Chapter 311 Who Is That Man?

"Bullying our company's artistes, you have to weigh your own weight first. If the Dahua makes a move, F Group's shares will be too horrible to look at overnight."

If they cross the bottom line again, it would be a dead end.

Raul turned around and walked in front of Serena. He said seriously, "I'm late."

Then he protected her and left the reporters. When they got into the car, Raul asked his manager and assistant about the situation. When they got back into the car, he handed Serena a thin blanket. "I will send someone to deal with those rumors. You have been wronged."

"I did not expect the crew to collude with F Group. There was not even a person who stood out to tell the truth."

Moreover, they actually dared to look down on the Dahua. What kind of benefits did the Skywings give them?

Raul sat in the driver's seat. "I'll find out the details. Take a good rest and ignore these people."

"I heard F Group has some underworld background. If you help me today, will they take revenge on you? If they target you..."

"In the entertainment circle, there are a few people who do business cleanly. Other than acting skills and strength, they are competing for background. Of course, Director Jones will deal with these. As long as you have a good rest, I will arrange other trips for you."

"It's being processed. Where do you want to stay tonight?"

"Me? Of course I'm going home." Serena did not react in time. Raul frowned slightly and suddenly realized that her home might not be safe. If F Group's people tried to trick her...

"Then send me to the manager." If Raul stood up for her today, the people on F Group's side might take revenge.

"It's useless for you to stay at the manager's place. Go to my house. It's only one day anyway."

Arya said to her fans as she walked, "My manager knows best whether I have a man or not."

The fans looked at Allen and showed a look of trust. "I don't think those words on the Internet are trustworthy. You have such an excellent man by your side. How can you have any scandals with other men?"

She did not want the best and went outside to cause trouble, unless she was blind.

Arya agreed with the fans' words, but before she could say anything, she was pushed into the security checkpoint by Allen.

Arya's fans really cared about the release of the photos. They were more worried that Arya would get hurt again after she had just lost a relationship, but now that they saw Arya could take a new scene with a smile on her face, of course they were relieved.

Furthermore, when Arya's fans saw her at the scene, they felt that she was not as cold as before. When she stood beside Allen, the corners of her mouth would occasionally reveal a sweet smile. Could it be that Allen had changed her?

Immediately after, a reporter revealed Arya's airport photo and gave her fans a cordial autograph. All the major media outlets rushed to report and unanimously agreed that the photos that were exposed a few days ago were nonsense. It was someone who was jealous of Arya's good development and blackmailed her behind her back.

Furthermore, Arya was invited to become the first Asian female lead of the famous director, Harry. This was definitely the big news in the entertainment industry this year. She was like a dark horse. First, she became a contracted artist of the Dahua, and then Allen became her Exclusive Broker. Now, she would enter the international film industry.

The signal she gave to the outside world was that she was not affected by the picture at all because she had the strength. She had walked all the way until today relying on hard work step by step. It was impossible for her to give up her acting career just because of a little dirt. This might be the reason why her fans would always support her like her.

Although Arya's journey was kept a secret to the public, because her popularity increased day by day, it was not difficult for people to find out about her flight.

For example, people like Michel and Stanley.

Michel immediately ordered his secretary to book a plane ticket and found a few people who knew how to create a picture and hype. He wanted everyone to think that the person Arya was dating was him.

He just didn't like them. Since Allen valued this actress so much, Michel wanted to ruin Arya's reputation.

After saying this, Serena turned around to leave, but Raul suddenly sat up, "It was not easy for you to walk out of the haze of the past. It's better to live your own life. If you become the stepmother of another family's child, what will the media write about it?"

Being an international film star or a laughing stock in the entertainment industry?

Serena looked up and asked, "I have already been written by the media. I don't care if it is one more time, but if you mind my past..."

Serena's face was stained with a bitter smile. She understood more than anyone how much pressure public opinion would put on her.

Raul looked at her expression and could not avoid it anymore. There were some things that needed to be explained clearly.

So he got up and pulled Serena into the room. Then he closed the door.

He said seriously to Serena, "I have a son. I must raise him."

"Raising a child with your condition is not difficult." Serena did not think that this would be a stain.

Raul took a deep breath. He knew that Serena had already made up her mind to take this step. If he cowered again, could he still be considered a man?

He paused for a moment and sat beside Serena. He said, "Actually, Noah is my brother's son. I did have a girlfriend who was engaged to me in the past. A few years ago, she died in an airplane accident."

"When my brother was young, he was unmarried and gave birth to this child. But he didn't want to take responsibility, so he abandoned Noah. I adopted this child, but I didn't want him to be talked about in tinted glasses. So I asked him to call me father and I treat him like my own son."

Raul was using this method to protect Noah.

"I raised him for so long, and I have feelings for him. I can't abandon him anymore, so..."

Serena looked at him with a smile. "I did not see wrongly. You are indeed very outstanding and very kind, but compared to you, I..."

"You did not do anything wrong. When that happened, you are also a victim. I have never disliked you because of those things." Raul's expression was very serious. "On the contrary, I am worried that if you are with me, it will be harder for you to face those rumors in the future."

firmly lifted her head and said, "Although I am not as smart as Arya, I will not back down when it comes to relationships. I know what I

Raul followed Allen's orders and continued to track down the whereabouts of the person in charge of Captureit Studio. He thought of Allen mentioning that they might go abroad with Arya. Raul used his connections to check the airline company's records to see if anyone called Stanley had gone abroad in the past two days.

Sure enough, there was a discovery!

Arya and Allen's plane had just taken off when Stanley followed closely behind.

Other than that, he also had other discoveries!

On the same flight, there were two familiar faces. Raul realized that things might develop further, so he immediately dialed Allen's video call.

"Stanley and Zelda went to chase you guys, and the one sitting in the business class of this flight is Michel."

When Arya woke up, she heard Allen talking to Raul on the video call. She thought that he probably hadn't rested since he got off the plane, so she called the front desk to order dinner.

"Martin, take the fastest plane to help. Raul will stay in the company and observe them..."

When Allen was done with his work, Arya came over and massaged his shoulders. "You need to rest. I have put the bath water away. Go wash first and then sleep."

Her trip did not start so early. She did not want to see Allen so tired.

Allen held her hand and asked, "Did you wash up?"

Arya nodded, "I have already washed up."

"Then let's wash again..." Allen said and dragged her into the bathroom.

Arya saw him take off his clothes and lie in the bathtub. The exhaustion on his face did not subside. She walked over with heartache and sat by the side to massage him, "Leave the matter to them. Look at you..."

Chapter 315 I Feel Very Happy To Love Her

"Have you found the script for your next work?" Allen stood by the window and asked straightforwardly.

Bieber shrugged and poured him a cup of coffee. "To be honest, a good script is too hard to find. It's hard to find a satisfactory one."

Especially since he had already made some good ones. It would be even harder to surpass his peak.

Allen took out the prepared script and handed it to Bieber. "Perhaps you will be interested in this movie."

"But..." Bieber looked troubled. "Mr. Jones, we are old friends. I don't want to push you away with an excuse or lie, but I don't think my acting skills are suitable for Asian actors. I don't want to force myself to make some lousy movies, so I'm afraid we can't cooperate."

"Let's put the problem of Asian actors aside for now. I believe you will like this script." Allen replied with a smile.

Bieber picked up the script for his sake.

The name of the movie was Memory Fragment.

The entire movie was based on the female lead's memories as a clue. After her husband's accidental death, she lived alone with her child. However, she suddenly realized something. There were always people visiting her home, and the child's actions had become very strange.

She thought that the child was sick, so she took him around looking for a doctor, but the strange thing did not go far from the mother and son until she found out that she was hallucinating...

All the sad scenes were her own fantasy. She did not have a husband at all, but the ending of the story had a huge reversal. The female lead finally met her destined lover, the novelist who once lived next to her.

The whole story gave people a very suspicious feeling, but it was filled with a kind of warmth.

"This is indeed very good!" Bieber took off his glasses. He really had no reason to reject such a good script. This was what he had been looking for.

"This is just a rough outline of the script. There are many more interesting parts."

"But as for actors..."

"They will satisfy you."

"Blame you?" Arya held Allen's hand tightly and shook her head firmly. "No, I understand that you did all this for me. I saw everything you did for me."

"You have always respected me. What we saw was the most real thing."

"I don't regret marrying you in this life."

Allen gently held her in his arms and said with emotion, "You are the best gift from the heavens. I will make you happier. Whether we publicize it or not will not affect our relationship."

"I believe in you. I have always believed..." Arya hugged Allen tightly, "Make it public."

Since they wanted to know who her man was so badly, let her man tell them personally!

After they drove Allen's car into the hotel, the people from the Captureit Studio also returned to the hotel.

"This Arya is really getting better and better. She is actually able to be a guest at the home of the director, Bieber, and even play so well with his daughter."

Stanley looked at those pictures and was a little annoyed. After taking pictures for a day, he only took these pictures!

"You all already know that that girl is Bieber's daughter? Maybe it was Arya's illegitimate daughter!"

"But Allen brought Arya to see Bieber. This should be for work." The subordinate said.

"What do you think will happen if we announce to the public that Arya has an illegitimate daughter overseas and send out these photos? Those spectators only want to see some explosive news. No one cares if it's true or not."

"Isn't it too immoral to do so?"

"Now that we've fallen to this stage, it's the Dahua who forced us to do this. If you don't want to do this, you can leave now. Let's see if you still have a place in the reporters' circle after they return to China!"

Stanley patted the table and said, "Integrate all the information and write a draft for me. As long as Arya is still under our surveillance, we will find clues."

"But Allen is right beside her. Will Arya still go out and find a man to date?"

"Maybe Allen already knew about it and has been protecting her."

Chapter 317 My Husband And Manager Will Settle This Matter

Allen's cold eyes stared in the direction of those people. Then, he turned the car around and went to the hotel's main entrance to pick Arya up.

As for these people who secretly took photos, they thought that Arya had not left for the whole night.

"Are you okay?"

Arya nodded. She paused for a few seconds and said, "I won't pity them. I don't think there's anything wrong with doing this. I have been doing my own work without hurting anyone. Stanley has been targeting me."

"He may be doing this for money and fame, but not all of it..."

"Maybe it was a coincidence that he took that picture at the beginning. Later on, he became interested in tracking you down in the news. He may have misunderstood you."

"Martin found out about him. He once had a very failed marriage. He forgave his cheating wife time and time again, but his wife still chose to leave him. After their divorce, Stanley resigned from the foreign company that he had worked for five years. He then brought a group of people and started to be a reporter."

"I'm afraid he wants to use this method to prove that other people are unhappy and to ease the hatred in his heart."

When Arya heard this, she felt that this person's idea was even more ridiculous.

"He became unlucky himself. When he met someone who was not worth it, he wanted to make all the people in the world become like him?"

This was the first time Arya knew that she was hated by such a person. This feeling was very strange.

"I have so many anti-fans and I am not short of him. Furthermore, I believe that my husband and manager will settle this matter for me."

No matter how much she suffered, there was always Allen who sheltered her from the wind and rain.

Allen looked at her dotingly. "Of course."

In his eyes, this was also the most unique and charming thing about Arya. She could always see the direction of the situation. She was also very clear about everyone's thoughts. In the entertainment circle, there were not many people who could do this.

Serena held the household register and bank card, her eyes slowly turning red.

She recalled what Arya had said to her before. God would always leave a path for her. As long as she did not give up, she would meet the most suitable person. All the grievances she had suffered in the past would also become the endless love this person gave her.

Everyone's way of expressing their love was different, but the most important thing was to believe in the person they had decided on.

Raul gently kissed her forehead. "Alright, go wash up. I'll go cook."

Serena nodded. She stood on her tiptoes and gave a kiss back. "Okay."

In the past, it seemed that Raul did not care about anything. He always handled the reporters and cameras with great care, but that was all because he was acting. He used a relaxed attitude to deal with this, to cover up the hurt in his heart.

Serena put the household register and card away. She secretly promised in her heart that she would heal all the wounds in his heart.

That morning, Arya and Allen walked into the office together.

He was indeed a very conscientious director. With his current position, he actually placed his office next to the dressing room. This way, he could communicate with actors at any time. It had to be said that many directors could not do this.

He wore a very simple gray shirt and looked at the script under the sun. He looked no different from an ordinary person.

However, there was a very depressing black, white, and gray tone in his office. Moreover, there were many magnified photos of the actress in the movie on the wall. Some were back, some were legs...

Harry stood up when he saw Arya. He stared at Arya's neck and said, "Your shoulder lines are very good! I will get the clothing team to prepare some clothes that can expose your collarbones."

"Welcome."

He showed a very satisfied smile to Arya, "Okay, let's talk about signing the contract!"

"As for Clarissa's invitation, when I was talking to Director Bieber about working with him, I mentioned that you are also an actress. I didn't expect him to happen to know that Clarissa needed a female lead, so he recommended you to her."

"I only received this invitation letter last night. I also told them clearly that you might work with Harry, but they said that they were willing to wait for today's negotiation results."

"If Director Harry didn't go overboard today, we have another choice."

"Yes, and it was also because we met Michel just now..." Allen nodded and said.

Because of him, Michel's self-esteem should have been trampled again.

"Michel is not the only one who will be angry now, and even Harry will be very angry."

"He dares to look at you like that. I really wanted to hit him when I was in the office." Allen's tone was cold. When he thought of the undisguised desire in Harry's eyes, he wanted to dig his eyes out.

"My manager is really good. He can take every aspect into consideration."

Allen did not say much. This matter had developed to this stage. It was more or less due to luck. In this circle, it needed a little luck to really make a big name for himself.

"Let's go to Clarissa's studio now."

Arya nodded, but her gaze was fixed on the distant street scene. Everything that had happened today had changed too quickly. For a moment, she found it hard to accept. Perhaps it was because Allen had arranged everything by himself. She could walk out of the cast and see Clarissa so easily.

After she suddenly became quiet, she slowly said, "Allen, I thought I had the right to stand by your side. But today I realized that my horizons are still very far from yours. There are many things that I need to do. You have already considered it, but I don't have any thoughts at all."

"Finding more and better resources for you and bringing you to a higher stage is my responsibility, but whether or not you can shine brightly on the stage is your ability. I wanted to tell you as well, but because things have been piling up recently and you are facing an important meeting and signing a contract, I don't want you to be distracted and affect your performance."

Chapter 320 Wherever You Are, I Will Be There

Allen held Arya's hand for a long time before he reluctantly let go, "I will definitely accompany you to see the scenery here next time."

"Yes, there will be a chance. I will be back soon." Arya comforted him. She knew Allen well. If he could get rid of it, he would not hesitate.

At this moment, she chose to support him silently.

"It's nearby. Call me if you need anything."

Allen contacted the hotel and sent two bodyguards to protect Arya.

In fact, Arya did not go far. There was a good view of the street beside the hotel. She could also buy some small gifts. It had been a long time since she had such a leisurely time. She sat on the side of the street and quietly drank a cup of coffee. She watched the passers-by come and go.

However, when Arya got up and was about to go back to the hotel, she found that there were a few people not far away who were looking at her and that expression was very strange.

She did not continue to turn around. Instead, she went straight back to the hotel. Allen and Martin were still busy, so she went back to her bedroom to read a magazine.

This time, the person who took pictures of Arya was not someone from the Captureit Studio, but someone sent by Michel.

Their goal was not to take photos of Arya having a date with a man, but to take photos of Arya alone. They would then ask Michel to take photos at the same place and use the P-diagram technology and light to process them, making them look like they had agreed to go shopping together.

This kind of photo that did not appear at the same time could easily make people's imagination run wild. In the entertainment circle, many couples who had not been made public expressed their feelings like this.

Allen rejected him so much to follow them, so he had to stir up some trouble.

Moreover, he specially chose the same flight tonight.

When Allen saw Michel at the airport registration entrance, he was not surprised because he allowed Michel to know all the information that Michel wanted to know. Otherwise, Michel would not be able to find out anything.

"Director Jones, are you taking this flight as well? We are fated." Michel said with a faint smile.

"Whether it's fate or you doing it on purpose, you know it yourself." Allen looked at the newspaper and replied coldly.

Allen wanted to know what Michel wanted to do after spending so much time checking their flight and taking pictures of Arya.
