

Love Rats 1001

Chapter 1001 A Bad Teammate!

In this world, there is no woman who can match him!

Compared to those women, at least she can rely on Freddie and Mrs. Anderson to occasionally see him. But Selena's appearance completely shattered her sense of superiority!

The man got married!

In a situation where nobody knew, he got married to a woman who was notorious, had no family background or talent, and was inferior to her in every way except for her face!

Not only did they get married, but he also treated that woman as a treasure!

He would embrace her tenderly, kiss her, love her, protect her...

It was only at that moment that Vivian realized that men were not naturally lacking in emotions. He just hadn't met someone who could make his heart beat!

The feeling of unrequited love and jealousy was too painful for Vivian. Tears fell from her eyes, but she didn't want others to see the embarrassment and misery of the Shaw family's daughter. She lowered her head in a hurry.

With tears streaming down her face, Vivian lowered her head, but her eyes glittered with a hint of dark light.

She remembered the bottle of medicine that woman had given her. If it could really make Osvaldo dump Selena and fall in love with her, and love her as tenderly as he loved Selena...

Not only would she get what she wanted, but the crisis of the Shaw family could also be resolved!

Vivian slowly tightened her fist, her expression revealing a desperate hope and determination.

On the deserted island, after Selena finished her speech, the students looked at her with respect in their eyes.

Seeing that they had calmed down, Selena turned around and said lightly, "That's enough of the digression. Now let's talk about how we should fight this battle."

"Why not pursue our victory?" Kevin subconsciously spoke up. "They suffered heavy losses, our morale is high, and this is the best opportunity for us to strike while the iron is hot!"

Selena looked at him coolly. "Kevin, please remember that I am the overall commander here."

Kevin fell silent.

Selena continued, "We won't fight."

Richard asked quickly, "So what do we do?"

Selena looked up at where Thomas's team was, her bright red lips curling up into a slightly deranged smile. "We wait!"

Kevin frowned. "Wait for what?"

Selena's smile became even more alluring. "Wait for them to send someone to attack us again, and then we'll catch them in a trap once more!"

Kevin's frown deepened. "Avoiding the strong and attacking the weak... but Thomas won't make the same mistake twice!"

"No, he will!" Selena's eyes were dark and determined. "The premise of avoiding the strong is that there are no useless teammates on their side."

"Unfortunately, in that student's team, there is not only a useless teammate, but also a pig teammate who is arrogant, selfish, and doesn't even care about Union University's students!"

Kevin still thought it was unlikely. "Even if Miss Diana is arrogant, she wouldn't dare to openly seize command."

Selena smiled slowly. "She won't seize command, but don't forget, she controls the firepower of the entire team. In last night's intense battle, the enemy not only suffered heavy losses, but also wasted a lot of firepower. They need to replenish their firepower if they want to turn the tables..."

"Plus, the mental pressure we brought to that commanding student last night was too great. Instead of waiting for us to attack him, it's better to take a risk and increase our chances of winning!"

Kevin's eyes flashed with a glint of light, and his face showed just the right amount of surprise. "You mean Miss Diana would use firepower to threaten the entire team for her own benefit?"

Selena chuckled lightly. "Yes!"

[This is definitely slander! Even if Diana is arrogant, she wouldn't dare to do something like this, right?]

[Unless she's brainless, who would ignore the interests of the entire team for her own sake? Miss Turner is definitely deliberately smearing and defaming my goddess!]

"Darn it! Just now I thought she had some potential as a commander, but now I take back what I said. She thinks everyone is as narrow-minded as her, hating evil like an enemy?!"

For a moment, the barrage in the entire live broadcast room was mocking Selena for her self-righteousness and empty talk.

And because of Selena's words, more people switched their cameras to Thomas and his team's live stream, hoping that their mechanical goddess would use her strength and character to fiercely hit Miss Turner, who dared to insult her.

At this moment, the situation that Selena had guessed was happening within Thomas's team.

A group of military students were confronting a group of mechanics led by Diana with ugly faces.

Diana was not stupid enough to reveal her purpose in front of the live camera, facing the main force that came to her for firepower.

She deliberately avoided the live camera and offered her conditions to Thomas.

Thomas stared at Diana with a cold expression and an extremely cold tone, "Miss Diana, it concerns the team's victory. Please prioritize the overall situation!"

Diana held her arms, and her eyes were filled with cold arrogance. "I have said that I will help the team supplement firepower according to my instructions, otherwise..."

Jessica was jumping with rage. "Get out of the way, everyone! If worst comes to worst, I won't compare notes, but I must fight against this hypocritical woman today!"

Several mechanics standing behind Diana also looked uncertain.

One of them advised in a low voice, "Diana, this is not a good idea. What if these students go out and accuse us?"

"Shut up!" Diana coldly rebuked them.

The other party could only shut their mouth unwillingly.

Diana looked at Jessica and remembered the humiliation she had suffered from being pressed to the ground by her last night. She sneered, "I am also thinking about the team's victory. Don't you think that they now have so many more people than us, plus they have the map, they will eventually come back and attack us?"

"If so, why not strike first and be strong?! Are you all so weak that you have to hide here and wait for the enemy to attack us?!"

Thomas looked at her coldly and suddenly asked, "Miss Diana, may I ask what personal grudges you have with the mechanic in the other team that you are willing to pay such a heavy price to eliminate her?!"

Diana met his sharp gaze, and her heart tightened slightly, but she didn't show any difference on her face. She just raised her chin and said, "Do I need a reason to dislike someone? I am the most outstanding mechanic among the younger generation of H Country, and no one is qualified to compare with me!"

"I hate someone stealing my thunder even more! As long as you eliminate her, I guarantee that I will provide enough firepower support to the team for free!"

Chapter 1002 Suspicion Arises

No matter how noble the reasons may be, they cannot change the fact of the threat!

Thomas's sharp gaze swept over Diana, and he said calmly, "We need to discuss this as it concerns the outcome of the competition."

After Thomas finished speaking, he pulled Jessica, who was glaring angrily at Diana, and left. The other students also followed suit and left.

The people in the live broadcast room didn't see this scene, but suddenly saw several key members of the team appear on the screen with gloomy expressions, which immediately sparked countless speculations.

"Thomas and the others look really unhappy. Could it be that Selena was right?"

"Their expressions might be because of the sneak attack last night. After all, their team suffered heavy losses. Don't jump to conclusions!"

Thomas led Jessica into the tent and said, "She does have a point. Instead of waiting for Kevin to send people to attack us, we should take the initiative."

Jessica was so angry that she was about to explode. "It's all because of her that we lost so many people. If we back down now, she'll become even more aggressive!"

A flash of cunning appeared in Thomas's eyes. "It concerns the reputation and relationship between the Research Institute and Union University. We must handle this with caution."

Jessica opened her mouth to retort but ultimately shut it with a look of frustration.

Thomas leaned in close to Jessica's ear and whispered, "You'll lead the team personally. If you're caught by the other side, just let it be..."

Jessica widened her eyes. "What do you mean?"

Thomas's tone turned cold. "I hope I'm just overthinking things."

A few minutes later, Diana received Thomas's order to send people out. A smile appeared on her lips as she led several followers from the Research Institute and returned proudly.

She smiled broadly. "Hand over all of your weapons to me. Don't worry, my firepower won't disappoint you!"

Jessica snorted and remembered what Thomas had said, so she handed her gun over to Diana.

Diana personally helped each of them reload their weapons and said with a smile, "I look forward to your triumphant return!"

Jessica felt indignant and didn't bother to pay attention to her. She led a small team and set out.

"Did you see that? My goddess personally helped everyone reload their weapons. Who still dares to say that she threatened the team with firepower?!"

"That Miss Turner is really slandering my goddess! Her heart is so dirty!"

"Did I notice it alone? Miss Turner's guess was not wrong at all. Did Thomas really send someone to their death?!"

On the other side, Selena was leisurely leading her team on the road, enjoying the scenery and chatting. If someone didn't know, they would think they were on a vacation.

Selena was walking in the front with a slight smile on her lips, looking very happy.

Hattie looked up and asked, "Selena, do you like being in command?"

Surprisingly, Selena looked down at her and said, "No, I don't."

Everyone around who heard her words turned their attention to her.

If she didn't like it, why did she fight for Thomas's command?

Selena smiled and said, "Commanding is a deadly job. If you command well, you demand the lives of others. If you command poorly, you sacrifice the lives of your own people. So, no one with a heart of stone can become a commander."

This statement made all the cadets present fall silent.

Union University's Commanding Department only recruits a few students every year, and most of them drop out halfway through. Very few people can persist to the end and successfully reach that position.

They didn't know why before, and they thought it was because there were too few smart people. But after hearing Selena's words today, they suddenly understood that it wasn't because there were too few smart people, but because there were too few people who could be smart enough to ignore life and bear the burden of sin.

"But strategizing is interesting," Selena touched Hattie's hair. "And a thrilling battle and victory are even more desirable."

As she finished speaking, Selena suddenly looked in a certain direction and said, "They're here."

The group around her immediately became agitated and looked towards the direction Selena was staring.

Selena's expression turned cold, "Put your eyeballs back in your sockets!"

Everyone trembled, remembering Selena's command earlier. They hurriedly let down their guard and followed her.

Selena spoke casually, "Whether it's infiltration or ambush, the prerequisite is to make sure the enemy doesn't notice your presence."

"And on the real battlefield, with just one subconscious movement like you all just made, it is enough to scare off the fish that haven't taken the bait yet, or even to turn the tables and take advantage of your flaw to counterattack you!"

A group of students who had made a mistake followed Selena, trembling and afraid to speak.

Selena casually picked a wild flower from the roadside and held it in her hand. "Well, your opponents today aren't sharp enough to notice this mistake. We can ignore it for now," she said.

The group looked at her in disbelief. Was she mocking them?

As the enemy drew closer, one soldier began to panic. "Commander, they're getting closer! Shouldn't we start firing? If we wait any longer, their bullets will be raining down on us!" he exclaimed.

Without turning her head, Selena flicked the flower in her hand with incredible accuracy, hitting the soldier square in the forehead. "If I say we wait, we wait. If I say we retreat, we retreat. Follow my orders," she commanded.

The group remained on high alert, knowing that if they suffered another casualty, Selena's punishment would be severe. "If we lose anyone else, the entire squad will have to wear dresses and dance tonight," she warned.

The group shuddered at the thought and quickly adjusted their facial expressions, trying to hide their fear.

Meanwhile, across the battlefield, Jessica whispered to her companion, "Did they all get bitten by mosquitoes or something? Why are their faces so contorted?"

Suspecting something was amiss, they scanned the group and noticed Selena had retreated to the center of the team, leaving Kevin and Richard at the front. Yasmin was nowhere to be seen; she must be guarding the mechanic.

Despite the strange expressions on their faces, there was nothing else that seemed out of the ordinary. But the opposing team was determined to find the mechanic hidden among them and took aim at Selena.

Twenty guns were trained on her, but just as they were about to pull the trigger, something unexpected happened...

Chapter 1003 Letting off Steam

Suddenly, a cold voice came from behind, "Do you want to see whose hands are faster?"

The group immediately realized that something was wrong.

Jessica quickly turned her gun around.

Behind them, black gun barrels had already been aimed at each of their vital points.

It was obvious that if they made the slightest move, they would be shot on the spot.

Jessica quickly made a decision and put down her gun. She raised her hands above her head and looked directly at Yasmin, "I'm here to negotiate with you!"

Yasmin's deadpan face seemed to twitch.

The group of people who had just arrived said, "..."

Everyone knew that when two countries were at war, they should not kill envoys.

This move was really despicable and shameless!

Selena chuckled, "What do you want to negotiate with us about?"

Jessica heard the voice of the unfamiliar girl and turned her head to see a beautiful girl walking out of the group, with a smiling face and a delicate appearance.

Jessica glared at her and said, "I'm looking for Kevin, not you!"

She might as well have killed her!

Selena looked at the hot-tempered and violent girl and her smile deepened. Yasmin pointed at Selena and said, "Kevin has been demoted, and she is the new commander of our team!"

Jessica and Kevin were both speechless.

Jessica looked at Kevin disdainfully, "You are a man, and yet you were usurped by an outsider. How can you face your ancestors?"

Kevin was speechless. What did his ancestors have to do with this?

After Jessica confirmed that the command had really been transferred, she looked at Selena and said, "Thomas asked me to ask you what kind of deep hatred you have with Diana that you would go to such lengths to drag our team down?"

It was worth it for the other side to spend any cost to eliminate her!

This was a live broadcast, and Thomas had warned her to be careful due to the relationship between the two major forces. Therefore, her words were relatively restrained.

Selena smiled, "That's a long story, but I can guess what she has done in your team. Can I see your gun, please, classmate?"

Jessica's expression immediately became guarded.

Although it was said that envoys should not be killed in times of war, they had just made a hostile move, so there was no guarantee that the other side would not take the opportunity to eliminate them all.

Selena smiled, "Never mind if you don't show it to me, but can you shoot a bullet at that tree?"

Jessica looked at her strangely, "Why?"

Selena's eyes turned cold, "Don't worry, if I wanted to eliminate you, I would have already taken action."

Jessica thought about it. If Selena had set up an ambush behind them, she must have discovered them early on. She hadn't attacked them just now, and it seemed unnecessary now.

Remembering Thomas's words when they left...

Jessica raised her gun and fired a shot at the tree pointed out by Selena.

"Bang!"

Everyone clearly saw that the bullet went straight through the trunk and emitted white smoke.

Now everyone's face changed drastically.

Jessica looked at her gun in shock, "How did a real bullet get into my gun?!"

Not only was she shocked, but everyone in the live broadcast was also shocked.

"This is definitely not a blank round issued by the school. Blank rounds fired at people do not feel painful at all. If this kind of bullet hits a person, they will die on the spot, right?!"

"The school only issues blank rounds. The bullet in Jessica's gun was only touched by Diana. And Selena had already said that Diana would use Union University to kill her... it's terrifying!"

"It's impossible. How could my goddess be such a ruthless person? There must be some misunderstanding!"

"Where is the misunderstanding? Miss Turner never touched Jessica's gun from beginning to end. We all saw it. The only person who touched her gun was Diana..."

Selena's smile became colder and she looked at the people who came with Jessica.

Without Selena's urging, those students immediately raised their guns, aimed at the tree, and pulled the trigger.

The sound of "bang, bang" continued, and all twenty students' guns fired real bullets!

Jessica and the others were scared out of their wits, sweating profusely.

What would be the consequences if they had really attacked Selena just now?

Kevin and the others' faces lost all warmth.

Selena's dark eyes stared at Jessica, and the corners of her lips curved into a smile, "So, Miss, are you from Union University trying to use this competition to kill the people from our research institute?"

"It's not us!" Jessica realized the seriousness of the situation and knew that this accusation was unacceptable. "The bullets our school issued were all blanks, which cannot hurt anyone. Diana is responsible for the firepower in our team, and she is the one who changes our bullets. The person who wants to kill you is Diana, and it has nothing to do with our Union University!"

Selena's smile grew wider. "But you are the ones who came here with guns, and the ones responsible for firing are also you. Although Diana and I have some grievances in private, we are both from the research institute. Compared to our people in the research institute, shouldn't I doubt you more?"

Jessica's face changed. "It's not us! It's Diana who forced Thomas to send us here! Felix was sent by her to force Thomas to do it!"

"Later, Thomas refused to send anyone, but Diana threatened us with the firepower in the team. If we didn't come to ambush you, she wouldn't provide us with the bullets we needed. Thomas suspected her motives and sent me to find Kevin. If we could take the opportunity to kill you, we would. If we couldn't, we would cooperate with Kevin..."

"Why would our Union University people kill you?"

Selena smiled slightly. "Although what you said makes sense, I am willing to believe you, but... where is the evidence?"

Jessica was speechless.

Selena looked at this naive and arrogant girl, her eyes deep. "Have you ever thought that if I really died in your hands today, and you couldn't produce any evidence to prove Diana's involvement, would the research institute and the outside world's public opinion lean towards Diana or blame Union University?"

"At that time, what would be your fate?"

It was only then that Jessica realized how terrible this situation was.

If Selena really died here, she and Thomas would never be able to clear their names.

Jessica looked up and stared at Selena. "Do you believe me?"

Selena smiled. "Of course."

Jessica felt slightly relieved. "I will help you find evidence!"

Selena shook her head. "No need."

These young people were ultimately burdened by her. Selena still couldn't bear to add shadows to these young and beautiful lives.

Jessica looked at her. "Then what do you want?"

Selena smiled and asked, "Do you want to get back at that woman and take revenge?"

Chapter 1004 Fool

Jessica's eyes lit up suddenly, "I do!"

She had originally decided to go back and change out of her clothes, beat up Diana's dog head, but when she heard Selena's words, she immediately asked, "Do you have a way to fix her?"

Selena snapped her fingers, and Yasmin and the others immediately stepped back, making way.

Selena smiled at Jessica, "It's simple. I'll release you, and you'll go back and tell your commander that the next challenge is between the cadets. As for Diana's plan to gold-plate everything... let her go to hell!"

Jessica's face showed a look of excitement, but then she suddenly thought of something and said angrily, "But we don't have enough firepower! If that woman doesn't provide us with support, we won't be able to fight you!"

They were already outnumbered, and if they couldn't keep up with the hardware, and their opponent was still a tough nut to crack, wasn't this a dead end?

Selena smiled, "Your current firepower can only sustain for seven days, but it will definitely last for one day."

As she spoke, she reached out her hand. Richard, who was closest to her, instinctively drew his knife from his waist and handed it to her.

Selena took the knife and bowed her head to draw something on the ground. After she finished, she pointed the tip of the knife to a spot and said, "Within one day, the winner will be decided at this spot."

Jessica stared at Selena's map. Although it was simple, it included almost all the terrain. She tried hard to remember it.

As she tried to remember, she said, "I don't know if Thomas will agree. After all, the mission is always our top priority as cadets..."

"He will agree," Selena smiled. If not, Jessica wouldn't be here. "Or do you want to be threatened by Diana and obediently be her gilded tool?"

Jessica snorted, sure she remembered it all, and slung her gun over her shoulder. "I will convey it to our commander."

Selena smiled, "Thank you."

Jessica waved her hand and turned to leave with her people. After walking a few steps, she suddenly stopped and turned around, asking, "You're much more pleasing to the eye than that woman Diana. What's your name?"

Selena's small white face was filled with a gentle and transparent smile. "Selena."

Jessica waved her hand, "I'll remember that!"

Kevin watched as Jessica left, suddenly understanding the meaning behind Selena's words earlier that morning.

She said she wanted to lead them, to fight a satisfying and exhilarating battle. This "them" included not only them, but also Thomas and his team.

The woman really meant what she said, that she would not involve Union University in her conflict with Diana, but in doing so, she ruined Diana's chance to achieve success and now she's fallen from grace.

In the live stream, a group of people stared at the black holes in the tree trunk caused by the bullets. After looking at them for a long time, they finally had to believe one fact: "Diana really used Jessica's team to get rid of Miss Turner... how despicable!"

"I was curious at first, wondering why there was more than one shooter in the team, why did Thomas have to send out Felix at the beginning, and why did Felix miss in a winning situation... now I realize, they probably found something was wrong from the start!"

“What a wicked woman, she actually used our Union University to eliminate dissidents!”

“Selena was right, she used the firepower of the team to threaten Thomas and asked them to help her kill. I can’t imagine what the consequences will be if Jessica’s team really kills the Miss Turner from the Turner family...” “Ah, I really want to shoot this shameless woman!”

Almost all Union University students were watching the live stream. After Jessica finished talking about what Diana had done, almost everyone was furious. Even those who had previously admired Diana didn’t defend her anymore. After all, compared to an idol, one’s own classmates and comrades are more trustworthy.

As for Selena—everyone saw with their own eyes on the screen that she never touched any of the weapons with real bullets from beginning to end, so there’s no way to blame her for this.

After watching this scene, most of the teachers who had a connection with Jessica’s team called the school principal at the same time to report the incident.

In the conference room of the research institute, the atmosphere was as heavy and silent as death. The faces of all the high-level officials were ugly beyond words. They knew better than anyone else the grudges between Selena and Diana, so they didn’t need to investigate much. Everyone knew that Diana must have done this. They weren’t surprised that Diana would deal with Selena, but were angry that Diana didn’t know how to behave and actually did this under the nose of Union University.

Once caught by Union University, whether the Research Institute can protect her or not is a minor issue, but it may lead to direct hostility between the Research Institute and Union University!

How come we didn’t notice before that Diana is such a stupid person?!

In addition, there is a great god sitting in the conference room at the moment!

Even though Osvaldo is still looking at Selena, almost everyone can feel the man’s breath getting colder and closer. Those who are closer to him are scared into silence.

Freddie’s face turned pale.

If Diana were in front of him now, he would definitely lose his composure and kill her directly!

He thought that when Diana said she would kill Selena, she would use very secretive means. But instead, she did it so openly!

This fool!

In the silence, Henry was about to say something to ease the atmosphere, when suddenly the phone rang in the quiet conference room.

In the quiet environment, the ringtone sounded particularly clear,

Everyone’s gaze subconsciously looked over.

The ringtone came from Henry’s body.

Henry looked at the number and his face changed slightly, and then pressed the answer button, "Principal Marshall-

As soon as he spoke, a powerful female voice came from the other end, "Lao Fang, you better make sure that the mechanic you sent in is really clean. If I find out that she dared to use Union University's students to help her eliminate dissidents, I'll personally crush her!"

Henry secretly cursed the "evil woman" while trying to calm her down, "There must be some misunderstanding in this matter. You also know that Diana has a bright future and is about to become the head of the research department. How could she do something that harms others and benefits herself?"

"Not to mention doing it in front of so many people. There must be some misunderstanding in this... "He wanted to make the other party suspect Selena, but thinking that Osvaldo was still present, he had to speak kindly, "There must be some misunderstanding. Please calm down. When the children come out, we will surely find out."

Chapter 1005 Selena is very gentle

"Don't give me this nonsense!" The other party was obviously hot-tempered and slammed the table heavily. "Are you saying that the students of Union University put real bullets in their guns and deliberately went to kill Miss Turner?!"

Henry was obviously having a headache dealing with this woman. "Principal Marshall, please calm down. The Institute will definitely give an explanation to Union University about this matter..."

"If there is any loss to my students at Union University, what explanation can you give me? I won't be satisfied with anything!"

Henry was also angry and shouted, "Principal Marshall, the matter has not been investigated thoroughly and there is no conclusive evidence. How can you assume that those bullets were definitely loaded by Diana? Can't it be someone else who mixed real bullets into the blank ones you purchased to frame her?!"

Principal Marshall sneered repeatedly, "Henry, do you think I have no brain? You've been beating around the bush, trying to blame the Turner family and make me suspect that everything was done by them, right?!"

Patrick's cold eyes looked over instantly.

"I didn't say that," Henry said with a black face.

Principal Marshall coldly interrupted him, "I'm not afraid to tell you that compared to the Turner family, you bunch of self-righteous old guys are the ones that make me more suspicious!"

"That Diana, I've seen through her from the beginning. How dare she mess with my students? She's bored with her life!"

Henry's head was about to explode from all the noise. The president of Union University, born from a humble background, had achieved great military success. He was feared by everyone as the "scary ghost" in the army for his ability to verbally abuse his opponents until they were spitting blood. After becoming the president, he had become more restrained, but he was still highly regarded for his love and protection of students.

“At least wait until they come out and then we can talk with evidence...”

Principal Marshall sneered, “Fine! This matter is of great importance. I can wait for evidence before dealing with that little bitch!”

“But if she used her identity to interfere with the command and withhold student firepower during combat, causing difficulties in the operation, is this also a lie made up by my students?!”

Henry’s eyelids twitched heavily, and he shouted angrily, “This matter has nothing to do with the Institute. It is entirely her own doing. If it’s true, the Institute will never cover it up!”

“This is almost it!” Principal Marshall snorted coldly and hung up the phone with a murderous look.

The researchers from the institute watched as Henry was publicly scolded by the Union University president, their faces turning blue-black, and they stared at Diana on the screen with increasing dissatisfaction.

They couldn’t understand how Diana, who had previously been seen as a pride by the research department, had suddenly become so confused!

Oswaldo stared at Selena without moving his gaze, watching her calmly pick out all the military academy students and arrange everything perfectly, with long, black lashes hanging down like butterfly wings.

His wife was truly a very gentle person.

The assistant beside him asked in a low voice, “Master, should we go warn the research institute?”

Oswaldo’s tone was cold, “No need!”

Selena wouldn’t let Diana die before she had retrieved the “Sacred Pearl” in a fair and open manner.

His little baby was the most resentful of evil.

Diana had stolen something so important to her, and her revenge would not be just a simple step. Being disgraced was just the beginning. She would make Diana lose everything step by step, infamous, and then fall into the abyss completely.

So gentle. So powerful. So kind...

A gentle curve appeared at the corner of Oswaldo’s lips, and his ghostly eyes fell on Selena again through the screen, with a deep longing.

After Jessica returned, Diana immediately came forward and asked anxiously, “Did you succeed?!”

If they had failed, it would have been impossible for them to come back. Did their return mean that they had successfully killed Selena?

Diana nervously pinched her palm. She knew that she had left some big loopholes this time, but as the three-month deadline approached, she became increasingly anxious and had to take risks.

As long as Selena died, everything would be worth it!

Jessica sneered and looked at her with disgust.

The people standing behind her all looked at Diana with cold, unfriendly eyes.

Diana angrily questioned, "What's with your attitude?!"

"Get out of the way!" Jessica shoved her aside and pulled Thomas, who was walking towards them, while sneering, "You guys make sure to 'protect' our esteemed mechanic miss, don't let her run around, who knows when she might get shot!"

The students who followed Jessica back smirked and stared at Diana with cold eyes. "Jessica, you talk to the commander with peace of mind, we will definitely 'protect' Miss Barrett well!"

Diana sensed something was wrong and her heart sank slightly. A hint of fierceness appeared in her eyes, "I'm the mechanic in the team, how dare you disrespect me!"

No one paid attention to her.

Diana lifted her foot to leave, but the students blocked her and her entourage, not allowing them to go anywhere.

"You guys -"

"Miss Barrett, we're 'protecting' you!" Union University students followed the rules while also being the most arrogant and jealous. They were willing to confront even the instructors when provoked, let alone someone who dared to use them as lowly people.

If it weren't for the command, they would want to teach Diana a lesson on how to behave!

Jessica dragged Thomas to a corner and made sure Diana couldn't hear before relaying Selena's message to him.

The more Thomas listened, the brighter his eyes became.

Especially when he heard the location Selena mentioned, he swept away his previous seriousness and became lively again.

His eyes burned with fighting spirit as he smiled and said, "Excellent!"

After speaking, he turned and walked towards the team.

Jessica followed him. Thomas raised his hand and instantly all the students on the scene obeyed, standing straight in formation.

Only then was Diana free to angrily question, "Commander, what did the people in your team mean just now? How dare they disobey orders from above?!"

“Diana miss,” Thomas turned to look at her, a hint of coldness flashing in his eyes, “we just received the latest intelligence. The other side has agreed to our challenge and won’t harm any mechanics before the final round. So from now on, you can act freely. After Union University wins or loses, we will naturally send someone to take you to the finish line of the competition!”

The message that Jessica brought was simple – they wanted to get rid of Diana as a burden and give it their all in the competition!

This was also what Thomas wanted the most!

Diana’s expression changed dramatically when she heard this. “Are you guys crazy? It’s only the second day!”

She came here to make a name for herself!

Chapter 1006 Tonight, I want to see her come out

Diana had originally planned to perform well in the next few days after taking out Selena, while winning back the hearts of her team and establishing herself as a powerful and beautiful figure in the live broadcast room, in order to gain more chips for herself to enter District 6. But she didn’t expect that her eagerness for quick success and instant benefits would backfire.

The most important thing was that Thomas had just mentioned a challenge.

This meant that the group led by Jessica was not there to ambush them.

The team had reached a consensus with Selena’s team without her knowledge.

Diana was furious. “I disagree! Your primary mission is to protect me!”

Thomas coldly smiled, “Miss Diana, you’re wrong. This is Union University’s practical acting exercise, not your stage for self-promotion.”

“We do have a mission to protect you, and you can rest assured that as long as you don’t harm yourself, we will safely escort you to the finish line.”

Diana was so angry that she didn’t care that they were on live broadcast. She blurted out, “There are so many of you, and I can’t supply enough firepower in time. If we lose, aren’t you afraid of being accused of improper command?”

Her words revealed a threatening tone.

Thomas’s face turned cold. “Miss Barrett, you can rest assured that you’re too valuable for Union University. We can’t afford to lose you. We won’t trouble you for our firepower in the future.”

Diana’s face turned pale with anger.

Thomas turned to the students standing in front of him with solemn expressions and shouted, “Squad! Stand in ten columns!”

All the students immediately moved and arranged themselves into a square formation, standing at attention.

Thomas stood at the front of the formation with his hands behind his back and a steady voice. "Very good! Let's analyze the current situation. So far, we have lost 66 comrades, and the other side has lost 20 comrades. We have a gap of nearly 50 people, which represents what in this practical exercise. Do you understand?"

Everyone on the scene lowered their heads, with a layer of anger and disappointment on their faces.

With a gap of nearly fifty people, they had no advantage and had little chance of winning.

What was even more frustrating was that they had lost so many comrades in this practical exercise that they had been looking forward to for a long time, even before they started the actual fight.

When a group of people were feeling down, suddenly Thomas raised his voice, "Nothing represents anything!"

The people on the scene raised their heads in surprise. Thomas shouted, "Fifty heads can't represent anything. We have 134 people. Can't we make up the difference of fifty heads? In history, so many wars have been won against greater odds. Why can't we win? It's just a difference of fifty heads, and we will take them back sooner or later, won't we?"

"Yes!" Thomas' voice lowered, and he spoke with a deep sense of sorrow and anger, "Yesterday morning, we lost our sharpshooter. Last night, the team was attacked, and we lost sixty-five comrades. Brothers, do you want to avenge our fallen comrades?"

"Yes!" A fierce roar shook the air. Thomas raised his head and stared at a mountain in front of him like a bolt of lightning, "The opportunity is right in front of us. Brothers, let's go and avenge them!" He also had to meet the new commander who could make Kevin step down willingly! ...

At the same time, Selena stood in front of the well-ordered team and said softly, "Do you know what kind of soldier is the most terrifying?"

Her voice was not loud, but clear and every word was heard by everyone.

Richard asked, "The one who wins the most battles?"

Yasmin said, "The one who kills the most people?"

Kevin's eyes flashed, "The avenger?"

Selena smiled, and the pale golden sunlight shone through the trees onto her delicate and white cheeks, making her even more beautiful and innocent.

Her temperament was out of place among these tall and solemn students, but there was an inexplicable harmony about her. "It's the lone wolf."

The group of people raised their heads in surprise. "And what we are about to face," Selena turned around and looked at a mountain in front of her, with a slight excitement and anticipation in her beautiful face as she said, "is a group of lone wolves!" ...

"It's sunny. The group of military students has decided to leave us behind. What should we do next?"

“Damn Selena! These students were friendly to us yesterday, but suddenly they turned like this. It must be her doing something behind the scenes!”

“I told you, why did she insist on coming here with us instead of taking the position in the research department. She definitely has bad intentions! The military academy competition is over, and all we need to do now is to get to the finish line. We didn’t make any outstanding contributions. We won’t even be able to explain to Mr. Shaw, let alone make it into the top six districts...”

Diana listened to the angry complaints of her followers and her eyes became extremely cold. But there was a hint of sinister gleam in her eyes.

The early skirmish, although it would weaken their chances of success, might still be an opportunity. She had made some big moves today, which might be discovered by someone. Those incompetent students couldn’t be relied on anymore... but maybe she could take matters into her own hands!

Diana thought of the firepower she had brought in and a vicious look flashed across her face. She said coldly, “Why panic? Let them fight. It’s better if they win. If they lose, they will be injured here and will need our protection for the next few days. Then, there will be more opportunities for us to show our worth.”

The group listened to her words and thought about it carefully. It made sense, so they quieted down.

After thinking it through, Diana sneered and followed the direction in which the students had left.

In the research institute, Patrick looked down at his watch.

It was noon.

It was almost time.

He turned his head and looked at his assistant.

The assistant understood his meaning and turned around to walk outside.

At that moment, Osvaldo’s gaze suddenly turned in their direction.

Patrick’s cold eyes flickered.

Osvaldo’s voice was low but cold, “Tonight, I want to see her come out!”

Patrick asked in a cold voice, “Is this Selena’s idea? She told me before she left. If you want to disappoint her, I can call the person back now.”

Osvaldo’s aura became even lower. Selena appeared mild, but she had very strong principles...

Chapter 1007 Selena Just Went In to Play

Every step Selena took was highly purposeful.

If they made changes to her plans without her consent, even if it was for her own good, it could make her angry.

Oswaldo wasn't afraid of Selena getting angry, but he was afraid of her disappointment and regret.

The man lowered his eyelashes, his eyes showing a hint of coldness.

Why couldn't his little treasure be a bit weaker and rely on him more?

Patrick caught a glimpse of Oswaldo's helplessness and looked away, feeling a bit empathetic.

If Selena had said those things to him or to Oswaldo in person, they would have found a way to change her mind.

But Selena only told them after she had already gone in, and it seemed like they had no choice but to follow her lead.

Selena was too independent and too strong, towards both Oswaldo and the Turner family.

Despite being the heiress of the Turner family, it was difficult for her own brother to even see her.

Freddie's gaze shifted between Oswaldo and Patrick, sensing an impending danger.

Just then, Patrick's assistant returned and whispered something in his ear.

Patrick nodded and remained silent.

But after a moment, Henry's phone suddenly vibrated again.

He answered the call and everyone could see clearly from his expression that the news wasn't good.

Before anyone could speak, Henry lowered his head and turned on the computer in the conference room. The large screen on the wall displayed a huge conference room filled with people who were obviously in the middle of a meeting.

Lorenzo and Sidney were leading the group, accompanied by several other middle-aged men with determined expressions.

The people in the research institute were alarmed at the sight and stood up in a hurry. "Why do you have time to come here?"

Henry cut them off and Sidney raised his hand in a calming gesture. "I heard Union University is having a training match today, so we came to see how the kids are doing..."

Freddie saw all of this and could barely control the fury on his face. "What are you doing, Young Mr. Turner? Miss Turner went in on her own and no one forced her. Even if she performs well, she won't gain anything... Bringing in outside help now seems pointless."

Patrick gave Freddie a cold look and, for once, his icy expression softened into a smile. "Selena's not feeling well, and the Turner family can't bear to send her to District 6."

Freddie couldn't help sinking in his heart and asked, "What do you mean by that?" Patrick's gaze returned to the big screen, and a hint of mockery glinted in his eyes. "Those who can't match Selena's strength and can only resort to scheming and plotting against her, what qualifications do they have to get what Selena cannot have?"

Freddie clenched his fists. The selection process for Zone Six was always extremely strict. Although Diana had some connections with the higher-ups in Zone Two, she was still an external employee and still had a long way to go before she could hold a position of power. This practical performance was to prepare her to become the head of the research department and enter Zone Six. However, not only did she mess up, but she also left such a mess outside for them to clean up.

If she dared to make any unusual moves in front of these bigwigs again, let alone entering Zone Six, it would be a question whether she could successfully inherit the position of the head of the research department.

Freddie almost wanted to strangle Diana to death!

Even though Selena was destined to get nothing no matter how well she performed, Diana only needed to ensure her own qualifications were adequate. However, what stupid things had she done in there?

As Freddie glared at the screen, Sidney suddenly exclaimed, "Isn't that the little girl from the Turner family? Why did she go inside, holding one? Is she... taking charge?"

Patrick smiled gently and said, "Sidney, don't worry, Selena just went in to play."

"How is that a place to play!" Sidney's face became serious. "How can you let such a beautiful and delicate little girl suffer in there? What if she falls and gets hurt, where will she cry?"

Everyone fell silent. It was already good enough that Selena didn't make others cry. Who could make her cry?

"You are right," Patrick laughed. "When Selena comes out, you have to talk to her."

"I have to say, this little girl is quite capable when she takes charge," Lorenzo's resolute face broke into a smile. "Those little rabbits seem to be quite afraid of her."

Everyone could feel the same way if they had seen Selena's true nature.

Miss Turner, with that beautiful face, is too deceptive. When you're in front of her, her aura is not something an ordinary person can withstand. Most of the high-ranking officials at the Institute were almost tortured to death by her. Not to mention these students, who are strange if they don't cower like little chicks in front of Selena...

Inside the Riddle's, Leon was working on his computer when the door suddenly opened with a hand as cold and delicate as ice and snow. Alfie walked in carrying a fruit basket, with a slight smile on his lips. "I heard Hattie was sick, so I came to see her. Where is the little girl?"

Leon looked up and saw someone who was out of place in the office. "She was taken away by Lady Selena."

Alfie frowned, and the vermilion red cinnabar between his eyebrows became more vivid. "Even you as her brother couldn't stop her?"

Leon rubbed his temples. "The Riddle family is in chaos right now, and leaving is safer."

Alfie sat down on the sofa. "I just got some news."

Leon looked over. "What are you here for?"

Alfie smiled warmly. "Miss Turner from the Turner family is participating in Union University's live-action role-playing."

Leon's eyes flickered with shock, and he suddenly remembered something, then made a phone call.

Selena took Hattie away, but she didn't stop the siblings from contacting each other. When Hattie's phone rang, it wasn't the little girl's voice that came through. "Miss Hattie is not here, she has gone on a trip. Call back in three days if you have any business." Then the phone was hung up.

It was already clear where Hattie had gone.

Alfie chuckled lightly. "It's really interesting."

Leon had a headache. Selena looked like she couldn't even defend herself, plus she was with girl and didn't even bring a bodyguard. What was she going to do inside?

Chapter 1008 It's really refreshing!

Isn't it asking for trouble for those two little girls to go in?

And what's even more puzzling is that Patrick and the Anderson family man actually agreed to it," Alfie stood by the floor-to-ceiling window, looking up at the blue sky above, "Maybe the people from the Research Institute have pressured her too much. If the Shaw family really succeeds in taking control, it will be even harder for the Turner family to regain control of the Institute."

Leon's eyes were cold and clear, but he didn't say anything.

Alfie looked gloomy, "If..."

Leon suddenly spoke up, "Do you know if the young master of the Poole family has feelings for her?"

Alfie was stunned.

Leon leaned lazily against the table, his fingertips pinching a cigarette, not looking at the other person in the office, "If the Turner family wants to regain control of the Institute, marrying into the Poole family is the quickest shortcut."

"If Lady Selena wants to avenge her parents, marrying into the Anderson family is the best choice."

"Those two men, one loves her and the other is loved by her, but she hasn't given any thought to it."

"Looking back at everything Lady Selena has done since returning to the capital, besides intimidating others, she has not involved the Anderson family in any of her actions."

"Do you know why?"

The bright office fell silent.

After a long time, Alfie smiled, "Because she hasn't really fallen in love with that man yet."

Because she doesn't love him, she can't rely on him with a clear conscience.

Leon frowned, but then he remembered the Soo family's strict and different rules, and his face softened, "I think, perhaps it's because they treasure and love each other too much, that's why they are like this..."

Alfie's lips curled into a cold smile, "You forgot one thing."

Leon looked up at him.

Alfie smiled gently, his eyes icy, "He has never loved her for who she really is."

...

On the deserted island.

Almost at the same time, the two groups arrived at the mountain.

Then, almost simultaneously, they silently occupied the south and north camps, leaving people to guard the rear, in case the other side tried to sneak attack. The groups climbed to the edge of the camp and began discussing their tactics.

Richard spoke first, "Mrs. Anderson, how are we going to fight? Are we going to charge over like last night and win with a 50-person head start... even if we attack head-on?"

Selena stood quietly on the mountaintop, overlooking the entire battlefield, and smiled, "If we really fight like this, you'll be the first to go out."

Richard, "..."

Kevin frowned, "What does Miss Turner mean?"

Selena held a bow and arrow prepared by Richard on the road, and said with a smile, "If the intelligence you gave me isn't too wrong, I guess the other side's next move is to send an elite team with explosive packs. They will detonate as much as we push forward, narrowing the gap."

At the same time.

Thomas stood in front of the team and said in a deep voice, "I need an 'elite team' to help me stop the enemy's vanguard. If I'm not mistaken, there's a more than fifty percent chance they will launch a strong attack, and eighty percent of the ones who will charge forward will be Richard. We must take him down at all costs!"

"To win, sacrifices must be made, but don't worry, you won't be eliminated in vain. We will avenge you with our final victory!"

The so-called elite team is nothing more than cannon fodder.

In the situation where they were outnumbered, it was impossible to fight head-on. They had to find a way to reduce the numerical gap between the two teams.

Controlled sacrifices are better than fearless ones!

As soon as Thomas finished speaking, many hands were raised in the team, volunteering.

Thomas selected ten people and awarded them a priority rating reward on the spot. The ten people then turned around and saluted the others.

“Brothers, we’ll go ahead first. You must win and avenge us!”

Although they knew they wouldn’t really die, those who were still in the team felt a surge of emotional pride at the scene.

Perhaps because it was the first time they experienced this kind of trust and faith on the battlefield.

“Good luck to you!” The group of people raised their hands in return, “We will avenge you with our final victory!”

These two scenes were happening simultaneously, and the audience in the live broadcast room was both excited and confused.

[If she can guess all this, Miss Turner is too awesome!]

[Thomas is so touching to me, but when I see Kevin’s situation, all the camaraderie disappears in an instant. I just want to shout out loud, Thomas, run fast!!!]

[Suddenly, I think that Miss Turner might really be good material for command. Her keen perception is frightening...]

[Am I the only one who has noticed that both teams’ current situation has been created by this Miss Turner? If it was unintentional, it’s okay, but if it was intentional, this girl is terrifying...]

[I have a feeling that what Miss Turner said will come true. She said that on the battlefield, lone wolves are the most frightening, and they are about to face a group of lone wolves. Both sides may really fight to the death!]

The research institute.

Sidney’s expression was full of surprise. “This little girl is really something. She’s a good candidate for command!”

Generally speaking, the use of suicide squads and similar tactics is avoided unless absolutely necessary on the battlefield.

Thomas did the opposite, which was unexpected, and Selena was able to guess the other side’s thoughts just by listening to Kevin and the others’ accounts.

This sharp insight would be terrifying on a real battlefield.

Patrick looked at Selena’s eyes and smiled.

The Turner family is now in decline, to the point that many people have forgotten that it was once the number one military and political family in the capital.

Generations of loyalty and righteousness, with many martyrs in the family.

In the previous generation, except for Callum, who studied medicine, the other brothers all joined the military.

And the Turner family produced the most commanders.

It can be said that the Turner family is the only family in H Country that produces an excellent commander in each generation.

It was originally thought that it would be broken in this generation.

Unexpectedly, the Turner family's daughter who was living in exile inherited the family's unparalleled independence and charisma.

It is truly... heartening!

Patrick was so happy that he laughed out loud.

Freddie, who was beside him, looked even more grim.

He regretted it completely. He shouldn't have made that damn deal with Selena!

Selena won, and she really got nothing.

But what if her outstanding performance makes the people in District Six voluntarily offer those benefits to her?!

Vivian was just mocking Selena for not understanding command, but looking at Selena's expression now, she inexplicably felt a panic in her heart.

Impossible!

This is definitely a fluke. Selena couldn't possibly understand all of this!

The expressions of the other people in the research institute also became particularly unpleasant.

Chapter 1009 Have You Discussed It?

The Institute dispatched two mechanics to the island to coat the surface with gold.

If Diana, who they had placed high hopes on, failed to produce results and ended up in a lawsuit, while Selena, who they had excluded, performed exceptionally and gained the attention and favor of Union University and the high-level executives of District Six, wouldn't they have made a marriage dress for the Turner family for nothing?

Just thinking about this result made several high-level members of the Shaw family furious!

Several people exchanged glances and whispered to each other.

"Didn't Diana hide a communicator inside? Notify her of the situation and let her perform well!"

On the island, Diana was looking for an opportunity to kill Selena when the communicator she had hidden on her body suddenly vibrated.

She was afraid of being discovered, avoided the cameras, and took the communicator out of her clothes.

When she saw the message on it, Diana’s face suddenly changed, showing signs of panic and paleness.

She was suspected by Union University and they were waiting for her to investigate!

Now the high-level executives of District Six are watching the live broadcast...

Any of these messages would be a bolt from the blue for Diana!

She squeezed the communicator in her hand almost out of shape, turned her head to stare at Selena’s location, and resentment flickered in her eyes.

But soon, Diana hid the resentment in her eyes, concealed the communicator, and turned to find the group of military academy students.

Union University was already suspicious of her, and if she continued like this, her future would probably be halted here.

Diana found Thomas and his group, and for once put down her arrogance and took the initiative to speak to the ten-member squad.

“Hand over your weapons, and I will enhance their power. Then your mission can be completed more perfectly!”

When Jessica and the others heard her words, they became wary, and when they saw the uninformed student about to hand over his gun to Diana, Jessica quickly stepped forward and took away the other person’s gun.

“No need!” Jessica shouted at Diana, “You’re a mechanic from the institute on high, how can we little cannon fodder dare to let you handle it yourself? Go rest on the side.”

Diana was provoked by their strange attitude, but remembering the situation outside, she had to suppress her temper and smiled, “Do you have any misunderstandings about me? As the mechanic of the team, this is my responsibility.”

As she spoke, she raised her hand to take another person’s gun, but was stopped by Thomas raising his hand.

“Miss Barrett, the ammunition they brought is sufficient, and we don’t need any additional enhancements. This place is more dangerous, so you should go rest on the side. We’ll call you if we need anything.”

Diana was repeatedly rejected, and a look of grievance and sadness appeared on her face, “You guys...”

Except for the few who knew the truth, the others were puzzled.

Many of them were Diana's fans, and upon seeing this scene, they couldn't help but speak up, "Commander, let Miss Barrett show us her gun. She's so skilled, surely she can help us step up our firepower and take out more enemies!"

"You're right! Firepower is also a major advantage in our team. Kevin, the mechanic, we haven't even heard of his name. He must just be going through the motions. We have Miss Barrett, she's the biggest ace in our team!"

Upon hearing these words, Jessica glared fiercely at Diana, raised her chin and said, "Thomas already said it's not necessary. Why are you still arguing? Do you want to get beaten up?!"

The students who were helping Diana speak up closed their mouths instantly upon seeing Jessica's fierce expression.

Wherever Diana used to go, she was always worshipped by people. This was the first time she had received such cold treatment, and she was furious.

But she had to salvage her image, so she smiled kindly and said, "I can't help you in combat, but maintaining firepower in the team is my responsibility. If you need me, come find me anytime."

After speaking, she turned and left with her entourage.

[Why did this woman suddenly change her tune? Why is she so easy to talk to now?]

[Hasn't my goddess always been easy to talk to? Thomas and Jessica, are they being a bit too much?!]

[Hey, did you forget what Jessica said to Miss Turner before? She added live ammunition to their guns. Who would let her touch the team's weapons?]

[You said it yourself, that was what Jessica said to Miss Turner. Did anyone see it happen? I strongly suspect that it was Miss Turner's scheme to drive a wedge between my goddess and Thomas' team...]

[So you're saying Jessica is lying? Jessica may have a hot temper, but she's not a liar!]

[I don't distrust my fellow students. I just think they may have been used by Selena. Don't forget, Selena said from the beginning that she had an insider in Thomas' team, so she knows their development so clearly. Naturally, she can successfully blacken my goddess and drive a wedge in the entire team...]

[That makes sense. Could Jessica really be the insider in Kevin's team?!]

In Selena's team, a group of people heard her words and the scene fell silent.

Kevin was silent for a moment, looked up and stared at Selena's eyes, "If the other side really does that, how do we fight back?"

Selena pointed to the ground with the hand holding the bow, and said with a smile, "What do you think? If I let the other side wipe out our glorious little team that we sent out, without any gains from being ambushed on three sides... Will they become stronger and more eager to fight from top to bottom?"

The crowd remained silent, suddenly feeling a chill down their backs!

This was not forcing them to become stronger, it was forcing them to go crazy and fight to the death against them, right?

It seemed like they understood why Selena said they would face a group of lone wolves next!

The people standing behind her secretly glanced at each other while looking at the slender figure. Richard silently exclaimed, "So ruthless!"

Yasmin raised her hand and punched him, "You're talking about mercy with the enemy here?"

Kevin whispered, "She didn't do anything wrong. In command on the battlefield, the first priority is to ensure the safety of your own people!"

In a place like this, once you have that kind of mercy, it means you no longer have the qualifications to stand in this position.

Selena didn't look back, but seemed to know what they were saying and said with a smile, "Is everything settled?"

The crowd remained silent.

Selena held the bow in her hand, her gentle voice suddenly becoming resolute, "Since everything is settled, let's go!"

"Now, attention –"

Chapter 1010 Youthful Spirit

"First and second rows, line up on the right. Fifth and sixth rows, line up on the left. The squad leaders will lead their teams to approach from both sides of the camp line. After half an hour, gather the defensive lines on both sides and launch a flanking attack from three sides!"

"Remember! We must take down all the enemy troops dispatched, not a single one is allowed to escape!"

On the other side, Thomas watched the direction where the ten members of the Glory Squad were heading, his face showing a calm expression while his curiosity couldn't be hidden in his heart.

The number of the enemy troops was far more than theirs, and from any angle, there was no reason to break them up.

If it were Kevin, he would definitely choose to engage the enemy head-on, which would be most advantageous for them.

But the new commander in their team gave Thomas a bad feeling.

He wondered what kind of person could make Kevin willingly step down from his position.

Jessica asked, "They've set out, Thomas, should we wait here for news?"

“Of course not!” Thomas instantly suppressed his emotions and raised his gun, following the team from behind. “We must seize the opportunity and turn the tide of the battle quickly!”

Twenty minutes later, the Glory Squad dispatched by Thomas encountered a team led by Yasmin at a half-mountain position.

As soon as the two sides met, they immediately engaged in a fierce battle.

The Glory Squad fought with almost a desperate momentum, holding their guns firmly, disregarding accuracy or bullets, and sniping the opponent with a fierce determination to take as many as possible.

As it turned out, fearlessness was everything. The team led by Yasmin was instantly suppressed by the momentum of the Glory Squad.

“Damn it!”

“This is totally a reckless posture!”

“How much longer before Yasmin and Richard get here?”

Yasmin lay on the ground, looked at her watch, and said, “Two minutes left in half an hour. Hold on for two more minutes!”

To break through this kind of defense line and avoid unnecessary sacrifices, the best way was still to rely on long-range sniper attacks.

Yasmin remembered Selena’s order and said coldly, “Ten minutes later, rush out and collect their ammunition!”

On the other side, Thomas saw that the two sides had started fighting and was leading his team to charge in. But just as they were about to step into the battle circle, he suddenly stopped.

Something was wrong!

The numbers weren’t right!

If the enemy coming over really is a large group, even if it’s separated by a mountain, the commotion caused couldn’t be so small. Thomas almost instantly realized that he had been fooled, but before he could make a decision, the sounds of battle in the surrounding woods suddenly intensified by at least ten times.

At the same time, an anxious voice came through Thomas’s earpiece. “Commander! It’s not good! Their forces are separated! Yasmin’s group is not the main force at all, and Richard is hidden somewhere and has already taken out the two of us!”

Thomas’s face suddenly changed, and countless thoughts flashed through his mind. “Jessica, holding a gun, rushed forward. “What are we waiting for? Let’s hurry and rescue them!” Thomas grabbed her. “It’s too late!”

Jessica stared at him with wide eyes. “But we can’t just watch them get eliminated like this, can we?”

Getting eliminated in a real battle would mean death! Thomas quickly calmed down and asked through his earpiece, "Have they attacked us with their people?"

"No, they seem to want to wear us out and have been hiding, but we're surrounded and can't escape!"

To make matters worse, Richard was lurking in the shadows, and in this situation, one person on the other side could take out all of them. They were truly the most aggrieved "Glorious Team" in history!

Thomas took a deep breath. "Now, listen to me!" The earpiece was filled with voices prepared for battle. "On the count of three, you stand up immediately. No looking left or right, no stopping, no thinking about anything else! One, two, three, use your fastest speed and charge straight ahead!" Thomas paused and shouted loudly, "Charge!"

The earpiece was filled with the sound of heavy breathing and running. The remaining team members carried all of the fake drugs, didn't look back, and ran towards where Yasmin and the others were hiding at their fastest speed.

Thomas's voice continued, "The goal for all of us in this exercise is only one, to win this game! Only by winning can we do justice to our brothers who were eliminated early!"

"Remember, this is everything we will face in the future. Although this is just a temporary separation in a play, on a real battlefield, it will be a true farewell to life and death!"

"But even if you know it's a death sentence, you can't flinch, you can't stop, and you definitely can't fall!"

"Think about the oath we made when we entered Union University!"

Thomas's voice became hoarse and he shouted, "Now, you are carrying the hopes of the whole team for victory. Be brave and charge forward! Swear to me! We must win this battle! Let the enemy see that we are—"

"Never give up!"

Through the earphones came the sound of intense running and laughter, mixed with the determination to give it their all.

"We've come this far, we can't let a few stragglers hold us back. I won't rest in peace until we win!"

"Sacrifices will be made, but we must win!"

Yasmin watched as a group of people charged towards them amidst gunfire and was also filled with fighting spirit, bouncing up like leopard.

"Charge out and take them down!"

Someone urgently shouted, "Yasmin—"

But Yasmin was too fast and didn't stop.

Therefore, the group of people didn't care anymore and rushed out with their guns.

Yasmin wasn't really impulsive.

There was no other reason.

Their commander was right behind them. If anyone got past their defensive line and was left alone on the mountaintop, like Selena, it would be dangerous.

Losing generals on the battlefield was a great taboo.

For a moment, the battle became chaotic again.

On the mountaintop, Selena looked down at the entire battlefield, a smirk on her lips.

Hattie watched Yasmin charge out and frowned, "Selena, will you punish Yasmin?"

After all, Selena's order was not to allow any casualties.

Yasmin charged out like that and the other side had so many fake drugs on them, there would definitely be casualties.

Selena chuckled, "Hattie, do you know the phrase 'youthful vigor'?"

Hattie turned her head and looked at the fiery battle below.

She didn't know.

Because she didn't seem to have that kind of thing.

Selena rubbed her head gently and spoke softly, "When people are young, they always have to be impulsive a few times, especially at this age and in this place. If we don't let them have a good time now, they may never have such a good time again..."
