Arya felt that Caroline spent all her time and effort in getting her man. No wonder she had been unable to become famous even after so many years.

In the ward, Kayden reported the details to Caroline and was extremely pleased, "I never thought that Arya would actually dare to come. I will make her regret this decision and for her to never dare bring up the matter of marriage with Daniel again."

"Caroline, the reporters have already made arrangements. As long as you shout, I will immediately bring my men and rush in!"

"Don't worry; I will come up with a good injured scene. It is time to let Arya know who Daniel's most beloved woman is."

She clenched her fists tightly. Every day at Brilliant Entertainment, she had been testing her patience. She had wanted to push Arya down from the clouds for a long time.

"Oh, yes, we are already planning for you to become the movie queen. It doesn't matter how much it costs, you will definitely get that award."

Caroline frowned, "Keep your voice down, and don't let anyone hear you."

"There's no one else here!" Kayden laughed without a care, "She's almost here, hurry up and lie down!"

Caroline quickly laid down on the bed and pretended to be weak. The next moment, Daniel walked in with Arya.

Arye glenced coldly et the essistent end wetched him welk out of the werd behind Deniel.

Ceroline gritted her teeth. Thet sentence wes obviously meent for her. Although Deniel wes very considerete to her, his reel fiencée wes still Arye.

"Caroline, Arya came to see you to discuss acting with you. What's wrong with you?" Before Daniel could finish, he saw Caroline struggling to sit up on the bed. He quickly rushed over to help her up.

"Daniel, I'm sorry, I'm so useless. Because of this minor injury, I've troubled you so much and caused Arya to suffer." Caroline looked up from Daniel's arms. "Arya, you won't blame me, right?"

Arya looked coldly at the two of them and sneered in her heart. I front of, they no longer care about anything else.

Daniel smiled embarrassedly and also realized that something was wrong with his actions. "Arya won't think in that way. You didn't mean to get hurt."

"Daniel, I don't think Caroline's condition is too good. Go buy some fruits for her." Arya gently said as she put down her bag.

That was her last time of being polite.

"How can you order young master to do something!" Kayden eyes almost popped out. "Young Master, I'll go."

Arya frowned and immediately became angry, "Do you have the right to speak here? Who told you I can't order Daniel around? I'm his fiancée, who do you think you are?"

With that, Kayden was going to snap back, but was cut off by Caroline, "Stop it. Daniel, then if you don't mind I'll be troubling you."

Arya glanced coldly at the assistant and watched him walk out of the ward behind Daniel.

Caroline gritted her teeth. That sentence was obviously meant for her. Although Daniel was very considerate to her, his real fiancée was still Arya.

As Caroline thought of this, a sinister look of jealousy appeared in her eyes.

"You called me here to teach you how to act?" Arya took out the script pretending she didn't know anything.

"Actually, I want to ask you to leave Brilliant Entertainment." Caroline coughed, "I have received news that there is discussion about you outside that has affected the company's reputation. If you want Daniel to do succeed, you should leave the company on your own accord."

"Should?" Arya was on the verge of losing control of her anger. She said coldly, "Caroline, please pay attention to your words!"

She had helped both of them for many years. Even if they didn't talk about feelings, just based on the benefits she earned for Brilliant Entertainment in the past, even Daniel's parents wouldn't dare to say such words to her.

Who was Caroline? What qualifications did she have?

"Arya, I'm doing this for your own good. I've already made my arrangements. When you leave the company, I'll announce..."

Bang.

Arya saw with her own eyes Caroline had overturned the vase on the bedside table.
