Chapter 131 Are You Stupid Or Am I Crazy?

The moment Arya spoke, Daniel finally realized how small and ignorant he was.

The word “lowly one” had indeed severely wounded Daniel’s self-esteem.

In Arya’s heart, their past was not a stain, but it was not worth mentioning anymore. Daniel looked at her unfamiliar expression and distant attitude and suddenly understood everything.

All along, it was he who lived in his own fantasy.

He thought that Arya could only survive by relying on him, but he did not expect that in the end, it was him who wanted to keep her by his side.

As for Arya, she could not turn back.

She had even more outstanding man by her side. He was someone he could not compare to even after working hard for several lifetimes.

“I never thought that you would actually be able to marry Allen Jones, and even more so, you all...”

Their marriage truly told Daniel that although this circle was full of deceit, there were still people who kept their hearts and used their true feelings to protect each other.

He didn’t give anything to Arya, but Allen gave it to her. He even gave her ten times or a hundred times more.

“I thought you were the same as Caroline. In order to become famous, in order to win the award, you could give up anything. I was wrong. Arya, I...”

20 minutes ago, he was still fantasizing about Arya, kneeling down and asking him to forgive her. Now, the person who became a drowning dog was himself.

“I also want to win the award and get the recognition of the audience. But I need to rely on my own strength and not those unorthodox people.”

Now, Arya definitely had the ability to say that.

When she became the movie queen of the Grand Slam, step by step, she relied on her own hard work. Now that she had become Allen’s wife, she did not publicize it and used this relationship to increase her exposure.

Only by being serious and steady like this could she truly have a clear conscience.

Luna whispered into Arya's ear. "It looks like the reporters will only want to dig up the hot topic and ignore the truth of the matter."

This was the characteristic of this circle.

When you are the center of attention, everyone will cheer for you. But once there is a storm, there are far more people waiting to see a joke than those who support you.

Arya has long gotten used to all of this.

What the outside world thought of her did not affect her life, but she could not continue to live with such a stain on her back. Moreover, she wanted to stand at the peak of the entertainment circle, shoulder to shoulder with Allen.

If she lost here, how could she be worthy of him?

"Luna, let's go."

"Leave just like that?" Luna frowned and followed Arya, "Are you not going to continue listening?"

"It's not interesting. The organizers were able to hold a press conference to answer these questions and have already helped me a lot. We have no way of controlling how the reporters will report. Right now, I still need the most important evidence to prove my innocence."

Other than the biggest farce since the establishment of the Film Festival, this matter was also designed to create an environment for the entertainment industry and the movie industry. In addition to the love triangle that had been exposed in the past, this incident had been a constant disturbance due to various factors.

However, Arya always felt that something was wrong.

"Now that Caroline and the rest have completely disappeared, there must be someone behind the scenes guiding the media to report this matter. Who could it be..."

"There is no clue about this yet. Perhaps there will be clues from the big boss?"

Arya nodded and the two of them walked towards the Dahua's main company.

As soon as she walked into the office, Allen put down the documents and came over. "Is the press conference going well?"

Chapter 133 Counterattack

Arya looked to the side and saw that it was a young man dressed in director's clothes. The name tag had the word assistant director written on it. He was probably the assistant that Luna mentioned, Assistant Hu.
"Didn't you hear what I said?"
He walked towards Arya and looked her up and down. His tone was very light. "Don't think that you can act big just because you won some unnecessary award. If you let others wait for you later, do you still want your face?"

Arya frowned.

Even if he deliberately made things difficult for Arya, these words were too harsh.

She looked at Assistant Hu and remembered his appearance. She did not pay attention to his words but looked at the sign on the stage. She walked straight to her seat and sat down elegantly.

Assistant Hu was stunned. In the awkward situation where everyone looked at him, he sneered and mocked Arya, "Do you really think that you are born beautiful and are worthy of the audience?"

Arya calmly looked at him. "That's my business. I don't need others to tell me what to do. Could it be that this is a swimsuit show that requires special preparation to start preparation to start filming?"

"You... You actually ridiculed our show!" This Assistant Hu seemed to have been arranged by someone and kept on putting a dirty hat on Arya's head.

"You hooked up with those judges and directors. Our program invited you purely out of the conscience of the industry. Don't you not know what's good for you!"

There were quite number of people around who were making ruckus. The atmosphere was very chaotic.

Arya was not affected by them, but if this continued, it would definitely interfere with the filming.

She looked at Assistant Hu. "Can the television station people say such hypothetical words without evidence? I think you will never be promoted. Which department are you from?"

Outside the door, Luna heard the noise inside and was about to push the door open and enter.

Luna was stopped by Martin who rushed over. He said in a low voice, "Director Jones asked me to handle it."

"How are you today?" Allen looked at Arya with deep affection and held her hand in his palm.

He knew Arya must have something to say so she came to the study room to find him.

"It's all thanks to my husband's brilliant plan that he sent Martin to help me." Arya thought about it and said seriously to Allen, "I have already asked Luna to help me reject the invitation. I will prepare the contract interview for the Aorai's artistes."

"Yes, what else?" Allen seemed to have seen through her thoughts.

"I want to find Caroline and solve this problem."

She wanted to start counterattacking and completely prove her innocence.

"Okay." Allen was not surprised by this suggestion. He knew Arya well. As long as she said what she wanted to do, she would do it.

Kayden walked out of the rented house and paced downstairs for a long time. He called the company.
"Are you sure you want to sign Caroline?"

The other party answered indifferently, "Yes."

Kayden sighed. "Then will you arrange a new manager for her? I don't want to sign with her, but I hope you can treat her well. She is a good actress, but she has gone astray."

"You know Caroline has gone astray, so why are you still helping her? If you do this, you will harm her and yourself."

"Who are you? Why does your voice sound so familiar!" Kayden suddenly realized something was wrong.

Luna said on the other side of the phone. "You didn't hear wrong. I am Arya's assistant, Luna. I know that this is the only way to let you see Caroline's true colors. For fame and fortune, she did not hesitate to give up her child and Daniel. Is it worth following her like this?"

"I said Caroline only went astray. She is not that kind of person!"

Kayden had been following her ever since Caroline became a celebrity. He still remembered Caroline's innocent and kind appearance when she first debuted. At that time a single word would make her sad for an entire night. He just didn't want to believe Caroline's change.

Chapter 136 There Is No Betrayal

When Arya was at the lowest point of her career, how did she treat the people around her?

How did Caroline treat him now?

Kayden stood at the entrance of the apartment complex and smoked a few cigarettes.

He dialed his wife's number. "How have you been these few days?"

"I'm fine. It's just that my company is not working well and needs to be discontinued. Kayden, when will you be able to go home? The child and I miss you very much."

"It doesn't matter how much money we earn, as long as we are family."

Kayden's eyes were red. He looked at the endless night sky above his head and said with a sob, "Tomorrow, I will go back tomorrow."

He had already give Caroline a chance. She did not cherish it.

It was time for their partnership to end.

He did not choose to give up on Caroline in the most difficult times, but she could give up on him for a contract. Kayden contacted Luna that night, "I can let you meet, but I hope you do not bring reporters."

"We do not have Caroline's bad intentions, and..."

Luna paused for a moment and said, "I know a friend who is a real estate agent. If you need me, I will introduce you. You can leave the entertainment industry and continue working."

“No need...”

“We know that your wife’s company is not doing well. If you lose your source of income together, what will happen to your child? Don’t worry, this does not count as you betraying Caroline. You just made the right choice.”

...

The next morning, Caroline asked Kayden to hand over all the money.

She frowned and said in disgust, “That’s all? This is not enough for me to buy a set of clothes. Do you know how important it is for me to meet the people from their company today?”

Caroline was tricked by Arya and brought here. She was also betrayed by Kayden. She was worried that Arya and Luna would harm her, so she deliberately said these words to provoke Arya.

Anyway, these words did not hurt or itch to her.

But to Arya, it was an unbearable past. When she saw Arya did not speak, the expression on her face became even more complacent.

“Later on, Daniel specially brought me to the famous jewelry store to pick out jewelry. Now that I think about it...”

“Didn’t you guys break up now?”

Arya’s lips curled into a smile. She did not take Caroline’s words to heart at all. No matter what, she would not avoid the matter of being with Daniel. She had also given her heart, but she did not meet the right person.

But Caroline was only using Daniel. Until now, she still treated their past feelings as tools.

“That is because we do not have a good personality. That’s why we’re separated.” Caroline was angry and rolled her eyes at Arya. “Anyway, you are also a woman who was abandoned by Daniel.”

“I am really grateful to you guys. If you did not take him away, I would have regretted marrying him.”

What she was most afraid of was not the change in her feelings. It was the man who had looked down on her from the start.

In the first night, Daniel and Caroline were together, he had no value in Arya’s heart.

“Don’t try to be brave. I know that your life now is also very difficult. Being scolded by people on the Internet every day as a slut must be very uncomfortable in your heart, right?” Caroline smiled very happily.

Luna could not stand watching from the side and coughed.

Thinking back to what happened in the past, there were already traces that could be found.
Arya helped her audition and was discovered. A group of bodyguards rushed in to protect her. The investors also received a warning from a certain force. At that time, she and Daniel thought Arya had returned to Morrison family and had the Morrison family backing her.
When they were together, the dresses she was wearing were a high-end custom-made ones.

From the moment her and Daniel's matter was exposed, Arya's life had been smooth sailing. It turned out that she was relying on Allen, this big tree.

The smile on Caroline's face gradually faded. She had schemed against Arya for so many years. She had racked her brains to snatch Daniel over. She had lost a child. She even licked her face and climbed onto Quentin's bed. In the end, she personally pushed Arya and made her the wife of the CEO of Dahua Group.

She stared at Arya in pain and squeezed out a sentence from her red lips, "Arya, you succeeded."

"I lost. I can't compare to your luck."

She thought that Arya had persisted until now relying on luck?

"But winning you has never been my goal. Today I am going to tell you officially that we will write off the past. But if you pour dirty water on me again, I will definitely see you go to hell with my own eyes."

Chapter 139 Kb'S Invitation

"Miss Arya, our CEO invites you to meet him. If it is not convenient for you, you can also meet him at a place." The KB staff's words were very smooth.

They were worried that Arya would reject again this time and added, "We will definitely not sign with Caroline. We will also use legal means to investigate her breach of contract."

Arya and Luna looked at each other and knew that the KB was thinking about something and thought that Arya hated Caroline so she fiercely lectured Caroline to gain Arya's good impression.

But in reality, Arya did not need them to do so at all.

"Please go back and tell your CEO that I am in trouble now and those rumors are suppressing me. If I sign a contract with the KB at this time, it might affect your company. Does he not mind?"

Before the award ceremony, they had tried to win Caroline over and publicly said that they had never offered an olive branch to Arya. Now that they saw Caroline in trouble, not only did they not help but they also wanted to cut ties with her.

Chapter 140 Internal Situation Of Aorai

Arya asked Luna to announce that she would leave the Brilliant Entertainment in her name. She also announced the contract between her and the Brilliant Entertainment to the outside world.

This matter received the unanimous dissatisfaction of the directors of the Brilliant.

They felt that the company had already removed the position of CEO Daniel and Caroline had also left the Brilliant Entertainment. If Arya left now, it would mean that she had abandoned the Brilliant Entertainment's many years of nurturing for her.

However, Arya directly posted on Weibo,

"After so many years of hard work, there is no trust or understanding in the end. It is time to leave."

The netizens all left comments below.

"Well done. You should leave the Brilliant a long time ago!"

"Arya, we support you. Your acting path will definitely be wider and wider."

Arya's fans also listed the dramas and movies that Arya had received since she debuted. Before signing the contract with the Brilliant Entertainment, Arya's drafts were very detailed. Although some of them were not big productions, their productions and the cast line-up were very good.
