Chapter 241 Romantic Yoga Partner

The answers of the Dahua's artistes were to different degrees, congratulating and welcoming Arya for signing the contract with the Dahua. This also reflected the unity within the Dahua.

They knew the status of the Dahua better than anyone else, and they were able to determine their own position.

As an artist, they would definitely compete with the other artists in the same company. However, the Dahua artists would only come openly and not do anything sneaky.

"The company will not sign any random artist. I believe that the rumors about Arya will be clarified."

The reaction of these artists further proved Allen's absolute dominance in his acting empire.

The moment he pushed the door open, Allen left all the fatigue he had accumulated during the day outside. His eyes were filled with warmth because he could see his wife again soon.

Arya was practicing in the yoga room upstairs. She was wearing purple training clothes and her hair was tied behind her head. In order to maintain her figure better, this kind of exercise was necessary, because she had to ensure that she could display her most beautiful side on the screen.

There were so many young and beautiful girls in the entertainment circle every year. If she wanted to have a place, she had to maintain her best state at all times. Moreover, she was going to sign a contract with the Dahua soon. She had to work harder so that she wouldn't let down her efforts for such a long time.

Allen looked at her through the door. He changed into a black training suit and walked in. He felt sorry for her as he watched her sweating and exercise alone...

After another movement, Allen turned off the music.

"Rest for a while and practice again. You have high requirements for yourself. I support you, but you can't be in such a hurry."

"I can only calm down in this kind of environment. I want to improve a little more." Arya was tired and laid on the cushion. She indeed could not take it anymore.

Allen sat beside her and slowly helped her relax her body.

He took out water and a towel to help her wipe her sweat. "Don't practice alone. I will accompany you."

Chapter 242 How Can People Like You Be Reporters?

In the meeting room on the third floor of the Dahua Entertainment, Raul and a few other managers appeared on the podium. Beside him was Arya, who kept a low profile.

The outside world had praised Arya's temperament countless times. She was quiet and low profile, but now her low profile had become a shield in everyone's eyes. She was deliberately putting on a show. In fact, she was a very shrewd person.

Reporters and fans were all waiting to tear off the fake mask on Arya's face, wanting to expose her and make her have nowhere to hide.

Raul had worked in the entertainment industry for many years. He knew what these people were thinking. He pressed the microphone's switch and said, "Everyone, from now on, Arya is an artist officially signed by the Dahua Entertainment. Although there are still many bad comments about her in the outside world, the Dahua believes in her. That's why we are holding this public press conference. What's the problem?"

"You can start asking, but you must ensure the order of the questions."

The reporters were already eager to give it a try. The notebook was full of questions that they wanted Arya to answer. If they asked together, she would definitely not be able to handle it and the situation would be very chaotic.

One of the reporters obediently raised his hand and calmly asked, "Can you tell us the sequence of events regarding Louisa's incident?"

Because Raul had already threatened the reporters yesterday, no one dared to act rashly.

Raul used his eyes to hint to Arya that she could be at ease. Arya held the microphone closer and calmly faced the cameras and flashlights. "I did go to the hospital for a configuration test, but after that, Louisa did not contact me. I do not know much about the development of her condition. Later on, I and you all found out that she is very seriously ill."

"But Louisa's good friend said that they had looked for you many times, but you used money to shut their mouths and even insulted them with words."

Arya looked at the reporter who spoke eloquently and asked with a smile, "Are you sure that person is Louisa's good friend? Have you seen her in person?"

The reporter was suddenly stunned and did not expect Arya to say this, "But you did promise to save her but now that Louisa is already dead, shouldn't you take responsibility?"

She stared at the reporter and her voice was very angry, "You cannot say that Louisa is dead after investigating. If you continue to say this after knowing the truth, then I really think that you are just using a microphone to

However, as the spokesperson, Raul had been watching her.

"That reporter in red, do you remember your promise?"

When Raul said that, everyone looked in that direction. They looked at the reporter in red who had been aggressive, but now she lowered her head in shame.

"Me!" She wanted to explain, but she really did not have the face to continue explaining.

"In this information society, everyone's privacy is no longer private. How much harm can a rumor cause to a person, you people who spread rumors have never thought about it! Artists are also people. They also need enough space..."

"I have said before that Dahua will protect every artiste under their banner. Everything that happened to Arya today will become a matter that Dahua will solve immediately! As long as the Dahua is still around, we will not allow the entertainment industry to have this kind of bad atmosphere! "

"Regarding this donation crisis, the Dahua represents Arya to give a formal and final response. Firstly, after Arya found out that Louisa's condition has deteriorated, she has done her best to help her find a suitable voluntary donor. She did not violate any moral principles."

"Secondly, the so-called rumors accuse Arya of repeatedly insulting Louisa and her friends. At this point, we express that Arya did not receive the so-called call for help at all, nor did she entrust a third party to convey any information to Louisa. All the information related to it was fabricated by someone with the intention of making it up. We will pursue the legal responsibility."

"Finally, Louisa's incident has a negative impact on Arya's personal reputation. We will sue the mastermind behind the incident based on the evidence we have. We hope that the media can shoulder the responsibility of maintaining social justice and protect the atmosphere of the entertainment industry together."

The Dahua was not joking!

They would immediately implement all countermeasures and use the weapons of the law to protect Arya's reputation.

The reporters realized that they were being used. They only wanted to use explosive news to attract the public's attention, but no one was able to identify it carefully. Whether they were telling the truth or not.

Everyone in the meeting room did not dare to look into Arya's eyes. They felt very ashamed of her.

She seemed to be so excited that she had forgotten that she was talking to Martin about this.

Martin turned his head to look at Arya. He did not show much expression.

Luna suddenly felt that she was thinking too much. Perhaps Martin did not have any interest in her. If she continued to talk about this topic, she might scare him away. He probably did not like girls older than him.

Thinking about this, Luna retracted her gaze. Her eyes gradually dimmed.

After the press conference ended, Raul found Louisa. He half-squatted in front of the wheelchair and said gently to her, "You did well today. When you are well in the future, do you want to work in the Dahua?"

"Me?" Louisa looked at Arya and said carefully, "What can I do?"

"I think you are very suitable to enter the Dahua's Public Relations Department. You have potential!"

Louisa was very surprised, "Miss Arya is here. Of course I am willing to come. I can also see her every day. I hope that Director Raul will keep his word!"

"Why do you like Arya so much?"

"Because Arya gave me the courage to live when I was most desperate. I want to be like her, working hard for my dreams and living for myself!"

"Then you have to work hard! Take care of your body first."

Arya walked over and hugged her tightly. "If I am not obligated to be that donor, you actually do not need to specially come over to clarify for me today.

"Miss Arya, I want to come. "

"Have a good surgery. I will always accompany you." Arya gently held her hand, wanting to be her most solid support and give her the strength to hold on.

Louisa smiled brilliantly and nodded vigorously, "I will recover very quickly!"

Arya was very touched by Louisa's sense of justice and tolerance.

Allen hugged her, "Have you thought about it?"

"In two months, we will announce it to the public! I don't want to live like this anymore. I want to show off to the world that you're my husband, the person I love the most in my life."

Allen did not say anything. Instead, he held her tighter. He lowered his head and gently kissed her neck and her lips.

Once it was made public, what they needed to do would be done. There's still a lot...

The two of them lingered for a while before Allen let go of his tight hug. "Is there anything else you want to tell me?"

Arya blinked her eyes, as if all her thoughts could not escape his eyes.

"I've been thinking about Luna and Martin recently. Martin is your assistant. You know him better. Do you think he will like Luna?"

"I'm afraid I have to ask him personally."

Arya thought about it. What Allen said was right. Relationships could not be started by guessing. She had to personally tell him how she felt in her heart. However, Martin's EQ was worrying.

"However, Martin applied for leave today. He said he was not feeling well."

"I want to tell Luna about this."

Perhaps she could create an opportunity for her to go and see Martin.

Allen naturally gave the phone to Arya and then went to the study to deal with the documents.

Arya smiled and replied, "Okay." But when she saw that Allen was about to push open the door and enter the study, she suddenly called out to him, "I asked Raul. He said that my manager is in France. Who did you arrange?"

"Since he is in France, you will know when you go."

Arya could only stop asking and dialed Luna's number.

When she told Luna that Martin was sick and asked for leave, she accidentally exaggerated a few words.

When Martin heard this, how could she still sit still? She immediately drove to Martin's apartment and sped all the way. Ten minutes later, she stood in front of Martin's apartment with sweat all over her forehead.

Chapter 246 Do Not Disclose

Raul was already waiting for her at the door. After all, it was Arya's first time here, so it would be awkward for her. Raul personally led the way.

They walked in and saw the European style palace decorations in the corridor. They listened to the classical music that surrounded their ears, as if they were in a palace.

After Arya observed, she found that the artistes who were present tonight were either famous idols or movie stars. There were also a few fashionable singers. The only people she had seen a few times were the Asian advertising queen, the famous actress Serena.

She was sitting at the bar and drinking champagne alone. Her light purple dress made her temperament more elegant and refined.

Raul introduced her to a movie star, "Dylan, this is the company's newly signed artiste, Arya."

Although Arya did not specialize in shooting movies, she knew very well what kind of position Dylan had in the movie industry. He had already made a place for himself in Hollywood ten years ago. In many action movies, there was his figure. The accomplishments he achieved today were things that many people would not be able to achieve in their lifetime.

Arya nodded and smiled gracefully. She politely called out, "Brother Dylan..."

"Okay, let's talk more when we have the chance."

"It's my honor."

"Arya is here?" Everyone saw the situation and came over to greet her with champagne glasses. Raul had been introducing her with a smile on his face, hoping that Arya could blend in as soon as possible.

When they were almost there, Arya chose to sit beside Serena.

They had been compared by reporters before, but Serena was a big star. When she was very young, she had already acted together with international big shots. Her strength could not be underestimated.

She turned her head and smiled at Arya, "How is it? Are you still used to it?"

"What?"

"Your relationship with Director Jones." Serena said seriously, "In the celebrity circle, relationships are not a private matter. No matter who you choose to be with, everyone will treat you as a topic of conversation after dinner. Even if you are with that man, you cannot escape..."

"There will be hundreds and thousands of paparazzi watching you at all times until you break up or retreat..."

Arya was stunned for a moment as she listened to Serena continue.

"I have seen this kind of thing with my own eyes." She turned around and got closer to Arya, "I once had a very good friend. She was a female singer who debuted in an idol group. She was passionate, beautiful and talented, but she fell in love with the composer who wrote songs for them. They worked together many times and were very careful, but they still could not escape the reporters..."

"Their love life was captured by the reporters and they wrote randomly. The popularity even overshadowed their works. Female singers were ostracized in the group. That composer once suffered from depression."

"Their feelings were also superimposed over time and were torn apart by those messy rumors."

"In the end, the female singer chose to commit suicide by swallowing sleeping pills at the celebration banquet for her tenth anniversary."

The public opinion was very scary...

After Arya heard it, her mood was very gloomy. She was deeply touched by these things. Sometimes, too much attention was enough to destroy a star.

"However, Director Jones is a man who is different from the rest. Since he dared to let you enter the Dahua, it is equivalent to announcing your special identity to us. He will handle the storm after it is made public."

"I also think so..." Arya's smile became even sweeter.

What that man gave her was a sense of security that no one in the world could compare to.

Luna was still a little worried on the way to the airport when she saw Arya off. She did not know if the reporters would continue to pursue the matters that were leaked on the Internet after the news of the Dahua was made public.

Seeing that Arya still had a headache due to her hangover, she sighed.

"You clearly can't drink much, yet you still insist on putting on a brave front!"

Luna parked the car in the airport parking lot. While she took out the hangover medicine for Arya, she helped her walk out of the main hall.

Arya coughed twice and obediently took the medicine, "I won't do it in the future."

It was just that she realized that Luna did not joke like usual. Instead, she said in all seriousness, "This is not a bad thing. At least you let me see you again."

"What?"

"You are living a more comfortable life." Luna threw the paper cup that Arya had finished drinking into the trash can, "Ever since you broke up with Daniel, you have never been full of vigor and enthusiasm to face anyone. You have been on guard against everyone."

"Other than Allen, you are not willing to open your heart to anyone."

"I know that way you will protect yourself very well. But, I don't want to see you turn into a cold Arya."

Arya looked at Luna and revealed a faint smile. She did not do it on purpose. But now, she had the courage to face this circle because her current position was different. She had the strength to enter the Dahua and also had a lover that she could treat sincerely. This sense of security made her more confident.

"Did the manager still not contact you?"

"Raul said that the manager is already at UNIC headquarters in France. He will be waiting for us there tomorrow." Luna thought about what Raul said. "He should have been there for a while."

Arya nodded.

With Dahua escorting her, they were not harassed by any reporters after entering the airport. No one had the courage to challenge the tolerance of Dahua.

"Yes, I understand. Don't worry." Arya seriously thought about it and then smiled to comfort Luna.

"You rest first. Let me see the email from Martin."

Since the mysterious manager had not shown himself, she had to look at the schedule for the next few days. She could not let anything go wrong.

Luna took out her computer as she spoke. The interview time was tomorrow morning.

As a very influential international company, not only was it a famous cosmetics brand, but it also involved related luxury goods and jewelry.

It's just that Arya's current condition...

Luna looked at her worriedly. With her poor physical condition, could she handle the interview tomorrow?

Very quickly, Raul also arrived at the hotel.

Luna was stunned when she saw him. But if Arya's manager was this director, it was also a good thing. Raul was quite popular in the entertainment circle. If he helped Arya, it would save her a lot of trouble.

But if it was this kind of situation, why didn't they say it at the beginning?

Raul was also in danger. It was not easy to sign a contract with UNIC this time.

"If Arya is still resting, then I will..." He was about to leave when he suddenly heard a bang from the bedroom inside.

Luna and Raul anxiously ran in. They saw Arya's face was ghostly pale, and she held onto the bed and kept vomiting.

"Quick, go to the hospital!"

The doctor's conclusion was that after drinking too much and flying for a long distance, it caused gastrointestinal allergic reactions...

Chapter 250 Notification of UNIC

After returning to her room, Arya immediately began to rest.

She understood the importance of this endorsement more than anyone else. Whether she could pass the interview or not, she would only know after trying!

There was less than half an hour left before the interview.

The artistes who had already arrived were all sitting in the waiting room.

The most competitive ones were Vanessa of the Skywings and Arya of the Dahua. These two female artists were very recognizable. Just who was the better one? It made the brand's manager's head hurt.

It was just that from the beginning of this year until now, Vanessa was very popular. She still had three more movies to release. Compared to Arya, she indeed had a huge advantage.

So Vanessa was the first choice for UNIC.

After Vanessa's assistant heard the news, she immediately changed her expression. When she saw Arya and the rest, her eyes were full of sarcasm.

Raul noticed the change in the atmosphere and immediately dialed Allen's number.

"President, the spokesperson might have been decided."

Allen hesitated. Compared to this endorsement contract, he was more worried about Arya's health. Thinking that she was still sick and participating in the interview made his heart ache.

"I'll take care of it."

Raul nodded. Was there anything Director Jones could not handle? He began to look forward to the day Allen became Arya's manager.

After that, Raul returned to Arya's side and gave her and Luna a reassuring look.
