

The Lethal Love Hunter

Chapter 6

Chapter 6 Harold's Wrath

In the silent but warm hall, the atmosphere was intense.

Everyone could tell his anger from Harold's words.

Alex's legs went weak, and he fell.

Miranda also shook dizzily.

The Brown family and all the guests took a tumble.

They noticed a detail!

The Huber family actually had something to do with Robin!

Was the Brown family wrong about the Bruce family's status?

Maybe the Bruce family was not as bad as they had imagined!

Otherwise, Harold and Karina wouldn't have taken Robin's side.

The Huber family did so probably because the Bruce family was even stronger than the Huber family! It made the Brown family nervous.

People heard about how Harold built up his wealth and power.

It was said that he killed many people. He was as cruel as Conway Lambert, the Underground Demon King! All the people against the Huber family had disappeared.

If Harold was mad enough to decide to destroy the Brown family and the Walsh family... He didn't even need to do it himself.

He just needed to leak the news, and then other families would jump at them.

They could destroy the Brown family easily!

“What should we do? Robin knows the Huber family! Surprising!”

“Ms. Huber and Mr. Huber even support him in public. They even threatened the Brown family and the Walsh family for him!” “I should have made friends with him to get closer to the Huber family!”

The guests changed their minds at once. They kept a distance from the Brown family subconsciously. And they approached Robin and the Huber family secretly with flattering eyes.

Harold spoke just now.

It was up to Robin if the two families would be destroyed.

If Robin was mad at their offense, they would be in trouble!

Alex was on the ground. Miranda was in a daze. And the Brown family was terrified. They looked at Robin with complex feelings like criminals waiting for their sentence.

The man who got humiliated by them was now controlling their lives!

Robin took a wipe from the waiter to wipe his hand and then threw it at Jacob.

He smiled coldly, “Never mind. Just a low life. It’s not worth it!”

The Brown family was relieved.

Harold sneered, “Now that Mr. Bruce decided to let it go, we would let you off!”

“How dare you humiliate my guest?”

“I hate snobbish and ungrateful people who break their promises!”

“You were not grateful to Mr. Bruce for his help and even humiliated him!”

“You snobbish people don’t deserve to have me as your guest!”

“Rubbish! If you do this again, I will destroy you!”

Harold’s words were terrifying. Everyone on site was scared.

They had never seen Harold get so mad before.

The Brown family didn't dare to look at Harold, let alone speak.

They were nothing in front of him!

If Harold wanted to destroy the Brown family, it would be a piece of cake.

They humiliated Robin proudly.

But now, they lowered their heads, not daring to make a sound.

The sudden change made the Brown family annoyed!

Why could Robin become an honored guest to the Huber family?

Alex and Miranda frowned in confusion!

Meanwhile, they were mad.

But they didn't dare to do anything.

Harold's anger could be dangerous!

They couldn't take it!

If they had known Robin's background, they would have agreed to marry Miranda to him! Then the Brown family would be able to take advantage of the Huber family and prosper! However, there was such an accident!

Harold blacklisted the Brown family in anger!

It made Miranda annoyed!

Robin was just a poor guy. But Harold and Karina took him as an honored guest! And he seemed so proud and disdainful!

It was unacceptable!

Miranda thought, "How dare he look down on me?"

She believed that Robin was just throwing his weight around.

Without the Huber family, Robin was nothing!

Miranda was angry.

But she swallowed her anger at the thought of the park project.

She stepped forward to bow to Harold and Karina. “Mr. Huber, Ms. Huber, don’t be mad, please. It was a mistake. We didn’t know he was your guest.

“If we had known this, we wouldn’t have done this.” Harold ignored her. Miranda thought Harold was no longer mad when he was silent.

Then she looked at Karina and said with respect, “Ms. Huber, now that there is no misunderstanding, let’s go to the box on the second floor.

“I really want to talk about the park project with you. We want to work with you.”

Karina didn’t even look at Miranda and said coldly, “I have no time!”

Miranda paused. Her delicate and fair face turned red!

She was rejected by Karina in front of so many big shots in Hallcester! It was embarrassing! Then Karina walked to Robin, staring at him with his beautiful eyes.

Robin felt as if he had been watched by a wolf. It was creepy.

In fact, Karina overshadowed Miranda in terms of height, shape, appearance, and temperament. Her beautiful eyes were staring at him.

It moved Robin.

“Robin, I want you to be my...”

Chapter 7

Chapter 7 Miranda Is Nothing

Robin heard Karina’s words come out of her seductive lips, and he felt his heart skip a beat as he grabbed his collar. He was trying to tell Karina that he had his bottom line.

The unexpected scene startled the guests who came to the Brown's house for the New Year's party. Karina was from the Huber family.

She was Harold's only granddaughter, the president of the Huber Group, and the most gorgeous woman in all of Hallcester. What was she doing?

Karina looked as if she...

"Robin, can you be my boyfriend?" Karina said bluntly, blushing and blinking.

Everyone was exclaiming at the hall.

Karina showed affection to Robin in public.

Robin was a poor man whom Miranda canceled her engagement with.

How could Robin win Karina's heart?

Miranda froze in the hall, feeling extremely awkward.

She wanted to stab Robin to death.

The New Year's party held by the Brown family was supposed to be her stage.

She was supposed to be in the limelight.

But the bastard Robin ruined everything.

More upsettingly, Robin was viewed as a distinguished guest by the Huber family.

It happened right after she canceled her engagement with him.

Karina confessed her love to him in front of everyone.

Was Miranda being stupid and ruining her upcoming glory?

No way!

Miranda thought she was never wrong.

Robin was dressed shabbily and seemed shy, which didn't make himself worthy of her.

Miranda was determined to become a powerful woman like Cecilia, the president of Purpeak International Group. Miranda had her guess.

It must be Robin, the despicable little man, who used some deceitful means to gain the trust of the Huber family. He deceived Harold and gained his trust.

Harold and Karina were cheated.

She thought, "Huh, Robin!

"When one day the Huber family realizes you're a liar...

"You'll die miserably."

However, such an incredible scene still shocked the guests at the party.

Especially the rich young men.

They were cursing Robin in their heart.

Damn, he was so lucky.

Karina showed affection to him in public.

Why didn't such a good thing happen to them?

Even though they were thinking it, none of them had the guts to say something out of line.

They looked at Robin with horror.

The fact was...

Regardless of Robin's identity...

If he became Karina's husband, he would be a dominating man in Hallcester.

However, the even more blood-boiling plot continued to thicken.

Robin looked at Karina, paused for a while, and said, "I can't promise you right now. Let's talk about it later." Damn!

People at the party wanted to throw wine bottles at him together.

Could Robin stop pretending?

He would be punished for his words.

Miranda was slack-jawed out of surprise.

Robin tore apart her check worth 160 thousand in front of everyone.

And now he even didn't agree to be Karina's boyfriend.

How could he possibly say "Let's talk about it later"?

Robin was bluffing, wasn't he?

Everyone was stunned.

This was a hallucination, right?

Karina was rarely seen in public. She had a lofty image.

She was indifferent to anyone.

To be able to meet her, see her smile, or say a word to her needed the luck to win a lottery ticket. No one dared to dream about being her boyfriend.

Moreover...

Karina's husband would be second to none in Hallcester.

Did Robin hear what he said?

When everyone thought Karina would be furious...

She smiled softly and nodded. "Alright. I'll wait for your answer."

Geez!

What was going on?

Robin was like an idiot. How could the goddess of Hallcester accept him?

She seemed to be happy.

How could it be?

No one would believe it if they hadn't seen it with their own eyes tonight.

Moreover...

Robin ignored Karina's feelings and the surrounding people. He walked out of the door. Karina obediently followed behind him and walked out of the hall with him.

Harold watched the scene and laughed. "Good! Perfect! Huh-huh!"

Surrounded by Mark and other bodyguards, Harold also walked out.

What happened to the powerful Huber family?

Did you wake up on the wrong side of the bed today?

Why were they so humble in front of a trash like Robin?

The Huber family acted as if Robin was showing mercy to them by not denying Karina. Standing in the crowd, Miranda looked lonely and depressed.

Robin's words and actions humiliated her and her family.

His words...

He meant he didn't even care about Karina's love.

In his eyes, Miranda was nothing.

Karina was the most beautiful woman in Hallcester. Everyone thought she was like a goddess. Whether in terms of family background or appearance, Miranda was inferior to Karina. Did the Bruce family turn into a dominating rich family?

Otherwise, why would the Huber family respect Robin so much?

Was Miranda wrong?

“Miranda, don’t be angry. He’s just a clown who's got lucky,” Jacob said sternly. He stood up from the ground and walked to Miranda's side.

“He must have set up a trap to gain the trust of the Huber family. His scheme will be exposed sooner or later. “Today, the bastard humiliated me. The Walsh family will never let go of him. “A poor bumpkin! We Walsh family can make a slight move and kill him with ease.”

Chapter 8 It’s Critical for the Huber Family

Chapter 8

Chapter 8 It’s Critical for the Huber Family

Seeing that Miranda was still depressed, Jacob wiped the blood from the corner of his mouth and continued, “Miranda, are you unhappy because of the Eastern Business District project?

“Don’t worry. My dad has started to get in touch with Cecilia from Purpeak International Group.

“She said that she can give us a share of more than 1 billion for cooperation for the project.

“I will talk to Ms. Decker and ask if we can give 30% of our share to the Brown family.

“As you know, Purpeak International Group is the largest shareholder of the Eastern Business District project.” Miranda’s eyes lit up when she heard so.

Cecilia from Purpeak International Group was as popular as the Underground Demon King Conway in Hallcester. Cecilia was Miranda’s goddess.

After she was in charge of the Brown Group, Miranda was determined to become a woman like Cecilia.

Back then, Purpeak International Group just opened its market in Hallcester. Conway tried to suppress its development. In less than a month.

Conway failed to suppress Purpeak International Group's development by all means.

Instead, he was forced to apologize to Miranda and promised to keep peace with Purpeak International Group. Purpeak International Group thrived in Hallcester.

Cecilia became the most mysterious, charming woman in Hallcester.

Miranda said in doubt, “Mr. Walsh, you mean your family is in touch with Ms. Decker from Purpeak International Group?”

Jacob was stunned for a while and smiled. “Yes. So, Miranda, we don’t have to fear the Huber family, let alone a poor man from a lower status like Robin.”

The guests at the party were also shocked to learn this.

Cecilia from Purpeak International Group.

She kept a low profile in Hallcester. She was mysterious and yet dominating.

She was unfathomable.

In front of Cecilia, the Huber family didn’t dare to say they ruled the business circle in Hallcester. The Walsh family was in touch with her.

It looked like the Walsh family was powerful enough in Hallcester.

The Brown family sighed in relief.

Miranda’s mother Julia cheered up and recovered from her fear.

“Ms. Decker from Purpeak International Group is somebody!

“Jacob, Miranda and we Brown family are counting on your family.

“When we cooperate with Purpeak International Group, Robin will no longer be proud in front of our family.” A smile gradually spread across Miranda’s face.

She sneered in her heart and thought, “Robin, you are rude, uncultivated. You thought you would be awesome after you were close to the Huber family?

That's ridiculous.

You won't be as good as Jacob.

Don't even think of raising your head in front of me.

I'll become a queen like Cecilia from Purpeak International Group.

By then, I'll ask you to kneel and beg for mercy if you dare to ignore me.”

After leaving the Brown Group, Harold quickly caught up with Robin and respectfully said, “Mr. Bruce, please get in my car!” Robin stopped.

He intended to say no, but he saw Harold and Karina's sincerity.

Back at the Brown family's party, they stood up for him.

For Robin's good, Karina summoned her courage to confess her love to him.

She boosted Robin's confidence.

Robin didn't need this. But the Huber family was of integrity.

“If it were not for you, Mr. Bruce, Karina might have been hurt.

“Mr. Bruce, you're our savior. I'd be willing to give all our assets to you to show my thanks.

“From then on, Mr. Bruce is the most honored guest of my family. You can take any property of the Huber family at any time. Everyone in the Huber family will obey your orders.

“What my granddaughter said at the party is not a white lie, nor is it purely to vent anger for you. “That's her real thought, and we Huber family agrees. Please think about it carefully, Mr. Bruce.” At this moment, the blush on Karina's face instantly spread to her fair ears. She shyly avoided Robin's eyes.

Robin smiled indifferently. “It was nothing that | rescued you before. | just happened to see you in trouble. It didn't cost me much effort.”

Harold took a step forward and bowed again. “Mr. Bruce, please wait a moment. | have another request. Could you please get in the car and we can talk about it? | will tell you everything in detail. It's critical for the Huber family.”

Robin wanted to refuse and leave, but Karina begged, “Mr. Bruce, the people who kidnapped me listened to the enemy of the Huber family back then.

“That enemy came back this time to destroy the Huber family. Mr. Bruce, we hope you can help us. Otherwise, our Huber family might not be able to escape this catastrophe.”

Robin frowned. “I ... don’t want to get involved in your grievances.”

Harold was startled for a moment. He had no choice but to nod his head. “Mr. Bruce, I won't insist if you don't want to. “It's snowing heavily tonight, and it's already so late. Mr. Bruce, please stay at the Huber's house for one night. It won't be late for you to leave tomorrow.”

Robin looked at the flying snow. At this moment, there were almost no taxis on the street.

Enzo's villa was still some distance away. It was situated beside Crescent Lake in the east of the city.

Robin said reluctantly, “Okay then, Mr. Huber, I'll stay at your place for one night.”

Harold breathed a sigh of relief and immediately invited Robin into his car.

After getting in the car, Harold sat in the front row. He deliberately let Robin sit in the back seat with Karina beside him. A pleasant fragrance wafted into Robin's nostrils.

Robin couldn't help but glance at Karina beside him. If he said he wasn't moved, he would be lying.

He had met a lot of women.

But Karina was like a pure goddess. She wasn't like any other secular woman.

She was innocent and delicate.

Karina blushed under Robin's gaze.

When she was about to thank him, Robin closed his eyes and settled himself into the seat.

Karina and Harold shut up when they saw Robin reluctant to talk.

After around a quarter.

The car just entered the mountain road leading to the Huber's villa. It suddenly stopped.

Due to the slippery road on snowy days, the vehicles of Harold's bodyguard convoy collided instantly.

"Mr. Huber, they are killers hired by Nelson Kermode!"

Mark immediately led more than a dozen bodyguards to protect the car Harold and the others were riding in.

"There are about four gunmen. Mr. Huber, let's call the police for help!"

Harold frowned tightly. "It's too late. Even if we call the police, everything will be over after they arrive..."

Chapter 9

Chapter 9 Killers of Death Mongers

Robin slowly opened his eyes. He checked the situation outside the car through the gaps between the bodyguards. Harold's convoy was surrounded by these killers.

Judging from the killers' position, they were much more professional and fiercer than those who kidnapped Karina before. "Mr. Huber, how much hatred is there between you? Hiring so many ruthless killers?"

"Judging from their equipment and posture, your enemy has spent a lot of money.

"The killers he hired would require tens of millions of commissions."

Harold shook his head bitterly. "Mr. Bruce, this is my doom.

"Back then, Nelson and I were good friends.

"When we were younger, we built our industry with our iron fists.

"Both of us fell in love with Ashley. She is Karina's grandma.

“Ashley married me, and my friendship with Nelson came to an end because of this.

“Once, Nelson took advantage of my business trip in Europe to rape Ashley. He kidnapped her and planned to take her out of the country.

“Ashley couldn’t bear the humiliation and committed suicide.

“After learning about it, I stopped him from the border.

“In fury, I killed his younger brother and broke his legs.

“At that time, due to our friendship, I let Nelson go and told him to never set foot in Londraland.

“But thirty years later, the bastard came back to seek revenge...

“Bang!” Robin pushed Harold and rolled out of the car with Karina in his arms.

“Everyone, get down!” Holding Karina with one hand, Robin lifted the Mercedes he was in with the other hand.

According to Robin’s instructions, bodyguards of the Huber family covered Harold, got out of the car, and crouched behind the erected car.

At this moment, Robin suddenly felt something strange in his right hand...

Karina also sensed something was wrong. She hurriedly pushed Robin away.

The blush on Karina's face instantly spread to her tender and fair neck.

Robin looked at his palm and muttered, “So big?”

Karina understood what he meant. She pushed Robin angrily.

Robin slipped and rolled out of the car’s shelter.

Another silenced bullet flew over.

Robin tilted his head, and the bullet whizzed past his ear.

The killers were immediately startled by Robin’s skill.

He dodged two deadly bullets?

The four indifferent killers immediately hid behind the bunker vigilantly.

When they looked forward again, Robin had disappeared.

"I'm here," Robin said indifferently, twirling with the Dragon Dagger in his hand.

Only then did the four killers realize that Robin had arrived behind them without anyone noticing.

All the sniper rifles in their hands turned into a pile of scrap iron.

They were astonished and drew out their short knives for the last fight.

They suddenly saw the Dragon Dagger in Robin's hand.

A Golden Dragon flashed on it and disappeared in an instant.

"Boss, we don't know it's you. Please forgive us!" The four killers knelt on the ground immediately, trembling. Robin said coldly, "Are you Death Mongers still professional? Do you take on such low-level jobs?"

It seemed Dark Queen Sophie was busy hanging around with Enzo, and no one had time to manage these subordinates. "Under Dark Queen's order, we are here waiting for your call. We thought we had some time, so we took this mission..." "Humph! If you weren't Sophie's people, you would be dead bodies now.

"Don't show up without my call. Get rid of that Nelson. | don't want to see him again. Get lost!"

"Yes!" The four killers were drenched in sweat.

After hearing Robin's words, they finally felt relieved.

They got into the car immediately, carried Nelson, and disappeared without a trace.

Robin looked at the palm holding Karina's breast just now. He pouted. "It feels pretty good."

Back at Harold, Robin saw a group of people hiding behind the car. He shrugged. "Okay, danger is gone. Nelson will never come back."

Harold was astonished.

Such a planned and brutal assassination was resolved in less than five minutes.

Harold looked up.

He confirmed that the vehicles of Nelson and several hired killers had all disappeared.

He understood that Robin had solved the problem for him.

Harold bowed and said tremblingly, "Thank you, Mr. Bruce. Thank you, Mr. Bruce!"

Karina was stunned for a long time. She suddenly threw herself into Robin's arms and burst into tears. Robin was overwhelmed by her sudden actions.

"Ah! Why do you bite me?"

Robin felt Karina's tension and panic.

Suddenly, there was a stabbing pain in his chest.

Karina bit him hard.

Then, she raised her fist and beat Robin. "You bastard!"

Then, she ran into the car as if fleeing.

At this moment, the heavy snow lasting for a day stopped. A full moon appeared in the sky.

The pure moonlight and the white snow made Karina's blushing cheeks extraordinarily beautiful. Damn!

What did she mean?

She was crying, biting, and calling Robin an asshole.

Robin stared blankly at Karina who fled into the car in a hurry. He said to himself, "It may be a symptom after fright." When Harold saw such a scene, he laughed heartily. "Huh-huh... Great! That's great! Mr. Bruce, you are my benefactor. Indeed!"

He pointed to Mark and the others. "Listen to me. From now on, Mr. Bruce can rule the Huber family just like me. You must obey his words."

"Yes!" The bodyguards of the Huber family replied respectfully, "Mr. Bruce!" The Huber family convoy drove towards the Huber's villa.

Back in the car, Robin saw Karina blushing and lowering her head thoughtfully. Without disturbing her, Robin closed his eyes and meditated.

He recalled what Sophie's four killers said just now.

They meant they were waiting for his call.

Enzo handed him the Dragon Dagger and arranged for Sophie's Death Mongers to wait for his call here. What would he encounter?

Robin was rather confused.

Over the years, Enzo often told him some fragmented things mysteriously.

Ademon was suppressed in the cold northern region. It awakened once every fifty years and harmed the world. Today, the curse was about to be broken, and the horror was approaching...

"Robin!"

While thinking about Enzo, Karina whispered in his ear.

Robin opened his eyes and crossed his arms in front of his chest. "What's up? I've made it clear. Don't bite me."

Karina's cheeks turned red again. tomorrow...?"

. | want to tell you something. Can you accompany me to a party at Purpeak Club

"No!" Robin replied directly, closing his eyes again.

"I won't let you come there for nothing. I can treat you to dinner. After that, you can eat whatever you want." Karina moved closer, almost begging.

"Conway's men and people from World Real Estate will attend this negotiation meeting. They have evil intentions with me. I'm afraid..."

Robin slowly opened his eyes, looked at Karina, and smelled her fragrance, "Really? I can eat whatever I want?" "Of course. Whatever you say. I will treat you to anything." Karina revealed a beautiful smile on her delicate face. Robin glanced at Karina's neck.

This angle was just right.

"Okay! If this is the case... I can barely agree. As for what to eat..."

Only then did Karina realize what Robin was looking at.

She immediately grabbed the collar. "You... You bastard!"

Chapter 10

Chapter 10 Who Are You Calling Trash?

It was soon the morning of the second day.

Robin and Karina came to Purpeak Club together.

Along with them was Karsyn Croft, a business assistant at the Huber Group.

The business gathering at Purpeak Club was initiated by Cecilia from the Purpeak International Group.

The content of the business gathering was related to the allocation of investment share of the development project of the Eastern Business District.

This development project had four original shareholders in total.

They were Cecilia of Purpeak International Group, Karina of the Huber Group, Conway of Delight Group, and Owen Reynell of World Real Estate.

Recently, the four shareholders had great differences on the issue of project investment redistribution and investment project categories.

Cecilia believed that the Eastern Business District was nothing but an overall project operation. No one was able to go their own way and alter the plans of the pre-existing development projects. Otherwise, the four shareholders might engage in vicious competition with each other, causing meaningless internal friction.

With that in consideration, they agreed to discuss the matter today at Purpeak Club, which belonged to Purpeak International Group.

Purpeak Club was considered the place where Cecilia started. Since this legendary woman of Hallcester's business circle entered here, she had created countless amazing miracles. She integrated the scattered resources of Hallcester's leisure industry in just five years.

She and Conway, the leader of the underworld in Hallcester, confronted five times head-on and finally reached a non-cross-border agreement.

She fought all the way and finally established Purpeak International Group, her present ecological leisure industrial empire in Hallcester.

She was not only domineering and talented, but also beautiful and charming. She was the queen of Hallcester's business world. Although she was beautiful, she was also ruthless.

In her first few years in Hallcester, those daring to challenge Purpeak International Group and her were now nowhere to be found.

She was just a woman, yet she earned her place in the dangerous, ruthless society.

She owed all her achievements to her ruthless approach and dominance. In addition, she was rumored to have an extremely powerful mysterious background.

All the fringe forces in Hallcester kept away from her.

Even Conway was reluctant to be her enemy.

Half an hour later, Robin, Karina, and Karsyn arrived at Purpeak Club, a place with a great scene.

It was located in the Violet Cloud Mountain stretching tens of thousands of square meters.

And it was luxurious and large.

The overall facilities and layout of the club were magnificent. Unlike usual private clubs, it wasn't low-key or quiet at all. The appearance of the club was enough to tell how rich its owner was.

Purpeak Club had bars, restaurants, golf, games, shooting ranges, and other recreational projects, basically everything. The three had just come out of the parking lot when they bumped into Jacob and Miranda.

Together with them were Crystal Thompson, Miranda's bestie, and Krish Joan, the future heir of Joan Real Estate. Robin ignored them and walked with Karina and Karsyn to the dart shooting range.

Cecilia arranged for them to play by themselves in the playground in the morning.

Her plan was to get to the point of their meeting in the afternoon.

Karina loved darts, and Robin didn't care what to play, so he accompanied her to the darts and archery fields. Miranda, Jacob, and the others had just received their darts equipment and came here as well.

Passing by, Jacob deliberately came to say hello, "Ms. Huber, hello.

"I hear you're good at darts and archery.

"We seldom get a chance to get together. What do you say we spice things up and compete with each other?"

Karina knew what they were thinking and said coldly, "Not interested."

Hearing that, Jacob shrugged self-mockingly. "Well, since you're not in the mood, then just forget it."

Then he glanced at Robin and mocked, “Hey, I forgot that darts and archery are gentlemanly and aristocratic sports that some people may never have seen.

“I guess Ms. Huber refuses to play with us so that he won’t be embarrassed.”

Then he exchanged looks with Miranda, Krish, and Crystal, and they all laughed.

Jacob was bold enough to take liberties with Karina.

It was because the Walsh family reached out to Cecilia due to their connections with the Reynell family.

Robin knew that Jacob and Miranda had come here to humiliate him on purpose.

Yet he didn’t bother to sink to their level.

Robin ignored them as if they were nothing and looked at the players on horseback in the racecourse.

Karina could tell that Miranda and the others were mocking Robin, and she was upset.

“Well, since you're in the mood, there’s no harm in us having a competition.”

Jacob and the others were stunned.

They just wanted to humiliate Robin and did not expect Karina to agree to play darts and archery with them. Yet Karina, the most wanted woman in Hallcester, agreed!

Krish instantly said excitedly, “Well then, Ms. Huber, I'll team with you...”

“No need. I'll be on Robin's team,” Karina turned him down right away.

“Him?” Krish mocked. “Ms. Huber, no one at his level has ever played with this stuff. I’m sure that if you’re on his team, you'll...” Robin ignored Krish, grabbed a dozen darts, and threw them randomly with his back facing the direction of the board. Robin was standing 20 meters away from the dart board!

“What the fuck? What's he doing? Is the bumpkin throwing stones?” Krish and the others laughed and mocked. For darts, the international standard distance was 2.44 meters from the dart board for throwing darts.

Yet Robin threw the darts while standing 20 meters away from the dart board. He was making himself a fool. Miranda shook her head disdainfully at Robin's unreasonable moves.

She sneered silently, “Robin, I won't bother to look at you no matter how you pull a stunt!

“You're just a commoner, trying to compete in a noble game like darts against the likes of Krish and other wealthy elites. It's overestimating your abilities and asking for humiliation!”

As Jacob and the others taunted Robin, the players at the darts court let out a gasp!

“Seriously? He threw 15 darts while standing 20 meters away from the dart board, and his darts hit all 50 points of the board!” “And he didn't even look at the board!”

“I can't believe my eyes!”

Jacob and the others couldn't utter a word.

After a brief moment of shock, Miranda sneered, “It's just a coincidence. If it were a real match, would he be able to guarantee that every dart would be this accurate?”

Before she could finish, Robin threw the remaining 10 darts directly in the same way.

He was still standing 20 meters away from the dart board.

And he still had his back to the dart board in the arena.

This time, unlike the previous one, he did not hit the same dart board, but 10 darts in total.

10 darts from Robin's hand were pinned to the center of each of the 10 darts in the arena.

His darts hit all 50 points of the boards.

“Is that a coincidence? If it is, you do it. You piece of trash.”

Miranda said angrily, “Robin! You... Who are you calling trash?”

“I didn’t call any of you trash.” Robin glanced at Jacob and the others with an indifferent smile. “I mean you’re all trash!” Karsyn couldn’t help but cover her mouth and chuckle.

Karina also raised her lips and looked at Robin.

“Robin, no matter how you show off, you will never be on this level! I’ll never fall for you!” Miranda retorted angrily. Robin ignored her and glanced at Jacob and Krish with contempt. “Continue?”

Jacob and Krish knew that they were no match for Robin at all. Continuing the match would be humiliating for them. They stood still, not knowing how to respond for a moment.

At Robin’s level, he could hit a bull’s-eye with his eyes closed.

They were shocked and angry while realizing that.

At first, they wanted to show off in front of Karina and humiliate Robin.

Yet things went backfired.

Karina was surprised at what Robin was capable of.

Yet she still looked proud and cold. “Do you want to compete with us now, Mr. Walsh?”

Jacob was furious.

He wanted to give Robin a hard time, yet the latter pulled a stunt successfully.

Jacob found it hard to suppress his anger.

Of course, he wouldn't give up easily.

“Ms. Huber, playing darts isn’t that fun. I think we should enjoy ourselves to the extreme while we are gathering here. “Shall we compete in horseback archery?”

“It is an aristocratic sport that requires real skill. I'm afraid some of us may not even have ridden a dog.”

While saying this, he glanced at Robin.

Karina could tell that Jacob and the others were determined to embarrass Robin today.

She didn’t want to waste her time with them. She was about to refuse them.

“If some are so interested in having a contest, we might as well satisfy them, Ms. Huber,” Robin beat Karina to it and said.
