Chapter 261 New Star

The assistant look Serena's eyes rekindled. She scratched her head in shame, "I misunderstood her."

Serena got up and opened the window to let the fresh air in, "I never thought that I would be able to face these things so easily one day. Arya saved me and let me believe that I still have a chance to turn over. Her courage is what I lack the most. Any star in the entertainment circle could be a vase. But she is definitely not!"

"Only now do I understand why Allen Jones, who has always been cold to women, would be together with Arya. Because she is worth it. In the whole world, only she is worthy of Allen."

The assistant did not know what exactly Arya said to Serena that day that made her feel so emotional. But Serena was saved by Arya. They will always remember this point and thank the later.

The current Serena has completely changed. She is brave and strong...

Serena closed her eyes and silently promised in her heart that she would never forget Arya's help to her. If there was a day when Arya encountered trouble, she would do everything she could to help the later.

Because this press conference was very real and the reaction was very good, they successfully won a round. But this was only the beginning. The Skywings wanted to use those photos to attack Serena and drag Arya and the Dahua into the water. It was completely a dream. Because after the press conference, the Dahua still had a series of countermeasures.

From the testimony of the fans to the support of the people in the industry, to the support of the Dahua and the brands, Serena was not the only one who was enduring everything. There were so many people supporting her. Compared to the dirty news on the Internet, the Skywings and that scumbag could not resist this kind of power.

Dahua stood up for Serena. The things that she had experienced were even requested by the publishers to write it down. The autobiographies and screenwriters were willing to be adapted into a movie. Everyone saw the true charm of Serena.

Those who had scolded her on the Internet all shut their mouths. There were also media reporters who publicly apologized to Serena.

Serena was reborn from the ashes...

No matter what that scumbag exposed, the public would not pay attention to him anymore.

This night was Serena's last night in the hospital. The assistant hurried in and said, "Serena, there is something I want you to take a look at."

"What is it?"

Chapter 262 Truth

Just as Arya had expected, that scum had already reached a certain realm.
He actually framed the death of that actress that year onto Serena and even asked the family of that actress to testify.

But the netizens did not buy it. The intimate photos that he sent in the past were clearly seen by everyone. He was clearly Serena's boyfriend. Why did he have to be close to this actress? The only explanation was that he was not only a scumbag but also a cheater.

Moreover, if Serena really did this, she would not be able to endure his beatings all the time.

So everyone was waiting to see how long that scumbag could continue jumping around like a clown.

After Arya saw the news, she asked Martin to help to understand that actress's family situation. She wanted to know what kind of mentality they had when they faced the media.

Serena was not as surprised as before because she had already seen through that man's thoughts. She smiled indifferently, "This is the so-called love..."

When Raul heard this, he was slightly silent.

"Director, this matter does not require the company to step in for public relations." Serena smiled in relief. The hatred in her eyes faded away. "I want to see how he will end this in the end."

Raul nodded. He would give Serena a chance to deal with this alone, but he had prepared an emergency plan. He could start to fight back at any time.

After Arya received Luna's call, she turned on the TV and was now broadcasting the interview of Diego, the scum.

"It was my fault that I loved Serena, but we all had moments when we lost control of our emotions. For so many years, I have been facing her every day and I am also in pain. You all don't even know how vicious she is!"

"I did indeed cheat after marriage, but it was only once! I knew that I could not delay two women, so I chose to break up with Serena."

"But she agreed on the surface, but she bribed a truck driver and killed Jada!"

Chapter 263 His Arrangements

With Diego's failure as the saddest person on the Internet, a grand award ceremony was about to begin.

In this year's Angel Starr selection, Serena still won the most popular actress award. The Dahua also publicly announced that she would personally attend the award ceremony.

This was also her first appearance after this storm. Her mental and physical condition was what the outside world cared about the most.

The reporters also heard that she and Arya had become good sisters and best friends. Arya attended the award ceremony and became a guest to cheer for Serena.

Everyone thought this, including Arya, because Allen did not tell her what he was planning to announce at the award ceremony.

Martin was the first person to know about it because Allen told him to make it public and announce to the world that he was Arya's manager.

Martin was shocked, "President, do you really want to say it? What if the outside world knows..."

Would it affect Arya's performance and career that had just improved?

The president of Dahua was actually Arya's manager! If this news were to leak out, the entire entertainment industry would probably be shaken by this wind.

"Is there a problem?" Allen looked up at Martin in front of the desk.

"I am afraid Madame will be jealous and framed by others."

Martin had been by Allen's side for many years and had seen this kind of thing. Once the news got out, who knows how many people would attack Arya behind her back. "Furthermore, if someone traced the clues and found out the true relationship between you and Madam, what happened after that..."

Allen put down the pen in his hand and was very calm.

"Arya has always been a capable actress. What she lacks is only opportunity. Now I want everyone to see who is standing behind her. Only then can I clear the obstacles for her."

"As for the people behind her, if they are not afraid of death, they can try."

Chapter 264 She Saved My Life

Diego had already asked the staff members at what time Serena would enter tonight and had been waiting for her here being disguised as a fan.

"Serena, I was wrong. You forgive me... I'm not human! I am a bastard!" Diego knelt down and shouted.

Serena slowly lowered her head and coldly looked at him, "Get up."

"You have forgiven me!"

"No, you are not worthy for me to forgive you. Please do not disturb my life again. I, Serena Hicks, am a woman you cannot afford to love." Serena sneered, "The only reason I do not want to look back on the past is because of you. Please disappear."

"Since You like Jada so much, continue to like her. I don't want to have anything to do with you. My life is precious. I don't want to waste my time on you."

Serena pulled Arya's hand beside her and turned back to say to Diego, "If you continue to pester me, I will sue you through legal means. Please take care of yourself and don't live so disgusting."

The reporters saw Serena's counterattack!

She was beautiful and elegant like a queen. She avoided the scumbag who once made her life dark without looking back.

The host held the microphone excitedly and was sincerely happy for Serena to be able to pull herself together again.

This was the most beautiful appearance of a woman. She was confident and proud. Those people who were not worth her effort should be kicked far away.

"Is everyone as shocked by Serena as I am? Tonight she and Arya walked on the red carpet together. They are not lovers but true best friends. Please sign!"

Diego was still kneeling on the ground, but Serena would never turn back to look at him again. She had a bright future and life. She was a beautiful international movie star. Why would she turn back for a scumbag like him?

So not only are they good at acting, but they're also good at singing!

At this moment, in President of Dahua's office, Allen looked at the beautiful figure on the screen, unable to shift his gaze away.

His wife was of course very outstanding. She was very good in all aspects, but this was also the first time he had heard Arya sing. He was also moved by this song.

"President, do you want to talk to Director Raul about Madam producing a record?"

"No!" Allen rejected without thinking. "Tonight is a special case. She can only sing to me alone from now on."

Martin was speechless.

Allen then dialed Raul's number. "You can start now."

Raul immediately replied, "Okay, President."

Allen leaned back on the sofa and kept his eyes on Arya's face on the screen. No matter how he looked at her, he liked her. He smiled. Maybe he could really consider giving her a record as a souvenir.

Their chorus pushed the award ceremony to its climax.

Just when they finished together, a figure suddenly rushed onto the stage and knocked Arya onto the stairs, below...

Because Arya was about to step off the stage and the heels of her high heels were very thin, she was pushed down the steps under the stage when she was unprepared.

Serena reacted and wanted to pull Arya but she missed.

In front of everyone, Arya rolled down the stairs.

The entire audience stood up in a panic...

The man who rushed onto the stage immediately ran into the Fans Group on the other side of the stage. He seemed to be very familiar with the division of the stage. The security guards also ran after him.

"Arya!"

Serena helped Arya up and softly called her name, "Arya, how are you?"

Arya also eased a little from the shock. She opened her eyes and looked at Serena, "I'm fine..."

"Actually, my manager and I just saw Vanessa from Skywings go out once."

"Where did she go? What did she do?"

"I don't know. If she bribed someone and did something at that time, who would know? I think the Skywings is going to fight with the Dahua. Let's watch the show. "

Bang!

Serena pushed open the door and walked in.

When the few people who were originally discussing saw her, they all shut their mouths. They each picked up their makeup bags and prepared to leave.

Who did not know the relationship between Serena and Arya now?

"Who saw it just now?"

Their eyes were erratic and they all looked troubled. They were just whispering behind their backs and who would have thought that Serena would hear them.

"You guys should know about the background of the Dahua, right? Finish your words, otherwise, no one will be able to leave!" Serena coldly shouted.

She would not easily let go of any suspicious clues.

"We..."

They did not dare to provoke Serena and could only tell her everything that they saw. One of them looked at her and said, "It was me and my manager who saw it."

Serena forced herself to endure. As if nothing had happened, she walked to Arya's seat. "I know who did it..."

Arya looked at her in surprise and saw Serena raise her chin slightly and look at Vanessa beside the former.

Arya understood and cooperated to ask, "Who?"

"I just talked to Director Jones. You just signed with Dahua and this kind of accident happened. The company will help you solve the problem. Director Jones also said that he wants them to give an explanation... otherwise, don't mingle in the entertainment circle anymore! It is not difficult for the Dahua to ban an actress."

Immediately, she shot a glance at the later without leaving a trace. Coincidentally, she saw the trophy was directly poured onto not heavy but it stood up. She turned around and glared at Serena and shouted, "You're now? Vanessa of the Skywings openly challenged Serena of the Dahua? Did she, an unknown celebrity, dare to challenge Serena ordered the camera to change its position and cut off this segment. It did not affect the live broadcast "Serena, don't provoke me!" this, everyone was even more dumbfounded. They did not know what exactly happened how would raised her hand to her Serena hit Vanessa? at her angrily as if she wanted a celebrity of Serena's level not get along with her? She must have done something that was worth getting beaten up by Serena in front also saw Vanessa say vicious words to Serena probably had a low IQ and did such a thing with low EQ and low get out of hand but the latter did not give him face at all. She pushed the staff members away and shouted third-rate actress. Why are you protecting her like again." Serena how would she be able a third-rate actress. What's wrong?! Am I wrong? Even if she signed with the Dahua, it trying to curry favor with you just words that Vanessa openly

Chapter 267 What Is Your Relationship with Director Jones?

"You were the one who did Arya fall, right?"

"Now you know who Arya's manager is. How do you think he will treat you with his usual way of handling things? The reason why Dahua has today is not because he is bluffing!"

"If he wants you to disappear from the entertainment circle, it is as simple as moving a finger..."

Vanessa was stunned as she looked at Arya's face. Her face was pale.

Actually, Arya's current mood was very complicated. Other than shock, there was also surprise. Although she had also guessed that there would be such a possibility, she could not help but feel a little nervous when faced with the real situation. Moreover, Allen had announced it under such circumstances.

"Look at her face. It is more exciting than the color palette." Serena touched Arya's elbow.

Arya smiled helplessly. Her mood slowly relaxed. They had only announced the truth.

"But Director Jones actually did this. Did you guys have already decided, or did he want to give you an unexpected surprise?"

"He did not tell me officially. I guessed it too, but I really did not know that the matter would be made public directly." Arya did not hide it from Serena. She was more or less worried that she would misunderstand her.

"En, this is also a good way to save them from bullying you!" Serena had experienced the emotional injury and was much more open-minded. Now that she saw Arya, it was as if she had seen the past her.

She was unable to hold Arya on the stage. Seeing her fall but unable to do anything, this made her very sorry.

Allen's move completely blocked the mouths of those despicable people and raised Arya's status to a whole new level. No one dared to bully Arya rashly now.

Because bullying her was equivalent to provoking Dahua and challenging Allen's endurance.

Who would have the courage to do so?

The number of views on the Dahua's official website was not a joke. In just a few minutes, the industry exploded because of this explosive hot news.

Arya saw the name on the reporter's work card.
CaptureIt Studio.
It seemed like that person had not given up on trying to dig up rumors from her.

However, Arya didn't know that Stanley had already taken pictures of her and Allen outside the manor. He just wanted to wait for the best time to expose them.

"Are you crazy?"

Some reporters rolled their eyes at him. Many people like him deliberately made harsh words to gain popularity.

"You're crazy for wanting to be famous!"

That reporter smiled indifferently. "Arya is a slut. Go and support her. Sooner or later, you will slap your own face. She has always said that she does not have a boyfriend, but she is entangled with many men behind her back. Otherwise, would she have today's status?"

When Luna heard that, she immediately became angry. She pointed at that man and shouted, "Shut your stinky mouth! You are slandering Arya!"

"Me? Heh... It's different for people who have the backing of the Dahua, but the truth is the truth. This woman will never be washed clean!"

"There are people who hate you so much that they want you to fall to your death on the stage. How many more days do you think you can show off?"

"Just wait and see. You will soon see Arya's true colors."

Vanessa watched this scene from the side and was very happy. It seemed that she was not the only one who hated this woman. Furthermore, this reporter spoke so confidently. Or perhaps he really had some solid evidence in his hands!

"The heavens are watching. You know what you have done. There are so many artists in Dahua. Why did Director Jones want to be your manager? What's so special about you?"

"Also, there's a big hit in the WM advertisement, the Prince Charming from the Back..."

Everything this reporter mentioned was something that other reporters didn't dare to ask.

Arya took half a step back. It was not because of fear but because she really could not hold on any longer. Luna immediately supported her and did not pester that man anymore. She suggested to the organizers staff to send Arya away first.

Chapter 269 I Don't Want You to be Worried

His eyes were full of concern when he said that.

Arya then looked up at him and slowly said, "I am not going to let go of the person who hurt me. I am not that tolerant. I am just afraid that you would be worried and you are not willing to let me suffer a little. Moreover this time... I am worried that if I am sent to the hospital, you will put down all your work to protect me."

"I wanted to talk to you after I go home..."

Allen did not say anything else and went forward to hug her.

Arya originally wanted to say something but this time, her emotions immediately became wronged. She cried and said, "Why are you so fierce to me..."

"I did not. I... I didn't do it on purpose. I promise that I won't do it in the future." Allen tried to coax her.

Arya looked up in tears and struggled to sit up. Only when she saw Allen beside her did she feel safe.

"Your legs will take two weeks to heal and your head will hurt. You need time to rest. I have canceled and delayed all your work arrangements."

"Yes." Arya did not force herself to continue working. She also wanted to get herself healthy as soon as possible. She did not want to see Allen worried about her and her heart would ache.

"Then can I go home? I don't want to stay in the hospital."

"I'll ask the doctor." Allen patted Arya's hand and went out to let Luna and Serena take care of her in the ward. He walked to the doctor's office.

"How is it..." Luna thought of Arya being pushed off the stage at that time and broke out in cold sweat, "Luckily God bless!"

If Arya fell more seriously or if her face was hurt, the consequences would be unimaginable!

"What did I say? You can't hide it." Serena saw that Arya was fine and also let out a sigh of relief, "But now, all the women in the world are jealous of you. Although it is only as your manager, the words he said for you are too domineering!"

"Actually, I don't know much about women. I feel that dating is too troublesome."

Martin paused for a moment. "There is one person who makes me feel different from other women. Every time I have something to do with her, I put in a lot of effort. Maybe it is because she treats me very well."

When Raul heard this, he understood that Martin was really confused. He asked another question. "Do you think you can relax when you are with her?"

Martin thought for a moment and nodded. "Very comfortable, very relaxing."

"That's right! Take good care of it and continue working hard." Raul encouraged him. If he told Martin directly that his favorable impression would slowly develop into liking, he would probably scare the former silly.

Let the nature take its course. One day, he would understand that this kind of feeling was rare and sincere.

Martin held the document and nodded. "Then I'll go to the office first."

Raul waved his hand and continued to look at the data. He was very busy and did not have time to be a matchmaker.

Martin slowly walked to the elevator. His mind was thinking about what Raul had just said to him. His family had been urging him to get married. His parents also wanted him to have children early. It was just that he had always rejected dating women.

The face of the person he was thinking of gradually became clear. His phone suddenly rang. She actually called!

Luna was laughing on the other end of the phone. She said, "I heard that Vanessa was so scared that she was stunned. She had been hiding at home and did not dare to see anyone. She did not even dare to answer the phone. I guess she must be trembling with fear. She is probably considering whether to tell the truth or not!"

"You called to tell me this?"

Luna was stunned, "I have disturbed you. If you are busy, we will talk again when you have time."

Martin did not answer.

"I do not know who to tell these things. That is why I called you. If you do not want to hear it, then I will..."

Before Luna could finish, Martin interrupted her.
