chapter 631

“Welcome, classmates, to join capital medical school!”

Excited and passionate voices sounded clearly through the microphone, reaching the ears of everyone on the scene.

It was as if a sudden thunderbolt had struck unexpectedly above everyone’s head.

All those who heard this sentence clearly lifted their heads and looked in shock towards the stage.

The presidents of Creephia University and Olnrith University couldn’t contain their excitement and joy anymore, and hugged each other in a moment of emotional outburst, almost shedding tears of happiness.

“Hey, Declan, thirty of them! Creephia University released a whole thirty of them!”

“Extra meal! We must give these little ones an extra meal tonight!!!”

Compared to the excitement of the two principals, other people who just heard the news still have confused minds at the moment.

The most bewildering thing is the thirty students standing on the presidential platform.

Selena smiled as she looked at this scene.

The scene fell into absolute silence for a moment.

After a while, there were sparse and intermittent sounds.

“I... am I deaf? How come I seem to hear...”

“capitalmedical school? I must have misheard. They are only in their second year and haven’t even completed basic courses. How could they possibly join the capital medical school? I must have misheard...”

Not only the students, but also the teachers at Creephia University and Olnrith University were puzzled.

“Capital medical school? Did I hear it wrong?”

“No, I heard it too. What’s going on?”

“How did this group of little ones inexplicably enter the capital medical school?”

In a suffocating atmosphere, Ronin let out a heavy breath.

When he coincidentally went to look for the principal, he overheard the two principals mention “one and a half stars” outside the door. He vaguely knew that the second mock exam of the medical department seemed to be related to some important selection competition.

I never expected it, but it turned out to be the selection from capital medical school.

Even someone like Ronin, who has always been calm and indifferent, couldn’t help but tremble with both hands, let alone the reactions of others.

Jason looked at the group of students in front of him, with blank expressions and youthful eyebrows, and emphasized again, “You heard me right, from today on, you are all members of capitalmedical school! And-”

As he stopped, his gaze fell on Zachary and Eduard’s faces, with excited smiles appearing on his face.

“Considering that both Zachary and Eduard have achieved perfect scores in this selection competition, both of you will be the key talents of H Country’s future international development and will be directly enrolled to learn in the international medical alliance!

The presidents of Creephia University and Olnrith University, who had just calmed down a bit from their excitement, almost fell down upon hearing the news.

Perfect score...

international medical alliance...

The two principals trembled together.

Billy, standing behind Selena, was so startled that the cup in his hand fell to the ground directly.

He widened his eyes and looked at his cousin on the chairman's platform, who had turned into a silly deer, and then looked down at Selena beside him.

"Lady Selena, this..."

Selena said with a smile slowly, "Zachary is so talented. He has entered the international medical alliance at such a young age. His future is definitely unlimited."

Billy, "..."

He carefully recalled recent events and, in the end, exerted great effort to suppress the mixed emotions of excitement and envy in his heart, sighing deeply.

"Stupid people have stupid luck!"

More than thirty students on the stage are still clueless at the moment.

What did they hear?

Capital medical school?

It sounds like a fairy tale...

But the young teacher, smiling with excitement and kindness, appears to be genuine.

After regaining consciousness, a group of young people turned around and ran wildly towards the podium.

Other teachers were stunned.

Jason shouted repeatedly, "Fellow students, where are you going?"

The presidents of Creephia University and Olnrith University were furious to see their own foolish students running away at such a critical moment, and shouted angrily, "You little rabbits, why are you running away? Come back here, now!"

But a group of people seemed not to have heard, and ran towards Selena collectively.

Selena looked at a group of idle young people running towards her, her beautiful face turned cold, her eyes flashing with a hint of frost. "Go back!" she said.

Then the teachers from capital were shocked to find that the group of people who were not stopped by the two principals stopped their cars after hearing the girl's words.

They looked at Selena's cold face, swallowed nervously, and then, one by one, turned around and walked back like quails, obediently.

The group of teachers looked at each other in shock.

How could this girl who scored zero make these arrogant geniuses so obedient?

Jason looked at this scene, but became even more excited.

Patrick is obviously friends and not enemies with Selena. Since these students are so obedient to her, it means that their loyalty to the medical school has the most basic guarantee.

It's an absolute surprise beyond measure!

Zachary and his team of thirty people returned to the stage again.

At this moment, the students below also recovered from their extreme shock, and immediately, a torrent of questions and doubts came crashing down.

"Principal, what's going on here? Why did they get the qualifications to enter the medical school among the thirty people?"

“I refuse to accept it! How did they manage to qualify for such an important spot when none of us knew about it?”

They are good at studying, but there are others present who are even better, so why are they the ones chosen?

The medical school and international medical alliance are the professional shrines that every medical student pursues throughout their lifetime.

While they were still studying hard in school, Zachary and his thirty companions mysteriously obtained their passes, advancing their lives by many years. How could this group of students accept it?

The two principals had long anticipated this situation, and as they watched the group of students below with red eyes and lost expressions, they exchanged a glance and let out a slight sigh.

They remained silent and left all the explanations to the representative from the medical school.

This matter is not only of interest to the students below, but even the thirty lucky ones also open their eyes wide, waiting for an answer.

Although they faintly guessed the reason in their hearts, they still wanted to hear the final outcome with their own ears.

Jason held the microphone and adjusted his glasses on his face before saying in a deep voice, “Please be calm, classmates, and listen to what I have to say!”

The enraged students calmed down and stared closely at this side.

“I’ll introduce myself first,” said Jason in a serious tone. “My name is Jason, an associate professor at the Capital Medical College. And the unfamiliar faces you see here are representatives sent by the Medical College to Creepia University.”

chapter 632

At the beginning of this academic year, representatives from H Country in the medical alliance have secured several talent training positions for us at the International Medical College. In order to be fair, it has been decided that the medical college will hold a large-scale selection exam nationwide, and there are fifty positions available.

All medical school students present, the two monthly exams they will be taking in the second half of this year are created by professors from capital. The first exam will test the bottom line, and it is to give students an idea of the question types.

“The real selection competition is the second simulated examination of the medical department.”

“I am followed by thirty students, all of whom have achieved good grades of 90 points or more in this second mock exam.”

“They earned the qualification to enter Capital Medical University based on these grades,” said Jason, holding up the report card.

After Jason finished speaking, the whole room fell into a dead silence.

Medical students were shocked and couldn’t express their thoughts.

They knew how many points they scored in the second mock exam, and even passing was difficult for them. Naturally, they didn’t have the qualifications to compete.

And as for Zachary, they...

Everyone knows that this group of overachievers has been tirelessly studying the questions released by Selena lately, and they have been called fools by countless people.

Anyone who has even just glanced at the questions released by Selena would absolutely believe that

Zachary and his group must have done very well on the exam.

However, there was still some unwillingness, and questioning voices were raised.

“However, you didn’t inform us beforehand... If you had made it clear that this was a selection test...” they would definitely not have treated the second mock exam lightly.

Jason’s face was indifferent as he spoke, “These thirty students behind me, just like myself, were not informed beforehand that there would be a selection competition. We did not notify any school in advance.”

“You have already attempted the second mock exam, so you should know that apart from testing your knowledge, the most important aspect is to test your logical thinking and analytical skills. A small mistake can lead to a wrong answer for the entire question.”

No patient knows when they will fall ill before the onset of the disease. A rigorous and careful attitude, clear mind, and active thinking are the most fundamental things a medical student should possess!

“The students behind me undoubtedly possess such abilities, but unfortunately, none of you are qualified. That is the truth!”

The teachers and students present were speechless.

Those who previously gave Selena’s exam questions without deeply studying or taking it seriously are now regretful.

On the presidential podium, a group of students have a somewhat blank expression at the moment.

They stayed up for half a month to prepare for an exam, but then were struck by a pie falling from the sky.

Zachary remembered what Selena had said to him before and looked over with a complicated look in his eyes.

Not only him, but also the teachers and students of Creephia University and Olnrith University turned their eyes towards Selena after a moment of silence.

Zachary and the others were able to pass the test because of the questions Selena came up with.

Did Selena know in advance that this was a selection question?

However, this conclusion was soon refuted.

Because Selena wrote a train of thought similar to the second mock exam question on the first mock exam paper, her thinking and approach even surpassed that of the professors who set the exam.

And the questions she came up with were clearly more profound and difficult than those of the second mock exam. How could this be cheating?

And Selena herself is sitting in the audience.

She did not hoard those questions and not give them to others. It was because they themselves did not realize the true value of those questions, and either did not want them or just casually glanced at them and then discarded them.

Those students who used to speak ill of Selena behind her back and called her pretentious are truly regretful now.

The teachers from capital have also noticed this phenomenon and are somewhat puzzled by it.

Is there anything special about this girl who scored zero on the test?

Almost all students and teachers in the school were watching her...

Despite the complex scrutinies from all sides, Selena sits calmly and composedly there.

Her eyes lazily glanced at the thirty young men and women on the stage, and she smiled slightly.

Suddenly, she raised her delicate and snow-white hands and began applauding, “Congratulations to all of you!”

Zachary and others stared at Selena blankly, feeling that something was not quite right.

Selena's applause aroused the others.

Besides the students of the medical department, students from other departments of Creephia University and Olnrith University were finally awakened by Selena's applause, their expressions becoming excited as they began to clap with all their might.

After all, out of the 50 national quotas, Creephia University has occupied 30, firmly surpassing capital! Such a great honor, of course it deserves to be celebrated together by everyone!

Other people in the medical department gradually accepted this fact and began applauding as well.

After all, most people still have a good moral compass, and Zachary relied on his own abilities, rather than stealing or robbing. After feeling disappointed, he just accepted it.

But not everyone can suppress the jealousy in their hearts.

Summer stood among a queue of graduate students, looking at the students on the rostrum with a sense of dejection.

She received the third prize of "Challenge Cup", which is the highest honor in her academic career, but this award can only serve as a bonus when she enters a good hospital.

And these students took an exam and got into capital medical school, which was their long-awaited dream.

Why?

It's all Selena!

It's all Selena's fault!

Summer's face twisted with jealousy, forgetting the occasion and shouting out loud, "Selena cheated! She helped these students cheat! I heard it with my own ears. She was discussing the selection competition with Zachary in the laboratory."

As soon as Summer spoke, the graduate students standing beside him turned pale and turned around to glare at her.

"Summer, are you crazy?"

Her voice was too piercing and instantly attracted everyone's attention.

The surrounding students all glared angrily at Summer.

The teachers who came from capital were shocked with their faces.

The expression on the face of Jason turned pale.

Taylor and her team seemed to have been injected with chicken blood, and they immediately focused on Summer. "Can you explain clearly, how did Creephia University cheat?"

At this moment, from the principal and teachers to the students, everyone on Creephia University had a collective expression of disdain on their faces, looking at Summer with eyes that were as if they were looking at a madman.

Selena's gaze grew completely cold in this moment, slowly locking onto Summer.

Summer met with disapproving looks from everyone, and her face changed dramatically when she realized she had said something wrong.

She openly accused her alma mater of cheating in front of people in the capital city without any evidence. What is the difference between her behavior and being a "traitor"?

Jason coldly stared at Summer and said, "Please choose your words carefully, this selection contest was not announced in advance..."

chapter 633

There is no standard answer and what is being tested is the genuine individual ability, and there is absolutely no possibility of cheating!

Taylor took a step forward and stood in front of Jason, staring at Summer with a cold laugh, "I believe this classmate didn't just talk nonsense."

I'm not looking down on Creephia University, but given their educational level, the difficulty of this exam, they should be able to pass at least one.

"But both Creephia University schools went against the norm and got thirty admissions, leaving Capital University far behind. This is simply unrealistic!"

Moreover, they are from the same examination room. Who would believe that there is no cheating involved?

The teachers from capital looked at each other in confusion. Although Taylor had a bad attitude, what she said was unassailable.

Jason did not expect that at this moment, unexpected problems would arise, and his face turned completely cold.

He knew very well that since Taylor had grasped this handle, it would be impossible not to explain clearly. Therefore, she remained silent.

He just stared at Taylor with an unfriendly look in his eyes.

Taylor sneered and stared fiercely at Summer, saying, "Please explain clearly about Creephia University's cheating!"

Summer's face turned pale, her mouth moved a few times, but she didn't say anything.

She angered everyone with just one sentence, especially the thirty students on the podium who glared at her as if they wanted to tear her apart.

The teachers of Creephia University, including her supervisor, looked at her with eyes full of disappointment.

After all, the people of Creephia University know the true reason why Zachary and his friends were able to pass the exam.

They took a shortcut.

But that is also their own strength and luck, not at all related to cheating.

Summer publicly accused Creephia University of cheating, and if this were to spread, it would tarnish Creephia University's reputation.

If other cities catch any handle and cause these thirty students from Creephia University to lose their qualifications, then...

All eyes fixed on Summer were filled with anger.

Cold sweat broke out on Summer's face.

In the silence, Selena let out a cold laugh, "Billy, could you pass me a microphone, and also pass one to Summer?"

Billy's face turned cold, and upon hearing Selena's words, he immediately walked towards the podium. He said to the principal, "Principal, Selena has something to say."

The principal waved his hand and said, "You don't need to use the microphone. Go and help Selena up and make sure Summer stands closer so you can speak clearly."

This matter must be explained clearly on the spot, otherwise there will be endless troubles.

"I'm going to help Lady Selena!" As soon as the principal finished speaking, Jemima and a group of girls couldn't wait to rush down.

It was really heart-wrenching to see Selena sitting there all alone, looking so sad.

Amidst the shocked and complex looks of a group of teachers from capital, Selena was helped onto the chair of honor and sat in the center, with a group of top students standing on either side of her.

Billy walked towards Summer holding a microphone.

“Summer, it concerns the reputation of Creephia University as a whole, and whether those thirty classmates can have the qualifications to enter capitalmedical school. Please confront Selena publicly and clarify everything!”

Summer’s face turned completely white.

After her graduate students publicly shouted the phrase that Selena helped Creephia University cheat, they all kept their distance from her, and no one stood by her side again.

Amidst the chaos of Summer, a cold voice belonging to Selena was heard from the podium, “Summer, please clarify how I helped Creephia University and these students cheat.”

And on the presidential stage, the teachers from capital also realized what was happening and looked at Selena with a confused expression.

The girl said: —

Selena helped these students cheat for Creephia University!

Did this student who scored zero on the test help other students cheat?

This is too absurd!

Taylor’s face also changed slightly.

But she finally caught a proof, so naturally she wouldn’t let it go easily.

Furthermore, she firmly believed that Creephia University produced thirty students with grades of 90 or above, there must be something fishy going on, and most likely it is related to this student called Selena. Unfortunately, she just received a message last night.

People from capital told her that Selena, who participated in a fragrance competition with the person in charge of the medical school not long ago, has a good relationship with him. It is certain that Patrick had leaked the information to her in advance.

As Taylor thought of this, she looked at Selena with a cold expression and a tone laced with a hint of ominous coercion.

“It’s better for you to honestly confess the truth. This matter is not trivial. If it’s found that you really cheated in such an important exam, the prison will be your future destination. If you come forward now, we can take a lenient approach.”

At these words, the faces of everyone present turned white.

Creephia University’s students absolutely hate Summer.

The face of Jason turned pale too.

Taylor is basically forcing Selena to admit that she helped Creephia University cheat. If this girl has even the slightest emotional instability, she might fall for it...

Selena didn’t look at anyone and said lazily, “Shut up!”

Taylor was taken aback for a moment.

She is used to being dominant, except for those noble families in capital, no one dares to publicly tell her to shut up.

After realizing what had happened, her expression turned somber. “How dare you-” she began.

Selena rudely interrupted her, her voice cold, “We’ll talk about your question later. For now, just stand aside and don’t interfere with my confrontation with Summer!”

Taylor’s vision went black for a moment. She was about to reprimand Selena for not following the rules, but then she saw the cold-looking girl lift her head and glance at her Taylor shuddered when she met the cold, dark eyes and instinctively stepped aside. When she realized her fear of a girl who was not yet twenty years old, her face became even uglier. People of Creephia University have long been accustomed to it. Although Selena hasn't thrown a tantrum for a long time, her last public altercation with Leah at school and her slapping of Georgia in front of everyone at Olnrith University were witnessed by all. She usually has a good temper, but once provoked, no one at Creephia University and Olnrith University combined would be able to hold her back. Summer is just asking for trouble. Selena lifted her chin towards Summer, with a delicate and alluring expression on her face. Her eyes and voice were both cold as she said, "I'll ask one more time, Summer. Please provide the evidence of the cheating done by Creephia University's students that you believe I helped with. Remember, this is your last chance." "After this, you will be directly charged with the crime of slandering others and lose the opportunity to defend yourself completely!" Summer's face was pale, and she stared at Selena, perhaps thinking that since she's already said it, there's no use in regretting it now, might as well go all out and say it loudly...

"I was at the entrance of the laboratory that day, and I heard with my own ears that you and Zachary were discussing the selection competition with papers in your hands... Let me ask you, if you didn't get info of it earlier, why did you give those questions to the group of people who are close to you before the second mock exam?" Zachary was listening with great indignation and exclaimed, "You're slandering! That's not even true!" Students stared at Summer with rage. The teachers from capital all looked at Selena with shocked expressions. "Setting questions... what's going on?" "Does the fact that Creephia University can take so many exams have something to do with the questions Selena came up with?" Jason voiced, "This is impossible! Except for the two principals, we have never disclosed to any student that the second mock exam is related to the selection competition of the medical school!" "How could that be impossible?" Taylor sneered, her angry eyes staring at Selena. "Selena is an old acquaintance of the current head of the medical school. They met at a fragrance competition before the second mock exam and have a good relationship. Jason, do you deny this?" Jason glared at her angrily and said, "You—" However, there is no way to deny the fact that Patrick does know Selena. Other teachers, upon seeing this situation, immediately became suspicious and their faces showed it. The head of the medical school actually knows Selena. If this is really the case, then there may be insider dealings in this selection process. Taylor sneered at Selena and said, "I guess the reason why Creephia University performed so poorly in the exam is all because of the collaboration between the young master of the Turner family and Selena, who blatantly abused their power for personal gain, right?" "If there is no one inside capital who leaked the questions in advance, there would never have been such a big deviation in the final exam results. Only cheating can reasonably explain everything!”

Jason with a pale face turned angrily and said, “This is baseless slander! Without any evidence, how dare you arbitrarily accuse these students of cheating?”

Taylor glanced at Zachary and his group with a cold expression, and said disdainfully, “We all know about Creephia University’s education level. If they haven’t used any special means, how could they possibly pass the entrance exam for Capital University? And thirty of them passed at once... they must be overestimating themselves!”

Creephia University’s students were almost enraged when they heard these words, even the teachers and principals of Creephia University had a collective cold expression on their faces.

Selena lowered her eyes and looked at her slender fingers, seeming to be pondering something.

Taylor saw that she had nothing to say and felt a sense of relief. She had been suppressing her anger all evening and finally found a place to vent it.

She looked arrogantly at Jason and said, “I suspect Creephia University used cheating methods in the second mock exam, and now I am looking for evidence. Jason, do you want to stop me?”

The face of Jason turned white, but he could not find a reason to stop it.

Because the possibility of cheating by Creephia University was publicly announced by the students of Creephia University, it would be suspicious to prevent it from happening when everyone is watching. But if they let Taylor continue her investigation and delay the time, who knows what underhanded tactics those people in the capital will try?

He was about to speak, but Taylor interrupted, “Jason, please understand one thing clearly, there are suspicions of cheating among the students of Creephia University. If we give them such a precious spot just like that, it would be unfair to other students. In order to ensure the fairness and justice of the selection match, Creephia University must cooperate with us in the investigation! And –”

She glanced at the thirty students with grim faces in Creephia University and said, “Once cheating is proven to be true, the grades of these thirty students must be invalidated on the spot!”

Other teachers pondered for a moment, and also stood up to openly support Taylor.

“Jason, Creephia University supposedly passed thirty exams, which is an unrealistic fact that needs to be thoroughly investigated!”

“I support Taylor, Selena and these thirty students. They performed too well in the exam, which seems suspicious and must be investigated!”

The face of Jason was extremely unsightly.

Taylor saw that he was speechless, turned her gaze to Selena, and her tone was full of dangerous coercion. “Selena, hand over the cheating information of the Turner family immediately!”

With the evidence, she can not only invalidate the thirty spots of Creephia University on the spot, but also drag Patrick down and openly kick the Turner family out of the medical school.

If she really succeeds, she will have made a great achievement!

At this point, Taylor became a bit excited and stared coldly at Selena, “If you don’t cooperate, I have the right to report you to the police and arrest you on the spot!”

She glanced at the panicked Summer and sneered, “With the testimony of this classmate, you can’t run away!”

Selena lightly blinked her eyelids and finally raised her head. She stared at Taylor directly and spoke in a tone that was somewhat light but icy cold, “Are you stupid?”

Taylor was startled, then a look of anger appeared on her face, “You–”

Selena lifted her chin, smiled slightly, and slowly said, “It seems your master forgot to tell you not to mess with me in Creephia University... Do you know what happened to the last person who tried to threaten me?"

Taylor finally realized that the girl in front of her was not a pushover she could manipulate. She spoke in a cold tone, "Don't think you can act recklessly just because you have the Turner family supporting you. The Turner family in capital is just..."

"The Turner family is the first prominent family in capital, and they have been and will always be!"

Selena snorted, not wanting to listen to her nonsense, and glanced at Jason, "The people who made our first and second mock exams are within the alliance?"

Looking into her eyes, Jason's mind buzzed and she unconsciously replied, "Yes, those few are retired professors from the League in recent years..."

"Great!" Selena snapped her fingers and smiled at the two principals, "Principals, could you please make a call to those researchers at Olnrith University for me? Just say that I reported that among the group of students who were admitted to Capital University, some got hold of the internal materials in advance and cheated openly!"

With a loud noise, the teachers from capital collectively lifted their heads.

Taylor's expression froze on her face.

Before they could recover from the shock, they heard Selena continue to speak slowly, "Also, because Creephia University did so well on her exams this year, it aroused suspicion among the personnel within the capital city. Representatives publicly slander Creephia University of cheating. Given the severity and malice of the situation, in order to prove Creephia University's innocence, they should come forward and present questions on site."

"Retake the exam!"

The last two words, like a thunderbolt, heavily struck the nerves of everyone present at the scene.

Those teachers in Capital have all been dumbfounded.

Taylor also froze.

She stared blankly at Selena and saw the beautiful girl looking back at her with a mocking and icy smile.

"Of course, it's not just Creephia University and those guys from Capital University who need to retake the exam on site, none of them can escape!"

chapter 635

Taylor was stunned. After understanding the meaning behind Selena's words, her face turned pale, and extreme fear surged in her eyes.

"You-"

Without giving her a chance to refute, Selena elegantly leaned back in her chair and looked up at the thirty students beside her. She curled her lips and said, "Let's show Taylor and all those who came from capital what Creephia University is capable of, understand?"

Upon hearing this, all thirty students wore a contemptuous smirk on their faces.

Eduard stood out among the crowd, staring coldly at Taylor. "Lady Selena, don't worry. If I don't make teacher Jason kneel down and admit his mistake, I will never study medicine in my lifetime!"

Zachary followed and spoke in a cold tone, "Lady Selena, I promised you that I would make those who doubt you kneel down in the second mock exam. Today, we will use our strength to make the teacher Taylor and those who doubted you earlier bow down and apologize to you on the spot."

Subsequently, the other twenty-eight people also walked up, and in each of their eyes burned absolute anger and humiliation.

“Come on, if we lose, we will automatically give up the quota of Capital University medical school, and we will permanently withdraw from the medical field!”

The presidents and teachers of the two universities in Creephia also stood up.

These thirty students are the pride of our Creephia University. The ease they gained today is the result of our careful observation of their efforts. We absolutely do not allow anyone to humiliate or trample them. Please, teachers, open your eyes and see if Creephia University has done anything wrong.

Creephia University’s students also stood up with red eyes.

The thirty students on the podium are the top academic achievers in Creephia University. They excel in both character and learning, and we are envious and disappointed. However, no one doubts their integrity, and in terms of academic performance, Creephia University is definitely not inferior!

The teachers who came from Capital were all intimidated by this sudden and unexpected show of force. Especially Taylor, Selena’s words just now made her heart beat faster with fear.

She was very clear that the few masters and misses who had barely squeezed into the top 50 spots at Capital University had all obtained internal information. If there were to be a retake, they would definitely not do well.

After coming to his senses, Jason was ecstatic.

Once there is an on-site retake, those embroidered pillows will definitely be kicked out, and then the Turner family will completely dominate the medical school.

He looked at Selena in surprise, took off his glasses and said, “Well then, let’s prepare for it. I believe that the professors will not show favoritism to anyone!”

The president of Olnrith University turned around and immediately made a phone call.

Taylor never thought it would end up like this. She glared at Selena and said, “You—”

“Taylor suspects us of cheating, so we naturally have to find a way to prove ourselves,” Selena said with a smirk. “Is there a better way to prove a student’s true ability than retaking the exam in person?”

Taylor was angry and frustrated, but couldn’t come up with a retort. She could only shout hoarsely, “It was clearly a problem with Creephia University. Why should the students of Capital University have to retake the exam because of you?”

If the people from several influential families in capital knew that because of her mistake, those young masters and misses lost the opportunity to enter the medical college, what would be her fate?

Taylor felt a chill all over her body.

Selena gave a faint smile and said coldly, “If you can suspect Creephia University, why can’t I suspect capital? Didn’t Taylor say that we must conduct a strict investigation for the fairness and impartiality of the exams?”

“Did Taylor forget about her previous intention to call the police and send me to jail?”

“We have been doubted by you. Therefore, we will now use our most hardcore strength to prove that we did not cheat. If even the highly talented students of Capital University are suspected, they will only become more arrogant and use their skills to fight against me.” Selena had a serious expression and said, “I’m eagerly awaiting for them to make a stunning performance!”

Jason almost could not hold back, and burst out laughing on the spot.

Those have no real strength except for their schemes and family background.

Selena is going to publicly drag them out and teach them a lesson!

Taylor was so angry, but she didn’t have time to trouble Selena. She turned around and called her own master.

If today's situation really gets out of control, they will not only lose the medical school's quota, but also the face of those families involved.

Selena watched the back of Taylor, a smile curling up on her lips. She held the microphone and began speaking, "Classmates--"

As soon as she spoke, all eyes in the room immediately turned to her.

Selena gave a light chuckle and her pleasant voice was heard throughout the audience, "I need media and reporters, the more the better. It would be best if all the reporters in Creephia University could come. Let's make sure that the entire H Country knows that we Creephia University have earned ourselves thirty students through our own efforts, so that there won't be any doubts in the future!

Taylor stumbled and almost fell down.

The teachers from capital were holding onto their chest, with an expression of extreme horror.

How dare she...

Even Jason is now horrified by this.

After re-examination, these students at Creephia University can at best clear their suspicions of cheating and silence Taylor, thus successfully entering the medical school.

The powerful families in capital are large in influence. If they receive news, they will definitely try to find a way to suppress the matter beforehand.

But Selena's action is equivalent to spreading the news and making it known to everyone, and no matter how much pressure the powerful families in capital exert, they may not be able to suppress it now.

My face and reputation, as well as my child's, have all been lost!

Creephia University students are eagerly responding one after another.

"I will immediately call my father and ask him to bring all the reporters from his company!"

My brother is a journalist, I'll call him right away!

"My mother works at the radio station, I will call her right away!"

The people in Creephia University are fine, after all, they all know that this little miss is quite mischievous, so they have gotten used to it even when she surprises them.

The people from capital were collectively frightened by Selena's successive actions.

Especially Taylor, her face turned red with anger. She clutched her chest and pointed at Selena, unable to speak properly. "You, you--"

The president of Creephia University frowned and advised in a low voice, "Selena, you should think twice about this. The waters in capital are deep, those people are not easy to mess with..."

Selena's move is like openly dragging their students and faces out for public execution. It's highly unlikely that they would let her get away with this.

Selena blinked her eyes and said with a very obedient expression, "Principal, you misunderstood. I was following the call of Taylor to ensure the fairness and impartiality of the selection competition.

Naturally, the more exposure it has, the better, to avoid any possibility of hiding dirt or harboring stains."

Taylor's face twisted with anger.

After Ronin hung up the phone with his father, he turned around to see Selena looking at him. "Ronin, I forgot to bring my phone..." she said.

chapter 636

Could you please call Mr. Padilla and ask him to call Mr. Jordon? With all of this excitement, our Olympus Group International Media naturally wants to get a piece of the action!

Ronin turned around and continued to make a phone call.

Taylor trembled all over as she looked at Selena, her expression becoming extremely frightened.

If Olympus Group International Media is involved, it means that the alliance will also know, and they will definitely investigate thoroughly to find out who leaked the internal information to those families in the capital.

Once the personnel within the alliance are thoroughly investigated, the loss will be too great!

Taylor stumbled backwards several steps, cold sweat dripping down her face uncontrollably.

Taylor can think of it, and Jason can naturally think of it too.

She immediately turned around to call Patrick.

If she can seize this opportunity to kick that bastard who coerces the medical college admissions out of the alliance, the Turner family will have fought a brilliant battle!

The students from Creephia University chuckled at Taylor's guilty expression.

"Serves you right!"

"At such a mature age, why are you still so naive? You shouldn't have provoked anyone, let alone Lady Selena. If she gets angry, she can make you cry and kneel down to apologize on the spot, don't you know that?"

"Without any evidence, they accused Creephia University of cheating and forced Lady Selena to admit that Creephia University cheated. They even want to send Lady Selena to jail. How dare they have such audacity!"

Isn't it just a teacher from capital? What's so great about that? How dare they look down on us Creephia University! We'll show them what our academic elites are capable of achieving compared to those "promising talents" from the capital city. Let's see just how spectacular their grades can be in comparison to ours!

Those teachers from capital, who only met Selena for a short time, were amazed at how she could make Taylor look so lost in just a few minutes. Looking at Selena's eyes, they also showed fear.

Doesn't this girl fear retaliation from those families and Capital University for openly offending them? Selena seemed to be oblivious to the different thoughts of the people around her. Her long eyelashes trembled, and she seemed to remember something. Slowly and calmly, she opened her mouth.

"By the way, Zachary, could you go to the lab and get the surveillance footage of our conversation from a week ago? Show it to Summer and see if that's the evidence she used to accuse us of cheating."

Zachary gave a cold glance at the colorless Summer, then turned around and walked towards the laboratory.

Summer stood alone on the open space, never expecting that things would evolve to this point.

Has Selena invited all of Creephia University's media, doesn't that mean all her actions will be exposed? By then, which hospital would still be willing to accept her?

Summer looked at Selena resentfully and said, "You're so cruel, Selena. You did it on purpose."

"Enough!" came the voices of the graduate students behind her. "Lady Selena may be ruthless, but at least she wouldn't try to discredit Creephia University and she would stand up for her. Unlike you, who are tarnishing the reputation of your own alma mater for your own selfish reasons!"

"We can't have a companion like you. The 'Challenge Cup' team officially withdraws, and from now on, you can form your own team by yourself."

Summer cried loudly, and everyone watched indifferently without paying any attention to her.

...

Olympus Group.

When Luke answered the phone, he was also momentarily stunned.

This little rascal seems to have been quiet for a long time without causing any big trouble.

He almost thought she had changed her personality, but he was surprised by such a big surprise during the last semester.

This act of publicly dragging the descendants and prestige of those several aristocratic families in capital and subjecting them to public execution by beating is...

He should praise her and say, "She is truly worthy of being the woman that their family master has set his sights on, isn't she?"

This kind of courage is not something that ordinary people can possess!

Luke's lips curled and he picked up his coat from the chair to put it on.

The assistant opened the door of the office and the reporters from the media department of Olympus Group were waiting outside, fully equipped. When they saw Luke, the leader of the group smiled.

"Mr. Jordon, everything is ready and we can leave at any time!"

Luke smiled with a hint of coldness in his eyes, saying, "Our little one has a deep-seated hatred with a few of those clans, so we must win this first battle without shedding any blood and make it a stunning victory. Do you understand?"

"Mr. Jordon, rest assured," the leading reporter laughed, "we will definitely not let Lady Selena down!"

If the boss himself has spoken up, who would dare to neglect anything related to Selena?

After witnessing the means of that little brat, who would dare to provoke her again?

Anyway, no one dares to openly provoke Creephia University. Only stupid people from the capital dare to confront her head-on as soon as they meet her.

Luke boarded the car with the door of the Olympus Group's media department and it sped off towards Creephia University.

Not just the Olympus Group.

The whole Creephia University, including media companies of all sizes, rushed to Creephia University after hearing about this incident.

Never mind that this is already a big news story.

Just the fact that the other party openly slanders the students of Creephia University for cheating is enough to anger the public.

Humans are the most possessive creatures, like fallen leaves returning to their roots, which is the ultimate desire of every individual.

No matter how much they cause trouble within Creephia University, it's their own business, but they absolutely won't tolerate an outsider humiliating them like this.

The students in Creephia University clearly do not pretend, and as adults, they are even less likely to do so.

At once, all the media in Creephia madly rushed to Creephia University.

At the same moment, major aristocratic families in the capital also received this message.

The people of those families immediately tried to find ways to prevent this from being exposed, but they were too distant and this time they had angered the public. Even if they gave money, Creephia University could not find anyone willing to help them.

Plus, time is tight, and there is no room for prevention.

I just deeply remembered the name "Selena".

Patrick also received a call from Jason at the first time.

“Master, Lady Selena is really powerful. She has given us an opportunity to eliminate all those who are against us within the alliance.”

When the opportunity to work with Selena presented itself, naturally the Turner family would seize it. After listening to the ins and outs, Patrick slowly curled up a smile at the corner of his mouth.

“Truly, she is his daughter...”

When it comes to protecting their own interests and using methods, the father and daughter are both equally skilled.

“Those from capital will definitely not give up easily, so keep a close eye on Lady Selena and make sure no harm comes to her!”

“Yes!”

After hanging up the phone, Patrick turned around and walked away.

Selena provided such a great chance for him, so the internal cleanup and reorganization of the medical school can begin.

Meanwhile, inside the Riddle family building.

Leon also heard this news.

He furrowed his brow, and his expression became somewhat unclear.

Selena targeted those families, including the one that she had an engagement with.

Offending so many aristocratic families openly in one go...

chapter 637

It is impossible to say that there was no credit for the man from the Anderson family who covertly helped fuel the situation.

He was virtually instigating Selena to oppose those people on purpose.

Why?

Leon cannot express his exact feeling. He lit a cigarette and remained silent for a while before saying, “Keep an eye on the situation in capital lately.”

The assistant next to him frowned and said, “Lady Selena has made such a big fuss. Those people will definitely come to test the Riddle family’s tone. Mr. Riddle, what do you plan to do then?”

There is no conclusive evidence yet as to whether Selena is a daughter of the Turner family.

But it is an indisputable fact that she is the daughter of Lady Nevaeh.

Leon has openly admitted before that she is a Miss Riddle from the Riddle family.

However, the attitude of the Riddle family’s elderly couple was...

Leon’s gaze deepened slightly and he looked out the window, remaining silent for a long time.

Creephia University.

Christ also received a call from the Gu family at the same time.

“Creephia University has a woman named Selena. You need to find a way to stop her from causing trouble. If necessary, make her disappear!”

After thinking through a variety of solutions, the people from those several influential families finally remembered that the heir of the Poole family happened to be in Creephia University recently.

Others may have been wary of Osvaldo, but Christ was not, and immediately went to visit the Poole family.

Christ bit his cigarette and, upon hearing the words, a faint cold smile crossed his lips as he scoffed, "Don't bother me with those useless things!"

The person opposite choked.

Christ hated incompetent people the most in his life. If they really had the ability, why would they be afraid of taking the exam again?

After a moment, the other person continued, "Your third uncle's daughter is also involved. If you don't take care of it, the Poole family will also lose reputation!"

Christ crushed the cigarette in the ashtray heavily, sounding quite normal but with a cold gaze, "When did the Poole family become interested in the Turner family?"

"The Turner family, no matter how defeated they are now, used to be the top family in the capital more than a decade ago," the other party snorted. With the means of that man back then, there must be a lot of things that haven't been dug up yet. Anyway, the Turner family will eventually come to an end. Why can't the Poole family also take a share of the spoils?

Christ smiled without warmth and said, "Alright, I'll go check out Creephia University."

After speaking, he hung up the phone and walked out with a cold expression on his face.

Creephia University.

In less than half an hour, a large group of journalists carrying cameras arrived at the scene.

On the presidential platform, the teachers who came from capital became flustered when they saw more and more people arriving.

Nobody is more boastful than Taylor.

She glared at Selena with resentment and malice in her eyes.

Selena languidly sat on the podium, elegantly crossing her legs, holding a cup of milk tea that she had just sipped a few sips from in her hand. With a relaxed and self-satisfied expression on her face, in contrast to the expressions of others, she was truly infuriating.

Upon arriving at the scene, Luke couldn't help but laugh at the sight before him.

Selena saw him and her gaze subconsciously swept towards him. She didn't see the familiar figure and a sense of loss flashed across her big eyes.

Luke casually hugged his arms and asked with a smile, "Are you looking for your fiancé?"

Selena paused for a moment, thought about it, and nodded. She pointed at Taylor and said, "This woman just forced me to admit that I cheated, and threatened to send me to jail if I didn't. I want to file a complaint against her."

"That's unfortunate," Luke mourned for the gentleman inwardly, and it was a rare opportunity for Selena to open up. However, Osvaldo, who was her husband, missed it.

"He is busy and cannot come back at the moment, but as long as you tell him, this person..." he glanced at Taylor, whose face looked grim, "he can't escape even if he runs to the ends of the earth."

Selena gave a slight smile.

"Hey, what era is this? How can you still conduct a private trial in public?" The reporters present were immediately drawn to Selena's actions and began to ask, "Teacher, we'd like to interview you. You accused our Creephia University students of cheating, where's the evidence?"

Countless cameras were pointed at Taylor and instantly pushed her onto the edge of the wind and waves.

Taylor glared at Selena fiercely and said, "It was your own Creephia University student who reported her for helping Creephia University cheat. I was just being truthful and asking her to provide evidence!"

“She turned around and accused the students of cheating at Capital University, and even demanded that they retake the exam with her. How dare she do that?”

People from Creephia University were instantly angered by her superior attitude.

Protecting offspring is a human instinct, let alone this person who has been wronged, and is also the top-performing student in Creephia University. Immediately, the look in their eyes towards Taylor became even more hostile.

Selena chuckled lightly and said, “A student from Creephia University reported me for helping thirty students cheat their way into medical school. As a representative of capital, your first priority should be to investigate the truth. Have you done so?”

Taylor was choked up.

elena gave her a cold glance and said, “You didn’t. You only relied on the fact that I met the head of the medical school at the fragrance competition, and it’s impossible for you to have passed the exam to get one of the thirty spots at Capital University with your background at Creephia University. These are the two reasons-”

“Jumping to the conclusion that I had access to internal information and helped them cheat, forcing me to hand over evidence, and then sending me to jail, publicly invalidating the hard-earned quota of these thirty students... but what is the truth?”

Taylor’s face turned pale with anger.

But under everyone’s watchful eyes, she really meant it and couldn’t be refuted at all.

The people of Creephia University all burst out laughing instantly.

Especially the parents of those thirty students were immediately angry.

“Just because my child did too well in the exam, she cheated? Is that your reasoning?”

“I’ve never heard of it before, it’s wrong to be too outstanding. Who said that Creephia University cannot surpass Capital University? Is it cheating if it does?”

“No wonder my daughter was so angry to the point of tears when she called me. How can the teacher from capital be so arrogant? Without evidence, based on just one point, you can’t possibly have passed the entrance exam for Capital University. Therefore, you must have cheated! And who are you to question me?”

“My child had a passion for learning since he was young, excelling in both character and academics. In order to do well in the second exam, he did not go home for half a month and only slept for five hours a day. He spent meal times studying. He has worked so hard, and just because of one word from you, saying that he cannot pass the entrance exam for Capital University, his results will be invalidated... You’re a fucking idiot.”

Facing so many angry voices, Taylor gritted his teeth and sneered, “I’m not talking nonsense. You guys have no idea how difficult the exam questions were this time!”

That was so naive.

This is a selection question set by professors within the League of Nations. Fewer than 300 people from the entire H Country passed the exam and only around 50 people scored above 80 points. However, 30 students from Creephia University collectively scored over 90 points, with two even achieving a full score. If you think there is no trick behind this. Do you think it’s real?”

chapter 638

“But that can’t be a reason for you to accuse them of cheating!” a rational parent questioned with a cold tone.

You can ask them how they reviewed and how they got into the exam, but you have no right to force them to admit cheating based on this reason, nor do you have the right to invalidate their scores!

Taylor's face turned ashen and dark, and she was so angry that his whole body was trembling.

Selena let out a gentle laugh and said, "Uncles and aunties, please calm down and let me finish talking..."

As soon as she spoke, everyone's gaze followed her.

Selena was already a big celebrity in Creephia University, and after the fragrance competition, her popularity in Creephia University reached an unparalleled level.

In addition to Creephia University's students, nine out of ten people admire her. Those parents have naturally heard her name from their own students.

Therefore, everyone treats Selena with kindness.

Selena smiled, "Because Taylor accused Creephia University of cheating, in order to completely clear Creephia University's suspicion and make everyone convinced, the two principals invited several professors from the research institute to come up with questions on the spot. These thirty students will have to take a public retest."

"And for the sake of fairness, it cannot be just our Creephia University that retakes the exam, so I propose that those from Capital University also retake the exam. This is how everything happened."

"I think Lady Selena's idea is great," immediately some parents echoed, "whether it's a donkey or a horse, take it out for a walk and everything will be clear."

Indeed, there is no better and fairer way than this.

"The stigma of cheating absolutely cannot be associated with my son, I agree with Lady Selena's proposal!"

With a look of anger on Taylor's face, Selena blinked and calmly said,

"So, I need the help of uncles and aunts to make a call to Capital University, explain the situation, and ensure that the exams of both universities are conducted together, for the reputation of Capital University and Creephia University."

With a clang, several teachers from capital almost stumbled and fell on the spot.

Taylor's face twisted as she pointed at Selena, "Selena, who do you think you are? What gives you the right to demand that Capital University students retake the exam with you?"

She shouted hysterically, "There's no problem with Capital University, the problem is with you! You are the ones who need to retake the exam, not Capital University!"

"If there's no problem with your admission to Capital University, what's with that guilty expression on your face?" chuckled a parent. "Just because of your reason that 'someone from Creephia University cannot possibly pass the entrance exam for Capital University', thirty of us from Creephia University gave up our already secured spots and went on to take the exam again. So, what is it that you are basing your statement on?"

"If those few students at Capital University have no problems, why fear retaking exams?" Another parent added with a sneer. "The reputation of Capital University is well-known, and I believe that with the pride of those students, they must be unwilling to tolerate the slightest doubt about their reputation, just like the students of our Creephia University, and they will be willing to retake the exam."

"Just do an extra paper, it's only an hour's work. Not only can you improve your own reputation, but you can also prove their excellence to us in Creephia University. What a great thing, isn't it?"

Luke almost burst out laughing when he saw this scene.

This little brat really plans ahead, calculating nine steps with each move.

She made a big fuss about Creephia University, which caught the attention of some people at Olnrith University, effectively spreading the news.

In such a big public opinion, with the status and reputation of Capital University, whether it should or should not respond, it must respond.

This is no longer beating a dead horse.

It is not a mere execution, but a large-scale public execution scene!

Taylor saw that a parent had already picked up their phone and dialed the number of the official website of Capital University. Fear was evident in their eyes, and Taylor angrily exclaimed, "Selena, I question Creephia University because one of your students reported you for cheating. What makes you question Capital University? Why do you force them to re-examine based on the standards of your Creephia University?"

"This question..." Selena gave her a glance, full of sarcasm. "Isn't it what you, Taylor, said yourself?"

Taylor was stunned, "What?"

When did she say that Capital University may have cheated?

Selena chuckled and said teasingly, "Didn't you, Taylor, force me to hand over some 'internal materials'? If I remember correctly, for exams like this selection competition, the questions are randomly generated, and there is no such thing as a review scope. So what 'internal materials' are you talking about?"

"But, Taylor, you mentioned about 'internal information' so casually, which indicates that you must have heard or seen something like this before."

The color of blood on Taylor's face vanished completely in an instant.

"And..." Selena paused, a hint of mockery in her eyes. "There is one thing you got right, when I was participating in the perfume competition, the young master of the Turner family did ask me if I had any intention of going to medical school..."

Before Taylor had a chance to feel happy, Selena added, "But I rejected it."

Taylor's face twitched violently when she remembered the time when Selena got zero on her test paper.

Selena said lightly, "Later on, he mentioned a few things to me about the admission process at capital medical school."

He said that although the professors within the alliance are responsible for setting the test questions for the selection tournament, there will be a general scope provided. Only those who jointly proposed the recruitment and selection plan will know the scope of this recruitment plan.

"Even as the person in charge of H Country Medical College, he doesn't have the authority to know anything about this."

Therefore, under these circumstances, I naturally have reason to suspect that someone at Capital University has cheated.

"The so-called 'internal information' that you have seen was leaked by those few individuals who jointly proposed to hold the selection competition!"

Taylor looked at Selena in shock and her mind went blank all at once.

Luke started to cough violently.

This young lady is just ... awesome!

Jason looks at Selena with horror.

Why does Patrick need to investigate? As long as the scores of those from Capital University are exposed, none of the people in the alliance who are against the Turner family can escape.

Taylor's brain was in a muddle. She stared at Selena fiercely, seeming to remember something, and her expression became stern.

“So you admit it? Is it because the Young Master of the Turner family told you that the second mock exam is a selection match, so you told those thirty students in advance to work hard and study, which led to today’s scene?”

She seemed to feel that she had finally caught Selena and Creephia University in their wrongdoing, and her expression became smug again. “You’ve exposed yourselves, and still deny cheating?” she said. Selena gave her a cold glance.

The students of Creephia University cursed out loud upon witnessing this scene.

“I haven’t seen such a stupid person in a long time...”

chapter 639

“It’s not surprising, after all, she is from capital. In the eyes of Taylor, anyone from outside capital is just a bunch of garbage, right?”

“Lady Selena cheating... This is definitely the funniest joke I’ve heard this year!”

Taylor thought that Selena would panic after she shouted out.

However, instead, there was a hint of a smile on the other person’s beautiful face.

Creephia University’s students look at her with disgust in their eyes, as if they were looking at a fool.

What exactly is going on here?

Not only Taylor was confused, even Jason was shocked.

Although knowing that based on the character and courage of Miss Creephia University, she must have relied on something to dare to publicly speak out about her conversation with Patrick.

But those words also revealed that he did indeed know in advance that it was a selection match.

Even went so far as to openly drag Patrick down as well.

This behavior is detrimental to both her and Patrick!

Jason turned their questioning eyes toward Selena.

What is this young lady thinking?

And those teachers from capital looked even more strange when they looked at Selena.

Doesn’t saying this imply that you teamed up with the Turner family’s young master to cheat?

The parents on the scene all frowned upon hearing Selena’s words.

They went to see those students with worry, but found that the students at both Creephia University and Olnrith University not only showed no panic on their faces, but also had expressions of watching a show.

This operation and development are really confusing.

Before any voices could accuse Selena, Taylor shouted angrily, “Selena herself admitted to cheating, there’s no denying it. Are you all openly protecting her?”

Amber looked at her angry expression and smiled playfully, “Don’t blame us, Taylor. No one denies that Creephia University exists, and Selena knew in advance that this was a selection contest.”

Taylor’s gaze immediately became sharp and she sneered, “So you mean that all of you in Creephia University knew that Selena cheated, but still want to openly defend her?”

“Teacher, please watch your wording,” a gentle-looking man smiled and spoke from the audience below the platform, “Knowing the selection exam’s topic in advance is completely different from cheating.”

As a teacher, please do not casually accuse these young people of “cheating” without concrete evidence!

“You are simply forcing your arguments!” Taylor regained a bit of confidence and stared at Selena with a harsh and aggressive tone. “The fact is that Selena learned in advance from the Turner family that the second term exams were a selection competition for the hospital. ”

“She took advantage of the convenience given by the Turner family’s young master to get the relevant questions for Creephia University’s students ahead of time, so that thirty students could pass the exam!”

“Don’t forget that it was when she was talking about the selection competition with the students that she was caught by that student and reported for cheating. Is there still anything wrong with it?”

Creephia University’s parents and journalists wanted to refute Taylor, but Selena’s words just now completely blocked their way out, leaving them with no choice but to feel anxious.

Many people within Creephia University are looking at Selena with confusion.

This young lady looks quite intelligent, why does she speak without using her brain?

If she didn’t expose that information, how could Taylor have caught her handle?

Upon seeing this situation, Taylor’s face showed a sense of pride and scornfully looked at Selena, saying, “Selena, I now judge that you cheated and will invalidate the scores of thirty Creephia University students. Do you have anything to say?”

Upon hearing these words, Jason’s face turned pale again, anxiously looking at Selena.

Even Luke was starting to feel a bit nervous.

Is this little rascal really going to fall into the gutter?

Selena stared at Taylor’s smug face, raised her chin and gave a cold smile. “Who told you that I learned about the connection between the second mock exam and the selection match from the young master Turner?”

Taylor was taken aback for a moment, then laughed exaggeratedly, “What do you mean? Wasn’t it told to you by the young master of the Turner family? Who else could have told you? Don’t tell me you are saying that you came up with it all on your own?”

The questions proposed by the senior professors within the alliance are of such difficulty and depth that they are beyond the reach of someone like you. Even among the entire Capital University, the highest achieving students could only score up to 85 points!

Apart from cheating, based on the level of Creephia University, achieving a score of over 80 is already a result of luck.

Her eyes were filled with contempt, and her fingers almost poked Selena’s face, “Only someone like you who doesn’t know the immensity of heaven and earth would dare to blatantly give Creephia University thirty spots, only to be greedy and end up biting off more than you can chew!”

This statement already carries a blatantly insulting connotation.

Creephia University’s students are extremely angry.

“Clean up your mouth for me!”

“Remove your hands from Lady Selena’s face immediately!”

“You, an ugly and old woman, keep accusing us Creephia University of cheating every time you open your mouth. You have no manners or qualities of a teacher. You are not worthy of being a teacher!”

Taylor heard those curses, but she didn’t take them to heart.

Her background is strong enough to support her to walk horizontally in the education industry. These students can’t do anything to her, even if they curse her fiercely!

Selena’s gaze became colder, staring coldly at the hand that almost poked her face in front of her.

A few seconds later, a twisted smile appeared on her face, “You’re asking for death!”

Taylor was stunned and about to get angry, but a group of students rushed up to the stage.

“Old witch, what do you want to do to Lady Selena?”

It was the group of students who had been admitted to the medical school.

Just now, after Selena asked Zachary to go find the surveillance footage, she whispered something to them, and then all 29 people turned around and ran away.

They have come back now, each one holding a big cardboard box in their hands. They immediately stood in front of Selena and shielded her behind them.

Selena reached out her hand.

Eduard, who was at the forefront, coldly glanced at Taylor and casually pulled out a stack of papers from his cardboard box.

Under the puzzled gaze of the crowd, Selena took the stack of papers and said coldly, “Let me tell you why Creephia University can send thirty students –”.

She heavily smashed the stack of papers on Taylor’s face and said, “Just based on these!”

Taylor was caught off guard and got hit in the face, letting out a scream of pain.

there were continuous cries of surprise on the scene.

With a contorted expression on her face, Taylor raised her head to speak, but then a stack of papers landed accurately and forcefully on her face.

“Open your eyes wide and see clearly, whether Creephia University is cheating or not?”

Taylor’s whole body was shaking, and he pointed at Selena with a trembling hand, “You have some nerve—”

Another stack of test papers came crashing down, “Every student in Creephia University has earned their spot through their own hard work...”

chapter 640

Chapter 640 Apologies!

“They walk with upright posture, unlike you who follows the trend. You don’t have the qualifications to question them!”

Taylor’s face twisted with resentment as she glared at Selena, saying, “You—”

Another stack of test papers was heavily pressed against her mouth.

“It’s better not to speak before you learn how to speak human language!”

Taylor’s corner of the mouth immediately bruised, and tears flowed down from the pain.

She let out a scream, “She hit me, why don’t you guys hurry up and catch her?”

But no matter how she shouted, the adults around her looked up at the sky or down at the ground, and simply ignored her.

The students from both schools are clapping and applauding.

“Good job!”

“Lady Selena is awesome. I have long wanted to smack her mouth that can’t spit out good words.”

From the moment she started speaking, she has been chattering non-stop, saying, Creephia University cheated! Who the fuck do you think cheated?"

"Malicious! Do they really think all of us in Creephia University are pushovers to be bullied?! Well done, Lady Selena! Before investigating the truth, we need to teach this teacher a lesson and make her learn to speak like a human being!"

The teachers from capital, after recovering from their shock, immediately wanted to step forward to stop it.

Amber led a group of members from the student council and stood in front of them. She said with a smile, "I suggest that you all keep quiet. Selena has a bad temper. If she remembers that you questioned Creephia University's cheating just now, then the fate of Taylor would be your fate."

She glanced at the twenty-nine boxes on the dais and laughed, "After all, in Creephia University, we may not have much else, but we do have plenty of test papers to crush people with!"

The group of teachers all had pale faces.

The neutral party looked at Selena's cold eyes and felt intimidated. Eventually, they chose to remain silent.

Taylor's companion was furious, "You guys are too much! You actually joined forces to condone her harming others!"

Amber raised her chin and said, "We have been indulging her. If you are not satisfied, you can sue us."

Those teachers were so angry that their faces twisted.

With so many people and being on Creephia University's territory, how can they file a complaint?

Jason was dumbfoundedly staring at this scene.

He originally thought that Lady Selena's report on cheating at Capital University was arrogant enough, but he didn't expect there would be even more arrogant behavior.

This is not just about one person, Taylor, it goes beyond that.

The people of Olympus Group are wiping sweat off their foreheads.

This familiar domineering style, indeed worthy of being the pampered of Olympus Group.

She can't be provoked.

Luke's lips twitched uncontrollably.

With she being so fierce, if the couple were to have conflicts in the future, can Osvaldo really handle his feisty wife?

Further away, Christ stood there, watching Selena hurling test papers at people, biting his cigarette, with an indescribable look in his eyes.

And at this moment, the live stream on the internet also went into an uproar.

[Oh my god! Selena crossed the line, how could she lay hands on someone and hit them?!]

[Creephia University's people are too much. They are indifferent to her blatant act of violence towards others!]

[The two people, did you not see what happened? I am not a Creephia University person, but I still want to say that this woman deserved to be beaten!"]

[If I were in Creephia University's place, I would also resort to violence against her. He's just a teacher from Capital who looks down on everyone, and he even openly forced Creephia University to admit that her student cheated. Frankly speaking, isn't this just begging to get beaten up?]

[I also think Creephia University's approach is faultless. If they were to acquiesce and swallow their pride, I would actually look down on Creephia University!]

[Isn't it true? This teacher with Taylor is like a pig! It's one thing if they don't behave themselves on someone else's territory, but to openly insult people, if Selena doesn't teach her a lesson, it's just unreasonable!]

[Oh my god! This imposing and elegant style is so cool! So great!]

[Indeed, Selena, the leader of Creephia University, is truly amazing. She never fails to impress people!]

[I bet, Taylor definitely didn't pay attention to news about Selena before. If he did and still dared to confront Selena like that, it can only be said that her brain doesn't work well!]

...

Creephia University.

In just a few short minutes, Taylor's face was covered with many injuries.

She screamed in agony, but could not escape no matter how hard she tried.

Another bundle of test papers was fiercely thrown onto Taylor's face.

No one has ever dared to point at my face and accuse me of cheating! As the first person to be honored with such a distinction, you must naturally prepare yourself for my revenge!

Another stack of exam papers, with a "slap," landed on Taylor's face.

Despite its light weight, the test paper is seemingly inescapable as she tries to evade it.

She glared at Selena with resentment, "Do you know who is behind me? If you dare to treat me like this, I will definitely not let you off!"

Selena had already stopped her hand, but upon hearing the threat, she casually picked up a stack of test papers and slammed them heavily on Taylor's head.

She sneered, "From those fools who could barely score 80 points by relying on internal information and being helped, everyone knows what kind of people are in those families!"

She sneered, "From those idiots who rely on internal information and are barely able to score 80 points with someone's help, everyone knows what kind of people are in those families!"

"A bunch of rubbish things who rely on conspiracy and trickery to rise to power, actually dare to covet the position of the first family in the capital city..."

With a slight curl of her alluring red lips and a look of disdain and contempt in her eyes, she asked, "Has capital really sunk to such a low point?"

Luke silently turned his head.

Do not laugh!

You will be beaten!

This slap was really harsh!

Jason has never felt so proud and triumphant before.

If people from those few households are watching the live broadcast and hear Selena's words, would they not be so furious that they would die right away?

Unfortunately, what Selena said is a fact that they cannot deny no matter how much they may not want to admit it.

Taylor realized until now that Selena in front of her was not someone she could mess with.

Who would dare to treat her like this, knowing full well the powerful family backing she has?

The woman's action, rather than hitting her, could be seen as using her to strike at the families behind her.

Taylor's face turned slightly pale as she pondered over this belated realization.

What is Selena's exact identity?

Selena gave her a cold glance, raised her chin, and arrogantly asked, "Have you learned to speak human language now?"

Taylor's face turned white, but she was afraid that Selena would continue to hit her.

She is afraid that if there really is a powerful background behind Selena, she will have to swallow her pride and bow her head in submission.

Selena said coldly, "Apologize!"

Taylor gritted her teeth, even though she was unwilling, but under Selena's intense gaze, she still opened her mouth.
