Chapter 341

Chapter 341 Mr. Pratt Arrives Nettie had been in a state of annoyance before.

Upon hearing Madeline introduce the man in his thirties who came in with her, it turned out he was Guillermo, the Director of the Business Strategy Department at Eastern District Development Corporation.

She immediately turned around and leaned in.

Because the turn was too sharp, it almost tipped over onto the ground.

Stumbled a few times before finally steadying his feet.

The executives of Ocean Constructions knew.

The Business Strategy Department was one of the three most important departments directly managed by Karina.

Such senior executives within the group headquarters were treated almost at the level of a vice president.

Such a high-profile figure visiting this place was indeed a big deal!

At that moment, Nettie couldn't care less about Robin, Karina, and Karsyn. She scrambled over to Guillermo.

"Mr. Pratt. I am Madeline's aunt Nettie May, you can call me Nettie, hahaha..."

Thirty-one-year-old Guillermo, upon hearing nearly fifty-year-old Nettie speak like this, let out an awkward laugh, "Uh... hello." Nettie laughed so hard that her body fat jiggled all over, almost pressing a few chunks of it onto Guillermo's body.

10:10

"Mr. Pratt, Mr. Blair is inside. Oh yes, the young Mr. Blair is the chairman of Ocean Constructions, a subsidiary of your company." Guillermo tried hard to dodge Nettie, giving a stiff smile, "Hello, Mr. Blair."

Felix hurriedly ran out from his seat.

There was no time to blame Robin and others.

In three strides and two rushes, he reached Guillermo and tightly grasped his hand.

A 90-degree bow

He complimented with a smile, "Mr. Pratt, we've been waiting for you!"

"A few of our department heads arrived here three hours early today, just to await your esteemed arrival!"

Guillermo looked at the respectful demeanor of Felix in front of him, feeling quite uncomfortable, "Mr. Blair, you don't have to be like this, everyone just order whatever you want, it's just a family dinner, there's no need to be so polite."

Felix held Guillermo's hand tightly, "Mr. Pratt, how could you say that? You are the leader, and a leader is like a parent, these formalities are necessary!"

Several junior leaders from Ocean Constructions also jumped up from their seats, tightly surrounding Guillermo.

They practically carried him to the banquet table, pressing him into the seat at the very center of the innermost row. Guillermo glanced at the seating arrangement and quickly stood up, "I can't sit in this seat!"

Chapter

"Wait a moment. Ms. Huber and Mr. Bruce might still come over, I can't sit in the boss's seat. I'd better sit on the side.

Felix thought, "That's fine, that's fine, Mr. Pratt, you can sit in this seat. next to Ms. Huber."

Guillermo didn't refuse either, he just sat down.

Based on the people Madeline invited today, excluding Karina and Robin. he should have been eligible to sit in this position.

After Guillermo sat down, he noticed that Felix and the others were still standing around. He gestured and said, "Don't be formal, everyone please sit down."

However, not a single passionate manager from Ocean Constructions sat down. You and I, one after another, were eager to introduce ourselves in front of Director Wei of the group headquarters. The male supervisor kept offering cigarettes.

The female supervisor had no cigarettes to offer, so she had no choice but to lower her neckline as much as possible, showcasing her cleavage.

Wished nothing could bother him, he would have loved to tear those two pieces of meat out and offer them to Guillermo. Madeline's mother, Marilyn, also wanted to step forward and greet her daughter's immediate boss.

However, they were forcibly kept outside by a few enthusiastic junior leaders from Ocean Constructions.

She was extremely anxious.

There were several times when I wanted to squeeze through their gaps, but I just couldn't get through.

The hairstyle that was deliberately done today was squashed like a bird's nest.

After many attempts. I almost crawled under the table.

She hesitated for a moment outside the wall of people, then jumped up. waving her hand and shouting. "Mr. Pratt, Mr. Pratt, I'm here!"

Guillermo was already drenched in sweat at this moment, hardly able to notice Marilyn's call.

"Mr. Pratt! Mr. Pratt!" Marilyn suddenly shrieked as if her tail had been stepped on. in her urgency.

The private room suddenly fell silent.

"Mr. Pratt!" Marilyn called out again, startling Guillermo.

Just after taking the cup of hot water from Felix, it suddenly shook and spilled all over.

Felix and a few junior leaders from Ocean Constructions also calmed down.

Everyone turned to look at Marilyn in the direction of the scream.

Marilyn couldn't care less at that moment, she forcefully pushed through the crowd to get to Guillermo: "Mr. Pratt! Hahaha... "Ouch!" Guillermo jumped, the water cup in his hand completely fell to the ground.

Guillermo paused for a moment, it sounded like a matchmaking dialogue, didn't it?

After a brief moment of confusion, he quickly stood up. "Hello, Ms. May "

Marilyn excitedly said. "Mr. Pratt, you don't have to call me Ms. May, just use my first name." "How could that be? My mother was about the same age as you..."

Marilyn laughed. "Mr. Pratt, you're the boss, how could you call me Ms. May ?!"

Felix's face darkened when he saw Marilyn steal his scene.

"Alright, alright. Mr. Pratt just arrived, why are you so nagging? Let the boss have a rest!"

Madeline was also pulling Marilyn: "Mom, it's okay, come over here and sit down!"

Marilyn shrugged off Madeline. "The leader is here, how can I sit? You all sit. I'll stand."

Several people from Ocean Constructions successively sat down, but Marilyn stood by Guillermo's side like a bodyguard.

Just as Guillermo was about to say a few words, he felt uncomfortable with someone standing next to him, "Marilyn, you better sit down."

Madeline and Nettie had forcibly pulled her to the last seat in the back and made her sit down.

This seat was facing Guillermo.

Marilyn looked at Mr. Pratt under the light, and no matter how she looked at him, she thought Mr. Pratt was perfect in every way! She asked Madeline in a low voice, "Madeline, has Mr. Pratt gotten married yet?"

Madeline said, "Mom, why are you asking this? Mr. Pratt's child is already four years old."

"Ah, what a pity, such a pity!" Marilyn lamented, shaking her head.

10:10

"If only he hadn't gotten married, how great that would be!" Marilyn shook her head and sighed. "If you could have married him, I would have been at ease. No matter how I look at it, he's better than that"

Robin!”

“Mom, what are you talking about?!” Madeline gave Marilyn an annoyed glance, “You can’t just say anything! How could he compare to Robin...”

At that moment. Guillermo finally let out a slight sigh of relief.

He picked up the napkin from the table and wiped the sweat off his forehead.

He lifted his head and saw three familiar figures, he was suddenly taken aback!

“Ms. Huber? Mr. Bruce?”

I intended to stand up, but my legs gave way and I ended up falling on my butt under the table.

Felix and the others were also looking in the direction of Robin and Karina.

At that time, it was not noticed that Guillermo had already fallen under the table.

He pointed at the three Robins and said, “Get over here! How did you insult us just now, in front of your leader Mr. Pratt...” He turned around only to find the seat empty, “Where is Mr. Pratt?”

Marilyn pointed under the table, “Mr. Pratt was sitting under the table.”

Chapter 342 They Are All Benefactors of Our Family!

“Hurry, hurry, pull Mr. Pratt up!” Felix was taken aback and immediately shouted.

A few people from Ocean Constructions were in a flurry, pulling Guillermo out from under the table. Guillermo wanted to break free from them to go and greet Karina and Robin.

However, a few women from Ocean Constructions had pinned him down on the chair.

She was wiping his face, straightening his clothes, and combing his hair.

Heaps of stuff almost suffocated Guillermo, who couldn't manage to get up from the seat he was lying on.

Felix continued to yell at Robin, "Robin, get over here now! If you don't give us an explanation in front of Mr. Pratt today, we will never let you leave!"

"You dared to call us trash, | had Mr. Pratt report your behavior to Ms. Huber. Let's see if you can still stay in Eastern District Development Corporation."

kaway

Robin didn't want to waste time with them and continued to walk away with Karina.

Seeing that Robin was ignoring him, Felix darted in front of Robin like a wolfhound, blocking his path.

He roared, "Kid, trying to run when you see your leader coming? No way!"

"Kneel down and apologize to us immediately! You ignorant fool!"

Chapter 142 They Are All Benefactors of Our

It was then that Madeline saw Robin, Karina, and Karsyn standing in front of the small table in the booth.

Looking at Felix in this state, | was instantly panicked!

Marilyn, pulling Madeline aside, sighed, "Yan, that Robin is just outrageous!"

"Not only did he give me a rotten tree root today, claiming it was a gift for me, but he also called your uncle and his family trash!" "| think you better not continue seeing him!"

"| saw. that Mr. Pratt was quite good.

Upon hearing this. Madeline felt her scalp tingling, her eyes welling up with tears in desperation. "Mom, you...you guys..."

"Are you going to kneel or not?!" At this moment. Felix continued to point at the indifferent-faced Robin.

"You've been given face, haven't you?" Robin grabbed Felix's collar in one swift motion. "Who gave you the audacity to act superior in front of me? A bunch of trash!"

Felix was thrown directly onto the main table in the private room.

This magnificent dining table was smashed to pieces!

"Ah?" A scream suddenly echoed from the private room.

After a brief shock, Néttie cried out, "You've gone too far, too far, Robin, how dare you!.." Marilyn, trembling with anger, pointed at Robin and scolded

Madeline, "Madeline, you little devil! Look at who you've invited!"

"Benefactor?" Marilyn paused for a moment.

"Were you out of your mind, you silly girl? He had already hit your uncle-in-law and insulted your aunt..."

By this time, Guillermo had already extricated himself from the entanglement of several executives at Ocean Constructions. Jogging all the way, he arrived in front of Robin and Karina: "Ms. Huber, Mr. Bruce..." "Robin, Ms. Huber, Ms.

Croft, what's going on?" Madeline wiped away a tear as she broke free from Marilyn and ran to the door.

Robin picked up the wet wipe and wiped his hands, "Go ask your mother!"

Chapter 343

Chapter 343 Do You Think We Are a Good Match? Madeline looked at the retreating figures of Robin, Karina, and Karsyn, her heart suddenly dropping to an all-time low.

She believed that her mother, aunt, and uncle must have done something extremely outrageous today to have made Robin, Karina, and the others so angry.

During the time | spent with them.

Madeline had already gained some understanding of the personalities of big shots like Robin and Karina. Was not as cold and heartless as the outside world rumored.

On the contrary, they were even more loyal and righteous than the average person!

Especially for such small fry as them, Robin and Karina never cared. However, today, he actually lost his temper and hit his uncle.

It seemed that, prior to this, the actions of her mother and aunt's family had already crossed the line to an extreme extent.

She grabbed Marilyn's arm and shook it, "Mom, what on earth did you do? How could you upset Robin and Ms. Huber like this? How could you be so confused?!"

Marilyn stared blankly at Madeline, "What... what happened to them? You said that tall woman is Ms. Huber? Ms. Huber, how could she dress like that?"

Chapter 343 Do You Think We Are a Good Match?

Madeline gave a bitter smile, "Mother, are you really this snobbish?"

“Ms. Huber... Ms. Huber came dressed like this, don't you understand what she was really here for??” “They didn't want to hurt the self-esteem of us poor people!”

“She prepared so meticulously, just wanting us to feel that we were on the same level as her, so that we would feel relaxed and casual when chatting with her!”

“But you, you actually looked down on others with contempt, despising them for their poor clothing!” even

“What did we have? We had nothing. What right did you have to mock and look down on others?” “Mom! We are already so poor that we have nothing left!”

“Did we not even want to keep the little kindness and dignity we had left?”

“How could you do this, Mom!”

Marilyn looked helplessly at Madeline, who was crying out of extreme anger, “Madeline, how could you say such things about me?”

“I didn't know she was Ms. Huber, if I had known, I definitely wouldn't have done that.” “But, that Robin was really out of line.” “He liked you and wanted to marry you.”

“Your aunt also wanted to help you gain more benefits. She asked him to give a dowry of one million and to buy a house under our names. She also asked him to buy a car for you. Wasn't all this for your own good?”

“What?” Upon hearing this, Madeline felt as if she had been struck by lightning.

She suddenly burst into laughter out of anger.

“Mom, do you know what irreparable foolish thing you did today?”

“Who was Robin? He was our Ms. Huber's boyfriend!”

"You actually said he would like me? You're overestimating your daughter too much!"

"I only had reverence for Robin, how dare someone like me have such inappropriate thoughts!"

"When you were hospitalized, my younger brother borrowed money from an illegal online loan to pay for your treatment. Those gangsters nearly destroyed both me and my brother."

"If it wasn't for Robin, we would have been dead long ago!"

"Ms. Huber exceptionally took out the company's relief money. Robin gave us the house to live in!"

"They saved our family from the abyss, yet you suspect them of having ulterior motives!"

"Did you see if your daughter was more beautiful than Ms. Huber? Did you see if we were qualified to cling to others?" "I told you, Robin could make tens of billions, even hundreds of billions, with just one sentence!"

"Don't mention a million dowry, he could even afford a hundred billion!"

Chapter 343 Do You Think We Are a Good Match?

"But, did you think we were a good match?"

"People helped us, yet you thought they came for your daughter. Don't you think we were being too petty?"

"It's not a villain, it's not even a human anymore!"

Marilyn stared blankly at the hysterical Madeline, "Was I wrong to think this way?"

"Madeline, you might be too naive. There's no such person in this world who would help us without seeking any benefits." Madeline shook her head, her eyes full of tears, speechless at that moment.

Meanwhile, several executives from Ocean Constructions were also standing still. dumbfounded.

They never could have imagined that this would happen!

“Madeline, was that really Ms. Huber? How did you call that Robin, Mr. Bruce?” A woman in her thirties asked. “The President of the group company was indeed called Mr. Bruce,” one person reminded.

“What? Mr. Bruce was Robin?!”

Madeline sneered, pointing at them and gritting her teeth, “You people are just trash!”

“In the eyes of Robin and Ms. Huber, you were worse than trash and bugs!”

“Madeline, how dare you speak to us like that?” several managers said angrily.

Chapter 343 Do You Think We Are a Good Match?

“Ms. Huber wouldn’t deal with you, and Mr. Strickland wouldn’t keep someone like you either!” Marilyn was taken aback, “Madeline, we... should we hurry and apologize to Ms. Huber and Mr. Bruce?” “Compensation, isn’t it? Can compensation redeem your shameless humanity?!”

Madeline fiercely wiped the tears off her face and stormed out of the door.

Chapter 344

Chapter 344 With Robin Around, Everything Is Fine! Nettie hesitated for a moment, pulling Felix, “Felix, should we go apologize to Ms. Huber and Mr. Bruce?”

“| talked too much today, sigh, if | had known they were Ms. Huber and Mr. Bruce, | would never have done that, even if it killed me.’

Felix furrowed his brows, his hands trembling slightly, “Yes, yes! | didn’t check the almanac before going out today, how could | have been mistaken?”

“Madeline was right,” said Mr. Strickland did indeed have his toughest times. Back then... let’s just go out and see for ourselves.” Robin and Karina had just stepped out of the private room.

Aman’s body flew over, and he immediately caught it with one hand.

Looking down, it was Jeff!

This guy was beaten black and blue.

Robin threw him directly onto the ground.

Jeff rolled his eyes and passed out.

Robin looked up to see about ten meters ahead, at the entrance of a private room, four or five men were dragging Robyn and two other flight attendants towards a private room on the second floor.

“Let me go!” Robyn struggled, “My uncle will be here soon, he won’t let you get away with this!”

Robin hesitated for a moment, intending to leave.

Karina stopped him, "Robin, those girls might be in some trouble, let's. help them."

Robin didn't want to get involved in such trivial matters.

Such incidents were plentiful, he couldn't possibly manage them all like a saint.

He simply saw that Karina had a compassionate heart, so he had to stop in his tracks.

Besides. Robyn was, after all, Freddie's niece. Since they had met, they might as well take care of this matter. "Let them go!" Robin's reprimand echoed alone in the vast corridor.

A group of onlooking diners all turned their attention to Robin.

The man, who was pulling Robyn and two flight attendants, stopped in his tracks and pointed back at Robin, "Are you talking to me?"

Robin pointed at Robyn and said, "Let them go!"

Robyn saw that the speaker was Robin, a spark of light flashing in her eyes.

"Let them go, who do you think you are? Believe it or not, keep shouting and I'll kill you!"

Robin laughed, "Then you give it a try!"

At that moment, Felix and several executives from Ocean Constructions also walked out of the room. Upon seeing such a scene, they were immediately stunned.

Chapter 344 With Robin Around, Everything is Fine'

Watching the few fierce-looking men approaching Robin and Karina, they instinctively shrank back. Guillermo exclaimed in panic, "Ms. Huber, should I call the company's security?"

Karina shook her head, "With Robin around, everything will be fine!"

Guillermo glanced at Robin, he didn't know where Karina's confidence came from.

Felix, not far away, was originally somewhat frightened.

Suddenly, there was a thrill of wanting to see Robin get beaten up by these people.

Madeline's mother saw several men pull out short knives from their waists and walk towards Robin, trembling all over in fear, "Madeline, let's get out of here quickly!"

Madeline shook off Marilyn, looking towards Robin, "As long as Robin is here, no one can touch him!"

At that moment, two people ran up from the first floor.

Robin looked up, it was Freddie and his assistant.

Freddie also found Robin: "Mr. Bruce, you're here too?"

"How did you come over?" Robin asked, knowing full well that Freddie had come for Robyn's matter.

"Mr. Bruce, my niece and her colleagues were dining here, and they were harassed by some thugs..."

"I go handle it first, then report back to you when I return."

"Alright, you go ahead and handle it," Robin nodded.

"Let them go, you lot!" Freddie walked up to Robyn and the others.

"Get lost!" A bald man, leading the group, pointed a knife at Freddie.

"You let them go. I am Freddie from the Southern District Development Corporation!" Freddie said coldly.

"What a bullshit Southern District Development Corporation, get lost or I'll cut you too!" The bald man sneered, pointing his knife at Freddie.

“Uncle, get lost quickly, this hotel was opened by my uncle!”

“Did you know who my uncle was? Mr. Silva! He was Mr. Newell's sworn brother!”

Four men immediately surrounded Freddie and the assistant.

Facing this group of greenhorn thugs, Freddie really felt like a scholar encountering soldiers.

These bastards had never suffered a loss, no matter who the opponent was, they could really be cut down with one stroke. Seeing this, Karina stepped forward and said, “They are from the Huber Group. What are you guys trying to do? Let them go!”

The bald man turned back to look at Karina, a hint of wicked amusement flashing in his eyes erodayris 3 ucky day\an &? beautiful woman, the Huber Group? The Huber Group is nothing!” The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

Chapter 345 Get Conway and Barry Here!

Emanuel Silva had been hanging around Mapleford all these years.

A few days ago, I offended a big shot and couldn't get by in Mapleford.

Returned to Hallcester to seek refuge with Barry.

In the early years, Emanuel and Barry were both veterans who followed Conway to make their way in the world.

After Conway had established himself in Hallcester, he sent Emanuel to scout out Mapleford, preparing to expand his sphere of influence there.

After returning to Hallcester, Barry handed over the management of Zephyr Hotel to him. He didn't know Robin.

Conway and Barry hadn't had the chance to talk to him about Robin yet.

After receiving the phone call, Emanuel hurried over with a dozen or so henchmen.

The bald man saw Emanuel arrive, pointed at Robin and shouted, “Emanuel, it was him who broke my hand, he even said that even if you came, he would still hit without hesitation.”

The bald man exaggerated the situation, aiming to intensify the conflict and have Emanuel severely deal with Robin. He wanted to stand up, but was stepped on the ground again by Robin.

Chapter 345 Get Conway and Barry Heref

Emanuel was dark, strong, and short.

Just arrived in Hallcester, and really wanted to establish some prestige here first.

After he received the phone call, he hurriedly brought people to Robin.

Emanuel looked Robin up and down, "You hit my nephew in my hotel, do you want to die?"

Robin laughed, "Don't you want to ask why I hit him?"

"This is my hotel, I call the shots! No matter what the reason, you hit my nephew, I'm going to cut you down!"

Robin laughed. "Is this how you handle things in the outside world?"

"Of course! I've roamed from south to north, and the only thing I respect is a fist. Whoever has the biggest fist, their word is law!" Emanuel raised his robust fist and bellowed.

"So you mean might makes right?" Robin asked.

"Of course! Kneel down and cripple your own hands! I might spare you!" Emanuel pointed at Robin, his expression a mix of amusement and seriousness.

"Alright, we'll play by your rules then!" Robin slapped Emanuel across his face, which was covered in scars. Emanuel's sturdy body was instantly thrown out.

This scene left Felix, Nettie and others staring in shock.

Did Robin actually dare to hit people on the street?

Felix thought about his reckless behavior in front of Robin just now, a chill wind piercing his back.

Luckily, I hadn't had the chance to continue messing up at that time.

Otherwise, I should be lying in the private room now.

Marilyn had never seen such a scene before, she was so scared that she tugged at Madeline's arm. trembling as she said. "Madeline, how could Robin be so fierce? Luckily, you're not with him. Let's get out of here quickly..."

Madeline shook off Marilyn's hand. "Stop talking!"

Robin walked towards Emanuel step by step.

The few thugs who came with Emanuel, upon seeing this scene, did not dare to step forward.

Robin walked up to Emanuel, smiling and said. "How about it? According to your rules, is this strength enough?" Emanuel glared angrily, though he dared not move again, he was still not convinced.

Robin patted his chubby face, "What? Not enough?"

He grabbed Emanuel's hair directly and smashed it against the ground.

With a dull "bang*", Emanuel's face was covered in blood.

"Is it enough?" Robin grabbed his hair. "Not enough? Fine, let's continue!"

"With a 'bang!", Emanuel's chubby face hit the ground again.

Emanuel was on the verge of tears, but his voice remained tough, "You, you've got guts! Do you know who I am?" Chapter 345 Del Conway and Bany Here!

"Barry was my sworn brother, Conway was my elder brother, you hit me, Mr. Lambert would have chopped you up!" Robin stood up, pulled out a wet wipe and wiped his hands, "Alright, make the call! Get Conway and Barry over here!" Upon hearing the names of Conway and Barry, Felix and several people from Ocean Constructions were trembling with fear. Mr. Lambert and Barry didn't earn their title for nothing.

Those were two devils!

Provoking them was not a good thing.

They looked at Robin with schadenfreude, speculating what kind of scene it would be when Mr. Lambert arrived! Emanuel's subordinate immediately called Barry.

Barry and Conway were on the fourth floor tonight.

At that time, he was leisurely enjoying the flower wine.

After hearing the distress call from Emanuel's subordinate, I was quite annoyed.

Conway grumbled. "Who has this Emanuel pissed off now, just after arriving in Hallcester?" "Who was so bold as to cause trouble here?"

At this point, Conway suddenly froze.

In a moment of urgency, the other slipper was kicked under the sofa. I had no choice but to hobble to the second floor wearing only one shoe.

Barry had personally witnessed the scene where Robin killed someone.

The thought of that experience at Cosmo Mall always sent chills down my spine. That time, two Valluynnian men were mummified right before his eyes!

Thinking about it now, I still feel a bone-chilling cold throughout my body. Conway, wearing one shoe, ran to the second floor corridor.

Seeing Robin's tall and slender figure in the crowd from afar, my legs went weak.

"Damn it, is Emanuel blind or what? Of all people, why did he have to mess with him?"

Chapter 346

Chapter 346 | Don't Even Know You

Barry had just reached the staircase to the second floor when he saw Robin standing in the crowd from a distance, his heart skipped a beat!

"Damn it! It must have been that bastard Emanuel who pissed off this gentleman!"

His legs gave out and he fell to the ground with a "thud*.

"Mr. Newell!" Two disciples from Demon's Lair stepped forward to help him up. "Mr. Newell, are you alright?"

"Get out of the way! Get out of the way!" Barry had no time for any of this, he scrambled and ran to Robin. "Mr. Bruce..." Emanuel grabbed him from behind, "Second Brother..."

"Get out!" Barry kicked Emanuel, "Shut up!"

The next moment. Conway and Barry.

These two underground demons from Hallcester stood respectfully in front of Robin, as if waiting for instructions like obedient servants.

"Mr. Bruce, Ms. Huber, what is this?"

Robin pointed at Emanuel, "Your man?"

"Hmm?" Conway looked at Emanuel, then at Barry, "Are they... not my people?"

Barry was sweating nervously, "Mr. Bruce, if... if he offended you, he's not my man!"

Chapter 3461 Don't Even Know You

"Second Brother, are you drunk? I'm Emanuel!" Emanuel was stunned!

At that moment, Barry wished he could just cut this bastard down. He stepped on Emanuel's leg. "Get lost! | don't know you!" All the onlookers in the second floor hall were stunned.

The Underground Demon King of Hallcester, Mr. Lambert, and the ruthless Death Lord, actually humbled themselves like ants in front of Robin?

Was this Mr. Lambert and Death Lord a fake?

Robin patted Barry's shoulder, with a smile that wasn't quite a smile, and said, "He said you guys are his brothers, and he wanted me to cripple my own hands and kneel before him."

Conway lifted his bare foot and knocked Emanuel to the ground, "Damn it. I'll cut you!" Took a short knife from a thug and directly slashed at Emanuel's arm. "Puff!"

Emanuel wailed, "Mr. Lambert! Why... why did you hit me? This kid was causing trouble here today, but he was slapping your face!"

"Slap my face? Do | have any face in front of Mr. Bruce?" Conway pointed the dagger at Emanuel, "Kneel down to Mr. Bruce immediately, or else, | will chop you up and sink you into the sea today!"

Emanuel had never seen Mr. Lambert so angry before.

If he didn't kneel down and apologize, Mr. Lambert really would have cut him off today.

Chapter 346 | Don't Even Know You

Emanuel, enduring intense pain, knelt before Robin, pleading desperately.

"Get out!" Robin waved his hand, and Barry immediately had Emanuel carried out.

If that hand had been treated in time, it could have been saved.

Felix and several people from Ocean Constructions had been stunned. by the scene before them. At that moment, looking at Robin's retreating figure, my whole body couldn't stop trembling.

They never could have imagined that Robin was so awesome in Hallcester!

Even the Underground Demon King Conway of Hallcester had to tread carefully around him.

Barry walked up to Emanuel's nephew, Bradford Silva, and stepped on his thigh. "You reckless fool, not everyone who mingles in this world is lawless. If you don't have a bit of reverence, you'll end up dead in the streets sooner or later!"

"And you lot, release Ms. Strickland immediately! Come over here and apologize to Mr. Bruce!" Barry pointed at the men who were still holding Robyn and scolded.

A tall man sneered, "Who does he think he is? You may be afraid of him, but I don't give a damn about him!" Conway and Barry were taken aback, thinking they had heard wrong.

Although these thugs were not from Demon's Lair, they dared to speak like this while hanging out with Bradford. Chapter 346 | Don't Even Know You

Only then did Conway squint his eyes to size up this tall lad.

The calf really wasn't afraid of the tiger.

A little punk actually dared to disrespect Mr. Lambert and Death Lord in public!

Barry walked over with a dagger in his hand, "You dare to defy Mr. Lambert, are you seeking death?"

This man was not at all intimidated by the approaching Mr. Newell, he sneered, "Ha, Mr. Lambert? What can Mr. Lambert do? My cousin is a colonel in the southern military command! Try touching me today!"

Barry was taken aback for a moment, his hand holding the machete began to hesitate. Conway was also frowning. He, Conway, would never dare to provoke the military people.

Especially those people from the military command.

Judging from what this kid said, his cousin was a colonel!

If Conway had offended these ruthless people, it was no joking matter.

If those people were unhappy, they could simply destroy his Demon's Lair with some sort of document.

The disciples of Demon's Lair who wanted to take action all looked at Conway, unsure of how to proceed next. Conway was also indecisive.

If Mr. Lambert didn't discipline this kid, he really couldn't save face, let alone explain to Robin.

"You told him to come over, | want to see if he dares to help you do such a beastly thing! Let her go!" At that moment, Robyn looked at Robin's indifferent face, feeling a surge of excitement in her heart. Robin actually dared to offend the people from the military command just to save her!

"What the hell are you supposed to be?" The man sneered, pointing at Robin.

"They were afraid of you, I'm not afraid of you, | won't let her go, what can you do?!"

Chapter 347 Let Go of Me!

Robin smirked playfully. “This was your own choice!”

Before this man named Caleb Cohen could react, Robin had slapped him and sent him flying.

Agasp echoed through the hall. “He dared to make a move with such a background? Has this man gone mad?” Conway looked at Robin’s silhouette under the dazzling lights, his eyes radiating with awe!

This guy was still awesome!

Conway immediately had Barry bring a towel and personally handed it to Robin.

Robin wiped his palms, pointing at Caleb, “Let your cousin come! I want to see if a colonel in the military command would support your beastly behavior of bullying men and women!”

Caleb, clutching his swollen cheek, gritted his teeth and said, “Fine, you’ve got guts. Don’t run, just you wait!”

He pulled out his phone and immediately dialed a number: “Bro, I’m at Zephyr Hotel. I’ve been beaten up by people from Demon’s Lair!”

“!” Conway rolled his eyes.

After hanging up the phone, Caleb pointed at Robin and sneered, “You just wait to die!”

“Did you know about my cousin’s background? He was an ace in the military special operations, an elite from the Warwolf Special Forces! He was General Allen’s chief of security!” “General Allen was the comrade-in—arms of Mr. Ethen’s father, General Finley, through life and death!”

“You surely knew about our Hallcester’s General Finley, the Steadfast Sea Needle, didn’t you?”

“Hehe, you rabble! Just wait for your death!”

After Caleb spoke. the crowd watching in the second floor hall immediately began to scream.

They looked at Robin with sympathy.

Even if you were really awesome, you wouldn't dare to challenge such a big shot. would you?

Those people were not the likes of underworld forces such as Conway.

They represented nothing less than the cold machinery of the state!

Freddie suddenly became nervous.

He glanced at Robyn who had run up to his side and sighed.

If anything happened to Robin today, it was all because of his niece.

Because he had harmed his benefactor due to this matter, he would never forgive himself for the rest of his life.

Then, he stepped forward and whispered, “Mr. Bruce, this matter... this matter might have gotten out of hand? You should leave first. If they come, I... | will go to General Finley to plead for mercy and apologize.”

Chapter 347 Let do of Mel

Caleb burst into wild laughter, “Scared? Hahaha... Too late, once my brother arrives, none of you can escape!” Robin gave a cold smile, “Really? Then while your brother isn't here yet, I'll take you down first!”

“You! You dare...” Caleb's words were cut off as Robin stepped on his palm, slowly grinding it underfoot.

“Let go of me, you devil!”

Robin said coldly. “If your cousin was a real soldier, knowing that you are misbehaving while carrying his noble military honor, he should have shot you!”

Freddie stood still, staring at Robin's retreating figure with a sense of awe.

He knew that in such a situation, Robin would never let anyone take a bullet for him.

He shook his head in shame and stepped aside.

Robyn also understood the meaning of Robin.

Looking up at the back of this man who was like a mountain, tears were swirling in my eyes. A low murmur of discussion emanated from the second floor hall.

Everyone was wondering, did Robin really dare to challenge them?

Karina, who had been observing coldly from the sidelines, knew that given Robin's nature, he would not back down even if the colonel came. In that case, the situation could have escalated further.

Chapter 347 Let Go of Met

Karina immediately sent a message to Nia.

Had the Colonel arrived and Nia been present, the situation would not have gotten out of control. Five minutes later, a roar of motorcycles was heard in front of the hotel.

Two Jeeps with military plates were parked in front of the Zephyr Hotel.

Five soldiers got off the vehicle.

A colonel officer bearing two bars and three stars on his shoulders.

Four lieutenants with one bar and two stars.

All five soldiers were dressed in military uniforms, with cowhide combat boots on their feet.

After entering the hotel, quickly walked towards the second floor.

The orderly steps of five military officers echoed on the hard marble floor of the hotel.

The entire silent second-floor hall was shaken by a startling heartbeat.

Caleb, who was stepped on by Robin, saw this scene and shouted loudly, "Cousin, I'm here!" The leading colonel walked up to Robin and suddenly froze. He hadn't expected that the one he was in conflict with was actually Robin, his own cousin.

Robin also recognized this person, it was the same security guard who had brought him all the way to the airport to pick him up yesterday. The content is on Read the latest chapter there!

He glanced at Caleb, snorted coldly. "What's going on again? What's the situation?"

Caleb cried out. "I was drinking here with a few buddies, and we got beaten up by the scum from Demon's Lair." The four lieutenants immediately stepped forward, ready to lay hands on Robin. Conway, and Barry.

Robin said coldly. "If you dare to lay a hand on me today, be prepared to take off your clothes!"

The four lieutenants immediately stopped in their tracks.

What Robin said was not wrong at all.

Isaac hastily intervened, "You four, step back!" He knew Robin was skilled. Moreover, it was known that Robin might receive his boss's appointment in two days.

All four of these lieutenants were seconded from the Warwolf Special Chapter 347 Let Go of Me! Forces by him.

Chapter 348

Chapter 348 It's a Blessing You Didn't Die

An urgent sound of brakes echoed again in front of the hotel.

The piercing sound on the second floor of the hotel was heart- wrenching, attracting everyone's attention. Immediately after, a flurry of rapid footsteps came urgently from outside the door.

A colonel officer, dressed in battlefield camouflage uniform, briskly walked towards the second floor.

The four lieutenants, upon seeing the approaching Nia with a sullen expression, hurriedly lowered their heads and turned to hide to one side.

"Stop right there, all four of you! Who ordered you to come to a place like this? Answer me!" Nia shouted, pointing at the four lieutenants.

Karina saw the four lieutenants, one by one, scared to the point where they wished they could immediately flee from there. She understood, these four lieutenants were under Nia's command.

So I stoked the fire for her, "Nia, your four subordinates were about to start a fight with Robin just now."

"What? You're going to fight Mr. Bruce?" Nia kicked a lieutenant.

"You bastards were as timid as bears when you were competing with other teams."

"Since you were so arrogant in such a place, show me your arrogance now!”

“No, Colonel Finley, we were just out for a casual look around, why would we get into a fight with anyone?”

“We always kept your teachings in mind and never did anything that violated discipline.”

Nia glared at them, “Each of you four, go back and run a 20-kilometer cross-country with a load. You can sleep when you finish!”

“Colonel Finley, tomorrow... tomorrow we still have to participate in the group competition...” the four lieutenants said with a crying face.

“A competition? With the four of you cowards, do you think you can beat the other teams? Don’t embarrass me!” Nia scolded coldly

“In about ten more days, it will be the final round of the martial arts competition. If you can’t score any points, you’ll all have to change your careers! You still have the mood to fool around, get lost!”

The four lieutenants immediately lined up neatly and marched out in step.

Passing by Robin, all four people gave him a cold stare.

Robin said indifferently, “Stop!”

The four lieutenants ignored him.

Nia immediately reprimanded, “Stop! Mr. Bruce is speaking to you!”

The four lieutenants immediately stopped in their tracks, not knowing what Nia meant. Have a person from the underworld give them a lecture?

Chapter 348 It’s a Blessing You Didn’t Die

The four people glanced at each other, had they heard wrong?

Robin stepped forward. “In addition to the 20-kilometer weighted cross-country run, each person will also do a thousand sets of 50-meter shuttle runs, and a thousand push-ups!”

“Eh? What?” The four people first questioned, then their eyes were full of mockery. In their eyes, Robin, a nobody, actually gave them training tasks. What a joke!

Nia was also taken aback, but quickly turned to scold harshly, “As soon as you get back, complete the task according to Mr. Bruce’s requirements. I will call the supervising instructor immediately. If you dare to miss one group, you will be kicked out of WSF tomorrow!”

“This... this is too harsh, isn’t it? Besides, he’s not even our instructor,” the four lieutenants said unhappily.

Robin shrugged. “If I can’t even accomplish this, then I might as well pack up and leave! It’s not like I haven’t had these past ten days or so.”

Nia was stunned for a moment, then immediately understood Robin’s meaning, “Shut up, all of you! If anyone else has any complaints, I’ll file a report right now and have you all kicked out!”

“Yes! We promise to complete the mission!” After a brief moment of confusion, the four lieutenants immediately ran out of the Zephyr Hotel.

“Karina, what’s going on?” Nia walked over to Karina.

Karina pointed at Caleb next to Isaac, “Robin and I passed by here and happened to see them forcibly taking Mr. Strickland’s niece and a few flight attendants to accompany them for drinks.”

“Robin spoke a few words to them, then he w army to back him up,” he said.

Nia nodded, “I understand!”

Then, turning to Isaac, he asked, “Isaac, were those four subordinates of mine brought here by you just now?” Seeing Nia’s posture, it was clear that Isaac was being called to account.

He was somewhat flustered, “We, we came out to cat together...”

“In here? Alright, tell me, which private room did you reserve?” Nia said coldly.

“Not here... we...” Isaac was at a loss for words for a moment.

Chapter 349 I Can Kill You Right Now!

Isaac and others left the hotel, and the second floor lobby of the Zephyr Hotel was silent.

No one had expected that Robin could actually smooth things over with a few big shots from the military command. What surprised them even more was that Robin had a subtle relationship with this dashing female colonel.

Someone had already recognized that this stunningly beautiful and curvaceous female colonel was none other than Nia, the daughter of the Mayor of Hallcester.

She was the deputy commander of the Warwolf Special Forces, and also the granddaughter of General Donovan. With such an identity, no wonder Isaac and others were scared to such an extent when they saw Nia..

Nia walked up to Robin, respectfully saying, “Mr. Bruce, did your assigning tasks to them just now mean that you have already accepted Randall's invitation?”

Robin nodded, “I didn’t originally plan on this, but after seeing your four subordinates today, I suddenly made a decision.” “Why?” Nia asked, puzzled.

She didn’t understand, it was those four lieutenants who made Robin make the decision.

Robin chuckled lightly, “No reason, just wanted to teach them a lesson.”

“Moreover, with the most legitimate identity, I severely taught these bastards who had no sense of personal and team honor a lesson!”

Nia looked at Robin strangely, unable to comprehend why many of his thoughts were so bizarre.

She shook her head with a smile, “Alright. However, I would have preferred if you could bring us some hope.” “Hope? There's no hope if these arrogant bastards don't change!”

“Seeing them today, I understood why you ended up last in the martial arts competition.”

Nia was quite embarrassed: “Well... okay then, I will report your message to Randall after I return. On Sunday morning, several leaders from the military command will personally deliver the appointment letter.”

Nia exchanged a few pleasantries with Karina, then quickly left the Zephyr Hotel. Watching Nia's hurried figure, Robyn's eyes brightened from her hiding place behind. Surrounding Robin were unparalleled beauties of extremely noble status.

I paled in comparison in front of these stunningly beautiful women!

Every time she thought about how she had misunderstood Robin and had accused him like a saint, she felt extremely ashamed and regretful.

Freddie, pulling Robyn forward, bowed and said, “Mr. Bruce, my niece has caused trouble for you and Ms. Huber.” Airlines.”

Robi nodded indifferently. “Uh, I know.”

Freddie paused slightly, clearly able to feel the coldness in Robin's attitude.

Didn't know what was going on.

However, it wasn't appropriate to ask too much about such things.

“Hello Mr. Strickland, I am little Mr. Blair,” Felix ran quickly to Freddie and bowed at a ninety—degree angle. Freddie only then noticed that Felix and several executives from Ocean Constructions were all here.

“You were here too? How did I not notice you earlier? Come, come, you all should meet Ms. Huber, Mr. Bruce.” Felix awkwardly glanced at Robin and Karina.

Before he could even open his mouth to speak, Robin indifferently said. “Oh, we’ve already met before.”

“Just now, it was your subordinate, the chairman of Ocean Constructions, Mr. Blair, who wanted me to light his cigarette, serve him tea, and even toast him with wine!”

“If I didn’t do as they did, they would make me kneel down!”

Freddie figured out what had happened before.

He immediately pointed at Felix, “What did you do to Ms. Huber and Mr. Bruce?”

“L... Mr. Strickland, it was a misunderstanding!” Felix was on the verge of tears.

“I just found out that they were Ms. Huber and Mr. Bruce, that’s why I said that, it was just a joke...”

“Misunderstanding? Joke?” Freddie scoffed.

“Come on, tell me, what makes you worthy of Mr. Bruce’s respect, serving you tea and cigarettes? Who do you think you are!”

“You sit down, I’ll toast to you!”

Freddie slapped Felix in the face. “Was this tea serving enough?”

"Mr. Bruce and Ms. Huber were my benefactors," Freddie declared, "Anyone who offended them was an enemy of mine!" "If it hadn't been for Mr. Bruce and Ms. Huber back then, I would have been a ghost in the underworld long ago!"

"You dared to insult them, I would never forgive you!"

Chapter 350 The Expensive Ginseng

Freddie glanced at the box of ginseng, his whole body trembling in astonishment. “Mr. Bruce, my mother couldn't afford it! This is an exorbitantly priced ginseng!” Freddie’s words immediately attracted many curious glances.

“What kind of ginseng could sell for a sky—high price?”

“Isn't that too exaggerated?”

“Looking at that ginseng, it was only a few dozen grams.”

“You bumpkin, how could you measure top-grade ginseng by its weight!”

Listening to the surrounding people’s heated discussions, Barry and Conway subconsciously examined this inconspicuous little wooden box.

“Uh, isn’t this the wild ginseng that was auctioned off for ten million dollars at the Northeast Estya auction last year!” Freddie’s hands trembled as he handed the ginseng to Robin, “Mr. Bruce, this is too valuable...”

Robin patted his shoulder, “It’s for your mother, not for you. Why are you so nervous?”

Freddie still didn’t dare to accept it, “Mr. Bruce, my mother is not worthy of using such a precious supplement, I...”

Robin shook his head, “I heard that during your toughest time, the year. when Glory Edifice was about to collapse, your mother sold all her jewelry and properties to pay off your debts.”

“Moreover, despite her old age and frailty, she secretly went out to wash clothes for others, worked as a nanny, washed dishes in restaurants to earn money, helping you get through that period.”

“How could such a great mother not be worthy of this ginseng?”

“In this world, all people are equal. The only thing that can distinguish the nobility and baseness of a person is their character.” “Take it, and treat your mother well.”

Freddie held the ginseng in his trembling hands.

This strong man, tears swirling in his eyes at this very moment, bowed deeply to Robin, “Thank you, Mr. Bruce!” Robyn watched Robin’s retreating figure, shaking her head bitterly, filled with extreme regret.

Such a good man, how could I have missed him forever!

Marilyn had never imagined that the unassuming ginseng could actually be worth ten million!

Ten million dollars!

This was a number she had never dared to dream of in her lifetime!

Originally, that ginseng was a gift from Karina to her!

After a brief shock, Marilyn suddenly started up on the spot, darted to

Robin in a stride, “Robin, wait a moment.”

Robin halted, looking up at the radiant Marilyn, “Is there something?”

Marilyn, panting, said, “Robin, could you give me back that box of ginseng?”

Robin paused for a moment, then gave a faint smile. “I remember asking you before if you wanted it, but you despised it for being a fake. a rotten free root, afraid it would harm your precious body. So, I had no choice but to give it to Mr. Strickland’s mother”

“The gill that was given away, there’s no reason to ask for it back.”

“Robin, don’t waste any more time here. We haven’t even eaten yet. let’s go have some barbecue quickly.” Karina, linking arms with Robin. turned and headed towards the exit of the hotel.

“Ah, that Ms. Huber, Robin, I hadn’t finished speaking.” Marilyn ran after them.

“Mr. Strickland wasn’t short of money, so you could have let him return the ginseng to me...”

Karsyn blocked Marilyn’s way. “Enough, save some face for yourself! Stop bothering Mr. Bruce and Ms. Huber!”

“Move away!” Marilyn glared at Karsyn, “I heard them say you're just a little assistant, what right do you have to boss me around?”

“That ginseng was originally given to me by Robin, why wouldn’t I want it?”
