

Love Of A Billionaire

Chapter 94

Chapter 94 Support Her Decision

Looking at his deep eyes, Arya smiled faintly and went forward to hug him.

“Thank you. You have contributed to this.”

“It is my honor to be able to serve Madam.” Allen gently kissed her forehead. His sexy and magnetic voice lingered in her ears.

“The Dahua has already prepared the contract and resting room. We are only waiting for the mistress.”

If Arya could sign a contract with the Dahua, then she would be able to get far more than she had expected.

“Do you still remember what I said? I want to rely on myself. Right now, I don’t have the confidence to hold your arm and stand beside you. So, give me a little more time and I will let everyone know that your woman is me.”

“The stronger you are, the more my heart aches for you. I respect your decision. No matter what, I will always be your strongest backing.”

He had an entire entertainment empire and could work for her at any time. However, he had no choice but to watch her walk step by step to his side. This perseverance was not something every woman could achieve.

It was just that he regretted that he did not meet Arya earlier so that she would not have to work as hard as she did today.

It was precious because of this that Arya was more worthy of being cherished by him.

Arya wrapped her arms around his waist, “It’s so good to have you in my life.”

“Are you tired going to the company today?” He smelled the fragrance of her body and his heart shook. “Why don’t you take a bath to relieve your fatigue.”

After saying that, he carried Arya to the bathroom.

Arya’s cheeks turned red and she lightly acknowledged.

...

Compared to Arya’s conditions, Caroline’s reputation fell. Even the Brilliant Entertainment’s staff began to point at her. Caroline took this opportunity to take a leave to rest at home but secretly sent her assistant to check the names of the judges. Finally, she discovered that there was a judge who was once the Assistant Director of a film she filmed. He had always looked at her lustfully and even said some vague words before.

“Arrange it. I want to meet him.” Caroline did not have time to wait anymore.

“Caroline, maybe you tell Director Daniel. There are other ways. This kind of thing does not need you to go personally go.” The assistant persuaded her. He did not want to take this step.

“What can I say to him? He can’t even protect me now. If I miss this opportunity, I will have nothing left!” Caroline clenched her fists tightly. She could not let place all her bets on Daniel. Once the boat was overturned, she would have nothing left.

She even had to watch Arya become famous again. She could only bid farewell to the entertainment circle.

The assistant had no choice but to follow Caroline’s instructions. Soon, they received a reply, but the other party’s only request was to go to another place with Caroline.

The time was two days and one night.

The assistant frowned in anger, “He definitely has bad intentions!”

Caroline gritted her teeth, “Tell him, I will go to the airport on time.”

“You are still pregnant. What if he really does something? Caroline, think about it.” The assistant tried to pursue her.

“I have no way out. I cannot lose!” Caroline took a deep breath, “Especially not to lose to Arya!”

Seeing her persistent look, the assistant could only follow her instructions. “When the time comes, I will secretly follow you guys, just in case...”

This was completely Caroline’s own plan. Daniel did not know that she was planning such a dirty thing and did not know that he would be betrayed so thoroughly. Everything he did to Arya, the heavens would also do the same to Daniel. This kind of retribution was destined for him!

Just as Caroline was about to go to see the judges, Davina had already taken care of the company’s matter and returned to China. When she saw Daniel, she asked about the company’s matters and Daniel answered each and every one of them.

“I didn’t expect Arya’s popularity rise so quickly. Where does she live now?” Davina was very anxious. She wanted to control Arya as soon as possible.

“I still don’t know...” Daniel shook his head, “After she changed her apartment, she didn’t tell the company her address.”

“What?” Davina was very surprised, “Go and check immediately. You don’t even know the most basic information. Sooner or later, you will be trampled on by her!”

She was very angry at Daniel’s unprofessional answer. The next morning, she called Daniel and Julia to company for a meeting. There were also the managers of Public Relations Department and Planning Department of the company.

It seemed that Davina indeed carefully planning for Arya, but Julia found that she actually treated Arya as a chess piece. While she helped Arya, she also controlled the speed at which Arya returned to the entertainment circle.

The PowerPoint presentation showed Arya’s work plans for the next year and basically did not have a vacation for an entire year. Every season, her works were well organized. From famous Directors’ movies to popular TV series, plus countless endorsements and ads, if all these jobs were accepted, it would greatly increase Arya’s popularity. Daniel was a little shocked. He did not expect Arya to be chosen by so many companies. The fees for these endorsements were far from Caroline’s.

Julia only listened to Davina’s words and did not hand over the facts. As early as a week ago, Arya had already received invitation from three entertainment companies. Every company’s strength was above Brilliant Entertainment’s. As long as Arya wanted to leave, she could do so at any time.

Davina said proudly in the meeting room, “I am confident that Arya will become a top female star in the country, but the prerequisite is that she must be an artist under me.”

Julia did not express her opinion. After the meeting ended, she received the last assignment. Tonight, she brought Arya to the celebration banquet prepared by Brilliant Entertainment at seven o’ clock on time. At the same time, it was Davina’s previous appointment banquet.

She found Arya in the shortest time possible and told her everything that happened during the meeting.

“Davina has made sufficient preparations. I think she will definitely become your manager.”

“Indeed...” Arya pulled Julia’s hand, “It has hard on you these days.”

Julia shook her head and looked firmly at Arya, “No, I have learnt a lot from following you. Even if I do not become your manager in the future, I will still keep an eye on your movements. I will wait for the day when you become a grand slam movie queen again!”

Julia was very clear that with Arya’s current strength, she was worthy of a more outstanding manager. And she could only accompany Arya to this step.

“Thank you for your blessings. I also hope that you will be better in the future.”

Julia was very glad that she did not listen to Caroline’s instructions and stood opposite of Arya. She was also very happy to be able to witness Arya taking her first step in her comeback.

Arya did not panic because of this matter. Instead, she went to the restaurant to meet Allen and conveniently told him about this matter while eating.

“You have plans?” Allen looked at her.

“Yes, I will not let them get away from this easily. If she wants to become my manager, it depends on whether she has the chance.” Arya was very confident.

“Okay then lets it go.”

He looked at Arya dotingly. His woman was capable, so of course he was proud of her but he couldn’t ignore her.