

Love Of A Billionaire

Chapter 34

Chapter 34 Don't Ever Doubt Tha

While Arya and Allen were enjoying their dinner, somewhere in the hotel Luna received a call from Daniel.

"What do you want?" Luna snapped when she answered the call. If Arya was not under contract with Brilliant Entertainment, she would have definitely blocked his calls.

"You ..." Daniel concealed his anger and asked, "Is Arya still in the production?"

"Of course, my Arya is very dedicated to her work, unlike some female celebrities who can't act and is too busy dining and socializing. Oh and also only relying on their looks ... actually maybe not only looks."

"I don't have time to talking to you. Pass the phone over to Arya."

Luna pursed her lips, she was tempted to tell him about Allen, but Arya didn't want to broadcast their relationship yet. She cleared her throat and perfunctorily said, "Arya went to get changed. We have a scene with the director later so she doesn't have time to speak with Director Daniel tonight."

With that said, Luna hung up.

"I'm sure it's because of the scandal. I'm not going to give you the chance to ruin Arya's date!"

Daniel tried to contact Arya but was not able to her through. He sat in his office late into the night, unable to sit still. The news of him and Caroline video continued to circulate as top three headlines on the internet.

"Damn it, what are the people in Public Relations doing?" He was so angry, he pushed the papers away on his desk.

His phone kept flashing with many messages. All the messages were from Caroline which he ignored.

Picking up his jacket, he headed directly for the nightclub.

He needed to have a time out and relieve the stress.

...

Compared to Daniel's anxiousness, Arya had a peaceful night. She had a peaceful night. She curled up on the sofa and sighed, "It's so nice being here, holding your hand and cuddling with you ..."

Without any worried about the paparazzi taking photos or creating any news in tabloids.

"We can take it back." They got closer and closer. He was hoping Arya could hear his heart beating for her. He seductively suggested, "As soon as you agree, I'll immediately make our marriage public."

It was not easy for him to leave this decision to Arya to decide but he did anyway.

"You're going to spoil me like this." Arya said without hesitation, "Now I know what is it means to feel touched and what true love is."

In the past, it wasn't easy for easy for her to feel moved, it took quite an effort but this man clearly spoilt her like his princess.

"If I don't spoil you, who else am I going to spoil?"

Allen held her hand and said sincerely, "I want to disclose our relationship more than ever, but I am certain as long as we cherish each other, our lives will be the happiest in this life time."

Arya raised her head and looked at him. "I didn't expect a man of your status and position to feel this way about a marriage. I thought you ..."

"What do you take me for?" Allen narrowed his eyes and pressed his lips onto Arya's again. "I'm yours. Don't ever doubt that."

Arya closed her eyes in happiness. To have him by her side was definitely enough.