

Love Rats 101

Chapter 101

Once it was found out that Selena had really been wrongly accused, it would be useless for them to say even more good words, and losing their jobs would be inevitable.

In addition to Freya, the class teacher, was still being investigated at the police station for allegedly taking bribes, the remaining few who had been named by Selena in public were angry and anxious.

However, the headmaster and so many teachers were there, and it was a fact that Selena was being persecuted by school violence.

When Selena saw the anger on the faces of several people, she lowered her eyes to hide the coolness in her eyes.

If it were the real Selena, she would have been kind-hearted and probably wouldn't have bothered with these people who were at best cold-hearted, after all, the real culprit was Leah.

But she was different.

Everyone in her homeland knew that she was a cynical and vengeful young lady!

So what if she had been rude to her teacher in public?

There was a saying in their army that a soldier who didn't dare to cause trouble was not a good soldier!

She had not stepped in to back up some of her comrades before.

Selena hooked her delicate red lips, "Headmaster, teachers, as professors and teachers of Creephia University, teaching and educating student, you should all understand one thing, when there is an avalanche, no snowflake is innocent. The accumulation of one snowflake by one snowflake is what led to the scene today."

It was what led to Selena's death.

So they, no one is qualified to say innocent.

"Senior Zachary told me that the medical department was ready to force me to drop out directly, but it was Teacher Amber who gave me a new chance under the so-called "solid" evidence they produced." Selena lifted her long eyelashes, looked at Amber who was frozen, bent down and bowed gracefully, "Thank you."

A strange emotion drove her to stand up from her seat, dodging Selena's bow, and said with a smile, "I followed the rules and did not help you in any substantial way, I am ashamed of your bow."

Selena stood up straight and looked at her, winking playfully, "Your following the rules is the only kindness I've felt on this campus."

Amber froze, not knowing why her eyes were moist, and after a moment, raised her chin and said with a smile, "You are so sweet, Headmaster, you saw it? I've been honoured by Selena's respect, and under such circumstances, if the school doesn't do its best to return justice to her, I'll be the first to say no!"

In contrast to Selena's respect for Amber, the teachers who had been disgraced by her without mercy before were sitting on pins and needles.

As it turned out, it wasn't that Selena disrespected her teachers, it was that they had failed in their virtues and did not deserve her respect.

Zachary looked enthralled and whispered to Billy, "Selena is truly quite scheming."

She publicly expressed distrust and dissatisfaction with all the teacher of the medical school. The headmaster originally intended to leave her matter to the medical department itself to investigate, after the victim openly complained, it is estimated that it can not be handed over.

Even if Selena's words of resistance were ineffective, there was a teacher, Amber, who had just received a bow from her and was obviously very fond of the young girl, watching.

The person who will be investigating the truth will have to change.

Amber's cynical, straightforward nature made Zachary shiver, God knows how many teachers and students in the school will be plagued by her.

Chapter 102

The first thing that Zachary could think of was that the teachers sitting in the room could think of it.

The head teacher of the medical department frowned and stood up, "Headmaster, as you can see, she-" Before he could say anything, Amber interrupted him with a heavy slap on the table, she clasped her arms and stared at him with a bossy stare, asked with a sneer, "She is telling the truth. If you don't do a good job yourselves, don't blame her for not trusting you. Headmaster, I think this group of teachers in the medical department are too prejudiced against Selena, and as the person involved, they are not suitable to investigate this matter. Leave this matter to me, school has not yet started, and I am quite free recently, let this group of student- "

She pointed to a group of people from the student council behind her, "To me."

Selena's delicate red lips curled and she instantly smiled.

As the most honourable young lady of the Riddle Group, her bow was really not something that just anyone could afford, except for her father and mother, and the teachers who had carefully taught her since she was young, she had never bowed to anyone else.

Today she bowed to those who had helped her for the girl whose body she had taken over, fulfilling her wish.

Of course, Selena was very satisfied with this unexpected gain.

The face of the head teacher of the medical department was gloomy, and the other teachers were panicked.

The two cheating incidents involved too many people, and they could find a way to cover up the situation if it was too serious.

Amber will not cover them up and will not rest until the truth came out.

They might be humiliated!

“No...”

Unfortunately, before the head teacher could finish his words, he was interrupted by another voice.

Selena arched her eyebrows and gave a cold smile, “Please leave it to Ms. Amber Prince.”

The head teacher’s face was almost deformed with anger as he gave Selena a fierce glare and looked towards the headmaster who had not spoken and said with a straight face, “Headmaster, I know that today’s incident happened because of our negligence, which all of us should be blamed for, and we voluntarily accepted the punishment afterwards.

But the medical department is after all the signature of Creephia University, Selena and Leah are both medical students, whether it is cheating, or wrongly accusing others of cheating, it is all about the reputation of Creephia University.

It is inappropriate for Ms. Prince to intervene, and I promise that this time we will act impartially and meticulously, and will definitely not make the same mistakes and condemn any of the students again!”

The headmaster sat at the head of the table, a pair of eyes that, despite being old, could still be seen to be shrewd looked at Selena, and asked in a deep voice, “Selena, there is something you must already know, the school’s surveillance has gone wrong, the evidence that could prove your innocence has disappeared, even under such circumstances, you have decided that you must make a big deal out of it?”

Selena looked at him with a faint smile, “Headmaster, you are wrong, the evidence that can prove my innocence is never the surveillance.”

The headmaster stared into her eyes, “Then what is it?”

Selena’s smile deepened as she spat out the words lightly, “Strength.....”

Chapter 103

As Selena faintly spat out, the office went silent again.

Even the students of the Student Council could not help but focus their eyes on her.

Strength?

Selena had been at the bottom of the medical department in almost every exam, had failed several subjects in her final exams, and had been confirmed to be repeating this semester if not for the accident of school violence.

But she is standing here at the moment, saying with determination that she will take her strength to clear her name.

When they thought of Selena's performance papers, several teachers in the medical department could barely resist the urge to slap the table and stand up and accuse her of being whimsical.

If Selena really had that kind of strength, how could they have ignored her?

Zachary secretly tugged at her and lowered his voice to say, "Selena, we can still think of other ways, don't you be impulsive."

The medical department courses are all realistic, professional, and all realistic theory and experiments, even speculation is not possible, just rely on a summer time, it is impossible to make up a year of courses.

If she fails the exam, the stigma will be dozens of times greater than now, and there will be no place for her in Creephia.

Selena just smiled lightly, "I believe in myself, senior, you are a good person, so I hope you can believe me."

Zachary met her dark and clear eyes, almost instantly he was taken by the toughness in her eyes and said without any hesitation, "Okay, I believe you."

Selena arched her eyebrows and moved her eyes away to look at the teachers who were flabbergasted all over the conference room.

In the dead silence, the head of the medical faculty said angrily, "Selena, do you know what you're talking about? With your performance--"

He flipped open the materials on his desk, found Selena's performance from the previous semester and smashed it at her, "Except for a few courses that the school does not allow you to fail, you failed all the rest, and became the first student ever to be repeated in our medical department. How dare you say to us that you have the strength to prove yourself with such a result? You are clearly playing a trick on us!"

Selena's gaze was cold, raised her hand to catch the performance, under everyone's gaze, tore it to pieces.

Chapter 104

She stared into the angry, disdainful face of the head of the medical faculty and smiled coldly, "I'll make you regret it!"

The head teacher froze, meeting her dark eyes, inexplicably stunned.

"I will make everyone who has bullied and disregarded me regret it!" Her eyes swept over the teachers who had maliciously punished Selena, led the isolation of Selena and called her an idiot, and said with a sneer, "Don't you think that Leah is better than me, has better background than me, and will definitely be more successful than me in the future, so you are helping her to step on me? From this moment onwards, I will stand in a place where you can't step on, be looked up to and feared by you, and all you need to do is to keep your eyes open, keep silent, find out the truth, wait for your punishment, and then, be anonymous in my world forever, understand?"

The group of students in the student council looked on with jaws dropping.

Although there was some suspicion of gloating, this stunning looking girl, with her righteous face at the moment, was really impressive.

The teachers she had glanced were timid, and when they heard this, their expressions became even more shameful, especially when Selena was so condescending to them in public.

The head of the medical department was so angry that he gasped, "How dare you-"

"Why wouldn't I dare?" Selena cut off his words, her tone cold, "Those who have not experienced cold violence on campus will not understand and cannot imagine the humility when a student with a kind personality and lacking care since childhood faces a teacher."

"The whole community is telling you that you have to respect your teachers, everyone is telling you that students who are loathed by their teachers are definitely not good students, so when those teachers of low quality turn to corporal punishment, deliberately isolate you, call you a pig in front of all the students, pass on the homework you didn't get to finish because you were sick to every student in the class and encourage them to shame you. And do you know what it's like when you don't have a single person to tattle on?"

The last sentence was so soft that she could hear the sound of a pen falling to the ground in someone's hand.

Selena lowered her long eyelashes, covering the moisture under her eyes, "These teachers know that you are not favored at home, and no one will stand up for you when you are bullied, so they recklessly enjoy the thrill of destroying you and currying favor with the mistress's daughter who got your mother killed and dominated your family, while you can only hold back, because once you resist, they will immediately put a charge of disrespecting your teachers, and then there will be an overwhelming wave of abuse and insults, depression, boredom, rebellion, you don't even have a chance to wake up, your life has been ruined to the extent that you can no longer see a ray of light, and those who hurt you have even forgotten what they have done."

The entire conference room was silent.

Selena ruffled her hair and said in a soft voice, "In the past, I was humble and timid, fearful of the accusations of indifferent people and bystanders, always thinking that people should be kind. But now I realize that fear and kindness will not make the bullies sympathize with you and show you mercy, they will only become more rampant and intensify their bullying and insults until they completely destroy you, and those consequences you were afraid to bear before will not be more painful than those hidden aggressions."

Selena lifted her eyelids, looked straight into the face of the medical department's head teacher, her tone of voice cold, "You have not taught me, you have not helped me, you have not given me any favors, I came to school based on the fact that I have paid tuition fees. You are only an employee employed by the school, from the legal point of view, we are equal in a trading relationship, and yet you ask me to respect you, and it's my fault for not pleasing you. Isn't it ridiculous for a professor of medicine to engage in this kind of moral kidnapping?"

The face of the medical department's head teacher turned white as he pointed at Selena, but he could not refute what she said.

"Strictly speaking, you are not only ungrateful to me, you even have a grudge," Selena casually let go of her hand, the fragments of test papers in her hand spilled all over the classroom, she smiled, "I am a petty person, I always repay revenge when I have a grudge, remember my words!. You all deserve it when I take revenge on you in the future!"

Chapter 105

The whole space fell into a stagnant dead silence.

Everyone stared at the young girl standing there, their expressions flabbergasted, and they were even more shocked by the words they had never heard before.

Selena's gaze was cold as she looked at the teachers whose faces had been turned pale, licked her lips and smiled, "As to whether I have that strength, what means I will use to find out the truth, and whether I will disgrace the school. you the teachers of the medical department have nothing to do with it. From this moment on, please shut your mouths and do not try to point fingers at me in any matter, I think even if your quality is low, you should know the meaning of "virtue is not worthy of position."

If you still don't understand, I can explain more clearly, from the legal point of view, we are on an equal footing and you are not in a position to reprimand and look down on me, while from the moral point of view, I am the victim and you, as the executioner, please keep your humility and shame."

"Please know where you stand at this moment, and if you speak or act in a way that offends me again, I will exercise my rights as a citizen and bring you before a criminal court for "cold violence against a student, ruining her reputation and causing her depression".

"In addition, the students of class ten of the medical department have been deeply guided by wrong ideas in the past year, resulting in a wrong outlook and collective psychological problems, all of which are quite closely related to your connivance and indifference, and if the parents carry out a deep investigation, with several crimes and punishments, prison may be the future destination of several of you."

Hearing the last two sentences, those few teachers became worried.

Selena's matter was so hot at the moment, once she really sued them, their past would definitely be exposed, and not only Olnrith University, but also the whole education world would have no place for them then.

Especially the last one, the students of Class 10 had psychological problems, such a serious matter, they as teachers will be blamed. These two days parents and the media kept calling them, if the negative news of "encourage cold violence and isolating students", they will surely be in jail.

The teachers' faces turned white and they shivered, instantly lowering their heads.

Selena's cold eyes fell on the medical department's head teacher, quietly waiting.

His face turned white, and finally he did not say any more unnecessary words.

Selena smiled faintly, said to the headmaster softly, "Headmaster, I'm sure no more teachers will interrupt the conversation between us, please continue."

The headmaster looked at her, who was overbearing, but righteous with a good nature.

After all, having lived most of his life, the headmistress was good at reading people.

A person with such eyes and drive is definitely not a bad person.

It's a pity.

Thinking like this, the headmaster instantly became more dissatisfied with the group of teachers in the medical department. He looked into Selena's eyes and asked in a serious tone, "Selena, you said that you have strength, and I am willing to believe that you are a truly outstanding student, but can you tell me why your exam results are so poor?"

If Selena was really capable, yet she failed on her final exam, in between there must be a deeper and darker inside story.

Chapter 106

Many teachers have turned their gazes towards several teachers in the medical department, and with a long list of previous convictions, it almost makes them begin to wonder if this group of people had deliberately changed Selena's grades.

If that's the case, it's outrageous!

The group of teachers noticed the needle-like sight of their colleagues and their faces looked ashamed.

One of the teachers shook her head and said in some panic, "We definitely did not tamper with her test paper! Headmaster, even if we are negligent with our students, we definitely wouldn't dare to break the law!"

They had neglected Selena, and there was some suspicion that they were deliberately targeting her, but in their opinion, it was just some insignificant "trivial" things that they had shown to the students they didn't like, and no one could even catch them in the act.

They didn't expect that the accumulation of so many "trivial matters" from the whole class would cause so much mental damage to Selena and lead to the present scene.

Selena glanced at them coldly and smiled, her gaze was cold, "They really didn't do anything, they just gave all the usual grades a failing score."

In the final exams, the paper grades accounted for seventy percent, and the usual grades accounted for thirty percent, combined to make the real grades.

Selena's usual grade was thirty something, if it wasn't for the school's rule that it couldn't be less than thirty points, maybe they would have given her zero.

Like this, even if she passed the paper, she wouldn't have passed the line in the end.

Those teachers sighed in relief and glared at Selena with some indignation, but dared not speak out in anger.

they had indeed all given Selena low usual grades on the grounds that she usually did not participate in activities, and associating this with the reason why Selena did not participate in class activities, several people instantly dared not speak out again.

One of the teachers from the outer department questioned, "But I've seen your test paper, even if they gave you a high usual grade, it would still be hard for you to get a good grade."

Selena ruffled her hair and looked down at her nails, her tone was calm, "You have only seen my results from this final exam, may I ask if anyone has paid attention to the results I got when I was enrolled to Creephia University?"

The crowd at the scene was stunned again.

Amber frowned, her expression became angry, her voice sharp as she questioned, "The Department of Medicine is the best major at Creephia University, the lowest admission score line back then was six hundred and fifty, the students who could get into Creephia University were originally the top students from the major high schools, and the Department of Medicine accounted for all kinds of top students! Selena was able to get into the medical department of Creephia University, which means that she is not lacking in natural talent and hard work. But why did she get poor performance under your teaching?" "As you have said, no one has ever failed in the medical department of Creephia University, so why is Selena the only one who has failed over the years? Don't you yourselves have a reason?"

A teacher of the medical department retorted indignantly, "The past results do not represent the present, there are students who do not work hard enough to cause their results to slip, our usual marks are given low, but her you have seen her paper grades, it is useless even if we give her high scores, so how can she blame us for her own bad exams?"

Selena laughed mockingly and was just about to speak, but a voice came from behind her, "No, that's other students, but Selena is different!"

Chapter 107

Ronin stepped forward and stood beside Selena, her icy sight looking at the teacher who had spoken, her voice taking on an extra touch of condemnation, "Because back then, she was admitted to Creephia University with the top A-Level grade in the country!"

All the teachers in the room were dumbfounded and their eyes widened, as if they had heard something shock.

After reacting to the meaning of Ronin's words, even the teachers from the other classes in the medical department turned their angry and condemning eyes towards the group of teachers in Class 10.

Those few teachers seemed to be unaware of this at all, their faces were nearly pale and finally showed panic, "It is impossible."

"Nothing is impossible!" Ronin said coldly, "Selena was the top A-Level exam in our term, her A-Level score was only three points short of a perfect score, her score was even higher than most of the previous top scores, it's just because she kept a low profile and didn't show it off loudly, you can call the Education Bureau to confirm about it, Headmaster."

Because he happened to be second in that class, for the person who had over passed him, he had remembered the name Selena Riddle after he had purposely gone through his connections and asked someone at the Education Bureau.

Selena's A-level exams were so good, but she herself was too low-key, considered the most low-key A-level first place ever, after her results came out, she did not give any interviews, and no one knew which school she had enrolled in, and after she entered the campus, she had not showed it off to anyone.

None of the students in Class 10 knew that she had done so well in her A-Levels, and this group of teachers were too prejudiced against her, let alone taking the initiative to pay attention to her.

If it wasn't for the difference in Selena's expression and tone of voice that reminded Ronin of this incident, he wouldn't have known that the person who had been better than him in terms of grades was actually the notorious "fool" on the campus of Creephia University.

This was a joke!

This time, even the headmaster got angry and heavily slapped the table and stood up, looking angrily at the group of teachers in Class 10, "What kind of stupid things have you done?"

They had tortured the student with the best score into a fool. The headmaster remembered the test paper and compared it to Selena's A-level results, he was instantly furious.

"You bunch of bastards!" The headmaster was so angry that he almost wanted to pick up his cane and punch them, "I gave you a good student, what have you done to her? What else can you do but bully the weak?"

All the teachers lowed their heads at the curse of the headmaster. Even the head teacher of the medical department lowered his head in shock and shame, not daring to say a word in the face of the collective angry accusing eyes of the teachers in the entire office.

Selena was actually ranking the first in A-Level.

How could she be the top A-Level student?

As teachers, they knew how hard it was to get the first place in A-Levels, the better the grade, every point up was extraordinarily difficult, and the A-Level examination was the strictest, had absolutely no possibility of cheating. Selena's result was only three points short of the full mark, and that was completely her true level.

That was no longer something that could be achieved through hard work alone.

Selena definitely had a gifted and intelligent brain.

They actually called her stupid, unmotivated and rubbish all the time.

Chapter 108

No need for the bystanders to accuse them, they themselves felt ashamed.

Amber was so angry, and her water glass knocked on the table, "The number one A-Level student in the country has become a student who is unmotivated, stupid like a pig, and a trash. Won't you give an explanation?!"

Selena looked at those few teachers' expressions of remorse with a cold smile.

If it wasn't for the fact that Selena had done well in her A-Levels and had aroused Leah's jealousy, how could that vicious woman have intensified her efforts to torment her with the vicious tactic of "school cold violence" without any regard for the consequences?

The headmaster suppressed his anger, turned his head to look at Selena, sighed deeply, "I will give you the opportunity to prove yourself with strength, three days later, the school will hold an examination for the class. The teachers of other classes of the medical department to give you questions, I will personally supervise the examination, after the results come out, the official website of Creephia University will personally issue an announcement to clear your injustice, as for the matter that you wrongly accused the other people of cheating..."

This matter is even more prick, as the monitoring is gone, and the matter has passed too long, even that note can not be found, there is no way to solve it.

Even if Selena clears herself of the charge of cheating on her exam, the charge of wrongfully accusing Leah will be difficult to wash away.

This was a dereliction of their duty.

"I will use my own means to investigate," Selena smiled faintly, looking towards Amber, "Ms. Prince, as for those people on campus who used to bully and insult me, please help me take care of them with the assistance of my seniors." Amber's chin was raised high, she liked this girl, "Don't worry, I will check with this group of kids, to ensure that none of those who deserve to be punished will escape!"

After learning that Selena was once the top A-Level student, almost everyone was convinced that there was definitely something else going on with her final exam results, and that it was Creephia University that had shortchanged this student.

Therefore, no one cared about the medical faculty's feelings anymore and voted for Selena's move to exclude Amber's help in finding out the truth.

The teachers of the medical department had no nerve or position to fight for a lighter treatment at this moment.

Selena smiled gratefully at the teachers who supported her, nodded again at Zachary and the others, and turned to walk out.

After leaving the office, Selena took out her mobile phone to check the time and walked towards the school gate.

The students she met along the way all pointed at her, but with the previous experience of those students at the school gate, no one dared to say anything in front of her anymore.

“This is the Selena Riddle? She is much prettier than Leah, not as ugly as the rumor has it. Are the student of her class all blind?”

Chapter 109

“Selena is really beautiful, her temperament is super, she has a genius face, I don’t believe that she cheated and wrongly accused others of cheating!”

“I heard that Leah is the daughter born to a mistress, it was her and her mother who pissed off Selena’s mother to death and stole Selena’s fiancé. Seeing Selena with my own eyes today, I’m really going to consider conspiracy theories.”

“If everything is really the work of Leah, then her character is disgusting, Selena is really too pitiful.”

Selena listened to those remarks, her eyebrows spread and she smiled as she walked out of the campus.

Where there was darkness, there would be light.

In this world, there is still more good than ugly after all

Half an hour later, while Selena was studying the script with the director at Olympus Group, an announcement was once again released on the official website of Creephia University.

Selena’s words this morning were so intimidating that Creephia University was ashamed of her. Under the arguments of Amber and Ronin, the top position of this announcement was placed with Selena’s A-Level results.

The results of each course are clearly marked, especially the last one, which is the first place in the country, comes to the fore in an extremely eye-catching way.

Leaving aside the content at the bottom, the overwhelmingly shocking result alone attracted everyone who first saw the announcement, and then swept across the internet with a fast speed.

“Holy shit, what did I see? Selena, who was called a “fool” by Creephia University, was the top student in the country in the previous year, the top student in A-Levels? Except for three marks deducted from her language course, she scored perfect marks in all the other subjects. Are all the teachers who are teaching her pigs? Is there really nothing wrong with the IQ of students of Creephia University? They’re calling the top A-Level student “dreg”, they are brainless, right?”

“The last top A-level student in the country was low-profile and her identity was always a mystery. I did not expect that she had entered Creephia University. What’s more, the top A-Level student has become a “fool” at Creephia University and cheated on her exams, forcing her to repeat her grade! The teachers who are teacher her classes are all crazy, right?”

“Campus violence against the top A-Level student, and calling her a “cheater” and forcing her to drop out. I have to doubt the quality of teachers at Creephia University, Creephia University must come forward to give an explanation, otherwise who would dare to enroll in their school in the future?”

“Where are those so-called outstanding top students of Creephia University cursed Selena? They called the top A-Level students “dreg” and “cheater”, are they better than her?”

“They must be brainless, saying the top A-Level student as “academic dregs”, calling the top A-Level student “cheater” and forcing her to drop out. That’s the funniest joke I’ve heard this year!”

Chapter 110

“A A-Level top student was forced into this state. Creephia University is really too disappointing, it is a brand of Creephia, if it is not explained clearly, Creephia University is notorious for life!”

“Please be merciful, don’t scold Creephia University, 99.9% of our students have only just found out about this news. If we knew that before, we can’t wait to worship her, how can we possibly curse her? The teachers and students in her class are the ones who called her a “cheater”. The teachers have been arrested because of bribe-taking, and the students have been wrongly guarded, so they have been dropped out from school. Please believe that the headmaster and other teachers, as well as us students, are definitely on the side of justice!”

“Right! Our headmaster has already said that three days later, Selena will be given a chance to take a separate exam, and the whole process will be completely open, with the headmaster and all the teachers personally invigilating the questions. When the time comes, Selena can clear her name of cheating. Selena and the school are so pathetic. Forgive me, although I am an alumna, I really want to scold those fools in class 10!”

“I’m skeptical of Creephia University students’ words and actions, wasn’t it your school’s students who cursed Selena the worst before? What top students, honors students, future medical doctors? And this morning, at the entrance of Creephia University, Selena was bullied by reporters, and students from your school stood by and clapped their hands, calling her shameless, and shouting at her to get out of the school. With all due respect, this time, Creephia University is really too disappointing!”

“Crap! Is that true? A student from her school is being bullied by outsiders, and her schoolmates are clapping on the sidelines. I can’t help but get chills down my spine listening to this, is this a fucking human thing to do?! The animals know how to protect their partners, right?!”

“The evidence is here, this is the video link, after watching this, I really no longer have a trace of hope for the Creephia University. Stay away from the Creephia University, go to Olnrith University, at least Olnrith University will not turn me into such a selfish and indifferent person. I feel like there are demons and monsters at Creephia University, the first A-Level students have become scum, campus violence is seen everywhere, students are selfish and indifferent, if you want to save your life, stay away from Creephia University!”

“Those fool students have been expelled, they are not good enough to be students of Creephia University. I swear, we’ll get those accounts out in real names and find out which ones are brainless! I will surely teach them a lesson.”

No matter what era one is in, knowledge is the hardest strength, and no matter who one is, the first feeling that comes to mind when one first sees this test paper that sits high at the top of the pyramid is shock and admiration.

How could a girl with such outstanding and dazzling results, yet so low-profile and introverted, be as bad as the legends say?

It was ridiculous!

Once this test paper was released, those accounts that had previously cursed Selena became the object of targeting on the internet.

The netizens found out that these accounts were all bought specifically to curse Selena.

“These accounts are not students of Creephia University, but someone is using the banner of Creephia University to slander Selena! We will definitely uncover the person behind it and expose her to see how dirty her heart is!”

With such an all-network public opinion pushing, the students of Creephia University who took the blame for no reason looked furious.

At the same time, they were even more certain that Selena’s cheating must be an inside story. If she had really “cheated”, how could someone use such dirty means to smear her?
