

Chapter 27 You will never have to see me

Watching Elena's car drive away, Alston's body swayed and almost fell straight down.

Julia was busy catching him and helped him to the car with difficulty.

Elena was a little dizzy by the evening wind. She looked at Joey at her side, and let out a soft sigh.

At this moment, she very much wanted to talk with someone, but James Channing was so unconscious without any signs of waking up, so she could only hold it.

After a month, she finally returned home with Joey. How magical.

This time, she directly carried him to the master bedroom, and went to shower herself.

When she came out, Joey was sitting on the sofa in a daze like a log, as if something had sucked his soul.

Elena looked at him, held back her smile, ran to the refrigerator to get him a bottle of mineral water, and mischievously pushed the cool bottle directly to his face.

Joey jolted hard, then took the water from her hands, silently pressed it on his forehead, and as time grew, his cheeks slowly turned from white to red, from red to scarlet.

Elena felt that this boy was really fun, and didn't know what he was thinking about in his head.

Thinking about it, Elena raised her hand and grabbed Joey's ear.

Joey tried to dodge away, but she grabbed him back by his ear, "Don't play dumb. I know you're awake. Besides, what they gave you was ecstasy and not alcohol, not so much that you'd turn into a fool."

Joey covered his face with tears, "I'm sorry, once again I was fooled by others."

"How can you be so gullible!" Elena sighed while ravaging his ears, and didn't stop until his ears were as red as a lobster.

Joey was very depressed, " We are roommates . He said that the restaurant lacks men, and the salary is very handsome . One night there is enough for my year of tuition, so I went over. I did not expect it to be another scam!

"Tsk, so you almost even lost yourself in it," Elena's eyes flashed as she began to fool him, "Do you know what conditions I promised them in order to ransom you out?"

"What?" Joey looked confused as he heard what she said next.

"Originally, I was my own boss, I was already busy. Now, I have to be his consultant time from time, without salary. Joey, what should I do?"

Joey was trembling, "What? I don't know either, or I will go for you."

His distressed look exasperated Elena, "That depends whether they want you or not."

Speaking of which, Joey sat upright for a moment, "But, I don't even know them, so why would they do this to me?"

Elena shrugged, "Maybe it's because you're docile!"

Joey rolled his eyes, "No, they are all businessmen, I can tell, it must be because I am too close to you."

At this point, he finally realized, "Now I see it, I'm caught in the crossfire!"

Elena narrowed her eyes, "So what? If you feel that I have dragged you down, you can go right now, and I promise you will never have to see me ever again so that you can live the rest of your life in peace."
