

Love Rats 991

Chapter 991 Awkward

“Did they intentionally put her on Kevin’s team? Isn’t this just messing with them?”

“I’ve taken a screenshot as evidence. If it’s proven that my goddess didn’t do anything like this, then Miss Turner is guilty of slander with irrefutable evidence!”

In order to protect their reputation, the Research Institute kept a tight lid on what happened in the research department, and no one knew that Selena was an excellent mechanic.

On the other hand, because of Lydia’s low-key approach and the Shaw family’s massive publicity, Diana, who had caused a stir in the entire mechanical field with the “Sacred Pearl” not long ago, became the most famous mechanic in H Country at a young age.

Especially for the military academy students who treated weapons as their lives, most of them were her fans, which was an extreme honor.

In the face of her absolute talent, Selena, who only had beauty, naturally appeared to be useless.

Selena’s sudden comments naturally aroused public anger.

At the same time, inside the research institute, after Selena’s words were spoken, there were countless coughs on the scene.

Freddie’s face was so black that it couldn’t be any blacker!

With Selena’s words, every move Diana made next would inevitably be scrutinized by everyone.

At this point, they could only hope that Diana would not make any obvious moves!

Otherwise, once caught in a compromising situation, even if she jumped into the river, she wouldn’t be able to wash herself clean!

Patrick’s assistant next to him coughed and said, “Young Master, I found that Miss Diana is really... too straightforward!” The assistant thought for a long time and used a more euphemistic term.

“Selena is just too obedient and doesn’t know how to lie,” Patrick’s lips curved with a hint of a smile.

The assistant, “...”

Your heart is biased beyond measure!

Diana, who didn’t know that she was already in a difficult situation, was now smiling arrogantly and said, “Although we have the map in hand, I don’t think it’s necessary to waste time with them! So my proposal is to strike fast and end the battle quickly!”

“We’ll take the initiative and directly kill their mechanic. As long as she’s out, we can win this match without a fight!”

Live broadcast room.

“... Just after listening to Lady Selena’s words, I suddenly feel a bit chilly listening to Diana now...”

“It must be a coincidence! My goddess just came up with this plan to win the game. How could she have any intention of harming anyone? The guns are just filled with blanks, and they have low lethality, right?”

[Although that’s what you’re saying, don’t you think Diana is being too reckless? Kevin’s commanding skills at Union University have consistently ranked first, and Yasmin can be considered the strongest individual soldier in their team. Apart from Felix, their team doesn’t have any advantage against Kevin’s team, and yet they started by assassinating the opponent’s mechanic... Can I say that this goddess is a bit brainless?]

[As a commander, hearing this paper talk makes me feel embarrassed...]

[You can’t say that. My goddess is a mechanic, not a commander, so naturally she can’t consider everything!]

Thomas looked at Diana and furrowed his brow slightly. “Miss Barrett, Kevin isn’t as easy to deal with as you imagine. With the map in our hands and occupying an absolute advantage, the best course of action is to move quickly and shake off the opponent!”

Diana clearly wasn’t someone who could accept others’ objections. Hearing Thomas’s words, her expression turned sour, but she remembered that they were broadcasting live and there were many people watching, so she suppressed her anger.

Diana played with her hair and pulled at the corner of her lips. “Why not give it a try? As you said, pulling away is the best option, and the other side must be thinking the same thing. Isn’t this an unexpected opportunity?”

“If the situation is not right, it’s just sacrificing a small part of the team, but if we succeed, it’s an easy victory, isn’t it?”

Diana did care about winning or losing the game, but compared to that, she wanted Selena to die here!

Three months were coming up soon, and both the Shaw family and the research institute were waiting for her to reopen the “Sacred Pearl”. But she hadn’t made any progress in her research on the “Sacred Pearl”.

This was a very dangerous signal!

If Selena was alive, once she started to open the Sacred Pearl, Diana would be done for!

If Selena died, even if she couldn’t temporarily open the Sacred Pearl, there would still be a chance to find an excuse to absolve herself.

So, before that happened, Selena had to die!

Thomas didn’t want to agree. He thought it was too risky.

But Diana was obviously a very strong-willed person and didn't allow anyone to say no to her. Coupled with her popularity, if they didn't agree, it could lead to an ugly situation.

After some consideration, Thomas turned to a handsome young man next to him and instructed, "Felix, go check the situation. If anything seems off, retreat immediately!"

Felix replied, "No problem!"

Before Felix could leave, Diana suddenly walked over and looked at the young man with a charming smile. "Felix, I have some time now. I can help you check your weapon!"

Felix's eyes lit up, and he immediately handed over his beloved gun to Diana.

Diana opened the long gun, carefully inspected it, adjusted a few switches, and then handed it back to Felix with a mysterious smile. "The opponent is a very cunning woman. Felix, be careful. If necessary, it's best to kill her with one blow!"

Felix shouldered the gun and turned to leave.

Watching Felix's departure, Diana's smile deepened.

In the live broadcast room, the situation was explosive.

"Oh my god! Felix, run! Don't go to your death!!"

"This is really embarrassing... It's like we're rushing to send someone to their death!"

"I feel embarrassed for Diana. If she knew what the other person said, she would be so ashamed of herself..."

"I think Diana's smile is a bit scary. Could it be that Miss Turner was right, and Diana is using Felix to kill Miss Turner?"

"That's impossible! Although my goddess is not very good at strategy, how could she be so ruthless? And, as the saying goes, blank cartridges can't kill people!"

At this moment, on the beach, everyone was looking at Selena.

After a while, Kevin asked, "What if the other side doesn't come? Won't we be wasting a lot of time?"

Selena smiled coldly, "Diana has a reason to kill me. If she can't kill me, she will die. Is it easier to understand now?"

Kevin looked at Selena for a long time, then nodded. "I understand, Miss Turner!"

After speaking, he turned and left.

Chapter 992 Am I Beautiful?

Kevin turned around and looked at the line of more than two hundred people behind him. "We don't need to rush now, just proceed as usual."

Perhaps it was because Selena was a Turner, coupled with her good looks, the commander-in-chief's order was not challenged by others in the line.

The group found a direction and set off.

Not to mention whether they were tired or not, it was sunny today.

Everyone was prepared for the two delicate young ladies, Selena and Hattie, to quit halfway.

But both Selena and Hattie obediently followed the team without showing any abnormalities, looking quite relaxed.

The group was surprised and slightly admiring.

On the other side, Felix followed the direction given by Thomas and finally caught up with the team where Selena was at noon.

Felix hid in the bushes, raised his gun, and looked through the telescope ahead.

He caught up with the team just as they stopped to rest. Some were processing wild game, while others were patrolling back and forth, everything was orderly.

The camera scanned all the familiar students and finally focused on three girls sitting under a tree.

Yasmin leaned against the trunk and wiped her knife, with a tall and a small beauty sitting next to her. Felix didn't hesitate to focus the lens on the slightly larger one.

As he looked at the beautiful girl in white with a lovely smile on her lips in the lens, his eyes lit up. "Damn, how can I do this to such a beautiful girl?"

Although he said he couldn't do it, he didn't hesitate to aim directly at Selena's heart.

If he could see the live broadcast at this moment, he would find that there were voices shouting for him to run quickly.

Unfortunately, this unlucky young man couldn't see it, and he was destined to become a tragedy!

Just as Felix was about to pull the trigger, a bullet suddenly hit him in the chest from the side.

"Beep!" The signal light on his shoulder turned red, indicating that his right hand was disabled and temporarily unable to be used.

Felix, "???"

He reacted quickly, instantly turning the gun around and pulling the trigger with his left hand, shooting four consecutive shots in the direction of the incoming bullet.

Three of them missed, and the last one seemed to hit something.

At the same time, he was also shot in the left chest, hitting a fatal spot and falling into a wounded state with the signal light turning red.

Felix lay on the ground in confusion, seemingly unable to understand how he, the number one marksman, was about to die without even starting.

Suddenly, a beautiful face appeared in his field of vision like an angel. The other party smiled at him and asked softly, "Are you okay?"

Felix's heart fluttered, and his eyes became dreamy.

When his gaze fell on the "angel" who was smirking and looking down at him, his mood instantly became unpleasant. "Is this trap set up specifically for me?" Felix took a deep breath.

The beautiful "angel" winked at him, looking innocent. "Yes!"

Felix widened his eyes. "How did you know... that they would ambush us at this time?"

Selena held her white chin with both hands, like a naive girl with no city walls, and said innocently, "Of course, because we have an insider in your team."

Felix's fists clenched. If he knew which rat betrayed them, he would shoot her into a sieve!

Kevin and Yasmin looked confused. What was going on?

Richard walked over with a gun, grinning and waving at Felix. "First blood taken, first kill successful!"

Felix felt sad and angry, closing his eyes and not looking at the other side's smug expression. "I could have killed you first! If it weren't for..." At the moment of firing, an inexplicable intuition stopped him. The person who would have been severely injured now might have been Selena.

Selena looked at the person next to her in confusion.

Kevin nodded and explained, "It's true. This kid's left-hand gun is a second faster than his right. If he hadn't chosen to counter-attack just now and instead chose to die together with you, the game might have already ended."

This was also the reason why Felix was most feared by others.

He didn't expect that this ace card hadn't even been used yet and was already played out.

Selena nodded, indicating that she understood. She squatted in front of Felix, smiling innocently, "Since you spared my life, I will be very gentle with you."

Felix opened his eyes and wanted to bite her hand in grievance. "Can you let me go back? After I kill that bastard, I'll come back..."

Selena shook her head, ruthlessly crushing his hope. "No!" She also added, "Just tell me the map, and I'll give you a quick death."

Felix lay down in despair, saying, "Do whatever you want with me, kill or torture me, I don't care!"

Richard was eager to try and stepped forward, saying, "You rest, we'll take care of the interrogation!"

Selena turned around firmly and said, "No! He let me go, and I promised to be gentle with him."

The others were stunned.

Even Felix stared at Selena in disbelief.

Did this beautiful young woman really have feelings for him?

Just as Felix was lost in thought, Selena suddenly stepped forward and slapped him in the face. She smiled and asked, "Am I pretty?"

Felix struggled to swallow his saliva as he stared at her beautiful face. "Your beauty won't work on me!"

Selena's smile became sweeter and brighter. "I just wanted to ask you if I'm pretty or not..."

At the age of seventeen or eighteen, Felix couldn't help but be moved by the "confession" of such a stunningly beautiful woman.

Moreover, it was impossible to deny that she was good-looking with a clear conscience in front of her.

With his heart fluttering, Felix blushed and stuttered, "You're pretty."

He then looked at the girl in front of him, her smile becoming more alluring, and even her dark, clear eyes seemed to become unfathomable in an instant.

He saw her raise her delicate red lips and asked in a gentle and irresistible voice, "Will you tell me the location of the map?"

When Felix came to his senses again, Kevin was putting away a freshly drawn map and looked at him sympathetically before turning and leaving.

Felix was confused. What had happened?

Before he could ask, Richard raised his gun and shot him in the heart. The signal light went out, indicating the character's death.

Chapter 993 Scum Woman

Richard left with a gun, leaving only a sentence, "Rest in peace!"

Felix stared at the map and suddenly realized that the other party had used some special means to lure him into saying everything!

The young man's eyes instantly turned red with sadness and indignation. He was about to speak out when Yasmin threw a handkerchief in his face and said, "Please do your duty as a corpse!"

After speaking, she also left, leaving him with a petite and cool back.

And the culprit who deceived his feelings had long since disappeared.

Felix stared at the ground in silence.

In the live broadcast room, the black question mark face was still prevalent.

"After teasing him, she ran away. She's too scummy! My male god's teenage heart is so pitiful!!"

"Don't they just use and then discard them? Felix's heart is shattered, and it's impossible to put it back together!"

"What was that just now? Hypnosis? Felix actually said everything?"

“Oh my god! Everyone was fooled. Selena is a master at this!”

“I feel sorry for Kevin. Losing their ace shooter, they will be crushed by Richard if the two sides face off next!”

“Can I blame Diana for this? Obviously not cut out for command, but she insists on taking over, causing such a huge loss!”

“You can’t say that. My goddess is also for the team. It’s just that she lost Felix, but there will be more opportunities in the future!”

“The person above, did you forget about that map? Kevin might still deceive Thomas and the others...”

In the research institute, the people watching the scene had different expressions.

Freddie’s eyes were filled with annoyance as he glanced coldly at Patrick. “I advise Mr. Turner to do a paternity test with Lady Selena. She knows too much, and who knows where she came from...”

So far, everything Selena had exposed was not something a neglected, unfavored daughter of a noble family in Creephia could possess.

Patrick’s eyes were filled with coldness, and he replied icily, “What Selena knows is what the Turner family already possesses. Is there a problem?”

Freddie choked, and his face looked even worse.

Indeed.

Nevaeh was a perfumer, so Selena knew how to make perfume.

Callum is a doctor, and Selena joined the Capital laboratory.

The Turner family are the owners of the research institute, so Selena became a mechanic.

The Turner family were originally the first military and political aristocracy of Capital, so what’s so surprising about Selena’s military style?

One can only say that Miss Turner is truly talented!

After obtaining the map smoothly, Selena and her team did not stay long and immediately formulated the next plan, and set off quickly.

After everyone left, the area became completely quiet. Felix, who was lying on the ground waiting to be taken back by the staff, heard footsteps approaching and opened his eyes.

When he saw the person walking towards him, Felix hesitated for a moment, then suddenly pounced and hugged the other person’s long legs, saying in a flurry, “Brother! She tricked me! She actually deceived my feelings! The first time I had a crush in my life, I met such a scum woman who deceived my heart and money. How could she be so excessive? How can I find a wife in the future?”

He took a deep breath and said mournfully, “I won’t die in peace!”

Fraser looked down at his brother, his tone light and mocking, "You really have a talent for cherishing your opponent on the battlefield!"

Felix said tearfully, "But there can't be such a beautiful girl on the battlefield..." Fraser said nothing. Is he showing off?

Fraser contemptuously threw his brother away and walked away.

Felix saw the direction he was leaving and quickly got up and followed, "Brother, something's not right!"

Fraser didn't look back and gave him a stinging word, "Speak!"

"The bullets in my gun are not right!" Felix followed behind his brother, frowning, "At the beginning, I vaguely noticed that the weight of the gun had increased. I thought it was because of Miss Barrett's modification for me, so I didn't think much about it. But the sound of the bullets firing is too heavy..."

It was too heavy to be fake!

Fraser had already walked to where he had fired four shots before.

Three of the bullets missed, but one of them clearly hit something.

Since Richard was not injured, it meant that he hit something else.

The brothers split up to search and finally found a dead bird in a pit. It was covered in blood.

Felix clasped his hands together and bowed devoutly. "I'm sorry, I didn't mean it. I'll be sure to have a better life in my next reincarnation!"

Fraser ignored his brother's outburst and bent down to retrieve the bird from the pit. He examined its wounds closely.

Felix leaned in to take a closer look, and his pupils suddenly shrank when he saw the bullet that had been picked up by the tweezers. "This isn't a blank round issued by the school. Blanks don't have this kind of killing power!"

At the same time, he broke out in a cold sweat.

Fortunately, his instincts as a sharpshooter stopped him from taking a shot at Selena. Otherwise, the consequences would have been terrible!

Fraser's eyes flickered with coldness as he put the bullet into a plastic bag and took it away. Turning to Felix, he asked, "Besides that woman with the surname Ou, has anyone else touched your gun?"

"No!" Felix hugged his gun tightly. "I'm going to keep my gun with me for the rest of my life. I wouldn't just hand it over to anyone. If that woman wasn't H Country's top mechanic, I definitely wouldn't have shown it to her!"

Fraser put the bullet in his pocket. "Find the other three bullets and take them out, then tell your teacher about this."

With that, he turned to leave.

Felix finally remembered something else as his brother was leaving. "Brother, what are you doing here?"

Fraser had graduated many years ago. How did he suddenly end up at their competition venue?

His brother's excellence was evident to all, so the school couldn't have let him in to cheat.

Something wasn't right.

Fraser seemed to recall something when he heard this, and he turned to look at Felix with an unusual expression. "Do you know who that little girl who tricked you earlier is?"

Felix was hit hard by the question and hugged his "weak" self in despair. "Brother, did you come here for her? Does that mean I have to call her sister-in-law?"

If that was really the case, it would be too heartbreaking!

Fraser smirked. "She is a Turner."

With that, he left.

Felix was left standing there, staring blankly at his gun. His brother's appearance here and the surname Turner...

He shuddered and put on a mournful expression, feeling like his death was imminent.

Chapter 994 The Wolves Are Coming!

In the evening, the team stopped by a small stream. Selena sat on a rock, dipping her handkerchief into the water, wetting and wringing it out to wipe Hattie's face. The little girl had walked all day and even though she had good endurance, she was still tired. But she gritted her teeth and didn't complain.

Yasmin walked over, put the food she had gathered into Hattie's hand, patted her on the head, and then walked away. Hattie washed an apple and handed it to Selena, then took the rest and passed them to the people nearby.

Selena took a bite of the apple and saw the main team huddled together, staring at the freshly drawn map, obviously discussing the next plan. She listened for a while, swallowed the last bite of the apple, washed her hands, and stood up.

She walked over and said in a calm voice, "Dragging out the battle is very painful, both for you and the other side. It's the most boring way to fight. In a real battle, you can lose, but you can't fight without any pleasure. If we continue like this, both sides will be exhausted within three days. Fighting at that point will be no fun, and the end result will certainly not make anyone happy!"

Two sentences instantly drew everyone's attention again. Perhaps it was because of what had happened before that made these young people realize that Selena was not just a decorative vase, or maybe it was because her expression was too natural that no one felt anything wrong with her overstepping her boundaries.

Kevin looked into her eyes and asked, "Miss Turner, what do you mean?"

Selena smiled and said, "The purpose of Union University organizing this practical combat is for you to experience the meaning and passion of war, not to be a foil for the research institute. You are the protagonists, don't get things backward."

"For you, there is no winning or losing in this game in essence. The first one to be eliminated is not necessarily the loser, and the last one to be eliminated is not necessarily the winner."

"The final outcome of this war will definitely be a big melee!"

The atmosphere suddenly quieted for a moment. Kevin's eyes lit up suddenly, and he stared at her, "So... we can attack actively without worrying about the task?"

Selena met the other's gaze without prejudice, her eyes deep. "Why not? Are you willing to give up the passion and dream of being a man just to help the research institute shine?"

"Wait a minute!" Yasmin spoke up for the first time. "There's a girl here too!"

"Sorry, I forgot," Selena nodded in agreement. "The passion and dreams of young people!"

That's definitely not possible!

Richard frowned, "But little sister, you're also from the research institute. If we don't put the task first and end up losing, what will you do?"

Selena waved her hand casually. "It's fine. The old folks at the research institute don't like me and didn't give me a spot. I came to play. Winning or losing means nothing to me."

Everyone was stunned.

[Real life is tough for Selena!]

"This is too unfair, right? Diana won and can enter the sixth district, but this Selena won and got nothing?"

"The research institute is so ugly. They treat Miss Turner from the Turner family like this?"

"Don't be ridiculous. Diana is the best mechanic in H Country. What does Miss Turner have? It's normal for the research institute not to give her special treatment, right?"

Inside the research institute, hearing Selena's words, most of the senior officials' faces turned black.

Isn't this openly damaging the reputation of the research institute?

But unfortunately, what the other said was the truth. They were in the wrong, and there was no way to refute it.

Freddie squinted his eyes and suddenly regretted putting Selena in there.

He had a feeling that unexpected changes might happen in the upcoming match.

Hearing Selena's words, the minds of a group of military academy students suddenly became active.

They had been looking forward to this real combat for a long time. However, just when they were about to enter, the research institute forced two mechanics on them, turning them from charging forward to being bound hand and foot. It was unrealistic to say that they had no resentment.

Now that someone had brought them the opportunity to show off their skills, should they take it or not?

The military academy students looked at each other and saw the desire for battle and determination in each other's eyes.

Finally, Kevin made a decision. "Let's do it!"

Selena looked at the group of energetic young people and smiled slowly, "Since it's decided, let's make a law – ag and take out their commander tonight!"

Everyone remained silent for a moment. Richard coughed, "Little sister-in-law, Thomas is not easy to deal with. Unless all of his troops are wiped out, we won't have a chance to get close to him."

Selena turned to him, "They lost their sniper, but we have you. When chaos breaks out below, take the opportunity to snipe him. Is it difficult?"

Richard was puzzled. The question was, is it really that easy for a well-trained team to descend into chaos?

Selena picked up a stick and drew a map on the beach, "We are here now, and based on the enemy's pace, they are most likely to rest in this area tonight. I have observed the vegetation on the island, there are few trees in the shade and the grass is high. So, we will..."

As Selena explained step by step, the group's expression changed from confusion to astonishment, and finally, they were all eager to move.

After Selena finished speaking, she threw away the stick and clapped her hands, "Do you all understand?"

The group looked at her in shock, as if they had seen a ghost.

Finally, Yasmin walked over, shook Selena's hand and said, "I misjudged you!"

Selena was confused, "What?"

Yasmin continued, "You are even more ruthless than Kevin."

Kevin smiled slightly, "If your heart is not ruthless, how can you lead?"

After everything was settled, the group moved in the dark and finally caught up with the other team at two o'clock in the middle of the night, exactly where Selena had predicted.

The team split into two as planned. Yasmin led forty people to move around the densest area of the branches and circled around to approach the enemy's camp. Meanwhile, Kevin led more than one hundred people in the opposite direction.

In the live broadcast room, most people were initially mocking Selena for being naive and overestimating herself. But after hearing her calmly lay out the plan, everyone was stunned. They watched in shock as the group launched a surprise attack in broad daylight.

“My god, are all beautiful women this vicious these days?”

“I thought she was just a pretty face, but turns out she’s a hidden master?”

“Ah ah ah! Kevin, charge! Get them!!!”

“Thomas, run! The wolves are coming!!!”

Chapter 995 Melee

While the traitor in the live broadcast room was crying and howling like a wolf, Thomas and his team were inside a tent, contemplating Felix’s whereabouts. Felix had left in the morning but still hadn’t returned, so he was most likely in trouble.

Diana held her arms and said discontentedly, “Didn’t you guys say he’s the top shooter at Union University? How could he not take down even a Selena?”

Upon hearing this questioning remark from Diana, the students in the tent turned their heads and looked at her coldly.

Jessica glared at Diana fiercely. “If it weren’t for you giving bad ideas and making Thomas send Felix out, how could Felix be eliminated? If this were on the battlefield, he would have been really dead. Is this how you treat a fallen comrade?”

Diana remained expressionless and glanced at Jessica before turning to stare at Thomas. She calmly said, “Continue to send people out and make sure to kill Selena here.”

Thomas, who had been pondering why Felix had been eliminated, heard this command-like tone and frowned. “Miss Diana, please mind your words and behavior. I am the commander of this team.”

Diana’s lips curled up. “You are indeed the commander, but your responsibility is to protect me. The team’s firepower also relies on me to maintain... which means I have the right to speak above everyone else here. I don’t like anyone defying me, do you understand?”

Jessica was so angry that she was about to rush over and beat Diana up, but Thomas stopped her. “Jessica, calm down!”

Jessica glared at Diana furiously. “You’re just a hypocritical woman pretending to be the top mechanic in H Country!”

Diana’s eyes flashed with anger, and she was about to retort when she heard intense fighting sounds outside the tent, accompanied by the roaring of machinery.

Thomas and Jessica’s expressions suddenly changed.

Thomas made a decisive decision and said to Jessica, “Stay here and protect Miss Barrett!”

Although they all disliked Diana after learning her true identity, they still had to protect her for the sake of the mission.

Diana watched Jessica's irritated expression but couldn't help feeling a hint of satisfaction. However, her expression immediately became serious as she realized that someone was attacking them from outside.

Could it be Selena?

If she could take advantage of the chaos and kill Selena...

With that in mind, Diana immediately stepped outside, but Jessica blocked her and said indignantly, "Are you deaf? Can't you hear someone attacking outside? Why would you go out and cause more trouble?"

"Or do you know that you're unpleasant and are running out to die to save us the trouble?"

Diana was anxious to know Selena's whereabouts. Therefore, even though she wanted to tear Jessica couldn't spare the time to argue with her. She pushed Jessica aside and quickly walked outside.

Jessica sneered, took a step forward, twisted Diana's arm, and quickly subdued her. Then, she said with a strange tone, "Dear Miss Mechanic, I advise you to listen carefully. Otherwise, don't blame me for losing my temper and blowing your dog's head off!"

Diana's face twisted with anger.

Meanwhile, outside the tent, chaos had already broken out.

Three minutes ago, while the patrolling students were attracted by the firepower led by Kevin's large team, Richard and his group rushed into their camp at lightning speed.

Their focus was not on attacking, but on maneuvering.

This terrain provided them with the best convenience and cover.

After Richard rushed closer, he lifted his gun and fired wildly, shouting, "Brothers, charge forward! Mix in with their team! We have more people, we are not afraid! Quickly grab their heads!"

It was now midnight, and there was not even a moon in the sky. Except for the light from a few flashlights, everything was pitch black. Identifying people could only be done by their body shape and silhouette.

After Richard finished shouting, the other team was immediately confused.

What?

The enemy had already entered their team?

There were continuous gunshots, and the signal lights on their comrades kept going out, indicating that the enemy was really in front of them!

In an instant, everyone picked up their guns and shot wildly around them.

In the darkness, familiar people held their heads and carefully avoided the attacks around them, constantly communicating with their comrades and frantically grabbing points.

The scene was chaotic, and it was impossible to distinguish between friend and foe. The two sides were mixed together, in disarray, calling out the names of their teammates, but their actions were not delayed at all as they fired wildly.

A rough, unorganized, and personal free-for-all battle kicked off the scene. At this moment, almost everyone reached an unprecedented level of excitement. Opportunities like this were rare, so they must kill first and ask questions later! Thrilling and exciting sensations penetrated their brains. These young boys, who had never really been to the battlefield before, finally realized that this was the feeling of fighting enemies on the front line! They discovered for the first time that this was the real acting of a battle! Tasks like protecting mechanics were all nonsense! ...

Selena held Hattie's hand and stood halfway up the mountain, watching the chaotic battle below with a smile on her lips. Hattie looked up at Selena's smile and laughed along with her, "Selena, do you really like them?" Selena's smile deepened, "Yes, I love this feeling." It had been too long since she had seen this familiar scene! These fresh and beautiful breaths, this magnificent and selfless group of young boys...

Hattie stared fixedly at Selena's smile for a long time, then looked down at the chaotic scene below. Although it was a chaotic battle, it seemed that everyone was having fun. Even in the darkness, the shouting was full of excitement and anticipation... A warm hand rubbed her head, "Hattie, you will soon know what kind of people they really are." Hattie blinked. She knew what Selena meant. The students at Union University would all defend their country in the future. Many of their lives might end prematurely. She vaguely understood Selena's intention in bringing her here, but also didn't fully understand it.

Hattie's dark eyes looked at the group of passionate military school students below. "If Selena wants Hattie to become like them, then I can too..." Selena chuckled lightly, "Hattie is still a child. Your future is long and far away..." She looked at the scene below and took a deep breath. This was only the beginning. The real show was yet to come! ...

Meanwhile, inside the aircraft, a group of instructors was also watching the live broadcast.

Chapter 996 My Flag Fell

"These little brats are not bad!"

"They are fighting already? I thought they would drag it out till the end..."

"Tsk! The corpse picking work this time will be massive!"

"That Turner family girl, she's ruthless and cunning, she has what it takes to be a commander!"

Felix watched the stunning and exciting battle on the big screen, his knees sliding forward as he grabbed the instructor's thigh and shouted, "Let me go! Let me go! How can there be a battle without me? I can go without a gun, I can fight barehanded-"

The instructor pushed his head away in disgust, "Shame on you as a man!"

He was actually tricked by girl's beauty trap!

Felix cried out and yelled, "I hate it!"

The students in the live broadcast room were also shaken by the atmosphere on the scene, all of them restless and spamming the chat at lightning speed.

A battle!

What military academy student wouldn't be excited about a battle where they dreamt of facing their rivals in a fight to the death?

...

In the midst of the fierce battle, Thomas walked out of his tent and took one look at the chaotic scene, instantly realizing that something was wrong.

He raised his right hand and shouted loudly, "Form up immediately! Each team counts its members and don't fall into the enemy's trap!"

The surrounding area was filled with shouting, and Thomas's words were immediately drowned out.

But the people around him who heard his command immediately repeated it with an even louder voice.

Yasmin ran around in the crowd, holding her gun and shooting accurately. She shouted, "Take out that commander!"

Immediately, those who were still standing on her side held their guns and started to retreat quietly.

On the other side, however, the entire team turned around and ran towards Thomas, intending to protect their commander.

The lone soldiers guarding Thomas thought they were going to attack him, so they immediately started fighting amongst themselves.

Taking advantage of the distraction, Richard quietly raised his gun, aimed at the spot where Thomas was standing, and pulled the trigger.

The bullets were fired in rapid succession, but due to the distance and darkness, he failed to kill Thomas.

Yasmin saw that she had lost the best opportunity and remembered Selena's instructions. She made a hand gesture, and those who were still alive and retreating instantly increased their speed.

Thomas noticed the people appearing at the edge of the area and immediately gave the order, "Attack them!"

As soon as he finished speaking, a dense hail of bullets suddenly rained down on him from behind. The group of people didn't hesitate to turn around and block the incoming fire from the other side. With Kevin's cover, Richard and Yasmin quickly led the remaining dozen or so people to retreat. Kevin also quickly retreated with the others, not continuing to engage in the fight, successfully leaving the chaos to the enemy.

Half an hour later, the two sides met at the agreed location without incident.

“Hahaha, that was so fun and exciting!”

“I took out at least a dozen people!”

“I can’t even imagine the losses the other side suffered...”

As the group excitedly compared how many people they had eliminated, Selena led Hattie out of the woods.

Seeing the delicate beauty once again, the students subconsciously stood up straight and looked as if they were facing the headmaster.

Selena approached them with a smile and asked, “Did you have fun?”

The group replied in unison, “We want to play more!”

Suddenly, Selena’s smile disappeared, and she said in a low voice, “But my flag fell.”

Richard asked, “Little sister-in-law, what flag are you talking about?”

Yasmin looked at him disdainfully and said, “Her flag was meant to eliminate Thomas.”

Richard felt like crying!

The rest of the group fell silent.

Everyone knew that they had missed their chance to take advantage of the element of surprise, and the enemy would be prepared in the future, making it unlikely that they would have such a good opportunity again.

Seeing the nervous expressions on the faces of the group of teenagers, Selena chuckled and said, “Oh well, flags are meant to be captured. Alright, everyone’s tired, let’s find a place to rest.”

As soon as she laughed, everyone’s nerves relaxed.

After traveling all day and experiencing a big battle, they didn’t feel the exhaustion until Selena mentioned it.

They found a suitable place to pitch their tents, with Selena, Hattie, and Yasmin sleeping in the middle tent while the others scattered around. The enemy suffered heavy losses, so it was impossible for them to force their way through. They had to clean up the mess, and except for those taking turns to patrol, everyone else slept soundly.

Late at night, Selena lay in her tent with her eyes closed, while Hattie snuggled up to her and fell asleep.

While Selena was participating in the competition on the deserted island, the villa was filled with sighs and complaints. Leia couldn’t shake off the worry since Selena left with the aircraft.

Ever since the young girl arrived at Selena’s side, she had been following her constantly except for occasional departures. It could be said that she had spent more time with Selena than Osvaldo, her official husband. However, the group of old guys from the research institute believed that Leia's presence might affect the fairness of the competition and prevented her from accompanying Selena, which made Leia furious.

Holding her lucky cat, Leia wandered up and down the stairs all day, worrying. Suddenly, a beautiful voice came from outside the door, "What's happening here? Why is everyone feeling low-spirited?"

As soon as Leia heard the voice, she quickly rushed out and greeted, "Madam."

Lady Lauren walked in with a smile on her face, followed by a group of people carrying various delicate gift boxes. She asked while walking, "Where's my daughter-in-law? I brought her something good. Let her come out quickly..."

Leia whispered, "The young madam is not here. She's gone to participate in the Union University's practical competition."

Lady Lauren blinked her eyes and asked, "The Union University's practical competition?"

After carefully considering what the experimental competition was all about, the beautiful lady widened her beautiful eyes and said, "Did my son take the wrong medicine? He threw such a beautiful wife into the wilderness to keep company with wild beasts?"

Leia, who was already worried, burst into tears when she heard Lady Lauren's words. "The young madam is so picky about her food. She won't be able to eat the things there and will definitely starve herself... Besides, there are only two girls, Selena and Hattie, in there, and that nasty Diana will surely take advantage of them... Why did the young master agree to let the young madam participate in that competition?"

This was something that not only Leia couldn't understand but also Lady Lauren.

Chapter 997 She's Only Mine

No matter how you look at Selena, she doesn't seem like someone who can endure hardships.

Oswaldo dotes on Selena as if she were his heart and soul, so how could he bear to send her away?

Lady Lauren was about to call her son to ask for the reason when she saw Oswaldo walk in from outside.

She rushed up and hugged Oswaldo's slender neck, raising her hand, "Son, did you have another fight with Selena?"

After asking the question, Lady Lauren even reflected on why she used the word "another." Did Selena and Oswaldo have a fight before?

As she was pondering, Oswaldo suddenly grabbed her shoulders and pulled her away from his embrace, his voice lazy, "My hands are only for holding her, you can go hug father."

Lady Lauren looked at the handsome and cold face in front of her and cried out "wow" after a few seconds.

The others in the room, "..."

Lady Lauren took out her phone, ready to complain to Benjamin. Her son was hopeless!

Seeing the angry expression on his mother's face, Osvaldo's tone was tinged with an unusual emotion, "You have many people who cherish and love you."

Lady Lauren was undoubtedly happy.

The taste of being cherished and loved flowed from the corners of her eyes and eyebrows. Except for when she gave birth to Osvaldo, she had hardly suffered any hardships in her life.

When Lady Lauren heard Osvaldo's voice, her action of calling her husband came to an abrupt halt.

Osvaldo's voice was cold but his tone was as gentle as possible, whispering, "But she, she's only mine."

Lady Lauren's heart seemed to have been hit hard by something and trembled for a moment.

She thought of Selena's background... and couldn't make the call anymore.

Lady Lauren looked up at Osvaldo's exquisite face.

Because she had many people who loved and cherished her, and Selena had nothing, Osvaldo stubbornly believed that he was the only one for that girl, and no one could take away even a single bit from her.

Even if she was his mother...

Lady Lauren's eyes suddenly felt sore.

This child was too much like his father!

No, maybe Osvaldo was even more paranoid and crazy...

His care and love for Selena had reached an obsessive level.

Lady Lauren felt a slight headache and put her phone away, "Who said Selena only has you? Isn't her brother also her brother?" Although Patrick is Selena's cousin, he is still her relative. His love and care for Selena are not fake. Selena also cares about Patrick. How come she seems like a lonely person when she's with his son?

Osvaldo seemed to be touched by a sensitive point with that sentence. His deep black eyes instantly became extremely gloomy. He didn't say anything and turned around and left, leaving everyone in confusion. Lady Lauren looked at Osvaldo's back, which exuded a sense of disappointment and loneliness, and keenly noticed that Osvaldo's emotions were off. She thought for a moment and made a phone call to Luke, "Luke, is Selena in trouble?"

The only person who could make Osvaldo so abnormal is Selena. Moreover, Selena has now left Osvaldo and gone to such a high-risk place... But no, if Selena really had something wrong, how could Osvaldo still stay here quietly? He would have gone to find her as soon as possible.

"No, Madam," Luke's voice had a hint of strangeness. "Lady Selena is not in danger now, so don't worry."

"But what about Osvaldo?"

“Something happened, he needs some quiet time. Please try not to disturb him,” Luke said gently.

Lady Lauren frowned, “I can’t even talk to him?”

Luke remained silent.

“Okay, as long as the two children are not in danger, it’s fine,” Lady Lauren sighed.

After hanging up the phone, Lady Lauren stood in the hall, staring at the closed door upstairs for a while, and whispered, “Selena is back, give me a call.”

Then she turned and walked outside.

Selena slept until nine o’clock the next morning. When she put on her coat, tied up her hair, and put on a hat to crawl out of the tent, almost all the surrounding tents had been packed up, leaving only hers.

Selena looked at a group of energetic military school students and sighed softly.

She was indeed too pampered!

Hattie ran over from afar with a water kettle in her arms, “Selena, you’re awake.”

Selena lowered her head and looked at the little girl.

Hattie’s complexion was rosy, indicating that she had slept well last night.

Selena felt relieved and took the water kettle handed over by Hattie, leading her to the river to wash up.

After she finished cleaning up, Yasmin brought two loaves of bread and two steaming hot roasted chicken legs.

Selena held a green fruit and nibbled on it, “Kevin said to find him after you finish eating.”

Selena nodded and suddenly looked at the fruit in her hand, saying, “Give me one.”

Yasmin looked at her strangely, “You’re not used to eating it.”

Selena and Hattie were obviously petite girls who grew up in a sheltered environment. It was already impressive that they had been running with the group for so long without crying. To take care of their physical strength, the best food in the team was given to them.

Selena reached out her hand and casually asked, “Do you know Matilda?”

Yasmin stared at her delicate white hand for a while and took out a green fruit from her pocket and handed it to her, “That’s my sister.”

A faint smile crossed Selena’s lips, “That’s great.”

While holding the fruit, she took a bite.

Yasmin stared at her with wide eyes and saw no strange expression on Selena’s face, but a strange feeling rose in her heart.

Hattie put down the bread in her hand and turned to look at Yasmin, “Can you give me one too, Sister Yasmin?”

Yasmin looked at Selena and then at Hattie, and then took out a small one from her pocket and handed it to Hattie.

Hattie took a bite, and it was sour and astringent.

The little girl was not prepared, and inevitably choked a bit.

Selena raised her hand and gently patted her back, "This fruit is called Qingyu fruit. It doesn't taste good, but it's extremely nutritious."

Yasmin's strange feeling became stronger.

Usually, only the commander would know about this kind of thing.

When they were looking for food outside, unless it was a variety that everyone knew and could eat directly, otherwise, they would usually have to consult Kevin.

It could be said that every commander had a pair of unforgettable eyes.

Chapter 998 I want your command and a genius mind

As for individual soldiers, their combat skills are all earned through using their brains, which is why they often act recklessly and impulsively.

Selena, a spoiled and pampered rich girl, unexpectedly knows about the Qingyu Fruit. Yasmin looks at her curiously.

Hattie, after feeling unwell at first, finished eating the Qingyu Fruit without any change in her expression.

After finishing her meal, Selena washed her hands by the water and went to find Kevin.

Kevin was briefing Richard on something when he saw Selena. He spoke calmly, "Miss Turner, can I speak with you for a moment?"

Selena nodded and the two of them stepped away from the live camera and found a corner.

Kevin gazed at the beautiful girl in front of him and gave a slight smile. "Miss Turner, I suppose your purpose for participating in this practical exercise is not just for fun?"

Selena did not deny it. "So what do you think I came here for?"

"I can guess a little," Kevin looked at her with a serious expression. "There is internal conflict within the Institute, and Union University should not be involved. Military students cannot become tools for someone else's benefit."

Selena's lips curled up in a faint smile. "Do you believe what I say?"

Kevin's tone was indifferent. "Thomas is not that stupid. In a situation where he has an absolute advantage, he would not let Felix come alone to deliver his head unless he had no other choice. And as a sharpshooter, Felix would not have shown mercy to your subordinates simply because of your beauty unless he sensed that something was wrong."

Selena raised an eyebrow. She was indeed a talented commander and more perceptive than the average person.

She sighed. "I do have some responsibility for this matter, but I can assure you that military students will not be harmed, and Union University will not become a scapegoat for anyone."

Kevin laughed. "Miss Turner, you are too modest. I don't blame you for anything. I just want to tell you that we at Union University are petty and protective. If anyone tries to scheme against us, don't blame us for retaliating twice as hard!"

Every military student had spent ten years honing their skills and would eventually have to go to war. Even if they had to die, they would die on the battlefield, wrapped in a horsehide. How could they become sacrifices to the schemes of petty people?

This was Kevin's bottom line!

Selena suddenly found the young man in front of her interesting and smiled. "So, what's your choice?"

Kevin stared into her dark and cold eyes. "Miss Turner, let's work together!"

Selena's gorgeous red lips curled up slightly. "You don't trust Diana, why are you willing to trust me?"

Diana would use and scheme against them, so why wouldn't she?

"Because of your surname," Kevin did not hesitate at all. "I am willing to give Miss Turner my trust and support."

Upon hearing this, even Selena couldn't help but sigh with emotion. The prestige of the Turner family in the capital was truly unmatched. But in the blink of an eye, she remembered that this prestige was accumulated through the countless bones and sweat of the Turner family members, and Selena suddenly lost her sense of sentimentality.

"As you thought, I am also here for profit," Selena looked up at the high and distant sky with a cold tone, "The Turner family needs to regain the sovereignty of the institute, and Diana and the current controller of the institute are stumbling blocks. I need to remove these stumbling blocks one by one."

The affairs of the Turner family were not a secret in the capital. Kevin, as a commander skilled in collecting intelligence, knew more than the average person and was not surprised by Selena's words.

"Miss Turner, forgive me for being blunt, Diana is the designated next head of the research department at the institute. She has the backing of the Shaw family, is Mr. Anderson's savior, and most importantly... she controls the 'Sacred Pearl.' It wouldn't be difficult for her to kill you."

The implication was a reminder for Selena to be careful. Selena frowned. The old men at the institute had kept her information tightly under wraps.

She gave a cold smile, "Don't worry, Diana will never be able to open the 'Sacred Pearl' in her lifetime."

Kevin looked at the cold ridicule in the girl's eyes, and countless thoughts flashed through his mind. "As for Mr. Anderson's savior..." Selena mocked, "There's no need to worry about that."

Kevin squinted his eyes slightly, "Why not?"

The Turner family might not necessarily lose against the Shaw family, but against the Anderson family, they basically had little chance of winning.

Selena's lips curled up into a sweet smile, "Because the prince you mentioned is my boyfriend."

When it comes to choosing between a girlfriend and a savior, is there really any need to choose? Besides, Diana's so-called "savior" is just a knockoff!

Kevin felt like he had just been hit with a bucket of dog food.

After eliminating the two biggest threats, Kevin was completely relieved. "In that case, there shouldn't be a problem. Miss Turner, tell me about your plan."

Selena's gaze returned to his face with a hint of playfulness, "My plan is simple."

Kevin, "Oh?"

"I want your command."

Kevin: "???"

She wants his command authority?

Thinking back to the two ideas Selena proposed last night, an incredible thought flashed through Kevin's mind. He was startled and his eyes widened for the first time. "Miss Turner, you've never been on a battlefield. Why do you want my command authority?"

Union University is the top military academy in H Country. Selena looks like she's not even twenty yet. If she studied command, he couldn't have not heard of her name.

So she couldn't be a student at Union University.

Unless Selena's command skills were learned on the battlefield, Kevin was confident that no one in the command department before the age of twenty was his match.

Selena blinked, "Although I came for my own benefit, what I said before was not a lie. I'm here to have fun too."

"Of course, I took your command authority, and in return, after the game, you can make a request to me."

Kevin: "..."

The more she talks, the less sense it makes.

Looking at the little girl's serious expression, Kevin was angry and wanted to laugh. "Miss Turner, even if no one dies in a training game, it's not just for fun... Why should I believe that you can command better than me?"

Selena laughed, a proud and absolutely confident look emanating from her.

Those dark, cold eyes looked at Kevin, their gaze like that of a king on a pedestal, looking at a newcomer who had just emerged from obscurity. "Believe me, in this world, there is no one more qualified than me to be a commander!"

Kevin's expression suddenly changed.

Ten minutes later, Kevin and Selena returned to the team.

At this point, the team was already ready to go.

Kevin stood in front of the team, looking somewhat inexplicable. "Before we set off again, I have something to announce!"

Chapter 999 Personally Supporting

At the sound of Kevin's words, everyone at the scene turned their gaze towards him.

In this practical training, a total of two hundred people had entered, with twenty casualties in last night's intense battle, leaving one hundred and eighty people remaining at the scene. At this moment, the eyes of these one hundred and eighty people were all fixed on Kevin with unwavering focus, indicating his high prestige as the overall commander.

Seeing this, Selena's lips curved into a faint smile. She liked young people who were obedient. Of course, those who were disobedient, when they ended up in her hands, would eventually become obedient.

Kevin remembered what he had promised Selena earlier and couldn't help but curl his lips. He spoke out loud, "I declare that from this moment on, the command of the team will be officially transferred to Miss Turner. I will serve as the deputy commander and assist her."

The group of military academy students who were waiting for Kevin's orders were stunned when they heard this, and their faces all looked dazed.

What?!

Was the wind too strong that they were having auditory hallucinations?

Meanwhile, the students who had just finished breakfast and were squatting in the live broadcast room were also confused.

[????]

[Is there something wrong with my ears? What did Kevin just say? Transfer the command to that Miss Turner?]

[Fuck! Is Kevin crazy, or am I crazy?]

[Transfer the command to girl who has never been to a military academy? This joke is a bit too big...]

[Who is this Miss Turner? Why is she qualified to be the commander? Besides knowing that she is surnamed Bo and comes from the research institute, does anyone know what she does?]

[Fuck, where did she get the guts to do this? She slandered my goddess and now Kevin is transferring the command to her for no reason. Is she hypnotizing Kevin like Felix did?]

For a while, the live broadcast room was filled with black question marks and suspicions about Selena's questionable methods to influence Kevin.

In the research institute, upon hearing Kevin's decision, everyone present was also stunned. Vivian sneered, "Young Mr. Turner, I think Miss Turner may have a problem with her brain!"

Patrick's gaze turned cold, and he gave Vivian a cold glance. "Selena can be a perfumer, a doctor, a mechanic... why can't she be a commander?"

Vivian laughed uncontrollably, "She's a commander? Maybe she can self-learn about physics and other knowledge, but as for professional command, only Union University offers courses in the entire H Country. She's a country bumpkin who hasn't been to the capital before the age of twenty. Where did she learn about command knowledge, on the battlefield?"

"Young Mr. Turner, you have to have some limits to your favoritism, or you have to use your brain a bit more. Don't be like Miss Turner, who only cares about showing off and making us laugh for no reason?"

At this point, a layer of frost had formed on Patrick's handsome face.

And the others at the scene, after a moment of confusion, also joined in the mockery.

Although Vivian's words were harsh, they were not unfounded.

Unlike the knowledge of a mechanic, books on command were expressly forbidden to be published, and there was no course material to be found online.

Even if there were, it would only be superficial information, and ordinary people would not be able to access the real core content.

Moreover, even if Selena was lucky enough to have read some strategy books like "Thirty-Six Strategies," did she think that was just talk on paper?

You have to know that a truly outstanding commander needs to accumulate experience through countless battles.

Selena could conceal her identity as a mechanic, but she couldn't possibly have really been on the battlefield, right?

Given Selena's age, that was absolutely impossible!

"I used to think that Miss Turner was quite smart, but now it seems... her brain isn't working properly?"

"Young people are inevitably dazzled by worldly praise, thinking that they can excel at everything. They should look in the mirror and see if they are cut out for it!"

Vivian had been suppressed by Selena for too long, and now that she had caught her handle, seeing Patrick remain silent, she continued to push her luck,

“Mr. Turner, Miss Turner doesn’t know her place. If she embarrasses herself, that’s one thing, but don’t let her drag the research institute into it. After all, the research institute is not obligated to take responsibility for her mistakes, nor can it afford to!”

“Please teach your cousin, who grew up outside the family, well. Teach her what she deserves and what she’s not qualified to touch!”

Patrick’s eyes grew cold, and he was about to speak when a cold, low voice spoke up first.

“What did you say was something she’s not qualified to touch?”

Upon hearing this voice, the mocking laughter suddenly stopped.

Vivian’s exaggerated smile froze on her face.

The group mechanically turned their heads to see a man in black standing at the entrance, and his dignified and awe-inspiring presence made people tremble.

And his eyes at this moment were even more chilling.

Vivian froze at the sight of those bottomless ghostly eyes. Freddie frowned and pulled her behind him, asking Osvaldo, “What brings you here?” Although he asked that, almost everyone knew why Osvaldo was here.

Ignoring Freddie’s question, Osvaldo’s dark eyes swept over the people who had just mocked Selena, causing everyone to shudder. In silence, the man walked over and sat down in the nearest position to the large screen. Then, he raised his eerie ghostly eyes, as if piercing through the screen, and fixed them precisely on the smiling girl standing in the screen.

Seeing Osvaldo sit down, a glimmer of light flashed in Freddie’s eyes, and Patrick’s eyes trembled slightly. Compared to others, they knew better what Osvaldo’s behavior at this moment represented.

For some reason, Osvaldo had never directly intervened in all the things that happened to Selena before. But now, he had come here in person. Was he going to openly help Selena? Under his watchful eyes, who would dare to speak ill of Selena openly?

Vivian, hiding behind Freddie, turned green with envy. She increasingly hoped that Selena would be embarrassed, letting this man see that she was ignorant, foolish, and did not know what was good for her.

Meanwhile, on the deserted island, a group of people listened to Kevin’s words.

Although they found them absurd, they couldn’t say anything derogatory, looking at the beautiful girl standing next to Kevin like a fairy.

However, most of them frowned, expressing their disagreement on their faces.

Richard’s expression was somewhat indescribable. “This is not something to be played with... If things go wrong, she will be scolded to death!”

Chapter 1000 The Seizure of Power

It is a major taboo to have multiple commanders in temporary command on the battlefield. Furthermore, Selena does not understand the characteristics of this team and has no prestige. Who would believe her as the commander?

Selena had a lazy smile on her lips. "Don't worry, I will remember to go easy on you and not play you to death!"

Everyone was stunned.

If she wasn't beautiful, they would really want to beat her up!

Kevin couldn't bear to look at her and turned his face away. He felt like he must have been crazy to agree to Selena's unreasonable request.

But the words were already spoken, and it was too late to back out now.

Kevin took a deep breath. "Lady Selena, please take command."

He was really handing over command.

The people on the scene heard this and choked on their breath, staring at Selena with an odd expression.

"Very well!" Selena finally became excited and was no longer lethargic. "Ji, remember what you said. I won't accept any halfway ideas. Let's all witness this together!"

This was awkward.

Seeing that no one spoke, Yasmin stepped forward. "I bear witness. If Kevin dares to go back on his word, I'll go against him. I'll help you beat him up!"

Kevin's face turned dark. "Yasmin, I'm still standing here!"

Her betrayal was too fast!

Yasmin looked at him with disdain. "We have the friendship between women. What do you have with me?"

"Very good!" Selena immediately followed up. "Yasmin, I now appoint you as my deputy. Remember to report the number of people, their specialties, and enemy information to me later!"

"Understood, Supreme Commander!"

[Hahaha! Even through the screen, you can feel Kevin's confusion and heartache!]

[My heart goes out to Kevin and all the male comrades present, who were openly overthrown by two women vying for power!]

"Why is Yasmin joining in the mischief with Miss Turner? They finally gained the upper hand, but now that the command has been passed to a figurehead, are they going to lose everything? I thought Thomas's team had no chance of winning, but seeing this scene, I suddenly feel that the situation has completely reversed. Why did Miss Turner have to be reckless? It's bad enough that she puts herself in danger, but dragging the whole team with her is outrageous!"

Selena looked at a group of young and inexperienced "lamb" with a bewildered expression on their faces and smiled, "The battle has just begun. Show me your fighting spirit and don't put down your weapons until the last moment. Don't lower your heads!"

"Listen to my orders and I will lead you to a victory on the battlefield that you have never experienced before!"

Her tone of confidence infected the group, and their spirits were lifted.

Selena scanned the room with her dark eyes, radiating a sharp brightness.

Everyone felt that she was looking at them and subconsciously stood up straighter.

"Last night's sneak attack resulted in a loss of twenty people on our side, and the enemy's loss was at least fifty people or more. But don't think that with a difference of thirty heads, we can sit back and relax."

"Remember, the battle situation is always changing. Even if there's only one enemy left, it's not a reason to be complacent! And don't think that you did well in last night's battle. Any victory with a sacrifice cannot be called a victory on the real battlefield!"

The group's excited expressions suddenly subsided.

Selena smiled, "Forty people went last night, but only twenty came back safely. Why didn't the other twenty return with them?"

The atmosphere in the room suddenly quieted down.

The group opened their mouths, subconsciously thinking that sacrifice was inevitable in that situation.

But suddenly they realized that, in a real battlefield, it was a matter of life and death, and such a flimsy explanation wouldn't hold up.

Selena sneered and asked, "Why were the other twenty able to come back unscathed?"

Because they were the elite of the team!

Everyone subconsciously uttered this sentence in their minds.

Therefore, the answer to the previous question was completely self-explanatory.

The reason why they didn't come back was ultimately because they were not strong enough themselves!

When Selena saw them turning the corner, she smiled, "So remember, if you don't want to die and want to go to the battlefield to protect your home and country and become a hero, then you must work hard to improve yourself!"

“Before you are the future of H Country, you are first the precious babies of your parents. In the future, you will surely have wives and children. Your life does not belong to you alone, it belongs to everyone who cares for and loves you!”

“Therefore, the first thing I want to teach you is to do everything you can to stay alive!”

“At any time, until the last moment, even if there is still a glimmer of hope, even if it is miserable and desperate, you must fight to stay alive!”

The scene became quiet at some point.

A group of people looked at the woman with deep black eyes and gorgeous temperament on the screen. Their restless mood suddenly calmed down.

Even the students who were watching the live broadcast seemed to have been infected and did not send any barrage comments.

Research Institute.

Oswaldo listened quietly to Selena’s words, and his deep black eyes stared at the little girl on the big screen without moving.

The sinister and evil gaze suddenly turned into substance, piercing through the screen, crawling over her dark eyes and smiling red lips, as if trying to devour her whole life.

If his little girl thought of staying alive like this, then how did she die??

Thinking of the news Luke found yesterday, Oswaldo’s heart seemed to be gripped by some kind of bone-chilling pain, and his face turned pale.

His eerie eyes became dark and cold, and his fingers trembled against his forehead.

Vivian looked at Oswaldo.

Since he sat down, his gaze had been fixed on Selena from beginning to end, ignoring everyone and everything around him, his heart and eyes full of Selena.

What is so good about that woman?

She had liked him for more than ten years, and had been trying hard to get his attention since she was young, but she never got a focused look from him.

She used to think that this man was born with coldness, emotional deficiency, and not interested in women.

If she couldn’t get it, then others couldn’t either.

That way, she could still deceive herself and tell herself that this man was too perfect, too out of reach...
