

Love Of A Billionaire

Chapter 39

Chapter 39 Must be Courting Death

“I was naïve back then. I was deceived by his deception. From now on, I won’t let them continue and will never let them succeed.” Arya looked at the Hot Search list on her phone and sneered.

In order to make Caroline the movie queen, Daniel is doing whatever he can. Now, he has finally decided to give up on her!

Since he was heartless to her, she would not be kind to him either.

“Luna, prepare a backup of my contract with Brilliant, we may need it soon.” Arya leaned against the seat of the car. Just when was she closing her eyes, Luna’s phone rang.

“It’s Daniel, what do you want me to do?” Luna asked.

“Answer it.” There is no point in avoiding him now, she also wanted to know how Daniel was going to scheme against her.

Luna answered the phone. After saying a few words, she shouted, “No way! I definitely will not allow Arya’s comeback to be managed by another person. Daniel, don’t go overboard!”

She hung up the phone angrily and turned to Arya and said, “They’re changing your manager, her name is Julia. She was the one who contacted the production team and suspended all your other films. Daniel announced in the company’s name you are temporarily not taking on any other projects. He also tried contacting the production team of ‘The Evening’ to change you role to fewer scenes. He is obviously trying to unilaterally ban you.”

Regardless, Arya had indeed signed a contract with Brilliant Entertainment.

It was impossible for her to take on any projects without Daniel’s permission. Even if she has an ongoing project, he could still take away all opportunities Arya had with a single sentence.

Back then, if she hadn’t foolishly trusted Daniel and voluntarily retired, would ha have used this despicable method to force her to retire?

“Would you like to have Caroline’s pregnancy report made public? Let them know they shouldn’t mess with you!” Luna was enraged, but she also felt even more upset for Arya.

She had sacrificed so much for Brilliant and even if there was no merit, she had put in a lot of physical labor. Daniel was able to ignore his longtime relationship after hearing a few words from Caroline.

“Now is not the time yet.”

Arya stared at the street in the distance and calmly said. “In this industry, no one knew the conclusion. Caroline has debut some time ago, she wouldn’t do anything stupid. Since she arranged Julia to be my manager, she must have something up her sleeve waiting for me. We’ll string her along; I want to see what she has installed for me.”

As long as Arya had made her decision, no one would be able to stop her!

On the other side of the city, Allen also received the notice. In order to protect Arya behind the scenes, on the first day of their marriage, he had sent people to look out for Arya’s movements. Although to the outside world, she was a female celebrity but to him, she was the only woman in his life.

Allen looked up from the document, his cold eyes half-closed, “Daniel must be courting death... Investigate this Julia carefully. Don’t let her have the opportunity to make her move.”

“Understood, Director Jones.”

Allen frowned slightly but after a few seconds he relaxed. How could a woman that he had his eyes on, fall for their tricks? They are courting death!
