Chapter 161 I Sent The Gif

When the assistant heard it, she looked troubled, “Naomi, this isn’t very good. Arya sent us a new model from Snow.”

“Is that so? But I only see these things.” Naomi sneered and continued to pick clothes.

The assistant did not want to lose her job so she could only bite the bullet and do it.

Naomi wanted to exhaust Arya’s popularity. She wanted everyone believe that Arya was jealous of her.

She was a newcomer, young and inexperienced. It was easy to pretend weak in front of the outside world. Naturally, the outside world would help her.

Then, she sent few photos of her red eye sockets in her fans group, stirring up a storm.

This explosive news instantly ignited the netizens’ attention. That night, she directly jumped into the first place in Hot Search List.

Arya was originally still watching Snow’s product show. In order to perfectly complete the endorsement work this time, she put in a lot of efforts. However, her cell phone suddenly rang. It was Melinda.

“It’s already very late. There should be something very important.” Allen frowned slightly. Suddenly, he had a premonition and subconsciously opened the web page.

Arya picked it up. “Director Carter.”

“Arya, have you seen the news? The Sunsand, no, Naomi is playing tricks again. She said you have sent her black and white photos. I have already asked the Public Relations Department to handle it.”

Arya looked at Allen.

Allen nodded. The title on the computer-screen was very eye-catching.

Although the upper echelons of Sunsand did not order Naomi to do so, the news had already been spread. Arya had also replied that she had indeed given Naomi a gift, so Sunsand would go along with the flow and generously state that as long as Arya could apologize, they would forgive her for what she had done.

Such a tolerant action...

It attracted the sighs of many netizens. There were even more people scolding Arya.

The fans who originally supported Arya were very sad. They felt that if the situation continued to develop like this, the popularity that Arya had accumulated with great difficulty would return to its original position.

Just as the netizens were all determined, the Snow Asia Region press conference was just around the corner. In order to successfully release the new product, they held a press conference in advance. The reporters all asked about this matter.

The person who happened to be in charge of the event was Special Assistant Chen, who Arya had doted on her other day.

"May I ask if Snow originally planned to only sign Arya as a spokesperson?"

“She gave Naomi such a gift and her character is poor. Do you still plan to use her as a spokesperson?”

Special Assistant Chen coughed and pressed the microphone switch, “Why are you only concerned about this matter?”

He looked at the news on the official website.

Naomi sent out the training photos again and sent a message.

Just one sentence.

How positive!

Who would have thought that the girl who said that would do such a thing?

Luna looked at the many brainless fans cheering for her and helplessly closed the page. "What are these people thinking? Are these people the water army that Sunsand bought for Naomi?"

Arya smiled indifferently.

The situation was getting more and more interesting. She felt that it was very interesting.

If Naomi did not say so and did not do so, she would not have the heart to treat her like this.

Chapter 164 Unexpected Truth

When the video Peter was talking about was played on the big screen, all the cameras in the venue were focused on the screen. The time was right.

It basically proved that Arya had never touched this gift before.

Peter saw some reporters whispering to each other. He said coldly, "All the evidence I brought out represents the attitude of Snow. If someone questioned the authenticity of the evidence, they are questioning the credibility of Snow!"

Among the reporters present, a few of them were exclusive media of the Sunsand. Of course they wanted to inquire about some useful information.

Peter's words had already made their stance clear.

"That's the truth. When everyone questioned Arya bullying a newcomer in the entertainment circle, we kept silent. We did not allow her to use this method to confuse the public. Instead, we wanted to use the most formal and transparent method to clarify things to the public today. Arya is an actress with a good moral character and great strength. She would never do such a thing."

"Naomi used a word 'Arya' to gain popularity, lie to her fans and fabricated facts. Everything she did was not like what a seventeen year old newcomer in the entertainment industry could do! When she was slandered by the rumors, Arya did not retaliate. She even gave such a precious gift. I really do not understand. How could there be so many people who would misunderstand her!"

The venue was silent. The truth was no longer needed to be explained!

Peter raised his hand and the scene on the big screen gradually disappeared.

It was all Naomi's self-directed drama. Arya did not care that she used the words "Little Arya" to earn fame, but she was playing tricks behind the scenes.

The so-called cursed gift was not given by Arya at all!

Naomi received such a precious diamond necklace. She created fake evidence and framed Arya!

As for Sunsand, a large entertainment company, not only did they not guide the artists under them, they even cooperated with Naomi to show off!

This was no longer a simple matter of competition between the artists. Back then, Arya had rejected the Sunsand many times. Could it be that the upper echelons of the Sunsand held a grudge and wanted to promote Naomi, completely driving Arya out of the entertainment circle?

Oh my god!

The situation reversed too quickly. The Sunsand and Naomi definitely could not avoid it!

Justin politely introduced himself and extended his hand towards her.

Compared to Sunsand, this man's honesty and sincerity made the assistant speak.

"That's what happened. I am sorry, but I couldn't do anything back then. If I didn't do as she said, I would lose my job." The assistant lowered her head.

"It's alright. If it was anyone else, they might do the same. As long as you are willing to cooperate with us now, we won't hold you accountable. We will also arrange a satisfactory job for you in Aorai."

Justin took out his business card and handed it to her.

"Besides, you only need to do one thing. Write down everything you just said. When you walk out of this door, you will have nothing to do with the Sunsand."

"I can promise you that if the Sunsand finds trouble with you, the Aorai will stand up for you."

The assistant hesitated for a moment, then nodded, "Alright, I accept."

The Aorai could help Arya like this. It could be seen that they were very good to the employees of the company. They were much better than a small company like the Sunsand that didn't know the truth for the sake of benefits.

She couldn't stand Naomi's actions either. If she could help Arya like this, it could be considered as apologizing to Arya.

When she finished writing, she still asked, "I heard Arya doesn't seem to have an agent."

If there was a manager, there might not be such a big misunderstanding.

Justin's eyes shook, "She will have it in the future."

On the other side, Dahua group had already investigated Naomi's background clearly.

"She dropped out of the school twice in junior high school. She participated in social fights in the high school. She even interfered with the family of a real estate agent. Last year, she was excavated in Brilliant Entertainment's scouts and fabricated new background information for her."

Martin reported clearly.

Chapter 166 When Did You Get Marry?

At this moment, the domestic media were still holding onto the news about Naomi, asking the Sunsand to give everyone an explanation.

The Sunsand went along with the flow and held a personal press conference for Naomi. In front of the camera, there were a few times where she looked haggard and shed tears. She said that she was momentarily jealous and that was why she ended up like this. She did not have any bad intentions. She was just envious of Arya's strength and wanted to become as outstanding as her. Furthermore, she pretended to be sincere and asked for forgiveness of her fans.

It seemed that she still wanted to play emotional cards to gain everyone's sympathy.

In addition, the Sunsand spent money to buy a batch of Internet trolls for her. For a moment, it seemed like she wanted to wash her face clean.

Melinda shook her head when she saw the news, "She is only seventeen years old, yet she has such deep thoughts. If she were to use all these tears on the set, the effect would definitely be very good."

Justin sat opposite her. He lowered his head, unable to see his emotions.

"Justin, Arya is not easy to lead. I hope you can really shoulder the responsibility of an agent."

Melinda said. It could be seen that she liked Arya very much.

"You rarely care so much about female artist..." Justin smiled, "Alright, I admit that my words back then were a bit too extreme. Arya is indeed very bright and worth digging. Just by looking at her attitude when handling this matter, I am certain that as long as she does not change, she will definitely become a superstar in the future."

"Then I will leave it all to you!" Melinda revealed a smile, "In addition, the company's artist director position is still empty. I have been waiting for you to come back."

Although Maria and Walter performed well over the years and had trained many capable artists, Melinda wanted a manager who was loyal to her and not an assistant like them who only know how to act on the surface. This was also an important reason why she used Arya to sign a contract with Aorai to invite Justin back.

She wanted Justin to become Artist Director of Aorai.

This way, it would be a win-win situation.

"I've already made an exception by agreeing to be Arya's manager. I'm not interested in the position of director."

Melinda guessed that he would reject. She sighed and said, "I have already rejected Maria many times but her ideology is too different from mine. During the morning meeting, she even suggested signing Naomi. I cannot put such a person in an important position."

Arya kept quiet during their conversation, but when West looked at her, she nodded slightly to show her respect.

The rest of the time, this beautiful female actress was like a quiet base.

"Don't worry, I understand what you mean. I will do my best to help you. I hope that the two actors will recover soon." West smiled and heaved a sigh of relief. Before meeting Allen, he was not sure.

But after listening to Allen's words, he finally felt relieved. Otherwise, with the influence of this matter, he would be dragged into it.

"I will stay for a few more days. Contact me if you have any problem." Allen's eyes were very sharp.

West coughed and said with a smile, "Since you brought sister-in-law from afar, you must give me a chance to treat you well."

Arya knew that West had good intentions, but she accompanied Allen all the way here. He had been working continuously for almost 20 hours. In addition to running all the way...

"I'm not feeling well, let's talk about it next time." Arya smiled and held Allen's hand.

Allen did not need to ask. He knew what she was thinking, so he politely rejected West's invitation.

"Then we can only say it again next time."

West had been in the movie industry all year round and had introduced a lot of female companions to Allen. But every time he opened his mouth, the later would reject it. It turned out that it was because there was such a stunning beauty at home.

Before West left, Allen sent him out. "My marriage is a secrete for the time being."

West did not understand at first, but Allen told him a little and he instantly understood.

"Arya will enter the international film industry in the future. We can talk about it when the time comes."

West immediately promised that he would not say a word.

"Is your work over?" Arya walked over and hugged Allen.

What would happen to a powerful goddess like Arya after she was exposed? He believed that everyone was looking forward to it!

Arya did not stop after the plane landed. She went to the parking lot and got into Luna's car and left.

"What's wrong? You don't look too good. Are you tired?" Luna asked with concern.

"When Allen sent me back, he was captured by the reporters at the airport." Arya did not hide anything from Luna and told her everything. "I have already sent a message to Allen. There should be no problem for now. That reporter does not have any conclusive evidence."

"The news is still about the accidental injuries of the Dahua actors when they were filming overseas. That reporter definitely does not know the identity of the big boss."

Arya nodded, but her emotions were still very complicated. She had become different from before. When it came to relationship, she was more rational and cautious.

But she really fell in love with Allen.

It was not a wife's love for her husband, but a woman's love for a man. She was attracted by the light on his body, and her eyes would follow him involuntarily. As long as he was there, her heart would be very stable.

Just like this time, when she separated from him, even though it was only a few days, she felt that the days were like years.

"Arya, are you worried that after your relationship with boss is made public, a series of problems will occur?" Luna understood Arya's character and asked the main point with just one sentence.

"Yes, there is one thing. Luna, help me check this newspaper company called First Track."

Arya carefully planned.

"Don't worry, leave it to me. You deal with the contract with the Aorai first. I will send you to Director Carter."

Arya nodded. The radio in the car was broadcasting news about the injuries of the Dahua's actors.

"Naomi's luck is not bad. She has been reporting about the Dahua in all places. She was lucky enough to escape."

Everyone in the Dahua was handling the accident this time. They had yet to expose Naomi's dirt. In addition to the public relations work of the Sunsand, there was almost no news about Naomi.

She didn't know much about Justin, but judging from his expression, he must have something to say.

Since she had decided to use him, she would settle the matter once and for all.

This was also why Justin did not have to worry. Arya was indeed very smart. Not only was she talented in acting, but she also had high emotional quotient.

Otherwise, Luna would not have stayed by her side for so many years.

"Get in the car."

On the way, Justin took the initiative to speak, "In the past, I, Maria and Walter were friends, but something happened five years ago. Now that I am back, I am their enemy."

"Got it." Arya did not ask another word.

"I will take back what they owe me, but don't worry. I will not use you."

Arya had heard about what happened five years ago. She also knew that if Justin did not experience those things, his position in the entertainment industry would definitely be extraordinary. Perhaps it was a good thing that he was her manager.

"Prepare the signing ceremony well. The Aorai is definitely worth you joining."

Arya nodded. In some ways, she, Melinda and Justin had coincided.

Maria and Walter had a very high position in the Aorai. She was bound to be restricted by them when she entered the Aorai, but she liked challenges. She wanted to let her see if Maria and the others still had any tricks up their sleeves.

On the other side, Allen, who was far away from here, had also been learning about the situation here through Luna.

“Although Justin will be Arya’s manager in the future, the person she needs the most is still you.”

Luna smiled and acknowledged, “But I feel that the person Arya needs the most right now is you. After I went to the airport to pick her up, she was always out of her mind. Melinda even asked if there was any relationship problem. I guess Arya must not be asleep yet.”

Allen frowned and hung up the phone. He directly connected to Arya’s video.

Justin was very satisfied with Arya’s confidence.

His prediction was very accurate. When his car stopped at the entrance of the production team, he ran into Maria and Clara. They smiled and walked out, followed by an assistant director.

It seemed that they had a very harmonious conversation.

Justin asked Arya to stay in the car first. Then he walked over and asked, “Is it settled?”

“Of course, our Clara is young and beautiful. She is the most powerful one among the new generation stars. This role belongs to her. We are just here to familiarize ourselves with the filming environment. We will be joining the production team soon.”

Maria smiled complacently and looked at Justin’s car. She noticed there was someone in the car.

“Don’t tell me you are here also to bring an artist to the audition. You don’t have any artist that you can take care of...”

She had already investigated it thoroughly. Justin’s return this time had already ended the contract with the overseas company. All the artists in his hand had also stayed in the original company. It could be said that... he was now an empty commander. Who could he use to fight her?

“Looks like you have been doing well in these few years.”

Maria looked away and her expression was very unnatural.

“You stepped on my fame and used the methods I taught you to deal with me. You are indeed very suitable for this line of work.”

"I don't understand what you are saying! Clara still has many works. Let's go."

Maria was just about to lift her feet and walk out, when she was stopped by Justin. "Just wait and see! I will let you have the taste of failure."

Especially someone like Maria who was scheming and playing tricks, once she failed it would be bottomless abyss.

Seeing them leave in panic, Justin's eyes darkened. He opened the car door. "Let's go. Maria has seen the director. We might be in danger."
