

Love Of A Billionaire

Chapter 89

Chapter 89 What Good Would It Do You To Destroy Me Like This?

While Davina was paving the way for Caroline and bringing her to dinner with the directors, Arya took the LKU contract. This was something that something that the higher ups of Brilliant Entertainment dreamed of and could not refuse.

A few days later, 'Behind the Scenes' was broadcasted.

As a brand new reality show, there were already two Eastern female artists participating in it. It attracted a lot of attention and became a trend.

"Did you watch it yesterday? This episode of 'Behind the Scenes' was filmed too well!"

"Yeah, I watched it three times. That actress acted too well and she looked so good!"

"Really? I haven't seen it yet. I'm downloading it now!"

In just a few hours, the download volume of 'Behind the Scenes' had exceeded billions of people. Discussion on the forums and Tieba forums were booming. The segments of the selected video were reposted crazily on the internet. The scenes were all focused on Arya.

She became the synonym for Eastern female artist. The overwhelming hot search made her name extremely popular.

The program's attention had reached an unprecedented level. Many directors and producers wanted to get the actor's contact information, her face and acting skills, as well as her calmness in the face of the camera. She had attracted countless fans for her...

The fact that this program could produce such a good response had a very important with the actors participating in it. Caroline thought that she would definitely be able to suppress Arya's limelight, but she did not expect... that she would become Arya's foil.

Hot Search List, forum, Tieba did not have her name at all.

It was as if Arya was the only one invited during the filming.

She sat in front of the screen and looked at Arya's expression during the interview. Looking at her acting during the show, she could not deny that she was indeed inferior to Arya. Furthermore, the distance between them was unimaginable.

But... she could not admit defeat like this.

Two days later, the investors of 'Behind the Scenes' held a celebration banquet.

As the female stars in the show, Arya and Caroline also had to attend.

Caroline changed her usual luxurious style and changed into a high-collared long dress with an exposed back. Together with the delicate diamond bracelet on her wrist, she looked elegant and beautiful. She still held Daniel's arm and had a sweet smile on her face. On the other side was Davina who accompanied them into the venue.

She walked two steps forward and saw Arya who was talking to Jason.

"You haven't returned to China yet. Then we can go back together. I've received a lot of endorsements and need to go back to work quickly." Caroline wanted to give Arya a show of strength.

"Can your body still be so tough?" Arya's gaze slid across her lower abdomen, "You still need to rest more."

Caroline snorted and was about to retaliate when seven or eight reporters surrounded her. She immediately put on a smile and prepared to receive an interview, but she did not expect that their cameras and microphones were all aimed at Arya.

"Miss Arya ..."

"This program's response is very good. Do you have anything to tell the audience?"

Jason hurriedly brought the security guards to protect Arya as they walked into the main hall of the banquet. They avoided the reporters' interview and Caroline just stood there. The reporters just patted her and walked in.

"Caroline, it's okay." Daniel patted her shoulder. He had not paid attention to the news on the internet and did not know what was going on.

Davina's eyes were cold.

Because of Arya's appearance, there was applause and cheers in the main hall. The host agreed to the investors' request and invited Arya and Caroline to go on stage.

"I am honored to introduce these two to everyone. They are artists from the Brilliant Entertainment, Miss Arya and Miss Caroline."

Everyone's eyes almost all looked at Arya. They did not expect her to be more beautiful and elegant than in the camera.

But they did not have a deep impression of Caroline.

"Her acting is not good. One look and it is very fake."

"Yes, I skipped all the scenes of her appearance. Maybe she is a newcomer to their company. The company wants to tie the two of them up to sell."

"When she acts, she only knows how to glare at others. She is far from Arya."

These discussions made Caroline unable to get off the stage. She thought that Arya was deliberately playing tricks on Jason to embarrass her. She stared at Arya on the spot, "I didn't expect you to be so ruthless. We are all artists of the same company. What good would it do you to destroy me like this? Buying the people here to humiliate me, this kind of despicable means is too disgusting."

"What?" Arya frowned coldly. She felt that Caroline's imagination was too rich. She relied on strength and not behind the scenes like them. She disdained doing so.

"You are all in the same group... I should not have come for this kind of activity!"

Caroline stomped her feet and walked down from the stage. When the investors saw this scene, they exchange a few words with the staff and all had stern expressions. This actor did not know manners.

Jason walked over and heard Caroline still complaining to Daniel.

"These people are too much. They must have taken Arya's money..."

"Miss Caroline, everyone present today has seen this episode. Everyone has seen your performance with Arya. Your current actions are very unprofessional and irrational."

"Ha, you have been siding with Arya since the beginning. Who knows if there is any unclear relationship between the two of you!"

"Yours words are too ignorant! With your acting skills, we regret inviting you to participate in the show. You are a completely transparent person. Many people feel that your acting is terrible when they see it."

"You are talking nonsense..."

"Nonsense? Take a good look at the comments online."

Caroline looked at the people around them who were discussing animatedly. When she saw the disdain in their eyes, her heart fiercely twisted. "Daniel, is what they said true?"

She was the most promising artist in the Brilliant Entertainment and had received so many endorsements. How could she not have any acting skills?

She had completely become Arya's stepping stone. Seeing Arya standing on the stage and shining brightly, Caroline seemed to have been slapped hard.

She did not have any acting skills!

The reason she could stand here was because of the company. Otherwise, she, Caroline Bennett, would probably be stopped at the door.

She staggered half a step back and tightly grabbed Daniel's arm, "Impossible ..."

Those people only had Arya in their eyes. She could not even win against Arya. How to talk about her future!

"Daniel, it's impossible that I don't have any sense of existence. Arya must be playing tricks on purpose. She is jealous of me. That's why she treats me like this."

Daniel nodded. "Arya, you have gone too far."

Their words were groundless. In order to find some comfort, they had to pour dirty water on Arya.

"Me? When filming, everyone saw very clearly that the role was chosen by her. The scene was played by her. Could it be that I can control her actions? Her own ability is not good, it has nothing to do with me."

"No ..."

"If you really want to promote her, then think about how to improve herself. Don't tell me you'll be relying on hype for the rest of your life?"
