

Love Rats 591

chapter 591

Isabel was in a state of panic and jealousy.

But what could she do?

She had already run away from her wedding and had her misdeeds exposed by Selena, and her reputation was irreparable.

Suddenly, Isabel remembered that Leah had told her that Selena's boyfriend came from the capital when Selena destroyed her reputation.

This meant that the man might have already known about her misdeeds. It was also he who helped Selena and Christ destroy her reputation.

Isabel's lips trembled, and her face lost all color.

The man knew she was a wicked woman with a venomous heart.

Would he not care like Christ did?

Even Isabel, who was arrogant and narcissistic, could not delude herself into thinking that the young master of the Anderson family would still like her with such a huge flaw.

But the next second, Isabel's face became cold and twisted. She may have lost her reputation, but if Selena's reputation was destroyed, would that man still want her? The position of the Mrs. Anderson would still return to her hands as long as Selena was discredited.

Thinking of this, Isabel coldly laughed and picked up the phone from the table. She dialed a number skillfully. "I regret it. Let's continue our cooperation!"

The man on the other end let out a cold laugh. "Miss Collins, this deal is not profitable. You didn't tell me before that you wanted to destroy the Miss Riddle from the capital and her boyfriend with the A license plate. Even if I have the guts, I wouldn't dare touch his woman!"

Isabel's eyes were full of mockery. "Cut the crap and state your conditions directly!"

These people were all used to living off blood and violence. As long as they were paid, they would do anything, no matter how outrageous it was.

As for fear?

Don't make them laugh. Every deal they made involved risking their lives. If they were really afraid, they would not have helped Isabel do so many wicked things.

"Miss Collins, you are a straightforward person," the man also laughed. "Okay, I not only want your brother to help me with the goods, but I also want you to use the Poole family's connections to help me open up a business line in the capital."

Fortune favors the brave. The higher the status of the other party, the greater the benefit they would receive. If this were in the past, Isabel would never have dared to agree. But at this moment, she was blinded by jealousy and resentment towards Christ, and she believed she would definitely marry into the Anderson family, and felt that Christ would not dare to do anything to her, so she agreed boldly.

"Okay!"

After hanging up the phone, Isabel called the Collins family again. Her father answered the phone and asked, "What's wrong now?"

Knowing that the Collins family was causing trouble because they were going to take back Isabel, the tone of the person on the other end of the phone naturally wasn't good. However, Isabel was not afraid at all and had a smug and vicious smile on her face. "Dad, I want to borrow Michelle's identity. You better control her and make sure she doesn't talk nonsense with the Collins family online, otherwise I can't guarantee her safety..."

The man angrily shouted, "Are you crazy? Do you think your reputation isn't bad enough? If Antonio finds out about what you've done, forget about entering the Anderson family's door. Even if you have his gratitude, he will never consider you again!"

Isabel's face turned pale, and then she froze. "I have his gratitude?"

"Why do you think Antonio appointed you as his son's bride?" The man sneered. "If it weren't for the red agate worn on your neck, and if it weren't for the trouble you caused, do you think you could still be so arrogant now?"

Isabel suddenly trembled, and cold sweat dripped from her forehead.

The reason why the Anderson family proposed to her had nothing to do with that man's liking for her. It was all because of the red agate that Leah mistakenly gave her.

Large drops of cold sweat rolled down Isabel's face, and her scalded face twitched heavily, looking extremely ferocious.

In other words, both Christ's favor and the Anderson family's engagement were originally intended for Selena...

All of them belonged to Selena!

Isabel was almost jealous and wanted to scream. The fear in her heart reached its peak at this moment. Destroy Selena!

She had to destroy Selena immediately!

If Selena didn't die, once everyone knew the truth, not only would Christ tear her apart, but the Anderson family's people would also tear her apart!

Isabel's eyes were full of bone-chilling fear, and her teeth chattered with fear.

After waiting for a while and not hearing Isabel speak, the man asked in confusion, "Why aren't you talking?"

"There is bitch trying to take the Madam's position in the Anderson family," Isabel's lips trembled and her face was terrifying. "My reputation is bad, and it's not appropriate for me to deal with it. I can only use Michelle's identity!"

"If you don't want to lose the chance to marry into the Anderson family, you better control Michelle and make her shut up!"

The man was displeased, "You..."

But thinking about Isabel's reputation, he didn't know what to say.

Isabel's reputation is irreparably damaged.

But Michelle is different. She has severe depression, has been obedient and sensible since she was a child, and Isabel ruined her, but no one knows. Michelle has a great reputation in the industry.

Using Michelle's reputation and illness will make people feel sorry for her, and it can indeed help Isabel. Anyway, they are all ladies from the Collins family. As long as she doesn't say the name, who knows which one is married to the Anderson family?

The man said angrily, "This is the last time. If there is another mistake, you will be gone for good!"

After speaking, he hung up the phone.

Isabel achieved her goal, but there was no hint of satisfaction or blood on her face. All that was left was endless resentment and fear.

Since Leah revealed that the ruby belonged to Selena, she has not slept well.

hide.

Selena has already started looking for it. The man from the Anderson family is with her, and Christ is also in Creephia. They know that the truth will come out sooner or later.

And that day will not be too late...

So she must be brave enough to kill Selena before she reveals the truth!

That way, no one will compete with her for the ruby, and she will have Christ's favor and the Anderson family's engagement all to herself!

Under the sunshine, the woman's face twisted and distorted like an evil spirit.

...

At the same time.

Leah also saw the photo that Selena posted, and her eyes were stung by the diamond ring.

Her engagement with Dominic was so simple that it seemed like a transition, and there was no proposal at all.

Selena not only got such a high-status man, but also such a beautiful diamond ring.

Obviously, this man proposed to her!

Selena is really going to marry into the capital and marry such a handsome man!

Leah felt like her heart was being bitten by millions of ants...

chapter 592

She had reached the unattainable heights that Selena, whom she had once ruthlessly bullied and humiliated, could only dream of. This enormous gap was nothing short of a mental torture for Leah. Especially when compared to her own miserable, helpless, and lonely situation, Selena's happiness seemed particularly dazzling.

Leah looked at the diamond ring with a malicious expression on her face, and after a moment, she screamed like a madwoman. "Everything is Selena's... Why didn't Selena die?"

The maid downstairs heard her crying and looked up at her disdainfully.

Mrs. Riddle was sent to prison, and Selena had driven Leah out of the Riddle family. Now she was just a despised illegitimate daughter. Even Mrs. Walson, who used to protect her, rarely came to see her lately. After her disgusting character was exposed, who would still treat her as a wealthy young lady? If it weren't for the high salary, no one would be willing to serve her.

She had fallen so low, yet she still didn't know how to repent. This woman was truly beyond redemption!

Mrs. Walson also saw the diamond ring and his face suddenly turned white. "We have to put pressure on Leah. Once Selena gets the marriage certificate, she can use her mother's 20% stake. By then, the Riddle family will be completely hers!"

Leah was no longer of any use to the Walson family and would become a burden full of troubles.

Dominic sat on the stairs, looking at the photos Selena had posted on the screen, without saying a word.

Mrs. Walson slapped the table hard, and shouted angrily, "Dominic, I'm talking to you, didn't you hear me?"

Dominic looked up at her with a confused look, his face full of frustration, and said expressionlessly, "I heard you."

They had caused such a big mess for the Walson family. The reason why Cyril was still enduring was because of the shares in Alberto's hands. As long as those Riddle family shares could smoothly fall into Leah's hands, they could fill the losses they caused for the Walson family. That was their last hope. Mrs. Walson saw Dominic's lost and desperate look and suddenly became furious. "What's the use of regret now? If it weren't for you being stupid, who gave up Selena between Leah and Selena, the Walson family would have been thriving. How did it end up like this?"

Despite Mrs. Walson's efforts to convince herself, she couldn't hide her anger and pain at Selena's current value and status.

If it weren't for Dominic's blindness and refusal to listen to her, Selena would have married into the Walson family long ago.

If it weren't for his stupidity and unwillingness to inconvenience Leah even bit, Selena wouldn't have completely given up and broken off the engagement with him, and the Walson family wouldn't have come to this point today.

So many good opportunities slipped through their fingers, and every time Mrs. Walson thinks about it, he can't help but want to strangle Dominic.

"Dominic, listen to me. The reputation of the Walson family has been completely ruined because of you three fools!"

"The Walson Group is on the verge of collapse. If it continues to develop like this, you won't be the young master of the Walson family anymore. You might as well go beg on the street!"

"The profits from Leah's script and all of Alberto's shares must be in our hands. If there is even the slightest mistake, don't bother coming back!"

Hearing Mrs. Walson's furious voice, Dominic clenched his fists and suddenly stood up. "I'm going to find Leah."

He walked out of the Walson family, but instead of going to find Leah, he found a corner and crouched down.

Dominic looked at the hand on the screen wearing a diamond ring, unable to hide the intense disappointment and tremble on his face.

The girl who had followed him since childhood, shouting that she liked him and would definitely marry him in the future, was now wearing a ring... and became another man's wife.

It turned out that watching the person you love lying in another person's arms, with a cunning and charming appearance, was such a painful and oppressive torture.

And Selena, who had almost endured this kind of torture every day, not only had to endure the almost unbearable sadness, but also had to endure his various accusations, verbal abuse, and humiliation, regardless of right or wrong.

She could only endure it silently, watching him dote on another woman, unable to speak out, let alone accuse him.

But she still persisted in her love for him for more than ten years, exhausting all her efforts, hoping that he would also fall in love with her...

Dominic crouched down on the street, his hands covering his head, letting out a suppressed sob from his throat.

"Selena, I was wrong. Come back to me, and I promise to treat you well, okay..."

Unfortunately, no matter how regretful and sad he was, that woman would never come back.

...

In the Riddle family building, Leon also saw those three photos.

The hand wearing the diamond ring is slender and flexible, beautiful and delicate, obviously a woman's hand.

The daughter of the Riddle family is extremely beautiful.

When these photos were released, countless people in the capital couldn't sit still.

Leon put down his phone and walked to the floor-to-ceiling window, looking at the ever-changing city of the capital below.

This is the most concentrated area of power in the entire H Country, controlling the most high-end resources, technology, and economic lifelines.

People outside are fighting to get in, but those born here don't want to leave.

Lady Nevaeh left the capital when Leon was only five years old. He didn't have a strong impression of Lady Nevaeh, but vaguely remembered her as a lively and passionate woman.

Compared to Selena now, she is... not alike.

Although Leon has only briefly met Selena, he can clearly sense her coldness and lack of emotions.

But she has now accepted that man's proposal.

Does she really like him... or was she fooled by that man?

Leon suddenly wants to call Selena and ask if she knows what it means to release that photo.

She is Lady Nevaeh's daughter from the Riddle family, and she may not want to answer his call.

After a moment of silence, Leon realizes that this fact is no longer a secret in the capital.

And she is very likely the child of Lady Nevaeh and the Turner family's man.

Once a daughter with their blood enters the capital, all the noble families who once had a grudge with the Turner family will not tolerate her.

The man from the Anderson family is not only a deterrent, but also a trigger for revenge.

But Selena doesn't like it. She orders her assistant, "Send someone to find the contact information for the Turner family."

She doesn't like the Riddle family, but based on Patrick's words at the fragrance competition, she should listen to him to some extent.

"Yes!"

At this moment, Weibo has once again become a battlefield.

Isabel, using Michelle's name as the daughter of the Collins family, publicly accuses Selena of being a third party.

chapter 593

When Selena posted the second photo, she also wrote a sentence.

Announcement – my fiancé!

The name "Selena" already comes with a lot of influence, and as soon as this Weibo post was released, countless comments appeared instantly.

Ya Ya: Ahhh! Yesterday he was still her boyfriend, and today he has become her fiancé?

Fei Dudu: Miss, being single is great, being single is wonderful, being single is happy. Come on, let's act like we're single!

Jiu Buli: No, no, no. I can't accept this. Lady Selena is only nineteen years old. How could she be abducted so by a man? Although he looks good, beauty cannot be the reason for her to be in trouble!

JiuweiHu Daji: Girl, isn't it nice to be in love? Handsome men are all poisonous. In other words, he just wants your body... listen, consider getting married in eighty years!

A person replied to Jiuweihiu Daji: A knife with blood on it.

That was a very ordinary account, without a golden crown and a system-generated profile picture. The nickname was just a period, which clearly indicated it was a newly created small account.

Then, under all the comments breaking up the couple, that period replied to all of them with a knife with blood on it.

Just when the breakup comments were at their peak, an account named “Little Corgi” suddenly appeared and angrily accused Selena of being a third party.

Little Corgi v: Miss Riddle, please make it clear that this is my fiancé! As a granddaughter of the Riddle family from the capital, you publicly snatch a man who has a fiancée, which is simply humiliating the Riddle family from the capital!

After that, like it was all planned in advance, a swarm of negative comments flooded in.

Qian Qian Xuewei v: Shameless! Selena, your fiancé has a marriage contract with the daughter of a certain family in the capital. Two months ago, they almost got married, but due to some reasons, the wedding was delayed. Selena, who is a third party, dared to provoke the original partner shamelessly. She is a shameless woman!

Justice Warrior v: Lady Selena, the era of being naive and chasing true love is long gone. The marriage between two big families is crucial. Please recognize your identity and leave voluntarily, and return the fiancé to his original partner!

Hero Identity v: Haha, a murderer suspected of hiring a killer and a third party who destroys other people’s feelings are being pursued and licked by so many people. It’s simply a sign of the times where morals have declined and people’s hearts have become evil!

Someone took the lead, and the smearers who had chosen to keep quiet because they feared Selena’s boyfriend’s identity, immediately started to speak up.

Anyway, there is no punishment without law, even if Selena wants to hold someone accountable, she cannot blame them. It’s time to speak up.

So, those smearers started to attack Selena again with full force, without any moral standards.

Seeing these sudden attacks popping up like water, Selena’s fans were stunned for a moment, but then they became angry.

[Nonsense! Our Lady Selena could never be a third party! You guys are just spreading rumors!]

[Lady Selena’s boyfriend is so powerful and loves her so much, how could he allow her to be a third party? You guys are definitely spreading rumors! We support Lady Selena to sue you!]

[It makes me so angry! You guys just won’t stop, right? You call Lady Selena a third party, but you don’t even have the guts to reveal your own identity. It’s obvious that you are guilty!]

[Either provide evidence or get out! Otherwise, don’t come here to tarnish Lady Selena’s reputation!]

...

In Isabel’s villa, she looked at the people who were defending Selena on her phone, and a cold smile appeared on her lips.

She picked up the phone on the table and made a call.

“Dad, it’s your turn to take action!”

The man on the other end of the phone said, “Isabel, this is your last chance. If you mess up, you will be completely cut off from the Collins family forever!”

Isabel’s face darkened, and she sneered, “I won’t fail. I will definitely become the Madam of the Anderson family!”

Besides, even if she fails, so what?

Christ will protect her!

As long as the secret of the ruby is not exposed, she will never be finished!

The man on the other end of the phone snorted coldly and hung up, obviously thinking of Christ too.

Isabel looked at the insults on the screen, determined to make Selena fall from grace this time!

Just as Selena's fans and smearers were tearing each other apart, an official account suddenly appeared and tagged Little Corgi.

"My daughter did not lie. The young master's family did propose a marriage alliance to my the Collins family, and the marriage certificate is the proof! Also, my daughter is not feeling well, and she only spoke the truth. Please be kind with your words. Also, Lady Selena, please return my daughter's fiancé to her!"

Seeing this official account, everyone was stunned.

[The Collins family?]

[The woman who suddenly appeared and claimed to be Lady Selena's fiancée, is she the daughter of the Collins family?]

[The Collins family in the capital city, I remember it seemed to be a family ranked at the bottom of the second-rate family, what's going on?]

[They even brought out the official website account... Could the engagement be real?]

Netizens immediately went to search for information related to the Collins family.

The Collins family is not a big family in the capital city, but it also has some fame and was searched for.

[Wow, OMG, this is a huge scoop! It's actually true!]

[What's true? Is the engagement really happening?]

An account called "ViVi's Smile" suddenly appeared.

[It's true... But considering the young master's special identity, if we mention his name, the whole post might be directly locked. So, I won't say it here.

Here, let me give you some information about the Collins family's daughter and the origin of the engagement. The Collins family's daughter, Michelle, was once a sports champion and won a gold medal representing the national team. But three years ago, something happened, and she suddenly retired from the competition and never appeared in the aristocratic circle again. There are rumors that she suffered from severe depression.

And the family where the young master belongs to did indeed propose to the Collins family earlier this year in January, and the wedding was supposed to be held two months ago. However, for some reason, the engagement suddenly had no follow-up...

Selena claims that she met her boyfriend on the day the young master and the Collins family's daughter were supposed to get married and register.]

The last sentence is simply intriguing.

It makes people instinctively think that perhaps because of Selena's appearance, the young master did not marry and register with the Collins family's daughter...

After reading this informative post, everyone was stunned.

Following that, the group of smearers seemed to smell the blood and collectively raged like sharks, doing their best to curse Selena as the third party.

The girls who support Selena, after reading this post, were a bit overwhelmed.

[I don't believe it! I don't believe it! Lady Selena is definitely not the third party!]

chapter 594

[I don't believe it either! Lady Selena is so beautiful, how could she possibly do something like stealing someone else's fiancé?]

Qian Qian Xuewei v: Hehe, the person above, don't be naive. Selena is just a slut, she constantly criticizes her own sister for being a third party and accuses Mr. Walson of cheating, but in reality, she was the first one to cheat!

At that time, she was still the fiancée of the Walson family's young master, yet she dared to openly flirt with someone else's fiancé. It's clear to see how shameless she is!

Justice Bringer v: Selena was originally the third party. She used her appearance to deceive everyone and pretended to be a pure and innocent girl, but in reality, she's a woman with a venomous heart and a snake-like character!

True Heroes v: I've been saying all along that she's a murderer, but no one believed me. Now do you see? Your so-called "lady" is just a bitch who's heartless and promiscuous. She's nothing but a shameless slut!

For a while, the internet was full of criticism of Selena as a third party who interfered in someone else's marriage.

...

At this moment, Selena was walking into Creephia University to attend class.

As soon as she stepped onto campus, she encountered a wave of worried and sympathetic gazes, as if they were looking at a child who had been bullied outside.

Selena was stunned.

A group of girls stood on the steps, tears welling up in their eyes. "Lady Selena, don't be sad. We believe in you. It must be a bunch of bastards who crawled out from nowhere trying to smear your reputation!"

Selena raised an eyebrow.

It looks like Isabel didn't disappoint her. This has become quite a big deal.

Selena was satisfied with this result. The more attention it gets, the easier it will be to clear up Osvaldo's relationship with Isabel.

She couldn't tolerate it. Osvaldo was such a good man, yet he was tainted by someone like Isabel.

Selena tilted her head and smiled. "Don't worry, I'll show you something fun tonight."

Everyone was surprised.

This young lady doesn't seem to be in worry at all.

Not only is she not in worry, she seems quite happy.

Also... what's the fun thing she's talking about?

Selena waved her hand and said, "Go back to study. As a student, there is nothing more important than studying. You must love learning." After speaking, she took the lead and walked towards the laboratory building.

The others were silent.

A group of girls looked at Selena's slender and beautiful figure and suddenly felt relieved.

Selena was not affected. She would definitely not fail the upcoming mock exams.

The girls ran back to study in groups of two or three.

Selena saw Zachary waiting for her at the entrance of the laboratory building.

When Zachary saw her, he rubbed his ear and couldn't conceal his concern. "Lady Selena, are you..."

Selena touched her chin and thought for a moment before asking, "Do you think my boyfriend looks so unreliable?"

Zachary remained silent.

Selena patted his shoulder and said, "Senior, from this incident, your attitude towards learning is not focused enough. What if you fail the mock exams?"

Zachary met her gaze and trembled, suddenly feeling that his worries were unnecessary.

It seemed like Selena was always composed and steady, no matter the situation...

Zachary rubbed his hair and followed Selena upstairs to conduct the experiment.

Summer probably thought that Selena had been unlucky, so she reverted back to her haughty and disdainful appearance and didn't bother Selena.

Selena was too lazy to pay attention to the people around her. She attended the experimental class seriously and left the laboratory building alone at dusk.

She carried her backpack on one shoulder and took out her phone with the other hand, wanting to see how much the public opinion had fermented on the internet.

Suddenly, Selena seemed to sense something and her gaze turned cold.

She curled her lips into a cold arc and changed direction from heading towards the west gate to the main gate.

She also sent a message to Osvaldo on her phone.

—Come pick me up at the main gate.

After sending the message, Selena put her phone in her backpack and carried it on one shoulder. Then, she went to the convenience store and bought a box of yogurt, drinking it while walking.

When she arrived at the main gate, Selena looked around, threw the yogurt box into the trash can, and then walked towards a small alleyway next to it.

At this moment, several men in a car parked by the roadside were staring at Selena with ill intentions.

"This girl looks really good..."

"She's walking towards the alleyway. It's the perfect time to strike..."

"No, there are too many people at the school gate. Let's be safe and catch her and throw her in the car!"

"That's what we'll do!"

A woman walked out of the school gate with Selena and got into a car. "Confirmed, she's the only one, no one's following!"

"Great! Drive to the alley entrance and grab her and go!"

A group of people drove the car to the alley entrance, and several men ran onto the car and chased after Selena.

At this moment, Jemima had just walked out of school.

She originally saw her idol and was happy to go up and say hello, but suddenly saw several fierce-looking men get off a car and chase after Selena.

It was obvious that they had bad intentions!

Jemima's face lost all its color, and she was so scared that her legs went weak. She instinctively wanted to follow, but suddenly thought of something and forcibly stopped the car, turned around, and ran back into the campus.

She shouted while running, "Help! There are bad people!"

Jemima ran a distance before seeing a group of people running out of the academic building, and immediately rushed over.

"Senior!!"

The student union had just finished their meeting and walked out of the academic building, when they heard a cry for help from ahead.

Everyone was stunned for a moment, then rushed over when they saw Jemima running out of breath, pointing ahead with a crying expression, "A group of bad people chased Lady Selena in there..."

Everyone's expression changed, and they immediately hurried after her.

Ronin threw his phone to her, "Call the police!"

Jemima held the phone, dialed the police while continuing to shout for help.

Those people obviously looked like troublemakers, they might even have knives on them, what if they hurt someone...

Jemima was so scared that tears streamed down her face. She called the police while shouting for help.

...

At the same time, Selena walked into the alley, looked around, found a clean spot, and put down her backpack.

At this moment, the group of fierce-looking men had already chased in.

They saw a beautiful and elegant girl standing there quietly, with her curly eyelashes drooping and a somewhat blurred expression. The dim light and cramped alley made her appear exceptionally harmless and helpless.

Several people suddenly showed wicked smiles on their faces and approached her.

And in this moment, Selena lifted her eyelids.

chapter 595

Her dark eyes were filled with coldness and ruthlessness. "Isabel sent you?" she asked.

The group of people surrounded her with malice.

The leading man smirked and deliberately blew a raspberry at Selena. He put his hand on her face and said menacingly, "Don't worry, we're only here for the money, we don't really want to hurt you..."

"As long as you behave and spend some time with us, we'll let you go..."

Selena lowered her eyelashes, and a sinister look appeared in her eyes.

As the group of people's hands were about to fall on her, Selena took off a delicate belt from her waist and whipped the leader of the group in the face.

The man was caught off guard and was hit in the eye. He stumbled backwards and was caught by his lackeys.

"Mike!"

The man bent over in pain, holding his eye. Blood oozed out between his fingers.

The remaining men saw their leader get hit and, with fierce expressions on their faces, picked up weapons and rushed towards Selena.

There was only one woman, and they had plenty of opportunities to take revenge on her!

Selena's eyes were filled with a dark and sinister look, and a hint of bloodthirstiness appeared at the corners of her eyes.

She licked her lips and smiled. "This is the first time I've personally laid hands on someone. If I end up killing you, it's your own fault!"

As she spoke, she whipped one of the men with the belt again.

This time, she hit him in a vital area and he collapsed on the ground, writhing in pain.

At the same time, Selena kicked another man in the face with her sharp heel, causing him to fall to the ground and bleed from his nose.

There were only two men left, and they were about to grab Selena when she suddenly dodged their attacks with an incredible flexibility.

Without hesitation, she picked up a brick and smashed it hard on one of the men's head.

With a loud thud, the man fell to the ground.

The last man was thrown out by Selena and hit his forehead on the wall, causing blood to immediately appear.

In an instant, the five burly men who had kidnapped her were lying on the ground, gasping for breath and bleeding.

The woman who had been monitoring Selena in the campus saw the situation was bad and ran away.

At the same time, there was a sound of hurried footsteps coming from the end of the alleyway.

The woman realized something was wrong, and pulled out a knife from her body, stabbing it towards the incoming person.

Billy was running at the front, but due to inertia, he couldn't brake in time and could only watch as a knife stabbed towards him.

The people behind him couldn't even react in time.

As the knife was about to pierce Billy's heart, a whip suddenly appeared out of nowhere from behind the woman, wrapping around her neck and yanking her back.

The knife in the woman's hand fell to the ground, and she screamed in agony as she flew out and landed under someone's feet.

Then, a foot wearing white high heels stomped on her face heavily.

Everything happened too fast.

So fast that nobody reacted until now.

The scene was quiet.

The members of the student council were staring at the group of injured men on the ground with dull expressions, and then their gaze collectively fell on the beautiful girl who was stepping on someone.

Their eyes seemed to recognize her, yet also seemed not to.

Selena's eyes were full of killing intent, and she looked down at the woman beneath her with an expressionless face, seeming to want to kill her directly.

The woman let out a horrifying scream.

The students who had rushed in were scared by her viciousness. "Lady Selena..."

Selena heard the voice and snapped out of her rage.

She looked at the pile of "corpses" on the ground, and then at the group of handsome and talented boys who were staring at her with wide eyes.

She was momentarily breathless.

A few seconds later, Selena decisively threw away her "belt" and pounced on Osvaldo, who was standing on the side and had been watching her without blinking.

"I am so scared..."

Osvaldo's pitch-black eyes were filled with laughter. He caught his darling and hugged her, patting her back. "I'm here, don't be afraid."

If the crowd hadn't seen her ruthlessness with their own eyes, they wouldn't have believed it!

It wasn't until a large group of footsteps came from behind them that they regained their crumbling sanity.

Billy, who had just escaped death, wiped the cold sweat off his forehead with his hand. "My legs went weak from fear..."

Ronin patted his shoulder to comfort him.

That was really dangerous just now.

If that whip had been any slower, Creephia University would have been in big trouble today.

Thinking of this, a group of people looking at the group lying on the ground, their eyes became disgusted and hateful.

These people dare to even use knives, it's obvious they're not ordinary thugs.

More than a dozen security guards ran in with sticks and grabbed the people on the ground.

The principal followed, running and panting, "Is everyone okay? Did anyone get hurt?"

Ronin glanced at Selena, his face twitched, but he still said, "Fortunately, Lady Selena's boyfriend was here, and everyone is okay."

The principal breathed a sigh of relief, raised his hand to touch his half-bald head, feeling even more bald.

Fortunately, no students were injured.

These are all elites of Creephia University. If anyone had been really hurt, he would have probably had a heart attack.

When the principal looked up, he saw Creephia University's school beauty being held in the arms of a man who was so handsome, he was furious.

The girl, who was so pretty and delicate, was almost kidnapped and had experienced such a bloody and violent scene. She must have been frightened.

"Um... boyfriend, you should take Selena back and let her rest. She doesn't have to attend classes these days, and if necessary, get her a psychologist... Don't let her have any psychological trauma..."

A group of students who witnessed the truth at the end was speechless.

No!

Principal!

They were even more frightened!

Oswaldo looked at the girl in his arms, who was too scared to look up, and smiled.

He picked up Selena, took her backpack in one hand, and walked towards the entrance of the alley.

After he passed, everyone instinctively moved away.

After Oswaldo carried Selena into the car, she finally lifted her blushing face and explained to Oswaldo, "I was just too angry..."

Oswaldo touched her hair and had a hint of a smile in his eyes, "I know."

He was also very angry.

chapter 596

Selena carefully observed Oswaldo and, after confirming that he had no other thoughts, secretly breathed a sigh of relief. After all, her behavior just now was a bit... too ferocious.

She sat in the passenger seat and coughed lightly, smiling and saying, "Let's go home."

Oswaldo curled his lips slightly and drove back to the castle.

...

Meanwhile, on Weibo, the tearing and cursing continued to escalate.

More and more people came out, proving that Selena's boyfriend and the Collins family's engagement were real, and that Selena was a third party.

Especially after the identity of Miss Michelle Collins was exposed, the voices condemning Selena reached a peak.

Michelle, the former Olympic champion, suddenly suffered from severe depression three years ago for unknown reasons and had to disappear from the sports world, becoming a fallen star since then. Knowing that her fiancé was taken by someone else, Michelle's fans and people from the sports world were outraged and came out to attack Selena.

"I'm so angry! How could there be such a shameless woman who steals someone else's fiancé so openly and unashamedly?"

"This is too much! Just because you won the fragrance competition, Lady Selena, doesn't mean you're better than our Little Corgi, who is an Olympic champion. Give her back her fiancé!"

"Are you kidding me? Lady Selena hasn't even admitted it yet. These are all just the Collins family's one-sided words. Why are you all cursing Lady Selena?"

"So you're saying our Little Corgi is framing Selena? Haha, our Little Corgi is so gentle and cheerful, why would she frame Selena? Selena needs to have some shame!"

"Anyone who watches sports knows who Michelle is. She is a national swimming champion. If she hadn't dropped out due to illness three years ago, our country would have another swimming queen. This is too vicious! Michelle is a patient, and Selena taking her fiancé away is just pushing her towards death!"

"Selena is only flaunting herself and her group of followers because she won a championship. If Michelle hadn't gotten sick, Selena wouldn't even be qualified to touch her shoes!"

"I've never seen so many people defending such a shameless third party before!"

Because Michelle was a patient, and because she was a former swimming champion, combined with people's natural aversion to third parties, people who heard about this for the first time subconsciously sided with Michelle and turned around to curse Selena.

...

In the Collins family's mansion in the capital, Michelle sat in her room, holding her phone and looking at the scenes on Weibo.

Because she was a patient and hadn't looked at her phone in a long time, she even became afraid of it. As a result, the Collins family only guarded against Madame Sheng and didn't force her to do anything. But they didn't know that after Michelle failed to kill Isabel, she secretly kept a mobile phone.

That phone was given to her by the man she once had a crush on.

When she left Creephia, he told her to call him if anything happened.

Michelle never called him once.

But she checked it every day.

She would look for news about him on the phone, see what he had done today, attended which parties, and what rumors he had with which actresses...

So she saw everything.

Although Michelle was sick, she did not completely lose her mind. She knew about Isabel's engagement with the Anderson family and her elopement, so she easily guessed everything.

Michelle watched as the woman who had ruined her, using her name to incite those who truly liked her to hurt another innocent girl.

She even saw the official account of the Collins family company...

Michelle's expression was pale and hollow. She neither cried nor screamed in hysterical anger, just nervously dialed the phone she had never called before.

Someone picked up on the other end, and the voice was very gentle, "What's wrong?"

Michelle hadn't spoken for a long time, and it was difficult for her to speak. She tried hard for a long time but couldn't make a sound, but the other side was not in a hurry, patiently waiting.

“Mr. Jordan...” Michelle finally found her voice, “I saw it. Do you need me to help you?”

Although she had never met the girl named Selena, she often saw news related to him on the phone. She envied the other’s life and knew that he valued her very much.

Luke smiled, “Someone called me a minute ago and asked me to tell you a few things.”

Michelle blinked her eyes without any vitality.

She had been sick for three years, and her social circle had long been gone. Apart from people in the sports world who still remembered her, no one remembered her as the so-called Miss Collins.

She whispered, “What?”

Luke whispered, “She said, Michelle, look ahead.”

Michelle suddenly froze.

Look ahead?

But what’s ahead?

Michelle subconsciously looked up and saw the screen of the phone that she cherished by her bedside. Because her depression was severe, sudden loud noises would scare her, so when Luke gave her the phone, he also gave her a pair of wireless headphones.

Michelle is currently wearing headphones, with her phone screen placed right in front of her.

On the screen is Selena’s Weibo page, with a prominent comment pushed to the forefront.

[“Our Little Corgi is an Olympic champion who has won gold medals! When she recovers, she will definitely become our country’s first swimming queen to win all four major championships! I believe she will come back for sure!”]

Michelle suddenly jolts and her eyes widen.

Luke’s gentle yet cold voice continues to come through, “And you, watching, that woman who harmed you will soon receive the punishment she deserves!”

Trembling, Michelle asked, “Mr. Jordan, who is she?”

Her life has long been devoid of any light, and at this point, who else would help her like this?

Luke chuckles softly, “She said that only you, who can win all four major championships at the Olympics, are qualified to ask her who she is.”

Michelle starts to tremble all over her body.

She looks at the people who hurt another girl because of her on the phone screen.

Although they were all wrong, fundamentally they were all hoping that she could stand up again and finish the life she once wanted to work hard for.

Swimming queen, that is her life goal!

Rather than being ignorant and helpless like a bunch of nobody, being used and harmed by others... not knowing when she will die.

A stream of tears suddenly flows down Michelle’s eyes.

She stares at those intimate comments calling her “Little Corgi”, and her hollow eyes seem to be injected with new life.

There is something that accompanies his gentle voice and reawakens inside her.

He said, “Michelle, you can do it.”

The next second, she heard her own resolute voice.

chapter 597

“I will definitely win the Grand Slam.”

Suddenly waking up from a dream.

...

Creephia.

After Selena finished dinner, she stood in the garden to aid digestion and heard the phone ringing.

She glanced at it and answered the call.

Luke's voice came through, sounding quite good, "Lady Selena, when do you plan on repairing Isabel?"

Those comments that were insulting her made him quite angry, but Selena remained calm and composed.

This kind of mentality was unbeatable.

Selena looked at the time, it was seven o'clock, and she was going to the training room with Osvaldo at eight o'clock.

While playing with her cat, she nonchalantly said, "Don't worry, let's wait a bit longer."

Luke was about to ask, but Selena's phone showed a busy signal, obviously someone else was calling her.

Luke didn't have anything important, so he hung up the phone.

Selena looked at the number that was calling her, and it showed that it was from the capital...

She thought for a moment, went over to the swing, and then pressed the answer button.

Patrick's voice came through from the other end, "Did he propose to you?"

Selena swung on the swing, furrowed her brows, and gave an answer after some thought, "I guess so..."

She could guess why Patrick was calling.

She had hesitated before, but under the seduction of beauty, she couldn't resist.

So... beauty really could be deceptive!

Patrick coughed, his voice sounding quite gentle, "What do you think?"

Selena swung on the swing, looked up at the starry sky above, and spoke in a calm tone, "I don't have any extra thoughts. Even if I agreed to this proposal, I wouldn't go to the capital."

Patrick was silent for a moment, but ultimately didn't say anything, only cautioning, "Be careful and stay safe."

Selena smiled, "Okay."

...

At this moment, public opinion on Weibo had developed to a terrifying extent.

Michelle's fans and people in the sports world, under Isabel's influence, came to criticize Selena.

Coupled with the batch of smearers Isabel bought, and those who had been inexplicably targeting Selena, using her status as a third party to attack her as much as possible.

The girls who were defending Selena had tried reasoning with them at first, but when they realized it wasn't working, they too became angry and rolled up their sleeves to help Lady Selena fight.

A public opinion war lasted from morning until night, causing Weibo to crash multiple times.

Weibo's backend staff have been working on system repairs since yesterday, and have been working all day until now.

Selena's fan count has been rapidly increasing from 30 million, and has broken through the 50 million mark, comparable to A-list female stars in the entertainment industry.

Within just two days, gaining 50 million fans, this is an unprecedented record both in the country and abroad. It can be seen how popular Selena's name is on this platform.

Looking at the envy of the stars in the entertainment industry, it is fortunate that Selena is an outsider and will not compete with them for popularity.

Otherwise, just based on her looks, once she enters the entertainment industry, there will be no room for them.

...

Olympus Group.

Luke's phone is about to explode from the calls of the PR girls.

Not only the PR department, but also the entertainment and fragrance departments are asking. They are like cats with their claws ready, waiting for his command to pounce out and scratch people.

Luke's lips twitched. "They've been cursing all day, aren't they tired yet?"

The assistant smiled and explained to him the reason. "When tearing with haters, where's the fun in just one-sidedly stomping on the other?"

"In a fight, when our idol has the right argument and then reverses the situation, that's when we can be arrogant and proud. We love the feeling of being able to irritate others who don't like us. That's the highest level of winning!"

The assistant curiously asked, "Mr. Jordon, what does Lady Selena want to do exactly? It should be simple if she wants to clarify things, right?"

If her fiancé just speaks out, who would dare to hate her so much?

Luke looked at the scene of the battleground on his iPad and his lips slightly curled. "Let's fish for the haters..."

The assistant was confused.

"Selena has a bad temper. These people have been chasing after her from the beginning, and have been inexplicably hating on her. After being cursed at for so long, isn't it normal for her to want to fix them?"

Although it is said that many haters have been attacking her, can she really fix them all?

When dealing with haters, even the top actors and actresses in the entertainment industry don't have a good solution. They can only choose to ignore them. When Selena first entered Weibo, does she really plan to sue them one by one?

What kind of workload would that be?

"She probably wouldn't do something that wastes so much time and energy," Luke tapped the table with his slender fingers, his eyes filled with deep thought. "She should have other ways..."

But Luke couldn't guess what Selena specifically planned to do.

The phone on the table rang, Luke glanced at it and smiled, then picked it up casually.

"Mr. Jordon, can you find a way to get her to come out and say something? If this goes on, Weibo's backend system is going to crash..."

A smile played at the corners of Luke's lips. "Lady Selena is currently crying in her husband's arms because of this vicious online attack. When she feels better, she will come out."

The implication was clear: just wait and see!

They were all stunned.

...

Selena wandered in the garden for half an hour. As the time approached, she entered her study and turned on her computer, which she hadn't used for a long time.

She first looked at the comments on Weibo, which had exceeded 100,000. The accounts that were criticizing her the most had been pushed to the forefront.

A faint hint of despair crossed Selena's lips. Her slender fingers lazily tapped a few times on the computer.

...

On Weibo, public opinion was raging.

Little Corgi v: naturally appeared at the top as the victim.

After accusing Selena of being a third party, a few more comments were posted.

Little Corgi v: Thank you all for still remembering me after so long. Three years ago, I fell ill due to an accident and couldn't finish the competition. It was the biggest regret of my life.

But fortunately, I met my love and my fiancé, and your support was the greatest motivation for my recovery. I will definitely strive to recover soon and return to the arena.

This comment had garnered as many as 30,000 likes.

This account also replied to several fans who supported Selena, using various pitiful and emotional tactics, causing those who liked Michelle to hate Selena even more and rush to comfort her.

And then, an account called "Cloud in the sky" suddenly appeared and replied to the "Little Corgi v" comment publicly.

chapter 598

Cloud in the sky @Little Corgi: Excuse me, but my daughter-in-law's last name is Riddle, not Collins. Thank you!

Little Corgi replied to this comment: Miss, I'm a patient, I don't appreciate this kind of nonsense. Her smearers were all instigated by her and suddenly attacked this account.

[Lady, are you crazy?]

[What's wrong with you? If you're sick, go get treated. Why come here to seek attention?]

[What a joke! Miss Collins doesn't even know who her fiancé is, and needs you to enlighten her? She doesn't even have a membership, and is clearly a poor person who can't even get on the table. Get out of here and stop bothering Miss Collins!]

Perhaps Cloud in the sky was frustrated, so she went to the comments section of "Wei Wei Yi Xiao" and openly replied her:

Miss, your explanation is misleading. The Collins family had already dissolved the engagement with my son a long time ago. My daughter-in-law's last name is Selena Riddle! The woman Miss Collins was already kicked out of consideration due to her rebelliousness!

Wei Wei Yi Xiao @ Cloud in the sky: Get lost!

After several consecutive setbacks, Cloud in the sky may have been angry and began to mention Selena crazily: Come out and kill them, my daughter-in-law!!!

...

Selena accidentally stumbled upon this account and found it quite amusing. She casually replied: Wait a minute, mother-in-law, I'll be right there!

After replying, she closed Weibo and didn't pay any more attention to it.

She looked at the message box on the screen and sent a message.

yq: That's enough.

Ace of Hearts: I just checked your future husband's information, do you want to see it?

yq: No, thanks.

Ace of Hearts: After all, he's your future husband. You can't be too detached...

yq: I respect privacy.

Ace of Hearts: If I tell you that you'll regret not seeing it...

yq: No, thanks.

Ace of Hearts: ... Marriage is risky, be cautious when choosing a partner.

yq: I have many secrets from him, so I don't qualify to know his secrets.

Ace of Hearts: ... Okay, if you ever want to see it, let me know, I'll show you for free.

yq: Okay.

After Selena turned off her computer, she looked up at the tranquil and beautiful night sky outside the French window.

She and Osvaldo couldn't make a real couple, so there was no need for them to get to know each other. She lowered her head and stayed quiet for a while, then laughed and picked up her phone to watch dramas on Weibo.

...

At the same time on Weibo, because Selena suddenly appeared, the account "Cloud in the sky" instantly became popular.

Gu Lulu v: Lady Selena called her mother-in-law? Could it be the mother of that handsome young man?

Cloud in the skyv: As real as it gets! So proud!

Gu Lulu v: Hahaha, future mother-in-law, we greet you on behalf of your daughter-in-law!

Cloud in the sky v: So cute.

In the comment section, a bunch of voices saying "welcome mother-in-law's arrival" suddenly appeared. The anti-fans saw this situation and began to sarcastically criticize.

[I think Miss Collins is not sick, it's Selena who's sick. She meets someone who shows off and calls her mother-in-law. She must have a problem with her head!]

[Hehe, what is Selena? Is she even worthy of that young man's mother to come out and defend her? A group of lapdogs, hopeless!]

[Selena is really shameless to do whatever it takes to whitewash herself, she even found a show-off criminal to act with her, and the acting is so bad, she's truly a shameless third party!]

[Someone who can't even afford a crown dares to pretend to be a wealthy lady? What's even more unbelievable is that there are really people kneeling down to lick her, they're sick!]

Cloud in the sky: ...

Except for a small group of people who were arguing with "Cloud in the sky," more people were concerned about what Selena said.

"Mother-in-law, wait a moment, I'll be there soon..."

This means that Selena is finally coming out to defend herself?

Those who were tearing her apart all day were now collectively anxious.

Selena's fans were waiting for her to fight back.

Michelle's fans, who were involved, were all waiting for her explanation.

As for the anti-fans, they began to brew more negative information, ready to blacken Selena no matter what she said.

...

In the villa, Isabel saw Selena being scolded and a smirk appeared on her face.

When she thought of the text message she had just received, where those people said that they had destroyed Selena, her expression became even more malicious.

As Selena was already tarnished, what qualifications did she have to compete with her for a man?

Selena must have put on a forced smile and prepared to hide the truth to keep that man when she came out at this moment.

But she won't give her that chance!

Thinking of this, Isabel took out her phone and edited a message, sending it out with the account “Little Corgi”.

She looked at the message and thought of the pain and panic Selena would feel when she saw this message, and a twisted pleasure appeared on her face.

...

The group of people on Weibo who were waiting for Selena to explain didn't see Selena, but they saw the message sent out by “Little Corgi” first.

Little Corgi v@Selena: Miss Riddle, please have some self-respect and return my fiancé to me! Otherwise, I don't mind making public what you did on the Creephia University campus. You're not worthy of him at all!

As soon as this statement came out, a string of inquiries immediately appeared below.

[What did Selena do at Creephia University?]

[Self-respect? Not worthy? I seem to smell the taste of infidelity and adultery...]

[Bah! Miss Collins, what's the point of saying anything with that bitch? Just let it out if you have something to say!]

Little Corgi replied to the last comment: Whether or not I have any hidden meanings, Selena knows in her heart. If I am really wronging her, wouldn't she explain for herself? But look at her, has she explained for herself?

Isabel was convinced that Selena, seeing the words she had sent, must be afraid and too guilty to speak up, which was why she was so confident.

Selena's lack of response was a fact, which angered her fans, who went to @ the influencer to ask her to come out and crush this annoying Miss Collins.

As for those smearers, they became even more arrogant and cursed Selena as a third party. Some even went to Leah's Weibo to ask if Selena had cheated on her first.

Perhaps because the public opinion had become too intense, Leah also publicly posted:

Leah v: I don't know about anything else, but when Selena's boyfriend bought her that necklace, she was still Dominic's fiancée, which Dominic and I saw with our own eyes...

But I believe Selena wouldn't do something like openly stealing Miss Collins's fiancé. There must be some misunderstanding here.

When Leah said this, everyone also remembered Selena's necklace worth five hundred million.

At that time, Selena was indeed still Dominic's fiancée!

Even if there was still room to argue about being a third party, cheating was now confirmed!

When the smearers were ready to start again, the Weibo screen suddenly glitched for a moment.

After a second, it returned to normal.

But the group of people stared at the screen blankly, feeling that something was not quite right.

After the group of people finally discovered what was wrong, the entire Weibo went wild at that moment.

F**k!!!

chapter 599

Real-name registration has been implemented on Weibo!

Suddenly, everyone's profile pictures were accompanied by their real names.

A group of monsters were exposed in an instant, revealing their true identities.

So everyone saw the name at the top of the list.

And another name that was initially inconspicuous but stood out due to its unique comments:
(Osvaldo)...

It seemed as though Weibo had frozen in that moment.

During this pause, Selena released a statement.

SelenaV@Little Corgi(Isabel): Are you talking about the group of people you hired to kidnap me outside the Creephia University campus and destroy me? They are currently at the police station.

In addition, the police are on their way to your house, Miss Isabel. I wonder if Christ will be able to protect you after your drug trafficking is exposed this time.

After posting this statement, Selena found a comment from Cloud in the sky(Lauren) and replied with a super obedient smiley face, "Hello, mother-in-law, thank you, mother-in-law."

She then noticed Osvaldo's account.

Selena replied (Osvaldo), "hello, fiancé!"

(Osvaldo) first replied to Selena with a hug.

He then replied to Little Corgi(Isabel): Are you stupid?

Cloud in the sky(Lauren) replied, "(Osvaldo), darling, they are insulting our mother..."

(Osvaldo) replied to Cloud in the sky(Lauren), "Go back and tell your husband."

He then went offline.

"..."

Cloud in the sky(Lauren) replied to Little Corgi(Isabel), "You stupid, with your qualities, you still want to be my daughter-in-law?"

She then replied to Selena, "My daughter-in-law is so obedient. Tomorrow, I'll send you a few boxes of diamonds, and use them to smash those brainless people when you have nothing to do!"

After that, she also went offline.

Selena V, "Those who have been constantly attacking me, are you happy with your curses? But from now on, you will completely lose this right."

"In addition, as a "thank you" for your persistent attacks on me, I have sent you gift. If you're not satisfied, feel free to sue me!"

After that, she went offline with confidence.

After a minute of silence, Weibo went crazy.

[Ah ah ah ah! Wow! What did I see?]

[Isabel?]

[Shouldn't this bitch be in jail at this time? Why is she still out there, daring to blatantly snatch Lady...]

[She actually dared to openly have someone kidnap Lady Selena outside the Creephia University gate?

And she even used it to threaten her and demanded that Selena's fiancé be given to her instead...

Ahhh!!! I'm so angry, why hasn't this woman died yet?]

[Isabel not only tried to destroy Lady Selena, she also dealt drugs... What are the police doing? Why haven't they caught this scum and executed her?]

[Guys, go check out the Creephia University website, I'm so infuriated! This woman is so despicable and wicked, why hasn't she died yet?]

Somebody posted the link to Creephia University's official website in the comments section, and everyone saw the announcement they just released.

They found out about Isabel's attempted kidnapping of Selena and how she almost injured a Creephia University student.

[Ahhh!!! I'm so angry! Isabel deserves to die!!!]

[Creephia's police, what are you doing? Why hasn't this troublemaker been arrested yet, and why is she able to run around openly causing harm?]

[Isn't the Collins family's young lady Michelle? Why did she become this malicious creature? You damn woman, what have you done to Michelle?]

[I remember now! Isabel is the illegitimate daughter of the Collins family, and they shamelessly used Michelle's reputation for their own personal gain, helping her steal Selena's fiancé... They have no shame!]

[Ahhh!!! I'm so angry, another scumbag who treats their malicious illegitimate daughter like a treasure, while disregarding their biological daughter... Curse the Collins family of the capital!]

[We've been cursing Selena all this time, but we never expected that the one defending her wouldn't be Michelle, but this scum Isabel, go to hell!!!]

In the villa, Isabel was caught off guard as her name strangely appeared behind a network ID.

But before she could even react, the fact that the Anderson family's crown young master and Lady Lauren were openly calling her a stupid bitch made the blood drain from her face.

But that wasn't even the most frightening thing, the most frightening thing was that Selena exposed all of her secrets in public.

Even her illegal actions were brought to light by Selena.

She finally came to her senses as she looked at the voices cursing her to die on the full screen.

Overwhelming fear instantly engulfed her.

"No no no!" Isabel screamed frantically, trembling uncontrollably.

She took out her phone and dialed the Collins family's circuit, hoping that they would push Michelle out to take the blame for her.

As long as Michelle admits in person that she is the one on Weibo and that the system made a mistake, Isabel still had a chance.

Isabel's eyes lit up with excitement as she thought of this, and she trembled as she pressed her father's phone number.

...

Meanwhile, amidst the comments flooding in, cursing Isabel to death, a video suddenly appeared.

The owner of the video had a particularly striking name.

Michelle Collins.

Michelle's fans immediately clicked on it.

At first glance, the fans burst into tears at the sight of a pale-faced and hollow-eyed girl on the screen.

"Oh my god, Michelle!"

"Hello everyone, I'm Michelle. I'm here to apologize to Lady Selena. I'm sorry for causing you to be cursed because of me. I should have stepped forward earlier."

The girl in the video trembled, seeming extremely afraid of facing the camera, but she continued to speak.

"I am the real Michelle, the one behind the 'Little Corgi' account. I am the illegitimate daughter of the Collins family, deliberately chosen by Isabel to confuse everyone."

"Three years ago, Isabel caused me to suffer from severe depression and autism, which forced me to withdraw from the national swimming team..."

chapter 600

[Regarding the Collins family and the engagement of that young master, it did exist before. The young master's grandfather forced him to agree to marry Isabel with his death, but Isabel believed in rumors, looked down on the young master, and thought he was not good enough for her, so she fled on the day of the wedding.]

[On the second day after she fled, the young master's family officially came to the Collins family to cancel the engagement, and they had no relationship since then.]

[Lady Selena was never a third party, everything was made up by Isabel...]

Everyone watched the video of the pale-faced girl bravely telling the truth, remembering her past lively and cheerful self, and their eyes became sore.

After Michelle explained the ins and outs of the engagement, a terrifying public opinion storm swept through the entire network.

[Isabel must die!]

[Isabel must die!!]

[Isabel must die!!!]

[She caused Michelle to fall ill, forced her to withdraw from the competition, and even made use of her fame to whitewash herself... she's too cruel!]

[This vicious animal, if she doesn't die this time, we will all gather outside the police station and protest. We won't give up until we see her executed!!]

[This shameless and despicable woman, she clearly looked down on others and fled before the wedding, but now has the audacity to come back and accuse Lady Selena of being a third party? She's not even worthy to be called a human being!]

[And Leah, that slut, says one thing to your face and another behind your back, colluding with Isabel to frame Lady Selena. She should also be on the death list!]

[Who is Cindy? And where is Vivian, who was educating everyone about the truth of the engagement? Why are they all quiet now? Come out and continue talking!]

[Where are those smearers who cursed Lady Selena as a third party for supporting that despicable Isabel? Why are they not saying anything now? Come out and continue talking! They are all cowards hiding in their rat holes, and they are all worthless when brought out in the open!]

[Isabel caused Michelle to become like this, and the Collins family even helped Isabel use Michelle's fame. From this moment on, I will boycott the Collins family in the capital!]

[What kind of good people can come from a family that raises a snake like Isabel? Boycott the Collins family!]

[That's right! Isabel must die! The Collins family cannot think of escaping unscathed after hurting Michelle like this!!]

For a while, the entire network was filled with voices calling for Isabel's death and boycotting the Collins family.

...

In the capital, the Collins family.

Michelle looked at the screen, seeing the comforting words and calls to boycott the Collins family everywhere, and a smile appeared on her pale face.

She smiled and cried at the same time, her expression...

Mrs. Collins walked into the room and saw the smile on her daughter's face. Her eyes became teary, and she also shed tears. "Michelle..."

Michelle turned to look at Mrs. Collins. "Mom, is everything packed?"

Mrs. Collins nodded and gently stroked her daughter's cheek. "It's all done. Let's go. We're leaving here and never coming back again..."

She held Michelle's hand and led her out, and then they met Michelle's father Tristan who was rushing in.

Tristan looked anxious and rushed to grab Michelle. "Michelle, only you can save the Collins family now. Record a video..."

But before he could touch Michelle, Mrs. Collins pushed him away. "Get out of here! Don't touch my daughter!"

Tristan didn't have time to argue with Mrs. Collins and said urgently, "We'll talk about the other stuff later. You need to let Michelle record a video and tell everyone that the account belongs to her..."

Mrs. Collins's heart trembled, and the tears that had just stopped flowed again. Until now, he was willing to sacrifice her daughter to save that snake.

Mrs. Collins raised her hand and slapped Tristan hard. "The biggest regret of my life is that I believed your lie of repentance after I found out about your affair all those years ago and didn't divorce you immediately! That's what caused my daughter to suffer..."

Tristan was stunned by the slap and instinctively wanted to get angry, but when he saw Mrs. Collins's eyes, he held back. "We'll talk about the other stuff later. The Collins family is in danger. Hurry and let Michelle record the video..."

"I've already recorded it," Michelle interrupted him, her eyes full of sarcasm and resentment. "Didn't you see it?"

Tristan was taken aback by the hatred in Michelle's eyes and immediately looked at his phone.

When he saw the video that Michelle had recorded, his face changed drastically, and he shouted in anger, "You're going to kill the Collins family!"

"You deserve it!" Mrs. Collins smashed the divorce agreement that had already been signed on Tristan's face. "Get out!"

After speaking, she didn't look at him again, and she led Michelle out.

Tristan instinctively caught the things she threw at him, and when he saw the words "divorce agreement" on the cover, his face turned pale with anger.

The Collins family had already been hit by such a huge public opinion storm, and if Mrs. Collins's family withdrew their funding, the Collins family would be doomed.

"No! Sapphire, I was wrong, don't divorce me!"

He chased after Mrs. Collins.

Mrs. Collins pushed him away and said, "Get lost! I have informed my family to cut off all business dealings with the Collins family. My two brothers have come to take me and Michelle away. From now on, Michelle and I have no relation with the Collins family. You can rely on your snake-like daughter!"

Tristan looked at Mrs. Collins and Michelle leaving and felt panic and despair surge on his face.

Inside the villa.

Isabel was too scared. After the exposure of the Creephia University incident, she feared that public opinion would tear her apart and dared not check Weibo.

After waiting for three minutes, Isabel called Tristan again and asked angrily, "Has Michelle's video been recorded? Hurry up and post it!"

Tristan's angry roar came from the phone, "You animal! You killed the Collins family! Get lost!"

Isabel was so scared by Tristan's angry roar that she dropped her phone.

Michelle refused to help her record the video...

Hatred surged in Isabel's eyes. She was about to curse Michelle when the door suddenly burst open with a group of people rushing in.

Isabel was shocked and terrified when she looked up and saw who had broken in.

A group of police officers came in with their guns pointed at her.

Isabel suddenly remembered that Selena had just said that the police were on their way to arrest her and had asked her to call Christ...

But she was too scared and had forgotten. At this moment, with so many guns pointing at her, she dared not move.

The police officers came over, put the cold handcuffs on her wrists, and took her out.

It was only at this moment that Isabel came back to her senses from the bone-chilling fear and let out a piercing scream, "My brother is Christ Poole! If you dare to arrest me, he will not let you go!"
