

Love Rats 651

Chapter 651 Is Selena Skilled?

The sudden fierce movement of a woman frightened a group of the girls.

They couldn't react in time and could only watch as a large cup of liquid was thrown towards Selena's face.

Selena's gaze turned cold.

Out of instinctual danger, she almost reflexively threw off the windbreaker that Osvaldo had just sent her.

The black windbreaker, like a canopy, instantly isolated all danger.

The transparent liquid was completely caught.

Then the clothing was corroded with several large holes visible to the naked eye.

There was a smell of burnt fabric in the air.

Several girls were scared silly.

That is... sulfuric acid!!!

The woman opposite Selena saw that she had dodged and a hint of regret crossed her eyes.

She took out a knife from her bag and rushed towards Selena, cursing fiercely, "Shameless slut, I'll ruin your face and let you seduce my boyfriend again—"

The words abruptly stopped.

Selena had already caught her wrist first, took the knife from her hand, and ruthlessly slashed it towards her face in the woman's resentful gaze.

A bright red blood splattered out.

A tragic scream echoed in the silent space.

Several stunned girls were frightened and came back to their senses. They saw Selena holding the bloody knife and slashing at the other half of the woman's face.

The woman's screams changed tone.

Several girls gasped and trembled, shouting, "Lady Selena..."

Selena's killing intent in her eyes stagnated. She looked at the woman's blood-stained face and lowered her long eyelashes.

After a few seconds, she turned her head and said to the girls, "Call the police!"

Several girls looked at her pale face and, after coming back to their senses, immediately called for help and reported to the police in a panic.

The woman whose face was ruined by Selena fell to the ground, holding her bleeding face, crying in pain.

Of course, this time it was real.

Selena grabbed her hair, pulled her up, and placed the knife horizontally on her throat, looking down at her eyes. "Even if money is good, you still need your life to spend it!"

She had once raised a young man with her own hands.

When he was sixteen and went to battle for the first time, he saved a pregnant woman, and then that woman killed him.

She crossed thirteen continents overnight and caught the woman who had just given birth, tearing her apart with her own hands.

Therefore, everyone who knows the Riddle family's daughter knows one thing.

You can confront her, play tricks and hurt her, plot against her... but never, ever use her kindness against her.

The woman's face was no longer as fierce as before, looking at Selena with fear in her eyes, covering her face and letting out a piercing scream, tears and snot covering her face.

"No, no, no! It wasn't me... someone gave me money to ruin your face... please spare me..."

Selena's cold expression remained unchanged as she lifted her beautiful and somewhat eerie eyes and looked towards a certain direction on the top floor.

A woman in a red dress leaned against the railing, her long curly hair and cigarette between her fingers, squinting at this direction. When her eyes met Selena's, they froze for a moment.

Then she snorted and turned around to leave.

In the private room on the top floor.

Leah saw Rachel push the door open, her face full of anger. She poured a glass of wine and walked over, asking softly, "Miss Rachel, what's wrong?"

Rachel grabbed her chin, a cruel look in her eyes, "Why didn't you tell me that your sister is so skilled?"

If she had known that Selena would react so quickly, she would not have used such a childish method.

Now that Selena was on guard, it would not be so easy to help Diana destroy her face again.

Leah winced in pain but didn't dare to struggle. Her eyes showed confusion, "It's impossible. Selena has a weak body. She could get tired from walking too much, let alone fighting..."

"I saw it with my own eyes. Could it be fake?" Rachel grabbed the wine glass from her hand and poured it all over Leah's face. "If you ever give me false information again, I won't spare you!"

After speaking, she pushed Leah away heavily.

Leah's face twisted for a moment as she fell onto the sofa, recalling Rachel's words.

Selena is skilled?

Impossible!

Leah grew up with Selena and knew better than anyone what she had learned since childhood. She believed that Selena could mix perfumes, go to school, and write scripts, but she couldn't believe that Selena could fight...

Questions buried in the heart slowly took root and sprouted at this moment.

Is that woman really Selena?

The Selena from before was timid and reticent, letting herself be bullied, but the Selena now is talented and ruthless... are they really the same person?

Leah slowly lowered her head and clenched her fingers.

Rachel sat on the couch, smoking and recalling Selena's gaze from earlier, causing an uncontrollable chill to run down her spine.

She had originally thought that Selena was just a small reptile, not worth her personal intervention.

It was Diana who overestimated the other person.

Now it seems that Diana was right.

If Selena didn't have the support of the Anderson family behind her, or if she herself wasn't so ruthless, then she would be someone who could be easily dealt with.

But in fact, the ruthlessness that Selena displayed just now made even her feel a bit apprehensive.

Rachel smoked irritably and after a while, she slightly squinted her eyes and a hint of a smile crossed her red lips, "Since the covert approach isn't working, let's try overt!"

Leah sat quietly beside her, and upon hearing this, she asked in a low voice, "What does Miss Rachel mean...?"

"Doesn't Selena value her drama a lot?" Rachel bit her cigarette and smirked, "If the executive producer violates the law and people's moral bottom line, will her drama still have a chance to be released?"

For that woman who had worked so hard on her drama, wasn't it a blow?

Leah's expression faltered for a moment.

She had suffered too much at Selena's hands in this regard, anything related to rumors and gossip ultimately ended up biting her back twice as hard.

But my little sister is very cunning and the best at playing with people's hearts," Leah hesitated, "she's extremely popular on the internet, and Miss Isabel and I have both been ruined by her. If we try to take the black path, it might not work..."

Rachel disdainfully glanced at her, raised her hand to flick her hair, and said, "Don't compare yourselves to me. I am an international film queen, how could I not be able to handle such a thing?"

Chapter 652 You Have a Wound on Your Leg

Leah looked at Rachel's proud and arrogant appearance and cursed to herself, "What a fool!"

Without her background in law enforcement, her methods may not be enough to handle Selena! But who let Rachel have such a sister? Even Selena's boyfriend would probably think twice before acting against her.

Furthermore, Rachel has been in the entertainment industry for many years and is currently at the top, so no one knows the rules of the industry better than her.

By using her connections, she might really be able to make Selena's drama come to an end without a trace.

Therefore, Leah suppressed the contempt on her face and spoke softly, "I certainly believe in you, Miss Rachel, but Selena is very suspicious. Last time, Weibo became a real-name system, and I suspect it had something to do with her. You must be careful and not fall into her trap..."

Rachel chuckled as she smoked, "You're already afraid before anything has even happened. Even if you can't beat her, you're still afraid!"

"You're right," Leah maintained her gentle expression and a faint smile on her face, "Selena is too much of a bully. I can't beat her, and I hope you can help me..."

Rachel enjoyed hearing these flattering words and sneered, "Just wait and see. In less than three days, I'll make sure she's ruined!"

...

On the first floor.

Selena threw the woman covered in blood on the ground in disgust and was about to pick up her knife and head upstairs to attack someone when a pair of long arms reached out from behind and wrapped around her waist, successfully stopping her.

Selena's expression froze, and she turned to see Osvaldo's striking and exotic profile.

The man held her tightly in his arms, but his gaze was fixed on the ruined trench coat lying on the ground, corroded by sulfuric acid.

His eyes were very dark, and there was no expression on his face, only a permeating aura that became more and more apparent.

Even Selena, who was in a fit of rage, felt chills run down her spine.

She had never seen Osvaldo like this before. On his usually gentle face, there was a vague sense of something unfamiliar.

He seemed to be angrier than she was...

All of Selena's anger was burst like a deflated balloon, and she could only reach out and grab his fingers, saying softly, "I'm fine..."

Oswaldo sensed the change in Selena's mood the moment it happened.

He raised his hand and pressed his forehead, suppressing the boiling violence and loss of control within him.

He couldn't use force...

He would scare her...

Oswaldo slowly lowered his head, his gaze seemed to trap her, and he looked at her with affection as she paled slightly.

After a few seconds, he tightened his embrace, using more force, as if he wanted to merge her into his bones and blood.

Selena's bones ached from being squeezed tightly by him.

In contrast to the man's rough movements, his voice was very gentle and somewhat hoarse, "Don't be afraid, you..."

Selena blinked in confusion.

Was she afraid?

Without Oswaldo mentioning it, she didn't feel particularly scared.

But as soon as the man brought it up, an unfamiliar and bitter feeling welled up in her heart.

She should be scared.

If she hadn't moved quickly, and if she hadn't been wearing Oswaldo's coat, she would have been disfigured today.

Even if she didn't care about her own beauty, it would be better to die than to suffer the pain of having acid thrown in her face.

Selena was held quietly in his embrace, and she lowered her head to nuzzle against his chest. "It was your coat that saved me..."

After pausing for a moment, she added, "It also saved everyone else."

Fortunately, Oswaldo's coat was wide enough. Otherwise, even if she could have escaped, the other girls around her might not have been so lucky.

She looked up at him, reached up to touch his face, "You're really good..."

Even if he wasn't there, his coat could save several girls.

Such a handsome and powerful man was indeed reliable.

Selena smiled with her eyes and lips curved.

Oswaldo gazed deeply at her, his voice was soft, but there was a hint of something that made her heart skip a beat. "If I were really good, I wouldn't have let you encounter these things..."

If he were really good, he would have made sure that those demons and monsters would never come near her.

Selena was stunned for a moment, then tilted her head and smiled, and the melancholy between her eyebrows disappeared suddenly.

She tiptoed and lightly touched his eyes with her lips, her smile sweet, "You're still very good, you're the best and most gentle man I've ever met."

A lively expression appeared on Osvaldo's pale face because of her smile and praise, making him even more attractive.

He picked her up in his arms, "You have a wound on your leg."

He would naturally not stop Selena from seeking revenge.

Just girls knee was injured and she had to walk carefully recently. Based on her previous momentum, it was obvious that she was going to attack with a knife.

Those things upstairs are damn, but they are definitely not worth hurting herself.

Selena's curled eyelashes flickered, and she regained her rationality, finally realizing that she was still a wounded person.

She coughed nervously and looked at the woman covered in blood on the ground. Suddenly, she reached out and hugged Osvaldo's slender neck.

She wanted to take the man away before he noticed the woman on the ground.

Under the rage just now, she had been heavy-handed.

If Osvaldo saw this brutal and bloody side of her, he would probably be frightened.

Although Selena didn't care about how others saw her, she was still a girl and subconsciously didn't want Osvaldo to see her cruel and merciless side...

She hugged Osvaldo's neck and leaned on his shoulder. Her face turned slightly flushing, "My knee hurts a bit. Can we go back?"

For the first time, Osvaldo was tightly entangled by this girl. He didn't know if he had guessed Selena's thoughts, but his tone was smiling and gentle, almost dripping with water, "Okay."

As he spoke, he naturally carried Selena and passed over the woman lying on the ground, and walked down the stairs.

At this moment, a group of girls called someone back.

Seeing the blood on the ground, everyone was shocked.

But when they saw Selena being hugged by her boyfriend, and not suffering much injury except for her pale face, they all breathed a sigh of relief.

Selena hugged Osvaldo's neck to prevent him from turning back, and said to the students who were looking at her with wide eyes, "Hand the woman on the ground over to the police!"

The group of teenagers nodded instinctively.

Selena smiled slightly at them, "It's okay. Everyone rest well tonight, and remember to set off on time tomorrow. Let's all work hard!"

The group of teenagers were inspired by girls words and responded with high morale, "We will definitely work hard!"

Chapter 653 Who Am I Supposed to Like?

Selena smiled encouragingly at a group of students before obediently being carried away by Osvaldo. After she left, the group of young men's gaze fell on the woman on the ground. The woman covered her face and cried, making it difficult for people to watch.

However, the feeling of compassion disappeared instantly when they saw the clothes on the ground that were corroded by sulfuric acid. If Selena hadn't acted quickly, she would have been the one who suffered greatly.

Someone spoke up and asked, "What kind of grudge does this woman have with Lady Selena to use such a vicious method to hurt her?"

The few girls who were present at the time thought of the woman's ruthlessness when she threw sulfuric acid and shuddered with fear.

Jemima angrily said, "Lady Selena doesn't even know her. We saw her crying here, and we kindly tried to comfort her. As a result, she turned around and threw a bottle of sulfuric acid towards Lady Selena's face. After Lady Selena dodged, she still didn't give up and grabbed a knife to stab her. If it weren't for Lady Selena taking the knife away first, she would have been injured today!"

After hearing the girls' account of the incident, everyone felt that the woman deserved it.

"Ronin, what are you doing?" everyone turned to see Ronin holding his phone and recording a video.

After hearing the students' inquiries, Ronin calmly said, "There are a lot of people in the hotel, and someone might take advantage of this woman's injury to cause trouble."

Everyone remembered the incident where Selena was falsely accused by a silent video before and took out their phones to take pictures and record videos, trying to preserve the scene as much as possible.

Shortly after, the police arrived. After all, it was a group of students, and they had called the police to report what happened. Along with the police were doctors.

The woman was taken away in an ambulance, and several students stayed behind to give their testimony to the police. After everyone left, Leon walked out of the private room.

The police who were cleaning up the scene were surprised to see the head of the Riddle family from the capital appearing here. "Mr. Riddle, what are you doing here?"

The Riddle family's young lady narrowly escaped disfigurement, and now the Riddle family's young master appeared here. It was hard not to speculate.

Leon looked down at the bloodstains on the ground and spoke in a cold tone, "Find out who ordered this."

The police nodded immediately, "Okay."

Selena was brought back to the castle by Osvaldo.

She was thinking all the way why Rachel wanted to ruin her face.

She met the actress for the first time and didn't even speak.

The only intersection they had was Diana.

Diana caused her trouble in the perfume competition, and then her sister appeared in Creephia University, openly opposing Leah with her.

And she used such a vicious method to disfigure her face.

She didn't know Diana, so the only possibility that could cause a conflict between them could only be for...

Selena's gaze slowly fell on Osvaldo's exquisite and eerie face.

Osvaldo noticed the gaze and lowered his long eyelashes to look over, "What's wrong?"

Selena raised her hand and touched his face, "Does that Diana... like you?"

Osvaldo originally wanted to ask who Diana was, but he met Selena's serious eyes, was silent for a moment, and said, "Maybe."

Selena shook her head and said to him, "She's not good, don't like her!"

Osvaldo's blood-red lips slightly curled up, and his eerie and gentle ghostly eyes locked onto her. His voice was incredibly gentle, "Then who should I like?"

Selena was enchanted by the tenderness in the man's eyes and blurted out without thinking, "Of course, you should like—" She was about to blurt out a word, but at the critical moment, her overpowering rationality pulled her back.

It disappeared in an instant between her lips and teeth.

Like her...

But she couldn't like him.

So he naturally couldn't like her either.

Selena's curled eyelashes trembled slightly, and there seemed to be some emotion gathering in her eyes. She said softly, "Of course, you should like a good girl that you also like."

Oswaldo's breathing stopped, his face slightly pale. After a moment of silence, he whispered, "If I meet her in the future... should I come and tell you?"

Something seemed to grip Selena's heart, and she subconsciously turned her head away from Oswaldo's gaze and muttered, "Uh-huh."

With the man having a beloved girl, their arranged marriage agreement should naturally come to an end.

The man lowered his black butterfly-like eyelashes, and a faint trace of paleness and fragility appeared in his exquisite eyes.

The silence almost suffocated the air.

Selena raised her head and looked at Oswaldo's face, which had lost all color. Although she didn't quite understand where the problem was, she vaguely sensed that she might have hurt him.

She bit her lip, her slender shoulders sagging as if they couldn't bear the weight.

The man lowered his eyelashes, so Selena couldn't see the disturbing emotions in his eyes. It seemed like he had reached the threshold of a dam breaking, and for a moment there were countless wicked thoughts and words threatening to spill out, but he held them back tightly.

She grabbed his slender, fair fingers, about to say something, when Oswaldo's voice interrupted, "It's late, you should sleep."

Selena looked at the man's pale face, her breath catching in her throat. "I..."

Oswaldo gently kissed her hair, looked directly into her eyes, and with a smile that bordered on devoutness, he said, "Be obedient."

Afterwards, he hugged her and sent her upstairs.

If he didn't send her away now, he was afraid he would lose his reason and do something irreparable.

Selena stared at the man's handsome face, which still seemed so gentle, but inexplicably gave her a chilling feeling.

In those pure black eyes, there was no trace of reason, of anything else, only her.

Selena shivered and lost all her words in an instant.

Oswaldo dutifully sent her back to the bedroom, knelt down and changed the bandage on her knee, wrapping it in waterproof gauze as usual.

Then he found all her nightgowns and placed them within her reach.

Finally, he stood in front of her, lifted her chin, and with a ghostly and gentle breath that seemed to penetrate her tender skin, he said, "There's going to be thunderstorms tonight. If you're afraid, be sure to call my name."

Selena instinctively looked outside the window.

Beyond the French windows was a beautiful garden, bathed in warm yellow light that made the night seem particularly peaceful and gentle. Further away was the endless darkness of the night.

Chapter 654 A Mistake at Night

Cold air blew in through the window, and Selena felt the chill of the impending weather change. She was thinking about it when Osvaldo turned around and walked to the French window, closing the window and pulling all the curtains tightly shut.

He found the remote control and adjusted the room temperature to a constant level before walking back to the bed and picking up Selena.

Her body was caught off guard, and Selena subconsciously lifted her hand to circle Osvaldo's slender neck, her face showing a bit of shock, "You..."

Osvaldo gently explained, "Taking a hot bath during a weather change is better for you."

Selena's face turned slightly flushed as she remembered that the doctor had indeed instructed her to do so, and she had no choice but to quiet down.

He carried her into the bathroom, where the warm air was already blowing, and the temperature was high. Osvaldo placed her on the washbasin and closed the door.

The bathroom was very small, and Osvaldo stood by the door, slightly leaning forward, watching her motionlessly with a focused and serious gaze, but there was no hint of frivolity in his eyes.

At this moment, however, Selena felt an unprecedented pressure from his focused and serious gaze.

Although the man's eyes were very clear and his breathing was not heavy, Selena inexplicably felt a sense of danger and fear.

Selena bit her lip, and a hint of embarrassment lingered in her clear eyes, "Okay, I'll take care of the rest myself..."

Osvaldo's bottomless black eyes revealed a hint of paranoia, and he stepped towards Selena.

A gentle and charming breath enveloped the girl in an instant, and the distance between the two of them instantly became fraught with tension.

Selena's face grew redder, and she stared at him, at a loss.

A wall of defense had already risen in her eyes.

Osvaldo raised his hand and reached out towards her face.

Selena's slender body tensed up in an instant, and just as she was about to raise her hand to push him away, she saw that the long and beautiful hand had crossed over her and landed on the warm water valve behind her.

Selena was stunned.

The sound of rushing water rang in her ears, and she stared at the man in front of her with her eyes wide open, like a startled little animal.

Oswaldo's lips curved slightly, "I'm just helping you with the water... what were you thinking just now?"

Selena was stunned.

Oswaldo laughed softly, and his cool fingertips brushed across her eyes.

The enchanting fingertips seemed to carry magic, as if they could brand her whole person inch by inch into her soul.

He looked at her, a pleased smile on his face, "Am I that kind of person in your heart..."

He seemed to think for a moment, then smiled and continued, "A desperate... scoundrel in sheep's clothing?"

Selena, "..."

Her pure white face turned flushed in an instant.

She spoke in a small voice, "I'm sorry."

After all the fuss, it turned out that she was overthinking things.

She had known the man for so long, and he had always been gentle, considerate, and a true gentleman. If he had any bad intentions towards her, she would have noticed.

Thinking back to the man's unusual request just now, that if it rained tonight, she should call out his name if she was scared, the last time there was a thunderstorm was in Tonyan Town, the night she was severely injured and had a high fever. She must have said something under delirium that made the man worry so much about her.

On top of that, she had just narrowly escaped disfigurement, and the man was only worried that she might be afraid, so he went out of his way to comfort her.

It was all in her head...

Selena let out a sigh of relief, looked up at the incredibly handsome man in front of her, and smiled, "Oswaldo, you're really kind."

There really was no man in the world who was kinder, more considerate, and more gentle than him.

Oswaldo leaned in and planted a gentle kiss on her forehead, his voice even softer, "Goodnight."

Upon hearing the familiar "goodnight" sound, Selena's smile became sweet and relaxed again. She looked up at the man and said, "Goodnight."

Oswaldo looked at her for a moment and then turned around and walked out, gentlemanly closing the door.

Selena watched the slender and ghostly figure disappear before her eyes, blinked, and her heart became extremely soft.

She chuckled softly, turned around, and began to undress and take a bath.

Separated by a door, Osvaldo stood silently at the doorway, listening to the sound coming from the bathroom, and his long lashes drooped slightly.

...

Perhaps it was because of the man's advice and company before going to bed, but Selena slept unusually well that night.

The thunderstorm raged throughout the night and stopped just as day was breaking.

Selena opened her eyes to the sound of raindrops falling and looked confusedly at the warm-colored curtains. It took a moment for her to realize that it was already morning.

She didn't have any nightmares last night.

Selena smiled faintly, got up, stepped barefoot on the soft carpet, walked to the floor-to-ceiling window, and pulled open the curtains.

The air, washed by the rain, rushed in.

Selena felt the alluring coolness and looked at the garden outside the window that had been washed by rain, feeling that she would have a good mood today.

After changing clothes and finishing washing, she opened the door.

The first thing she saw was Leia standing outside the door.

Leia saw Selena and ran over happily, with tears in her eyes, "Madam..."

Selena missed Leia after not seeing her for several days, and she raised her hand to touch girls hair, feeling even better, "It's good to be back."

This disaster that happened to Leia was still caused by her.

Selena felt guilty and decided to go out later to buy a gift for Leia.

Leia saw Selena's smiling face and knew that her mistress was in a good mood today.

Usually, when Selena is in a good mood, Osvaldo's mood also becomes very good.

Leia felt relieved and said with a smile, "Madam, I brought gifts for you and Hattie when I went out. I'll go get them for you."

Before Selena could speak, Leia had already rushed downstairs like a gust of wind.

Selena couldn't even catch up with her speed.

Selena looked at her back and smiled happily. Indeed, lively and active Leia was very cute.

The sound of a door opening came from the next room, and Selena turned around and saw Osvaldo walking out.

Selena looked at the man's handsome face and remembered last night's embarrassment, her ears turning red. She said with a smile, "Good morning."

Oswaldo's deep gaze lingered on her face for a moment, confirming that Leia had not had a nightmare last night and had slept very well instead. His gaze deepened slightly and he replied, "Good morning."

Selena walked over and naturally took Oswaldo's hand, pulling him downstairs together for breakfast.

The servants in the castle looked up early in the morning and watched the two masters...

Chapter 655 Deep Affection between the Young Couple

The young couple walked down the stairs with deep affection and couldn't help but laugh.

Before Selena arrived, this place was a cold and magnificent castle, and Oswaldo could hardly stay here for more than a few days a year. Even when he did stay here, the atmosphere was stern and cold.

But since Selena arrived, Oswaldo would come back every night, and there was more liveliness inside and outside the castle. Especially when the lady of the house was in a good mood, this place was simply heaven.

Selena sat down at the dining table and had breakfast with Oswaldo. Afterwards, Leia drove her to school. She had caused quite a stir in Creephia University yesterday, so the news on the internet today must be very lively.

Selena sat languidly in the back seat, her fingers tapping on her phone as she checked the news about the capital. Apart from the five students who were expelled from Capital University, there were no other reports from the families that she had crossed. The lack of news meant that someone was temporarily helping her block them, and that someone could only be Oswaldo.

Selena smiled softly and her eyes turned cold. "Leia, has anyone been causing trouble for your young master in the capital?"

Leia blinked. "Madam, I just got back this morning and I'm not sure what's going on in the capital. If you want to know, you can ask young master directly."

"But your young master won't tell me the truth..." Selena had gained so many enemies. Even when she had just revealed the identity of Oswaldo as her "fiancé," it seemed like she was deliberately opposing those families with the backing of the Anderson family.

Oswaldo was such a gentleman that he would never come to her to complain even if he had problems.

Leia smiled. "Madam, don't worry. Young master is very capable. Even if those families unite, they can't shake the position of the Anderson family."

In the capital, there were the four big families: the Anderson family, the Riddle family, the Poole family, and the Shaw family. Although they were said to be evenly matched, strictly speaking, the power of the Anderson family was definitely in first place. After all, the Anderson family had accumulated power over two generations. Although the heads of the Poole family and the Riddle family were not easy to deal with in this generation, none of the elders in the previous generation could compare to the big shot in the Anderson family.

In the previous generation, in the whole capital, only the deceased man from the Turner family could be compared to the big shot in the Anderson family.

As for the Shaw family, they were a newly established force that had swallowed up the assets of the Turner family. They were still young and did not have the deep background of the other three families.

The situation was quite complicated, and Selena had never been to the capital, so she didn't know how frightening her husband was in the capital.

As long as Selena was under Osvaldo's protection, those people wouldn't dare to move against her easily. Of course, there was also the crazy Christ who was out of town.

She is Lady Nevaeh's daughter, and may also be related to the Turner family. If this information is leaked out, once those people want to get rid of any loose ends, the Anderson family —

Selena's breath slightly stalled, and a hint of coldness floated around her body, her eyes becoming incredibly cold.

Leia inexplicably shuddered, and heard Selena's emotionless voice from the back seat, "If the Anderson family encounters any major trouble, you must tell me, understand?"

The trouble she caused cannot be carried by Osvaldo.

Leia almost subconsciously replied, "Okay!"

Selena curved her lips into a smile, the beauty of which was both ostentatious and unrestrained. She slowly pushed open the car door and stepped out in high heels.

As soon as she lifted her backpack and stood still, she met a pair of deep and sharp eyes.

Selena's pretty face pulled long.

Christ looked at Selena's cold face and frowned.

This woman just had a bright smile, but as soon as she saw him, her expression turned sour. It's not hard to imagine how much she dislikes him.

He flicked the cigarette butt into the trash can, straightened his cuffs, and walked towards Selena.

Leia stood in front of Selena, staring at the unexpected visitor with a face full of killing intent.

Selena was already a celebrity at Creephia University, and with yesterday's incident, her popularity at both universities was extremely high. Many students were waiting here early in the morning, specifically to see the school belle.

Naturally, they also saw Christ, and were discussing him in whispers.

"Who is this man? So handsome!"

"His legs are so long! That aura he exudes while walking is too seductive. Oh my god, I feel like my love has arrived..."

"He's here to see Lady Selena, right?" A girl screamed, as if she had discovered a new continent. "Is he a love rival?"

“Definitely judging by his looks and aura! I knew it, a beautiful girl like the school belle would definitely be popular!”

Selena heard the gossip around her and her face became even darker. She turned around and walked slowly towards the coffee shop with an air of world-weariness.

Christ’s lips curved into a slight arc as he leisurely followed her.

Selena stopped outside the café, away from the curious eyes and voices of the crowd.

Obviously, she could not sit at the same table with someone who had almost killed her multiple times, let alone invite him for coffee.

Selena stood proudly on the steps, a hint of anger in her eyes.

Leia stood by her side, squinting and keeping a close eye on Christ.

If she had only known to delay her return by one day, then she could have let the young master of her family send Selena to school.

However... fortunately, she came back a day early.

Otherwise, if Osvaldo had seen a man coveting his wife and openly coming to her, who knew what bloody violence might have occurred on the spot.

In order for Selena to continue studying at Creephia University, she had to follow him.

Christ stood below the steps, staring straight at Selena on the steps.

He was tall, and even though Selena was standing taller than him, it was almost like an eye-to-eye effect.

This was the first time that Christ had truly seen Selena face to face.

A man’s gaze shifted from a beautiful girl’s face to her finely crafted body, and finally fell on her knee, which was bandaged, with a hint of strange and blunt emotion in his eyes.

Without makeup, Selena was truly someone who made people feel both pity and moved. No wonder even that man had feelings for her.

Selena waited for a moment, but when she didn’t hear Christ speak, impatience showed on her face. She lifted her chin and spoke out loud —

Chapter 656 I came all this way for you

“What are you here for?”

In Selena’s opinion, Christ came to find her, it must be for Isabel.

After all, Isabel is practically useless now.

Unless Christ secretly sends her abroad, in H Country, Isabel will no longer have a chance to live openly as a person.

Moreover, she heard that the woman had attempted suicide before and has been in the hospital these days, unable to die for the time being.

Christ stood there calmly, his gaze falling on her face. After a moment of silence, he said in a deep voice, "I came to see you."

Leia almost couldn't resist rushing over to beat him up when he said this.

Selena was stunned for a moment, then looked at the man opposite her with a look that said "you're crazy."

Every time she saw this man, nothing good happened.

Killing her on one hand, saving her on the other, Christ was the man that Selena couldn't understand the most.

Of course, she never thought about trying to understand him either.

Christ met Selena's gaze, but there was no explanation in his eyes.

Selena smiled expressionlessly, "If you came to seek revenge for Isabel and the Poole family's reputation, come to me, not my husband."

Christ's face darkened.

He looked at Selena's flawless and beautiful face and caught sight of the cafe's surveillance camera from the corner of his eye. He was startled for a moment and a trace of a strange light flashed in his eyes.

Suddenly, the man took a step forward and without hesitation, reached out to embrace Selena.

Leia pounced on Christ the moment he made his move.

But she was still a bit short of reaching him, and Christ reached out and pressed Selena's shoulder first, pulling her into his arms.

A hint of killing intent flashed in Selena's eyes, and just as she was about to pull out her gun, Christ let her go.

He dodged Selena's killing intent and stepped back to a safe distance, looking at Selena and smiling lightly. "You're wrong," he said.

Selena narrowed her eyes slightly.

Christ's lips curled up into a smile. "I really did come all this way for you," he said.

Selena lost interest in talking to this man.

The forces behind Christ were too powerful, and she couldn't do anything to him in the short term. Judging from the man's appearance, he seemed to have no intention of killing her, so there was no need to waste time.

Selena patted Christ's face, which was full of murderous intent, and comforted her. "Let's go."

The force behind Christ is too strong, and Leia cannot do anything to him in a short period of time. Looking at the man's appearance, it seems that he really has no intention of killing her, so there is no need to waste time.

Selena comfortingly touched girl's angry face and said, "Let's go."

Leia couldn't stand other men getting close to Selena. She gave Christ a fierce glare, and after confirming that Selena was unharmed, she helped her walk away.

Christ stared at the gradually disappearing figure of the girl, his eyes unfathomable. He rubbed his slender fingers and recalled the smooth texture of her skin. Suddenly, he smiled.

Indeed, it's very addictive.

...

In a high-end villa area.

A mobile phone on the table vibrated.

A hand with red nail polish picked up the phone and saw the freshly received photo.

There were several half-empty bottles of alcohol on the table, and Rachel held a cigarette. The red silk robe partially covered and partially exposed her figure, making her look seductive.

She carefully examined the fresh photo.

The photo showed the back of a woman, and her profile was highly recognizable. Anyone who had seen her would be able to identify her identity at a glance.

In front of her was a man, his slender arm around her shoulder. He was slightly bowing his head, his face a bit blurry, but one could vaguely see his chin – handsome and powerful.

From this angle, it looked like the man was holding the girl in his arms, and the two were kissing.

Intimate and ambiguous.

Rachel sneered.

Although she didn't know who this man was, he had still done her a favor.

She had thought Selena was really as innocent as the rumors had suggested. In the end, wasn't she just a shameless slut?

Rachel took a puff of her cigarette and handed the phone to her agent next to her.

Her agent knew about Rachel's mission in Creephia University this time and was preparing to follow the usual routine of handing the photo over to familiar media. But she heard Rachel say, "Use my account to post it!"

The agent was taken aback at first, and then furrowed her brows. "It's too risky. What if it doesn't work and it backfires on you..."

Rachel sneered, and narrowed her somewhat alluring eyes. "Creephia University's just rich girl. How dare she try to steal my sister's man? I want her to know how easy it is for us sisters to deal with her!"

The agent was still hesitant. Her professional sensitivity told her that this was a very risky thing to do.

After all, they had investigated information about Selena before they came here.

That woman was too eerie!

She had successfully whitewashed herself in the midst of such a huge public opinion vortex, and even won a good reputation.

This kind of method made people very wary.

"But don't forget, Selena has exposed her fiancé before. Even if she is insignificant, her fiancé is not easy to get along with..."

"Are you stupid?" Rachel gave the other person a cold glance. "Do you think her fiancé would still want her after seeing this photo?"

Others may not know, but Rachel knows.

How noble and merciless is this man?

Even her sister doesn't dare to say much in front of him.

Once he finds out that this woman has "betrayed" him, he will definitely not spare her.

This photo is a genuine article, it cannot be fabricated, and there is no need to fear the man's investigation.

Therefore, Rachel is not worried at all.

She used her own account to post this, partly because of her influence and status as an international actress, and partly because she wants that man to owe her a favor.

If Diana really manages to catch this man's eye...

Rachel's palms heat up and she can't contain her excitement. Finally, she waves her hand and says, "Post it using my account!"

The agent can't argue with her, so he opens his computer and uses Rachel's Weibo account to post the photo.

The caption is "Just a passerby who can't stand it!"

Rachel's straightforward and high-end style is well-known. Everyone knows that this international actress is quick-witted and likes to defend the underdog. So posting like this won't raise any suspicion.

...

At this moment, almost all the trending topics on Weibo revolve around Creephia University, Capital University, and Selena.

Creephia University's Weibo has been quiet since the day she posted a few boxes of diamonds.

The only update is a long list of winners posted by a few diehard fans in the comments section.

No one expected that just as the hype around the diamonds had died down, Selena would do something big at Creephia University.

Fans have been waiting day and night for Selena to post another Weibo and break another Weibo trending record.

What was that saying again?

You get used to breaking records after a while.

After not seeing Selena for a few days, her fans are missing her terribly.

As they all complain and vent their frustrations, someone leaves a comment...

Chapter 657 Evidence of Infidelity?

"Go take a look! Selena is trending on Weibo again!"

Like poking a hornet's nest, a group of girls rushed to Weibo's trending page.

Then they saw the bright red title in the top spot! There was even a "heat" word attached to it, fully expressing the intensity of the post.

"Evidence! Selena is cheating!!

"???"

After the initial shock, they girls were collectively angry.

Their first reaction was that someone was blindly attacking Selena again!

Selena has such a good fiancé, how could she possibly cheat?

A group of people rubbed their hands in anticipation, grinning as they clicked into the post.

Then they were even more shocked to find out that the person accusing Selena of cheating was an international actress.

No wonder the topic was trending so fast!

[Rachel? Leah's leading actress?]"

[The leading actress in Leah's script. She's blatantly exposing Selena's infidelity. Is this the pace they want to set before the show even starts?]"

[I just want to ask, how can they determine that Selena is cheating with just one photo?]"

[Don't be funny! It's just one photo? They were clearly hugging and kissing each other! If that's not cheating, then what is? Do they have to roll in bed together?]"

[I don't believe it! This photo only shows their backs. Have you forgotten what happened with Mrs. Riddle? Someone must have deliberately taken this photo at the right angle!]"

[Haha, angles can cause misunderstandings, but can it change the fact that the man had both hands on Selena's shoulders? A woman with a fiancé, openly embracing a man intimately like this... it's definitely evidence of infidelity!]"

[Stop washing it! Just the fact that an international actress posted this on her own account is enough to prove Selena's guilt!]"

[Oh, how amazing is this international actress? Lady Selena is the champion of the perfume competition and the number one scholar at Creephia University! In terms of status, Lady Selena beats her hands down!]"

[After getting humiliated so many times, how come they still haven't learned their lesson? With a smiley face, I want to ask this international actress: if it turns out that this photo has some inside story, will you dare to apologize to Lady Selena?]"

These two sentences immediately angered Rachel's fans.

"A bunch of lunatics! Have they all been brainwashed by Selena? The evidence is right in front of them, yet they refuse to admit that Selena cheated!"

"What a joke! Who does Selena think she is? Her innocent image is ruined, and she still expects our Rachel to apologize to her?"

For a moment, both sides were arguing.

...

Olympus Group.

After hearing the manager of the public relations department, Luke was momentarily stunned.

Their little darling from Olympus Group was caught cheating by Rachel! They asked him if he wanted to fight back!

Selena cheated...

Luke's brow twitched as he had a feeling that something was not quite right.

He took out his phone and, upon seeing the man in the photo, he was immediately hit with a sense of déjà vu, as if a nightmare had come true.

"Damn it!"

He knew this man was definitely not someone who could be easily controlled!

He picked up his phone, intending to call Selena and tell her to be good to Osvaldo or else her husband wouldn't be able to control himself and might end up killing someone.

However, the moment he picked up the phone, Luke thought of something and stopped his action.

He stared at the photo for a few seconds, then smiled and put his phone back.

The manager of the public relations department saw Luke's radiant smile and trembled, "Mr. Jordan, should we remove the trending Weibo topic for our little darling?"

Luke's eyes twinkled and he smiled, "Why remove the trending Weibo topic? We should leave the evidence of the cheating for the parties involved to appreciate..."

The manager, "???"

Luke lazily leaned back in his chair, hugging his arms, and his smile became even brighter, "Let me tell you all, when someone cheats, it's not right. And when they're caught, they should know how to properly console their fiance..."

The manager walked out of the office with a smile on his face but confusion in his heart.

Does the boss not plan to protect that little darling anymore?

Is he planning to step on her while she's down?

Just as the manager had left, Luke's phone on the desk rang.

He looked at the number and his lip twitched.

He pressed the answer button.

Lady Lauren's voice came through the phone, sounding beautiful and somewhat excited, "I seem to have seen my son being cuckolded..."

It's not easy being your son, Luke said in his heart.

Lady Lauren chuckled, "Let him go, now he has been cuckolded... do you think, given my son's personality, that girl won't really be abused this time?"

Luke, "... let's not expect that..."

Selena scratched a bit of skin, and he had an expression like his heart had been cut out. With such a man, was it possible for him to abuse his wife?

It was unlikely even in the next life.

Lady Lauren felt the familiar heartache again and said with a grievance, "...so worthless! Serves him right to be cheated on!"

Luke, "..."

After a while, Lady Lauren seemed to have finally suppressed the wave of heartache, and her voice regained its elegance and beauty. "I called to tell you, don't worry about this matter for now. I'll ask my daughter-in-law how to help my son remove this 'cuckold' thing..."

After saying that, she hung up the phone.

On this point, Luke agreed with Lady Lauren.

Selena had treated Osvaldo unfairly.

They had been married for so long, and she still made her husband sleep in the study. Not only that, she had no defenses against men who coveted her.

And the girl also needed to learn a lesson.

...

Creephia University.

Zachary left for abroad, leaving Selena, a sophomore, as the only student in the lab.

But Summer's reputation was damaged yesterday when she openly accused Creephia University of cheating, and people in the lab didn't pay much attention to her anymore. Instead, they became very friendly toward Selena.

Summer was in the wrong and didn't dare say anything to Selena.

Selena didn't care much about all this.

She was single-mindedly focused on her experiments, wanting to finish learning and participate in the competition to win an award, get her graduation certificate and degree certificate early, and then go home.

Another class ended.

Selena put down the surgical knife.

Mr. Newman looked at her experimental data, and a rare smile appeared on his serious face. "Well done."

Although Selena came late, she had a rich theoretical knowledge and her practical skills were terrifyingly good, and she had made progress at lightning speed.

In such a short time, several graduate students could barely keep up with her.

Selena exhaled slightly, packed her things, went to the changing room to change her clothes, and then carried her backpack downstairs.

Chapter 658 Heartache for him

As soon as she stepped out of the elevator, Selena's phone in her bag started ringing. It was her exclusive ringtone. Selena took out her phone and answered it, a sweet smile unconsciously appearing on her face. "I just got downstairs..."

As she spoke, Selena noticed that the man opposite her seemed off, furrowing her brows. "What's wrong?"

The man opposite her didn't say anything, but she could feel his suppressed breath, a kind of creepy feeling. Selena felt uneasy for no reason. "What's wrong? Did something happen?"

Oswaldo finally spoke, his voice still gentle but with a hint of extreme danger. "Did anything special happen at school today?"

Something special? Selena widened her eyes slightly. Does that mean it's not him who's in trouble, but her?

"I'm fine," she thought carefully and said, "and nothing special happened..."

Oswaldo laughed, but his laughter made Selena shudder. The man's voice was hoarse and dark, as if he wanted to swallow her whole. "Get home early."

After saying that, he gently hung up the phone. Selena stared at the phone screen that had been hung up, her eyebrows tightening even more.

Oswaldo always hung up after she did. It was the first time he hung up on her today. Selena felt that the man was acting strange, but couldn't figure out what was different...

Before she could come up with a reason, several girls ran over. "Lady Selena, let us help you out."

Selena smiled at the girls. "Thank you, but my driver is here. She'll help me."

Several girls blushed and became awkward. They looked up and saw Leia running towards Selena.

Since Selena didn't need any help, everyone said goodbye to her and turned away. As they walked away, Selena could still hear the girls chattering.

"Ah! The school belle is so pretty! Her smile makes my heart skip a beat..."

"I'm a woman and I can't help but want to hug her and hide her away. Not to mention those boys. The most important thing is that Lady Selena is not only beautiful, but also talented and wealthy. It's not surprising that men covet her..."

"But the problem is that Lady Selena already has a fiancé... That man..."

The words behind were accompanied by the sound of footsteps receding into the distance, and they could no longer be heard clearly.

Selena slowly withdrew her gaze, raised her head, and looked at Leia who had run up to her.

Leia met her sharp gaze, shrunk her head, and remembered the order from her boss. She whispered, "Madam, let's go back and have dinner."

Selena remained silent for a moment, then slowly walked towards the school gate.

Leia followed her, behind, seemingly calm but actually devastated.

That bastard surnamed Poole!!

As a qualified bodyguard, she didn't even notice that the man had evil intentions in the morning.

Most importantly—

Under her nose, she let her Madam be forcibly hugged by another man, and even gave her boss such a big cuckold hat... Oswaldo must be disappointed in her.

Leia accompanied Selena to the car and blinked her big eyes, “Madam, get in the car. The butler said the chef made a lot of delicious food for lunch.”

Selena stood in front of the car door, feeling the strange gazes around her. Although there wasn’t much malice in them, it was still obvious.

She raised her hand, slender fingers pressed her forehead, took out her phone, and threw her bag on the back seat.

Leia was about to be furious when she saw her take out her phone.

But the matter had escalated to this point, and Selena knew it was only a matter of time before she had to come out and explain it herself. There was no point in hiding it.

Leia looked at Selena with pleading eyes, thinking about how to comfort her later.

Selena opened Weibo and easily found her name on the hot search list. The four words “caught cheating” were especially clear to her.

Selena raised an eyebrow. How did she not know she was cheating? And it was even caught...

She calmly clicked on the headline, but the next second, her composure disappeared.

She stared at the photo of her being tightly hugged by a man, looking extremely intimate, and her beautiful face was covered in dark clouds.

Suddenly, she understood why Osvaldo had been acting strange...

She had unknowingly given that man such a big cuckold hat!

Selena’s face turned black, she found her own Weibo account, and was about to defend herself when she saw that Lady Lauren had tagged her in a post.

Lady Lauren first sent a small emoji of a crying person biting a handkerchief, then asked, “Isn’t my son’s face handsome? You’re going to kick him to the curb and find someone else so quickly... you’re such a scum woman!”

Selena replied to Lady Lauren, “No, Madam, he is so handsome, I am absolutely loyal to him!”

Lady Lauren responded, “Nonsense, you are obviously ready to cheat on him and run away at any time!”

Selena, “...”

“This breakup is too heart-wrenching!”

While Selena was thinking about how to appease Lady Lauren, a shiny account appeared, “Miss, you are a woman with a fiancé, how can you cheat on him?”

Selena looked at the account with the name of the CEO of Olympus Group on it, her forehead twitching.

Then someone else said, “Lady Selena, we want to believe that you didn’t cheat, but regardless, this photo is real, and you and that man are almost kissing. Be more careful in the future, keep a distance from a man!”

Selena held her phone, her expression crumbling, and finally turned completely black.

She casually threw her phone onto the back seat, licked her lips, and her smile had a bad taste, "Where is that guy surnamed Poole now?"

Leia was so scared by her voice that she shook all over and instinctively replied loudly, "Jincheng Manor!"

Selena licked her lips, smiled at a male student standing on the side of the road, and said, "Can I borrow your motorbike?"

The male student saw the school belle talking to him and immediately said with a smile, "It is the honor of my motorbike to be used by the school belle!"

Chapter 659 Striking Down the Love Rival!

As she spoke, she got off her newly purchased car and kindly handed her helmet, which had never been worn, to Selena.

Selena put on the helmet with ease and deftly hopped onto the motorcycle with her uninjured leg.

She smiled at the boy, "Thanks, I'll return it to you tomorrow."

Then she lowered her visor, twisted the throttle, and the fully-charged motorcycle roared out of sight in an instant, leaving behind a group of stunned onlookers.

Selena, who often wore skirts at Olnrith University, looked elegant and enchanting. Although it was not very noticeable on normal days, her advantage in legs was completely exposed when she rode on the motorcycle.

How did that saying go again?

Everything below her waist was legs!

Her legs were so tender that they were attractive!

Everyone watched as the campus belle, with her long hair fluttering, rode out on the motorcycle, but no one reacted at first.

After coming to their senses, the girls covered their faces and screamed, "The campus belle is so stunning!"

The boys only had one thought in their heads.

The campus belle's legs are definitely enough to keep a boyfriend entertained for a year without repeating!

Leia stood motionless, her face in a daze.

Would Selena get so angry that she would go and crash into Christ?

With the vengeful nature of hers, she might actually do it!

Leia shuddered and immediately called Osvaldo on her phone.

After hanging up, she looked in the direction Selena had left in and felt that something was not quite right.

After a moment, Leia realized-

Selena was wearing a skirt!!!

Although Selena had a habit of wearing shorts, she seemed to have deliberately kept the hem of her skirt down, which still had the potential to expose her legs.

The young master would definitely kill her!!!

...

Jincheng Hotel.

Christ had just walked out of the door when he saw a stylish motorcycle heading towards him.

The bodyguard behind him stiffened and immediately pulled out his gun to protect him.

Christ's gaze shifted and he recognized Selena's skirt. His eyes brightened slightly, but his tone became stern, "Arms down!"

As the two bodyguards hesitated, the motorcycle was already charging straight towards Christ.

Christ stood calmly in place, arms crossed, and even smiled kindly.

Watching as blood was about to splatter, the motorcycle abruptly came to a stop, and even the front of the vehicle was lifted high in the air.

The two bodyguards were so frightened by the scene that their hearts almost stopped.

This was definitely the closest the "killer" had ever been to the head of the Poole family!

Just more, and Christ would have been dead for sure!

The two bodyguards stared at the enemy in front of them like they were facing a major threat.

Under the unfriendly gaze of the crowd, the girl on the motorcycle took off her helmet and shook out her beautiful long hair, revealing a stunningly beautiful face.

Selena squinted her eyes slightly and stared at Christ with a murderous look. "Mr. Poole, you want to die, don't you?"

Christ's gaze fell on the particularly eye-catching legs, and his eyes deepened as he smiled. "If you were to join me, it wouldn't be a bad idea."

Selena was speechless.

This man was crazy!

She looked resolute, and her tone was quite calm. "The person who took the picture, is he your man or Rachel's man?"

Christ smiled slyly. "Diana has always been deeply in love with Osvaldo. The police chief is standing behind her, and he is the object that the Anderson family has always wanted to marry into."

After pausing for a moment, he seemed to remember something and continued, "There are countless women who like Osvaldo, including the young lady from the Shaw family. Freddie Shaw grew up with Osvaldo as good friends, and the Turner family has a feud with the Shaw family. Can you bear to watch Osvaldo turn against his friend because of you?"

Selena's face darkened slightly.

She had met the siblings from the Shaw family.

So she knew what Christ said was true.

The Shaw family and the Turner family had a deep and bitter enmity.

And the fact that Osvaldo invited the Shaw siblings to his birthday banquet already demonstrated that there was a special bond between them.

Selena smiled coldly. "My husband and my affairs are not something outsiders need to worry about... And besides, just because the Turner family has a feud with the Shaw family, does that mean everything will be okay between you and the Poole family?"

Christ's eyes darkened.

Twenty years ago, all the major families in the capital had tasted the blood of the Turner family, and no one was innocent.

Except for the Anderson family.

Plus, this time, the Poole family did indeed have malicious intentions toward the medical school, and Selena caught them in the act. This was an undeniable fact.

"I can compensate you," Christ looked Selena in the eyes, and anyone could tell he was serious. "Whatever Osvaldo can give you, I can give too. And even if you want to help the Turner family get revenge, I can help you."

Selena was stunned for a moment, and she didn't understand why this man would say such things to her.

She thought about it and remembered what Luke had said, that Christ and Osvaldo were mortal enemies, fighting over everything since they were young.

So this is a man's... competitive heart at work?

Selena smiled without expression, with a charming appearance. She seemed to seriously examine Christ, then shook her head seriously. "You, no way!"

Christ's eyes darkened.

Firstly," Selena raised a finger, "You're not as good-looking as him."

When the bodyguards heard this sentence, they all raised their heads in confusion. They looked at Christ's very handsome face, and then recalled the face of the Anderson family's young master that made women go crazy every time... well, this was the truth.

But... is it really worth showing off that a man is good-looking?

For a woman who like handsome man, this is really a big weapon!

"Secondly," Selena smiled lightly, dedicated to helping her husband strike against their enemy, "He won't harm me. You and Isabel combined would be enough to kill me many times over."

Christ pursed his lips and had nothing to say.

The scene fell silent.

This point, indeed, could not be argued.

Thirdly," Selena smiled slightly, "Whether Osvaldo will choose to wrong me between the Shaw family and me is hard to say, but among all your choices, Isabel is definitely the first... Do I look like someone who would let myself be wronged?"

Christ's eyes moved, and he was about to say something, but Selena cut off his words first.

She sat on the motorcycle, raised her chin, stared at Christ, and her eyes became cold. "I came here to tell you, Christ, you are a member of the Poole family. In the short term, I really can't do anything to you, but if you provoke me again, I don't mind sending Isabel on her last journey!"

Christ's eyes darkened.

Isabel had always been the biggest source of conflict between him and Selena.

He could send Isabel away, but he absolutely could not let Selena really kill Isabel.

Chapter 660 Selena is a scumbag!

Without waiting for Christ to speak, Selena coldly snorted, put her helmet back on, twisted the throttle, and rode away on her motorcycle.

Christ stood still with a heavy breath, staring at Selena's departing figure with a fixed gaze.

The bodyguard behind him had an expressionless face, but was trembling with fear as he watched Christ.

This man had been a prodigy since childhood, and was extremely proud. He had never lost except to Osvaldo! Today, he had his face publicly humiliated by the woman he had his eyes on, especially in comparison to his archenemy. It's easy to imagine how angry he was.

But unfortunately, he couldn't refute her. From Selena's standpoint, it was indeed true. As long as Isabel existed, Selena was destined to have no feelings for Christ.

Christ looked in the direction Selena had left and showed a sinister, bloodthirsty smile. "So, Osvaldo is that good..." He wondered if Selena could still say that she liked him so confidently if she saw Osvaldo's cruel and vicious nature exposed before her.

When that time comes, he hoped she wouldn't be scared to tears!

...

Selena rode her motorcycle back to the castle and saw a familiar figure standing at the gate. He wore all black, had an expressionless face, and was so handsome.

Upon hearing the sound, he lifted his thin eyelids and looked over, his eyes unreadable. But it was obvious that he was here waiting for her.

As soon as Selena saw Osvaldo, she couldn't help but feel nervous. After all, she had worn such a huge green hat for this man, and everyone knew it. If it were any other man, she might have been afraid of getting killed.

As soon as Selena stopped her motorcycle, Osvaldo reached out and accurately lifted her off the bike. His gaze first glanced over her skirt, and his face tightened. Then, his eyes slid over her legs, and his fierce gaze almost couldn't be concealed.

He lifted her helmet off her head, casually tossed it aside, and then turned around with Selena in his arms, heading back to the hall.

Selena looked at his face, widened her eyes, and wanted to say something, but didn't know where to start.

After all, Osvaldo had just called her and asked if anything special had happened today. She said no, but with the facts already exposed, there was suspicion of a second deception.

But in fact, she didn't think Christ was that special...

After all, it was normal for that man to cause trouble for her. If he didn't, she would have thought it was strange.

She just didn't expect that Christ would lower himself like this and use such despicable means to frame her.

Selena thought about it and pulled Osvaldo's sleeve and whispered, "It's not what you think. I didn't do anything wrong to you..."

She thought that Leia was there at the time, so Osvaldo should believe her.

Osvaldo's gaze fell on her face, looking at girls wide, dark, and beautiful eyes.

Selena has been well taken care of lately. Her previously pale complexion has gradually become ruddy and pale. At this moment, her expression with wide eyes is like a small animal that has done something wrong and is guilty.

Osvaldo looked at her for a few seconds but didn't speak. He hugged her and walked into the hall, putting Selena in front of the dining table.

Then he sat down across from her.

Selena was about to speak, but the maid brought a bowl of soup and said, "Madam, this is made by the chef for you. It's perfect to drink now."

Selena's words were blocked.

She looked at Osvaldo's dignified expression and decided to wait for him to calm down a bit before explaining.

Selena washed her hands and then sat at the dining table, starting to drink the soup.

Across from her, Osvaldo looked at Selena calmly, with a hint of mysterious light in his eyes.

On one hand, the couple in the castle ate quietly, while on the other hand, the internet was in chaos.

The cause was still the few words that Selena said.

Some people still had doubts about Selena's infidelity, but Lady Lauren and Luke chimed in, causing things to start developing in a strange and disastrous direction.

And the most puzzling thing was Selena's attitude.

She went on Weibo, but only told her mother-in-law that she was absolutely faithful to her husband, and then disappeared.

Is this something a person can do?

Fans waited second after second, but didn't see her come out with a follow-up, making them cry and howl in frustration.

Rachel's fans and even some casual fans became more emboldened after seeing Lady Lauren and Luke openly "accusing" Selena of cheating.

Initially, there were some reservations due to the impression left by the Weibo incident, where the anti-fans suffered consequences. But the anti-fans just keep coming back.

Moreover, this time an international film queen is leading the charge.

So some people began to stir up the heat of the matter without hesitation.

...

In the villa.

Rachel also saw the style of Selena's Weibo post.

The woman holding the cigarette coldly laughed when she heard Lady Lauren accusing Selena of cheating, "Selena is finished..."

Her agent looked at the scene, feeling that something was not quite right.

"It's too easy, I just have a feeling of uneasiness," the agent advised Rachel, "Don't let your guard down."

“Do you know who Lady Lauren is?” Rachel sneered, “She’s the mother of that young master, the lady of the number one wealthy family in the capital. Even she says Selena cheated, can Selena still escape?”

Looking at Luke’s account, the agent hesitated and said, “Olympus Group used to promote Selena so much, but now Luke accuses her of cheating, don’t you think there’s something strange about this?”

“What’s so strange about it?” Rachel laughed, “Olympus Group promoted Selena because that young master valued her. Luke is his friend, so of course he will support Selena. But now she’s cheated on that young master, as his friend, Luke is naturally very angry and wants to take her down.”

Hearing Rachel’s words, although the logic was clear, the agent found it all too easy, which made it seem suspicious.

Rachel had Diana as her backing and was used to being unchallenged in the entertainment industry. Those who had offended her background before were easily dealt with, so she had developed a proud and complacent character.

The agent knew she wouldn’t listen to advice, so he asked directly, “What do you plan to do next?”

Thinking that Rachel had Diana as her backing and even if there was trouble, Diana could protect her, there was really no need to be afraid.