

Love Of A Billionaire

Chapter 60

Chapter 60 I'm an Easy Target to Bully?

Caroline was extremely pleased with herself, as if she stepped on Arya.

“Caroline is right. From tomorrow, everyone have to follow the schedules arranged by the filming crew. Nothing unpleasant is to happen. The aim for this filming is to let Caroline stand out. Do you understand, Arya?”

He is insinuating the filming is purely to support Caroline, whereas Arya is just a pawn.

Caroline leaned back on her chair and sighed. “Oh well, what can I say! I am the artist in our company with most potential after all.”

Arya looked at both of them casually, “I don't get it.”

She challenged them.

“Arya!”

As Daniel shouted, Arya stood up, “I don't think I need to listen to this anymore. I didn't want to participate in this reality show. You know that better than me and you want me to help her unconditionally? Dream on!”

Arya continued as her words surrounded the conference room. Everyone in the conference room were startled by her imposing aura.

“How dare you speak to Daniel like that!” Caroline shouted out of anger, forgetting she should be addressing Daniel in formality.

“I'm withdrawing. You can go and film it yourself.”

Just as Arya was about to leave, Daniel quickly stepped towards her from leaving, “If there is complaints. There's no need to be so difficult.”

“So to you, I'm an easy target to bully? You've thrown all sorts of dirty water on, have you ever considered my feelings? Daniel Parker, I'm no longer the person I use to be. Don't expect me to listen to everything you say. If she wants to be a female lead, then by all means she can. Even if the whole world revolves around her, I, Arya Morrison, won't!”

“So to you, I'm an easy target to bully? You've thrown all sorts of dirty water on, have you ever considered my feelings? Daniel Parker, I'm no longer the person I use to be. Don't expect me to listen to everything you say. If she wants to be a female lead, then by all means she can. Even if the whole world revolves around her, I, Arya Morrison, won't!”

Luna clenched her fists tightly. This is now the real Arya!

Julia was dumbfounded on the side. Caroline only knew how to act coquettishly and rely on Daniel's affections, whereas Arya was charming. Every word she said them both speechless.

“If we were both in the same production, everyone is aware who you would be supporting. If you want to support her, go ahead. I won't continue with your shenanigans!”

“You!” Caroline stomped her feet in anger, glaring fiercely at Arya. She couldn't do anything to Arya as there were too many people here.

Arya was in total control of the situation.

Arya's expression was so cold and arrogant. Every word she said was sharper than a knife. This woman was no longer the woman that sacrificed anything for him.

Daniel felt a deep sense of loss.

“Alright, name your conditions. You can lead the show and I will arrange it accordingly.”

“Daniel!” Caroline angrily grabbed his arm.

Daniel shoved her hand away, looked at everyone in the meeting room and said, “If there are no objections, the meeting is over.”

Once he was done speaking, Arya immediately left the meeting room without looking back. Daniel could only take glimpse the view of her back. It was then, he realized, Arya had changed.

Not only was she no longer able to be manipulated by him, she had become so incomprehensible.

When everyone had left, Caroline sat on the chair and said losing her temper, “You're regretting your choice. You think I don't know what you want! You keep saying you're doing this all for me, but you never forgot Arya. Do I still exist in your heart?”

“Shut up!”

Daniel felt a massive headache coming. He threw the filming schedule on the table towards her, “If we don't succeed this time, you'll never be movie queen. When that happens, don't come crying to me!”

He was yelling at Caroline for the first time.

“Daniel, you've really changed. You never use to treat me this way.” She cried sadly with her hands covering her mouth.
