

Love Is Fair 101

Chapter 101 Sleeping Is Not a Big Deal Hailey and Owen got dressed before they walked out of the room. When they went out, Owen insisted on holding Hailey's hand, seeming to announce that Hailey was his. Although she tried to break free from him, Hailey failed. Without other choices, she had to giving up, thinking that it was not indecent to argue with him in public. Anyway, they had done something more intimate last night. So she didn't have to mind that. There was a cafe on the first floor of the hotel where Jared was sitting, waiting for them. With his legs folded and his back leaned on the sofa, he sat as if he was somebody. Watching the two approaching from a distance, he narrowed his eyes. Some people emitted a romantic aura even if they just walked together while holding hands, looking like a couple made in heaven.

If it wasn't for this man who neglected Hailey for three years and never treated her kindly, Jared thought that the two of them would be a good match as Hailey's second brother. Judged from his looks and family background, Owen was barely good enough for his precious sister. "Jar." Hailey walked over and called out. Putting on airs, Jared gave a faint reply before he waved his hand and motioned her to sit. Owen was about to sit down with Hailey when he heard a cold rebuke, "Have you been allowed sit down?"

Owen paused for just a moment. After that he still sat down firmly, looking at Jared with a calm expression, as if he was saying, "I still sit down. What can you do?" Jared narrowed his eyes coldly and said sullenly, "You'd better manage your expression. The last person who dared to look at me like this has already been thrown into an ocean to be fed to sharks." Owen sneered, "What a coincidence! The last person who dared to talk to me like this has already been incarcerated after being beaten to death." "Do you believe that you will also be incarnated?" "Do you believe that you will thrown into an ocean?" "Come on! Let's battle..."

The two men were about to fight again after they talked with each other with fewer than three sentences. Hailey couldn't stand it anymore and rushed into the middle of the two to stop them by forcing them to sit down on each side of the sofa, "Enough! Have you thought you are too childish? Are you elementary school students?"

Jared snorted coldly, "This is the first time I have seen such a childish person." Hailey turned to stare at him, "Stop talking!" Owen sneered, "How mature are you?" Hailey turned her head again, "You shut up too!" She drank a lot last night. And without sobering soup made by Lily, she felt a little headache at the moment. She even felt dizzy by just standing there. Out of anger, her face couldn't help but turn pale.

N ner,

Seeing that she was uncomfortable, Owen hurriedly stepped forward to support her, "ie you unay: volle and sit."

He helped Hailey to sit down, and went to the front desk to get her a cup of hot water in person. He brought the hot water to her after blowing it to make it cooler, "Drink slowly. Be careful."

Jared saw that Owen take good care of his sister, so his gloomy face softened. Maybe Owen was pretending, but at least he had a good attitude. As a man, Jared thought he could see whether there was affection from Owen's eyes. Hailey got away from Owen's hand in disgust and drank the hot water on her own, feeling much better.

Jared coughed lightly and started talking about something serious, "Tell me, what are you going to do next?"

Hailey looked up. "What do you mean?"

Ignoring Hailey's question, Jared just stared at Owen, "You've done everything that crossed the line. Don't tell me you don't know what to do next."

Owen raised his eyebrows slightly, "What do you mean, Jar?"

Hailey almost choked on the water when Owen called Jared by Jar in such a natural way.

But for Jared, he felt that nothing was wrong. As Hailey's man, Owen was his brother-in-law. Owen called him "Jar" as Hailey did, which didn't sound strange to him at all.

"Let bygones be bygones. We do not talk about it." Jared said in an indescribably generous attitude. He gave a look at Hailey before he said, "Back then, she insisted on marrying you and kept talking about how good you were, which I almost get fed up with."

Flushing, Hailey said "Jar!" She had asked him not to talk about those just now. Those were all her history which she wanted to keep a secret and not to mention forever,

"Okay, fine! I won't talk about it." Jared couldn't afford to offend this precious sister, and then said to Owen, "In the past three years, you have treated my sister very badly. As her brothers, we will never forget that and you will not be get away from that easily. But I don't really like to look back. I only care about the future, which means it matters much more to me whether you take actual actions to make up for her and be good to her. Now that you have chosen to start over to have a relationship, then be serious. If you want to play with my sister, I can guarantee that you will be thrown into an ocean, that's where you end. I'm not joking." All of Jared's words made Owen's face serious, and Hailey dumbfounded. Hailey thought, 'What did I hear juat now? Jar announce us to be together without asking my opinion? Be serious to have a relationship? What is he talking about? Who wants to have a relationship with Owen? After being silent for a few seconds, Hailey opened her mouth, "Jar, what nonsense are you talking about?" Frowning, Hailey was about to have a good talk with Jared, yet being cut off by Owen. The man held her hand tightly. He solemnly promised, "Jar, don't worry. I will put her first and be good to her every day in the future." When he said those words, he wanted not only Jared but also Hailey to hear it clearly.

What Jared wanted was Owen's attitude. After hearing Owen's promise, he was noncommittal about it. Anyway, Owen had already said it. If Owen didn't keep it, then he would either force his brother-in-law to keep it or make the man pay the price he deserved. Since Owen dared to be together with his sister, the man must show the sincerity. There had never been a free lunch in the world, let alone a free wife. Unexpectedly, Hailey and Jared didn't have the same idea at all. After listening to these two men talking about her relationship without asking her attitude, she was so angry that she broke away from Owen's hand coldly, "Is there something wrong with you? Who wants to be together with you?"

Owen looked up at her, "Haven't we already..." "Sleeping is not a big deal. If you feel good about it, I can give you money." While talking, Hailey was about to get her wallet, yet with her wrist being grabbed by Owen. He called out her name word by word, "Hailey! Newman!" His voice was hoarse, "What do you take me for?" Hailey struggled to break away from his palm, looking nonchalant, "Just someone I slept with. Who else do you think?" Owen's deep eyebrows squinted suddenly, that's it? She really knows how to humiliate him!

After hearing Hailey's words, Jared couldn't help laughing, "Now Hailey is really good at hurting others without a knife! Since she has this attitude, I don't have to worry that she will suffer a loss. It's also the way how I deal with affairs: sleeping doesn't mean loving.

As he was leaving, Jared patted Owen on the shoulder and said something meaningful. "Take care of yourself." Jared was much easier to deal with compared to Kari, the biggest brother who regarded Owen as an immortal man and desired to kill him to death. There was a long way to go ahead of Owen.

After sending Jared away, Owen said to Hailey, "It's not that hard to get along with your second brother."

Hailey gave him a sideways glance. Just now, the two of them were still quarreling with each other like kids. Now they appreciated each other so quickly. How ridiculous! Owen smiled lightly, "We will be a family sooner or later."

"We? Who?" Hailey cast him a cold look and got into his car. Before the door was closed, Owen got in and quickly buckled the seatbelt. "What are you doing?" Hailey frowned. Owen looked at her and said solemnly, "I ache all over my body and don't want to drive, so give me a ride."

Speechless, Hailey gritted his teeth, I'll send you to heaven!

Chapter 102 If You Want to Die, I Can Help you!

On the way back, Owen held Hailey's hand tightly, as his hand were stuck to hers. Hailey glared at him fiercely, and he just smiled in a good-naturedly way, which made Hailey couldn't even show her temper. When did this man changed his temper? So abnormal! Owen was about to get out of the car at the door of Nomad when he reluctantly let go of Hailey's hand. Hailey felt a layer of sweat on her hands, and she didn't know if the sweat was his or hers. "I'm leaving," Owen said, looking at her.

Hailey gave a cool reply, "Goodbye." Owen didn't either get out of the car or move. Instead he looked at her with a faint smile, "Did you forget something?" Hailey frowned, puzzled, "What do you mean?" Owen raised his hand and pointed it at his mouth, "Don't you want to kiss when separating with your boyfriend?" "Who is my boyfriend?" Hailey squinted coldly, "If you want to die, I can help you." After saying those words, Hailey closed the door and drove the car away. Standing there and watching Hailey's car merge into the traffic and gradually disappear from his sight, Owen felt a loss in his heart. How ruthless.

His eyes showed somewhat disappointment, but it was replaced by determination soon. No matter what, it was a big step forward. Faith will make mountains move. He didn't believe that he couldn't win her heart again.

Since Matthew also came to Poya, and the three bosses were all there, the project of the racecourse began to be in full swing. The responsibilities and authorities of the three parties were clearly written in the contract. Everything went well. Owen stayed in Poya for more than half a month and had to rush back to North City. "The company still has some things to deal with. My special plane this afternoon will fly back to North City." On the way back to the city from the northern suburbs, Owen reported to Hailey. Hailey still kept a business-like tone, "Mr. Moore, you can go back to work when you have something to

1. The initial plan for the racecourse is almost implemented. The rest of the details can be handled by Mr. Holland and me."

Owen looked at Hailey deeply, "I'm afraid I'll have to stay in North City for a while when I leave. Maybe it will take a week or even half a month to be free again."

Hailey frowned lightly. Today, she also listened to him teach Jose a lesson about speaking accurately instead of saying ambiguous words such as "maybe". Then why did he say the word now? "I don't care. North City is your home, stay as long as you want." Hailey's tone was firm, without a trace of nostalgia for him, which made Owen a little hurt. He thought that after the two of them got along during this period of time, she had already developed a certain dependence on him.

Now it seemed that it needed a long time to warm a cold hear, and the road was a long way to go. But he wouldn't give up. Owen sighed inwardly and held her hand, "I'm gone, will you miss me?" "No." Hailey shook off his hand and said indifferently, "You're gone, I can finally relax for a while." During this period of time, he took the opportunity of work to run to her every day. He went to the Crystaldale as if it was his house, so that everyone in the company knew that he was "pursuing" her, and that everyone in the Garden of Rose thought he was her "boyfriend", which made Hailey very angry.

She hadn't noticed it before, he was so clingy, and she didn't know if he was like this when he was with Eliza before. Could this be his nature? Hailey suddenly felt that she had thought she knew Owen, but she had been wrong. At least this time, what he did completely refreshed her understanding of him. Even though he had known she might not miss him, Owen still felt a little hurt after hearing her say it so frankly without any respect at all. He held her hand tightly again. "I'll miss you," he said with a smile, and then leaned over to kiss Hailey.

Hailey ducked back subconsciously, and Owen failed to have a kiss. But the next second he grabbed the back of her head with a big hand, and kissed her domineeringly.

Having thought Owen just touched her lips, Hailey didn't expect that he took advantage of it and immediately took all her breath away. This bastard! He crossed the line again! She raised her hand to hit him, but he grabbed her wrist and locked it behind her. At the same time, the movement of her mouth kept moving. Hailey's eyes widened in anger, and she bit him hard until they both tasted the saliva in their mouths. Not until then did he let go of her.

Owen's mouth was bitten by Haile, and blood was seeping out. He didn't care. He just sipped the blood away, looked at her, and tugged at the corner of his mouth with a light smile, looking quite satisfied. Hailey stared at him, thinking he was a lunatic! How could she have been blind before and like a him?

Owen finally returned to North City. Hailey got the news from Chris when she was busy signing documents in the office. As if she didn't hear it, she made a faint "um", and then turned to the press conference of the jewelry event. "Has the design draft been finished? Let me take a look." Chris handed over all the design drafts, and Allan stepped forward at the time, and stood aside to explain the origin of each design draft to Hailey. When she saw the last one, she said, "This is designed by Ava.

Originally it was not selected, but I think it is not bad, so I added it in." Hailey's expression was light, so was her tone, "Tell me, why do you think it is good?" Not being frightened at all, Allan analyzed the painting from its design concept to the painting level, to every detail, before she finally conclude, "It's a very spiritual work. I like it very much." For any designer, it was already a very high compliment to be praised as 'spiritual'.

Hailey's lips twitched lightly, "It's rare to hear such a high praise from you." Allan shrugged, "I should tell frankly. Although Ava is your sister and she is also my apprentice, we should still make her stay in our company if she is a talent." "In that case, why was this work not selected at first?" Allan said, "This manuscript was secretly drawn by Ava. After the other pictures were selected, I accidentally found it in her drawer. She was too embarrassed to take it out. I made the decision to add

Hailey smiled, "It's her blessing to have a master like you."

Allan said, "But it's not her blessing to have a father like that." Chris winked desperately at Allan, but she didn't care. The smile on Hailey's face faded, "What's going on? What the hell is Reid doing?"

Chapter 103 Three Talents of Southern Star

Hailey put an ice pack on Ava 's swollen cheeks, her face darkened.

Just two hours ago, Ava and Reid had an argument at Newman Jewelry. Reid slapped his daughter all of a sudden, which was so loud that the entire design department could hear it. Allan came over from Newman Jewelry, partly because she needed to send Hailey the deign painting, and partly because she wanted to complain. Chris waited with an ice pack and looked at Ava's half face with finger marks, feeling very uncomfortable and guilty. He took the initiative to admit his mistake, "I'm sorry, Ms. Newman. It's caused by my dereliction of duty. I didn't know the situation in time." "Of course it's your fault!" Hailey got irritated, which was rare. She cast him a glance, and said coldly, "You are not allowed to claim this month's bonus."

Chris bowed his head and agreed to Hailey's decision without saying anything. Actually, he felt better for being punished.

Ava was extremely panicked, and said immediately, "Hailey, it's not the fault of Chris. It's none of his business..." "Why did not you tell me?" Ignoring her plea, Hailey asked Ava with a frown . Seeing Hailey's unpleasant expression, Ava didn't dare to put in good words for Chris any more. She shrank her neck timidly, and forced a smile, "You've had enough work to do and many problem to deal with. I don't want to disturb you because of my trivial matter." "He beat you in front of so many people. Do you call that a trivial matter?" Hailey 's voice was cold, "Why did he hit you?" With a calm expression, Ava acted as if she was narrating a normal thing, "His current wife, which is my stepmother, Ms. Cindy Hawker, had always wanted to work at Newman Jewelry. And my dad tried to help her achieve it, but my master didn't agree. That's why she has never been able to get in. Recently, she heard that I entered the company. She thought it was because of my dad, so she had argued with him, demanding to enter the company. She required that I'm not allowed to work in the company if she can't enter it. My dad failed to persuade her, so he had to ask me to resign and leave. I'm not willing to, so he scolded me for being unfilial and slapped me.” After listening to what Ava said, Hailey kept a sullen face, and a faint sneer appeared on the corner of her mouth, “If you have a stepmother, then you will have a stepdad. That’s true. Your father chose to deal with his daughter instead of his wife. What a powerful man!” Having never seen such a cold expression on her sister’s face, Ava couldn’t help being surprised. Chris immediately understood that whenever his boss made such an expression, someone was going to be out of luck.

” Where is Reid now?” Hailey asked.

Chris said, “At Southern Star Entertainment.”

Upon hearing Chris’ reply, Hailey immediately took Ava’s hand, “Go. Go over there and see what your awesome father is up to.”

Reid has an idle job at Southern Star Entertainment, but he had a lot of power. He directly asked for the position of vice president of Southern Star Entertainment from Morgan Newman. As the vice president, he didn’t do anything practical, but the actors’ brokerage contracts wouldn’t come into effect without his signature.

The former Southern Star Entertainment was also a leader in domestic entertainment, which had cultivated many popular stars and created many classic plays. Once in the circle, there was saying: No Southern Star, No Good Plays. What’s more, it had three great talents which other companies were desiring for

One was Randal Hodges, who was called Southern Star King. One was Dion Glover, a talented director Dion Glover. And the rest one was Ivana Walter, an exquisite fashion designer. All of the three played a crucial role in the development of Southern Star Entertainment, and helped it to become the top of all domestic entertainment companies.

But since the company was taken over by Reid three years ago, the company had always went downhill.

The topic tagged with ‘What happened to Southern Star Entertainment’ was often seen. And now among those three talents, only Randal still stayed in the company with Dion leaving angrily on the set and never showing up in the circle, as well as Ivana terminating the contract with the company and establishing her own studio after Randal left the company for half a year.

Therefore, not only did Randal need to care about his own development, but also he should bear the responsibility to revitalize the company. What’s more, he was forced to help other stars. Randal’s fans felt so distressed and persuaded him to terminate the contract and establish his own studio, but Randal still stayed in the company and had no intention of leaving.

And it remained a mystery in the entertainment industry about why Randal did not choose to leave Southern Star Entertainment. Many insiders exposed many news online– “You may not know that Randal is a very loyal person who knows how to repay others’ kindness. Ms.

Nancy Ingram, who was Mr. Scott Newman’s wife and the female president of Southern Star Entertainment, had helped Randal to use his talent in the circle. So he doesn’t leave for was repaying her kindness. As long as the company exists, he will work for it.”

“I’ve heard about this too. When Randal debuted , Ms. Nancy escorted him to the media all the way. She even followed him to the filming crew. At that time, many people said that she was Randal’s sugar mommy...”

“That can’t be true. I heard that the late Mrs. Nancy and Mr. Scott were very affectionate. Randal should be her friend’s child, so she took such care of him and escorted him.”

“I heard from a friend who works at Southern Star Entertainment that Randal, the Southern Star King, protected many stars in the company. Reid, you all know? That old satyr. God knows how many young female artists he has got his hands on! Without Randal being in charge of the company, I’m afraid no one can escape from his claws.” “I know that old man. He abandoned his wife, and married a young lady. This matter has been exposed on Twitter. I heard that many female stars of Southern Star Entertainment couldn’t bear to be violated by him and chose to commit suicide. But all of those matters are covered up. Anyway the company is a hellhole right now.”

“The entertainment industry has always been messy. But for any female star who wants to get ahead, no one can escape the hands of those bosses safe and sound. Ashley Wilson, a beautiful woman, was also a porn star before she became popular. Now she got a great movie prize, so what? She still needed to have a drink with the boss.” “Alas, the circle is really messed up.” Hailey took Ava straight into Southern Star Entertainment. This building was independent of Nanshi Group. Located in the south of the city center, it had good surroundings with a wide square at the entrance. Originally, the road had been planted with magnolia flowers, which formed a great landscape, but now all those magnolia flowers were replaced by plane trees. Today’s Southern Star Entertainment had been totally different from before, all thanks to Reid, Hailey’s third uncle. At this moment, sitting on his leather boss chair, Reid was holding a beautiful girl in his arms. While enjoying being fed by her, he held a cherry in his mouth and pinched her chin, wanting to feed it into her mouth. Despite being disgusted, the girl could only force a smile. As he was about to kiss the girl’s lips, the door of the office was kicked open with a bang, which made Reid so startled that the cherry in his mouth fell to the ground.

“Who?” He gave a sharp shout. Just as he was about to get angry, he saw Hailey come in with a sullen face, emitting a chilling aura.

Chapter 104 What She Said Really Meant it!

“Ms. Newman !” As soon as she saw Hailey, the girl acted as if she had fallen into the devil’s den before and now found the way back to the world. She felt the urge to cry for a moment, and ran towards Hailey in a tumble. But when Reid saw Hailey walk in with Ava, his face was darkened immediately. “It’s none of your business here. You can go down now.” After she asked Allan to take the grill down, Hailey dragged Ava into the room. Reid looked unhappy for he had been disturbed, sitting there with his legs crossed and remaining motionless. His delicate clothes were extremely disproportionate to what he had been doing. As a self-proclaimed gentleman, he did everything dirty behind others’ back. Although she didn’t like the insidious cunning Morgan, Hailey disliked the filthy Reid who pretended to be virtuous. Sometimes Hailey wondered why the siblings from the same parent were so different. Raised in the same environment, they had totally different personalities. Some trees looked relatively straight and grew to be strange in the end. “Hey, Hailey, what are you doing?” Reid brushed off the dust that didn’t exist on his body, said hello to Hailey without raising his head. He took a file on the table and pretended to focus on it. Hailey’s indifferent gaze swept across Reid’s face, and the words she spat out were cold and ruthless,

“Maybe I should ask you the question. Why are you doing here?” Questioned by Hailey like this, Reid still kept calm on his expression. Even in front of his own daughter, he still talked about it straightly. He said with an evil smile, “The little girl wants to be famous and had pestered on me. And I can’t do anything about it. No man would refuse a woman who throws herself on him.” Such shameless words made Ava feel ashamed for her father. Hailey looked at Reid coldly, and couldn’t help but want to spit at him. Once a person was shameless, he was not different from a mad dog on the street.

Ever since he became the vice president, Reid had regarded Southern Star Entertainment as his harem as if he were the emperor. He had flirted with many girls in the company. In others’ eyes, he was shameless and dirty. But he regarded himself as a charming playboy. How disgusting! Over the years, many girls who were not mature enough and yet wanted to be popular got together with Reid, some actively and some passively, even with the protection of Randal and Hailey. As for Cindy who finally succeeded in marrying Reid, she behaved as if she was a winner who got the position. The whole world was unbelievably absurd, but it really existed. Now that Hailey was back, she would clean up the company instead of standing such behaviour. She walked over to sit down on the sofa. She swept her indifferent gaze towards Reid, but a sneer appeared on the corner of her lips, “As a person gets old, he tends to become more thick-skinned. He will say shameless words. Ava, it’s better for him to die instead of living.”

What Hailey said really made Reid embarrassed, which may be beyond Reid’s imagination. He slammed the table heavily and shouted, "You bastard, how dare you scold your third uncle?!" Hailey picked up a glass on the table, sized it in her hand, and said lightly, "You should be glad that you are my third uncle. If you were someone else, I would not just scold you. Your head may not be in your neck in that case."

As soon as she finished speaking, she threw the glass straightly at Reid. Before he could react, the glass wiped his cheek and flew to the glass cabinet behind him. With a "bang", the glass shattered on the ground, which made Reid hug his head in fright. Standing aside, Ava was so frightened that she sat up subconsciously, feeling that her heart almost stopped beating. If the glass was a little bit closer to her father's head, then now it might be her father's head instead of the glass that would be broken. Hailey's threatening words always really meant it. It was decided by how she thought about someone's death.

Reid huddled under the table with his head in his arms. Looking at the shattered glass, he felt his face turned ashen with fright. With the sun shining brightly outside, he felt as if his whole body seemed to have just got out of an ice lake, shivering with cold. He reached out and touched his cheek, only to find that the cheekbones were already swollen. He could feel that it was so painful even with the slightest touch.

Reid stood up slowly and looked at Hailey with a terrified face. Not until this moment did he realize that Hailey really meant it and she was no longer the little girl who chased him coquettishly and called him third uncle when she was a child. God knows when she had become so evil. He had a vague feeling that his surviving eldest niece might be more cruel than his dead eldest brother, and she would let him suffer a lot!

When Reid told Morgan about his worries, Morgan's old face also wrinkled, and he said in a stern voice: "I have already found about it much earlier. Hailey must have known something. When she comes back this time, maybe she asked for our lives."

"What can she know? About the car accident that year, we...we just didn't tell them in advance! Those people wanted their lives, what can we do? I don't take this responsibility..." "Okay, shut up!" Morgan interrupted his brother angrily, "Things have already happened, do you think you can escape? Now that you want to get away from your responsibility? What benefits do you think you can get if you leave us alone? Do you think Hailey, our big niece, will not know your fault and let you go?" Morgan snorted coldly, "What if she really lets you go? We've led an unsatisfied life in her father's hands for most of our lives, and you still want to be controlled by Hailey again? You won't be wealthy if you are not willing to take risks. I don't want to live those poor days in the past!"

Upon hearing what Morgan said, Reid turned speechless. Who would want to live those days?

It was easy for people to live good lives after they experienced poor lives. But it was hard to live poor lives after they experienced good lives. Who will be willing to go back to the past and live those miserable and poor days after having enjoyed the convenience and pleasure brought by money and power?

Reid gritted his teeth, "Then what are we going to do now? The bastard Hailey has already revoked my vice president position and kicked me out of Southern Star Entertainment. Sooner or later, you, the chairman, will have to be replaced by her. If she goes on like this, the good days for our brothers will come to an end." Morgan's turbid eyes flashed with a sullen look, emitting a sinister light. He said scornfully: "She is no match for us. She is wet behind the years. How powerful can she be? I won't let her be arrogant for too long."

After hanging up the phone, Morgan said to Eve, "Your marriage with Luca should also be put on the agenda."

Chapter 105 Born to be a human being, but not even a human being Hearing her father talking about her and Luca's marriage, Eve should have been happy, but when she thought of Luca's recent actions and his attitude towards her, a look of sadness appeared on her face.

Seeing the strangeness of his daughter, Morgan couldn't help frowning, "What's the matter, Eve? Are you having trouble with Luca?"

Sitting on the edge of the bed, Eve lowered her head, and said aggrievedly: "He's not honest. He had another woman behind my back." "How dare he be two-timing you?"

Eve gave an awkward smile. Two-timing? It was more than that! As far as she knew, Luca had two or three other girlfriends. And there must be someone else she didn't know. If he had only one or two other girls, she could still make efforts to fight with them to be Mrs. Edwards, but there were so many... how could she win all of them? Even worse, maybe she would be killed by them if they united. Why would she bother to do it?

After knowing the situation, Morgan Newman cursed in anger, but Eve put in good words for Luca, "He's just a little bit more affectionate. Sometimes he's nice to me, and he hasn't said he wants to break up with me until now. It's just for fun, anyway. I will be Mrs. Edwards sooner or later!" Hearing this, Morgan didn't frown any more. Actually, although he was angry, he didn't take it as a big deal. He had planned to scold Luca before he finally persuaded Eve to forgive him. He didn't expect Eve to be more rational than what he had thought. "You're right to think so. I know that my daughter is not a short-sighted woman."

Morgan patted Eve's hand, looking that he appreciated her. He comforted her: "Daughter, listen to Dad, this man is born different from women. As the saying goes, men are afraid of going into the wrong profession, and women are afraid of marrying. Cuo Lang, this woman, you need to keep your eyes open. It is enough to have a man in your life, but a man is not enough. Why did the ancients have three wives and four concubines? It all makes sense. Willing to forgive me, you insist on getting a divorce with me, what will happen in the end, the person is old, and there is no money and no man, so pitiful. You must not learn from your mother, be so stubborn, and live a transparent, free and easy life." Eve felt uncomfortable after hearing this, "Dad, it's not like nobody wants my mother. As far as I know, there are a lot of people chasing her now, and there's even a university professor." "Don't be funny, other university professors like her?" Morgan Newman didn't believe it at all, and scoffed at it, but seeing Eve's serious face, he wasn't joking with him, and there were a few unnatural lines on his face, "Even if there is, I just want to play with her, and I definitely won't marry her. For her, what do people want, because she is old, or because she can't be reborn?"

Eve pouted, "I don't want to hear you say that to my mother." "Okay, then I won't say it, I won't say it."

Morgan Newman took his daughter's hand and continued to persuade: "What do you mean, Dad, I just hope you can handle this time well and don't be self-willed. You are Dad's only biological daughter, of course I hope you are well and can marry. It is such a blessing to enter the Qin family as a young grandmother, and no one else has the opportunity to do so!" "Of course I know that, I dream of marrying Luca, but..." Eve lacks confidence, "I don't know how much he likes me now, and whether he is willing to marry me or not. He has been lost by that little fox's soul recently, and he fought with her so hot that he even locked the apartment. It's all changed, and I can't find him."

When Morgan Newman heard this, his old face sank a little.

"Don't worry, girl, in a family like the Qin family, Luca can't decide the marriage, it's his father who has the final say. I've asked his father out to chat these days. Qin has a stake in several projects in Pingcheng.

It's time for them to repay us."

Hearing this, Eve had a bottom line in his heart, couldn't help but be overjoyed and pushed her father,

"Then what are you waiting for, stop these few days, quickly ask Uncle Qin to come out to chat, and set up our marriage as soon as possible.” Morgan Newman was urged to marry by his daughter, and he couldn’t laugh or cry for a while “Everyone is parents urging their children, you’re good, but you urge me. The female college is not in the middle, stay here and keep it as an enemy... Okay, I’ll go now, I will definitely negotiate the marriage for you. !”

Ava followed Hailey’s car back, restless and worried all the way. “Eldest sister, you turned against my father for me. If he does something bad to you, then ...” Hailey tilted her head to look at her, saw Ava’s eyes full of sadness, and pulled the corner of her mouth, revealing a faint smile, “Silly girl, do you think he can stop doing bad things if I don’t turn my back on him? Want bad people not to do bad things? It’s harder than getting a slut to reboot, if that’s the case, why be polite to them?” “But, I’m afraid...” Ava muttered. “Afraid of what? Afraid that he will hurt me and be bad for me?” Hailey said for her when she saw that she couldn’t continue. Ava looked down, ashamed of having a father like that, unable to lift her head up in front of Hailey. Hailey’s eyes were indifferent, but the corners of his lips were raised slightly, “Don’t worry, he’s not that good. Reid and Morgan Newman are like bed bugs in the gutter, they are obviously invisible maggots, but they want to crawl out to disgust you. Destroying them is a matter of time, and now, it’s just a matter of making them jump a few more times.”

For Hailey, instead of fighting in the dark without seeing the light of day, beware of their underhand tricks, it would be better to rip to the surface and fight with real swords. Wouldn’t that be much more enjoyable?

“Do you feel uncomfortable when I say that to your father?” she asked Ava . Ava shook his head, with a self-deprecating smile, “Just now in the office, my sister helped me seek justice with him, but he never gave me a look from beginning to end, not to mention the slightest bit of distress and guilt. He has long been in his heart. Without my daughter, why should I respect him as a father?” Hailey touched her face distressedly and sighed. “There is an old saying that a father is kind to a son and filial, and only if the father is kind, can the son be filial. When a father is not responsible, he can’t blame his children for not being filial. The cycle of causa and effect is natural. You don’t need to feel sad, and you don’t need to blame yourself.” Ava bit her lip and couldn’t help crying. The grievances she suffered in that house over the years have long been a habit, but hearing her sister say this, she still felt aggrieved. “Sister, why are there parents who don’t love their children in this world? If they don’t love them, why did they give birth in the first place?” Hailey took Ava in his arms and patted her head lovingly, “He was born a human being, how could he be father if he couldn’t even be a human being?” Ava burst into tears, “Sister, I miss Uncle and Aunt.” Only with her eldest uncle and aunt did she feel the love of her elders and the warmth of home. Hailey’s eyes were slightly wet, why didn’t she miss them? The more I think about them, the more I can't let go of the culprit who killed them. Sooner or later, there will be a battle between her and Morgan Newman and Reid . This battle will not be too far away.

Chapter 106 The Woman Behind the Movie King The entertainment industry has not been peaceful recently. Andy, the prince of Starfield Media, was detained on suspicion of "hiring murder", Starfield has been exposed to frequent scandals, and tax evasion and yin-yang contracts have also attracted the attention and investigation of relevant departments. Starfield boss Shawn, who was pushed to the cusp of the storm, did not seem to be in a hurry. In the face of the media, he only said "actively cooperate with the investigation, fair and comfortable", followed by Southern Star Entertainment. Female artists, and even the scandal that once led to the suicide of the artist was rampant.

Netizens were dizzying eating melons, and there were even famous scenes of watching the fun and calling it "a dog bites a dog".

Later, some little melons were exposed by the paparazzi one after another, saying that in order to save his son, Mr. Li of Xingyu had already asked a lawyer to find a way to excuse him, and wanted to release him on bail; Make public appearances, meet with other bosses in business, and discuss cooperation.

As for Southern Star Entertainment, the newly appointed president Ms. Newman killed relatives righteously. Long before the news broke, he removed his uncle and vice president, and encouraged persecuted artists to bravely report Reid's evil deeds to the police will try to protect their privacy and safety.

No matter if she is really ruthless, but this move can be said to be very pleasing. Nanxing's official WeChat also issued an official statement, any artist who wants to terminate the contract can get together with Nanxing after completing the work at hand, and choose to stay., Southern Star Entertainment will definitely not treat you badly.

As soon as this announcement came out, both Southern Star Entertainment and Randal were topped the trending search. Fans and fans have shouted under the accounts of Randal's various public platforms, hoping that he can leave Southern Star Entertainment, a vampire company, and stop working for Nanxing. It's not worth it. And major film and television and brokerage companies have also thrown olive branches to Randal, not hesitate to spend a lot of money, hoping to sign his brokerage contract, and even Starfield Media is just around the corner.

Where is Randal going, it has become the most concerned topic of the entire entertainment industry and netizens. But the Lord has never come forward to respond. Everyone knows that Randal has just returned from filming in the mountains and forests. It is when he is recuperating. He has always been low-key and reclusive. Fans feel that the idol filming is hard, and they dare not disturb him rashly. They only follow his developments online.. Unexpectedly, the melon came so quickly, Just when the turmoil just subsided, Randal was suddenly photographed by the paparazzi. The title was shocking #SuspectedRandallove Exposure#, click in and take a look, the copy reads: “The actor Randal had dinner with a young woman ., we talked very happily, and it was suspected that the underground romance was exposed...”

Even if the title and copy use the word “suspected”, which is hype and unreliable at first glance, it still caused a sensation in the entire entertainment industry. Because, even passers-by who are not in the circle know that Randal has been out for many years, and there are many couples on the screen, but he has never had an affair with anyone. Except for a business dinner, he has never eaten with friends of the opposite sex, let alone. Enjoyed talking. Could it be that the young woman in the photo is the woman behind the actor?

Netizens are already thinking about who the young woman is. Several female artists are on the list, but they deny it one after another, and use various methods to clarify that they are just lying on the gun, and they really “eat melon and eat themselves”, He also said that he and Randal are just ordinary friends, please let the netizens go.

The shy attitude of female artists has once again pushed the scandal into a wave. After all, there may be women who dare to fall in love with popular movie stars, but they dare to have such a huge fan base that every day apart from work is work. The woman Randal is in love with is definitely a lunatic. Want a man, don't kill the rhythm.

Randal, on the other hand, seems to be more anxious than the fans. He not only clarified that “it's just a meal with my sister, please don't speculate too much” when the news came out, and then directly pulled out the paparazzi and publicly executed them, asking him to put the original photos were posted. When everyone saw it, it turned out that there were not only Randal and the woman in the photo, but also two other men. Except that the identity of the woman was not exposed, the other two men blew their identities. One was the Seventh Young Master of the Bai family in Nancheng, and the other was The young masters of the Quan family are all big people who are either rich or expensive. After the clarification, the scandal was self-defeating, but netizens became more curious about the identity of the woman, from first guessing which female star she was to starting to guess which chaebol's daughter she was. After all, it is definitely not easy for a woman to eat at the same table with the actor and the black and white young master. And Randal calls her "sister", they don't know when Randal has another sister? "Didn't I ask you to take down the news, why is it still on it?" Early in the morning, Owen, who read the news again, coldly questioned his assistant Jose, with an ugly expression on his face.

Jose only felt his scalp tingling, and said weakly: "It has been withdrawn and withdrawn several times, but netizens are too curious about the 'woman behind the actor's big shot'. The more it bounces back." In fact, he wanted to persuade that things like news are always windy and rainy, and they are time-sensitive. As long as the next wave of news is exposed one after another, netizens will eat new melons, and their attention will naturally shift. How could Owen not know this truth, but knowing it is one thing, brushing the news every day is another. He is far away in North City, watching his woman get top searched every day, or the pictures of eating and chatting with other men, how could he feel comfortable in his heart, like soaking in a glass of lemonade, sour.

The most irritating thing is that when the news just came out, he immediately recognized the person in the photo as Hailey, and called to ask about it. His original intention was to ask Hailey if he needed his help, but he didn't know which sentence was wrong, and his concern became a question. Hailey, who was already annoyed by netizens, was not happy, and immediately responded.

"I'm having a meal with others, what's in your way, President Yu? Is it in your eyes or in your mouth? Does your family live in the Pacific Ocean? Lazar, who are you to me, can you control you?" After he finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

When you call again, it won't work. Someone blocked his number. Owen's mood also darkened. Jose, as a personal assistant, had a very difficult time during this period. He felt that every day was covered with clouds, and he lived carefully and like walking on thin ice. Looking at the boss's face, he carefully suggested, "Mr. Moore, although your recent itinerary is very full, you can still spare half a day if you adjust it. Would you like me to arrange a special plane for you to fly to Nancheng?" Owen failed to send the message again, and the lines on his face darkened a few times. "Make arrangements, the sooner the better."

Chapter 107 If You Want to Die, I Will Help You

Hailey had been in a bad mood lately. She was already busy enough at work, but she didn't expect that she was inexplicably searched several times after having a meal with her brothers. People were afraid of being famous. Why was it so difficult to keep a low profile these days? Randal compensated her several times for this, and Jared and Brook also stepped forward to help her clarify, and even helped her to withdraw from the hot search. They were ten thousand times more anxious than Hailey herself.

Because protecting the privacy of the younger sister and preventing her from being exposed to the public was the death order that the mother once gave to them, and it was also their duty and mission.

Hailey was so busy with the Newman Jewelry new product launch that she was so busy that he didn't have time to deal with any gossip news, so she left the matter to Brook and Chris to handle.

But it was obvious that these two people didn't handle it properly. A phone call from Owen became the last straw that broke her mood. It hadn't gotten back together yet, so she unilaterally thought that her ex-husband can take care of her, that's enough. Why could men always be so ordinary, yet so confident? After hanging up Owen's phone, Hailey brought Chris over and scolded him coldly, "What do you eat?" "Following me for so long, I can't even remove a hot search. Don't say what a genius boy you are! Everyone will laugh at you!" "I'll come here in person for everything, what's the use of me asking you?"

Chris was scolded while keeping his head down.

Hailey's face mask was cold, and she wanted to scold again. Ava, who followed up with the office, quickly poured a cup of tea and sent it over. Looking at her sister's face, Hailey reluctantly let Chris go, turned on the computer, and took down all the news about her on the Internet. The flying fingertips fully exposed her current mood. Just throw a match, and I'm afraid it will be ignited.

Chris and Ava stood side by side, not daring to breathe as they watched Hailey's swift action. But at this time, Allan of Southern Star Entertainment called and said that Reid's current wife, Cindy, went to the company to make trouble and beat a girl. There were always some people who were tired of life and wanted to come to death. Hailey turned off the computer and said to Ava, "Let's go and meet your stepmother. I also want to see what kind of person my new third aunt is." Southern Star Entertainment had become a mess. The office area of the artist department was surrounded by water. Allan, like a blown up golden peacock, shouted with his arms on his hips, "Why do you beat people? How dare you look down on artists, how amazing are you, Cindy?" He was so angry that he scolded people like a bunch of bald grapes. "They're all thousand-year-old foxes. You came here to play with me, and you didn't just marry an old man to fill in the house, and you even put up the money of the princess in the palace. Others don't know, but I know!"

“You are a southern barbarian born from a peripheral girl, and you have a very ‘loud’ reputation in the south area. Don’t think that after plastic surgery and changing your name, no one will know you. Even if you marry into a wealthy family, you can’t change your appearance!” Mr. White scolded so hard that he wanted to strip Cindy’s old bottom in front of everyone. The crowd watched and listened, only to feel shocked. Miss Chinese, Ms. Cindy, now the third wife of the Nan Group, is actually a woman from the outside world!

And the much-anticipated third lady, Ms. Cindy, was sitting on the swivel chair with her legs crossed in a calm mood at this moment.

She was wearing a red velvet tube top dress, a pearl necklace around her neck, waterfall-like long hair draped behind her, every strand of hair was carefully cared for, and an emerald bracelet on her left wrist, a sapphire ring the size of a dove egg on his finger, blinding everyone’s eyes, just taking out a piece of clothing on his body is enough for ordinary people to buy a suite, sitting on a chair, holding the attitude of Mrs. Kuo.

Behind him, there are also two bodyguards wearing black super, which are very stylish.

Cindy with such an elegant temperament and jewels, all the artists are envious and jealous. They only think that she has a good life. Who would have thought that she has such a background? It turns out that the Kochi family and mysterious background are all fake, and the unspeakable past is the real thing.

Cindy didn’t seem to care about this, and only smiled slightly, “Allan, you don’t have to bite me like a mad dog. In this circle, who’s past can’t stand it? Who doesn’t have a point? Black history? How many are clean? Heroes don’t ask where they come from, you are a dignified Southern Star Entertainment Allan, aren’t you just a second chair? I didn’t laugh at you, why are you embarrassed to point fingers at me, who gave you the face?” When she said something, Allen’s face turned purple with anger, and when he rolled up his sleeves, he was about to rush to beat someone, but was blocked by the bodyguards and was punched in the face. “What’s going on?” The moment Hailey’s cold voice came out, everyone backed away automatically to make way, and greeted her, “Ms. Newman is good.” . Cindy, who was sitting in the chair , also slowly set his eyes on Hailey, and his phoenix eyes with beautiful contact lenses squinted slightly.

he saw Ava following behind Hailey, a mocking smile formed on the corner of his lips, he touched the gemstone ring on his hand, and looked down at his new manicure. Hailey's indifferent gaze was as sharp as a knife, "This is a film and television company, not a vegetable market where you fight, nor a dog market." She asked the two bodyguards to let go of Alan, but the bodyguards refused, and Hailey didn't bother to talk nonsense with them. He took two steps forward, broke their wrists, and only heard the sound of dislocated joints

When Cindy raised her head, she saw two behemoths flying towards her, making her hurriedly leave her seat and take a few steps back. The two bodyguards just fell in front of her! Curled to the ground in pain unable to speak. "If you don't listen when you're talking well, you have to mess with me." Hailey clapped his hands with no expression on his face. When he glanced at Alan, there was only a slight wave on his face, pinching his jaw, "It hurts.?" Allen touched the corner of his red and swollen mouth, the man who had always been most afraid of pain was unspeakable at this moment, "My injury is nothing, but Xiao Yi was beaten to death and lost half of his life, so I sent it to him. Hospital emergency." Hailey frowned when he heard this, glanced at Chris, Chris nodded immediately, and sent someone to the hospital to arrange. Cindy looked at Hailey's pomp and carried it more than herself, sneered in her heart, but had a warm smile on her face, and walked towards her and took her hand. "You are Hailey. I often hear Ning Zhu mention you. Speaking of which, it's the first time we've met." Hailey raised her head slightly and looked at the woman in front of her with cold brows, "It's the first time I met, my third aunt gave me such a big greeting. If you don't answer anything, my niece really can't tell." As soon as he finished speaking, Hailey raised his hand, grabbed her pearl necklace, and tugged gently. The sound of big pearls and small pearls falling on the jade plate sounded crisply, and the big pearls fell to the ground. Cindy's neck was empty. Looking at the beads that fell to the ground, the smile on his face suddenly changed, and it was white.!

Chapter 108 I'm Honored, You Are Humbled

Looking at the falling beads, Cindy only felt pity. This pearl necklace was got when she begged Reid for nearly a month, and she finally achieved to get it. She usually didn't want to wear it, but today she specially wore it to show up. She didn't expect Hailey to tear her up like this. She gritted her teeth in hatred, but she couldn't lose her temper in front of everyone. She smiled sullenly, "It is said that the Newman family has strict family rules and orderly dignity. Is it proper for you to behave like this as the younger generation?" "Younger? You're not a few years older than me. Are you embarrassed to come here to act as an elder?" Hailey spoke slowly, with almost no ups and downs, "I respected you third aunt because of my third uncle. Do you really think of yourself as higher than me?"

She sat down on the chair, raised her eyes slightly, and looked at Cindy's face that was about to stop, her face expressionless. "My third uncle is here with me, and I don't have any face. The Nan family is indeed respectful and orderly, but you may have misunderstood. I am respected and you are humble. This is called respect and order." Cindy's already shaky face suddenly collapsed. Seeing that Hailey couldn't get anything cheap, Cindy turned her attention to Ava who was standing behind her, and a smile appeared on her lips. "Ava , when you see your mother, why don't you know how to say hello?" Ava immediately retorted, "You are not my mother!" "You're not good, since I married your father, it's a matter of course for you to call me mom." Cindy was very arrogant in front of Ava , "I haven't seen you for so long, I usually don't know how to fight. It's okay to say hello on the phone. You don't know how to say hello to your elders when you meet them. That's how I taught you? Girls are from a family. I'll think you're a wild girl with a father and no mother." Ava was so angry that her eyes were red and her whole body was shaking, "I don't have a mother to teach me. My mother was squeezed away by you, a vixen. If it wasn't for you, she wouldn't die!" When Chris came back after explaining the matter, he heard what Ava said. Seeing her broken-hearted appearance, she felt a little distressed. He walked over and silently stayed by her side. Cindy smiled scornfully, "She can't keep a man herself, can she blame me?" Hailey looked coldly at Cindy the same way he looked at Eliza . The faces of the third and fourth in the world are similar, they are obviously grabbing food from other people's mouths, but they want to say that they are incompetent and can't protect their food. Ava was annoyed, but he had to say more, but Hailey lightly stopped him. "Ava , don't waste your words. There's no reason to talk to such shameless people, because they don't speak human language and can't understand human language." Cindy's smug face suddenly darkened. She heard that this eldest niece who appeared out of nowhere frequently kept the two uncles from coming down the stage. Reid used to be so arrogant and complacent, but since Hailey came back, his rights in the Nanshi Group have been suspended. Well, I went to Yunnan for a trip and lost all my money on gambling stones, and now I have been kicked out by Hailey directly from Southern Star Entertainment... It's so stupid! If an uncle can't fight against his niece, then she, an aunt, will come out to educate her. I never thought that the eldest young lady of the Nan family is different from Eve , who is in love, and is not easy to handle like Ava, a soft bun.

Cindy calmed down and felt that he couldn't show any momentum by standing like this, so he sat down on the chair and confronted Hailey. She said with a leisurely smile: "I'm here today, and I have no other intentions. Although your third uncle is not too young, his personality is still there. I don't know how many young and ignorant little girls rushed up one after another. Of course I have to watch it, that little girl named Mandy Green doesn't know the rules, I'll come and teach her, I think you shouldn't care about Xiao Song, right?" When the staff onlookers in the office area heard these words, they all cast their indignant eyes, wishing they could spit her to death! Charismatic? For a bad old man like Reid, it's not bad to call him a person. What kind of personality is there? The whole child is a scumbag. Among the artists in the company, who has not been teased by him openly or secretly, even the manager will be subjected to his salty hands, but because of his identity as the third master of the South, he dares not speak out. This Cindy can't bear to look down on her man, and even came here to embarrass them, exaggerating his wife's money, what kind of thing! Hailey looked at Cindy nonchalantly, with no warmth in his eyes. "Mandy is an artist of my company, don't say she didn't make a mistake, even if she made a mistake, I will discipline her. Why do you come here to beat someone, and what qualifications do you have to let me not care?" Hailey didn't give any face, let Cindy's attitude of the third lady that Cindy tried to maintain in front of the crowd couldn't hold it

anymore, and it was shattered.

"Do you want to protect the short?" Hailey answered as it should be, "I'm always a protector, you know now, isn't it a little late?" She raised her hand lightly and instructed the security guard who came, "Drag these two people out, they How to beat Mandy, let them come back, don't beat people to death."

Allen rolled up his sleeves and followed, "I'll go, I won't beat them to death!" The other staff also followed up When the two bearish bodyguards were beating, they went up to stop them and were pushed a few times It hurts Very, of course, to take revenge! Seeing that all the bodyguards he brought were dragged out, Cindy was helpless, and immediately lost his calm, Hailey, what do you want to do?"

Hailey smiled lightly, 'Since you have the courage to come here, you must bear the consequences. She tilted her head and asked Ava : * Ava , how did she bully you before, today we will have revenge and complain.' Ava thought of those humiliating days and gritted her teeth bitterly. She has not had a good life since she was a child. Reid has never been a responsible father. He is very ambitious and has low eyesight. He relies on his two brothers to help him all day long, and daydreams about making a fortune every day, but at that time, at least home was still home. , not hell on earth, until the moment when Cindy hooked up with her father, forced her mother to death, and stepped into the house, her hard days came. This woman, who was a gentle and gentle big sister at first, suddenly changed. Once when Reid was on a business trip, Cindy didn't stay home. He ran out every day. Every night when he came back, he was drunk and disheveled. One night, he brought a man back with him. At that time, she had just entered the university. Although she was young, she was almost an adult. She didn't understand the things between men and women. She stood at the head of the stairs, watching Cindy and the sloppy-looking strange man kissing fiercely in the living room, doing such shy things, and she was stunned for a moment.

Cindy noticed her, raised her head sharply, and shot her eyes like a snake spirit spitting out letters, her eyes filled with poison. That night, she pulled her hair and locked her in the cellar, slapped her dozens of times in the face, beat her nosebleeds, and stepped on her face with high heels to warn her. "Damn girl, listen to me. If you dare to tell your father about the old lady, or tell others about it, the old lady will rip your skin off!"

Chapter 109 An Evil Beauty Ava was horrified. Only then did she see through the face of this woman, and at that moment, she understood what a "femme beauty was like. Reid was on a business trip for more than half a month, and she was also locked up in the cellar by Cindy for more than half a month. With all the injuries, she was not given food, and she was given a few sips of water to drink like a prisoner. Every night, Cindy had to stand on the shelf of her stepmother and make Ava kneel in front of her with a whip, and teach her to listen to her and tell her to be honest and not to make unnecessary struggles. In order to survive, Ava can only compromise and bow down to this woman. She tried to resist and tried to escape, but the whole family was full of people from Cindy, and a good home had completely turned into a devil's den After finally waiting for Reid to come back, Cindy finally released Ava , but she couldn't see her injuries, and the wound infection caused a high fever. Cindy sent her to the hospital and lied to Reid that she was subjected to school violence. Reid went to the hospital to take a look at Ava Seeing her daughter's injuries, she didn't care at first, but blamed her for offending others. "Make yourself like this, what the hell have you done to make people teach you a lesson? Why don't they violent others but you? Give me a good reflection! Cindy turned into a loving and gentle stepmother, and persuaded by her side, "It's alright, calm down, the child is ignorant, just scold a few words, don't get angry." She looked at Ava , who was lying on the hospital bed with a red face, Sighing lightly, "This child is also pitiful, husband, stepmother is difficult to do, I'm really afraid that others will say that it's Ava whol abused."

Reid hurriedly comforted her, became more and more angry, and pointed to Ava to continue the lesson., "If you get hurt like this, even if you don't think about yourself, you have to think about your little mother. Others think she treats you badly. How do you make her behave?" Ava was lying on the hospital bed with scars, looking at his father who was blindly defending his new wife, only to feel that his heart was cold to the bottom. The scars all over his body can't resist the pain in his heart. This is her father.

After that, Cindy's attitude towards her became even more severe. Sometimes, in front of Reid's face, she could slap her directly, and Reid felt that this kind of discipline was justified. She was put under house arrest by Cindy, and finally got through to the start of school. Unexpectedly, Cindy would not even let her go to school, tearing up her admission letter. If she hadn't worked so hard to escape from home and tried to get a supplementary notice to go to college, I'm afraid she would have died in Cindy's hands by now. The past few years in college have not been easy for her. Reid refused to pay her tuition because of her "running away from home". Ava could only rely on her part-time work-study efforts to complete her studies and stumbled to the present. Listening to Ava recounting her experiences over the years, many of the staff in the office area had red eyes, and some were in tears. "It's too much. How can a child threaten you? How can you be so poisonous? You are also a mother, so you are not afraid of retribution on your son!"

Aunt Baojie couldn't listen to her anymore. She felt that the vicious stepmother should be sent to hell and never be born!

"That is, your own child is a child, isn't someone else's child a child? You are too vicious!" "Some people have a beautiful face, but their hearts are already dark! But it can't be so dark, it's just appalling!"

"What beautiful face? Didn't you hear what Allan said just now, they used to work on the periphery, relying on plastic surgery to get a better position. I said why this face looks so fake."

"I heard from a friend in the south before that this Cindy was quite famous in that area, called 'Baby Hawker', nicknamed 'Fucking House'."

"What is 'Fucking House'?"

"It just means that you can change a suite with a poke."

"Pfft... You are so capable, then why don't you stay in Lingnan and come to Nancheng? Pollute the fresh air here."

"What else can I do, my reputation is bad, I was kicked out by Jin-zhu, I can't get along anymore, I ran to a place where I didn't know my life and changed my face to find an honest person to take over." All kinds of sarcastic words drifted into Cindy's ears incessantly. She almost forgot about things that hadn't been mentioned in many years. She didn't expect to be picked up here again. "Enough!" She finally lost her temper, showing her fangs, "What evidence do you have to slander me like this, I can sue you for slander, wait for my lawyer's letter!" Outnumbered, Cindy knew she couldn't stay any longer. Now, he said something cruel, grabbed his handbag and was about to go out, but was stopped by Hailey's people.

Hailey lifted his eyelids and glanced at her, and said coldly, "What do you think this place is, come here if you want, and leave if you want?"

If you want to leave after hitting someone, how can it be so cheap? Cindy looked back at Hailey, "What do you want?"

Hailey ignored her, just looked at Ava and said in a calm voice, "Ava, in the past few years, my sister was not by your side and failed to protect you, which caused you a lot of grievances." Ava's eyes were still red, and when Hailey said that, she shook her head quickly. "Sister, don't say that. It's none of your business. I'm not strong enough to protect my mother and myself." Chris looked at Ava with a distressed face, and almost blurted out: I will protect you in the future! Hailey took her hand, "Sister will give you this opportunity today, and return all the humiliation she gave you when she slapped you back then, do you dare?"

Ava lowered her eyes to meet Hailey's eyes, and felt the power that her hand sent to her. With her sister supporting her, at this moment, she was fearless and fearless. "I'm not afraid," Ava said, "I'm just afraid that my sister will be implicated."

Hailey said lightly: "No. I am a person who doesn't like violence by nature, but there are some things, some people, non-violence and non-cooperation, there is no way." She sighed helplessly, expressing her sigh to this world where the strong eat the weak and the bad guys rule. "Chris." Hailey didn't even look at Cindy, and only whispered, "I remember there was a little black house in Nanxing that was in disrepair, do you still have it?" "Yes!" Chris responded, immediately understanding, and asked the security to take Cindy there. Cindy was shocked to see that they were coming. "What do you want? Let me go! Hailey, you dare to abuse lynching, you dare to do it with me, believe it or not... uh..." "Go." Hailey patted Ava, "Don't be afraid to get your hands dirty, just wash them when you come back, my sister is waiting for you here."

Ava nodded firmly, she knew that this was the chance the eldest sister gave her. And this chance is only one time. How could she fail?

Chapter 110 Do Not Try to Be Perfect, But Do Whatever You Want

On the way to the hospital, Hailey iced Ava's swollen hands, helpless. "Are you beating people, or are they beating people? I asked you to take revenge, but your hand was swollen. Look at this hand, it looks like braised pig's trotters." Chris heard a black line, but Ava smiled naively. "It's the first time I hit someone, so I don't have any experience. But there's nothing I can do about the force and the reaction force. Sister, that woman's face is ten times more swollen than my hand!" Hailey looked up at Ava, her hand was swollen, but her whole body exuded an unprecedented vitality, as if she was completely alive. Not only Hailey noticed it, but Chris also noticed it, as if the dark cloud over his head has finally gone away, and the dark cloud in his heart has also dissipated.

Hailey raised his head and touched his sister's head, "Are you happy now?" Ava nodded like a chicken pecking at rice. She leaned on Hailey's shoulder, held the ice cube in her hand, and said sincerely, "Sister, although beating is not good, that woman killed my mother, stole my father, and bullied me for so many years. I really hate her! At first, I couldn't let go, but when I saw her face, remembered when she locked me in the cellar and beat me.. I waved my palm, I slapped her face all at once, listening to her insults to me, it shattered in my mouth little by little, I couldn't say it relaxed and happy. Sister, have I become bad?"

Chris smiled and said, "As the saying goes, those who are close to Zhu are red and those who are close to ink are black. Can you learn well with such a domineering sister? It's normal to learn badly." Hailey lifted his eyes. "Fuck off. You talk more." Chris makes a zipper gesture to his mouth, which makes Ava smile. Hailey's calm, unwavering voice sounded in the carriage, "How to distinguish between good and bad? If a good person is destined to be angry all his life, then it is better to be a bad person.", do nothing.

Hailey made a trip to the hospital himself, and Randal was on the ward when he went. He received the news and rushed to the hospital immediately. The little artist who was beaten was called Mandy, the one who was almost beaten by Reid that day. Unexpectedly, he finally escaped from the wolf's den and fell into the hands of Cindy, the tigress. No wonder Allen was so angry. Mandy was beaten really hard, his face was bloody and almost ruined, his body was covered with bruises and many soft tissue bruises. "I'm sorry, it's the responsibility of the company, it's my boss's dereliction of duty to make you hurt like this." Hailey apologized solemnly, and then said to Mandy, "The two bodyguards who beat you today have been arrested by Alan They are almost useless. There are two solutions, listen to them. First, you can choose to sue Reid and Cindy, and the company will let the legal team protect your rights. After the matter is settled, if you want to leave Nanxing, you can Terminate at any time." Mandy glanced at Randal and asked hard, "If I sue them, will they win? Will they get in and get locked up?" Randal told her the possible outcome, "Reid hasn't done any substantial harm to you, so I'm afraid the police won't file a case. As for Cindy, even if there is surveillance evidence, she can pass the buck to the bodyguard who does it, and Once she guides the public's opinion first, saying that you have failed to seduce Reid, she will teach you a lesson, and the outside world will not be friendly to you." Although the reality is cruel, Randal had to tell her, "Your foundation is not stable., netizens won't talk to you. As for the bodyguards who beat people, they're just locked up for a few days." If someone else said this to Mandy, she might not believe it, but Randal said it, he never lied, and she couldn't help but believe it. Mandy smiled bitterly, "I'm a little artist with no background and no family background. I can't make a big splash. I know, what else is there to sue? Ms. Newman, let's talk about the second one." Hailey said the second one, "You take care of your injury, I will ask the best doctor to repair your face for you, and the operation fee will be borne by the company. For Reid and Cindy, you don't have to worry about it. One day you will get the results you deserve. On your side, if you want to cancel the contract or withdraw from the circle, I can help you arrange it. If you still want to trust me and continue to stay in Nanxing, the company will give you certain resources. Whether it is popular or not depends on your life and your efforts, but at least, you don't need to worry about food and clothing."

Mandy stared blankly at Allan , Allan said, "What are you still doing? This Ms. Newman is not another Ms.

Newman, our little Ms. Newman is not that old bald donkey who only eats cows with open mouths. This is what I mean to praise you, so why don't you thank you quickly? When we become popular, what Cindy,

if she dares to slap us once, we will dare to slap her twice and beat her to death!"

Allen's remarks made Mandy laugh, but it affected the wound on his body, and he gasped again. Hailey frowned and glanced at Alan. Allen suddenly became honest and stopped talking, but still winked at Mandy, asking her not to think about it, seize the opportunity, there is no such store after this village! Mandy also came from a poor child, and knew that the opportunity to stand out was not easy to come by. After so many years in the entertainment industry and so many years in Nanxing, how could you not cherish it after finally waiting for an opportunity?" Ms. Newman, I want a second option." Hailey simply said, "Okay." Mandy's family is out of town. Hailey arranged for her an assistant, and also hired a nurse to take care of her. When she can move, she will be sent to South Korea for facial reconstruction surgery. Everything was arranged, Hailey and Randal walked out side by side, Randal looked at Hailey's face, "Still angry about the photo?" Hailey shook her head, "No." She looked at Randal deeply, "Third brother, these years, you have to be busy filming and take care of Nanxing, it's very hard." Randal was startled, smiled gently, raised his hand and touched her head, "Why do you say that all of a sudden?"

"In the past few years, I've been too self-willed, and left all the burdens my parents left me to you."

lowered his eyes and smiled to himself, "Willness really comes at a price, Morgan Newman and Reid took Nan's It's half my responsibility to make it like this." "Don't be too hard on yourself." Randal knew what Hailey was thinking, and after hearing her say that, he began to feel distressed, "Aren't you back, it's not too late."

Hailey looked up, and the flicker of vulnerability and guilt faded from his eyes, replaced by strength and determination. She smiled, "You're right, I'm back." It's time for her to take responsibility.

She was tired of coaxing Morgan Newman and Reid to play again, and she paid for her waywardness over the past three years, and they also paid for their sins. The nets cast down can also start to be recycled.
