

Love Of A Billionaire

Chapter 90

Chapter 90 You Threatened Me!

Arya took a sip of the champagne in her glass. Jason looked at the time and walked onto the stage to announce to everyone.

“Attention everyone, there are two other guests here today. They are the people in charge of the LKU.”

Everyone was shocked.

This brand acted in a high-profile manner. However, very few people could get in touch with them. No one knew who they were here for tonight.

As soon as they appeared, they announced a piece of heavy news, “We are here today for our new product’s spokesperson, Miss Arya! She will become our brand’s spokesperson for Asia.”

The opportunity that many people dreamed of fell into Arya’s hands just like that.

She will become a celebrity at the peak of her popularity. This high endorsement fee represents a very high starting point!

These were things that Caroline could not compare to. She was so angry that her face turned pale and her head was dizzy. If she did not rely on Daniel, she would have already fallen.

Compared to the endorsement by LKU, her endorsement were not worth mentioning.

“You didn’t receive an endorsement without the company’s permission?” Daniel did not care about anything else and asked Arya.

When they heard the news at this time, Daniel and Davina felt that they had been fooled by Arya. They spent so much money to support Caroline and also spent a lot of efforts to contact the filming this time. They did not expect Arya to benefit from this.

Daniel could not accept this point.

“You can tell me what happened between you and me in private. What you did clearly embarrassing the company!”

“Embarrassed?” Arya slowly turned around.

“The contract was approved by the higher-ups of the company. It was stamped by the board of directors. If you don’t believe me, you can ask. Also, I want to remind you that Caroline and I are both artists who signed contracts with the company. You are so partial to her. Aren’t you afraid that you won’t be to keep your position as the president?”

Although the Parker family had the majority of Brilliant Entertainment’s shares, the board of directors still had the right to dismiss Daniel.

“You threatened me!”

Daniel was extremely angry. He looked at Arya in disbelief. He did not expect her to say such a thing. However, he could not refute it. He had spent a lot of time and effort on Caroline, including this overseas shoot. In order to please Caroline, there were many unexplainable expenses in the company’s accounts. If it were to be reported to the board of directors, he...

He had tried his best to persuade the board of directors to support Caroline, but in the end, Arya made a name for herself!

On the other hand, after this failure, Caroline’s reputation once again fell. How would he pave the way for her in the future to find resources?

All kinds of difficulties made the Parker siblings’ hearts very uncomfortable. Davina wished she could tear Arya into pieces. She never dreamed that Arya would actually have the ability to get the title of the spokesperson of the LKU Asia. In the future, in the Brilliant Entertainment, she would be unmatched.

If this continued, the person who would be pointed at would only be Caroline.

“Take her away!” Davina saw that Caroline was already in a daze and hurriedly urged Daniel.

The three of them almost ran away. The moment they got into the car, Caroline burst into tears.

When Daniel saw her so sad, he was both angry and helpless, “Sister, what should we do now? Do we really want to see Arya come back?”

“She openly provoked me. It’s a dream for her to come back!”

On the other side, Allen sat in the office and listened to the assistant’s report.

His deep black eyes were full of coldness, “Keep an eye on Davina’s movements. I don’t want anyone to affect Arya.”

“Yes, CEO.”

The Dahua Entertainment’s news network was very well-informed. He was able to know Davina’s plan at the first possible moment.

If anyone dared to have designs on his woman, don’t blame him for being ruthless.

Looking at the time on his watch, he took off his suit jacket from the hanger and drove to the banquet hotel.

Fifteen minutes later, Arya walked out with her handbag. She saw Allen holding a dark blue umbrella and standing on the street waiting for her. The city that was washed by the rain was exceptionally quiet. She heard the sound of her high heels and walked in front of him.

“Why are you here?” Her eyes were full of smiles.

They were going back to China tomorrow. Allen had stayed with her for a long time. The documents that needed his signature were probably piled up like a mountain.

“I miss you.”

His thin lips curled up slightly and revealed a considerate smile. He took off his coat and draped it over Arya’s shoulder. Then, he handed the umbrella to Arya and directly picked her up from the waist. There was no indifference in his eyes like an emperor. There was only gentleness towards his wife.

“Allen...”

“The parking lot is a little far.”

Arya did not push him away at all. Her little head leaned against his chest and acted spoiled, “I really hope that tomorrow will never come. I want to continue walking like this with you.”

“If you like, we can settle down here.” Allen’s voice was deep and pleasant to hear. When he said this, he did not hesitate at all.

These words were sweet to Arya’s heart. She looked seriously at Allen’s side profile.

“Okay, when you retire.”

Allen looked at her and quickened his pace.

“What’s wrong?” Arya blinked and hugged his neck tightly.

“I can’t wait. I want you.”

...

Arya came back and replayed the legend of movie queen...

A movie star who was once misunderstood by everyone was reborn from the ashes. A good show was played in front of the camera. Her delicate facial features conquered the whole world.

In addition, she became the only spokesperson of the LKU in Asia in one fell swoop. Arya’s value had increased more than ten times.

The domestic fans had automatically formed fan clubs. Arya’s influence in the entertainment industry had also increased. Compared to little Caroline, who snatched her fiancée, she used her own strength to prove that those old stories were all rumors.

Caroline’s dream that was about to come true was like a giant wheel that hit an iceberg and sank into the sea. She slammed the table with hatred, “She must have used some unspeakable means!”

Originally, she wanted to use Arya to step on her head and gain fame and fortune, but in the end, she became a big joke.

Caroline was not convinced no matter what.

Davina and Daniel were also very angry but they were calmer than her.

“Caroline, this matter is already a foregone conclusion. After leaving this door, you cannot show any worry. Otherwise, if you are captured by the reporters, you will be the one to be hurt.” Davina said and turned to look at Daniel. “I know that the board of directors has given you a lot of pressure. This matter needs to be taken into consideration!”

“Sister, it is already very chaotic now. What do you want me to do?” Daniel frowned.

“I can ask uncle for help or ...”

Davina also hoped that the situation would turn better. Her uncle was the deputy director of an overseas investment company and knew many big directors in the entertainment industry. If he came out, he would definitely be able to stop Arya from making a comeback.

It’s just that Daniel’s relationship with him had always been bad and had rarely contacted him over the years.

“Let’s talk about it again. My mind is in a mess right now, I don’t want to talk about these things anymore.” Daniel stood up. He was a little impatient.
