Chapter 471 A Conspiracy Against Lord Wyvern

“Chad?” Ignacio looked at Randall, puzzled.

“Was it Chad, the former Deputy Director of the Londraland Court of Censors back then, who is now the President of the Londraland Go Association?”

“He was the Go Grandmaster of the East Estva Go community!”

“Did Mr. Jensen know more details about this matter?”

Randall let out a long sigh, nodding. “Perhaps I’m just guessing

“Back then, after the extermination incident at Lord Wyvern’s Mansion. Chad resigned from the Londraland Court of Censors”

“This action was quite suspicious.”

“That year, the leader of Wyvern Palace. Lord Wyvern, was locked in the Dragon Chaining Prison.”

“The entire case was handled by Chad and two deacons.

“On the very night that Lord Wyvern’s Mansion was tragically annihilated, Lord Wyvern of the Dragon Chaining Prison also mysteriously disappeared.”

“According to Chad’s later statement, by the time he arrived at the scene of Dragon Chaining Prison, two law enforcement officers had died on the spot!”

“It was said that the scene was quite gruesome,

At this point, Randall did not mention the situation of turning the two bodies into mummies.

“The two deacons who went to Dragon Chaining Prison with Chad died on the night they returned.”

“The room in Dragon Chaining Prison where prisoners were held was made of the strongest diamond, so strong that not even a mosquito could fly out.”

“The prison doors were locked, and could only be opened with the most secret musical codes.”

Strangely, there were no signs of the door lock being tampered with, nor any indications of forced entry.

“Lord Wyvern, who was imprisoned inside, had mysteriously disappeared!”

“No news for twenty years!”

Ignacio furrowed his brows, murmuring, “I always feel that Master is still around us, he must still be alive.”

Randall nodded, “I have always firmly believed that Lord Wyvern would never leave until his grievances and the family massacre were resolved!”

“I believed, one day he would return mightily!”

At this point, a hint of moist glimmer flashed in Randall’s eyes, “Ah, twenty years have passed, why hasn’t there been any news!”

Chapter 471 A Conspiracy Against Lord Wyvern

“Twelve Excellent Fighters in Dragon Soul, now only I am left waiting in agony, they have long since lost hope and retreated to the countryside! I don’t know if there will ever be a day of reunion!”

Ignacio shook his head bitterly, “General Allen, you’ve worked hard!”

Randall sighed, “As long as I still have a breath, I must wait for the one I’m waiting for!”

My intuition told me that the person was getting closer and closer to me.

At this point, Randall looked up towards the pitch-black night outside. the car window, murmuring, “I must confirm that Lord Wyvern Jr. was framed for that betrayal years ago!”

“That year, only Chad witnessed the scene at Dragon Chaining Prison, he must have known many secrets.”

“Over the years, he has been keeping a low profile, never mentioning a word about the events of the past. There must be a reason for this!”

Ignacio slapped his hand on the car, “He too had once received Lord Wyvern’s favor, why didn’t he dare to stand up?!”

Randall shook his head, “I understand why Mr. Jensen did this. The complexity of it can’t be explained in a few words.”

Ignacio hesitated for a moment, looking at Randall, “General Allen, forgive my frankness!”

“Over the years, I had significant doubts about the Lord Wyvern’s Mansion massacre.”

Chapter 471 A Conspiracy Against Lord Wyvern

“What exactly happened between Lord Wyvern and Dragon Soul Elite that year, that would cause such a great disturbance among the upper echelons of Draccastle?”

“As the leader of Wyvern Palace, Lord Wyvern, who was the most trusted head of the Eight Lords by the military headquarters of Londraland, how could he suddenly be sent to Dragon Chaining Prison?”

“And coincidentally, on the very night he was imprisoned in Dragon Chaining Prison, Lord Wyvern’s Mansion was brutally massacred by foreign experts, with all thirty-seven members of the household tragically killed!”

“Over the years. I had always believed that this was a colossal conspiracy!”

“After the massacre at Lord Wyvern’s Mansion, the military headquarters did not provide any explanation.”

Everyone remained silent about the matter.

“What on earth was going on?”

“What was even more strange was that Lord Wyvern mysteriously disappeared that night, and no one came forward to explain.”

Ignacio paused for a good while after saying this, then continued, “General Allen. I’m going to say something I probably shouldn’t.”

“I once heard a rumor that Lord Wyvern and Lord Wyvern Jr. had betrayed their allies and personally killed their own brother-in-arms!”

apter 471 A Conspiracy Against Lord Wyvern

“Because of this incident, I was locked up in Dragon Chaining Prison, but no one could provide strong evidence to prove this claim.

“This matter was too strange!”

Randall frowned, seemingly wanting to speak but stopping himself.

Ignacio let out a long sigh, “It’s okay, General Allen, you don’t have to say it, I can understand.”

“The extermination case of Lord Wyvern’s Mansion was classified as top- secret by the Londraland military headquarters, and of course, I, at my level, had no right to inquire.”

“Just that the Lord of War of Londraland, Lord Wyvern, was baselessly accused of treason and betrayal, such charges are simply unacceptable to me.”

“How could Lord Wyvern, a character with unparalleled martial arts and extraordinary abilities, have done such a shameful thing?”

Randall nodded, “General Vargas, you’re right, there’s a huge conspiracy at play here!”

Ignacio stated firmly, “I also believe, this is absolutely a conspiracy against Lord Wyvern!”

“I, Ignacio, have the utmost respect for the Lord of War of Londraland, Lord Wyvern, who has made remarkable military achievements for Londraland in his lifetime!”

“It could be said, without Lord Wyvern, Londraland could not have had the stability and peace it enjoyed over these years!”

Chapter 471 Conspliney Against Lord Wyver

“During the years he was there, there were hardly any wars on the borders of Londraland.”

“How could he, such a pillar of the nation, possibly betray his comrades. and brothers?”

“If accused of such a crime, it would simply be absurd!”

“This was a frame–up, a conspiracy!”

Randall took a deep breath, “It’s indeed too strange. After that incident, all of the Seven Lords of Draccastle refused to talk about the past.”

“The military high command also regarded it as the greatest taboo.”

“As if the massacre at Lord Wyvern’s Mansion never happened!”

Ignacio asked. “General Allen. what was the cause that allowed some people with ulterior motives to succeed in their conspiracy back then?”

Randall paused. “That year, the southwestern border of Londraland was suddenly invaded by Zeglaria. They killed our people, occupied our land, and bombarded our border defense troops.”

“After receiving the order for a swift resolution from the military headquarters, Lord Wyvern dispatched Lord Wyvern Jr. to personally lead the Dragon Soul, a group of 100 top elites from Londraland, to conquer the invaders in the southwest.”

“However, just as the 100 elites of Dragon Soul had just entered the southwestern frontier, they were suddenly ambushed by unknown enemies who were more than ten times stronger than them.”

Chapter 471 A Conspiracy Against Lord Wyvern

“Finally, all 100 elites had fallen!”

“But, Lord Wyvern Jr. returned alone, not to report back to the capital, but to Hallcester, where he ultimately disappeared without a trace!”

“The next day, the massacre at Lord Wyvern’s Mansion occurred!”

Chapter 472 Someone Wants to Destroy WSF

Randall said this, a surge of towering rage flashing in his eyes.

“Back then, Lord Wyvern Jr. was the leader of the Twelve Excellent Fighters in Dragon Soul, and he was utterly loyal to Londraland.”

“Zeglaria on the southwest border repeatedly provoked, and he was ordered to carry out a counterattack mission on the southwest border.”

“Just... just before they reached the border, this elite team was suddenly ambushed by the most formidable forces!”

“All 100 of Londraland’s top military elites were killed in battle!”

“Who exactly leaked the information about this top-secret military operation?”

“Those 100 elites were personally trained by Lord Wyvern Jr. You could say, they were like brothers!”

“How could Lord Wyvern Jr., who values loyalty and righteousness above all, possibly betray his own brother?”

“And Lord Wyvern Jr. returned to his country, and surprisingly, he went straight to Hallcester. Was it his own decision, or was he following someone’s orders? Or perhaps, had he already learned about the conspiracy behind him, and thus couldn’t return to Draccastle?”

“All of these were unknown!”

Chapter 472 Someone Wants to Destroy WSF

Ignacio nodded. “If it was a conspiracy, it’s very likely that Lord Wyvern Jr. received a false order from someone!”

“General Allen, who was in charge at the Wyvern Palace that day?”

Randall frowned in thought, “Well... all twelve of us were dispatched on a mission at that time, I really don’t know who was at Wyvern Palace.”

“Huh? General Vargas, you did remind me!”

“If Lord Wyvern Jr. really did receive a false order from someone and went straight back to Hallcester instead of returning to the capital immediately, then this bastard is the mastermind behind the plot!”

“I was determined to find a way to figure out this problem.”

Ignacio paused before saying. “General Allen. have you discussed this matter in depth with the current acting leader of Wyvern Palace, General Cornelius?”

Randall shook his head. “I dare not delve into such conversations as ours within Lord Wyvern’s Mansion.”

“Because, the tragedy of that day. if it really was a conspiracy, it was highly likely that people within the Wyvern Palace were involved, not just the Seven Lords!”

Ignacio nodded, “Yes! General Allen, this matter must be investigated in secret. They are in the dark, we are in the open. If we make it public, it will only make things more complicated.”

Randall looked up towards the window, “The night Lord Wyvern Jr. returned to Hallcester, many top foreign experts appeared in Hallcester ut the same time.

Chapter 472 Bomeone Wants to Destroy WGF

“That night, a fierce battle had taken place in Hanrock Valley of Mount Mauveglow.”

“The bodies of hundreds of foreign experts lay strewn across the bottom of Hanrock Valley.”

“Among the multitude of corpses, there was no trace of Lord Wyvern Jr. to be found.”

“Since then, Lord Wyvern Jr. had lost all contact.”

“Lord Wyvern Jr. returned to Hallcester and disappeared, someone reported that Lord Wyvern’s Mansion was betraying and colluding with the enemy. Lord Wyvern was imprisoned in Dragon Chaining Prison, and Lord Wyvern’s Mansion was suddenly attacked and massacred by foreign masters in the middle of the night.”

“The military headquarters immediately ordered the elites under the Seven Lords staying in Draccastle to rescue Lord Wyvern’s Mansion.”

“However, the elites under the Seven Lords, stationed 50 kilometers outside of Draccastle, took nearly three hours to reach Lord Wyvern’s Mansion after receiving the order.”

When they arrived, all thirty–seven people at Lord Wyvern’s Mansion had perished, and Lord Wyvern’s Mansion had already been reduced to ashes.

“Back then, I couldn’t understand. A distance of 50 kilometers, according to the speed of the Seven Lords’ rescue equipment, would only take a few minutes to fly.”

Chapter 472 Someone Wants to Destroy WSF

“Despite the fact that a helicopter would have arrived faster for the rescue, they stubbornly came running.”

“This was clearly passive waiting!”

“Even if the elites 50 miles away couldn’t make it, the experts remaining in the capital could reach Lord Wyvern’s Mansion within five minutes.”

“But, not a single one came to the rescue, allowing Lord Wyvern’s Mansion to be brutally slaughtered and destroyed!”

“Despite the rather far–fetched explanation from the Seven Lords afterwards, their strength was undeniable.”

“In case of a sudden emergency, it could result in a loss that outweighs the gain.”

“This matter was not left unresolved!”

Ignacio shook his head. “The act of moderation has killed three armies!”

“Everyone harbored their own interests, none willing to step forward, even hoping for the downfall of Lord Wyvern’s Mansion, as it would grant them more power and benefits!”

“After Lord Wyvern left, it was like a dragon without a head, total chaos!”

“If there could no longer be a person with absolute authority and power to control the situation, I’m afraid chaos would inevitably ensue over time!”

Randall leaned back in his chair, letting out a sigh, “The military high ter 472 Someone Wants to Destroy WSF command had also noticed this situation early on.”

Decided to hold an election for the leader of the Eight Lords, Dragon General, during the Mid–Autumn Festival next year.

“However, the military high command was very clear, that the only one who had the absolute power to control the overall situation, apart from figures like Lord Wyvern, no one else could be competent.”

“If one were to be elected as the leader of the Eight Lords from the Seven Lords, then, the others would inevitably create gaps and cause trouble.”

“Lord Wyvern’s Mansion had been destroyed for twenty years, both Lord Wyvern and Lord Wyvern Jr. were no longer present, however, the establishment of Wyvern Palace still remained.”

“For twenty years, Cornelius had been acting as the leader of Wyvern Palace, and no one dared to recklessly discuss abolishing the position of Lord Wyvern.”

“There must be a place for Wyvern Palace among the seats of the Eight Lords!”

“However, if Lord Wyvern or Lord Wyvern Jr. could not appear again, it would be difficult for Wyvern Palace to maintain its establishment.”

“If Lord Wyvern, or Lord Wyvern Jr., or even Lord Wyvern III, should any one of them appear, the leader of the Eight Lords would undoubtedly be the leader of Wyvern Palace!”

“Next year’s Mid–Autumn Festival was the day of the election for the head of the Eight Lords, how I wished I could find Lord Wyvern Jr.

before then!”

“If Lord Wyvern Jr. were still alive, he would have been twenty–one this year!”

At this point, a glimpse of Robin’s towering figure flashed in Randall’s eyes.

Kept asking myself in my heart.

Robin, were you actually Lord Wyvern Jr., the one who fortuitously escaped from that family annihilation case years ago?

Ignacio looked at Randall’s dazed expression and said in a deep voice, “Even though they didn’t dare to seize the leadership of the Eight Lords for the time being, the military command that Lord Wyvern had single- handedly established was gradually being controlled by them.”

Randall sighed, “Yeah, the elites nurtured by Lord Wyvern back then have basically been marginalized.”

“For instance, you, Major General Vargas, being in this position now, what a waste of talent!”

Ignacio gave a bitter smile and shook his head, remaining silent.

After a long pause, he asked, “General Allen, did you hear what those assassins said while you were carrying out the rescue mission at Witcord Peak this afternoon?”

Randall nodded, “Someone wanted to destroy WSF!”

At that moment, a cold murderous intent burst from Ignacio’s eyes.

Chapter 472 Someone Wants to Destroy WSF

“The decline of WSF over the years was not solely due to one-sided training, but also because WSF had been targeted.

“Someone wanted to erase the WSF, which the adult had devoted the most effort to in the past, from the military command!”

“Therefore, I had to preserve the Warwolf Special Forces, hoping that one day Lord Wyvern would return, so that he could still see this elite force, still as powerful as when he was here, possessing unparalleled combat power in the world!”

Randall took a deep breath and said, “I hope Robin can bring a surprise to WSF this time!”

Ignacio nodded, “Intuition tells me, WSF will definitely survive this time!”

Chapter 473 Phantom

Speaking up to this point, Ignacio paused for a moment: “General Allen, did you start suspecting early on that Robin was the person you were looking for?”

Randall exclaimed excitedly. “It’s like! Too much like!”

“However, I was still in the process of further confirming!”

“If the heavens were watching, and Lord Wyvern Jr. was still alive, it would have been a blessing for the Wyvern Palace, and even more so for the Wyvern Army!”

“Next year’s Mid–Autumn Festival will see the election of Dragon General, and Wyvern Palace will surely rise again!”

“I believed, Lord Wyvern Jr. would surely restore the former glory of Lord Wyvern!”

“Vindicate Lord Wyvern, Lord Wyvern Jr.!”

“Let those plots behind the scenes be exposed to the light!”

Listening to Randall’s narration. Ignacio trembled with excitement all over his body!

Randall took a deep breath, “According to the information from the Black Guard, Robin is likely to be the Annihilator who shook the entire

Chapter 473 Phantom

“The power of such a character, one can imagine how terrifying it was! Comparable to the likes of Lord Wyvern and Lord Wyvern Jr. of the past!”

“After gathering information over this period of time, I increasingly believed that Robin was the mysteriously missing Lord Wyvern Jr. from that family annihilation case!”

At this point, a passionate tear shimmered in Randall’s eyes.

“Now, I first had to confirm whether he was that Annihilator, Lord Dragon!”

“And also the character named Enzo behind him.”

“General Vargas, don’t you think there’s some indescribable connection between this Enzo and Phantom?”

“Back then, Phantom, the loyal shadow guard who followed Lord Wyvern through life and death, always protecting his lord, no one had ever seen his true face.”

“Legend had it, the agility of Phantom was unfathomably profound.”

“Lord Wyvern had once told the Twelve Excellent Fighters that Phantom was the number one master in the world.”

“Even when he fought with Phantom, it was hard to say that he was confident of winning every time.”

“If this Enzo was indeed Phantom, then the Lord Dragon he personally trained and nurtured would undoubtedly be invincible in the world!”

Chapter 473 Phantom

Lord Phantom was elusive, not even one of us, the Twelve Excellent Fighters in Dragon Soul, had ever seen him.”

“At one point, I was very happy!”

Intuition told me, Enzo was Phantom!

“My Black Guard was questioning Robin in Bronia. If Enzo didn’t want them to find out anything, with his skills and abilities, it was absolutely impossible for the Black Guard to find any information.”

Ignacio nodded, “General Allen, since you’ve mentioned this, let me remind you. What does it imply that you were able to capture this information?”

Randall was taken aback for a moment: “That means he wants to provide us with some clues!”

“For him, it was difficult to distinguish friend from foe among many people in Londraland. He was testing!”

Thinking of this, Randall trembled with excitement all over his body.

“If that’s the case, then Lord Dragon was the mysteriously disappeared Lord Wyvern Jr. from Lord Wyvern’s Mansion years ago!”

“If he wasn’t Lord Wyvern Jr., why would he come to Hallcester?”

“Why did he have so much wealth without any foundation?”

“I had a vague feeling that there was a vast information network and secret guards around him!”

“So that’s why I couldn’t find any information about him.”

Chester #73 Phantom

“I couldn’t see this net, but it highlighted a problem. Such a technique was more likely to be from Phantom/”

“When he was protecting Lord Wyvern, no one could approach him. His informants were everywhere, and his guards were impenetrable.”

“The trap he set could control everything!”

“But then again, why couldn’t such a brilliant figure, who was by Lord Wyvern’s side, figure out how the elite 100 were schemed against back then?”

“Lord Wyvern, Phantom, and Lord Wyvern Jr., such brilliant individuals that any conspirator would find it difficult to escape their watchful eyes.”

“But ironically, they became the victims in this conspiracy.”

“This was also the part I could never figure out.”

Ignacio looked at the brooding Randall. “General Allen, let’s not delve into this matter for now. If... if Robin truly is Lord Wyvern Jr. of Lord Wyvern’s Mansion, everything will gradually come to light.”

“Since Enzo had placed him in Hallcester, there must have been a reason.”

“Perhaps our excessive initiative would have disrupted his plan.”

“Let’s just wait and see, and we certainly can’t reveal Robin’s identity.”

“If he really was Lord Wyvern Jr., those conspirators would certainly Randall skit. “Inzo is indeed Phantom, his allowing Robin to Ballester is like casting a stone to find the path, to see who the sconsipator behind the scenes is. Once we find this bastard, the uth about the annihilation of Lord Wyvern’s Mansion years ago will come to light.

Nelieved that, given Robin and Enzo’s temperament, once they found the conspirators, they would surely level the entire Draccastle, even if it meant avenging the great injustice of the massacre at Lord Wyvern’s Mansson years ago!*

Ignacio took a deep breath with a serious expression. “General Allen, during the mussion to rescue Nia and several WSF elites this afternoon, I also heard some information Several assassins seemed to be mentioning an ancient magic weapon

“Even, it was revealed that this ancient magic weapon was located at Mount Ammo Training Base”

Randall shook his head with a smile. “This is just a trick some people use to divert trouble Ancient magic weapon, do you believe in such things?

Some people wanted to create confusion, muddy the waters, and use others to eliminate WSF, isn’t it obvious?”

At that moment, a fierce and ruthless aura flickered in Ignacio’s eyes.

“Who exactly was this conspirator? If I found him, I would definitely chop him up with a knife!”

Chapter 473 Phantom

Randall said in a deep voice, “After that fierce battle in the southwest years ago, Lord Wyvern Jr. returned to Hallcester.”

For a moment, hundreds of foreign experts also flooded into Hallcester.

“It seemed they also came under the guise of searching for the ancient magic weapon.

“In retrospect, it was clearly aimed at assassinating Lord Wyvern Jr.!”

“They simply underestimated Lord Wyvern Jr.’s skills, and in the end, they all perished in Hanrock Valley.”

“It must be said, this schemer behind the scenes, was too cunning!”

“All the rumors released were shrouded in mystery, and the schemer behind the scenes was extremely sinister.”

“He always released a smoke bomb just when people were about to see the truth.”

“I believed that if Lord Wyvern Jr. were to return, the conspirator would soon be exposed.”

“The puppet master behind the scenes wanted to destroy the WSF, General Vargas, we had to protect it!”

“The current situation was extremely unfavorable for WSF.”

“You should have noticed, both Dragon Soul and LSF, these two teams, were striving to coordinate against WSF.”

“WSF had become their target of criticism.”

Chapter 473 Phantom

Ignacio nodded, “Of course I understand. The captains of Dragon Soul and LSE, they are both members of the Seven Lords. Their appointments as the heads of Dragon Soul and Leopard Special Forces were not without ulterior motives,”

Randall said in a deep voice, “Those bastards!”

“General Vargas, we couldn’t just sit back and wait to die either.”

“Three days ago, the military command headquarters announced that the military competition would be held in Mapelford. The final round of competition rules discussion took place.”

“I thought, you should have communicated more with Major Arturo about the rules of the competition.”

“See how it could have been more beneficial for WSF.”

“Robin led their training, and although their strength would improve, many unfavorable rules would stifle a truly capable and elite team.”

Ignacio nodded meaningfully.

“General Allen, rest assured, Major General Arturo and I will definitely do our utmost!”

Chapter 474 A Weird Idea

Mount Ammo Training Base.

It was already two in the morning at that moment.

A gust of fresh wind suddenly arose, a dark shadow swiftly swirled into Robin’s dormitory along the corner of the Mount Ammo Training Base wall like a whirlwind.

“Speak up, what have you guys found out?” Robin said, leaning back on the sofa with his eyes closed.

Death Monger, the assassin, knelt on one knee and whispered, “My Lord, recently the whole dark world has been buzzing with rumors that the ancient magic weapon, which has been talked about in the underworld for many years, has appeared in Hallcester.”

“Therefore, many assassin organizations and sects from around the world had infiltrated Hallcester, and nearly a thousand assassins had gathered in the area by then.”

Robin squinted at the ceiling and said, “Recently, I’ve been hearing terms like Lord Wyvern and ancient magic weapon. Who exactly is Lord Wyvern?”

The assassin from Death Mongers replied, “Lord Wyvern was a pillar of the military in Londraland back in the day, he was also the Lord of War of Londraland.”

“Twenty years ago, his son, Lord Wyvern Jr., was imprisoned in Dragon Chaining Prison due to a failed expedition. His family’s residence, Lord Wern’s Mansion, was reduced to ashes overnight. This was a top secret of the Londraland military.”

“Did Lord Wyvern have any connection with this ancient magic weapon?” Robin asked.

50 years. It was said that the ancient magic weapon appeared once every By the Mid–Autumn Festival next year, this ancient magic weapon was sure to appear in this world.

However, the ancient magic weapon appeared 20 years ago, precisely on the night when Lord Wyvern’s Mansion was annihilated. Back then, rumors in the martial world suggested that this ancient magic weapon appeared in Hallcester of Londraland.

“Such a phenomenon occurred. it seemed to contradict some kind of rule. What kind of rule it was. I didn’t understand at the time.”

Robin pondered for a moment. “Does this mean that this ancient magic weapon has some kind of connection with this high-ranking military official from Londraland?”

The Death Mongers assassin nodded. “My lord, it is said that back then, Lord Wyvern’s Mansion was annihilated due to this ancient magic weapon.”

“Today they said that this ancient magic weapon appeared near Mount Ammo Training Base, is there such a saying?” Robin sat up, raising an eyebrow

“There was such a saying!”

hapter 474 A Weird iden

Subordinate also received a message that someone within the Condraland military wanted to destroy the WSF!”

“It was very likely that some people wanted to use the gimmick of this ancient magic weapon, which was currently rumored in the martial world, to divert trouble to Mount Ammo Training Base.”

Many international assassins had arrived upon hearing the news. They were led to Mount Ammo Training Base. Today, these assassins had come here for the bounty.

“Was this ancient magic weapon so attractive?” Robin asked, puzzled.

It was said that this ancient magic weapon could command all the warlords and demon lords in the world.

That is to say, whoever possessed this ancient magic weapon could control the entire world.

“An ancient magic weapon with such great power was, of course, the focus of contention among numerous sects worldwide.”

“Many institutions spared no expense in hiring experts from around the world to find this ancient magic weapon.”

“Also, my lord, currently, many black-clad guards under General Allen are spreading out to inquire about your information.”

“He had already started doubting your identity in Bronia, Astror.”

Chapter 474 A Weird idea

Robin chuckled.

This old fellow had been interested in me for a long time. What was he investigating about me?

What information did you want to get from me?

Enzo had me return to Hallcester.

Hallcester had become the focus of the grey areas worldwide.

Did Enzo also want me to compete for that ancient magic weapon?

Impossible!

If Enzo wanted me to compete for this thing, there was no need for him to be so mysterious.

Ancient magic weapon, the extermination case of Lord Wyvern's Mansion.

Clearly, there should have been some kind of connection in this.

Did ancient magic weapons really exist in this world?

Could it be that the Londraland military was also investigating this ancient magic weapon?

He pondered for a moment, “Have we checked Randall's background information?”

Death Mongers assassin replied, “Back then, Wyvern Palace had Twelve. Excellent Fighters, and Randall was one of the Twelve Excellent Fighters.”

Chapter 474 A Weird Idee

“After the extermination of Lord Wyvern's Mansion, all of the Twelve Excellent Fighters under Lord Wyvern were scattered among the common people, with only Randall remaining in Lord Wyvern's Mansion.”

“It was said that this person had been constantly investigating the mastermind behind the massacre at Lord Wyvern's Mansion years ago.”

“Was he investigating this matter?” Robin was recalling the scenes of her past encounters with Randall in her mind.

Was this guy Mo Hui suspecting that I was involved in this?

No, 20 years ago, I might not have had this ability.

So, what exactly did this old fellow want to do?

Suddenly, a strange thought appeared in his mind

I had some kind of inseparable relationship with Lord Wyvern’s Mansion!

Could there be such a strange thing?

Robin had asked Enzo multiple times.

Where exactly was I born, and who were my parents?

Enzo just kept his mouth shut.

Could it be that I had an extraordinary background?

Enzo had him wait here for someone.

Chapter 474 A Weird Idea

Could it be related to the top–secret case of the Londraland military. twenty years ago?

What was this old thing trying to make mysterious?

I stopped guessing!

Robin had left the room, just stepping into the parade ground of Mount Ammo Training Base.

Suddenly, a dark figure darted out from behind and embraced him.

Robin, being clever, directly threw it on the ground.

“Goodness, Damn! How could you throw me on the ground without saying a word!”

Rhonda clutched her butt. grimacing. “My ass, you’ve smashed it to pieces! You owe me...”

Chapter 475 You’re a Fool!

Robin looked at Rhonda lying on the ground, raised an eyebrow,

“Attacking me from behind in the middle of the night and expecting me to pay for your ass?”

“You’re sincere!” Rhonda exclaimed, her legs stomping on the ground in frustration.

“You discovered me behind you early on and deliberately threw me to the ground!”

“Attacking me from behind without allowing me to be prepared?” Robin’s mouth curled up slightly, shrugging his shoulders, “Don’t let it happen again, otherwise, your ass will really get smashed.”

“You! Hmph!” Rhonda climbed up from the ground, annoyed, “I just wanted to hug you from behind, when did I ever ambush you!”

“Hug me?” Robin glanced at Rhonda’s firm, perky butt, “What do you mean, bribing me?”

Rhonda immediately understood Robin’s meaning, her cheeks flushed, “You’re drooling…”

Robin raised his hand, “When speaking to the head instructor, make sure to think before you speak, otherwise, I’ll spank you again!”

Rhonda subconsciously covered her butt, “Today, the rescue mission at Witcord Peak and the anti– terrorism military operation at Hashville Hotel, we had a blast!”

1. I just wanted to express my... affection for you! Oh, don’t misunderstand, it’s the affection of a comrade–in–arms!”

Robin shrugged, pointing at Timothy, Grady, and others behind Rhonda, “What are you guys doing here in the middle of the night instead of sleeping? Just waiting for me to express the camaraderie of comrades?”

Timothy pointed at Grady, Rhonda, and the others, “Mr. Bruce, they... they insisted on dragging me out for training in the middle of the night. “Training at this hour? Are you crazy?” Robin looked at them.

“Report to Chief Drillmaster, there are twelve days left until the final elimination round of the military competition by the Military Command.”

“This round of competition will determine whether our WSF will survive. We must fight to ensure the preservation of WSF’s number!”

Robin shook his head, “You all should go to sleep now, still working so late, aren’t you practicing tomorrow?”

“But, the competition is too close, we want to put more pressure on ourselves, so we can feel more at ease.” Grady said helplessly.

“No matter what t

final outcome was, at least, we tried our best!”

“Did your best? Feel better?” Robin gave a cold laugh.

“Did you think you would feel at peace by not sleeping like this?”

“Even if you ultimately failed, would you feel that you had fought for WSF?”

Chapter 2475 You’re a Fool!

Grady, Clyde and others nodded, “Yes, chief drillmaster, we always have to give it a shot!”

“Bullshit!” Robin snapped, “This is ostrich behavior!”

“What’s the point of not pursuing the final outcome in everything, just for the sake of peace of mind!”

“If you didn’t hold the belief of certain victory, all efforts would be in vain!”

Timothy, Grady, and others suddenly paused, as if they understood something.

Yes, pretending to work hard, it’s totally meaningless!

Robin looked at their confused faces. waved his hand and said, “Alright, we’ve been busy all day, everyone go rest!”

“Besides working hard, it’s more important to use your brain when doing things, rather than just pretending to work hard.”

“Even something like martial arts, which relies on physical reflexes and skills, requires wisdom!”

“What good could you possibly achieve by brute forcing like this for twelve days?”

"If you wanted to save the WSF, you should have focused on restoring your energy and strength first."

Rhonda frowned and said, "But, our current score is far behind Dragon Soul and LSF."

Chapter 475 You're a Fool

Moreover, the final round was a knockout stage, and we happened to face the two strongest teams from the Seven Military Commands, Dragon Soul and LSF."

"How did we win?"

Robin flicked his eyelids, "A big difference? Isn't there still one round left? There's a chance with one more round!"

"On the battlefield, as long as there was the last breath, there was a chance to kill the enemy!"

"No matter how formidable the opponent was, fighting with one's life, there was always a chance to win!"

"WSF didn't lose in technology, it lost in confidence!"

"If you continue to be so restless, practicing hard just for peace of mind. even if you don't sleep for more than ten days. you still won't be able to reverse the situation of failure!"

"Listen to my command now, everyone go back to sleep! Get up again at eight in the morning! Gather promptly at nine!"

"Yes!" Rhonda and Timothy, along with a few others, immediately ran towards their dormitories.

Robin watched them walk away, and called out towards the shadows of the playground, "Come out!"

Nia shyly walked over from the corner, "You...you found me a long time ago?"

Chapter 475 You're a Fool

Robin glanced at Nia, who was looking down.

Despite the dim lighting on the playground, one could still make out the flushed cheeks of the proud female colonel.

“Yeah, you followed me as I entered the playground. What are you doing on the playground so late?”

Nia stood still, hesitating for quite a while, not daring to approach Robin.

If it hadn't been for the dim light, she would have turned and run away long ago.

I could already feel it, my delicate face was burning red at that moment.

For the first time in my life, I felt uneasy in front of a man.

Born into a prestigious family, my father was also the mayor of Hallcester.

With such superior conditions, there was no man who could make himself nervous.

After the rescue operation at Witcord Peak today, she felt an inexplicable shyness in front of Robin for the first time.

A Colonel-level officer of the Warwolf Special Forces, who was always known for his strict and efficient style.

Now, surprisingly, I was hesitant about how to express my thoughts to Robin.

“Are you planning to squat in the shadows all night?” Robin laughed, seeing Nia reluctant to come out from the corner.

You Nia stomped her foot in anger, not expecting Robin to speak so bluntly:

Didn't consider women's delicate feelings at all.

“I... When did I say I was squatting here all night?”

“I just wanted to tell you, you saved me today, and I am very grateful!”

“If it weren't for you, I would have been ready to perish with those beasts!” Nia stepped forward, closed her eyes, and revealed all her inner thoughts. “I thank you... I've started to like you!”

Oh dear, how... how did I just blurt everything out!

Nia's fair and beautiful face was as shy as a ripe red apple.

She bravely lifted her head. her beautiful eyes full of anticipation as she looked at Robin.

“Huh? Ah! Really?” Robin was also stunned.

“You! You’re such a fool!” Nia, seeing Robin’s stunned expression, stomped her foot in anger and ran headlong towards the dormitory.

Nia sprinted all the way into her dorm, diving straight into her bed!

It took quite a while to calm down a bit.

Thinking about my behavior just now, my heart was pounding, “Oh my, how could I say such a thing today, I’m so embarrassed!”

Chapter 476 Nia Falls for Robin

At nine in the morning.

The sun was shining brightly, with not a cloud in sight for miles.

On the parade ground of Mount Ammo Training Base, 60 members of the Warwolf Special Forces were lined up neatly, looking mighty and formidable.

Rafael, Nia, and Robin stood in front of 60 Warwolf Special Forces members.

The entire playground was filled with a heroic spirit of grand aspirations.

After arranging the line. Rafael turned to Robin and saluted, “Instructor Mr. Bruce, please begin your instruction!”

Nia sneakily glanced at Robin, who stood as straight as a flagpole at the front of the line, her heart pounding wildly.

These past few days, she truly noticed the man who made her heart beat.

Despite having had some fondness for Robin while in Halleester, I couldn’t allow myself to be nervous and awestruck.

After a rescue mission, she was certain that her heart had been taken by Robin.

This was an emotion she had never experienced in twenty years.

She was thinking about getting closer to this enigmatic man, wanting to step into his world, to feel his intoxicating charm more genuinely.

“Brothers of WSF!” Robin stepped forward.

“Since the headquarters assigned me to be your chief drillmaster, the purpose is clear. They want to ensure that WSF can retain its number in the final round of the grand military competition. This is a requirement given to me by the military command.”

“But, this requirement was too low for me!”

“In my dictionary, there have always been only champions and winners!”

“Because, as a soldier, if you’re not a champion, not a victor, then it’s death!”

“This was the law of the strong!”

“This was even more so the iron law of the battlefield!”

“I had heard about the history of WSF, it used to be the chief squad of the military command! This was the glory of WSF!”

“But, in just a few years, how did WSF become so destitute as it is today?”

“This was the disgrace of WSF! It was also your disgrace!”

“Some of you experienced a brutal rescue operation yesterday.”

“The four brothers of WSF sacrificed themselves for the honor of WSF!”

“I hoped that you all could muster the spirit of fighting with your lives on the line, to accomplish the final counterattack in this grand military competition!"

"Back then, you held the ashes of the heroes, returning them to their hometown."

"Let the relatives of the fallen comrades also enjoy the immortal glory brought to them by the heroes!"

"But, if this military contest was lost. the WSF's code would be gone, and the four deceased brothers would ultimately become homeless wandering spirits!"

"Did you want to see such an ending?"

"Back then, how did you explain to your brother's relatives?!"

In an instant, the roar of 60 WSF brothers resounded across the vast playground.

"For the honor of WSF. we were ready to fight with our lives!"

Rafael and Nia were also inspired by Robin's words.

Looking at the comrades on the entire playground with passion burning. they excitedly clenched their fists!

This was a passionate scene that hadn't been seen in a long time.

After letting them boil for a while. Robin pressed his hand down. "Remember, brothers of WSF, from now on you only have one goal, to defeat Dragon Soul and LSF, and restore the former glory of WSF!"

"What I wanted to emphasize was, setting goals, you can't just blindly forge ahead!"

"Last night, someone wanted to train instead of sleeping, which was a wrong approach!"

"Any competition, any battle required using your brain!"

"All of you are elites drawn from various units. I believe that before you entered the WSF, you all went through a brutal selection process of overcoming numerous obstacles, and finally became a member of the Warwolf Special Forces."

“What does this mean? It means that your basic skills have reached the standard of an excellent special forces member!”

“If that’s the case, why did WSF lose so badly in every martial arts competition?”

“Actually, you lost because of a lack of confidence!”

“Therefore, during these last twelve days, we made an adjustment focusing on this matter of technicality and belief?”

“If the outcome of anything was not satisfactory, it must have been due to incorrect thinking.”

“If the approach is wrong, you need to stop and adjust!”

“The direction of effort was wrong, stopping was moving forward!”

Next, Robin gave a detailed explanation of his concept of a champion.

Chapter 476 Nia Falls for Robin

All morning, all the WSF team members were working hard to change their original combat thinking.

Under Robin’s guidance, they understood.

The reason why champions became champions was because every champion had a champion’s mindset.

Robin’s morning mental training transformed the weary faces of 60 WSF team members in no time, with each soldier undergoing a complete metamorphosis.

The training had ended. and Nia had specifically gone to the small cafeteria to prepare two good dishes for Robin.

A dish of honey glazed braised pork, a plate of spicy beef

Robin had just walked into the restaurant when Nia. carrying dishes, ran over from behind. “Come with me to the private room.”

“Uh, a private room?” Robin looked at Nia’s posture, as if she was his own daughter-in-law.

Nia pulled Robin aside. “I had the master chef cook two separate dishes just for you.”

“Are you giving me special treatment?” Robin only then noticed the two bowls of delicious food in Nia’s hands.

Nia grumbled angrily. “It’s not favoritism. you’re the chief drillmaster. you should enjoy such treatment!”

“Let’s go, it won’t taste good once it cools down.”

Na Faktor Robin

Watching Robin daydreaming. Nia gave him a kick, “Hurry up, you’re killing me with impatience!”

Robin paused, was this the arrogant Colonel Finley?

“Hurry up, you’re killing me!” Rhonda mimicked Nia’s tone, running up from behind.

“The cafeteria was a bit biased today. Mr. Bruce’s dish was different from ours!”

Rhonda leaned over to look at the dish in Nia’s hand. “Braised pork, my favorite! I also want to eat meat!”

“Didn’t you have meat in your bowl?” Nia quickly dodged away.

“The meat in my bowl was not tasty. I wanted to eat Mr. Bruce’s meat!”

“Go away! You’re not a fairy, and Robin isn’t a god! You can’t cat him!” Nia pushed Rhonda away and, pulling Robin along, dashed into the private room as if fleeing.

Robin was pulled into the private room by her, and Nia immediately locked the door from the inside.

Robin looked at Nia and laughed. “Why do I feel like a thief just for having a meal?”

“Don’t mind her, this one was spoiled at the Londraland Security Agency!” Nia craned her neck to check outside the window, making sure no one was there.

Then, he personally picked up a piece of braised pork and brought it to

"I wanted it too!"

Nia's hand, holding the meat, trembled for a moment.

Glancing sideways, she saw a pair of wolf-like eyes on the glass window of the private room, staring at the braised pork in her hand.

"Rhonda, are you done yet?!"

"Nia, I want to eat braised pork too!" Rhonda whined, pressing her face against the glass.

"No, this was specifically ordered for Mr. Bruce!" Nia ignored her and quickly fed Robin the braised pork..

Robin hadn't managed to swallow the first piece of meat yet.

Nia's second piece of meat was stuffed in again. almost suffocating

Robin.

"Cough, cough!" Robin choked, "Stop, stop, stop..."

"If you stuffed any more meat into my mouth, you would have choked me to death!"

"Were you serving me meat or stuffing a sausage?"

Nia turned around, only then did she notice that Robin's mouth was full of red meat!

"Oh, oh, oh, cat up, eat up!" Nia, seeing Robin's mouth stuffed full of meat, poked her fork inside again.

"Once Rhonda came in. there was nothing left for you to eat, she was a wolf!"

Robin hastily removed Nia's hand. "You can't just stuff your meat into my mouth as if it's a hole."

Nia glanced at the face pressed against the window glass, urging, "Oh, oh, oh, I got it."

“Robin, I went to open the door for that guy, it’s not good for her to keep shouting outside like this.”

“Alright, eat quickly!” Nia said, her eyes darting towards the window.

“I didn’t eat a bite, and you hurriedly stuffed several pieces of fatty meat into my mouth. I didn’t even taste it, your meat was stuck in my throat.

Nia looked at Robin, his mouth smeared with oil, and laughed awkwardly, “Sorry, you should wipe your mouth first.”

“Nia, do I also want to eat meat?” Rhonda shouted from outside.

“This guy, so annoying!” Nia glared out the window, and reluctantly opened the door to the private room.

“Wow! There are still some pieces of meat left, I ate them all!” Rhonda pulled the braised pork in front of Robin to herself.

Nia muttered, “Lucky little dog.”

“Hmph! I don’t care, say whatever you want about me, as long as I have meat to eat!” Rhonda ignored everything else, quickly finishing off the braised pork in her bowl in just a few bites.

“Eat, eat! Eat until you become a pig!” Nia said, rolling her eyes at Rhonda who was wolfing down her food.

Rhonda looked at Nia’s annoyed expression and started laughing, “Colonel Finley, getting as upset as a little girl over a few pieces of

At that moment, a Major stood at the door and reported, “Mr. Bruce, General Allen and Major General Vargas are waiting for you in the base’s war room. Please go there after lunch.”

“Alright, I’ll be ready soon, let them wait for a while.”

Robin finished his meal, turned around, and left the private dining room of the restaurant.

Rhonda leaned in close to Nia and whispered. “Colonel Finley, is Robin your boyfriend? Judging by the way you two were just now, it’s as if you wanted to stuff your own flesh into his mouth.”

At this point, Rhonda deliberately looked at Nia’s pride.

Nia understood what Rhonda meant, her face instantly turning red. “You little devil! If you dare to talk nonsense again, I’ll punish you with a thirty-kilometer weighted cross-country run!”

Rhonda laughed, lying back against Nia’s chest, “From your expression. I could tell you liked Mr. Bruce!”

“Rhonda, are you full and just talking nonsense? If you keep this up, I won’t give you any of my meat!”

Rhonda nudged against Nia’s chest, “Not feeding me, but feeding Mr. Bruce?”

“You... you dare!” Nia’s face turned red with anger.

“Haha... Look, you’ve spoken your true feelings, haven’t you? I’m not. lying to you, if you don’t make a move soon, I’m really going to start. making advances on Mr. Bruce!” Rhonda said, laughing as she chewed on her braised pork.

“I’m done talking to you. If you, little imp, dare to mess around, see how I’ll deal with you!” Nia’s face turned beet red as she bolted out of the private room.

After running for a while. I realized that I had actually ended up at the place where I had spoken with Robin the night before.

Thinking about everything that had happened, Nia covered her face and murmured. “Oh dear, it’s so embarrassing that people have noticed such things!”

Ignacio spoke, “The military command headquarters has approved the martyr status for the four fallen soldiers of the Warwolf Special Forces”

“According to the wills left by the four martyrs, they wished for their ashes to be sent back to their hometown for burial after their sacrifice”

“According to the agreement at the headquarters, the remains of the fallen soldiers were buried in the Martyrs Cemetery, the ashes of the martyrs were sent back to their hometowns, and the local government was asked to properly arrange the cemetery issue

“At that time, all the officers and soldiers of WSP, along with representatives from each battalion of the special operations brigade, escorted the spirit of the martyrs home together

“This ceremony was to be held after the military competition

“All members of WSP if able to participate in this ceremony of escorting the hero home, must be those who have retained their numbers.”

Otherwise, the ceremony could only be performed by other teams

“At that time, there were two teams in such a situation.”

“WSF was facing an extremely severe test.”

“There were twelve days left until the final round of the martial arts competition.”

“The military command headquarters was to conduct a briefing and supplement on the rules of this round of competition in the war room of the Mapleford command post.”

“Some activities such as parachuting and water crossing in the wild were temporarily cancelled. only competitions regarding individual combat. abilities were held.”

“The headquarters considered that in past international military competitions, the weakest aspect was the individual combat ability. which was the shortcoming of the Londraland military commands.”

“Therefore, the Military Command headquarters had definitively decided that the final round of elimination assessment would only be based on these two individual abilities.”

“At that time. Lieutenant General Swanson would attend.”

Ignacio said up to this point, looking at Robin, “Mr. Bruce, I’m entrusting WSF to you.”

After speaking, Randall and Ignacio stood up and walked towards the outside of the conference room.

Robin called out to Randall, “Randall, you stop right there!”

Several people were stunned.

Randall glanced at Robin, signaling for Ignacio, Rafael, and others to leave.

Robin stared at Randall’s small eyes for quite a while, making Randall feel a bit uneasy.

“Why... why were you staring at me?”

“Why are you staring at me?” Robin’s face darkened, “Are you investigating me?”

Randall’s eyes lit up before he could respond, only to suddenly see a terrifying murderous intent burst forth from Robin’s eyes.

“Do you know the consequences of investigating me?”

Chapter 478 Mark My Words

An overwhelming sense of intimidation, which was suffocating, suddenly enveloped Robin.

For the first time in all these years, Randall felt the suffocating sensation of being overwhelmed by someone’s imposing presence.

This sense of urgency and suffocation, Randall had only experienced it on Lord Wyvern and Lord Wyvern Jr. in the past.

Few people could intimidate him to such a great extent.

Robin watched the changing expressions on Randall’s face, suddenly chuckled, “Old man, scared you, didn’t I?”

Only then did Randall breathe a sigh of relief.

He rolled his eyes and pouted, “You scared me. Your momentum just now seemed like you were going to kill me.”

Randall had just let out a sigh of relief, a small smile finally squeezing onto his face.

Suddenly, Robin's face turned pale, "Did I scare you? Then why were you investigating me?"

"Do you know where the people who investigated me ended up?"

"I told you, they all reported to the Grim Reaper!"

Imagining Robin's expression, a surge of hope suddenly ignited in Randall's heart.

Perhaps it really was him!

He treated everything as if it were a piece of cake.

It seemed there was nothing in this world that he couldn't control.

It was so similar!

It was just too similar!

Ignacio returned to the operations room, looking at Randall's blank expression, "General Allen, what's wrong with you?"

Randall then realized that he had already been standing in the operations room for nearly 20 minutes.

Ignacio looked at Randall's sweat-soaked shirt front, "What did he say to you, General Allen?"

Randall shook his head, "He didn't say anything, but, he did remind me."

Having said that, he immediately sent out a message, "Stop all investigations about Robin!"

For Robin, this was an extremely dangerous operation.

Did Robin tell me these things as a reminder?

Randall fell into deep thought...

Eight o'clock the next morning.

Rafael, Timothy, Robin, Rhonda, Nia, Grady and others, drove three jeep combat vehicles towards the military command headquarters in Mapleford.

After a journey of an hour and a half, they arrived at their destination.

The special forces of the seven military commands had also arrived early at the headquarters command building.

Robin and the others had just entered the command building when they encountered representatives from the Dragon Soul and LSF special combat squads.

The first warrior of Dragon Soul, Rodolfo, stood in front of Rafael and Timothy: "Mr. Harvey, Colonel Griffith. I heard that you got a new chief drillmaster yesterday, who directly contradicted our battalion commander on the spot. Pretty impressive, huh? Which unit was that chief drillmaster transferred from?"

Rafael said coldly. "Rodolfo, what are you trying to do?"

Rodolfo said with a smile. "Mr. Harvey. I don't want to do anything. I just want to see what kind of person would dare to contradict our Senior Colonel Schneider's chief drillmaster."

Rodolfo walked up to Robin and took a look at him: "So you're Mr. Bruce? Judging by your youthful appearance, are you the son of some leader?"

"WSF is almost obsolete, what are you guys doing here today? Are you looking for embarrassment?"

With a "smack", Robin slapped Rodolfo on the shoulder.

Rodolfo's legs gave way, and he almost sat down on the ground.

"A puny colonel dares to bluster in front of me?" Robin said coldly.

Timothy said coldly, "Rodolfo, this is General Bruce, the chief drillmaster specially approved by the headquarters. How dare you behave so recklessly in front of the general!"

Rodolfo went to carry out another task yesterday, not knowing that Robin was a Brigadier General.

He was immediately stunned, the soldier beside him told him that Timothy was right.

He had no choice but to stand at attention and salute. "I'm sorry, General Bruce, I didn't know your identity.

“General Bruce, although your rank is higher than mine, I would like to compete with you on the stage in the military competition 11 days from now.”

Timothy stepped forward and said, “Rodolfo, General Bruce is the chief drillmaster, you are not worthy to challenge him!”

“Get lost! The chief drillmaster was not allowed to participate in the war!”

Christopher stepped forward and said. “Today, we are here to discuss the rules for the final elimination round.”

“The chief drillmaster was also a soldier of the special operations brigade, I believed he was eligible to compete.”

It was clear from Christopher’s statement that he hoped Robin would participate in the Warwolf Special Forces competition as the chief drillmaster.

Robin ignored him and headed straight upstairs.

Christopher glanced at the stern-faced Rafael across from him and chuckled, “Mr. Harvey, the annual military competition and the triennial knockout tournament of the military command, I believe these rules should be adjusted a bit.”

“If a team was disbanded due to insufficient overall scores, and all members were transferred to other professions, it would be quite a waste of talent.”

Rafael raised an eyebrow, “What do you mean, Senior Colonel Schneider?”

“What I meant was, for this final round of our elimination competition, the single combat should be considered as the most important assessment item.”

“That is, after the overall competition of our various war zones ended, all core team members had another round of arena competition.”

Christopher gave a dry laugh, "Colonel Finley, with Dragon Soul's current strength, how could we possibly be eliminated? Besides, we are the ones being challenged now."

Nia said coldly, "Your suggestion is not without merit, but we have already made one."

"Since it was a challenge match, then, if the challenged party failed, they must be disqualified!"

"This kind of individual competition allowed us to retain some of the excellent members from the challenged team, leaving them at the disposal of our Warwolf Special Forces for selection."

Rodolfo laughed, "Colonel Finley, are you implying that WSF will definitely succeed in the challenge this time?"

Nia was momentarily speechless, her delicate face flushed with anger.

Because what Rodolfo said was true, his personal combat ability was extremely strong.

Indeed, no one could rival the Warwolf Special Forces.

Rodolfo turned to Bryan, the captain of the Leopard Special Forces next to him, and Brad, the most formidable figure in the LSF, and said arrogantly with a smile. "Mr. Parks, Colonel Welch, am I right or not?"

Bryan nodded and chuckled.

Neither confirmed nor denied.

Upon hearing their blatant contempt for WSF, Rafael's face turned livid with anger.

From their words, it was known that Dragon Soul and LSF had already started to divide the elites of WSF yesterday.

This was slapping his face, and also slapping the faces of everyone in

WSF.

Indeed, it was the case.

If the status of WSF remained this low, the result of being eliminated was inevitable.

his hands and forcefully hit him right on the forehead.

With a loud “bang“, Rodolfo’s burly body dramatically fell backwards onto the ground.

Everyone in the combat meeting room was suddenly startled.

A few days ago, I heard that a chief drillmaster had arrived at WSF, who was said to be quite aloof.

Unexpectedly, still so arrogant!

Christopher’s face darkened and his lips twitched, but he dared not say anything.

A lump as big as an egg had formed on Rodolfo’s forehead.

He struggled for a while before he managed to get up from the ground,. defiantly saying, “Reporting to the officer. it’s against the rules for a superior to hit and scold a subordinate!”

Robin pointed at Rhonda, “Colonel Chavez. tell him! In military command discipline, how is insubordination and mockery of superiors punished?”

Rhonda immediately stood up from her seat, “Reporting to the superior officer, insubordination and mockery of superiors by subordinate officers can be punished by execution under wartime discipline! In non–war times, they can be brought to a military court, discharged, confined, and so on!”

Robin looked at Rodolfo indifferently, “You defied this general, how should I punish you! Should I execute you by firing squad or make you take off these clothes?”

The war room suddenly became as silent as the wilderness.

It was then that everyone truly understood, this Mr. Bruce was a general!

Rodolfo, no matter how capable you were.

He was nothing more than a little colonel who had just entered the ranks of intermediate officers.

If it escalated to the point of belittling the general, the consequences would be extremely severe!

At that moment, Rodolfo's face turned pale with fright...

own comrades, this is the greatest disgrace for a soldier!"

"Listen to my command, all four of you line up in front of the door!"

Bryan, Brad, Christopher, and Rodolfo immediately ran to the front of the door, standing in a straight line.

"This time, I'm giving you a chance! In eleven days, if you can't completely defeat WSF, all of you can get lost!"

At that time, Commander Preston of the Military Command, accompanied by Arturo and Ignacio, entered the war room.

Preston looked at the four Christophers standing in a row in front of the door.

He thought they were lined up waiting for him, gesturing for several people to come in for a meeting, "Alright, everyone come in."

Christopher, Bryan, Rodolfo, and Brad were all nervously looking at Robin.

Preston didn't know what was going on, "What are you guys still standing there for?"

Christopher, Rodolfo, and others were still looking at Robin.

Robin hung his head in silence, the conference room was completely quiet.

Preston, Ignacio, and others furrowed their brows, not understanding what had happened.

Robin said coldly, "This is your last chance, everyone take your positions!"

"Yes!" The four people immediately marched back to their seats.

This scene left Preston in a state of constant bewilderment.

"Christopher, what were you guys doing?" Preston asked.

Christopher stood up and said, "Reporting to Commander Ning, General Bruce was giving us a speech!"

"Alright, very good, everyone take a seat." Preston nodded, picking up the teacup from the table and taking a few sips.

At that moment, Rhonda, carrying a thermos, made a cup of tea for Robin, "Mr. Bruce, please have some water!"

Preston looked at Rhonda and nodded, then turned to Arturo beside him and said, "Not bad, Roy's daughter is very diligent, not a bit like a spoiled young lady!"

He took a few more sips of the tea in his cup, then lifted his water glass, signaling Rhonda to add some hot water for him.

Rhonda turned a blind eye and returned to her seat.

Preston was looking at the documents in front of him while saying, "Colonel Chavez, pour ne a glass of water."

Rhonda inexplicably said, "Why should I pour water for you? Don't you have your own bodyguards? I can't overstep my authority."

Timothy next to her almost sat on the ground

After all, she was the daughter of Chief Chavez of Londraland Security Agency, even the commander's water wouldn't spill.

The guard at the headquarters immediately filled a cup of water for him.

Preston glanced at Rhonda, who was slightly taken aback, then exchanged a smile with Arturo, "Alright, let's have a meeting!"

"Yesterday, based on the recommendations reported by the special forces. of the seven military commands, the headquarters conducted at comprehensive assessment of the rules for the final round of military competitions, forming the following orders."

"Group A, Warwolf Special Forces challenged the mar winners of the previous three rounds, Dragon Soul and LSF. If the challenge was successful, WSF would retain their number, if not, the number would be cancelled!"

"The Tigers, who were at the bottom of Group B, challenged the third, fourth, and fifth place teams. The challenge rules were the same as Group A."

"The Warwolf Special Forces proposed a new suggestion: if the challenging party succeeds in this challenge and the challenged party fails, there will be another contest between the challenged parties. The losing party will also have their number cancelled!"

Meanwhile, in order to retain some excellent elites, the special forces members whose numbers were cancelled, if they wished to rejoin, could apply for assessment to the military command after the entire Original competition was over.

Christopher immediately stood up and said, "Excuse me, I have a different opinion!"

"Why was the challenged party's number also cancelled after they failed?"

Nia stood up and said, "Senior Colonel Schneider, if you won once on the battlefield, can you guarantee that you would win a second time?"

“Since it’s a knockout challenge, whoever loses will be eliminated.. There’s nothing to question about that!”

Arturo gestured for them to sit down, “This rule has been carefully evaluated by the headquarters. It has now become an order and is no longer up for debate!”

“Additionally, the headquarters decided that any member of the Special Operations Brigade, including the Chief Drillmaster and the Brigade Commander, were eligible to participate in the challenge arena competition.”

“This was also to train our special forces squad, so that when your team faced a matter of life and death, all members could pull together.”

Christopher, Rodolfo, and the others instinctively looked at Robin, a glimmer of expectation flashing in their eyes.

Hehe, when the day of the elimination round came. we would dominate you on the stage. let’s see how you would suppress us with your officer status then!
