

The Lethal Love Hunter #Chapter 331 - Read The Lethal Love Hunter Chapter 331

Chapter 331

Chapter 331 Could It Be an Illusion?

The sound of Karina and Karsyn's laughter echoed from outside the 'door.

Robin suddenly had a brainwave.

Immediately locked the door and hummed lightly, "I'm not opening the door again tonight!" After taking a hot bath, Robin had a good sleep.

Got up the next morning.

Karina and Karsyn were already sitting in the restaurant waiting for him.

The dining table was laden with a sumptuous breakfast.

The aroma of delicious food could be smelled even on the second floor.

Robin yawned and lazily walked to the dining room.

I originally thought that what happened last night would be very awkward between us. However, he found that it seemed as if nothing had happened between the two of them. "Robin, when did you come back?"

"|..." Robin's mind went blank for a moment, "I came back last night, didn't you know?"

Looking at the clear, water-like sparkle in Karina and Karsyn's eyes.

Robin was a bit confused, was last night just my hallucination?

He looked at Karina, then at Karsyn.

These two beautiful women looked at him with blank expressions.

"Don't you really remember what you went through last night?"

Karina frowned slightly, shaking her head, "No, we were tired from a long day and went to bed early after we got back last night." Karsyn also looked at Robin with confusion, nodding, "What happened last night?"

"Uh... nothing, as long as you didn't go through anything." Robin looked into the eyes of the two women, not seeming to lie. Was it an illusion?

Just at the moment when Robin was bowing his head to eat.

Karina and Karsyn exchanged a glance.

On two exquisite faces, a subtle smile was raised, not easily noticed.

Three people finished their breakfast and drove to the office building of Eastern District Development Corporation.

Madeline hurriedly followed as soon as she entered the lobby of the group building.

"Good morning, Ms. Huber, Robin, Ms. Croft,"

Karina nodded with a smile, "Madeline, how has your mother been since she was discharged from the hospital?"

Madeline hastily replied. "For convenience in care, my mother temporarily stayed at Grace Apartments after her discharge from the hospital. She is recovering very well now."

"I was planning to vacate the house and return it to Robin soon." "During this period, thank you for your help, Ms. Huber. If it weren't for you..."

Karina tidied up Madeline's somewhat messy hair, smiling and saying, "It's okay, since we're all in the same company, we're family. You just focus on your work, everything will get better."

Madeline nodded gratefully, "Yes, I will definitely work hard." "Ms. Huber, Robin, Ms. Croft, I sought you out because I wanted to invite you all to dinner tonight." "My mother said that she was grateful for your care during her hospital stay and she wanted to thank you in person,"

Karina flashed a smile, "There's no need for a meal, Madeline. Tell your aunt to take good care of herself and not to worry too much. We'll visit her when we get the chance."

Madeline's face turned red, "No, Ms. Huber."

"Some relatives were coming over to our house, my mother said, Please come over, it would be a good opportunity for us to gather together."

"Mom also wanted to introduce them to my work environment, to meet my boss and colleagues at the company where I worked." "Ms. Huber, as you know, my mother's generation wanted to save face in front of relatives, |..."
Chapter 331 Could Be an illusion?

Karina pondered for a moment, then began to laugh, "Alright, if that's the case, it wouldn't hurt for us to go and have some fun together. Robin, what do you think..."

Robin initially wanted to decline, but seeing Karina's enthusiasm, he said. "Alright, what time and where? Send it to my phone and we'll go directly there."

"Alright, I'll send you the location and time on your phones in a bit," Madeline said excitedly. Upon arriving at the office, Karina opened today's financial report.

Saw in the company's internal expenditure column, the matter of signing the repayment contract for the urgent funds related to Madeline.

"Ms. Croft, how much was the employee relief fund amount you processed for Madeline?"

Karsyn flipped open the record document: "Madeline had withdrawn. 300,000 from the company twice."

"According to the company's regulations, once an employee's family member has a medical condition, they can apply for a loan from the company's medical fund. The loan is repaid in installments from their monthly salary." The content is on the company's website. Read the latest chapter there!

But in the hospital, they began to sign a repayment agreement. Repayments were made in installments from their monthly salary." The content is on the company's website. Read the latest chapter there!

"During this period, due to her personal matters, the repayment plan agreement had not been signed with her yet."

Karina nodded, "Let's wait a while before signing then. We can apply for her to pay extension on her repayment, and sign the repayment agreement half a year later." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

"Alright, Ms. Huber, I've noted it down and will arrange for her to sign the extension agreement tomorrow." Chapter 331 Could It Be an illusion?

Karina looked at Karsyn's outfit for a good while.

Recalled the candid demeanor of the two people in front of Robin last night, and started to laugh.

Karsyn nervously looked at herself, "What's wrong. Ms. Huber? I... What's not right about me?"

Karina's cheeks turned red, "Karsyn, you're quite the flirt with that petite figure of yours, last night...hahaha..." "Ms. Huber!" Karsyn's face was red all the way to her neck, "It's all your fault!"

Karina looked at Karsyn's embarrassed expression, laughing and saying. "Alright, alright, let's not talk about this." "Talk about the banquet you attended tonight."

"Madeline's mother invited us to dinner, and all her relatives were also gathered together for the meal."

"If we had gone there dressed in such professional attire, it would have created a sense of distance,"

"You helped me look online, and we ordered a few outfits that were suitable for today's occasion."

Karsyn sidled up to Karina, opening a clothing shopping website, "Ms. Huber, what kind of outfit were you planning on?" Karina looked at the hotel Madeline sent on her phone.

"The place where they hosted the banquet was a rmicapedael se it g fingtaratteds & Sually to attend.

LOOK, let's each pick an outfit." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Chapter 332

Chapter 332 Ride an Electric Bike to the Feast

Karina had been picking for a while, always feeling that the clothes Karsyn chose for her were too dazzling. “Karsyn, what did you think of me in the grey suit?”

“Sure. Ms. Huber looks good in anything.” Karsyn glanced at Karina’s explosive figure.

Karina rolled her beautiful eyes, “I didn’t ask you to compliment me, just help me choose something down-to-earth.”

Karsyn looked towards Karina’s prosperous pride, whispering, “Ms. Huber. Robin surely would have been impressed by your memorable one.

It was then that Karina noticed Karsyn’s eyes were fixed on her prideful area. Subconsciously grabbing her collar, she sternly said, “Karsyn. I’ve just realized, you’re quite improper!”

Karsyn pursed her lips, thinking that Karina was angry.

“Ah. Karsyn, I need to ask you something.” Karina moved closer to Karsyn, her face flushed, “Does Robin really have... those kind of feelings for me?”

Karsyn looked up at Karina.

She saw in Ms. Huber’s beautiful eyes, a desire and anticipation that were blossoming at that moment.

“Hmm!” Karsyn nodded, “It should be.”

Chapter 337 Ride an Electric Bike to the Feast

“Since he came to Hallcester, he has done so many things for Ms. Huber that you wouldn’t have dared to imagine before.” “In the past. Demon’s Lair and the Reynell family had always been eyeing the Huber Group covetously.”

“After Mr. Bruce came to your side, they no longer dared to suppress the Huber Group.”

“Those people from Conway even took the initiative to help the Huber Group clear up some troubles.”

“The Huber Group doubled its market size in just half a year! All thanks to Mr. Bruce’s assistance.”

“Ms. Huber, if he didn’t have those feelings for you, why would he do such a thing?”

“I felt that Mr. Bruce was not short of money at all, it seemed like no amount of money made any difference to him.” “He must have done all that for you, Ms. Huber!”

Karina’s cheeks turned rosy, her beautiful eyes blinked, and she started to laugh.

“Alright, in a few days, I will personally cook him a lavish dinner. When the time comes, you go and help me.” Karsyn’s mouth twitched. “Ms. Huber, I think we should forget it...”

“No, I must cook myself!” Karina insisted firmly.

“Alright, as long as you're happy,” Karsyn said, shaking his head helplessly.

“Hey, Karsyn, what do you think about us wearing this set?” Karina

Chapter 337 hide an Electric Bike to the Fra pointed at a very down-to-earth outfit in the picture.

Karsyn looked at the drab outfit that resembled something a cleaning lady might wear, “Ms. Huber, don’t you think you’re being a bit too understated in this?”

“Being low-key is great, this is exactly the effect I want.” Karina pointed at the outfit and said.

“Let's settle on this model. Could you handle the order for me? Please order a set for each of us according to our sizes. It will be fine as long as it arrives before tonight.

“Alright.” Karsyn quickly ordered a local express delivery to arrive by three in the afternoon.

In the afternoon, the security guard, Lance, delivered two sets of clothes to Karina's office.

Karina looked at the security guard, “Lance, what mode of transportation did you use to get to work every day?”

“Ms. Huber, I rode an electric bike.” Lance quickly replied.

“You rode an electric bike? That's great!” Karina exclaimed excitedly.

“Could you lend me two electric bikes for a while? Ms. Croft will transfer 500 dollars each to you as transportation fees later.” Lance hurriedly said, “Ms. Huber, how could I possibly charge you for using the car? I'll bring you the car keys right away.”

Ten minutes later, Lance delivered the keys to two electric cars and noted down the license plate numbers and parking locations.

Karina immediately called Karsyn over and asked her to transfer a thousand dollars to Lance: “Karsyn, can you ride an electric bike?”

to the Feast “Yes, Ms. Huber, were you really going to ride an electric bike there?” Karina nodded, “I did this to close the gap with Madeline's mother, so that we could eat and chat more casually.”

“Look, if we were to wear such professional attire and drive a Porsche to a banquet at that kind of hotel, wouldn't everyone feel a bit.

uncomfortable?” “It would be better if I changed my clothes and rode the electric bike over there.” Karsyn said, “Alright.”

“Karsyn, I didn't know how to ride an electric scooter. Let's go down now and you can teach me. We can ride the electric scooter together tonight.”

“Since Ms. Huber insisted on doing this, let's change into these clothes and go down.” Karsyn saw Karina looking serious.

She understood that Karina didn't want to put any pressure on Madeline's family.

"Ms. Huber, you really did take good care of Madeline."

As Karina was changing into her newly bought clothes, she said, "What's all this about faking care of each other? We're in this together, helping each other out. Isn't that how we get through the rough patches?" The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

"Ouch, it seems like this set of clothes is a bit small."

Karina glanced at the outfit she was wearing, which was size to @stially, ; very mand, didn't have to change now, let's go downstairs!" The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Chapter 332 Ride an Electric Bike to the Feast

Karsyn had also changed her clothes.

Two people arrived together at the shed where the electric cars were parked. Found the two electric bikes that Lance had lent them.

Karsyn looked at the two nearly broken—down electric cars, frowning, "Ms. Huber, these cars won't fall apart while riding, will they?"

Karina was also somewhat nervous, "Yeah, it feels loose everywhere. Let's just give it a try. Can you teach me how to ride first?"

Karsyn pulled out a car, "Ms. Huber, you get in first, I'll tell you how to operate it. Then I'll take you to the square in front of the company building to give it a try." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

"Once you had practiced a bit more and became more proficient, we could slowly ride to the hotel." "Taking advantage of the time before the rush hour, I rode there two hours early." Karina shook her head, "A less than twenty—minute journey, and you want me to ride over two hours in advance?"

"Ms. Huber, you should try riding it first," he suggested.

Chapter 333

Chapter 333 Make a Fool of Herself

Karsyn pulled the car out.

She told Karina how to start, how to accelerate, and how to brake.

Karina nodded. "It shouldn't be difficult, it's pretty much the same principle as driving."

She took a deep breath and got on the electric scooter.

Karsyn advised. "Ms. Huber, don't rush to speed up, try riding slowly for a while, find your balance."

"I understand." Karina nodded.

Just after getting on the car and settling down, the car suddenly took off like a runaway horse.

Karsyn was taken aback and immediately chased after her. "Ms. Huber. don't keep speeding up, quickly let go and slow down..."

By then, Karina had already forgotten all the things Karsyn had taught her, and she was driving the electric car forward in a thrilling manner.

Fortunately, there were no people coming and going near the parking shed during this period of time. Karina had just madly rushed to the square in front of the company building.

| watched as a person on the square was walking while talking on the phone.

He was completely unaware that Karina was hurtling towards him out of control on an electric scooter behind him.

The more anxious Karina became, the more she was unable to operate the direction of the electric car. Moreover, the more she aimed in this person's direction, the more she charged straight ahead.

It was only as the car got closer and closer to the person that Karina realized it was Robin.

She shouted loudly, "Robin, quick, move out of the way! Move! I'm coming!"

Robin was on the phone when he suddenly noticed an electric scooter rushing towards him like an arrow from behind. Holy cow!

Who was this?

Karina?

Ms. Huber really knew how to have fun!

Riding an electric bike and performing stunts in the square during work hours?

He quickly dodged.

His intuition told him that Ms. Huber couldn't ride an electric bike!

Just as he dodged, Karina surprisingly circled back to chase him again!

Moreover, this electric car had been chasing him all along!

Almost everyone in front of the Eastern District Development Corporation's hall had their attention drawn. "You see, Ms. Huber was riding a bike chasing after Robin."

Robin wanted to forcibly stop her car.

Karina shouted loudly. "Move away, move away, don't stop me!"

Seeing Karina's anxious expression, Robin had no choice but to keep running forward.

Karina had been riding for quite a while before she could finally turn in another direction.

However, after adjusting its direction, the electric car no longer pursued Robin, but instead headed straight for a pond in front of the building.

Watching the flustered Karina, Robin shook his head.

How could this woman have suddenly decided to ride an electric bike today?

What a huge embarrassment!

With a swift move, he sat down on the back seat of the electric scooter.

Grabbed the handlebars of the electric scooter from behind Karina. slowly bringing the scooter to a stop.

Karina looked at the pool close at hand, her heart still pounding.

If | had moved half a meter forward, | would have fallen into the pool, which would have been even more embarrassing. At that moment, pale with fright and panting heavily, they exclaimed, "Oh my, why is this electric bike so hard to ride!"

It was then that she realized Robin, who had encircled her from behind, and felt the aura emanating from this man. Her heart, which had been beating wildly, now pounded even more urgently. "You, you hurry down, you... what do you want to do?"

Chapter 333 Make a Fool of Herself

"What did | want to do? If | hadn't helped you steady the car, you would have performed a live car dive." Robin pulled out the car keys. before finally letting go of Karina.

Karina looked at the front of the building.

Looking up again at the windows of the building, they were all crowded with people.

At that moment, almost everyone in the company was looking at her, "This is going to be so embarrassing." Robin looked at Karina as if she were a child who had made a mistake. and began to laugh.

It was then that they discovered Karina was wearing a rather drab piece of clothing.

Moreover, it was very compact,

So tight that it almost shrank from both ends towards the middle.

"Ms. Huber, what on earth were you up to today?"

Karina's face turned red with embarrassment, "What's wrong? I messed up, I can't ride an electric bike, would you mock me like this too?"

"Were you bored or something? Why would you ride an electric scooter when you were sitting comfortably in the office?" Robin asked, puzzled.

Karina said weakly, "I wanted to attend Madeline's mother's banquet in the evening, so I thought of riding an electric scooter. I don't ride, so, I practiced a few square feet first, who knew... it would end up like this." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Robin looked at Karina's helpless expression and chuckled lightly. Looking at Karina's outfit again, it was clear that Karina wanted to be more down-to-earth at tonight's banquet. "If you insisted on riding an electric bike to the banquet, I would take you!"

"Did you carry me?" Karina thought about the feeling of Robin holding her from behind just now - her heart pounding, her cheeks turning red. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

If that's the case, I was actually a bit excited. "Alright then, let's go now." "Leave now?" Robin glanced at the time, "Isn't it too early?"

Karina pointed at the crowd gathered in front of the company building. "It would be so embarrassing to walk into the company lobby now."

Robin understood what Karina meant, "Alright, I'll take you there by bike." They were Karsyn ran up to them, panting heavily, "Ms. Huber. Hey, just how, Karen 10 Geb A! Let's not ride bikes over there, it's too risky." - The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Robin was riding an electric scooter, with Karina sitting behind him. He turned to her with a smile, asking. "Is this okay?" Karsyn stared at the sweet smile on Karina's face, standing dumbfounded in place, murmuring, "Of course... I can..." This was the first time she had seen Karina laugh so happily.

Chapter 333 Make a Fool of Here!!

She was as happy as a blissful little woman!

The warm sunset. the warm wind.

Caressing the silhouettes of Karina and Robin, blending into the golden sunset, it was aesthetically warm.

Karsyn laughed. "Ms. Huber, wait for me!"

Chapter 334

Chapter 334 Madeline's Mother Karina sat in the back of Robin's car, as happy as a blooming flower. Every familiar scenery in front of her eyes suddenly became novel to her at that moment.

Every wisp of passing breeze, every roadside tree passed by, every red dragonfly in the sunset, every face hastily encountered...

It all seemed like the first encounter in life.

Everything was joyful, everything was wonderful.

This was a feeling that Karina had never had before in her life.

At such moments, she didn't want to think about anything, nor did she want to do anything. Just wanted to quietly lean on the back of the man in front of me.

Perceived the sound of the wind, the noise of human voices, the honking of cars, the whispering of summer insects... all without a care in the world.

Blowing in the warm evening breeze.

Bathed in the golden sunset.

Navigated through the bustling crowd.

She really liked and enjoyed this taste.

The authenticity of this kind of life was too tempting. 10930

Chapter 334 Madeline's Mother

Watching the butterflies and dragonflies fluttering past my ears, and the aimless rays of light and dust in the sunset, were all so pleasing to the eye.

She found that her originally numb heart began to come alive during this period.

The rigid life and the dull work had all become rich and colorful.

For the past twenty years. I hadn't noticed that there were so many joyful and interesting things in life. Followed grandfather and father from childhood to adulthood.

Every day, aside from constantly striving for the rise and honor of the family.

There was no longer anything worth getting excited about.

Despite being dressed in fine clothes and feasting on delicacies, living in luxurious houses and driving fancy cars, with bodyguards and maids always by their side.

Even when studying abroad, there would be dozens of bodyguards for protection. However, this life protected in swaddling clothes made her increasingly indifferent and numb.

In fact, many times, she also yearned to be like a normal little girl, with a mother's care and love, not having to bear so much responsibility.

However, such thoughts could only stop at imagination.

There were many things in life that were beyond control.

Every person, was not born to do whatever they liked.

Chapter 334 Madeline's Mother

But, you had to do something!

Therefore, when Madeline extended the invitation, she gladly accepted.

She was looking forward to the dinner tonight even more.

Had a friendly, non—profit-oriented conversation with people like Madeline's mother.

Let her experience it herself.

Aside from the daily hustle and bustle, there was also a very real, down-to-earth mundane life. Sometimes, she really envied Madeline.

There was a mother who loved herself dearly, and a very ordinary life.

This was also her original intention for deciding to attend this dinner party.

Since taking the position as the CEO of the Huber Group.

She had never attended any banquets at the homes of executives or employees.

| had never discussed business with clients at a bar or in a coffee shop.

Although she was in charge of a large corporation, she never wanted to interact too much with anyone. After arriving at the Huber Group, she only had a lot to talk about with her closest assistant, Karsyn. Since Robin arrived, she found that her social circle gradually expanded when she was out, and it was also full of interest. Chapter 334 Madeline's Mother

She was willing to actively participate in things she had previously considered a waste of time.

She imagined Madeline's mother, who should be a kind and gentle mom.

Karina lost her mother at a very early age.

There were several men as tough as mountains in the family.

The life at home was so serious every day.

She had longed countless times to talk to her mother about what she wanted to say from her heart.

So when Madeline mentioned today that her mother wanted to take her out for a meal, she immediately agreed.

"Ms. Huber." Karina, lost in her daydreams, was brought back to reality by Karsyn's call.

She looked at Karsyn riding the electric scooter and admired, “Karsyn, I really admire you. How can you ride this electric scooter so well? I’m so clumsy!”

Karsyn laughed, “Ms. Huber, you're not stupid, you just haven't devoted much time to these little things.” “You were managing hundreds of billions of capital every day, something that ordinary people couldn't do.” “As a small fry like me, I could only do so much.”

Karina laughed, “Karsyn, do you know who Madeline's mother invited over tonight?”

“Ms. Huber, I heard from Madeline that it was her aunt's family and a few of her uncle's colleagues,”

“It was said that Madeline's uncle—in—law was still under Mr. Strickland.”

“What a coincidence, it was under Freddie, what was the name of the construction company?”

Karsyn thought for a moment, “I heard Madeline say it's called Ocean Constructions.”

“I see.” Karina paused, “They probably wouldn't know me, would they?”

“Karsyn, when we get to the hotel tonight, don't reveal my identity to anyone.”

Madeline's mother more relaxed, do you understand?” The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Karsyn nodded, “I know, Ms. Huber's outfit and preparation today were all to close the distance with them.”

Karina said with a smile, “I'm not some big shot either. It's just that I feel like many people don't like to talk to me after they find out who I am.”

Karsyn continued, “I heard from Madeline that her aunt and uncle used to despise them (Or being boor. After Madeline's Father left, all of her relatives abandoned them and stopped associating with their family.” The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

“Now I heard that Madeline had joined the Huber Group, and moreover, she had pekoméan absiatat ditector in the Business Strategy Department, that’s when I got in touch.” The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

m

“I thought her uncle-in—law might have been trying to win your favor. Ms. Huber, through Madeline.” Karma pointed at Karsyn. “You’re being petty. Don’t think everyone is so snobbish, it’s just a family dinner after all.”

Chapter 335

Chapter 335 Feel His Charm

Karsyn pursed her lips, wanting to argue, but ultimately swallowed back her true feelings.

Robin chuckled and said, “Maybe it really is as Ms. Croft said.”

Karina slapped Robin, “How could you be so petty! But you helped Madeline first.”

“You met Madeline first, helping her plead with the HR Department to stay at the Huber Group.”

“Later, you helped her deal with those black—market loans, that’s when I started paying attention to her.”

“Even, you lent her your Grace Apartments house for temporary residence, and drove away her good-for—nothing father.” “If it weren’t for you, how would I have known about her?”

Robin shook his head, “That’s two questions. My acquaintance with Madeline and helping her were purely coincidental.” “This was a different matter from those relatives of her family wanting to curry favor with you.”

“Just like the issue was about two different concepts concerning Madeline and her dad.”

“Think about it, when Madeline and her mother were plagued by poverty and illness, her aunt and uncle abandoned them and never kept in touch.”

Chapter 335 Feel His Char

“Why did they start associating with them again upon hearing that her mother was discharged from the hospital after recovery and Madeline. joined an important department of the Huber Group?”

Karina was momentarily at a loss for words, shooting an annoyed glance at Robin's retreating figure. Stealthily extending a slender finger, she fiercely pinched the soft flesh around Robin's waist.

“Hiss!” Robin sucked in a breath in pain, “Can't win an argument, so you resort to pinching?”

Karina looked at the helpless Robin at that moment.

Thinking back to last night, when he was left in a state of confusion. and embarrassment from being punched and kicked by her and Karsyn, he couldn't help but laugh.

She hesitated slightly, then rested her face against Robin's back.

She closed her eyes, wholeheartedly feeling the infinite charm emanating from this man... The golden sunset bathed Karina's unparalleled beauty.

The past breeze blew that beautiful long hair extremely gorgeously.

As if a charming bride enveloped in happiness, nestled in the arms of her beloved man, she was reluctant to let go of this intoxicatingly beautiful little secret.

Karsyn, who was closely following behind Karina, was stunned by this scene.

Since she joined the Huber Group.

Chapter 335 Feel His Charm

Who had ever seen this aloof and stunning CEO, who kept people at arm's length, have such a sweet and girlish moment? A burst of insensitive car honking woke the goddess from her dream.

Karina opened her beautiful eyes, only to find Karsyn looking at her with great interest.

She subconsciously lifted her head from Robin's back.

In an instant, it was like the panic of having one's innermost secrets seen through, shyly lowering her eyes. After a brief moment of panic, the well-trained Ms. Huber regained her previous wisdom and rationality. "Oh. Ms. Croft." Madeline asked, "were there others besides her mother and her aunt's family?"

Karsyn hesitated for a moment and said, "Ms. Huber, I heard from Madeline that her uncle by marriage came, and he also invited several senior colleagues from Ocean Constructions to attend tonight's dinner."

"Is that so... So many people..." Karina didn't like eating with these people from the workplace. She pondered for a moment, "It's okay, if it's not convenient then, we can leave early."

"I mainly wanted to meet with Madeline's mother and have a chat."

At that moment, Madeline sent a message.

Informed them that their Business Strategy Department had some urgent matters to deal with today, and they would be able to arrive at Zephyr Hotel later.

Karsyn received the information and asked, "be arriving later, should we go in first or wait for Madeline to arrive?" "Let's go ahead." Karina said without a second thought, "We can just tell them we're Madeline's colleagues. She should have informed her mother in advance."

Ten minutes later, Robin arrived at Zephyr Hotel with Karina and Karsyn.

The three people parked the electric car and headed to the second floor of the hotel according to the room number sent by Madeline.

Just as he walked into the hotel lobby, Robin saw two familiar figures, Robyn and Jeff.

There were also a few people with them, who were likely colleagues from Hashville Airlines or friends of Jeff. What a coincidence, they were also having a gathering here.

Robyn and Jeff also noticed them.

Jeff was sizing up Karina and Karsyn next to Robin.

Despite both women having exceptional figures and appearances. However, their attire was very ordinary, one could even say it was of a very low grade.

He sneered, "Robyn, did you see? This guy Robin, he swindles money from old rich wemey dutsitfe, then cemiés &R and uses that money to deceive some lower-class young girls. He's truly a scumbag!" The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Robyn was also stunned by the beauty of Karina and Karsyn.

Although they were dressed ordinarily, they were definitely not ordinary women in terms of temperament.

00:31

Chapter 335 Feel His charm

Robyn didn't explain.

Just looking at the backs of Robin and Karina, there was an inexplicable sense of loss in my heart. Robin. Karina, and Karsyn arrived in front of room 202 on the second floor.

A burst of exaggerated laughter came from the private room.

Karina paused slightly, saying to Karsyn, "It seems they were quite happy chatting together."

Karsyn knocked on the door of the private room, which was opened by a middle-aged woman in her fifties. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

“Excuse me, was this the private room reserved by Madeline?” The middle-aged woman was sizing up Karsyn and Karina. Looking at their dull grey clothes, a flash of annoyance quickly passed through their eyes.

“This was the private room booked by Madeline, I’m here, my) igMarilyn » what were you looking for her for?” The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Chapter 336

Chapter 336 | Know You're Into Madeline

Karsyn faltered slightly, detecting the impatience in Madeline’s mother’s tone.

Perhaps it was due to unfamiliarity.

Karsyn made up a reason in her mind and politely said, “We are Madeline's colleagues from the company, hello Ms. May!” Marilyn looked at them again, “Are you really Madeline's colleagues? Was it her who invited you to come for dinner?” Karsyn nodded with a smile, “Yes.”

Marilyn frowned, looking at Karina and Karsyn’s drab clothes, and warned. “Alright then, but let me tell you in advance, don’t talk casually once we’re in the private room.”

“Huh?” Both Karina and Karsyn looked at Marilyn in surprise, not knowing what she meant.

“Several leaders from the Southern District Development Corporation. were seated here, they were discussing work.” “After you went in, if you spoke carelessly, it would affect their work.”

Karsyn frowned slightly, “Discuss work here?”

Pride was written all over Marilyn’s face, “That's right. My brother-in-law, you see, holds quite a high-ranking position.” “It seemed to be said that you were the Chairman of Ocean Constructions, a subsidiary of Southern District Development 1996 | know You're Info

Corporation, under the Huber Group!”

The corner of Robin's mouth twitched, “The position is not small. Just. like Ms. Huber, they are both chairpersons.” Karina kicked him angrily.

“Hahaha...” Karsyn couldn’t help but laugh out loud as he looked at Karina’s appearance.

Marilyn’s face darkened, “Once you three enter the private room, you absolutely cannot be all smiles and laughter. The leaders are inside, you must be respectful.”

Karina said with a smile, “Alright, Ms. May, we'll just speak more quietly.”

Karsyn subtly shook her head.

Had it not been for Karina’s instructions before she arrived, not to reveal that she was Ms. Huber. Immediately told Madeline’s mother about Karina and Robin’s identities.

Let's see if she would say such snobbish words again.

She looked at Karina with a touch of heartache.

This kind-hearted Ms. Huber was greatly disappointed today.

Upon hearing Karina’s words, Marilyn was still not quite reassured and stood in front of the private room door, hesitating to let them in.

She glanced at Karina’s expectant gaze, sighed, and reminded again, “Once you go in, you must mind your manners.” “Several of Aunt Madeline’s husband's colleagues were also there. It would be best if you didn’t talk after you went in. It wouldn’t be good if you disturbed the leaders’ work discussions.”

“In that case, the impact on our Madeline would have been significant.”

Karina’s smile froze on her face, she nodded mechanically: “Alright.”

Robin glanced at Madeline's mother and shook his head, "Leaders are so dedicated, even discussing work while eating out." Marilyn's face suddenly darkened, "How could you talk like this, child?!"

"I was really worried that being with you guys would affect Madeline's progress."

"I have to talk about you. Don't you understand that having a meal with the leader is also part of the job?"

"What was your name?"

Karsyn had intended to tell the truth, hesitated for a moment, and then held back: "Uh... this is our colleague Robin from the company."

"Robin? I think I've heard that name before," Marilyn frowned in thought.

"Oh, right, right. I've heard Madeline mention so many times, someone named Robin helped her a lot."

"Robin, I knew you liked our Madeline, you were always pursuing her."

"However, I must remind you, if you want to marry our Madeline, you'll need the approval of me and her aunt's family!" Robin was taken aback. "Did Madeline say this?"

Marilyn curled her lip, scoffing. "Did she think I wouldn't notice if she didn't say anything?"

"Who would be so kind to help her so much? If it wasn't for our Madeline's beauty, it would really be charity!"

"Um..." Robin pursed her lips. "Alright, as long as you're happy."

Marilyn continued. "So, Robin, I need to remind you again, behave yourself in front of your Maya Elie later, alright? Be sure you don't say anything wrong, got it?" The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Robin shrugged, looking at Karina, "With so many requirements, I guess we better not go in. Karsyn also had second thoughts." Karina looked at Robin with a sly smile. "We're already here, might as well go in. We can leave when Madeline arrives later."

Marilyn reminded again, “Robin, no offense, but you’re a bit frivolous. This kind of personality will get you into big trouble in the future

“Madeline's uncle—in—law was the chairman

“You should have shown them some respect when you saw them. Yo should have ve gope|ivafter. Sole ti to light thei cigarettes, pour them some water, and be a bit more diligent to leave a good impression on them” The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

“If your uncle by marriage was pleased, he could still give you a leg up, and you could make a little more progress in the company

Robin flicked his eyelids, not wanting to deal with Marilyn anymore

Karina, however, laughed and said,

“Let's go. Auntie i Soo hh Orcemicctte nai de, youshoud ow your best bavior in front of your uncle.” The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

“Who's the uncle—in—law!” Robin gave Karina a look, “Are you serious? Are you making fun of me?” “Let's go, we’re at the door, we can’t just leave like this,” Karina said, pulling Robin inside.

Karsyn glanced at the already impatient Robin and sneaked a smile.

She knew, Ms. Huber’s prank was coming.

She wanted to see how Robin would perform in front of this “mother- in-law*.

Chapter 337

Chapter 337 Better Not to Meet

Robin stood still without moving.

Karina moved closer to him, smiling and said, “Let’s go, why are you still being reserved?”

Robin shook his head, “You are really boring.”

Karina started to laugh secretly.

She looked at the man beside her, who always enchanted her no matter when.

Not only did I enjoy watching his cold demeanor, but I also preferred seeing his languid expression. Many times, even the situations where Robin was misunderstood, left Karina utterly fascinated. Back then, Madeline's mother spoke those chilling words.

Karina had already belittled the mother in front of her.

Robin helped Madeline, without any ulterior motives.

Where did the liking for Madeline come from?

If this Marilyn knew.

There were so many goddess—like women who dreamed of becoming one by Robin's side.

Didn't know, what kind of feelings she would have.

Some people, they lived their whole lives without ever truly understanding the real meaning of life. Even if it meant letting her die once, or experience poverty once.

She might not have been able to understand how to be a person!

Originally, it was thought to be a family feast gathering without any worldly snobbery.

It was possible to chat about relaxed topics, everyday trivial matters, and the warmest family affection in an atmosphere without any pretense or distinction.

Never would I have imagined, after meeting, it would be so disappointing, to the extreme!

People often say that life would be perfect if it remained as beautiful as when we first met.

But at the moment, it seemed better not to see each other at all.

Karina had prepared so carefully before.

It was to find the feeling of motherly love that had been yearned for so many years deep in the heart, in front of Marilyn. The feeling was gone now.

Having nothing better to do, I decided to watch a farce of human nature. It could be considered a form of entertainment. Karina was about to step in, pulling Robin along, but Marilyn still blocked them.

“Oh, right, I also needed to remind you guys, there were two tables in the private room.”

“A few leaders hadn't arrived yet. I heard that Ms. Huber and the director of the department where Madeline works were both supposed to come today.”

“A few seats at that table inside were reserved for them.”

“It wasn't good for people of your status to sit inside, you should sit at the small table near the entrance.” “This wouldn't have disturbed the conversation of the leaders.”

Karsyn sneered and shook his head.

Karina then said casually, “That's best, Robin, Karsyn, we'll sit at the small table in front of the door, very good.” Robin shrugged, “Fine, I don't care.”

“Let's go, Marilyn, let's go in,” Karina said with a smile.

Marilyn was also taken aback.

Karina was just calling her Ms. May, why is she now referring to her as Marilyn?

The quality of these children was still low!

Marilyn hesitated for a moment, taking another look at the retreating figures of Karina and Karsyn.

Especially their set of grey clothes, the quality was surprisingly so low!

What's more, the clothes on Karina were a bit small.

It seemed that this girl was too poor to afford even a decent piece of clothing!

Marilyn sighed to herself

How could Madeline have invited such a person to the grand family feast tonight?

This child was so naive!

After returning, I had to seriously talk about her. I couldn't get too close to such poor colleagues in the future!. Marilyn disdainfully tugged at Karina.

"Ah, let me remind you again." I said, "once you get to the private room, be respectful to her uncle and the other leaders. Don't speak carelessly. If you upset them, it would be very bad."

Robin smirked playfully, "The boss isn't an enemy, is there a need to be so terrified?"

Marilyn glared at Robin in anger, "I'm telling you, if you continue to act like this, I won't agree to Madeline being with you." Karina hastily said. "Alright, we will definitely be careful. Marilyn, you can't always keep us outside the door, can you?" Marilyn sighed. "Alright, come in. Remember, mind your manners!"

Three people entered the private room.

This was a large private room of nearly 30 square meters, indeed furnished with two tables inside. The innermost part of the room was a large table for twelve people.

Six or seven men and women had already been seated.

The man was puffing smoke, while a few women were cracking

Chapter 337 Better Not to Meet

sunflower seeds.

These people were telling offensive dirty jokes.

Karina slightly furrowed her brow, following Marilyn to a small table near the door.

This small table was half the size of the larger one inside, and it was very short.

The chairs in front of the table were also two units smaller.

At first glance, this table in the private room was a prenamediorthe obildgerdofGhe ining guests. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Karina stood in front of the table, frowning in mocanyens asked Ir \ © fusion cHoveco d this table be so small?" The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Karsyn grumbled in annoyance, "Ms. Huber, let's just go."

"What happened?" Karina asked, puzzled.

Robin shrugged and chuckled lightly, "This is a table set for children." Karina looked at the large table inside, then at the small table in front of her.

There were still some toys on the left side of the small table. Afte staring for a whi ete paileeKatsyn and said wath! laugh, "This is so nice, sit down quickly!" The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

"Ms. Huber!" Karsyn said in a low, displeased voice, "This is too much of a bully!" Karina laughed, "I don't think so, it's really fun, I've never sat at a table like this before!" Marilyn saw them sit down directly and said unhappily, "How could you just sit down directly? Go and greet the leaders!"

Chapter 338

Chapter 338 Don't Hurt Their Self-Esteem Robin was sitting on a small chair, fiddling with his phone, ignoring Marilyn.

Karina lowered her eyebrows in thought for a moment, then said indifferently. "If we're not on the same level, we won't interfere with their meeting."

Upon hearing this, Karsyn also lowered his head to look at his phone and stopped talking.

Seeing them in such a state, Marilyn was displeased.

However, it was hard to say it out loud.

It was still unknown what the relationship between these three people and Madeline was.

Karina glanced at Robin, who was still engrossed in his phone, and signaled Karsyn to bring out the wild ginseng. This wild ginseng was given to Camdyn by a client from the Northeast.

This wild ginseng, also known as mountain ginseng, was auctioned off by that client at the eighth Northeast Estya Expo held in Hallcester.

The price recorded at that time was ten million dollars.

The dry ginseng weighed around 80 grams, it was the best of all ginseng.

Robin told her that Camdyn's body was not edible.

Later, Karina kept this exorbitantly priced wild ginseng in her office.

Today, I brought something to nourish Marilyn's body.

After seeing Marilyn, he didn't want to give her this wild ginseng.

Suddenly, on a whim, I wanted to tease Robin, so I had Karsyn bring it out.

Karsyn whispered, "Ms. Huber, are we still giving her such a valuable ginseng?"

Karina nodded and said, "Just give it to her if you brought it, it's not worth much money anyway." "Ms. Huber, this wild ginseng is worth millions, it's such a waste for her to treat you and Mr. Bruce like this!" Karina chuckled lightly, "Many things become uninteresting once they are priced."

"Bring it out, how could Robin meet his mother-in-law and his aunt's family empty-handed?" Karsyn paused slightly, then began to laugh quietly.

She took out a delicate wooden box from the cloth bag.

Karina said with a smile, "Marilyn, Robin came over today and even brought you a ginseng plant." Robin looked up at Karina and shook his head.

This woman was still addicted to playing today.

Karina secretly winked at him.

"Marilyn, this is a top—quality ginseng, it's very good for your health."

"Robin, right?"

19.125.

10092

Chapter 338 Don't Hurt Their Self-Esteem

Robin chuckled lightly, "Well, whatever you say."

Marilyn's eyes lit up as she laughed, "The gift Robin gave me?"

However, when she saw Karsyn hand her a small wooden box, the smile on her face cooled down. "Robin, did you give this to me?"

Robin looked up at the ginseng, it was the exorbitantly priced one that someone had given to Camdyn. Looking at Marilyn's expression, not satisfied?

"What's wrong? Isn't this gift good?"

Marilyn looked at the palm-sized ginseng and said coldly, "Robin, you brought such a small thing here, how embarrassing it would be if Madeline's uncle-in-law's colleague saw it!"

"Not to criticize you, but you were really thoughtless as a child!" "On such occasions, you should have bought some large items, like those big gift boxes of supplements sold in the store."

"Even though it's a bit more expensive, it's just a matter of one or two thousand dollars. At such a time when face matters, how can you be so unambitious? You're just carrying something in such a small box, it doesn't even look like it's worth one or two!"

The corner of Robin's mouth twitched, "Uh...you want that kind of stuff in a big gift box, huh? | never buy that kind of junk." "You! How can you be so unreasonable!" Marilyn, annoyed, slammed the box of extremely expensive ginseng on the table. "No way!" Robin shook his head, continuing to play with his phone,

398 Don't Hurt The Self Esteem

"Summer insects cannot speak of ice!"

Seeing Robin's indifferent attitude, Marilyn shook her head, "You, you're such an immature child!"

The sound of speech over here attracted the attention of a table of people inside.

"Who are those three people?" A woman in her thirties asked, pointing at the retreating figures of Karina and her companions. Madeline's uncle—in-law, Felix Blair, squinted at the three of them, "Probably some of Madeline's colleagues," he guessed.

This woman looked at Karina and Karsyn's outfits and scoffed, "These two can't possip\ bé fanitérs from the Eastern District Development Corporation, look at what they're wearing, haha, really now." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

"Lower your voice, don't hurt their pride, the pride of the underprivileged is the strongesté Anather: than cbyéited her mouth and laughed exaggeratedly, deliberately speaking loudly. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

The mocking words of a few people, taking turns to speak, could be heard throughout the entire private room.

"Mr. Blair, your niece really knows how to stir things up. She actually, a Ol invited a few lows |eidl employees to ding wi US. this gets out, it will be so degrading!" The voices of the women grew louder and louder. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Nettie May, Madeline's younger aunt, couldn't hide her curiosity any longer. She stood up and walked over, asking, "Sis, who are these people?"

Marilyn apologized, “Sister, they said it was Madeline who invited them. I’m really sorry, did we disturb Mr. Blair and the others?” Chapter 339 Don’t Hurt Their Self Extrem

Nettic shook her head and said, “That Madeline, really! Didn’t | tell her? When inviting the company’s leaders, don’t invite some unsuitable people.”

Marilyn said nervously, “Uh, well... after Madeline arrives, if it doesn’t work out, let them go.”

“Oh, right, sister, that’s Robin. He helped me a lot when | was sick.”

Madeline had not mentioned Robin’s position and rank in the company.

Never mentioned the relationship between Robin and Karina.

In their imagination. Robin was nothing more than a low-level employee who had a crush on Madeline. Nettie looked at Robin, who was still engrossed in his phone, and snorted. “He looks decent enough, but...” “Oh, this is the gift Robin gave me.” Marilyn handed the box of ginseng to Nettie.

“Just this little?” Nettie snorted. “Some fakes you picked up from the market, right?”

Chapter 339

Chapter 339 One Million Dowry

Nettie’s words attracted the attention of several women at the table inside.

“What happened, Nettie?”

“What's going on, what’s this about fake goods or not fake goods?”

Several managers from Ocean Constructions stood in front of the small table, all talking at once.

Felix also got up and came to the small table.

Glanced up at Karina, suddenly taken aback.

How could this woman resemble so much the young lady of the Huber family, the president of the Huber Group? Was somewhat flustered for a moment.

If that was really the case, then it would have been a huge trouble.

Just now, | was shooting the breeze and cracking dirty jokes with a few colleagues from the company.

Upon hearing this, it would be difficult for Karina to continue working under the companies of the Huber Group. Felix was secretly sizing up Karina.

After seeing Karina's drab outfit, he laughed at himself sarcastically.

Chapter 114 Ona Million Dowry

Ms. Huber, from the most prominent family in Hallcester, how could she possibly be seen in such low-grade clothing? Even less likely to enter the private room, he just sat at this small table.

Even though Madeline's mother had said that Ms. Huber might come over.

However, everyone in Halleester knew that even the city's mayor couldn't persuade this goddess—like female CEO.

Since her debut. Ms. Huber had never attended anyone's banquet. Thinking of this, the heart that Felix had been holding up also relaxed.

"What gift have | been given?" Felix stepped forward, picking up the astronomically priced ginseng to take a look.

A few women from Ocean Constructions also gathered around, laughing and saying, "Mr. Blair, you're knowledgeable, do you think this thing could be worth a dozen dollars?"

Felix took a deep drag of his cigarette, exhaling a thick cloud of smoke, "You're saying this thing is worth over ten bucks?" Aglint flashed in Karsyn's eyes, thinking that Mr. Blair could still recognize this astronomically priced ginseng. Felix chuckled, "A rotten tree root, how much could it be worth? Not a penny!"

“Young people nowadays can do anything. Did you think you could fool others by passing off a few dollars’ worth of stuff as ginseng?”

“Vanity love! Can’t you be a bit more genuine?”

“If you think it’s not worth anything, just put it down,” Robin said

Chapter 339 One Million Downy

indifferently, his eyes glued to the game on his phone, not even glancing at them. He tapped the table.

Felix frowned, throwing the exorbitantly priced ginseng directly onto the table.

Turned around and returned to the seats inside with another colleague.

In his view, speaking too much with these lower-level employees would be beneath his dignity.

But a few women did not leave immediately, and you, full of superiority, began to mock one after another.

“May I ask you something?” A woman in her thirties tapped Karina’s shoulder. “Which department are you from?” Karsyn immediately said in displeasure. “Please show some respect!”

“Hehehe. quite a strong sense of self-esteem. huh?” The women glanced at each other and began to laugh mockingly Karina ignored them, picked up the ginseng on the table, and looked at Marilyn. “Are you sure you don’t want this?”

Before Marilyn had a chance to speak. Nettie scornfully said. “A rotten tree root, what do you want with that! Take it back immediately!”

“Don’t assume my sister is a country bumpkin who knows nothing. trying to fool her with these worthless things.” Robin lifted his head and pointed at the ginseng. “If they don’t want it. then take it back.”

Karina threw the ginseng to Robin: “Then you take it.”

Robin took the palm-sized, exorbitantly priced ginseng, shaking his

Chapter 339 One Mitition Dowry

head: "Ten million, this is a ginseng worth ten million, and you don't even recognize its value, ridiculous!"

He glanced at the few women in front of the table.

He deliberately lifted the box of ginseng, showing it off in front of them: "Take a good look at the number on it, and later you can check it online."

The women next to Marilyn burst into laughter at Robin's serious demeanor. "Although the boyfriend Madeline from your family found was a bit of a loser, he was quite humorous."

"The person didn't look too bad."

"I meant, if he met the requirements, then let Madeline end up with him."

"Nettie, even though your niece Madeline graduated from a prestigious school, Yoésrrt Hoe muah f ridation. It would be good if she could find someone from our company." The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Marilyn nodded agreeably at a few women, "Yes, yes!"

Then, he turned around and said to Robin, "Did you see that? Your aunts were all speaking up for you."

"Robin, I told you, if you want to marry our Madeline, you can't just marry her casually."

Karina casually asked, "So, how is it not considered marrying randomly?"

"In our place, a dowry is required," Marilyn said coldly. "If you can't afford a dowry, don't even think about marrying our Madeline!" 10:09

Chapter 339 One Million Dowry

"Dowry? What is a dowry?" Karina, who had no concept of dowry, asked curiously.

"The dowry is determined based on the value of a girl's life," Marilyn said with contempt.

“For a girl like our Madeline, Robin, you would have had to offer at least a million dollars. You could even consider discussing her marriage to you.” The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

“According to her aunt and uncle—in-law, for someone like our Madeline who graduated from a prestigious school, is so beautiful and is valuable at the company, you should at least offer a dowry of 2 million!” The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Robin ignored them, secretly amused by Marilyn’s words. What happened to the people of this world!

Did it cost money to marry off a daughter?

Was this for selling a daughter or marrying off a daughter?

If I had known she was such a mother, I would never have lent them a hand!

Chapter 340

Chapter 340 You Should Go See a Doctor Nettie saw Robin constantly looking down at his phone, his eyes full of annoyance.

“All you young people know how to do now is scroll through your phones! You can’t do anything else! How successful can such people be!”

“Did you hear what my sister just said? Without a million, don’t even think about marrying our Madeline.” Robin lifted his head to look at Marilyn. “Do you think so too?”

Marilyn looked at Nettie in confusion.

At that moment. Nettie was desperately giving her signals with her eyes.

She immediately nodded, “Yes! If you want to marry our Madeline. you must give a dowry of one million, otherwise... otherwise...”

"Alright. I understand." Robin said indifferently, looking at Marilyn. whose eyes were shining at that moment.

Marilyn thought Robin had already agreed to a dowry of one million, and she was so excited that her whole body was shaking. Unexpectedly, the trick her sister told her really worked!

A million, I've never seen so much money in my life!

Karina looked at Marilyn, "A dowry of one million, isn't that just selling your daughter?"

Marilyn laughed and said, "I've raised her all these years, how could I sell my daughter? Otherwise, wouldn't all my efforts have been in vain? What will I do after she gets married and leaves?"

Karina gave a cold laugh and shook her head. Was this the kind-hearted mother I wanted to see, the human affection? Karsyn couldn't hold it in any longer, angrily saying. "Did you think this much when you were lying in the hospital?"

"Have you ever thought about it? Back then, no one helped you pay for your medical expenses, including your sister and brother-in-law who held high positions. Who extended a helping hand to you?"

Marilyn was instantly speechless, her face flushed with anger as she pointed at Karsyn and said, "You... what do you think you are! Wasn't it because Robin liked our Madeline that he helped me pay the medical bills?"

"Otherwise, he would have been so kind to help us and even provide us with a place to live!"

Karsyn was extremely furious, realizing that there truly were many heartless and ungrateful scumbags in the world! "Did you really think Mr. Bruce liked your Madeline?"

Nettie pointed at Karsyn and said, "Shut up! We're discussing Robin's relationship with our Madeline, what's it to you?"

"If you don't stop talking nonsense and appreciate what you have, believe it or not, I will have our Mr. Blair tell your boss to fire you!"

“Karsyn, there’s no need to say more, let’s call it a day,” Robin stood up, packing up his phone, ready to head out. Chapter 340 You Should Go See a Doctor Karina and Karsyn also tidied up their clothes and stood up.

Nettie stood in front of Robin, “Robin, we haven’t finished stating our demands yet!”

“Oh, you guys have quite a few demands, huh?” Robin said, wiping his palms with a napkin.

Nettie thought for a moment, “You must buy a house over 100 square meters in Hallcester! Moreover, the names of Madeline and my sister must be written on the property deed!”

Also, buy another car worth 200,000 and put it under my name. Oh, because they can’t drive, I’ll drive it for them first, and give it to them later. “Also, also, you married our Madeline, and for the change of address. both | and our Mr. Blair charged 200,000 each!”

“200,000 is not a lot! You have to understand, if people in your company knew that you are the son-in-law of our family’s Mr. Blair. you would have benefited a lot.”

“Hehe, seems like | got the better end of the deal, huh?” Robin said. half-smiling as he crumpled up the napkin and tossed it onto the table. “Alright, you guys just keep waiting then.”

Seeing that Robin had not raised any objections, Marilyn and Nettie excitedly said, “Since you have accepted our request, go now and serve a cup of tea to your uncle-in-law and several leaders.”

Robin flicked his eyelids, “You want me to serve tea to those trash? Have you been kicked in the head by a donkey?” “Huh?” Nettie thought she had misheard. “What did you say?”

Karsyn laughed and said, “Our Mr. Bruce said, you all are garbage,

Chapter 340 You Should do a Doctor your brain has been kicked by a donkey, you should go to the hospital for treatment.”

Karina looked at Karsyn and shook her head with a smile.

In an instant, the originally noisy private room fell into silence.

“What...what did you say?” After a brief moment of confusion, Nettie, in anger, raised her hand to hit Karsyn.

Robin grabbed her wrist, saying coldly, “Stop being disgusting!”

“You... you're absolutely lawless!” Nettie shouted at Marilyn in frustration, SisahidiKourrageous! If youBon tet rules for him, how is Madeline supposed to live with him in the future!” The content is on Read the latest

chapter there!

Marilyn was momentarily stunned, she hadn't expected Robin to say something like this.

“Robin, apologize to your aunt and uncle immediately, or else... or else | will make sure Madeline will never agree to you!” Robin looked at the angry Marilyn in front of him, sighed, and said, “You look really ugly when you’re being unreasonable!” Marilyn didn’t understand what Robin said, “What did you say?”

Robin gave a cold laugh, pointing at Marilyn, “You would be better gin lying in athesrital ae! least you cBuld preserve some dignity for yourself!” The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Having said that, he turned around and walked away.

“Stay right there!” Felix commanded, slapping his hand down on the table.

“If you don’t give me an explanation today, you won't be leaving this

10 10

Chapter 240 You sh

private room!”

Robin halted, giving a cold smile, "If I had stayed, you trash would have been finished!"

"What?" Felix and a few of the lower-level bosses from Ocean Constructions were extremely annoyed.

At that moment, Madeline walked in with See Pratt, Vomecns the Business Steatedy apartment at Ester District Development Corporation. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Madeline, pulling Nettic and Marilyn who were blocking the door, laughed and said. "Mom, Aunt, Uncle, this is Mr. Pratt from our department!"