Chapter 031 Sending Jared and Javen to Roveland

At the hospital. Fortunately, Javen and Jared only suffered minor injuries. The doctor disinfected their wounds and applied some ointment on them, so they were fine. Chris' injuries weren't serious either. He only needed to bandage them for a bit and it would be fine. "Molly, if you don't want to send them abroad, why don't you send them to Roveland? They should be going to kindergarten soon. There is a private aristocratic kindergarten there. You can send them there to study. Roveland is close to Oscos. They can arrive in an hour by boat. You can visit them every week." "We will hide for the time being. After a period of time, Ivan and Eileen will get married. I guess they will not care about this issue anymore by that time." "Rose has not been exposed yet, so don't worry too much. Let Rose stay with you!" When Molly heard this, she looked up at Chris hesitantly. Oscos was only a stone's throw away from Roveland. Although Roveland was small, it was the only gambling city allowed in the country! The Davis' was one of the top three gambling tycoons in Roveland. "But, it is so close. If Ivan wants to find them, I am afraid it will be easy for him to do so." "It's fine, I can send someone to protect them!" Chris smiled and gently held her shoulder. "Besides, you can tell him that the children have gone abroad! When the limelight is over, you can bring them back!" "Alright, then!" "Then I'll arrange it!" "Okay!" "Mommy, where are we going?" "You have to go to kindergarten when you are older. You will be a big child in the future, so you need to start going to school." "Oh!"

The next day. Chris drove the car and took Molly and the two little boys to the dock to take the boat. They were ready to send the two little guys to Roveland. On the other hand, Eileen dragged her tired body home. It was still the same. Leo rode a motorcycle and sent her to the city. Then, she took a taxi to the designated place and called the driver to pick her up. The reason why it was so troublesome was mainly to keep it a secret. She was afraid of being photographed together with Leo. At this time, their motor and Chris' car passed by each other, and Molly was looking out of the window. She suddenly saw the woman on the motorcycle and her back looked like Eileen. Although the woman was wearing a helmet, she looked exactly like Eileen. "Hey, look at that person. Is she Eileen?" Chris was driving. He stepped on the brake and glanced at the rearview mirror. "She looks a bit like her!" Originally, she could not see clearly, but the motorcycle suddenly stopped. Leo got out of the car, and so did Eileen.

The two of them took off their helmets, and Leo kept kissing Eileen on her face. They looked like they were not ready to part ways. This time, Molly saw clearly that she was indeed Eileen! Looking at the situation, she was very intimate with this man. "Heh, it really is Eileen. Ivan is being cheated on!" Chris teased. "Perhaps, this is just an ordinary friend of hers..." Molly frowned.

... + 10 Molly you don't understand men too well! In this situation, it's impossible to be an ordinary friend..." Chris sneered. Halfway through his words, Chris suddenly stopped talking as he accidentally exposed his nature. "Film it and send it to Ivan, or you can post it online." When Molly heard this, she hurriedly stopped him, "Stop, don't do it." "Why?"

"I don't want to hurt her!" Molly knew very well that if the photos were sent to the media, Eileen would probably be ruined for life. She had a taste for cyber bullying, and it was really terrible. "Molly, you don't want to hurt her, but she doesn't care." Molly sighed, "No matter what, she is still my sister! six years ago, she and Ivan did not get married! In the end, she thought it was because of me. This is what I owe her and I am willing to let her go. I hope she can take care of herself!" "Alright then, I will listen to you!" Chris stepped on the accelerator again, and the car drove off.

At the Hills' Residence. After a round of torture, Eileen finally dragged her exhausted body back home. Last night, she did not return for the entire night. She was completely exhausted by Leo, and now it was a little hard for her to close her legs. Lena was eating breakfast at this time. When she saw that her daughter had returned, she hurriedly walked over with a smile. "Eileen, you're finally back!" "Mom, I'm going upstairs to take a shower first!" Eileen said dispiritedly. "You didn't come back last night. Did you do it with Mr. White?" Lena said with a smile. "Mom, don't gossip. I'm going upstairs to take a bath!" Eileen said. "Alright, fine. Go quickly! You're finally all grown up. Mom has already told you that when it is time to take the initiative, you have to be more proactive!" Before Lena could finish, Eileen had already fled upstairs. She saw daughter's dispirited appearance, even her legs felt weak as she walked, and she wasn't even able to close her eyes. There were even hickeys on her neck, so with one look, it was obvious that she had a rough night in the bedroom. However, Lena thought that it was Ivan who had done it. If she knew that her precious daughter had sex with a poor boy for a whole night, she would probably be so angry that she would explode in anger.

Soon, the matter of the kindergarten had been settled and the admission procedures had also been completed. This kindergarten was full of rich children. Moreover, it was not a school that anyone rich could just get in, as it required connection as well. Naturally, everything here was the highest level. Just the tuition fees were extremely costly. However, there was a very high privacy here, as even the paparazzi could not get any photos of the children. After settling down the two children, Molly felt a little relieved and returned to Oscos on the same day. Roveland was the Davis' territory, and it seemed that Ivan would not find this place too quickly. After returning home, it was already late, and it was already past nine in the evening. The big house suddenly lost two chattering little fellows, and it quickly became quiet. Molly changed her clothes, and after disinfecting her body, she went to see her daughter as usual. Rose was obediently laying on her pink bed. Because she had not seen the sun for years, her originally fair skin was even paler than before! "Rose, Mommy is back!" "Mommy, where are brothers?" Rose smiled sweetly at Molly. "Mommy sent them to kindergarten. They are big children now, so it's time to study!" Molly gently stroked the girl's soft hair "Then, when can I study?" When Molly heard this, her heart ached even more. "Be good, Rose. When you recover, you can go to school like your brothers!" "Okay!"

"Good girl! It's time to take your medicine!" Molly took a few pieces of medicine and all kinds of vitamins. "Alright!" Rose was very obedient as she used to taking medicine, No matter how bitter the medicine was, she would not cry or make a fuss. "Go to sleep! Mommy will accompany you here." "Hi!" Rose smiled sweetly again and obediently closed her eyes. Her eyelashes were very long, and her eyes were especially like Molly's. When she was asleep, she looked exactly like an adorable doll. Unfortunately, such a cute little girl was disabled and could not walk. She could not even stand up.

Chapter 032 See What Your Daughter Has Done After a while, Rose fell asleep. Molly sighed wearily. She turned off the lights and left her daughter's room. Just then, her phone rang. Molly looked at the phone number. It was an unfamiliar number. "Hello?" "Molly, where did you hide the children?" The call was from Ivan. On the other end of the phone was Ivan's voice. He seemed to be full of anger. Molly retorted, "Are you crazy? The children are mine. It has nothing to do with the Whites! If you try to rob my children again, I will go through the legal procedures!" Ivan took a deep breath and roared coldly, "I asked, where are the children?" "I have already sent them to study abroad. Don't waste your efforts!" "Molly, Grandma is getting old. She just wants to see the children..." "Sorry, I have no obligation to satisfy your request!" She knew that if the children went to see Marie, they would be forced to stay in the Whites. She knew how powerful Marie was. Ivan said angrily, "Molly, I'll give you one day! If you don't bring the children to see me, you will be at your own risk!" Without hesitation, Molly directly hung up the phone. And on the other end of the phone... Seeing Molly hang up the phone, Ivan was furious. No one had ever dared to hang up his phone! He immediately made the second call. The third call... Ivan made more than a dozen consecutive calls, but they were all hung up by Molly. The more she refused to answer, the more he wanted to call her. Finally, he heard a voice. "Hello, the number you have dialed has been turned off..." "Molly, just wait and see!" Ivan was so angry that he took a few deep breaths. "Andy, go and spread the news now! Just say that Hatchworks Group is about to be acquired! I want to make Hatchworks' stock fall in two days!" "Okay, Mr. White!" After saying that, he smashed his phone to the ground, and the screen shattered. The next day. The news that Hatchworks Group was about to go bankrupt and was about to be acquired quickly hit the headlines of major financial boards. This news made countless shareholders feel anxious as they were afraid of loss. Immediately afterward, Hatchworks' stock began to fall. Those shareholders also fled and sold their stocks of Hatchworks Group. In just one day, Hatchworks' market value had evaporated more than a billion. If the situation continued like this, Hatchworks would soon face the risk of delisting. In the Hatchworks Group. "Ms. Hill hasn't showed up in the company for three days. Is the company really going to go bankrupt?" "Have you read the financial news today? It's going bankrupt!" "Ms. Hill won't run away with money, right?" "If this goes on, not to mention entering the world's top 500 companies, it's enough not to let the company go bankrupt!" "Entering the world's top 500 companies? She's just bragging!" "She's not afraid of anything because she knew Mr. Davis. How about us? If the company goes bankrupt, we will be miserable!"

. + 20 That's true! Ms. Hill is overconfident. She even dares to sign a bet with Mr. White! This time, she won't have to wait for the contract to expire. She can't save this situation!" "She hasn't come to the company for three days. She is probably too scared to come!" "Look, there has been more exposure on the internet these two days!" "Molly Hill is really a trouble maker..." A few employees were chatting in full swing. Just then, Molly appeared behind them. The intern on the opposite side saw Molly first. His expression changed, lowered his head, and called out, "Good morning, Ms. Hill..."

The rest of them quickly returned to their places. "You guys don't have to come to the company tomorrow!" "Ah? No way!" The few of them looked at each other. "Ms. Hill, according to the labor contract, even if you want to lay us off, you have to inform us a month in advance! In addition, you have to give us unemployment compensation..." "That's right! Even Mr. Hill doesn't dare to lay us off. Why do you lay us off?" "Don't worry! I will follow the legal procedures and compensate each of you for your loss! Now, go to the finance department and settle this month's salary! The unemployment compensation will be checked by the lawyer and distributed to your salary cards!" "Are you serious?" They were shocked and could not believe it! They did not expect that they would be laid off by Molly, and it was so sudden! "Coco, this is the layoff list! Inform the people on the list that they don't have to come to work tomorrow!" "Okay, Ms. Hill!"

There were a dozen people on the layoff list. And these people were the relatives and confidants of Lena Brown. When these people worked in the company, apart from taking undue profit from and slandering Molly. Therefore, no matter the costs Molly had to pay, they had to be cleaned up.

Soon.

The people who had been laid off by Molly were not reconciled. They all called Lena to complain. When Lena found out that her trusted aides had all been laid off, she was so furious. "This bitch Molly! She had laid off my five cousins and one uncle!

This is infuriating! This little bitch is too vicious!" Lena cried while scolding, and occasionally hitting Tyler a few times. Tyler did not say a word and kept smoking. "Darling, just see what your daughter has done! If you don't care about her, she'll do worse things to us!"

Chapter 033 There Are Even More Despicable Tyler took a deep breath of smoke and sighed, "What can I do? That rebellious girl, she doesn't even listen to me. How would she be politic to those people?" "You are so useless! You are her father, and you can't control your daughter! I think you can just directly hold a press conference and cut off the relationship with her!" Hearing that, Tyler patted his thigh and said with a sad face, "Hey, don't let the media interfere in our affairs! It's so shameful! Besides, even if I'm not the president, we have so much savings and many side industries. Our life will still be the same!" "How can that be the same?" Lena replied angrily. "Hatchworks is a family enterprise. It's just getting on the right track and becoming a listed company! Now, such a big company has fallen to an outsider! No matter what, I will not swallow this anger!"

So what? That old man can give his inheritance to whoever he wants!" "Please, how can the inheritance not be passed on to the son but to the granddaughter? If I knew you were such useless, I wouldn't have married you!" Tyler took a deep breath and shook his head in frustration. Back then, if Lena had not seduced him, he would not have betrayed his family. Many years ago... He had just married Molly's mother. They were newlyweds, and they were still on their honeymoon. During that period, Lena had hooked up with him. Originally, he just wanted to have a one-night stand with her, but he did not expect Lena to be pregnant! Moreover, Lena directly found Molly's mother and said that she was pregnant with Tyler's child. Molly's mother had a strong temper. After knowing Tyler was cheating in marriage, she moved out of the Hill's Residence without saying anything and insisted on divorce. Thinking about it, he was sorry for Molly's mother, but he could not save their relationship anymore. Therefore, he could only bite the bullet and marry Lena. "Darling, I don't care! You have to get an explanation for my two cousins! My cousins have been working in the company for almost twenty years. If she fires them now, how will they live in the future?"

“Okay, I’ll give Molly a call and ask her what’s going on!” With that, Tyler picked up his phone. He was forced into a corner and had no choice but to call Molly “Hello, Dad, what’s the matter?” Molly answered the phone. “Molly, I heard that you laid off more than a dozen old employees of the company?” Hearing that, Molly pondered for a few seconds. Then, she replied, “Yes, Dad!” “Those people are old employees of the company. They have worked in the company for more than twenty years. How can you lay them off just like that?” “Dad, these people are taking undue profit from chaos! They even occupy important positions!” Molly said calmly. “The new employees don’t have suitable job arrangements. Those old employees will only drag down the company! So, I laid them off.” “Molly, you can’t be so unreasonable! Those people are all relatives of Lena. They have been working with me for twenty years! Hurry up and call them to go back to work!”

“I’m sorry, these people have already been laid off. It’s impossible to let them come back!” “Molly...” “If you have nothing else to say, I’ll hang up first!” At once, Molly hung up the phone. Tyler was so angry that his heart ached. He cursed, “This damn girl is really unreasonable!”

“Look, what did I say? This damn girl is deliberately trying to make trouble for us! Since she won’t listen to you, you don’t have to care about her! Tomorrow, you go and hold a press conference and cut off the relationship with her! Just see if she has the face to stay in Oscos!”

The next day, as soon as the stock market opened, Hatchworks’ stock fell to the bottom again. If it went on like this, the company would not be able to last a few days. Things got worse all of a sudden. Even Sam and Jean could not sit still and rushed to the company one after another. “Ms. Hill, the stock price has dropped so much! What should we do?” “Yes! Since the beginning of the listing, the stock price of Hatchworks Group has never dropped so drastically!” “If this goes on, the company will collapse...” Hearing their words, Molly said, “Don’t worry, let me find a way!”

Obviously, it was not normal for the stock price to fall so sharply all of a sudden.

Molly reacted immediately. Ivan must be behind this matter!

It was early in the morning. Molly had no choice but to call Ivan. On the other side, Ivan looked at Molly’s phone call. Ivan smiled and lazily answered the phone. “Oh, hello! You can’t help calling me so soon?” When Molly heard this, she was even more certain that it was him making the trouble. She was so angry and could not help yelling at the phone. “Ivan, does it make sense for you to do this? Don’t forget that Hatchworks also has your shares!” “I don’t care. I can afford to lose this little money!” Ivan sneered.

“If you want to compete, we can compete fairly! Don’t play tricks behind the back! Don’t you think that you are despicable and shameless?” “Thank you for the compliment. I’m just that despicable and shameless! There is something even more shameless that I can do. Do you want to try it?” “You...” Molly gritted her teeth angrily. “How is it? Have you considered it?” Ivan’s tone was full of the provocation and arrogance of a winner. “Ivan, can you stop messing around? Please separate business and private matters! If you have any dissatisfaction with me, you can solve it in private! Don’t play tricks on work!”

Chapter 034 Calling a Press Conference

With a sneer, Ivan said slowly, “You got any evidence? What did I do? Does the stock’s fall of Hatchworks have anything to do with me?”

When Molly heard this, she was so angry that she gasped and tightened her grasp on her phone “What the hell do you want?” “What do I want? Don’t you know very well?” Angrily, she hollered at her phone, “I’ll tell you what; that’s a no can do! The kids have already gone abroad, and they won’t be coming back anytime soon!” “And also, I’ll tell you this one last time. The kids have nothing to do with you, not even the Whites!” “We’re all grown-ups. Stop making the situation worse for everyone.” Hearing this, Ivan clicked his tongue. “Hehe, are you angry?” Like hell she wasn’t angry! As he wore an evil smile, he deliberately talked in a rogue tone, “Oh, I just love seeing you getting mad and how you want to get rid of me, yet you couldn’t.” Pfft! When she heard this, she rolled her eyes in anger. If only murdering someone were legal. She would definitely kill him over and over again! “Do you still want Hatchworks’ share price to stabilize?” Speechless, Molly choked in anger. Wasn’t that obvious? “Beg me!” “Alright, alright! I give in! Ivan, please, stop doing this!” “Is this how you beg someone? Straighten out your attitude before you come to talk to me!” After saying that, Ivan directly hung up the phone and figured that he finally vented his spleen. “Hello? Hello! Hello...” Molly shouted a few times, but there was no response from the other end of the phone Furious, she immediately redialed his number. Ivan saw that Molly was calling again. And he knew that she was anxious and angry, so he raised his eyebrows slightly and hung up the phone again. Two days ago, this damned woman actually dared to hang up on him! Therefore, he wanted to let her know the price of hanging up his call, as well as the frustration when the other party deliberately avoided her call. Beep, beep... The phone was still ringing continuously. However, Ivan purposely ignored the call, and he did not turn his phone off. He liked the feeling of keeping her in suspense. “Mr. White, your phone is ringing. Don’t you want to answer that?” At this moment, Ivan’s assistant, Andy, happened to enter the office to deliver some documents. When he heard that the phone kept vibrating, he couldn’t help but remind Ivan. Casually, Ivan took over the documents and started going through them while he replied, “just leave her hanging for a while and wait until this damn woman calls for a hundred times!” He firmly believed that other than calling him today, Molly could do nothing else. After all, in only two days, Hatchworks’ market value had shrunk by nearly two billion. No one could sit still seeing this. Another five calls later, Ivan still did not pick up. Molly gasped and directly put away the phone. “Coco, I’m calling a press conference tomorrow. Go and prepare!” “Got it, Ms. Hill!” Right now, she had to salvage the image of Hatchworks Group, and at the same time, she wanted to spread the news of her cooperation with Accenco Technology. No matter what, she had to stabilize the confidence of the shareholders.

Thinking of this, she took out her phone and called Chris. “Hello, Molly!” within a short while, Chris answered the call. “Chris, I’m going to accept your suggestion to build up my image. I’m going to call a press conference tomorrow. Please help me out!” “So, you’ve finally thought it through?” Chris’s gentle laughter rang.

“I told you long ago that no matter you have to build up your personal image and the company’s as well.”

“Don’t worry, I’ll have everything prepared for you. You just have to remain confident and calm in front of the camera. “Yes! Thank you, Chris. I’ll hang up first and inform the public relations team to arrange the venue of the press conference!” “Okay!” After hanging up the phone, Molly went to the bathroom. As she washed her face with cold water, she took a few deep breaths and began to practice smiling in the mirror. Deep down, she was not a confident person. Now that she had to face many media interviews tomorrow, she had to show her best and most confident side.

Twenty minutes later. Molly stopped calling. While Ivan placed his finger on his lower chin, he thought that his phone died. Yet, when he picked his phone up, he saw that the battery level was at 100 percent, and the signal was also at full bars. "This damn woman, is she really this calm?" With a frown, he muttered to himself, "Impossible! Hatchworks' market value has shrunk by more than two billion in the past two days. I don't believe that this damn woman is not panicked at all. I highly doubt that she won't come and beg me." One hour later. Molly still didn't call him. Scratching his forehead, Ivan felt that this was getting kind of boring. He had never felt so upset for waiting for someone to call. Two hours later. His phone was still quiet. "Heh. This damn woman is quite the stable one." At once, Ivan felt extremely agitated. After all, he had always been pretty accurate in guessing someone's mind. However, Molly was an exception. Taking their divorce as an example, he originally thought that Molly would not be able to accept it and would pester him and whine like a complainer,

Yet, it turned out that she didn't even bat an eye. And she just left quietly. She didn't contact him, didn't pester him, and she didn't cry. The more she acted this calm, the more he couldn't let it go.

Chapter 035 Getting Some Guys to Mess Things Up As Ivan smoked two cigarettes in a row, his throat was a little dry, while his handsome and cold countenance looked unpleasant. Finally, he could no longer hold it. And he took out his phone to call Molly. Beep, beep, beep! At this moment, her phone rang. But unfortunately... She was still in the bathroom, practicing expression control and body movements, so her phone was not with her. Beep, beep! Still, no one answered the phone. "Hello, the number you have dialed is not available..." "Damn it!" Bang! Instantly, the phone was smashed to the ground. This damn woman actually didn't pick up his call again. Seeing this, his assistant, Andy, couldn't help but frown. Hurriedly, he picked up the phone, took out the SIM card, and put it into another phone. This was already the fifth phone that Mr. White had broken this month. Sure enough, the rich could do whatever they wanted. "Andy, tell Wall Street's financial market to keep attacking Hatchworks..." "Okay! Oh, by the way, I just received a piece of news. Ms. Hill is calling a press conference tomorrow. I think she has something to announce!" "What? Molly is calling a press conference?" Ivan swallowed and furrowed his eyebrows. "Yes!" "When did you receive the news?" "Just now." "Heh. What is this damn woman trying to do now?" Letting out a bark of laughter, Ivan lifted his eyebrows. His eyebrows were good-looking, thick, and rather defined. When he raised his eyebrows, he looked handsome and ostentatious. On the contrary, when he was calm, he appeared noble and elegant. Unfortunately, him being sarcastic was extremely annoying.

At the Hills' Residence. "Mom, look!" Eileen was surprised to see the news from the media. "Molly is going to call a press conference tomorrow. I wonder what she is going to announce?" Glancing at the news, Lena cursed fiercely, "Hmph, this little bitch is getting smarter and smarter! A press conference? This is just in time! Tomorrow, ask your uncle and the others to take the employees who have been fired and go there to protest! Also, arrange two more people to go to the press conference to mess things up! Splash some poo on her and embarrass her in front of everyone!" The next day. At the press conference, The business building of Lucent Corp. The venue of the press conference was rather grand. In fact, this was also the office building of Lucent Corp, but right now, it was temporarily lent to Molly for her press conference. However, the invited media were personally arranged by Chris, and those toxic media and non-relevant people could not enter. "I heard that Hatchworks is going to go bankrupt. I wonder if it is true." "It should be. The stock price of Hatchworks has fallen so much these two days." "So is Ms. Hill holding a press conference to announce the news of bankruptcy?" "It's very likely. I heard that Mr. White has already withdrawn from Hatchworks! Besides, Hatchworks has also made a large cut-off this month!" "And I heard that Hatchworks is going to be acquired by another company!" A reporter sighed, "Alas. I already said that she can't do it, but I didn't expect that after she took the office for less than two months, she actually caused the company to go bankrupt!" "Whatever, tomorrow's news will definitely be a blast!" Early in the morning, Ivan had already turned on the TV, ready to see what Molly was going to do. And the live broadcast had long been ready at the scene. At nine o'clock As there was a commotion outside, a line of luxury cars slowly drove into the parking lot of Lucent Corp's building. Some of the reporters who could not enter the scene could only wait downstairs. "Quick, quick, Ms. Hill is here!" Immediately, a group of reporters rushed over. However, the scene had already been fenced off, and a large number of security guards were also controlling the crowd.

At this moment, a Rolls-Royce stopped. Chris was the first to get down from the car, and then he helped Molly out of the car like a gentleman.

with a smile, Molly waved at the crowd.

"Wow, is this... Molly Hill?" A group of media reporters could barely recognize her.

"She's so gorgeous! I even thought she is a newly discovered talent from Star Entertainment Media!"

Flash, flash! At this moment, the reporters kept taking photos of her.

Today, Molly wore a white dress, while her fair and delicate countenance was covered with exquisite makeup. With her pair of beautiful big eyes, she looked even more energetic, while her hair was combed into a fashionable and elegant hairdo. Usually, when Molly appeared in front of everyone, she was always wearing a pair of black-rimmed glasses, and she wouldn't do her hair, nor would she wear high heels. Therefore, her attractiveness wasn't that obvious on the usual days, and her elegance couldn't be revealed. Now that she took off her glasses and dressed up delicately, she immediately took the breath of everyone in Oscos away. "Wow, so Ms. Hill is actually this pretty..." In front of the cameras, Molly seemed to be glowing. She was beautiful, confident, and elegant. "Welcome to the press conference! I'll be going to announce three main things today. Firstly, after the legal procedures of my grandfather's inheritance have been completed, I will officially take over the position of chairman of Hatchworks. Secondly, I'll clarify the rumor about Hatchworks going bankrupt! Next month, Hatchworks will officially become a partner with Accenco Technology. I hope that everyone will support us! Thirdly, someone said that Hatchworks invested in Star Entertainment Media, and this is a complete misunderstanding. Mr. Davis and I are very good friends. However, our business philosophy is different. Therefore, we will not have any business dealings for the time being." Flash, flash! In the meantime, the camera flashlights were flashing nonstop. All kinds of cameras were crazily capturing Molly's photos. Even the always toxic media in Oscos could not help but praise Molly for her beauty.

Chapter 036 Who's Causing a Commotion "Ms. Hill, you're gorgeous. Have you thought of entering the entertainment industry?" Molly smiled elegantly at the camera. "You sure know how to joke around. I'm satisfied with my job at Hatchworks!" "Ms. Hill, may I ask when you and Mr. Davis will get married?" "That's personal. I'm not comfortable answering that!" Faced with the scandal between her and Chris, Molly remained vague. After all, she needed Chris as her safety net. The title of Mr. White's ex-wife did grant her a lot of attention for herself and Chris' film company. "Mr. Davis, when will you propose to Ms. Hill?" Chris smiled and looked at Molly affectionately. He joked, "It depends on when she is willing! I can propose to her now if she wants!" "Wow, that's so sweet!" "Do it now! Do it now!" The entertainment reporters began to jeer. Molly smiled shyly and glared at Chris, signaling him to stop lingering on the topic. Under the watchful eyes of everyone, Chris gazed at her affectionately. It did not seem like he was joking at all. "You guys should just get married already since you have kids! We want to be invited to the wedding!" Molly did not dare to meet Chris' gaze. She retracted her gaze. "I will not be answering topics outside of work for now. I am sure everyone here knows I have just lost my grandfather. I am mourning him and will not consider marriage in the next three years! I hope everyone won't ask about it anymore." Hearing this, the reporters fell silent for a moment and stopped asking. After all, they had to respect and not desecrate the dead. A trace of sorrow appeared on Chris' face when he heard this. He had seen and been with countless women of all sorts. The pure, the coquettish, he had enough with them and was tired of fooling around. He was very open-minded about this matter. He didn't mind being Molly's second husband or the fact that she had three children. But Molly had always used these as excuses to reject him. However, Chris recovered shortly and smiled. "Today is Ms. Hill's press conference. It would be impolite of me to waste her resources." After saying that, Chris smiled politely and walked off the stage. Meanwhile, somewhere off-camera, Ivan had been smoking until he saw Molly on TV. He was stunned. The cigarette continued to burn in his hands. It was only until the cigarette butt was left that he realized. He quickly got up and put it out on the ashtray. Molly's appearance was undoubtedly beautiful. But it wasn't until that day he realized her stubbornness and competitive spirit other than her good looks. However, it didn't change the fact he disdained her. He had often heard people saying that a beautiful woman's heart was darker. Wasn't Molly a typical example? "Humph!" Seeing the intimate interaction between Molly and Chris, Ivan turned off the TV in anger. Even if they were divorced, he did not want to see her being intimate with another man. The reception was halfway through when a commotion sounded downstairs. Two middle-aged men led a dozen others and kicked up a fuss. They were all holding banners and yelling. "Hatchworks' new chairman fired us without any reason. Our families are in trouble because of her!" "Molly Hill is a heartless capitalist who bullies people with no power!" "Kick that heartless scum out of Oscos..." The security guards stopped them and tried to disperse them. Unfortunately, they refused to listen as they yelled at the reporters. Some even kicked the security guards to the ground. "Who's causing a commotion below?" Chris frowned.

"About ten ex-employees of Hatchworks are dissatisfied with being laid off and are causing trouble now!" "Molly Hill, give us an explanation!" "Don't be a coward, you heartless bitch. Get out of the Oscos!" "You inhuman, heartless capitalist!" Seeing this, the reporters couldn't help but ask, "Ms. Hill, how do you explain the layoffs?" Molly's face sank. She looked at the camera with a calm yet grave expression. "The layoffs were necessary and done according to the company's procedures. Moreover, we have compensated the people we laid off for their loss!" "What did they do to deserve this?" "Hatchworks does not fire employees without reason.

The need for the layoffs is to inject new blood into the company. Secondly, it is to clear out freeloaders in the company. Hatchworks has evidence of bribery, corruption, and pocketing the company's profits for themselves. I pledge in front of the media that the police are welcomed to step in and investigate them and make up for the loss they have caused Hatchworks!" Molly spoke with conviction, answering the reporters' questions firmly. Her thoughts were clear and meticulous, without the slightest bit of panic.

The moment her words fell, Lena felt a slap in the face. Molly was kind enough not to expose Lena's conduct in public while warning her. "She... .." When Lena saw the live broadcast of the press conference, she shivered and broke out in a cold sweat.

That damned slut! She underestimated Molly. She did not want the police to intervene. With that, she quickly fished for her phone and called the two middle-aged men who were causing trouble.

The two middle-aged men were taunting at the top of their lungs, and their faces were red. Lena called. "Retreat for now!" "Why? Molly is coming out soon, and we prepared the poo you asked to splash on her when she leaves the building!" Lena roared over the phone, "Just leave and cut it out. The more trouble you cause, the harder it will be for you to turn around!" "Okay. Let's go!" They didn't watch the live broadcast of the press conference, so they didn't know what had happened. They wanted to cause an even bigger scene. However, they had to stop after receiving Lena's call.

They did not dare to disobey Lena and could only leave with their tails between their legs. After hanging up the phone, Lena glared at the TV, her facial features distorted. "Molly, you damn bitch! Your good days will not last long! Just you wait..." These people were former executives of various departments at Hatchworks. Relying on their relationship with Lena, they ran amuck in the company and took bribes. If the police found out, not only would they be sent to jail, but have to compensate Hatchworks Group for their losses. Moreover, there was another reason why Lena was afraid of a police investigation. It was because the two middle-aged men who led the riot were not her real cousins but lovers. Lena had often gone out with them with the excuse of poker, However, poker was far from what they were doing. Usually, a man and a woman would arouse suspicion if they were seen alone, but it was not the case if she went out with many men.

It was said that a woman's sexual urges increased after the age of 30. Lena was at the age where her sex drive was superior to Eileen's. Tyler had diabetes and heart disease, and his stamina was low due to the lack of exercise. How could he satisfy her?

Chapter 037 Can't Handle a Man Molly looked even more dazzling than a celebrity on TV. How was this a press conference? It was clear she held it to show off. Eileen was angry and hateful. At the same time, she was anxious! Ivan had been treating her colder ever since Molly came back "Mom, look at how proud Molly is looking!" "Hurry up and think of a way! We can't let her be so arrogant and complacent!" Lena inhaled and exhaled deeply, luffing and puffing as she cursed, "We have to take it slow. Let her have her way for these two days. We'll make her suffer after that!" "By the way, have you contacted Mr. White the last two days?" When Eileen heard this, her eyes dimmed. Ivan hadn't called her for two days. "Alas." "Why are you sighing? You have to strike while the iron is hot to avoid future worries. You can't delay whatever you have with Mr. White any longer! If this continues, who knows what will happen!" "What am I supposed to do? I can't beg him to marry me, can I?" Eileen said helplessly. When Lena heard this, she hit her daughter's head in disappointment. "You're so dumb!" "Why do I have such a stupid daughter like you when I am so smart? If you have half of my abilities, it won't take you so long to handle a man!" "Why don't you speak to him then? Isn't it better than blaming me?" After saying that, Eileen stormed upstairs. "Look at you. All you do is get mad at me!" Lena rolled her eyes. "Whatever. I'll go and see him. What a useless daughter. Why do I have to take care of such a small thing for you!" Since Tyler was relieved of his position of chairman, the Hills seemed to have fallen out of the upper-class circle of Oscos overnight. Lena and Eileen would soon be excluded from gatherings and ignored by socialites if Ivan and Eileen's marriage was delayed again. If they wanted to maintain their status as an upper-class family, the Hills had to speed up the political marriage with the Whites as soon as possible! As long as Eileen became a part of the White, the socialites would be green with envy. Lena carefully dressed up and decided to look for Ivan in person, She had already decided to go all out to make Ivan her son-in-law!

An hour later, Lena appeared on the ground floor of Cavebeat. Looking at the tall building made Lena's heart pound. It was the tallest and most luxurious commercial building in Oscos and Ivan's workplace. She couldn't help but feel excited at the thought that her daughter would be the boss's wife of this building in the future. "Humph. When my daughter marries the Whites, all the socialites will be licking my feet." Confidently, Lena adjusted her bag, put on her sunglasses, and walked into Cavebeat's building. She wore a bodycon red dress and a vintage hat. Although she was in her forties, she looked like she was in her thirties as she took good care of her appearance. Looking at the gorgeous and showy woman in front of her, the people who came and went were shocked. She was like a Beautiful butterfly that appeared in a black and white world. "Pardon, Madam. You are not allowed to enter unless you are an employee of the company." The security guard came over and stopped her. Lena held her head high and looked at the security guard with her hands on her waist. "Isn't Mr. White working here? I am here to see him." The security guard was stunned by Lena's imposing manner.

Looking at her dressing, he got more afraid to offend her. "Madam, please wait a moment." After that, he reported it to the head of security with his pager. "There's a woman in the lobby who wants to see Mr. White." Through the surveillance monitors, the head of security became careful when he saw Lena. He reported it to Ivan's assistant, Lily Will. After receiving the news, Lily arrived downstairs to receive Lena, Downstairs.

"Do you know who I am? Do you recognize me?" Lena was arguing with the lobby manager. "Madam, I am sorry, but we can't allow strangers without appointments to enter the company. Please wait downstairs." "I told you. I was on the phone with Mr. White a while ago. How can you not know who I am? I am Mr. White's future mother-in-law. How dare you call me an outsider! Believe it or not, I will make you lose your job tomorrow." The lobby manager said, "I trust you, Madam, but please calm down. Mr. White's assistant is on the way to receive you." It just so happened that Lily arrived and greeted her, "Hello, Ms. Brown. Please come with me." "You are Mr. White's assistant? A woman?" Lena glanced at Lily and said bitterly. Lily shrugged and did not answer her question. "Ms. Brown, please come this way. Have you made an appointment with Mr. White?" "Do I need to make an appointment to see my son-in-law?" "Mr. White is busy, so he will only see guests if they have an appointment. Why don't you wait a moment? I will report it to Andy." "Okay. Be quick." Lily swiped the elevator access card and brought Lena to the 32nd floor.

In the office. Ivan was working when Andy knocked on the door and came in. "Mr. White, Ms. Brown is here." "Which Ms. Brown?" Ivan was confused. "Ms. Hill's mother." "Why is she here?" Ivan frowned. "I don't know, but she is asking to see you and claims to be your mother-in-law. The lobby manager couldn't stop her and reported it to me." Ivan frowned and hesitated for a few seconds. He did not want to see Lena, but Lena was his girlfriend's mother. Perhaps there was something urgent. "Let her in." "Okay."

"Ms. Brown, this way. Mr. White has agreed to see you." "See. I told you so. Why do I need to make an appointment to see my son-in-law?" Lena said proudly and entered Ivan's office. "Wow!"

It was Lena's first time here. She had never thought that Ivan's office would be more luxurious and grand than she had imagined. Ivan's office occupied an entire floor. Not only was there a gym, but there was also a small-scale golf course. "Tsk, tsk." As Lena walked, she could not help but be amazed. Oskus was an expensive city, but Ivan's office occupied such a huge area. It was too extravagant. "Such a big office. What a waste." Andy smiled and ignored Lena.

. de + 20 Five minutes later, Andy brought Lena to Ivan's work area. "Hello, Mr. White... No, Ivan." "Lena, why are you here?" Ivan stood up and greeted her. Lena came forward, smiling, "I was out shopping with a few friends and happened to pass by, so I came up to see you." "Have a seat." Ivan's frown deepened. "Ms. Brown, would you like coffee or tea?" "Coffee is good."

Chapter 038 You Can't Disappoint Eileen Now

Lena sat down on a leathered sofa. Opposite her was along sandalwood desk. Ivan then sat back in his office chair Behind him was a full row of glass bookshelves. "Wow, this office is really high-classed!" Lena couldn't stop her eyes from looking around. After being injected with hyaluronic acid, she showed apple-like cheeks when she smiled, and her lips were bright red as if she had drunk blood. Ivan glanced at Lena, but he felt uncomfortable all over. The smell of her perfume almost choked him, and he felt like vomiting. "Lena, what's the matter?" Ivan asked with a cold expression. "Uh. Nothing! I just came to see you!" Lena replied with a charming smile while staring straight at Ivan. Ivan was really handsome. His facial features stood out from ordinary people as they looked sharp. Not only did he have great facial features, but also his body figure was comparable to top models! And he was so charming that his presence was always as if it was emitting hormones However, Lena knew she was too old for him. If she was younger by twenty years, she would have seized the opportunity to be with such a handsome man.

Ivan was embarrassed by her gaze and did not dare to look back at her in the eyes. "Lena, if there is nothing else, I will start working now." As soon as Lena heard this, she crossed her legs and propped herself with her arms on the sofa. Then, she said with a smile, "Ivan, please don't take this as a scolding. But your health comes first before wealth! Come dinner at my home after work today. You haven't been to my house for a long time." Lena wore a low-cut dress, and her action revealed the upper part of her chest even more. Ivan quickly looked away to the side, and replied with a bad tone, "Uh... I have a meeting tonight, so I don't have time. Let's leave it for another day.” “Ivan, even if you are busy with work, you still have to eat well. Besides, you said that you have a lot of work these days.

You should take care and rest well.” “Okay. I got it.” “Um... You and Eileen. Did you two have a lover’s spat in the past two days?” “No...” Ivan was stunned. Lena slapped her thigh as a gesture that indicated she had guessed it correctly, and comforted Ivan with a smile, “Hey, every couple quarrels every now and then. I have experienced those before. I know all about these things. Eileen couldn’t eat or sleep these past two days. And she has lost a lot of weight. Sometimes, as a man, you should take the initiative and do something about it. You can’t be so cold to each other forever!” “Yes. Got it.” Ivan frowned as he replied. But Lena stopped smiling and reminded, “Ivan, you and Eileen have been together for more than six years. A woman’s youth only lasts for a few years. How many six years can she afford to spend in her youth in her life? You two are not young anymore. You should think about your long-term future!” “Uh...” Ivan was even more troubled and did not know how to answer. In fact, if it wasn’t for Lena, he and Eileen would have been married long ago. It was because Eileen had Lena as her mother that had caused her grandmother to not like Eileen very much. Because of that, things always got delayed or dragged on and on. After Ivan divorced Molly, the entire Oscos was enjoying the drama. And his grandmother was even more against him marrying Eileen. Upon seeing Ivan remain silent, Lena sighed, and continued, “Eileen is waiting for you wholeheartedly. You can’t let her down now! Eileen couldn’t take the blow and attempted to take her own life the last time you let her down.

Don’t you dare let Eileen down again. If anything happens to her, I won’t continue to live anymore...?” Lena changed her expression and wiped her tears as she spoke.

“Lena, don’t worry, I will not let Eileen down this time!” Ivan frowned again.

After hearing Ivan’s promise, Lena instantly broke into a smile. “I knew you are a kind man with a conscience. You’d always finish what you started! Eileen is well-taken care of since childhood. She is not anything like the cheap women on the streets!”

“Yes. I understood.” “Then, I will take my leave.” “Andy, escort her downstairs.” “Ms. Brown, this way please.”

Lena Brown stood up, and walked away. The employees of the company could not help but whisper, “Oh my! Is she Mr. White’s mother-in-law? How could she look like this?”

“I heard that she used to be quite the social butterfly in Oscos!”

“Wow, Miss Hill looked so polite and gentle. I didn’t expect her mother to be so bold and hot!”

“Stop with your jealousy!” . “Get back to work!”

Even After Lena had left, the smell of her perfume still lingered in the air. Ivan pushed open the window to take a breather, but he became even more troubled instead. He couldn’t deny it. He had been neglecting Eileen recently. He couldn’t describe what he was feeling in his heart. To say if there was still love in his heart for Eileen, at that time, he didn’t seem to feel anything for her anymore. But if he really had no love in his heart for Eileen, they wouldn’t even be together for six years. All Ivan knew was he didn’t want to be an irresponsible man. Eileen had been waiting for him for six years. If Ivan abandoned her now, she wouldn't be able to withstand the massive blow. Moreover, ten years ago, it was Eileen who saved him when he was drowning. Although it was a somewhat typical plot of any love story, they were together ever since Eileen had saved his life. However, that was what he had in mind at that moment. After thinking for a while, Ivan took out his phone and called Eileen.

Chapter 039 Let's Go To Another Place

Ring... Eileen's phone rang. After seeing that it was a call from Ivan, Eileen quickly picked up the phone. She greeted with a soft voice, "Hello." "Hi, Eileen." "Ivan, what's the matter?" Ivan paused for a few seconds before asking in a low voice, "Are you free tonight?" Eileen was overjoyed when she heard this. It had been a long time since Ivan had taken the initiative to ask her out. "Yes! I have time!" "Let's have dinner together tonight!" "Oh, of course! Okay! What time will it be?" "I'll pick you up at eight o'clock. We'll have dinner at The Fable Blanket tonight. Remember to dress accordingly!" "Okay. See you tonight!" "See you tonight!" As soon as the phone call ended, Eileen jumped in excitement. Lena happened to be back at that time. Upon seeing her daughter so happy, she smiled and asked, "What was it? Why are you so happy?" "Mom, Ivan called me. He just called me and asked me out to The Fable Blanket for dinner! Come and help me pick a dress for tonight, will you?" Lena said proudly, "Hmph. And it's all thanks to yours truly. I can only help you this much. The rest is up to you!" "Mom, did you really go to Ivan just now?" Eileen was a little shocked. "So what if I did?" "Mom, you are really annoying. I told you not to look for Ivan. Don't get involved in matters between us!" "Whatever. Could you handle it alone? Look, you two were on the verge of breaking up. If I didn't take action, this fine and rich man will be lost!" The excitement in Eileen's heart immediately disappeared when she heard Lena's words. It turned out that Ivan didn't ask her out for dinner because he missed her. "Okay, that's enough. Hurry up and change your clothes. Have fun tonight! Take more initiatives, and don't be so shy!" Lena thought Eileen had always been a shy and restrained lady. She had no idea that Eileen had her fair share and even enjoyed that kind of pleasure. "Okay. Got it." Even that couldn't be a reason enough not to show up for the dinner. So, Eileen quickly went to pick a suitable dress for the night Eileen had a cabinet full of clothes, yet she still couldn't find the one she was looking for. They were either inappropriate in colors, or looked weird for the occasion. "Mom, these clothes are outdated." "I told you to buy new clothes two days ago, but you refused to listen! Look at you now that things have come to this. Anxious and desperate, aren't we? I had taught you long ago that women like us have to dress and present ourselves well at all times no matter what. Beautiful clothes and purses are like weapons for women! How could we make the 'enemy' surrender to us if we did not prepare our weapons well?" Eileen rolled her eyes, and was about to ignore further words. After all, Eileen's generation was different from Lena's. The time was also different now. Lena's experiences when dealing with men were not suitable for Eileen at all. "How about this white dress? It's good to show off your figure and temperament." The two of them finally picked a dress. Then, they spent more time bathing, styling Eileen's hair, and putting on makeup. After spending almost an entire evening, they were finally done. Eileen looked at her radiant reflection in the mirror, and smiled in satisfaction. She also secretly swore in her heart that she would have an intimate relationship with Ivan tonight.

Eileen knew very well that she wasn't a virgin anymore. Once they got to that, Ivan would definitely find out. Therefore, she had already prepared a secret weapon. It was a kind of tightening pill. She only needed to put it to where it was relevant ahead of time. And that part of her would tighten like a faithful maiden. Eight o'clock in the evening... A Maybach stopped outside the Hills' Residence. Ivan personally drove over to pick up Eileen. Eileen wore a white dress with a silken cloak. With exquisite makeup on her face, she looked even prettier and more innocent.

The Fable Blanket was the most renowned restaurant in Oscos. If one's appearance or attire did not seem to meet their in-house standards, they would not serve. "Ivan, you're really here!" "Get in." "Sure!" And Eileen got into the car happily. Ivan glanced at her, and he praised, "You look so beautiful today." "I'm not this beautiful normally." Ivan handed her a bouquet and gently kissed her forehead. "Thank you!" Ivan smiled, and started the engine of the car. There were two cars following behind Ivan. They were his bodyguards and driver. Ivan didn't need to drive personally, but he insisted. Occasionally, he too would have the urge to drive.

At The Fable Blanket... "Welcome..." The people who would come here were all either rich or influential. Many celebrities liked to come here as well. Therefore, taking photos was forbidden in the restaurant. They did not have to worry about their privacies dining in this restaurant. "Wow, it's Mr. White!" "Looks like good things are about to come!" The upper-class society was small, and there were only a few people at that time. Eileen followed by Ivan's side, and she enjoyed envious gazes from everyone around. "Please order away! I want a steak." "Ivan, I want some red wine." "Sure!" Ivan had a driver. So he didn't need to worry about driving. "Of course!" "Molly, it is rare for you to take the initiative to treat me to a meal today. I'm not going to hold back!" "Of course, you wouldn't!" Molly and Chris came into the restaurant side by side. As soon as the pair walked in, they saw Ivan and Eileen. Molly stopped, and suddenly, she did not want to dine here anymore. "Chris, why don't we go to another place?" "What's the matter? We can ignore everything and just have dinner together!"

Chapter 040 Be Confident When Ivan raised his head, he happened to set Molly. Molly was wearing an off-shoulder black dress that reached her knees, revealing her slender neck and delicate collarbone. Although she did not reveal her chest, she was extremely beautiful and sexy. It was the first time Ivan had seen Molly wear such a sexy and revealing dress. Her entire collarbone and half of her beautiful legs were exposed. Ivan frowned, and a nameless fire surged to the top of his head. What made him even angrier was something else. At this moment. Chris was holding Molly's shoulder, Chris' eyes filled with love and passion. From Chris' eyes, Ivan could tell that Chris really liked Molly. The thought that after dinner, they might go back and do something indescribable made Ivan feel uneasy. "Ahem..." Ivan coughed and loosened his tie in frustration. His face was as cold as an ice cube. "Ivan, what's wrong?" "Nothing. Let's order." Eileen's face darkened. She had just ordered her food. "Ivan, why do you look absent-minded?" "No, I'm fine."

Ivan tried his best to restrain his agitated emotions, but he couldn't help but keep his eyes on Molly. Eileen finally realized that something was wrong. Following Ivan's gaze, Eileen turned around. "Molly." When Eileen saw Molly, her eyes widened. A strong sense of jealousy immediately filled her chest. No wonder Ivan had such a big reaction. It turned out that he had seen Molly. "Ivan, why don't we go and say hello to Molly?" Eileen asked sourly. "Why should we greet her? Come on, cheers!" Ivan picked up the red wine glass in front of him. Eileen paused for a moment, then picked up the wine glass and gently clinked it with Ivan. "Cheers..." Before Eileen could finish speaking, Ivan had already taken a big gulp. The red wine glass was bottomed out. When Eileen saw the scene, she was furious, and her face darkened. Damn! Why did she bump into that bitch everywhere she went? Well, it seemed that the atmosphere today was going to be destroyed again. Ivan poured another half a glass of red wine and drank it all in one go. "Ivan, what are you doing? You will get drunk if you drink so fast. You can't drink Conti like this!" This bottle of Romanee-Conti cost a million dollars or so. He should drink it slowly. But Ivan just gulped it down. The other side... Chris and Molly had already bypassed Ivan and Eileen and found a seat on the left side of the restaurant. Originally, they had reserved the best seats, but they had to give up the reserved seats in order to avoid Ivan. "Are you cold?" The restaurant was very cold, so Chris asked with concern. "A little bit." Molly rubbed her arms gently. "Bring me a shawl." Chris turned to look at the waiter. "Yes, Mr. Davis. Please wait a moment." The waiter brought over the restaurant's exclusive shawl and respectfully presented it to Chris. Chris stood up and spread the shawl. Then he put it on Molly's shoulders like a gentleman.

"Thank you." Chris and Molly smiled at each other. Today's press conference was perfect. Under the operation of Chris Davis' public relations team, Molly was packaged into an independent, strong, beautiful, and inspiring image of a strong woman. Various articles and edited videos were spread on the Internet. In less than a day, Molly's reputation had improved greatly. In addition, after the matter of Hatchworks Group cooperating with Accenco Technology broke out, the hearts of the shareholders stabilized a little. In the afternoon, Hatchworks Group's stock price had stopped fluctuating. Chris had helped Molly so much, so Molly should treat him to a meal. Chris looked at Molly ambiguously and gently. He smiled warmly and said, "What would you like to eat?" "I'll have a steak and a salad." Chris casually flipped through the menu. "Then we'll have two servings." "Alright." The restaurant was famous for its top quality ribeye cap steak. It was a must-try here. "After dinner, will you go watch a movie with me?" "Chris, I have to go back and look after Rose." Molly's eyes flashed slightly. "It's just a movie. It won't take much time." "Maybe next time. I'm tired today." Molly's eyes darkened as she refused tactfully. Chris smiled warmly and gently held Molly's hand. "The movie is a production of my company. Today is the premiere. I hope you can come with me." Molly subconsciously retracted her hand. "Well, 1..." Molly knew that if she agreed to Chris, it was equivalent to agreeing to be his girlfriend. "Molly, I attended the press conference with you. In return, you should come to the premiere with me." "Chris, I can't cope with such an occasion." "You don't have to deal with it. Just stand by my side and keep me company." "There are so many beauties in your company. You can ask them to attend with you." Molly smiled. "Do you want them to go with me? Do you know what it means?" Molly was silent and did not answer. Of course she knew that Chris wanted her to attend as his girlfriend. But!

Molly really did not want to be in love anymore. Chris tightened his grip on Molly's hand and looked at her calmly. "Molly, are you sure you won't give me this chance? Not giving yourself a chance either?" "Chris, you don't have to be like this. You know I don't want to ruin our friendship." When Chris heard this, he suddenly sneered. "Friendship?" "... Isn't that so? I've always thought of you as my best friend." Molly was stunned. Chris' handsome face sank. As a man, he was willing to do so much for her. That was no longer friendship. If Chris had no intentions towards Molly, he would not be so stupid as to be willing to do so much for her. "Molly, do you really not understand or are you pretending not to understand?" Chris raised his eyebrows slightly and looked at Molly with a complicated expression. Chris had never felt this kind of frustration in front of a woman. He had never been so attentive to a woman. Unfortunately, after four years, Molly still refused to accept him. Tonight, Chris wanted to solemnly confess to Molly. If she did not accept it, then he did not want to continue acting as a selfless protector.

Looking at Chris' eyes, Molly suddenly felt uneasy. Her eyes began to drift. "Chris, you really don't have to be like this. I... | really can't accept you."

Ivan had already brought her extreme pain. She was really scared.

Molly did not dare to be in love again, and she did not want to get hurt anymore. She had endured a lot in these four years. "Chris, you are a good person. There should be better women for you. I... am not worthy of you." "Molly, look at yourself. Do you know how good you are?" Chris cupped Molly's face and gazed deeply into her eyes "Be confident!"
