

Love Of A Billionaire

Chapter 66

Chapter 66 Take Advantage of Her

Davina went and picked up Daniel and Caroline. She wasn't too happy that she missed Allen, "If I was just a bit early, I would've had seen him."

"Sis, who were you waiting for? Caroline is really tired and need to rest after a long fight. Let's go back. You can give them a call and meet up with them later."

"What do you know? It was the CEO of Dahua Entertainment, I can't even his phone number." Davina shook her head while she looked at Caroline. If Caroline wasn't already pregnant, she would never accept her as her brother's wife.

What was just said was meant for Arya. Deep within Davina's heart, she still felt Caroline was not comparable to Arya. But since things are what they are now, for Parker family's sake, she wouldn't allow Arya to make a comeback successfully.

When Caroline was Arya being so relaxed, the anger in her heart from the incident in the plane erupted. "Sister Davina, I missed you so much. Can I stay over at your place tonight?"

Luna sneered in her heart. Does she think she is Daniel's wife already?

How pathetic!

Davina understood immediately what she was indicating and held her hand, "Of course you can. We have so much to catch up. Arya, I've booked three rooms at the hotel for you. You can have one room, and they can each have the others. Are you okay with that?"

It seemed from the very start, she had no intention of allowing Caroline stay at the hotel.

With this arrangement, Caroline was ecstatic, "Sister Davina, you're so nice to me. I can never get used to sleeping in hotel beds."

With this arrangement, Caroline was ecstatic, "Sister Davina, you're so nice to me. I can never get used to sleeping in hotel beds."

Davina smiled while holding Caroline's hand. They do have a common enemy, Arya. Anyone who was adverse to Brilliant Entertainment and Daniel would not be able to remain in the entertainment industry. This time, she would help her little brother.

Arya is just a retired actress, what is it can she do?

To say the least, Arya was on Davina's territory. She would make Arya regret for she ever though she had a chance to be in entertainment industry.

Arya nodded calmly and picked her handbag, "No need."

After replying, she ignored them and walked out of the airport with Luna and Julia.

"Sister Davina look at her attitude. She's so cold and intentionally left us here. She even came here by private jet using the connections of Morrison family!" Caroline took this opportunity to complain.

"A private jet?" Davina had a slight change in her expression after hearing as she kept this on mind, "Okay, you two must be tired after the flight. Let's go back then we can catch up."

After walking out of the airport terminal, Arya stood outside the car park entrance. A few minutes later, a car came and stopped beside them, arranged by Allen.

The driver was local and spoke fluently in English, "Miss Morrison, this way please."

Arya replied with a gentle smile and got in the car like a royalty.

On their way to the hotel, Julia received a message.

"Davina's assistant bribed the cameraman who will be filming Arya, she wants him to meddle with Arya's drink, take advantage of her on her film breaks, record it and upload the video on the net... This is despicable!"

Arya faced Julia, "Then?"

Davina had been in the entertainment industry for many years and her company had a good reputation. She, of course, did not only rely on deceitful methods.

"Then they will find another excuse to replace you, have this news broadcast back home saying you seduced the cameraman. That way, no renowned directors will want to work with you again."

Luna gripped her phone so tightly as she was fuming, "It's a good thing Julia is on our side now, otherwise ..."

Arya's face turned gloomy. She knew that this filming would not be smooth sailing but she never expected them to be so despicable.

"Arya, how should we do this?"

"Well, since Caroline is seeking external help, we'll do the same as well." She took out her phone as she spoke. She scrolled her phone directory and fell silent in thought.