Chapter 191 Best Actor

Director Cole frowned. There was nothing he could do.

"Alright, you can try again."

However, he had a feeling that Oliver was fine. He was deliberately torturing them.

The assistant immediately contacted Oliver's manager, but the answer was still not to shoot.

The reason was even more exaggerated. Oliver's waist was hurt by the pressure when he was shooting a high-altitude scene a few days ago.

If he really could not shoot, why didn't he inform the brand earlier? If what they did not a temporary stand up, what was it?

Under the questioning of the assistant, Oliver's manager hesitantly said. "Originally our Oliver wanted to shoot with injuries, but the day before yesterday when we asked Arya to have dinner together, she refused. This kind of partner is ignoring us, so..."

It was actually because of Arya?

The partner did not eat with him and directly stood the whole crew up?

This time, the WM's manager could not do anything about it. An actor like this was not worthy of being the WM's spokesperson.

"Don't wait any longer. Change Oliver!" Director Cole walked over. "He has been having scandals all the time. He has been taken pictures of all the female stars. Let's not talk about his character, but what he did today, I don't want to work with him because female stars don't want to get involved in the muddy water. I don't want to hype things up with him. I have never seen such a strange star in all my years of work."

"I will never invite him to act in my future scenes. If his father is so capable, let him replace me!"

The WM director and the director's assistant all agreed.

However, the question of replacing him came one after another.

"Director Cole, is Oliver not here yet? Arya was ready." Justin walked over and asked.

"This..." The director's assistant said awkwardly. "I'm afraid Oliver won't come. We just decided to change the male lead. I don't know if you guys know any male artists or models. Arya's height is not low among female artists. With high heels, normal male artists are not compatible with her."

Justin lowered his head and smiled. He did not expect Arya to guess do accurately.

"How long will it take to shoot?" Allen asked as he put on his suit.

The staff quickly said. "It won't take long. I really didn't expect Director Jones to come."

"Because Arya needs help. I won't care about other people's matters." This answer was very simple and direct.

The WM person in charge also heard these words, blocking all their guesses.

"A capable actress like Arya should not be buried. I just want to help the entertainment industry keep her. She made me unable to find a reason to reject her."

Allen's attitude was distant, but he was very honest.

The staff and Director Cole both thought that Allen had the eye of the director of the entertainment company and thought Arya was a talent.

Moreover, Allen and Arya were both far away from hype. This time, Arya even rejected hype because of her refusal to hype. That was why Oliver was unhappy and refused to shoot on the spot.

Even if the two of them had some secret relationship, they would not let others think too much about it.

However, one had to say that Arya was indeed very special to Allen.

Many people wanted to see Allen, but it was as hard as ascending to heaven. Because of Arya's phone call, he came out directly. No one cared more about Arya than Allen.

"In addition, I hope that today's matter will not be spread."

"Of course. Director Jones, don't worry. I will never reveal a word. Your identity will become a secret forever."

He wanted to draw up a confidentiality contract immediately and get all the staff sign it. He couldn't go against President of Dahua's wishes.

Allen then looked at Arya's direction. Their gazes met briefly in the air.

The person in charge of WM and the director's assistant silently looked at each other. They wanted to ask Allen if he knew the content. After all, the quality of the advertisement this time was relatively high.

Actually, even if Allen randomly filmed it, WM's people would not have any objections.

Chapter 193 You’re Late

Arya’s performance was very fitting for WM’s jewelry. She had also blended in with the gentle beauty unique to woman. It made people sigh. The woman in love was really beautiful.

The director shouted to stop and asked the staff to prepare for the next scene.

But Allen still stared at the woman in front of him. "I suddenly regret not showing myself. Such a beautiful woman, I must announce my sovereignty as soon as possible!"

"There are still three months before the appointed time."

Arya raised her head and blinked her starry eyes, full of love and emotions.

She felt happy for everything that happened today, as well as feeling happy because the man standing opposite her was Allen.

Although he did not give her a wedding, he had always been by her side in this way. Was the ceremony really important?

As long as the person she loved was by her side, there would be a romantic ceremony every day.

That was something only true lovers could give each other.

Director Cole exchanged opinion with the person in charge of WM. He felt that the first two scenes were perfect and could be passed directly. According to his plan, the completion rate was so high that he could finish four to five hours earlier.

The two of them walked into the dressing room respectively to prepare for the third scene.

This was also the most important shooting.

In order to display the wedding ring and the entire set of jewelry, Arya would wear a real wedding dress and stand at the entrance of the church, walking into the wedding hall with this man.

The filming venue had the church's setting and the later stages of the productions. There was no need to worry at all.

Arya's makeup artist changed her hair ornaments and helped her change into the wedding dress. In order to perfectly accentuate the necklace and accessories around her neck, as well as the wedding ring on her hand.

The style of this wedding dress was also very simple. The overall satin design accentuated her waist and her tail fell to the ground, making her look elegant and generous.

It did not matter how expensive and grand the wedding dress was. The important thing was who was holding her hand.

Chapter 194 Who Replaced Me?

Oliver tidied his hair and asked. “When do they want to shoot?”

“Oliver, the commercial is done.” The manager lowered his head and felt helpless.

“What does that mean?” Oliver looked at him in disbelief.

“They changed the male lead...”

“Are they sick? How dare they change me? Do they know who I am?” Oliver was young and famous. No one dared to make him angry. This was also the first time he encountered such a change in angel after he became famous. He could not accept this reality at all.

He punched back the chair. “Who replaced me? I want him to get out of the entertainment circle!”

He felt that with his background, it was enough to make the other party unable to receive the show.

“I want to tell my dad that that man dares to oppose me. I want them to live a life worse than death!”

Chapter 195 Hype

Such comments easily incited the hearts of the fans. It was as if he had encountered a great grievance.

In addition, the average age of his fans group was relatively young. The fans all felt sad for their idols and felt injustice for him.

The fans found out through the public account that he had a WM shooting schedule today. The female lead was Arya.

Could it be that the advertisement was stolen?

There were also fans who asked about Arya’s news and wanted to ask about the inside story, but Justin did not give any response.

In just a few minutes, this message was forwarded more than a hundred thousand times.

Oliver looked at the phone screen in satisfaction.

Chapter 196 When a Familiar Person Becomes a Stranger

Compared to most female stars, Arya's view of life was unexpected.

"I understand. I will not say such things in future."

"Allen is the president of Dahua. The entertainment empire he established is his career. Many people are watching him from behind and waiting for him to make a mistake. I don't want to be his weakness. Since I married to him, I have to help him guard these things."

“Justin, you are my manager. I will trust you. As for other things, I believe that we can pass it safely with our own strengths. However, I am not sure what Aorai will do now.”

“Don’t worry. I understand what you mean. I will go to public relations immediately and give you an answer as soon as possible.” Justin gave Luna a look and asked Luna to accompany Arya back first.

Even if there was a tough battle to fight, they had to ensure that she could rest well.

“Today’s shooting is really perfect. I want you guys to go back and take a look at the photos. Your mood will be definitely different.”

Arya sent Arya downstairs and watched her go upstairs.

Arya had already put the ring on her finger. No matter what, when she saw the ring, it was like Allen beside her.

This thing was the kind of peace she had never felt before.

It allowed her to quietly experience her life without being affected by the sound outside.

Because Oliver’s fans kept posting threads, the influence of the incident gradually increased. There were even fans who blocked Oliver’s Brokerage Agency’s entrance gate and asked them to return Oliver’s innocence.

On other hand, WM also sent public relations personal to discuss with Oliver’s Brokerage Agency about the compensation for breach of the contract.

WM’s person-in-charge told them what happened. Because Oliver broke the contract, the director found out this person from Arya, so he changed the person. As for the identity of that person, WM indicated that she wanted to keep it a secret for him.

When Oliver found out that it was actually Arya who introduced the person, he immediately became angry.

Chapter 197 I Am Not Easy to Control

The more intense his fans were, the more satisfied Oliver was.

He was waiting to see Arya forced to apologize to him. At that time, he would let everyone know the consequences of going against him.

However, he did not expect that after receiving a call from President of Dahua’s secretarial office, WM would contact the three major media and hold a press conference on the Internet to clarify the matter.

He would explain the situation to the public.

“Olive and Arya are the spokesperson of our brand’s wedding ring series and have signed contracts. However, on the day of filming, Oliver refused to take part in the filming many times because he was sick.”

“Our WM manger and the staff have communicated with him many times and finally got a real response. Two days before filming, he invited his partner Miss Arya to dinner but was rejected. He was not happy because of this matter. So he treated the entire crew as a tool for revenge.”

“Oliver’s actions have seriously affected the promotion of WM’s wedding ring series, so the company and the director decided to change after discussing it with each other.”

“This matter has nothing to do with Miss Arya!”

“All she did was to recommend a candidate to us. This candidate is very outstanding in all aspects. The director decided to use him to replace Oliver. Reality has proven that the shooting results were not bad at all!”

“The matter is so simple. As a brand, we are deeply saddened by Oliver’s performance this time. We also denounce his fans for their bad behavior. We hope that they can be reasonable and chase after the stars.”

From WM’s attitude, they will not use Oliver again in the future.

However, Oliver’s fans did not buy it. They kept questioning him on the bullet screens on the platform.

“Why should you change Oliver? Can’t you postpone it when he is not feeling well?”

“The unspoken rules of your circle are really nice to hear. The WM shirks responsibility and covers up the truth. They are clearly your spokesperson.”

In the eyes of the fans, WM had long since decided not to use Oliver. They had caused such a commotion when they caught Oliver’s illness.

There were even more extreme fans who wanted Arya to publically apologize to Oliver. Otherwise, they would boycott Arya, WM, and all the brands Arya would endorse in the future.

Arya told Allen that she had asked Luna and Justin to gather evidence.

Allen did not refute her. He just nodded in agreement.

In this circle, there were many things that could not be found easily. But if there was an order from a mysterious boss, things would be much simpler.

There was only one reason why those artists who were bullied by Oliver had to swallow their anger. It was because of Oliver's father's influence.

In order to protect starpath, they did not have the courage to confront him.

So when Luna found them and said that she could help them expose these things, they all said that as long as they were anonymous, they would take out all the evidence.

Oliver's fans were still defending the rights and interests of their idols. They took out a lot of evidence that Oliver was ill and acting in a movie. There were also photos of Oliver often staying up late to memorize his lines.

In order to shoot a video of Director Cole and WM working together with Arya to put on a show, Oliver's official account released the doctor's diagnosis report.

It proved that Oliver's illness was very serious on the day the video was taken.

Therefore, the change of roles had dealt Oliver a heavy blow. It would even force him to rest for a long time.

Luna could not be bothered to look at these exaggerated news anymore. She looked at Arya. "Shall we begin?"

"Yes, it's time." Arya flipped through the magazine and said indifferently.

Half an hour later.

A thread called "Restore the truth, the popular spicy chicken lies!" appeared on the Internet and appeared at the top of the real-time Hot Search List.

In the thread, Oliver's name was replaced by OL, but everyone in the circle knew that Oliver always called himself Little Oli, so OL was the abbreviation of his name.

"Furthermore, Arya's ambition is too great. I don't know how she tamed you. However, she is an artist of the Aorai. She has to listen to the company's arrangements."

"I am not tamed by anyone!" Justin looked at Melinda in disbelief. He was shocked to hear this from her mouth.

"When you signed Arya, did you not know what she was thinking? Isn't it too late to say that she is ambitious now?" Melinda's self-contradictory explanation made Justin's gaze turn cold.

"Justin, how can you think that?"

The two of them stood face to face, but there was an insurmountable distance between them.

"Arya did not do anything wrong. She just did not want to use gossip to hype things up. She did not want to socialize. You clearly know that she has a lover, but you still forced her to see Oliver."

"Now that the matter has gotten out of hand, as her contract company, the Aorai is so negative about public relations. Not only did you stop her trip, you also gave the resources to Kiara and the others."

"I'm really disappointed in you."

Justin's words deeply touched Melinda.

“Arya is not a fool. I am not either.”

Melinda helplessly looked away. “No matter what, my order has already been notified and cannot be changed.”

“Alright then, forget it. It’s just that I want to tell you that if you force Arya like this, the consequences will be ugly.”

Melinda coldly snorted.

“She is only an actress. The contract is in my hands. What can she do?”

“Then let’s wait and see.” Justin looked at her meaningfully and did not ignore the hostility in Melinda’s eyes.

There were some things that would not stop once they started.

Tonight’s matter of him looking for her made Melinda realize that Justin was not completely on Arya’s side. She could not sit and wait for death.

Since Arya no longer had any schedule, did she still need an agent?

Justin drove while dialing Arya’s number.

Chapter 200 Melinda You Will Regret This

"He wanted to see me make a fool of myself, but he didn't expect Melinda to have any scruples. For the reputation of Aorai, she wouldn't admit that she was making use of it."

Arya flipped through the WM's new magazine and the smile on her face was very gentle.

Her emotions had never been affected by these rumors.

"Actually, you don't come to see Melinda today." Justin felt that Arya did not need to come to the Aorai again.

"Melinda wants to see me. Of course I want to come." Arya put down the picture paper.

"Do you have something to say to Melinda?" Justin thought about what Arya meant.

"Not really. I want to know what kind of expression she will show when she regrets it." Arya looked at the street outside the window and said lightly.

Justin nodded. No matter what, he believed Arya's judgment.

If she wanted to, she could sign her husband's company at any time.

She did not have to struggle here.

Soon, the car drove into the Aorai parking lot.

A group of reporters seemed to have received the news. Seeing Arya's nanny car, they surrounded her like a swarm of bees. However, with Justin and Luna protecting Arya, she safely walked into the gates of the Aorai.

Melinda's secretary brought them into the meeting room. This was Melinda's arrangement.

It was just that she was not the only one in the meeting room. Kiara and Violet were both there.

At this moment, the most important female stars of the Aorai had arrived.

When Arya appeared, Violet looked at her. However, due to the presence of the others, she did not stand up to greet Arya.

Arya could tell that she did not have any ill intentions.
