

Love Of A Billionaire

Chapter 41

Chapter 41 Who Said She Was Someone that is Easily Bullied

Just as they were talking, a woman in platform heels walked over to them. Her sharp voice echoed through the corridor.

“Arya, were you blind you didn’t see my message? Why didn’t you reply? I had to wait another ten minutes for you!”

Arya slightly raised her head and glanced at her coldly. Luna cleared her throat and said, “She is Julia.”

Julia thought since she was appointed to be Arya’s manager by Daniel, Arya would immediately apologize. With a proud smile, she gloated, “If you are sincere in apologizing, I can let this matter slide.”

“Heh, is this your first time managing someone?” Arya shot her a glance, then walked into the dressing room and closed the door ignoring her.

“You!”

Julia didn’t expect Arya that was blocked by the company to be so arrogant. She kicked the dressing room door opened, then threw a glass of water on the table.

The shatter of glass was very loud.

“I’ve never heard a manager wanting to ‘manipulate’ a movie queen. I don’t really care the company wants to block me. But as my manager, after I am blocked, will you still be useful to the company? When the time comes, won’t you also be the first to be kicked out?”

“Rubbish! Director Daniel won’t do that to me.”

“Oh! Why not? Let me guess, you may have been compensated. He probably promised you a lot of money. But are you definite, you can obtain it? I can assure you, before you can be compensated, I would have dealt with you.”

Arya’s gaze was very sharp. A step at a time, she approached Julia.

“In a showbiz, no one is innocent. By stepping on many people, I was able to reach this position and won the best actress award. If you don’t want to be stepped on by me, then make your decision! Do you want to continue to be Daniel’s informant or mine?”

Arya’s gaze was too intimidating.

Julia’s heart skipped a beat.

She took two steps back and her back was against wall. “I have no idea what you’re talking about!”

“No idea? Heh! Then have a look at this and maybe you’ll understand.” Luna scoffed and threw the file at Julia which contained her information that Allen had someone to investigate.

Julia opened the file in confusion. Not even finishing the two pages, her expression drastically changed.

She looked at Luna in astonishment. She couldn’t believe that Luna had thoroughly investigated her in such a short time.

Causing accidents, buying and selling private information...each activity was stated clearly in the document.

She would definitely have no way out of this if these activities were to be exposed.

Unlike Caroline, who only knew how to act coquettishly and rely on men, Arya’s methods were on the next level.

“I’m sorry, Luna. I was ignorant and wrong, I shouldn’t have ...” Julia slapped herself suddenly, “I will never have such an attitude towards Arya again. The company has already assigned me as her manager. Even if it’s not me, it will be someone else. I can’t go against Daniel’s orders.”

For Julia to say this, she has already decided which side she will side with.

Luna looked at her with caution. “Come with me.”

Julia nodded and followed Luna to Arya’s dressing room. The floor was a mess from the shattered glass. Julia immediately picked up the broken glass and said, “I’m sorry, Arya. I promise you this will never happen again!”

With the spectacle just now, Arya showed how ruthless she is and how domineering her attitude can be. Who said she was someone that is easily bullied?
