Chapter 1221 Wait for me to avenge you

Feeling the familiar embrace and breath, Selena finally confirmed that she wasn't dreaming.

A look of surprise appeared on her beautiful face in an instant.

After the kiss ended, Selena blushed, her big eyes filled with joy as she asked in a low voice, "Why did you come back?"

Oswaldo stared at her, his gaze seemed to turn into substance, inspecting his beloved girl from head to toe, inside and out, to see if she had been injured in the two days he was away.

After making sure that Selena was not hurt anywhere, Oswaldo lowered his head and lightly touched her forehead, "I'll take you home."

Selena was stunned for a moment, then she started to complain in a whiny voice, "I was going to wait for you obediently, but they locked me up..."

She had also delayed Oswaldo's important matters, damn it!

For someone who valued responsibility more than anything else, the latter point made her even angrier than being locked up in prison herself.

Oswaldo took off his coat and wrapped her up in it, picked her up and carried her out, saying softly, "Wait for me to avenge you."

Selena raised her hand and hugged his slender neck, looking at the handsome and delicate face of the man, and asked with a sweet smile, "Oswaldo, have you missed me?"

"Yes."

Selena's eyes sparkled, and she said a bit shyly, "I missed you too."

The following legal battle was between Selena and the research institute.

Upon receiving the news, Zone Two quickly spread the word of Selena's release through various media outlets.

Before dawn, the major families had received news of Osvaldo's return to the capital.

Many were frightened by this sudden news.

Even Constance, who had stayed up all night, received the message and turned pale.

She had not expected Osvaldo to return to the capital so soon.

As everyone knew, given Osvaldo's status, the matter that he personally had to handle overseas must be extremely important.

However, no one had expected that Osvaldo would leave his work and rush back to the capital for Selena.

Dante was still abroad and wouldn't return until at least the day after tomorrow.

Thinking about Lady Lauren's attitude towards her, even though Constance was proud and arrogant, she couldn't be sure that Osvaldo wouldn't take it out on her.

After some thought, Constance took out her suitcase, packed two pieces of clothing, and walked out of the door to find a place to hide temporarily.

When Dante returned, she would have nothing to fear!

However, before Constance even reached the garage, she was stopped by two men dressed in black with cold expressions. "Miss Baxter, my master wants to see you," they said.

Chapter 1222 Phone Call

The first one was Osvaldo.

That man was really good to her, so good that Selena couldn't even describe it.

Apart from him, there were Patrick, Hattie, Leia, Lady Lauren... They were all very kind to her.

After she had been displaced from the empire to Creephia, she had indeed suffered some grievances, but more importantly, she had received care and protection.

When Bruno heard the slightly sweet and shy voice of the girl, he suddenly had a very bad premonition in his heart.

He asked, "Darling, why did you go to H Country? And when will you come back? Do you want me to come pick you up now?"

Selena remembered her current identity. Those who were truly familiar with her could tell at a glance the difference between her and Selena. In order not to make the old man uncomfortable, Selena whispered, "I have some things to deal with in H Country, and it must be kept confidential."

"When I come back to the Federation in the future, I will..." She blushed and smiled shyly. "I will bring my boyfriend and go to see you and a few other teachers at 717."

There was a long pause of about a minute on the other end, and then Bruno's voice, which was calm to the point of being abnormal, could be heard, "Boyfriend?"

Selena's cheeks turned slightly flushing as she smiled sweetly. "Yes, Teacher, I have a boyfriend."

After a pause, she added, "We have even exchanged marriage vows, and perhaps soon, we will be engaged."

There was another long silence of several tens of seconds.

Selena waited for a response, but heard nothing. She blinked her eyes and said, "Teacher?"

Specifically, it seemed that the Federation already knew that the "Sacred Pearl" had been lost in the capital's research institute.

However, so far, no one there had connected the "Sacred Pearl" with her existence.

It seemed that someone had wiped out all the unfavorable news about her, and this person was very powerful. They had caused quite a bit of trouble in the Federation and made it impossible for anyone to come to the capital to investigate the news about the lost "Sacred Pearl."

Who was this person?

Selena couldn't guess for now, but her identity could be concealed.

She still needed some time to deal with the capital's affairs.

Once the capital's affairs were settled, then...

Selena's slender hands were propped up on the window sill, her gaze like a straight arrow, shooting straight in the direction of the Federal Empire.

Meanwhile, inside Lab 717, apart from a few big shots, everyone else was shivering and huddled to one side.

Bruno stood in the middle, his face so dark that it was frightening.

Even when he heard the news that Selena had been imprisoned last night, the big shot's face wasn't this unpleasant.

Several young geniuses in Lab 717 looked at each other, seeing intense curiosity in each other's eyes.

What did Selena say to the big shot to make him suddenly so frightening?

Although Bruno had turned into a hot-tempered dragon ever since the news of Selena's arrest came out last night, everyone in Lab 717 had been living in fear, afraid that they might do something wrong and end up being scorched by the big shots.

After waiting for a moment and seeing that the other party had no intention of hanging up, Hamish picked up the phone and went to find Black Crow.

"Mr. Black Crow, it's for you."

Black Crow was in the middle of a very important experimental step and his face immediately turned sour when he was interrupted. He glanced at the number, reluctantly suppressed his temper, and pressed the answer button.

"What's up?"

Bruno's sinister voice came from the other side, "Doctor, my student told me she has a boyfriend and they're getting engaged soon. Is it true?"

Black Crow replied, "... Yes."

Bruno gritted his teeth and asked, "What kind of person is he?"

Black Crow replied, "... I don't know."

Seeing that the person on the other end seemed to be about to explode, Black Crow reluctantly added, "Just as long as he's not a good person."

Joanna and Hamish both stayed silent.

Most people in the capital knew who had Constance now.

Although that man was a bit ruthless, Constance had used such malicious means to frame Selena in the first place, and now she was reaping what she had sown.

Furthermore, Osvaldo had just returned to the country overnight to bring Selena out of prison, and the people from the research institute had just escaped a disaster. It was natural for them not to want to bring any trouble upon themselves.

Except for the Baxter family, who stayed in the capital, no one at the moment cares about Constance's well-being.

The car drove back to the Turner family, and Patrick walked into the hall with Selena.

Oscar was not the only one in the living room, Principal Chow and Cillian were also there.

Selena calmly walked over and greeted each of them.

Seeing the beautiful and obedient girl, Principal Chow and Cillian couldn't help but smile.

Principal Chow greeted with a smile, "Selena, come and sit down. I have something to discuss with you."

Selena had a rough idea of what was going on and sat down next to Oscar.

Chapter 1224 Is Selena like her father?

When the Turner family was annihilated, Patrick was only three years old, but he was already able to remember some things vaguely.

Overnight, his loved ones perished, the family collapsed, and even if he was too young to understand, he could feel the fear and despair.

Moreover, "Divine Love" not only targeted other members of the Turner family, but even a three-year-old child like him was not spared.

The virus transplanted into his body tortured him day and night for more than a decade.

If it weren't for Benjamin's strength, the Turner family and Patrick would have ceased to exist long ago.

If it weren't for Selena suddenly appearing, Patrick's virus would have doomed him to an early death.

Selena tilted her head slightly, clenched her slender fingers, and her voice was somewhat low, "Wasn't my father's medical research data that he left in the H-Country medical community taken away by foreigners?"

"Yes," Principal Chow looked at Selena with a depressed expression, "Many of the things that Callum left behind had a decisive impact on the development of the medical field."

"After your father's death, many people targeted his research results. The best group of medical geniuses in the country at that time followed your father to Arctic laboratory, and none of them returned."

Except for Joanna, who suddenly appeared at Capital University twenty years later with a completely different personality and appearance, none of those good kids ever came back.

Every time Principal Chow thought of this, he almost burst into tears.

Principal Chow received a positive answer and couldn't contain his excitement. He immediately wanted to go back to Capital University to announce the good news.

Selena promised that she would go to Capital University tomorrow morning, and Principal Chow left.

Shortly after Principal Chow left, Cillian also bid farewell. Before leaving, he asked with a shake of his head, "Selena, can you personally send Cillian off?"

Selena looked at the serious-looking old man and smiled slightly, "Of course."

Seeing that Cillian obviously had something to say to Selena, Patrick naturally didn't follow.

Selena followed Cillian all the way out until they reached the Turner family's gate and came to the car. Cillian turned around and looked at Selena.

Selena met his gaze without fear.

Cillian remained silent for a long time before saying, "Your father was once the best surgeon in H Country, and his hands have created many miracles."

Selena immediately understood what the other party wanted to say and asked with a smile, "Cillian, even if you didn't say it, I would find a way to cure my uncle's legs."

As a commander, Selena naturally knew what kind of pain it was for someone who should belong on the battlefield to lose their legs. Whether it was out of guilt towards the Turner family or as the daughter of the Turner family, it was Selena's responsibility to cure Oscar.

Seeing the girl's straightforwardness, Cillian breathed a sigh of relief and joked, "If it were your father, he would definitely be able to do it."

Leia could tell from the situation that her young apprentice had been bullied by someone from the Riddle family, and her eyes turned murderous.

Half an hour later, Hattie ran into the Turner family mansion with her backpack and rushed into Selena's arms.

Selena put down the book in her hand and stroked the girl's hair. "What's wrong?"

Hattie lifted her head and said coldly, "Selena, that woman has ill intentions towards you. She will definitely harm you next, so you must be careful."

Selena raised her eyebrows, understanding that Hattie must have heard or seen something in the Riddle family, which is why she came all the way to warn her.

It made sense, Hattie was very sensible. Even if she was really wronged in the Riddle family, she wouldn't deliberately tell Selena.

Selena asked softly, "Did you see anything?"

Hattie choked up, looking at Selena as if she wanted to say something but didn't know how to express it.

Selena patted the child's shoulder. "Don't worry, take your time."

Hattie frowned. "Selena, I saw those two people arguing..."

The two people Hattie referred to were naturally Manny and Hunter.

"That woman smashed a teacup on him," Hattie said.

Selena raised her eyebrows.

Manny was just a third wheel, not even considered Mrs. Riddle. Where did she get the courage to hit Hunter?

Selena narrowed her eyes. "What happened next?"

Two slender arms were exposed outside the sleeping gown, making people feel pity.

The man stared at the girl's beautiful face, his eyes with a touch of heart-wrenching force.

He looked at her for a moment, then bent down, his long fingers picking up the blanket that had fallen to the ground and gently covering the sleeping girl.

He wrapped her tightly below the neck, making sure no air could get in.

If he hadn't been drenched in the rain and his clothes and hair were all damp, he would have just picked her up.

Osvaldo sat down as close to the girl as possible, curling up his long legs with a look of grievance, his gentle gaze glued to the quiet and sleeping face.

He locked onto her face, and her sleeping visage was clearly reflected in his eyes. "You little troublemaker. Why don't you just be weak like other girls and rely on me more?"

Osvaldo's icy fingertips touched the soft cheek from afar, his gaze as warm as fire, yet it seemed capable of freezing people. "So many bad people hurt you and bully you. Why didn't you tell me?"

Afraid that Selena would get sick, although Osvaldo didn't hold her directly, he didn't distance himself either.

He leaned against Selena's side, their closeness blending their breaths into one, as if they were rubbing against each other's unique scent.

The scent of the girl's body lingered in his nose, and the man's breath became hot, staring deeply at the sleeping girl. In his eyes, there was a ridiculous touch of grievance. "Clearly, the only place where you belong is where I am, your home."

Chapter 1227 Constance is Missing, Do You Know?

Any topic related to the supreme existence of 717 would make people feel awe-inspiring.

Moreover, this issue also involved the assessment system of 717... everyone present was nervous and staring at Selena intently.

The girl asking the question seemed to have realized that she had touched upon a sensitive topic and her expression became uneasy. "I'm sorry, Lady Selena, it's okay if you don't want to answer..."

Selena didn't seem to be bothered by it and smiled reassuringly at the girl. "No, it's okay. The people responsible for the assessment are usually young people within the laboratory. The principal and a few teachers are focused on research and don't pay much attention to this kind of thing."

Everyone was speechless. So, the difficult questions that 717 releases every year that seem impossible to solve are only created by the internal students and have nothing to do with those big shots?

A group of passionate young people suddenly felt desperate.

Seemingly aware of everyone's emotions, Selena thought carefully and said, "I have seen the admission questions from a few years ago. If you study hard, they are not difficult."

Everyone was silent.

After comforting and encouraging everyone, Selena smiled and walked elegantly towards the principal's office in her high heels.

After a few steps, Selena seemed to remember something and turned to look at the crowd, saying very seriously, "By the way, 'that person' is not scary at all. She's very gentle, so there's no need to be so restrained when talking about her."

After speaking, she left.

After waiting for a moment and seeing that no one spoke up, Winnie gritted her teeth and stood up, "Principal, I am among the best of the younger generation in the Capital University laboratory, and my grades have always been at the top. I am qualified to get a spot!"

After speaking, she stared at Selena with a guarded expression. After all, everyone knew that out of the five precious spots, there must be a place for Selena. It was almost as if Hamish had also been pre-selected. Since it had been exposed that Selena was a genius in Lab 717, no one dared to reject or suspect her as they did before.

There were still three spots left... but there were hundreds of medical students waiting to compete. Winnie had a private grudge against Selena and was worried that Selena would use her identity to intentionally brush her off.

As Winnie moved, Brian couldn't sit still and also stood up, "Principal, the laboratory has always been ranked by strength, which is related to the glory of our country. I hope we can achieve absolute fairness!"

Cameron sat in the corner with his head down, not saying a word. Winnie and Brian's actions caused the other young people in the laboratory to stand up one after another.

Selena listened quietly, with no special emotions on her face. After everyone finished speaking, Principal Chow looked at Selena.

Winnie and Brian were startled by this move, their hearts sinking to the bottom of the valley in an instant.

So the final choice still fell into Selena's hands?

They subconsciously wanted to object, but then they remembered that Selena was Callum's daughter, a super genius of Lab 717.

Strictly speaking, Selena had been exposed to medicine for a long time.

Selena tilted her head slightly and looked at Winnie. "Miss Baxter has nothing to do with me. Do I need to know anything about her?"

Winnie didn't expect Selena to react this way and her face suddenly turned pale. "You..."

Selena sneered, "If Miss Baxter is missing, the police should be the ones to look for her, not me."

Winnie looked at Selena's expressionless face, feeling frustrated. She raised her voice, "But if I tell you that not only has Constance disappeared, but also her aunt, the woman who shot you outside Capital University that day..."

Leia realized that it was not good and instinctively wanted to shut Winnie up. But Selena was looking at her at this moment, and intervening now would only arouse more suspicion from Selena.

In this moment of delay, Winnie had already finished speaking. "She had an accident last night, and her whole arm was lost. Now she's lying in the emergency room. Don't you have any extra thoughts about this?!"

Feeling Selena's change in breath, Leia broke out in cold sweat.

She stared fiercely at Winnie and shouted, "What does the Baxter family's woman's accident have to do with Lady Selena?"

"Do you dare to suspect that Lady Selena did this?"

"Even if you are the Miss of the Poole family, you absolutely cannot frame Lady Selena!"

A hand gently pushed open the door in front of them.

The assistant guarding the door walked in, followed by someone else.

The person was somewhere between adolescence and young adulthood, with a clean white shirt and dark long pants that made his figure look extremely pleasing.

He raised his ink-black eyes and looked at the man behind the desk with a clear and indifferent expression.

"Dante is here," he said.

There was no response.

The assistant wisely retreated.

The young man stood silently in the middle of the room, his expression indifferent as if he were wandering outside of the mortal realm.

After a while, the man sitting behind the desk tossed the scroll in his hand aside and raised his eyelids.

The dark eyes of the young man flickered, and he called out softly, "Brother."

Osvaldo remained silent.

The young man stared quietly into his eyes and said, "Give her back to me."

Osvaldo's handsome face remained unchanged.

Dante looked at her pale and haggard face, closed his eyes, and turned to Osvaldo. "Brother."

Osvaldo walked up to them at some point, his cold gaze looking down on them from above.

As soon as Constance felt the murderous intent in his eyes, she trembled and hid in Dante's arms, not daring to lift her head.

"You're willing to risk yourself for this woman? Does it worthy?" Osvaldo asked indifferently.

"Without her, I would have died a long time ago," Dante replied, his eyes fixed on Osvaldo. "It's not up

Chapter 1230 Despair!

Little did she know that as a person abandoned by 717 and discredited by so many top scientists for her immoral conduct, no laboratory would dare to hire her.

Constance thought that being publicly kicked out of 717 by Bruno was the most embarrassing thing that could happen in her life. However, she never expected that Bruno not only wanted to embarrass her but also wanted to completely ruin her.

Due to Dante's identity, Constance was not afraid when she was expelled by Bruno. Although she was panicked, she even imagined countless times how to show off to Selena when she returned to 717. But she never expected that the owner of "Sacred Pearl" would suddenly intervene and cut off her path.

She not only lost the halo she was most proud of, but also lost any chance to climb up in her career in this life! In just two days, she went from a highly anticipated genius to a rat that everyone wanted to beat.

Thinking of this, Constance cried in pain and regret.

Dante looked at Constance's heartbroken appearance and said, "Don't say things like this in the future."

Constance resented in her heart, but thought of Dante's usefulness to her, she held back and cried, "I'm sorry, Dante, I'm just too sad..."

Dante raised his hand and hugged her gently, comforting her.

In the small villa, Selena was sitting in the garden, focusing on reading a book. Suddenly, a pair of slender hands reached out from behind and hugged her.

Selena was stunned and felt the familiar breath. She turned her head and smiled, "You're back."

Oswaldo's slender fingers fell on her fragile cervical spine, gently pressing it down. "Don't lower your head for too long."

The young girl murmured comfortably and lay down in his arms. "How are things going abroad?"
