Chapter 421 Your Granddaughter Isn't Worthy of Mr.

Bruce!

Bradshaw paused, "Uh... General Finley, given Robin's current situation, he could barely match my granddaughter. You could say he's basically on the same level as the Brown family."

Donovan's face instantly turned cold, "Well then, considering the current situation of the Finley family, how about your Brown family?"

Bradshaw's body subconsciously shuddered, "This...compared to General Finley's background, the Brown family is still a notch lower."

Donovan sneered, "The Finley family didn't even qualify to live in this Mauveglow Villa 1, yet Mr. Bruce could!"

"I didn't have the fortune to enjoy the Magic Body-Strengthening Herb worth billions, but Mr. Bruce already owned it."

"The legendary Magic Aquamarine, which was like a divine object in the tales, was something I could only dream of, yet Mr. Bruce could obtain it with ease."

"I had been on the brink of death, visited all the renowned doctors in the world, but none of them could save me. It was Mr. Bruce who brought me back!"

"Mr. Bruce was the lifesaver of the Finley family!"

"Even this Master of Traditional Medicine, whom you regard as a god, must bow down and respect Mr. Bruce as the master!"

"Did you think your family, the Browns, was on the same level as Mr. Bruce?"

"Did you think you and them were a good match in terms of social status?"

“You, a petty, second–rate family from Hallcester, snobbish and heartless, with despicable behavior! Who gave you the audacity to be so arrogant, daring to compare yourself with Mr. Bruce?!”

“I told you, from beginning to end, Mr. Bruce and you, the Brown family, were worlds apart!”

“By your logic, your family is certainly not a match for Mr. Bruce, your granddaughter is not worthy of Mr. Bruce at all! Get out of the way!”

The two guards immediately pushed Bradshaw aside.

Miranda frantically rushed to Nia’s side: “Ms. Finley, Ms. Finley!”

Miranda started crying as she spoke, “I... I have always been deeply in love with Robin. Back then... back then I just wanted to play a joke on him, to test him, I didn’t really call off our engagement!”

“Ms. Finley, you know me, I, Miranda, have always been loyal and devoted, persistent and faithful in love! I would not have intimate relationships with any man.”

“At first, I tore up the marriage contract, intending to give him a devastating test. I wanted to see how deep his feelings for me were.”

“But... but he misunderstood.”

“Ms. Finley, could you please tell Robin for me, tell him that I truly loved him!”

“You told him that I acknowledged the paper marriage contract now, and asked him to come find me to fulfill the marriage contract.”

Nia gave a cold laugh, “Ms. Brown, as far as I know, when you broke the agreement, it wasn’t because you were testing Robin as you claimed, but because you looked down on him.”

“You thought he was a poor wretch with no background, no connections, and no family wealth.”

“You have humiliated and slandered Robin in front of all the people of Hallcester more than once.”

“As you said, this was a crash test targeting Robin.”

“Robin didn’t break down, but you and your Brown family did. The people of Hallcester, seeing your current behavior, also broke down!”

“No! Ms. Finley, you misunderstood...” Miranda tried hard to explain.

Nia shook her head coldly, “I saw the entire engagement video of your and the Walsh family’s son just now. Do you need me to replay it for you?”

Nia replayed the live video from her phone for Miranda.

In the picture, Miranda, dressed in a wedding gown, was standing in front of Robin, arm in arm with Jacob.

High above, like a badass queen who seemed to look down on everything, she sneered. “Robin, from today on, I am Mrs. Walsh! You might as well kill that longing heart of yours!”

“Remember, I am a woman you could never attain, don’t even think about having me in your life!”

Nia chuckled, “Mrs. Walsh, did you see? You and Jacob are already engaged, how could I possibly break up someone else’s marriage!”

“Mrs. Walsh, you’re on your own!”

Miranda explained impatiently. “It’s not like that, Ms. Finley, it’s not what you think. I’ve never been interested in Jacob! The Walsh family is not worthy of me!”

Nia completely ignored her and directly opened another video.

In the scene, Miranda stood in front of Robin with a mocking tone, “Robin, you will never be able to match Mr. Walsh, you can’t even dream of becoming a wealthy heir like Mr. Walsh in your lifetime!”

“You were nothing but a poor loser! I would never be interested in a man like you!”

Miranda was on the verge of tears. “Ms Finley, what you saw was all an illusion, you could say it was all part of my breakdown test for Robin.

“I would rather retreat to the countryside with him, to live a simple and uncompetitive life. Coarse tea and light meals, plain clothes and humble dwellings, that’s the life I wanted.”.

Chapter 421 Your Granddaughter Isn’t Worthy of..

“Hehe, it’s impossible for someone like Mr. Bruce to live that kind of life!” Nia gave Miranda a cold glance.

“He was destined to be that kind of person who attracted everyone’s attention and frequented the halls of power.”

“His starting point was a height you could never reach!”

“You should sober up, tidy up and go live your life of seclusion in the countryside, with your simple tea and plain clothes!”

A light of longing shone in Miranda’s eyes.

“No! Ms. Finley, I too enjoy a luxurious lifestyle! I prefer this Mauveglow Villa 1 even more. I also crave the attention of the masses, I can change for Robin, adapt to these days of being admired by others...”

“Miranda, stop deluding yourself. Robin is a man you’ll never be good enough for! Move!” Nia sneered, pushing her aside.

Holding a general’s uniform, Rhonda passed by Miranda, raising an eyebrow, “Ms. Brown. Robin doesn’t love you, he only loves Colonel Finley, he will never love you!”

Nia’s checks flushed, she glared at Rhonda, a flicker of satisfaction quickly passing through her eyes.

Chapter 422 Order No. SSS

A Major officer led twenty well-armed soldiers in a march into the villa.

Twenty soldiers stood in two straight lines, blocking all the onlookers behind a human wall.

Lieutenant General Swanson of the military command, accompanied by his chief bodyguard, ran up to a group of online platform hosts and media reporters.

“The military command was about to conduct a special military operation, all civilians were asked to leave the villa immediately!”

“And erase all of today’s videos about Mauveglow Villa 1!”

“Any video and text material containing images of Robin was to be deleted immediately!”

“No online platform was allowed to store it, immediate execution!”

“At that time, the military command’s confidentiality department would conduct a strict review of this data situation in conjunction with the relevant authorities!”

Devin, Harold, and others, as well as the entire Brown family, were also all asked to wait outside the villa.

The clearing was completed!

Nia and Rhonda approached Robin, saluted, and said, “Robin, the “Lieutenant General Swanson and Lieutenant General Stone from the Londraland military command headquarters will hold a special commissioning ceremony for you!”

After Nia announced the commencement of the special ceremony, she ran over to Lieutenant General Swanson and Lieutenant General Stone.

“Report to the General! Colonel Finley, the deputy commander of the Warwolf Special Forces from Military Command 3, has read the enlistment rules to Robin. General, please begin the conferment!”

After saluting Nia, Lieutenant General Swanson and Lieutenant General Stone walked over to Robin.

Lieutenant General Stone solemnly said, “Robin, listen to the order, the special enlistment ceremony of the military command headquarters officially begins!”

“Military Command Order Number SSS, specifically enlisted Robin into the Warwolf Special Forces of Military Command 3!”

Command: Appoint Robin as the Chief Drillmaster of Warwolf Special Forces! Grant the rank of Brigadier General!

“I hereby presented you with the M18 General’s pistol and the Dragon Soul sword!”

“Please, Robin, change into your battle gear, accept your assigned gun and sword!”

After Lieutenant General Stone announced the order, two guards marched up to Robin.

“Report to the General, please change the Brigadier’s battle uniform!”

The two guards had finished saluting Robin.

The general’s uniform, adorned with a shining star, was draped over Robin from Rhonda’s hands.

Lieutenant General Swanson presented Robin with a gun and a sword, and delivered the appointment letter and the general’s ennoblement decree.

“The General commanded, ‘Major General Bruce, join the Warwolf Special Forces immediately!’”

Robin received the decree and appointment letter.

Under the brilliant sunshine, Robin was dressed in military uniform, his medals gleaming.

After holding a special rank conferment ceremony, two major generals from the Londraland military command headquarters turned around and walked out of the villa.

Robin also walked out, escorted by Nia, Rhonda, and two guards.

Bradshaw, who had been waiting outside the villa, suddenly felt a sense of disorientation as he watched Robin, clad in a brigadier’s uniform, from a distance.

A towering figure, glittering with general's stars, was majestic and awe-inspiring under the dazzling sunlight!

His whole body was shaking, he shouted excitedly, "This, this should be my grandson-in-law!"

"The Brown family also had a general now! Hahaha..."

"Robin, Grandpa begged you to marry our Miranda!"

Bradshaw chased after them, but two guards blocked his way.

"Robin, please, would you listen to your grandfather for a moment? Your grandfather is begging you on his knees!"

Bradshaw fell to his knees with a thud, wailing. "Grandpa knew he was wrong, I was wrong from beginning to end!"

"Robin, for the sake of the bond I once shared with your grandfather, please forgive me. I promise I will treat you better in the future..."

Bradshaw's cry moved many people.

After all, being of such an old age, such wailing did evoke some people's sympathy.

Robin stopped in his tracks and slowly turned around.

Miranda also followed from behind.

Tears streaming down her face, she looked at Robin in his majestic general's uniform and sobbed, "Robin, I'm sorry. I was foolish before."

Please forgive me and my grandfather.”

“Decades ago, before we were even born, our fate was already sealed. Please, don’t leave me!”

“You knew mine, I was actually always deeply in love with you in my heart.”

“When I was very young, my grandfather had told me that I had a fiancé named Robin!”

“Back then, I was imagining what you looked like.”

“I was convinced that you must be a towering hero!”

“Today, I saw you in this general’s battle uniform, I was so excited!”

“Robin, you are exactly what I’ve dreamed of a million times!”

“Forgive me, we could have gotten married soon, I would have given you many, many children.”

Robin laughed. “I’ve long had nothing to do with you, the Brown family. What you’re saying means nothing to me!”

“In my dictionary, Robin, the word ‘forgiveness’ never existed!”

“In one’s lifetime, what has been missed should be let go forever!”

Having said that, he got into a military vehicle with Nia and Rhonda, and they sped down the mountain alongside a row of imposing armored vehicles!

Miranda was kneeling on the ground.

Chapter 422 Order No. SSS

Looking into the blinding sunlight.

That convoy of military vehicles was getting farther and farther away.

Gradually vanished into the winding prosperity of Mount Mauveglow’s mountain road...

Chapter 423 Call Me General Bruce

Robin, dressed in a general’s uniform, sat in a Jeep Cherokee, with Nia and Rhonda on either side of him.

The spacious military vehicle was silent.

Having just left Mount Mauveglow, Robin immediately took off his military uniform and removed his hat, "I think I should take off these clothes, I'm not very comfortable in them."

Nia looked at Robin's current appearance and laughed, "General Bruce, with your physique and temperament, you look very handsome and mighty in this general's uniform. You are naturally built for the military."

Rhonda glanced at him and pursed her lips without saying a word.

In my heart, I thought, "Ha, if it wasn't for that old guy Randall blocking me last time, I would have already caught you."

Looking at this guy's flippant attitude, I had no idea how she managed to put on this general's uniform!

Wasn't he a young master from some wealthy family, who gained qualifications through some internal connections?

Or should I say, Nia's boyfriend?

Hmph! The position of Chief Drillmaster of the Warwolf Special Forces wasn't something just anyone could hold.

I wanted to see just how capable you, Robin, really were to be able to stay in the Warwolf Special Forces!

Even though I had just joined the WSF

However, I detested those guys who relied on their family's influence and connections to gain experience in the military!

Robin shrugged and said, "I hate these standard uniforms the most, they feel awkward on me."

Rhonda murmured softly, "You're probably worried about joining the Warwolf Special Forces, aren't you?"

“What does that mean?” Robin flicked his eyelids.

“It’s nothing, General Bruce! I just wanted to remind the general that not just anyone can get by in the special forces units of the military command.”

Robin said with a laugh, “I’m not just anyone.”

Rhonda retorted defiantly, “People like you, who join halfway, if you want to hold your ground in Warwolf Special Forces, you need real skills!”

“Otherwise, it would be embarrassing if someone beat you.”

Robin glanced sideways at a defiant Rhonda, “I’m the new chief drillmaster of Warwolf Special Forces! The person who can beat me hasn’t been born yet!”

“There were less than ten days left until the final of the military combat competition.”

“I did remind you, your skills are still far from sufficient!”

“If the Warwolf Special Forces couldn’t pass this time, I’m afraid you just joined the WSF and you might have to retire directly!”

“Oh, right, you’re different. If you can’t stand WSF, you can always go back to where you originally came from.”

“You also had a father who was the head of Londraland Security Agency.”

“Looking at you now, did you look like a soldier? Sit up straight!”

“Yes!” Rhonda immediately sat up straight, not daring to speak anymore.

Nia watched Robin and Rhonda. secretly starting to laugh.

At that moment, her internal satellite phone rang.

After hanging up the phone. Nia said solemnly. “General Bruce!”

Robin waved his hand, “Just call me Robin. I’m more used to it.”

Nia’s cheeks turned red, “Robin, I have an urgent mission to carry out.”

Then, he handed the order to Rhonda. "Colonel Chavez, I hereby temporarily appoint you as General Bruce's special assistant, accompanying him to the Mount Ammo Training Base of the Warwolf Special Forces!"

"At that time, you would have handed over the command from headquarters regarding General Bruce's appointment to Mr. Harvey. I would have returned to Mount Ammo Training Base the morning after tomorrow."

"Yes, Colonel Finley!" Rhonda took the order, looking at the officer's code on it and curling her lip.

Nia switched to a military vehicle and sped off.

Only Rhonda and Robin were in the car.

Neither of them spoke again, the car was silent.

Robin leaned back in the chair, closed his eyes and fell asleep.

However, Rhonda could only sit up straight.

She looked at Robin, who was sound asleep reclining in the chair, and glared at him.

Hmph! Looking at you, you didn't look like a soldier at all.

It must have been as I suspected, this young master surely came to the army to gain experience.

Once I got to the Warwolf Special Forces, I was definitely going to see how much real skill you had!

In silence, they arrived at the foot of Mount Ammo, fifty kilometers away from Mapleford, two hours later.

After passing through two more checkpoints, we finally entered Mount Ammo Training Base.

The command center's shuttle vehicles could not enter Mount Ammo

Chapter 423 Call Me General Bruce

Training Base, they could only drop them off outside the gate.

Robin and Rhonda walked towards the Mount Ammo Training Base.

At that moment, it was the lunch break at Mount Ammo Training Base, and the center was completely silent.

The scorching sun had made Mount Ammo Training Base restless and uneasy.

Finally, Rhonda could no longer hold back the words she had been suppressing all along: "Robin!"

Robin halted, "Call me General Bruce!"

"Fine!" Rhonda glared at him, gritting her teeth.

"Alright, what's up?" Robin glanced at Rhonda's curvaceous figure and said with a smile.

"I reminded you, this is Warwolf Special Forces, not a place where just anyone can come in and gain some experience."

"Especially when the Warwolf Special Forces were in a critical and difficult situation."

"You might already know, in this military competition, if the Warwolf Special Forces couldn't make any breakthrough, there was a high chance that their number would be directly cancelled by the military command headquarters."

"I seriously doubted whether you were the son of a high-ranking military command official, here to gain experience in the army. Tell me, was that the case?"

Chapter 423 Call Me General Bruce

Robin hadn't expected Rhonda to be pondering over this issue, and laughed, saying. "Well, you guess!"

Rhonda snorted. "If you think you can just hang around here, we'll see!"

Having said that, she swayed her perky butt and walked away.

Robin slapped Rhonda on the butt.

With a crisp “pop!”

Rhonda was immediately stunned.

Robin pursed his lips and said, “Who gave you the right to be so rude to the general?”

“You! How dare you smack my butt?!” Rhonda’s face turned red with anger.

Chapter 424 You Perv!

Rhonda was almost driven mad, Robin actually spanked her?!

The last time at Yummy Fondue, Robin pulled out a gun from her chest.

The gun was not caught, but surprisingly, hers was caught!

Rhonda’s cheeks instantly turned red.

Stomping her foot on the spot, she exclaimed, “You... you ruffian!”

Robin pouted, “Dare to disrespect the superior again, and I’ll spank you!”

“How could you, a self-righteous, arrogant little lady of nobility, possibly join the ranks of the WSF, known as killing machines?!”

“I told you, if you dare to disrespect the superior again, I will have you thrown out of this door!”

“You...” The words reached Rhonda’s lips, but she swallowed them.

She knew that Robin certainly had this right.

This guy was quite sinister, he might have really been able to drive her away from WSF

In that case, it would have been troublesome.

After finally joining the Warwolf Special Forces, which I had dreamed of for years, I was determined to stay no matter what.

“Fine, you...you just wait!” Rhonda pointed at Robin and said angrily.

“Are you threatening the officer?” Robin raised his hand.

Rhonda immediately stepped back, covering her butt, “You’re not allowed to spank me anymore!”

“Hahaha...” Four lieutenant officers walked out of Mount Ammo Training Base, pointing and laughing loudly at Rhonda’s appearance.

Robin knew these four lieutenants.

It was the four guys who showed up at Zephyr Hotel on the day Madeline was hosting.

The four lieutenants were laughing heartily, bending over backwards at the sight of Rhonda covering her butt nervously at that moment.

“Alas! WSF has really fallen, anyone can get in now!” Lieutenant Grady Malone looked Rhonda up and down, in her Warwolf Special Forces military dress uniform adorned with the rank of colonel, shaking his head in mockery.

Lieutenant Clyde Yates snorted with a smirk.

“I don’t even know how a lady of your official family background. managed to get promoted to the rank of Colonel.”

“You people, coming to WSF is just a disgrace to WSF! Hehe...”

Lieutenant Dexter Goodwin sneered, “Yeah, some people want to bask in the past glory of WSF.”

Chapter 424 You Perv!

Lieutenant Noah Gibbs nodded, “These people wanted to gain some experience before WSF cancelled the numbers.”

Grady laughed and said, “There’s no dangerous mission now. After gaining some capital, I can go back and brag about it. Who knows, I might even get promoted to Colonel or Brigadier General.”

Rhonda immediately glared at them and snapped angrily, “Lieutenant Malone, are you mocking your superior?”

“You few insignificant lieutenants, dared to be insolent in front of a colonel!”

“According to military regulations, you were to be put in confinement!”

“Immediately salute in front of me and apologize to the officer!”

Grady, Clyde, Dexter, and Noah, the four lieutenants, were momentarily taken aback, then burst into hearty laughter.

“At WSF, we didn’t care about your military rank or who you were. Once you stepped through that door, power was all that mattered!”

“Whoever has the power makes the rules!” Rhonda hesitated slightly.

These four lieutenants were the strongest in hand-to-hand combat and the most formidable in various military indicators among the Warwolf Special Forces, making them the elite fighters.

The combat elites of WSF were not ones she could provoke.

Just this breath, it was hard to swallow!

No matter what, I had once made remarkable achievements at Londraland Security Agency.

This military uniform with school rank was genuinely earned through risking one’s life!

How could they tolerate their humiliation!

Rhonda hesitated for a moment, subconsciously turning to look at Robin.

Robin flicked his eyelids, “What does a true soldier need when facing challenges?!”

“Bright Sword!” Rhonda instantly perked up.

He then pointed at the four lieutenants and bellowed, “You four... you four are nothing but a bunch of military ruffians!”

“What’s wrong if I came late? Even if I was late, I’m still a part of WSF. Who else is going to raise the capital?”

“The Colonel earned his place in the WSF with his fists.”

“If any of you are not convinced, let’s have a contest right now!”

“If you lose, bow and apologize to me!”

Having said that, Rhonda swung her fist towards the four lieutenants.

The four of them laughed and played, as if watching a child’s roughhousing, easily dodging Rhonda’s punches and kicks.

“Your fancy but impractical moves could only get you by at Londraland Security Agency!”

15:42

Chapter 424 You Perv!

“If you go on a mission with WSF, you won’t be able to come back! It’s better to go back and live your life as the lady of the office!”

Rhonda, her face flushed with anger, swung her fists wildly, frantically seeking out the four people to unleash a barrage of punches.

The four lieutenants were constantly dodging with laughter, not needing to lift a hand at all.

Rhonda was so busy running around, but she just couldn’t catch them.

“Alright, stop monkeying around.”

“Ms. Chavez, you should go back as soon as possible, this is not the place where you should be.”

Rhonda, exhausted to the point of collapse, had to stop and stood helplessly in place, panting heavily.

The four lieutenants pointed at Robin, laughing playfully, “Ms. Chavez, that’s your boyfriend, isn’t it?”

“Judging by his appearance, he must still be the son of some high- ranking official, also here to gain some capital?”

Clyde sneered, “That time at Zephyr Hotel didn’t teach you a lesson, and yet here you are today, delivering yourself to my doorstep!”

“Let’s go to the martial arts hall for a match, that wouldn’t be against the rules! Dare to go?”

Rhonda was taken aback, “You know each other?”

“Grady, you must absolutely not mess around, he is the new chief

Chapter 424 You Perv!

drillmaster!”

Grady and his three companions were taken aback for a moment, they looked at Robin, and then burst into hearty laughter.

“Him becoming the chief drillmaster at WSF? Damn, WSF is really hopeless now!”

Robin laughed and said, “I was wondering why WSF was so trashy!”

“So it was you dishonorable soldiers with no sense of personal honor who were behind WSF all along.”

“Who are you calling a worthless bum?” Grady and the others. immediately flared up in anger, pointing at Robin and roaring.

The corner of Robin’s mouth twitched, “I said you’re all trash, any objections?”

Chapter 425 You Don’t Deserve to Fight Me!

Grady and the others were immediately stunned.

This was an unprecedented precedent in the previous Warwolf Special Forces.

Did anyone dare to publicly insult the four elites of WSF as trash?!

Rhonda also hadn’t expected that Robin would utter such explosive words.

However, Robin's words still made her feel extremely pleased in her heart!

During her time at WSF, she was often ridiculed by them.

Just that my own strength was limited, I had always been unable to vent the anger in my heart.

At that moment, how she wished Robin could give Grady and his three buddies a good thrashing.

However, not engaging in a combat test in the arena would be deemed a violation and result in confinement.

The serious ones might even have been removed from the Warwolf Special Forces.

She didn't want Robin to break the rules of WSF just after he had joined because of her issue.

He hurriedly stepped forward and said, "If you really want to compete, go to the martial arts hall!"

WSF had a rule.

In the Special Forces Battalion, anyone could challenge their own target.

If the other party accepted the challenge, they could compete publicly under the official rules of the arena.

"I told you!" Rhonda pointed at the four lieutenants.

"Robin was indeed the chief drillmaster appointed by the military command headquarters. If you guys wanted to challenge him, then..."

At this point, Rhonda hesitated slightly.

She didn't know if Robin's skills could match up to the four WSF elites, Grady.

Before leaving, Nia appointed her as Robin's special assistant.

If anything were to happen to Robin after entering the WSF, it would be difficult for me to explain to Nia.

However, since the conversation had reached this point, it would be embarrassing not to give it a try.

Upon reflection, if the military command was able to grant Robin the position of chief drillmaster, he must have had some abilities.

At least, Robin's skills should have been above hers.

Then, with full confidence, he said, "Grady, do you guys dare to compete in the arena?"

15 129

"What's there to fear? Let's go now!" Grady snorted coldly, disdainfully said.

Robin looked into Rhonda's eager eyes and chuckled lightly, "They are not even worth my effort!"

Rhonda was instantly speechless.

The words have been said to this extent, it would be even more embarrassing not to take action.

She glared at Robin in annoyance. "You didn't dare to compete with them?"

Robin gave a nonchalant smile, "Of course we have to compete! If we don't teach these four soldier fools a lesson. how can WSF survive!"

Rhonda was confused, "If you didn't step in, who taught them a lesson?"

Grady and the others were also baffled by Robin's words.

They subconsciously looked behind Robin.

It was completely empty, with no one else around.

"You're not going to lift a finger, are you planning to use your position to pressure us?" Clyde sneered contemptuously.

“If that’s the case, then forget it, we won’t waste our time with you!”

“Position? Position means shit!” Robin snorted coldly.

Chapter 425 You Don’t Deserve to Fight Me!

A few people didn’t know what Robin actually meant.

Robin pointed at Rhonda, “You go to the arena and compete with them!”

“Me?” Rhonda suddenly became anxious.

Oh my goodness!

Didn’t you see just now?

I simply couldn’t beat them!

Now let me compete with the four of them in the arena.

This truly made me embarrass myself in front of all the soldiers in the Warwolf Special Forces!

“What is the most important duty of a soldier when facing challenges?” Robin asked in a deep voice.

Rhonda reflexively responded, “Reporting to the commander, ready to fight!”

“That’s settled then, let’s go!” Robin headed straight for the arena.

Rhonda was instantly stunned, staring at Robin’s retreating figure, wishing she could give him a good kick.

I seriously doubted that this guy definitely wanted to make a fool out of me!

“Let’s go then! What’s the big deal!” Rhonda gritted her teeth and followed Robin towards the arena.

Chapter 425 You Don’t Deserve to Fight Me!

The four people from Grady were also stunned, staring blankly for a while, before pointing at Robin and scolding, “You…you stop right there! Are you scared?”

“You didn’t even dare to lift a hand, yet you called us trash! Letting a woman fight us, aren’t you ashamed?”

“You’re trash when I say you’re trash! I don’t lay a hand on you because. you’re not worthy of it!” Robin stopped in his tracks.

Also, I need to correct something, there were no men or women here, only warriors!

Robin pointed at Rhonda, “At the arena, if you four can’t even beat someone from the Londraland Security Agency who’s here to gain experience, it only proves that you’re worse than trash!”

Huh? Rhonda always felt that something seemed off about Robin’s words!

Worse than trash?

Even if you insult me, I am also trash!

This bastard!

Who was here just to pad their resume!

I got in here on my own merit, okay?!!

Grady and the others glanced at Rhonda, who was secretly freaking out, and shook their heads, “With her fancy but ineffective moves, she can’t even touch us. How is she supposed to fight?”

Chapter 425 You Don’t Deserve to Fight Me!

“The four of us didn’t even have to lift a finger, she just wore herself out! Hahaha...”

Robin raised his eyebrows, laughing, “Did she look like she was fighting just now? That was her warming up.”

“Those monkey-like kicks and digs were just for fun, they didn’t reveal their true skills at all!”

Rhonda rolled her eyes, giving Robin a disdainful look.

Who was playing games? I had already done my best!

Robin looked at Rhonda’s complex expression and patted her shoulder, “You can definitely beat them, you can do it, keep going!”

Then, pointing at Grady, he said, “If you can beat her, I’ll fight you!”

“Dare you? If you don’t dare to compete, don’t show off in front of me in the future!”

Grady sneered, “What’s there to fear? Brothers, let’s teach these two who came to our WSF to make a profit a good lesson today, let’s see who’s the trash!”

Chapter 426 I Won!

The annoyance in Rhonda’s heart was ignited once again.

These four guys, Grady, kept insisting that I was here to capitalize.

Hmph! Just wait, I will use all my strength to compete with you. Even if I lose, I want to lose with some dignity!

Before long, all fifty warriors of the Warwolf Special Forces had arrived at the martial arts field.

Upon hearing that Rhonda, the new addition to WSF, was going to challenge four WSF elites, they were all extremely excited.

Entering the arena. Rhonda stood gallantly in the center of the ring.

Her beauty and upright figure immediately provoked a commotion. among the soldiers.

Since the establishment of Warwolf Special Forces, apart from a woman named Nia, Rhonda was the second female member.

Rhonda pointed at the four Grady members, “Who among you four will compete with me first?”

Before Grady could even speak, Robin indifferently said, “All four of us, together!”

“Huh?” Rhonda was instantly taken aback.

Chapter 4261 Won!

She looked at Robin’s expressionless face, completely baffled.

This jerk definitely did it on purpose!

I couldn’t even beat one before, and now you want me to fight all four of them together?

I seriously doubted that this guy was the one who made me look foolish!

However, already standing in this place, it was impossible to go back.

Then let's fight!

Robin looked at Rhonda's indecisive expression, "Scared? If you're scared, then admit defeat!"

"Who's afraid! One against four, then one against four!" Rhonda shouted, stepping up to the ring.

Inside the martial arts arena, dozens of Warwolf Special Forces soldiers. started to make a commotion again.

They excitedly shouted the names of a few people named Grady.

"Lieutenant Malone!"

After a surge of passionate shouts, Grady signaled them to be quiet.

"Four against one, we can't afford to lose that person! Ms. Chavez, I can. knock you down with one arm and one move!"

Rhonda was shaking with anger, "Then you four come at me!"

Grady waved his hand dismissively and said, "Enough, don't bite off

Rhonda morted, "You mean you're going to fight alone first?"

"Yes, four against one, are we even human anymore!" Grady shook his head in disdain at the warriors in the arena.

"Alright, let's get started, and don't you dare regret it!" Rhonda said stubbornly

The soldiers cheered again.

Rhonda assumed her stance, only then realizing she was incredibly nervous.

He kept gesturing on the stage, but he didn't dare to step forward and take action.

That being said, I was aware of my own capabilities.

They were simply not on the same level as Grady.

However, even if they couldn't win, they had to keep fighting, they had to die with dignity!

"What

you always gesturing for? Colonel Chavez, are you posing for a photo?" Grady laughed heartily at Rhonda's antics.

"You were afraid, haha, let me tell you, the thing to fear most in a fight is fear itself"

"Ha!" Rhonda roared in anger, about to start sprinting.

Robin tapped her on the shoulder, "Extend your right hand!"

Before Rhonda could react, her entire body was suddenly propelled forward..

She only remembered Robin's words and stretched out her hand!

During the flight process, the person's entire figure looked like a missile.

The tightly clenched right fist was aimed directly at Grady's neck.

Grady was still laughing with a face full of disdain.

In an instant, Rhonda's fist had already reached his face.

A muffled thud sounded.

Grady stumbled and fell onto the ring, and didn't get up for quite a while.

Rhonda's punch landed right on his carotid artery.

Grady rolled his eyes twice and passed out.

The entire place instantly fell into a silence so profound that you could hear a pin drop.

Rhonda stood still.

Glancing at his own fist, then at Grady lying motionless on the ground, he asked anxiously, "Is he dead?"

Clyde shook his head. "It's bigger than your head!"

"Boss, you were knocked down by Colonel Chavez."

"No fair! That was a sneak attack!" Grady protested, rubbing his sore neck.

At that moment, Rhonda was still in a daze, looking at her own fist, she exclaimed in surprise. "Huh. I won! I actually won! Hahaha..."

She turned around and ran to Robin, clenching her fist. "How about that? I knocked him down with one punch!"

Robin nodded, "Hmm, continue!"

At that moment, Grady had already stood up, pointed at Rhonda and angrily said, "No count! I was careless just now!"

There was an uproar from the audience.

"Grady, you're a disgrace, get out! The battlefield doesn't wait for your carelessness, next!"

The three Clydes grimaced, "Boss, step aside, we can't afford to lose face!"

Then, Clyde stepped forward: "I'll do it!"

Clyde was no longer as casual as Grady, he took a careful deep breath.

Rhonda was more confident at that moment.

Before Clyde could even get into position, a step forward and a high kick were already launched.

Clyde grabbed her foot and threw it back.

Rhonda lost her balance, stumbled a few times, and almost fell to the ground.

She steadied herself only after being gently pushed from behind by Robin.

"Eh, what's going on this time?" Rhonda wondered why her martial arts skills were suddenly coming and going.

At that moment, Clyde, like a fierce tiger, charged forward with his fists. swinging.

Clyde, true to his status as an elite member of WSF, moved so fast that Rhonda couldn't react in time.

Rhonda had a premonition that she was probably done for this time!

Rhonda, faced with Clyde's tiger-like fists, no longer knew how to respond.

"Swallows fly low, scissors kick!" Robin kicked her in the butt.

Rhonda suddenly leapt into the air.

All I could hear was Robin's voice.

She seemed to have an immediate sense of brilliance, and went straight for Clyde's gap.

A beautiful flying scissor kick directly clamped onto Clyde's neck. brutally slamming him onto the ground.

This move instantly shocked the entire audience!

The arena was so quiet that you could hear a pin drop.

Clyde was left dizzy by Rhonda's scissor kick move.

This blow truly knocked him flat on the ground.

And there was absolutely no strength to counterattack again.

"I won again!" Rhonda was stunned for a moment, then cheered loudly, "I won again, Mr. Bruce! Hahaha..."

In her excitement, Rhonda had almost flown up, jumping and holding

Clyde lay on the ring. helplessly looking in the direction of Robin and Rhonda, shaking his head in despair.

Such was Rhonda.

The same young lady with fancy martial arts skills I met before at the entrance of Mount Ammo Training Base.

They were like two completely different people.

Such skill, speed and accuracy could be considered top-notch!

However, the first kick that Rhonda had just thrown lacked both power and accuracy.

It was almost several levels behind the second attempt.

The second time, like divine intervention, caught him off guard.

Her second kick struck the gap directly, targeting a flaw that Clyde was unable to defend.

Was able to quickly find the opponent's physical weakness and defeat them in such a short time.

This was clearly a master-level technique.

He noticed that Rhonda, whether it was the first punch that hit Grady's artery, or the second scissor kick that caught his neck and threw him to the ground, didn't care.

All were moves to kill the enemy in one strike.

For Clyde, who had experienced a real battlefield, Rhonda's method of killing was too classic!

These two moves of Rhonda's were both means of killing the opponent. on the battlefield..

If Rhonda had put a little more strength into these two moves.

Grady would die on the spot, his neck would also be instantly broken.

Clyde sat on the ground, looking at Rhonda in terror.

At that moment, he no longer recognized the female colonel who had infiltrated from the Londraland Security Agency.

Did they really misjudge it!

This was not at all what they had imagined, that kind of second- generation military man who only knew some fancy but impractical skills and idled his days away in the office.

Amidst the cheers of the warriors in the arena, Rhonda once again stood in front of the ring.

At that moment, fifty elite WSF warriors on the battlefield had already begun to lean towards supporting Rhonda.

The expressions on the faces of the four Grady members were extremely unpleasant at that time.

"Did you see that just now? Her skills, the four of us might not be able to beat her. Let's go together!"

The soldiers below started to heckle. "Shameless, roar!"

The four Grady members no longer cared about their dignity, they had to knock Rhonda down first. otherwise. they would lose even more face!

In the next moment, Rhonda, like a newborn calf. quickly rushed into the midst of the four people.

With a flurry of punches and kicks. Rhonda was kicked out by four people.

She struggled to steady herself, a wave of confusion washing over her. "Huh? Huh? Huh, what's going on?"

"Come again!" Rhonda positioned herself, searching for the four people's weaknesses.

Dexter shook his head and said, "You're jumping around like a monkey!"

“Grady, you were the loudest, you said, if you were defeated by me. you would stand up, apologize to me and salute me as your superior. Stand up!”

Grady and others were overwhelmed with shame.

They never imagined that even when the four of them attacked together, they would still be knocked down by Rhonda.

Rhonda, as if she had taken a stimulant, was still on the ring, clenching her fists and cheering. “How about that? Are you four convinced or not? What kind of rubbish coach taught you these skills? How can you go to the battlefield like this?”

Rhonda, hands on her hips, was loudly mocking. At that moment, the silence in the martial arts arena was suffocating.

“How many of you, tell me, from what rubbish coach did you learn these things?”

“He learned from me!” A stern shout came from behind.

“You...” Rhonda slowly turned around, looking at a man in his thirties, who had walked in from outside the arena.

This person was none other than Timothy Griffith, the individual combat guide for Grady’s team.

Colonel Griffith, known as one of the four top masters in the entire army, was the professional coach specifically responsible for hand-to-hand combat training in the Warwolf Special Forces.

Timothy walked up to the ring, his face gloomy, and said, “All four of them were trained by me. Are you implying that I’m trash too?”

Chapter 428 On the Battlefield, Second Place Means Death!

For a moment, Rhonda was somewhat at a loss.

This colonel officer was none other than Timothy, one of the four top combat experts in the entire army!

This renowned Colonel Griffith once made it to the championship finals in the army’s unarmed combat competition.

Due to a minor mistake, they narrowly lost and ultimately settled for second place.

His skills were absolutely among the top in the entire army.

Was also one of the heroes Rhonda respected.

How dare she say Timothy was trash?

Rhonda hesitated for a moment, gave an embarrassed smile and said, “Colonel Griffith, I... I was just messing around with Grady and the others. I’ve always admired you, I would never dare to call you... trash.

“Your skills, they were a rare existence in the entire army...”

Timothy frowned, pointing at Grady and the others, “Is this a game? You knocked all these four pieces of trash to the ground, are you joking around?”

“Colonel Griffith, I... we were... we were sparring...” Rhonda didn’t know what to say.

"Go out and take a look, there are experts everywhere! It would be strange if WSF didn't cancel the ranking of people like you!"

"Cancelling the WSF code was a minor issue, but if something went wrong during the mission, it could cost you your lives!"

"Stand up! Salute Colonel Chavez immediately!"

Grady, Clyde, and others immediately got up from the ground and saluted Rhonda.

Rhonda returned their salute, then introduced to Timothy, "Colonel Griffith, this is Major General Bruce, the newly appointed chief drillmaster of the Warwolf Special Forces from the military command!"

As soon as Rhonda spoke, all the warriors in the arena immediately stood up to salute.

This was a Major General!

Grady and others also stood at attention and saluted!

Timothy raised an eyebrow, "How come I wasn't notified? Besides, not just anyone can serve as the chief drillmaster of the Warwolf Special Forces!"

"If they were to accept someone as their chief drillmaster just because of some fancy moves and connections, the warriors of WSF would never

"In Warwolf Special Forces, I only recognized Major General Vargas, kas was our WSF's eternal chief drillmaster!"

Timothy looked at Robin's young face and sneered, "Grady and the others were right, you're probably here because you heard WSP is about to cancel the numbers. You're just trying to gain some experience and earn some credentials to get a promotion when you go back!"

"Insolent! Is this the attitude a subordinate officer should have towards a superior? Stand at attention!" Robin said coldly.

Although Timothy stood at attention, his face was full of disdain, "You can use your military rank and position to force me to bow to you, but here at WSF, we always believe in strength!"

Robin snorted, "I've seen the documents that the military command reported to me. It seems you once won a runner-up in the entire army, and you dare to call yourself a fighting expert?"

Timothy proudly said, "Fighting for the runner-up position in the entire army, of course, is an honor and represents strength! It seems like you don't have any experience, do you?"

Robin chuckled, "A runner-up in bare-handed combat training? A worthless ranking, is it worth your arrogance?"

Fury filled his eyes, "In that case, do you dare to compete with me?"

"I would let you know, this runner-up of mine represents either death or victory!"

“No problem!” Robin flicked his eyelids. “However, a runner–up like you is not even worth my effort!”

“Remember! No matter how big a name the other party has, no matter how high their military rank, on the battlefield. they are your enemy!”

“Facing the enemy, there could only be one outcome, you die or I live!”

“If you couldn’t defeat him, you were as good as dead!”

Excitement was excitement.

The point was. I couldn't beat them!

She instinctively looked at Robin, whispering. "Ah, I might.., really not be a match for Colonel Grithth

Robin said indifferently. "When facing your enemies, you must be arrogant and selfless!"

"Your first reaction was to quickly identify the other party's weaknesses!"

"Everyone has a weakness, even the most formidable opponents are no exception. Let alone such a low-level opponent!"

The scene was filled with astonishment.

Rhonda was also extremely astonished.

"Remember this, use your strengths to combat others' weaknesses, you are the victor!"

"Yes!" Rhonda replied loudly. "But, I didn't know Colonel Griffith's weakness!"

Robin shook his head. "Do you know his characteristics?"

Rhonda immediately responded, "Reporting to the chief drillmaster, Colonel Griffith's characteristics are sharp boxing style, extremely fast speed, and great strength!"

"But, his weakness... I didn't know! What should I do?"

Robin smirked, "Wouldn't a couple of punches have made it clear?"

"Yes!"

Rhonda assumed a stance, ready to charge forward.

Robin looked at Rhonda's fierce demeanor and chuckled lightly, "Fighting isn't about brute force. If the opponent's punches are sharp and fast, then avoid their edge and strike their gaps. Where are his gaps?"

Timothy struck immediately, without holding back.

He intended to give Robin a harsh lesson.

Rhonda saw Timothy swing a fierce punch. From two meters away, she could feel the sharp wind of his fist coming at her.

Robin had said to avoid their strengths and attack their weaknesses.

Rhonda rolled on the spot, kicking out at Timothy's ankle.

Robin watched Rhonda's action and nodded.

But Timothy was not one of Grady's people, he leaped into the air to dodge Rhonda's low sweep, and kicked at her in mid-air!

The robust body staggered forward several steps, only stabilizing its footing after a somersault as a buffer.

Otherwise, the whole person would be lying on the ring.

He subconsciously looked at Robin, a surge of anger igniting in his chest.

The reason why Rhonda was able to cause trouble for him twice.

It was all due to Robin's guidance and assistance.

At that moment, confidence was full.

Turns out, the top player of WSF was not invincible after all!

Rhonda jumped up excitedly, unable to hold back a loud laugh, "Avoid- its sharpness, attack its weakness, a light touch can move a heavy weight! Hahaha..."

Timothy's face turned as embarrassed as a purple eggplant, "Hmph! Techniques, they can only bring you occasional luck! In real combat fighting, only strength and speed are the keys to victory."

"Control motion with stillness, respond to changes without changing!" Robin said indifferently.

In that instant, Rhonda suddenly understood what Robin meant.

Facing an opponent faster than you, the quickest speed was to rest and wait, remaining motionless.

Rhonda was fully focused, waiting for the last moment when Timothy's fist came at her like lightning.

Suddenly, he lowered his body and directly attacked the lower part of Timothy who was running.

Timothy was taken aback.

He never imagined that Rhonda could, in such a short time, evade his points of attack with her strength and speed, and directly attack his lower body.

Left with no choice, he had to somersault into the air again.

“Cut off the enemy’s retreat!” Robin casually said.

Ignacio frowned, pointing at Rhonda. “You lost to this newly enlisted female colonel?”

Timothy immediately lowered his head.

Robin sneered. “On the battlefield. it doesn’t matter if you’re male or female, a newbie or a veteran, losing means death!”

“I wondered why WSF was so cowardly, turns out they were all a bunch of worthless people with a sense of superiority!”

Rafael roared in fury, “Insolence!”
