Chapter 181 No One Is Sincere

The assistant mumbled. "Who does she think she is? She schemed behind sister Maria's back and chase her away, causing you to lose your manager. Now that we meet at the company, she didn't even greet us!"

"In the past, people from the small companies like the Brilliant really can't do it."

"Alright, stop talking." Kiara sighed, "Sister Maria's matter has always passed. If there words were to spread, it would be looking for trouble for us. As for Arya..."

She paused for a moment and thought of the cold face just now. "She is indeed very interesting person. Let's not care about her now. We will look at her in future."

"Alright then." The assistant could only not say anymore and secretly remembered Arya's debt.

When Maria was still around, Kiara was the company's biggest star. All of her treatments were different from other artists. She could even request her own exclusive team.

She was popular and had works. She was still young and had opportunities. Melinda naturally supported her and she was also one of Arya's strong opponents in the Aorai.

Seeing Kiara leave, Justin pushed open the door of the meeting room.

"She is most powerful in the Aorai. You just signed the contract with the company and treated her so coldly. It may cause unnecessary trouble."

No matter how virtuous Arya was, she could not get rid of some worldly relationships.

Unless she had enough background to support her position, she did not need to curry favor with anyone.

Arya did not care about this.

"Am I cold?" Arya frowned. This was how she treated strangers.

Justin shook his head when he heard her say it. "Maria used to be her manager. I am worried that she will put the blame on you."

In addition, Arya signing a high-profile contract with Aorai, she had more or less stolen Kiara's limelight. It was not uncommon for the company to fight for resources internally.

Martin smiled as he drove. Dahua Entertainment was involved in too many projects. They only needed to send an ordinary employee to the small projects in the film and television base. Director Jones, on the other hand, had pushed three meetings. He had come personally for only one reason.

He could not bear to part with his newly wedded wife.

Arya had the bracelet he gave her on her wrist. He had the watch on her wrist. Although it was sweet, it lacked a sense of ceremony.

Some things could not be replaced by rings.

Looking at Arya's slender fingers, Allen's thoughts became even more urgent.

By the time their car arrived at the film and television base, Justin had already arrived. It looked like he was waiting for someone.

Arya blinked. "Put me here."

Allen nodded and agreed, but asked Martin to stop at the entrance of the hotel.

"Your room has been arranged. I will go up later." He would not let Arya stay in the room arranged by the production team.

Arya smiled and walked into the hotel through the front door.

Justin was still waiting in the parking lot. He wanted to see who would send Arya over. Every car that entered the film studio had to be recorded, but to Allen, these procedures were just for decoration.

Of course, his car was unimpeded.

So when Justin walked into the hotel in puzzlement, Arya had already been waiting in the lobby for a long time.

Luna held back her laughter and said, "Alright, she's here. Let's go up."

"You..." Justin was stunned. He had been watching at the door all this time. Whose car did Arya take? so curious." Arya smiled and took her

Although it's just a guest actor, it's just a small role for the crew. But Arya still had a lot of work to do. If she fell sick because of this role, the rest of her work would be affected.

Justin was very worried. The next morning, he went to negotiate with the crew. They vaguely replied that Assistant Director had changed the filming venue.

Justin thought that it had changed from an external scene to an internal one.

At nine in the morning, when Arya was ready to go downstairs, Allen stopped her. "How is your health?"

He touched Arya's forehead as he spoke. Indeed, the fever had stopped and she was energized.

“Don’t worry. I know what to do. I only have to say a few lines and it will be over very soon.” Arya smiled gently. She did not want Allen to worry.

“I will send you there.” Allen picked up the car keys.

Arya stopped him. “Someone might have seen you outside. It’s not good to be captured by the reporters. Wait for me in the room. I’ll be back soon.”

“Besides, I’m not that weak. This level is nothing.”

Allen had no choice but to agree when he heard what she said.

After Arya went downstairs, he changed into his trench coat and followed her. He did not want Arya to suffer and could not control his worry for her.

When Arya arrived at the shooting site and saw the temporary outdoor studio, she stopped. Luna frowned beside her. “It’s so cold to shoot here!”

If she remembered correctly, it was a summer scene!

They wanted Arya to wear a dress to shoot outside at the end of November?

Adding that it was cloudy today, it was too much to ask.

He was about to argue with Assistant Director Fox. “Is this the filming venue that you modified? You want her to wear a summer dress to shoot your

Chapter 184 Provocation

Assistant Director sat there looking pleased with himself. There was hot tea in front of him and he was wrapped in thick clothes. He wanted to see how long Arya could last!

The other crew members were also wearing warm clothes. Each of them had a faint smile on their faces. It was as if they were watching a good show.

In the crew, if the director wanted to poison a certain actor, there was nothing that could not be done. Arya was in a terrible situation today...

Luna looked at the auxiliary computer by the side. "Why is there no one over there? Could it be that you want to repeat it several times?"

Assistant Director roared impatiently, "Why is an assistant of yours so talkative? If you want to film here, you have to listen to me! Get ready to start!"

Luna was worried for Arya and wanted to argue a little more but was stopped by the later.

"It's useless to say too much." Arya endured her temper but no one noticed the coldness in her eyes.

Assistant Director had a mocking smile on his face when he saw Arya was so easy to bully. In their group, Director Clark was the one with the most backing. Arya was more than enough to deal with.

A person who did not have a backing could only be bullied in this field.

"Change your clothes and quickly go over. There will be a rain show later!"

Justin frowned at the side. Following Arya's instructions, he turned on his phone and started recording.

When he saw Arya's pale face and stiff movements, he stood out and shouted, "Forget it, we will not take any more pictures."

"You are not taking any photos? What kind of place do you think this is? If you don't want to shoot, why did you come here?"

Assistant Director's expression immediately became very scary. "There are so many of us here with her. Do you think our crew has nothing better to do? We haven't started filming yet. You company's artistes can't even endure this bit of hardship. Stop mingling in the entertainment circle. Get married and have children as soon as possible."

Allen's question made Assistant Director so nervous that he didn't dare to speak. He kept his head down and didn't dare to look at him.

"Say something. Weren't you very professional just now? Or did you see that Arya and I are friends? So, you don't dare to continue what you did just now."

"Director Jones, these are all misunderstandings. I can explain! I really did not think that you and Miss Arya are friends." Assistant Director stuttered to explain, hoping to get Allen's forgiveness.

"Misunderstanding? Is that how you treat actors? Can she still say something when she's frozen like this?"

"Do you really want to film, or are you using such a pretense to bully others?"

Allen's voice was very cold, and it was filled with anger that could not be disobeyed.

"I'm sorry. Director Jones, I really..."

Assistant Director broke out in a cold sweat. He had no words to refuse Allen's question.

"I think Arya has done everything an actress can do. Are you guys professional enough?" Allen's face turned cold. "This is not a problem that can be solved by letting me down."

"Director Jones..."

"Unless you can prove that you can wear summer cloths and act in the rain scene in this weather." Allen pulled two stools sat down with Arya, waiting Assistant Director's performance.

The people around them all were from the production team. They all lowered their heads because they were also the ones who had just watched the show. Now, Allen was clearly going to take revenge for Arya.

Assistant Director smiled awkwardly. "Director Jones, the weather is too cold. Besides, I'm not an actress."

"What's wrong with not being an actress? She's an actress and she listened to your management. You, a man, feel cold?"

Allen's words were filled with suppressed anger. He had already restrained his temper, but he had to stand up for Arya today.

Assistant Director lowered his head. He was the president of Dahua Group.

Chapter 186 Choice

After Justin returned to the hotel, he had been thinking about what had happened today. He felt that he had to get to the bottom of it, so he called Luna's room.

"I knew you would call. What do you want to ask? Ask away." Luna seemed to have been waiting for his call for a long time.

"Is Allen serious about Arya? What is the relationship between them?"

Lovers? Or... bedmates?

"Of course, it's serious. Ever since he got married, he has been very good to Arya." Luna replied with a smile.

"Allen Jones got married?"

Justin did not expect Arya to endure the identity of his bedmate for love. That was why she was not willing to make their relationship public. After all, there were many actresses in the entertainment industry who had such a private life.

Luna coughed when she heard that.

"What are you thinking about? I mean they are husband and wife. The person who married Allen was Arya." Luna paused for a moment, "I can understand why you would be surprised now. At first, I did not dare to believe it. I thought Arya could not stand the shock after breaking up with Daniel and randomly found someone to marry."

"But the facts proved that Arya made the right choice."

"Although their relationship has not been made public and is in a state of reclusive marriage, Allen really doted on Arya with all his heart."

In the entertainment circle, who could be like Allen who could devote all of his heart to a woman with his identity?

In his heart, Justin silently hated his original thoughts.

Arya actually had such a partner...

"Justin, Arya has been walking all the way here. It's really not easy. Now that you are her manager, these things can't be hidden from you. But I just want to tell you to do your job well."

Justin solemnly replied. "Don't worry, I understand."

Allen wasn't in a hurry to ask for an answer. When Justin decided to think about it, he was already shaken.

Was the Aorai still the company he was familiar with?

"Does Arya know about Melinda's thoughts?" Justin asked.

"What do you think?" Allen smiled meaningfully, then stood up and left.

Looking at his back, Justin fell into a deep thought. He had always been searching for Arya's thoughts. Now he realized that Arya was the one who understood the situation the most.

After these things, Justin sincerely hoped that Arya could become an international superstar. Her ability was definitely worthy of that position. As for whether Melinda was using Arya, he could temporarily not consider it.

But this time, the filming called for the Aorai's makeup team. This matter made Kiara ask about the process more than once.

"Director Carter, I will have a trip soon. Arya still does not intend to return the team to me?"

"I have already called to urge about this matter. Their side is also filming. After it is over, they will return the team to you immediately. It will definitely not affect you." Melinda tried her best to stabilize her.

"Then I can only wait..." Kiara smiled and pretended not to care as she walked out of Melinda's office.

She had already heard about Assistant Director. But who exactly was the man who appeared at the filming venue that day? No one dared to mention it. Assistant Director also stuttered to cover it up, so Kiara only thought that Arya used her connections to replace the staff, but so what if she participated in the shooting? After the later editing, how many scenes could there be left?

After the shooting of the guest role ended, Arya returned immediately.

On the way, Justin looked at the next trip in a daze.

"What's wrong?" Luna asked.

"International renowned jewelry brand WM wants Arya to shoot promotional advertisement and become the spokesperson for their wedding ring series." Justin calmly narrated.

Melinda looked away.

She had trusted her companions for so many years. Why did he not help her under such circumstances?

"Alright, let's stop here. Arya had worked hard all the way. Let's go back and rest. There will be new work soon."

Melinda smiled and looked at Arya. "Justin and I still have some things to talk about. Can you go back yourself?"

"Then I will go first."

Arya gave a simple answer and got up cleanly and left.

She did not fight for anything for herself and of course did not intend to flatter her.

Justin watched her leave and sighed. Just as he was about to pick up the cup of coffee, Melinda opened her mouth. "You became Arya's subordinate so quickly?"

The atmosphere of the office was different from past.

Melinda's eyes also carried a bit of anger. "It's only been a few days and you don't take me seriously?"

Justin shook his head, stood up and looked straight to Melinda. "This matter is too hasty. Arya did not rely any rumors to promote herself. The reason she chose Aorai is because of the Aorai's reputation."

Melinda's expression changed abruptly.

"Moreover, Arya clearly stated in the contract that she has her own choice. You also agreed at that time."

"Arya's path is already very difficult. We are on the same boat as her. Why do we need to do this?"

Melinda was unable to answer these questions. After a long time, she said with a muffled voice. "I know. You are already completely on Arya's side."

"This is not a question of who we are standing on. Didn't we all hope that the artist is good and the Aorai is good?" Justin's heart skipped a beat.

From a certain point of view, Melinda's actions today had touched Arya's bottom line.

At eight o’ clock that night, Justin arrive at Jade Pavilion Hotel as scheduled.

When Oliver walked in with his manager, he found that Justin was the only one.

Oliver was the most popular young man in the past two years. He became popular with idol dramas and lots of advertisements. With his handsome appearance, he became a popular rising star. He was seen in many popular idols dramas.

Melinda wanted to use Oliver’s fame to hype him up, but she had a reason.

However, she chose the wrong person.

“Where’s Arya?” Oliver’s manager asked.

Justin did not answer directly. Instead, he picked up his glass. “I’m really sorry. Arya was sick in the last movie. She is still in the hospital with an IV. There is no way she can be here. She specifically asked me to come and apologize to you.”

The manager immediately pulled a long face. "What kind of reason is this? What do you think our Oliver is?"

"Don't misunderstand. Arya also really wants to see you. She has always been looking forward to this cooperation. Arya has seen all of the scenes you filmed. She even said that you are the most popular actor she wants to collaborate with..."

Justin explained with a smile.

"Does she really think so?" Oliver was still young and aggressive. When he heard these words, his expression eased up a lot.

"Of course!"

Oliver looked at Justin's expression and said after a while. "Alright then. I just want to meet her before work and get to know each other. Since she is sick, then say hello to her on my behalf. Let's go."

Oliver put on his sunglasses and left.

When Justin saw the door close, he smiled coldly. With the information he had gathered, it seemed that Oliver was not someone easy to deal with. This matter could only be dealt with on account of face.

"Oliver, do you really believe that she is sick?" Oliver's manager took two steps forwards and asked.

"Tsk, who would believe such an excuse?" Oliver took out his phone in an unruly manner. "She deliberately stood me up and randomly sent someone over to brush me off. Just think that she is sick. When the shooting starts, I will also treat her well once..."

Chapter 190 Lifetime Promise

Arya's eyes swept over the necklace and earrings and looked at the wedding rings.

WM's manager smiled and picked it up for her. "This pair of wedding rings was especially custom-made for that guest's wife. He said that only they know the meaning of this pair of rings."

"This kind of unique carving technique can only be made by our company. Together with South African diamonds, the sincerity hidden in this pair of rings cannot be measured by price."

Arya held it in her hand and looked at it. There were even letters carved into it.

The pattern was exactly the same as the one on her bracelet!

This could not be a coincidence. She took a deep breath and her hand trembled slightly as he picked up the card in the jewelry box.

"This can't be..." Luna curiously moved closer. When she saw the words on the card, she was stunned.

"He ordered this?"

God, this is too romantic!

The purple printed card only had simple words on it.

“May my heart accompany you for the rest of your life, AM.”

Arya’s eyes were strained with tears. She looked at the card for a long time and murmured in a low voice. “I have received your feelings.”

This was a lifetime promise.

Luna was also happy and moved for Arya at this time. Her marriage was not something a marriage certificate could prove. The two of them truly loved each other. Just as Luna was about to congratulate her, a figure walked into the dressing room.

Luna patted Arya’s shoulder. “Your male lead is here.”

It was not the male lead of a movie, but Arya’s exclusive male lead.

Listening to Luna’s words, Arya turned her head to look at the door.
