Chapter 31 Nathen Reynell

Karina saw that the crowd surrounding the lounge area in front of the ballroom doors was growing.

She was worried that Nathen would say some rude words to Robin.

She was sure that if that had happened, with Robin's character, Robin would have had to beat Nathen up badly. She calmed the panic in her heart that she had just kissed Robin's face.

Karina smiled, "Mr. Reynell, let's not joke around here. My boyfriend and I have to go in first.

Ashadowy light flashed in Nathen's eyes.

Still, an extremely gentlemanly smile remained on his face, "Alright, Karina, after you."

Karina looped her arm through Robin's and they made their way to the banquet hall.

Nathen signaled the waiter to bring a glass of red wine.

She took a few drinks to slowly ease a surge of anger in her chest that wanted to kill Nathen.

Many onlookers saw this scene. They instantly flattered Nathen a few words and hurriedly left.

No one wanted to be the target of Nathen's wrath in this situation.

They had all sensed that Nathen would never let go of this today.

Chapter 31 Mathen Reynell

Justin and Alondra were nervous and overwhelmed at the moment.

Hastily approaching Nathen, they consoled, “Mr. Reynell, Karina was spoiled as a child and is too willful. Please forgive her. “We want to make it clear that Robin is definitely not Karina’s boyfriend. The Huber family doesn’t even know about it!

“It must have been that asshole who tricked Karina with his blarney. I'll tell my father as soon as | get back and intervene in this matter!

“And please, Mr. Reynell, don’t ever have any preconceived notions about Karina.” Nathen breathed a sigh of relief and rocked the red wine in his glass, his face gradually regaining its previous smile. “It's okay. Karina is willful and naughty. | know.

“I've also said on many occasions that no matter how willful Karina is, as long as she doesn’t hit my bottom line, I'll be infinitely tolerant of her.”

At this time, Melvin and the others hurriedly arrived from outside.

“Nathen, | got beat up by a guy named Robin Bruce at the Purpeak Bar!”

Melvin told Nathen the things that happened in the bar and cried. He deliberately exaggerated the facts. “Robin Bruce! Find out where exactly this person came from!” Nathen kicked Melvin to the ground.

“How many times have | told you? Can’t you restrain yourself? Besides flirting with women and causing trouble, what else can you do?”

Chapter 31 Nathen Reynell “Nathen, it’s all because that asshole Robin...”

Before Melvin could finish speaking, Nathen coldly swept his gaze across Melvin’s several bodyguards. “Are you guys here just for show?

“Don’t you know your duties?” Several bodyguards instantly kneeled on the ground. “Mr. Nathen, we were indeed in the Purpeak Bar, but we dare not...”

“Well, | understand that you guys all have your own concerns as well.” The ferocity on Nathen’s face disappeared, and a gentle smile returned once again.

Just when the bodyguards thought Nathen had forgiven them, Nathen said indifferently, "Chop off their arms and legs and throw them into the sea! A bunch of losers!"

"Mr. Nathen, please, have mercy..." Several brawny bodyguards fell to their knees and couldn't stop begging for mercy.

A group of men behind Nathen immediately gagged them, put them in sacks, and dragged them out of the Purplepeak Convention Center.

Justin and his wife looked at the scene in front of them, trembling with fear, not daring to make any more noise. "Robin, Karina... Huh..."

Nathen sneered, got up, straightened his bow tie, and headed for the banquet hall.

Miranda, who had been watching the whole thing unfold not far away, was too nervous to make any noise.

She didn't breathe a sigh of relief until Nathen walked into the banquet hall.

Chapter 31 Mather Beynel

"Robin, this ungrateful dirtbag. I hope he gets himself killed and doesn't involve us!"

Crystal smiled with interest and said, "Miranda, you're overthinking this.

"Didn't you see the way Ms. Huber was so tender with Robin just now? That kiss was the envy of all!

"Even if Robin had messed up with Nathen, Karina would have taken care of it. You don't have to worry!

"Not to mention, Robin has long since had nothing to do with you."

"How is it possible?" Miranda exclaimed in annoyance, "In case Nathen knows Robin was once engaged to me..." "Wasn't the marriage contract torn up by you long ago?" Crystal gave a meaningful smirk.

“Well, Miranda, stop thinking so much. Robin may not be as simple as you think.”

Miranda was exasperated. “Crystal, I find it seems like you’re always speaking in Robin's favor!”

“It's dangerous for you! Are you being tricked by him?”

Crystal let out a bitter laugh to herself, “If that’s true, I couldn’t be happier.

“Well, let's not be wishy-washy. The party is about to start, so hurry up and get inside.”

The main topic of today was Eastern Business District’s investment project co-operation business reception. Chapter 31 Nathen Reyneli

The companies were the Huber Group, World Real Estate, Demon’s Lair, and Purpeak International Group. They negotiated adjustments to the type of projects in the Eastern Business District investment segment.

The second topic was their invested projects and the outsourcing cooperation investment meeting and consultation. Therefore, the four directors in charge of the Eastern Business District investment program came to the banquet. Hallcester’s companies with capital strength were also present.

They wanted to get a piece of the pie in the place of the four major investors.

The banquet hall was dazzling with gold and luxury.

Purpeak Hotel was in preparation for this conference.

They had invited famous chefs from all over the world to cook rare and precious food for the reception.

The wines were also varied.

First-class wines from all over the world were present at the reception.

Each variety of liquor was worth tens of thousands of dollars or more.

The waiters and waitresses were all handsome men and beautiful

Women.

The overall pomp and circumstance of the reception were extravagant!

Robin and Karina entered the reception and were instantly offended by the atmosphere around them.

Chapter 31 Nathen Reynell

Many of the guests who came to the business reception today were invited by Nathen.

Robin dared to directly provoke Nathen outside the banquet hall, which of course drew the ire of the Reynell family's collaborators.

The businessmen had privately discussed it.

They learned that Robin was nothing more than a lowly man whose engagement was annulled by Miranda of the Brown family. They despised this guy of unknown origin to the core.

If it wasn't for Karina's honor, they would have been up in arms to kick such a country bumpkin out of the banquet hall. They didn't want to mess up with such lowly people.

Robin was completely isolated when he entered the venue.

The time had passed three o'clock in the afternoon, and Cecilia was late.

Meeting managers informed Nathen, Karina, and Conway.

They said Cecilia had some things to take care of and wouldn't be able to come until later.

Everyone also noticed that Conway, who had rarely participated in this form of gathering, was actually there today. What was even stranger was that Conway was not at all like his usual flamboyant and domineering self.

Instead, he sat in a corner of the reception, isolated by a few bodyguards, drinking alone.

Chapter 31 Nathen Reynell

Conway refused to engage with anyone who came to pay him a visit.

Due to Cecilia's late arrival, the original session of the four consultative talks was rescheduled for the evening. Four investment distribution outsourcing firms met in advance to discuss topics.

Nathen didn't wait for a crowd of guests to interact with each of the four families and walked right up to the front. "Ladies and gentlemen!"

The banquet hall erupted in applause, and the eyes of the room instantly turned to Nathen.

"I would like to take advantage of this wonderful moment to share with all of you the joys and accomplishments that we are experiencing at this time!

"The Eastern Business District project, which we at World Real Estate are co-investing with three others to develop, is taking shape.

"The future of this fertile land will be extremely rewarding for us.

"Our guests who came to the reception are all our friends, and for World Real Estate to have something as good as this, of course we have to share it together."

As soon as the words fell, a group of admirers and supporters instantly began to compliment and brag. "Mr. Reynell, thank you so much! Thank you for thinking of us when it comes to making money!"

"It is so unbelievable!"

Chapter 31 Nathen Reynell

Nathen's eyes swept over every desperately eager face in the banquet hall. He smiled gently.

"At this point, I would like to ask, do you all really believe in World Real Estate and in me? Do you really want to join hands with us, the Reynell family, to create something great?"

A group of guests could no longer contain their joy at this moment and cheered excitedly, "Mr. Reynell is willing to take us with him to make a fortune, so of course we believe it! Of course, we're willing to do it!"

"Mr. Reynell, tell me, how do we work together?"

Nathen smiled gently, "There is no hurry. Since you are all willing to create a brilliant future with World Real Estate, please take a look at this investment cooperation agreement.

"If there are no objections, you can sign with World Real Estate on the spot. Together, we will create a great project in the Eastern Business District!"

He said, making a gesture for his men to bring in a thick stack of protocols.

The crowd of guests was excited!

They did not expect to have a share of the Eastern Business District investment project! They had been longing for it! At this moment, Jacob excitedly greeted Miranda, Crystal, and the others.

"Hurry up and get your family to send the contract stamps! You can't miss such a great opportunity!

"Did you guys know? If we can get a piece of the pie on the Eastern Business District project, within two years, it will be a return of at Chapter 31 Nathen Reynel least a billion dollars!" Miranda nodded with excitement at his words as well.

Crystal and Krish, on the other hand, hesitated. "Miranda, Jacob, let's take a look and talk about it later. I always feel like something is not right here..."

Miranda laughed, "What's wrong with that? You guys are intimidated because you haven't done such a big business before! Mr. Reynell can't fool us!"

After saying that, and ignoring Crystal's reminder, Miranda immediately picked up her cell phone and notified the Brown Group's secretary and legal department's staff to come to sign the contract.

After arranging this, she glanced at Karina and Robin not far away. Miranda snorted coldly and muttered, "Humph! What does the Huber family have to be so condescending about?

"We can still share in the investment share of the Eastern Business District investment program without you!"

Chapter 32

Chapter 32 Represent the Huber Family

Karsyn delivered an investment partnership agreement to Karina.

“Taking Eastern Business District's share of the co-op project as a controlling party in the co-op...”

Seeing this, a hint of sulking flashed through Karina's cold and arrogant beautiful eyes. “This is a forced acquisition contract!” Robin glanced at Karina.

“It's none of your business. Those people want to get rich by following the Reynell family.”

Karina said angrily, “Did you see the notes on the contract? All of the original investment program types will be changed accordingly.

“Conway took the portion of the project that the Reynell family has and has reached an agreement with us. He will remain invested in the fundraising on the same terms that were agreed upon when the four began their investment...

“And, Conway has also guaranteed in the contract it signed with me this morning that projects outsourced to other investors must require them to follow the original project type.

“However, if based on adjustments such as they are making now, it will still severely undermine the investment plan for the entire Eastern Business District in the area that the Reynell family is currently invested in.

“When that happens, it's bound to create more conflict and competition. 0.00%

Chapter 32 Represent the Huber Family

“Now that Nathen is operating this way, it is to consolidate businesses throughout Hallcester to compete with the Huber Group for the investment market!

“If Conway does not renegotiate the type of allocation of investment projects with us, all of the significant capital that the Huber Group has invested in the Eastern Business District will be lost.

“Now it seems that the Reynell family was ready to target the Huber family from the beginning!”

“Oh, there are still so many things behind this. It seems that Nathen is indeed bad.” Robin shook the red wine glass in his hand and looked at Nathen, who was commentating on the front stage.

“However, you don’t have to rush. Even though many businesses are eager to participate in the Eastern Business District investment program, none of them are fools either.

“Look at all the people attending the reception today. Which one of them isn’t a shrewd businessman? “Who wants to give away the family business created by their hard work?

“Wait a while, and you'll see how these people react.”

Robin made a good point.

In the business world, what everyone was chasing was always profit.

Those who were able to be invited to the meeting today were all business people.

They dealt with contracts almost every day.

How could they just sign a contract with such a large capital base

Chapter 32 Represent the Huber Family

without looking at it carefully?

Businesses were in the midst of excitement about the opportunity to participate in the Eastern Business District investment partnership.

After they read the contract, the scam was quickly discovered.

“Mr. Reynell, with your terms of cooperation, we may be able to make a little money on the surface, but it’s all a sham. “In the end, the industry we’ve been running for half our lives will all be yours. We may not get anything.

“You can’t take the expected profits ten years from now and use them as capital to put into equity now, can you?” “Ten years? Oh, who knows what will happen in ten years?”

“You’re completely empty-handed, taking our entire industry without spending a single penny! How ridiculous!”

Robin looked over to Nathen, who was smiling on the front stage, and gave a chuckle.

Nathen did so many things on the Eastern Business District.

It was clear that he wanted to monopolize the entire Hallcester’s business community!

He pulled in Conway to covertly deal with the Huber Group and Purpeak International Group.

Now he tried to consolidate all of Hallcester’s business community resources without spending a dime through this means! Chapes 13—Bagset the Huber #marily Nathen’s ambition was big.

Nathen swept a glance at those angry, questioning faces in the banquet hall, and a calm smile appeared on his face. “Ladies and gentlemen, didn’t you just say that you believed in me and were willing to work with World Real Estate? “Now, what do you guys mean?

“I have dared to give you a share of all the projects. Won’t you dare to give the future to me?

“It’s really no fun! No wonder you guys can’t do great things! No wonder your business is doing so poorly!”

An old man, nearly sixty years old, hesitated for a moment and said, “Mr. Reynell, these are the industries that we have operated for most of our lives, but you try to take them away based solely on the calculated expected returns after ten years.

“How can we believe that? There are too many variables involved...”

“Huh!” The smile on Nathen’s face suddenly disappeared, and he said in a cold voice, “You guys are just a bunch of profit- oriented villains!”

A middle-aged man, very upset, said, “What businessmen pursue is, of course, profit! Without profit, what's the point of us making these investments?”

Nathen swept a grim glance at the middle-aged man.

“Oh, Mr. Burton, if you can co—develop the Eastern Business District project with us, you should be really grateful. “Otherwise, in less than three days, | can make your company’s small capital go up in smoke!”

Chapter 32 Represent the Huber Family

The middle-aged man winced violently.

Nathen was absolutely right!

If the Reynell family wanted to ruin him, it would be absolutely easy.

Nathen finally revealed his true purpose now!

He pointed at all the guests in the middle of the reception. “It’s the same for all of you. As long as I’m willing, destroying you guys all is just a matter of time.

“Today, | kindly invited you all to come here to make a fortune together, and each and every one of you doesn’t appreciate it! “People don’t just need to make money, and they need to be grateful!

“Isn't it a joy that I’m taking such good care of you, taking you to the career of the Reynell family, and joining hands with us in our endeavors?

“You guys are such cowards!

“You guys are really disappointing me with this attitude!”

All the guests in the middle of the reception, looking at the smile on Nathen's face at the moment, panicked. Behind the Reynell family was Hondry Sect.

The Reynell family had been scheming in Hallcester for a couple of years.

Nathen got an ambition to control the entire Hallcester's capital market! None of those present today would escape.

Even if some of them were not invited by Nathen today, sooner or resed the Hubpe & preky later, they would become the Reynell family's targets!

Nathen gave a grim laugh.

"Do you understand what I mean? If there are no objections, then sign the cooperation agreement in your hands! We are still friends!"

A group of Hallcester's business owners at the reception all had reluctance in their hearts. However, things have come to this point. If they didn't sign this contract, the industries that they had spent half of their lives on would be ruined.

Karina, sitting in the distance, watched the scene with her eyebrows furrowed.

Once these Hallcester's business homeowners were forced into submission...

What followed was bound to ripple through the huge interests of the Huber Group!

"Ms. Huber, what should we do?" Karsyn also saw Nathen's sinister novel bin intent.

If Nathen's plan succeeded, 80% of the Huber family's capital investment in the project would go down the drain. The Huber Group would also be devastated by this.

Or even, it would collapse completely.

“Ms. Huber, should we call Mr. Harold Huber?” Karsyn asked anxiously.

Karina was in a nervous cold sweat.

Chapter Ny Freport the Family

She hesitated for a moment. “Alright then, contact Grandpa instantly!”

“Wait, don’t call your grandfather for this little thing.” Robin stopped Karsyn.

“Little thing?”

Before Karina could say anything, Robin put down her glass of wine and got up. “It turns out that the Reynell family relies on such despicable means to gain a foothold in Halleester!”

Just as everyone picked up the agreement and hesitated to sign it, they heard Robin's words and looked at him in unison. They didn’t expect that this lowly man, whom they despised, would come forward at this time.

Could it be that Robin dared to go against the Reynell family?

“The Huber Group has also given its investment and cooperation intentions at this reception.

“Eastern Business District’s investments include the hotels, malls, and some amusement rides that the Huber family itself operates.

“The other 70% of the projects under it were all subcontracted at no cost to partners with whom they had signed investment and cooperation agreements.

“The premise is that it must be developed in accordance with the type of investment project agreed upon in the contract between the two parties. Otherwise, the contract will be withdrawn immediately.

Robin's words shocked all the guests at the reception!

Chapter 32 Represent the Huber Family

Really?

Was the Huber family giving away capital for free?

“Robin, do you mean to openly oppose me?” Nathen’s face darkened.

“So what?” Robin smiled playfully.

“Who are you? Can you represent the Huber family? A load of crap!” Justin stepped forward and pointed at Robin angrily.

Without even thinking about it, Karina coldly said, “Of course he can represent the Huber family! I, Karina Huber, agree with Robin unconditionally!”

When these words came out, the originally desperate people instantly became excited.

If the Huber family stepped up, they would certainly dare to ignore Nathen’s threats.

Besides, according to the way Robin talked about the Huber family partnership, that was like a freebie!

In a matter of moments, all the guests who had been isolating Robin began to move closer to his and Karina’s side. The smug and arrogant look in Nathen’s eyes gradually turned grim.

The plan that he had worked so hard on for several years had been messed up by Robin!

At this moment, he looked at Robin with a murderous chill in his eyes

Chapter 33

Chapter 33 | Don’t Have to Follow Your Orders!

Nathen glanced at Robin coldly and didn’t continue to talk to him.

Robin's vibe made Nathen stressed. He could barely breathe.

Nathen felt that Robin was unpredictable!

Nathen thought, "Is he being tough because he doesn't understand the situation or that he is really capable?" Nathen didn't know.

But he had gotten some information about Robin.

Robin had no power and his engagement to the Brown family's daughter had been broken off.

He was a nobody.

But after Robin entered the hall, he had been interfering with Nathen's plan and embarrassed him! Nathen thought, "I must get rid of him!"

Nathen suddenly chuckled.

His smile was as gentle and friendly as usual.

"Karina, you have become more humorous." Nathen walked to her from the reception desk in style. Under the dazzling light, Nathen appeared as handsome and charming as before.

Chapter 331 Don't Have to Follow Your Orders!

The guests felt confused.

They thought, "Was what happened before an illusion?"

Now Nathen looks exactly the same as the person in my memory.

He is modest and well-educated. He makes people feel comfortable, like the sunshine and breeze in spring. He is so gentle and elegant."

the b "Everyone." Nathen stood in front of Karina and nodded with a smile. Then he turned and faced the heads of families that came to negotiate cooperation.

"Please think about it. If Ms. Huber gives you the seven projects of the Eastern Business District for free, what will the Huber Group get in return? Why would they give up the easy money?"

The

First-class families are just like ordinary businessmen. As long as they are in the business world, they are destined to grasp all the profits available mercilessly!"

His words disappointed the heads of families that were originally delighted.

Nathen was right.

The Huber Group wasn't crazy. It wouldn't share the huge profits with its opponents for free! "Karina, I know you did that because you were angry with me." Nathen sighed.

"I admit that I've neglected you.

"I've said on many occasions that I really like you.

Ss

Chapter 33 1Don't Have to Follow Your Order

"But I've been so busy. I've never asked you out for a meal or a concert.

"I apologize to you sincerely.

"From now on, I'll spend most of my time with you."

"Wow!" It instantly eased the tension. People kept cheering.

The young women present looked at Nathen excitedly.

Then they fixed their gaze on Karina with jealousy.

Karina snorted, "Hehe. Mr. Reynell is really a good actor."

After saying that, Karina held Robin's arm and pulled him to the reception desk. She subconsciously knew that she would only feel confident with Robin by her side.

"Everyone. Mr. Bruce mentioned the outsourcing contracts of the Eastern Business District's projects earlier. It's approved by the Huber Group.

“Please don’t worry. There is no additional condition except that the project types should remain unchanged. “Mr. Bruce will follow up the matter with full authority.”

Karina smiled and looked at Robin when she said that.

Robin was shocked.

He thought, “She wants me to deal with the outsourcing contracts of the Eastern Business District's projects! I didn’t know she was so wicked!

Chapter 331 Don’t Have to Follow Your Orders

She is exploiting me!”

Robin felt something soft and warm touching his body.

He smelt a pleasant fragrance from Karina and felt comfortable.

Robin thought, “Anyway, | have nothing else to do. | will do it for you this time then.”

“The Legal Department of the Huber Group will bring a letter of intent of project investment in ten minutes. You can make your decision after reading the contract.

“The Huber Group will hold a signing ceremony for the outsourcing of the Eastern Business District’s projects in three days. “Anyone who is interested in the projects is welcome. “There is one more piece of news that | want to share with you.novelbin

“Mr. Lambert has given all the outsourcing projects of the southern part of the Eastern Business District to the Huber Group for free, except those that the Huber Group already invested in.

“So, the Huber Group is offering many outsourcing projects. A large number of wealthy people in Hallcester can get a share of them.

“Please calm down and make a proper decision! Investment is a major decision and will bring about significant change!” Nathen’s face sank when he heard what Karina said.

“Ms. Huber, are you risking everything to go against the Reynell family?”

Karina held Robin's hand tightly and looked around the hall.

Chapter 33 Y Don't Have to Follow Your Orders!

“Mr. Reynell, if that's your way of saying ‘a fair business competition’, my answer is yes.”

“OK! Good! Great!” Nathen looked at Karina and Robin with hostility.

Then he talked to Conway, who had been sitting in the corner.

“Mr. Lambert, you have been at the party for so long. It's time to say something to people.”

Only then did the guests remember the presence of this significant person!

Conway twitched the corner of his mouth. He glanced at Robin and quickly looked away.

“Um... | know little about investment. | have nothing to say.”

Conway's indifference made Nathen shocked and angry.

The Reynell family had made a private deal with Conway earlier.

They would plunder the capital of the second-class and third—class families in Hallcester and integrate it. Then they would attack the Huber Group on Eastern Business District.

At last, they would take away its position as a first-class family.

The Reynell family and Conway would share everything that the Huber family had in Hallcester.

Nathen had a further plan.

After the things above were done...

He would borrow power from Hondry Sect to suppress Conway, destroy Cecilia, and get full control of the business world in Hallcester.

But the change in Conway's attitude made Nathen panic.

Nathen thought, "What is this asshole doing?"

Nathen questioned coldly, "Mr. Lambert, what do you mean? Are you going to ruin my plan too?" The hall fell into deadly silence.

The Reynell family had been rising rapidly in Hallchester.

But it was still less powerful than Conway, who was from Demon's Lair.

Conway had been in Hallchester since he started his work!

He had run the grey business for nearly twenty years.

The Huber family did the legal business, and he did the illegal one.

Cecilia had to show Conway respect even though she was said to have a strong background. Nathen had questioned Conway.

People wondered if Nathen was driven crazy by anger.

Conway snorted, "What will you do if I ruin your plan? I don't have to follow your orders!" Nathen was dumbfounded.

He didn't expect Conway to fall out right after he gave Conway the projects of the southern part of the Eastern Business District. Nathen was confused!

"Mr. Lambert, are you going against me like the Huber Group?"

Chapter 331 Don't Have to Follow Your Orders!

Conway snorted. "It's too troublesome, so I gave the projects to the Huber family. You can play the game in any way you like! I don't care!

"Get lost. Leave me alone!"

Nathen blushed and said angrily, "Conway, since you don't want to run the projects of the southern part, you should return them to the Reynell family!"

“Nathen, are you threatening me?” Conway pointed at Nathen and cursed.

“You've given them to me, so they belong to me. You can't take them back now. People in Demon's Lair won't agree!” As Conway finished his words, around one hundred guys from Demon's Lair broke in.

Nathen's bodyguards quickly stood in front of him.

Robin stepped forward and said, “The southern part has been handed over to the Huber Group. What's the point of you fighting over it?”

Nathen said fiercely, “Alright! Conway, I won't fight with you today!”

Conway waved his hand. The people from Demon's Lair got out.

The guests heaved deep sighs.

If the outlaws from Demon's Lair started a fight here, Nathen would lose, and the guests would get hurt too.

Nathen looked Robin up and down. He sneered, “OK. I see. You're determined to go against the Reynell family today!” “Ms. Huber, Mr. Lambert, how did we build up our fortune in Hallcester? We all know that we built it through fights! Chapter 33 | Don't Have to Follow Your Orders!

Since we have a disagreement over the ownership of the southern part's projects, we should have a fight. The winner will get the projects!”

As Nathen finished, a man around twenty years old showed up in front of him.

His name was Deandre Bucher. He was the disciple of Sergio Mellor, the leader of Hashville Martial Arts Union and Hashville's King of Boxing Deandre was called “Hashville Butcher”.

He had hardcore skills and was the most powerful in Hashville. Anyone who fought against him would end up being dead or badly wounded.

Nathen had actually managed to recruit Deandre!

Deandre's appearance shocked everyone at the party held in Purpeak Club!

Chapter 34

Chapter 34 Deandre the Butcher

Deandre's presence shocked Conway.

Deandre was hard to deal with.

As far as Conway knew, no one in Demon's Lair could defeat Deandre.

It was acknowledged that Sergio had no part in the business.

And Sergio's disciples did the same way.

However, Deandre blatantly sided with the Reynell family. No one knew whether Sergio learned it or not. People assumed that the Reynell family and the Hashville Martial Arts Union had already ganged up. If it was true, the Reynell family was plotting to take over Hallcester.

Conway looked up at Robin.

Conway was curious about how the honored guest of Dark Queen reacted.

Karina didn't expect Deandre to show up here.

Giving off a killing aura, Deandre looked ferocious. Though Karina knew that Robin was a good fighter, she worried that Robin might get hurt.

Deandre got eyes like the wolf's blue eyes. His gaze threw everyone into a thrill.

The guests didn't expect that Nathen would be able to get Deandre on his team. They unconsciously took a few steps back.

Chapter 34 Deandre the Butcher

In the corner of the hall, Miranda smirked.

Miranda thought, "Serves you right, Robin.

You got too carried away. Though the Huber family is behind your back...

You shouldn't have messed with Nathen. You're finished.”

Jacob snorted, “Robin’s screwed. It’s said that Deandre shows no mercy to his enemies.

“I never saw Deandre be defeated. Deandre is invincible. And his enemies never end up well.” Hearing this, Crystal looked at Robin with concern.

It looked as if Deandre’s murderous aura was about to engulf Robin.

Anyone who wasn’t aware of what Robin was like when he fought would underestimate Robin. Robin had innocent eyes, and he always wore a faint smile.

Therefore, Robin didn’t seem to have great power.

The crowd wondered whether Robin would survive Deandre’s attack.

Robin remained silent. Nathen looked at Robin with a smug face and said, “Mr. Bruce, are you scared? “Just so you know, violence is how we solve problems.

“Power is everything. The weak don’t get a say in this world. The strong do.

Chapter 34 Deandre the Butcher

“A weakling shouldn’t have been so self-absorbed. You had it coming.”

“What's all this commotion? You guys look so aggressive.” A sexy voice sounded from outside the hall. The crowd at the door moved aside at once to make way for the woman.

People exclaimed with excitement when they saw Cecilia.

All heads of big families sprang up to bow and greeted, “Ms. Decker!”

“Hello, Ms. Decker. I’m Ricky Hereford from Ocean Company.”

“Nice to meet you, Ms. Decker.”

Nodding, Cecilia greeted everyone with a tempting smile.

Leonel, Livia, and other bodyguards escorted Cecilia into the hall.

“Mr. Lambert, Ms. Huber, Mr. Reynell, I hear that you three have been working well together. What happened?” Conway smiled coldly and didn’t say anything.

Karina looked away, standing beside Robin with an impassive expression.

Nathen explained everything about the project of the southern part of the Eastern Business District to Cecilia in his own way. “Obviously, they’re ganging up on me. Don’t you think so, Ms. Decker?”

Cecilia faintly smiled, “Mr. Reynell, I’d say you’re the problem here. You can’t tell Mr. Lambert what and how to do after you’ve transferred the development rights to Mr. Lambert, right?”

“In other words, Mr. Lambert is in charge of the whole thing. As to whom and how Mr. Lambert transferred, it was between them.

“Look, it’s great to have everyone here today. So why don’t you let that slide?” Cecilia waved at a waiter and told him to get her four glasses of wine.

“Mr. Reynell, there’s no need to make such a big deal and even get into a fight about it. I’d really appreciate it if you could forgive him.

Nathen didn’t take his glass of wine. He said with a sullen expression, “Forgive him? The project is worth millions of dollars. How can I act like nothing has ever happened, Ms. Decker?”

“No way!”

The atmosphere was thick with tension.

The alluring smile vanished from Cecilia’s face. “So you still won’t let it go, Mr. Reynell, right?”

Pointing at Robin, Nathen sneered, "He's just nobody. How dare he mess with me again and again? Given that, I insist on using our way to settle the problem about the southern part. Robin should learn a lesson from it."

Cecilia pulled a long face, warning, "Just a reminder, Mr. Reynell. This is Purpeak Club. I'm in charge here. If anyone who dares to make a scene here, he will answer to me!"

The crowd immediately trembled with fear.

It was said that Cecilia was a cruel woman, but no one had ever seen her throw a fit in public. "Fine, if you say so, Mr. Reynell."

Chapter 34 Deandre the Butcher

Cecilia told Livia to make room for Robin and Deandre.

People immediately did as Cecilia said and left.

However, the guests were still waiting outside the hall, guessing what would happen inside. "I've never seen Ms. Decker mad in public. Her aura was so domineering."

"Looks like Robin can hardly get out of there alive."

In the hall, Nathen looked excited, without taking Cecilia's warning seriously.

"Ms. Decker, I know you're in charge here, but please stay out of it. It's between Robin and I." Cecilia snorted, "You don't tell me what to do."

Nathen smiled coldly, "Ms. Decker, you're meaning to get involved, aren't you?"

The next moment, Nathen took a step back. Deandre looked around and pointed at Cecilia and her bodyguards. Leonel dashed to kick Deandre's leg.

Deandre, who was an expert in boxing, got into a fight with Leonel.

After three rounds of fighting, Leonel felt a little exhausted.

Sensing that Leonel struggled to withstand Deandre's attack, Livia broke out in a cold sweat out of concern. After five rounds of fighting, Leonel got knocked over by Deandre with one punch.

However, Deandre had no intention of stopping.

Deandre never meant to let his enemies get away. That was how he owned his name "Butcher". Deandre leaped up, reaching a height of more than four meters.

Deandre pointed his knee at Leonel, ready to thump on Leonel's chest.

Leonel, however, was lying on the ground weakly. Livia couldn't bear to see Deandre kill Leonel. Livia knew that if Leonel couldn't dodge Deandre's attack, Leonel would possibly die. Cecilia frowned, imagining what Leonel would be like.

Nevertheless, Cecilia could do nothing about it.

Not long ago, Robin helped Cecilia lift her Soul-Devouring Curse. Cecilia was still weak. Robin warned Cecilia not to use her power for a long time.

Though Cecilia didn't want Deandre to kill Leonel, Cecilia had no choice.

Conway put on a serious face.

Conway thought, "The rumor is true.

Deandre is a merciless man.

If Nathen was the winner of today's game, the Huber family and I would get into trouble." T

Chapter 34 Desde the Perhaps it was Nathen's part of a conspiracy.

"Deandre isn't gonna stop until he kills her. He sucks."

Everyone was sure that Leonel would be killed by Deandre. However, before Deandre's knee reached Leonel, Robin slightly pushed Deandre away. The next second, Deandre was thrown four or five meters away. Deandre felt as if he had been struck by tons of iron. Leonel was dumbfounded.

Next to Robin, Leonel was able to catch Robin's movements.

Leonel had no idea how Robin could've sent Deandre flying so easily.

Everyone's eyes widened in shock.

Deandre was furious. He struggled to his feet and then charged at Robin with his fists clenching.

Robin, with his back to Deandre, was stretching out to help Leonel up.

"Mr. Bruce, watch out..." As Leonel staggered to her feet, she saw Deandre rush toward Robin with his fierce fist.

Robin let out a long breath.

Robin didn't turn around. Robin dodged while protecting Leonel. At the same time, Robin kicked Deandre hard in the back. A loud noise was heard.

With his heavy body, Deandre was sent flying and hit a pillar hard.

Deandre's body twisted out of the great force of the impact.

Chapter 34 Deandre the Butcher

Deandre's bones were all broken.

The crowd exclaimed in astonishment.

To everyone's surprise, Deandre was defeated.

Chapter 35

Chapter 35 The Jerk Steals the Show Again. The empty banquet hall was in dead silence.

No one ever thought that Deandre Bucher, the brutal killer who had been ferocious all his life, would end his life in such an inconspicuous way. He wrapped up his ruthless killing spree in the most unassuming manner.

Robin seemed to be dodging and kicking at random, purely on instinct.

But he defeated the incredibly strong Deandre Bucher.

Was it pure luck or Robin had insurmountable fighting skills?

While others were guessing, Leonel watched as the fighting unfolded.

Leonel had thought that Robin and he were roughly equal.

Now, it appeared that he was nowhere near Robin.

Leonel hadn't even made it to the entry level when compared to Robin.

Leonel and Deandre Bucher's understanding of fighting was still limited to physical skills. In comparison, Robin had already reached the spiritual realm.

"Thank you, sir, for saving my life." Leonel threw himself onto his knees in front of Robin.

Robin smiled nonchalantly, "Get up. | take it."

In a momentary shock, the corner of Nathen's mouth twitched. "Fine. The credit is yours." With a line of bodyguards following, Nathen turned to walk towards the exit.

"Hold on." Karina's voice turned cold.

"Mr. Reynell, the second issue hasn't been solved. You can't just leave like this."

Nathen halted and slowly turned around, a warm smile appearing on his face.

“Karina, I’ve always been sticking to my word.”

“Deandre has lost. Of course, you have the final say. I’ll be quite pleased if you get rich. “You know why? Because | genuinely like you.

“It’s just a shame.” A hint of disappointment flickered in Nathen’s eyes.

“Everyone knows that Sergio of the Hashville Martial Arts Union is very protective of his disciples.novelbin

“If he finds out that his disciple has died at your hands, the Huber Group will be in major trouble.

“Mr. Bruce will become a target of his union. There won’t be any peace for him from now on.

“The place is too bloody to stay. Gentlemen, if you’ll excuse me...”

With that, Nathen left, flanked by his bodyguards.

Though Karina didn’t show it, she got panicked.

Chapter 35 The Jerk Steals the Show Again.

The Hubers weren’t afraid, even if the Hashville Martial Arts Union sought retribution.

With the rich foundation they had built in Hallcester over the years, the Hubers had enough resources to maneuver. However, if Hashville Martial Arts Union hunted Robin down, there was no way Robin could escape it. Gunshots in plain sight could be easily dodged, but hidden arrows were another thing.

No matter how powerful Robin was, he couldn’t withstand the endless pursuit.

“Robin...” Karina frowned deeply, her eyes brimming with worry.

“Come on. Let’s go back.” Robin hastened to Karina, who was still annoyed. He waved his hand and walked straight out of the hall.

Karina snapped out of her daze and followed Karsyn.

Outside, the guests who had attended the reception were still there.

The first one who came out was Nathen.

Everyone's immediate thought was Robin was done for.

“Robin has finally paid the price for his ignorance, huh.” Miranda’s face displayed a sneer of schadenfreude. Crystal remained quiet with tightly furrowed brows.

She wished Robin had come out alive.

She only had brief interactions with the man.

However, there was an indescribable charm in the man that made her fall for him.

It was only because of her best friend Miranda’s presence that Crystal didn’t show it.

Watching Nathen and his fellows emerge, her heart almost jumped out of her throat.

Intuition told her that Robin wouldn't lose.

When she saw it was Bucher who was carried out by Nathen’s men, Crystal lost her cool and let out a loud cheer. “Wow, Robin did it. | knew it. Robin did it.”

Crystal’s cheers caught everyone’s attention.

Miranda tugged her and tried to reduce their presence.

Miranda rolled her eyes. “Crystal, you're nuts. The Thompson family will be over if you mess with the Reynell family. “Moreover, Robin deserved it.

“With his skills, how dared he provoke Nathen? Wasn't he asking for trouble?”

Crystal sighed, “Miranda, | don’t get why you hate Robin so much. Besides, his family and yours have connections. “Or, to be precise, his grandfather once helped the Brown family...”

“Come on, Crystal. Why are you defending Robin?” Miranda sounded irritated.

“His grandfather helped us, which I admit.

“But that was because his grandpa saw our potential. That was why he lent my grandpa 160 thousand dollars.

“Now we have tens of millions in assets.

“And who's Robin? He's homeless with no proper job, let alone a career.

“He and I aren't even in the same league.”

Crystal shook her head in disbelief, “Fine. Even if it happened as you said, his grandfather was trying to make a quick profit back then by helping your family.

“You backed out of the engagement because you don't like him. I understand.

“But that's no reason to despise him.

“Anyway, you two almost got married.”

Miranda snorted, “The thought of being engaged to Robin is a blot on my record.

“Imagine if I become someone like Cecilia one day. If people find out I had an engagement with someone like Robin, what a shame would that be?”

Crystal complained, “Fine, Miranda, fine. You're right. You will be in the spot of the light. Guys like Robin will just tarnish your reputation.

“It seems even I, a woman with no career, will be a blemish in your life. I'd better distance myself from you.”

“Come on, Crystal. You're my best friend. When I succeed, I'll share it with you.” Miranda grabbed Crystal's arm and grinned. “I'm not sharing any honors with you. I just want to live a simple life,” said Crystal.

“Hey, hey, hey, Crystal, stop. My idol is out.”

Miranda pulled Crystal through the crowd, making their way to the front.

Seeing Cecilia walking out of the hall with a cold and proud demeanor, Miranda covered her mouth excitedly and whispered, “Wow, Crystal, look. She is so stunning.”

“That kind of grace, that kind of elegance. | want to be just like her.”

As Miranda was mooning over Cecilia’s queenly poise, something caught her off guard. She just couldn’t wrap her head around it.

After Cecilia came out, she stood respectfully by the side.

It was like she was showing deference to an incredibly important person.

Could it be that there’s a big shot at the reception tonight who commands Cecilia’s respect? Miranda’s curiosity was piqued.

She was eager to know who could make Cecilia, the owner of the Purpeak Club, act so subserviently. But what she saw was a face she loathed.

Robin?

That jerk was stealing the spotlight again.

“Hey, Miranda, look. It’s Robin.” Crystal spotted Robin walking out of the hall unharmed. An inexplicable excitement surged within her.

Even Crystal didn’t quite understand why she was so relieved upon learning that he was okay.

Miranda waited for Robin to step away, anticipating that someone even more important would follow.

But Cecilia was following Livia, Leonel, and Robin closely as if she were a maid.

Seeing Robin, flanked respectfully by Cecilia, Miranda felt puzzled.

“This can’t be. It’s just not possible.” Miranda muttered to herself, her eyes blazing with anger.

“It must be Robin. That jerk must have cheated Ms. Decker. No, I’m going to tell Ms. Decker. She can’t be fooled by Robin.” Before Crystal could comprehend what was happening, Miranda dashed over.

“Ms. Decker...” Miranda shouted over several attendants and bodyguards, “I have something to tell you about Robin. It’s important.”

Cecilia glanced sideways at Miranda, her cool smile in place, “Oh? Tell me.”
