Chapter 1211 Go Claim Your Lady!

Neve's words brought Constance back to her senses. She wiped away her tears and realized that it was not the time to cry. She needed to find a way to minimize the damage.

Constance reopened her phone and stared at Selena's graduation certificate. Suddenly, she noticed something was wrong.

"This seal..." Constance's eyes widened. "It's fake!"

Neve was shocked. "What did you say?!"

Constance carefully examined the red seal and confirmed that she was not mistaken. Suddenly, she was no longer despondent. She gritted her teeth and sneered, "This is not the seal of Lab 717. It's a forgery!"

Lab 717 was considered sacred in the eyes of ordinary people. Constance had shown off her acceptance letter to the laboratory countless times. Therefore, she was very familiar with the seal of the laboratory.

The seal on Selena's graduation certificate was obviously fake, with even the most basic handwriting being different.

Neve, however, was traumatized by the revelation and doubted, "It's unlikely, right? Even if Selena is bold and reckless, she shouldn't lie about something like this... Otherwise, wouldn't she be exposed immediately by Lab 717?"

But Constance's jealousy had clouded her judgment. She was not open to persuasion. With a cold expression on her face, she stood up, walked to the table, and took out her own acceptance letter.

"What can't Selena do to clear her name?" Constance sneered. "I want to see how she can explain this big lie!"

Constance took a comparison photo and uploaded it to her account for everyone to see.

Inside the Capital University laboratory, Black Crow looked at Constance, who had once again come out to cause trouble, with veins bulging on his forehead.

"So annoying!" Black Crow dialed a number with a murderous expression on his face.

The call was answered almost immediately, accompanied by excited shouting, "Doctor!"

Black Crow said coldly, "Go to the website and claim your lady!"

Then he hung up the phone.

Go claim their lady?

Had something happened to their lady?

The young man's heart sank, and he quickly opened the website he had never seen before, only to be overwhelmed by a flood of information.

Chapter 1212 That's a Divine Being!

So, despite the public uproar, no one so far has dared to link Selena with the owner of the "Sacred Pearl."

Olivier gave her a strange look and vaguely responded, "She is indeed one of the graduates of the laboratory."

The girl gasped, "That's amazing!"

As members of Lab 717, they knew better than anyone how difficult it was to graduate from there.

Especially when the other person graduated from Lab 717 at the age of fifteen, is she even human?!

Olivier took pity on the girl and patted her head, "Don't compare yourself to her, she's not even human!"

The girl looked up at him in admiration and said, "Of course I know she's not human. Graduating perfectly from the laboratory at the age of fifteen is something only a divine being can do! So, what kind of divine she is?"

Olivier sighed and looked out the window, reminiscing for a moment before whispering, "A very, very abnormal divine being."

Seeing the girl's confused yet admiring expression, Olivier continued, "You don't understand. To people like me, in your eyes, I'm already a very talented genius, right?"

The girl nodded frantically.

Olivier was indeed a remarkable genius! He became a doctor at Hogwarts at the age of fifteen and was admitted to Lab 717 in the same year. He was a well-known super genius at Hogwarts.

But Selena's existence is like a huge mountain pressing down on them, preventing them from shining.

The most hateful thing is that she not only has genius-level talent but also has no sign of any "genius disease," and she is just a normal girl who happens to be extremely beautiful.

During the few months that Selena was in Lab 717, she successfully made all the geniuses who used to envy her treat her like a treasure.

For the members of Lab 717, Selena is like a sweet nightmare that makes them both hate and adore her.

Olivier remembered her pale and delicate face and could only sigh, "If she didn't plan to make a name for herself in the physics world, we wouldn't even matter in the physics world."

The girl was originally deeply engrossed in listening to the stories about her idol, but when she heard the last sentence, she instantly became uneasy, "Senior sister isn't planning to study physics?!'"

Olivier waved his hand, "You don't understand..."

A girl with such a great demeanor was destined not to stay in the physics world.

If it weren't for there being no other way, how could Bruno let go of such an outstanding talent with his personality?!

The girl smartly changed the subject when she saw Olivier's gloomy expression, "Since she is the member of our 717, how could Constance dare to openly beat her?" She even sent the person to prison, accusing her of leaking secrets, and forced her to reveal her identity...

Upon hearing Selena's words, the people present instantly understood what she meant.

Apart from the certificate being fake, everything else was real.

If it weren't for Constance making a big deal out of it, there wouldn't even be a fake certificate in the first place.

Thinking back to Constance's blatant accusations against Selena on Weibo, the people in Zone Two couldn't help but feel that the previously excellent and perfect Baxter family's young miss looked rather unsightly.

When she saw that many people were testifying that Selena's graduation certificate was fake, she couldn't help but smile.

She was about to call her senior brother and ask 717 to expose Selena's lie when she saw a comment suddenly pop up in her comment section.

Bruno: You despicable and shameless scum, get out of the laboratory!

When Constance saw the unusually eye-catching ID name, her face suddenly stiffened. Neve, who was standing beside her, trembled, "The... the principal?!"

"It's impossible! Someone must be impersonating him!" Constance's voice became sharp due to fear. She was about to speak and question the person when several more comments suddenly appeared below.

At this moment, no one paid any attention to Constance.

Ever since these scientific elites appeared on Weibo and openly supported Selena, Constance was destined to be humiliated on the spot.

In the prison, Leia was talking to Selena, suddenly she heard some hurried footsteps outside the door.

Leia turned around and saw General Jonathan and a group of people walking towards them with a serious expression on his face. "Miss Turner, you have woken up," he said in a rare gentle tone.

Selena propped her chin up listlessly and her gaze swept past Blake and Esmee, who had an unpleasant expression on their faces, as they followed behind Jonathan. She smiled without much warmth and said, "General, why do you have the time to bring so many people to visit a prisoner like me?"

Jonathan's face twitched slightly. "It was all a misunderstanding before. I personally brought them here to apologize to you, Miss Turner," he said sternly.

After Jonathan finished speaking, he looked at the Baxter siblings behind him with a cold gaze.

Blake's face was stiff, and under the disapproving stares of the people in Zone Two, he mustered up the courage to step forward and bow to Selena. "I'm sorry, Miss Turner. I didn't investigate the truth and wronged you," he said.

The atmosphere was dead silent.

Chapter 1214 Missing Husband

The Baxter siblings had taken a few steps when they suddenly stopped in their tracks. Blake didn't look back, but his steps quickened as he walked away. Esmee, on the other hand, turned her head and gave Selena a resentful glare before quickly walking away.

Selena watched the group leave and then smiled as she turned to ask Leia, "Does the Baxter family have a grudge against the Turner family? Otherwise, how could they offend me so completely?"

Leia pursed her lips and said, "They are Constance's aunt and uncle, so naturally, they are on her side. Also, Blake and Commander Turner had a falling out when they were young, and they say their enmity runs deep."

Selena raised her eyebrows. It was not surprising. The Turner family had been off the capital stage for nearly twenty years, and Oscar's sudden return had certainly upset some people. These people were doing everything they could to get rid of him, especially Selena. Her brilliance was too dazzling, and if she were eliminated, it would be equivalent to cutting off the Turner family's chances of returning to the research institute.

Selena had no intention of getting involved with Zone Six, so she didn't care about these conspiracies.

When things quieted down, Selena couldn't help but miss Osvaldo. She had planned everything so well. The people at the research institute had offended her time and time again, and she had no intention of leaving after Osvaldo returned.

If she didn't skin the people at the research institute this time, she would write her name backwards!

appearance of many bigwigs on Weibo shook the various prestigious families in the capital. No one had expected that the Turner family's daughter would have such a huge and deep background as 717. For a moment, they didn't know whether to be grateful for not killing her before or regretful for not

This action thoroughly angered those who genuinely enjoyed scientific research. Several academicians even slammed their tables and left the institute on the spot. After the exposure of Selena 717's laboratory members' identities, another group of people left as well. Within a short day, half of the institute's pillars were gone. This was already a severe loss, and at this time, a group of big shots from Lab 717 openly supported Selena on Weibo, once again making headlines within the

Despite extreme dissatisfaction, the Poole family has implicitly accepted that they cannot oppose Selena anymore due to Christ's attitude towards her. After all, without control of the research institute, they would also lose the inspection institute.

Even if Christ were to squander his wealth for a woman, he would not be able to regain control as Dexter is no longer in power.

But the Shaw family has no choice.

From the current situation, it seems that the Turner family's strong rise cannot be stopped anymore, while the Shaw family... is probably running out of tricks.

It remains to be seen whether the young master of the Shaw family can come up with a way to completely bring down the Miss of the Turner family.

Chapter 1215 Who is that?

Not long after Jonathan and his men left, the research institute's personnel arrived.

Even if they were not willing deep down, under such great pressure, they had to go, even if it was just for show.

Moreover, if Selena did not show up for a day, the research institute would be criticized by others.

If the people from 717 really came to the capital to settle accounts with them, their old faces would be useless.

Henry looked at the girl sitting in the chair, flipping through the book with boredom, and sighed deeply.

Even in the dark and oppressive environment of the prison, the girl was still elegant and beautiful. Just looking at her appearance, no one would believe that those slender hands could stir up capital.

Ignoring Leia's unfriendly gaze, Henry stepped forward to Selena and bent down, "Miss Turner, we were wrong this time."

"The position of the head of the research department will belong to you alone from now on, and no one can shake it. Please come back with us."

This attitude was not considered to be low.

Selena put the book in her hand aside and raised an eyebrow, looking at the group of people in front of her.

However, they were in the wrong and could not find any words to refute her.

Selena gave them a cold glance, picked up the book again, and said lightly, "Leia, I don't want to see them again!"

Leia snorted coldly, "Madam Selena wants to rest now, please leave immediately!"

If it weren't for the fact that these people were too old and their bones weren't in good condition, she would have directly thrown them out one by one.

"Miss Turner, everything is our fault. Other scholars at the academy sincerely admire you!" Henry said solemnly. "Most of the scholars in the research department resigned in anger because you were imprisoned!"

"You can blame us, but please don't disregard the country's scientific research because of a momentary impulse!"

Selena didn't lift her head, but her voice was cold. "Mr. Matthews, your words sound so nice, but unfortunately, you probably forgot that I had already proved to all of you that I am a hundred times stronger than Constance."

If he really had the righteousness he claimed, why would he help Constance after she showed her true strength, and not leave her to die?

In Constance's villa, she had just hung up the phone when someone knocked on the door.

Perhaps because she was guilty, both she and Neve were on edge, prepared for any unexpected moves.

The doorbell kept ringing outside, and Constance took a deep breath, barely managing to control her emotions. She tidied up her appearance before walking over to open the door.

Neve, also on edge, stood nervously behind her. But when she saw the group of people walk in, her face suddenly turned ugly.

Constance, barely managing to control her emotions, put on the demeanor of a noblewoman and asked, "What are you all doing here?"

The leader of the group fixed his gaze on Constance for a moment before waving his hand and saying, "Take her away!"

Once implicated, Constance would definitely go to jail.

And Constance didn't want to go to jail, so she pushed all the responsibility onto Neve. After all, no matter how it was investigated, it was indeed something she had done. Besides being bad at judging people, Constance's hands were still clean.

Neve figured everything out and her face turned fierce in an instant. "Constance! This thing was clearly instigated by you!" she said. "If you hadn't cried to me about how Selena was bullying you and taking away the man you liked, and if you hadn't wanted to take credit for the existence of the 'Sacred Pearl' and not bear the name of selling out the country... how could I have framed her? It's all you, you're the culprit!"

Constance looked at her with red eyes, her eyes full of pain. "I know everything you did was for my own good, but you shouldn't have used such despicable means to frame Miss Turner," she said, covering her face and crying hoarsely. "Now not only you, but I have also been kicked out of the lab by the teachers because of you... I've been good to you, how could you do this to me?!"

Neve suddenly widened her eyes, as if she was meeting Constance for the first time.

The Zone Six people who had come to arrest Neve also stared at Constance with a strange look.

No matter how Constance tried to clear her name, her previous actions on Weibo of attacking Selena publicly would make it hard for people to believe she was innocent. But they had no evidence, so they couldn't do anything to Constance. They could only take Neve back and try to get information from her.

Neve was handcuffed and crying as she walked away, staring at Constance with resentful eyes. "Constance, you vain and wicked woman, you'll never be as good as Selena!" she cursed. "You're destined to be crushed under Selena's feet for the rest of your life!"

Constance trembled with anger, but her face still showed a disappointed and heartbroken expression. It was not until Neve's curse was no longer audible that Constance regained her expressionless look.

Chapter 1217 She won't come out tonight

The entire day had passed and so many people had tried to persuade her, but the Turner family's young lady still didn't budge.

The executives from Zone Two had already publicly announced that they would release Miss Turner without charge, but she remained inside. What could they do?

If Selena didn't come out of prison for another day, the Research Institute and everyone who had detained her would be cursed and criticized by others. And most importantly, if they were to attract the group of world-class scientists from Lab 717... the consequences were simply unimaginable!

It can be said that everyone in the Research Institute and Zone Two were anxious and desperate, trying every possible means to get Selena released from prison.

Patrick was thinking about how to punish Constance and the butler suddenly came in, "Young Master, someone from the Research Institute is here."

Patrick's eyes flashed with a dark light.

At the entrance of the Turner family, the researchers knew why they were there. "Let them in," he said with a smile devoid of warmth.

Soon after, Henry and several high-level researchers from the institute walked in with him.

Henry looked at Patrick and said, "Mr. Turner, the Turner family should at least show some respect to Diego as he is about to return to the country. Are you really not going to give him any consideration?"

Patrick was amused, "Mr. Matthews, are you forgetful? Who was the one who framed Selena?"

Henry was taken aback, and then his face turned incredibly stiff. The others behind him also had dark faces and couldn't help but hate Constance for her audacity and wickedness, which had led the researchers to offend Selena to this extent.

Patrick saw the group and said coldly, "Tom, send them off!"

The group from the research institute left with their heads down after failing to negotiate.

The butler stood worriedly, saying, "Young master, let's go and pick up Miss Selena. The prison environment is so poor, she won't be able to eat or sleep well."

Chapter 1218 Apologize to Selena!

Patrick watched as Oscar pushed his wheelchair and turned away, unable to suppress the question in his heart anymore, "Father, do you... not like Selena?"

In theory, Selena was Callum's daughter and Oscar's own niece. According to the Turner family's dotting on their daughters, Oscar could not dislike her.

Moreover, Selena was so well-behaved and beautiful that except for those who had evil intentions, few people would dislike her.

Although Oscar didn't deliberately target her, he didn't show much affection towards Selena either.

There was no special emotion on Oscar's face as he looked at Patrick and asked, "Do you really like her?"

Patrick nodded without hesitation, "Yes, Father, you don't know what Selena has done for the Turner family."

"With her abilities, she could have avoided these grievances and humiliations, but she still endured them several times in order for the Turner family to return to the research institute."

"She cured the virus on my body, sincerely for the good of the Turner family."

"Why are you... so cold to her?"

Even when asked directly like this, there was still no extra emotion in Oscar's eyes. He said calmly, "Have you ever thought about why she is so good to the Turner family?"

Patrick was taken aback.

Selena was a member of the Turner family. It was only natural that she should be good to them, right?

He knew he shouldn't have talked about that.

When the news of Selena's arrest came, he went to Zone Two to take her out for the first time.

As an elder of the Turner family, he had done enough.

But Oscar was his father, and Selena was his cousin. Patrick couldn't help but feel something between Oscar and Selena that seemed to be separated by a layer.

After all, the blood relatives of the Turner family were really too few.

Seeing Patrick's frown, the butler advised again, "Maybe everything will be better when the second young master comes back."

Patrick was stunned for a moment, and after a while, he reacted to the butler's words.

Chapter 1219 Apology!

Constance's expression suddenly changed, "Why should I apologize to Selena?"

Henry looked at her unpleasant face, "Your assistant did this, and it was for you. Shouldn't you apologize to Miss Turner?"

Constance trembled with anger, "Mr. Matthews, you said it yourself. It was my assistant's doing, not mine. Why should I apologize to Selena when I had no idea about it?"

She absolutely refused to apologize to Selena!

Henry looked at Constance's defiant expression, a hint of sarcasm in his eyes. "Constance, don't treat us as fools. You caused a lot of trouble for the institute, and we didn't hold you responsible for it. We did it out of respect for Diego. Don't push it too far!"

Constance's heart trembled, not knowing if it was due to guilt or anger. Her face suddenly turned red, "I said this has nothing to do with me-"

"Enough!" Henry interrupted her impatiently. "Miss Baxter, do you really want to wait until tomorrow morning when 717 and their people fly to Capital to settle the score with the institute? Can't you see the reality?"

Constance's expression changed completely.

From Bruno's behavior of publicly scolding her on Weibo, even a well-mannered scientist like him, it was apparent how angry he was. If she waited until Bruno and his team arrived in Capital, her situation would only be more embarrassing and difficult than it is now!

Constance suppressed her reluctance, took a deep breath, and forced herself to compose herself. "I understand. I will personally apologize to Miss Turner!"

She almost gritted her teeth while saying the last sentence.

The group of people in Zone Two who were protecting her at the door remained silent. After all, with the trouble caused by the last capture, who would dare to catch her next time?

Patrick confirmed that the girl seemed to just want to vent her anger and chuckled, "When you feel happy again, you can go out." Although the environment in prison is not good, the girl's mood is the most important.

Selena was about to say something when footsteps came from outside the door again.

Selena seemed to think of something and a smirk appeared on her lips, without looking up.

It was Patrick and Lady Lauren who raised their heads to look at the group from the research institute who had come again, followed by Constance.

Constance was embarrassed when she met Lady Lauren here, thinking of what Lady Lauren had said to her before. She reluctantly suppressed her grievances and walked up to Selena, bending down and saying softly, "I'm sorry, Miss Turner. I was wrong about this matter. My assistant shouldn't have lost her mind and framed you. I shouldn't have accused you without understanding the truth. Please forgive me." To save her own image, Constance's attitude and tone were both very humble.

Selena gracefully put down the spoon, took the handkerchief Leia handed her, wiped her hands, and then looked at Constance. She smiled and asked, "Miss Baxter, is the halo of genius from 717 useful?"

Constance's face twitched violently.

Selena's tone was cold, "Unfortunately, from today onwards, you will completely lose this honor. In addition, I will teach you a lesson. Neither Lab 717 nor the owner of Sacred Pearl will ever stand up for people with bad intentions and poor abilities like you, who will only bring shame to 717. Therefore, I declare that from now on, no matter who pleads for you, 717 will never accept your existence again."

Although she had been expelled from 717, she had planned to go to Dante and Osvaldo to help her return to 717. She didn't expect Selena to say such things.

Chapter 1220 He's Back

"It's like a moral kidnapping of Selena, forcing her to be released from prison so that they can escape punishment."

"Is this your attitude for apologizing to someone?!"

Constance was caught by Lady Lauren, and her face suddenly turned pale.

Henry and others looked at Constance with disappointment.

Miss Baxter, who usually looked upright and excellent, had such a small mindset. The situation was urgent, yet she still followed her own temper and couldn't see the situation clearly, which was truly disappointing.

Lady Lauren looked at Constance indifferently, "You have lost the aura of Lab 717. You cannot even maintain the conduct of a noble lady. It is really a waste of the guidance and cultivation by Diego."

She lowered her head and said softly, "Madam, I was wrong. I sincerely came to apologize to Lady Selena."

After speaking, she deeply bowed to Selena, "I'm sorry, Lady Selena, I should not have used a bad tone."

Selena was too lazy to watch Constance's acting and said to Leia, "I'm tired and want to rest. Please leave, everyone."

This was the second time Selena had expelled everyone.

Henry and others knew that saying more would not change anything, so they had to give up persuading her.

Constance was unwilling, but she had completely realized the situation. She knew that angering Selena at this moment would not do her any good.

Under the watchful eye of Lady Lauren, Constance dared not make any unnecessary moves and could only leave with the research institute's group in frustration.

What he didn't know was that just before he entered the door, Oscar had just hung up the phone from Zone One and Zone Six.

It seemed that Selena had made up her mind not to be released from prison in a short time, and the people in Zone Two were anxious and had to call Zone One and Zone Six. After all, it was a matter of reputation, and Lorenzo and Sidney personally called Oscar.

Combining with the sentence that Selena deliberately asked Patrick to bring back... This girl really knows how to anticipate things.

Not only the people in the institute were eager to have Selena released, but also people on Weibo were waiting for her release.

The truth of the matter has been revealed, and everyone knows that Selena was falsely accused.

As such an outstanding talent, being wrongfully imprisoned is such an injustice. Now that the truth has been uncovered, everyone's most pressing concern is when Selena will be released.

Major media outlets have also been camping out to try and be the first to get an interview with Selena upon her release. After all, both Selena herself and 717 are enough to create explosive news!

Under Selena's Weibo, there is a long line of inquiries.

[Ahhhh! Has Selena not been released yet?!]

[The real culprit has been caught, so why hasn't Selena been released? Her hands are so precious. What if they get injured in prison?!]

[It's all that damn Constance's fault! Although she claimed it was done by her assistant, don't treat everyone as fools. I don't believe she was really unaware!]

[We can tell from the way she eagerly beat up Lady Selena that this woman must be lying about not knowing anything!]
