

Love Slave 159

159 Commitment

Ace began moving immediately, pumping his cock in and out of my hole fast and hard. His large hands held my hips as he thrust his thick and hot rod into my wet pussy hole. His cock felt so hard as he pounded into my wetness and hit the pleasure spot deep inside of my hole.

"Ahh! Ahhh! Ahhhh!" I cried out with each of his wild thrust.

The pleasure of his cock moving along and stimulating my sensitive pussy walls made me cry out in pure ecstasy. It felt so good for him to stretch and fill me all the way like this. His thrusts felt even more powerful than usual because he was standing instead of on the bed with me. Positioning me on the side of the bed ensured that his cock could penetrate into the deepest part of me.

The pleasure was mind-numbing, and I could feel my orgasm building up in a pleasurable ache in between my legs and in my lower abdomen already. It felt so hot inside of me that I felt like my pleasure could burst out at any moment.

"Ahhh! Ace..." I cried out even louder than before.

At that same moment, hot wet juices gushed out of my pussy as I got wetter for him. My core throbbed and burned with my intense desire as lust swirled around in my belly. My hips thrust up and down to meet his wild thrusts halfway, burying his cock deeper and deeper into my wet hole. I cried out his name as we coupled passionately. It was like I couldn't get enough of his cock beating into my wetness. Our sex slapped against each other and made lewd obscene sound echo all around us on top of our passionate moans and groans of pleasure.

"I'm cumming! Ace! Ahhh!" I screamed so loudly when I suddenly orgasmed.

His cock thrust deep and powerfully against my womb sent me over the edge. It was fast and wild just like I had anticipated. Ace growled my name in his low and seductive voice as he continued to plough his cock into my wet cave. My pussy felt extremely sensitive from the aftereffects of my orgasm, and I could feel him much more than before inside of me.

"Ahh! Ahhh! It's so...deep..." I cried out and moaned as my head trashed about on the bed.

"I'm going to cum so much inside you, Rina..." Ace growled.

He reared his hips back and withdrew his cock all the way out of my pussy before screwing it back all the way inside of me. Ace repeated this process a couple more times before he stilled inside of my hole. His cock felt much hotter and thicker inside of me as my pussy walls hugged his cock lovingly. The beast twitched wildly inside of me at his release before he shot his sticky hot seed deep into my wet cunt. He moaned my name as he closed his eyes in intense pleasure while his cock continued to pump his semen to drown my womb.

A week after, Jeremy and I managed to complete what we thought was a great and very detailed storyboard. We even ran it through with the head of our production team to make sure that it was detailed enough for them to work with. I was thrilled when we got very positive responses from the production team, and everything seemed to be going so well and smoothly.

Apart from work on Project Alpha, my relationship with Ace seemed to be progressing smoothly as well. Of course, we still had less time for each other at the office, but we made up for that in the evening and on the weekends. Ace seemed to be in a much better mood since the day that we left his father's mansion after their meeting together.

I could tell that Ace was working very hard by how packed his schedule was. Compared to before, Ace had many more meetings during the day and sometimes in the evening with managers and CEOs from other companies. He was working hard to expand the company's portfolio of clients for sure. His dedication and motivation to work hard only added to fuel my own motivation to work hard and do my part.

It felt quite unbelievable when I thought that a part of the reason why he was working so hard was for our sake. I wanted to believe that he was serious about our relationship and that he wanted things to work out between us. However, sometimes, I still thought that it was too good to be true and if I let myself get my hopes up too much, I would end up getting hurt.

"I think this is good enough. If you don't want to tweak or change anything else, I'm going to get us a meeting slot with Ace so that we can run this through with him," Jeremy said with clear satisfaction in his voice.

"Yeah. We should schedule a meeting with him," I agreed after snapping out of my thoughts.

"Right. If we can get the greenlight from Ace, then the production team can start shooting the commercial," Jeremy replied enthusiastically.

I could tell that he was very excited and so was I. We are just one step away from the production phase and soon, I would get to see the commercial that we have designed brought to life on screen. It was indeed a very thrilling moment that I had been anxiously waiting for.

"Wait, I did say that I would get time from Ace but now that I think about it, you're his secretary, right?" Jeremy asked as his eyes stared at my face.

Oh, he's right...

"You're right. I'm his secretary so you can book his time with me. Sorry, I was just so excited about the progress that we've made that I just totally forgot about that. Hold on a moment, I'll pull up Ace's schedule. Let's see...a slot that would work sometime soon..." I said before laughing lightly.
