Chapter 81 What's Wrong With You?

Just a little bit more. Mr. Lambert would have killed him.

If it hadn't been for the last minute announcement of Robin's name, he would have already reported to the Grim Reaper by now. Rebecca and Pamela, who did not leave in time, were stunned for a while and did not realize what was going on.

Was Mr. Lambert from Demon's Lair, the Underground Demon King of Hallcester, really so afraid of Robin?

Who was Robin exactly?

Ah? Did I miss a big opportunity?

"Crystal, wait a moment, please tell us, which prominent family does Robin belong to? We would like to have a chat with him." Rebecca chased after Crystal and Krish, shouting.

"I knew that there was a unique bar in Watat District, and I invited you all to go there..."

Crystal stopped in her tracks and turned around with a faint smile, "Forget it, I know nothing about his background. If you guys bet on the wrong person and it ends up causing trouble for you, it will be troublesome."

"Moreover, he simply wouldn't go."

After saying that, he quickly chased after her outside the door, "Robin, I'm sorry, I didn't know this would happen either." Krish also stepped forward and bowed, saying, "Robin, thank you..."

"It's a small matter, I'm leaving," Robin waved his hand and walked towards the Land Rover parked across the bar. Chapter 81 What's Wrong With You?

Leonel immediately got out of the car and opened the door,

Robin drove the Land Rover and disappeared into the cold night with a step on the accelerator.

Lauric and Corey, who had been waiting in the car outside, saw everything happening in front of the bar.

“Robin, did he actually come out alive?” Corey looked at the direction where the Land Rover disappeared, puzzled and confused. “Hey, Corey, did you see that person who just got out of the Land Rover? Wasn't that Leonel?” Laurie tugged at Corey. Corey nodded in astonishment, “Yes...yes! How could Leonel send a car to Robin? Could he be working for Cecilia?”

The two quickly approached Rebecca and her friends, noticing their disappointed expressions, and asked, “What happened to you guys? You seem very unhappy.”

Rebecca sighed and said, “It's all our fault for being blind. Such an important figure was right beside us, and we didn't even know!”

Pamela snorted, “What's the use of knowing? In that situation just now, we all wanted to distance ourselves from Robin. Now, you think Robin would pay any attention to us if we tried to make amends?”

Laurie furrowed her brow, then suddenly smiled, “But we still have Crystal, don't we? At that time, Robin didn't pay attention to what we were doing.”

“Ah, Crystal, could you tell Robin that we invited him to have dinner with us tomorrow night?”

Crystal looked at the expectant expressions in Laurie and Corey's eyes and sneered, “Do you think he will go? Haha... Chapter Et Whark Wrong With Yout

With that, he drove off towards Mauveglow Villas in his Porsche.

Laurie glared at Crystal's departing figure, stomped her foot, and said. “What's so impressive about knowing Robin? He's not even your boyfriend.”

“Corey, if you could sign the project of the Eastern Business District by the Huber Group tomorrow, your net worth would skyrocket soon!”

“By then, your status was many times higher than the Thompson family!”

Pamela shook her head as she watched Laurie and Corey drive away, thinking to herself, "Even someone who Mr. Lambert respects, what can you achieve by going to invest in a small project?"

"Let's go, Rebecca. Missed the opportunity, and there will never be a chance again." Pamela sighed helplessly, pulling a regretful Rebecca as they drove away in silence.

On the mountain path of Mauveglow Villas.

Robin drove his Land Rover, listening to music, leisurely enjoying the night scenery in the mountains under the bright moon and scattered snow. Open the car window and let the cool night breeze blow in.

Taking a deep breath of the clean and refreshing scent of moonlight, it felt so pleasant.

Robin thought about Enzo's instructions, "This old guy made me wait here."

What were we waiting for?

Chapim i

This old bastard, could it be that he wants to get rid of me and have a good time with a few fairies? "Stab!"

There was a loud sound of intense friction between the tires and the ground, as a fiery red Porsche came rushing straight from the intersection.

"Damn it! Are you crazy, woman?" Robin stopped the car and stuck his head out, cursing.

Crystal smirked and opened the car door, "You nearly hit me, and yet you blame me?"

Robin pouted and said, "Fine, fine, fine, you're awesome! I'll let you go first!"

After saying that, he reversed the Land Rover two meters back, bypassed the Porsche, and swiftly headed towards the villa area.

Looking in the rearview mirror, Porsche was nowhere to be seen. Robin laughed, “Haha, you thought you could follow me? | left you in the dust. bro!”

Arriving at the entrance of the villa area, | took out the Leopard Card and drove into the villa area. The security guard was about to close the door when Crystal's car arrived at the entrance.

The security guards on night duty were the same two from the morning, and they knew Crystal. “Robin and | were together!” Crystal said, opening the car window.

The security guard hurriedly bowed and gestured for her to go in.

Chapter 51 What's Wrong With

The Porsche shot like an arrow towards the mountaintop.

After Robin parked the car, he opened the mansion gate and, to his surprise, Crystal was standing in front of him. “Uh? How did you get in?” “Hehe, trying to get rid of me? No way! Hahaha...” Crystal looked at Robin’s expressionless face and burst into laughter.

Robin sighed, “Why aren’t you going home this late? Why are you following me? Aren’t you afraid that | might lose control and, you know, do something to you?”

Crystal sneered and patted Robin's chest, “If you have the guts, come on! I, Miss Crystal, will never back down. Who’s afraid of who?! I’m afraid you don’t have the courage!”

“Alright, this is what you said, don’t regret it!” Robin grabbed Crystal’s delicate wrist and smirked.

“Hehe, all talk and no action. Do you think I’m afraid of you?” Crystal retorted stubbornly, but deep down, she suddenly felt a bit panicked.

“That’s what you said!” Robin exclaimed as he scooped up Crystal and headed towards the bedroom.

Chapter 82

Chapter 82 | Can't Cook!

Crystal spoke nonchalantly

In fact, it was all a disguise

| just really enjoyed the feeling of chatting with Robin

As for deeper communication. | haven't dared to think about it.

Now Robin really held her in his arms, but she started to get nervous.

| have never been so close before in my life.

| wanted to break free from Robin's embrace.

However, the big words have already been spoken, and it would be embarrassing to take them back. Hiding in Robin's arms, breathing in the tempting scent emanating from this man, | instantly felt a bit mesmerized. This embrace was so warm!

Since my mother passed away, | have never had such a warm embrace.

Years have passed, and | have already forgotten that there is still something to rely on in this world. At this moment, Crystal really wanted to hide in Robin's arms and never leave again.

“Bang!”

While Crystal was savoring the embrace she couldn't bear to let go of,

Robin abruptly threw her onto the couch.

“Ah!”

Crystal felt dizzy for a moment. “You jerk! Can't you be a little gentle with me?”

Suddenly, she saw Robin taking off his clothes!

“You? What do you want to do?” Crystal curled up in a corner of the sofa, panicking.

Robin immediately stopped.

| suddenly realized that there was a woman in front of me.

Robin sat beside Crystal with his bare arms and said, "Aren't you.

afraid of not speaking? I've only come this far, and you can't handle it?"

Saying that, he directly took off his pants.

"Ah! You scoundrel!" Crystal quickly closed her eyes, her cheeks turning red to the roots of her ears. | only heard the sound of clothes being taken off.

Huh?

This bastard was really serious!

What should | do? | have sent myself into the wolf's den!

Should | accept or not?

Do | really have to give myself to him?

| had only known him for a few days, how embarrassing it was!

Crystal felt hot all over, and her heart was pounding like a rabbit hopping around in her chest.

What should | do....

Does this guy underestimate me and see me as the kind of woman who is very casual?

If it were like that, it would be troublesome!

| have never been alone with a man before, ever. This is the first time in my life!

Just as Crystal was pondering about what might happen next, she heard Robin's voice from behind. "Take my clothes to be washed!"

"Then, make me a dinner."

Huh?

Crystal suddenly opened her eyes and looked at herself, then looked at Robin who was walking towards the second floor. Did you treat me like a servant?

"I won't! Why should I wash your clothes and cook for you?"

Robin turned around and chuckled, "This was what you promised in the afternoon, that you would cook for me for a week. If you're lying to me, then get out now!"

He finished speaking and turned around, heading upstairs.

"You! You bastard! ... I fucking can't cook!" Crystal was almost going crazy.

I have never cooked a meal in my life, and you want me to cook?

Oh my god!

In the afternoon. I just casually said it, how could this guy still remember it! Fuck you!

I was waiting for you!

Let me in. it turns out that it was for me to cook!

"Gurgle..."

My stomach growled.

Crystal touched her stomach, which was flat.

Summer Bar had been busy all night and hadn't eaten anything. Indeed, he was feeling a bit hungry.

"Troubled, huh?" Robin's voice came from the second floor. "It's okay. if you can't do it, just go back by yourself. I'll finish showering and do it myself."

"Ugh! Today, I... I actually did it!" Crystal snorted lightly, "Go take a shower!"

"Alright! I'll be waiting for your delicious food," Robin said, chuckling lightly as he watched Crystal's determined expression, and walked towards the bathroom.

Crystal stared at Robin's back and stomped her foot, "Today, I must make a five-star meal! It's just a meal, can't defeat me, Miss Crystal!"

I immediately downloaded a food app online as soon as I said it.

Clicked into the tutorial of a five-star chef.

Choose a few home-cooked dishes.

Tomato and scrambled eggs, braised pork, and chicken stewed with mushrooms, shredded pork with green peppers. Haha! Now there's no need to worry anymore!

This young lady could definitely make a table full of delicious dishes.

After seeing Robin, that jerk, I dare him to despise me again!

Crystal became instantly excited.

According to the recipe, I found several necessary main ingredients and condiments in the refrigerator in the order specified. She knew how to cook a pot of rice.

Wash the rice, add some water, turn on the rice cooker, and it's done!

Then, prepare diced tomatoes and four eggs.

Then, the fresh pork belly was taken out and cut into pieces, and some seasonings were added for marinating. Watching the master's fancy knife skills in the video, this seems a bit challenging.

It took a lot of effort to cut the tomatoes and pork belly into pieces.

The appearance was somewhat pitiful and not very attractive.

I trimmed it several times, but I couldn't cut the pork belly into the attractive shape shown in the video.

“The videos are all fake! In reality, this is how it is chopped!” Crystal

said firmly

“Moreover, it’s just about eating, the shape of the dish is not important, what matters is the taste of the dish!” Crystal felt a sense of accomplishment when she looked at the result of her first attempt at cutting vegetables. For this, | took a photo and posted it on my Moments.

Cooking in the nine-star kitchen at Mauveglow Villa 1.

“Take a look at the vegetables | chopped, do they look good? Just wait a moment, | will continue to share the delicious food | made with all of you.”

In a short while, Miranda sent a Line message. “Crystal, where were you going crazy in the middle of the night?”

Crystal sent a smug emoji: At Robin’s Mauveglow Villa 1. Look, this Mauveglow Villa 1 has a nine-star kitchen, Miranda, have you ever seen it?

“Crystal, were you poisoned? You keep mentioning Robin.”

| advised you to stay away from him.

This bastard is a complete fraud, and by the time you realize it, it will be too late! Crystal replied with a smile and stopped discussing the matter.

Haha, it should be you who regrets, Miranda.

| really don’t know what kind of vision you had!

Alright, let’s not talk about those things. Time will tell you the answer.

There is one more dish not prepared. | need to wash this chicken clean. and then put it in the cooking pot to stew. | stopped talking to you.

At that time, Robin walked into the kitchen and asked, “Is the meal ready?”

Crystal nervously pushed Robin out, “Just wait a moment, go to the living room and play with your phone for a while, dinner will be ready soon.” “I'll see what you're doing...” Robin wanted to see what dishes this woman was making, but Crystal blocked her outside. “I was about to stew the chicken. How about taking a picture with the chicken?”

Robin stretched his neck to take a look and indeed, there was a chicken on the chopping board. “Alright, I'm waiting to eat the chicken. Just make sure it doesn't get overcooked and become inedible.”

Crystal nodded confidently, “The dishes my sister makes are all made by five-star chefs. Just wait, you won't be able to stop eating later, hahaha...”

Robin looked at her with a radiant smile and rolled her eyes. “Is it necessary to show off like this just for cooking a meal? It's probably the first time in her life.”

“Alright, stop laughing so hard, I was still waiting to enjoy your five-star meal!”

“You hurry up and leave, you're delaying me from cooking. After that time, it won't be fresh anymore. Don't blame me if it's not delicious!” Crystal pushed Robin far away and immediately rushed back to start cooking.

Don't say it, cooking is still a very fulfilling thing.

Back in the kitchen, Crystal immediately placed the chicken in the cooking pot and added various ingredients to start steaming. Then, I prepared to make a dish of scrambled eggs with tomatoes.

Following the video tutorial, after a busy and chaotic rush, tomato scrambled eggs and honey-glazed braised pork were all done. Due to the lack of proficiency in controlling the heat, the entire cooking process was somewhat chaotic.

So much so that she had disheveled hair and her delicate cheeks were half white and half black, as if she had gone through an extremely intense battle.

Luckily, it was finally done!

Looking at the four dishes on the stove.

An unprecedented sense of achievement gushed out! | finally made a five-star meal!

“Such a strong smell of smoke? Did the kitchen catch fire?” Robin poked his head out and looked at the smoke-filled kitchen, then glanced at Crystal, who looked exhausted, and asked.

“What? You go out first!” Crystal pushed Robin out of the kitchen.

| wanted to give him a big surprise!

Let this guy see how the dishes made by Miss are!

After appreciatio

the four dishes she made she quickly put them into the bowls.

Then, cover the dish with a lid.

Mission accomplished!

In a short while, four five-star imitation dishes were brought to the dining table.

Robin looked at Crystal’s face, with one black patch and one white patch, and smiled, “Cooking a meal is quite tiring.” Suddenly, a strong smell wafted from the covered dish.

Robin looked at the covered dish on the table and said. “Did you cook feces? Why does it smell so bad?”

Crystal glared at him angrily, opened the bowl of food, and said, “Take a look at what | cooked! How does it look?”

Chapter 83

Chapter 83 Smelly Dishes “Buzz!” A pungent smell burst out!

“What dish did you make? It smells so bad!” Robin exclaimed in shock, looking at the appalling appearance of the dish in the bowl.

Three bowls were black and one bowl was still bubbling and emitting a foul smell.

Four bowls of dishes couldn't tell what they were at all.

At first glance, it looked like four bowls of cow dung.

This woman could actually make the dishes so unprecedented and unique, which is not easy!

Crystal uncovered the covered bowl of dishes and proudly said, “I made this according to the recipe of a five-star hotel. Try this tomato scrambled eggs.”

Watching Robin's exaggerated expression, Crystal felt extremely proud. Hey, you!

Haha, do you think asking me to cook can defeat me?

Didn't this young lady still make a delicious meal!

Robin looked at the table full of things that looked like black cow dung and laughed,, “Is this what you called a five-star hotel- level tomato and egg stir-fry?”

“Yeah! Try it quickly, how is it!” Crystal excitedly picked up a dark object and brought it to Robin's mouth.

“I won't eat it! It's just crap!” Robin dodged. “If any five-star hotel sells this kind of tomato and egg stir-fry, they would close on the opening day”

“No eating, no way!” Crystal angrily stuffed the tomato scrambled eggs into her mouth. “Ah, poof?”

He blurted out. “It's indeed not very tasty, too much salt.”

“Um, this doesn't count. At that time, I was cooking this dish when you suddenly came in and disturbed me.”

Robin looked at the dishes on the table and then glanced at the pot of dark chicken soup. "Why don't you try a sip of the chicken soup first and see how it tastes?"

"Puff" Crystal took a sip of chicken soup and immediately spat it out.

"Damn it! The method taught in the video was a scam! I followed the steps exactly as shown in the video, so how did I end up with such a stinky chicken soup?"

Robin looked at the chicken soup and said. "You cooked this chicken without removing its internal organs? Is this a five-star method?"

Crystal suddenly realized.

Oh my goodness, do I have to remove the internal organs when stewing the chicken? Damn it! They didn't mention it in the video!

1224

Crystal immediately ran to the bathroom and brushed her teeth several times.

It turns out that a pot of chicken shit was really stewed!

Taking a deep breath, Crystal finally came out of the bathroom.

Robin had already dumped all the dishes on the table into the trash can.

"I'll do it again, this time, I will definitely..." Crystal said, blushing.

"Forget it, let you do it again, or else you'll burn down my kitchen," Robin surveyed Crystal, who looked like she had crawled out from the bottom of the pot.

"Hurry up and go wash yourself, the clothes from last time are still in your room. I fell for you, the female scammer." "I dare not let you cook for me for a week a week anymore.

Crystal was not convinced and said, "I can do it. If I practice more, will definitely be able to cook decent dishes!"

I

Robin chuckled, “Hah! Practice making a decent meal again, will you? I’m impressed by your skills! Go wash up quickly, I’ll whip up something simple to fill our stomachs first.”

Humph! I had to make a good dish!

Crystal watched Robin’s back as he walked towards the kitchen. She clenched her fist and said to herself, “Just you wait, I’ll see what tricks you can come up with later!”

I quickly went to the bathroom, washed away the odor from my body, sprayed a little perfume deliberately, and then returned to the restaurant. Just arrived at the restaurant door. I immediately smelled a strong fragrance!

On the table, there was a plate of scrambled eggs with tomatoes, a plate of stir—fried green peppers with meat. There was also a bowl of fish and tofu soup.

Tomato and scrambled eggs, with an enticing color.

Stir—fried green peppers and meat, shiny and smooth with oil.

Smelling the fragrance and looking at the appearance, I couldn’t help but want to take a bite immediately. “Did you do this?” Crystal exclaimed.

“It wasn’t me, was it you who did it?” Robin pushed the dish towards her. “Hurry up and eat.” This man can actually cook?

I took a bite of tomato and scrambled eggs, and it filled my mouth with a delicious aroma. Delicious!

I have never eaten such delicious tomato and egg stir—fry before!

Green pepper and sliced pork, tender and refreshing, soft and fragrant, the taste is absolutely amazing! Hmm, and there was also crucian carp tofu soup!

Take a sip and taste it.

Wow!

This soup was so delicious!

Crystal didn't even lift her head while she was devouring the food.

"Gosh!"

A full burp, loudly emitted.

| suddenly realized that Robin was looking at her with great interest across the table.

"Why... why are you looking at me?" Crystal nervously checked her collar.

Rubbing the bulging belly, then looking at the empty plate on the table.

"Have you not eaten for several days?" Robin glanced at Crystal, whose mouth was oozing oil, and pouted. "Is it? Well!"

Crystal was annoyed and held back the burp.

However, the stomach just wouldn't cooperate.

There was even a gas inside that was eager to come out, hold it in, don't embarrass yourself! Turned around and ran towards the bathroom.

Damn it, you embarrassed yourself big time today!

Crystal hid in the bathroom and didn't dare to come out for a while.

When she came out of the bathroom, Robin had already gone back to the room to rest.

She finally breathed a sigh of relief and lay on the big bed.

The next morning, after waking up. Robin had already left the villa.

This guy got up without even calling me!

Crystal just remembered that Robin was going to take up his new position at the Easter District Development Corporation of the Huber Group today.

Simplified my makeup and left Mauveglow Villa 1.

Just as | arrived at the entrance of Mauveglow Villas, | met Krish running towards me in sportswear from the mountain trail. From a distance, there were still some bandages on the face.

“Crystal, wait a moment, how come you were here?”

“Last night. | was at Robin’s house...” Crystal said, but suddenly she felt like she had said too much.

Krish didn’t know where to go..

“Robin? Does Robin live here? Is it the Zone 2 villa bought by the Huber family?” Krish asked. Crystal wanted to tell him that Robin lived in Mauveglow Villa 1 in Zone 1.

| thought about it and decided against it. Even if | told him, he wouldn’t believe it, and it would require a lot of effort to convince him.

“Yes, | don’t know whose villa it is, but anyway, Robin lives there.”

“Did you... Did you get together?” Krish exclaimed in astonishment.

“You’re talking nonsense!” Crystal blushed, “I just came to take a look, don’t think about those irrelevant things.” Krish nodded with a smile. “Crystal, it seems like you have been getting close to Robin lately

“What happened last night, if he hadn’t intervened, | would have gotten into big trouble ”

“| never expected Mr. Lambert to have such awe for him.”

“Did the Huber family greet Conway?”

“It seems that Robin held a high position in the Huber family.”

“No matter what, | should be grateful to him,”

“Crystal, | would like to find a time to thank Robin. Can you help me make an appointment?”

Crystal chuckled inwardly.

Why does everyone think that Conway is so afraid of Robin because of the Huber family?

Why wouldn't they think that maybe it was still the Huber family who wanted to get close to Robin, the big tree! Even if the Huber family had all the energy, would they be eligible to move into Mauveglow Villa 1?

Crystal looked at Krish and said, “Sure. However, | can't guarantee this. | don't know if Robin will agree or not.” “Thank you then. So, after | arrange the meeting place tomorrow night, | will send it to you,” Krish said joyfully. At that time, Krish and Crystal both received Miranda's Line account.

Meet them at Blue Bay Café, across from the Huber Group, half an hour later.

Krish also did not change his clothes and directly sat in Crystal's car, and they arrived at Blue Bay Cafe together. Miranda and Jacob had been waiting there for a long time.

“What's the matter, Miranda? Why did you call us over so urgently?” Crystal asked directly.

Miranda furrowed her brow and sighed.

“Crystal, Krish, Jacob and | had an urgent matter and we wanted to ask for your help.”

Jacob nodded, his face filled with worry.

“Three months ago, Jacob and | invested in a region in the south of the city. At that time, we heard rumors that the city government was about to develop the south of the city, so we took out a loan to purchase a piece of land.”

“However, it is now heard that the government has no plans to develop this area and is preparing to develop the investment zone in the western part of the city.”

“At present, the land prices in the southern part of the city have been rapidly plummeting. If we don’t sell it soon, it will probably become a burden.”

“Please come over, we hope you can help us to connect with more people and see if we can sell it to them at half of the original purchase price.”

Krish asked, “The land in the south of the city? That’s really troublesome. It’s been rumored lately that it’s no longer being developed. How much did you guys buy?”

Chapter 83 Smelly Dishes

“We invested a portion of our own money and also took out a loan from the bank, each investing ten billion.” Jacob said helplessly.

“Barry’s loan is due soon, and I don’t have the cash right now, so I want to settle it at half price. Let’s deal with it later after getting through this.”

Krish and Crystal shook their heads together, “Given the current situation, it seems difficult to intervene.”

Chapter 84

Chapter 84 Sleazy Man Miranda furrowed her brow and let out a long sigh.

“If the Brown family cannot monetize the land they hold in the southern part of the city, they will be unable to repay the bank loan.”

“The funding chain of the Brown Group would have immediately collapsed, and the consequences would have been unimaginable.”

Upon hearing this, Crystal also worried for her, “Miranda, what can we do about it? After all, it’s not a small amount of money.” Miranda shook her head bitterly, “I don’t know what to do either.”

“So, I would like to ask you all to help me in reaching out to some capable friends and see who can take on this project, so that I can quickly recoup funds to repay the bank loan.”

Krish sighed. “The key is that the land in the south of the city was basically abandoned by the municipal government.”

“At present, all the businesses holding the Southern District project are trying their best to transfer it to others, but no one is willing to take over even at half price.”

“I heard that many people are willing to sell at a 20% discount in order to repay their bank loans.” Miranda nodded, “Krish, Crystal, I had no other choice but to seek your help.”

“The bank stipulated that we must repay the loan before next week, otherwise...”

Chapter 84 Sleazy Man

“Ah!” she sighed heavily, “Grandfather’s current physical condition is. really worrying.”

“The doctor determined that his body could support for at most half a year.”

The news came that the shareholders of the Brown Group had already started to stir secretly, coveting the position of the chairman.

“Grandfather wanted me to take over the Brown Group.”

“But, six months ago, I advocated for the investment in the South City development project, and now this issue has become the talk of those shareholders and relatives...”

Crystal sympathetically looked at the gloomy Miranda, “Miranda, weren’t you with Nathen from World Real Estate yesterday?” “Ten billion, a small matter for the Reynell family.”

“And, the Southern District will be developed sooner or later, just a little later.”

“If you have the capability, investing in the Southern District will definitely not incur losses, and you might even make a big profit.”

Miranda chuckled bitterly, “Mr. Reynell is a man of great ambition, why would he invest his spare money in such a hopeless area?”

Krish nodded and said, “According to Hallcester’s current urban. development plan, if the Southern District stops its investment this time, it may not be able to restart even after more than a decade.”

“Miranda, Jacob, the Southern District project in your hands was really troublesome.” “I didn’t have that kind of connection and network to take on your

According to the current layout of Hallcester, only the Huber family, the Reynell family, Purpeak International Group, and Demon's Lair had the strength to take over. Then, they waited for the opportunity to develop further.

“However, they would not easily invest a large amount of funds into such a long-term benefit, especially considering the unknown outcome.”

“Unless a miracle happened, the municipal government suddenly announced that the south of the city would be immediately developed.”

Miranda shook her head helplessly. “It seems that I have no choice but to go to the Huber Group and Purpeak International Group and see if Karina and Cecilia can accept it.”

“Ah. Mr. Walsh. I remember now, weren't you quite familiar with a sales vice president from the Huber Group?” “Shall we go and find him to see?” “What was the name of that vice president?”

Jacob's eyes lit up, “Oh, I almost forgot. Yes, yes, his name is Reginald Aguilar, an MBA from Potrya’s Millbush Business School and the Assistant General Manager of the Sales Department at the Huber Group.”

“It is said that he was a classmate of Karina at Millbush University, and the Huber Group held him in high regard. It is very likely that he is the new president of the Eastern District Development Corporation this time.”

“Today, the Huber Group held the first executive meeting of the Eastern District Development Corporation at its headquarters, as well

Chapter 84 Shary Man as an on-site signing ceremony for the outsourcing of the Eastern Business District project.”

“Miranda, we went directly to see Mr. Aguilar to see if he could convince Karina to take over the land in the southern part of the city from us.”

Crystal listened to their conversation and really wanted to tell Miranda. In fact, Robin is the newly appointed president of the Eastern District Development Corporation, a subsidiary of the Huber Group.

If Robin spoke, the Huber Group would take over the Brown family's five billion dollar plot of land in the southern part of the city, perhaps just a matter of words.

Unfortunately, the Brown family missed an opportunity that was originally meant for them.

"Alright, let's give it a try in the past and see if we can turn things around," Miranda nodded. "Crystal, if you don't have anything else going on, come with us."

Crystal readily agreed.

| had been thinking about going to the Huber Edifice across the street. earlier to see what the scene was like when Robin took office as the President of the Eastern District Development Corporation.

So, the four of them chatted for a while and then they got up and headed to the Huber Group.

Robin arrived at the Huber Edifice early as scheduled.

Just as | entered the hall, | heard a female voice behind me shouting, "Robin!"

Robin turned around and saw Madeline and Blanca.

After nodding slightly, he walked to the front of the elevator.

Blanca pulled her and said, "Why are you shouting so loudly! Greeting a security guard, isn't it embarrassing?"

Madeline stuck out her tongue and said, "What's embarrassing about Robin being a security guard? We're not even employees here yet."

"You're such a pighead! | will become a senior executive here sooner or later, maybe even the assistant to the president or vice president. He can only be a security guard!" Blanca sneered at Madeline.

Madeline whispered, "Even so, it's nothing. We are colleagues, friends. Just a simple greeting, nothing more. Besides, he even saved me once."

Blanca angrily said, "Only someone as foolish as you would think like this. Can't you see? He is deliberately waiting for me here, isn't he?"

"This jerk must have been plotting against me. I hate this kind of sleazy man the most!"

"No way, Blanca? When I didn't call Robin, he was just walking." Madeline thought for a moment and said, "Besides, Robin is not creepy at all."

"Hehe, if he wasn't intentionally waiting for me here, why wouldn't he be wearing a security uniform at his post during working hours?" Blanca looked disdainfully at Robin.

"Coward! Yesterday at Cosmo Mall, when he saw me being bullied by a few men, he actually pretended not to see, such a hypocritical man!"

Lfieszy Man

Madeline muttered. "Perhaps I really didn't see it..."

"Alright! Stay away from him in the future! Don't wait until it's too late and regret being deceived and hurt!" Blanca glared at Madeline. fiercely and scolded. Madeline pouted her lips and stopped talking.

Blanca looked at Robin in the elevator and didn't want to go in.

However, I have to go for an interview soon, if I don't go in, I'm afraid I won't make it in time. At that moment, Maurice ran up from behind and said, "Blanca, Madeline, you've arrived." However, the elevator could only accommodate two more people at most.

Maurice looked into the elevator and saw Robin wearing headphones and scrolling through his phone. He scolded. "You go down first!"

Everyone in the elevator looked at him simultaneously.

Robin was still scrolling through his phone, ignoring Maurice.

“What about you? Didn’t you hear?” Maurice shouted loudly.

The people inside the elevator, two of them knew Maurice and asked, “Mr. Chandler, who is this?”

“Just a small security guard in the company, even during the rush hour, | have to squeeze into the crowded elevator. It’s really annoying!”

Maurice was clearly displeased. “Did you hear what | said? Hurry up and go down, let us in!” Chapter 84 Sleazy Man

Blanca looked at Robin, who was still ignoring her and staring at her phone. She sneered. “Disgusting. Just to be in the same elevator as me, you have no shame.”

She took a step forward and directly removed Robin’s headphones. “Maurice was talking about you! Hurry up and get out of here, you're delaying so many people from going to work!”

Robin immediately became displeased, “Who allowed you to remove my headphones, you uncivilized person!” Blanca was instantly shocked, “You! How dare you, you vulgar thing, dare to insult me?”

“Are you saying that you have no manners? Is that wrong?” Robin smirked, “You ignorant fool, I'll slap you! Get lost!” Maurice wanted to speak up, but looking at Robin’s indifferent expression, he felt uncertain.

| had to say, “Alright, you wait. | will tell the head of the Security Department about this matter to you all!”

“Blanca, you go up first. I'll wait for the next elevator. | am a cultured person and won't argue with a security guard!” Madeline and Blanca entered the elevator.

Robin ignored Maurice and Blanca and said to Madeline, “Did you come for an interview today?”

Madeline nodded and said, “I might not have been accepted, the interviewer mentioned over the phone that | was slightly less qualified compared to a few other applicants.”

Robin smiled and said, "Don't be discouraged, you will definitely be able to get the job." Chapter 84 Sleazy Man

Blanca snorted, "A lousy security guard acting like a company CEO, thinking he can say and do whatever he wants?"

Chapter 85

Chapter 85 You Are a Coward

Robin looked at Blanca with great interest, smirked, and ignored her.

This kind of brainless woman always likes to imagine sickly scenarios.

You can imagine whatever you want, just imagine it the way you like. Enjoy yourself.

Blanca, feeling resentful, angrily questioned Robin, "Hey, I'm asking you!"

"Yesterday afternoon, at Cosmo Mall, when I was being bullied by three men, did you see or not see?" Robin gave a cold smile and said, "I saw it, how could I not see it at such a close distance? What's wrong?" "Since you saw me being bullied, why didn't you risk your life to save me?" Blanca said coldly.

Robin shrugged, "Why should I save you?"

Blanca gritted her teeth and said, "You are a coward, a useless person!"

Robin laughed.

"What I was doesn't matter."

"The important thing is, women like you, with such looks, can't even be considered second-rate. Which man in that situation would risk his life to save you? That's what being sick is."

unreasonable!" Blanca seethed, her eyes filled with disdain.

"If you can't afford to play, then don't go to that kind of place," Robin chuckled.

Then, pointing at Madeline, “However, if she were to encounter such a situation, I would definitely intervene.”

At this moment, the elevator reached the twentieth floor and Robin gestured to Madeline, “Excuse me, it’s my stop.”

“You! Hypocrite!” Blanca stomped her foot in anger, grabbed Madeline’s hand, and walked out of the elevator, standing in front of Robin.

“He clearly liked me and went to great lengths to catch my attention, but deliberately acted in this disgusting way of playing hard to get!”

“I can’t believe it! He’s still sick!” Robin shook his head, not wanting to waste any more words with him. “Blanca, don’t be like this, okay?”

Madeline was also speechless, she turned around and smiled. apologetically, saying, “Robin, I’m really sorry.” Robin shrugged, “It’s okay, I won’t argue with a lunatic. Don’t be discouraged, you will be accepted.”

After saying that, he walked towards the Conference Room for Executives of the Huber Group.

“Stop right there!” Blanca shouted at Robin’s back, “That is the Conference Room for Executives, what makes you qualified to go there!”

Robin ignored her and continued walking forward.

Blanca rushed up to Robin and pointed at him, saying. “Do you think that just because you are the security guard here, you can freely enter the executive area?”

“The Huber Group had strict regulations in place to prevent the leakage. of the company’s trade secrets...” Robin pushed her aside and walked straight in.

Blanca glared fiercely at Robin's back, wanting to step forward and stop him. However, Karsyn walked out from inside and stood in front of her.

“Miss, please do not make loud noises here! You are not a company executive and are not allowed to enter this area,” Blanca glanced at Karsyn’s name tag.

The words "President's Assistant Karsyn" were written above, and Blanca's eyes lit up. Immediately, she respectfully said, "Hello, Ms. Croft. My name is Blanca, and I have come to apply for a position at your company."

Karsyn nodded, "The recruitment office of the HR Department is on the fifteenth floor. They need to interview you, so please go there."

"Ms. Croft, I was trying to stop him!" Blanca pointed at Robin's back, "He, a mere security guard of a company, dared to recklessly intrude..."

Karsyn furrowed her brows slightly and said, "You said he was the company security guard? Haha, who told you that?" Blanca replied, "It was Maurice from Team 1 of the Sales Department who said that."

"Oh, I got it. The group will hold an executive meeting immediately. All irrelevant personnel, please leave the 20th floor immediately!"

"No, Ms. Croft. he was just a small security guard..." Blanca persisted. Karsyn interrupted her and coldly said. "If you don't leave now, I will ask the security to escort you out!"

Saying that, he picked up the walkie-talkie and said, "Security Department, dispatch two personnel to the twentieth floor immediately! Ensure the smooth progress of the executive meeting."

Blanca wanted to continue explaining, but Madeline pulled her towards the elevator.

Entering the elevator, Blanca broke free from Madeline and angrily exclaimed, "Why are you pulling me?"

"I was going to tell Ms. Croft that Robin, that jerk, sneaked into the Conference Room for Executives!"

Madeline shook her head, "Blanca, Robin hasn't offended you, why do you always have a problem with him?"

"Why didn't he offend me?" Blanca felt very annoyed in her heart.

"A low-level security guard, in order to catch my attention, always kept hovering in front of me. It disgusted me!"

In order to impress me, he actually said that my looks couldn't even be considered second-rate. It made me so angry! "From childhood to adulthood, which man didn't become infatuated when they saw me?"

"This jerk, secretly desires me while pretending to be indifferent on the surface, how hypocritical! Hypocritical and detestable! I will definitely expose his true colors!"

"He thought that by pretending to walk into the executive meeting Chapter 85 You Am a Coward area, I would think he was a top executive? Haha, what a moron!"

Madeline sighed. "Blanca, you might be overthinking it. Robin never had any intention of getting close to you, let alone having any feelings for you."

"Yesterday you also saw it, the woman who was with him, she was driving a Porsche 918, and she seemed quite beautiful, much taller than you, and had a very good figure."

Blanca gave Madeline a disdainful look and said, "A lousy security guard and the woman he's with, what good can they be? Probably from a nightclub."

Madeline sighed and said, "Blanca, her name is Crystal, I guess she might be the Thompson family's young lady."

Blanca shook her head contemptuously, "Blanca, only you would believe such nonsense! It's probably Robin who brought this fortune. teller, deliberately pretending to be a young master to show off in front of me!"

"Hehe, I wouldn't fall for it! Besides, if that woman was Ms. Thompson, would she come out for dinner wearing a pair of men's slippers?"

Madeline chuckled and said, "Even if Crystal isn't Ms. Thompson, how can you be so sure that Robin is the security guard of the Huber Group?"

"If that was the case, why didn't Ms. Croft stop him from entering the executive meeting area just now?"

"Maybe Robin was an executive of the company?"

"Otherwise, he wouldn't have been able to enter there, let alone tell me that I could be hired."

Chapter 85 You Are a Coward

"In conclusion. I believed in him."

Blanca snorted coldly, "Forget it! Madeline, you were really too deeply poisoned! Sigh, what can I say about you?"

"Wait a moment, once you see the result of the job application, you will know!"

Executive meeting area.

Karsyn walked up to Robin and bowed, saying, "Mr. Bruce, Ms. Huber instructed me that starting today, I am your executive assistant. If there is anything you need, please let me know."

Robin nodded and said, "Alright, you go to the HR Department and let them know to keep Madeline and assign her to the Business Strategy Department."

"She was a master's degree holder in economics, and moreover, she had won many awards, so she should be capable." Karsyn was taken aback, as if she had guessed that Madeline, whom Robin mentioned, was one of the two women just now. "Okay, I'll go take care of it. Mr. Bruce, where is the young lady who was with her?"

Robin thought for a moment, "Don't bother with her, let the HR Department decide on their own, and don't interfere with opinions."

Karsyn paused and said, "She seemed very rude to you. Should we have the HR Department reject her..." "No need!" Robin waved his hand. "Let it be."

Chapter 95 You Are a Comard

Karsyn nodded. "Okay, Mr. Bruce."

"The executive meeting area is ahead. I will accompany you there and introduce you to the executives. Then, I will go to the fifteenth floor."

Rebin took the meeting materials from Karsyn's hand and said, "I'll go. by myself, it doesn't matter if I introduce myself or not, everyone will get to know each other later. You go to the fifteenth floor first to handle Madeline's matter."

"If it's too late, the decision from the HR Department would have already been made, and it would be difficult to coordinate further."

“Alright,” Karsyn agreed, “Ms. Huber called this morning and said she'll be a little late. Please go inside and have a seat for now.” Robin laughed and said, “It’s okay, you go ahead and busy yourself.”

The HR Department reception on the fifteenth floor.

The recruitment list of the newly established Eastern District Development Corporation has been released.

Blanca was successfully hired as the Planning Clerk for the Marketing Department.

Madeline failed her job application.

Reason for rejection: Late arrival on the day of the interview.

“Senior, could you please see if you can negotiate with the interviewers from the HR Department? Even if it’s the worst department in the company, the receptionist at the front desk would be fine.”

Chapter 85 You Are a Coward

Blanca pulled Maurice and said sadly, but her eyes were shining with excitement.

Maurice was puzzled, “I have already said that even for the position with the lowest salary, the competition is so fierce that the ratio of applicants to hires is thirty to one.”

Once the list was announced, it could not be changed anymore. Blanca’s eyes sparkled with pride, and there was a hint of schadenfreude.

“It's okay, Madeline. Even if you couldn’t get into a top-notch company like the Huber Group, you can still join a second or third— tier company in the future. Don’t be discouraged, keep going!”

Chapter 86

Chapter 86 Assistant to the Director

Madeline took a deep breath and said. "It's okay, Blanca, Maurice, don't worry about me. I will accept reality." "That morning for the job interview, it was indeed me who arrived late."

"It was all my own fault. If I hadn't gone to buy youtiao, I wouldn't have been late."

"Such a result was also a profound lesson for me."

"I won't make the same mistake again."

Blanca sneered, her eyes faintly flickering with a mocking gleam.

Madeline shook her head casually and smiled, "Alright, let's not talk about me."

"Blanca, to celebrate your successful entry into our Hallchester's largest company, the Huber Group, tonight, I invite you and Maurice to have dinner."

"This time, no need for going Dutch, I'll pay!"

Blanca smiled meaningfully.

"Hehe, Madeline, forget it. You haven't found a job yet, so where would you get the money to treat us?" "Besides, I didn't have time to have a meal with someone like you who has nothing to do."

"Tomorrow is the official start of work, and today I have to go back and prepare a lot of things."

Madeline paused for a moment, awkwardly sticking out her tongue. "Oh, sorry about that. I got carried away and forgot. I'll make it up to you when you're not busy!"

Blanca paused for a moment and looked at Madeline before saying, "Madeline, you were not hired by the Huber Group. In the future, if you find a job in a regular company, the income won't be very high."

even

“We used to rent a house together at Grace Apartments before, and the rent was very expensive. With your current situation, can you afford to live there?”

Blushing, Madeline said, “I, | will find a job as soon as possible, the rent... the rent won’t put you in a difficult situation.”

Blanca sneered, “Madeline, what | mean is, even if you found a job, you wouldn’t have the same good salary as the Huber Group.”

“Isn’t it a bit uneconomical to live in luxury apartments like Grace Apartments again?” Madeline frowned, “I... I’ll find a job first and see how the salary is before deciding...” Blanca shook her head and glanced impatiently at the dull Madeline.

“Madeline, what | mean is, | will first put the house you are currently living in up for rent online, so that you don’t have to worry about not. being able to afford the rent and having to borrow from me later.”

“Uh... | see.” Madeline looked a bit surprised and smiled. apologetically.
“Okay, Blanca, I’m sorry for inconveniencing you.”

“The rent at Grace Apartments was indeed quite expensive, unless you worked at the Huber Group like you, then it was worth living there...”

While talking. Blanca looked up and saw Karsyn walking towards the HR Department, so she hurriedly went up to meet her.

“Hello, Ms. Croft! | have some good news to report. | was hired by the company. From now on, we will be colleagues. Please take care of me.” Karsyn paused for a moment, nodded and said, “Oh... alright, congratulations to you!” Noticing Madeline behind Blanca, “Are you called Madeline?”

Blanca was immediately confused.

Without waiting for Madeline to speak, she interrupted and said, “Oh, Ms. Croft, Madeline has already been rejected for employment by our company.”

Madeline nodded apologetically, “Hello, Ms. Croft.”

“Um, okay.” Karsyn ignored Blanca and walked up to Madeline. “Just wait a moment, don’t leave.” “Huh?” Madeline was confused and casually agreed, “Okay...”

After saying that, he turned around and entered the office of the HR Department director.

Blanca watched Karsyn’s figure for a while.

Looking at Madeline again, she frowned and said, “Did you two know each other before?”

“I don’t know her! I’m just a recently graduated poor student. Ms.

Croft, on the other hand, is the assistant to the CEO of the Huber Group. How could I possibly know such an important person?” Madeline shook her head and let out a bitter laugh.

“How could she possibly call out your name?” Blanca stared into Madeline’s eyes, afraid that she might be lying “Blanca, don’t you already know what kind of background I come from? I really don’t know Ms. Croft.”

Blanca thought for a while and muttered to herself, “Well, Madeline is an ugly duckling, how could she have any connection with Karsyn?”

At this moment, suddenly thought of the words Robin had just told Madeline.

She chuckled and said. “Madeline, I said that Robin was a complete fraud, right?!”

“In front of me, in order to pretend to be very impressive, you dared to say that you would be hired. It’s truly laughable!” “What’s the situation now? You were still rejected by the Huber Group!”

Madeline sighed, “Blanca, Robin was probably just trying to encourage me at the time, it wasn’t as complicated as you think...” The conversation was not finished, and Karsyn walked out of the HR Department Director’s office.

Passing by Madeline, he handed her his business card and smiled, “Alright, I have something to do now. We can sit down and talk. another time, here’s my business card.”

Madeline held Karsyn's business card and stared at it for a while. Why did Ms. Croft treat me like this?

Blanca walked up to her and snatched Karsyn's business card, coldly snorting. "Don't overthink it, she's just trying to comfort you after being rejected by the company."

Madeline nodded and sighed. "I know, Blanca, I didn't dare to think too much." "Ding ding..." Madeline's phone rang.

"Hello, I am Sherry Pena, the HR Department Director of the Huber Group." "I am officially informing you that you have been hired."

Madeline exclaimed. "Ms. Pena, did you make a mistake? Prior to this, I had already received a rejection notice from your company."

Sherry on the other end of the phone laughed and said, "That was just an error in the company's computer system." "Your application materials have been reviewed by our CEO, and he has approved your hiring."

"Provisionally appointed as the Assistant to the Director of the Business Strategy Department at the Eastern District Development Corporation of the Huber Group. Please come immediately to receive the job offer and complete the onboarding paperwork."

After hanging up the phone, Madeline felt as if she had just had a dream, feeling confused and disoriented.

"Was I accepted by the Huber Group? As the assistant to the Director of the Business Strategy Department?" 41. de aanikla Madeline someone must be playing a Pr prank! The executive assistant, that's the salary of a vice president!" Blanca froze, snatched Madeline's phone and checked the incoming call number.

The number is indeed the office phone of the HR Department Director, without a doubt

"What's going on? You were clearly rejected for the job, how could you be hired as the Assistant Director of the Business Strategy Department in the company? And you're starting immediately!"

She immediately pulled Madeline to the secretariat of the HR Department.

The secretary in charge of recruitment is organizing Madeline's entry materials, including her employee file and ID card. Even the employee number has been assigned!

Blanca angrily interrogated the recruitment secretary, "I want to know, Madeline was clearly rejected, why did you hire her again? And not only that, you gave her such a high position, treating her as an associate director from the start!"

The recruitment secretary glanced at Blanca, gave a faint smile, and said. "I am not sure about this either. The hiring of positions above the level of deputy director is approved and signed by the president."

"That is to say, this was the president's chosen candidate, people like us at this level simply couldn't possibly know why." Blanca was almost going crazy!

"They say the Huber Group is a fair and transparent work environment, but now I realize that there were also many hidden agendas!"

The secretary frowned slightly and said, "Ms. Perry, if you have any questions or dissatisfaction, there are two ways to resolve it. One is to, choose to resign from the Huber Group, and I can process it for you immediately. The second is to choose to disobey the company's assignment and be dismissed by the company."

Chapter 26 Assistan

"Excuse me, which one do you choose?" Blanca immediately closed her mouth.

"If you have no choice and there is no other necessary matter, please leave my office immediately!" the recruitment secretary said coldly.

Then, a pile of documents, an ID card, and keys were handed over to Madeline. "Ms. Pearson, please stay. Once you have completed filling out these documents, you can start working immediately. Here is your ID card and office room number."

"Sorry, Blanca, I didn't think about it either," Madeline apologized to Blanca.

The secretary frowned slightly and said, “Actually, Ms. Pearson, it was only natural for you to be hired as the assistant to the director of the Business Strategy Department.”

“On your resume, it is stated that during your time in school, you published multiple papers on market management strategies in authoritative core journals, receiving unanimous praise from domestic and international experts.”

“Your talent perfectly suited the current position, and it was personally appointed by the CEO.”

“President?” Madeline and Blanca said simultaneously.

Chapter 87

Chapter 87 Is Robin an Executive of the Company? Blanca thought she had misheard and questioned the recruitment secretary of the HR Department again. “Ms. Warner, am I hearing correctly? How could the president himself personally name Madeline for the job?”

“I suspect your HR Department of cheating on this matter! Please provide evidence of the president personally naming her for the job!”

Recruiting secretary Cindy Warner frowned slightly and handed the onboarding documents to Madeline. She said coldly, “If you continue to cause trouble, I can now request Ms. Pena to cancel your job offer!”

Blanca exclaimed angrily, “I was just asking a question, what did I do Wrong?”

Cindy sneered, “Do you think you are someone that the top management of the company has to report every decision to?” “I advise you to focus on your own job and mind your own business!”

“You were a low-level intern clerk, and had no right to interfere with the decisions of the company’s top management!”

Blanca protested. “Isn’t it stipulated that employees can make reasonable complaints about unfair and unjust behavior in the workplace?”

Cindy sneered, “That’s right, the company did have this rule.”

"If you are truly idle and bored, and believe that our HR Department has engaged in favoritism and fraudulent behavior during the recruitment process, you can make a complaint through the company's website complaint mailbox, either with your real name or anonymously!"

"Moreover, you could even raise doubts and complaints about the President's work. The company secretariat has dedicated personnel to handle such complaints and will announce the results of the complaint resolution within a week."

"But if you continue to disrupt my work in such an unreasonable manner, I can immediately have the security guards from the Security Department escort you out!"

Blanca was very dissatisfied, "After filing a complaint, it takes a whole week to announce the results? This efficiency is too slow!" "For such a long time, she had already been in the job for a week, what else could she do!"

Madeline froze, "Blanca, are you really going to complain about my job application?"

Blanca snorted, "It's not about you, it's because I don't like an unjust and unfair working environment!"

Then, she snatched the onboarding documents from Madeline's hand. "So, Madeline, don't start working for now. Wait until I file a complaint, understand the truth, and see the outcome before making a decision." "But, Blanca, I really want this job. My mother is in the hospital, and I really need this salary," Madeline said weakly.

"Moreover, I really didn't know anyone from the Huber Group, so it was absolutely impossible for there to be any favoritism or corruption involved in my hiring process..."

Blanca looked at Madeline with disdain and said, "Madeline, I can't believe you had no principles or boundaries when it came to getting a job!"

"You'd better listen to me. Don't accept this job offer for now. Wait, until I find out why they hired you, and then you can proceed with the application."

"Otherwise, you were very likely to fall into some kind of unspoken rule..."

"Shut up!" Cindy couldn't stand it anymore. "Get out immediately! If you continue to talk nonsense and tarnish the reputation of the Huber Group, we will involve the company's legal department!"

Madeline immediately said, "I'm sorry, this is my friend. She may have said something inappropriate in the heat of the moment. Please don't take it seriously, Ms. Warner."

"Blanca, you go out and wait for me first. I will come to find you after I finish filling out these employment documents." Blanca gritted her teeth and said, "Madeline, I never expected you to be this kind of person! Hypocrite!"

He turned around and walked away after saying that.

"Stop!" Cindy said coldly, "Give back the documents you have in your hands!"

Blanca angrily threw the documents in her hand at Madeline, scattering them all over the floor, and then stormed out, slamming the door behind her.

Madeline had no choice but to crouch down and pick it up.

Apologizing with a smile, "Ms. Warner, I'm sorry. My friend was in a bad mood today and offended you. Please don't take it to heart and don't tell Ms. Pena about these things."

Cindy shook her head and sighed, "Do you consider someone like her as your friend? You saw it just now, she was jealous and resentful of your job entry."

"Without any surprises, the complaint mailbox at the company headquarters would soon receive her complaint text message."

"The company's supervisory department will approach our director for a conversation, and both you and the president will undergo an investigation by the Customer Service Department."

Madeline frowned, "No way, just because she said it doesn't mean she would actually do it."

Cindy pointed to the onboarding documents and said, "You fill out the form, and afterwards, you will gradually come to know the truth."

"Madeline, let me say one more thing, in the future, be a little more cautious with people like her." Madeline smiled and said, "Thank you, Ms. Warner, I will take note of it."

After filling out the employment documents, Madeline paused for a moment and asked, "Ms. Warner, may I ask an inappropriate question?"

Cindy laughed and said, "It's okay, we are colleagues now, I know what you want to ask."

"Are you wondering why you were rejected before, but later on, why you were hired again and even given a higher position, right?"

Madeline nodded, "I was just curious, and I was also excited."

Chapter 87 is Robin an Executive of the Company?

Honestly, my mom was in the hospital, and I really needed a high-paying job like this. It's really a timely help!" "And besides, I really didn't know anyone in the company, how could..."

Cindy smiled and said, "Based on your previous performance during the interview, you were indeed rejected. However, the achievements in your resume perfectly match the talent requirements for our newly established Business Strategy Department."

"The Business Strategy Department is a department directly under the Office of the President, and it only follows the instructions and management of the President."

"The president saw your resume, so he directly appointed you."

Our

“Just now, as you saw, group’s assistant to the president, Karsyn, personally came to our HR Department for your matter.” “Ms. Pena handled this matter directly.”

Madeline was thrilled to hear this and asked, “Are you Ms. Huber’s assistant?”

“Karsyn had always been Ms. Huber’s administrative assistant before.” Cindy nodded.

“However, today | just received a notification from the headquarters of the group. Karsyn has been transferred to the position of Assistant President of Eastern District Development Corporation.”

The president of Eastern District Development Corporation was a newcomer hired by the Huber Group, reportedly a man in his early twenties.

“So young to become the CEO of the group, everyone speculated that this CEO is Ms. Huber’s fiancé. We are really looking forward to seeing him sooner, hehehe...”

Madeline clenched her fist excitedly. “Thank goodness! Ms. Warner, thank you. Once | receive my first month’s salary, | will treat you to a meal. Hehehe...”

Cindy nodded with a smile, “Work hard.” Madeline walked out of the Secretariat of the HR Department.

Blanca was waiting in the conference hall, bowing her head and writing something on her phone.

“Blanca, what were you doing?”

Blanca saw Madeline approaching and quickly closed her phone screen. She looked at her coldly and said, “Madeline, did you do something shameful behind my back?”

“I’ll tell you straight up. | have already lodged a complaint with the Customer Service Department of the supervisory committee of the group about your employment.”

Madeline exclaimed, “Blanca, it’s not what you imagine, how can I explain it to you!” “Moreover, haven’t you always been hoping for me to succeed in my job application? Why are you complaining about me?”

Blanca exclaimed in annoyance, “Why is your position so much higher than mine? You were clearly rejected, yet you were hired again. This is absolutely absurd!”

“I had to figure out what exactly happened!”

Madeline sighed, “Well, Blanca, we are good friends, and I really wouldn’t lie to you.”

She looked at Blanca with a very unhappy expression and had to ask, “Where is Maurice?”

“I asked him to go and ask his boss, who is the Vice President of Marketing at the group, Reginald, what exactly is the matter with your job entry.”

“They happened to hold an executive meeting today, allowing him to raise this question during the meeting.”

“You? Blanca, do you have to see me being rejected by the company for you to be happy?” Madeline forced a bitter smile and shook her head helplessly.

However, before Blanca could answer, she continued, “I went to the twentieth floor, my office is there, and today there was a busy outsourcing signing event for the Huber Group’s EBD project.”

“Blanca, did you go back first or did you come with me to the twentieth floor?” Blanca originally wanted to say that she didn’t want to go. However, she had to wait for the outcome of the complaint from the company above.

So, Dao said, “Alright, I’ll go with you. But I’m afraid that once the company supervisor investigates your employment situation, you may not be able to make it.”

“Madeline, what I mean is, you'd better take a look at other companies. to see if there are any job opportunities, just in case your entry is deemed invalid, so that you have a backup plan.”

Madeline laughed and did not answer her.

Just as I got off the elevator on the twentieth floor. I saw Robin talking to Karsyn Karsyn and Robin knew each other before!

Madeline was astonished.

Was Robin an executive of the group?

Did Robin help?

Chapter 88

Chapter 88 She Might Be a Nightclub Queen!

Madeline looked at Karsyn and Robin's conversation with an extremely respectful demeanor.

It looks exactly like a subordinate reporting to a superior.

Was Robin really an executive at the company?

However, even though Robin was a senior executive in the company, Ms. Croft's position was not low either. There was no need to be so humble.

Unless Robin was part of the group.../.

At this thought, Madeline shuddered suddenly and dared not think any further.

If that was the case, it must have been Robin who helped me!

How did I deserve the favor of the president?

Thinking of this, Madeline's heart raced.

Recalling the words Robin said after seeing her resume when he helped her in front of the fried dough stick stall that morning. Madeline became more convinced that her guess was correct.

“That jerk is still here!”

Blanca looked angrily at Robin not far away and muttered, “Come on, let's go and see!”

Madeline was reminiscing about the scenes of several meetings with Robin when Blanca pulled her over to Karsyn and Robin. “Why are you still here?” Blanca coldly pointed at Robin.

“Don't think that by pretending to be a successful person, | would believe you are a charming man! It's disgusting!” “Blanca, don't do this, okay?” Madeline hurriedly grabbed her and pleaded.

Robin shook his head and said, “It's really nauseating!”

Karsyn coldly exclaimed, “Blanca, what are you doing?! You know your behavior...”

“Ms. Croft, there was a complaint about the HR Department engaging in favoritism and unfair practices during the recent recruitment process.”

Karsyn's words were not finished when Nadine Ford, the Director of Customer Service Department, handed a printed copy of an email complaint to Karsyn.

Nadine did not know Robin and said directly, “Ms. Croft, someone bluntly mentioned an applicant named Madeline, who may have been involved in an unspoken agreement with the new CEO...”

“Alright!” Karsyn glanced at Robin, turned around, and said to Nadine, “I will take care of this matter. It was indeed appointed by the newly arrived CEO.”

“The things mentioned in the complaint letter simply did not exist.”

“Regarding this matter, | will write a special report to the board of directors and, furthermore, undergo the necessary investigation!”

Chapter 88 She Might Be a Nightclub Dunen! q Nadine nodded, “Alright. Ms. Croft, due to the anonymous complaint, it was impossible to contact the person for evidence.”

"I understand, Nadine. If the complainant fabricates false statements intentionally to damage the reputation of the president and the company, I will seek approval from the president and the board of directors to involve the Legal Department to thoroughly investigate!"

"And, it is not ruled out that it will be resolved through legal means!"

"Good!" Nadine's face turned serious. "Ms. Croft, if the investigation proves to be false, this person must be considered as making malicious reports and it should be taken seriously."

"In previous complaint cases, the Huber Group has never experienced such an incident. It must be taken seriously, and if necessary, we recommend that the company's legal department directly sue the rumor monger and defamer."

Karsyn looked at the printed copy of the complaint letter in her hand and said, "I will submit this matter to the Huber Group's board of directors after consulting with the CEO."

Blanca, who was standing nearby, heard the conversation and felt a sudden panic in her heart. Originally, I just wanted Madeline to be rejected through this complaint letter.

I didn't expect the consequences to be so severe.

The Huber Group's work efficiency was too fast, and the complaint letters were processed immediately.

After Nadine left, Karsyn and Robin walked towards the Conference Room for Executives. "Mr. Bruce, how do you think we should handle this matter?"

Robin looked at the complaint letter and smirked, "The human nature in this world is indeed quite ugly" "This matter must be thoroughly investigated, and at this stage, please involve the Legal Department!" Madeline watched Robin's figure and, feeling nervous, she forgot to say hello for a moment.

They couldn't hear the conversation between Robin and Karsyn.

However, her intuition told her that Robin's position in the company was definitely not low.

“Blanca, please quickly withdraw that complaint letter. I think it might have been Robin’s help. If it is discovered that you wrote the complaint letter based on unfounded, suspicions, it will be troublesome.”

Blanca immediately stopped her, “What nonsense are you talking about? When did I ever write a complaint letter?!” Madeline immediately covered her mouth.

“Hmph! That jerk Robin, he must have badmouthed me in front of Ms. Croft. Hmph, even if you try all sorts of tricks, I will never be interested in a man like you!” Blanca glared fiercely at Robin’s back, gritting her teeth.

Madeline hesitated for a moment, “Blanca, you might have misunderstood Robin. Did you not see the way he was talking to Ms. Croft just now? Robin could be a senior executive in the company, and maybe he asked Ms. Croft for help with my matter.”

Blanca sneered, “Madeline, one day you will see his true face! Every time he comes to me, I can clearly feel how much he desires me in his heart.”

Chapter 85 She Might Be a Nightclub Queen “Hehe! I despise such men the most! They have no self-awareness at all! In the end, they only bring shame upon themselves!” can “Ah, Blanca, look, isn’t that Ms. Thompson?” Madeline looked up and saw Crystal and Miranda, among others, together in the lobby of the investment signing ceremony.

“The lady beside her seems to be Miranda, the heiress of the Brown Group.”

Blanca looked in the direction pointed by Madeline, feeling quite puzzled.

How could a woman from a nightclub be together with Miss Brown from the Brown family?

“Come on, Madeline, let’s go and have a look. That woman, just like Robin, was a fraud. I wanted to expose her on the spot!” Madeline had not yet realized it, but Blanca had already walked briskly towards Crystal and Miranda.

“Hello, Ms. Brown. I am Blanca from the Marketing Department of the Huber Group.”

Miranda was slightly taken aback, “Huh? Do you... do you need something from me?”

Blanca sneered and pointed at Crystal, saying, “Ms. Brown, for your own benefit, I want to tell you about her.”

Jacob, Krish, and Crystal were all stunned.

Crystal didn’t understand, “What’s wrong, Blanca? Do I have something going on?”

Miranda looked at Crystal and then at Blanca with confusion. “Do you Chapter 88 She Might Be & Nightclub Queen! two know each other?”

“Hehe, it’s not just about knowing her!” Blanca looked disdainfully at Crystal. “Ms. Brown, she is a fraudster. You must not fall for her tricks!”

“Ah?” Miranda was first startled, she looked at Crystal, then at Blanca, who was filled with anger, and she started to smile. “Did you say she was a fraud?”

Jacob and Krish looked at Crystal together and smiled. They echoed, “Ms. Perry, why don’t you tell us how she used to deceive people?”

Crystal was speechless. Blanca saw several people looking strange and continued, “Ms. Brown, she might have been a nightclub princess!”

“Smack!” Miranda slapped her in the face. “How dare you! Did you just call my best friend the princess of nightclubs? Are you tired of living?”

Jacob and Krish burst into laughter, “Crystal, I never noticed before, but you also have the aura of a nightclub princess, hahaha...”

“You! Ms. Brown, why did you hit me? I was just trying to remind you that she is a fraud...” Blanca covered her cheek, puzzled.

Miranda exclaimed angrily, “Crystal and I have been classmates and best friends since elementary school. We even lived in the same dormitory in college. We have been together for over a decade. She is my best friend, and you dare to call her a fraud and a nightclub princess?”

“Are you scolding me? Even in front of Ms. Huber, I dare to reprimand you, this uncivilized employee!” “Her? She was your best friend? How is that possible?”

Blanca couldn't believe it. The first time she saw that woman wearing men's shoes and running around outside, she never would have imagined that she was actually the best friend of the Brown family's daughter!

“Miss Thompson from the Thompson family, is this weight enough for you? As a low-class woman, what qualifications do you have to meddle in my affairs! If you dare to insult my friend again, I will make you regret it for the rest of your life! Get lost!”

At this moment, Madeline rushed to Blanca's side and quickly apologized, “I'm sorry, my friend was not in a good mood and offended you. Please forgive us.”

Alright, alright, Miranda; why are you getting so angry? This Madeline is my friend. Forget it, it's not a big deal,” Crystal said, trying to smooth things over with a smile.

“Ms. Thompson, I'm sorry, but Madeline explained that she wasn't feeling too well today...”

Crystal smiled and nodded. “It's okay, Madeline. Just consider it a joke. In the future, don't call me Ms. Thompson, just call me Crystal.”

Madeline nervously exchanged a few words with Crystal and pulled Blanca towards the other side of the signing hall. “Blanca, how could you be so reckless...”

Blanca pushed away Madeline and watched Crystal's slender figure from a distance, annoyed. “She was clearly having dinner with Robin, how could she be the Thompson family's heiress?”

“Why do they all have such good family backgrounds?”

Chapter 89

Chapter 89 This Is the President's Seat

The Huber Edifice's tenth floor Sales Department.

Maurice arrived at the office door of Reginald, the vice president of the supervisory group for sales.

Reginald, twenty-six years old.

Potrya attended the MBA program at Millbush Business School.

Karina was a senior when she attended Millbush University.

A year ago, I returned to my home country and joined the Huber Group as the Vice President, in charge of sales.

This time, the Huber Group established the Eastern District Development Corporation, and the outside world has always been optimistic that Reginald would assume the position of president.

There were rumors that Reginald had been pursuing Karina during their time in Potrya. I returned to my home country for employment last year, and it was also for this reason.

It is said that he turned down invitations from several world-class international conglomerates abroad and chose to join the Huber Group.

With these, Reginald was undoubtedly the second—in—command of the Huber Group.

He would often boast about being Karina's senior when they were both at Millbush University. Chapter 89 This is the President's Seat

In many occasions, people would bring up the question of whether he would become Karina's fiancé. Reginald always spoke in an extremely ambiguous manner.

Make the outside world feel that he was tacitly accepting that he was already dating Karina.

Gradually, many people within the group came to believe that Reginald would eventually join the core management team of the Huber Group.

However, Reginald has been with the Huber Group for nearly two years and still has not entered the board of directors. This was Maurice's first time coming to Reginald's office.

If it weren't for Blanca entrusting him with the task of reporting Madeline, he would never have dared to come here directly. In his perception, Reginald was a celebrity by Karina's side, the future leader of the Huber Group.

Standing outside the office door, Maurice hesitated for a while before daring to knock and enter.

"What's the matter?" Reginald looked up at Maurice and furrowed his brow.

"Hello, Mr. Aguilar! My name is Maurice, and I was the deputy team leader of Team 1 in the Sales Department."

Reginald nodded.

"Mr. Aguilar, I came to report someone to you."

Reginald frowned, "Report someone? Report who?"

Maurice immediately said, "A candidate named Madeline, who was originally rejected, was suddenly notified by the HR Department that she was hired."

"According to Cindy, the secretary of the HR Department, the personnel was directly appointed by the president."

"I suspected that it was very likely related to some unwritten rules of the upper management in the company."

"It is said that the newly appointed president of the company..."

"Shut up!" Reginald's face darkened.

"Maurice, right? Is it your business to meddle in the company's personnel recruitment matters? Get out of here immediately!" Maurice was almost scared to death.

I didn't expect Reginald's reaction to be so intense.

At this moment, Maurice suddenly realized that the president of the newly established Eastern District Development Corporation had long been rumored to be the person in front of him.

Did | say that Madeline being hired might be due to the president's hidden rules? Wasn't | talking about Reginald? Damn. | was so confused!

Maurice didn't dare to continue talking nonsense here anymore, and immediately turned around and walked away. "Wait a moment!"

Maurice heard Reginald's cold voice, suddenly stopped in his tracks, and tremblingly turned around.

Reginald snorted. "Remember, if you dare to spout nonsense anywhere again, then get out of the Huber Group!"

"Yes, yes, yes! Mr. Aguilar, | promise | will never dare to speak nonsense again." Maurice said, his back soaked with sweat as he stumbled and ran out of the vice president's office.

Reginald glanced at the time, tidied up the files on his desk, and chuckled coldly.

Muttering to oneself, "I had just taken up the position of CEO, and someone already wanted to spread rumors and cause trouble. They underestimate me!"

Arrived at the Conference Room for Executives on the twentieth floor. A group of corporate executives immediately stepped forward to compliment.

"Mr. Aguilar, you have arrived. It is said that in this executive meeting, the announcement of the president candidate for Eastern District Development Corporation will be made, and it is highly likely to be you." "Ah! How can we say 'probably'? Instead, the president is definitely none other than Mr. Aguilar."

Reginald listened to the flattery of the executives and greatly enjoyed it.

Just being modest, he said, "Ah, everyone, please refrain from speculating. Even though | was the president of Eastern District Development Corporation, | shouldn't make any unfounded comments until Karina announces her decision."

“Everyone, please come in. The meeting is about to start.”

“Mr. Aguilar, please go ahead. Everyone is waiting for you here,” the executives made way, respectfully inviting Reginald to enter the conference room.

“Mr. Aguilar, the position of the former president is prepared for you. Please take a seat there now,” flattered Roman Hopkins, the Deputy Director of the Sales Department.

Several department heads also chimed in, “Yes, yes, yes, Mr. Aguilar, you can just sit in the president’s seat directly.”

Reginald smiled and pretended to decline, saying, “Ah, let’s wait for Karina to come back and announce the decision of the board of directors. It’s a bit out of protocol to sit in that position right now.”

Roman bowed and said, “Mr. Aguilar, everyone in the company knows about your relationship with Ms. Huber, You are bound to be the chairman of the Huber Group sooner or later. There’s no need for any formalities between you two, so please stop being modest.”

All the executives also agreed together, allowing Reginald to sit in the position of the president. Reginald pretended to decline for a while, but eventually he reluctantly made his way towards the position of the president.

Before reaching the position of the president, he turned around and smiled at Roman and the others, saying, “Everyone, please be quiet for a moment. I estimate that Karina will be here soon...”

The conversation was not finished when Robin walked into the conference room from outside. He glanced at the president's seat and sat directly on it.

The conference hall suddenly became quiet. Everyone looked at Robin’s unfamiliar face. Reginald was also extremely surprised

After a brief astonishment, Roman took a step forward and sternly reprimanded, “Who are you? Step aside immediately! Can’t you see that this is the president’s seat?”

Robin's eyes shifted from the phone screen to Roman and the others. “Yes, I saw it. This is the CEO’s position.”

Roman saw that Robin still had no reaction and angrily pointed at him, saying, "Are you ignorant or something? Mr. Aguilar is in this place, and this is where he sits. Are you blind?"

Robin's mouth twitched: "Isn't it just a position? Are you scolding me?" Roman glared angrily, "I scolded you for being blind!" "Snap!"

Robin slapped Roman and sent him flying, looking at the shocked expressions of the managers in the conference room. Shaking his head, he said. "It seems that your professionalism needs improvement!"

Reginald's face turned pale with anger. "Why are you so rude? Why did you lay hands on someone?"

Robin leaned back in his seat and said, "What's wrong with hitting him? Do you have a problem? Find your own seat!"

All the supervisors in the conference hall were at a loss. How could this person dare to speak to Reginald like that? Where did this crazy person come from?

Reginald was trembling with anger. In the past two years at the Huber chapter 20. This is the 1

Group, no one had ever dared to speak to him in such a tone!

Who doesn't know that he, Reginald, was Karina's senior when they were at Millbush University.

There were rumors that he was Karina's fiancé, and even he himself believed that he would become the future controller of the Huber Group.

This young man, ignorant of the heights and depths of the world, dared to openly defy him. He simply doesn't know the meaning of life and death!

"You immediately get the security guards from the company's Security Department! Take this troublemaker out!" After Reginald gave the order, someone immediately called the company's Security Department.

In a short while, four company security guards arrived at the Conference Room for Executives.

The leader was Doyle Chambers, the head of the Security Department.

After entering the conference hall, I walked quickly to Reginald's front and said, "Mr. Aguilar, hello. Who caused the disturbance? Where?"

Reginald pointed at Robin and said, "Take this unidentified person out!"
"Doyle. I want to remind you that the Security of the group was very important, and such incidents should not have happened!"

"This is the company's Conference Room for Executives. The Security Department failed to verify the identity of this person before allowing them access to this area. This is a serious dereliction of duty on your part!"

Charla is "After dealing with this matter, immediately write a self-criticism letter and send it to me!"

Doyle trembled for a moment and said, "Mr. Aguilar, I will immediately bring this person to the Security Department for questioning!"

Then, he turned to Robin and said, "Get up and come with me to the Security Department!"

Robin raised an eyebrow and looked at Doyle, "You, a mere Security Department chief, what qualifications do you have to meddle in my affairs? Go back to your post!"

At this moment, Roman got up from the ground, holding his swollen cheek, and rushed to Robin, saying, "Doyle, this jerk not only caused trouble here but also hit me..."

"Snap!" Robin slapped him again without thinking, "You deserve it!"

Doyle was instantly furious: "How dare you! You dare to lay hands on our company executives! Someone, take him back to the Security Department and give him a harsh lesson!"

"Just you?" Robin raised his hand and patted Doyle on the shoulder. With a loud bang, Doyle knelt down on the ground, shattering the floor with his knees.

Reginald angrily shouted, "This is outrageous! How dare you cause a disturbance in the Conference Room for Executives at the Huber Group? Immediately summon all the security personnel of the company!"

Chapter 90

Chapter 90 Can You Stay?

"What are you all doing? The executive meeting is about to start." Karina and Karsyn walked in from outside the conference room.

The executives immediately stepped aside, making way for them.

Karina looked at the scene in front of her, furrowing her brows slightly.

The Security Department's Chief Doyle knelt in front of Robin.

Sales Department Deputy Director Roman fell to the ground, holding his face in excruciating pain.

Obviously, these two people provoked Robin, which led to this situation.

Reginald wanted to step forward and explain.

Without even looking at him, Karina nervously walked up to Robin and asked, "What... what's going on? Did they offend you?" "You ask them, I'm leaving!" Robin threw the documents in his hand onto the table and walked away towards the conference hall.

Karina saw Robin get up and leave, a hint of panic flashed in her eyes. "Ms. Croft, I asked you to accompany Mr. Bruce for the meeting, how did it end up like this?"

Without waiting for Karsyn to explain, Karina immediately chased after.

"Robin, I'm sorry, it was all my fault for not planning properly..."

Robin waved his hand, ignoring Karina's call and continued walking away.

“Robin, can you wait for a moment, please?” Karina couldn't hold back her tears as she saw Robin about to leave. Robin sighed and had to stop walking.

“Ah, can't you, as a woman, stop being so miserable and pitiful?”

Karina stood in front of Robin, with a hint of pleading, a touch of resentment, and a slight trace of anger.

“Robin, can you stay? Don't worry, whoever offended you today, I will handle it immediately! No matter who it is, the Huber Group will never let them stay!”

Karina's words shocked all the executives in the conference hall.

Ms. Huber, who had always been aloof and reserved, met Karina, the most stunning goddess of Hallcester.

How could she have let go of all her pride and arrogance, and beg like a helpless woman to this man named Robin?! And, for this man, deal with it directly without asking for reasons!

What is the situation?

Since her debut, Harold has always held the Huber family's young miss. in the palm of his hand.

Whoever dares to make her feel the slightest bit of grievance, Harold will directly slap them to death without asking any reason! In Hallcester, who didn't know about Harold's ruthless methods back in the day.

Chapter 90 Can You Step!

That was even more excessive than today's Underground Demon King Conway.

Therefore, over the years, although Karina has always been independent and aloof in her actions, no one dared to be presumptuous in front of her.

This man named Robin actually dared to throw a tantrum in front of her?

Who exactly was he?

Does this person have an even more powerful background?

However, up until now, Hallcester has not had such a prominent figure.

Unless he was a man that Ms. Huber liked and respected.

Can this aloof goddess be persuaded to set aside her pride and beg him to stay!

After a moment of astonishment, everyone turned back to look at Reginald.

At this moment, Reginald's face turned purple and blue, looking extremely ugly.

The scene before me was him getting slapped in the face!

The rumors of being Karina's fiancé that I had boasted about before suddenly turned pale and feeble.

The people who were originally surrounding Reginald subconsciously took several steps back.

Karsyn walked up to Karina and Robin, "Mr. Bruce, it's all my fault. I went to the complaint department earlier for Madeline's matter, and I didn't expect it to turn out like this.

"No matter what your situation is, if Mr. Bruce gets angry and leaves today, you should quit too!" Karina exclaimed angrily.

"This matter was assigned to Ms. Croft by me... Well, I'm going back to the meeting." Robin's mouth twitched as he looked at Karina, "You, woman, really..."

Having said that, he returned to his position as the CEO and sat down. Karina looked at Robin's back and a flicker of joy quickly flashed in her eyes.

Karsyn's demeanor instantly turned cold as he said, "Let's have a meeting. Explain the complaint to me afterwards. We need to find out who is stirring up trouble and get to the bottom of it!"

"Yes, Ms. Huber," Karsyn immediately rearranged the notebook and meeting materials neatly in front of Robin.

Reginald's mouth twitched, but he remained silent. He sat directly in the vice president's seat, his eyes gleaming with a cold glare of resentment.

Karina glanced at everyone in the conference hall and looked at the fearful expression on the Security Department Chief Doyle, who was still bowing his head and kneeling on the ground.

"Doyle, go to the finance department and settle the accounts now, and leave immediately!" Doyle still wanted to explain and plead, but three security guards, under Karina's signal, escorted him out of the conference hall.

immediately crawled to Robin and Karina, enduring the pain, and pleaded, "Mr. Bruce, I really didn't know that you were such an important person invited by Ms. Huber. Please forgive me for my offense just now. I was blind, ignorant, and arrogant. I promise I won't dare to do it again in the future."

Robin coldly said. "I have never had the habit of forgiving others."

"Please, Mr. Bruce, please give me another chance. My family's mortgage, car loan, children's tuition, and the elderly's pension all rely on my salary."

Roman cried, "If I lost this job, I would go bankrupt, please, I beg you!" "I am not your father, I won't wait for you to grow up! Stop whining in front of me, I really hate noise!" Karina gestured for several security guards to drag Roman out.

Roman struggled to crawl up to Reginald's front. "Mr. Aguilar, you said you were a classmate of Ms. Huber, and also her fiancé. You told us that whatever you say, Ms. Huber will listen to you, and she will do whatever you ask her to do. Please..."

"Get out!" Reginald's face immediately turned pale upon hearing the words, and he stomped on Roman's body. "What nonsense are you talking about! Security, drag him out!"

"Mr. Aguilar, you can't just stand by and do nothing! You told us that as long as we follow you, we will have everything in the Huber Group! You are the future leader of the Huber Group..."

“You bastard, spouting nonsense! Drag him away immediately!” Reginald roared angrily.

He didn’t expect that Roman would say the words he had boasted about privately in such a situation.

Chapter 40 Can You

Roman was dragged out of the conference hall by the security guard.

Karina looked at Reginald, her eyes gleaming with a cold chill.

At this moment, inside the Conference Room for Executives, there was silence.

“Mr. Aguilar, after the meeting, come to my office and explain this matter! | will not let it go if someone tarnishes my reputation behind. my back!”

Karina finished speaking coldly and let out a long sigh, “Let me first introduce Mr. Bruce to all the executives.”

“The board of directors of the Huber Group has decided that Mr. Bruce will assume the position of President of the Eastern District. Development Corporation, effective immediately!”

“Mr. Bruce, please say a few words to the executives.”

Robin nodded and said, “Everyone, | don’t have much to say, just one sentence: | am the president, does anyone have any objections? If not, the meeting is adjourned!”

“Wait a minute!” Reginald furrowed his brow and asked, “May | know which school Mr. Bruce graduated from, what major he studied, and what degree he holds?”

The conference hall fell silent again. Robin pouted, “I never attended any university, nor did | have a specific major, and | certainly didn’t have any degree. So what?”

Reginald chuckled and said, “Since you are nothing at all, how do you plan to run the Eastern District Development Corporation as its CEO?”

All

the executives in the conference room looked at Dakin

Here, every executive has a master's degree or above. Reginald mentioned this topic, immediately exciting everyone. "Are you questioning me?" Robin asked coldly.

Reginald chuckled, "Mr. Bruce, I wasn't questioning you, I just wanted to ask how you would lead us in running the Eastern District Development Corporation?"

Robin gave a cold smile and said, "With your mindset, you are not qualified to know the answer to this question."

"Hehe, Mr. Bruce, are you afraid to discuss business matters with me?" Reginald sneered, "Both Ms. Huber and I are from Millbush Business School."

"All of you present here are masters and doctors from various famous universities both domestically and internationally."

"At the very least, in terms of professional knowledge, Mr. Bruce doesn't even have the most basic foundation. You can't even understand what we're saying, so how can we work together?"

Everyone in the Conference Room for Executives turned to look at Robin. In their originally shocked expressions, there was now a hint of contempt and mockery.

Reginald was right. How can a brute who only knows how to fight control a company of the scale of Eastern District Development Corporation?

Karina frowned.

She did not expect Reginald to embarrass Robin on this issue. Before Robin could intervene, Reginald sneered, "Even Ms. Croft, Chapter 90 Can You Stat who holds the highest master's degree from a top domestic university, would be considered a mere thug in the position of the president. It's quite ridiculous, hehe!"

The atmosphere in the Conference Room for Executives suddenly became strange.

Everyone was waiting to see how Robin would answer this embarrassing question.
