the exit of the bar.

Dianna was confused for a while, then quickly took two steps and shouted. “Robin, wait!” Watching Robin’s retreating figure, she couldn’t help but shed tears.

“Robin, I... | was wrong. Could you, for the sake of our past relationship, spare my father?”

Robin furrowed his brow slightly, “Past affections? I’ve long forgotten them!”

Dianna quickly ran out of Dreamland Bar, the scene before her eyes suddenly causing her to break out in a cold sweat. She had been living in Farmere for these years.

| had never seen the presidential guard's parade so close up before.

Nearly a hundred neatly armed presidential guards stood in formation. on both sides of the bar entrance.

Ahead was a luxurious convoy of nearly 30 top-of-the-line luxury cars.

There were armed guards standing in front of each car.

In front of the line of guards at the Dreamland Bar, the Odrarian president stepped out of the car.

There was also a middle-aged couple beside him.

Two people respectfully followed beside the Odrarian president, walking towards Robin.

Fernando, who came out afterwards, was instantly astonished and shuddered all over when he saw the couple next to the president.

At that moment, the shock he felt inside was a thousand times more intense than what Dianna had experienced. Fernando rubbed his eyes, stared intently for a good while, and murmured, "How... how could he be in this place?" The couple beside the Odrarian president.

It was the leader of the Hondry Sect, Matthew, and his wife Marcella.

Dianna asked in confusion, "Dad, who are they?"

Fernando gave a bitter smile and said, "Dianna, we really made a mistake!"

"We could have reached the pinnacle of the Odrarian elite, based on the connection you had with that gentleman seven years ago."

"But, but you single-handedly ruined it!"

The following scene left Fernando even more shocked.

Matthew and Marcella quickly walked up to Robin and fell to their knees with a thud.

"Sir, thank you for your great kindness and generosity."

Robin said indifferently, "If such a situation arises again in the Hondry Sect in the future, I will make it disappear forever!" Matthew knelt on the ground, "Yes, my lord! I will surely reorganize the Hondry Sect and forever obey your commands!"

"After the issue of the Hondry Sect division of Farmere was resolved, Marcella and I were to personally go to Londraland to thank the lord!"

The Odrarian president stepped forward, shaking Robin's hand and walking ahead with a laugh. "Robin, wait a moment, I have something to tell you!"

Robin had just taken a few steps when Dianna chased after him from behind.

The presidential guards kept him outside.

"Robin, I realized I was wrong, I shouldn't have treated you like that..."

Dianna screamed in agony

Such a mournful howl was bitterly drifting in the night wind in front of the Dreamland Bar.

Robin sighed softly, stopping in his tracks.

"Let's not bring up what happened seven years ago. You should go now!"

Dianna pleaded in tears, "Robin, back then, you promised you would always be good to me. Have you really forgotten?"

Robin gave a nonchalant smile, "That was an age of ignorance. Half an hour ago, didn't you tell me to grow up? There are no such things as 'forevers' in this world, it's all a lie."

Robin no longer paid attention and turned to walk away. Fernando saw that Dianna had not moved Robin, and shouted loudly, "Mr. Bruce, I apologize to you for our family."

Robin paused again, slowly turning around: “the Barker family apologizing to me? Hasn't the logic of your the Barker family always. been, whoever has power can do whatever they want?”

Fernando knelt on the ground and pleaded, “Mr. Bruce, we are wrong, please forgive me.”

“I never forgive others!” Robin chuckled lightly, turning to Sarah beside him. “I almost forgot, Sarah, do you think there’s still a need for the Barker family to exist?”

Without a second thought, Sarah said, “There’s no need, sir, I know what to do.”

The next morning.

Marissa sat despondently inside the Sour Soup Diner.

Chelsea, sitting across from her, was excitedly chattering non-stop.

“Marissa, how could you not believe what I said! I told you, Robin was really taken away by the President.”

Marissa shook her head helplessly, “Chelsea, what’s gotten into you so early in the morning? How could the president possibly have anything to do with your Robin?”

Chelsea was anxiously scratching her head, “Marissa, how do I explain to you what happened last night? You look so naive!” Marissa grimaced, “Chelsea, you’ve been talking about this topic since you came back last night. Are you crazy?!” “Marissa, I really wasn’t crazy, I originally didn’t believe it either.”

“But, I really saw it with my own eyes! I don’t know what Robin has done over the years that would make the Rogelio family, the President, and the Mayor of Farmere, Dennis, all show him such respect.”

“Chelsea, you drank too much at the bar yesterday, didn’t you? You were babbling all night!”

“You silly child, he’s not on the same level as us,” Marissa said, patting Chelsea on the head. Chelsea paused slightly, “That’s true, huh.”

“Could it be that Robin came to say goodbye to us this time?”

“In that case, perhaps he would never come again in the future.”

“With a ‘bang’!”

Santos and Nick from the gambling house, kicked open the door of the sour soup diner.

“Chelsea, you stole 300,000 from me, | smashed your shop today! Where was that kid named Robin that day?” Nick, holding a machete, sat directly in front of Marissa.

Marissa was startled and quickly knelt down on the ground.

“Santos. Robin took your money, | will definitely pay you back.”

Santos sneered, “Fine, bring the money! If you can’t produce it today, this sour soup diner is mine!” Chelsea hastily helped Marissa up, “Get up, what are you afraid these two bastards will do?”

Chelsea grabbed Marissa and said, “Marissa, why are you begging them? Robin is a friend of the president, why should we be afraid of him?”

Santos and Nick heard what Chelsea said.

Laughed out loud as if watching a fool.

“Chelsea, have you lost your mind? Were your Robin and the Odrarian president friends?”

Chelsea said arrogantly. "Of course! You two just wait. If Robin comes back, you won't even have a place to die." "I also told you, Sarah from the Rogelio family. “Marissa, did your Robin and Chelsea both eat your sour soup and lose. their minds?”

“Santos. don't mess around, put the knife down now!” Marissa stood in front of Robin and Chelsea. Watching the frail and timid Marissa being so brave to protect him and Chelsea was astonishing. A wave of warmth instantly pierced through Robin's cold heart.

She never imagined that Sarah would personally come to their sour soup diner.

“Lady Sarah, you..... hello.....” Chelsea murmured excitedly.

Sarah gave a slight nod, then walked over and sat down next to Chelsea.

She looked at Marissa and asked Chelsea, “Is this Marissa, the owner of Sour Soup Diner?” Chelsea trembled, “Yes... yes, ma’am.”

Marissa was also somewhat nervous.

Since this sour soup diner opened, there had never been such a high- end customer visiting. “Yes, yes, ma’am. You can just call me Marissa.”

Sarah nodded with a smile, “Marissa, I heard from the gentleman that your sour soup is especially delicious. Could you please make a bowl for me?”

Shannon had just walked into the sour soup diner.

Santos, Nick, and a bunch of other thugs respectfully bowed, "Hello, Mr. Gordon!" "Hmm!" Shannon raised her head high with pride.

“What...what happened?”

She trembled as she placed the sour soup in front of Sarah, shouting at Robin, “Robin, you better run!”

Nicolas was holding Marissa’s arm, “Don’t be afraid, it’s okay.”

Robin got up and walked over to her, wrapping his arms around her frail shoulders, “It’s okay, it will be better soon.” Nicolas looked up at Santos and Nick, “Kneel down!”

Marissa was so terrified that she wanted to kneel on the ground directly.

Nicolas apologized, “Marissa, I’m sorry, | wasn’t talking about you...”

Marissa trembled all over with fear, pleading to Santos and the others, “I... | will definitely find a way to pay you back, please don’t make things difficult for Robin...”

“Madam, please spare us this time, we...we really didn’t know it was you who graced us with your presence...”

Santos, Nick, and the others were all kneeling on the ground.

Marissa looked at the scene before her in terror, not knowing what was going on. “Madam?”

She was momentarily frightened and at a loss: “Santos, I don’t want the sour soup diner anymore, you guys take it away...” Santos and Nick immediately understood.

From the moment Sarah and Nicolas entered the sour soup diner, they had been very respectful towards Marissa.

They immediately crawled in front of Marissa, begging. “Marissa, please plead for us with the queen, spare us, we will never dare to come over to collect protection money from you again...”

Marissa was confused. “Santos, I don’t understand what you’re saying.”

“Don’t mind them, Marissa.” Robin said, stepping on Santos’s face.

“I had said, if you dare to misbehave again, it won’t be such a simple matter to resolve.”

“Sorry, Robin, we were wrong, please ask Lady Sarah to forgive us!”

Robin laughed, “You all are hustlers, have you ever forgiven those who you've oppressed and extorted?” 20241

“If Sarah hadn't been here today, could you have let Marissa and Chelsea go?”

“Prepare yourself well for death! This world has always been fair”

“Remember, if you come back to this life in the next, no matter what path you’re on, you must follow the rules!” “Drag him out!”

Several black—clad guards dragged Santos, Nick, and others out of the Sour Soup Diner.

Marissa was completely confused.

She didn't understand what was going on with these villains, Santos, Nick, today?

Looking back at Robin's retreating figure, Marissa became nervous.

What had Robin been doing outside all these years?

Thinking of this, Marissa hurriedly rushed to Robin's side, anxiously asking. "Robin, did you... did you do something bad outside? Why they so afraid of you? What on earth did you do to them?"

Robin laughed. "Don't overthink it, just focus on running your sour soup diner in the future." "There won't be those bad guys to bully you anymore."

Sarah walked up to Marissa and handed her a VIP gold card from the Rogelio family. "Marissa, your sour soup has a unique flavor. I will come often to drink it in the future." 46.204

Marissa looked at the golden card, which represented the prestigious status of the upper class in Farmere, in panic. Her hands were.

trembling. "This, this is..."

Sarah said with a smile. "Your sour soup is worth this price."

After speaking, he turned to Robin and bowed slightly, "Sir, I won't disturb you any longer, I'll take my leave now."

She just couldn't understand, how such a big shot, like a god, could end up in her little shop. He returned to her a gold card of the Rogelio family, like a talisman!

Moreover, I had to send Chelsea to college!

"Ah, Ms. Martinez, I heard that the sour soup from this pickle shop is very delicious." "Exactly, exactly, it's this place called Marissa's Sour Soup Diner!"

Robin looked at Chelsea's anxious expression and patted her head, "Silly girl, are you crazy? What are you thinking about? Her name is Evelyn Martinez!"

"Yes, yes, Ms. Martinez, were you really Ms. Martinez?"

Chelsea stood in front of Evelyn in surprise, looking at her for quite a while.

Evelyn nodded politely, "Hello."

She had seen many scenes like this.

Every time there was a fan meeting, the scene was much crazier than this.

She glanced at Robin, then at Chelsea, “Mr. Bruce, this is...?”

“My sister, Chelsea.” Robin patted an excited Chelsea.

Evelyn suddenly showed dozens of times more enthusiasm than before, grabbing Chelsea's hand: “Hello, sister Chelsea.” Tears were about to flow from Chelsea's eyes.

She hadn't expected that Evelyn, such a big star, would be so enthusiastic towards her.

“Mr. Bruce, how were you here?”

After soothing Chelsea, Evelyn turned to Robin, her beautiful eyes shimmering with anticipation.

“This is my home.” Robin indicated to them, “Please, sit.”

“Your home?” Evelyn could hardly believe her own ears.

She surveyed the modest sour soup diner, then looked at Chelsea and Marissa.

She just couldn't believe that Robin was part of their family.

She just didn't dare to ask more about such things.

The woman beside her looked at the tall and handsome Robin, smiling mysteriously, “Evelyn, was this your friend before?” Evelyn pulled her a bit, signaling her not to talk nonsense.

“Oh, Mr. Bruce was a friend of mine in Londraland.”

Evelyn knew that Robin didn't like others talking about his affairs.

Therefore, it was even more inappropriate to say much in front of Annie Wilson, a fellow crew member.

Annie glanced at Robin, deliberately saying, “Evelyn, could it be that you were outside...”

Before she could finish her sentence, Evelyn's cheeks turned red and she quickly stopped, “Annie, shut your mouth!” “I told you, if your big mouth gives the paparazzi an opportunity, the agency will definitely impose a heavy penalty.” Annie rolled her eyes at Evelyn, “Look at how scared you are, I didn't-

Then, she leaned in close to her ear and whispered, “If he wasn't your boyfriend, I would have tried to seduce him. Such a handsome man. it's the first time I've ever seen one, hehehe..

Evelyn slapped her, whispering, “You dare!” “Boss, make us two bowls of sour soup,” Annie teased, glancing at Robin as she called out. It was then that Marissa snapped out of her daze. “Alright, alright, ladies, please wait a moment. I'll be right there.”

Evelyn noticed that Robin didn't want to talk much about the situation here, and after some thought, she said. “Mr. Bruce, we came to Farmere to attend the biggest film festival in Southeast Estya, the Farmere Film Festival.”

“If it was convenient for you, we hoped you could join us in...” “Oh, I'm not really interested.” Robin cut off Evelyn before she could finish. “Oh, I see... That's really a bit regrettable.” “A hint of disappointment flashed in Evelyn's eyes.

After a slight pause, he continued, “Mr. Bruce, Mr. Dickson will also be attending the Farmere Film Festival this time. He will arrive at Farmere International Airport at five in the evening.....”

Evelyn tentatively said this, hoping to keep Robin.

Chelsea tugged at Robin, whispering, "Robin, I want to go, I've never seen a festival like the film festival before." "Ms. Martinez was your friend, could you please..."

Chelsea saw that Robin had no expression and stopped halfway through her sentence, not daring to continue. Robin shook his head, "You little girl, always so curious?"

"Alright, Ms. Martinez, where is the location of the Farmere Film Festival? I'll bring Chelsea with me."

Evelyn didn't expect a turn of events, Robin surprisingly agreed again.

“Are you dumb? Why are you staring at me like that?” Robin tapped Chelsea’s head. “Robin, I remembered, the way Evelyn looked at you just now seemed quite unusual!” Robin gave her a glance, “What’s so unusual?”

“I felt that Evelyn really liked you!”

“Honestly tell me, were you guys boyfriend and girlfriend?”

“Get out of here, it’s nothing!” Robin patted Chelsea’s head.

“Keep talking nonsense, and see if I don’t beat you up!”

Chelsea muttered, “I’m already this old, don’t hit my head anymore!” Robin laughed. “If you behave, I won’t hit you.”

Marissa sat down next to them: “Robin, Chelsea is right.”

“Robin, that girl named Evelyn who was just here is quite pretty. What I mean is, since you’re both in Farmere this time, why not get married?”

“Ugh, what on earth are you all thinking about?” Robin puckered her lips.

"I only met her once by chance in Londraland in the past, how did it get tied up with marriage again?" "Marissa, what were you thinking?"

Marissa glared at Robin in annoyance, "Shouldn't you have a girlfriend at this age?"

"Tonight, you took Chelsea to the Farmere Film Festival, and I also went with you guys to take a look." "By then, I had gone to clarify this matter with Ms. Martinez."

"If the veil between two people wasn't pierced, neither of them felt comfortable speaking up."

"This kind of thing, if you guys don't want to speak up, I will!"

"What a mess," Robin said, holding his head in his hands.

"Marissa, could you please not get involved in this matter?"

"If you wanted to check out the film festival, I could take you there."

"If you were going to say this, then you should have just stayed home and worked."

"Alright, alright, I won't talk about this anymore. Can you take me to see the film festival?"

Marissa gave Chelsea a wink.

The two arrived at the back kitchen together.

"Chelsea, it would have been great if Robin could have married a beautiful girl like Evelyn!"

"Tonight, we clarified this matter with Evelyn."

Chelsea nodded, "Alright, Marissa it is then."

Robin spent the day at Sour Soup Diner, helping Marissa and Chelsea.

The business at Sour Soup Diner was exceptionally good today, with waves of customers coming in one after another. The three people were busily enjoying themselves.

It wasn't until four in the afternoon that things quieted down.

Marissa let out a long sigh.

Looking

at Robin and Chelsea in front of him, his eyes were full of indulgence and laughter.

"Today was the happiest day for our Sour Soup Diner in all these years!"

"Robin, I went with you to the Farmere Film Festival. Today, I also wanted to relax a bit and discuss your marriage with Ms. Martinez."

Robin shook his head, "Here we go again! Do as you please, as long as you're happy. But, whatever you say won't make a difference in this matter."

"Go on, Marissa, change into some clean clothes, we're leaving."

Marissa went upstairs and dug out a set of clothes from ten years ago.

"Robin, could I wear this?"

Robin laughed and said, "Sure, as long as you're happy, anything you wear will look good." "Here was 300,000 dollars, you took it."

Holding the bank card worth $300,000, Marissa exclaimed in astonishment. "Robin, this..." "This was what I won last time at the Santos casino, now it's yours."

Robin saw Marissa hesitating. "Are you taking it or not? If not, I'm going to gamble it away again." "You child, let me handle this!" Marissa took the bank card.

"I kept it for you, to arrange your wedding when you got married."

"Marissa, are you going to wear this?" Chelsea asked, looking at Marissa's outfit.

Marissa looked at herself apprehensively, "This is my best outfit, Robin said it was good.”

Robin patted Chelsea. “This dress looks pretty good, let’s go.

Chelsea had wanted to tell Marissa that wearing such clothes to a film festival was too shabby. Seeing Robin, she gave her a glance and then let it go.

Three people hailed a taxi and headed towards Farmere Film Studios.

All the way, Chelsea was excitedly talking non-stop.

Passing Blueberry Street, Robin subconsciously looked in the direction of Dreamland Bar. The ambiance in front of the bar was just like the old times.

The street in front of the door was bathed in golden sunset.

However, a group of hooligans nearby greatly spoiled the scene.

At that moment, this group of hooligans was shoving a young woman around.

The taxi gradually approached the gang of thugs.

Robin saw clearly.

Under this golden sunset, that once familiar face..

His heart felt as if it had been pierced by a sharp blade. Dianna?

Chapter 292 Can You Afford It?

Ten minutes later, Robin, Marissa, and Chelsea arrived at the largest film exhibition center in Southeast Estya, Farmere Film Studios.

The top film event in all of Estya, the Farmere Film Festival, was about to be held here. The triennial Estya Film Festival had been held ten times since the establishment of Farmere Film Studios. For decades, a business district centered around film festivals had also formed around Farmer Film Studios.

The business district was filled with various forms of commerce, including flavorful cuisine, luxury clothing, and film, studios memorabilia.

Almost half of the projects in the Film Studios district were properties of the Rogelio family.

“Alright!” Chelsea said happily.

“Marissa, get out of the car. You've lived this long and you've never been to a place like this!”

Marissa patted Chelsea’s head, “As if you come here often.”

Chelsea chuckled, “I’ve never been here in my entire life. So, I also want to go in and take a look.”

“The stuff here is so expensive! Let’s take a look and broaden our horizons.”

Chelsea glanced at Marissa and her own clothes.

It was completely out of place with all the scenery on this luxury clothing street.

Just stepping into this neighborhood, fear began to creep in.

“Robin, let's not go in, walking around here always feels a bit uncomfortable,”

Robin understood Chelsea’s feelings.

She was shocked by the excessively luxurious clothing and accessories’ prices in front of her.

The limited-edition clothing displayed in the showcase all started at over 10,000 US dollars.

Some even reached up to a million US dollars.

It was beyond what people at their level dared to imagine.

Even a glance was enough to make my heart race.

Walking here at close range, always felt restrained and inferior.

Marissa also chimed in, "Yeah, Robin, let's just go. We're not even buying these expensive clothes."

Robin laughed and said, "Who said I'm not buying it? | came here to buy clothes for you guys."

Marissa shook her head, "I don't want it. These are what the rich people buy. For people like us, it's enough to have a full meal." Robin laughed. "Marissa, you are now a rich person."

"In a few days, Nicolas would contact you to collaborate on turning Sour Soup Diner into a national chain." "Collaborate with me?" Marissa trembled nervously, "L... | don't have the money to collaborate with them!" Robin patted Marissa's slender shoulder, "Yes, your sour soup recipe is a unique family secret."

"You contributed the sour soup recipe as your share, the Rogelio family invested money, and took charge of the operations." "Your company's name was Marissa's Sour Soup Chain Diner."

"In the future, you could just comfortably be a major shareholder of a nationwide chain."

"Think about it, were you qualified to buy these clothes?"

Chelsea excitedly said, "Marissa, all these were from Robin."

"| knew, Lady Sarah also sent me to college because of Robin."

"Marissa, once I've finished my studies and returned, I'll help you run the sour soup business."

Tears swirled in Marissa's eyes. "Robin, you've given too much to me and Chelsea!"

Robin took out a wet wipe to wipe away Marissa's tears.

"Why did you start crying?"

"Seven years ago, if it weren't for you providing me a place to stay, I wouldn't even know if I'd be dead or alive now." "Stop being melodramatic, Marissa, cheer up!"

"You were about to become the big boss of Marissa's Sour Soup Chain Diner, you can't be this disgraceful!" "Let's go, I'll take you in for an image makeover, and then buy some clothes. Let's indulge ourselves for once!" Robin led Chelsea and Marissa into a Chanel luxury store.

In addition to clothing sales, this luxury store also offered additional services such as image design and clothing design.

"We first bought several sets of ready-made clothes, then designed some custom-made outfits."

"Then, have them do a hairstyle and image design for both of you." Chelsea anxiously said, "Robin, is it really necessary?"

Chapter 293 What a Braggart!

“Amanda?” Chelsea looked up, a hint of displeasure flashing in her eyes

This extravagantly dressed woman with poor speech was a former neighbor named Amanda Moody. A medium-built man with dark skin was following beside Amanda.

“This is my boyfriend, Elmer Saunders.” Amanda said, her face full of pride.

“Elmer's father was a renowned director for the Famous branch of Carmen Pictures under the prestigious Dickson family of Hollywood.”

Amanda, in order to express Elmer's impressive identity, held her breath and finished such a long modifier.

The corner of Robin's mouth twitched.

| thought it was the eldest of the Dickson family.

Was it just a lousy director, was it necessary to show off so much?

After revealing Elmer's identity, Amanda was even more excited and animated.

Wished to reveal all the things that could be boasted about.

"Chelsea, Elmer and I were simply invited to attend this Farmere Film Festival..."

Elmer looked at the stunningly innocent Chelsea, a hint of greed flickering in his eyes.

He interrupted the babbling Amanda, putting on an extremely gentlemanly smile and said, "Hello, Ms. Rodriguez, I am Elmer."

Chelsea nodded politely, subconsciously covering her neckline.

"Ms. Rodriguez, I am a professional filmmaker, and it's such a pity that someone with your demeanor and looks isn't acting in films," I said.

"If you had this idea, I could help make your dream come true."

Amanda noticed Elmer's eyes constantly on Chelsea, a flicker of displeasure crossing her face.

The look in his eyes towards Chelsea held an added touch of resentment.

Chelsea shook her head, "I don't want to go, I'm about to start school at Mightdale University..."

"What? Chelsea, you went to Mightdale University?" Amanda almost died laughing.

"The ones who studied there were all the elites and nobles of Odrar. Could you afford to attend that school?" "Chelsea, not seeing you for a year, and now you're full of lies? It's really ridiculous!"

Amanda's loud rant attracted the attention of many customers in the store.

This made Chelsea very uneasy.

Her face flushed, she whispered, "Amanda, lower your voice."

“What I said was all true, I didn’t lie to you.”

The saleswoman also politely reminder, “Miss, please lower your voice to avoid disturbing other customers.” Amanda also realized this, nodding with a smile, “Oh, alright. I was just momentarily excited and acted rudely, I’m sorry.”

“I wanted to give you a heads up, some people come into stores of this caliber just to try on clothes without buying anything, and she is one of those people.”

Amanda pointed to Chelsea, continuing, “They were the ones running the sour soup diner.”

“A sour soup diner that was only ten square meters. The daily income was barely enough to sustain a living.” “Think about it, how many bowls of sour soup would they have had to sell to afford such expensive clothes?” “The dress she was wearing was priced at 50,000 US dollars, she couldn’t afford it at all!”

The saleswoman also looked at Chelsea awkwardly, her eyebrows slightly furrowed.

In her professional experience, she had never encountered a customer who only tried on clothes in this kind of store without buying anything.

Amanda was still relentless, “Chelsea, I’m afraid you might never earn 50,000 dollars in your lifetime.”

Chelsea’s cheeks flushed with nervousness, unsure of how to respond.

Indeed, fifty thousand dollars was truly an astronomical figure for their original family.

"Robin?" Amanda looked carefully at Robin.

"I remembered, it was that homeless poor kid Robin from the seventies, right?"

"Didn't he run away later?"

"Legend has it that you went out sailing, and there are also rumors that you..."

Robin didn't want to deal with this woman, blocking her behind him, "Chelsea, do you like this dress?"

Chelsea whispered, "I do like it, but it's too expensive..."

Amanda noticed that Robin didn't want to interact with her, guessing that Robin was feeling guilty for not having money. Circled around to Chelsea's front, said, "Chelsea, do you think you're worthy of wearing such expensive clothes?"

"Let alone the high price, could you guys afford it?"

“In this world, the two things that can't be lied about are pregnancy and poverty!”

“Really, there are all sorts of people these days.”

“Too poor to even afford a meal, yet still trying to act rich!”

“Trying on a few pieces of noble clothing proves you're a noble? That's ridiculous!”

“Amanda, are you implying that you're a noble now?” Marissa emerged. from the fitting room, her tone half—mocking. Amanda was even more surprised, “Marissa, did Robin also bring you here to try on clothes?”

Marissa laughed, “How can you call it trying on clothes? It's buying clothes!”

Amanda scoffed, “Marissa, how much money can you make from a sour soup diner?”

“Did you know how much this piece of clothing on you cost?”

“Let me tell you, you’ve been making sour soup for a year, you couldn’t afford it even if you didn’t eat or drink!” Marissa winced.

This piece of clothing was indeed very expensive.

It was originally not supposed to be bought.

Upon hearing Amanda say this, she steeled her heart and bought it.

No matter what, we couldn’t let Robin be embarrassed!

“Amanda, you really haven’t seen much of the world, have you?”

“Sour Soup Diner could also expand big, I was about to make it a nationwide chain.”

“A nationwide chain?” Amanda laughed even more mockingly, “Marissa, you’re killing me!”

Chapter 201 ts So Good to e

“No matter how much you sweet talk now, it’s useless. After taking these clothes, in the end, you still have to pay.” Marissa also confidently laughed and said, “Yes, it’s not like I came here to try on clothes and get a feel for them.” “Robin brought me here, of course, we came in to buy clothes.”

“But you, not buying any clothes and just chattering away, I’m afraid you’re just here to look around, aren’t you?” Then, he imitated Robin’s manner of speaking.

“Miss saleswoman, pack one of each clothing item from your store that suits my figure and age, and deliver them all to our address tomorrow.”

Then, he disdainfully glanced at Amanda.

Just like a billionaire scorned a pauper, full of sympathy and mockery.

Turned around and chased after Robin and Chelsea.

Marissa suddenly felt relieved.

Put on this outfit worth tens of thousands of dollars, full of confidence!

Oh my, it was really great to be a rich person!

Otherwise, I would have really been pissed off by such a bitchy woman like Amanda!

Amanda stared at Marissa's retreating figure, feeling a moment of disorientation.

It seemed like a completely different person from two years ago.

Looking again at the outfit Marissa had changed into, it indeed made her look much more aristocratic. Did they really get rich?

Watching Robin, Chelsea, and Marissa walk towards the cashier's desk together, accompanied by the sales lady. Immediately focused intently on them.

Roughly estimated, the clothes that Chelsea and Marissa requested to be all wrapped up were worth more than 10 million US dollars.

This was not a joke.

This Chanel luxury store was the property of the Rogelio family.

Whoever dared to mess around here, the consequences were predictable.

Amanda was stunned for a while, then suddenly scoffed, "This family has gone mad, hahaha..." "Could they afford one for each bag?"

"Elmer, let's wait here and see how they get thrown out when they can't pay, haha..."

Elmer nodded, but in his mind, he was scheming about how to get that young girl, Chelsea.

The two people stood still like fools, staring continuously in the direction of the cashier's counter.

The saleswoman led Robin and two others towards the cashier.

In a daze, she followed Robin and two others to the cashier: “Sir, are you paying by card or...” Robin pulled out a supreme gold card of the Rogelio family.

This was what Nicolas gave him before he left.

The saleswoman was suddenly taken aback.

She didn't know what the store manager meant.

The store manager respectfully invited Robin, Chelsea, and Marissa to the VIP room.

Each person was given a glass of clear water, a cup of fresh milk, and a plate of exquisite pastries.

“Sir, two ladies, please wait a moment again, the procedures will be completed for you shortly.”

The store manager had entertained Robin and his two companions.

Immediately ordered all the staff in the store to stop their work and select and pack clothes for Chelsea and her group. At Robin's request, the store manager personally selected some bags, shoes, and various clothes for them again.. The store manager almost lost control and shouted out loud after seeing the address Robin had given her. Because the villa she saw was the most expensive seaside royal villa area of Farmere.

This villa had been uninhabited for many years.

Unexpectedly, this person turned out to be the owner of the villa!

Come to think of it, it was.

The supreme guest of the Rogelio family, of course, could afford such an extremely luxurious villa.

The lady store manager unconsciously gave Robin a few extra glances.

Such a handsome and wealthy young master from a prestigious family, truly the envy of all beauties! Throughout almost the entire process, the manager was standing by Robin's side. side.

Even took the opportunity to subtly and intentionally show off his career progression.

Then, under the guise of work, he handed out his business card.

Robin had seen this kind of situation too many times before, so he naturally understood the thoughts of this beautiful store manager.

Holding the other party's business card, casually tipped ten thousand. dollars. The beautiful store manager was almost ecstatic with joy. Almost lost control and lunged forward.

Amanda, who had been standing in the clothing section and watching Robin, Chelsea, and Marissa pay from a distance, was completely baffled.

She didn't know what the store manager was doing when he took Robin, Chelsea. Marissa and others to a room at the back. "Elmer, what was going on with them?"

Elmer had never received such a VIP treatment in such a luxurious consumer place before.

Of course, it was unclear exactly what had happened.

He shook his head, "Could it be that they really didn't have money to pay and were caught by the store's security?"

Amanda burst into excited laughter, "Hahaha... this family is really ridiculous!"

“To show off, they actually staged this farce in the luxury goods of the Rogelio family. Now there’s a good show to watch.” “Elmer, let’s wait here for a bit and see what they look like when they get kicked out, hahaha...”

They sat in the lounge area of the Chanel store, their eyes constantly fixed on the room that Robin and his two companions had entered.

At that time, all the salesladies in the store started to get busy.

Even some saleswomen, who were serving other customers, also joined in the work of selecting and packing clothes. Amanda noticed the saleswoman selecting and packaging those clothes.

It seemed to be the style and size that Chelsea and Marissa had requested.

Did they really buy every single item here?

Marissa nervously said, “Robin, why did they lock us in here?”

“Were we locked up because we didn’t have money to buy clothes? What are we going to do?”

Robin looked at Marissa's frightened expression and laughed, "Marissa, don't be nervous."

"All our expenses in this store were on the house."

"No money?" Marissa sprang up, "How can you take someone's things without paying?"

Robin laughed, "It's the Rogelio family who owes me! You just go ahead and buy."

Marissa couldn't figure out what was going on.

As soon as Robin said this, she believed it.

Might as well just let him go.

Soon, the store manager directed all the clerks to complete all the procedures.

Robin signaled the store manager to personally take Marissa and Chelsea to the second floor image designer to get a hairstyle. At that time, Amanda and Elmer, who were waiting outside the hall, were almost falling asleep.

Chapter 297 Evelyn's Boyfriend?

"Chelsea?"

Robyn came from behind, carrying a tray of drinks.

Looking at Chelsea's dazzling and luxurious attire, I was greatly astonished.

"Chelsea, you looked so beautiful tonight, I almost didn't recognize you!"

"Marissa? Are you really Marissa?!"

It was only then that Robyn was surprised to discover that the lady next to Chelsea was actually Marissa.

For a moment, I was somewhat dazed.

Farmere, a pair of mother and daughter from the lowest strata of society.

How did it magically appear in the gatherings of the top social circles?

This was a gathering place for money, fame, and status.

Without certain social resources and connections, it was simply impossible to enter such a circle of fame and profit. "Marissa, did you get a new hairstyle? It's so beautiful and classy!"

"I actually didn't recognize it just now!"

"Also, your outfit, I've seen it in the Chanel store, it's worth more than seventy thousand dollars!"

Chapter 797 Evelyn's Boyfriend

Robyn subconsciously looked at her hostess outfit and felt a moment of self—disgust.

Marissa was embarrassed the first time someone complimented her on looking beautiful and elegant..

Her face flushed, she said, “Ms. Strickland, you’re such a flatterer, |... at my age, what elegance could | possibly have.”

“Chelsea was coming to check out the film festival, she and Robin insisted on dressing me up like this, to the point where | couldn’t even recognize myself, hehe...”

Seeing Marissa shy like a young girl, Chelsea teased, “Our Marissa is actually very elegant. Dressed like this, she’s even more beautiful than those second and third-tier stars.”

“Let's fall in love again in the future, and really let loose!”

“You silly girl, what nonsense are you talking about!” Marissa’s face was as red as a ripe apple.

Chelsea hugged Marissa as they looked at the tray of drinks Robyn was holding.

Looking at her hostess attire again, “Robyn, what are you doing?”

Robyn glanced at Robin, embarrassed, and said, “We, Hashville Airlines, were the partners for this film festival.” “The organizer invited some of our company’s flight attendants, who were on leave, to serve as hostesses for the film festival.” “| was on vacation these past few days and happened to be in Farmere, so | came over to have some fun and earn a little tip.” “Chelsea, Marissa, how did you get into this area?”

Chelsea proudly said. “The tickets that movie star Ms. Martinez gave us.”

“Evelyn? The popular star of Carmen Pictures?” Robyn exclaimed in surprise.

Chelsea nodded. “Yes, it was Evelyn.”

Robyn hadn't realized that the ticket from Chelsea was from the renowned Evelyn.

“Ms. Martinez has been very successful these past few years! | really enjoy watching her movies.”

“Chelsea, how did you come to know Evelyn?”

“Before, | never heard you mention her?”

Chelsea sneakily glanced at Robin's back, whispering, “I just met her today.”

“| told you, Evelyn was Robin’s girlfriend.”

“Marissa’s sour soup was even drunk in our store today.”

“Robin’s girlfriend?” Robyn looked up at Robin not far away, suddenly feeling an inexplicable sense of loss. Annie heard the words, “Evelyn’s boyfriend?”

Hehe, the company strictly prohibited contracted actors from dating.

This Evelyn actually broke the rules!

Annie was sizing up the tall and handsome Robin under the lamp light, her mind beginning to whirl.

Today at the Sour Soup Diner, Evelyn saw Robin and found her appearance quite strange.

That way, it should have been Evelyn pursuing Robin.

However, Robin’s reaction was quite indifferent.

From her experience, Robin probably didn’t like Evelyn

Evelyn was such a top-tier actress.

If a general man was reciprocated with kindness, this man should have had a stronger response.

But Robin didn’t show any enthusiasm, he was even quite indifferent.

Annie was sizing up Robin’s back.

In the hustle and bustle of the crowd, this kind of man, even if he did nothing, said nothing.

That kind of momentum that burst out from the bones, imposing without anger.

Such an aura could only be possessed by men who were extremely powerful in terms of identity, status, and ability. She believed that this person was not a hidden tycoon who dominated one side.

He must have been a young master from an extremely powerful and prestigious family.

Despite she couldn't figure out what the connection was between Robin and Chelsea, Marissa and her daughter.

However, she could guess that this mother and daughter were very important relatives to Robin. Take another look at what Chelsea and Marissa were wearing.

It must have been Robin who arranged it for them.

Such expensive clothes, she and Evelyn might not have been willing to buy.

Such a lavish spending proved that this man was rich!

Just because Robin had no feelings for Evelyn, it didn't mean that I, Annie, couldn't win him over. If I could have performed better in front of him today, perhaps, perhaps this Mr. Bruce...

Annie, lost in thought, suddenly burst into laughter.

She secretly took out the mirror from her bag to look at her own beautiful face, and walked towards Robin. At that moment, Elmer and Amanda, who had been left aside, became invisible.

Chelsea and her daughter had a great time chatting with Robyn.

Robin was also responding sporadically to Annie's bizarre questions.

Elmer and Amanda exchanged a glance.

“The grandeur of Victor Pictures was truly extraordinary.”

Elmer gave a proud smile towards Robyn and Chelsea, as if he too shared in their glory.

“The hostess we invited turned out to be a person of the same level as a flight attendant.”

Robyn responded with a nod and a smile.

Amanda proudly linked arms with Elmer, boasting, "This is my boyfriend, Elmer."

Elmer extended his hand and shook it gentlemanly with Robyn.

"Ms. Strickland, with your looks and temperament, being a flight attendant is beneath your talents."

Robyn smiled charmingly, enjoying the comment, "Mr. Saunders, you're joking. What else could I possibly do if not a flight attendant?"

"Under such conditions as Ms. Strickland's, if someone recommended her to a good platform, she would quickly become a popular leading actress."

Robyn covered her mouth and laughed. "Mr. Saunders really has a sense of humor."

Elmer shrugged. "I'm a professional filmmaker, and a good friend of Levis, the young master of Victor Pictures. If Ms. Strickland is interested, I can introduce you."

Amanda saw Elmer's enthusiasm towards Robyn and a hint of resentment lashed in her eyes.

She deliberately changed the subject, "The Victor family has already hosted several Farmere Film Festivals, and the previous ones were co-hosted with the Barker Group"

"I remember every time, Ms. Barker from the Barker family would serve as the image spokesperson for the film festival, she was the goddess of us Farmeres."

"Elmer, I don't seem to have seen the film festival poster she endorsed today, have I?"

Elmer sighed. "There will be no more the Barker Group, nor the goddess Dianna Farmere anymore."

Dianna was part of the Barker family, a privileged daughter who grew up with a golden key.

Not only did they come from a distinguished background, but their own educational credentials were also extremely impressive. Possessed an unparalleled beauty and elegant demeanor.

Was sent to study in Potrya at the age of fourteen.

At the age of twenty, he graduated from Millbush University with at doctorate in economics and took over the family business. She was the goddess—level idol in the hearts of many girls in Farmere.

Annie, who was talking to Robin, exclaimed in surprise after hearing Elmer's words, "Oh, what happened to Ms. Barker and the Barker family?"

Elmare mae lit un there were so many beauties tonight!

He glanced at the information on Annie's name tag, "Ms Wilson, nice to meet you!" "You probably didn't know, Dianna has already fallen from grace! Hohe "

"I just found out some news, she is currently working as a waitress at Dreamland Bart" "The Barker family had offended a big shot and had already changed hands."

"This big shot was a mysterious young man. Later on, there was no longer the Barker family in Farmere, nor was there a Farmere goddess."

"Ah, how could this be?" Annie and Amanda were quite astonished.

Chelsea and Robyn, on the other hand, remained calm.

Amanda and Annie both arrived at Farmere today.

Moreover, under the operation of the city government and the Rogelio family, it did not spread to the internet and other media. Therefore, the news of the Barker family's downfall was essentially- kept within a very small scope.

Annie lamented, "To my knowledge, the Barker family is one of the wealthiest families in Odrar, with assets of hundreds of billions. Ms. Barker is even more unparalleled in her elegance."

"How could such a noble clan possibly be annihilated by a young man in an instant?" "If that's the case, how much energy would this person need to have to achieve it!" Elmer flicked his hair proudly, "This man, worth hundreds of billions! He's the young master of a hidden wealthy family."

Then, the voice suddenly lowered, with a mysterious smile, “He and I are buddies! If you guys are curious, I can find an opportunity to show you the world.”

“Really?” Annie immediately covered her mouth in surprise.

“Mr. Saunders, this is my business card. If you get a chance, please introduce this gentleman for me. I will be very grateful.” Elmer gladly took Annie’s business card, “Alright, I’ll definitely attend his party with Ms. Wilson if I get the chance.”

After entering the entertainment industry, Annie had always wanted to meet such a wealthy young master.

Marissa glanced back at Elmer and Amanda, reminding Chelsea.

"That Elmer was no good, and Amanda was even worse."

"Chelsea, don't pay attention to them!"

Chelsea nodded, "I understand, Marissa!"

Seeing Chelsea's attitude, Marissa worriedly asked, "Did you get tempted by what he said about making you a star?" "That guy was talking nonsense, you really couldn't believe him!"

Chelsea disdainfully said, "Marissa, what do you take me for? How could | stoop so low?"

"I would never be like that Annie. When Elmer said he was going to introduce her to a wealthy young man, her eyes lit up." "Tsk! She didn't know, the one who destroyed the Barker Group..."

Robin glanced at Chelsea.

Chelsea quickly shut her mouth.

She knew that Robin didn't want Marissa to know what had actually happened at Dreamland Bar that night

That would keep Marissa awake with worry.

Chelsea understood what Robin meant, "Anyway, I will definitely study hard. Studying can make me more valuable." "I used to see you working hard alone in the shop, how could I afford to go to school given our family situation." "It's over now, Robin has finally delivered us from misery."

"Robin, are you here to repay a favor?" Chelsea teased, linking her arm through Robin's.

"It seems that Marissa and I made the right bet by taking you in."

Robin watched Chelsea's happy expression, nodded with a smile, and was in a great mood!

Only when he was with the mother and daughter, did he feel at home, did he sense the warmth of human life. Marissa patted Chelsea's head, "You silly child! What's this about betting right or wrong?"

"You, Robin, were part of our family!"

"How could a family use words like repaying kindness and gambling?"

"Chelsea, remember this, no matter what level you reach in the future, always be a person with love and righteousness!" "Um! I've got it!" Chelsea said, holding Robin with one hand and Marissa with the other.

"I must be like Robin, full of love and righteousness!"

The three people walked forward, talking and laughing along the way.

The scene before them was too novel for Chelsea and Marissa.

The two people were as excited and thrilled as if they were watching a blockbuster movie.

The palace area of the film festival was completely different from the outside viewing area.

The palace area, elegant and luxurious.

The men coming and going were all dressed in suits and leather shoes.

Every beautiful woman was adorned with jewels and dressed exquisitely.

As if walking out from a painting.

Although not every one of them was necessarily as beautiful as a fairy, they were all dressed extremely well.

In such a magnificent hall, everyone pretended to be extraordinarily dignified and of prominent status.

Chelsea looked at the passing men and women, her eyes full of surprise.

“Marissa, did you see? Most of them are actors we’ve seen in TV shows and movies.”

“I had never imagined that one day I would have close contact with them.”

“Especially Ms. Martinez, who even knew Robin.”

“Thinking about the experiences of these past two days, it really felt like a dream.”

At this point, Chelsea exclaimed in surprise, “Robin, Marissa, look, isn’t that Ms. Martinez?”

Looking up. Evelyn was standing in the midst of a group of brightly dressed men and women.

In the brilliant light of the hall, Evelyn's stunningly beautiful face and elegantly aesthetic demeanor were fully displayed. Tonight, Evelyn wore a violet off-the-shoulder long dress.

The tight, stunning long dress outlined her perfect figure.

Accompanied by that exquisite makeup, her skin was fair and smooth.

She was much more glamorous than the Evelyn I saw in the Sour Soup Diner.

Like a graceful fairy in a wonderland, she was breathtakingly beautiful!

Evelyn stood in the center of the banquet hall, clearly the focus of attention in the entire hall area.

That unparalleled beauty was incomparable among a group of beautiful Women.

Looking at Evelyn's charming demeanor and elegant smile, Chelsea was stunned, "Evelyn is really beautiful."

Marissa tugged at her, whispering, "Chelsea, did you forget to mention it to @idsfon today?" The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

The beauty and appearance of these women were no less than that of Evelyn. However, their demeanor was too worldly, inevitably making them seem quite vulgar.

Elmer was taken aback for a moment, lowering his voice and saying, "Chelsea, never let Mr. Vinton hear such words, it would cause big trouble!"

Chelsea sneered, "With Robin around, what can he do to me!"

Elmer glanced at Robin, shook his head, "Chelsea, what am I going to say about you." "What was Robin's status in your family? What was his background?"

"How could you be so confused?"

Levis's position

"Mr. Victor was the future head of the Victor family."

"If you had known him and won his favor, within less than six months, you could have been hailed as the top-tier female star in Estya."

"| certainly don't want to be some top-tier female star!" Chelsea said coldly.

Elmer was stunned, "Chelsea, don't waste this opportunity. Not everyone gets this chance." "Look, how many women saw Mr. Victor, their eyes were sparkling."

"They all wanted to be Mr. Victor's woman."

Amanda also stepped forward and persuaded, "Chelsea, didn't you come here tonight to look for an opportunity to change your fate?"

"Rather than seeking those low-grade men, it would be better to let Elmer introduce you to Mr. Victor. If you could accompany him tonight... um. make him happy..."

"Shut up!" Chelsea said angrily, "I've told you | don't want to be some. female star, and I'm not going to meet him. Who does he think he is!"

Marissa also angrily said, "Amanda, our Chelsea is not the person you think she is, you've got it all wrong!"

"If you wanted to go and do whatever with that Levis, we wished you well."

"But, | told you, if you dare to deceive Chelsea again, | will fight your to the end!"

Marissa rushed up to Amanda.

At that moment, like a hen protecting her chicks, he glared furiously at Amanda and Elmer, giving them quite a scare. Marissa's roar attracted the displeased glances of those around her.

Amanda had no choice but to say, "Alright, alright, Chelsea, you had your chance and you didn't cherish it. If you regret it in the future, don't blame us, your neighbors, for not lending you a hand."

Elmer was very unwilling.

He knew that Levis enjoyed womanizing.

| had intended to present the innocent and beautiful Chelsea to Levis to please him.

However, the Chelsea family just wouldn't fall for it.

He glanced at Robyn beside him and was immediately delighted.

Robyn, though, could not match Chelsea's innocent charm.

However, compared to those women in the entertainment industry, she was much more innocent. Introducing Robyn to Levis would have been a good idea as well.

"Ms. Strickland, how have you considered the matter | just discussed with you?" Elmer walked up to Robyn, smiling. "| had intended to give Chelsea a chance, but she was too conservative."

"Did one always have to learn to seize opportunities to become a top- tier movie star?"

"How could one possibly become a famous movie star with such a closed— minded mentality?" "How then, did one achieve their own beautiful life?"

"Ms. Strickland, it's such a waste for someone with your demeanor to be a flight attendant. If you're willing, | can introduce you to Mr. Victor."

Robyn subconsciously looked at Robin, feeling very conflicted inside.

Despite feeling somewhat embarrassed to go with Elmer at that time.

However, a powerful young master like Levis still held a certain attraction for her. She looked again at the graceful demeanor of Levis under the brilliant lights.

My heart started pounding wildly.

Last night, she witnessed the scene where Robin single-handedly wiped out the Barker family at the bar, and she was filled with extreme regret. She knew, it was very difficult to get close to such a man again.

Originally, they misunderstood Robin as just a gigolo kept by a wealthy woman.

Unexpectedly, she was the Underground Queen of Farmere.

Even the Odrarian president and the leader of the Hondry Sect had accorded him the highest honors. Such a shock, even until now, still filled her with countless emotions!

In her eyes, a man like Robin had already become an insurmountable mountain.

She knew very well that it was almost impossible for her to enter Robin's heart.

The young master of the Victor family before my eyes was indeed an opportunity.

Robyn hesitated before turning to Chelsea: "Are you really unwilling to give it a try?"

Chelsea shook her head, "I'm not going, Robyn, you shouldn't pay attention to him either."

Robyn was very conflicted, stammering, "I...I want to give it a try."

"Besides, Victor Pictures is such a big company, it should... it should be very legitimate."

"I might as well give it a try!"

Chelsea still wanted to say a few more words.

Elmer and Amanda urged. "Ms. Strickland, let's hurry over. Mr. Victor might not have time for you later."

Robyn glanced at Robin, who had always ignored her, steeled her heart, and followed Elmer and Amanda towards Levis.
