Chapter 321 Same Intention

"What about the boss? He didn't believe the news, did he?" This was what Luna was most worried about. It would not be good if someone like Michel could affect Arya and Allen's relationship.

"No."

Arya was very sure about this.

Allen had always been by her side, but it did not affect her communication with Luna. At times like this, he would always give Arya enough personal space.

"When I saw the news, I was really scared to death. Fortunately, Dahua's public relations skills were fast enough. It's just that there should still be some time before they can calm down..."

After Luna told Arya all the information she had gathered, she repeatedly told Arya not to quarrel with Allen.

Arya smiled and agreed. After hanging up the phone, she asked Allen, "Did you know he would do this in advance?"

Allen frowned slightly. His tone was sharp. "Do you think I know?"

"I don't know." Arya also knew that she should not have asked so directly, but in their relationship, she would never hide anything, so if she had anything to say, she would immediately say it.

"Arya, I also hope that I can predict everything, but that is impossible."

"I understand that you are always thinking for me and for me, but recently these things have progressed too quickly. I must ask clearly to be able to keep up with your footsteps... Allen, I did not do it on purpose."

Arya explained in a low voice.

As soon as she finished speaking, her hand was covered by Allen's warm palm. "It's okay. As long as we are husband and wife, no one can shake us."

"I don't care what outsiders think, but at least I want to give the same answer as you and want to keep up with your footsteps."

The boredom in Allen's heart dissipated because of Arya's explanation. He could not help hugging Arya tightly. "It's because I didn't protect you well. If I had known that Michel would do this, I would not have let him get off the plane."

"I really want to stand out and speak up for Arya. Those passerby anti-fans' words are really unpleasant to hear. I really feel sorry for them."

"Sigh, it's very uncomfortable. I'm about to cry."

Arya saw that everyone supported and trusted her so she immediately sent a hug emoji with Luna's account and said, "Everyone, don't worry. Everything will be fine."

Arya's Fans Group had always been very united. Everyone would always comfort each other. When they first saw this sentence, no one paid attention. Later on, someone reacted.

"Wait, the one who spoke just now was Arya's assistant?"

"Hey, Sister Luna, how is Arya?"

"Is she feeling very uncomfortable?"

Arya looked at the screen and typed a few words very seriously, "I'm fine. Don't worry, everyone."

Her answer immediately aroused the fervent discussion of the fans. Almost instantly, this sentence was overshadowed by the comments of the fans.

"I didn't see wrongly, right? She said that I'm good?"

"Sister Luna, are you okay? Are you too worried about Arya and already started to talk nonsense?"

Arya looked at everyone's guess and smiled as she typed, "Thank you for your support and trust in me. I can tell you very responsibly that I am not familiar with Michel at all and the company is also actively handling this matter. If anyone continues to spread rumors, you can tear them apart!"

"She has moved to my house. I will take good care of her." Raul answered as if he was making a promise. Arya was really happy for Serena when she heard this news. As for the other questions, let them handle it themselves. Sometimes, only the person involved in love had the right to speak. "Then I won't disturb you guys." Serena saw Raul hang up the phone and asked anxiously, "What did she say?" "She said she won't disturb us." Then he tidied up the suitcase and put it away, "Is there anything left?" Serena shook her head. She looked at Raul and did not speak. She paused for a dozen seconds before she said, "If there really is something that has fallen, then... That's you. " "Sleep in my room tonight..." He turned around and put down his suitcase and held Serena's hand. "Before I leave, I will be your pillow. You don't think you will leave me at home."

After Arya put down her phone, she saw that Allen was still reading documents in the study room. She knocked on the door lightly. "Are you still busy?"

Allen shook his head and beckoned for her to come over. He held her in his arms, "Why aren't you asleep yet?"

"I just talked to Serena. She is with Raul."

"That's good. Haven't you always wanted to matchmake them? Now you can rest assured."

Arya nodded and smiled. She closed the documents on the table. "It's too late. If the documents are not urgent, we will deal with them tomorrow."

"Okay, I will listen to your opinion."

The two of them held hands and walked into the bedroom.

Chapter 324 Dropped The Price To Frame An Actress?

This time, a few of the actors were the most popular actors in Dahua. When they were interviewed by the reporters, they were more or less asked about Arya and Allen.

In the face of a question that had nothing to do with the plot, the young beauties of Dahua did not show any displeasure. Instead, they answered generously, "We believe in Director Jones and Arya."

The reporters were unable to find any information, so they all gave up.

On the other side, Allen deliberately did not go through the special passageway. Instead, he openly prepared to leave through the main entrance. This gave the reporters a chance to attack him.

"Director Jones, please accept our interview!"

Allen saw that the reporters did not dare to ask directly, so he guided them to ask, "What do you want to interview?"

The reporters realized that this might be the best time to interview Allen, because he actually answered the reporters! Hence, someone mustered up the courage to ask, "Now, there are people online saying that Arya and Michel are dating and that you and Arya are close. Could it be that you two are really in a triangular relationship?"

"I don't think it's meaningful even if I answer this question. I won't answer the rumors."

These two words determined the nature of all the news on the Internet!

The reporters immediately realized that Allen wanted to clarify for Arya. They all handed the microphones over. "Then how is Arya's situation now? How did she react when she saw those pictures online?"

"Arya is very calm because she is not familiar with Michel."

It was rare for Allen to talk about the artists of Dahua, and in his words, he was very protective of Arya.

They were not the kind of people who liked to hype things up. It was rare for them to be able to explain.

Allen had rarely mentioned Arya in public, let alone in such a situation today. However, his two simple sentences had already clarified Arya and drew a line between Arya and Michel.

"In other words, Arya was not affected by this matter?"

"What can a person who has nothing to do with her say to affect her?" Allen asked.

His friends were dumbfounded. They had never thought that Michel would have such a skill. Now, it was time to see how Allen would respond.

In order to increase the authenticity of this photo, Michel had asked many people to post a link to this composite photo on the Internet. However, they couldn't see it yet. The moment he announced it, it was enough to make everyone believe him.

Michel would go to the scene and see for himself how Allen and Arya defended themselves.

He had just walked out of the hotel and was about to go to the press conference when the Winston family found him and brought him to Santiago.

Seeing such a disappointing son, Santiago was so angry that he almost vomited blood.

"Bastard, look at your own strength. Go and fight with Allen Jones? You overestimate yourself!"

"Heh, in your eyes, am I that inferior to him?"

"He pushed Dahua to their current position step by step, relying on his strength! What about you? What have you done for the Skywings? You only know how to pick up girls and drink alcohol all day long!"

"Dad, don't look down on me like that."

"I'm old. How long can I wipe your butt for?"

Just because of Santiago's words, Michel's anger was completely ignited.

He threatened, "I want you to see today that Allen is nothing in front of me!"

Then Michel slammed the door and left. He had had enough of these sulks. Didn't he just say a few words to an actress? Why did everyone blame him? It was just a woman who had been slept with by countless people. He was just playing around. What was the matter?

He had actually made two companies fall out with each other for her alone, breaking the balance between them?

Ridiculous!

He stepped on the gas pedal and drove towards the Dahua. Wasn't it just a press conference? Of course, he wanted to be there to see how angry Allen was.

"Everyone, the owner of this manor will come to the scene in a moment, but we can confirm that this Raul knocked on the table and said in a serious voice, "Now I can tell everyone that Michel's exposed

As soon as Raul finished speaking, everyone looked at the photos. They had been doing this for a long time. Although the Photographer was very professional, it was not easy to escape the eyes of so many reporters. In addition, it was too obvious when compared with the original photos.

Fake, it was always fake.

"Alright. I believe everyone has already found the answer to the authenticity of this picture. Arya and Michel have no relationship at all. So, have they gotten to know each other and went shopping overseas?"

Raul continued to play the photos of Michel's personal accounts on the screen.

"Although these photos were taken at the same place and Arya's back, using these to prove a date is too far-fetched."

Michel's expression changed subtly. He snorted rudely. "Is this also fake?"

These photos were all with him. There was no way he could compare them.

"CEO Winston, when you took these photos, did you not expect the locals to see it?"

"Locals? I'm afraid that the Dahua spent money to bribe them, right? I also regret it now. I actually fell in love with a shameless slut like Arya. That's why I was fooled by the Dahua."

Raul shook his head at Michel. He turned to the big screen and pressed the remote control.

This time, there was a video on the screen that had been processed at an accelerated speed. However, he could clearly see that Arya had been alone since she had started shopping and returned to the hotel.

Chapter 327 Official Announcement

This data is pretty amazing. Especially since Allen was not a celebrity, no team would try to hype up his popularity.

Many people were Arya's fans, and some of them were their CP fans. Everyone was curious. What was the purpose of Allen, who had always kept a low profile and cold, opening this account?

Just as everyone kept refreshing his personal page, a new update appeared!

He released a picture. It was a picture of him leaving the scene with Arya after the Dahua Annual Banquet ended. At that time, the stars were twinkling in the night sky. He walked down the stairs. Arya wrapped her arms around his shoulders and leaned into his arms. He lowered his head and looked at her. His eyes were filled with tenderness.

There were two words in the picture, "To each other."

Was this considered an official announcement?

Allen had used two words and a photo to almost paralyze the entire website. All the netizens on the Internet were so excited that they went crazy!

"They made it public. It's a pair!"

"Wow, this is so romantic. I want to have a boyfriend like this too! Quick, take a screenshot and make a wallpaper!"

"Who can be as lucky as Arya to let the best man in the entertainment industry become Exclusive Broker and intimate lover? That's simply too cool!"

"Sorry, can you guys get married immediately?"

"She's already married like this. That annoying second generation ancestor is too ridiculous."

"Tell me, I am not the only one who thinks they are a perfect match!"

"I also think that the two of them are a perfect match!"

"When they were advertising at WM, they would definitely... That is no longer important as long as you two are together forever!"

Arya was lying on the bed doing the facial mask. When Luna saw the news, she immediately called her excitedly, "Arya, why didn't you tell me beforehand? I am so excited now and I am not prepared at all. "

She took off the facial mask and said,

He didn't want to see his life's work die here. At least, after leaving it to Allen, the Skywings would be able to stay in this world in a new way.

"Business is business. To me, this is a good business that I won't lose out." Allen said to Santiago.

However, the directors of Skywings couldn't sit still when they heard what Allen said.

"Director Jones, you can't do this!"

"Why not? Do we need someone to agree to a legitimate business deal?" Allen looked at them coldly,
"This is a business between me and the president of Skywings. If you want to stop it, you have to have the right to speak first. Do you have the right?"

"Or do you doubt my ability? Do you think that the Skywings will collapse after selling it to me?"

Allen's forceful rhetorical question made the directors speechless. They hoped that Michel would come out and cause a ruckus to stop this deal. However, that prodigal was nowhere to be found.

"Director Jones, I'll entrust the Skywings to you."

"I hope you won't regret it."

Santiago was not worried about this. As a competitive company, he had studied the data of the Dahua in detail for the past five years. It could be said that since Allen took over, the Dahua had been completely reborn. He believed in this world, this man was the only person who could help the Skywings rise to the next level. If Allen couldn't do it, it could only mean that the Skywings was on the verge of death just like him.

As for his son...

Santiago's heart was filled with pain and regret. He couldn't control Michel for the rest of his life.

Allen held the contract and did not say anything else. He just left the ward with the hope that Santiago had placed on him.

After the Dahua held a press conference to clarify the incident of Arya's photo, Allen officially announced his relationship with Arya. Then, there were rumors that according to someone who knew about it, the Dahua was going to purchase the Skywings in the near future.

Once this news was released, the higher-ups of the Skywings had also issued an official notice within the company. Even if the company was sold to the Dahua, they would not fire anyone.

Who Are You?

Director Brown held onto the script and stood up. He wasn't expecting Caroline's acting would improve so quickly. At the start, he was hesitant about it but gave in to the pressure of Brilliant Entertainment and invited her for the audition. He's heart was filled with unwillingness.

However, Caroline's performance had exceeded his expectations. Her acting was more than anyone could ask for to succeed in being a leading actress.

The director looked at Arya with a satisfied expression. He signaled his assistant to continue with the audition as Arya was about to step down from the stage.

Then someone suddenly shouted from backstage, "Caroline Bennett is going to act a crying scene? What a big joke."

Everyone turned to where the voice was from and saw the leading lady of the movie, Gloria. She walked out and pointed at Arya, who was stunned, stood in the middle of the stage, "I'm definite you're not Caroline. You must be an actress that she hired. I really want to see who you are behind the mask."

"Gloria, don't make things up. Careful of your words or I'll sue you for defamation!" Kayden instantly came in front of Arya as he had a bad feeling.

"You're going to sue me for defamation? We'll see! Let her take off her mask so everyone can see if she really is Caroline."

"Caroline's sickness is very serious, so if she takes off her mask, people with her in the studio will catch her virus. We definitely don't want that to happen, we're not that selfish." Kayden argued.

"If you don't have the courage, then don't, but don't give me such a lousy excuse." Gloria's lips curled in disdain. "Do you really think that everyone here is an idiot who doesn't have any basic medical knowledge?"

Kayden said, and then Arya walked towards him. He could only give Arya a signal with his glance not to take off her mask under

No one would have thought that Santiago would suddenly die.

Although the two companies were in a competitive relationship, Santiago was still an acquaintance of the Jones Family. Due to the bigger picture, Allen decided to go with Arya to take a look. No matter how many conflicts they had in the past, the person had already passed away.

Arya followed behind Allen and walked into Santiago's ward. At this time, the shareholders of Skywings rushed over. The atmosphere in the ward was very depressing.

When Michel saw Allen enter the ward, he immediately wanted to rush over but was stopped by the bodyguards.

He pointed at Allen. "I won't let you go! Now my dad is dead. My family's company is yours. Are you satisfied?"

Arya did not expect Michel to not know how to repent at this point.

"What's the point of continuing this? You indirectly killed him!"

"What did you say?"

"Santiago had a heart attack. He has been working hard for the Skywings for so many years, and he still wants to clean up the mess for you, a prodigal. But what about you?"

"When he needs you to accompany and take care of him, you only know how to spend money and wine. Have you ever thought about the Skywings? If you hadn't caused so much trouble recently, he wouldn't have suffered so much. "

"Why would your father rather sell the Skywings to the Dahua than leave it for you? Think about it yourself!"

"Without the Skywings and your father, you will have nothing left."

Would his friends still care about him?
