Chapter 171 Who Told You She Has No Background?

Although Director Clerk and Maria had known each other for many years, no one would go against Dahua.

Furthermore, it was Martin who came personally. He was Allen's most capable subordinate. What he said could represent Allen.

"She isn't an artist of Dahua." Martin paused for a moment and asked, "I heard that Justin brought Arya for the audition and you rejected them."

The Dahua had always been well-informed.

Director Clerk was a little confused. What was Martin trying to do? Could it be that the Dahua want to support Arya? But Arya was not an artist of Dahua...

"Secretary Knight, let's go inside and talk!"

Director Clerk invited Martin to his office. After closing the door, he revealed a bitter expression, "Actually, I want to use Arya too, but she has been plagued by rumors and there is no Brokerage Agency. I don't dare to use her."

"Besides, she doesn't have a background."

The cast and crew needed to rely on guest characters to win over investors, such as Arya, who was a capable actress. It was not appropriate for them to use her.

"Who told you that Arya has no background?" Martin asked back, "Our Director Jones said that if you use Clara, your film will not be released."

"But if you use Arya, Dahua will guarantee that your movie will be sold at the box office."

Only then did Director Clerk react.

It was not that Arya did not have backer. Her backer was the Emperor of entertainment industry.

He didn't doubt Martin's words at all. With the Dahua's strength, as long as they said a few words, this movie would run into countless troubles if it wanted to be released.

For the sake of a guest character, he did not want to go against Dahua.

"Alright, I'll use Arya!"

"We know that you have already signed a contract with Maria. Don't worry, the Dahua will be responsible for the breach of the contract."

Martin put down an empty cheque after he finished speaking, "I have come to look for you today. I hope you'll keep your mouth shut. Our CEO and Arya's relationship will be kept secret."

"They..." Director Clerk was not a gossip, but when he thought Arya might be Allen's woman, he could not help but ask for proof.

Chapter 172 Plotting

It was later at night and heavy rain. After Walter received Maria's call, he quickly rushed to the agreed hotel.

They often meet here.

It was just that, this time he came very unwillingly.

"Stop drinking!" Walter grabbed the wine glass and sighed helplessly. In one breath, he drank all the wine in the glass.

"Why not? My career, my life is about to be ruined. What else can I do besides drinking?" Maria asked, then grabbed Walter's tie as she drank.

Her voice was unusually languid, "Don't you miss the past at all? Now Justin is back, our good have come to an end!"

"Wake up!" Walter pulled her hand away.

"Do you still want to pretend?" Maria asked. "Don't you understand why Director Carter prepared such a grand welcome ceremony for Justin tomorrow? The Artist Director's position had been vacant for five years. She had been waiting for Justin to return. You and I are just clowns who are not worth mentioning!"

Walter took half step back and picked up Maria's bag from the bed. "You are drunk. I will send you back."

"Go back? I won't! Walter, you should wake up now. When Justin becomes an Artist Director, will the Aorai still have a place for us? Melinda trusted him the most." Maria laid on the bed with a mocking smile on her face.

But although she was wrong, what she said was right.

After so many years, the shadow of that accident had never disappeared.

"It was us who exposed his relationship with Rachel that cause such a tragedy... It was us who spilt his resources equally. Do you think he will let us go when he comes back?"

"So, you asked me to..."

“We have to do it first!” Maria smiled and said, “I have already thought it through. As long as we work together and discuss with Director Carter, she will definitely weigh the pros and cons. If she is really determined to protect Justin, then I will take my artist and leave.”

Chapter 173 Welcoming Ceremony

Arya rolled down the window. "I'll call you as soon as I'm done."

Allen looked at her dotingly. "Okay, I'll wait for you."

They did not need any extra words between them. One look was enough to read each other's heart.

Arya turned back and watched Allen's figure disappear. Only then did she slowly think about welcoming ceremony.

There was still an hour before the ceremony began.

Arya followed Melinda's instructions and waited in the secret waiting room.

Everything was ready. Melinda told Justin about the two of them handing their resignation letters and felt it was ridiculous.

The two of them relied on betrayal and scheming to survive in the entertainment circle until today but still did not make any progress. The Aorai made them what they were today but they were not grateful.

The desire for fame and fortune had completely devoured them.

"Welcome back!"

When the old Aorai staff saw Justin, they greeted him warmly. "We've been waiting for you!"

Justin nodded with a smile and walked into the elevator.

Coincidentally, Maria walked in with Clara. The atmosphere was a little awkward.

"I'm really looking forward to the welcome ceremony. Director Palmer, you're not leaving this time, are you?"

In the past, Justin was the Artist Director of Aorai Entertainment. Now that the position was still vacant, the old employees still call him that.

Justin looked at Maria, who was standing in front of him. Her back was proud and there was only malice in her eyes.

"Yes, I'm not leaving."

Maria heard his snorted in disdain. She walked out of the elevator and waited for Justin.

Justin also walked out.

Maria stared at Justin unwillingly, but her trembling shoulders had already betrayed her.

Melinda noticed Maria's reaction. It was funny. She handed the microphone to Justin. "The rest is up to you."

Justin picked up the microphone and looked at everyone below the stage. He said solemnly, "Thank you very much to Director Carter for giving me such an important position. This time I returned to Aorai and brought a heavyweight artist..."

He reached out his hand and pointed at the direction of the entrance.

"She will be the first artist, I brought to Aorai."

Following his words, a pretty figure appeared. She was dressed like a queen and carried a unique temperament. She raised her chin and swept across the crowd.

"Arya!"

"They actually signed Arya to the Aorai!"

The reporters frantically took pictures. Today's so-called internal welcoming ceremony actually had such a fierce news!

Those reporters who did not come were probably going to cry and faint in the office.

The previous incident that Naomi framed caused a huge commotion. Arya kept avoiding it and did not talk about it. It was as if she had disappeared.

Today, when she appeared in Aorai, she actually wanted to sign a contract with Aorai!

"She was once a movie star with a grand slam. She just came back and got Golden Spear's best contribution award. I believe that with her joining, the Aorai's future will be even better!" Justin said excitedly, igniting the atmosphere at the scene.

"I will also shoulder the responsibility of being an agent and fight for a better and more exciting script for Arya. Everyone, please wait and see!"

After Justin finished speaking, his gaze paused on Maria and Walter. It was very iconic...

Chapter 175 There Is No Medicine For Regret In The World

Maria felt a pair of invisible hands around her neck, making her unable to breathe.

The chips she used to threaten Melinda instead made her have nowhere to go. Melinda said this in public, not leaving her any way.

Melinda kicked her out of the Aorai!

She just wanted Melinda to give up on Justin. She did not expect that the one who ate the bitter fruit in the end was herself. Melinda was really ruthless, as if she had stabbed a knife into her heart.

However...

She and Walter handed the resignation letter together. Why did it only say that she was alone? They had left Walter behind!

"Maria, you should also say a few words." Melinda said with a smile.

Although Maria was very angry, there were so many cameras aimed at her that she could not refuse. Otherwise, it would be no good for her to openly oppose Melinda.

Things had not reached the last step and she could not easily admit defeat.

"Thank you Director Carter."

Maria's eyes were filled with sparkling tears as if she was very reluctant to part with it. "Since I entered the industry, I have been working in the Aorai. Today, I decided to leave... I just want to fulfill some of my dreams. Thank you for Director Carter's care and fulfillment. I also sincerely hope that the Aorai can develop better."

"Have you already found a new company to change jobs?"

"This resignation letter represents you personally? Or represents all the artists under you?"

It was not uncommon for an agent to take away an artist after leaving the original company. With Justin and Arya joining the Aorai, the Aorai was originally like a tiger with wings, but if Maria left... it might affect the strength of the company.

Under such circumstances, Maria could not say anything!

If she said it, it was equivalent to sealing off her own path.

"There are too many questions. I can't answer them one by one. Sorry." Maria reluctantly gave everyone an answer and casually said some words before lowering her head and going off the stage.

“Me?” Melinda looked at her with a cold smile. No matter how sadly she was crying, in Melinda’s eyes, she was just putting on an act.

“It’s too late. Otherwise, you can explain to the media yourself why there is a letter of resignation written personally by you on my desk!”

“You brought this upon yourself. You can’t blame anyone.”

“I really don’t dare. I admit defeat. Give me another chance!”

Melinda did not want to hear her continue. Her eyes were full of alienation. “Ever since Justin left, how many thoughts have you and Walter had under my eyes? I have given you countless chances, but what did you do?”

“Maria, you’ll go in our separate ways in the future. But I will put my words here today. In this entertainment circle, I will not have you!”

Maria trembled and lowered her head. Melinda had never said such harsh words to her before.

She was humiliated but did not have any rebuttal.

She was the one who lost!

Maria could only leave dejectedly. In front of Melinda, she could no longer raise her head. Walking along the stairs with lifeless eyes, she saw Walter waiting for her at the corner.

“What? Are you here to see me make a fool of myself?”

Maria’s eyes were cold. She could not understand why Melinda was so cruel to her but Walter was fine.

“Do you think my situation is better than yours?” Walter clenched his fists. “She kept me to keep Justin. Don’t worry, I will find a way to help you to take revenge.”

Chapter 177 Don'T Go Against Her

After Maria was chased away by Melinda, she had nowhere to go. She wanted to contact Naomi, but no matter how hard she tried, she could not make a call. She had forgotten one of the most important things. No matter what happened, Naomi was still an artist under Sunsand. The Sunsand had already punished Naomi and prohibited her from attending any business events.

In addition to Naomi's manager being investigated by the Sunsand, it was like searching for a needle in a haystack to find Naomi.

Unless Naomi took the initiative to contact her.

That night, Maria finally received Naomi's phone call. She picked it up very anxiously, "Where are you? Let's meet up!"

But Naomi's side was very quiet. Naomi's disdainful voice came from the phone.

"See you?" Naomi asked. "You have already been kicked out of the Aorai. You can't fulfill any of my requests. There is no need for us to meet again."

As soon as these words were spoken, Maria was furious.

"No, as long as you meet me, I promise I can help you drag Arya into the water."

She hated those people to the extreme. Even if they fell into hell together, she could not watch Arya get better and better.

"Alright then, come find me. I will give you the address."

A minute later, a message appeared on Maria's phone. The address was at the Crown Bar.

Naomi was not even 18 years old yet. Why would she go to that kind of place?

In this circle, it was inevitable that she could not avoid eating and socializing. Thinking like this, Maria made the best use of her time to rush over.

The music was deafening. The moment she entered, she saw a group of young people shaking their heads and dancing. Other than the smell of alcohol, it was also the smell of smoke...

"Naomi, where are you?"

Maria called her again.

Chapter 178 Most Powerful Evidence

Some news about Arya taking drugs and going to a nightclub spread on the Internet. However, with the past, no matter if it was a passerby or a fan, they were very rational. They believed Arya's character and definitely would not be as bad as the past said.

The Dahua Secretariat Department immediately made a move.

After investigating the cause of this incident, they confirmed that the person in the photo was Naomi and not Arya. They also obtained some evidence.

Martin reported it to Allen.

“Madam was rumored.”

“Contact a few mainstream media outlets and publicize all the evidence. However, Naomi’s real information is temporarily kept. It has other uses.” He wanted to know who else had the guts to continue slandering Arya.

Martin nodded and added, “We also found out that Maria was at the scene and disguised as Madam’s manager...”

Allen’s cold eyes were filled with coldness. His voice was extremely cold, “Get rid of her. I don’t want to see Maria’s name again.”

“Yes, Director Jones.” Martin answered firmly.

He had followed Allen for many years and knew Allen’s temper very well.

This time, Maria really kicked a steel plate.

Maria did not sleep for the entire night. She had been paying attention to the online trends and had seen with her own eyes that the threads about Arya taking drugs were replaced by the main character.

Many mainstream media outlets changed their words at the same time and even threw out evidence to prove the world that the person in the photo was not Arya but Naomi!

Maria was endlessly shocked and broke out in cold sweat.

Chapter 179 Turnaround

On the other side, Naomi's mother did not dare to show herself.
Because she knew very well in her heart that the person who took drugs was Naomi. She only wanted to use suicide to confuse the outside world and wanted to take the opportunity to excuse her daughter, but Arya could not be bothered to argue with her. She directly went to do the test.
That afternoon, Arya's test report was made public by the Aorai. The conclusion proved that Arya had never taken drugs before!
Photos could be faked, witness could be faked, but this official proof was 100% real.
This was probably the most powerful counterattack Arya had ever made to Naomi.
She did not explain a word and directly took out this evidence.

Arya's fans were completely furious. Just how did Arya owe them? All kinds of dirty water was going to pour on Arya! Not only did she want to rub off Arya's heat, she also wanted to destroy Arya's star path and life.

The netizens all shouted one after another, asking Naomi to destroy herself alone and not delay Arya!

In this world, there was only Arya. The fans would definitely not recognize any other little Arya.

After Arya made a statement, Naomi's mother avoided the reporters and disappeared.

The reporters chased after her and blocked the door of her ward.

"What else do you have to say now? Arya is absolutely innocent. You were so sure that Arya slandered your daughter. What do you say now?"

"You keep saying that Arya is a devil. What about you guys?"

Walter looked away and handed over a tissue.

"I admit they have wrists. I can't beat them. I will leave. I can't stay here any longer." Maria had already thought of a place to go.

"Actually, you don't need to. You still have some connections in this circle. Although you will encounter some obstacles at the beginning, some small companies will definitely use you. Although Melinda is angry, she will not be so extreme."

Maria lowered her head. "It is not Melinda, but Arya and the people behind Arya."

She took a deep breath and pulled Walter, "You must quickly gain a firm foothold and force Justin and Arya out of the Aorai. Otherwise, Melinda will definitely deal with you in the next step."

"Arya's background is unfathomable. Naomi and I are in such a miserable state because someone is helping her from behind."

Walter was stunned.

"It's true. I went to look for Director Clark. He broke the contract and changed the agreement with me. He would rather pay double the compensation than use Arya. This is the reason."

Maria clenched her fists. "I can't tolerate this, but I can't do anything about it. I can't beat her. I hope this news can help you."

Walter could not nod. He took out a card that he had prepared earlier from his suit pocket.

"Take it. There aren't many things I can help you with. No matter where you go, it will be better if you have money."

Maria cried in pain. "If we did not break up back then, would it not be like this now?"

After saying this, she hurriedly got out of the car and walked into the night.

Walter was left in the car. He had never forgotten his relationship with Maria, but he did not want to be the second Justin and Rachel.
