

Love OAB 381

Chapter 381 No Explanation Required

Soon, Allen showed Arya the script of the new play.

The movie was called "Dark Night Fanatic." It described an empty era. An arrogant and unruly prince wandered among the people and learned a lot of good skills. In the end, he returned to the Imperial Palace and unified the country. Arya was going to play the part. It was a little beggar who had been his companion when he had been wandering among the people, a woman disguised as a man, and died in order to save him.

This...

A woman disguised as a man, or a beggar?

Most importantly, Arya noticed that the male lead had already been decided.

"Is it really him? I will have a lot of pressure when I play with him."

Of course Allen knew this. "It's true that he took on this movie. I chose this movie because he is there."

That man had always been arrogant. He did not take anyone seriously, but he was good at acting.

Arya acting with him was equivalent to sharpening her acting skills.

The moment Arya and Allen looked at each other, she understood what he meant, "Alright, I'll act."

Because of the audition incident, Arya's audition video was crazily reposted by netizens. Although she proved her acting skills, some people would think that it was too much because some fans would praise Arya very highly. Some media would also exaggerate the facts and write some flowery words to describe it.

This way, it would inevitably cause some people to dislike it.

Back then, Caroline was ruined at this step.

Furthermore, in order to increase the click rate, some media had even put Arya's name together with many big shot actors, which indirectly created a lot of enemies for Arya.

After that, Director Chen's studio announced that Rebecca became the female lead of "Red Morning Sun." The outside world was already full of rumors. This role was rejected by Arya in front of everyone. But now, they had no choice but to choose the second best Rebecca.

Chapter 382 New Assistant

Could it be that the Jones Family would really allow an actress to enter?

Or could it be that Arya was already pregnant and they were getting married?

No matter which it was, it made Georgia's mood very bad.

She directly threw the box away and sat on the sofa in anger. As the daughter of Morrison Family, she had always disdained to be associated with people in the entertainment industry. Now that she wanted to ask about the truth of this matter, she could only ask Katherine.

Thinking like this, she dialed Katherine's number.

The last time they left the Morrison Family, they had exchanged numbers. It was just that for the proud Georgia, she would not take the initiative to contact the other party for coffee.

Katherine could also see that Georgia did not like her, so she did not thicken her skin to contact her.

After receiving Georgia's call, Katherine was also stunned.

"I just want to ask if you know the people in the entertainment industry. Can you find if Arya and the CEO of Dahua are getting married?"

"Marry?" Katherine would never have thought that Georgia would say this.

"What's wrong? Is there a problem?" Georgia keenly sensed that there was something in Katherine's words.

"A few months ago, the Jones Family wanted me to marry Allen Jones. How could an actress marry him in such a short time?" Katherine only said this and did not mention that she was randomly selected by Allen.

She did not lie.

Allen really wanted to marry her. It was only because she was late that this matter was put on hold.

"So that's the case. Then please take good care of your man. If someone finds out that your man was taken away by an actress, where will the Smith family put their face?"

"If Arya needs this, you and Luna can stay at the same time." Allen said from the side.

As the president of Dahua, he had the right to give the artistes freedom.

Moreover, there were quite a number of artistes in Dahua who had two assistants.

Louisa excitedly held Arya's hand and carefully looked at Allen. Indeed, it was Arya who could hold a man like Allen.

"I will ask Raul to show you Arya's recent work arrangements and relevant information. You should get started as soon as possible."

"Okay, I promise to complete the task!"

The next morning, Louisa wore casual clothes to report to Arya and Allen's house. As Arya's special assistant, she naturally had to accompany Arya from morning to night. Her phone was also on standby 24 hours a day.

Seeing her wearing glasses and looking serious, she really looked like an assistant.

"Miss Arya, morning. I am your temporary special assistant, Louisa!"

"Yes, good morning." Arya saw that she could recover now. Her body could still be so healthy. She was happy for her from the bottom of her heart.

Arya looked at the time, "I'll go change my clothes. You can walk around by yourself first."

Louisa nodded and put down the documents in her hands. She stood in the living room and looked at Arya and Allen's love nest. When they took the WM commercial together, the back view photos were hung at the most conspicuous place.

"That's good..." Louisa stood in front of the photos and could not help but praise, "Seeing you guys are so happy, we fans can enjoy your PDA in peace."

"In the end, she was late." Allen's expression was very cold. "The situation is that simple."

Raul nodded. He had already heard about this plot from Serena, so he smiled and said, "Then, it should have come from the Smith family."

Allen shook his head lightly. He stood up and said, "Not necessarily."

This incident happened right after he gave a gift to the Morrison Family. It was too much of a coincidence. Moreover, Mr. Smith clearly knew about the situation on his side, so why would they do something that was equivalent to asking for humiliation?

It couldn't be justified...

"Then what do you mean?"

"I think this matter has something to do with the member of Morrison Family. After I sent someone to the Morrison Family, there was such news. Maybe the Morrison Family found out from somewhere that I might have married Katherine."

"What is the purpose of the Morrison Family doing this?" Raul did not understand.

To prevent Arya and Allen from getting married?

Arya was a member of the Morrison Family. If she married Allen, it would be beneficial to the Morrison Family. There was no reason for them to do so.

Allen's eyes turned dark. "Maybe they misunderstood what I meant. They thought I was just going to get married to Arya. They didn't know that I was already married to her. They did this to provoke me."

This matter had caused a huge commotion in the entertainment industry.

Everyone's gaze towards Arya had changed. They felt that she would never be able to enter the Jones Family's door and would end up in a situation where both men and women had nothing to do with each other.

When Allen officially married, he would kick her away. There would no longer be a place for her in the entertainment circle.

Louisa followed closely behind. Allen arranged for the driver to take her back, and he directly took Arya to the limited-edition Maybach.

When they walked out of the set, the two supporting actors happened to see it. They were extremely shocked.

"Didn't they break up?"

"Such intimate actions definitely didn't break up!"

They watched the car leave from afar. They lowered their heads and walked into the set. No one had the confidence to provoke the Dahua.

Otherwise, it would be the same as not being able to continue working in the entertainment circle.

"The crew said so?" Allen's tone was a little cold. It was not to Arya, but to think that what those people did was too much.

"No..." Arya shook her head.

"Yes."

Allen replied. His eyes were filled with gloom and anger. He was trying his best to control it, but he wanted someone to anger him.

"Do you have any clues about this now?" Arya turned her head to look at Allen. "I feel that it doesn't seem like what Katherine did."

She had seen Katherine once. Although she was an arrogant Noble Miss, she would not do something so brainless. She was first late. After that, Allen and Arya got married, and Katherine became one. Even if she did not love herself anymore, she would not joke about the Smith family's reputation because she knew better than anyone that Allen did not like her.

If the news was really released by the Smith family, what's the difference between that and seeking death?

Then...

It's not hard to find a suspicious candidate.

"I will handle this matter. Can you not ask?" Allen really did not want to say who the most suspicious person was. He knew that if Arya found out that the Morrison Family was playing tricks behind the scenes, she would definitely not be able to take the blow.

The assistant lowered her head and no longer spoke for Georgia.

"Georgia..." Old Master Morrison looked at the endless river and shook his head, "Greed is the most taboo thing for businessmen. The more she cannot let go of something, the more her heart will turn into a knot. If the Morrison Family is handed over to her, it will not be good..."

"Miss Arya will never do that. She has always tolerated it and is very smart. She knows how to protect herself under the disadvantage, so she..." After leaving the Morrison Family, the assistant did not dare to say the second half of the sentence and lowered her head even more.

Old Master Morrison shook his head. It was all the sins of his previous life. Why did these children have to pay it back?

With the help of the assistant, he got into the car and rushed to the Morrison Family.

After Allen finished dealing with this matter, he held another video conference. When he walked into the bedroom, he saw Arya sitting at the head of the bed reading a book.

Allen walked over and coincidentally Arya turned another page. She looked very quiet.

"What are you looking at?"

"It's a novel. It's quite interesting. Are you done with your work?" Arya put down the book and held Allen's hand. "Then let's rest. I'm tired."

"Okay." Allen was touched. Normally, no matter how busy he was acting, Arya did not say anything about being tired. But today...

After she washed up, she hid in Allen's arms and slept soundly.

Allen watched her fall asleep, but he did not plan to publicize their marriage at tomorrow's meeting. He wanted to know if the Morrison Family and the Smith family still had any tricks up their sleeves that they had yet to use.

"I really want to say one thing. All of the main founders of our production today are handsome men and beautiful women. Does everyone agree?"

The reporters clapped their hands and cheered. The atmosphere in the venue was very lively.

After that, the host started to ask random questions. When he asked Arya, the host chose a very simple question. "Arya, we all really want to know why you chose to play this role."

"This..." Arya picked up the microphone and smiled at the audience. "Because of my manager, Mr. Allen Jones."

"Oh? Because of Director Jones?"

Arya nodded. "He always knows what I want during work. What I need the most right now is what he gave me. When he gave me the script, I fell in love with this role immediately. I feel like I want to act."

"I didn't think that you two would have such tacit understanding. Then will Director Jones be in charge of all your work?" The host asked again, "Because he has several positions. I wonder if he will be slacking off."

Arya shook her head without thinking. "Ever since he became my manager, he will look through all my work arrangements and make suggestions. He is a very outstanding manager."

"This evaluation is really high. Then can we ask our staff to give Director Jones a microphone and give me some time to interview Director Jones?"

The host gave the staff a look.

The staff immediately took the microphone. At this time, of course, they had to work hard to interview him and ask him a few more questions.

Katherine's words continued to ferment the matter.

The person involved had already stood up to speak. This matter shouldn't be fake, right? The reporters were very curious about how Allen would respond!

Because Katherine had made it clear to the outside world that she and Allen were indeed close to getting married. It was just that she didn't explain too much about the details.

This way, the reporters felt that this melon was even bigger!

Noble Miss should be the only one. Better than an actress? What was going on? An actress wanted to take over their relationship. Such a statement was even more convincing.

The news spread like a storm, but Arya was still acting for her role in the Memory Fragment production crew. In the last few scenes, she had never been afraid of filming again. She did not have any complaints about the gloomy filming site, especially when filming her main scene, she needed her entire body to soak in the bathtub. In the several degrees below zero weather, she did not complain about hardship.

"Arya is really a very professional actress. I have never seen a star like her who is neither spoiled nor angry. She clearly has such a good background but she is still so willing to suffer."

"I still remember the scene where she fell out of the car the last time..."

Everyone felt that when "Memory Fragment" was released, Arya would definitely become famous! She would be ranked among the top actresses in the country.

Because she always had a heart that wanted to maintain a perfect standard!

James stood beside them. After hearing these objective comments, he nodded in agreement. "Her career will be wider and wider."

"James, this is the first time we've heard you praise an actor." they said, laughing.

"I think it's not that James doesn't praise people, but he has never met an actor like Arya who is professional and hardworking and deserves his praise."

A few more people joined the discussion. "So I feel that those reporters outside have nothing to do and always use other people's private life and feelings as articles. Our production crew has been watching helplessly these few months. Who is Arya? She can't interfere with other people's feelings!"

Chapter 389 The Public Relation Methods Of Dahua

Soon, the Public Relations Department and Dahua's Secretariat Department kept receiving calls from the reporters. All the employees of the Dahua were blocked by the reporters and kept asking questions.

"Is Arya the mistress who ruined their relationship?"

"Is there a possibility that Mr. Allen Jones and Miss Smith can reconcile?"

"Who is Allen's bride-to-be?"

All of these questions revealed a view from the outside world. Arya was the third brother!

However, the Dahua did not respond to the reporters' interrogation. It was not that they did not dare to say anything, but that they did not have anything to say.

Raul had already been transferred out of Artist Director's position, but because of the sudden incident and Martin's absence, this task fell upon him once again.

When the reporters heard that Raul was in charge of public relations for the news this time, they immediately chased after him. He did not even have the time to have a meal with Serena.

In the end, Raul could not even drive out of the parking lot.

He had no choice but to get out of the car and tell the reporters, "What do you guys want to ask? If it's true, Dahua will naturally respond."

"Do you mean that Katherine is directing and acting on her own?"

"Please tell her to pay attention to her words and actions."

"Then have they ever been in love?"

"What I know is that Director Jones doesn't know her." Raul felt that the reporters had been misled by Katherine.

"Since they don't know each other, why are they close? Furthermore, if they don't have anything to do with each other, why did Katherine say those words publicly?"

"Everyone, please stop chasing this news because there is no way to expose it. This is what happened.

Arya's relationship went very smoothly. Please leave some private space for them."

"This is the last time we will respond to this news. Please stop here, or else you will bear the consequences."

After saying that, Raul returned to his office in a relaxed manner.

The reporters returned to their cars and started to organize the press release.

Soon, news about Katherine spread like crazy on the Internet. It turned out that she and Allen had no relationship with the outside world. Everything was her own doing!

"Isn't this seeking death? Allen doesn't know her at all."

"What rich family's daughter? She doesn't know how to take care of herself. She knows that the two of them love each other very much, but she still sends such an outrageous message."

"Is she jealous of Arya? Arya got a career and love. I heard that she publicly expressed her disdain for the career of an actress in many occasions."

"She probably has a mine at home. She thinks that she can go to heaven and earth with money."

"Friends, I heard by chance that our Arya's background is also very strong. It's just that she has always relied on her own strength and has never relied on her family."

At this time, Katherine's father also saw the news under the secretary's reminder.

He immediately drove home and fiercely gripped the newspaper. For so many years, he had never lost his temper with his daughter. But today, he was completely enraged.

This was not a war initiated by those people outside. His daughter came up to it herself!

"Give me an explanation. What are you doing outside every day?" Mr. Smith snapped.
