

Love Of A Billionaire

Chapter 38

Chapter 38 Old Tricks

“Don’t scare me like that, I’m so busy racking my brain every day, trying to find a way to protect you and the baby. No matter what choice I make, remember I am doing this for you.” Daniel sighed, as much as he really wanted Morrison Family’s inheritance, perhaps Caroline was right, maybe Morrison Family did not care about Arya at all.

If he gave up on Caroline that would be one decision he’d regret for rest of his life.

“Daniel, I trust you, you must believe in me as well. As long as all three of us are together, we can get through any difficulties.” Caroline filled with happiness hugged Daniel.

Daniel found it that this matter was not easily solved; he sat on the sofa and said, “I originally wanted you to win the award for the supporting actress of ‘The Evening’ so that you would have the qualification to compete for the title of movie queen. Now the video has been messed everything up, the nominations will definitely be affected. I’ll have someone to meet the judges to see if anything can be done.”

“I’ll leave the nomination for the movie queen to you, but as for Arya, you have to agree what I say. Otherwise, she will destroy Brilliant Entertainment on way or another.”

“But …”

If Arya made a comeback, with her former reputation, she would be able to regain her peak of popularity in no time. Caroline, on the other hand, would be pushed down from her top actress position to the bottom in Brilliant Entertainment.

“If you allow Arya to return to acting, she’ll definitely take revenge on me. When that time comes, I won’t be able to protect our baby.” Caroline continued saying, “We can only have stay hidden. After this movie, you can’t give her any chance to act. After two to three years, her popularity will disappear and people will have forgotten about her.”

“If she becomes the top actress in Brilliant Entertainment, who knows what she’ll do!”

Caroline’s concern was reasonable. Daniel had taken advantage of Arya many times in order to protect Caroline’s reputation. If Arya really did regain her popularity to its peak, she would definitely not give a damn about him. If the relationship between him and Caroline were revealed, it would be difficult to solve.

“Alright, I’ll listen to you.”

“Have Arya complete frozen. Do you give her a chance to act in shows or commercials. Sooner or later, she will disappear from the entertainment industry.”

Caroline leaned on Daniel’s chest, coquettishly persuading, “By going this far, the three of us can live happily. I’m doing this for you.”

Daniel remained silent. He was calculating how he should proceed it in his head. If he really was to abandon Arya, then he would have to make a through decision and cut her off with no chance of her ever making an appearance again in showbiz. Once it was in motion, he would have to block all her opportunities.

Daniel was decided to let Arya be Caroline’s stepping stone. In the morning, the following day, he issued a notice to inform the production team to temporarily suspend Arya’s filming under the name of Brilliant Entertainment. No explanation was given.

Arya saw Director Brown’s troubled expression, while Luna furious.

“I won’t delay the production so I’ll go back to the company and analyze the situation.” Arya said calmly.

Thinking these were mostly Caroline’s ideas, she had a thought Daniel would pull a stunt like this. Since he couldn’t persuade her to refuse the role, he used the company’s name to stop her.

“I’ll adjust the scenes to be filmed and wait for your return.” Director Brown knew that Arya had met with trouble. In this industry, there would always be people who would be doing something to cause trouble for others.

Arya took Luna out of the studio; they got in the car and headed directly to Brilliant Entertainment.

“Arya, I’ve checked yesterday, Daniel went to Caroline’s apartment and stayed there overnight. They are up to their old tricks again.” Luna said angrily.

“Luckily you met Allen, otherwise that scumbag, Daniel would have ruined your life.”

She thought of how Arya was used and bullied by them in the past. If it wasn’t for Arya, would Caroline be able to have today’s reputation and status?
