

Love Rats 641

Chapter 641 Luck is also a form of strength

“I’m sorry, I shouldn’t have accused Creephia University’s students of cheating without any evidence!”

When the students of Creephia University heard this sentence, they laughed out loud.

“So, there are no people who can’t speak human language, only badly-behaved dogs!”

“Why bother? If you spoke human language earlier, you could have avoided a beating, right?”

Taylor looked humiliated and stared at Selena with resentment. Through gritted teeth, she said, “I’ve already apologized. Now you can explain how you knew that the second round was a selection exam in advance!”

Although she had disgraced, as long as Selena couldn’t explain the reason, Selena and Patrick would still be finished!

Selena lazily hummed and stretched out her hand.

Eduard handed her a paper, which she held in her hand and looked at Taylor with a smirk. “Of course, I figured it out myself.”

Taylor was stunned, then she got so angry that she felt her lungs might explode. “Selena, you need to watch your mouth. You figured it out yourself? Can you really fool us with such a reason?”

Other teachers in the capital city also became angry when they heard Selena’s words. They had thought she would come up with a reason that would overturn everything, but instead, she casually said she figured it out herself.

There was only one copy of the selection exam, and she got zero points. How could she figure it out?

“Selena, this is no joke! Please adjust your attitude!”

“You made a big fuss and alarmed the entire Creephia and the capital city. If you can’t give everyone a convincing reason today, we have every right to invalidate the results of all Creephia University students!”

Taylor looked at Selena, extremely angry, and couldn’t help but publicly scold her again. “Selena, if you can’t produce evidence, you must apologize for your actions today to me, to Capital University, and to the students you slandered and humiliated!”

“You were already bullying at Creephia University, and now you are trying to touch the heads of those in the capital city. You are simply ignorant!”

“You will definitely pay a price for your words and actions today!”

Selena’s eyes flashed with a cold light. She smiled coldly and handed the paper she was holding to Jason beside her.

Jason’s eyes were full of worry. Seeing the appearing paper, he instinctively took it and opened it up.

The people next to him also looked over curiously.

“What is this?”

“Isn’t this the first round test paper?”

“Wait, this is—” The speaking teacher seemed to have seen something extremely incredible, her eyes widened abruptly, and her words stopped with her.

Jason was first startled, and when he saw the neat and sharp analysis remarks on the paper, his hands couldn’t help but start shaking.

On the other side, Taylor still wanted to continue scolding Selena, but heard a teacher here shouting angrily, “Enough! Taylor, this student Selena did indeed figure it out herself!”

Taylor’s expression stiffened, standing still, thinking she misheard, “What did you say?”

Jason slowly finished reading Selena’s paper, took a deep breath, suppressed his excitement, stared at Taylor with disgust, and handed her the paper, “We said that Selena did not cheat, let alone ask someone else to cheat for her. She figured it out completely on her own ability!”

Taylor was stunned for a moment, enduring his skepticism, and took the paper.

The teachers who came from the capital also curiously looked over.

When they saw the detailed and profound annotations on the paper, which were even more difficult than the second mock exam questions, those teachers were all stunned in place.

Taylor tightly squeezed the thin test paper in her hand, her face pale, “This is impossible... how is this possible...”

Selena smiled lightly and said casually, “Why is it impossible? You don’t want to give me another deduction, saying that my first mock exam score was also obtained by cheating, do you?”

Taylor’s expression turned extremely unpleasant this time, but she couldn’t say anything.

Because everyone knows that Selena met Patrick at the Fragrance Competition.

The time of the first mock exam was before the Fragrance Competition.

Moreover, from the analysis annotations of this paper, one could see how much knowledge and logical thinking Selena possessed, which was truly terrifying.

This also clearly explained why Creephia University was able to enroll thirty students.

Selena smiled slightly.

For her, discovering talents was almost an instinct.

As a commander, she knows better than anyone else how to select the most practical talents.

After the first round of exams, the papers were widely circulated throughout Creephia University and Olnrith University, and almost all the top students were practicing with them.

She pointed to the neatly stacked 29 large boxes behind her and a cold smile appeared on her lips. "These papers were all practiced by my students behind me within a month."

Each of them practices no less than twenty identical papers every day, from the initial twenty or thirty points to later ninety or one hundred points, making progress step by step. The cumulative number of papers they practiced has reached several thousand!"

"These are the proofs that they can get high scores!"

The last sentence made Taylor feel cold all over, and she couldn't help but step back.

Selena smiled mockingly, staring at her. "Do you need to check each of these papers one by one? Are we at Creephia University just fooling you with papers?"

The 29 students behind Selena looked at Taylor coldly.

Every young person exuded a confident arrogance in their eyes, and when they looked at Taylor, it was like looking at a clown.

Taylor glared at Selena fiercely, her chest heaving with anger.

But she still refused to give up and argued, "You figured out that this was a selection competition during the first round, and then you told Creephia University's students, which led to them being better prepared than students from other schools... Isn't this also cheating?"

When this was said, not only did the people from Creephia University blacken their faces, even the other teachers from several schools in the capital felt ashamed.

This was too unreasonable!

Although Creephia University did take a shortcut.

Selena could see that it was their ability.

Creephia University's students were able to pass the exam because of their own efforts.

They didn't steal or rob, they just had a bit more luck than others.

But in reality, everyone understands a truth.

Luck is also a kind of strength.

Although they earned their spot by their own ability, they were still being forcefully labeled as cheaters... It was too ugly!

Selena's expression became completely cold.

Chapter 642 Capital University Accepts the Challenge!

She coldly stared at Taylor and said, "If I really told Creephia University's students that the second mock exam is a selection competition for the medical school, do you think those fifty spots, and those idiots from Capital University, would still have a chance?"

Taylor trembled with anger.

The students from Creephia University sneered and spoke up, "Believe us, if Lady Selena really said that the second mock exam is a selection competition for the medical school, then all fifty spots will definitely go to Creephia University!"

"Lady Selena never told anyone that the mock exam is related to the selection competition. She only provided the papers. It's up to us whether we look at them or not."

"She never forced anyone to look at the papers, nor did she prohibit anyone from looking at them. Zachary and the others did the papers because they love studying, and it has nothing to do with the so-called selection competition."

Taylor glared at Selena and suppressed her anger. "But one of your Creephia University students heard you talking to them about the selection competition!"

Selena's cold gaze swept towards Summer.

Summer's heart trembled under her gaze, and she bit her lip and lowered her head.

At that moment, Zachary returned with the surveillance footage from the laboratory.

He handed the footage to Selena and said, "Lady Selena, when I went to the laboratory, the door was locked. I called the principal and went to find Mr. Newman for the key, so it took some time."

Selena didn't respond and said directly, "Put it on the big screen and let Summer confirm whether this is the evidence of her accusing me of helping you cheat."

Zachary turned around and put the surveillance footage on the big screen.

So everyone saw the conversation in the laboratory about the "selection competition."

"How many points did you get yesterday?"

"... 78."

"90 is the passing line. The seniors are only a few points away from passing. The second mock exam is coming soon, so let's work hard."

"Lady Selena, have you participated in the medical school's selection competition before?"

"No, I just offended some professors from Olnrith University last time, and they must have made the questions difficult this time. If, because of me, no one from Creephia University or Olnrith University's medical departments passes, then wouldn't I be guilty of a great crime?"

"Lady Selena, don't worry, I will work hard to do well on the exam!"

This is the only sentence that mentions the word 'selection exam', followed by a scene of Summer in the lab, leading the isolation of Selena.

After watching that video, the students of Creephia University turned pale and turned back to glare at Summer.

"This is the cheating scene you mentioned of Lady Selena and Zachary?"

“Summer, how can you be so shameless? Clearly, you were the one bullying Lady Selena in the lab, leading others to isolate her, and even publicly scolding her. But you went outside and told others that Lady Selena didn’t respect you as a senior...”

“Just based on this sentence, you say we Creephia University cheated? Are you stupid?”

For a moment, the students of Creephia University looked at Summer with angry eyes.

After all, if it weren’t for her, this wouldn’t have happened today.

Just because of her jealousy, such a big disturbance occurred.

After watching it, Selena shifted her gaze to Summer. “Summer, please answer me seriously, is this the evidence you used to report me for cheating?”

Summer stood alone shivering behind the crowd, holding her arms.

She looked at Selena’s cold eyes and regretted it.

She moved her mouth a few times, unable to bear the disgusted eyes around her, and cried out “I’m sorry!” before turning and running away.

Selena raised her eyebrows lightly.

Zachary’s face turned black. He probably never thought that the source of the conflict would be him.

At this moment, a voice came from below the stage, “The selection exam paper mentioned by Zachary was taken out by me.”

The crowd’s eyes looked over and saw that the speaker was the gentle man who had just refuted Taylor.

The man looked at Taylor’s stiff expression and smiled slightly, “My son’s name is Eduard, and he is one of the two perfect score papers. Half a month ago, one day after he came home from school, he showed me a paper.”

“My son is very talented in medicine. He hasn’t graduated yet, but he is already a licensed doctor. He has never lost in the field of medicine since he was young.”

“But on that day, he only scored sixty points on that paper, and he didn’t even know where he went wrong.”

“Then he came to me and I tried to do that paper too. I only scored eighty points.”

“When I was young, I participated in the selection competition of the medical school. These types of questions were unseen by those kids, but I had seen them before. So I took the questions I had done before and gave them to him.”

“He showed them to his classmates, so that’s why those kids mentioned the words ‘selection competition.’”

Taylor’s face instantly turned pale.

The crowd was stunned.

After all the fuss, it turned out to be a misunderstanding.

Selena took a sip of water, lazily leaned back in her chair, smiled slightly, and said calmly, "Now that all the doubts have been cleared up, it's time for you to prove to Taylor with your own abilities that Creephia University is worthy of its reputation. Everyone, let's do our best!"

The thirty students smiled confidently.

"Lady Selena, rest assured, we will use our strength to show this teacher how ridiculous her self-righteousness is!"

Taylor's face changed, but she ultimately decided to give in, "I was wrong earlier. I believe Creephia University didn't cheat. I apologize to everyone in Creephia University, and there's no need for a retest!"

Selena looked at her coldly, "Ms. Taylor, I don't think you've quite grasped something yet."

Taylor was taken aback, "What?"

"Since you dared to use 'Creephia University cheating' as a reason to start this whole thing, I'll be the one to decide when it ends!"

Selena's lips curled up with a hint of madness, her eyes darkening, "The suspicion against Creephia University has been cleared, but Capital University hasn't!"

Taylor's heart skipped a beat, and she wanted to argue, but Selena lifted her chin first.

The girl's eyes were black as night, shimmering with a faint light. She exuded an air of arrogance in her eyes, "Capital University is the number one university in the country, but because of you, it's deeply involved in a cheating scandal and its reputation has been damaged. Even if it's just for reputation, they'll definitely make those students participate in the retest!"

"It's too late to think about regretting it now."

She smiled slightly, exuding elegance and dominance, "I'm waiting to see how Capital University, so high and mighty, will use their results to shock me!"

Taylor's vision went black, and before she could come up with any other ideas, a cry came from the crowd behind her.

"Quick, look! Capital University just issued a statement on their official website!"

"Lady Selena, Capital University has accepted the challenge!"

Chapter 643 She is Osvaldo's Wife

As the number one university in the country, Capital University was already feeling a bit frustrated about being trampled on by Creephia University during the selection competition. But to make matters worse, a Creephia University student publicly accused Capital University of cheating.

Can this be tolerated?

With the public outcry so loud, Capital University had no reason to turn a blind eye to the matter, especially for the sake of their students' reputation.

Capital University's official website also made a strong statement.

The other side accepted the challenge and demanded that if it was eventually proven that Capital University did not cheat, Selena would publicly apologize to Capital University!

After hearing the announcement, Selena glanced at Taylor, who looked ashen-faced, and curled her lips into an elegant and domineering smile. "I agree!"

She raised her leg leisurely, faced the camera, and with her eyes curved, her beauty was truly stunning, but her sarcasm was also genuine.

"Furthermore, if it is eventually proven that all Capital University students are deserving of their places, I will not only apologize to Capital University publicly but also apologize individually to those few students!"

This was a live broadcast, and Selena's words instantly caused a sensation throughout the entire network.

Soon, everyone knew that there was a lunatic at Creephia University who, with his own strength, had led thirty students to take the exam and had openly challenged the entire Capital University.

[Damn! Who is this beautiful girl? This is awesome!]

[That's Capital University! This girl is... so awesome!]

[Forget everything else, just based on her courage alone, she's absolutely unique!]

[Stand with Capital University! We'll wait for Capital University to stun this girl!]

Taylor watched helplessly as things spiraled out of control. She and the other young masters and misses may not have had the strength, but they had been used to being praised and flattered since childhood, and they were all proud and never thought they were inferior.

Being publicly humiliated and challenged by Selena, they would certainly not listen to their family's advice and give up the exam.

The selection competition questions may have seemed simple, but they were full of traps, and many people thought they could get high scores after taking the exam, only to end up with disastrous results.

Done!

Large beads of cold sweat rolled down Taylor's forehead as she stared blankly at Selena, completely speechless.

Soon, the president of Olnrith University brought over a spare exam paper.

Due to the large public outcry, several professors from the research institute came to oversee the exam in person. To ensure fairness, the exam supervision in the capital was also taken over by internal personnel from the medical school.

The retake exams for both schools began with great fanfare half an hour later, under the attention of the entire education community.

Zachary said, "Lady Selena, let me help you in."

Selena lowered her head, coughed lightly, and said indistinctly, "No need, Zachary, you guys go ahead. Remember to come out early..."

Zachary felt that something was off, but then he thought that Lady Selena was such a capable person that unless she had a problem with her brain, who would dare to question her grades?

This young lady naturally didn't need to take the retake exam.

So Zachary turned around and left without a care.

The president of Creephia University frowned, feeling like he had forgotten something very important.

After thinking for a moment, he remembered that he had forgotten to ask about Selena's grade.

The president of Creephia University looked at Selena and was about to ask when he heard a professor from the research institute next to him happily ask, "Is this girl who gave us the exam?"

The president of Creephia University immediately said with a smile, "Yes, this is Selena Riddle."

The professor looked at her bright and intelligent eyes and eagerly said, "She's a rare talent. When she goes to the League, I'll write her a letter of introduction and try to get her under the dean's wing..."

The president of Creephia University was so excited that he forgot to ask about Selena's grade again.

The dean of the League was an internationally renowned genius. If Selena entered his lab, her future would be limitless.

While these professors were enthusiastically planning Selena's future, Selena was leisurely sipping on her bubble tea with a lazy expression, feeling sunburned as she sat in her chair.

Suddenly, Selena felt something and looked up in a certain direction.

Christ stood behind the crowd, wearing a black suit, staring motionlessly at her with a strong aura that could not be ignored even from this far away.

Selena couldn't see the expression on the man's face, but his fierce and intimidating gaze was very penetrating.

Selena raised her charming chin and gave Christ a provocative smile.

The only reason why this man personally made a trip was because someone in the Poole family was involved.

So, why not just be a playboy if you don't have the ability?

If you don't have the ability but still refuse to be mediocre, and covet something that doesn't belong to you, then don't blame her for being ruthless and dragging them out to be whipped in public.

Christ looked at Selena.

The young girl sat lazily there, with a white face, smiling black eyes, cold and proud, beautiful and delicate.

At the moment she smiled at him, Christ's heart seemed to have been hit hard by something, and a tremor he had never felt before rose up.

These eyes, coupled with this face, were even more lethal to him than the made-up face before.

It seemed that the owner of these eyes should look like this.

She had tender skin, big eyes, dark long hair, delicate and red lips, clean and kind, making people want to hold her in their palms and protect her...

Something in Christ's heart was triggered uncontrollably, but in a flash, his gaze turned dark again.

She was Osvaldo's wife!

This fact made Christ extremely unhappy, and he even had the idea of snatching her away.

He looked at the girl's delicate face and smiled, with a hint of aggressive invasion in his eyes.

Selena's back shuddered, feeling uncomfortable under his gaze, and she subconsciously looked away.

This man was crazy to be killing her while saving her!

Christ just stood there without causing trouble, and Selena didn't bother with him, waiting lazily.

Luke also saw Christ and frowned. Since Selena had caught his attention, they had to be on guard against him making a move on her.

If another incident like the last one happened again, Osvaldo might not be able to stop himself from directly taking action and killing Christ!

Less than an hour before the exam began, Eduard came out with a pen in hand, glanced coldly at the group of teachers from Capital, and went to stand aside.

Chapter 644 Rushing to Deliver Heads

The teachers from the capital were all shocked as they looked at him.

At this critical moment, how could he come out so quickly?

Selena looked at Eduard and raised her eyebrows lightly.

Eduard said with a smile, "Lady Selena, you are good, but don't underestimate me. I didn't pass those hundreds of exam papers for nothing!"

Selena silently averted her gaze.

This guy was also a genius!

Before Creephia University appeared in front of Selena, Eduard was a well-known figure in the entire medical community of Creephia University. He came from a medical family and was a genius among geniuses.

Although Selena's questions played a big role, not just anyone could score a perfect score.

After Eduard came out, the teachers from the capital became anxious.

They were afraid that Capital University would really lose to Creephia University.

But soon after Eduard came out, news came from the capital.

Within an hour of the start of the exam, five students from Capital University had already walked out one after another.

Those five students even recorded a video, calling out Selena's name and saying that it was for her to see.

"Selena, open your eyes and take a good look at our scores! We are waiting for your apology!"

"How dare you accuse us of cheating? If your apology does not satisfy us later, we will personally go to Creephia University and teach you a lesson!"

"A Creephia University country bumpkin dares to openly challenge us? Selena, you just wait!"

The five students on the screen were proud and arrogant, exuding a sense of dominance without any fear or guilt.

Taylor looked at this scene, her face pale and her expression in a state of collapse.

These students who were pampered by their families, were they afraid that others wouldn't know which ones used internal information to cheat?

They even dared to show their faces at this time!

Even Taylor couldn't help but curse them in his heart, a bunch of idiots!

Other teachers who didn't know the inside story breathed a sigh of relief when they saw the confident expression on the other's face.

The students of Capital University have their strength on display, and they dare to say such things, so they must have complete confidence.

Selena watched the video and almost couldn't help but laugh.

This is a live broadcast on the whole internet, with netizens paying attention to both Creephia University and Capital University.

[Five students from Capital University came out, but only one from Creephia University. Judging from the speed alone, Capital University won!]

[From watching that video, you can tell that the students of Capital University are confident in themselves. They are worthy of being Capital University, and Creephia University can't compare with them. This time, being able to crush Capital University is just luck, like a blind cat running into a dead mouse!]

[You're right. In terms of real strength, Capital University is bound to win!]

After these few people came out, no one else from the two schools came out.

As the time drew nearer, everyone felt nervous.

The seriousness of the students inside the examination room contrasted with the somewhat ridiculousness of the few students who came out first.

Everyone knows that to be able to come out ahead of a group of outstanding students and shorten the time by half, you must either be a real genius or an idiot.

Of course, up to this point, no one would think that the pride of the capital city who came out first would be an idiot.

Two hours later, the exam ended, and the proctor began grading the papers. Creephia University students gradually walked out with tired faces.

Selena looked at Zachary, who had come to her side, and asked, "How did you do on the exam, Zachary?"

Zachary thought for a moment and looked slightly nervous. "I changed the answer to the last question right before handing in the paper because I wasn't sure what the correct answer was."

Selena said with a smile, "It's okay, I believe you will do well on the exam."

The expressions of the other people were all solemn, obviously very worried about their own grades this time.

Seeing this situation, Taylor felt a glimmer of hope in her heart. Maybe these thirty students all did poorly on the exam?

Soon, Creephia University's grades were corrected.

The old professor from the graduate school, holding the grade report, smiled and asked a group of tense-faced students, "Do you feel that this exam was harder than the second mock exam?"

Creephia University's students nodded collectively.

It was really difficult.

Otherwise, they wouldn't have been so nervous after the exam.

"If it's not difficult, then it's not worth it," the old professor said, shaking his head and swaying, "Originally, we were planning to use this exam paper, but later we were afraid that you would feel pressured, so we made it simpler."

To be exact, this exam paper was specifically designed for those like Selena. Originally, they wanted to temper girls sharpness.

Later, after thinking about it, the old folks realized that not everyone was as abnormal as Selena, so they kindly made a new exam paper.

The old professor held his glasses, "I'm going to call out names, and the person who I call should stand up and let me see who they are..."

"Eduard Khan."

Eduard walked out, and the old professor looked at him and said happily, "Not bad, young man, full marks."

The scene instantly became noisy.

The people from Creephia University and Jason were especially happy, while the teachers from Capital University looked very stern.

Especially Taylor, her face was ashen.

Creephia University had actually produced another full marks exam, and it was right under their noses...

Eduard received his exam paper, and the old professor shouted again, "Zachary Gibson, come over here and let me see."

Zachary walked over and bowed, "Hello, Professor."

The old professor patted his shoulder happily, "You did well, full marks."

Zachary let out a heavy sigh of relief.

The people from Creephia University cheered collectively, and the teachers from Capital University could hardly stand still.

Creephia University still had two full marks exam papers, unless Capital University also produced a full marks exam paper, they would still lose to Creephia University.

The old professor called out each name and handed out the scores. Without exception, all thirty Creephia University students received scores of over 90 points.

They truly earned their place with their strength and deserved their titles.

The results of Creephia University's exam were spread online, and everyone exclaimed in admiration, while eagerly anticipating Capital University's exam papers.

[Creephia University had thirty exam papers, while Capital University had ten. According to reason, the papers from the capital should have been released earlier than Creephia University's...]

[Exactly, all of Creephia University's papers had been graded, but there was no news at all from the capital. It's not logical no matter how you think about it.]

[Creephia University is really amazing, but Capital University is definitely not inferior! They wouldn't cheat! Let's wait for Selena to apologize to Capital University!]

Just as everyone was discussing it, Capital University's exam results finally came out.

Chapter 645 Results

Upon hearing this exciting news, the people who were eagerly waiting for the results cheered in excitement.

"Release the results! I'm waiting for Capital University to shock Selena!"

"Waiting for Capital University to shock Selena!"

“Waiting for Capital University to shock Selena!!”

...

At once, this phrase swept the entire internet.

Creephia University’s students, upon hearing this news, nervously swallowed their saliva and anxiously looked at Selena. After all, Capital University was renowned, and Selena had never even been to the capital city. Her report of cheating seemed like an impulsive outburst.

If Capital University’s results were outstanding, the public opinion would not only tear apart Selena but also the few people who recorded the video.

Despite the countless worried glances, Selena remained as calm as a mountain. She casually tossed the empty milk tea cup into the garbage bin, leaned back, crossed her arms, and adopted an elegant posture. She raised her eyebrows and looked at the students, “What are you all afraid of? Show some backbone!”

The crowd was silent.

This is Capital University, the first university in H Country. Not everyone has the courage to confront them directly.

Selena glanced at Taylor, who was sweating profusely, raised her chin, and smiled, “Don’t be afraid. Go check it out and tell everyone openly that you are the best in this competition!”

The students were inspired by her calm demeanor, took a deep breath, and marched towards Capital University’s website to check their results.

In the crowd below, someone had already exposed the results.

“Ah! Capital University also got a perfect score!”

“No wonder it’s the first university in H Country. Even without Selena’s influence, they were still able to get a perfect score. Awesome!”

“No wonder he’s the top student at Capital University. Hamish is amazing!”

The teachers who came from the capital city, aside from Taylor, regained their confidence. After all, the main conflict was between Selena and Capital University. As long as the students at Capital University could prove that no one had cheated, the only person who would be criticized would be Selena.

This round of re-exams not only preserved the reputation of Capital University and those ten students, but also gave a harsh blow to Creephia University, proving to everyone that Capital University is still the top university in H Country.

A group of students who were about to check their papers felt their hearts tighten, but they gritted their teeth and continued to check, thinking of Selena’s words.

The excited whispers in their ears continued.

“There’s one with a score of 96! Amazing!”

“I glanced roughly and there were three with scores over 90, one with 85, and the rest were –”

At this point, the speaker abruptly stopped, as if greatly frightened, and their voice became high-pitched.

“Oh my god, am I blind? What the hell is this behind me?”

“What the hell is going on?”

All the people around them turned their frightened gaze towards the person who spoke.

They saw that person standing still with a dumbfounded expression, staring at their phone as if they had been frightened out of their wits.

At this moment, not only that person, but also the group of students from Creephia University who had just finished checking their scores, were all staring at their phones, collectively stunned.

On the internet, the people who had just dug up the results from Capital University’s official website were also dumbfounded.

After a moment of eerie silence, the entire internet exploded in an instant.

“Oh my god! Am I blind? Please tell me it’s me! I must be mistaken!!!”

“I... I... I must be dreaming, not awake yet, otherwise how could I see that Capital University has... single-digit scores?”

“So it’s not just me who saw single-digit scores... there are really single-digit scores, and more importantly, there’s a zero score?”

“Four single-digit scores, with a zero score as the finale... Capital University’s reputation has been completely lost!”

“This is insane! No wonder Selena reported Capital University for cheating. The same type of questions, 90 points in the first exam, single digits in the second exam? Are you telling me there’s no insider information?”

Soon, the names of the several people who scored single-digit scores were matched with their identities.

Surprisingly, they were the same five people who had previously recorded videos and confidently demanded that Selena apologize to them!

“These five idiots! They have ruined Capital University’s century-old reputation!”

“Damn it! I thought they were so arrogant before, I thought they were so excellent, but they all ended up with single digit scores? It’s disgusting!”

“Most importantly, these five idiots clearly did poorly on the exam, yet they have no self-awareness at all. They openly demand an apology from Selena based on their so-called ‘excellent’ scores... Where do they get the nerve?”

“They must have received insider information before the selection competition. For the future of the medical industry in our H Country, we cannot tolerate such behavior! Let’s complain together for those students whose spots were taken by them!”

“If even a formal selection competition like this has insider information, then where in this world is fairness? Capital University must give an explanation this time!”

“Right! Capital University must investigate thoroughly. Who leaked the insider information to these five idiots? Such malignant behavior of favoritism and cheating cannot be allowed to continue in the medical league, it’s an embarrassment to our H Country!”

“Go investigate the families of these five idiots, and you’ll know why they were able to obtain insider information in advance... These aristocrats’ behavior is truly disgusting!”

“I thought the medical league was filled with respected old professors, but I never expected that such a noble hall would also be corrupted by capital! It’s really disappointing!”

“Capital University has really been dragged down from its pedestal by these five idiots...”

The bloodbath on the internet hasn’t spread to Creepia University yet.

The students of Creepia University stared at the single-digit scores for a moment before turning to Selena, looking at her as if she were a rare animal.

Selena snapped her fingers, raised her chin to look at Taylor, and said with a smile, “What are you all staring at? Why don’t you read your scores to Taylor?”

From the reactions of those people, Taylor seemed to see a frightening answer.

She looked at Selena with a pale, pitiful expression.

The other teachers at Capital University who were unaware of the situation also seemed to realize something and became inexplicably uneasy.

When the students of Creepia University heard Selena’s words, they obeyed without question. They seemed to be afraid that the teachers from the capital would not be able to hear them, so they loudly read out their scores.

“Zane, 5 points!”

Taylor only heard this one score before everything went black, and she collapsed completely.

But those students, remembering her previous domineering attitude, did not sympathize with her and continued to read their scores out loud with the loudest voices possible.

Chapter 646 Taking Pictures

“Kane, four points!”

Jason took a deep breath and silently turned his head to the side.

Too harsh!

Too beautiful!

This time, not only Taylor couldn't hold on, but also several other teachers in the capital couldn't stand it.

The prestigious Capital University, only getting scores of four or five points?

Who would believe they didn't cheat!

Seeing several teachers with pale faces, Creephia University's students finally vented their anger and no longer tortured everyone's ears.

But the scores still have to be reported.

A group of young boys and girls said with a smile, "Yanis Poole, oh, this one's higher... got nine points..."

When Selena heard the surname Poole, she subconsciously glanced at Christ.

This man came all the way here for this "Yanis Poole", but did nothing... why?

Selena couldn't understand, and didn't bother to think about it. Over there, Creephia University's students reported another score and tacitly placed the zero behind them.

Taylor's face at the moment could be described as collapsing. After hearing that Gabriel got a score of zero, she completely softened and no longer showed any previous aggressiveness.

She knew-

She was done!

If she hadn't thought of making a contribution and insisted on accusing Creephia University's students of cheating, things wouldn't have developed to this point.

Now, it's all over. Capital University's reputation is ruined, five students are condemned by the public, and the five families have disgraced. Even those members within the alliance are facing the risk of investigation...

And all of this is because she provoked Selena.

She remembered that Selena had asked her in the beginning if she knew the fate of the previous person who threatened her.

If she had known, would she have dared to provoke that seemingly harmless and easy to bully girl?

Taylor didn't know, and she had no chance to regret it anymore.

Compared to the bleak clouds over Capital University, Creephia University was ecstatic. After all, the selection competition had reached a final conclusion.

Creephia University had selected thirty students, and even among them were two who would be directly sent to the International Alliance.

This was a great honor.

Enough to make the whole Creephia University cheer and applaud for them!

Those thirty students finally snapped out of their confusion of having entered medical school, and immediately, several couldn't hold back and burst into tears of joy as they hugged their fathers and mothers.

"Mom, I got into medical school! I, I, I..."

"Dad, did you hear that? I got accepted to medical school! I've always treated it as my lifelong dream, and I've actually achieved it so quickly..."

Eduard walked up to his father and looked up at him, saying, "Watch me, I'll surpass you soon!"

Eduard's father patted his son's shoulder heavily and said, "You little rascal!"

Zachary walked up to a group of students from the student council, looked at Billy seriously, and asked, "Bro, is it true that I'm joining the international medical organization?"

It all feels too unreal...

Billy looked at him and resisted the urge to slap him away, reminding him, "Remember to thank Lady Selena!"

Zachary confirmed the truth of the news and a big smile spread across his face, "It's not a dream after all..."

Watching the group of young students with still-naive expressions, the people of Creephia University were all excited, and no one knew who started clapping first.

At first, the applause was small, but then it became thunderous, sweeping across the entire campus.

The teachers and students of Creephia University stood on the podium and applauded with all their might.

No matter how far these students will go in the future, at least at this moment, everyone knows that they come from Creephia University and belong to Creephia University.

Jason looked at this scene, suppressed his excitement, and walked over, "Everyone, come up to the podium, we need to take a picture!"

Hearing that they were going to take a picture, the thirty students became nervous. For those with parents present, their parents helped straighten their clothes, and for those without parents, their teachers helped.

Selena watched everyone busy themselves and smiled slightly, then slowly stood up.

Seeing that she seemed to be leaving, Zachary instinctively shouted, "Lady Selena, just sit there, you don't have to move."

The president of Creephia University also said, "Selena, you have an injury on your leg, just sit there and don't move. If you need anything, ask these little rascals for help..."

Selena didn't stop walking and said somewhat vaguely, "No need, President, I have something to do, so I'll go first..."

"But this is a group photo, you can't be absent," the president of Creephia University instinctively interjected, "You can go back later after the photo and take a break."

Selena's dark eyes turned and she continued walking, saying, "It's something important, you guys go ahead and take the picture, I'll go first..."

"But this is a group photo, you can't miss it," Zachary instinctively looked at Jason, "Can we skip Lady Selena for this one?"

Jason looked at Selena with a deep sense of regret in his heart.

He could tell that Selena was the backbone of this group of students. If they knew that Selena missed this great opportunity and scored zero because of her injury, they would be heartbroken.

He said somewhat vaguely, "It's okay, Selena, since you have an injury, if it's inconvenient for you, you can go back first."

Zachary felt a bit regretful, but the boys didn't say anything while the girls gathered around.

"Lady Selena, I'm leaving Creephia University soon, and I want to take a photo with you..."

"Yes, Lady Selena, we haven't taken a photo together yet. Can we take one?"

Selena hesitated for a moment, but she couldn't bear to disappoint the girls' kindness, so she said, "I'll watch from below. After you finish taking the photo, come and find me."

"How could that be?" Jemima instinctively retorted, "How could you stand below the stage? You should stand in the middle."

The girls nodded and agreed.

"Lady Selena, you're so beautiful, of course, you should stand in the middle. Don't worry, we will protect you and not let those smelly boys come near you..."

The boys laughed and said, "Lady Selena, we passed the exam because of your excellent teaching. You stand in the center, and we won't object. Come on, help her up."

Seeing a few girls coming to help Selena, she coughed softly and said, "Um... you guys can take the photo. I'll watch."

Jason saw the situation and couldn't help but advise, "Selena can't take a photo with you guys..."

As soon as he said that, everyone's eyes turned towards him.

The Creephia University students asked nervously, "Why not?"

"Why can't Lady Selena take a photo with us? She's clearly the most qualified person..."

Although Jason felt a bit uneasy, he still said, "Because she..."

Chapter 647 This is Osvaldo's Most Precious Treasure

“Because Selena’s grades... were not very ideal...”

Jason has already tried his best to be tactful.

After all, for them, the medical school missed out on such a talented and strong-willed student, it was also very distressing for him.

But rules are rules.

Selena’s failure to meet the standard is a fact.

Even if the five idiots from Capital University had their scores invalidated and their rankings lowered, Selena still wouldn’t make the cut.

After Jason finished speaking, the intense and passionate atmosphere in the room became stagnant.

The smile on the face of the Creephia University president froze.

Several old professors from the graduate school were also dumbfounded.

The students of Creephia University all looked confused.

They must have misheard, otherwise how could they hear such a ridiculous thing as Selena not being accepted?

The scene was quite quiet.

Selena coughed lightly and explained seriously, “I was feeling unwell yesterday and didn’t perform well...”

...

After a weird silence, the thirty students who were accepted spoke up first.

“Impossible!”

“How could Lady Selena not make it? With that kind of test, she could score 100 even with her eyes closed!”

“There must be something wrong! Anyone can have a bad day, but Lady Selena definitely couldn’t!”

Jason looked at the boys who were swearing, and his tone was exceptionally regretful, “It’s true, Selena submitted a blank test paper...”

...”

Like a bucket of cold water poured down on them, it successfully extinguished all opposition.

The indignant words of the students were caught in their throats.

The Creephia University president held his chest and gasped, looking like he was about to collapse.

The Olnrith University president hurriedly patted the old man’s back.

Several professors from the graduate school stared at Selena, looking as if they were in such pain that they were about to cry.

Selena noticed several sharp glares aimed at her, “whooshing” towards her, and before the old men could lose their temper, she took the initiative, raising her hand to cover her face.

“My leg hurts so much. If I had known how important the second mock exam was, I would have held back and not regretted it so much...”

The implication was that she was already so upset, how could they bear to torment this “poor little girl”?

Luke couldn't help but laugh.

Everyone was stunned.

The president of Creephia University finally regained his breath, but just as he was about to speak, he heard Selena's words and was almost so angry

“No...”

Don't think he forgot the words she said before about not studying medicine!!!

The old professors in the graduate school choked in their throats and almost passed out from suffocation.

The students from Creephia University looked at Selena, feeling that something was not quite right, but seeing the girl with a look of “heartbroken” on her face, they didn't have the heart to speak harshly to her.

They then all started comforting her.

“Lady Selena, don't be sad. With your excellence, entering medical school and the International Alliance is just a matter of time!”

“Lady Selena, don't be sad. You're young, beautiful, and talented, so there will be many opportunities for you in the future!”

Some people had the audacity to turn the tables and criticize the principal.

“Principal, Lady Selena is already upset and missed such an important exam. How can you bear to blame her?”

Creephia University Principal, “...”

No...

He was the one who was hurt!

He was too miserable!

"I just felt something was off earlier, and now I know why. Lady Selena's name never came up," Jemima and a group of girls cried and sobbed, "Even we passed the exam, but Lady Selena didn't. This isn't fair..."

Selena felt that the girls were crying too pitifully, so she looked up, without a hint of redness in her eyes, and smiled at them, "It's okay."

Seeing a pair of teary eyes, she added seriously, "Really, if I want to go, no one can stop me."

Everyone thought it was just comforting words.

Jemima looked at Jason with red eyes, "Jason, Lady Selena is injured and her leg hurts when she walks. Can we follow her and take pictures together, and then take pictures of others?"

Jason remembered that he had promised Patrick to check on how Selena was doing at Creephia University, so he nodded, "Sure."

A group of girls immediately ran over and helped Selena back to the podium.

A photo was taken.

The girl in the photo was smiling, bright and beautiful, surrounded by a group of boys and girls, clearly a beloved member.

As she left the campus, Selena took one last look back. A group of young boys and girls stood in the sunlight, making heart signs at the camera, exuding a youthful and beautiful atmosphere all over.

She smiled slightly and then turned her gaze away.

Luke looked through the rearview mirror and observed Selena's expression, then spoke up and asked, "Lady Selena, do you regret it?"

She could have been like the other young men and women who were about to leave Creephia University and venture into a wider world.

Selena's expression remained warm and gentle as she said with a smile, "I never regret any of my decisions."

Luke clicked his tongue and secretly felt sorry for his boss at home.

How difficult would it be to make such a cold and heartless woman fall in love with him?

This woman was determined to betray him and run away, can Osvaldo really make her change her mind?

What's even more annoying is that someone is causing trouble now...

Luke raised the car window, blocking the persistent gaze outside, and personally drove Selena back to the castle.

This is Osvaldo's most precious treasure. Even if they were to die, they must protect her.

...

Selena retired after her success, but the impact of this event has only just begun.

Within half a day, the cheating scandal in the Capital University selection competition swept the entire internet. The information of the five students who ranked in the double digits, as well as their families, were all exposed.

Even the scandal of these five students bullying their classmates at school was revealed.

The video they previously recorded to demonstrate against Selena even became a laughingstock in the entire education community.

Public opinion pinned their names to the shame columns, with their photos and names being relentlessly mocked by netizens.

Before noon, the Capital University website announced the compulsory expulsion of the five students.

Shortly thereafter, before the five families could come up with a solution to minimize the impact, the incident was leaked to the international media by the Olympus Group.

What was even more shocking was that the incident somehow attracted the attention of the elusive dean of the league.

The big boss waved his hand and didn't even listen to any explanations, and directly fired all the professors who proposed the selection competition.

It can be said that from top to bottom, they were all given full service.

Chapter 648 Osvaldo Is Here, Nothing to Fear

Unlike the turbulence in the capital city, the entire Creephia University seemed to be immersed in a joyful atmosphere.

When Zachary returned home, he was still a bit dazed. He stood in front of his familiar villa and couldn't believe that he was about to leave Creephia University and enter the top medical institution that countless people around the world had been striving for.

Zachary took a deep breath and suppressed his excitement before walking into the hall, ready to greet his parents with joy and care. He thought that his parents must have heard the news with all the publicity going on.

However, when he walked into the living room, he saw his father and mother sitting on the sofa, one reading the newspaper while the other was watching a TV drama. They didn't seem excited at all.

Zachary hesitated for a moment, then walked up to his mother and called out, "Mom."

Zachary's mother reluctantly raised her head from the drama and paid attention to her son. "Why did you come back so early today?"

Zachary said seriously, "I'm going to study at the International Alliance."

Zachary's mother blinked, then flicked her fingers and said somewhat hesitantly, "Is the study pressure too much? Are you having hallucinations?"

Zachary remained silent.

Zachary's mother showed a "I understand" expression and touched her son's face with love. "Sweetie, I am powerless in this matter, but if it's a medical team in Creephia University, you can still get in. If worse comes to worst, I will donate a few more buildings..."

Zachary felt a bit exhausted.

After Zachary's mother finished speaking, she happily went back to watching the drama.

Zachary was silent for a moment, then walked up to his father with a more serious attitude. "Dad, I'm going to study at the Medical Alliance."

Zachary's father patted his son's shoulder after comforting him. "Son, I believe that you will definitely achieve your life goals in ten years."

Zachary remained silent.

After comforting his son, Zachary's father continued to analyze the economic situation for the year.

Zachary looked at his unreliable parents and finally made a dying struggle by calling his older brother. When the phone was connected, Zachary spoke with unprecedented seriousness and solemnly announced, "Brother, I'm going to study at the Medical Alliance!"

On the other end of the phone, the eldest son of the Gibson family, had a low voice. "Haven't you woken up yet?"

Zachary was speechless.

When Billy arrived, he saw Zachary lying on the sofa and his uncle and aunt watching the financial news and TV dramas. Billy frowned, walked over, and kicked his cousin. "What time is it? Why are you still lazing around?"

Billy choked and looked at his cousin with indescribable emotions, then casually dropped a bombshell, "Oh, this kid got into the Medical Alliance, he might have to study at the International Alliance in the future..."

Zachary's mother, "..."

Zachary's father, "..."

The atmosphere on the scene was quite quiet.

After a long while, Zachary's mother sat up straight, looking full of sorrow and asked, "How many buildings do we need to donate from our family to send this kid to the International Alliance?"

Zachary, "... I'm sorry, I've embarrassed the Gibson family!"

Billy also felt exhausted.

Billy decided not to get involved anymore and said to Zachary, "We are inviting Lady Selena for dinner tonight, remember to call and inform her in advance."

After saying that, he turned and left.

Zachary took out his phone and sent a message to Selena.

During the time he was messaging, Zachary's father finally came back to his senses and asked tremblingly, "Son, are you serious?"

Zachary looked up and coldly glanced at his father, "No, I'm just kidding!"

Zachary's father became excited immediately, "Minnie, come and pack things, this son is to shine for our Gibson family!"

Zachary, "..."

Zachary's mother burst into tears of joy, not watching the drama anymore, biting her handkerchief, looking at Zachary with great pride as if he were her own child, "Baby, you have really made our old Gibson family proud!"

As Zachary was about to speak, his phone vibrated, it was his older brother calling.

Zachary pressed the answer button, and his brother shouted, "What the hell did you do to have such good luck?"

Zachary, "..."

"Well, I'm glad you're happy!"

...

In the castle.

After Selena returned, she sat in the garden and watched the actors on the Tonyan Town side film.

The filming on the Tonyan Town was nearing its end, and the crew would soon return to Creephia University.

And a group of actors have already seen the cast of "Love in City," starring Leah.

To say there is no pressure is impossible.

After all, Rachel is an international movie queen, and with the male lead who is also an award-winning actor, in terms of the actor lineup alone, "Breaking Ground" cannot compare to "Love in City."

But the acting and script quality of "Breaking Ground" gave everyone the confidence to beat the other side.

The main thing is that everyone knows that Selena filmed "Breaking Ground," and Leah immediately followed with "Love in City," and at the beginning, Selena clearly stated that the show would involve legal disputes...

Everyone knows that there must be unknown secrets among them.

And in the battle of the two sisters tearing each other apart, every time Leah was the one who suffered the most humiliating defeat.

Therefore, even though everyone knows that Rachel has a strong background, there is no one on the "Breaking Ground" team who is fake.

Selena gave them the greatest confidence.

Moreover, even if Selena can't hold on, she still has a boyfriend, right?

Lady Selena's boyfriend, with his imposing manner, even if Rachel saw him, she would probably have to bow down.

So, although the group of actors is under pressure, they are not worried that they will lose.

Selena finished her scene and ran to the front of the screen, "Selena, I just saw the Weibo hot search, Selena is amazing..."

Selena smiled, "Hattie will also be amazing in the future."

Hattie stood in front of the screen, holding her face, wrinkling her eyebrows, and said with some worry, "Selena, those people from those families have bad character, if you offend them, they will definitely retaliate against you..."

Selena lazily said, "I'm not afraid, Osvaldo is here, they can't retaliate against me."

Although she didn't want to trouble Osvaldo, it was still possible to use that beautiful man to ease Hattie's worries.

As soon as she finished speaking, a pair of slender arms came from behind, and at the same time, Selena heard a low, chuckling voice, "Good."

Chapter 649 Osvaldo's Indulgence towards Selena

Selena was taken aback for a moment, then turned to face the man's exquisitely devilish face. His deep black eyes were wrapped in a charming smile, looking at her as if he was in a good mood.

She felt a bit guilty and began to think about how to explain. After all, strictly speaking, she had caused trouble for the Anderson family today, which was likely to cause trouble for Osvaldo...

But before she could say anything, Osvaldo spoke first. His blood-red lips were slightly curved, "As long as I'm here, I won't let those people hurt you. Don't be afraid."

Selena was speechless.

She had just been comforting Hattie.

"No," Selena took Osvaldo's hand and pulled him to sit down beside her. She said seriously, "I offended those people openly, under the name of your fiancée. They will definitely cause trouble for the Anderson family. I was thinking..."

She regretted posting that official announcement on Weibo.

It was all because of her beauty that caused this trouble.

She was annoyed, but before she could explain her plan, a slender finger pressed against her lips.

Oswaldo looked deeply into her eyes, his eyes curved tenderly. "I've been wanting to teach those old bastards a lesson for a long time, but I couldn't find a reason. You've given me such a good opportunity, and the Anderson family should thank you."

Selena was speechless again. She raised an eyebrow.

Could things really turn out this way?

Oswaldo looked at his wife lovingly, his gaze very deep, as if he couldn't get enough of her.

Selena was obedient and independent, always a worry to him. He finally coaxed her into giving him a legitimate status, so of course he couldn't just let it go.

Ever since Selena announced that he was her fiancé, everything she did was linked to him.

He liked this kind of identity that allowed him to openly covet her.

It was rare that she caused a bit of trouble, so he naturally had to encourage her.

Oswaldo tenderly pinched her chin and looked at her with complete indulgence, "Those old bastards have done too many wicked things, they don't respect their elders and have ruined the reputation of the noble families in the capital. They should have been dealt with a long time ago. You are doing a public service, and everyone will thank you for it."

Selena was speechless again.

Oswaldo's expressions and tone were so focused and serious that Selena couldn't even raise a suspicion.

After thinking for a few seconds, she was successfully brainwashed by a man and said, "If the Anderson family really has something going on, you must tell me."

She added, "Otherwise, I will be angry."

Oswaldo hooked his thin lips and his dark eyes became even dimmer. "Alright," he said.

After speaking, he picked Selena up and went to have lunch.

Hattie, who was successfully forgotten, said.

She drummed her fair and tender cheeks through the screen.

As soon as Selena saw Oswaldo, she forgot everything else.

However, Hattie thought there was nothing wrong with Oswaldo's words, so she didn't interrupt him.

The family not only suffered heavy losses but also disgraced. Selena's identity was so sensitive, and they would definitely not let her go.

The Turner family was weak, and as for the Riddle family... Selena didn't seem to have any expectations, so only the Anderson family was left.

Oswaldo was Selena's husband, so it was his duty to protect her and clean up the mess.

If anyone dared to blame Selena for causing trouble, they should be dragged out and beaten to death!

Hattie felt relieved and closed the iPad. She turned around and went back to continue filming.

...

After having lunch with Osvaldo, Selena received a message from Zachary asking if she had time. They wanted to invite her to dinner in the evening.

After reading the message, Selena smiled and thought for a moment. She looked up at Osvaldo and said, "I'm going out tonight."

After saying it, she felt uncomfortable.

It must be said that Osvaldo's words last time had a great impact.

She seemed to have gradually adapted to reporting everything to her husband before doing anything.

Osvaldo knew what she was going to do.

Selena wanted to have some real relaxation time, so he wouldn't stop her from making friends.

The man's eyes deepened slightly as he smiled, "I'll accompany you."

...

In the evening, at seven o'clock.

Osvaldo drove Selena to the designated KTV room. He put her at the door and touched her hair. "I'm in the next room. Call me if you need anything."

His aura was too strong. If he stayed with Selena, everyone would be too scared to let loose.

Besides, he had some things to deal with.

His gaze deepened slightly for a moment.

Selena didn't know about Osvaldo's situation and obediently nodded, "I will come out earlier."

After making the arrangements, Osvaldo turned and entered the adjacent private room, and Selena pushed open the door with her hand.

She originally thought she would hear all sorts of singing and game sounds, but she didn't expect there to be no sound at all.

The scene was quite quiet. About forty to fifty students were packed into the private room. When they saw her come in, they all had a cold expression, as if waiting for her to explain something.

Seeing this situation, Selena pressed her cherry-red lips slightly, "Since no one welcomes me, I'll leave..."

As she spoke, she turned around to leave.

Suddenly, a burst of ghostly howling came from behind her.

"No no no! Lady Selena, you can't leave!"

"Boss, we were wrong. Please don't leave!"

“Welcome, welcome, I welcome Lady Selena...”

A group of girls rushed over, helping Selena to sit down on the sofa, and competing to serve her tea and snacks.

Selena was speechless and laughed, “What’s going on?”

Jemima sat in front of her with a look of regret, “Lady Selena, why don’t you want to study medicine with such good grades?”

Selena instantly understood, smiled, and asked, “Is the principal okay?”

Zachary shrugged, “After you left, the principal found out that you got zero points on the exam and almost cried. It’s said that he had to drink a whole bottle of energizing liquid just to avoid fainting...”

Selena “...”

Everyone made a sympathetic expression and collectively sighed.

The best students at Creephia University didn’t want to study medicine, they just wanted to get their graduation and degree certificates, and the principal was really miserable!

Selena coughed in response to the group’s implied reproachful gazes, “This is my first time here, can’t you guys teach me what’s fun to do...”

When everyone heard this, they laughed and joked together.

The boys went to open beer, and the girls sang and played games with Selena.

They were all top students who spent most of their time studying and had no bad habits. The atmosphere in the private room was very harmonious and happy.

...

In the adjacent private room, Osvaldo listened to the familiar singing from the opposite side and slowly lowered his black butterfly-like eyelashes.

He lowered his head and pressed the cigarette butt into the ashtray...

Chapter 650 I Want Her to Belong to Me

The person sitting across from him also heard Selena’s singing voice, and their elegant eyebrows furrowed slightly. “Why do you want to do this?” they asked.

Selena had finally managed to escape from that vortex.

According to her personality and background, she could have lived a peaceful life in Creephia University for the rest of her life.

But this man had urged her to take the initiative to confront her enemies from back then.

He even secretly stirred up trouble and pushed the Turner family into the eye of the storm.

He knew full well that this would put her in danger.

Amidst the swirling smoke, Osvaldo's sinister gaze was icy and strange, but in the very center, there was a hint of passion.

The man's blood-red lips curled slightly. "I like her," he said.

"I want her to belong to me."

"I want her to never be able to leave me for the rest of her life."

"For me, there is no one and nothing more important than her."

Leon looked at the man in black across from him. His eyes were tinged with darkness in the gorgeous lighting, and his breath was cold.

Leon looked at him and his gaze turned cold. "So she doesn't actually like you at all. She even wants to leave you... The so-called fiancé and husband were just lies you fed her? You've been deceiving her..."

Osvaldo's demeanor changed, and the look on his face was eerily ominous, and his voice was so intense that it made people's breathing quicken. "She is mine!"

Not my wife!

But rather—

She is mine!

These were two completely different concepts.

The former represented a confirmation of identity, while the latter was a kind of absolute possession.

It meant that everything about her, including her person, her heart, and everything she had, belonged to him.

Leon's pupils contracted slightly.

He looked at the man whose eyes were full of uncontrollable paranoia and darkness, and then he laughed.

Everyone thought that Selena liked him, so she ended up marrying him and becoming his wife.

In the end, it was all just a scam.

This man didn't even dare to reveal his true nature in front of her.

This kind of love that was maintained so meticulously and cautiously was indeed precious, but... could she accept it?

For a normal girl, who could tolerate such terrifying possessiveness and control from a man?

"If you really love her," Leon's gaze was icy, "you should tell her what kind of person you really are."

"Otherwise, even if she falls in love with you, it will only be with an illusion."

"Love obtained through deception will never have a good outcome."

Oswaldo's tone was mocking, with a smile on his face, but his gaze was chilling. "What right do you have to interfere in her affairs? The Riddle family is the one who has hurt her the most in this world!"

Leon's eyes flickered slightly, but in the end, he couldn't find any words to refute Oswaldo's statement.

He lowered his eyelids and spoke with a hint of sarcasm, "Indeed, the Riddle family has no right to interfere in her affairs..."

Pausing for a moment, he spoke again. "But there is one person who is more qualified than anyone else to take her away from you."

Oswaldo listened intently to the girl's clear and pure singing voice, but the hostility that surrounded him almost solidified in an instant.

...

Meanwhile, in another private room...

Selena had just finished singing a song amid her classmates' cheers and had once again sparked a frenzy of applause and howls.

"Why am I such a useless person, even though I'm just a human being?"

"Fortunately, I was prepared and filmed it in advance. Even if I go to the capital, I can still listen to it anytime..."

"Ah, Lady Selena, you're good at so many things. Is there anything you're not good at?"

After thinking for a moment, Selena replied, "There are many things!"

Everyone looked at her with anticipation. "Like what?"

With a serious expression on her face, Selena replied, "I don't know how to play with women!"

The room fell silent for a few seconds before erupting into laughter and coughing.

After the commotion died down, Selena felt a bit suffocated and went outside to catch some fresh air. A few girls accompanied her to the rooftop to stargaze.

It was their last night in Creephia University, and also their last chance to see the stars in Creephia University.

As the group thought about leaving Creephia University and leaving their parents behind the next day, they were filled with mixed emotions of reluctance and longing for the capital, and confusion and anticipation for the future.

So tonight, Selena was particularly accommodating and gentle with the girls.

They helped her up to the rooftop, and they looked up at the starry sky while encouraging each other.

Selena looked up at the Milky Way and smiled faintly. She glanced at her phone and saw that it was only over ten minutes until 8 o'clock.

She decided to wait for while longer before going to find Osvaldo to go home. She felt guilty that he had accompanied her to the class reunion but was left alone in another room. She planned to buy him a gift to express her gratitude.

After a group of girls made wishes, they turned to Selena and asked in confusion, "Lady Selena, did you make a wish?"

Selena paused, "A wish?"

Her gaze fell on the girls' hands, was their action just now, making a wish?

Jemima held her chin and asked, "Lady Selena, don't you have any wishes?"

Selena shook her head, "I do, many."

She wanted to go home.

She wanted revenge.

She wanted all her deceased comrades to have the chance to come back to life like she did.

But she knew it was impossible.

So all her wishes became difficult or impossible to achieve.

Anyway, praying to the stars and the moon was absolutely useless.

The girls noticed that Selena seemed affected, so they accompanied her downstairs.

A few girls went down to the first floor, just as they walked out of the elevator, they heard a girl hiding in the stairwell making a phone call and crying while speaking.

"You really want to break up with me for her... Do you know I'm pregnant..."

Something seemed to be said on the other end of the phone, and the girl cried hysterically, "You want me to have an abortion... that's a life, do you have a conscience?"

The person on the other end of the phone shouted something, and the girl finally broke down, yelling, "Fine! Let's break up! Do you really think I can't bear to lose you! I'll have an abortion right away and give it to you! Even if I die, I won't let you be happy with that bitch!"

After speaking, she hung up the phone, covered her face and wailed in grief.

Several passing girls stood awkwardly in place. This group was raised under the cultivation of moral, intellectual, physical, and artistic education. They were probably encountering this situation for the first time, feeling embarrassed, pity, and angry.

Seeing the girl crying pitifully, Jemima pulled out a tissue from her backpack and handed it over, comforting her in a soft voice, "Don't cry, wipe your tears. You're still pregnant, don't be upset over a scumbag..."

The girl, who was originally covering her face and crying, heard the voice, turned around, and at that moment, she twisted her face, picked up something hidden in her arms, and splashed it on Selena's face.

"Bitch, go to hell!"
