Chapter 71

Chapter 71 You Really Wake Up?

Looking at the furious Harold, Lonnie was dumbfounded immediately.

In the past, it was only heard that once Mr. Harold got angry, the entire territory of Hallcester would tremble. But | have never seen Harold truly angry.

Every time | saw him, he always had the appearance of a kind and benevolent old man.

He thought that those rumors were all from ill-intentioned troublemakers, smearing the once influential tycoon of the Hallcester business world.

What a heartless and ruthless person, what a cold and merciless individual, and so on.

Those were all slanderous words that had nothing to do with Harold, the humble old man.

At this moment, he did not think so.

He knew that the Huber family would not let anyone involved in poisoning Camdyn get away.

At this thought, he had already broken out in a cold sweat.

Before, when | was treating Camdyn, there were indeed no apparent symptoms.

All those nonsense about mental illness and such were made up by oneself.

Then, another supposedly top-secret prescription was concocted, all in an attempt to deceive the Huber family for their money. He never expected that someone would tamper with his prescription.

“Mr. Bruce, is there still any hope for Camdyn?” Lonnie asked almost pleadingly

He was very clear in his mind.

If Robin could cure Camdyn, Mr. Harold would be very happy and wouldn't worry too much about many things. Maybe | could escape a disaster.

If Robin couldn't save Camdyn either, Mr. Harold's anger would escalate infinitely.

| wanted to escape, but it seemed impossible.

Robin glanced at Lonnie and said. “I came, of course | saved you.”

Upon hearing these words, Lonnie excitedly bowed and said, “Thank you, Mr. Bruce, thank you, Mr. Bruce!” “Shut up!” Harold shouted angrily, “You've disrupted Mr. Bruce's treatment. I'll fire you!”

Lonnie's legs went weak, and he knelt directly in front of Harold. “Yes, yes, yes, I'll shut up! I'll shut up!”

Robin glanced at Harold and Karina, “Do you have a piano at your house?”

“Piano?” Harold and Karina exclaimed almost simultaneously, puzzled by what Robin wanted a piano for now. after 71. You dreally Wore Up?

“Yes! We had a piano at home, which Karina used to practice when she was very young.”

“Just in the next room, do we need someone to move it?”

Robin nodded and said, “Okay, move over here.”

Harold immediately asked Andre to arrange for someone to move the piano that Karina had practiced on before into this room.

Lonnie and the others were completely baffled.

Does Robin have such a hobby?

When treating someone, is piano accompaniment needed?

Perhaps, extraordinary individuals have some peculiarities that ordinary people cannot understand.

Before coming. Lonnie had heard the legendary story of Robin saving Donovan a few days ago.

Today | witnessed Robin's supernatural skills in diagnosing Camdyn.

| couldn't help but admire this young man in his early twenties.

He believed that without the ability, it would be impossible to have such an attitude.

Lonnie had been practicing medicine for many years, and today he finally met a master.

| used to not believe it before, that at such an age, Donovan could really be rescued from the hands of death as rumored. Now it seems that he was ignorant.

Curiosity got the better of me, and | forgot Harold's warning as |

Chapter 21 You Really Wake Up?

approached and asked, "Mr. Bruce, do you need the piano for Mr. Shaw's treatment?"

Robin smiled indifferently. "Do you think | had the leisure to play the piano in such a situation?"

The rhythm heals!

Lonnie immediately thought of hearing about some extraordinary doctors in the past who used music therapy to treat illnesses! Even using techniques, they diagnosed and treated all kinds of incurable and complicated diseases.

| couldn't believe it, today | had the privilege of witnessing Robin using music therapy to treat illnesses!

This made him extremely excited!

To have the opportunity to witness the extraordinary skills of a master in this lifetime, it is worth the trip! No regrets even if I die! Karina watched as Robin walked towards the piano, her eyes shimmering with astonishment.

Every time this man made a move, it would brighten her eyes.

Every appearance was extremely brilliant!

Robin, how many legends do you still have that I don't know about?

In an instant, a series of crisp notes slowly drifted out from this piano.

The sound of the piano was faint and clear, cleansing and purifying.

The room, which was originally filled with a murky atmosphere, gradually became fresh.

Chapter 71 You Really Wake Up?

Is this the legendary master of music?

The room was filled with ordinary people who indulged in the pleasures of food and drink.

They had never practiced the so-called internal power and true energy.

Of course, one cannot feel the powerful and sharp aura of the Heavenly Constellation in the melodies played by Robin. Strings of beautiful notes leaped out from the piano keys, lingering in every corner of the room.

Like a graceful dancing butterfly, fluttering its sparkling wings, it cleansed away the murky air filled with countless particles. Slowly, everyone in the room suddenly had a feeling of flying.

In the melodious rhythm, the bodies of every person floated up.

In that moment, everything became ethereal and elusive.

After three minutes of a dreamlike experience, the feeling of flying abruptly came to an end.

Following closely, a resounding and powerful tapping sound burst forth from the piano keys, carrying a summoning rhythm. As Robin tapped on each piano key, everyone's heart was pounding intensely.

Suddenly, everyone saw the most magical scene. -

Camdyn's body rapidly swelled in the rhythm of the melody.

Every pore of his body started oozing tiny black dots.

Gradually, these black dots became clearer and clearer.

Chapter 71

It was thousands of larvae wriggling incessantly!

"Ew!" Karina saw this scene and almost vomited.

At this moment, Camdyn's body was completely covered with layer after layer of black larvae

This is the scene where Venomous Worm was shaken out of Camdyn's body by the sound of the piano.

Camdyn's eye corners, inside his ears, in his nose, even from his mouth, and from every pore on his body, were all wriggling with nauseating Venomous Worms.

Meanwhile, in the exquisite viewing room of Hanrock Valley.

The Four Guardians sat beside Ebony

As Robin played the piano melody in the Huber's villa, the bodies of the Four Guardians also trembled violently. Melodic Qi!

A thousand miles to transmit sound!

A sound of a violin echoed, rushing towards us.

Like a sniper a kilometer away, four deadly bullets were simultaneously fired.

The Four Guardians let out a miserable scream, collapsing to the ground, vomiting blood incessantly, with all their internal organs shattered.

Ebony shouted, “Oh no, there was actually a skilled attacker!”

Abill with the power of music.

Chapter 71 You Prsty Ware Up?

What a terrifying method!”

At that moment. Ebony’s face turned pale, her whole body trembled, and a mouthful of blood gushed out from her chest.

In the villa, after Robin finished playing a song, he turned around and said, “Dr. Hayes, can | borrow the special tools for a moment?”

At that moment, Lonnie was completely in awe of Robin.

In front of these experts, | can’t even be considered as a beginner.

Where would dare to be disrespectful again!

“Mr. Bruce, please.” He immediately offered his special tools with both hands.

In an instant, eighteen light spots shot out, and eighteen special tools were all nailed into Camdyn’s vital body parts.. Two seconds later.

The Venomous Worms that crawled out of Camdyn’s body began to kill each other and fight among themselves.

As the black blood of the Venomous Worm flowed out, thousands of Venomous Worms instantly turned into a black mist, dissipating into the air.

Robin struck the piano keys again, and a mysterious and enchanting melody floated out.

In an instant, the dark and murky air in the room quickly escaped through the large window exit.

Then, a magical scene suddenly appeared.

Camdyn’s body floated up from the bed as the notes danced.

Rose into the air, stopped ascending, and began spinning rapidly.

The whole body surged and surged in mid-air with the ups and downs of the piano sound.

Harold and Karina, along with others, looked at the scene in front of them and were instantly shocked. This scene, already completely beyond their comprehension.

What is this?

Was it an illusion?

After finishing the song, Camdyn's body returned to the bed again.

The entire body's epidermis began to exude clusters of blisters, and after each blister rapidly swelled, it oozed blood. About three minutes later, Camdyn, who had been asleep for three years, let out a sigh and opened his eyes. "Dad, where am I?"

Harold's whole body trembled violently for a moment. "Camdyn, you really awake?"

are

At that moment, tears welled up in his eyes as he walked quickly to the bedside.

"Wait a moment. He was still very weak now, so don't let him move for the time being."

Robin slowly walked up to Camdyn and looked at his body, which was still oozing pus and blood. Chapter 71 You Really Wake Up?

Take back the special tools and hand them over to Lonnic.

Karina stood in front of the hospital bed, tears streaming down her face.

She never expected that she would see the day her father woke up in this lifetime. "Dad..."

Karina released all the pressure and pain she had experienced over the past three years in this cry.

Hammock Valley.

In the exquisite landscaped courtyard, the lights in the viewing hall flickered on and off.

Nathen hid in the corner of the hall, horrified, as he watched the eerie scene before him.

The Four Guardians instantly vomited blood and died.

Ebony crawled weakly on the ground, struggling in pain.

The queen worm, cultivated inside a closed glass container, turned into a puddle of black water.

After Ebony vomited a few mouthfuls of black blood, she screamed madly. “Bastard, I’m going to kill you!” “The Venomous Worm, which I had poured twenty years of effort into refining, was destroyed in your hands!” “Hmph! I haven’t lost yet! My queen worm can regenerate and revive indefinitely!”

Ebony’s seductive body instantly transformed into a cluster of black, venomous worm-like particles fused together. Nathen looked at the scene and immediately fainted.

Ebony roared loudly, channeling all her strength into the palm of her hand.

With both hands holding the sealed Venomous—Worm Incubator, she

Chapter 72 So What activated the true qi within her body, condensing it at the bottom of the jar, and infused it with the sinister power of her condensed primordial spirit.

In an instant, a black mist tightly enveloped the Venomous—Worm Incubator.

One minute, two minutes, three minutes...

Time moved forward second by second.

The black water inside the Venomous—Worm Incubator once again coalesced into thousands of larvae particles. On top of each larva's head, a strange glow emanated.

Suddenly.

Apiano sound pierced through the Venomous—Worm Incubator at the speed of light.

Like a heavy sniper bullet shot from a kilometer away, it lightning-fast pierced into the Venomous—Worm Incubator. The sharp sound of the piano exploded in the middle of the Venomous- Worm Incubator.

The Venomous—Worm Incubator instantly shattered.

The black water vapor in the tank swirled frantically for a while and then dispersed.

Immediately after, a thunderous sound tore through the sky, breaking through the thick walls of the observatory and piercing Ebony's chest.

With a scream, Ebony fell to the ground, despair filling her gloomy eyes.

"How is it possible" How is it possible?!"

After a brief suffocation. Ebony woke up again, pounding the marble floor in frustration and roaring in anger. The exquisite and magnificent marble inside the scenic room turned into dust in an instant.

Nathen was awakened by a loud noise.

Horror-stricken, | watched Ebony's terrifying appearance and then turned around, rushing out of the courtyard and driving away from Hanrock Valley

Connection Technique, a skill of manipulating worms. Although, it was possible to manipulate the larvi-worm to control the Venomous—Worm Carrier using the queen worm. However, once the skilled person found the connected lines.

The opponent was able to locate the Venomous—Worm Manipulator along this route and, with the help of the queen worm's power, retaliated against her.

A delicate scenic courtyard, in a state of chaos.

Ebony roared furiously, "My twenty years of cultivation, ruined by a single melody! You bastard, I will definitely kill you!" Ebony clenched her fists tightly, gathering the last bit of strength within her, and dashed forward.

In the pitch—black night, a cold wind raged through Hanrock Valley.

The gloomy remnants of snow in the valley suddenly drifted up amidst Ebony's heart-wrenching roar.

Chapter 72 So What if You?

"You bastard! Hiding elsewhere and using sneaky tricks to plot against me, what kind of hero are you!"

"I was the Chief Elder of the Poison Sect. How dare you kill me? The entire Poison Sect will consider you as an enemy!" The Huber's villa.

In the quiet room of Camdyn, Ebony's ghostly screams suddenly arose!

The phantom of Ebony, grimacing with her ghostly face, stood in front of the large window of the mansion.

Everyone was shocked by this terrifying—scene.

Today, what they saw far exceeded the understanding of ordinary people.

Robin snorted lightly, "You disgusting scum, what difference does it make if I kill you?"

As the voice faded away, slender fingertips tapped on a key with a heavy accent.

As the note suddenly floated up, Ebony was frozen in place at Hanrock Valley, several kilometers away.

The whole body, like a black rock, stood motionless in the valley.

The cold wind in the valley remained chilly, blowing the scattered remnants of snow on the rocks, emitting a mournful howl like a ghost. crying and a wolf howling.

Suddenly, Ebony's entire body was torn apart as if by a pair of large hands.

"Bang!" With a muffled sound, Ebony's body instantly burst into a

Chapter 72 So What if i black mist, disappearing without a trace.

With the explosion of his physical body, the Chief Elder of the Poison Sect, Ebony, perished along with his soul! In the moment when everything vanished, Ebony let out a desperate cry, "Do you really dare to kill me?!"

"I was... I was a member of the Poison Sect, and the Poison Sect will never give up!"

In an instant, the sound of despair echoed three times in Hanrock Valley, but ultimately, it disappeared into the dark and eerie depths of Hanrock Valley with the chilly night breeze.

Inside the Huber's villa, Robin smiled indifferently.

The young master had followed Enzo for many years, and had never encountered any formidable opponents. How dare this insignificant sect, Poison Sect, come out and threaten the true form of the Annihilator?

Haha, if you dared to come, I would have destroyed you!

Harold and Karina, among others, were completely amazed by Robin's supernatural abilities.

Five years ago, Camdyn suddenly fell ill with a strange disease.

Three years ago, I lay in bed and couldn't get up, and from then on, I fell into a deep sleep, losing consciousness.

Over the past few years, the Huber family has spent billions of dollars and visited renowned doctors, but they were unable to cure Camdyn's rare disease.

Chapter 72 56 What if | kul You?

Even Blaine, the Master of Traditional Medicine in Londraland, was at a loss when faced with Camdyn's peculiar symptoms. Now, surprisingly, Robin's piano melody was deciphered!

If it were not seen with one's own eyes, no one would believe that such strange magic exists in the world.

When Blaine arrived at the Huber's villa, Camdyn was already able to get out of bed and walk with the help of his family. Blaine was petrified the moment he saw Camdyn wake up.

He knew that Robin was highly skilled in medicine.

However, | never imagined that it would reach such an unpredictable level.

Looking at Robin, who had a calm expression at this moment, he was suddenly shocked.

Blaine practiced medicine for fifty years and was revered as the Master of Traditional Medicine in Londraland for nearly twenty years.

Now, he is over seventy years old.

The achievements of half a lifetime are nothing compared to the young man in his early twenties in front of me. | am extremely embarrassed!

If, on the day of the Finley's house, Robin had displayed the Soul- Retrieving Skill, it would have amazed him. Today's scene has already amazed him with Robin's medical skills.

At this moment, he was completely in awe of Robin.

Chapter 72 Sa What if IK

Blaine respectfully approached Robin, speaking with utmost humility.

"Mr. Bruce, you were truly a miraculous healer in the world today!"

“From this moment on, I will publicly announce that I, Blaine, can no longer be referred to as the ‘Master of Traditional Medicine’. I will forever hold Mr. Bruce in the highest regard.”

“Teacher, please accept this disciple’s bow!”

With that, Blaine bowed deeply.

Robin glanced at Blaine, who looked extremely respectful, and snorted lightly.

“Who was your teacher? Don’t talk nonsense! I couldn’t be bothered to take on such an old disciple like you!” Blaine’s face turned red, standing in the hall feeling extremely embarrassed.

However, in front of a true master, this little embarrassment is nothing.

Camdyn did not know Robin, but after a brief explanation from Harold and Karina.

Camdyn suddenly realized.

He disregarded the support of Harold and Karina.

At this moment, I couldn’t care less about my previous identity as the second—generation head of the Huber family, and I knelt down in front of Robin.

“Thank you very much for saving my life, Mr. Bruce! If it wasn’t for Mr. Bruce’s intervention, Xiao would have lost his life three years ago!”

Chapter 72 Sn What if I kill You?

“Xiao’s life alone was not significant, what was terrifying was that Xiao would become a puppet manipulated by some malicious individuals.”

“If that were the case, the consequences would be unimaginable!”

“The Huber family owes you a great debt! Such immense kindness and generosity, the Huber family will never forget it for the rest of their lives!”

Robin’s mouth twitched slightly. “Alright, get up! It’s not as serious as you make it out to be, just a small effort.” “Let’s go, I don’t want to waste any more time here.”

The crowd watched Robin's antics and didn't want to interfere too much.

After all, someone like Robin was not moved by flattery or material wealth.

Robin took two steps and stopped, turning around to say, "Now you are very weak. According to your current condition, you still need about a year of rest. After all, you have been lying in a hospital bed for over three years."

"Your internal organs have been severely damaged, and I will come regularly to help you with the recuperation." "Afterwards, just stay at home and rest well."

"Thank you, Mr. Bruce!" Harold and his father said respectfully.

Karina originally intended to drive Robin, but Leonel was already waiting for him outside the villa, so she had to give up. "Thank you! Robin, you saved my father, I don't know what to say!"

Chapter 72 So What if I kill You?

Karina looked at Robin with fiery eyes, and her face turned slightly crimson.

"How can I ever thank you for such a great favor, both me and the Huber family?"

"How should you thank me?" Robin took a step forward, looking at Karina who was just a breath away, taking a deep breath of her pleasant scent.

"Mmm, it smells really good." Karina's body trembled slightly.

Suddenly, she noticed that Robin's clear and profound eyes were looking at her.

Chapter 73

Chapter 73 He's the Seven-Step Annihilator She hurriedly dodged her gaze in a fluster, "How, how can I thank you?"

Robin chuckled, Ms. Huber, who had always presented herself with a cool and aloof demeanor, surprisingly appeared shy and flustered several times today.

“Alright, there’s no need to dwell on such a trivial matter.”

“Moreover, didn’t you appoint me as the president of Eastern District Development Corporation?” “That’s fine. I accept! You can go now.”

As he turned to leave, Karina grabbed him and handed him two keys.

“The Eastern District Development Corporation is located in the eastern suburbs of Hallcester, and it was inconvenient to commute there for work.”

“There is a villa here, a set of Grace Apartments. Both sets of housing are near the development company. You hold the keys.” “Both properties were owned by the Huber Group.”

“The villa is a bit further away, but the conditions inside are better. If I am too busy on the day of the Eastern District Development

Corporation, I... I sometimes stay there.” Speaking of this, Karina blushed, “Um, I rarely stayed there.” “The Grace Apartments, located just across from the Eastern District Development Corporation, had average living conditions. It was not too spacious, just a two-bedroom apartment measuring 100 square meters.”

“However, the surrounding amenities were relatively complete.”

“Wherever you like, just stay! Staying in either of these two houses will also be convenient for going to the office.” Karina paused and said, “Oh, I forgot to ask you, where are you living now? In a hotel?”

“Huh? I used to live around Mount Mauveglow,” Robin casually mentioned.

Karina didn’t ask further, “Oh, it’s quite far from the Eastern District Development Corporation. You should just live in these two houses.”

Robin thought for a moment and took the keys. “That’s fine. Let’s meet at the development company tomorrow morning!” Watching Robin’s figure gradually recede into the distance, Karina felt a bit reluctant to let go.

I stood in front of the villa's gate for a long time, until that figure disappeared into the vast night, and then she turned around and went back home.

After leaving the Huber family, Robin did not immediately get into Leonel's car.

The Huber family's villa was very hot, to the point that there was a suffocating feeling inside after staying in it for so long. So, he chose to walk along the tree-lined mountain path of Triumph Mountain at night.

Chapter 73 He's me Seven Step Annihilator

After the heavy snow, the air in the snowy mountains was very fresh.

The cold mountain wind blew against the hot face, refreshing the whole person.

Especially in the quiet of the late night, walking on this mountain road gives a sense of tranquility, far away from the hustle and bustle of the world.

Leonel did not bother him.

Driving a Land Rover with the headlights turned off, he followed from a distance of two hundred meters.

About halfway up the mountain, a figure suddenly appeared in front of Robin, blocking his way.

Leonel, who was 200 meters away, also saw the martial artist blocking Robin's way!

His intuition told him that this person was a master!

With the opponent's breath, one could clearly sense that their cultivation level was far superior to that of Hashville Butcher! However, Robin did not want him to intervene, so Leonel had to stay quietly in the car and watch the situation unfold.

Feeling the fierce killing intent emanating from the other person, Robin raised an eyebrow and said, "Are you sure you want to block my path?"

The person did not speak, a pair of sharp eyes scanned Robin up and down, as if trying to see through him. A few seconds later, the person sneered, "So, it was you who ruined Hashville Butcher?"

12-141

Chapter 73 He's the Seven Step Annihilator

"Yes," Robin nodded, "What does it mean?"

The newcomer chuckled and didn't answer Robin, disdainfully saying, "I see nothing special about you either, just a young kid with messy hair!"

"The person from Hashville Martial Arts Union?" Robin understood what the other person meant. "Are you seeking revenge for Deandre?"

The man sneered, "You are not worthy to know who I am!" "Having defeated Hashville Butcher, how could Hashville Martial Arts Union spare you?"

"I give you two choices. The first is to kneel down and chop off your own hands! The second is for me to take action and die on the spot!"

The person who arrived was Lamar, the deputy law enforcement officer of Hashville Martial Arts Union.

In the afternoon, he had just arrived at Hallcester when he received a call from Chester.

Chester sought help from him, as Robin not only killed his brother Dewey but also used it to blackmail the Cox family. In addition, after the Hashville Martial Arts Union headquarters issued an order to kill Robin.

Several assassins sent last night, all died without a trace.

This horrified Chester.

He had self-awareness.

Compared to Hashville Butcher, my skills were miles behind.

12:161

China 73 He the over Step Annihilator

If confronted with Robin, it was impossible to defeat him.

Even in the afternoon, Barry went to collect debts at the door, but he did not dare to intervene..

We had no choice but to wait for Lamar, the deputy law enforcement officer of the main headquarters. Lamar's skills ranked among the top five in the Hashville Martial Arts. Union, slightly higher than Deandre. That evening, Lamar arrived at Hallcester and was informed that Robin was at the Huber's villa.

He had been waiting on this road for nearly two hours.

Robin looked at Lamar and said indifferently, "Are you sure you want me to choose?"

Lamar chuckled and said, "In Hashville State, I was quite a character, and of course, a man of my word. If I said I would let you choose, then I will never regret it!"

"Then I will choose to die on the spot," Robin said indifferently.

Lamar was taken aback for a moment, "Young man, are you joking with me?"

"Joking?" Robin smirked coldly, "I never joke."

Lamar looked at Robin's expression as he spoke, and it was indeed not a joke. Before speaking, Robin said in a deep voice, "Have you ever heard of Fire And Ice?" Lamar was confused and impatiently said, "Fire And Ice? I came here

Chapter 273 Hex The Seven Step Annihilator

to kill, not to indulge in poetry with you."

Robin chuckled and said, "A few steps are enough!"

Lamar was even more confused, he had no idea what Robin meant.

Does the other party have a problem with their brain?

However, it is not an ordinary person who can defeat the Hashville Butcher. Although Lamar boasted that he could outsmart Hashville Butcher.

However, faced with Robin's indifferent attitude that seemed to have no boundaries, suddenly there was a sense of panic in the heart.

It was a deadly battle between you and me, but Robin wanted to discuss poetry with him.

Everything was said so casually.

It seemed as if it was not about to begin a life-and-death struggle.

However, two passersby were discussing whether today's weather was cloudy or sunny, with no ripples or waves. "Let's begin then!" Robin sighed lightly, reciting verses as he walked towards Lamar.

"Some said the world would end in fire, some said in ice."

As Robin walked step by step with a heavy rhythm.

Lamar suddenly felt a surge of bloody air rushing upwards in his heart.

"From what I've tasted of desire | hold with those who favor fire." "Puff!" Robin took the third step and recited the second stanza of the poem, causing Lamar to spurt out a mouthful of blood.

"No good!" he exclaimed loudly. "Could it be, could it be that he... he is the legendary Seven-Step Annihilator of the martial world?"

"But if it had to perish twice, | think | know enough of hate to say that for destruction, ice is also great and would suffice." Robin had already taken the seventh step and reached Lamar's side, while reciting the final stanza of the poem. At this moment, Lamar was completely unable to move his body!

With a blank look in the eyes, he looked ahead and suddenly knelt down with a thud. Blood flowed from the seven orifices, and the heartbeat ceased.

Such arrogance!

This is a complete disregard for others!

In the face of such casual indifference, you were completely overwhelmed and unable to fight back! Only the immortal legend of the world, the Annihilator, possessed such formidable strength!

Lamar felt a sense of despair as he watched Robin's footsteps gradually fade away, a satisfied smile playing at the corners of his mouth.

As a martial artist, to be able to die at the hands of the Annihilator, I have no regrets in this lifetime!

From a distance, Leonel witnessed the entire process of Robin killing Lamar, causing his whole body to tremble in shock! Chapter 73 He's the Sever—Step Annihilator

I unexpectedly witnessed the legend of the world.

Seven steps of poetry, killing without a trace!

Ps

Robin walked down the mountain.

It was already past ten o'clock in the evening.

Leonel's car had not caught up yet when a red Porsche whizzed past him.

"Robin, get in the car!" Crystal poked her head out of the car and smiled.

"Oh my! You weren't waiting under Triumph Mountain all the time, were you?"

Robin looked at Crystal in astonishment and noticed that this woman had actually gotten a new hairstyle.

Crystal looked at Robin with a smile, "Tonight, a few college classmates are coming over. It's been a long time since we all got together."

"So, I took advantage of this opportunity to get a whole new hairstyle at the salon across the street. How does it look? Do you like it?"

Robin nodded and said, "It's alright."

"Let's go, get in the car, and come with me to meet my college girlfriends!" "I'm not going!" Robin turned around and quickly tried to slip away.

Crystal rushed out of the car and stood in front of him, sobbing loudly. Chapter 73 He's the Seven Step Annihilator

Robin's mouth twitched slightly. "Speak up, why are you crying?"

"All my college classmates had boyfriends, and they used to make fun of me."

"|. | waited for you for so long, just to ask for your help, sob... Robin, please have pity on me, | don't want to be mocked by them anymore, boohoo..."

Chapter 74

Chapter 74 He's Stingy

Robin was speechless when he heard Crystal's reason.

Isn't it just that others have boyfriends while you are still single?

Why cry so much and make such a fuss?

"Ah, | said, can you please stop crying? | feel uncomfortable whenever | see a woman cry!"

"Boohoo..." Crystal covered her face and crouched down, crying even more miserably.

Robin shook his head helplessly and walked towards Crystal.

"Alright, alright, isn't it just accompanying you to meet a few of your college classmates? I'll go with you, alright! Damn it!" "But, | have to clarify one thing in advance, | can accompany you, but don't say that | am your boyfriend!"

"| was definitely not a professional boyfriend for you women."

"Hahaha..." Crystal chuckled through her tears, getting up and linking her arm with Robin's. "Come on, you need to keep your word when you speak!"

Robin looked at Crystal's delicate face, not a single tear in sight. "Fake? Are you fake crying? Then | won't go!"

Crystal held onto Robin's arm tightly. "How can a man go back on his word? You said you would accompany me in the past, so you must accompany me now!"

"Damn it! | can't believe | was fooled by a woman!" Robin shook his head.

"Okay, okay! Let go of me, I'm leaving! But remember, | won't treat you!"

Crystal was taken aback, "Damn it, you stingy person! No matter where we go, I'm the one paying!"

Robin snorted lightly. "It's you who insisted that | go! Since you asked me to go, why should | pay for it? Ridiculous!"

"Hmph! I've never seen such a stingy man in all my life! Well, fine, don't worry, | won't let you pay!" Crystal's eyes flashed with a smug smirk.

Leonel, who arrived shortly afterwards, saw Robin getting into Crystal's car and did not disturb them, but followed them from a distance.

Twenty minutes later, they arrived at Summer Bar located in the western suburbs of Hallcester. This was a place where young people gathered. The Summer Bar was not considered to be of high class.

Because of its unique style, it was favored by a certain group of consumers, as it differed from other bars of the same type as Hallcester.

Since the opening of Summer Bar, it has introduced more exotic and distinctive services.

Many young second-generation rich and urban white-collar workers liked to gather here.

It didn't appear too depressing nor was it like those overly wild and messy nightclubs.

Chapter 74 He's Stingy

In a gentlemanly manner, with a touch of wildness.

Therefore, this relatively small Summer Bar in Hallcester was packed every night.

Robin drove his Porsche to the front of the parking lot and heard a burst of laughter coming from the front of the bar.

“Crystal, hi! We are here!” Three fashionable and beautiful ladies and a handsome guy were standing in front of the door of Summer Bar, waving at Crystal.

“Robin, did you see? All four of them are my classmates. Impressive, right? I have a great social circle,” Crystal said proudly, flicking her newly permed hair.

“I’ll go down and say hello to them first. Could you please park the car in the parking lot? I’ll wait for you in front of the bar, okay?” Robin raised an eyebrow, “I understand now, today you wanted me to be your driver and show off.”

“You’re so stingy, what difference does it make to have such a good car and be a driver once?” Crystal pouted,

“After parking the car nicely, come over quickly so that those classmates can see how handsome you are.”

Robin snorted lightly, “What does it have to do with you whether I’m handsome or not?”

“You are so stingy!” Crystal exclaimed angrily. “It wouldn’t cost you anything to accompany me once, honestly!”

“Didn’t we just agree earlier? You are you, I am me, I won’t pretend to be your boyfriend.”

“Alright, can’t I help you cook for a week? Robin, can you accompany me to do it once?”

Robin paused for a moment and thought. “Well, this should work. We do need someone to cook at home.” “Alright, as you said. I’ll be waiting for you to cook for me for a week!”

“Alright, acting like a child even though you’re all grown up, and now you’re getting serious! I promise to cook for you for a week,” Crystal thought to herself. “As long as you can eat it, I’ll make it!”

Robin noticed a mischievous glint in Crystal's eyes and added, "In uniforms! A different one for every meal!" Getting off the car. Crystal heard this sentence and almost fell down.

Fuck you! Promise first before you speak, so this idiot won't mess up again. "Fine, can't I promise you? Go park quickly, I'll go first."

Crystal excitedly closed the car door and gave Robin a flirtatious smile "Hey, this woman was laughing as if she hadn't taken any medicine."

Robin watched as Crystal exaggeratedly swayed her waist, intentionally pretending to be seductive. He frowned and said, "Is this woman probably crazy? Just accompany her to a bar and she acts like this?"

Stepping on the gas pedal, he drove the Porsche into the bar parking lot.

Spotting an empty parking space, I skillfully executed a beautiful spin and reversed into it.

Just as I got out of the car and was about to turn around and leave, a piercing honk suddenly sounded. He saw a BMW parked in front of him.

"Drive your car out for me!" A girl who appeared to be around eighteen or nineteen years old angrily stepped out of the car and pointed at Robin, scolding him.

"What does it mean?" Robin was confused. "This parking space doesn't allow parking?" The woman impatiently said, "You, your cars don't work! I told you to drive the car out, I want to park the car here!" "Why did they open it?" Robin looked around at the empty spaces in the parking lot, puzzled. The woman snorted coldly, "This is the parking spot where I used to park frequently!" Damn it! There are all kinds of birds in the forest.. Robin shook his head and said, "Does this parking space have your name written on it? Are you crazy?" What's going on here? Have all their brains gone bad one by one? How come this parking space is yours when it clearly is a public parking lot? "Why don't you just come out!" the woman gritted her teeth and said. "I won't open it! What are you going to do?" Robin snorted. "What are you, thinking that you can just inject hyaluronic acid into your face and the whole world will indulge you?" 1217 Chapter 74 Hee Stingy "You jerk!" the woman pointed at Robin's nose and cursed. Damn it, still cursing at people? I can do it too! "You're such a jerk! Your whole family is a bunch of jerks! Your ancestors were also jerks!"

Robin shouted at the woman. "You were not a man!" The woman was almost going crazy with anger. Robin glanced at the woman and said, "You think that by pretending, you can become a woman! Hmph!" The woman went crazy, clutching her waist and shouted angrily, "You, just you wait!" "Why should I wait for you?" Robin gave the woman a disdainful look and turned around to leave. The woman became anxious and blocked his way, saying, "Don't you drive your car out?" "Why didn't I open it? What's the matter?" Robin said coldly. "You don't want to open it, huh? Do you believe I'll just crash into it!" The woman opened the car door, indicating that she was about to get in.

"Then you go ahead and crash, no problem, I can handle it!" Robin shrugged and made way, "Whoever doesn't crash is a coward!"

The woman's face turned pale with anger. She never expected to encounter a man who couldn't be bothered by anything. If she were to crash into it with a brand new BMW, she would definitely not be willing to do so.

At this moment, the security guard of the parking lot walked over and asked. "What's the matter?"

The woman approached the security guard and pointed at Robin, saying, "Big brother security guard, I asked him to drive the car out, and I will park it inside!"

The security guard was confused, "What does that mean?" "That was my parking spot!" the woman said rudely. The security guard was confused, "We have never sold parking spaces to individuals in our parking lot."

The woman grabbed the security guard's arm and coquettishly said, "I mean, my car is often parked there. He suddenly rushed to park there today, big brother, um..."

The security guard felt the touch of the woman and instantly felt a tingling sensation. Suddenly, pointing at Robin, he said, "Alright, this young lady often parks her car here, so be a gentleman and move your car."

"Why should I be a gentleman to this kind of trashy woman?" Robin ignored her and turned around, walking towards the parking lot.

“Who did you say is garbage?” The woman became unwilling and wanted to step forward to argue, The security guard protected her, pulled out an electric baton, and stared at Robin, saying, “Are you going to come out or not?”

“No way!” Robin approached the security guard, tugging at his collar. “Go back and ask your captain, ask him if he dares to say that to me!”

The security guard trembled in fear.

Chapter 74 Hes Sungy

| looked at Robin's Porsche 918 and then looked at the woman's BMW.

He believed that Robin must be a scion of a wealthy family, as the Porsche he drove could buy ten BMWs for a woman. So, hastily accompanying with a smile, he said, “I’m sorry, | didn’t pay attention just now. I... | will handle it.”

Then, turning to the woman, she sneered, “This is a public parking lot, don’t cause a scene for no reason. Driving a beat-up BMW doesn’t give you any right to act all high and mighty!”

The woman was dumbfounded immediately, took out her phone and tried to call for help, but couldn’t get through.

| had to grit my teeth and temporarily stop at another empty parking space.

After parking, | caught up with Robin and said, “You wait for me! When my boyfriend comes back, he won’t spare you!”

Robin completely ignored it.

The woman continued to chase after Robin and said, “Do you know who my boyfriend is?”

“| don’t care who your boyfriend is! Go away!” Robin pushed the woman, causing her to lose her balance and fall to the ground.

“You...you hit me? Ah!My boyfriend will definitely kill you!” The woman watched Robin’s figure and frantically dialed the phone.

Chapter 75

Chapter 75 Summer Bar

“Rudolph, where were you? | called you for a long time, but couldn’t get through. | was bullied!” The woman driving the BMW walked outside the parking lot and finally connected the call she wanted to make, sobbing with a sense of grievance.

The man on the other end of the phone said coldly, “Tricia, wait for me. I’ll be at Summer Bar soon. Dare to bully my girlfriend, I’ll make that guy kneel down and apologize to you.”

“Rudolph, | miss you,” Tricia Bryant hung up the phone, her eyes shooting a fierce anger. Humph! Stupid man, competing with me for a parking spot, my boyfriend will kill you! Robin came out of the parking lot and Crystal and three girls, along with a male classmate, were waiting in front of the bar.

“Are you Crystal’s boyfriend?” Rebecca asked Robin, her eyes burning with curiosity, before Crystal had a chance to introduce him.

Robin’s mouth twitched slightly, “Um, that’s right.” Crystal chuckled and thought to herself, “This man may talk tough, but when it really matters, he still saves face.”

This joy lasted less than ten seconds. Then | heard Robin say, “To be precise, | am her male friend, not the kind of boyfriend in a romantic relationship. She asked me to come over and show off a bit.”

Three girls covered their mouths and burst into laughter, “Crystal, your male friend is really interesting, hahaha...” Fuck you! Robin, you were such a jerk!

Crystal’s face turned red and then pale. She glared at Robin and quickly explained. “He’s really not my boyfriend, just joking around with everyone. This man has a strange temper, let him be.”

Four classmates looked at Crystal’s embarrassed expression and burst into laughter.

Rebecca, holding onto Crystal, chuckled and said, “Crystal, just now | told Pamela that Robin couldn’t possibly be your boyfriend. She insisted he was, but look, | was right, wasn’t I? Hehehe...”

Laurie and Corey shook their heads, “Crystal, you wanted to bring a random guy today to fool us, turns out it was fake, haha...” “Hey, where did you meet him? Is he from a wealthy family?” Laurie secretly observed Robin’s figure and asked in a low voice. Crystal knew that Robin didn’t like people talking about him, so she casually said, “We just met at Cosmo Mall this afternoon.” Then, changing the subject abruptly, “Alright, I won’t joke with you anymore! Every time I see you, you’re always mocking me.” “Hmph, this time I’m determined to prove it. Within two months, I will show you all a handsome boyfriend!”

“Sure, but this time, don’t bring another male friend, hahaha...” Several classmates walked into the bar, chatting and laughing. After sitting down, Crystal proceeded to introduce them to Robin one by one.

“These three are my college roommates, Lauric Cannon, Pamela Price, and Rebecca Stanley.”

This handsome guy is called Corey Lawson, Laurie’s boyfriend. He was the sales director at Pacific Realty.

Corey nodded and smiled, “Hey buddy. let’s play a board game with us.

“You guys play, don’t mind me.” Robin, not interested in socializing, symbolically nodded and picked up his phone to watch short videos.

Crystal knew Robin’s temper, so she didn’t insist and instead gave him some snacks and drinks. Then, she started playing and chatting with a few classmates.

Robin was sipping wine and watching videos when Cecilia sent a message.

Inform him that the Hart family had sent someone to enter Londraland.

Perhaps it was because the last time the Soul-Devouring Curse was solved, the mage supported by the family was discovered. Robin replied directly to her, saying that the two assassins sent by the Hart family were already dead.

Cecilia was instantly confused.

There was only one person in the world who dared to directly confront the killer of the Hart family — Robin.

Robin informed her that she would have another acupuncture treatment at noon tomorrow. She asked Cecilia to pick her up at the Huber Group.

At the same time, Crystal was having a great time chatting with four classmates.

Chapter 75 Summer

“Crystal. I heard that Mr. Melvin, the Vice President of World Real Estate, has always wanted to pursue you.” Laurie asked.

“And, Melvin has often boasted on many occasions that he will definitely marry you into the Reynell family. I wonder how things are progressing between you two now?”

Crystal waved her hand and said, “Don’t mention him! I really don’t like that Mr. Melvin. Even if I were single for the rest of my life, I wouldn’t want to date a playboy like him.”

Rebecca pouted and said, “Crystal, you don’t know how lucky you were.”
“The Reynell family in Hallcester was one of the four major aristocratic families. In the past two years, their development has shown great potential to surpass the momentum of the Huber family.”

“If you could marry into the Reynell family, it would be like entering a true aristocratic dynasty.” Crystal pouted and said, “I myself was also born into a wealthy family!”

Laurie laughed. “Crystal is right! The Thompson family in Hallcester can be considered a top-notch family, but compared to the Reynell family, they are still slightly weaker...”

Crystal sneered, “Why did I have to marry into the Reynell family, such an aristocratic family? That kind of life was simply torture, so uncomfortable! Unlike now, I live so freely and carefree.”

"I don't lack money, and I don't want to become the richest person in the world. I have enough savings to eat, drink, and have fun. I'm not going to harm myself."

Chapter 75 Summer Bar

Corey frowned and said, "Crystal. I'm afraid that's not the reason why you don't want to date Melvin, right?" "Are you bothered by the fact that Melvin is too flirtatious?"

"Actually, you shouldn't take it too seriously. Aren't all the scions of wealthy and influential families like that?" Crystal gave Corey a disdainful look and said, "Corey, I didn't expect your thoughts to become impure over these years." "The more noble and prominent the young master from a prestigious family, the more he should restrain himself, right?"

"The young master of a prestigious family should have received the best education and should have become a humble gentleman."

"Didn't they know how to behave themselves, apart from indulging in their own excesses?"

"If having money turns oneself into someone who is not human, then what is the meaning of having money?"

Laurie punched Corey and said, "So you mean if you were like Melvin, you would also want to live a debauched life, getting drunk and behaving like an animal?"

Corey hurriedly explained, "How could I dare to compare myself with Mr. Nathen? He is a scion of a wealthy family, while our family doesn't even have the strength of a third-rate clan. Even if I wanted to make trouble, I don't have the capability!"

Laurie snorted lightly and said, "Corey, if you had that thief's heart, I would make sure to deal with you!" Corey quickly lowered his head in fear and said, "I was wrong! Laurie, I never had that intention."

Crystal looked at Corey and laughed, "Hehe, Corey, don't forget, you are now trapped in Laurie's palm. If you dare to misbehave, the three of us will strangle you together!"

"I swear I will only treat Laurie well for the rest of my life!" Corey immediately raised his hand and made a vow. Several women burst into laughter.

At that moment, Crystal suddenly saw a familiar face.

Krish walked into the Summer Bar from outside.

He did not see Crystal and a few others sitting deep in the bar.

Instead, he approached the woman named Tricia who was driving a BMW.

"Tricia, I called you these past few days, but you didn't answer. I also sent you messages, but you didn't reply. What's the matter with you?"

Tricia gave a light hum, "Krish, last week, didn't I already tell you? I didn't want to be with you anymore, it's just that simple!"

Krish shook his head and said, "Tricia, what happened to me? You said we're breaking up just like that? I treated you so well, don't you remember anything at all?"

"Tricia, what's the matter? You said on the phone just now that the person who bullied you was him?" A fierce—looking man walked up to Tricia and said.

Tricia looked nervously at Krish and said to the man, "Rudolph, it's not him, it's just a regular friend of mine from before." "Just friends? Tricia, so you've fallen for someone else, is it him?" Krish looked up at the man, his eyes filled with anger. Tricia saw Krish and nervously said, "Rudolph, he always liked me and pursued me for a long time, but I ignored him."

Then, turning to Krish, she exclaimed angrily, "Krish, let me tell you, my current boyfriend was Rudolph Mellor, the eldest son of the president of Hashville Martial Arts Union. You better not mess with him! He was a martial artist, and if you provoke him, you won't have a good outcome!"

Krish's face turned pale with anger. "Tricia, we have been dating for three years. Don't you realize that the Joan family has been the one helping your Qin family in Hallcester all this time?"

"You actually told him that we were just ordinary friends? How did you beg me three years ago? Do you dare to say it?"

Chapter 76

Chapter 76 Kneel and Apologize to My Girlfriend!

Tricia clung to Rudolph's arm and coquettishly said, "Rudolph, he deliberately said that, it's not true at all!" Rudolph narrowed his eyes and said coldly, "From now on, don't bother Tricia anymore, or I won't be polite! Get lost!" Krish stood in front of Tricia and said, "Since that's the case, give me back the villa I gave you!"

Rudolph frowned slightly and looked at Tricia.

Tricia nervously clung to Rudolph's arm and coquettishly said, "Rudolph, it's not what he said..."

"Mr. Mellor, what's wrong? Is there any trouble?" A man in black walked into the bar and asked in a deep voice. Tricia immediately stopped talking, a glimmer of fear flashed in her eyes.

Krish also looked up at the man in black.

This person was permeated with a faintly murky aura, and there was a strange green light flickering in their eyes.

Beside him, there was a sixteen or seventeen-year-old girl in black clothes, her gaze towards Krish filled with disdain and hostility.

The man in black glanced at Krish and walked up to Rudolph. "Mr. Mellor, if there is nothing necessary, let's go inside and have a drink."

Rudolph nodded and disdainfully glanced at Krish, "I don't care about 0.00% any previous conflicts between Tricia and you."

"From now on, don't mention anything about giving me a villa or owing me anything in front of me. Even if there is, it's something you willingly did!"

“Go away! | don’t want to argue with trash like you!”

After saying that, he grabbed Tricia and the man in black and walked towards the second floor of the bar.

Krish was burning with anger and still unwilling to let go.

Took a step forward, blocking Tricia and Rudolph’s way.

“Tricia, today you had to give me an explanation!”

“Either come with me, or spit out everything the Joan family gave you before!”

Tricia clung tightly to Rudolph’s embrace and sneered, “Krish, look at how disgusting you look!”

“Rudolph has already made it clear to you, if you don’t leave now, it will be too late to regret!”

“You! Tricia, you don’t give me an explanation, it’s not over today!” Krish was extremely angry and shouted loudly. This roar attracted the attention of most people in the bar.

are? Tricia angrily exclaimed, “Get lost! Krish, what do you think you In front of Rudolph, you’re not even worth a single ant! Just leave, | don’t want to see you crawling on the ground after being beaten!”

Krish shook his head in pain, watching Tricia’s determined expression, and suddenly pleaded, “Tricia, being with someone like him will not lead to a good outcome!”

“He is the kind of person who lives a reckless life. Being with you ist just for fun. he will never truly treat you well!” Rudolph’s mouth twitched: “Say it again, | don’t want to argue with you, you've even rubbed it in my face!”

“| just said it earlier, if you don’t leave now, | won't be as polite as | am now!”

Tricia saw that Rudolph was already angry, so she pulled him aside. and said, "Rudolph, let it go. Don't ruin the good mood tonight. Let's go."

Rudolph pointed at Krish and said, "Tricia has already made it very clear to you, telling you to get lost! She doesn't even care about trash like you!"

Krish was already obsessed at the moment, grabbing Tricia's hand and pleading. "Tricia, come with me, don't be confused anymore. Being with people like them will only lead to a big loss for you sooner or later!"

Tricia suddenly pushed him away and shouted, "Krish, who do you think you are! What are you to me? What qualifies you to lecture me?"

"Do you think that with just the little power of your Joan family, | would be impressed by you?"

"Let me tell you, no matter what kind of person Rudolph was, at least he was stronger than a loser like you!" "You were just using the little bit from your family to show off, besides that, what else do you have?"

dom with not one nunch! You the Joan family, are nothing in front of the Hashville Martial Arts Union! You better get lost, | never want to see you in such a pathetic state again!"

Krish still wanted to step forward and continue pulling Tricia, but the black—clad man next to Rudolph took a step forward and said, "Why are you so shameless?"

"Mr. Mellor didn't want to argue with trash like you, but you were ignorant and still shamelessly insisted on meddling in Mr. Mellor's affairs. People like you will sooner or later be beaten to death!"

Tricia glanced disdainfully at Krish and said, "Let me tell you again, | have never respected you! People like you can only lead a mediocre life! Now, get lost! Don't ruin my good mood today."

The man in black, seeing that Krish showed no intention of leaving. sneered, "You better leave while you still can, you can't possibly defeat Mr. Mellor!"

As soon as the man in black finished speaking, the enchanting woman in black beside him extended her hand with long nails and slapped Krish across the face.

“Swish!” The slender and sharp nails instantly left five blood marks on Krish’s fair face.

Krish let out a painful scream.

At this moment, all the onlookers finally saw clearly that the nails of the woman in black were each as long as an inch. Moreover, long and slender nails were adorned with a sharp steel spike sheath!

Krish covered his bleeding cheek with a trembling face, fearfully looking at the black—clothed man and seductive woman in front of him, breaking out in a cold sweat.

76 Kneeli The eerie and mysterious aura emanating from the two individuals made him involuntarily take several steps back.

The man in black frowned slightly. He didn’t want to get involved in this matter, he just wanted to say a few words to help Rudolph.

After all, he and Rudolph had not been in Halleester for long and did not want to cause too much trouble. However, his own maid, in order to please him, unexpectedly took action without permission. It had come to this point, so | had no choice but to give up.

The woman in black saw that the master did not speak, and a murderous intent burst into her eyes again: “If you dare to act recklessly again, | will gouge out your eyeballs!”

The malicious and chilling voice silenced the entire bar in an instant.

Everyone gasped in shock.

Some of the bar spectators who were originally watching the excitement quickly retreated backwards. Some people whispered and gossiped.

Those who were unaware of the situation at the time only just found out that the man beside Tricia was Rudolph, the son of Sergio, the leader of Hashville Martial Arts Union.

Last year, Rudolph won the championship at the national martial arts competition.

Several young top experts in Londraland were dissatisfied.

They joined forces and came to Hashville State to set up a stage,

Chapter 76 Kneel and Apologize to My Girlfriend

openly challenging Rudolph.

In the end, they all returned empty-handed.

At one time, Rudolph's fame spread throughout the country.

The man in black, was Angelo Klein, the junior sect master of Poison Sect, an extremely mysterious sect in Hashville State.

The black—clad woman beside him was his maid, Jasmine Guzman.

The Poison Sect has a hundred-year history in Hashville State.

A figure, whose name was heard of in the rivers and lakes, but rarely seen in the mundane world, appeared.

The appearance of the young master of the Poison Sect at Summer Bar in the present day left everyone greatly astonished. This was a martial arts sect filled with an eerie atmosphere.

Little is known about it by the world.

Legend has it that many disciples under his tutelage were already skilled at killing people without leaving a trace, being cunning and ruthless.

Nowadays, it is rare to see the young master of the Poison Sect appearing in Hallcester.

Could it be that the influence of the Poison Sect, unwilling to lurk in the depths of the martial world, is about to emerge? It was expected when Rudolph, the eldest son of the head of the Hashville Martial Arts Union, appeared.

Sergio had long ago publicly declared, one year ago, that the Hashville

Chapter 76 Kneel and Apologize to My Caffnend

Martial Arts Union would continue to expand northward, with the first step being to enlarge the Hallcester Division.

The appearance of Rudolph, the eldest son of Hashville Martial Arts Union, here today, is enough to prove that their expansion plan has already been put into action.

Crystal became worried as soon as she saw Krish being scratched by Jasmine. After all, we often interacted with Krish and others on weekdays, and we were familiar with each other. I also knew a little about his and Tricia's affair.

Watching Krish being targeted by several people, Crystal, who was always loyal to her friends, didn't hesitate and pulled Robin, saying, "Come with me, Krish is going to suffer!"

Robin was watching videos when Crystal pulled him to the front of the bar, not knowing what was going on.

Laurie and the others were startled when they saw Crystal behaving like this. They quickly followed her and whispered, "Crystal, please don't try to stand out. These people are all tough characters."

Corey also advised, "Let's go to a different bar to hang out." Crystal ignored them and took a step forward, saying, "Are you all not ashamed to bully Krish alone? Krish, let's go!" Rudolph, Angelo, and others looked at Crystal and Robin, a hint of anger flashed in their eyes.

Robin looked up at this moment and, looking at the situation in front of him, said unhappily, "I'm watching short videos. What are you doing, woman!"

Chapter 76 Kneel and Apologize to My Girlfriend!

After saying that, he turned around to leave, but he heard Tricia's reprimanding voice from behind, "Stop right there! It's not that easy to just walk away!"

Robin stopped in his tracks and finally saw that the woman who scolded him was the one competing for a parking spot in the parking lot. Tricia gritted her teeth and said, "Rudolph, that jerk, just bullied me in the parking lot and stole my parking spot!"

"Damn it! What are you shouting for? Did you forget to take your medicine? Go away, you're interrupting me from watching videos. So annoying!" Robin's mouth twitched, and he turned around and left.

"Wait a minute!" Rudolph stepped forward and said coldly, "Kneel down and apologize to my girlfriend!"

Chapter 77

Chapter 77 Boxing King Tricia, delighted by Rudolph's words, took a step forward and pointed at Robin, saying. "You, stop right there!" "I warned you in the parking lot, mess with me and be prepared to face the wrath of my boyfriend!"

Robin looked at Tricia and said, "You're not even considering the date before taking such risks. Hurry up and go home to take your medicine!" Looking up, I saw Krish covering his cheeks and shaking his head, saying. "For a woman like her, don't you feel ashamed?" Crystal saw Robin talking and quickly pulled Krish to his side, saying, "Let's go, Mr. Joan!"

Rudolph was infuriated when he realized that Robin didn't even pay attention to him. He exclaimed, "Kid, what do you mean? Do you think I'm invisible?"

Robin just glanced at him and said, "When you're considered important enough to be noticed by the air, you're just a fart. Go away! I don't have time to listen to your nonsense, it's interrupting my video watching!"

Robin's arrogance, which made him think he was superior to everyone else, shocked everyone, in the bar.

"Who is this guy? He even dares to challenge the young master of the Hashville Martial Arts Union. Impressive!" "It seems like he knew Mr. Joan..."

Rebecca and Laurie were startled.

They didn't expect that the man Crystal brought would be so reckless.

Perhaps he didn't know that the man in front of him was the eldest son of the Hashville Martial Arts Union's leader. Rebecca hurriedly pulled Crystal and whispered, "Crystal, quickly make him apologize to Rudolph."

Crystal originally came over to persuade Krish not to get involved anymore, but she didn't expect that Robin and Tricia had also had a past.

It is impossible now to prevent Robin from continuing to provoke them.

Rudolph became instantly angry upon hearing the words, clenched his fist, and was about to unleash the burning rage within his chest.

At this moment, two people walked down from the second floor of the bar, followed by a group of bodyguards. They immediately surrounded Robin in the middle and said, "Robin, I've been looking for you for a long time, and you're hiding in this place!" Crystal looked up and saw that the person approaching was Melvin! Damn it, what bad luck! | can't believe | ran into that jerk even here!

Laurie and the others were also taken aback, whispering, "Crystal, Melvin had a relationship with him too? Your friend is really troublesome!"

Crystal knew that Melvin had come to bother Robin specifically because of what had happened at Purpeak Bar a few days ago. Just seeing the fiercetooking man next to Melvin, she was also startled.

This person was Dwayne Lambert, Conway's nephew.

The Demon's Lair reigned as the boxing champion in the underground arena of Hallcester.

Every year, countless boxers would die under his iron fist.

Dwayne was known as the Boxing King of Hallcester.

His skills surpassed Leonel's.

Melvin approached Dwayne and pointed at Robin, saying, "Dwayne, he is Robin, he is the one who hit me at Purpeak Bar." Dwayne glanced at Robin.

Meanwhile, nearby, Angelo was looking at Dwayne with great interest.

"Is he the Boxing King of Hallcester? | didn't expect tonight to be quite interesting!"

Jasmine whispered, "Young master, the sect leader said that Poison. Sect's first obstacle upon entering Hallcester is Demon's Lair. It is said that this Dwayne is a fierce warrior under Conway, but | don't think he is anything special!"

Angelo didn't speak, he just smiled.

He didn't think so.

Is it not an ordinary person who can support the underground boxing arena of Demon's Lair as the reigning boxing champion? At this moment, some onlookers in the bar also began to whisper and discuss.

"Who is this guy? Le actuary m

"What was the size of the Reynell family in Halleester*? Moreover, the Reynell family had a very good relationship with Mr. Lambert."

"Did he hit Mr. Melvin'? Isn't that suicidal?" "Tonight, Melvin invited Boxing King over for revenge. This guy is definitely going to leave in disgrace!"

Rebecca and Pamela looked at the situation in front of them and quickly pulled Crystal aside, whispering, "Crystal, we need to get away from this man you brought as soon as possible. Dwayne and Rudolph seem like they're about to beat him up, and he might not be able to leave so easily."

Crystal still hadn't spoken, and Krish also felt that the situation was serious.

Realizing that this matter was caused by him, he took a step forward and said, "Robin, Crystal, you can go. This has nothing to do with you."

Robin, who was about to leave, stopped in his tracks when he saw Krish's face still oozing blood. I didn't expect this guy to have a bit of courage.

He pushed Krish to the back and said: "Go away! What I do is none of your business."

Dwayne's gaze instantly turned cold as he watched Robin's nonchalant attitude.

At this moment, Rudolph, who had originally been prepared to teach

Robin a lesson, stopped in his tracks as he witnessed the scene before him

He exchanged a glance with Angelo and said, "I didn't expect this guy to be quite a troublemaker. Let's not act yet, let's see how it goes."

"You can tell at a glance that this guy is a rookie who has just started out, hasn't experienced any setbacks yet, hehe..." Krish was pushed by Robin towards Crystal and became much more alert.

He looked at Robin's back and felt deeply sorry in his heart.

Because of the things between myself and Tricia, I ended up attracting so many ruthless characters and even involved Robin. The young master of the Hashville Martial Arts Union's leader.

The young master of Poison Sect.

Even Mr. Lambert's nephew, Dwayne, the reigning boxing champion of Demon's Lair underground arena, had to face Robin at this moment.

Although Dwayne and Melvin appeared, it was not because of him.

However, if it wasn't for Crystal dragging Robin over, this wouldn't have happened.

Dwayne took a step forward and looked at Robin coldly, "Did you hit Melvin?"

At this moment, Robin's phone rang.

Robin didn't even look at Dwayne and directly opened his phone.

The phone call was made by Karina.

"What's wrong. Ms Huber? Why are you calling me so late?"

There was a pause on the other end of the phone as Karina said, "Robin, could you please not call me Ms. Huber in the future?" "What should I call you if not Ms. Huber?" Robin was a bit confused. Was this woman calling me so late just to say this? "You... from now on, just call me Karina, and address me as Ms. Huber, as if I am very serious... Is that okay?"

Robin thought for a moment, "Alright, then I'll call you Karina. Karina, what's the matter?"

There was silence on the other end of the phone for a while, obviously someone was covering their mouth and laughing.

After a while, Karina spoke softly, "Robin, I have sent the meeting agenda document for tomorrow morning's executive meeting of the Eastern District Development Corporation to your email. Take some time to familiarize yourself with it."

Robin replied directly, "Okay, I'll take a look right away." After ending the call. Robin directly opened his mobile phone's mailbox and browsed through the emails sent by Karina..

"Kid, I was talking to you, didn't you hear me? Do you think I'm invisible?" Dwayne exclaimed angrily as he realized that Robin didn't pay any attention to him.

Robin pouted and said, "Why did I have to consider you important?" Continuing, I proceeded to read the email sent by Karina.

Robin's words made everyone gasp in shock.

"Damn! Is this guy an idiot?"

"How dare you speak in such a tone to the Boxing King?"

Rudolph hummed lightly, looking at Robin like a clown.

In his imagination, the next moment, Robin would die on the spot.

Corey and the others were dumbfounded in an instant. They hadn't expected this guy that Crystal brought along to be so reckless.

Did you offend these people? Do you still want to live?

He immediately grabbed Laurie and said, "Hurry up, if they redirect their anger towards us later, it will be troublesome!" Laurie also nodded, "Crystal, hurry up! If they remember that we were with Robin, it will be disastrous."

Crystal, however, did not move.

She knew that these people were not worth mentioning in front of Robin.

Laurie and the others saw Crystal and Krish standing behind Robin, motionless. They no longer paid attention to her and all stepped back.

Afraid of being implicated by Robin, he took precautions.

Melvin watched as Robin made a fool of himself in front of Dwayne and the others, almost laughing his mouth off. "Robin, I didn't know you were so bold. What exactly is your confidence based on?"

Robin had just finished reading the email and hung up the phone.

He looked up at Melvin and said, "You want to know my confidence,

Chapter 77 Boxing King

don't you?"

Before Melvin could react, a slap landed on his face.

Melvin was like a broken kite, flying out of the bar door and crashing heavily onto the steps.

There was a sudden exclamation in the bar.

"Oh my god! This guy actually slapped Mr. Melvin in front of Boxing King? Is he crazy?"

Dwayne immediately became angry and said, “Kid, do you dare to lay a hand on me in front of my face?”

Robin's mouth twitched slightly, “Who do you think you are? What's wrong with me taking action in front of you?”

Chapter 78

Chapter 78 | Wanna Kill Him! “You were asking for trouble!”

Before Dwayne could even assume a fighting stance, Robin pushed him away and said, “Get lost! Don’t interrupt me while I’m watching short videos!”

Dwayne was casually pushed by Robin, and his sturdy body staggered back several steps.

What just happened?

Dwayne was momentarily dazed!

I have been practicing my lower body skills for over a decade, so I shouldn't have been so pathetic. For many years, the underground fighting arena’s real-life battles have honed his tough and robust physique. Very few people were able to push him away with one palm.

Moreover, Robin’s palm was so casual and indifferent!

Dwayne took a deep breath in shock.

At that moment, he truly examined Robin.

This person completely disregarded the current situation.

Either the ignorant are fearless, or they are truly top-notch experts who have experienced great challenges. Does this person really have some ability?

12-21

Chapter 281 Wanna Kill Him!

It was impossible!

The experts within Londraland, he had basically heard of them.

Even the top few, they themselves have also had encounters with them.

| have never heard of a person named Robin before!

How could an insignificant nobody without any foundation ever compare to me!

It was just my carelessness.

Melvin covered his swollen cheek and dared not speak anymore.

On the day at Purpeak Bar, he witnessed Robin's skills.

Knew this guy was tough!

However, little did they know that Dwayne, the reigning boxing champion of Demon's Lair underground arena, appeared so weak in front of Robin.

Not only Melvin.

Rudolph and Angelo were also slightly startled.

Although they thought that Dwayne was not stronger than them.

However, it was not an easy task to push Dwayne three to four meters away with just one palm. Just as Dwayne, Rudolph, and the others were shocked, Tricia was extremely excited.

"Hehe, you bastard, ignorant and arrogant. Do you know who you are facing right now? How dare you lay a hand on us! Do you think you can get away with it today? Haha..."

"Annoying!" Without even looking, Robin slapped Tricia across the face.

"Boohoo..." Tricia, who had been knocked down to the ground, crawled up to Rudolph. "Rudolph! I'm going to kill him!" The crowd of onlookers exclaimed again.

"This guy really didn't care about his life!"

“Regardless of who the other person was, did they start fighting as soon as they said so?”

Rudolph never expected that Robin would completely disregard his presence and attack without hesitation.

Although they were just playing around and using each other, he and Tricia were seen as a couple by everyone. Robin hit Tricia, which obviously means he hit her face!

If I don't step forward now, this face will be completely lost in Hallchester.

However, just now Robin pushed Dwayne, which shocked him.

He thought about waiting until Dwayne made a move, then observing Robin's approach before deciding whether or not to take action.

However, this woman named Tricia was barking like a mad dog, which annoyed him greatly. I wanted to step forward and start immediately. However, in the face of Robin's determination at the moment, Rudolph suddenly hesitated.

Tricia struggled to her feet, covering her face. She now wished she could kill Robin, shaking Rudolph's arm, “Rudolph, I wanted to kill him!”

Rudolph was about to step forward when he saw Dwayne approaching. So he deliberately slowed down half a beat, waiting for Dwayne's move.

After being pushed by Robin in public, Dwayne's face turned extremely ugly. He took a step forward and said, “Kid, did you really dare to lay a hand on me?”

Robin snorted coldly. “If you're going to do it, just do it. What's the point of distinguishing between real and fake?”

Dwayne looked up at Robin and paused for a moment.

I couldn't understand it myself, and there was a slight sense of fear in my heart.

“Hahaha...” a burst of laughter came from behind.

“The Boxing King of Hallcester Underground Boxing Arena also had a day when he was angrily confronted by someone.” Angelo walked up confidently, while mocking disdainfully.

Jasmine followed closely behind.

Dwayne raised an eyebrow and said, “Who are you?”

Angelo smiled indifferently and said, “I am Angelo.”

Dwayne heard the person’s name and pondered for a moment, “Are you Angelo, the junior sect master of Poison Sect?” Dwayne was also greatly shocked by Angelo’s appearance.

The Poison Sect established its sect a hundred years ago and rarely made a high-profile appearance in front of the world. Famous for manufacturing toxins and potions, both righteous and evil.

Pharmaceuticals both saved lives and harmed people.

Opinions about him in the martial arts world were divided.

Dwayne nodded without expression, “So it was Mr. Klein.”

Angelo laughed arrogantly and said, “I have heard of the Hallcester Boxing King title before, and now that I see it today, hehe...” With that, the conversation came to an end and was not continued.

Dwayne knew that Angelo was mocking him, and his gaze gradually turned cold.

Just as she was about to angrily confront Angelo, Tricia suddenly snapped out of it and covered her face, screaming loudly. “Rudolph, kill this bastard quickly! He hit me right in front of you, which means he doesn’t respect you at all!”

Dwayne glanced at Rudolph and Tricia and thought to himself, “People have always said that they don’t take you seriously!” Rudolph wished he could slap this woman to death at the moment!

Originally, I was thinking of letting Dwayne take the lead, to see Robin’s skills, and then decide how to handle the current situation.

With Tricia's words, I couldn't help but feel embarrassed on my face. If we don't take action soon, it really won't be acceptable anymore. Chapter 79 | Wanna kill kimi

He was the young deputy leader of the prestigious Hashville Martial Arts Union, venturing into the world for the first time, ready to make a name for himself.

I can't afford to lose face in such a small situation! Rudolph snorted and shrugged off Tricia, walking forward.

The crowd inside the bar grew more excited.

They were looking forward to the spectacular scene of Rudolph, Dwayne, and Angelo joining forces to beat up Robin. Corey, who was not far away, saw the situation escalating further and was extremely frightened.

He pulled Laurie, Rebecca, and others nervously and said, "Let's hurry up and leave. It would be troublesome if we were implicated by Robin."

Laurie nodded, "Fortunately, we didn't follow him too closely. Let's not worry about him and hurry up, tomorrow we still have to go to the Huber Group to attend the signing ceremony for the outsourcing project in the east of the city."

Rebecca looked towards Robin and Crystal, "But Crystal is still here..."

Laurie exclaimed anxiously, "Don't bother with her anymore, if we do, we will also get involved."

"Didn't you see? She was getting along well with Robin, and now she can't leave even if she wants to."

Pamela shook her head, "You guys go, we can't just stand by and watch Crystal get into trouble, let's all escape, shall we?" Rebecca nodded, "1. I also think so... let's wait a moment and see before deciding..."

Laurie and Corey, seeing the two of them like this, angrily said, "It's up to you you get involved with Robin, don't blame us for not warning you. We're leaving first!"

The two immediately pushed through the crowd and left the bar.

At this moment. Rudolph had already arrived in front of Robin and pointed at him, saying, "Repeat what you just said, kneel down and apologize to my girlfriend!"

Tricia, upon seeing this, sneered and said, "You fool who doesn't know any better, you hit me, and I will make you pay back double!"

"Rudolph, I beat him until he couldn't take care of himself anymore, only then did I relieve my pent-up anger!" Robin shook his head and said, "I don't understand women like you, always so fond of risking your life. Well, as you wish!" With that, he grabbed Rudolph's outstretched finger and gave it a flick, causing a loud "snap" sound.

Rudolph hadn't even realized what had happened when his right hand was already broken.

The whole body seemed to be enveloped by a strong airflow, pressing him down so that he couldn't lift his head. With a thud, he fell to his knees in front of Robin.

The crowd of onlookers exclaimed in astonishment.

"Ah! The deputy leader of Hashville Martial Arts Union actually kneeled down?"

"Really? Is it an illusion?"

"You, how dare you hit me?" Rudolph gasped in pain, screaming in humiliation.

"You're nothing, what's the big deal if I hit you!" Robin snorted lightly. and kicked him in the jaw.

The deputy leader of the Hashville Martial Arts Union was sent flying backwards, crashing into a pillar in the bar hall, and landed heavily on the marble floor.

Ashower of broken stones splashed up, and Rudolph curled up, spitting out large mouthfuls of blood.

"You, how dare you lay a hand on him? He, he is..." Tricia was going crazy, she never expected Robin to be so terrifying. Ignoring the shock of her and the crowd. Robin coldly grabbed her hair and threw her directly onto the glass door of the bar. With a crash, the glass door shattered into a pile of fragments.

Tricia fell to the ground, her body convulsing violently, with blood all over her face and head!

Robin acted so fast and hit so hard that the entire bar fell into an instant silence.

Chapter 79

Chapter 79 This Guy Is Ruthless!

All the onlookers at the bar initially thought that Robin was just a novice who had never suffered any losses in the world. Young and arrogant, unaware of the vastness of the world.

Faced with the contempt of Rudolph, Dwayne, and others.

In front of so many people, unwilling to lose face, | just said a few harsh words, pretending to be tough.

No one had expected that Robin would actually take action without hesitation.

Moreover, he acted ruthlessly, without any hesitation.

What surprised everyone even more was that the deputy leader of Hashville Martial Arts Union became the champion of the national martial arts competition.

In front of Robin, so vulnerable!

It seems that the title of Rudolph, the deputy leader of Hashville State, was too weak!

Hashville State's top player, Sergio, was far inferior to his father.

The crowd watching now looked at Robin with a different expression. In their eyes, no longer mocking or disdainful as before. Some were just shocked and sympathetic..

If Sergio had found out that his son had been seriously injured by Robin, how could he just let it go?

Chapter 29 This Guy is Puchless!

After a brief shock, the onlookers in the bar began to whisper and discuss among themselves.

“This kid has gone crazy!”

“He really didn’t know that he was fighting against the deputy leader of the Hashville Martial Arts Union?” “Now we have a good show to watch!”

“These past two days, something big is going to happen in Hallcester!”

“The president of Hashville Martial Arts Union would definitely visit. Hallcester!”

“Robin, this guy, seems to have gotten himself into big trouble!”

“It is feared that there will be casualties!”

Listening to the discussions of the people around him, Melvin dared not speak anymore.

The first time | met Robin, this guy was so unreasonable.

Today remained the same.

Moreover, the attack caught people off guard.

Robin took out a wet wipe and wiped his hands, then disdainfully threw it on the ground.

glanced at Crystal and Krish and said, “If | had known it would be so troublesome, | wouldn’t have come with you!” “I, | didn’t know something like this would happen...” Crystal stuck out her tongue and said, “Sorry, Robin.” Robin saw Crystal in such a weak state and could only give up.

At that moment, everyone

In the current situation, will this Demon's Lair underground boxing arena’s Boxing King fight or flee?

If one were to shrink back and run away, from then on, one would never be able to hold one's head up in Hallcester. Dwayne knew he absolutely could not back down.

About to move forward.

Angelo had already stepped in front of Robin, angrily saying, "You dare to attack so ruthlessly, seeking death!" Robin confronted Rudolph and ended their gathering.

No matter what, the face of this Poison Sect's junior sect master couldn't be saved.

He definitely had to step forward and say something.

Robin gave a cold smile and said, "Idiot! If you can't fight fiercely, why bother fighting at all? If you can't handle it, then don't come out and act tough! Just stay at home and drink milk like a good boy!"

"Outrageous!" Angelo shouted, ready to take action. Jasmine snorted coldly, "Young Master, there's no need for you to personally handle these sesame seeds matters." With that, she took a step forward and extended her hand, wearing a steel brace, pointing at Robin.

"Immediately kneel down and beg for mercy from the young master. Perhaps if the young master is pleased, he might spare your wretched life!"

Jasmine had not finished speaking when a figure flashed by.

Immediately after a scream, Jasmine's hand with steel claws was forcefully pulled off from her wrist.

In an instant, blood splattered everywhere!

In extreme pain. Jasmine went crazy and screamed in the hallway of the bar. "You, how dare you break my cage claw, L..." "Damn it, since you dare to fight, what am I afraid of? Do I have to wait for you to come and catch me? Trash!" As the words fell, a slap was delivered.

Jasmine flew up and crashed into the bar counter of the bar.

The wine cabinet toppled over, and several hundred bottles of wine were smashed to the ground.

The Summer Bar, once again, fell into a stunned silence.

Then, a sigh followed.

“What happened?”

“What exactly happened just now?”

“In just two short minutes, the deputy leader of Hashville Martial Arts Union was deposed, and the maid of Poison Sect’s deputy master was beaten to the ground, searching for her teeth.”

“He’s gone mad, gone mad, this guy is really crazy!”

Just as everyone was immersed in incredible astonishment, Jasmine stood up angrily from a pile of broken glass bottles and exclaimed, “Ah! I’m going to kill you!”

The left hand pulled out a short knife from the body and rushed towards Robin.

Robin shook his head and said, “Since you want to die, so be it!”

Grabbing Jasmine’s hair as she rushed towards me. | slammed her enchanting face directly onto the card table. “A bang.”

The hard tabletop in the bar was shattered by Jasmine’s face.

Jasmine’s entire facial features collapsed inward.

The horrific scene caused a burst of screams from the onlookers.

“Damn! This guy went all out!”

“That was terrifying!”

Robin took out a wet wipe, wiped his hands, and looked up at Angelo.

At this moment, Angelo stood completely silent in place.

He was well aware that Robin was not as weak as they had imagined.

Undoubtedly, this was a ruthless character they had never seen before.

Angelo saw his maid being dismissed by Robin and angrily shouted, “You're asking for trouble!”

In an instant, a black beam of light shot towards Robin.

In the dim light of the bar, a silhouette flashed by.

Angelo's chest felt as if it had been heavily hit by a truck, causing him to immediately fly backwards.

Chapter 29 This Gan

He flipped over on the ground, spitting out blood heavily, pointing at Robin in terror. “You, don't come any closer!” Robin gave a cold smile and walked step by step towards Angelo.

“I just can't understand, how can trash like you have the audacity to constantly say that you want to kill me?” “Since you wanted to kill me, do you think I would give you another chance?”

Angelo looked at Robin's terrifying smile and got so scared that he wet his pants.

“D—Dwayne, you were the Boxing King of Hallcester. You can't just stand by and let this person run rampant here, can you? We are in this together, go stop him!”

As soon as these words were spoken, everyone in the bar was taken aback.

Immediately after, a sound of disdain rang out.

The renowned young master Angelo of the Poison Sect, as it turns out, was a fame—seeking and cowardly individual who valued his own life. above all else.

At this moment, there is no longer the arrogant appearance of the young master who used to be high and mighty.

He was a complete black sheep.

Just now, | was singing in harmony with Rudolph, it seemed like we could easily dismantle Robin in a matter of minutes. Now the true colors are revealed, unable to defeat Robin.

Begging to Boxing King was a joke!

Rebecca and Pamela, who had not yet left the bar nearby, saw this scene in front of them and covered their mouths in astonishment.

“| didn’t expect that the friend Crystal brought was so talented!” No wonder Crystal didn’t want to leave. It turns out she knew that Robin was more skilled than them.

Rebecca sighed and said, “No matter how skilled you are, what does matter? Rudolph and Angelo’s backgrounds are too terrifying.”

“Even if Robin defeated them today, would Hashville Martial Arts Union and Poison Sect spare him?” “Ah, Pamela, let's try to persuade Crystal to leave, I’m very afraid!”

Pamela shook her head, “Crystal won't leave. After all these years. don't you know what kind of person Crystal is? Robin came with her, she would never abandon him.”

Rebecca nervously said, “The key is, the people Robin offended, their backgrounds were too terrifying.”

“Did you see it? That Boxing King from Demon’s Lair, he won't let it go.”

“Dwayne’s uncle was none other than Hallcester’s Underground Demon King, Mr. Lambert!”

“Who is Mr. Lambert? He was a demon! A heartless demon who killed without hesitation!”

“Robin hit Rudolph and Angelo. If he touches Mr. Lambert's nephew again! Does he still want to leave here alive?” ®. Uer Bald esiaa Pamela hesitated, “I seems like it.

Rebecca didn't wait for Pamela to think it through and quietly approached Crystal. She pulled her from behind and whispered, “Crystal”

Crystal was looking at Robin nervously, ignoring her.

Rebecca became anxious and raised her voice slightly, saying, “Crystal! Dwayne is Mr. Lambert's nephew. We need to leave quickly. If we alert Mr. Lambert, it will be too late to leave.”

The bar hall suddenly fell silent, and Rebecca's voice was particularly loud.

She was startled and quickly retreated.

This sentence reminded the onlookers who were still in shock.

Yeah!

Rudolph and Angelo used to be very powerful, but now in Hallcester they are just small fish in a big pond. And Dwayne's uncle, Mr. Lambert, was the big shot in Hallcester!

No matter how skilled Robin was, he was just one person.

Did he really dare to challenge Dwayne head-on?

Did Dwayne move, would Mr. Lambert let him go?

Chapter 80

Chapter 80 He Won't Be So Lucky This Time

Dwayne glanced disdainfully at Angelo and ignored him.

The gaze focused on Robin. “Kid, you hit hard enough!”

“Those who live by the sword, leaving no room for compromise, aren’t they afraid of not living long?”

Robin raised an eyebrow and chuckled lightly, “Teach me how to do things? Who do you think you are!”

“It's your uncle Conway who came over, and he didn’t have the guts to talk nonsense in front of me!”

“If you're not happy, just take action directly, why bother with so much unnecessary hesitation and concern!” As soon as Robin said this, it once again caused a wave of exclamations.

“| went! This guy is really crazy!”

“Can you believe he had the audacity to say that Mr. Lambert didn’t have the courage to talk back to him?” “Only a brainless person would dare to say such unreliable words, right?”

Krish was completely startled by Robin’s words and actions at that moment.

We had a great time tonight!

The last time at Purpeak Club, Karina was present, and Mr. Lambert

Chapter 80 He Won't Be FoLucky This Time

didn’t mind Robin’s arrogance because of the Huber family’s reputation.

But today was different.

Today, present at the scene was Mr. Lambert's nephew, Dwayne.

He was the person most appreciated and valued by Mr. Lambert.

If we let the situation continue to develop, Robin will definitely cause a big disaster.

By then, he Krish could not escape the connection either.

At this moment, Krish wanted to step forward to dissuade, but he was held back by Crystal.

She squinted her eyes and looked with interest at Robin's tall figure, a smile playing at the corners of her mouth. "[was starting to like this jerk more and more, haha... No matter where we were, he never failed to amaze me with his words."

Krish saw Crystal in this state and whispered, "Crystal, are you crazy? Quickly advise him to stop, offending Mr. Lambert is no joke."

Crystal shook her head, "The best is yet to come."

Krish didn't know where Crystal got her confidence from.

Is the best yet to come?

Did you anger Mr. Lambert, is there anything else behind it?

He looked up at Dwayne.

At this moment, Dwayne was no longer restrained and said coldly, "Are you really not afraid of death?" In Halleester, Mr. Lambert was the symbol of Demon's Lair.

Robin actually didn't even take Mr. Lambert seriously. How could he not take action! Several Demon's Lair underground fighters who came together were also infuriated. "You've ruined Mr. Lambert's reputation, kid, you're done for!"

"Yang Ge, finish him off!"

"Chop off his hands and feet, and present them to Mr. Lambert as an apology!"

"You guys step aside!" Dwayne, burning with anger, pushed aside a few boxers surrounding him and instantly threw a powerful punch, aiming straight for Robin's face.

This punch came with a powerful sound of breaking through the air, like a giant wave emptying itself and spewing out! The crowd of onlookers immediately stepped back.

“Wow! This is the terrifying aura of the Demon’s Lair underground fighting arena, at the level of a champion!”

“The strength of the underground boxing champion was still impressive!”

“The combat power ranked second in Hashville State, of course, is formidable!”

“No wonder Mr. Lambert valued him so much, he truly deserves to be the top warrior of Demon’s Lair!”

“Robin probably wasn’t as lucky this time!”

Originally confident, Crystal was also taken aback by Dwayne’s ferocious momentum.

At this moment, she suddenly regretted not heeding Krish’s advice to persuade Robin to give up.

Looking at Dwayne’s punch, it was so sharp and intimidating!

So much so that she dared not look at Robin, who was standing in the middle of the bar with no reaction at that moment. Couldn't he escape this disaster?

Just as everyone was imagining the next scene to be a horrifying sight, Robin threw a punch directly at it!

There was only a muffled sound, “Bang!”

Dwayne’s powerful iron fist struck with force, just like hitting a steel plate, sending it flying away!

The right arm that threw the punch twisted into a spiral instantly, hanging lifelessly like a dead snake on the shoulder. He curled up in pain, his eyes filled with confusion and despair.

The once proud Boxing King, surprisingly couldn’t withstand a casual block from the opponent?!

All the previous glory and pride are now worthless!

Ah?!

The whole bar suddenly screamed!

This T

Dwayne!

Mr. Lambert's nephew!

The Boxing King of Demon's Lair underground arena!

Did Robin knock him down with just one punch?

Everyone looked at Robin under the dim lights of the bar, greatly astonished!

When did Hallcester come out as such a formidable person?

If Rudolph, Jasmine, and Angelo had lost to Robin before, they all seemed to have underestimated their opponent. However, this time, Dwayne's move was a powerful punch thrown with all his strength.

In front of Robin, it was equally vulnerable!

The three martial arts elites of Hashville State, even Robin couldn't defeat them with a single punch!

This guy was too enchanting!

"Trash like you, do you still want to come out and stand up for others?" Robin wiped his hands and threw the wet towel onto Dwayne's face.

Dwayne struggled to stand up, but half of his body remained immobile. He looked at Robin in humiliation and said, "You... you dare to hurt me, you're finished!"

Robin snorted, "It's all the same routine, can't we play something new? Besides using that pitiful silhouette to scare people, what else can we do!" "I gave you time to make a phone call and call for help!"

Turning around, he walked towards Melvin and shook his head, saying, "Now, let's settle our issues. Are you planning to bring people to retaliate against me, meaning that you want to fight me to the death?"

“Mr. Bruce, | know | was wrong, | will never dare again, please forgive me...”
Melvin didn’t dare to cause trouble anymore, scared and begging for mercy.

At this moment, he regretted deeply.

He never expected that Robin could be so fierce!

Rudolph. Angelo, and Dwayne were nothing in front of him.

| was still scheming to kill him.

What the fuck is this? Is it trying to get itself killed or what?

If | had known this earlier, | would never have dared to bring Dwayne with me to seek revenge on Robin.

“Mr. Bruce, please spare me... |... | am willing to become your servant, forever serving you as my master! Never betraying, and if | ever disobey, | will accept whatever punishment Mr. Bruce deems fit!”

Melvin knelt on the ground, pleading desperately.

In order to survive, it doesn’t matter even if | become Robin’s dog.

Melvin’s plea shocked all the onlookers in the bar.

Mr. Melvin from World Real Estate, surprisingly, was willing to be Robin's dog. just like a lost dog.

Robin snorted. “Fine! If you can act like a dog and bark loudly one hundred times. then I’ll let you go.” Melvin hesitated for a moment.

What's the big deal about a few barks from a dog!

Being able to become a fierce dog like Robin, worth it!

“Woof woof woof!”

Everyone in the bar was stunned.

Is this really the arrogant second young master of the Reynell family?

Robin gave a cold smile and then turned to look at Angelo, who was in a state of panic.

Angelo trembled on the ground and moved backward, “You, don’t come any closer, I... | was the Vice Sect Master of the Poison Sect...”

“What else can you do?” Robin’s mouth twitched. “I just got rid of a disgusting bug from the Poison Sect, Ebony, and getting rid of one more like you won’t make a difference.”

“Did you... Did you kill Ebony? How dare you... Aren’t you afraid of the Poison Sect’s retaliation?” Angelo pointed at Robin in astonishment, trembling as he spoke.

“So, you see, no matter what | do now, you will all retaliate against me. Instead, | might as well eliminate you all!” Angelo trembled as he crawled up from the ground and backed away, saying, “Alright, alright, you just wait!”

Chapter 80 Won't Be to Lucke This Time

Robin's mouth twitched, “I never had the habit of waiting!”

“What... what do you want to do? | warn you, don’t mess around!” Angelo saw the situation and ran away immediately. Robin shook his head and kicked one of the chairs in the bar.

The steel seat, which had been shot out, hit Angelo’s leg.

With a thud, he heavily knelt on the marble floor.

The hard marble floor splintered into pieces.

Angelo’s knees sank deep into the marble floor.

The crowd in the bar let out a cry of astonishment.

“Oh my goodness! After this, does Angelo even have a life left?”

Robin walked step by step towards Angelo and placed a foot on his ankle.

“Squeak, squeak, squeak...” The bone—breaking sound echoed terrifyingly in the silent bar.

"You, you can't do this, otherwise, Poison Sect will never let you go!" Angelo screamed in fear.

"Poison Sect is nothing! Even if they don't let me go, what can they do?" Robin chuckled lightly and exerted force with his foot. "Snap!" A crisp sound.

Angelo's right ankle was crushed!

"Ah!" a heart-wrenching scream escaped Angelo's lips as he pleaded, "Please, forgive me, let me go. | promise | will never be your enemy again."

Robin lifted his foot and stepped on Angelo's other ankle, "Too late! | didn't have the habit of forgiving others." "Crack! Crack! Crack!" A series of fragmented sounds echoed one after another!

Angelo's limbs turned into a pile of bloody minced meat.

The Summer Bar was filled with Angelo's miserable screams and pleas for mercy.

Every onlooker looked at Robin blankly.

Before, everyone thought that Robin would leave here horizontally tonight, or even die on the spot. However, the dramatic and unexpected turn of events in front of everyone's eyes took place!

At that moment, there was a commotion outside the bar.

"Mr. Lambert has arrived!" a voice suddenly exclaimed.

Everyone looked instinctively towards the crowd.

A strong man with an angry face hurriedly arrived.

The person who came was indeed Conway, the Underground Demon King of Hallcester!

"Mr. Lambert, really came!"

"Robin, this time it was doomed!"

The crowd murmured quietly, looking at Robin with sympathetic eyes.

No matter how powerful Robin was, he couldn't defeat the hundreds of fierce henchmen in Demon's Lair. Chapter 10 He Won't Be So Lucky This Time Since its establishment in Hallcester, no one has ever heard of anyone who has managed to survive after offending Mr. Lambert at Demon's Lair.

Now, in front of so many people, Robin has defeated Dwayne. He might not survive!

Rebecca's face turned pale with fright.

She pulled Pamela and whispered, "Let's go, Mr. Lambert is here, Robin is really beyond help." Pamela was also scared and her legs went weak, nodding her head. At this moment, | couldn't care about Crystal anymore and secretly squeezed out of the crowd.

Several boxers from the Demon's Lair boxing arena, who had previously come with Dwayne, hurriedly approached as they saw Conway leading a group of people.

"Mr. Lambert!" "Damn it! Do you all want to die?!"

Mr. Lambert's roar sent shivers down the spines of everyone in the bar, causing them to instinctively step back, trying to put as much distance between themselves and Robin as possible.

Chapter 81 What's Wrong With You?

Conway's loud roar frightened everyone, causing them to refrain from making any sound.

Melvin, who was learning to bark like a dog, suddenly fell silent.

"Did | ask you to stop?"

In the silent bar hall, a chilling voice suddenly resounded.

Following the sound, everyone turned to look at Robin.

"Did he really behave so recklessly in front of Mr. Lambert?"

"Didn't this guy really know who Mr. Lambert was?"

The crowd in the hotel lobby, with their mouths wide open in astonishment, exclaimed, "Is this guy out of his mind?" "Aren't you afraid that Mr. Lambert would chop him on the spot?"

"He killed Mr. Lambert's nephew, so it doesn't matter if he dies tonight."

Melvin didn't know what to do at that time.

Robin looked at Mr. Lambert, then looked at Mr. Bruce, and started crying, "Mr. Lambert, Mr. Bruce, I... I..." Conway, with a gloomy face, walked up to Melvin and slapped him across the face with a loud "smack!"

"You bastard, didn't you hear Mr. Bruce's words? Keep calling!"

Melvin was hit and became dizzy

What exactly happened?

Mr. Lambert actually referred to him as Mr. Bruce?!

The crowd of onlookers was extremely amazed.

What is the situation?

Did Mr. Lambert actually let Melvin continue calling according to Robin's suggestion?

Which act did the Demon's Lair's demon lord sing?

Just as everyone was speculating, Conway personally dragged Dwayne in front of Robin.

"Kneel down! Apologize to Mr. Bruce!"

Dwayne was puzzled, with a look of confusion on his face.

I don't understand why Mr. Lambert, who had been dominant in Hallcester for over a decade, would bow down to Robin. Despite having lost an arm, the pain was unbearable. However, Mr. Lambert's orders had to be carried out. Dwayne knelt in front of Robin, "Mr. Bruce, I'm sorry!"

Conway also respectfully approached Robin, "Mr. Bruce, it's all my fault for not disciplining him strictly enough..... "Alright, let's call it a day with this matter!" Robin turned around and walked towards the door.

"Yes!" Conway finally breathed a sigh of relief, wiping the sweat off his forehead.

After Robin left the bar, he accidentally stepped on Dwayne

"Damn it, you almost killed me! If it weren't for Mr. Bruce's mercy, you would have been dead long ago!"

"Uncle, who... who is he?" Dwayne hadn't seen Conway lose his temper like this in a long time, and he was so scared that he knelt down on the ground. "He's just a nobody with no background, why are you giving him face?"

"Shut up! If you dare to speak up for others without my permission again. I'll ruin you!"

"And remember, you! If you dare to misbehave again when you see Mr. Bruce in the future, you won't be as lucky as you are today!"

"Yes!" Dwayne dared not lift his head, his face pressed against the ground.

Conway turned around and walked away, looking at Melvin who was still learning how to bark like a dog, and stepped on his face.

"Damn it! Melvin, huh? You think you can go out and kill people with your measly strength? I'll kill you first!" Conway vented all his anger on Melvin.

Just as he was about to snap his neck, Melvin shouted loudly, “Mr. Lambert, you can’t kill me, I am Mr. Bruce’s dog, he has already promised to take me in!”

Conway suddenly stopped, shook his head, and walked out of the bar. Melvin collapsed on the ground, completely terrified.

Close call!
