Chapter 441 100% Positive Review

"Whot lousy movie? I'm better ot wotching cortoons ot home thon this. It's o woste of my movie tickets."

"I reolly didn't expect it to be like this. My husbond fell osleep three times."

"Although I reolly like Mono, I hope she won't toke on such o croppy movie ogoin! Otherwise, I won't like her onymore."

Everyone ploed their ottention on the Passing Imoge. After the premiere, they hod the time to core about the box office of the Memory Frogment. Just os they hod expected, the box office was not good. It was just thot o stronge phenomenon hod occurred, and it was olmost o 100% positive review! Everyone who hod wotched the premiere on the some doy expressed thot it was very worth the ticket price. Furthermore, they hod the intention of wotching it ogoin.

There was also o certoin film reviewer who posted o long orticle ofter the premiere. The title was very direct, "Aryo. My favorite octress of this year, no one else."

Such o high evoluotion quickly ottocted the ottention of mony people.

In his orticle, he odmitted thot he hod sent o messoge soying thot he would not support it. This time, ofter he was invited to wotch the movie, he was greotly shocked. He opologized to Aryo, oll the moin creotors, and the Dohuo.

He did not expect thot this movie would be so outstanding. Compored to the other movies in the some episode, it was beyond his imoginotion!

After he left the cinemo, he immediotely turned on his loptop and wrote down this orticle. He listed the five points of the film's brillionce.

The most important point was the femole leod, Aryo!

She could beor the huge pressure to enter the group and even perform like this, leoving the femole leod next door ten streets behind.

In the end, there were o few pictures of Aryo's GIF movement and high-definition photos went virol!

Such o post mode the threed thot once vilified "Memory Frogment" sink into the seo.

This step of the Dohuo was very stoble. Through the premiere, it reversed the rejection of "Memory Frogment" from the outside world. The oudience begon to be curious about the plot and Aryo's octing skills. From o certoin aspect, it increased the popularity of the movie.

Such o situation mode the investors of "Passing Imoge" stort to worry...

The reol decisive bottle was still in the box office results for the next few doys. They still hod o troce of hope in their heorts.

It was just thot Allen would never give his opponent o chance to escape.

After Aryo saw the news, her worried heart finally calmed down. Actually, she had not seen a complete film before. She had only seen the main part. Now that the situation outside seemed to be getting better, she also heaved a sigh of relief.

"What lousy movie? I'm better at watching cartoons at home than this. It's a waste of my movie tickets."

Chapter 442 Touching And Striving

In her, the audience could see the microcosm of many lives, and such a noncommercial film was particularly touching.

It didn't have any hype or special effects, but it gave people a feeling of endless recollections.

Arya completely broke away from her solidified acting and used her sincere way to play this role.

Those people who did not think highly of her and spoke arrogantly and slandered her were all sloped in the face now.

She had indeed been silent and questioned before, but it did not mean that she would stay where she was forever!

Arya used her method to prove herself.

Many of Arya's fans had already watched this movie for the second time. They all expressed that Arya did not disappoint them, and they would not regret supporting her as usual!

She was a good actress and a good role model. Becoming her fan was a very proud thing.

Because of the widespread positive feedback from the outside world, the thread that had once tarnished Arya's acting was dug out, including the person who posted this thread. That person used this kind of inferior means to hype things up, making people despise him.

When the opponent saw the situation change, he did not dare to make a move anymore, because the audience's opinions had already been divided into two extremes. They did not have any trump cards that could contend against the Dohuo at all.

Allen's arrangements were very stable, and the effect was just as expected. The Memory Fragment had already come back to life.

However, this was only the beginning.

In just two days, the box office did not decide the outcome. Everything depended on the final statistics of the box office.

With Allen in charge, the people of Dohuo were not worried that Memory Fragment would lose the box office.

Because Allen was an existence that would not fail.

He was able to work until today and become a haven for Arya to avoid the wind. It was also because he was able to stay awake at all times. Arya was very similar to him in this aspect. Making the best judgment and choice under the worst circumstances was the commonality between the husband and wife.

On the second day after the screening, many directors took the initiative to contact Allen.

No one was a fool. Her beauty and acting skills were there. At this time, the directors had to take the initiative to fight for her. Otherwise, they did not want to make money.

Allen still had a trump card that had not been made public, and that was the Shadows. According to his plan, the time was not ripe yet. He wanted to wait for the best opportunity to let the Shadows stun the entire world.

Chapter 443 Difficult The Work, Greater The Reward

Under the situation where the situation of the Memory Frogment was constantly improving, the people of the Passing Image production team could not sit still any longer. They began to continue a large number of promotional activities, and even spent a large sum of money to buy the advertising screen of the cinema.

They looked like they were going to fight the Dohuo.

They even used the fame of the main actors to entice the fans to stand up for them and say that it was not that they did not have any acting skills, but that they were still learning.

As a result, there was another wave of popularity.

In order to support his idol, some fans even went to the official website to comment on "Memory Fragment," saying that it was an annual crappy film that scored negative points. But in reality, they had never seen it at all.

These small skirmishes could not enter Allen's eyes at all. He always maintained a calm and strict attitude.

He had seen too many of these kinds of methods. Everyone was a competitor. They were all doing it for economic benefits. He could understand it. Because there was only one person who won in the end.

"President, there's a new actress who publicly announced that her acting skills are superior to Modom's. She even said that Modom only used the advantage of the later editing. It looks like she really wants to be famous." Martin disdainfully reported the news to Allen. He only paid attention to the news related to Aryo. Because of other news, Allen did not care at all.

In this unpredictable entertainment circle, only he was as calm as ever.

Why did they not dare to use Jones as an article? It was because Jones's position was there and they did not dare to move!

"However, Alex has already retaliated against them. He used his fan advantage to destroy the enemy's plan in the bud."

Who would have thought that Samuel would one day stand out to protect Aryo?

"He didn't hurt them for nothing." Allen replied calmly.

"That advertising company is very shady. We need to pay more attention. Otherwise, we don't know when they will jump out and bite us."

"Continue to observe their movements and let Roul pay more attention to them." Allen's attention was now focused on selecting the next script for Aryo. However, it seemed that the only one that fit his heart was the one that he did not want to choose the most because Aryo would definitely suffer because of this movie. He would feel his heart ache.

Chapter 444 Despicable Means

Director Bishop's eyes were filled with hatred and malice.

He still had many tricks up his sleeve. He didn't know if they would be able to sit still at that time!

Phoebe was just a newcomer who had just debuted and was only 20 years old. She had never seen such a scene before. She was signed to the Dahua by relying on her own strength. During her usual training, she was closer to Samuel. The company even wanted them to form a temporary group. This way, they could get what they needed and be more competitive.

It was precisely because of this that she was targeted by Director Bishop.

Actually, during this period of training, she had seen some shady methods in this circle. She knew that everyone was famous and had some skills behind their backs. However, she did not expect this kind of thing to fall on her one day.

She only really liked to sing and did not want to be anyone's chess piece!

She indeed could not change this circle, but she could make the right choice.

After reluctantly agreeing to Director Bishop, Phoebe returned to the city and ran to the dance room. At this time, Samuel must still be practicing alone. Sure enough, the moment she pushed the door open, she saw Samuel practicing his dance in front of the mirror.

"Phoebe? Why are you dressed like this?" Samuel wiped his sweat and looked away in embarrassment. Phoebe's short skirt was really sexy.

"I have something to ask you!"

Phoebe turned off the lights in the dance room and locked the door.

"What... what happened?"

"I ask, you answer!" Phoebe forced herself to calm down and then opened her mouth to say, "You are Arya's younger brother?"

She was very nervous now. Once she took this step, it meant that she would have to face many difficult and desperate situations in the future. Furthermore, she did not know if what she did was right or not.

Samuel was stunned. He faced Phoebe with the night light. "How did you know?"

Allen asked Martin to investigate that night. Soon, he received news of Phoebe's sister, Molly. It turned out that the school was holding a closed learning activity, so they didn't contact their family for the time being.

However, it was certain that they were safe in the school.

When Phoebe and Samuel received the news, they sat together in front of the mirror in the dance room. The room was dark, only the light from the street lamps outside could be seen.

"I didn't expect Director Jones to be so powerful that he could see through the other party's scheme. Otherwise, I wouldn't know what to do." Phoebe heaved a sigh of relief and laid down on the floor in a relaxed manner.

"That's right. He is my brother-in-law. If he is not powerful, will my sister marry him?" Samuel was happy for her. "Since your sister is safe, it will be much easier to deal with Marcus Bishop."

Phoebe nodded. She covered the tears in her eyes and said, "It is still early. I will accompany you. You can practice two more stages."

"Okay!"

"President, this is all the information on that Director Bishop. When he was young, he was addicted to gambling and owed a lot of loan sharks. Later, he found a rich woman to pay it back."

"He did things very quickly. His subordinates all called him Brother Marcus, but he had a top boss, the godfather of that rich woman. He had some underworld background and the people outside all called him Mr. Lee."

Martin sorted out the important information and reported it to Allen.

Allen knocked on the table. "Call this Mr. Lee out and meet him."

"We have made an appointment. There should be news soon." Martin immediately replied. He had dealt with this kind of situation countless times in the past and was already used to it.

"In addition, this Director Bishop will also meet him and be ready to negotiate."

After saying that, Allen no longer paid attention to this matter and continued to flip through the company's other documents.

"Understood, President." Martin nodded and got into another car.

Allen was a man of his word. He would keep his promise. But so what if Passing Image's box office was high?

The one who would win in the end would still be Allen.

"I didn't want to tell you that I have my reasons for this occasion. If something like this happens again in the future, wait for me at home. Don't appear here." Allen closed the door and said to Arya.

"Okay, I understand." Arya nodded. She knew that Allen must have his considerations. Since he said that he would not let her come, it meant that this matter was dangerous. If she came, it might make things even more difficult.

"What did Director Bishop say?"

"We are not playing tricks. Let the audience decide the market." Allen loosened his tie. "In the last few days, the release of the film might change."

"You mean you don't want to fight with him?"

Sure enough, Arya knew him the best. She did not need him to say anything to understand his thoughts.

"Yes, this is also a strategy. Even if I give up, the Memory Fragment will not lose. This movie is of great significance to you. A lot of big prizes will be given to you."

"I don't care if I win the award or not. The most important thing is for you to be happy. You are the king of the entertainment industry. You have the final say."

Allen reached out and stroked her long hair. He found that he could not leave her.

Compared to the first premiere, the box office results of "Memory Fragment" were getting better day by day. It was enough to prove the potential of this movie.

Allen did what he said. He did not contact the cinema again and affected the order of the movie. However, the industry had already foreseen the potential strength and influence of this movie. Therefore, almost every movie theater had increased the number of scenes they had, and they even had a lot of preferential treatment activities under the circumstances where the Dahua did not interfere at all.

Such a good situation had completely exceeded Allen's expectations.

Looking at the current situation, Memory Fragment's box office results had already exceeded a hundred million. From a certain point of view, it had already surpassed the number of box office missions.

"Did you guys go to see that movie? It's the one Arya starred in!"

"Does it look good? I saw a lot of people online commenting that it was a crappy film!"

"If I don't watch it, I'll definitely regret it. Arya's acting skills are explosive and she's so beautiful. I have to go to the cinema to support her."

She was able to focus on filming while also gaining recognition from the fashion world. This was something that many actresses could not do. Back then, Arya was under pressure. When she entered the group as a substitute female lead, everyone did not think highly of her. But now, she used her strength to prove herself!

The Dahua immediately announced this news. Arya's fans were all excited!

Although Arya chose to temporarily immerse herself in the filming of the film at the most crucial moment of her comeback and was far from public view, she did not lose the brilliance that belonged to her. While the film was shining brightly on the screen, the doors of the fashion world were wide open for her.

As her Exclusive Broker, Allen had already thought of this step a long time ago.

Now, Arya was not only a powerful actress in the movie industry, but also a rising star in the fashion world.

"Arya is indeed the best. She will never disappoint us fans. I went back to relive the WM advertisement. She and Boss Jones really match well."

"In the past, the stars only liked the role created by this actress, but now I like Arya. I really admire her. Everything that she has experienced has given me great encouragement. I hope that I can be like her, a person who keeps sticking to herself for the sake of dreams."

"Arya will definitely win a lot of big awards this year!"

"Good luck, Arya. We will always support you."

Looking at the comments from her fans, Arya's eyes turned red. Her heart was filled with wordless emotions. All this time, she's not fighting alone. There are lovers who pamper her, friends who support her, fans who like her...

In the future, she will continue to work hard!

The reason why she was able to achieve what she had today was all because of a person who meant a lot to her...

"Allen, I am really touched. Thank you for everything you have done for me." Arya hugged the man beside her tightly. The tears in her eyes fell gently.

Allen stretched out his arms and coaxed her softly, "I will not let you give up the glory you deserve for me. You deserve this applause and support. In this world, as long as it is what you want, I will send it to you."

"You will never take any detours."

"Because I will always be by your side and hold your hand tightly."

The moment her fingers were tightly clenched, Arya felt that she was the happiest woman in the world.

Chapter 448 A Dignified Old Man

At the time when the Shadows was preparing for broadcast, Arya was busy for the auditions of "Love in Burning Fire."

Because it was a spy-based movie, she needed to do a lot real life combat scenes. Allen was accompanying Arya for the trainings. Everything was going according to the plan.

However, what they didn't know was when the husband-wife duo was preparing for the auditions, an unexpected guest was waiting for them.

In the living room of a luxurious villa.

The air condition was working on its full capacity but it still could not stop the sweats that was dropping from the secretary's forehead.

In front of him was sitting an old man in his seventies.

The man was indeed old and was supposed to rest at this age, however his aura still hadn't faded a bit, making him look like an emperor. He aged like a fine wine.

"Do you understand what I said?" Leaning against the sofa, the old man looked at the secretary and asked slowly.

The secretary broke into a cold sweat again. It wasn't like he didn't understand but he didn't dare to do it.

The secretary thought about a moment, then decided to persuade the old man, "Sir, why don't you ask them to come and meet with you directly?"

"Huh!" Hearing this the old man sneered, "If that brat listened to me, would I be here today?"

"But Sir, if Mr. Jones knew about this, he will be angry. . ." The secretary said in a low voice.

The old man found these words funny, "Do you think I care if that brat gets angry? Who is he to be angry in front of me?" At the end, the old man snorted coldly.

The secretary fell silent. It was right. Even Allen Jones wouldn't dare to do anything in front of this dignified old man.

"But what you said make sense." The old man thought for a moment, "That brat would not do anything in front of me but he can try to prevent me from doing this."

His walking stick tapped the ground for a few times before it suddenly stopped, "Keep it a secret."

"Huh?" The secretary was stunned for a moment. How could he hide such a big matter from Allen?

Seeing the secretary hesitating, the dignified old man raised his eye brows.

He is now the master of the Jones Family. Could it be that he didn't even have the power to do so?

The assistant could only bite the bullet and agree to keep this a secret.

On one side was Allen, who dominated the business market, and on the other side was the old head of the Jones Family. What could he do? Both sides were people he could not afford to offend!

However, Old Master Jones had already retired to the second-string. He only occasionally showed his face at public events in the company. How could he be so curious about his granddaughter-in-law this time? He did not even care about Allen stopping him. Did he specially come back from overseas to test her grand daughter-in-law?

And it was done in secret...

Old Master Jones glanced at his assistant and picked up his phone. It was a message he had just received. "No problem. With your help, this movie will be even more exciting! Mr. Jones, the location of the crew is..."

Ezekiel's expression immediately became very unhappy. He had treated Louisa with so much care. Why was his position not as high as Arya's in her place?

Louisa did not feel anything at all. She smiled and walked over to greet Arya, "Miss Arya!"

Arya immediately noticed Ezekiel's expression.

"Miss Arya, I miss you so much..."

"I miss you too, but don't you feel that some people's expressions are not right?" Arya said with a smile.

Ezekiel was not far behind Louisa. He picked up a glass of champagne and drank it in a muffled voice.

He was a movie king. How did he end up like this?

He had to keep an eye on his assistant at all times. He was afraid that she would run away with someone else.

He had been ignored like this by Louisa for who knows how many times.

Some people noticed that Ezekiel was also at the scene. They went over to talk to him one after another. Usually, Ezekiel would not show his face at such an occasion. Even if he did show his face, he would definitely not pay attention to these people's flattery. But now, seeing how happy Louisa and Arya were talking, he turned around and started to chat with others.

Arya saw this scene and held back her laughter. She asked Louisa, "How have you been recently? Is your work going well?"

"Ezekiel have a bad personality!" Louisa frowned.

"I see..."

"I have never seen such a lazy artist!" Louisa blinked and the next second revealed a relieved smile, "But I am already used to it now. Most of the things are easy to handle."

Ezekiel had made up his mind to tame Louisa and keep her by his side forever. In the end, he was the one who compromised every time.

Who was the one who was domesticated?

"Louisa, did you notice that in this world, he is the most real when he is facing you? How many people want to be his assistant, but he rejected all of them." Arya saw that Ezekiel quietly avoided the goodwill of the two female stars. There was a hidden meaning in his words.

"You must take good care of this kind of person because without you by his side, he will lose a lot of things in his life."

It was not fame and fortune, but the stability of his heart.

"He just saw that I was easy to bully and deliberately tortured me!" Louisa could not hold back her anger and snorted.

Louisa looked at him. Her big eyes reflected the neon lights on the street. "Alright then. Let's go see the director. We still have time."

"No!" Ezekiel rejected Louisa's suggestion for the first time. He felt that he could not spoil her anymore. His patience was tested every day.

"But I promised them. Otherwise, do you want me to cancel the agreement in the name of your assistant?"

"I just paid a sky-high dress for you. Don't you want to settle this matter with me first?" Ezekiel stood in front of Louisa and revealed a ruffian smile.

"What do you want?" Louisa looked at him warily and said firmly in the next second, "I will not give up my dignity for money!"

"Okay, I will not let you do things that lose your dignity. Come to my house and do one month's day and night meals."

"I can't go to your home every day!"

"Otherwise, give me money!" Ezekiel turned around and smiled. He walked two steps forward and saw Louisa still standing there. He smiled and shouted, "If I don't see the director, I'll go home."

"Stop right there!" Louisa rushed over. It was not easy for her to get a chance to meet the director. Of course, they had to meet the director. It was just that when she thought about Ezekiel's smile just now, she felt her heart beat faster.

What was their relationship? Louisa herself was not sure.

In the past, she had always been sick and rarely went to school. There were also very few boys she knew. She did not know what it was like to like someone.

Moreover, would her body continue to be healthy?

She didn't know, so she didn't dare to gamble.

The closer she got to Ezekiel, the more she knew how much he had changed for her. Every time he made an exception, Louisa would be absent-minded for a moment. She did not think that a star that was so far away from her would actually be good to her.

What if after she gave her heart, he just waved his hand and said it was a joke.

So, she tried her best to play dumb.

As long as she didn't admit it and didn't respond, she might be able to maintain this state forever.

How could she not be moved? Such a handsome man would always be in front of her every day, and he would always take care of her feelings carefully. If she was not moved, then she would really be a piece of wood.

Louisa lowered her head in the car and immersed herself in her own thoughts.
