Chapter 321

Chapter 321 No. 999 Lunar Energy Body

Jared's mouse-like eyes scanned Andrew and the others standing in front of the hall.

"This was the 999th lunar energy body that I had refined."

"After tonight, I will be able to ascend to the pinnacle of Jujitsu with this refined Lunar Energy Pill! Hahaha..." Jared excitedly stretched out his arms, laughing loudly.

In an instant, a head of messy hair stood on end.

That mouse-like face instantly distorted and contorted.

The eyes of the two mice burst out of their sockets.

Such a terrifying scene had Andrew and a group of Poison Sect disciples rolling on the ground in fear.

This jujitsu grandmaster, who once swept across the entire martial arts scene of Southeast Estya, was now strangely resembling a cunning old mouse. "Quick... Hurry up and lift Madeline up."

Andrew climbed up from the ground and scolded the Poison Sect disciples who were still trembling on the ground. Not long after, a massive birdcage made of metal was carried into the hall by ten disciples of the Poison Sect. A layer of golden gauze was covering the surroundings of this birdcage.

The birdcage was thoroughly covered.

Andrew approached Lya diligently, “Master, the 999th lunar energy body has been delivered.”

Jared slowly stood up, returning to his previous state.

A sharp brilliance burst forth from the eyes of that pair of mice.

With a sly chuckle, the short and skinny figure arrived in front of the birdcage like a bolt of lightning.

Thirty disciples of the Poison Sect quickly formed a circle with their backs to the golden birdcage and Jared, trapping him in the middle.

Jared took a deep breath, sat cross—legged in front of the birdcage, and chanted a gibberish spell. Two minutes later, a muffled sound echoed through the silent hall. The golden cloth on the birdcage exploded into a pile of fragments in an instant. The dazzling lights illuminated the golden birdcage, making it shimmer with gold. In the golden birdcage, a young woman sat with her eyes tightly closed, unconscious. This person was indeed Madeline. Jared opened his eyes. Two thief-bright old mouse eyes shot out ecstatic golden light, scanning over Madeline’s body. He then burst into a fit of wild laughter, causing the chandelier in the * Chapter 321 No. 979 Lunar Energi Body entire hall to tremble and sway. “Hahaha... Excellent! This is exactly the lunar energy body | was looking for!” As the words fell, Jared slapped the ground with his palm, and the outer cover of the golden birdcage soared into the air. Jared lifted his palm, covered in dark hair, and placed it on Madeline’s head. Wisps of white smoke rose from Madeline’s jet—black hair. Suddenly, Madeline’s eyes flew open in shock. “Where, where is this?” She looked around, trying to find a familiar face. However, the strange appearances of the surrounding crowd and the scenery startled her: “Did |... did | die?” Jared laughed heartily, “You’re still alive!” The ghostly voice came from above Madeline. When she saw Jared’s mouse-like face, she screamed in fright.

The corner of Jared’s mouth twitched a few times, “However, you will soon be sublimated and become a part of the true essence of my body.”

“What are you going to do?” Madeline was on the verge of tears.

Jared looked at Madeline, as if he was looking at his own prey.

“| wanted to refine you into a tiny elixir to replenish my vital energy.”

“Little girl, this was your good fortune!”

Chapter 321 No 999 Lunar Energy Body

“What does it mean to turn me into a pill?” Madeline was terrified.

Andrew stepped forward and said, “So, it’s about refining you!”

“The master absorbed the lunar energy from you, replenishing his vital energy and reconstructing his golden body.” “What?” Madeline understood.

In the past, she had heard about the method of alchemy from those legends.

It was about placing the alchemy ingredients in the medicinal soup or fire for refining, and then turning them into medicinal pills. There was another kind, those utterly conscienceless pill-refiners, who sucked bone marrow and blood from living beings. In other words, if my current self fell into these people’s hands, I would have died even more miserably.

It was either being sucked dry by this rat—like villain in front of me, or being burned and boiled.

Madeline was struggling mightily.

However, all parts of the body were as if bound by sturdy ropes, unable to move.

Awave of pain surged through my head.

The whole body felt as if it had been drained.

In fear, a figure flashed before her eyes.

“Robin, Robin, where were you?”

She was crying out in despair.

Even though Madeline knew such actions were futile.

However, how she longed for Robin to appear before her eyes.

“Who are you?” Jared asked, stopping his action of sucking.

“I am the one who killed you!” Robin said indifferently, pointing at Jared.

The five disciples of the Poison Sect in front of them fell to the ground. and died instantly. Madeline blinked hard, “Are you, are you Robin? Is this my illusion?”

Robin gave a nonchalant smile, “That's right, it's not an illusion.”

“Kid, who are you?” Jared, sensing the strong aura of the person, asked cautiously.

Jared's small frame instantly curled up into a ball, rolling behind. Robin.

A sharp long sword in hand, it was thrust down towards the top of Robin's head.

Chapter 322 I'll Go Find You

Madeline looked up to see a sword close at hand, trembling all over with fear.

The next moment, she closed her eyes and screamed, desperately trying to push Robin away.

Robin wasn't pushed away, but she herself was thrown two meters away.

"Robin!" Madeline cried out in despair as she watched the sharp sword about to pierce Robin's head.

Robin shook his head, "Is this the legendary jujitsu master? Too rubbish!"

A cold light flashed again, and Jared's two long legs were cut off a section, causing him to fall and sit on the ground. Jared had intended to shoot out the flying blade hidden within his body.

It was only when he saw the Golden Dragon shimmering on the Dragon Dagger, he instantly fell to the ground, "Lord Wyvern, spare me!"

Robin paused slightly, "Lord Wyvern? What does that mean?"

The Golden Dragon soared, engulfing the entire hall with a swirl of white smoke.

With Jared's heart-wrenching scream, a column of red blood spurted out.

Chapter 32211 Go Find You

In just a short span of ten seconds, the white smoke disappeared completely, as if nothing had ever happened. In the vast tennis court hall, it was so silent that you could hear a pin drop!

No one knew exactly what had just happened.

Madeline was even more shocked, sitting on the ground, at a loss for what to do.

During this period, the series of events she had experienced had far exceeded her understanding of the world. What sect, what jujitsu master, what alchemy and so on, these were all stories from legends, surprisingly happening to oneself. Looking back at the previously charming Jared, he was now lying on the floor like a shriveled piece of paper. Madeline had always doubted whether she was truly alive now, or experiencing life after death.

Everything was like a dream.

How could a living person turn into something like a piece of paper?

Suddenly, everything went black and | passed out.

Robin didn't want her to witness the brutal scene that was about to unfold, he was about to go on a killing spree! Then, turning to Andrew, "You beast!"

"Matters of the underworld, handled by the underworld, never harm the innocent!"

Chapter 322 Go Find You

"You, the Poison Sect, actually used the dark web loan to harm so many innocent girls just for this kind of trash!" "What was even the point of existing!"

"More importantly, you provoked me!"

Andrew knelt on the ground, pleading, "Mr. Bruce, we were all forced to do this by Mr. Klein."

"They had me establish Thurg Loans within the borders of Londraland to amass a fortune, and incidentally, to find a woman with a lunar energy body for Jared to refine pills."

"In total, over two thousand girls were captured, among which 999 were as qualified as Madeline." "Everything that met Jared's requirements was refined into a pill by Jared."

"Those that didn't meet the requirements were sold to nightclubs."

Robin sneered, "You bunch of beasts, go to hell together!"

In an instant, the Dragon Dagger was launched, spinning rapidly in the hall.

All 147 disciples of the Poison Sect fell to the ground.

Andrew, witnessing such a horrific scene, desperately pleaded with Robin to spare him.

Robin laughed, "It seems that the Poison Sect has not yet informed you of my habits!"

"It's not too late to tell you now, under the Dragon Dagger, there were no survivors!"

Chapter 122 011 Go Find You

In the next second, the Dragon Dagger let out a long dragon chant, slicing Andrew's throat into two pieces. He clutched his torn throat, looking horrified at Robin's retreating figure. "Lord Dragon!"

Robin picked up Madeline and walked out of the tennis court hall, patting her on the back.

Madeline woke up from her coma.

She tightly gripped Robin's arm, "Robin, |... where are we? Where are the bad guys?"

"It's okay now!" Robin put down Madeline, "Everything is over, wait a moment. I'll make a call."

"Leandro, you and Nicolas handled the aftermath for the Victor family."

"Victor Pictures, it was up to you to take over from now on."

"Oh, right, give that Annie a chance to try."

Madeline looked back at the tennis hall in the not too distant, where lights were flickering, and suddenly understood everything.

"Robin, thank you. If it weren't for you, | would have died many times over."

Robin said with a smile, "Let's go, I'll take you back to Londraland."

The next morning, Robin brought Madeline to Farmere International Airport.

Annie and Evelyn quickly ran up to Robin.

In the instant that Robin turned around, Annie quickly planted a kiss on his face. "What...what are you doing?" Robin asked; taking a cautious step back.

Annie swayed her chest proudly, her eyes looking at Robin in a daze, "Mr. Bruce, I..."

“Go, go, go, | don’t want to be caught by the paparazzi.” Robin quickly dodged.

Annie started laughing, “Mr. Bruce, thank you!”

Robin waved and, holding Madeline’s hand, headed towards the airport security checkpoint.

Tears streamed down Annio’s face, “Mr. Bruce, | will find you!” she vowed.

Madeline followed closely behind Robin, quickly heading towards the airport passage, looking back with every step. She had seen Evelyn and Annie a few times.

He studied them carefully, murmuring, “Robin, that... those two people. seem to be movie actors?”

Robin nodded. “That’s right, they were movie actors.”

Moreover, one of them was a popular A-list star, and the other was about to become a popular A-list star. Madeline regretted, “Oh, if | had known it was them, | would have taken a photo with them.”

“What's there to regret? Movie stars are just people. Even if you take a photo with them, you're still you, and they’re still them,” Robin shook his head.

“Robin, they said they would come to Hallcester to see you next time. Could you let me know the next time she comes? | want to take a picture with them.”

Robin chuckled lightly, “Alright, when they arrive, I'll have them treat you to a meal.”

“Robin, you're so kind!” Madeline, holding onto Robin’s arm, whispered, "Everything that my family and I have now, you gave us. I... I don't know how to repay you." "I didn't want your repayment, all you needed to do was to work hard and get your life back on track."

Once on the plane, Madeline curiously looked around, "Robin, this is my first time on a plane."

"Then you should really experience what it's like to fly in a plane," Robin said softly.

"Keep quiet!" a security officer barked coldly.

"This was a public place, speaking loudly would seriously affect other passengers."

"We were an international flight, and we often received complaints about your Londraland passengers being loud and of low quality!"

Robin flicked his eyelids, only then noticing this security officer. He recognized this guy, he was the security officer on the last flight from Halleester to Farmere, named Jeff Williams.

Robin ignored Jeff and continued to whisper to Madeline, "Some dogs are clearly dark-hearted, but they deliberately pretend to be noble. If it were up to me, I would have broken such a dog's teeth long ago."

Madeline evidently heard that Robin was cursing at Jeff, like a barking dog. She covered her mouth and started to laugh quietly, her gaze flicking towards the security officer.

Jeff also detected the hidden meaning in Robin's words, his face turning ashen with anger: "Stand up! I suspect you have violent tendencies. Come with me to the flight attendant's duty room now, I'm going to conduct a thorough investigation on you!"

Robin chuckled, "Who do you think you are, ordering me to stand old you, if you don't rein yourself in and deliberately stir up trouble, I won't let you rant and rave around me!" "Jofi, calm down!" Robyn, who had hurried over, urgently stopped Jeff who was about to explode.

When she looked up and saw Robin, a glimmer of surprise and delight flashed in her eyes

She hadn't expected that Robin would actually take today's flight back to Londraland.

Robyn said coldly, "Jett, you're making things difficult for the guests! If you continue to be unreasonable, I can complain about you to the captain!"

Jeff was taken aback. "What do you mean? Robyn, I was thinking about the safety of all the passengers on this flight." "Last time, he took our flight and fought four Odrarians, so of course I had to thoroughly investigate him today."

Robyn knew what a terrifying character Robin was.

He was just too lazy to argue with Jeff, that's why Jeff was so unscathed.

Just based on Robin's influence and connections in Odrar, Jeff's job would have been gone by now for making things difficult for Robin.

Moreover, they would also face an investigation from the Inspection Department of the airline.

Once Robin demanded the airline to hold him accountable, Jeff would also face a high amount of compensation. Chapter 323 You're So Nice!

She sighed and said, "Jeff, I'm warning you, if this leads to any consequences, you may not be able to bear them."

Robin pointed at Robyn and Jeff and said, "I demand that you flight attendants leave my vicinity immediately. If you continue to disturb my rest during this flight, I can go directly to your captain right now."

At this point, Jeff had already felt the pressure Robin was putting on him.

He understood that if Robin reported the current situation to the captain, he would be grounded immediately.

Moreover, they would also be subject to an investigation by the airline.

Even so, they could potentially be fired by the airline and face hefty fines.

He gave Robin a cold glance and asked, "Were you in Hallchester?"

Robin nodded, "That's right, Eastern District Development Corporation, you can find me anytime." A cold smirk lifted the corners of Jeff's mouth, "Fine, I will pay you a visit!"

Having said that, he returned to the flight attendant's duty room, feeling upset.

Robyn immediately followed him in.

"Jeff, I warned you, if you treat passengers with this attitude again, I will report you to the captain!" The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Chapter 324

Chapter 324 This World is Truly Small

Throughout the flight, Robyn had gone to Robin a few times to bring him tea and fruit.

Almost everything that could be sent on the plane had been sent.

Such abnormal behavior also attracted the attention of the surrounding passengers.

It was clear to everyone that Robyn was attentively caring for Robin.

Even, some passengers had expressed their dissatisfaction.

Believed that this flight attendant abused her power for personal gain, favoring those she was familiar with.

Some people thought Robin was the boyfriend of this flight attendant, and they even raised questions to the crew members of this flight.

Robyn had responded to each one.

Quickly resolved the passengers' dissatisfaction.

After all, years of flying experience had accumulated a lot of experience for her.

She did this in order to make Robin get rid of his dislike for her.

During the last flight, she misunderstood Robin as Sarah's kept man because she listened to Jell's words. A series of events that occurred at Farmere.

It made her see clearly that Robin was actually a hidden tycoon.

14.45 D

Chapter 324 This World is Truly Small

Jeff mistakenly thought that his father, being a minor propaganda department head in the Hallcester government, could provoke a person like Robin.

This situation was identical to those reckless people of Farmere. In the end, they were all stepped on by Robin.

There were many people in this world who lacked self-awareness, and their ultimate end was only to bring disgrace upon themselves.

She believed that if she arrived at Hallchester.

Jeff still thought that he could rely on his father's minor official position.

He could boss Robin around and even take revenge on him.

That was simply ridiculous.

If Jeff really did that, he would not only plunge himself into an abyss.

In the end, it might have implicated his father as well.

Madeline also noticed Robyn's attentive treatment towards Robin.

She wanted to ask Robin several times, but ultimately she didn't speak 1. up.

Until Robyn brought the delicious fruit candy for the tenth time.

Madeline had just quietly asked Robin, "Robin, has this flight attendant fallen for you?"

Robin chuckled lightly, "What others think of me is none of my business. Whether she falls in love with me, hates me, or despises me, | don't care."

124 Tha world in Truh Small

Madeline tentatively said, "Robin, this flight attendant is quite pretty."

Robin shook his head. "Her beauty is her business, not mine. Let's not bring up this topic again."

"Got it." Madeline stuck out her tongue.

Madeline knew that if she continued to talk about the things Robin didn't like to discuss, it would make him very angry. Robyn returned to the flight attendant studio, seeing Jeff still in a bad mood.

Kindly stepping forward, | reminded, "Jeff, let me give you a piece of advice, it's best not to harbor any thoughts of revenge against Robin."

"You held a grudge against a customer, didn't you think it was a very boring thing to do?" "Not only would this cause trouble for yourself, but it would also affect others." Jeff sneered, "I just can't stand those freeloading pretty boys!"

“Aman, instead of creating a life based on his own abilities, shamelessly relied on his handsome face to deceive and swindle everywhere.”

“Did you see? He came back this time with a beautiful girl by his side.”

Clearly, the girl was naive and simple. It was obvious that she had no experience or wit. This swindler must have deceived the poor girl.

Robyn shook her head with a smile, “Perhaps you haven't seen it, the scene where all the top stars regard him as a male god.” Jeff scoffed, “Robyn, are you telling me a story?”

“A popular A-list star would like such a pretty boy? You must be talking about those stars who are over sixty years old.”

Robyn said helplessly. “Alright, alright, I’m not talking about this with you anymore!”

“I just wanted to tell you, it’s best not to provoke him again, it’s for your own good!”

“Be nice to me? You mean I'm incapable, I’m not as good as him?” Jeff said through gritted teeth

Robyn simply couldn't stand Jeff's arrogance.

“Yes, you really were far worse than him! He was not an ordinary person!”

“Just with the background of your father being a minor section chief...”

Jeff slapped his hand on the table, “Robyn, I knew you looked down on me!”

“Not bad, my father was a minor propaganda department head in the city government, but do you know who my master was?”

“He was the president of the Londraland Go Association! I was his first disciple.” “In a few more days, I would no longer be a flight attendant.”

“Master was planning to have me specifically follow him in studying Go.”

“You tell me, was my status enough?”

“Before, I didn’t want to say these things in front of you, I just wanted to keep a low profile.” Chapter 324 This World is Truly Small “Robyn, you know I’ve always liked you. Isn’t my strength enough to be with you?” Upon hearing this news, Robyn was also greatly shocked.

However, such conditions were far inferior compared to Robin’s.

She didn’t continue speaking.

She knew that a proud and arrogant person like Jeff would not listen to her advice. Once you hit a snag, you’ll know who the real clown is!

Soon, the plane arrived at Hallchester Airport.

Robyn and Madeline both paused, not knowing what had happened.

“Robin, I knew you were scared to see me!” Miranda proudly glared at Robin, who was ignoring her, her eyes full of superiority. “Did you intentionally avoid me because you were upset upon learning about my engagement with Jacob this Sunday?” Only then did Robyn discern some clues.

It turned out that this woman in front of him had some emotional entanglement with Robin.

She carefully scrutinized the haughty Miranda.

A face of unparalleled beauty and a body of impressive stature, a hundred percent top-notch beauty.

Looking again at the luxury car behind her, and Jacob by her side.

Such pomp and grandeur, they were clearly a pair of young master and miss from a wealthy family.

Robin didn't want to deal with them and simply bypassed them.

Miranda rushed forward, blocking the way: “Robin, why are you avoiding me? Do you feel uncomfortable because I'm engaged to Jacob, and you can't bear to look at me?”

Robin gave a detached smile, “Miranda, we've had no connection for a long time. Is it meaningful for you to keep doing this over and over again?”

Chapter 325 Moon of My Business

“Whether you were engaged or married, it had nothing to do with me.”

“Besides, it's just an engagement, is it necessary to make such a fuss? You're acting as if you're about to be crowned king.” Madeline and Robyn almost burst out laughing, covering their mouths.

Miranda also shook her head with a smile, pointing at Madeline, “Robin, this is all you amount to!”

“Taking this low—class girl out for a trip, deceiving poor girls is quite easy, isn’t it?”

Madeline quickly explained, “Ms. Brown, you misunderstood, it's not what you think, it was Robin who saved me...” Robin interrupted her, “There’s no need to explain to such a person.”

Miranda sneered with a laugh, “That's right, you two are indeed a perfect match, congratulations!”

Madeline’s cheeks turned red, wanting to explain.

Looking up to see Robin’s impassive expression, the words on the tip of my tongue were swallowed back down. She secretly gazed up at Robin’s tall figure.

Looking at Miranda’s face full of boastful mockery, I secretly laughed to myself.

Miranda, perhaps by the day you see the truth, you would surely be filled with regret.

Seeing that Robin didn’t respond, Miranda laughed smugly, “Robin, since we’ve run into each other, I’ll tell you. On Sunday, Mr. Walsh and I are going to have our official engagement ceremony! Hahaha...”

“Mr. Walsh had advertised on television and online media, so the upper—class families of Halleester, as well as some media reporters, would be present at my engagement ceremony.

“Also, the engagement ceremony I prepared with Mr. Walsh was very special. It was sure to cause a sensation throughout Halleester!”

Robin chuckled lightly, “Very well, I’ve got it. May I leave now?”

“Wait a moment!” Miranda, still in her excitement, blocked Robin.

“I told you, my engagement ceremony with Mr. Walsh was not held at the five-star hotel in Halleester, isn’t that special?” “Hmm, not bad.” Robin chuckled with a meaningful smile, “Planning something out of the ordinary?”

“Of course! Marriage is a big deal in life, it has to be grand and unique!” Miranda said excitedly, “Guess where we will hold it?” Robin thought seriously. “Could they be planning to hold a bridge tunnel engagement ceremony?”

“Pili!” Robyn and Madeline stifled a giggle.

“What... What nonsense are you talking about!” Miranda said angrily.

Robin pursed his lips, “Didn't you tell me that you weren't planning to hold it in a hotel?”

“If you didn't hold it in the bridge tunnel, where could you?”

Miranda snorted disdainfully, “Only someone of your lowly status could think of such unbearably vulgar things.”

“Let me tell you, I was planning to hold a manor-style engagement ceremony this time!”

“Importantly, my mansion was not just any mansion, but the most luxurious Mauveglow Villa 1 in Hallcester.”

Robin paused slightly. “At my place!”

“Your home? Hahaha...” Miranda laughed.

“Your home was at Mauveglow Villa 17 You must be dreaming!” Robin shook his head, “Impossible, absolutely impossible!”

Miranda scoffed, “With your perspective, of course you' sayitis impossible ere this the invitation. If you don't believe me, you can go and see for yourself.”

"That was the most luxurious villa in Halleester. Jacob, you really outdid yourself?"

"Robyn, did you not know? This villa is worth four billion! It's the most expensive top-tier villa in Halleester."

The owner of this villa was extremely mysterious. Since its completion, the owner of the villa had never appeared. | he was a super-rich NL E

"Many people were spreading rumors that he was a super-rich man, a hermit from the outside world!"

"I had to go and see what that mysterious villa was really like."

“For this reason alone, I was going to attend your engagement ceremony!”

Upon hearing Jell’s praise, Miranda looked smugly at Robin, who showed no expression.

“Robin, didn’t you always claim that Mauveglow Villa I was yours? It seems, you are that super-rich, hidden tycoon, aren’t you? Hehehe...”

“Alright, as long as you guys are happy,” Robin didn’t want to explain, bypassing them and continuing to walk forward. “Heh! I thought you would insist that the villa was yours!” Miranda sneered, shaking her head.

Robyn pointed at Robin’s retreating figure, asking, “What is this...?”

Jell hurriedly introduced, “Oh, I forgot to tell you, this is my colleague, flight attendant Robyn.”

“Robyn, these were my two friends, Jacob and Miranda!”

Robyn politely shook hands with them, “Hello. Ms. Brown, it seems. like you and Robin have some unresolved issues?”

Jacob shrugged, “Robin used to be engaged to Miranda, it was arranged by their grandfathers. But it was called off by the Brown family a few days ago!”

Robyn exclaimed in shock, “You actually called off your engagement with Robin?” Miranda scoffed, “He and I are not from the same class, of course I had to reject him.”

“I surely couldn’t be expected to marry Robin, a penniless man of low status, just because of my grandfather’s generation’s jesting words.”

“Did you say Robin was a low-class person?” Robyn was shocked by Miranda’s words. She watched Miranda speak, it didn’t seem like a joke.

Laughed silently to myself in my heart.

Another arrogant, foolish woman!

Just like Dianna from Farmere, she used to think she was high and mighty.

Kept insisting that he was not in the same class as Robin.

Little did you know, you were nothing in front of others. Robin's status and background were so high that you could never reach in your 1445 D lifetime!

Saying that someone is not in the same class as you, how ridiculous!

Think about it, wasn't | the same?

Robin said Mauveglow Villa 1 was his, so it must have been his.

Was it necessary for a person like him to be so bored as to pretend to be vain?

She had already seen that top-level villa of Farmere's.

It was not surprising that there was such a villa in Hallcester!

The pair of idiots in front of me were too full of themselves.

Hehe, | don't know what exactly happened on the day you guys got engaged.

Robyn was really a bit excited!

She lifted her eyes to Robin's retreating figure, growing increasingly curious, with a faint hint of bitterness. My own perspective was still too narrow!

Looking at Robyn's appearance and temperament, Jacob said with a smile, "Ms. Strickland, on the day | got engaged to Miranda, | asked you to be Miranda's bridesmaid."

Robyn hurriedly waved her hand, "Sorry, | might have something else to do, | can't guarantee that | will definitely be able to arrive on time."

Moreover, in such luxurious places, | was nervous.

"That day, | tried my best to attend your engagement ceremony, but as for being a bridesmaid, forget it."

Robyn was not willing to do that kind of thing that disgusted Robin again.

Although she was unclear, how Robin's villa had become Miranda's engagement venue.

However, she could imagine that day.

If Miranda really held her engagement ceremony at Mauveglow Villa 1, the outcome was predictable.

Jacob had no choice but to say, "Alright, Ms. Strickland, please do come and also take a look at what our most luxurious villa in Hallcester really looks like."

Miranda noticed that Robyn's gaze was still directed towards Robin, "Ms. Strickland, | saw you walking with Robin earlier, do you know each other?"

Robyn gave a faint smile, "It was just a chance encounter on the plane, | wouldn't say we know each other."

"| thought he had deceived you again?" Miranda snorted lightly.

"Ms. Strickland, you must stay away from this kind of man."

Upon hearing this, a smirk of mockery appeared on Jeff's face.

“Ms. Brown, you tore up your engagement with that loser Robin, that was so wise of you!” “Do you know what I saw at Farmere? He was hanging around with an old rich woman in her sixties at Farmere.” “He married an old rich woman in Farmere?” Miranda shook her head

They gestured for Madeline to step back, standing on either side of Robin, “Mr. Bruce, please come with us, someone wants to see you!”

Before the two men could finish their words, Robin had already knocked them down to the ground.

Two men in suits instinctively reached for the guns at their waists.

“Splash!”

Two pistols were instantly disassembled into a pile of parts scattered on the ground.

Robin stepped on one man's throat, toying with a few bullets in his hand, "Move and you're dead!"

Another man in a suit wanted to resist.

The three bullets in Robin's hand were arranged in a triangle shape, pinned above his head and on either side of his ears. The man in the suit completely gave up resistance.

He understood that if he made any further moves, a bullet would be lodged directly between his brows!

"Robin, wait a moment." Nia, dressed in military uniform, quickly ran over from the car.

"Is it your person?" Robin asked, looking up.

Nia hastily explained, "Robin, there's been a misunderstanding. They are Randall's guards, please let them go." Robin discarded the remaining bullets in his hand and lifted his foot, "Get up!"

"Remember, if you ever pull such a dangerous stunt in front of me again, you'll be corpses!"

The two men immediately picked up the pistol parts from the ground and got up.

"Randall was looking for me? What could that old man want with me?" Robin wondered.

Nia also looked at Robin in surprise, "Robin, let's get in the car first. Actually, this matter also involves me." "Related to you?" Robin was even more confused.

Robin paused for a moment, pointing at Randall's two guards, "Arrange for someone to safely escort Madeline home." The man in the suit immediately took Madeline to another car.

"Let's go!" Robin followed Nia into the car.

Randall laughed at him, "Only you have ever dared to touch my security personnel."

Robin leaned back in his chair, giving him a sidelong glance, "Old man, what do you want from me? Are you still remembering the last time you had me treat you to a meal? Let me tell you, no way!"

Randall laughed, "Can I treat you to a meal?"

Robin had been staring at Randall's small eyes for quite a while.

"Holy shit!" Randall was also confused, "Alright, alright, young master! Stop reciting. I'm about to go crazy!"

Robin finally stopped, casting a sidelong glance at Randall, "From the moment I first saw you, I realized you had ill intentions towards me!"

"Pfft! Hahaha..." Nia burst out laughing.

She had never seen Randall take such a beating before.

"Girl, stop laughing!" Randall shook his head, sighing, "Ah, you young people, always overthinking!"

"Actually, I was curious about you, how could I bear ill will towards you?"

Robin looked at Randall, wondering in his heart, could this old fellow be the person Enzo had told me to wait for? It still couldn't be confirmed at the moment.

What on earth was that old bastard Enzo trying to pull on me!

Chapter 328 Lord Wyvern

"Grant me the rank of a junior general? Is that a high rank?" Robin puckered his lips. Randall's eyes sparkled, motionlessly watching Robin's every move.

He believed that Robin would definitely agree to such a temptation.

You should know that in the military, there were only a few people over the age of forty or fifty who could achieve the rank of Major General.

And Robin, who was only twenty years old at the time, had the opportunity to earn the rank of Brigadier General. Any normal person would have agreed without hesitation.

This honor had only been bestowed upon two individuals in the Londraland army.

One was Lord Wyvern, who had formed Dragon Soul back in the day.

However, that person had already disappeared for many years.

The second one was Robin.

Of course, this also depended on whether Robin could accept the task.

After this period of investigation in Hallcester, Randall was completely baffled about Robin.

Originally, I didn't pay much attention to this person.

However, every time it left no trace.

Chapter 328 Lord Wyvern

The top intelligence officers of Wyvern Palace came up empty in their pursuit of Robin.

The more it was like this, the more it made Randall suspect that Robin was the person he was looking for. During this trip, Farmere learned some information about Robin from Randall.

Although it was not possible to fully determine the true identity of this person.

However, at least it was known that Robin once had the experience of being a mercenary for Bronia, and his skills were extremely terrifying.

Wyvern Palace followed this clue.

It was speculated that Robin was likely the same person as a character known as Lord Dragon in the dark world. However, speculation was ultimately speculation.

There wasn't enough evidence at the moment to prove that Robin was the person in question. Therefore, Randall had thought of this method to verify it.

At that time, the Warwolf Special Forces were facing a moment of life and death.

The former Warwolf Special Forces.

With no suspense, it had dominated the first position in the special forces for many years,

However, these years have been on a downward trend.

Randall had a unique emotional attachment to the special operations team he had once personally built. He didn't want to watch this team get eliminated just like that.

Thus, a position with the rank of Major General was established, inviting Robin to serve as the Chief Instructor of the Warwolf Special Forces, leading the team in this military competition.

Londraland had seven military commands.

Each war zone had a special battalion composed of the most elite soldiers from the zone, carrying out special missions different from those of ordinary troops.

To promote the healthy development of the special forces of these seven military commands. The military command headquarters held a military skills competition every year.

For so many years, Warwolf Special Forces had always been in the top position on the list. Now, it had already fallen to the last place."

The military headquarters had such a rule that the number of the team that ranked last in the martial arts competition for three consecutive years had to be revoked.

The Warwolf Special Forces had ranked last in the military competition for two consecutive years.

If the team could not move up a rank this year, it would be disbanded.

Members of the Warwolf Special Forces would also retire directly.

Chapter 329 Lord Wyver

Didn't even qualify to be an ordinary soldier.

The current top-ranked ones included Dragon Soul, Leopard Special Forces, aka LSF, and other special combat brigades. These teams were originally under WSF, but now they have all risen. above WSF.

There was less than a month left until the military martial arts competition.

The Military Command 3, to which WSF originally belonged, had thought that their former head coach would train them a more outstanding Warwolf Special Forces.

However, the preliminary performance in the past two weeks was a complete mess.

If they couldn't achieve good results again, this year's martial arts competition would be their last competition. Randall recommended Robin to the military department and put forward his demands.

Upon learning about it, Nia was quite puzzled.

Although Robin saved Grandpa's life, his medical skills were astonishing.

However, Nia had never seen Robin's true skills.

Moreover, Robin was not a military man.

She didn't know why Randall would recommend Robin.

Because of this issue, she had specifically asked her grandfather and Randall.

Randall told her that if they could get Robin into WSF, they could at least maintain their rank in this year's martial arts mission. Moreover, it could have been even better.

For this reason, Randall went through a special process to help Roki secure a promotion to the rank of Brigadier General. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Of course, this quota was limited.

The premise was that the Warwolf Special Forces had to successfully maintain their rank. Nia told Robin about this situation.

Robin shook his head, "What does this have to do with me? I'm not going!"

Nia sighed.

"I knew, Robin, this matter had nothing to do with Vreneda. It shouldn't have been easy to solve. If only Lord Wyvern from those years was here." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

"Lord Wyvern?" Robin had heard this name twice before.

What kind of character was this?

Surprisingly, so many people in the martial arts world revered him to the extreme.

Judging from what Nia said, Lord Wyvern had once been in the Warwolf Special Forces!

Randall watched the changes in Robin's facial expressions.

"Robin, if you want to know about this person, go to the places where he once lived and fought. Perhaps you will learn more," "Alright, I'll go back and think about it," Robin said after a moment of contemplation.

Nia frowned.

"Robin, the senior officials above will arrive in Hallchester on Sunday morning. I hope you can give me a response before their arrival."

"Alright, I'll think about it!" Robin pointed to the intersection ahead, "I'll get off there!"

Chapter 329 Seven Years

The vehicle arrived at the intersection ahead and stopped.

Robin patted Randall's shoulder.

“Old man, tell your guards to behave themselves in the future, otherwise, don’t blame me if they end up as corpses next time.” Randall’s two guards rolled their eyes, without saying a word.

Randall said with a laugh, “Don’t worry, once you’re promoted to Major General, they won’t dare anymore.”

‘Alright, goodbye then.” Robin jumped out of the car and strode towards Afterglow Estates.

Nia watched Robin’s retreating figure and asked, “Randall, are you serious?”

Randall nodded, “You silly girl, how could I joke about something like this?”

“Randall, the key point is that there are only 26 days left before the competition begins. If... if Warwolf Special Forces can’t win a place in the individual combat capability category, our elimination is inevitable.”

Randall looked at Nia coldly, “Then you tell me, besides Robin, who else among you could handle this task?” “The key is...” Nia hesitated, “The key is that he is not a person within our m system.”

“Moreover, was he really familiar with the combat and warfare skills in the military?”

“The special combat ability of the special forces is definitely not something that an untrained individual could achieve.”

“Like every soldier in our Warwolf Special Forces, who hasn’t gone through rigorous training to achieve what they have now?”

“In the special forces battalion of the seven military commands, every soldier was also selected from the top talents in the military.”

“Look at Robin, although I greatly admire his medical skills, his special combat ability...”

Randall pointed to the two guards behind him, "Tell me, how would their individual combat abilities compare to any member of your Warwolf Special Forces?"

Nia glanced back at the two colonel guards behind her. "Randall, I know the guards around you are the elite of the elite. Even the experts from the special forces can't beat them,"

Randall said lightly. "Didn't you just witness it yourself? They didn't even have the strength to fight back in front of Robin, did they?"

Nia was taken aback for a moment, then nodded, "Indeed, it's just... it's just that the two of them might not have been fully prepared."

Randall laughed, "How could you, a young girl, say such amateurish thing!"

an

"On the real battlefield, would the enemy wait for you to be prepared before they strike?" "Just for that alone, they were far behind Robin."

Chapter 329 Seven Years

"If you couldn't maintain your body's conditioned reflexes at all times, then you weren't worthy of being a true special forces operative."

"Based on my many years of experience, I can judge that Robin's responsiveness was definitely obtained through countless practical trainings,"

"There was a piece of information that I just found out, Robin had seven years of experience in the mercenary battlefield." "A seven-year mercenary?" Nia exclaimed in surprise, "Seven years ago... I hadn't even joined the force yet."

"Seven years ago, Robin was only 14. I find it hard to imagine how he managed to survive on such a brutal battlefield at such a young age."

"With his skills today, you should understand that those seven years of mercenary experience were enough to forge a person of a war god level."

"If it weren't for those seven years of experience, there wouldn't be the Robin of today. I trust my judgment!" Nia was silent for a long time: "Randall, what if your guess is wrong? Wouldn't WSF be completely ruined then?" Randall sneered, "Ruined is ruined. For a team with such ability, survival is meaningless anyway."

"The reason I put aside my pride and recommended Robin to represent WSF was not because of the value of WSF, but because I wanted to verify a question."

"To be frank with you, even if the WSF was cancelled, it wouldn't be a loss at all."

"Without a certain combat power, even if they survived, they were just a bunch of trash."

Upon hearing Randall's words, Nia's checks turned red with shame, "Yes, Randall, you're absolutely right." "Without sufficient combat power, even if one went to the battlefield, it would only be a march to death." "Leaving such Warwolf Special Forces behind was utterly pointless!"

"Hoped that Robin had the ability to turn the tide, leaving a breathing opportunity for WSF."

It was already nine o'clock in the evening, and Robin was walking towards Afterglow Estates.

The bedroom was suddenly eerily silent.

Immediately after, two screams, as if their tails had been pinched, suddenly rang out: "Ah! Ahhh!" Robin covered his ears and also started yelling, "Ah!"

At that moment, his first reaction was to run as fast as he could!
