

Love Rats 1068

Chapter 1068 This Little Actress is Too Poisonous!

Selena looked at the scene full of requests for opening and ending theme songs on the screen, thought for a moment, and replied.

Selena: "I'll give it a try."

The fans collectively cheered.

The girl was too excited and busy with her own affairs, so she didn't think too deeply about the deeper meaning behind "I'll give it a try."

...

As soon as Selena exited Weibo, Osvaldo's phone rang on time.

Selena happily answered, "Osvaldo, have you seen..."

The man's gentle voice came over, "I saw it, congratulations Selena."

Selena happily smiled and rolled on the bed like girl, "Thank you, husband."

Without Osvaldo's help, "Breaking Ground" would definitely not have been such a success, let alone such a smooth release.

Osvaldo chuckled, "It's ten and a half, it's time for you to sleep, don't let anyone disturb you."

Selena promised with a smile and talked to Osvaldo for a while. When she hung up the phone, there were still three minutes left until ten thirty.

Selena remembered the matter of the opening theme song and called Hattie.

premiered tonight, and Hattie was still awake and answered the "Selena, congratulations."

asked gently, "I heard Leia say that Hattie can play can, my mother is the best violinist in the capital, I can play the violin and cello!" The girl said proudly, paused, and added softly, "But I can't play the "Selena needs Hattie's help with something, I'll let Leia pick you up at the Selena, get some rest early, I'll be there two sisters bid each other good night, and Selena turned off the lights and went with the Riddle sisters who slept peacefully, no one in the "Love in City" crew could of "Breaking Ground" was rapidly catching up with "Love in City" in an unstoppable was no obvious trend of overwhelming in a short period of time, almost everyone could clearly feel that it was only a matter of time before "Love in City" audience's word-of-mouth for these two dramas was simply not on the

...

if they bought fake fans, they could not create any waves under Selena's massive fan

After realizing that the situation was irreparable, Haider's team quickly deleted their previous conversation with Selena and issued an apology letter on Weibo.

Compared with Haider's self-protection, Rachel was not so decisive.

She saw on Weibo that everyone was praising Phoebe's acting skills and "Breaking Ground", her face twisted with anger, her eyes turning red as she shouted, "I will absolutely not apologize to Selena!"

Her management team became Phoebeous and said, "But if you don't apologize, your recently improved reputation will once again plummet!"

Rachel glared at Phoebe on the screen fiercely and said, "Are those viewers blind? Where is she better than me? I can't lose to such a yellow-haired girl!"

"These are definitely all fake reviews bought by that slut Selena!"

"I will absolutely not lose!"

Her management team's expressions were all grim.

To be honest, Rachel's acting skills were not good at all.

She relied entirely on Diana to get ahead in the entertainment industry.

She worked extra hard in "Love in City" just to make Selena look bad, resulting in an exceptional performance compared to her previous works.

But when compared to the girl on the screen...

Even her management team couldn't deny that the other party was much better than Rachel.

matter how good Rachel's acting was, it was still just the little lead actress that Selena chose... she was acting anymore, she was as if she was originally part of manager tried to persuade her, "We must issue an apology letter immediately, otherwise... are you really going to kneel down to preemptive apology, if Selena still insisted on that bet to kneel down, she would appear unreasonable

Rachel refused to apologize, her image would definitely with red eyes, "Impossible! Even if I die, I will never apologize to that slut some fake reviews! Suppress all the comments praising the other party's acting entire management team's expressions

you buy a lot of fake reviews, you won't be able to compare to Selena's fan red eyes stared at her manager and she shouted, "I'm telling you to do it, don't you understand? If you don't understand, then manager took a deep breath before suppressing the anger that rose to originally planned to call Diana to ask her to discipline her stupid sister, but Diana's phone had been unreachable lately. They couldn't get in touch with each other, so there was nothing Rachel could do but follow through with the